"Our work is traveling around and doing these sorts of projects," said Jordan. "This is sort of like an internship or training exercise for students who have had a good bit of classroom experience and who have also (worked in the archeological field school)," he added.

Jordan also noted that the class does not meet on a regular basis, this hands on experience is their class requirement.

One of Dr. Jordan's students, Jim Cook, conducted extensive research into the history of the home in hopes that it would reveal some information as to the reason for construction of the pit. Cook, a Historical Preservation major, traced the history of the house back as far as possible using deed books, maps as well as numerous history books. "If you know where the sources are, that's really the hardest part," said Cook.

The historical data obtained proved to be helpful, but it was impossible to pinpoint the exact date of construction. Cook noted however, that "It fits most of the house styles between 1790-1830."

A WPA (Works Project Administration) Inventory conducted in Prince Edward County in 1936 made mention of the pit and cited that it was used for curing and drying tobacco. But Cook noted that this is unlikely because tobacco needs to be kept in a dry place and the use of a basement for this purpose is not likely.

Having reviewed the historical information available, Dr. Jordan and his crew set out on the excavation. And, the best way to begin would be to look at the possibilities and pursue them in a logical manner.

Among the possibilities listed by Dr. Jordan is that of an indoor ice house (if it is it would be the only known one to exist in the area), a sump (to collect water seepage in the basement), a well, a pit for curing and drying tobacco (still a possibility), a garbage pit, that became incorporated into the house by additional construction, or a root cellar.

Some possibilities were easily eliminated. Wells constructed in that era would have been circular rather than in rectangular shape (as is this one). Ice houses of that day were deeper than the one at Ingleside (but it could not however, be eliminated totally.)

The group began to dig slowly and methodically examining every inch and sifting through every particle looking for clues. But, it seemed, the further they went, more questions would arise. For example, the pit contained an unexplainable row of bricks laid across the center. Another mystery that needed to be solved.

Dirt was placed in buckets and taken outside the home and sifted through. Only two small fragments of glass were discovered and Dr. Jordan placed them in vials to be tested later. The tests concluded that the glass was of recent vintage and had probably been thrown into the pit.

When the day was through, there were no answers to the mystery, but Dr. Jordan noted that the discoveries were useful. "Negative evidence is still evidence," he said. Some things aren't able to be found. Nonetheless, the students had a good time looking and learning.

But the investigation is not concluded, however, the group will return for another visit in January to find conclusive evidence.

Art Buchwald Speaks Monday Night

Art Buchwald, a nationally syndicated columnist, humorist, and author, will speak Monday night, Feb. 6, at Longwood College as part of the College's Sesquicentennial Symposium Series. The program will be held at 8 p.m. in Jarman Auditorium.

Bridal Extravaganza

By RONDA LANDIS

Sigma Kappa Sorority is proud to be the official sponsor of the Bridal Extravanza Fashion Show. The show will also feature tuxedos, ball gowns, china and a catering service. The idea of the show is to present everything the bride will need for that special day.

Sigma Kappa has also extended an invitation to the surrounding communities. Several high schools are also involved in the showing of the Spring line exclusively presented by Caryn's Bridal of Farmville.

For your free reservation to show which is Tuesday, February 7, 1989 at 7:00 p.m. in the Gold Room call 392-5111.

COUPON

FREE! FREE! FREE! FREE! FREE!

With The Purchase Of Ball Gown Or Wedding Gown!

—FREE SHOES—

Caryn's Bridals

MAIN STREET, FARMVILLE, VA. — PHONE 392-5111

COUPON EXPIRES MARCH 1, 1989

COUPON

The most thrilling experience you've ever had in the dark.

Night skiing at Wintergreen.

We invite you to spend an unforgettable night at Wintergreen.

On top of our mountain, you'll find five slopes, lit, ready and waiting for your skiing pleasure. And they stay open until our 11 p.m. closing time.

So come early and stay late.

Because along with the best snowmaking equipment in the Mid-Atlantic, you'll find great food and great entertainment.

Wintergreen. Just 43 miles southwest of Charlottesville.

For thrill after thrill in the dark.

For overnight reservations, call 1-804-325-2200. For the latest ski report, call 1-804-325-SNOW.

Wintergreen

For special discounts see your campus representative.

SPORTS

Wrestlers Fourth in Duals

Mason Grabs Five Victories

Faced with stiff competition, Longwood's wrestling team went 2-2 in the Lancer Duals Saturday as Division I George Washington edged Chowan 28-15 for the title. LC was led by sophomore 167-pounder Tim Mason (Fredericksburg), who won five of six matches.

George Washington (3-0) was the champ followed by Chowan (2-1), Pembroke State (3-1), Longwood (2-2), Norfolk State (1-2), Virginia State (1-2), Newport News Apprentice (0-2) and Longwood (B team) 0-2.

Now 4-6 overall, Longwood beat Newport News 45-3, lost to George Washington 24-12, beat Norfolk State 37-9 and lost to Pembroke State 33-12. The Lancers have a light week of action coming up. Ferrum canceled a match scheduled for Tuesday night. Longwood visits Gardner-Webb to take on GW and Winston-Salem State Saturday. LC hosts Washington & Lee Tuesday, February 7 at 7:30.

TIM MASON

Top records for Longwood Saturday, in addition to Mason's 5-1, were turned in by 126-pounder Chris Bock (Lynchburg) 3-2, 158-pounder Ted Proctor (Manassas) 3-1, Doug Hartley (Yorktown) 3-2 and 142-pounder Mark Harris (Norfolk) 3-1 with two forfeits.

Mason is now 18-7 overall. Bock is 4-5, Proctor 18-6, Hartley 11-11 and Harris 8-8. Joe McDaniel (Falls Church) was 1-2-1 Saturday for an overall mark of 13-9-2.

"Tim (Mason) had a real solid day," said Lancer coach Steve Nelson. "He wrestled for the 'B' team also and got in a lot of work." His only loss (15-6) came against Mannix, a tough, physical wrestler from George Washington.

Jefferson Tops 1,000 Points

Named Player Of The Week

Junior forward Kevin Jefferson (Petersburg) scored 56 points in three Lancer men's basketball victories last week, topping the 1,000 point mark for his career. For his performance, Jefferson has been named Longwood College Player of the Week for the period January 22-29. Player of the Week is chosen by the Longwood Sports Information Office.

Jefferson capped his big week with 25 points in a 79-75 victory over Bowie State Saturday night which boosted the Lancers to 15-5 on the season. LC's scoring leader at 18.2, Jefferson now has 1,002 points in 56 career games. He's averaging 17.9 points in three years of play at Longwood.

The seventh Lancer cager to top 1,000 points, Jefferson also hit four pressure free throws in the final 30 seconds in Longwood's 74-71 win at UNC Greensboro Wednesday night. The team's top scorer nine times this season, Jefferson is working on a string of 10 straight double figure games.

An all-around performer, Jefferson is averaging 5.6 rebounds. In addition, he has 48 assists, 31 steals and a team-high 22 dunks. A graduate of Petersburg High School, Jefferson was an AAA All-State performer for coach Bill Lawson.

Lady Lancers Split Games

Wofford, Pitt-Johnstown Visit

The Longwood Lady Lancer basketball team could not extend its three-game winning streak at Navy Saturday night, losing 74-65. Wednesday night, Longwood dumped Randolph-Macon at home, 78-57. LC is now 5-10, 3-3 at home, 4-3 since break.

By the time LC put more high-octane gasoline in the tank, Navy was up by eight, almost the final margin of victory.

"We created several (Navy) turnovers during that time, but we failed to put them in on the break," said coach Shirley Duncan. "We didn't come through in the clutch."

Longwood begins a two-game home stand Friday at 7:30 against Wofford. Pittsburgh-Johnstown visits Sunday at 2:00.

The Longwood-Navy game resembled a NASCAR race. The contestants were neck-and-neck during a fast start, but the Longwood engine started missing midway through the second stanza.

Lancers Stop Bowie State 79-75; Take 15-5 Mark Into Week's Play

Sparked by Kevin Jefferson's (Petersburg) 25-point performance, Longwood's men's basketball team held off CIAA member Bowie State 79-74 Saturday night on the road to run its winning streak to three and its season record to 15-5.

The Lancers, who visited Virginia Wesleyan Monday night, travel east again Wednesday for a matchup with high-scoring Elizabeth City State and then return home to host Davis & Elkins Saturday night at 7:30. Looming on the horizon is an important contest with Randolph-Macon in Farmville Wednesday, February 8.

Longwood, with wins over Atlantic Christian 69-68 Monday, and UNC Greensboro 74-71 Wednesday, completed a 3-0 week with Saturday's triumph over Bowie State. Jefferson, scoring 17 of his 25 points in the second half, became the seventh Lancer cager to top 1,000 points. He now has 1,002 in 56 games.

Up 35-27 at the half, Longwood went on a 13-2 run at the start of the second half for a 47-29 lead with 16:40 left in the game. Jefferson and Darryl Rutley (Richmond) had five points each in the surge. A Jefferson dunk pushed the lead to 62-39 with 11:15 remaining.

Longwood still led 67-56 with 7:35 left on the clock when Bowie reserve Greg Boyd went to work. Boyd canned four 3-point shots and scored 13 points as the Bulldogs outscored LC 25-12 the rest of the way to make things close at the end.

Despite the late Bowie rally, the win was a big one for Longwood. Bowie had beaten ninth ranked North Carolina Central 70-69 Wednesday night, and had stayed with several highly regarded teams on its home floor.

Longwood won with 62.5 percent shooting from the floor and solid scoring balance. In addition to Jefferson's 25 points and eight rebounds, Rutley scored with 17 with five boards and Doug Poppe (Manassas Park) added 12 points and seven rebounds. Poppe hit all five of his field goal attempts and was 2-2 from the free throw line. Bobby Dobson (Falls Church) had eight points, seven assists and four steals. Dobson also canned four of four free throws in the final 1:43 to help nail down the win. Longwood got points from nine players in all.

Gunner Michael Sinclair led Bowie with 26 points, but was just 10 of 31 from the floor. Sinclair put up 13 three-point shots but made just two. Forward Brian Forbes had 14 points but made just two. Forward Brian Forbes had 14 points and 17 rebounds for the Bulldogs, now 4-12.

Kevin Jefferson adds two more to his impressive point record with this dunk.

The Rotunda

1839 LONGWOOD COLLEGE 1989

"Catching Sight of Longwood from atop the Sesquicentennial Mount"

VOL. NO. 68 NO. 13 FEBRUARY 7, 1989 FARMVILLE, VA.

Longwood To Host Forensic And Debate Meet

By P.A. FAIRS

Longwood College will host its 23rd annual forensic and debate meet for high school students on Friday and Saturday, February 10th and 11th. Events in prose reading, poetry reading, after dinner speaking, extemporaneous speaking, impromptu, oratory, interpretation, Lincoln-Douglas debate and debate will be held on the campus for over 700 high school students from over 30 schools.

A new twist will be added to the meet this year in the naming of an "All-Star Team in Forensics and in Debate." Dr. William Dorrill, president, will speak at the opening ceremony on Friday afternoon. At that time approximately twenty high school seniors from across the state will be named for this honor. These students have shown leadership, cohesivenss, a pleasant attitude, and have been competitive and were nominated by their high school coaches. The students selected for the All Star Team in Debate will be named on Saturday, during the closing ceremony.

The tournament is under the direction of: Mrs. Jan Evans and Dr. Nancy Haga, Speech and Theatre Program, Department of Visual and Performing Arts. The student directors are: senior Andy Bryan of Cumberland and junior, Gene Kerns, of Richmond.

Students are expected to participate from: Miles Godwin (Richmond), Lloyd Bird (Richmond), Robinson Senior (Fairfax), Brookville, Albemarle, Essex, Madison County, Rustburg, Varina, Monacan (Richmond), Douglas Freeman (Richmond), William Campbell, James

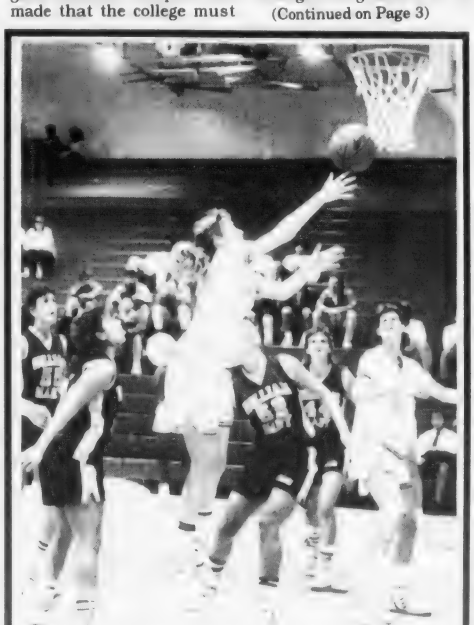
(Continued on Page 3)

Master Plan Will Bring Change To Longwood

By R. BRUCE GANTT

Last Thursday a Presidential Forum was held in Lankford's R/W/G rooms to discuss the master plan for Longwood. A twenty four page draft of the master plan was given to all faculty and staff members.

One of the goals outlined in the document was to increase enrollment to 3,500 by 1994-95. Also mentioned was the need to increase the number of qualified: minority, male, transfer, non-traditional, commuting, graduate, international, and talented and gifted students. The point was made that the college must maintain its intimate, residential character in spite of growth.



The plan also called for 425 additional parking spaces within this year along with other campus improvements.

More facilities will be made available to the disabled, and one building per year will undergo the necessary changes.

The air conditioning of several buildings will be planned for, such as Lancer Gym, Coyner and Cox in that order.

The master plan also provides general guidance for ex-

(Continued on Page 3)

Salene Green pictured going for the hoop in an earlier game this season against William & Mary. Green had 13 points and 10 rebounds in Sunday's win over P. H.-Johnstown. Details Page 8.

Southside To Benefit From Business Center

By P. A. FAIRS

Southside Virginia is expected to "benefit significantly" from the Governor's recent announcement that Longwood College is getting one of the first two Small Business Development Centers in the state.

"This is important news for Southside Virginia," said Longwood President William F. Dorrill. "The services we'll be able to provide are badly needed in this economically depressed area and should enhance the economic viability of all communities served by the Center."

Jerry Hughes, director of the Small Business Development Center (formerly known as the Longwood Business Innovation Center), said that Longwood was selected from a field of highly competitive proposals from other colleges, universities, and development groups around the state.

Governor Gerald Baliles announced Jan. 15 that Longwood and James Madison University had been selected. The centers, the first in a statewide network to be created, come under the Small Business Development Center program. That program was established by the 1988 General Assembly, and the initial funding was $500,000.

The Centers will seek to "help create private sector jobs by providing direct management counseling to individual small businesses in their respective areas," the Governor said. The program will be administered by the Small Business and Financial Services Office of the Virginia Department of Economic Development (VDED).

"We can do a lot of good, and one of the benefits will be creating new jobs," said Dr. Robert D. Smith, who will manage the program for VDED. "We anticipate it will be an ongoing program, not a seed-money situation. It's impossible to predict what the legislature will do, but they may even increase funding in the future."

As one of two centers,

(Continued on page 5)

Dr. Robert Smith (from left), Dr. William Dorrill and Jerry Hughes discuss plans for new business center at Longwood.

Contents

News....2, 3
Editorial and Commentary....4, 5
Features....6, 7
Sports....8

NEWS

Alumnas Donates $2.75M To Party Hearty

(CPS) — Alumni make large gifts to their schools to endow professorships, build buildings, recruit minorities or maybe even reward football coaches.

But Roosevelt University, a small private liberal arts college in the middle of Chicago, just got a cash gift aimed at helping students have a good time.

Alumnus Marvin Moss's estate donated $2.75 million Jan. 18 — the largest gift in the school's 43-year history — but stipulated it must be used to help the students "party hearty."

Moss, who was the agent for movie stars Shirley MacLaine, Desi Arnaz and "Rocky" director John Avildsen, died of cancer in Los Angeles in 1986. His will, it turned out, specified the bulk of his estate was to go to Roosevelt.

He had reasoned that "as a city-type school, I never felt students socialized as much as they might have."

The university will use the money to build a gymnasium and fitness center, renovate student lounges and create a student activities fund, said Roosevelt's president, Theodore Gross.

Roosevelt students had varied ideas about what to do with the money.

"They should use it to hold cheap concerts with good rock groups," said senior Jeff Rosenberg.

"They should have parties at nice hotels and get a DJ who knows how to play really good music," said Beatrice Franklin, a junior in biology.

Junior Daryl McLaurine had a more basic suggestion. "We need better food."

Moss, a 1948 graduate of Roosevelt, donated a "modest" sum to the school each year "and we tried to convince him to contribute more," said Robert Shepard, vice president for development. "He told us, 'Don't worry, you're in my will and someday you'll be rich.'"

Moss's will also bequeathed the University of California his wine cellar.

BSU Valentines Social

By BETH LORD

On Monday, February 13th, the Baptist Student Union will be having a semi-formal Valentine's Dinner/Dance. Dinner will be served at 6:30 at the BSU Center behind Stubbs, and the festivities will last until 11:00 p.m. An admission charge of $6 per person or $10 per couple will go toward the cost of the dinner and the BSU's Summer Missions Goal. Reservations for this event are due to Campus Minister Betsy Frost (392-5733) by Wednesday, February 8th.

ERA Vigil

On Wednesday, February 15, the Virginia Equal Rights Amendment (E.R.A.) Ratification Council will hold a vigil in support of the E.R.A. The vigil will take place in Richmond in front of the General Assembly Building at Ninth and Capitol Streets and will last from 11:15 p.m. to 12:15 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Preceding the vigil, there will be a press conference at 10:30 a.m. at the Capitol in House Room 5. With the reintroduction of the E.R.A. into Congress, the Council expects renewed activity to pass and ratify the E.R.A.

For more information, contact Lynn Bradford at (804) 786-8218.

Amnesty Is Coming

"Thousands of people are in prison because of their beliefs. Many are held without charge or trial. Torture and the death penalty are widespread. In many countries men, women, and children have disappeared after being taken into official custody. Still others have been killed without any pretense of legality. These human rights abuses occur in countries of widely differing ideologies."

Amnesty International is a worldwide movement of people acting on the conviction that governments must not deny individuals their basic human rights. The organization was awarded the 1977 Nobel Peace Price for its effort to promote global observance of the United Nation's Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

Rev. Darrell Headrick, chaplain of Randolph-Macon College will speak about Amnesty International on Wednesday, February 15 at 7 p.m. in Bedford Auditorium. Longwood students and faculty are encouraged to attend.

Body Building Comes To Longwood

By J. R. REEVES

On March 1, 1989 the first ever bodybuilding contest will be held. The competition will mark the first time in Longwood's history that such an event will take place.

The contest, which is being organized by Rick Rivera, has stimulated much interest so far. Par-Bil's got into the act and was gracious enough to buy the awards for the competition.

The contest will be open for all Longwood students to enter. There is no entry fee. There will be two weight categories: 165 and under, and the heavy-weight division.

The Dance Company will make a special performance during one of the breaks. Also performing by popular demand is the Lancer Line. The Dance Company also will be performing in their own show for three nights starting March 16.

The contest is being held in Lancer Dance studio. Admission is free and space is limited so come early to get a good seat!

Anyone interested in being in the competition as a contestant should contact: Rick Rivera, 392-7560. There will be weekly meetings every Wednesday for the interested at 7:00 outside of the weight-room.

Hunt Becomes Second Lieutenant

By CADET MAJOR WESTLUND

Cadet John Hunt was sworn in as a Second Lieutenant into the U.S. Army on Jan. 11. Those attending the ceremony in the Va. Room were his fraternity brothers, Delta Sigma Phi, various college students and faculty, and the ROTC Battalion.

His father, Sergeant Major (SGM) Hunt and Major Nally pinned on his gold bars. SGM Hunt stood proud in front of his son and gave John his first salute as an officer. A tradition of all newly commissioned officers is to give a silver dollar to the first non-commissioned officer who salutes him. This tradition continued on this fine Wednesday afternoon.

From the Cadet Battalion, we congratulate 2nd Lt. Hunt and wish you all the best in the future.

— FREE —
PREGNANCY TEST

All services confidential.
Same day results.

SOUTHSIDE PREGNANCY CENTER
116 N. MAIN STREET
24-HOUR HOTLINE
392-8483

FOR YOUR VALENTINE
VALENTINE'S WEEK • FEBRUARY 12-18th

FLOWERS SAY IT BEST!

ROCHETTE'S FLORIST
100 SOUTH VIRGINIA STREET
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA 23901
PHONE 392-4154

YOU QUALIFY FOR INSTANT CREDIT!

Start making credit purchases IMMEDIATELY! We will send you a Members Credit Card at once with NO CREDIT CHECK. Buy any Jewelry, Clothing, Sporting Goods, Watches, Electronics & MORE! All with installment payments out of our "Giant 100+ Pages Catalog." Take 12 months to repay. Your personal credit card is a -second I.D.- valuable for check cashing, etc. plus your Students Credit Group A-1 reference will be on file to help you obtain other credit cards. So send in your $5 catalog deposit now. (refundable with your first order)

Establish your credit Today!
100% Satisfaction Guaranteed (or your Money Back)

Name _____
Address _____ City _____
State _____ Zip _____

MEMBERS Students CREDIT GROUP
P.O. BOX 4649
FORT LAUDERDALE, FLORIDA 33338

NEWS

Photo credit: Emily Bowell

A worker for the Hart High Pressure cleaners begins work on the front of Ruffner. The cost to clean Jarman, Lancaster, Ruffner and Dining Hall was $14,000.

Indian Site Uncovered

By DEBORAH SMITH

The 1989 Longwood Summer Field School in Archeology will excavate a prehistoric Indian site located in the Virginia Piedmont. The Morris Field Site, 44BK212, is on the Appomattox River and has produced stone tools and pottery which date its occupation to the period 8,000 years to 500 years before the present.

The Field School offers an intensive research and intellectual experience. With professional guidance, students face situations demanding a high level of responsibility in observing, preserving, and in the accumulation of data in a little-known area of the Southeast, thereby making a major and lasting contribution to the understanding of the archeology of Virginia. It is the philosophy of the Field School that students receive training in a wide range of decision-making processes

Students digging at Longwood archeology site last summer.

13 different archeological required of all professional archeologists.

The summer of 1989 will mark the tenth year of Summer Field School. Through Summer Field School in Archeology, 382 Longwood students have excavated at sites. If you are interested, please contact Dr. James Jordan as soon as possible in order to reserve a space on the field crew for 1989. The sessions are as follows: May 14 — June 2 (4 credits) or June 19 — July 14 (6 credits)

Master Plan

(Continued from page 1)

pansion of facilities and the construction of facilities and the construction of new residential facilities for students.

One of the major innovations outlined in the plan was the establishment of a fine arts center. The center will have a director which will be appointed.

The draft of the master plan is only a working document and will be changed and amended as time goes on.

Hosting

(Continued from Page 1)

Wood, of Winchester, James Monroe, of Fredericksburg, Clover Hill, Heritage (Richmond), Blacksburg, Central of Lunenburg, Lee Davis, of Mechancisville, Kenston Forest, of Blackstone, Magna Vista, of Ridgeway, Hopewell, Western Albemarle, Huguenot, Hampton, E. C. Glass, and others. Local schools competiting will be Prince Edward Academy, Appomattox County, Prince Edward County High School, and Randolph Henry High School.

Longwood students who will be assisting in the running of events are: Traci Gardner, Holly Barnes, Kacey Ray, Kathy Burton, Brandy Musgrove, David Richards, Mike Coleman, Hollie Nixon, Karen Dalton, Rick Codding, Aimee Tickle, Kim Taylor, Shannon Bodkin and Karen Whitely.

Any student, staff, or faculty interested in judging, either forensics or debate, please call 392-9361 Speech and Theatre Program or come by Dr. Haga's office or Mrs. Evans's office.

ROTC Hosts Special Trips

By CADET MAJOR WESTLUND

Thursday, Jan. 26 at 5:20 p.m. started the fun for this excursion. In just a short hour and a half 25 cadets and friends would be hitting those slopes of Wintergreen. After going through ski rentals and getting lift tickets it was all over but the fun. From the bunny hills to the intermediate slopes to the expert slopes all were having the best study break they ever had.

This is just one of many special trips the ROTC department will be sponsoring this semester. Trips to Gettysburg, the Pentagon, and an overnight canoe trip are already planned. For more information call Cpt. DeWitt at 392-9348.

Forensic Team Wins

On Saturday, January 28th, the forensic team of Longwood College traveled to Lynchburg College for the Central Virginia Forensic League competition. The 19 member team from Longwood participated in prose reading, poetry reading, dramatic interpretation, duo interpretation, impromptu speaking, informational speaking, after dinner speaking, and speech to persuade.

HEARTBROKEN?
See the gang at
Tracey's Back Door
FOR THAT NEW LOOK!
2 FOR 1 SPECIALS
WITH DONNA AND REBECCA
THRU 2-28-89
PHONE 392-4559
Watch for our
BRIDAL SHOW
IN
MARCH!

CEDAR BROOK RESTAURANT, INC.
½ MILE EAST OF FARMVILLE
ON RT. 460, PHONE 392-4589
ANYTHING FROM SANDWICHES TO FULL COURSE MEALS
OPEN 11 AM - 9 PM, 7 DAYS A WEEK!

Terry's Bakery
113 N. MAIN ST., FARMVILLE, VA.
PHONE 392-8639
"For that special someone"...
HEART— SHAPED CAKES AND COOKIES
HEART— DONUT BEARS
HEART— CUSTOM MADE CAKES (ORDER IN ADVANCE)

School Pride Returns Through Trusted Leadership

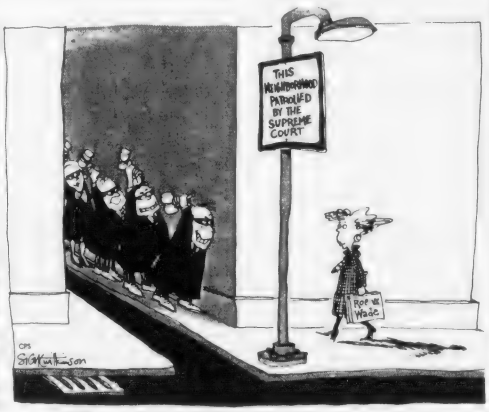
Longwood is finally poised and ready to recapture the lead that it once possessed with regard to other state colleges 20 years ago.

Longwood was the first Normal School in the state of Virginia. The term "Normal" meaning teacher training. Other normal schools entered the picture decades later, using Longwood as their model. They were (as they are presently named) Radford, James Madison, and Mary Washington College. Up until about 1970 all of these state institutions were at an even par, but a perception that Longwood, for whatever reasons, had been left behind grew stronger as time went on.

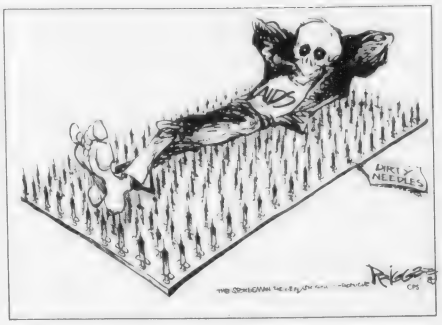
The 1970's proved trying times for all the above schools as a study conducted on Virginia's 39 public college's accused Longwood, Mary Washington, and Radford (among others) of squandering millions of dollars because of the existence of excess space on their campuses.

However, most of the 1970's and early the 1980's proved particularly painful for Longwood. Longwood's cohesive fiber between students, faculty and administrators began to slowly crumble toward the end of the President Willett's (1967-1981) tenure and for most of President Greenwood's (1981-1987). This lack of excitement and positive morale for many years damaged the school's image considerably. School pride was weak at best.

An awareness of a lack of leadership at the top could have had a far more damaging effect on the school had it not been for the many strong leaders found in key Vice Presidential positions and the many academic departments, who took it upon themselves to initiate change for the better.



Longwood's true recovery began two years ago; starting with President Healy's arrival after President Greenwood's sudden departure in 1987. Through his leadership, credibility of Longwood in Virginia's Legislature increased. This coupled with input from all facets of the college brought Longwood closer together and as a result school pride increased considerably.



Longwood this year has a new President and a new beginning. It is President Dorrill's intent to have Longwood emerge as Virginia's best small college, a position that it should have already been occupying years ago.

He has taken steps to unify the college through his support of a myraid of campus events that touch every department in some way. He has also been working hard to have Longwood ratify a strategic plan that will guide the college into the 21st century.

With just these small but significant steps Longwood can prosper academically and socially, minus all of the dissent it has experienced in the last 15 years. Students, faculty, and administrators no longer view themselves as combatants, but instead as friends, working together to return Longwood to its number one slot.

Longwood still has many problems it needs solved, as it has had in the past, but now they can be tackled with unity and strength. For a college in possession of pride, which is the result of trusted leadership, a school can move forward not only efficiently but effectively as well.

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
Matt Peterman

Managing Editor
R. Bruce Gantt

Features Editor
Cheryl Jeffrey

Greek Affairs Editor
Chet Ahn

Photography Editor

Sports Editor

Business Manager
Tim Oliva

Advertising Manager
Susan Miller

Advertising Assistants
Steve Evans

Layout Assistants
Monica Gilbert
Lindy Seymore

Faculty Advisor
William C. Wood

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be typed or printed neatly, state the author's years, and major as applicable.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 392-7817.

COMMENTARY

Southside Benefits

(Continued from page 1)

Longwood will receive a $75,000 grant for an 18-month period ending June 30, 1990. Longwood is required to match that grant, which it has done.

"The designation represents a long-term commitment from VDED and is very important," said Mr. Hughes. "This will be THE small business development program in Virginia that will get results. We'll be able to focus more on what I call the meat and potatoes of counseling assistance."

One immediate benefit is that the Small Business Development Center (SBDC) will be able to expand the services of its satellite office in South Boston. That office now is open only one and a half days a week, when Mr. Hughes is there Thursday and half of Friday. A business analyst will be hired for the office, and it will be open five days a week.

Mr. Hughes gives Dr. Dorrill much of the credit for the selection.

"We had extremely strong support from the President, which certainly helped us," he said. "This reflects his emphasis on Longwood being a participating neighbor and involved in the surrounding community. VDED officials probably didn't find a college president who was more supportive of an institution's proposal than was Dr. Dorrill."

Mr. Hughes also praised Dr. W. J. Jacques Jr., dean of Longwood's School of Business and Economics, and local leaders who met with two VDED representatives when they visited Longwood in late December.

The SBDC, on the first floor of Hiner Building, was established in October 1986 by Dr. Larry Minks, who served as its first director. It has helped new and existing businesses to improve their productivity, quality, organizational development and competitiveness. It serves 10 counties and the city of South Boston.

Gretzky vs. Lemieux

Gretzky's No. 1

By STEVE EVANS

The Great One, Wayne Gretzky, once stood alone above the rest of National Hockey League. Now Mario Lemieux now is beginning to emerge.

A year ago next week, Lemieux changed the NHL landscape. It was on Feb. 9 All Star game in St. Louis, the center from Pittsburgh was the second brightest star in the league, number one was of course, The Great One, Wayne Gretzky of the LA Kings. By the end of the game, however, that issue was more complex. Lemieux, then 22, dominated the play as Gretzky, 28, used to do so well. In that All Star game Lemieux had three assists and three goals, that includes the game winner in sudden death. This effect gave Lemieux the MVP of the game. Although this game is not a very rough test, Lemieux since his All Star explosion a year ago, has not let down. His 41 points in the first 12 games was the best start in NHL history. Lemieux is also crowding in on Gretzky's single season scoring record, 215 points. Last year Lemieux ousted Gretzky for the scoring title, 168 for Lemieux and 149 for Gretzky. The awards are also going Lemieux's way too. Last season he wrestled the leagues most valuable player award, The Hart Trophy, from Gretzky, that he held for eight straight seasons. Lemieux also won the MUP Award (voted by the players). Gretzky may have past his peak and Lemieux has not yet hit his prime, but the people are not ready yet to "crown" Lemieux. What makes Gretzky so great besides his scoring capability is his ability to bring out the best in his teammates. This includes four out of five Stanley Cup's that Gretzky helped his former team to win. Lemieux and the Penguins have not had a post season play since 1982. This year will be different with a 28-17-4 record, almost a shoe in for the playoffs. Lemieux is considered an individualistic player and until he fuses his individual stats to playoff success for Pittsburgh, Lemieux will remain No. 2.

pulsebeat productions presents
WEDNESDAY FEB 8
from Athens, Georgia
LOVE TRACTOR
SATURDAY FEB 11
a dance-rock party with the Fleshtones
ages 18 and up admitted to all shows !
TRAX
120 11th Street S.W. Charlottesville, Va. 804-295-7326

LAZARE DIAMONDS
SPARKLE
THE SPICE IN DIAMONDS
Sparkle. In faultless balance with brilliance and fire, it makes an Ideal Cut Lazare Diamond the only one to own.
Martin The Jeweler
MAIN ST., FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA
Established—1911 Phone 392-4164
Registered Jeweler, American Gem Society
THE IDEAL CUT DIAMOND

WHAT DO THE FOLLOWING PEOPLE HAVE IN COMMON?

Traci Gardner	James Gross	Harry Vogel
Karen Cunningham	David Richards	Kathy Burton
Brandy Musgrove	Mike Coleman	Kalli Lucas
Tammy Belcher	Jon Connell	Hollie Nixon
Rick Codding	Gene Kerns	Tim Roger
Amy Roderer	Andy Bryan	Holy Barnes

THEY WERE MEMBERS OF THE LONGWOOD COLLEGE FORENSIC TEAM THAT WON THE SWEEPSTAKES AWARD AT LYNCHBURG COLLEGE ON JANUARY 28, 1989!

CONGRATULATIONS!

NEXT TOURNAMENT:
George Mason Universtiy, Fairfax, Virginia
March 18th and March 19th (Saturday and Sunday)

Deadline for signing up for GMU: Friday, February 17, 1989
Dr. Haga, Speech and Theatre, basement of Jarman Auditorium.

FEATURES

Personals

ΑΣΤ would like to congratulate Patty Davis, Elyse Englehart, Sharon Fulgham, and Christina McImmens! Good luck with pledging, you all are awesome! — Tou Love, Your New Sisters

Hey Fruit Loop — Get well soon! Sah Hi to Micky for me! — Lobber

To: Kim Tilton — You are the BEST roomie ever. Thanks for being such a great friend and good luck with #89. He will be back before you know it. — Love Me!

NEXT ISSUE IS ST. VALENTINE'S DAY!

GET YOUR VALENTINE PERSONALS IN BY FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 10. PUT THEM IN THE PERSONALS ENVELOPE OR SEND THEM TO BOX 1133.

LAVA thought for the week: — Say No to Vandalism! — LAVA

Meetings, Monday 9 p.m., Lankford Conference Room II.

HEY YOU! —The Biology Club is open to all Biology majors, and non-majors. Come to our meeting tonight at 6 o'clock. We have lots of fun, and dues are only three dollars for the whole semester! Come on out and meet the new officers: President — Traci Gardner, V. Pres — Colleen Mone, Treasurer — Ashley, Secretary — Suzanne Pelligrino.

Come join the Biology Club!

The meet is in Jeffers Auditorium in Stevens.

To: Robin Burroughs — Thank you for being a TAU-rific president and great big sis. — ΑΣΤ Love and Mine, Kris

Andrea, — Want some Hot Chocalate mix? or Jello mix?! — Flip

The sisters of Alpha Sigma Alpha are proud of their awesome new pledges — Lisa Bobko, Julie Burkett, Vanessa Eades, Michele Heny, Michelle Jackson, Lee McGrath, Alissa Oakley, Lori Rapson, Shelley Smith, Darby Staggs and Cheryl Wagstaff.

Because Making a Difference is a source of
R.A.
PRIDE
Interest Meetings — February 6th, 7th, & 9th
From 6:00-7:00 p.m.
In Curry Room 3
Applications Available At Meetings

The Honorable Dr. Soon Sung Cho
Member of the National Assembly, Republic of Korea
Professor of Political Science Emeritus, University of Missouri
"The Dynamics of Korean Politics and Economy"
Tuesday, February 21
7:30 p.m.
Virginia Room

HAIR FASHIONS
115 W. THIRD ST., FARMVILLE, VA.
PHONE 392-4035
Valentine's Special!
GET THAT NEW LOOK...
$10.00 GALS. – $6.00 GUYS

WLCX 90.1 FM "The Voice of Longwood"
392-9380

	SUNDAY	MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY	SATURDAY
4-6 PM	Vintage (Jim Wood) Insanely Inane World Of Rev Jim	Progressive + (Julie Smith) Jules & The Mix	Metal (Mich Hummer) Mega Metal	Reggae (John Drum) Reggae Buffet	Nuggy Music (Amy & Laura) Almost Illegal		Progressive (Paul Petty) Tom Cruise & The Seoul Man
6-8 PM	Psychadelia (Jake & Kevin) Psychadelic Solutions	Classic Rock R&S's Freedom Rock	Progressive (Christine-Mann) Progressive Dities	Jazz (Jharron Fells) Herb's Cool Jazz W Mellow Xtras	Progressive (Eric & Dina) We're 3rd Floor	Reggae Nicole Lanningham	Various (Harry Vogel) Cheap Vacation
8-10 PM	Various (Matt Fletcher) Songs Matt Likes	Progressive (Scott Flood) Yes No Maybe	Progressive (Paul Petty) Tom Cruise & The Seoul Man	Rock & Rush (Dennis Morley)	Progressive (Scott McIntyre)	Rock & Roll (Andy Wheeler) Rock Block Hour	(Mike E.) MF Top 40
10-12 PM	Various (Joe Harper) Songs To Learn And Sing	Different (Dan & Gilligian) Paradoxes Aneurism And Brain Cramps	Reggae & Progress (Hugh & Charles) Enough Said	Schizophrenic (Nicole & Jen) We're Not Blonde	Different (Dan & Gilligian) Paradoxes Aneurism And Brain Cramps	Pop & Rock (Jeff Cee) Whatever	60's & 70's Rock (Janice Johnson) Groovy Disposition
12-2 AM						Pop & Rock (Jeff Cee) Whatever	Rock & Roll (Andy Wheeler) Rock Block Hour

Give Us A Listen

Congratulations to all Greeks on Rush, but especially to our new ΚΔ pledges — you're awesome! — Love the Kappa Delta's

Pregnant? We Care. Free Professional Pregnancy Counseling. Explore all your options. Help with medical expenses. You may help choose your baby's adoptive parents. Children's Home Society. Call Toll Free 1-800-247-2888.

Paige's
Place To Shop
PHONE 392-6179
ACROSS FROM HIGHRISES
S. MAIN ST., 8:55 AM - 8:55 PM
Valentines Specials!
$14.95 AND UP
Specials delivered on campus or immediate downtown area.
10% Off Specials
ON CASH AND CARRY!
FREE VALENTINE'S CARD
IF PAID FOR BY FEB. 10TH!
Be My Valentine

FEATURES

Wilson Sheds Light On Soviet Policy

By KIM HART

"The Roots of Soviet Foreign Policy," a talk delivered by Lieutenant General Samuel V. Wilson, was the reason many faculty and students gathered January 30, 1989 in Wygal Auditorium. General Wilson is an expert on Soviet Foreign Policy.

General Wilson led his speech with a detailed description of his journey to Moscow, giving us reasons for such detail: 1) the profound fundamental differences between the U.S. and the Soviets, and 2) Mother Russia can become an addiction.

Gorbachev's Revolution was described as a promise of a relatively safer world. The Soviet Union was described as an "expansionist state", a "defending homeland", and an "imperialist", watching for opportunity to strengthen. The Soviets recognize the U.S. as an industrial society.

General Wilson went on to discuss the Soviet Foreign Policy goals: 1) geophysical location — climate/geography; 2) access to the world ocean; 3) typography; 4) open frontier — no natural barriers; 5) internal turbulence; 6) religion — Russian Orthodox; 7) bureaucratic momentum; 8) fear of the U.S. — believing the U.S. can do anything once we set our minds to it; and 9) lack of understanding between Soviets and the U.S.

General Wilson ended by discussing the reactions of Soviet humans. He also added that the application of force by the U.S. would not be enough to stop the Soviets, so we had better start understanding each other.

Lysistrata: Good Clean Fun

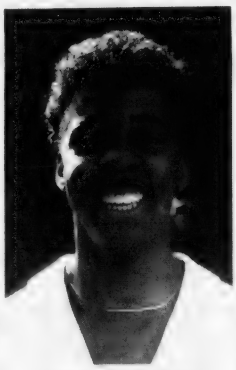
The Longwood Players will be bringing to the Jarman stage one of their most ambitious efforts when they perform February 22-25 the Greek comedy Lysistrata. Lysistrata, written by Aristophanes, details the efforts of one woman to bring about an end to the Peloponnesian War, using only her wit and feminine guile. Lysistrata, played by Karen Whitely, recognizes that the war has no purpose, and along with her compatriots Kleonike, Myrrhine, Lampito, and Ismenia works to demonstrate this fact to the men. They, however, are women and as women they cannot use the traditional means of political redress. For Lysistrata, the situation requires drastic and dramatic action. Lysistrata and her friends use the one thing that will attract the males' attention — their bodies. By enticing the men into a "long and lasting piece" with their enemies, Lysistrata hopes to end the senseless waste the war has caused.

The technical aspect of this show for the Players will be equal to the performing in the amount of effort that will be needed. The show will have original costumes designed by Longwood student Lorrie Huffman as well as original music and songs written by alumnus Rusty Hurley. Directing Lysistrata will be Dr. Douglas Young. The show has in its cast 36 males and females.

The Longwood Players with their production hope to communicate the same peaceful Aristophanes felt when he first wrote the play. The Players by giving the show's dialogue a more contemporary feel wish to increase the amount of enjoyment an audience can experience in seeing the show. They in no way desire to offend anyone's sensibilities and hope that the show will be enjoyed in the same spirit that was originally intended. It is recommended, however, that young children not be allowed to see this production because of its strong sexual content.

Delta Sigma Theta Has Third Annual Game

Delta Sigma Theta Sorority Inc. is having its 3rd Annual Couples Game.
When: Fri. Feb. 17
Where: Lancer Cafe
Time: 8:00 p.m.
Admission ¢.75
To participate send
Name:
Partner's Name:
Address:
Phone Number:
Send info. to Box 1148



Barnette Named Player Of The Week

Sophomore forward Carmille Barnette scored 39 points and grabbed 21 rebounds in two Lady Lancer basketball victories last week. For her performance, she has been named Longwood College Player of the Week for the week of January 29-February 5. Player of the Week is chosen by the Longwood Sports Information Office.

Barnette led Longwood in an upset of fifteenth-ranked Pittsburgh-Johnstown with 23 points and 11 rebounds despite being sidelined for part of the contest with an injured ankle.

Longwood's scoring and rebound leader (18.2 ppg, 9.1 rpg), Barnette leads Longwood in eight categories. The team's top scorer ten times, Barnette has been in double figures all 15 games she has played this season.

A graduate of Bluestone High School, Barnette was named All-District three times for coach Marie Crump.

CARMILLE BARNETT

ROTC Scholarships

The ROTC Dept. is now accepting applications for 3 year scholarships. There is no obligation to join the Army unless you accept the scholarship.

It pays for tuition, books, application of degree, cap and gown for graduation, and every month you will receive $100 tax free. The only part it does not pay for is room and board.

For more information contact Cpt. DeWitt 392-9348 or come by E. Ruffner 3rd floor. Let leadership be your guide.

Last day that we will be accepting applications will be Feb. 9, 1989.

CARTERS FLOWER SHOP
711 W. THIRD STREET • 392-3151 •

FOTO EXPRESS
VALENTINE SPECIAL
FOR LONGWOOD STUDENTS AND FACULTY
$2.00 OFF
(WITH THIS COUPON)
ON 24 EXP. OR 36 EXP.
FILM PROCESSING
OFFER GOOD FEB. 7-17, 1989
FOTO EXPRESS
SOUTHGATE SHOPPING CENTER
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA 23901
(MUST HAVE THIS COUPON PRESENT TO GET THE DISCOUNT)

SPORTS

NCAA Bid May Be On The Line In Longwood - Macon Contest

When Randolph-Macon journeys down from Ashland to play Longwood's men's basketball team for a 7:25 tip-off Wednesday night there will be a lot more at stake than just another college basketball game.

The Jackets and Lancers are among a number of South Atlantic Region teams who are in the running for a berth in the NCAA Division II Tournament. The winner of Wednesday's game, given a strong showing the rest of the season, could be in the driver's seat for a bid to the playoffs.

Longwood will bring in an 18-5 record and six straight victories. Last week's victims included Virginia Wesleyan Monday 61-48, Elizabeth City Wednesday 86-83 and Davis & Elkins 105-73 at home Saturday. The Lancers are 9-0 in Lancer Hall this year, have won 14 straight at home dating back to January, 1988 and are 84-23 on their homecourt since the facility opened in 1980.

While Randolph-Macon, now 17-3 with eight wins in a row, leads the series between the two teams 12-4, the Jackets are just 3-3 in Farmville. R-MC beat Wofford on the road Saturday 76-72 and hosts Virginia Wesleyan tonight (Monday).

Ranked third in the region last week, Macon handed Longwood a 77-59 setback January 21 in Ashland. The Lancers began their current six-game streak after that defeat. Former members of the now defunct Mason-Dixon Conference, Longwood and Randolph-Macon are Division II independents this season.

Longwood placed five players in double figures Saturday night, led by Kevin Jefferson's 21 points, while routing Davis & Elkins 105-73. With the win, the Lancers moved just two victories away from their first 20-win season in nine years. The last LC squad to reach 20 wins finished 28-3 in Division III in 1979-80.

With three games left after Wednesday's contest, Longwood hosts Bowie State Saturday night, visits Atlantic Christian next Monday (Feb. 13) and winds up the regular season February 25, hosting, UNC Greensboro.

Against Davis and Elkins the Lancers raced to first half leads of 12-3, 17-6 and 40-17 before settling for a 54-29 edge at the half. Coach Cal Luther went with reserves for the last 13 minutes of the game.

Lancer Gymnasts Split; Host Three-Team Meet

Led by strong showings from Angie Sullivan and Natalie Taylor, Longwood gymnasts picked up their first win of the season Friday at Navy, besting a squad from Lock Haven 162.35 to 147.50 but falling to the Midshipmen who scored a 168.85.

Now 1-4, Longwood will host its final meet of the year Saturday at 2:00 when Radford and West Chester visit Lancer Hall for a 2:00 competition.

Considering that the Lancers competed without senior leader Lynda Chenoweth, who was back in Farmville with the flu, it was a good performance for Longwood.

"I feel we could have and would have picked up two wins if Lynda had been able to perform," said coach Ruth Rudd. "Everyone who competed did really well. We won floor and did well on vaulting."

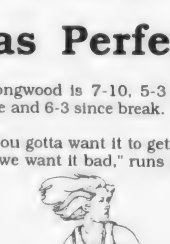
Longwood's top gymnasts were Sullivan, who had the second best all-around score in Lancer history, and Taylor who led her team in vaulting (8.95) and floor (8.90).

Sullivan tied Taylor for first in vaulting, was fourth on floor (8.7), second on bars (8.7) and third on beam (8.7). Her all-around score was second best in the meet. Only Cindy Shelton, now out with an injury, has scored better in all-around. Shelton had a 35.45 last season at the Towson Invitational.

Taylor's 8.90 was good for second in Friday night's floor competition.

Longwood Has Perfect Weekend

By ROXIE LOCKWOOD



"You just can't know how sweet it is," Longwood women's basketball coach Shirley Duncan said after the Lady Lancers' emotional 82-74 victory over visiting Pittsburgh-Johnstown. Some taste of the sweetness can be gained by noting the Longwood-UPJ series record. In 11 previous meetings, Longwood had never beaten the Lady Mountain Cats. Pitt-Johnstown was fifteenth ranked in Division II before Sunday's contest.

Sunday's win was also revenge for the 50-point loss inflicted on the Lady Lancers in Johnstown earlier in the season. "It's so nice to give them back some of what they've given us before," said senior co-captain Angee Middleton, tears of joy shining in her eyes.

The Lady Lancers set the stage for the upset of the 15th-ranked Lady Mountain Cats be defeating Wofford College 81-65 Friday night in Lancer Hall.

Longwood is 7-10, 5-3 at home and 6-3 since break.

"You gotta want it to get it, and we want it bad," runs an old high school cheer. Longwood wanted to get a victory over Pittsburgh-Johnstown, and they wanted it bad.

After several lead changes, the Lady Mountain Cats were up by four at intermission.

But the Lady Lancers had struck and wounded the Mountain Cats. Longwood knew UPJ was vulnerable. Longwood closed in for the kill in the second half.

Ten seconds after intermission, Carmille Barnette hit a turnaround jumper in the lane to bring Longwood within two.

Barnette fell to the floor with an ankle sprain after contesting a rebound on the other end of the court.

Barnette led Longwood with 23 points and 11 rebounds. Callaham notched 16 points, nine assists and seven steals. Green chipped in 13 points and ten rebounds. Middleton had 12 points, nine rebounds, eight assists and four steals.

Longwood got ready for the game with Pitt-Johnstown with an 81-65 victory over Wofford College.

Although the Lady Terriers tried to make the game interesting, Longwood had too much firepower. Middleton led all scorers with 24 points. Barnette (16) and Rawdon (15) were both in double figures. Barnette and Green led Longwood with ten rebounds.

For the season, Barnette leads Longwood in scoring (18.2 ppg) and rebounding (9.1 rpg), Middleton (11.6), Callaham (11.2) and Rawdon (10.1) are also in double figures.

Barnette is backed up on the boards by Rawdon (8.6) and Green (7.7).

Callaham (3.8 apg) and Middleton (3.4 spg) led in assists and steals.

Lancers Host W&L Tuesday; Seek Third Straight Crown

After hosting Washington & Lee Tuesday at 7:30, Longwood's wrestling team will be out to win its third straight Virginia College Division Tournament Saturday at Newport News Apprentice.

The Lancers have won the first two Virginia College Division events and could make it three in a row with a strong performance this weekend. First Longwood, now 5-7 for the season, would like to get past the General of Washington & Lee. Tuesday's match will be the Lancers' last home appearance before they host the NCAA Division II Southeast Regional Tournament February 19.

Longwood beat Gardner-Webb 37-7 and lost to Winston-Salem State 36-12 in Saturday wrestling action at Boiling Springs, North Carolina, but the big news for the Lancers was 158-pounder Ted Proctor's win over an All-American.

Proctor, now 20-6, bested Willie Morgan of Winston-Salem 9-7. Morgan was an NCAA Division II All-American last season and is the top-ranked 158 pounder in the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association. Proctor also won his other match against Gardner-Webb by an 8-0 score.

"The win over Morgan was a big one for Proctor," said Lancer coach Steve Nelson. "If he wins at regionals, he'll be seeded in nationals."

Longwood's other top grapplers kept rolling also. Tim Mason won his bout against Winston-Salem on a pin. Mason, a 167-pounder, moved his record to 19-7. Joe McDaniel picked up a forfeit and a 3-1 decision against Winston-Salem for a 15-9-2 mark at 134 pounds.

BUY ANY LARGE PIZZA AND GET ONE FREE!
THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1989
FROM 5-10 PM ONLY!
CALL US! 392-1820
(MUST MENTION COUPON WHEN ORDERING)
DOMINO'S PIZZA

PAIRET'S INC.
136-140 NORTH MAIN ST., FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA · 392-3221
YOUR SPORTING GOODS DEALER
Complete New Selection
Of Sorority And Fraternity
Crest Letters!

SPECIAL VALENTINE'S DAY ISSUE

The Rotunda

1839 LONGWOOD COLLEGE 1989

"Catching Sight of Longwood from atop the Sesquicentennial Mount"

VOL. NO. 68 NO. 14 | FEBRUARY 14, 1989 | FARMVILLE, VA.

Longwood Leaders Dive Into 4th Annual Leadership Conference

By J. R. REEVES

This past weekend of February 10-12, approximately 100 of Longwood's student leaders assembled in Va. Beach for the fourth annual Longwood Leadership Conference. This year's conference was proud to have the presence of Dr. and Mrs. Dorrill.

Some of the weekend's highlights include keynote speakers Meyera Oberndorf, who is mayor of Va Beach, and UVA's V.P. for Administration, Dr. Raymond Haas. A majority of the weekend was dedicated to programs presented by Longwood students and faculty/staff/ administration. The topics of this year's programs covered such topics as pride, motivation, communication, professionalism, and marketing techniques. On the social scene, Sat. night was Longwood Night at Cafe Loco

(Continued on Page 6)

Accounting Students Help With Taxes

By MATT PETERMAN

How do you spell relief? For many in need of tax help it is spelled V-I-T-A. This acronym stands for Volunteer Income Tax Assistance and for the second year in a row Longwood's accounting students are volunteering their time to make filing a tax return less taxing.

At Longwood and across the country volunteers from VITA help handicapped, non-English speaking and "people who can't afford a professional tax service," according to Dr. William P. Brown, accounting professor and one of Dr. William P. Brown, co-coordinator of the VITA program, looks over tax information of a fellow faculty member, Harsh Luther last Saturday. Under Dr. Brown's direction, Accounting students will assist those in need of tax help for five coming Saturdays.

(Continued on Page 3)

Senior Ball Will Be Free

Officers, Committee, Hammer Out Revised Format

By MATT PETERMAN

The 1989 Class Officers and the Senior Ball Organizing Committee hammered out the final format of the ball last Wednesday in a lengthy meeting spanning almost 2 hours.

In what was seen as a major reversal to earlier plans, the members decided to drop the $5.00 ticket charge after discovering that the ball had "... received more money from Student Activity Fees and other miscellaneous funds," according to Drew Hudson, the SGA President.

In order to cut expenses "... we decided not to have a band, but a professional D. J.," said Tim Tabler, a senior member on the Organizing Committee. "The money we save ... [will] help pick up the tab," he said.

The maneuver will also provide a better social environment. According to ABC law, events that charge an entrance fee and have alcohol must have a biergarten that separate those who are of age from those that are not. Without the fee all ages can socialize together with the hands of all attending being marked, indicating if a particular person is of age to drink alcohol. Proper I.D. will be required.

"All those people that purchase the $5.00 ticket must collect their refunds at the Lankford information office," according to Tim Oliva, the Senior Class Treasurer. The necessary proof to get the refund is the purchased ticket.

All seniors wishing to attend must still R.S.V.P. by calling Tim Tabler at 392-7680. The tickets will be sent to an individuals box number. With the dropping of the charge "we are trying for a bigger turnout," says Tabler.

Much of the plans that the Organizing Committee had made in approximately 10 earlier meetings remained intact.

The Ball is to follow the 7:15 Senior reception at Longwood House with President and Mrs. Dorrill hosting. The reception and the ball will take place this Saturday, February 18, 1989. At the reception the Senior Class will present the class gift to Longwood.

The ball will take place in The Gold Room of Lankford Student Union in much the similar set-up as Mid-Winter's two weeks ago (R/W/G rooms to socialize and The Gold Room for dancing).

The theme of the Senior Class Ball is "We've Had The Time of Our Lives." All of the catering will be done by ARA dining services, which will include hors d'oeuvres and all mixers necessary to make any drink. Seniors are encouraged to B.Y.O.B to complement the mixers.

The senior ball is only for seniors, but dates of those attending don't have to be Longwood Seniors.

"This should be one of the best events of the year," said Tom Harrison, the Senior Class Vice President.

SGA President Hudson added that he "... hoped the whole class embarks on an evening that they will enjoy and have the opportunity to reflect on their accomplishments at Longwood."

Bill Proposes Replacing Student Aid With Service

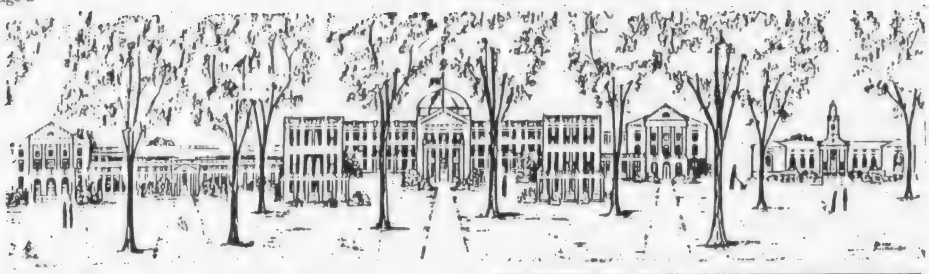
(CPS) – Students would have to join the military or do volunteer work to get college financial aid if a new bill introduced Jan. 6 becomes law.

As expected, Sen. Sam Nunn (D-Ga.) and Rep. Dave McCurdy (D-Okla.) said they'd introduce legislation that would phase out all federal student aid programs within five years, replacing them with a deal in which students would have to perform some kind of "national service" in return for aid.

McCurdy, in announcing the measure, said it would enforce the notion that "democracy is not free."

If the plan passes – both legislators expected Congress to vote on it by early 1990 – students would have to serve one year in a public service civilian job like working in a nursing home or hospital or two years in a combat branch of the military.

Students who served in the military would get a $25,000 grant at the end of their hitch.



Students who worked in civilian jobs would get a $10,000 grant.

McCurdy hoped the plan would "reinvigorate citizenship" as an ideal that was first severely damaged during the Vietnam war. Then "the 1970s and early 1980s featured 'me generations'

(Continued on Page 3)

Contents

Editorial and Letters.....2
News.....3, 7
Valentine's Personals.... 4, 5
Features.....6
Sports.....8

Drown The Swim Test

Myth has it that swim test evolved from the donation of a large sum of money from the wealthy aunt of a student who graduated from Longwood, and subsequently drowned because she did not know how to swim. The money funded the swim test.

Whether this myth is true or not is hard to tell, but one myth that is, is the logic behind the swim test itself.

In order to graduate, Longwood requires that one must demonstrate swimming proficiency. The word "requires" should be changed to the more appropriate word: "encourages" or deleted altogether.

This requirement seems dated to a time when Longwood had House Mothers stationed in all the dorms — a time when the Longwood College represented the third parent in the lives of its students.

Longwood College students don't need to be brought down to the level of elementary school children, but given the opportunity to exercise the responsibility of a rational adult. If a student wants to learn to swim, he/she will take a swim class as one of his/her general education requirements, if and when he/she wants to.

If not, then I don't think a person needs to subjected to a multi-hour ordeal complete with uncompassionate and screeching physical education professors that seem to be pushing a quota on an assembly line rather than administering a proficiency test.

This test is clearly an exit test of the worse kind. A large percent of those taking the test are seniors in the twilight of their college days — too late to helped with a class, but just in time to be held back.

If Longwood must administer an exit test, why not one that has real value. One that tests an individual's writing and reasoning skills in the form of a thesis paper. This would not only demonstrate crucial writing skills (or lack of them), but what knowledge one has gained after four years at college, and thus demonstrate one's ability to swim or drown in the real world.

Editor's Note — The author of last week's editorial "School Pride Returns Through Trusted Leadership" was an original composition of the Editor-in-Chief, as are all editorials unless designated "Guest Editorial". After receiving numerous verbal requests concerning this, I thought it necessary to clear up the situation.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Bashing The Establishment

Dear Editor,

In my final year at Longwood, I have come to question the establishment (or administration) more than ever. Of course, trying to understand the policies and actions of this school (and others, in general) is futile. (But I'll give myself a couple of gold stars for trying.) This week, I'll pick on the . . . Financial Aid Office.

This is the story of two of my suitemates. One of my suitemates doesn't live with his parents (although he's a dependent), doesn't own a car or much of anything else. He is, however, paying his own way through school. He seems like a perfect candidate for financial aid, right?

Now for the other suitemate. He lives at home (and probably always will). He would have to be a dependent since he lives at home. He owns a very well polished Porsche 924, as well as another car. Not exactly a prototypical financial aid candidate. Don't you agree?

Mr. Ragland and the rest of the FAO staff didn't see it that way. The person with no car didn't make enough money to qualify for financial aid. The Porsche owner somehow convinced the Financial Aid Office that he

(Continued on Page 7)

Librarian Should Get New Position

Dear Editor,

I felt it necessary to write a letter concerning these people at this college who have decided to be "public servants".

I am talking specifically about one librarian who I felt was unnecessarily rude. She obviously felt I ought to know the answer to the question I

(Continued on Page 7)

Break-Ins Are Serious

Editor, The Rotunda:

As you all may know, there have been several break-ins within the past month in the Cunninghams as well as the rest of the campus. By now, the students are probably sick and tired of people telling you to lock your doors whenever you go out of your room or to report all suspicious looking people. I'm sure that your first reaction is that "Oh, no big deal it won't happen to me". Please don't

(Continued on Page 7)

Misadvising Is A Scandal

Dear Editor,

As Longwood College prepares to enter its one-hundred and fiftieth year, it does so with new shrubbery, an improved walkway in front of Jarman Auditorium, a new deck on the snackbar, a new mall, and a renovated Rotunda Market — now it is

(Continued on Page 7)

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
Matt Peterman

Managing Editor
R. Bruce Gantt

Features Editor
Cheryl Jeffrey

Greek Affairs Editor
Chet Ahn

Photography Editor
Emily Howell

Sports Editor
Lindy Seymore

Business Manager
Tim Oliva

Advertising Managers
Steve Evans
Susan Miller

Layout Assistant
Monica Gilbert

Faculty Advisor
William C. Wood

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be typed or printed neatly, state the author's years, and major as applicable.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 392-7817.

NEWS

What's Going On In AMA?

By KIM HART

American Marketing Association is off to a big start in 1989. Many events have been planned.

The Richmond Chapter meeting will be held on February 14 at the Holiday Inn, downtown. Members will meet in front of Niner by 10 a.m. $10 is needed to cover cocktails and the lunch buffet. AMA will be presenting questionnaires, as part of a profile project, to prominent business people at the meeting.

On February 16, AMA will be sponsoring a "Women in Business" seminar at the Weyanoke Inn from 7-9 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend to listen to the local speakers, representing the marketing field. A Wine & Cheese reception will follow.

A tour of the local vineyard is scheduled for the last week in February. Bring $2 for the cheese and wine afterwards.

Nationals will be held in New Orleans, April 13-15. Any suggestions for fund raisers can be placed in Box 1155.

The next AMA meeting will be March 7 at 1 p.m. in Room 202. Anyone wishing to be an officer should be prepared to give a brief presentation stating why he/she wants this position.

Current officers include: Beth Mems, President; Gerry VanWagner, Vice-President/Treasury; Tamara Smith, Secretary; Dana Mayo, Publicity/Promotions; Colin Steele, Advisor.

All activities are excused by Longwood College. Notice may be obtained from Colin Steele.

SGA Meets For You

By MOHAMMAD H. STWODAH

Being elected as one of the 1989 senate members of SGA was an honor to me; holding the office of communications coordinator, my job is to make the student body aware of all the activities and decisions of the student government. We meet at 6:30 p.m. in Lankford conference room 1 every Thursday; we strongly suggest that students sit-in at these meetings and listen to subjects that concern the future of Longwood and its students.

SGA supports and is participating in many activities during the Black History Month, please come and support these events with us. Students interested in scholarships, keep your eyes open because there are a few going around. For example, SGA is offering a scholarship, and there are a few others.

SGA members are leaders, the members are attending the Leadership Conference at Virginia Beach within the next two weeks.

Arrival of Gyre Starts Literary Week

By ANGELIN P. BREWER

It has arrived on campus, and it's going to knock the socks off the students and faculty of Longwood. The best of the best in a style publication is brought to you February 16, 17, and 20 in a limited supply. Oh yes, Gyre is here and it's HOT!

Look out! The new Smoker is the place to be Feb. 16, 17, and 20. A donation of $1 will be taken for each copy of Gyre '89 to be given to the town of Farmville, and used where the money is most needed. Jerri Kelley, Art Editor of Gyre, said enthusiastically, "Why shouldn't everyone benefit from this year's issue!"

Gyre is an annual publication that hosts the best of Longwood's input of poems, short stories, and art work. The issue of 1989 is by any standard top notch and Gyre's staff challenges you to get it while it's HOT.

This was the scene last Monday as over a hundred students, on and off, waited in lines to take their swim test.

Accounting Students Give Tax Help

(Continued from page 1)

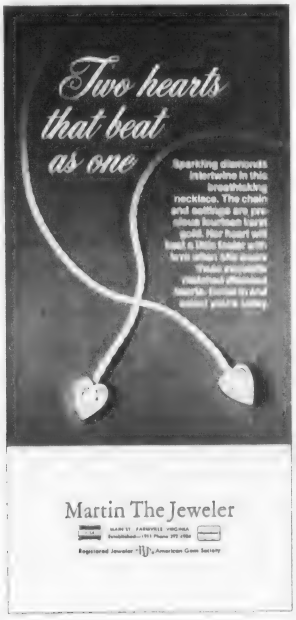
the co-coordinators of the program. The other coordinator is Dr. Raymond Brawstow, an Economics professor.

VITA volunteers which are primarily accounting students explain deductions, exemptions, and credits and how taxpayers may claim on a return. The volunteers will even help individuals complete the return right down to the refund or the amount due.

According to the I.R.S., last year — VITA's 18th year — some 47,500 VITA volunteers assisted more than 800,000 taxpayers at nearly 6,700 sites including Longwood.

As one Farmville resident who was having his return looked after said, "this is my second year coming here and I am very pleased with the service."

The program started at Longwood under the direction of Dr. Brown and the Accounting Association, "after the I.R.S. contacted Ms. Harbour [the head of the Accounting concentration] and asked her about setting up a VITA cite at Longwood," says Dr. Brown.



Last year about a dozen accounting students participated in the program and at least that many, and it is estimated more will this year. The program allows students to put classroom knowledge to work in real situations.

The program is set to continue during the last two Saturdays in February and the first three Saturdays in April. The times are from 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

Bill Proposes

(Continued from Page 1)

more interested in their own financial gain and getting BMWs than serving their country."

CEDAR BROOK RESTAURANT, INC.

½ MILE EAST OF FARMVILLE
ON RT. 460, PHONE 392-4589

ANYTHING FROM SANDWICHES TO FULL COURSE MEALS

OPEN 11 AM - 9 PM, 7 DAYS A WEEK!

Perini's ITALIAN RESTAURANT

- Pizzas
- Pasta
- Salads
- Pork B-B-Q
- Daily Lunch Specials
- Sandwiches
- Tacos
- Stuffed Potatoes
- Ice Cream
- ABC-On

HIGH STREET, FARMVILLE, VA.
PHONE 392-5865

Happy Valentine

Karen

worked out like they

I love you,

Susan Beckwith, — Thank-you for being one of my bestest buddies. Don't forget I am always here for you and always will be. Be Mine! — Luv, "The Outcast"

Happy Valentines Day, ΣFX! — Luv, Cherié

L and C — Happy Valentine's Day! Thanks for being such great friends — You're the best! — I love ya! — K

the members and offi- of the P.E.M.C. — Happy entine's Day to you!

To Penny and Jen — Happy Valentine's Day to two of the greatest friends I could ever ask for — Hope "you guys" have an awesome day — Smile! — Love Denny

Happy Valentine's DAY

Personals – Thank you for putting all my VD messages in. TNN glad to have my Lil Sis! I love you! — ry!

Summer Opportunities for students to make a difference! Work with inner-city youth in a wilderness adventure camp; Instructors, Aquatics, Equipment, EMT, & cook positions available; Come to camp placement day on Tuesday, February 21st at the Commons; See Chuck at the Princeton Education Center table, or call 201/362-6765.

Kevin — The sisters of Sigma Kappa would like to wish you a wonderful Valentine's Day. — We love you lots.

Maurice K., — I am sending friendship and good wishes to you. Have a nice Valentine's Day. — Love "y"

Gwen and Lindy, — True hip is characterized by the likes of you. Never change. (Well, maybe just a little.) Happy V Day! —

Tom – "You make my heart sing . . . I think I love you." Hope you'll be mine for today and always. With love and friendship, Angelin

Keith – I hope you're looking forward to our 1st Valentine's Day together. It's going to be the best one you've ever had and that's a promise! Love you forever – Leslie

Truth?
God?
Heaven?
Paradise?
Homely?
Husky?
Truth?
From Me

Po-say – Hey home boy. Wanna dance? From Home girl.

Bill – These last 3 months have been the best! We've only just begun. All my love, Cindy Lou

Jalapeno –
Happy Valentine's Day!
Can we talk before May?
Are you attached to someone else
Or are you just gay?
Love, Nita K.

Hey Princess Tippy-Toes – How many Valentines do you think you'll get? Love ya, Frosted Mini Wheat

Misha – I'm glad you finally found the BEST Valentine. Good luck, Nancy Pants

Bon-Bon – Remember I will always be your buddy. Love ya, P.P.

Jillian Sue – Happy Valentine's Day! Keep smiling. Love ya, N. Louise

Lil' Deb – Sorry about your leg honey - honey. Happy Valentine's Day! Love ya, Nanc

Cal Wms – My one and only valentine. Just a little something to wish you Happy Valentine's Day! Our first, but the beginning of many, many more together! I love you, now, tomorrow, forever! With love always! Your one and only! SLM

Valerie – Thanks for being such a great roommate and friend. Happy Valentine's ove Stacy

Kathy, Angie, Debbie, Valerie – Happy Valentine's Day! Let's do dessert? Love Stacy

Suite 519 and 521 – Will you be our Valentines? Best friends always. HAT

Jeffrey Dingeldein, Happy Valentine's Day! Well, we still have memories. Tell your family Hi. Scrawny Chinck

"HA" – Wishing you two Happy Valentine's Day! I know you hate VD but have a heart. Please be my Valentine. Thanks for being my best friends and the best roomies. Luv, T

Happy Valentine's Day and congratulations to Michelle, Amber, Tracy, Laurie, Rhonda, Allison, Suesan, Kris, Laura, and Laurie. Good luck in pledging Delta Sigma Pi. – Marcus T.C.

Happy Valnetine's Day to Courtenay and Kathalene. and Rob.

Maraschino –
To the cream of the crop
To the one at the top;
Happy Valentine's Day!
You make my heart flip!
Love, D. Murphy

Cindy — Thanks for typing my paper. Happy Valentine's Day. — Love Tim

Karen, Lori, Becky, and Jerri, — We may not see much of each other anymore, but I haven't lost sight of your friendship. May your Valentine's Day be all that you want it to be. Happy belated birthday Lori! — Love, Monica

Secs, — I sure do miss ya! Happy Valentine's Day. Love ya! — K-Boo

Lori, Kim, Robin, Janice champ

To the future prez of the U.S. (i.e. Michael J. Whitford) — I'm glad you're my big brother. Thanks for being such a special friend. Happy Valentine's Day. — Love always, Ter

CAM – To our first Valentine's Day together. May it be as special as you are to me. Em yeu Anh! Happy Valentine's Day! TNN

Bubba – I am so happy! Can't wait to get married in May '90. I love you! Baby P!

Penny, Denny, and Jenny — Happy Valentine's Day — Bill, Matt, Tim, Roy, Ron

Zayro, Jay, and Steph: — Have a Valentine's Day. —

Beth (Squash), — Thanks for everything over the past 4 years! Don't drink so much that you wake up all alone — Ya know. Happy Valentine's Day! — Love, Ray-mond

Chi '89 would like to ask the students and faculty of Longwood to "check out" the archives in Lancaster library were Chi's memorabilia has been placed. The blue and white spirit dates back to the college's beginning, and continues to reproduce itself in unselfish contributors. — Chi '89 have you as my Lil' broth- You're aw- purpose!!! Good lu-

Delta Sigma Pi and WLCX 90.1 FM will be conducting a community service. Every Tuesday and Thursday from 1:30-2:00 p.m. News and information will be read over the air. This will cover area and national events. Tune in.

Wear your pin with pride and soon it will develop into letters. Our sincere congratulations guys! — Your President and The Brothers of Alpha CHI RHO.

lants, — Kenda! Asemer, Mol- nsfield, Chris da, Kenny Gordon, Foreman, Mark Stal- Kline.

Ranger Rick, — Congratulations on TKE! This has to be a match made in heaven. TKE is the frat for you and you were the type of guy they were looking for. — The Tormentors other real Chris is still

The Brothers of ΣFX, — Congratulations on another great 'social' event. Sigma Gamma Chi is the best fraternity anywhere because the best friends are the ones that you don't have to pay for. — Bo Bear

Bruce, — OOOHH! Baby. It's so BIG. Watch out for Rosy Palmer. You are the ultimate Party Man — 'like a wild dog in heat'. Live, surf or die! — A future 'columnist'

Zayro"! — You're cetie"! Happy Valentine's Love ya! T P.S. Moo!

MJW, — You're the best chair a board could have. But to get the recognition you deserve, you'll have to learn to "suck up" like the honor board chair does. (Yes, it's a compliment!) — Judicially, RAT

Day, Longwood

ppy Valentin

Squash, — I LOVE YOU LOTS! Happy Valentine's Day! — Pun'kin

Bobert, — You know! Happy Valentine's Day! — Ter

πKA — TOY at HSC:
Roses are red
Violets are blue
Here are some things that might interest you,
Seven Springs skiing,
Disney World too,
West Palm Beach sun,
and West VA flu,
Hibernation weekends
And all that we've been through,
Things that could not have happened,
Without YOU!
Happy Valentine's Day!! — Love, Mudbat (aka lightning)

Swooz — What can I say but thanks and Happy Valentine's Day! — Love, Ter e, the

To My Teddy Bear, —
On November 8th
At 11:59
A kiss occurred
Which made you mine
Since then my days have been bright
Anything but dreary or glum
For if I remember correctly
"The best is yet to come"
Your affection and love
Has definitely swept me away
And I don't ever want to leave
As long as you will stay

Tom (Railroad) — Don't forget to call the "Ray" Hotline! Thanks for the party. We'll all stay next time — Even Dr. Barber and Max. Happy Valentine's Day! — The "Ray"s s Day! Keep tak pictures! — Love, The

To: All Sigma Kappa's — Have a Happy Valentine's Day! I love you all! — ΣK love and mine — Chris uld like to get to know you better. I hope

Rog, — another game of chess? — You know who

Happy Valentine's Day to the sisters and new pledges of Sigma Kappa — I hope everyone has a wonderful Valentine's Day! — Love Denny

Ang, — Merry Valentine's Day. XO and a little more. —

Lo — Looking in the past I see bad times as well as good. And if we live the rest of our lives together in bad times, I'll still be the happiest man for spending my life with you! Happy Valentine's Day! I Love You, — Pork Butt

Jay, — Happy V-day! Sorry I can't be with you! — Love always, Paulina

Steph, — I'm glad you asked him! I hope you'll have fun! Happy V-day! — Ter

Sweet-T's — Have a wonderful V-Day! Ya! are the greatest!! —The other Sweet-T

Love, Christine

M. E. — Happy Valentine's "Labbie"! — T. T.

Pooch P. — Happy Valentine's! — Ter

Mike P. - Just want to say Happy Valentines' Day. You are my best friend and I will always love you. Tuppy

To My Little Lion, All my love. Bubba

VALENTINE

Bryan and Dennis — Thanks for being such great friends! — Love, Chris

Sharon — Happy Valentine's Day! You are the best little sister I could have gotten! — ΣK love and mine, Your big sis

Leslie and Mel — You all are the greatest roommates and friends. Happy Valentine's Day! — ΣK love and mine, Chris

e a hen tomorrow

Terri, — Thanks for everything! What's the next significant number. Have a great Valentine's Day! — Robert

2nd floor French girls, — We love ya!!! — 3rd floor French guys

There will always be

To the sisters of Sigma Alpha Iota, — We love you! — The kids
P.S. Mom, we hope to make you proud.

Vicky – We hope everything went well yesterday. You are deeply loved by us all. Love and loyalty in ADG. Your Sisters get in

Lellinger, — Your Bad, Bad, Bad! Have a great Valentine's Day. Congrats Again. — Sas

Donna — Thanks for everything lately. — TCO, Sas

Julie Wiley - Will yo ne cheer for me? An

Pregnant? We Care. Free Professional Pregnancy Counseling. Explore all your options. Help with medical expenses. You may help choose your baby's adoptive parents. Children's Home Society. Call Toll Free 1-800-247-2888.

The sisters of Sigma Kappa would like to congratulate their awesome new pledges — Stacy, Jennifer, Sharon, Anothip, Cynthia, Cindy, Lisa, and Sheila. — We love you all.

To Stacy and Ron — Happy Valentine's Day! — "You guys" make an awesome couple — Have a great weekend! — Love Denny

Thank you for putting up

Lov

To my best friend Seandra, — What can I say besides you mean everything to me. I don't know what I would do if you weren't here for me. I could not be any happier. I'm so glad we are back together again. — I love you! Cherié

Mis B, — "Fat, dumb and stupid is no way to go through college" — Your 'friends'

Wh

Ladies of Longwood, — Beware, I am on the hunt and I'm looking for new trophies! — The Great White Booty Hunter

Gary — Happy Valentine's Day! — With love, Jill

Chicken Nugget — I love you very much. I can't wait to be your wife! — Love, your Little Pumpenickel Seed.

bunch of young ladies y
are. Have a great sem

Alcohol Support Group meets every Monday night in the Counseling Center from 6-7 p.m. A resource for anyone at Longwood.

ATTENTION: Rising Sophomores and Juniors
It is time for the Geist Scholarship. Applications are available in the INFORMATION OFFICE. Fill it out and return it to Mary Frances Hanover, Box 465. Deadline March 2. Scholarship is awarded on the basis of involvement, need and G.P.A.
GO FOR IT!

LAVA Thought for the week — LAVA; Victory on Vandalism, common area damage down 44%. Keep it up Longwood! — LAVA

If anyone knows

Attention! Tuesday, February 21 is Camp Interview Day. It will be held in the Commons room between Curry and Frazer from 10 a.m.-3 p.m. Camp directors will be present to give information and applications. Directors are from camps in New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Virginia. Some positions available are counselors, waterfront supervisors, arts and crafts instructors, and many other opportunities!
Plan to attend if you would like an exciting and rewarding summer job!

FEATURES

Learning Center: Help When You Need It

By STEPHANIE NEELY

The Longwood Learning Center, which became operational this fall as a result of an Academic Affairs initiative, offers a great opportunity to the college community. The purpose of the Learning Center is to provide academic support services to help students reach their educational goals. Services also available to faculty and staff are finding sources of grants for funding projects, providing supplements to classroom instruction, and providing services for special students including minorities and the handicapped.

Both Dr. Sarah Young, Director of the Learning Center, and Scott Lissner, Academic Resource Specialist and Coordinator for Disabled Student Services, stress the point that the Learning Center is not only for students at academic risk but for the "B" student who would like to make "A"s or anyone who wants to increase and maintain his academic potential. Peer tutoring is offered in virtually any subject offered here on campus though finding a tutor for certain specialized subjects may take more time; thus, Dr. Young encourages students seeking help. Not to delay until the night before a test to come to the center. Tutoring is free and the center is open several nights a week. Tutoring sessions are usually one-on-one on a weekly basis ranging from 1 to 3 hour sessions depending on the student's needs.

Tutors are selected by screening of an application which contains information about the tutor's qualifications and two recommendations from faculty. If a tutor is accepted, he must go through a training program which prepares him to be an adequate tutor in those subjects he will be tutoring.

In addition to peer tutoring, a writing lab, mathematics lab, study-skills workshops, self-paced materials, and academic and cognitive assessment through diagnostic tests are offered by the center. Scott Lissner coordinates and gives workshop type lectures to targeted groups and will schedule appointments to offer tips on learning strategies. Recently Mr. Lissner has been working with Economics students specifically to help them understand basic concepts of graphing, etc. that are often not given great attention in the classroom but are however, essential to the understanding of the course. Also being planned is a preparation course for taking the National Teacher's Exam.

Students wishing to get help from the Learning Center should go to the center located in the Graham building (next to Campus Police) and fill out a card requesting help with a specific subject. If any student is interested in peer tutoring, applications are available in the Graham building also. For further information, the phone number is 392-9398.

Students

(Continued from page 7)

mean "we will irreversibly diminish the world status of the United States."

Woodbury said the CIEE will establish a Committee on Unrepresented Groups to help schools develop study-abroad opportunities for such groups as business and law students, and poor and minority students.

Free Travel Guide For Students

NEW YORK, NY, Jan. 30, 1989 – Students planning a trip abroad will welcome the latest edition of the Student Travel Catalog, a free, 68-page guide to special opportunities for travel, study and work overseas available to students that is published annually by the Council on International Educational Exchange (CIEE), the largest student travel organization in the world.

The 1989 catalog features information on special air fares, rail passes, low-cost accommodations, publications, insurance, travel gear, tours and car rentals as well as for passport, visa and cutom requirements. Descriptions of special programs for study, work or volunteer service in dozens of countries are also included.

The catalog contains an application for the International Student I.D. Card, the only internationally recognized proof of student status. The card lets students take advantage of special student privileges, discounts and travel benefits throughout the world. CIEE is the official U.S. sponsor of the card, which last year was used by more than one million students worldwide.

Although some of the services and programs are available only to students, most are open to all.

CIEE, a not-for-profit organization founded in 1947, develops and administers a wide variety of study, work and travel programs for American and International students at the secondary, undergraduate, graduate and professional levels. Its membership consists of more than 200 academic institutions and international exchange organizations.

The 1989 Student Travel Catalog is available from CIEE, Dept. 16, 205 E. 42nd St., New York, N.Y. 10017. Telephone: (212) 661-1414. There is a $1 cost for postage and handling.

4th Annual Leadership Conference

(Continued from Page 1)

where entertainment was provided by the band Panic.

The Leadership Conference is held every year in order to bring Longwood students and faculty/staff/administration together in a different setting to create and share ideas that can be brought back to school and put to use through student clubs and organizations. The conference is organized by a special committee chaired by Paul Striffolino.

WLCX 90.1 FM "The Voice of Longwood"
392-9380

	SUNDAY	MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY	SATURDAY
4-6 PM	Vintage (Jim Wood) Insanely Inane World Of Rev. Jim	Progressive + (Julie Smith) Jules & The Mix	Metal (Mich Hummer) Mega Metal	Reggae (John Drum) Reggae Buffet	Nuggy Music (Amy & Laura) Almost Illegal		Progressive (Paul Petty) Tom Cruise & The Seoul Man
6-8 PM	Psychadelia (Jake & Kevin) Psychadelic Solutions	ic Rock R&S's Freedom Rock	Progressive (Christine Mann) Progressive Ditties	Jazz (harron Fells) Herb's Cool Jazz W Mellow Xtras	Progressive (Eric & Dina) We're 3rd Floor	Reggae Nicole Lanningham	Various (Harry Vogel) Cheap Vacation
8-10 PM	various (Matt Fletcher) Songs Matt Likes	Progressive (Scott Flood) Yes. No. Maybe	Progressive (Paul Petty) Tom Cruise & The Seoul Man	Rock & Rush (Dennis Morley)	Progressive (Scott McIntyre)	Rock & Roll (Andy Wheeler) Rock Block Hour	(Mike E.) MF Top 40
10-12 PM	Various (Joe Harper) Songs To Learn And Sing	Different (Dan & Gilligian) Paradoxes Anuerism And Brain Cramps	Reggae & Progress (Hugh & Charles) Enough Said	Schizophrenic (Nicole & Jen We're Not Blonde	Different (Dan & Gilligian) Paradoxes Anuerism And Brain Cramps	Pop & Rock (Jeff Cee) Whatever	60's & 70's Rock (Janice Johnson) Groovy Disposition
12-2 AM		Give Us A Listen				Pop & Rock (Jeff Cee) Whatever	Rock & Roll (Andy Wheeler) Rock Block Hour

FAMILY POPES CENTERS
HIGH DRY
PAPER TOWELS . . . . . 2 FOR $1.00
LADIES CHOICE
DEODORENT $1.00
2 PIECE
PIZZA PAN SET . . . . . REG. $9.99 $4.00

RJ's
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA
392-3392
VALUABLE COUPON • CLIP and SAVE
RJ's
Southgate Shopping Center
THIS COUPON IS WORTH
25% OFF
THE PRICE OF ANY ITEM NUMBERED 1 THRU 28 NOW THRU FEB. 28, 1989

NEWS

First Annual Majors Fair

On the evening of Monday, February 20 from 7-8 p.m., representatives from Longwood's academic departments will assemble in the Red/White/Green Rooms of the Lankford Student Union to informally discuss academic options with current Longwood students. The purpose of the program is to encourage students to become more knowledgeable about the academic options available here at Longwood. After having informal discussions with these faculty, students will be able to make more informed decisions about majors, minors and concentrations. In addition, the fair will give faculty and students from different academic areas a chance to become better acquainted.

This fair is not just for students without a major. It is also for any student who may be looking for a minor or just curious about what other academic programs entail. Some students are declared, but are unhappy with their current major. If this is the case, they should attend and learn about their other options!

According to Bill Froude, Asst. Director, OCPP "A student who majors in something soley because he/she thinks it will lead to a good job may be disappointed. If there is no interest in the content of the classes for the major, chances are there will not be much interest in the career area."

The most important questions to ask yourself when choosing an academic program of study is: Do I like what I am studying? Am I interested in it so I can do well? If your answer is "NO" to the above two questions, come to the fair and do some exploring.

The fair is open to the entire Longwood community.

More Students Study Abroad

A group of college officials wants to double the number of U.S. students who study abroad, and make sure there are plenty of low-income students and business and science majors among them.

"There's a common belief that study-abroad programs will cost more," said Robert Woodbury of the Council on International Educational Exchange (CIEE), which announced a new effort to get more students overseas. "In fact, many programs do not involve extra cost." The United States' competitive future depends on getting students to study abroad, the CIEE said in unveiling its new program.

Its efforts were sparked by a December council estimate that fewer then 5 percent, or about 50,000, U.S. students study abroad each year. In contrast, some 350,000 foreign students attend American colleges and universities.

"Citizens of other nations are learning more about us than we are about them, and each year are doing so in increasing numbers," according to the report, "Education for Global Competence."

"We have quite rightly welcomed these students to our own shores, but have failed to encourage our own students to go abroad," it said.

The report warned that failure to expand study-abroad opportunities would

(Continued on page 6)

Your W2's Should Be Here

Employers must make available to each of their employees from 1988 a Form W-2, "Wage and Tax Statement," by January 31, 1989. Employees who have not received their Form W-2 by that date should contact their employer and request the form, the Internal Revenue Service says.

Employees who, after having contacted their employer, still have not received a W-2 by February 15 should notify the IRS. When contacting the IRS, employees will be asked to provide the employer's name, address and employer identification number, if known. Having the necessary information available on the first contact, IRS adds, will prevent the need to call again.

Employees should receive a W-2 from each employer for whom they worked, even if they only worked for a particular employer for part of the year. Employees should also be aware that if they leave their jobs, they may request that their employers give them their Forms W-2 within 30 days after they leave.

Receiving a Form W-2 for each job held during 1988 is important, not only because a copy of it must accompany the tax return, but also for personal records, the IRS said.

If a Form W-2 contains an error, the employee should notify the employer so that the employer can send a corrected Form W-2 to the employee, the IRS and the Social Security Administration.

Librarian

(Continued from Page 2)

had asked her and she made me feel like I didn't know anything.

If she has such a problem answering questions about things that are ordinary and commonplace to her, but maybe unknown to the average person, she should go into an administrative position where she isn't in contact with the average person.

Thelma Bowles

Bashing

(Continued from Page 2)

needed financial assistance. You figure it out!

Is this another chance to indict the "system"? Probably. It is, however, another classic example of how at Longwood the pompous, arrogant brown-nosers seem to succeed and the involved, concerned students seem to get "screwed" unless they know the right people. Perhaps, it's only a problem of perception. If this perception is true, the spoiled brown-nosers at Longwood are in for a shock. Individual accomplishment will get you much further in life than knowing the "right" people. Just wait and see.

Robert "RAT" Taylor

Scandal

(Continued from Page 2)

time to give the academic side of Longwood a facelift beginning with advising. Longwood has a serious problem with a lack of competent advisors. Many are uninterested and uneducated in the responsibilities of being a student advisor. They are unfamiliar with the course handbook, graduation requirements, and many other advising necessities. Unfortunately, the result is that many advisors are guilty of misadvising students.

It is time to create a mandatory advisor's workshop at Longwood College. The workshop should include lectures and exercises on:

—the override policy
—general education requirements
—major requirements
—minor requirements
—graduation requirements
—advising procedures
—guidelines and hints for helping undeclared students choose majors

As the workshop develops, many more points may be added. If handled in a fun yet serious manner, the advisors will find the workshop most helpful and the students will be greatly rewarded.

Editor's Note — The author of this letter also requested his/her name withheld fearing complications in his/her position and after consulting the Editorial Board the request was granted.

Break-Ins

(Continued from Page 2)

have that attitude!! I had that same attitude and a few weeks ago, I woke up with a black male trying to climb into bed with me. I am asking all of you to help the campus police in their efforts to find whoever is responsible for these break-ins. PLEASE, if you see anything or anyone that seems out of the ordinary, call the campus police.

If you happen to see anyone roaming the halls who you have never seen before, don't hesitate to ask them who they are and ask to see some ID. The only way these break-ins will stop is with the help of EVERYONE. If you blow this whole thing off, you may wake up this weekend with an unknown person in your room or worse, in your bed.

PLEASE HELP US IN TRYING TO HELP YOU!!!!

Campus Police: 392-9321 or 392-9358 or 911.

Editor's Note — The author of this letter requested that his/her name be withheld for reasons concerning personal safety.

VALENTINE'S DAY SPECIAL...
Custom Made Valentine Baskets

DINNER SPECIAL— PRIME RIB, BAKED POTATO, TOSSED SALAD, AND A GLASS OF HOUSE WINE $9.95

SPECIALS ALL DAY STARTING WITH LUNCH!
CARNATIONS FOR THE FIRST 50 FEMALE CUSTOMERS!

MACADOS
Restaurant and Delicatessan
200E. THIRD ST., FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA
392-8077

YOU QUALIFY FOR INSTANT CREDIT!

Start making credit purchases IMMEDIATELY! We will send you a Members Credit Card at once with NO CREDIT CHECK. Buy any Jewelry, Clothing, Sporting Goods, Watches, Electronics & MORE! All with installment payments out of our "Giant 100+ Pages Catalog." Take 12 months to repay. Your personal credit card is a -second I.D.- valuable for check cashing, etc. plus your Students Credit Group A-1 reference will be on file to help you obtain other credit cards. So send in your $5 catalog deposit now. (refundable with your first order)

Establish your credit Today!
100% Satisfaction Guaranteed (or your Money Back)

Name _____
Address _____ City _____
State _____ Zip _____

MEMBERS Students
P.O. BOX 4649
FORT LAUDERDALE
FLORIDA 33338

SPORTS

Wrestlers Win State Title; Host Southeastern Regional

Longwood wrestlers won four state titles and advanced to the finals in seven weight classes last Sunday, leading the Lancers to their third straight victory in the Virginia College Division Wrestling Tournament at Newport News Apprentice.

Now Longwood will turn its attention to the NCAA Division II Southeastern Regional Tournament this Sunday in Lancer Hall. Pittsburgh-Johnstown, California (PA), Cheyney State and Pembroke State will join the Lancers at the regional event, a qualifier for the NCAA Division II National Tournament March 2-4 at California, Pennsylvania. The top nineteen competitors from Sunday's event will take part in nationals.

Bock, Harris, Proctor, Mason Win Titles

With Chris Bock, 126, Mark Harris, 142, Ted Proctor, 150, and Tim Mason, 167, claiming state titles Sunday, Longwood easily outdistanced second place Norfolk State for the team title. The Lancers had 82.75 points to Norfolk State's 60.25. Also competing were Virginia State (57.5) Newport News (45.5) and Washington & Lee (20.5).

"We had a great semi-final round which really put us over the top," said LC coach Steve Nelson. "Bock's performance was a big surprise and Kevin West also got a key win for us in the semi's. This felt good. It wasn't as nerve-wracking as the first two (state titles) because of our overall team showing."

Bock, 7-7, came from behind to beat Billy Jordan of Virginia State 8-7. He whipped Preston Scott of Newport News 19-4 in the finals. Harris moved his record to 12-9 with a pair of decisions for the title at 142.

State champ last year also, Proctor got a bye in the first round and beat Wesly Amos of Virginia State 11-1 in the finals. He's 22-6 for the season. Mason, 22-7 overall, got a pin and a 12-8 decision for his first tournament title. Also advancing to the finals in addition to West, were Joe McDaniel at 134 and Brent Newell at heavyweight. McDaniel is now 16-10-2 while Newell is 9-10.

Longwood whipped Washington & Lee 43-8 in the Lancers' final dual meet of the season Tuesday night in Lancer Hall, ending match competition with a 6-7 record. Posting wins for Longwood Tuesday night were at 118-Kevin Haller, (pin), 134- McDaniel (forfeit), 142 – Harris (forfeit), 150 – Andy Mautner (pin), 158 – Proctor (14-1), 167 – Billy Johnson (forfeit), 177 – Mason (5-3) and heavyweight – Newell (pin).

Loss To Macon Dampens NCAA Hopes

By TOMMY ROBERTS

The Randolph-Macon Yellow Jackets used a 20-4 scoring run to break a halftime tie and held on to defeat the Longwood Lancers by a 72-56 count last Wednesday night in Lancer Hall. The loss lowered the Longwood record to eighteen wins and six losses and dampened their NCAA South Atlantic regional playoff hopes.

Junior Doug Poppe kept the Lancers close early by scoring 10 of their first 14 points.

Longwood trailed 20-10 with 9:42 left in the first half and then Dale Shavers and Longwood got hot. Longwood went off on a 16-6 run to close out the half and tied the score at 26. Dale Shavers had eight points during that span.

The Longwood players did not quit in the second half as they had trailed by as many as 16 points. They cut the lead to nine points with 1:22 left but could get no closer.

Kevin Jefferson led Longwood in scoring with 15 points, 11 of those which came in the final four minutes. Poppe and Shavers also pitched in 13 points each. Todd Bowden led the Jackets with 25 points, 21 of those coming in the second half.

Lancers Top Bowie In OT

Longwood gained a split in two home men's basketball games last week, beating Bowie State 77-72 Saturday night in overtime, after falling to Randolph-Macon 72-56 Wednesday. The 19-6 Lancers visit Atlantic Christian Monday night (Feb. 13) and close out the regular season February 25, hosting UNC Greensboro.

Kevin Jefferson and Doug Poppe teamed up to lead the Lancers over hot-shooting Bowie State Saturday night. The duo combined for 43 points, 15 rebounds and eight slam dunks as the Lancers outscored Bowie 11-6 in overtime to take the victory. Longwood has a 10-1 record at home this season.

Bars Showing Hurts Longwood; Sullivan, Chenoweth, Taylor Star

Longwood's gymnastics team performed well in vaulting, beam and floor exercise Saturday in Lancer Hall, but a poor showing on bars hurt the Lady Lancers' score as Radford (174.35) and West Chester (167.85) out-pointed LC (167.85).

"We beat West Chester in every event but bars," said coach Ruth Budd. "We did a pretty good job overall, but bars was our weakest area."

Longwood was led by senior Lynda Chenoweth, freshman Angie Sullivan and sophomore Natalie Taylor. Sullivan continued to lead the team in all-around with a 34.30 for fifth place overall. She also had an 8.90 for third in vaulting.

Taylor placed second in vaulting with an 8.95 and was third in floor with a 9.05. Chenoweth had a 33.9 all-around for sixth place and led Longwood on beam with an 8.8 for second place.

Next up for the 1-6 Lancer gymnasts is the Towson Invitational Tournament Saturday at 1:00 in Towson, Maryland. Ten teams are expected to compete and a strong field is likely.

"We had a couple of nagging ankle injuries Saturday," said Budd. "We hope everyone will be healthy. We'll be concentrating on bars and beam in our workouts this week."

Sunny's Casablanca Cafe

DELIVERS!

FROM 5 PM - 9 PM

PHONE 392-6825

PICK YOUR FAVORITE MEAL AND IT WILL BE DELIVERED TO YOUR DORM.

Tripp Lake Camp

SUMMER EMPLOYMENT

— COUNSELORS —

Female and male. Outstanding 8-week girls' camp in Maine needs instructors in the following activities: tennis, swimming, waterski, sailing, canoeing, kayaking, ropes/outdoor living skills, rock climbing, horseback riding, silver jewelry, pottery, nature arts and crafts, photography, copper enameling, fine arts, arts and crafts, newsletter, gymnastics, dance, lacrosse, field hockey, basketball, softball and soccer. American Red Cross (or equivalent) ALS required for all waterfront positions and outdoor living, with WSI preferred to instruct swimming. Excellent salary, travel allowance, room/board, laundry, uniforms and linens provided. College credit available. A camp representative will be on campus on Tuesday, February 21st. Please stop by.

TRIPP LAKE CAMP

1839

The Rotunda

LONGWOOD COLLEGE

1989

"Catching Sight of Longwood from atop the Sesquicentennial Mount"

VOL. NO. 68 NO. 15 | FEBRUARY 21, 1989 | FARMVILLE, VA.

U.S. Will Spend $13,000 Per Household

(NEWS USA) During this year, Uncle Sam will spend $13,000 for each and every household in America. Total taxes will rise nearly $1,000 per household during the coming year if no changes are made in the laws, and another $1,500 will be borrowed in your name to keep the government afloat.

Your $13,000 share of this coming year's $1.2 trillion budget will be debated in the Congress, but no major changes are expected, despite descriptions of the budget as "lost in transit" and "amiable fiction."

The budget, says Joseph R. Wright Jr., who prepared it as Director of the Office of Management and Budget for the outgoing Reagan Administration, will be the first Reagan budget with an increase below the rate of inflation.

Wright says increases during the Reagan years, totalling 26 percent more than inflation, represent the lowest total growth in the federal government since the 1920s.

In the 1920s expenditures by the federal government actually dropped by 31 percent. Since then, government has grown dramatically, only slowing as it absorbed more and more of the nation's resources.

In the 1930s government increased spending by 212 percent. In the 1940s spending increased by 165 percent, in the 1950s the federal budget grew by 54 percent.

The 60s saw the budget increase by 50 percent, the 70s raised federal spending by 37 percent and the 80s saw a 26 percent rise.

Wright says the biggest danger facing future budgets is Medicare, which he calls a "time bomb ready to explode." If current trends continue, Medicare will cost more than social security shortly after the turn of the century. The new budget increases spending for Medicaid and Medicare by $10 billion.

By the year 2015, Wright projects, the Medicare budget will pass the $2 trillion mark (well over $10,000 per family each year) and will surpass the combined spending for social security and defense.

Last year's deficit was about $161 billion, higher than estimated early in the year, due to failures in the savings and loan industry, rising interest rates, and last summer's drought.

Lysistrata Opens Tomorrow Night

By P. A. FAIRS

The Longwood Players will be bringing to the Jarman stage one of their most ambitious efforts when they perform February 22-25 the Greek comedy Lysistrata. Lysistrata, written by Aristophanes, details the efforts of one woman to bring about an end to the Peloponnesian War, using only her wit and feminine guile. Lysistrata, played by Karen Whitely, recognizes that the war has no purpose, and along with her compatriots Kleonike, Myrrhine, Lampito, and Ismenia works to demonstrate this fact to the men. They, however, are women and as women they cannot use the traditional means of political redress. For Lysistrata, the situation requires drastic and dramatic action. Lysistrata and her friends use the one thing that will attract the males' attention — their bodies. By enticing the men into a "long and lasting piece" with

(continued on page 2)

Senior Class Gift Announced

This past Saturday, February 18, the Senior Class Gift Committee announced at the Senior Reception at Longwood House, their gift for the Sesquicentennial Year of Longwood College. The Senior Class is working on an endowed scholarship fund for a scholarship to be given to a rising senior. The project has been coined the Senior Challenge. The Senior Challenge Committee is comprised of Jim Brown, Kelley Coggsdale, and Patrice Landers with Noah Wood acting as Chairman of the committee. The committee recently established a contact group of 40 involved students in the senior class representing a wide variety of clubs, organizations and groups on campus. This group of 40 will be contacting the remaining members of the senior class. The goal of the class is to solicit support from over 50% of the class. Seniors will be asked to pledge between $150 and $500 to the fund over the five year period following their graduation year. This money will be placed in a fund to be overseen by the Longwood College Foundation.

Dr. Dorrill signs senior scholarship program as Noah Wood looks on. Photo Credit: Bruce Gantt

In 1994 the first scholarship will be given to a rising senior that reflects the educational ideals which form the base of Longwood's educational principles. The applications to be submitted by the prospective recipients will be reviewed by a committee

(Continued on page 6)

Winter Weather Is Back Again

Last week temperatures fluxuated over 50 degrees. Going from 80 degrees on Tuesday to an average of 30 degrees for the rest of the week.

This week, the snow from Saturday's big storm will continue to melt as temperatures will be stuck around 40 degrees, and they will be accompanied by wind and rain. A chance of snow is predicted for Wednesday afternoon.

According to the Richmond Times Dispatch, the three day outlook is: Windy, rain Wednesday, snow west Thursday. Partly sunny Friday. Highs 30s-60 Wednesday; 30s Thursday; 35-40 Friday. Lows 10s-20s Wednesday; 20s Thursday, Friday.

Students enjoy a rather unusual winter sport, volleyball, during last Saturday's snowstorm.

Contents

News.....2, 3
Editorial and Commentary.....4, 5
Features.....6, 7
Sports.....8

NEWS

One LC student enjoys sledding behind Stubbs.

Marxist Professor Sues VCU for Denying Tenure

A Virginia Commonwealth University faculty member has sued the school, claiming she was denied tenure because she is a Marxist.

Susan F. Feiner, an assistant professor of economics and the only Marxist in her department, contends the decision to deny her tenure stems from an anti-Marxist bias among her colleagues. She claims her scholarly work, which is based on Marxist thought, had been downgraded because most of it was published in journals not considered "mainstream."

In her lawsuit, Feiner claimed her rights to academic freedom and to a fair tenure review had been violated.

Thomas Poe, a university spokesman, said Feiner was denied tenure because her research "did not measure up to the standards that they consider acceptable for a tenured individual."

"All I can say is that the university has eight or nine levels of review to keep everyone and the process fair," said economics department Chairman George Hoffer, one of the defendants named in the suit.

Court Limits Rights of Drunkards

In a precedent- setting first case, the Supreme Court of Virginia ruled 5-2 that a very drunken driver who injures or kills another driver now may not only have to pay for the damage but also pay extra money as punishment.

In a second case, the court ruled 4-3 that a drunkard who passes out on the highway does not have the benefit of a legal principle that would allow a sober person to collect money from a driver who hits him. These decisions mark the first time the court has said mere drunkeness, without other evidence, is enough to prove "conscious disregard of the rights of others" needed for so-called punitive damages; also that a drunken person is not "physically incapacitated" in a legal sense and thus cannot use the "last clear chance (to avoid an accident)" principle against the driver.

(Richmond Times Dispatch, November 19, 1988.)

Longwood Hosts Olympics

By EDMUND A. MATRICARDI III

This Saturday, February 25, 1989, the Therapentic Recreation Organization will be sponsoring Special Olympics from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. at Lancer Gym. Volunteers are needed to help with the events. But more importantly to cheer on the players. Participation by Service or Social Fraternities and Sororities as well as any individual assistance would be greatly appreciated. So come out and enjoy a rewarding day which others will remember for a long time.

No Pell Grants for Drug Users

In a move some student advocates are calling reminiscent of "1984's" Big Brother, the federal government said Feb. 3 it would start asking students who get Pell Grants to prove they don't use illicit drugs.

The measure was published in the Federal Register, the list of regulations and rules the government produces to enforce federal laws. The drug rule, which will automatically go into effect if it's not formally challenged within 90 days, was created to implement the Drug-Free Work Place Act of 1988. It asks that all federal grant recipients like weapons manufacturers, highway builders and apparently even students work in "drug-free" environments.

Applying it to students, said Sheldon Steinback of the American Council on Education, the campus presidents' lobbying group in Washington, D.C., was "a strained interpretation (of the law) that strikes me as being beyond the pale of what was intended."

The U.S. Dept. of Education, which issued the rule, disagrees.

(Continued on page 3)

Lysistrata

(Continued from page 1)

their enemies, Lysistrata hopes to end the senseless waste the war has caused.

The technical aspect of this show for the Players will be equal to the performing in the amount of effort that will be needed. The show will have original costumes designed by Longwood student Lorrie Huffman as well as original music and songs written by alumnus Rusty Hurley. Directing Lysistrata will be Dr. Douglas Young. The show has in its cast 36 males and females.

The Longwood Players with their production hope to communicate the same peaceful Aristophanes felt when he first wrote the play. The Players by giving the show's dialogue a more contemporary feel wish to increase the amount of enjoyment an audience can experience in seeing the show. They in no way desire to offend anyone's sensibilities and hope that the show will be enjoyed in the same spirit that was originally intended. It is recommended, however, that young children not be allowed to see this production because of its strong sexual content.

The Ciompi String Quartet of Duke University presented a concert in Wygal Recital Hall on Monday evening, February 20, performing quartets by Haydn, Beethoven, and Frank Bridge. The sixth and final concert of the Chamber Music Series this season will be on Monday, April 3, at 8:00 p.m. The internationally acclaimed American soprano, Phyllis Bryn-Julson will be the featured artist that evening.

— FREE —
PREGNANCY TEST

All services confidential.
Same day results.

SOUTHSIDE PREGNANCY CENTER
116 N. MAIN STREET
24-HOUR HOTLINE
392-8483

YOU QUALIFY FOR INSTANT CREDIT!

Start making credit purchases IMMEDIATELY! We will send you a Members Credit Card at once with NO CREDIT CHECK. Buy any Jewelry, Clothing, Sporting Goods, Watches, Electronics & MORE! All with installment payments out of our "Giant 100+ Pages Catalog." Take 12 months to repay. Your personal credit card is a -second I.D.- valuable for check cashing, etc. plus your Students Credit Group A-1 reference will be on file to help you obtain other credit cards. So send in your $5 catalog deposit now. (refundable with your first order)

Establish your credit Today!
100% Satisfaction Guaranteed (or your Money Back)

Name _____
Address _____ City _____
State _____ Zip _____

MEMBERS Students CREDIT GROUP
P.O. BOX 4649
FORT LAUDERDALE, FLORIDA 33338

NEWS

Former CEO Speaks on Corporate Success

May Gruber, former CEO and author of the newly-published Sky Hooks and Track Shoes: Climbing Your Career Ladder, will reveal the secrets of her success in a lecture on Monday, Feb. 27, 7 p.m. at Bedford Auditorium at Longwood College. The program is sponsored by the Office of Career Planning and Placement. There is no charge and all are welcome.

Mrs. Gruber, a frequent lecturer to college students and business groups, has devoted much time to guiding young adults through the difficult choices they must face after leaving school.

In her talk, Mrs. Gruber will dramatically narrate her experience as a woman battling her way to the top of Pandora Industries, the well-known sweater manufacturer. In 1983, she sold Pandora to Gulf & Western.

Mrs. Gruber's compelling story of how she raised $1.5 million in 90 days to buy out her father and never spoke to him again will captivate listeners. The story is told in Pandora's Pride, Mrs. Gruber's first book, published in 1984.

In her new book, Sky Hooks and Track Shoes, Mrs. Gruber offers practical solutions to people starting their careers, shifting gears or re-

The book provides a career kit, complete with blueprints, worksheets and purpose statement pages to help readers map out their own personal paths.

Each chapter includes stories of a man or woman whom Mrs. Gruber has known or helped to reach his or her career goal. She also shares her own career strategies on her climb to the top.

Mrs.. Gruber discusses the careers of Geraldine Ferraro, former vice-presidential candidate, and Beverly Sills, renowned opera singer, two high-achieving women who balanced family pressures with career aims..

The author recommends setting on your course with sky hooks and track shoes — "Sky hooks to anchor your dreams and track shoes to keep your feet firmly on the ground." An inspiring role model for young men and women, Mrs. Gruber believes the right planning can turn career aspirations into reality.

Mrs. Gruber is the mother of five children and grandmother to 11.

For more information on Mrs. Gruber's appearances and books, please call Ms. Niki Fallis, Director of Career Planning and Placement, Longwood College, (804) 392-9254.

Results of the 23rd Annual Forensic Meet

At the 23rd annual forensic and debate tournament held at Longwood College last weekend for high school students, Monacan High School of Richmond won the sweepstakes in forensics. Finishing in second place was Prince Edward Academy of Farmville with Blacksburg High School in third. In the small school division James Wood High School of Winchester placed first. Over 500 students from 35 different high schools participated in the Friday competition.

On Saturday twenty-one high schools competed in debate with Monacan High School of Richmond winning the sweepstakes. Finishing second was Bayside High School of Richmond with a tie between George Wythe High School of Richmond and Essex High School in third place.

Dr. William Dorrill spoke at the opening ceremony about the importance of communication skills. Andy Bryan, a LC senior from Cumberland, and Gene Kerns, a LC junior from Richmond, announced the All-Star Team. Ten high school seniors in forensics and nine high school seniors in debate were named. Two LONGWOOD COLLEGE alumni were named the All Star Coaches: Nancy Phaup, the Prince Edward debate coach, and Toby Emert, the Prince Edward Academy forensic coach.

The tournament was under the direction of the Forensics class at Longwood College with Longwood College faculty and staff serving as judges.

No Pell Grants for Drug Users

(Continued from page 2)

Somehow, students will have to swear they're not drug abusers.

"We're deciding if students will have to sign a separate form or just check a box on the grant application form," said department spokesman Jim Bradshaw. "But they will have to certify they are drug-free and not using the funds for drug-related activities."

If students lie on the form, Bradshaw said, they could lose their grants.

Still, no one knows how to determine if they are lying. "We don't have the resources to check on every student," Bradshaw admitted.

"We'll base our information on tips that students have gotten involved in drugs or on newspaper articles about drug activities," Bradshaw said.

Past convictions for drug possession or sales shouldn't affect a student's Pell Grant application, Bradshaw said, but it is an issue the Education Department is considering.

"If the money is going to be used for drugs, then it's better if they hand it to someone who would make good use of it," said a Pell Grant recipient at San Diego City College, who asked that her name not be used.

"It's great," she said.

But Kevin Harris, organizing director of the United States Student Association in Washington, D.C., called the regulations "an invasion of the personal right to privacy," and a poor signal for the new Bush administration to send to students.

"I think you'll hear a large outcry from students in opposition to this regulation," Harris predicted. "It's another signal of Big Brother looking down on the student population. They want to blame youth for the drug problem. It's crazy."

In fact, students are not the only ones being attacked in the war on drugs. In early January, Florida Gov. Bob Martinez announced that, starting in August, all new state employees – including faculty members, administrators, staffers and student workers at State University System of Florida campuses – would have to pass drug tests before being hired.

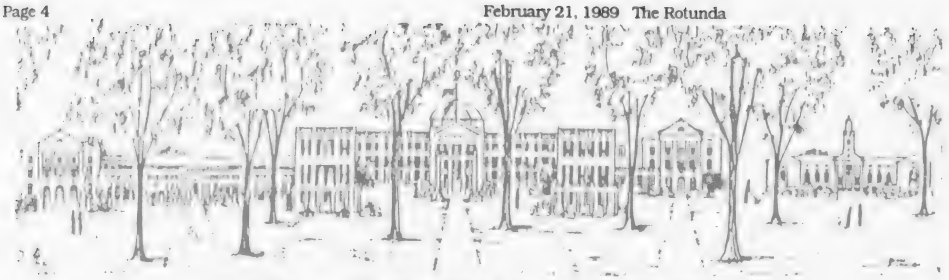
Frederick W. Taylor Award Presented

By TOM FOSTER

The Society for Advancement of Management presented N. Burton Brooks, a Marketing professor, the first Frederick W. Taylor Award of Excellence. The presentation of the award took place last Tuesday night at a ceremony held in Lancer Cafe.

After a brief introduction by the S.A.M. President, Matt Peterman, the award was presented. Mr. Brooks expressed his appreciation and stated that if it were not for the students he would not have had the inspiration to win the award.

The award is presented once each semester to that administrator, faculty, or staff member of the Longwood School of Business and Economics that has displayed outstanding concern for business students.



The engraving on the award reads: "This award is presented on behalf of The Society for the Advancement of Management to that faculty member promoting student interests and participating in student's activities thus showing generous concern for the furtherance of their goals and aspirations.

The award is hanging in Mr. Brooks' office until a time when it can be displayed somewhere in the business department on a permanent basis. The recipient of the Spring '89 award will be announced in mid-April.

Society for Advancement of Management President Matt Peterman presents the first Frederick W. Taylor Award of Excellence to N. Burton Brooks, professor of Marketing.

"The Satanic Verses" Fiction Or History?

Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini announced last week that the author of "The Satanic Verses," Salmon Rushdie, should be killed and offered the slayer a $5,200,000 reward. The question to this and the waves of protest is Islamic nations is why?

The controversy centers around a fictional piece of literature, "The Satanic Verses", that Moslems say portrays the prophet Mohammad's wives as prostitutes and suggests that the Koran, the Islamic holy book, was Mohammad's composition rather than receiving it directly from Allah, the Islamic God.

Even though the book is fiction the claim that it relates too closely with the history of the prophet Mohammad remains firm. The section of the book in question deals with the migration of the prophet Salmon, his followers, the phenomenon of revelation, and the birth of a great world religion — close to history indeed, but also fiction.

The Muslim world has every right to be enraged for their very societal structure is based on the Koran and in their eyes the fictional book is blasphemous. But offering huge rewards to kill the author or big mob scenes burning the author in effigy is going overboard and seems more politically motivated than simply a protest against what they see as blatant libel against Mohammad.

Politically motivated in the sense that satisfying the fundamentalists by banning the book, officially or otherwise, is better than the destabilization of their governments.

We need to understand that censorship in Muslim nations is nothing new, but they need to understand that censorship in the core western nations is not routine but more insulting than anything else. Those of us who respect freedom of expression know how powerful the written word is and must exercise care when using it.

Threats against the world community for those who sell or print the book is outrageous. Threatening to blow up airplanes is utterly uncomprehensible. So whether "The Satanic Verses" is good fiction or a distorted view of history can only be decided by those that have the opportunity to read it. Without the opportunity to do so, we must depend on the censure to protect our rights — scary thought.

So, after the controversy surrounding "The Satanic Verses" dies down we can put it on the shelf with the thousands of other books that appear every year that some religious bloc considered blasphemous or injurious to their point of view. It is at this point when we can sit and wonder how long it will take history to repeat itself again.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Honorable and or Judicious????

Dear Editor,

This week I'd like to address the Longwood Judicial System. The system is comprised of the Honor and Judicial Boards. The administration vows that the Boards are equal. That is a nice idea but in practice nothing could be further from the truth.

The Honor Board considers itself to be superior to the Judicial Board. The overbearing attitude of most Honor Board members proves this point. They consider the Judicial Board as a weak sibling. In several conversations with members of the administration, I have asked if there is any disparity between the boards. The answer has always been no. That's great to hear but actions always speak louder than words. The actions of the administration as usual don't back up their statements.

If the boards are "equal",

(Continued on page 5)

Financial Aid System Works

To the Editor:

I am writing in response to the author who wrote the article in The Rotunda, "Bashing the Establishment". I agree that Longwood's administration has its problems, as does everyone, but you chose the wrong people to ridicule. I do not think you fully understand how the financial aid system works. To qualify for financial aid you must file a financial aid form. The form is sent to Princeton, New Jersey, evaluated, and the results are sent to the filee and Longwood's financial aid office. It is not as you put it: Mr. Ragland and the rest of the F.A.O. staff who makes the decision of who receives financial aid and who does not.

There are flaws in every system. The key is to determine "correctly" where they exist and how to correct them. I feel you unjustly criticized Mr. Ragland and his staff with your unsubstantiated

(Continued on page 5)

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
Matt Peterman

Managing Editor
R. Bruce Gantt

Features Editor
Cheryl Jeffrey

Greek Affairs Editor
Chet Ahn

Photography Editor
Emily Howell

Sports Editor
Lindy Seymore

Business Manager
Tim Oliva

Advertising Managers
Steve Evans
Susan Miller

Layout Assistant
Monica Gilbert

Faculty Advisor
William C. Wood

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be typed or printed neatly, state the author's years, and major as applicable.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

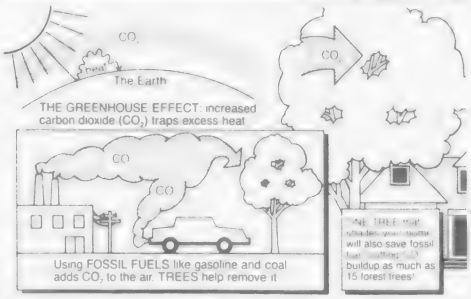
Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 392-7817.

COMMENTARY

Trees Are Solution to Greenhouse Effect

Problem: The Earth is heating up at an ominous pace — the so-called "greenhouse effect" — threatening our planet with drought, heat waves and water shortage.

Solution: plant trees.



That's not the whole answer, notes the National Arbor Day Foundation, but it's an important one that every concerned citizen can take part in.

The global warming condition predicted by scientists and apparently seen in last summer's withering heat wave that destroyed nearly a third of the nation's grain crop is a result of several factors. They include destruction of the world's forests and the burning of fossil fuels, which release excess carbon dioxide into the atmosphere.

Carbon dioxide is a one-way filter. It lets the sun's energy pass through but traps the heat rising from the earth, resulting in what scientists call the greenhouse effect.

Trees remove carbon dioxide from the air, but mankind has destroyed a third of the world's forests, and continues to do so at a rate equal to a football field a second.

"Much can be done to slow the greenhouse effect," said John Rosenow, executive director of the National Arbor Day Foundation. "We must decrease our use of fossil fuels, stop destroying the world's forests, and plant trees."

Trees may be "our best line of defense," added Rosenow, with those planted near homes absorbing carbon dioxide directly as well as providing shade in the summer and slowing winter wind — resulting in the burning of less fossil fuel.

One such tree can be as effective as 15 forest trees in fighting the greenhouse effect, according to the nonprofit foundation, which has 800,000 members and supporters throughout the U.S.

The foundation offers a free booklet, Conservation Trees, which shows how to plant and prune shade trees as windbreaks. Write to: Conservation Trees, Dept. 10, National Arbor Day Foundation, Nebraska City, NE 68410.

Let Longwood know what's on your mind. Write a Letter to the Editor, Box 1133.

Honorable and or Judicious????

(Continued from page 4)

why do Judicial Board members who are "written up" have their cases heard by the Honor Board while Honor Board members who are facing charges also go to the Honor Board? Isn't the Judicial Board capable of handling a complex case involving Honor Board members? Why does the Honor Board have a separate office while the Judicial Board has a file cabinet in Joe McGill's office? Why are there four chair people on the Judicial Board and only one chair person for Honor Board? Why does the chair on Honor Board seem to get more recognition than any of the Judicial Board chairs? And, most obviously, when is Judicial Awareness week?

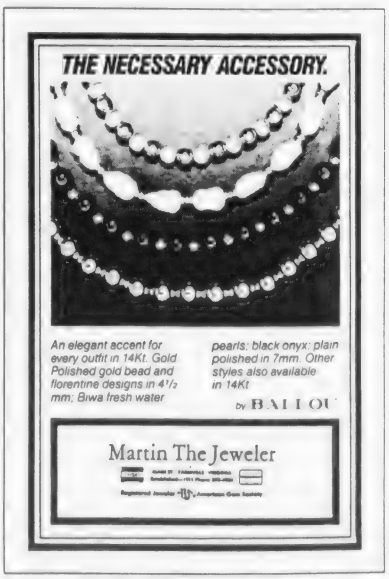
[If anyone can answer these puzzling (although rotorical) questions, feel free to write to me. (Box 1027)]

All of the evidence seems to prove the boards are anything but equal, no matter what the administration and Honor Board want us to believe.

Robert "RAT" Taylor

Financial Aid System Works

(Continued from page 4)



insulting accusation.

One final note, I do not want to rattle your sense of reality, but, "It isn't always what you know, but whom you know (and who knows you)", which will take you further in life, rather than getting "screwed" as you have so eloquently stated.

Elon Kelley

FEATURES

Dr. Sprague to Speak on Longwood's History

By P.A. FAIRS

A lecture on the writing of Longwood College's 150-year history will be the next Sesquicentennial event at the college.

The lecture will be given by Dr. Rosemary Sprague on Wednesday evening, Feb. 22, at 7:30 in Wygal Auditorium. The public is invited to attend free of charge.

Dr. Sprague says she is "a firm believer in Thomas Carlyle's statement that 'history is the essence of innumerable biographies.'"

In her history of Longwood, she has "concentrated on the people who made this place. They are a fascinating lot!" she said. "The Longwood spirit, which survives to this day, is the outcome of their commitment and vision."

The book has the important facts and figures, she said, but also includes the origin of Longwood traditions, the significance of certain art works, and some campus ghost stories.

Dr. Sprague has been working on the Longwood history project since the summer of 1986. The manuscript is in the printer's hands, and the target date for publication is mid-April.

"We are keeping our fingers crossed that copies of the history will be available by Founders Day on April 15," she said.

Dr. Sprague has been a member of Longwood's faculty since 1962. She was named Board of Visitors Distinguished Professor of English in 1967.

DR. ROSEMARY SPRAGUE

A graduate of Bryn Mawr College, she received her M. A. and Ph.D. degrees from Case-Western Reserve University. She also has studied at the Shakespeare Institute, Stratford-on-Avon, and at Oxford University and the University of London.

Dr. Sprague is the author of nine historical novels for young adults, biographies of Robert Browning and George Eliot, and Imaginary Gardens: A Study of Five American Poets.

She is presently serving as Virginia State Historian for the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Dr. Sprague's lecture on Feb. 22 is jointly sponsored by the Sesquicentennial Steering Committee and the Faculty Colloquium Series.

Senior Class Gift

(Continued from page 1)

comprised of members from the Office for Academic Affairs, Student Affairs and the recipients of the outstanding faculty award for the previous year. The current scholarship recipient will work with the committee to determine the recipient for the following year. The committee will look for involved students with a sound GPA and good leadership qualities. As of February 18 the class has received 34 pledges for a total of $8900.00. Best of Luck to the class in their endeavours. KEEP UP THE EXCELLENT WORK.

Appalachian Storytellers

Roadside Theater, a group of authentic, multi-talented Appalachian storytellers, will present Pretty Polly on Thursday evening, Feb. 23, at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of Longwood College's Wynne Building.

The performance is a part of Longwood's Storytelling Symposium and is open to the public free of charge.

Pretty Polly is the story of a storyteller, Polly Branham Johnson. Aunt Polly, as she was called by all who knew her, was born on Big Beaver Creek in eastern Kentucky in 1864. She died in 1947, leaving a rich legacy in the stories and songs collected from her by the W.P.A. Writers Project in the 1930s and early 1940s.

The performers are Ron Short, Angelyn DeBord, and Tommy Bledsoe, all natives of Appalachia. Their show puts together tall tales, family remembrances, and traditional songs accompanied by guitar, banjo, and fiddle.

Roadside Theater is part of an arts and educational cooperative called Appalshop, headquartered in Whitesburg, Kentucky. The company draws material for all its productions from the collective memories, myths, and strong theatrical heritage of Appalachian people.

Founded in 1974, Roadside gives some 200 performances and workshops each year. The troupe charms all kinds of audiences. The drama critic for the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette wrote: "It's clear that good storytelling takes skilled acting. The Roadside Theater troupe makes it an art, an art so apparently effortless that no seams show."

During their two-day stay at Longwood, Roadside Theater will conduct workshops for Longwood education majors and present Mountain Tales to children at Prince Edward County Elementary School.

The storytelling Symposium at Longwood is funded in part by Alternate Roots/National Endowment for the Arts, the Virginia Commission for the Arts, the Longwood College Foundation, and by a gift from Dr. Anita Ernouf, Professor Emeritus of Modern Languages at the college.

Longwood Starts Peer Helping Program

By MITCHELL BOOTH

College life can bring about many problems in the lives of students, from physical illnesses to stress problems to depression. While Longwood has an excellent Student Health Center and many wonderful student wellness programs, many students simply don't feel comfortable in clinical situations or in talking to a professional that they don't know. This is the premise behind Peer Helping, a new program at Longwood, brought about by student Bill Wilson.

Wilson, who has been involved in a Peer Helping program for the past three years, said he was excited about being brought in on the ground level of this program. "I believe in Peer Helping," he said, "and I have seen it work in high schools and colleges across the country."

The purpose of the program, according to Wilson, is to provide a place where troubled students may go and to provide students to whom the troubled can talk to. So, rather than trying to express feelings to an unknown person in an unfamiliar situation, the counselees can confide in other students, people they can identify with and trust. Wilson claims that being a Peer Helper is very satisfying. "In my three years as a Peer Helper I never met anyone who left the program. This more than anything," he stated, "is what convinced me that Peer Helping is not only worthwhile, but one of the most rewarding programs offered today."

The Peer Helping program will begin after Spring Break. There will be two ninety minute training sessions per week, during which Peer Helper volunteers will be educated concerning self-assessment, problem-solving, decision-making, communication skills, and helping skills and techniques. In addition, Peer Helpers will be taught about drugs, sexually transmitted diseases, depression, suicide, and many other problems that plague college students.

Applications to enter the program as a Peer Helper can be picked up and dropped off at the main desk of residence halls, the Student Health Center, Student Counseling Center, or the Psychology Department Office. For more information, write to Bill Wilson, Box 1299.

SAM

THE SOCIETY FOR ADVANCEMENT OF MANAGMENT

SAM MEMBERS

SKI INTEREST MEETING

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1989

7:15 TO 7:35 HINER 105

WLCX 90.1 FM "The Voice of Longwood" 392-9380

	SUNDAY	MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY	SATURDAY
4-6 PM	Vintage (Jim Wood) Insanely Inane World Of Rev. Jim	Progressive + (Julie Smith) Jules & The Mix	Noogie Music (Amy & Laura) Almost Illegal	Reggae (John Drum) Reggae Buffet	Nuggy Music (Amy & Laura) Almost Illegal		Progressive (Paul Petty) Tom Cruise & e Seoul Man
6-8 PM	Psychadelia (Jake & Kevin) Psychadelic Solutions	Classic Rock R&S's Freedom Rock	Progressive (Christine Mann) Progressive Ditties	Jazz (harron Fells) Herb's Cool Jazz W/Mellow Xtras	Progressive (Eric & Dino) We're 3rd Floor	Reggae (Nicole Lanningham)	Various (Harry Vogel) Cheap Vacation
8-10 PM	Various (Harry Vogel) Cheap Vacation	Progressive (Scott Flood) Yes, No, Maybe	Progressive (Paul Petty) Tom Cruise & The Seoul Man	Rock & Rush (Dennis Morley)	Progressive (Scott McIntyre)	Rock & Roll (Andy Wheeler) Rock Block Hour	Various (Matt Fletcher) Songs Matt Likes
10-12 PM	Various (Joe Harper) Songs To Learn And Sing	Different (Dan Stone) Wig Out With Dan	Reggae & Progress (Hugh & Charles) Enough Said	Schizophrenic (Nicole & Jen) We're Not Blonde	Progressive (Gilligan) No Edie Brickell	Pop & Rock (Jeff Cee) Whatever	60's & 70's Rock (Janice Johnson) Groovy Disposition
12-2 AM		Give Us A Listen				Pop & Rock (Jeff Cee) Whatever	Rock & Roll (Andy Wheeler) Rock Block Hour

FEATURES

Personals

Sweetness — Guess what? You know! — Teddy Bear

Steve Morris, — Dinner huh!? When? Where? You have the number. — Shan

Susan Anderson, — Have a great week! I love you! — Your Secret Pal

Bonnie Bessor, — You are a great little sis! Have a great week. Love, — Your Big Sis.

Cindy Pushee, — Happy 21st Birthday! It is finally here. Love, — Your Roommate

LAVA Thought for the Week: Why pay for someone elses stupidity, prevent vandalism! — LAVA

Congratulations to Stacey Smallwood and Stephanie King on being initated into Sigma Sigma Sigma. Welcome to our Sisterhood! Love, — The Sisters of ΣΣΣ

Congratulations to the new Tri-Sigma Pledges: — April Childress, Penny Dodson, Beth Dillon, Tayloe Dennis, Maria Mercer, Julie Walther, Deseri Wooten, Lisa Plaster, Jill Hartt. We love you all! Love, — The Sisters and Pledges of ΣΣΣ

WANTED: — Volunteers for the Weyanoke Inn Retirement Home. Anytime — especially weekends. All welcome! 392-4161.

Attention! Tuesday, February 21 is Camp Interview Day. It will be held in the Commons room between Curry and Frazer from 10 a.m.-3 p.m. Camp directors will be present to give information and applications. Directors are from camps in New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Virginia. Some positions available are counselors, waterfront supervisors, arts and crafts instructors, and many other opportunities!

Plan to attend if you would like an exciting and rewarding summer job!

P. S. Say Hi to the Psycho-B for me.

Bob, — How many groupies do you have? Remember, only sing when the wind is blowing the other way. — The Quieter Suitemate

Dennis Morley, — I hate my roommate. I'm going to barbecue some pork rinds if he plays any more Rush. — Hog

Mary, — Hope you do well in student teaching. Remember, 264 is your friend. Follow it to the end. I love you. — Jim

R.A.D., J.A.C., C.T.K., G.S.B. Jr. — The "penthouse" suite Remember: Reading is Fundamental. (yes even that kind of reading. Best wishes, the Condom Fairy.

K. P. — and female unit: Don't forget the soapy-soap. What is the s__r trick?!. — C.

Cheryl, — Thanks for being a great friend. I know you'll have a great time living out your single days this semester. June 17 is right around the corner. Good luck to you and Jody in the future!! Love Always, — Karen.

Longwood — The spirit of CHA walks on! Watch out for the spirit of orange and black.

Jis Jr. — Don't take anymore extended daydreams! Welcome back to reality. Keep up the great work with A.P.O.! — Jism

MJW, — How was your weekend retreat with the "other" chair? — RAT

Booty Hunter, — How goes the Hunt? We all want to know. — 3rd Floor French

Bo Bear, — THANKS! The Brothers of Sigma Gamma Chi

Rog, — another game of chess? — You know who

Robin Hood, — Above and beyond the call of the average plook. Love always. — Maid Marion.

Cherrir, — Pachabel tonight? What time? See ya later. Isn't self-abuse neat? — Cereste

Liz — Did you remember? — C.

Scott Craig, — Your the best! Hope you did good on your test! I owe you one!! But let's not make it a habit making those special little trips. Love — Shannon

Pregnant? We Care. Free Professional Pregnancy Counseling. Explore all your options. Help with medical expenses. You may help choose your baby's adoptive parents. Children's Home Society. Call Toll Free 1-800-247-2888.

Jim, You're the best!

I'm glad things have worked out and I'm glad you're mine!

This past weekend was the greatest ever.

Have a good week. Love you always! – Jenn

SUGAR-BUGAR, I love you ! You are a very special person.

Forever yours, BVK

CHET AHN, I wish I could be as popular as you and be able to host D.Ts. What does it take? Do I need lessons. Let's get together sometime! Okay! – Your special admirer.

Anne Waite, — Thanks so much for helping me through Wed. night! You're the best!! I owe you one. We'll have a drink on the deck soon!! - Shannon

Want a break from Longwood? Do you miss particiating in a small church at home? Rural Presbyterian Church in Farmville wants to meet you and friends. For information contact Ruby Senpson after 3:00 at 392-3868 or Pam Higgins c/o Student Health Service.

The Cunninghams Greatest Lecture Series Presents:

Travel and Art and the Art of Travel by Elisabeth Flynn, Tuesday, February 21, 6:00-7:00 p.m. S Cunningham room. — All interested please attend.

There will be an interest hall meeting Tuesday, February 21 in the Gold Room of Lankford. The hall being discussed will emphasize study and de-emphasize the use of alcohol. For all those interested this meeting is mandatory!

ATTENTION: Rising Sophomores and Juniors

It is time for the Geist Scholarship. Applications are available in the INFORMATION OFFICE. Fill it out and return it to Mary Frances Hanover, Box 465. Deadline March 2. Scholarship is awarded on the basis of involvement, need and G.P.A.

GO FOR IT!

Perini's ITALIAN RESTAURANT

- Pizzas
- Pasta
- Salads
- Pork B-B-Q
- Daily Lunch Specials
- Sandwiches
- Tacos
- Stuffed Potatoes
- Ice Cream
- ABC-On

HIGH STREET, FARMVILLE, VA.
PHONE 392-5865

Summer Opportunities available TODAY! You can make a real difference working with inner-city youth in a wilderness adventure camp. Come see Chuck at the Princeton Education Center table in the Commons today from 10:00 to 3:00; or call us at 201/362-6765.

COUPON

FREE! FREE! FREE! FREE! FREE!

With The Purchase Of Ball Gown Or Wedding Gown!

—FREE SHOES—

Caryn's Bridals

MAIN STREET, FARMVILLE, VA. — PHONE 392-5111

COUPON EXPIRES MARCH 1, 1989

COUPON

SPORTS

Longwood Baseball Team Begins Season Thursday

A "new look" Longwood baseball team will open its 1989 season next Thursday with a single game at St. Andrews, and coach Buddy Bolding (270-114-1, 10 years) says his team must have improved pitching and clutch play to equal last year's 33-12 campaign.

The Lancers, who begin a four-day, six-game road trip at St. Andrews, will not have the speed of past Longwood squads. With Kelvin Davis (.511 b.a.) and Frankie Watson (.352) in Florida for spring training with the Kansas City Royals, and third baseman Robert Jackson (.399) on the sidelines as a student assistant coach, Bolding will have to depend on several freshmen and inexperienced players.

"There is no way to make up for the loss of players like Davis, Watson, and Jackson," said Bolding. "We knew we would lose Davis and Jackson, but the loss of Watson really hurts."

Watson still had two more years of eligibility left when he signed with the Royals last June. He would have pitched and played center field for Longwood this season, providing some of the speed which is now absent.

"We do have a number of question marks as we head into the season, but I feel our pitching should be better and we have a group of five seniors who I think will provide excellent leadership. Our schedule will be tough as always."

On The Road Again

Longwood should bring country singer Willie Nelson along for its 22 road dates this spring. "On The Road Again" will be the Lancer theme song. Bolding was only able to persuade nine teams to visit Farmville and play the NCAA Division II independent Lancers. Of LC's 47 scheduled games, 34 are on the road.

Included are Division I foes, all on the road, The Citadel, Virginia Tech, Liberty, Richmond and William & Mary.

Expected to start for Longwood Thursday will be veterans Pete Criscione at shortstop, Bill Conroy in right field, Robbie Smith in left, Mark Moeller at first base, Eric Hutzler in center, Eric Killinger at third and Nealan Chandler at designated hitter.

Newcomers who should be in the lineup are junior transfer Scott Maciejewski at second base and freshman Scott Abell behind the plate. Maciejewski, who fills the void at second left by Criscione's switch to shortstop, is a transfer from the University of South Florida. He should provide some stability in the infield.

Bolding expects Criscione to have a super year. Longwood's lead-off man the past two seasons, Pete batted .336 last year with 22 stolen bases, 40 runs, 21 RBI and four homers. Another veteran with some impressive stats is Moeller, the sophomore first baseman. He hit .403 with 14 doubles, 10 homers and 38 RBI while playing well (.989 fielding pct.) at first base.

Conroy (.287, with six homers, eight doubles and 29 RBI) and Smith (.390, with homers) are Lancer tri-captains along with senior pitcher Steve Gedro. Gedro was 7-4 last season with a 4.66 ERA. He's 16-6 over three seasons.

Sophomores Hutzler (.234, 7-8 stolen bases) and Chandler (.261, 3 homers, 16 RBI) will be playing more in 1989 after limited action last season. Killinger (.279, 12 RBI) is being given a shot at third base, but soph Mike Lauffer and freshman Chris Cherry are also in the picture at third. Both Lauffer and Cherry are being moved from catcher.

Bolding feels Abell, a Western Albemarle grad, will do a solid job behind the plate. Senior Greylin Rice will back-up Abell. Rice, who has power, hit .290 with 11 RBI in 1988.

Young Pitching Staff

While Gedro and E. J. Bryant are seniors, the rest of Longwood's nine-man pitching staff are sophomores and freshmen. Bryant (3-1, 3.27 ERA) will join Gedro and sophomores Matt Carlisle and Dennis Hale as the Lancers' main starters. Carlisle pitched better last season than his 3-3 record and 7.15 ERA would indicate. Hale was 5-0 with a team best 3.23 ERA and a five-inning no-hitter against Mount St. Mary's.

Also back on the mound are Butch Trent, 2-1, 3.60 ERA, and lefthander Tim Patrick who missed last season with arm trouble. Freshmen pitchers are Steve Blood, Buddy Williams and Jeff Parr, a trio of big, hard-throwing righthanders who show a lot of promise.

Lancer Wrestlers Finish Fourth in Regionals

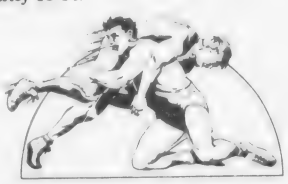
Longwood sophomores Ted Proctor and Tim Mason earned their way to the NCAA Division II National Tournament Sunday with second place finishes in the Southeast Regional Tournament in Lancer Hall.

Proctor (150) and Mason (167) plus freshman Mark Harris, at 142, advanced to the championship round in their respective weight classes, helping host Longwood finish fourth out of five teams in the regional tournament. Fifth ranked Pittsburgh-Johnstown (75.25) edged 20th rated Pembroke (74.75) for the team title Sunday. California (PA), the national tourney host, was third at 58.25 while LC had 47.5 points and Cheyney State 35.5.

"We're happy to have two wrestlers going to nationals for the first time," said Longwood coach Steve Nelson. "While we didn't win a regional title, we competed well Sunday. We were tied for third in team standings heading into the final round."

A total of 19 grapplers from the Southeast Region will take part in the national tournament, March 4-5. The 10 weight class champs plus nine wild card entries (Proctor and Mason among them) will represent the region at nationals. Longwood student coach John Stukes represented the Lancers at nationals last season, after taking a regional tournament crown.

Proctor (23-7) beat Chad Hawks of Pembroke 9-4 to reach the finals. Cheyney's Herman Moultrie beat Proctor 6-4 for the title. Mason (23-8) won an 8-2 decision over Billy Erwin of Cheyney in the semifinals, but lost 11-2 to Dave Yahner of UPJ in the championship match. Harris (13-10) beat Lance Phaturous of UPJ 9-7 before losing to Pembroke All-American Roy Heverly 12-0 in the finals.



Longwood's Andy Mautner, at 158, Kevin West, at 177, and Doug Hartley, at 190, finished third in their weight classes Sunday. Mautner finished the year 14-15, West 7-11 and Harley 15-14.

Team Finish

Pitt-Johnstown 75.25, Pembroke 74.75, California (PA) 58.25, Longwood 47.50, Cheyney 35.50

Championship Match Results

118 – Duane Wilson (PS) d. Mark Scripps (PJ) pin; 126 – Rick Travis (Cal) d. Avery Winford (PS) 13-1; 134 – Marvin Jones (PS) d. Larry Robey (PJ) 5-3; 142 – Roy Heverly (PS) d. Mark Harris (L) 12-0; 150 – Herman Moultrie (CS) d. Ted Proctor (L) 6-4; 158 – John Hollman (Cal) d. Roy Sims CS) 15-0; 167 – Dave Yahner (PJ) d. Tim Mason (L) 11-2; 177 – Rod Howard (PS) d. Bill Luzik (PJ) 3-2; 190 – Kenn Hackman (Cal) d. Mike Swank (PJ) 18-4; HWT – Carlton Haselrig (PJ) d. Marty Rutledge (CS) pin

Lady Lancers Blast ACC 98-58

By Roxie Lockwood

The Longwood women's basketball team blasted Atlantic Christian, 98-58, last Monday night at home, but a scheduled meeting with North Carolina Wesleyan Saturday was canceled because of snow.

Longwood has a chance to bring its 9-11 record to .500 for the season if the Lady Lancers can win the last two games of the season. Navy was slated to visit Farmville Monday (last) night and Friday night Bennett College comes to Lancer Hall for the season finale.

The Bennett game will mark the final home appearance of seniors Angee Middleton and Sandy Rawdon. Lancer Club and Parent's Night will be observed.

The Lady Bulldogs of Atlantic Christian nipped at the heels of the Lady Lancers in the early going, and Longwood resented it strongly.

With Atlantic Christian up by four, Carmille Barnette threw a behind-the-back shovel pass into the waiting arms of Salene Green who put it home. Barnette, a forward, found Rawdon underneath the basket. Rawdon tied the game, 12 all. Barnette then ripped down a rebound, taking it coast-to-coast for the score. All of this activity required one minute, two seconds. Atlantic Christian, while not exactly rolling over and playing dead, had lost.

Only two items remained to be decided. Would Rawdon break All-American Florence Holmes's career blocked shots record? The question was answered with nine minutes left in the half. The senior co-captain put her hand between an Atlantic Christian shot and the basket for her second block of the night, the 100th of her career.

The second item remained in the balance until 0:01 left in the game. Aretha Johnson's shot hit iron and bounced the wrong way. Longwood missed 100 points by a bucket. All five Longwood starters hit double figures. Barnette led all scorers with 28 points. When asked about her scoring, Barnette merely asked, "How many rebounds did I have?" (She had seven).

Middleton rang up 14 points; Ann Callaham 12; Rawdon and Green 10. Green was Longwood's leading rebounder with eight.

For the season, Barnette leads in scoring (18.9) and rebounding (9.4 rpg). Middleton (12.0), Callaham (11.8) and Rawdon (10.7) are also in double figures. Green averages eight points per game. Backing Barnette on the boards are Rawdon (8.3 rpg) and Green (7.9 rpg). The rebounding trio has aided Longwood to a ninth-place ranking in NCAA II rebound margin (+11.8).

Callaham leads in assists (4.1 apg). Middleton in steals (3.5 spg.)

1839

The Rotunda

LONGWOOD COLLEGE

1989

"Catching Sight of Longwood from atop the Sesquicentennial Mount"

VOL. NO. 68 NO. 16 | FEBRUARY 28, 1989 | FARMVILLE, VA.

Don't Let Sunburn Ruin Your Spring Break

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — Many college students in Daytona Beach for Spring Break don't realize just how strong the sun's rays can be. After only one day of fun in the sun, they have a painful sunburn that may ruin the rest of their trip — and their skin.

Don't let this happen to you this year. A conservative approach to sunning will assure that your remaining vacation days will be as pleasant as the first. And you can go back to school with a healthy glow instead of an itchy peel.

Because Florida is closer to the equator than many northern states, the ultra violet rays are four times stronger. This can mean you tan four times faster or burn four times faster, depending on your sun-sense. Local skin specialists, lifeguards and sun lotion manufacturers recommend the following guidelines for Spring Breakers:

(Continued on page 2)

Many college students don't realize just how strong the sun's rays can be. Sunburn can ruin your Spring Break, so be careful.

Library Construction To Begin This Spring

By P.A. FAIRS

The apparent low bidder for Longwood's new library is the Avis Construction Company of Roanoke, which submitted a bid of $5,707,355.

The formal award is expected to be offered in about 10 days following the architect's review to ensure that all information requested was provided. Construction should begin in late spring and be completed in approximately 18 months. Some 13 bids were submitted.

The new library will be at the southwest corner of Pine and Redford streets, across from the Lankford Student Union. It will be a 71,000-square-feet, two-story brick and pre-cast concrete building, with a third level underground.

The new library will have more than three times the reader space as Lancaster Library, and will be almost twice as large in gross square feet. Lancaster Library has 42,000 square feet. It will provide state-of-the-art technology for information retrieval from libraries throughout the world. It also will provide for satellite reception of foreign programs that can be observed by language students and others.

"The design of the facility can only be described as unique," said Richard V. Hurley, Vice President for Business Affairs. "It's neither square or rectangular. The most distinguishing feature is

(Continued on page 2)

Radical Parking Changes In The Works

Resident Students Lose 225 On-Campus Spaces

By MATT PETERMAN

As soon as the Avis Construction Company is ready to begin construction of the new Library, radical parking changes will be enacted.

In order for construction to begin, the construction company requires fencing off the Lankford resident and day student parking lots. The lots would close a week before the construction company says it will be ready causing the loss of 183 spaces.

The anticipation of the loss of so many spaces has caused Longwood through The Parking Advisory Committee to review all the available spaces on the campus and redistribute them in what to them was deemed the most logical manner.

The recommendations of the committee that were subsequently approved by President Dorrill are as follows:

1. The newly constructed lot behind Little Caesars will be designated for resident students (176 spaces).

2. Parking for day students will be designated in both Iler Field parking lots and both sides of Pine Street between Redford and Franklin Streets (the stretch of road where Wygal and Bedford are on). A loss of 113 for residents and gain of 113 for day students.

3. Both sides of Pine Street between Redford and Madison will be designated faculty/staff. A loss of 8 for residents and gain of 8 for faculty/staff.

4. Parking for ARA employees will be designated on both sides of Madison Street between Venable and Pine Streets and in the lot behind Graham Building. A loss of 24 for resident students and a gain of 24 for faculty/staff.

These approved recommendations will push resident students off the campus with the loss of 225 on-campus parking spaces. The loss is maybe greater as visitors and day students will be permitted to park in any space designated for resident students.

The overall loss for resident students is 31. This is considered temporary because new lots on Franklin Street and the expansion of the Wynne lot will be completed for next semester and will more than cover the loss.

The parking lot behind Little Caesars will be complete when it is paved. This lot is on land that was leased for the period of 5 years and is located on Vernon St. It is lighted and surrounded by a security fence. Concerns over safety are being looked at and include locking the fence up after dark and opening it up in the morning or by special request. It will be equipped with an emergency phone and plans for a police monitored camera are in the works.

According to the conclusion of Parking Advisory Committee Report: "It is important to note that these proposed recommendations are intended to address the need for immediate changes given the eminent closing of Lankford lot for the construction of the library. Additional changes will probably occur

(Continued on page 6)

NEWS

BSU Activities

By BETH LORD

You're invited to lunch at the Baptist Student Union on Thursday, March 2nd, at 12:45 p.m. If the Dining Hall isn't serving your favorite dish or you just want a home-cooked meal, this is the thing for you. The meal is free, and any donations you make will go toward the BSU's Summer Missions Goal. Tafara members are reminded that practice is Tuesday, February 28th, at 8:00 p.m. The BSU would also like to wish all students a safe and relaxing break!

Sunburn

(Continued from page 1)

Day 1 — Use Sun Protection Factor (SPF) 15 or higher everywhere skin is exposed, especially on face and delicate areas where skin is thinnest and more sun-sensitive.

Day 2 — Continue with the same SPF you used yesterday.

Day 3 — If you started with a SPF higher than 15, drop down to 15. If you started with 15, stay there one more day.

Day 4 — Depending on your natural skin tone and the color of your Florida base tan, you may move on down the SPF ladder as follows:

Very fair to fair — stay with SPF 15

Fair to medium — Drop down to SPF 10

Medium to light tan — Try SPR 10 or 8

Tan to olive skin — Should be safe with SPF 8 or 6

Deep tan to dark skin — Use SPF 4

Day 5 and beyond — Follow Day 4's advice for the rest of your stay. As your tan increases, drop your SPF gradually so that you maintain a beautiful tan with no burning or peeling.

Always keep a higher number SPF on your face. This avoids wrinkling later in life. Zinc Oxide in a rainbow of colors is a fun alternative to white lotion or oils. For an extra cool tip, pack you skin protectors in your soft drink cooler and apply when cold to soothe hot skin.

Another tip: Take a break from the sun for a day or two. There are also many indoor activities during Spring Break when the sun gets too intense.

Mark Lewis Is Named Artist of the Month

By BETTY BRYANT

Longwood College's Artist of the Month for February is Mark Lewis, a senior political science major from Rockville Centre, Long Island, NY.

His winning work is a thrown stoneware bowl. He received a $50 cash award, and his work is displayed in the Bedford Art Building.

Lewis will complete his studies at Longwood next December. He plans to attend law school and hopes to become a partner in a law firm.

Lewis has taken many art classes at Longwood. His special interest is ceramics, particularly plates and platters. He says he will continue to work in clay "to help balance the rigorous academic program at law school." He expects to maintain a lifelong commitment to the arts.

Lewis is the son of Alan and Judy Lewis, of Rockville Centre, Long Island, NY.

The Artist of the Month competition is open to all students enrolled in art classes at Longwood. The winner is chosen by members of the art faculty.

New Library

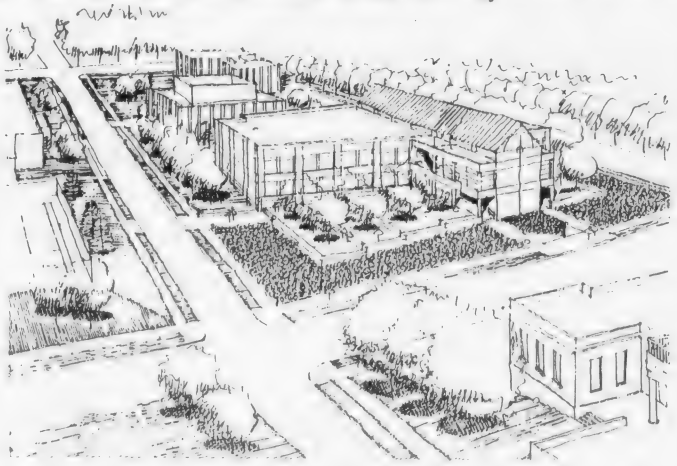
(Continued from page 1)

probably the two-story entrance hall, giving a feeling of openness. It is flanked by columns, thereby continuing the colonnade appearance that we have on the front campus."

"Most windows are located on the south side of the building, offering an inviting view of the reading areas inside the library. The outside design of a terraced plaza leading up from Pine Street to the front entrance takes advantage of the site's natural slope. Sidewalks lead to the main entrance from Pine, Redford and Race streets, making it convenient for students coming from any part of the campus," he said.

The library's location in the center of the campus, and its proximity to the Student Union, should make that area "the hub of student activity," said Mr. Hurley. The site also is the dividing area between what is called the "old campus" and the "new campus."

Because of this central location, the architects (Odell Associates of Richmond) were asked by the Board of Visitors to design a facility that blends the two parts of campus. "The exterior features incorporate some aspects of the old campus – the brick, the colonnades, the metal roof – while maintaining a modern feeling appropriate to the newer campus and the ultra-modern function of the interior," Mr. Hurley said. "Although the building is definitely modern, it blends in and enhances the overall campus."



The first floor will house the library's administrative offices, the circulation desk, reading and stack areas, and large viewing rooms. The second floor will have more reading and stack areas, study carrells, the children's library, and viewing rooms.

The first floor will contain a lounge and vending area across from the main entrance. The lounge will be outside the main library, but students can reach it through the closed entrance foyer. "It will give the students a place to get away from their studies for a few minutes," said Mr. Hurley.

The new library will be a high-technology media center housing some of the latest state-of-the-art library equipment available. There will be more computers, more printers, more CD-ROM ("computer disk read-only memory") stations for users, more work stations for online searching, and more Virginia Tech Library Service-user terminals.

There also will be more tables, chairs, electronic study carrels and other furniture for reading areas. The number of seats will be increased from 300 currently to more than 900. Satellite capabilities will be expanded.

Because of the new telecommunications system that is being installed, students who have microcomputers will be able to gain access to the library's computer and bibliographic files from the residence hall rooms.

Amensty Chapter Started At Longwood

By J. R. REEVES

PRISONERS OF CONSCIENCE: Men, women, and children imprisoned for their beliefs, color, sex, ethnic origin, language, or religion.

Amnesty International is a non-profit, impartial organization that works worldwide to free prisoners of conscience (provided they have never used nor advocated violence), for fair and prompt trials for political prisoners, and to abolish torture and executions.

Recently, after a lecture on Amnesty International, A group of Longwood students decided to form a campus chapter of this organization. With the guidance and assistance of the chapter already in existance at Hampden-Sydney College, the Longwood College chapter is just beginning to get its feet off the ground. The main purposes of the group will be to promote awareness, as well as to write letters on behalf of prisoners of conscience. To find out more about the Amnesty International chapter here at Longwood, attend the interest meeting Tuesday night, Feb. 28, at 9:30 in the Gold Room of Lankford.

YOU QUALIFY FOR INSTANT CREDIT!
Start making credit purchases IMMEDIATELY! We will send you a Members Credit Card at once with NO CREDIT CHECK. Buy any Jewelry, Clothing, Sporting Goods, Watches, Electronics & MORE! All with installment payments out of our "Giant 100+ Pages Catalog." Take 12 months to repay. Your personal credit card is a -second I.D.- valuable for check cashing, etc. plus your Students Credit Group A-1 reference will be on file to help you obtain other credit cards. So send in your $5 catalog deposit now. (refundable with your first order)
Establish your credit Today!
100% Satisfaction Guaranteed (or your Money Back)
Name _____
Address _____ City _____
State _____ Zip _____
MEMBERS Students CREDIT GROUP
P.O. BOX 4649 FORT LAUDERDALE, FLORIDA 33338

NEWS

Wesley Foundation Announces Events

By BETH LORD

The Wesley Foundation, a campus organization affiliated with and located next to the Farmville United Methodist Church, is committed to offering students an opportunity to worship and to reach out to the community. The Director of the program is Reverend Margie Turbyfill, and student officers include President Dina Dawson, Vice-President of Missions Kenny Strawn, Vice-President of Publicity Carolyn Jackson, Secretary Sandy Freeby, and Treasurer Jacqui Cook.

Events held on a regular basis include a 10:00 a.m. Sunday study of the book of Revelation. Weekly meetings are on Monday nights, with dinner at 5:00 p.m. and the program beginning at approximately 6:45. Informal communion open to all students is held each Wednesday night at 6:00. In addition, Movie Night is every Friday at 7:30. Activities to look forward to in March or April are a trip to minister to the homeless in Richmond and The Forever Married Game. Activities are open to all students whether or not they are Methodists.

The newly painted Wesley Foundation is open Monday through Friday from 9:00 a.m. until 11:00 p.m. Students are invited and encouraged to utilize the building for studying or recreational purposes.

Beware

All Clubs & Organizations

The process to receive student activity fees has begun. Applications are available in the Information Office. The money is for your club or organization so make an effort to apply.

Telefund At Midway

By DARREN McCAULEY

The Longwood Ambassadors have been hard at work for the last four weeks and the college is reaping rewards. The Ambassadors is a group of 48 students volunteering their time to help Longwood. Right now, the students are calling Longwood Alumni to ask for contributions to support their alma mater. Calling is done Sunday through Thursday from 6:30-9:30 p.m. This process lasts eight weeks.

This year the direction of the campaign is focused on donor participation. The goal for this is 5,600 donors and to date 3,649 alumni have agreed to donate. Dollar totals are also very important to Longwood. The dollar goal is $168,000 and pledges amount to $85,823.50 so far. This money can be targetted to a certain area but most is used for the foundation in general to beautify the campus, bring in grest lecturers, improve facilities, and especially to help student scholarships.

I personally want to thank each and every Ambassador for a job well done. This Telefund Campaign has been super and you are the reason! Keep up the tremendous work.

The Ambassadors are now accepting applications for new volunteers to be selected in April. The applications can be picked up in Institutional Advancement Office. This is a challenging yet rewarding experience.

What Is S.G.A. Up To?

By MOHAMMAD N. STWODAH

As I mentioned in the previous article, keep your eyes open because there are 2 scholarships of $360 each being offered to qualified students; so why don't you try for one? Further notice will be given to you in the near future articles of the Rotunda, telling you the exact date of when you pick up a copy of the application. If you have any questions concerning the scholarship, stop by the SGA office in the Lankford building.

Greek week is scheduled for the week of April 9-17, this is one week in the year that every Greek organization and the rest of the campus look forward to. The fun never seems to cease, because right after Greek week, the "EU" concert is held.

The "EU" concert is scheduled for March 18th. It is going to be one of the greatest events of 1989 at Longwood College. WE ENCOURAGE the student body to attend this event to show their support towards our school. The ticket prices have been changed: Students: $3.00 with ID, Advanced Tickets: $7.00, Public: $8.00.

Besides sponsoring and scheduling fun activities for Longwood students, the SGA also tackles other serious issues, such as the PARKING problem we all are facing. There will be an open forum on Tuesday, March 21 at 6:00 p.m. in the Gold Room. All who are interested, please stop by. This is a VERY important issue. We encourage any and all students to attend the regular SGA meetings, because we are there for you.

There will be no meeting on Thursday, March 2; we will resume our regular meeting the Thursday back from Spring Break, March 16

Spring Break Special!

Get Your Car Travel Ready!!!
Complete Check Up- Only $24.95!

Includes:
- Oil & filter change
- Check fluid levels
- Check belts & hoses
- Check tire pressure
- Check all lights
- Check battery amperage
- Check for any fluid leaks
- Check anti-freeze density

Check up without oil change - Only $14.95!
Offer valid ONLY with this coupon.

FARMVILLE MOTORS
Ford Mercury Chrysler Dodge
Toyota Plymouth
Route 15 South, Farmville
392-8166

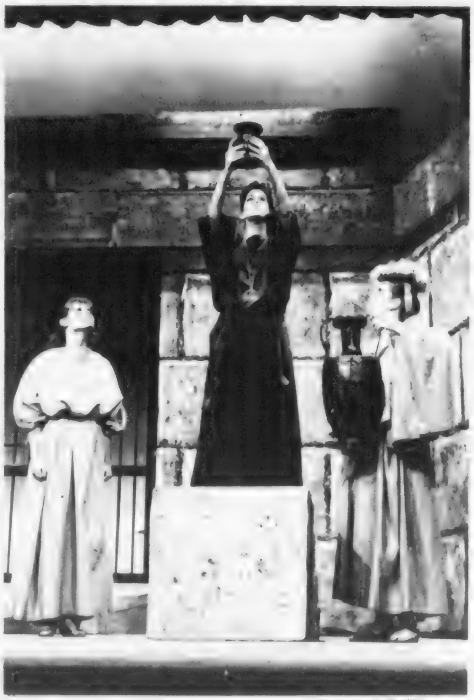


Photo by Alex Darling

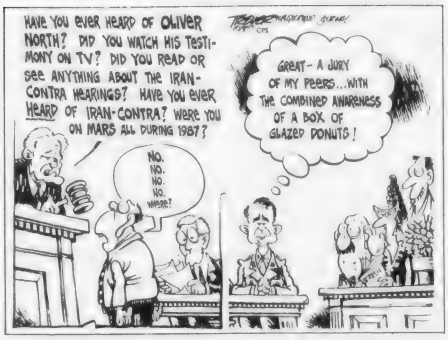
Lysistrata, performed by the Longwood Players last week, was successful despite the weather.

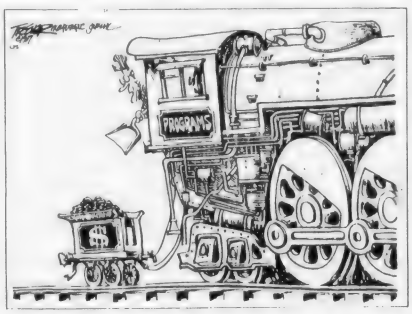
What Japan Isn't

Last week during President Bush's trip to Japan "to honor" the late Emperor Showa (Hirohito), Japan worshipping by the media reached an all time high.

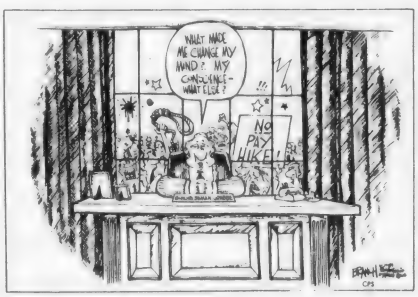
Japan was talked about as though it somehow emerged as a rival to the U.S. supremacy on the world stage citing as proof the over 150 world leaders that gathered to pay tribute to the dead Emperor. Really to gain goodwill towards a nation whose economic posture is great. However, had George Bush stayed home, a significant amount of others in the world community that also remember Japan's role in World War II, would have for the most part done the same.



It is true that the Japanese have surpassed the U.S. in world economic aid, but that is where it ends. Japan is not a political superpower, not a cultural superpower, not a military superpower, nor are they a geopolitical superpower. Japan is on its way to becoming an economic superpower, but for now they can only be classified as: A Good Economy.



If the U.S. continues to run high deficits financed by the Japanese buying of large quantities of our Treasury Bills as well as having large trade surpluses with the U.S., then they will surely reach Economic Superpower status much quicker.



Japan is one of the factors that remains a big danger to the future of the United States, as we know it today. After the biggest factor, the U.S. and its deficit habits (trade and budgetary), Japan is gathering too much economic leverage on our nation. The argument that the United Kingdom and West Germany have a greater stake in the U.S. than the Japanese is at best superficial, for what is really important to look at is the rate that they are doing it. The rate that Japan is buying the U.S. is many times greater than any nation in history and at this pace Japan's ownership of The United States will be rivaled only to that of the United States.

Japan's continued success relies heavily upon the United States and free trade with her. Without these two magic words (free trade) Japan would undoubtedly be in a bind. If the U.S. exercised similar unfair trading practices that Japan does with the U.S., all this discussion about Japan would not be taking place, because all Americans would drive American cars, use American electrical and electronic equipment, and use American machinery as well as American chemicals.

All this is not to say that Japan is totally bad for the U.S. for it clearly is not. We have learned much about efficiency and productivity from them and for that we can be grateful. What we need to learn from them, and soon, is that saving is not bad, piling up excessive trade and budgetary deficits is, and returning to creditor nation status should be a goal not a pipe dream, because only here can the U.S. be assured some sort of defense against the future trend of economic warfare.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor's Note: There has been a great number of letters concerning the Letters To The Editor written by Robert "RAT" Taylor, and though most of them do represent the majority opinion of the editorial board, they could not be printed for reasons concerning legal liability. Letters of this type must be signed!

Don't Drown The Swim Test

Dear Editor:

I am compelled to respond to the editorial, Drown The Swim Test, not only to dispel myths and alleviate fears, but more importantly to educate. Rumors regarding the swim test are as pervasive on this campus as beer. The face remains that few students ever fail the test. At the most recent test of over 100 students, only two did not pass.

As for the origin of the test; A myth is a fictionalized account founded in historical fact. The rumor of the evolution you published, replete with aunt and money, is pure fabrication. The test evolved with other graduation requirements intent on providing a liberal education of mind, body and spirit to a student possessing a four year degree. With three fourths of our planet's surface as water, the chances of being in, on, or around water is great. The swimming proficiency test is designed to assess the degree of comfort and skill in water equivalent to the American Red Cross Advanced Beginner level. It can be argued that to legislate or "require" a certain level of swimming proficiency

(Continued on page 5)

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
Matt Peterman

Managing Editor
R. Bruce Gantt

Features Editor
Cheryl Jeffrey

Greek Affairs Editor
Chet Ahn

Photography Editor
Emily Howell

Sports Editor
Lindy Seymore

Business Manager
Tim Oliva

Advertising Managers
Steve Evans
Susan Miller

Layout Assistant
Monica Gilbert

Faculty Advisor
William C. Wood

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be typed or printed neatly, state the author's years, and major as applicable.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 392-7817.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Honor Board Addresses Letter

Dear Editor:

I am responding to the letter, Honorable and or Judicious? ? ? that appeared in last week's Rotunda. There were several questions posed in that letter pertaining to the Honor System which I will now address.

1). The Honor Board has its own office because years ago they asked for one. Until now, the Judicial Board Chairs have never requested one. Due to lack of available office space in Lankford Student Union, this is a problem. A possible location for a Judicial Board office is being looked into.

2). There are four Chair people for the Judicial Board because they typically have more cases and must split up into several boards to handle the caseload; therefore requiring more than one Chair. Also, the Judicial Board has four Chairs for 30 members while the Honor Board has one Chair for only 12 members. More people on the board means more Chair people needed.

3). Why the Honor Board Chair gets more recognition than the Judicial Board Chairs I do not know. But possibly it's because of the Honor Ceremony for Freshmen, talks to the Freshman Seminar classes, talks to the Organization of Teaching Faculty, and most significantly Honor Awareness Week.

4). I cannot answer when Judicial Awareness Week is. The Honor Board Chair is only in charge of Honor Awareness Week, I trust the Judicial Board's Chairs are better qualified to answer why there is not a Judicial Awareness Week.

Both the Judicial Board and the Honor Board work toward accomplishing one goal – creating an atmosphere at Longwood in which the student is encouraged to act responsibly.

Patrice Widener
Chair of the Honor Board

They Closed Our Schools

To the Editor:

This letter is a follow-up on the forum that was held at Longwood College, Feb. 13, 1989 concerning "They Closed Our Schools".

My statement was short and hopefully to the point, because I felt that more time should have been given to the guest. The Honorable Dr. Proctor, who to me is a dynamic, wonderful person that can keep his crowd's attention and I also felt that there were others that should have served on the panel also. But the program went very well and I would like to thank Ms. Psyche Williams and Mrs. Theresa Clark for presenting such a program to inform the Longwood community on the history of the school closings in Prince Edward County.

As I stated at the forum, I was 8 years old when school closed and it was a frightening feeling not knowing just how long they would remain closed, whoever thought it would be 5 years.

During the period of the school closing, life continued as I attended programs offered by local churches. There was lots of time to roam and play. And each passing day you started missing school more.

But as I stated at the forum, what has happened, it's history and should not be forgotten by generations to come.

I feel that every child that attends the Prince Edward School system should be very THANKFUL that they have a school to attend and make the very best of it.

There were people during this period that encouraged me to continue on and realize that you can and are somebody. People such as my family, the late Rev. L.F. Griffin, the Rev. Samuel Williams and also visits and the inspiration of Robert Kennedy and the late Dr. Martin L. King. I thank God for being in their presence and appreciate what they contributed to me, the community and the world.

And when school did reopen, I was tested and placed in my would be grade. But I still felt the hurt and pain because I felt that I missed out on a lot.

But as life still continues on, I thank teachers such as Mrs. Rawlins, Mrs. Venable, the Mitchells, Mrs. Franklin, Frank Williams and many others who took that special time to make me realize there was hope and to be the best that you can be.

I may not hold a college degree in education, but I feel that God gave me a degree, to be somebody and to help whoever I can.

I hope the generation behind will do the same, realize they are our future and carry on our work.

Again, I believe that this program was a success with Mrs. Bledsoe, Mrs. Issac, Dr. Proctor and those who attended.

God Bless You All.

Farmville Town Council Member
A.D. "Chuckie" Reid
Ward "C"

Swim

(Continued from page 4)

appears to be juvenile, treating students as unresponsible. Yet it is common practice in our country to legislate for citizen safety. Such is the case when laws require helmets to ride motorcycles and seat belts buckled when operating cars and trucks.

The swimming proficiency test is not now, nor has it ever been, an exit test. It is a requirement for graduation that can be fulfilled anytime during a student's career. Regretfully, many of this year's senior class have put the test off until the last semester of the senior year. Because of this, large numbers of students have to be tested in what is often a self-created atmosphere of high anxiety; for if they do not pass there is little time or opportunity to cultivate the skills needed to fulfill the swimming requirements. I concur that an exit test of reasoning, knowledge and communication skills to assess what has been acquired during a student's tenure at Longwood is a meritorious idea. Such comprehensive exit exams are currently being considered by some departments.

A final point of information for those who have yet to take the swim test, it will be offered again on Monday, April 24th at 4 p.m.

Sarah Bingham,
Aquatics Director

Kings Dominion

IS HIRING FOR WEEKEND AND SUMMER JOBS

Earn $5.20/Hr. On weekends, $4.20/Hr. On Weekdays
Plus A Labor Day Bonus Plan

KINGS DOMINION OFFERS:

- Excellent Pay
- Time Off For Vacation
- Opportunity To Advance
- Employee Activities
- A Great Working Enviroment

AT THE KINGS DOMINION PERSONNEL OFFICE
MONDAY - SATURDAY 9 AM - 5 PM

FOR MORE INFORMATION, WRITE KINGS DOMINION, PERSONNEL DEPARTMENT, BOX 166, DOSWELL, VIRGINIA 23047
OR CALL (804)876-5145
E.O.E.

FEATURES

Broadway Musical, "42nd Street" Coming To Longwood Direct From New York

By P. A. FAIRS

42nd Street, the second-longest-running musical in Broadway history, is coming to Longwood College for two performances on Saturday, April 15. Prominent reviewers describe the show as "the most lavish Broadway production in 40 years," "a musical made in heaven," and "simply sensational."

Direct from New York City, the musical comedy will be presented at 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. on April 15 in Jarman Auditorium. As a special sesquicentennial event at Longwood, it is being offered at greatly reduced prices as a service to the college and the community, according to H. Donald Winkler, sesquicentennial chairman. Matinee tickets are $5; evening tickets, $8. All seats are reserved. The cost for Longwood students is $2 for either performance.

Tickets will go on sale March 1 at the Information Center on the main floor of the Lankford Student Union. The center is open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday through Friday.

42nd Street won the 1981 Tony Award for best musical. Its director and choreographer, Gower Champion, won a posthumous Tony for choreography.

The show, created by producer David Merrick, ran eight years on Broadway and closed last month after 3,486 performances.

The touring show that will come to Longwood is under the auspices of Jerry Kravat Entertainment. The company is well known for its high-quality productions at the Kennedy Center and other major theatres, as well as for its national touring shows.

Paul A. Striffolino, cultural chairman for Longwood's sesquicentennial, says the musical extravaganza "is the biggest and most elaborate show ever brought to Longwood." With mammoth sets and countless costumes, the tour requires three trucks, including a 45-foot tractor-trailer truck.

Recent reviews of the touring show described it as "a dazzling Broadway eyeful" with "a most attractive cast providing standout performances and the look and sound of the Broadway stage." One reviewer said: "It was wonderful to hear a totally professional cast and orchestra and see sets full of color and spirit as good as anything on Broadway and be able to be in the car a few minutes later, humming all the way home without traffic to contend with."

42nd Street is adapted from the successful 1933 movie of the same name, the one in which the stage director tells the ingenue, "You're going out there a youngster, but you've got to come back a star." It begins with the classic backstage story about the hard-nosed director trying to make a comeback and the innocent chorus girl who saves the show when the leading lady can't go on.

It builds on such songs as "We're in the Money," "Lullaby of Broadway," "Dames," "About a Quarter of Nine," "Shuffle Off to Buffalo" and "42nd Street." Throughout, "it bounces with breath-taking energy, the beat of dancing feet, and dazzling production numbers," according to Striffolino.

"If you like glitter and glamour, sequins and top hats, and exciting songs and dances, you'll love '42nd Street'," added Striffolino.

Since the show comes on Founders Day Weekend at Longwood, anyone wanting tickets is advised to obtain them early, he said.

Perini's ITALIAN RESTAURANT
- Pizzas
- Pasta
- Salads
- Pork B-B-Q
- Daily Lunch Specials
- Sandwiches
- Tacos
- Stuffed Potatoes
- Ice Cream
- ABC-On

HIGH STREET, FARMVILLE, VA.
PHONE 392-5865

Endowment Returns Survived the 1987 Stock Market Crash

(CPS) – Campus – endowments – those collections of investments that earn money that colleges use for buildings, scholarships and even salaries – grew by only 1.3 percent in the 1988 fiscal year, far less than the previous year's 13.9 return, a nationwide accounting released Feb. 13 figured.

But the National Association of College and University Business Officers (NACUBO) says that's not bad, considering that the October, 1987, stock market crash happened in the middle of the period.

NACUBO'S annual endowment study also found the value of the investments of the 315 schools it surveyed rose to a collective $49.5 billion during fiscal year 1988, which began July 1, 1987 and ended June 30, 1988. That's up almost $2 billion from fiscal year 1987's $47.9 billion.

Such numbers are important because endowment income is one of the main sources colleges tap – the others being government grants and research contracts, student tuition gifts, state appropriations, and whatever revenues can be squeezed out of marketing research findings and logos – for money.

Some schools managed to earn as much as 17 percent on their endowments, while others saw their returns fall by as much as 14 percent.

By far, the school with the largest endowment by the end of the fiscal year 1988 was Harvard University, which boasts a $4.1 billion endowment. The University of Texas system was second, with a $2.7 billion endowment. Princeton University followed with a $2.3 billion endowment.

Parking Changes

(Continued from page 1)

once the new parking lot south of the high rises is constructed and the lot in front of the Wynne Building is enlarged. Finally, no one should view whatever changes are eventually made as being permanent in nature. It is the desire of the Committee that a "trial and error" approach be followed in regard to the implementation of changes. In other words, whenever parking changes are made and problems surface, adjustments should be made until such time as a good balance in the distribution of parking spaces is achieved.

Next semester students, faculty, and staff are going to be required to pay an extra fee not to exceed 10 dollars that will cover the upkeep of all the parking lots. The lots used to be state supported but this practice stopped last year.

Personals

Billy "Boy" – By now I hope you have forgiven me, so we can wake up together again soon! I'm going to miss you over break! Have fun and be good! Love ya, Brenda

Allyson – What's the purpose? Keep up the good work. SMILE! ! I love my little brother. Darren

K – Keep picking those toes because hygiene is important. 3rd Floor French

Sister of AST – Thanks for your concern and support these past few weeks. It means so much to me. Cheryl-Renée

To the Sisters and pledges of Sigma Sigma Sigma – The week we have all been waiting for is just a few classes away. So you beach bound Sigma's have lots of suntan lotion, cameras, and make lots of memories. Those of you who are lucky enough to be going to Cecer's and Wade's wedding be sure to send them all our love and wishes! For the other Sigmas who are doing lots of other things, make it the best week ever and have fun. Remember no matter where we all go to wear our letters with pride! Everyone have a safe and fun week.

The "Penthouse" suite: As the W.E. brings S.B. and I know you plan on H.F. be sure to keep your P.S.A. on the QT 'Cause if it got back to any VIPs like your RV's you could be S-O-L and doing K.P. 'till you get G.F.C. Enjoy your vacation, The C.F.

To Charlie Warner — Thanks for being the greatest cheering sponsor. We hate to see the season end. — Love, Spencer, J. Paul, Jeff, Shawn, Tracy, Jamie, Leather, Julie, Sandra, Michelle, Trudy & Cathy.

The sisters of Alpha Sigma Tau will be observing sister Cheryl-Renée's February 29 birthdate on Wednesday, March 1. Happy 21 years Cheryl-Renée!

Happy Birthday Cheryl-Renée! – Only three more years until you can have a real birthday on February 29. Tau Love, Kirsten.

More Personals

- Next Page

The Fun Place To Shop
Paige's
PHONE 392-6179
ACROSS FROM HIGHRISES
S. MAIN ST., 8:55 AM - 8:55 PM

SPRING BREAK CLOTHING SALE!
BUY ONE AT REGULAR PRICE,
GET SECOND ONE FOR ½ PRICE!
WED., MARCH 1 — FRI., MARCH 3

FEATURES

Personals

To Bo Bear — Thanks for partying with me! You're a great party animal! — Your pal Jeffries

To Joe — Thanks for my new friend Joey. — Love Puffalump

To ΣΤΧ — We are so glad that we met you. You have made our lives rich with pennies from above! We love you!! — French 222

Watson — Will you share your lunch bucket with Jon? Want to play rummy? Let's go to Harris-Teeter or watch a movie. — KIM

ET — I think Herman ate my cheese soup. Or maybe it was Milo or the baby in the chicken basket. — KIM

SUZANNE K. — What color is the pool?

SUESAN — Good luck with Delta Sig. You can do anything if you believe in yourself (not Patrick Henry, but YOU!) I've always believed in you. — K

ST — Who shot JR?

V. Kay — We were destined to be neighbors. Thank you for listening. — K

S. Kay, — Remember! Try not to be too loud in the hall! Smile and get well soon! You are a great neighbor! — V. Kay

Kim and Sarah, — You two are wonderful neighbors! Thanks for being there! Keep Smiling! Love, — Vonda Kay

We have gift
A little CHIkerchief
Hidden in the "Perfect" place
Just take a look around
And it is sure to be found
It's near a very safe place.
Either day or night the time
Is just right!
CHI SPIRIT

GT – To be a real fan you must understand the rules of the game and know how to play the game. Thanks for helping me understand! Love ya, Goofy

RAT – The tournament is not far away. Who knows how things will turn out! Good luck! – Corch's #1 fan

Rob B. – Thanks for all your help! Sarah.

KB – Thanks for everything! Where's the island? – E.T.

Leslie Anne, — Things will all work out and get better soon! I know they will! You are a terrific friend! Thanks for always being there when I feel the need to complain! I'm here for you! — ME

French 206 — I love you guys! — Penny

M & M — How is the squirrel? Is it still in your refrigerator? or did you finally bury it? — L & L

DM — I don't remember meeting you at selectrocution! Who are you? Tell me! — LL

Dear ΑΣΤ's — I love all of you so much! Thanks so much for the love and support! It's great to be part of the best sorority! Keep up the Tau spirit! — ΑΣΤ love & mine, Lori Rich — Thanks for everything! Believe it or not, I do care! Don't be a stranger anymore! — You know who.

Kellie — Happy 20th! No, I didn't forget! Love ya! — Your roomie!

Karen — things will get better — I promise! If you need someone to listen, just ask! — ΑΣΤ love and mine, Lori ΑΣΤ would like to congratulate our new pledges — Elyse, Jennifer, Christina, Patty, and Sharon — on choosing the best sorority! We love you!

RAT — I've been told you have a brain, so why here? Why not Georgia Tech? Myself — I don't have a brain, I don't think about things; I have a heart, I feel things. — A Secret Admirer

To All Seniors! – Please go by the Lankford Information Center to sign up for pictures taken at Senior Ball. You must have your money when you order the pictures. All pictures must be ordered by Thursday March 2. If you have any questions please call Ricky L. Otey (392-7324). Ricky Otey

Liz – What are we going to do over Spring Break? We'll have to be independent women. Oh well . . .

To the Karate Kids – Remember grasshoppers. Keep honorable eyes on honorable toes or they may get honorably smashed. Bonza!

Robin Hood – See you over Spring Break. Don't worry, everything will work out alright in the end. Love, Maid Marion.

Jis Jr. – Imagine – Paulina and Bruce the couple from hell. Jism

Robert T. – I don't believe what is going on! ! SVT.

Happy Birthday Kirsten (March 4) – The big 20, you're no longer a teenager! Cheryl-Renée

Andy and Elby – Gosh! I just wanted to thank you for helping me out with Joline. I think it's safe to say that Sam Dyko is out of the way. Now if we could only figure out the rest of the Scammin' phaulc experts! Luv, "Dwaine"

Crazy Chinese Girlfriends: You guys are great. I don't know what I'd do without you guys to goof off with. Have fun over spring break. Love Enelle

Rebecca Hudnall – Enjoy spending time with you. Let's go out during spring break and do the wild thing. The Iceman

Beck B – Thinking about you and still wanting to take you out. J.T.

Pregnant? We Care. Free Professional Pregnancy Counseling. Explore all your options. Help with medical expenses. You may help choose your baby's adoptive parents. Children's Home Society. Call Toll Free 1-800-247-2888.

G.S.B., Jr. – 45 minutes is not a long time. Beware the IDES OF MARCH. K.A.L.

D.L.F. – You are right about Skippy, May you reach Stage 1 with Drippy or 3, or • • • KAL

R.A.D. – You're so warm and fuzzy. Not to mention kind and wonderful. K.A.L.

The Cunninghams Greatest Lecture Series presents: Dry Land Ski School by: Dave Rettig, Tuesday, February 28, 1989, 7:00 p.m. roof of South Cunningham.

Natalie, You are a great kid! We love you lots and we'll miss you over Spring Break! Be good and come back to 'ole LC ready to party with your moms! Alpha Gam love and especially ours, Your Moms

To All Cathy G. Say S Hi!

"Sweetness" – I'm glad it's not a secret anymore. Honesty is the best policy, always. Your Teddy Bear.

Joe McGill & Ken Rockensres, Thanks for saying 'Yes'! S.A.I.L.

NCSU, They're still in first place, but Chris is (and always will be) a pest. GT

French 222 – Thanks for the meal! French 324

Jeffries – Don't party too hard! Bo

Steph, Thanks for being such a great roomie. Pooch

Pooch and Lightning – Buzz, Buzz, Buzz – I guess TECH stung the Wahoos once again. Guess WHO!

Beth – Your are such a sweetheart! Watch out for those snowy weekends. Honey

Squash – Ray Racquet is my hero! Can we play the game? Pooter

A black Pentax 35 mm automatic camera was taken at Senior Ball last Saturday. There is a $25 reward for its return no questions asked. Return to box 1153. Thank you.

The Longwood College Chapter of Amnesty International would like to invite everyone to its first interest meeting: Tuesday, Feb. 28, 9:30 p.m. in the Gold Room. Write a letter... Save A Life!

Attention all Students, — Come by and vote! Who has the best eyes? Contest runs from Feb. 21-March 3. — Council for Exceptional Children

Racquetball Workshop, Tues., Feb. 28th 7-9 p.m., sign up at LC Courts.

Come learn how to play racquetball or just pick up a few strategies. Excellent opportunity to try out our new courts. Come dress ready to participate. Hope to see you there!

At Senior Ball Saturday night a black Pentax 35 mm automatic camera was taken. There is a reward for its return, no questions asked. Send to: Box 1153. — Patrice Widener

Longwood — Want some chicken? — Frank

Hey Big Daddio — You're Wonderful! Did you know that seven is a lucky number? Let's celebrate and do some chillin' on that awesome patio! Tonight could be the night! Love, — The Nocturnal Snack

To Professor Yancey – Got any good personals lately? A 2:30 student

To Karen – You are the Best Big Sister! Thanks for everything. I love you! From Janet

TO A. – I don't think we need the penny anymore! What do you think? From J.

New Tri-Sigma initiates – Congratulations to the newest initiated Sisters of Sigma Sigma Sigma!! You finally made it and we are all very proud and excited that our sisterhood has grown to include all of you. We love each and everyone of you and you all will have a special place in our hearts. Always remember your initiation and all that it will always mean. The Sisters of ΣΣΣ

To René – Thank you for all your time, help and caring. You are a wonderful Big Brother and I am very lucky. Love, Kathy

To Donna and Lynn: Thank GOD you're back! Love Kathy

A&C – Seeing you two together does my heart glad. Kal

C.T.K. and K.P. – I hope you will be feeling better soon. If you need anything, just ask. K.A.L.

1985 Ford Escort for sale, low miles/price. Like new. Call for details 392-7955.

COUPON

FREE! FREE! FREE! FREE! FREE!

With The Purchase Of Ball Gown Or Wedding Gown!

—FREE SHOES—

Caryn's Bridals

MAIN STREET, FARMVILLE, VA. — PHONE 392-5111

COUPON EXPIRES MARCH 1, 1989

COUPON

SPORTS

Lancers Win 20th Game Over Spartans

Longwood reached the 20-victory mark for the first time since the 1979-80 season Saturday night as junior Dale Shavers scored nine of his 21 points in overtime leading the Lancer basketball team to an 86-80 victory over visiting UNC Greensboro.

Coach Cal Luther's squad ended the regular season with a 20-7 mark, the second best record ever for a Lancer team. The 1979-80 squad had the best record at 28-3. Ironically, many of the players from that team were on hand Saturday night for a preliminary alumni contest.

Both the visiting Spartans and Longwood owned big leads during the game. UNCG was up by nine early (16-7) and the Lancers led 57-47 with 13.55 remaining. A 22-10 Longwood surge, led by Kevin Jefferson's 11 points and two dunks, had enabled the Lancers to wipe out a 37-35 halftime deficit.

The Spartans came right back behind Marvin Dawson (27 points) and Steve Hunter (24 points). UNCG led at 70-68 with 2:08 remaining. Then Shavers hit a BIG 3-pointer at 1:38 and senior guard Bobby Dobson got a bucket at 1:08 for a 73-70 Lancer lead. A 3-pointer by Greensboro's Tony Green tied the game at 73-73. Neither team could score in the final 40 seconds. LC's Doug Poppe missed with nine ticks left on the clock. Dawson and Hunter had chances for the Spartans just before the buzzer, but also missed.

Shavers converted a follow-shot and a layup and senior Darryl Rutley scored on a stick-back to give the Lancers a 79-73 edge with 3:22 left in overtime. The Spartans never got closer as Shavers put in five more points in OT for an 84-75 edge.

Shavers, who finished with 21 points, hit two of five attempts from 3-point range and 7 of 9 free throws. All five Longwood starters reached double figures, led by Jefferson's 24 points. Dobson had one of his best offensive games ever with a career high 16 points (7-8 field goals), 7 assists and 7 steals.

Rutley added 10 points and nine rebounds and Poppe had 13 points and seven boards, despite being hampered by a sore ankle.

"I'm ecstatic that we were able to pull that one out," said Lancer coach Cal Luther. "I have a lot of respect for UNCG. It was great for our seniors to go out on a winning note and it was good to get 20 wins. One of our preseason goals was to win 20 games. Though we didn't achieve all our goals, (a bid to the NCAA Tournament is probably out of reach), we still had an outstanding season.

"We have the nucleus for another strong team next season, but we will miss the four seniors (Robert Pierce and Spencer Smith are seniors in addition to Rutley and Dobson) who played their final game Saturday night. We need to do an outstanding job in recruiting to replace the players we're losing."

Dobson ended the season with a record 109 steals and 136 assists (5 assists and 4 steals per game. He also holds the mark for steals in a game (9). Rutley finished his 3-year career with 1,230 points, fourth highest total in Longwood history.

With Jefferson (1,141 points), Poppe (802 points) and Shavers (806 points) coming back, Longwood could have three 1,000 point scorers on next year's squad.

Longwood Player of the Week Natalie Taylor

NATALIE TAYLOR

Sophomore Natalie Taylor had her top performance of the season for the Longwood gymnasts Saturday, and for her effort, Natalie has been named Longwood College Player of the Week for the period February 19-26. Player of the Week is chosen by the Longwood Sports Information Office.

Taylor, greatly improved this season, put it all together Saturday with an all-around score of 34.30. She led Longwood in the meet and placed third in overall competition.

"She was our best performer all-around," Budd said. "Her bars routine was her best of the season." Impressive showings in vaulting (8.95, tied for first) and floor exercise (9.05, finished second) also highlighted the match for Taylor.

A graduate of Cox High and a physical education major, Taylor was the team's high scorer in floor and vaulting last season. Her 9.20 on floor last season is tied for second best in Longwood history. In addition, she came in fifth in the state meet on floor.

Wrestlers Head To NCAA Tournament

While the majority of Longwood's student body will be heading south this weekend for Spring Break in Florida, sophomores Ted Proctor and Tim Mason will be traveling north to California, Pennsylvania for the NCAA Division II Wrestling Championships.

Proctor, 23-7 at 150 pounds, and Mason, 23-8 at 167 pounds, will be two of approximately 180 grapplers taking part in the national tournament. There will be anywhere between 14 to 18 participants in each weight class and each individual will be competing for a national title in his class.

Proctor and Mason have been practicing diligently under the watchful eye of Lancer coach Steve Nelson to get ready for the tournament, since finishing second in the Southeast Regional Tournament. While Proctor has been slowed by a bout with the flu, Mason appears to be rounding into top form as the Thursday trip to California, PA approaches.

"Ted's illness has hampered his training, but I'm hopeful he'll be ready by this weekend," said Nelson. "He has the potential to place in the top five, if he's fit. Tim is looking good, but he'll be facing opponents who are probably more experienced.

"The thing about the nationals is that it's tough to do well on your first trip. You have to be able to adjust to the different styles and techniques of wrestlers from other parts of the country. Most competitors seem to do better on their second trip to the tournament."

Previous Lancers who went to nationals were 118-pounder Tim Fitzgerald who placed in the top 10 in 1984, and 134-pounder John Stukes who failed to place last year.

Nelson and his two standouts will leave Thursday for Pennsylvania. Weigh-ins are slated Friday with the competition scheduled for Saturday and Sunday.

Longwood got all the runs it needed in the first inning when junior Scott Maciejewski homered. Greylin Rice scored the other run in the second. Rice and Chris Cherry got his and Scott Abell was hit by a pitch to load the bases. Rice came home on a wild pitch.

Pembroke State, now 3-1, got a three-hit pitching performance from Baxley to spoil Longwood's season opener Sunday. Senior Steve Gedro and E.J. Bryant pitched well for Longwood, allowing just six hits, but the Braves bunched four hits in the fourth inning to take the victory.

Longwood was hampered by the absence of sophomore first baseman Mark Moeller, who did not make the trip because of an injury. Coach Buddy Bolding hopes to have Moeller back for this week's trip to South Carolina for games with Morris, The Citadel and Francis Marion.

Gymnasts Hold Their Own Against JMU

By JIM LONG

Sophomore gymnast Natalie Taylor had a strong showing Saturday at James Madison University, but it was not enough as Longwood (1-14) bowed to the Dukes by a score of 177.80 to 162.45.

Head coach Ruth Budd, however, was not displeased by her team's performance.

"It really wasn't that bad of a meet for us, especially considering Terri (Dore) was out," she said. Dore has been troubled by chronic bone chips in her elbow.

Taylor, who has shown great improvement this season, put it all together Saturday. Taylor's 34.30 led the team and put her third in overall competition.

"She was our best performer all-around," Budd said. "Her bars routine was her best of the season." Impressive peformance in vault (8.95, tied for first) and floor exercise (9.05, finished second) also highlighted the match for Taylor.

Freshman Angie Sullivan finished fourth overall with a score of 33.30. Despite her nagging foot injuries, Sullivan had a good meet.

Budd commented, "Angie had one fall in her beam routine and still finished with an 8.50. She looked a lot more confident and a lot less wobbly."

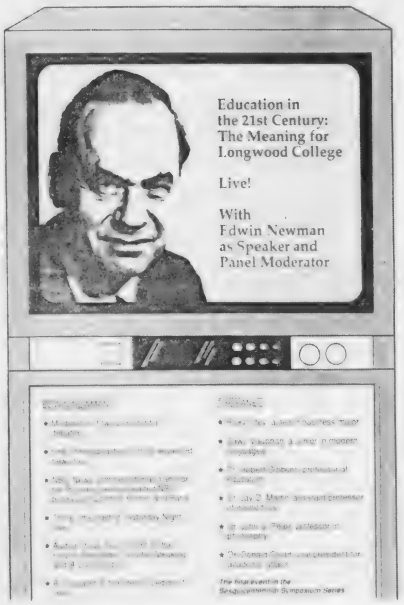
Dore was able to compete in the match on the balance beam. Her effors on that apparatus helped Longwood to break the 160 point mark that eluded the team earlier at the Towson Invitational. Dore's presence could be very important if the Lancers are to qualify for the USGF Division II Regional competition coming up March 18.

1839

The Rotunda

LONGWOOD COLLEGE

1989



"Catching Sight of Longwood from atop the Sesquicentennial Mount"

VOL. NO. 68 NO. 17 | MARCH 14, 1989 | FARMVILLE, VA.

★★ A LONGWOOD SESQUICENTENNIAL EVENT ★★

Prominent TV Journalist Will Speak at Longwood March 15

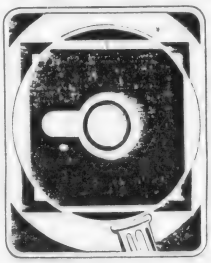
Jarman Auditorium, 8:00 p.m.

Virus Continues To Infect Computers

Macintosh Use Will Be Limited

By MATT PETERMAN

Last year at this time, there was little reason for Longwood students using the Macintosh computers to be worried about computer viruses and their potentially harmful effects. Students were merely concerned with proper operation of the system.



Now, however, that has changed dramatically, and computer users need to be careful to take the necessary precautions not only to protect themselves but all other users from the computer virus plaguing the system.

A computer virus is simply lines of hidden code within software that cause "out-of-memory" messages, printing problems, system failures, and application malfunctions.

The source of the Longwood virus is speculated to have come from an infected game disk which was not supposed to played on the lab hardware. "I would like to think the [virus] was not [introduced into the system] intentionally," says John Clark, Coordinator of Computing Services.

The virus evidently looks for uninfected programs, attaches itself to them and if untreated will make the software useless and eventually attack the hard disk.

The greatest harm can be caused by the infection of other diskettes from a tainted computer and thus contributing to a cycle that could come back and be re-introduced into the system after it has been cleared.

This is where much of the problem of the Longwood virus lies. It appears that so many students now have the virus on their diskettes that "there is a repeated infecting of the virus daily," says John Clark. "To get the computers in condition for daily use, requires a great deal of time each day."

This is because freeing the computer of the virus involves reformatting the hard disk which can take up to 45 minutes for each computer.

According to John Clark in a memo sent around two weeks ago: "To help tone down the problem, we are in the process of networking all of the Macintosh computers to a central host Mac. This will allow for better control of computer usage by the Stu-

(Continued on Page 3)

Sesquicentennial Year Will End With Commencement May 6th

By J. R. REEVES

The Sesquicentennial year will come to an end on Saturday May 6th. This is when Longwood's commencement exercises will be held. It will begin at 9:00 a.m. on Wheeler Mall.

The speaker at commencement will be Tom Wolfe, author of the novels, The Right Stuff, and more recently, Bonfire of the Vanities. He was the recipient of Longwood's prestigious Dos Passos Prize for Literature 4 years ago.

According to a recent memo sent to all degree candidates, those graduating will be required to assemble in the Hiner building one hour before the commencement begins.

In case of rain the ceremony will be moved into Lancer Hall with audience seating on a first come first serve basis. Rain during the ceremony will cancel the event with graduates picking up their degrees in Lancer Hall.

After Commencement, each of the three schools will host a reception for the graduates, their families, and their guests.

Approximately 435 students will be graduating this year, each of which will receive their actual degree instead of a piece of blank paper, which is traditionally used to speed up the ceremony.

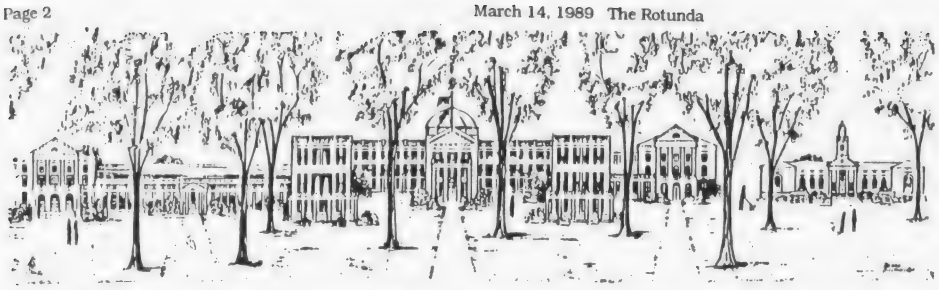
According to the circulating memo, "all degree candidates must wear appropriate attire for the Commencement ceremony, including cap, gown, hood, and dark shoes. ATTIRE MAY BE ORDERED UNTIL MARCH 24, 1989. Hoods, caps, gowns, which students have ordered, may be picked up at the College Bookstore at any time during regular hours (8 a.m.-5 p.m.) on Monday, May 1 through Friday, May 5. (The bookstore will be open from 8 a.m.-9 a.m. on Saturday, May 6). Questions concerning Commencement attire should be

(Continued on Page 3)

Student Activity Fee Applications Due Next Week

Each semester students pay a student activity fee with their tuition. Often times the question is raised where does this money go. One of the places is in the student activity fees fund, which is allocated by your SGA to organizations on campus which open membership to all Longwood students.

The process to attain student activity fees has begun. A member of your club/organization can pick-up an application at the Information Center in Lankford. Applications are asked to be turned in by March 24 at 5 p.m. and someone from the organization will be asked to orally present the application to the Student Activity Fees Committee. This committee is organized through SGA.



If you think your club is eligible to receive student activity fees please stop by Lankford and pick-up an application. These fees are here for student use, and the more applicants submitted means the more students served which is the purpose of SGA.

SGA President Drew Hudson claims, "Student Activity Fees are an ideal opportunity for organizations to defray their costs. If anyone has any questions about student activity fees stop by your SGA's meeting on Thursdays at 6:30 in Conference Room II of

(Continued on Page 3)

Contents

Editorial Page..... 2
News..... 3
The Birth of a Plaza..... 4, 5
Features..... 6, 7
Sports..... 8

A Letter On Budgetary Matters Addressed To Senator Chuck Robb

Dear Senator Robb:

I have become increasingly concerned over the repercussions of our large natinal deficit and what seems to be a helplessness of the U.S. Congress and the President to do anything about it. In the following paragraphs I have posed some questions that I am seeking your position on. These are issues that trouble me greatly and I would like to know if anything is being done about them.

Why is it we continue to pay for the defenses of nations like Japan, when they have more than the means to pay for it themselves? Japan had a $52 billion trade surplus with the United States last year and yet we spend billions to defend her. This is the same $52 billion that they turn around and buy Treasury Bills to finance the deficit that they indirectly help create.

Please know that I am not blind to the treaties and the repercussions of Japan defending herself, but instead favor continuing what we are doing now, with the Japan paying for all the expenses that are incurred to defend her. This could be true for many of our allies.

Why is it that we continue to have Social Security included in the budget? This only masks the true size of the deficit. President Lyndon Johnson had his reasons in the 1960's for doing this, but I think we have better reasons to stop doing this — don't you?

Why can't a bill be introduced to reform the accounting practices of the government? Everyone has their own figure of how much the deficit is, which usually depends on what they want it to be at a given time — that's great. The federal government has an accounting system whose standards and practices are not consistent government-wide resulting in information and reports that are not reliable or compatible. No one person is charged with the responsibility of overall governmental fiscal and financial affairs, and no independent auditor exists who reports directly to the White House, Congress, and the taxpayers. With a system of this kind it is no wonder that no one can agree on the true size of the deficit. This is not good for the United States and the trust of its stockholders that consist of the taxpayers and sadly enough our mortgage company, Japan.

Will The United States ever pull out of this mess? Is this deficit problem the beginning of the end for a once great nation? Are we headed the same way as third world countries like those in South and Central America where debt payments consume over 50% of their budgets, leaving their starving citizens asking: how could this have happened?

Any response to these above questions would be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely yours,
Matt Peterman

Editor's Note — This same letter was also sent to Virginia's other Senator, John Warner, but no response has been received yet.

His Response To The Letter

Dear Matt:

Thank you for your recent letter regarding the federal budget deficit.

As you know, concern over the budget deficit was one of the primary reasons I sought election to the Senate last fall. I am pleased to be a new member of the Budget Committee, and I intend to be very much involved in the critical debate we face. Your comments will be extremely helpful to me as we get down to work.

The Committee began its hearings on budget issues on January 17. As we attempt to provide budget guidelines that meet the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings targets for FY 1990, we will have many critical decisions to make on how our government spends its money. The upcoming report of the National Economic Commission may provide some useful suggestions, but ultimately the deficit is the responsibility of the Administration and Congress.

Cutting the deficit will require difficult choices, including many that both the President and Congress have been reluctant to make during the past eight years. I firmly believe that America needs to live within its means, but to do that we need strong executive leadership and a Congress willing to consider a wide variety of options.

Some of the options I have talked about over the past few years include improving our procurement system, eliminating the costly and often unnecessary duplication in weapons systems that has resulted from interservice rivalry, and considering some form of means testing for non-annuity entitlement grant programs.

Finally, the Administration and Congress must recognize that if we don't cut spending sufficiently, we will have to take a look at the revenue side. I am not advocating a tax increase, but I believe we must consider all of the alternatives if we are going to succeed in reducing the deficit.

Again, many thanks for sharing your thoughts with me on this important matter.

Sincerely,
Charles S. Robb

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
Matt Peterman

Managing Editor
R. Bruce Gantt

Features Editor
Cheryl Jeffrey

Greek Affairs Editor
Chet Ahn

Photography Editor
Emily Howell

Sports Editor
Lindy Seymore

Business Manager
Tim Oliva

Advertising Managers
Steve Evans
Susan Miller

Layout Assistant
Monica Gilbert

Faculty Advisor
William C. Wood

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be typed or printed neatly, state the author's years, and major as applicable.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 392-7817.

NEWS

REVISED EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

THURSDAY, APRIL 27 READING DAY	Exams for Thursday night classes 7-10 p.m. and Conflict period
FRIDAY, APRIL 28	9-12: English 051, 100, 101 Conflicts 2-5: TR 8:30 7-10: TR 3:55
SATURDAY, APRIL 29	9-12: TR 11:20 2-5:TR 9:55 7-10: MWF 12:30
MONDAY, MAY 1	9-12: MWF 10:30 2-5: MWF 11:30 7-10: MWF 2:30 & Monday night classes
TUESDAY, MAY 2	9-12: MWF 9:30 2-5: MWF 8:30 7-10: MWF 3:30 & Tuesday night classes
WEDNESDAY, MAY 3	9-12: TR 2:30 2-5: MWF 1:30 7-10: MWF 4:30 & Wednesday night classes

Commence

(Continued from Page 1)

addressed to the Bookstore Manager, Dale Bolt. The bookstore telephone number is 392-9240."

Virus

(Continued from Page 1)

dent Assist that is on duty."

"Until the network is completed, there will be only four [of the nine] Macintosh computers available for student use. ..."

Graphic courtesy of The Office magazine, September 1988.

COUCH PIZZA

Limited Delivery Area

FOR HOT, FAST DELIVERY CALL

392-3253

Kappa Delta's To Raise Money For Prevention Of Child Abuse

By AMANDA MYLUM

It's that time again! Saturday, March 11 was proclaimed National Child Abuse Prevention Day in Recognition of a one-day, nationwide fund-raising effort by Kappa Delta Sorority. Longwood's chapter of Kappa Delta has designated March 18 as their day to raise money for their local and national philanthropies. The Patrick Henry Boys' Plantation in Brookneal, Virginia will be the local beneficiary of Kappa Delta's fund-raising efforts for the second year in a row. Their national philanthropy is the National Committee for Prevention of Child Abuse (NCPCA).

Members of Longwood-Alpha Chapter of Kappa Delta will sell donuts in Farmville and surrounding areas on March 18. In addition to selling donuts, the Kappa Deltas are placing canisters in some local stores in Farmville in hopes of collecting additional contributions. The canisters will be in the stores from February 28 through March 18. Longwood's chapter of Kappa Delta will be joined by thousands of Kappa Delta collegiate and alumnae members across the country in this worthy cause.

Eighty percent of the funds collected will be donated to The Patrick Henry Boys' Plantation. The remaining 20 percent will go to the NCPAC for nationwide public-awareness programs.

Kappa Delta Sorority began supporting the NCPCA in 1980, and began the annual, nationwide Shamrock Project in 1984. More than $410,000 has been contributed from the one-day fund raisers to support child abuse prevention efforts throughout the country.

Cheating on SAT's May Be Easy

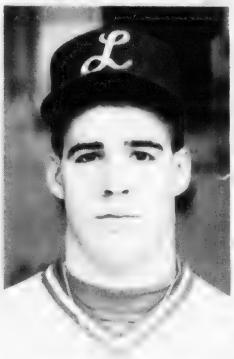
It's easy to get someone else to take a standardized test for you, a Harvard freshman says.

To prove it, freshman David Weller and Larry Schultz, his high school classmate, say they used fake names and phony physical descriptions to retake the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) a second time last June, even though the Educational Testing Service, which sponsors the test, says its security measures generally prevent such cheating.

"It shouldn't be so easy to walk into a test and conduct an impersonation," said Weller, who along with Schultz wrote an article about the experience for Penthouse magazine. "It's just so easy to do."

Weller and Schultz admitted their ruse to test monitors after they had been admitted to the test sites, saying they were just trying to "dramatize how easy it is to cheat" by paying someone else to take the exams for students.

"If somebody with enough advance planning wants to cheat, they can," replied ETS spokesman Thomas Ewing, who estimates ETS, which has about 22 investigators, cancels the scores of about 1,000 alleged cheaters each year.



Carlisle, Moeller Named Players Of The Week

Longwood pitcher Matt Carlisle and first baseman Mark Moeller have been named Longwood College Players of the Week for the periods February 26 through March 5, and March 5-12, respectively. Player of the Week is chosen by the Longwood Sports Information Office.

Carlisle, 2-0 for the season, turned in the finest performance of his career in a 4-1 win over The Citadel March 5. He limited the Division 1 Bulldogs to three hits. After being touched for a run in the first, he pitched shutout baseball the rest of the way. Carlisle walked five and struck out one.

MATT CARLISLE

MARK MOELLER

"Matt did an outstanding job," said Lancer coach Buddy Bolding. "Holding a strong Division 1 team like The Citadel to three hits is quite an accomplishment."

Carlisle, a graduate of Jefferson High School, was 3-3 last season for the Lancers, but pitched much better than his 7.15 earned run average would indicate. His top outing came in a 3-1 loss to NCAA Tournament qualifier Virginia Commonwealth.

SAF

(Continued from Page 1)

Lankford, or simply contact SGA's office at 392-9360. We hope we have a record number of applicants this year."

YOU QUALIFY FOR INSTANT CREDIT!

Start making credit purchases IMMEDIATELY! We will send you a Members Credit Card at once with NO CREDIT CHECK. Buy any Jewelry, Clothing, Sporting Goods, Watches, Electronics & MORE! All with installment payments out of our "Giant 100+ Pages Catalog." Take 12 months to repay. Your personal credit card is a second I.D. - valuable for check cashing, etc. plus your Students Credit Group A-1 reference will be on file to help you obtain other credit cards. So send in your $5 catalog deposit now. (refundable with your first order)

Establish your credit Today!
100% Satisfaction Guaranteed (or your Money Back)

Name _____
Address _____ City _____
State _____ Zip _____

MEMBERS Students CREDIT GROUP
P.O. BOX 4649
FORT LAUDERDALE, FLORIDA 33338

The Birth

February 21, 1988. The plaza as Longwood knew it approximately one year ago. Though the sign says "Future Site of Blackwell Plaza," the name Blackwell has since been rejected and to this day the plaza has no name.

As The Project Began April 28, 1988

Farmville Mayor J. David Crute and two other local dignitaries participated recently in a groundbreaking ceremony for a campus beautification project at Longwood College.

The April 28 ceremony kicked off the so-called "Mall Project," which will enhance an area just outside the dining hall and behind Grainger and West Ruffner halls. The student-initiated project is in conjunction with the college's 150th anniversary, which will begin in the fall.

Plans include two fountains, a kiosk, brick paths, landscaping, lighting, benches, a two-foot-high wall, and possibly a gazebo, depending on funding. The Board of Visitors has approved $200,000 for the project and an architectural and engineering firm has been hired.

In addition to Crute, Hunter R. Watson of Farmville, Dr. Wyndham B. Blanton Jr. of Cumberland County, and Longwood President George R. Healy scooped the first shovelfuls of dirt at the groundbreaking ceremony. Watson, an insurance executive, and Dr. Blanton, a retired physician, are members of the Longwood Board of Visitors.

During the ceremony, 150 helium-filled balloons — signifying the college's upcoming 150th anniversary — were released into the air.

The Campus Beautification/Student Involvement subcommittee, one of several subcommittes planning events for Longwood's Sesquicentennial in 1989, had considered several areas of campus for sprucing up. After choosing this area, the proposal was taken to the Sesquicentennial steering committee, which approved it.

Also in connection with the Sesquicentennial, a time capsule will be buried on the site this fall. It will be opened in 50 years, at Longwood's 200th birthday.

Photo by Kent Beaty

April 28, 1988. The groundbreaking ceremony. From left are former President Dr. Geroge Healy; Hunter Watson, a member of the Board of Visitors; Farmville Mayor J. David Crute; and Dr. Wyndham Blanton, Jr., another member of the Board of Viristors.

Photo by Bruce Gantt

August 23, 1988. Construction begins on the new plaza after bulldozers razed the old one.

September 3, 1988. Plaza begins to take shape with the sketchy outline of the fountain.

September 3, 1988. A different angle.

of a Plaza

October 5, 1988. The wood structure that would hold the cement that would become the fountain is firmly in place.

Photo by Bruce Gantt

October 10, 1988. Students can be seen passing by the first rumblings of a brick structure. For the first time students could walk on the freshly laid stone walk.

October 15, 1988. President Dorrill dedicates the plaza to Longwood at Oktoberfest.

November 11, 1988. The plaza begins to take real definition.

January 20, 1989. A big difference could be seen when students came back after winter break. With the fountain recently installed, completion grew closer.

Photo by Bruce Gantt

February 21, 1989. The way it looks today.

FEATURES

Personals

Brian Brown – I'm still watching you. Didn't see you in the play. Hope you'll do the next one. Love you – A secret admirer.

R.S.B. – I've been watching you forever. You know who. Respond if interested.

Chris A – Only 2 1/2 months left. We know you will rise to the occasion.

Lil' Sis Mich – Good luck with the boy. And remember if you need me just call – You know where I am. Lovage Big Sis Sue

Lisa Lisa and the Cult Jam – You're missed majorly. Your drinking buddy.

Sue – Don't get lost on a walkabout. Lovage

Hi House!

T³ Smith – Love your bulletin board. Lovage

Flicto is Retaded!

Hi Just Jimmy

Brian – Congrats. We knew you could do it. Lovage

Eli – Good job on the play. Keep up the good work. Lovage

Hi Dennis – Lovage

Ren – Keep smiling! We lovage you. Try the chicken – we can't figure it out. Lovage

To all of the students of Billy Batts – B10 101-01– Remember all of your organs.

Jennifer W. – We love you! Σ love– Your Pledge Sisters.

Lar – Can we watch 'Another World' tomorrow? Lovage

Amy C. – We missage you. Hope you had a good break. Come see us. Lovage

CHI – Thanks for the Spirit!

To all you cute Guys and Gals – Look on page 3 of The Rotunda to see what groovy things will be happening on April 27 – FUN, FUN! !

Dwaine: Sorry about your toilet! Hola! Como esta! No Sam Dyko for me – how 'bout you? I no like Dyko! I like Alpha Sig. No scammin' phavic experts, not anymore! My bear has changed names from F. to D. Murphy. You funny Chinese girlfriend. The Top Gun fanatic! Love Elby.

Andy: You better not break my typewriter. You miss me off. Hey, how about the library tonight? Top floor – no fluorescent colors in my clothes! Can I borrow a quarter? Please don't blow anymore sunshine my way. Why you no visit my house with me no more? Turp misses you. I hope the Ranhorn write or visit soon! Love, Elby.

K.W. & T.A. – You guys are a laugh a minute. Thanx for keeping my chin up. I love you guys! K.O.

Mo – Thanx for being such a great date! Eat drink and be Irish! Love you lots – K.O.

Rm. 222 – You guys are party animals! Thanx for letting me join the zoo. Us French girls know how to do it right. Love you lots – K.O.

To the motelmen– Hi! We love you guys! Let's all get together and party sometime soon! ! Love, K.W. T.A. & K.O.

RAT – So, what's new? Have you figured it out yet? I'm still here. A Secret Admirer.

Sam Members — We have a meeting tonight in Hiner 105. — V. P. Promotion

Steph – How's 1, 2 and 3? Is there a #4 yet? I do hope you had a splendid spring break. Pooch

Scammin' phavic experts – You really are not experts. We'll set you straight! I wonder how your parties are going. We might not miss you, but who knows how we'll seek our revenge? So be on the lookout for dongos. I think you have one! Maybe! STOP STARING! Love & hate!

Tracy & Suzanne – You got da wong number! Luv, Lulu

Many thanks to our three judges: — Kristen Smith, Rich Venere and Michael Phillips for judging Lip Sync contest at Lancer Cafe. Panhellenic Council

The Cunningham — Greatest Lecture Series will be presenting "Humor in American Society" with John Peale. Tuesday, March 14, 6 p.m.-7 p.m. fourth floor roof of South Cunningham.

Tim — How's that great car of yours. — Fellow Pontiac Driver

Rotunda Staff — Meeting tonight.

WLCX 90.1 FM 392-9380 "The Voice of Longwood"

	SUNDAY	MONDAY		WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY	SATURDAY
4-6 PM	Vintage (Jim Wood) Insanely Inane World Of Rev. Jim	Progressive + (Julie Smith) Jules & The Mix	Noogie Music (Amy & Laura) Almost Illegal	Reggae (John Drum) Reggae Buffet	Nuggy Music (Amy & Laura) Almost Illegal		Progressive (Paul Petty Tom Cruise & The Seoul Man
6-8 PM	Psychadelia (Jake & Kevin Psychadelic Solutions	Classic Rock R&S's Freedom Rock	Progressive (Christine Mann) Progressive Ditties	Jazz (harron Fells Herb's Cool Jazz W. Mellow Xtras	Progressive (Eric & Dina We're 3rd Floor	Reggae (Nicole Lanningham)	Various (Harry Vogel) Cheap Vacation
8-10 PM	Various (Harry Vogel) Cheap Vacation	Progressive (Scott Flood) Yes No Maybe	Progressive (Paul Petty) Tom Cruise & The Seoul Man	Rock & Rush (Dennis Morley)	Progressive (Scott McIntyre	Rock & Roll (Andy Wheeler) Rock Block Hour	Various (Matt Fletcher) Songs Matt Likes
10-12 PM	Various (Joe Harper Songs To Learn And Sing	Different (Dan Stone) Wig Out With Dan	Reggae & Progress (Hugh & Charles) Enough Said	Schizophrenic (Nicole & Jen) We're Not Blonde	Progressive (Gilligan No Edie Brickell	Pop & Rock (Jeff Cee Whatever	60's & 70's Rock (Janice Johnson) Groovy Disposition
12-2 AM		Give Us A Listen				Pop & Rock (Jeff Cee Whatever	Rock & Roll (Andy Wheeler) Rock Block Hour

Tim Oliva —— Thursday is the big day! Happy 22nd birthday from — Matt, Bill, Steve, Ron, Rog, Susan, Cindy, Tammy, Tom, Beth, Bruce, Cheryl, Chet, Emily, Lindy, and Monica.

Sharon Kay — Happy 21st birthday! Party hard. I know you will (and probably already are). Jon sends his best wishes. Have a Blue Motorcycle or a Baltimore Zoo. — Kim

Vonda — Happy 20th birthday! Hope you had a great day. Keep the loud partying down to a minimum. Keep smiling. — Kim

Rog, — another game of chess? — You know who

Crissie — These have been the best 20 months of my life. I don't know what I'd do without you. Can't wait to see you April 1st. I love you very much. — Ethan

Sarah — Happy 20th birthday! Someday we'll find that island (maybe through our pl. work). Keep dreaming and I hope your best dreams come true. — Kim

WANTED: — Volunteers for the Weyanoke Inn Retirement Home. Anytime — especially weekends. All welcome! 392-4161.

3rd Floor French – I have my prey in my sights and I shall soon move in for the kill. It has been a long hunt and the prey is very elusive. The Great White Booty Hunter.

CEDAR BROOK RESTAURANT, INC.

½ MILE EAST OF FARMVILLE
ON RT. 460, PHONE 392-4589

ANYTHING FROM SANDWICHES TO FULL COURSE MEALS

OPEN 11 AM - 9 PM, 7 DAYS A WEEK!

Perini's ITALIAN RESTAURANT

- Pizzas
- Pasta
- Salads
- Pork B-B-Q
- Daily Lunch Specials
- Sandwiches
- Tacos
- Stuffed Potatoes
- Ice Cream
- ABC-On

HIGH STREET, FARMVILLE, VA.
PHONE 392-5865

NEED CASH? WE DELIVER

Domino's Pizza, the world's largest pizza delivery company, is now hiring delivery drivers. If you are 16 years old, have a valid driver's license, automobile insurance, a good driving record, and access to a car, you can:

- Make an average of $7-$10 an hour.
- Enjoy the freedom of being on the road.
- Work flexible hours.
- Be part of the excitement of the world's fastest-growing pizza delivery company.

To apply, stop in your local Domino's Pizza store today or call 392-1820.

©1988 Domino's Pizza, Inc.

Catch the Spirit

FEATURES

Blithe Spirit Comes March 22

Barter Theatre's Comin' to Town

COMEDY AT Jarman Auditorium on Wed., March 22, 1989.

The enchanting comedy, Blithe Spirit, will be performed by the Barter Theatre in Farmville at 8:00 p.m. on March 22, 1989 at Jarman Auditorium.

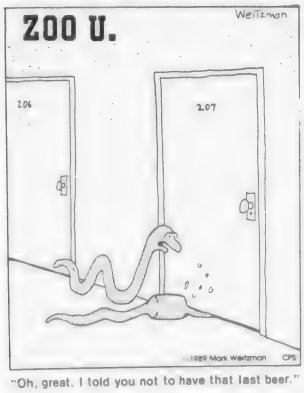
"Delightful ... a smash hit on the stages of London and Broadway ... a play that is rich with language, action, and humor," are among the phrases that Rex Partington, Barter's Artistic Director and Producer, uses to describe Blithe Spirit, on tour in the southeast this March and April.

At the local performance of Blithe Spirit, the audience will meet Charles and Ruth Condomine as they gather with friends for a seance conducted by the mysterious Madame Arcati. While Charles, an author, planned the event to "learn the language" of mediums for a novel he is researching, the seance accidently brings back the spirit of his first wife Elvira. A mischief-loving pixie in life (and after life!), the high-spirited Elvira haunts the Condomine home and stirs up trouble for every member of the household.

The professional performance by the Barter Players, and Coward's rich language, combine with twists in the spirit's ghostly plot to keep the audience laughing, and wondering what will happen next, until the final moments of the play.

"In theater language, Blithe Spirit is a farce," said Partington. "In this type of light comedy, we meet real characters in unreal situations."

The comedy takes on special meaning, Partington noted, because it was written by Noel Coward as a tribute to his fellow countrymen for their heroism during the attacks on Great Britain during World War II.



"They were so heroic that Coward wanted to honor them. He wrote this light and entertaining play as a reward for their courage," said Partington. "Blithe Spirit was special for him and for audiences who made it a smash hit, in London, on Broadway, and in the motion picture that starred Rex Harrison."

Partington is also impressed by the very title of the play. "The term 'blithe' has a double meaning: it can mean 'joyous or gay' and it can mean 'heedless and without regard for others.' Coward's command of language is so complete that both of these meanings apply to Elvira, the unforgettable blithe spirit of the play," he said.

Partington promises that the performance of the Barter actors — all professionals with outstanding stage, screen, and television credits — will be matched by the finest in costumes, scenic design, and special effects that have been part of the Theatre's 57-year tradition of quality.

The local production of Blithe Spirit is sponsored by Longwood Series of the Performing Arts. For ticket information contact Student Union Office at 392-9347 or Lankford Building.

Students free with I.D.

"Oh, great. I told you not to have that last beer."

"42nd Street" Is Coming To Longwood!

"42nd Street," the second-longest-running musical in Broadway history, is coming to Longwood College for two performances on Saturday, April 15. Prominent reviewers describe the show as "the most lavish Broadway production in 40 years," "a musical made in heaven," and "simply sensational."

Direct from New York City, the musical comedy will be presented at 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. on April 15 in Jarman Auditorium. As a special Sesquicentennial event at Longwood, it is being offered at greatly reduced prices as a service to the College and the community, according to H. Donald Winkler, Sesquicentennial chairman. Matinee tickets are $5.00; evening tickets, $8.00. All seats are reserved. The cost for Longwood students is $2.00 for either performance.

Tickets will go on sale March 1 at the Information Center on the main floor of the Lankford Student Union. The Center is open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday through Friday. Since the show comes on Founders Day Weekend at Longwood, anyone wanting tickets is advised to obtain them early.

"42nd Street" won the 1981 Tony Award for best musical. Its director and choreographer, Gower Champion, won a posthumous Tony for choreography. The show, created by producer David Merrick, ran eight years on Broadway and closed last month after 3,486 performances.

The touring show that will come to Longwood is under the auspices of Jerry Kravat Entertainment. The company is well known for its high-quality productions at the Kennedy Center and other major theatres, as well as for its national touring shows.

Paul A. Striffolino, cultural chairman for Longwood's Sesquicentennial, says the musical extravaganza "is the biggest and most elaborate show ever brought to Longwood." With mammoth sets and countless costumes, the tour requires three trucks, including a 45-foot tractor-trailer truck.

Recent reviews of the touring show described it as "a dazzling Broadway eyeful" with "a most attractive cast providing standout performances and the look and sound of the Broadway stage." One reviewer said: "It was wonderful to hear a totally professional cast and orchestra and see sets full of color and spirit as good as anything on Broadway and be able to be in the car a few minutes later, humming all the way home without traffic to contend with."

"42nd Street" is adapted from the successful 1933 movie of the same name, the one in which the stage director tells the ingenue, "You're going out there a youngster, but you've go to come back a star." It begins with the classic backstage story about the hard-nosed director trying to make a comeback and the innocent chorus girl who saves the show when the leading lady can't go on.

It builds on such songs as "We're in the Money," "Lullaby of Broadway," "Dames," "About a Quarter to Nine," "Shuffle Off to Buffalo" and "42nd Street." Throughout, "it bounces with breath-taking energy, the beat of dancing feet, and dazzling production numbers," according to Mr. Striffolino. He added: "If you like glitter and glamour, sequins and top hats, and exciting songs and dances, you'll love '42nd Street.'"

THE BROADWAY BLOCK-BUSTER IS HERE!!

COME ON ALONG AND LISTEN TO...THE LULLABY OF BROADWAY!

— FREE —
PREGNANCY TEST

All services confidential.
Same day results.

116 N. MAIN STREET
SOUTHSIDE PREGNANCY CENTER

24-HOUR HOTLINE
392-8483

RJ's.
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA
392-3392

VALUABLE COUPON · CLIP and SAVE

RJ's
Southgate Shopping Center
THIS COUPON IS WORTH
25% OFF
THE PRICE OF ANY ITEM NUMBERED 1 THRU 28 NOW THROUGH MARCH 31, 1989

SPORTS

Riders Finish Third In Show

By ERICA S. FLOUNT

The Longwood riding team journeyed to Sweet Briar College to compete in its most recent show in Amherst February 25. The Lancer riders finished a strong third out of ten teams at the competition, and were two points from Reserve High Point College.

The riders are preparing for two more shows before regionals, which are to be held on April 16 at Randolph-Macon Woman's College.

At Sweet Briar, the Lancers were led by the duo of Julie Miller and Katherine Smith who brought home first place honors. Miller, who placed first in intermediate Fences, also took fourth in Novice Flat. Smith came home with first place in Advanced Walk-Trot-Canter.

Other Lancer riders who finished in high standings were Jennifer Smith, placing third and fifth in Open Fences and Open Flat, respectively. Carey Seitz finished third in Novice Flat, and Crystal Mitchell took third place in Novice Flat, and fifth in the Novices Fences. Kandi Klotz placed fourth in Novice Flat. The fourth place in Advanced Walk-Trot was occupied by Paulette Walsted.

Stephanie Handley and Susan Conrad also competed, but did not place.

Gymnasts To Compete

For the 10th consecutive year, Longwood's gymnastics team will be competing in a post-season competition. Coach Ruth Budd's squad will take part in the United States Gymnastics Federation Southeast Regional Meet Saturday at 7:00 in Indiana, Pennsylvania.

Host Indiana of Pennsylvania, the defending USGF Division II National Champ, leads a field of seven teams that qualified for the regional event. Other qualifiers are Georgia College, Trenton State, East Stroudsburg, West Chester, Navy and Longwood. The Lancer gymnasts, while seeded seventh, have been competitive with several of the other teams in the tournament.

Softball, Lacrosse Teams Open Play This Week

Longwood's women's softball and lacrosse teams will open play this week as the spring sports season gets into full swing.

Coach Loretta Coughlin's softball squad, coming off a best-ever 21-5 campaign last season, opens play Wednesday at the Farmville Armory Field, hosting Eastern Mennonite at 2:30 for a double-header. With a number of veteran players back from last season, Longwood should be set for another solid year.

In lacrosse, coach Sue Finnie's squad will begin play at home, hosting Sweet Briar at 4:00 Friday and North Carolina State at 2:00 Saturday. The Lady Lancers took part in the William & Mary Invitational last weekend.

Defending National Champion Women Golfers Open Play

Longwood's women's golf team, 1987 and 1988 National Golf Coaches Association Division II champ, will open its 1989 spring season next Monday in the Peggy Kirk Bell Invitational at Timacuan Golf and Country club in Lark Mary, Florida.

Expected to compete for Longwood in Florida are number one Daphne Sole, number two Ami Schonauer, number three Ashley Warren, number four Angie Monro and either Sherry Evans or Kim Poirier at number five.

Thirteen mostly Division I teams will take part in the tournament.

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

START YOUR CLIMB
TO CAREER SUCCESS THIS SUMMER.

Apply now for six weeks of Army ROTC leadership training. With pay, without obligation.

You'll develop the discipline, confidence, and decisiveness it takes to succeed in any career. And you'll qualify to earn Army officer credentials while you're completing your college studies.

ARMY ROTC
TWO-YEAR PROGRAM

THE SMARTEST COLLEGE COURSE YOU CAN TAKE.

Interest Meeting 6:00 p.m. 15 March Contact CPT DeWitt 392-9259/9348

The Rotunda

1839 — LONGWOOD COLLEGE — 1989

"Catching Sight of Longwood from atop the Sesquicentennial Mount"

VOL. NO. 68 NO. 18 | MARCH 21, 1989 | FARMVILLE, VA.

Doing Business in Europe: 1992 Holds Promise For U.S.

Kristin Knauth
News USA

By the end of 1992, there will be a true "common market" in Europe. That's when the remaining obstacles to the free movement of people, goods and services between the 12-member European Community (see map) will have been swept away. In this single marketplace, companies will be able to trade and invest as freely as they do between the states of America.

Americans take free trade between the states of our nation for granted. We forgot that our free enterprise system could not have evolved if the Constitution had not prohibited tariffs and other trade barriers between the states.

The concept of a large single European market, unhampered by national divisions, is not new. It was envisioned by the six European countries that launched the process of European unification in 1951. Concerned about economic and technological stagnation in the Community and to give new impetus to European integration, European leaders in 1985 launched a major drive to complete the market unification effort by the end of 1992.

Ironically, many Americans are fearful of "1992," as the program has been dubbed. They foresee a "Fortress Europe" characterized by Community-wide protectionism. There is little doubt 1992 will increase international competition. But European economic integration holds more promise than threat for American businesses, bankers and travelers.

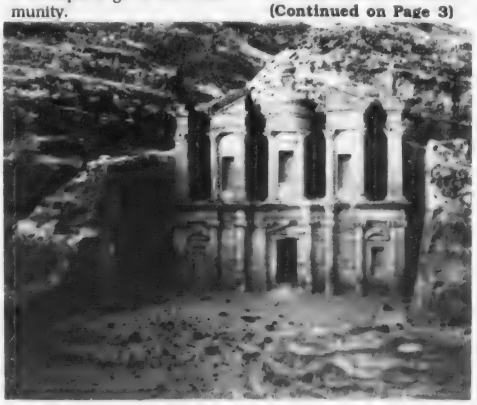
Already the world's largest trading power, the European Community is highly dependent on foreign trade — especially with the United States. Two-fifths of U.S. external investment and one-fourth of U.S. exports go to the Community.

U.S. corporations stand to benefit from this single market. And a stronger European economy can only make it a more powerful economic and political ally for the United States. "We continue to see a strong and unified Europe not as a rival, but as an ever stronger partner," President Ronald Reagan told the European Parliament in 1985.

What are the potential advantages of 1992 for American businesses and banks?

First, Europe will constitute a ready-made market of more than 320 million consumers.

Second, American multi-



(Continued on Page 3)

Oozeball Is Back

By TIM HALE

It's here. The sun, the fun, and the mud. The tradition continues with the Annual Longwood Ambassador Oozeball Tournament. Spring Weekend is right around the corner, April 7th, 8th and 9th. Registration forms can be picked up March 20th to the 24th in the New Smoker during lunch and dinner or in the Institutional Advance-

(Continued on page 8)

Monastery of Ed-Deir, Petra, Kingdom of Jordan. See story, "From Farmville to Arabia," page 7.

Markwith Takes Open V.P. Spot

Son of Longwood Graduate

Longwood's new Vice President for Institutional Advancement is a native Virginian who is the son of a Longwood graduate. Louis M. Markwith, Vice President of University Relations at Gallaudet University in Washington, D.C., has been appointed to the position by Longwood President William F. Dorrill. Mr. Markwith will begin on April 10.

Mr. Markwith has served at Gallaudet, the only college in the world for the hearing-impaired, since June 1985. He has more than 14 years' experience in college advancement work, including nearly five years at the University of Richmond, his alma mater. Previously, he served for several years as an executive in the retail clothing business and for a short time as an administrator with C&P Telephone of Virginia.

Mr. Markwith, 44, grew up in Richmond. He is the son of Emelyn Mills Markwith ('29), a retired educator who lives in Richmond. She was once supervisor of guidance for the Chesterfield County school system. During her 31-year career, she also was assistant principal of a Chesterfield high school and taught earlier in Orange, Louisa and Hanover counties.

Mr. Markwith will replace Donald L. Lemish, who left in August 1987 for a similar position at James Madison University. Nancy Shelton, director of alumni relations, has been serving as interim director of institutional advancement.

"I'm looking forward to joining the administration at Longwood," Mr. Markwith said recently. "I'm excited about the opportunities President Dorrill has discussed with me about bringing resources to the College and working with other administrators on the Strategic Plan to move Longwood toward the year 2000." Said Dr. Dorrill, "We're very pleased that Lou Markwith is coming to Longwood. I'm convinced that he will provide excellent leadership for our fund-raising efforts."

At Gallaudet, private gift support has tripled during Mr. Markwith's tenure. Alumni giving has increased by 18 percent; parents' giving by 26 percent; and faculty/staff giving by 25 percent. Gallaudet has 1,600 undergraduate students and about 400 graduate students. It also has a pre-school, kindergarten, elementary school, middle school and high school.

From 1980 to 1985, Mr. Markwith was executive director of the University of Georgia Foundation. During that time, the Foundation's assets grew from $11 million to approximately $45 million. Mr. Markwith was director of development at Memphis State University from 1979 to 1980. Total giving increased by 30 percent under his leadership.

From 1974 through 1979, he served in university relations at the University of Richmond. Among his positions were director of the Annual Fund, director of Special Resources, and, finally, director of Alumni Affairs. As director of Special Resources, in 1976-79, he was involved in a capital campaign that was completed two years ahead of schedule and exceeded its $50 million goal by $3 million.

Mr. Markwith has B.S. and M.B.A. degrees from the University of Richmond. He is a member of the University of

(Continued on Page 3)

Contents

News 2, 3
Editorial Page 4
Greek Affairs 5
Features 6, 7
Sports 7, 8

NEWS

Rotunda Survey
Health Care at Longwood

Please fill this survey out if you have visited Longwood's health services (the clinic).

1. Was the reason for your visit because of an illness or because of an emergency? Circle one.
2. How long did you wait to be seen?
   ____immediately ____under 10 minutes ____between 10 & 20 min. ____between 20 & 30 min.
   ____over 30 minutes
3. Was the service friendly and sensitive to your needs?
   ____Yes ____No
4. Were the hours of the doctor convenient?
   ____Yes ____No
5. Do you think the doctor should be there more often?
   ____Yes ____No
   If so, how much longer?
   ____1 more hour a day ____2 more hours a day
   ____3 more hours a day ____4 or more hours a day
   ____the doctor should be there all day
6. Did you have to seek other medical attention because the clinic did not serve your needs?
   ____Yes ____No
7. Did you receive — ____over the counter drugs
   ____a prescription drug ____none at all
   b. If you received medication, did it help?
   ____Yes ____No
8. Overall do you think the clinic serves its chief purpose of good medical attention?
   ____Yes ____No
9. How do you rate the effectiveness of the clinic?
   Poor Good Excellent (Circle one)
10. If you could make any change in the clinic, what would it be?

Please cut this out and return it to The Rotunda, Box 1133.

Survey by Tammy Belcher

American Drug Arrests Abroad

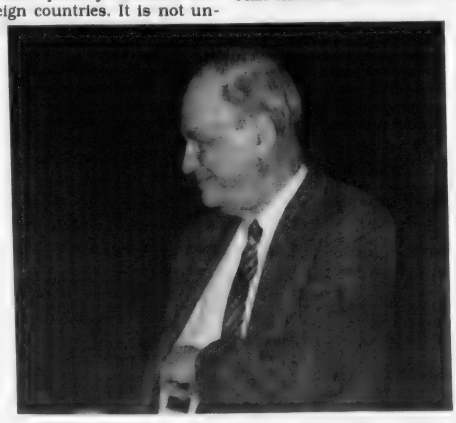
Over 2500 American citizens were arrested abroad in 1988. More than 900 of those arrested were held on charges of using or possessing drugs.

As we approach the busy travel season, many Americans are getting ready for that long awaited trip abroad. For some, the trip will become a nightmare. The global war on drugs is heating up and there are increased efforts by all countries to stop the flow of illegal narcotics. Those Americans who assume there is no real danger in buying or carrying just a "small" amount of drugs on their overseas trip may be in for a very unpleasant surprise. Americans have been arrested for possessing as little as a third of an ounce of marijuana.

Many travelers assume that, as American citizens, they are immune from prosecution under foreign laws. But the truth is, Americans suspected of drug violations can face severe penalties, even the death penalty, in some foreign countries. It is not uncommon to spend months or even years in pretrial detention, only to be sentenced to a lengthy prison stay without parole.

Once an American leaves U.S. soil, U.S. laws and constitutional rights no longer apply. U.S. consular officers can visit jailed Americans to see that they are being fairly and humanely treated, but cannot get them out of jail nor intervene in a foreign country's legal system on their behalf.

Travelers should be particularly wary of persons who ask them to carry a package or drive a car across a border. They might unknowingly become narcotics traffickers. If required for medical reasons to take a medication containing narcotics they should carry a doctor's certificate attesting to that fact and should keep all medications in original and labeled containers.



Getting involved with drugs overseas can do more than spoil a vacation, it can ruin one's life.

Sophomore Featured As Soloist

Farmville United Methodist Church Chancel Choir will present Rutter's REQUIEM on Thursday, March 23 at 7:30 p.m. in preparation for the Maundy Thursday service. Under the direction of Thomas A. Williams, Longwood College music faculty, the choir will be accompanied by Dr. Bruce Montgomery, organ; Dr. Donald L. Trott, bells; Denise Morley, timpani, and members of the Richmond Symphony: Karen Haid, flute; Katherine Ceasar, oboe; Charlotte Lucy, cello and harpist Lynne Abbey-Lee. Soprano soloist will be Longwood music major Rebecca Todd. Miss Todd, student of Mr. Williams, recently won the Virginia Sigma Alpha Iota vocal competition and has received the Hull Scholarship for the past two years.

English born, John Rutter, composed his REQUIEM for Lovers' Lane United Methodist Church in Dallas, Texas where it was first performed in October of 1985. Following the example of Brahms and Faure, Rutter's REQUIEM is not a strict setting of the traditional Requiem. Sections of English are prayers for humanity, psalms, personal prayers to Christ and an affirmation of divine glory.

The presentation and service is open to the public.

Edwin Newman moderated a panel discussion on "Education in the 21st Century: the meaning for Longwood College," last Monday night.

ISP Has Two Programs Going

By MICHELLE HUMMER

The International Studies Program is offering two programs for education abroad this summer. The Martinique program scheduled during the mini-semester from May 15 – June 2 needs fifteen students to sign up by April 1 in order for the program to be realized. The island of Martinique is an overseas department of France in the east West Indies. In this program, students will spend three weeks learning French at Martinique University and will have the added pleasure of taking many sidetrips where they will be able to enjoy the Creole culture first hand. Students will enjoy side trips to the north and south ends of the island, a tropical botanical park, a biscuit factory, an ancient chateau, an observatory as well as a rum distillery. Students visiting Martinique will also be able to take advantage of the Creole cuisine included in the price of the program which is approximately nine hundred dollars. The program in Martinique will earn students three credits. A somewhat less expensive program to Toulouse, France is also being offered this summer. This program to the beautiful city in south France is from June

(Continued on page 7)

COUCH PIZZA

Limited Delivery Area

FOR HOT, FAST DELIVERY CALL

392-3253

Lecturer Will Discuss "God, Govt, and Sex"

Bill Baird, a controversial abortion rights activist, will speak at Longwood College on Tuesday, March 21, at 8 p.m. in the Gold Room of Lankford Building.

Baird's topic is "The Politics of God, Government, and Sex." The lecture is open to the public free of charge.

For more than 20 years, Baird has been fighting for what he calls "reproductive freedom." He grew up in a Brooklyn slum and became a "crusader for birth control rights" after a woman died in his arms in the early 1960s from a self-inflicted abortion.

He has been involved in three landmark decisions by the U.S. Supreme Court – the 1972 decision that gave single people the same rights to birth control as married couples, the Roe v. Wade decision in 1973 that legalized abortion, and the 1979 ruling that minors do not need their parents' permission for an abortion.

Baird opened the nation's first birth control and abortion counseling center in Long Island, NY, in 1963. He now has a second New York clinic and one in Boston.

Baird has been arrested

(Continued on page 3)

NEWS

Despite Sexism Art Will Stay

(CPS) — The University of Illinois will not melt down two 19th-century sculptures displayed on campus, despite four campus artists' contention they are sexist, UI art museum director Stephen Prokopoff said the last week of February.

"That's what the Germans in the Hitler era did," he said in response to the artists' picketing and hanging a protest banner at a faculty art show at the Krannert Art Museum on campus.

Associate art Prof. Barbara DeGenevieve had asked the sculptures, both by French artist Emmanuel Fremief, displayed outside the museum.

The pieces slur women, showing one as "a castrating bitch" and another as "an object of lust," DeGenevieve said. "I'm tired of the museum not representing women. There are few women represented, and this is the way they choose" to do it.

One of the sculptures, called "Trapper and Bearcubs," represents a female bear attacking a man who has attacked her cub, while the other, titled "Gorilla and Woman," depicts a male gorilla carrying away a human female.

Prokopoff charged the four protesters were judging "19th century art in a 20th century context," adding he thought the pieces were technically good and not meant to be taken as literally as the protesters contended.

He also maintained "plenty of women" artists were represented in the faculty art show.

"We've gotten a flood of letters and responses from people who are quite concerned that we are actually going to melt the sculptures," he said.

But protester Brigitte Maronde said they never expected a "meltdown." They used the term, she said, as "a provocation" to discuss the museum's portrayals and treatment of women.

Photo by Bruce Gantt

Longwood Dance Company held their Spring Concert last Thursday and Friday.

EC 1992

(Continued from Page 1)

national corporations — many of whom have already been treating Europe as single market for decades — will benefit from Community-wide technology standards and lower transport costs.

Third, officials of the European Community Commission promise a liberal uniform trade policy. "Faster growth and a more dynamic economy ... will ensure that protectionist pressures do not build in Europe," said Jacques Delors, president of the Commission. It will be much tougher for individual countries to enact nontariff barriers, such as voluntary restraint agreements. "The prosperity of the Community depends on a liberal trading policy," said Roy Denman, head of the European Community's Washington delegation.

Fourth, for bankers, unification "will create a market that is larger and more free of restrictions than any in the world," said Delors. "This market will be as open to any financial institution from a non-Community country ... as to Community financial institutions."

Fifth, increased internal competition should push Community consumer prices down about six percent within five years. And overall European gross domestic product (GDP) could increase as much as $260 billion during this period, a full five percent of the current GDP.

Finally, the costs of transport throughout Europe will decrease significantly.

Another possibility, not part of the 1992 program, is a single European currency administered by a central bank. Despite questions about this and other steps toward even greater cooperation in the years ahead, clearly the end of 1992 will be the beginning of a new age for Europe.

Markwith

(Continued from Page 1)

Richmond's National Alumni Board.

He and his wife, Nancy, live in Fairfax County and have three teenage sons. One is a student at James Madison University; another attends Mary Washington College; the third is in high school.

Education runs in the Markwith family. One of his cousins, Mary Harris Malone, received her teaching certification at Longwood and teaches at Midlothian High School in Chesterfield County. In addition to his mother, his maternal grandmother and three aunts also taught.

God, Govt, and Sex

(Continued from page 2)

eight times in five states. He says he's "the only American in modern times who was a prisoner of the U.S. government for advocating the public's right to birth control information."

He has received hundreds of death threats and has been called a "corrupter of youth" and "the Devil himself." His clinics have been firebombed and picketed by anti-abortion demonstrators. Since 1971, he has lived apart from his wife and children because he feared for their safety.

Baird has given hundreds of lectures and has appeared on Face the Nation, Today, Good Morning America, The MacNeil Lehrer Report, and many other radio and television shows.

Next Simkins Lecture

Dr. Ward has more than 35 years of experience in the development and application of statistics, computing, operations research, and educational psychology to a wide variety of problems.

He specializes in mathematical and computer modeling in the areas of personnel utilization, occupational research, conflict resolution, and policy decisions.

He has worked with both the Navy and the Air Force in developing and implementing computer-based person-job-match systems.

Dr. Ward is the author of some 50 articles, papers, reports, and book chapters.

He holds B.A., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in educational psychology and mathematics from the University of Texas at Austin.

He has taught at the University of Hawaii, St. Mary's University of San Antonio, Clemson University, and the University of Texas at San Antonio.

THE FRANCIS BUTLER SIMKINS LECTURE SERIES honors the memory of an eminent scholar and beloved teacher at Longwood. Dr. Simkins came to Longwood in 1928 after receiving his Ph.D. in history from Columbia University. With the exception of periods he spent as a visiting professor at Louisiana State University and at Princeton, Dr. Simkins remained a member of the Longwood faculty until his death in 1966. He was a prolific writer and perceptive scholar of the social, political, and religious history of the South.

Forensics Team Places Sixth

By TAMMY BELCHER

The Longwood College Forensics team placed sixth in the American Forensics Association (A. F. A.) district seven championship tournament at George Mason University on March 18th and 19th 1989!!! Longwood College sent a team of twenty-five students for the first overnight trip ever made to compete against eleven other colleges and universities.

The rounds started at 11:30 a.m. on Saturday and lasted until 7:00 p.m. the same night only to reconvene on Sunday for the final round. Awards were given to Dawn Carrington placing fifth for Oral Interpretation, Julie Kernodle who placed sixth for Informative Speaking and Kalli Lucas who placed fifth for After Dinner Speaking. These three students will be competing in the National Tournament in New Jersey on April 20th.

Doctor Haga, the forensics coach, said that this trip was a real "morale booster" and expressed her enthusiasm of the team's success. Our team was announced during the awards as the "New College", says Doctor Haga. One judge also told Doctor Haga that he never heard of a college coming for the first time and receiving a trophy.

Not only was the actual tournament an experience to remember but so were the events that happened on the trip itself. The college paid $1867.00 for the team to stay at the Holiday Inn in Fairfax and provided each member with $22.00 for meals. Doctor Haga (the forensics coach), Doctor Sauve (professor), Mrs.

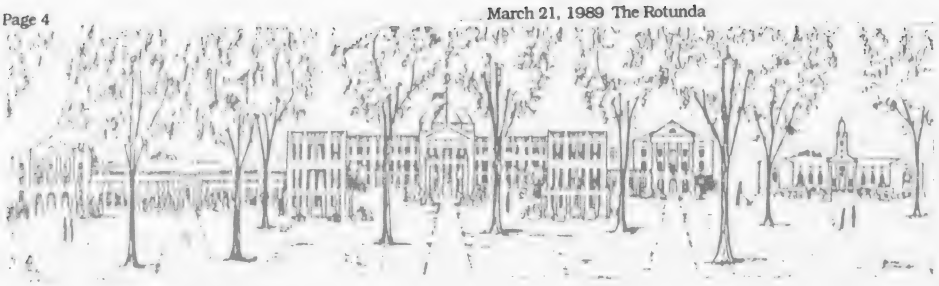
(Continued on page 5)

YOU QUALIFY FOR INSTANT CREDIT!

Start making credit purchases IMMEDIATELY! We will send you a Members Credit Card at once with NO CREDIT CHECK. Buy any Jewelry, Clothing, Sporting Goods, Watches, Electronics & MORE! All with installment payments out of our "Giant 100+ Pages Catalog." Take 12 months to repay. Your personal credit card is a -second I.D.- valuable for check cashing, etc. plus your Students Credit Group A-1 reference will be on file to help you obtain other credit cards. So send in your $5 catalog deposit now. (refundable with your first order)

Establish your credit Today!

100% Satisfaction Guaranteed (or your Money Back)



Name _____

Address _____ City _____

State _____ Zip _____

MEMBERS Students CREDIT GROUP

P.O. BOX 4649 FORT LAUDERDALE, FLORIDA 33338

Where's Miss Longwood

Every year about this time Longwood is preparing for its annual Miss Longwood Pageant, but not this year! !

Due to the Sesquicentennial events that have tapped the resources of the Public Affairs staff, there is not sufficient time for an event as the Miss Longwood Pageant.

In effect Longwood has lost a marvelous chance to publicize itself during its 150th birthday year. This is a shame because Longwood had one of the top local pageants in the United States and the fact that Longwood will not be represented in this year's Miss Virginia Pageant, should be alarming. Won't these people wonder what went wrong at Longwood, when instead they should have been celebrating its Sesquicentennial?

On a more personal level, a pageant this year would have attracted a large number of participants, who would have strived to proudly represent Longwood during this very special year. Also, some $2,500 in scholarships will not be awarded this year, in effect denying students the chance to win money to pay for their education.

We are glad to have had all of the Sesquicentennial events, but a great tradition has been broken. I just hope that the break will not become permanent as the discussion of next year's pageant begins. It could be conveniently dropped from the agenda on the logic: "We did without it last year and if we skip it again, no one will really notice." Wrong. We miss our pageant and we want it back.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Awareness Is The Key

To the editor,

Alcohol Awareness is a problem that seems to exist in the minds but not in the actions of those who consume alcohol. By this I mean that many people are abusing this drug without realizing the consequences that if may bring on themselves as well as their peers.

In many instances alcohol effects people in a manner in which they lose control of their actions. Alcohol is proven to cause loss of memory, coordination, speech, and your ability to think logically. With the loss of any one of these functions, people could find themselves in a situation that can be very unpleasant for themselves and those surrounding them at that time.

Through my involvement, I have realized that alcohol awareness has become a growing issue that should not be ignored any longer. Steps need to be taken to encourage students to become more involved in solving the problem rather than creating one.

In closing I feel that to make more people aware of alcohol, it will alleviate some of the problems that our institution presently encounters. People must understand that awareness can be the key to never encountering a problem with alcohol.

Editor's Note: This letter was written by a student as part of his/her probation and thus his/her name was withheld.

Selection For The 1989-1990 ROTUNDA EDITOR HAS BEGUN!

Applications can be picked up and are due on March 29 in Phyllis Mable's office.

QUALIFICATIONS:

1. Applicant must be a full-time undergraduate student at Longwood, i.e., be enrolled in the equivalent of no less than 12 semester hours at the time of application and during the term of appointment.

2. Should be a student in good standing, i.e., not be on academic or disciplinary probation.

3. Should have posted no less than a 2.5 grade point average in the semester immediately preceding selection to the position of editor, and shall have no less than a 2.5 cumulative grade point average.

4. Shall not have an elective or appointive position in Student Government during tenure as editor.

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
Matt Peterman

Managing Editor
R. Bruce Gantt

Features Editor
Cheryl Jeffrey

Greek Affairs Editor
Chet Ahn

Photography Editor
Emily Howell

Sports Editor
Lindy Seymore

Business Manager
Tim Oliva

Advertising Managers
Steve Evans
Susan Miller

Layout Assistant
Monica Gilbert

Faculty Advisor
William C. Wood

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be typed or printed neatly, state the author's years, and major as applicable.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College. The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 392-7817.

GREEK AFFAIRS

Derek Lilly Receives Scholarship

By CHET AHN

Derek Lilly, a member of Pi Kappa Phi Franternity and other numerous positions on campus, has just recently won a scholarship from the National Order of Omega. Derek, a senior, is currently the president of the Longwood Chapter of Order of Omega and was one of only 14 students in the Nation to receive this scholarship. The scholarship is worth five hundred dollars.

The winners of this scholarship are selected based on their contributions to the Greek community, to their fraternity or sorority, to Order of Omega, and to their respective campus community.

The National Order of Omega was founded at the University of Miami in 1959. Currently, there are over 200 chapters around the country. The purpose of Omega is to recognize those fraternity men and sorority who have attained a high standard of leadership in interfraternity activities, to encourage them to continue along this line, and to inspire others to strive for similar conspicuous attainment.

Pi Kappa Phi

There was a ceremony held last Friday to recognize Derek and present him with his scholarship. The ceremony was attended by Phylis Mable, Sue Saunders, officers of Pi Kappa Phi, Charlie Warner, and other guests.

Kappa Deltas Sponsor Concert

By JACKIE CHIMENTO

On Saturday, March 18, 1989, the Kappa Deltas sponsored the concession stand for the EU Concert held at Longwood. All the proceeds for the concert went to DAY, Domestic Assistance for You, a local non-profit organization.

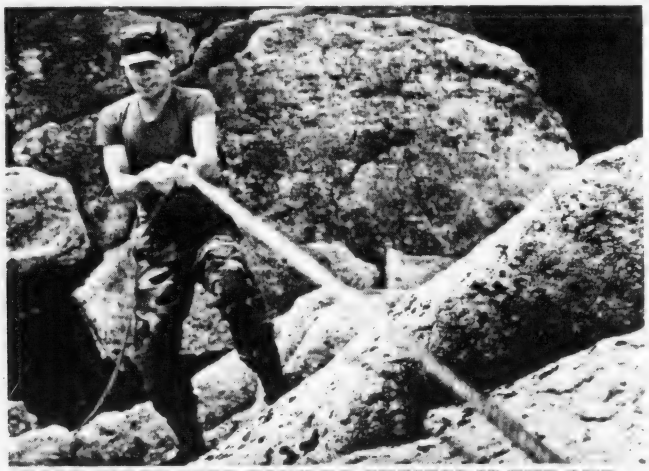
The Kappa Deltas grossed $495 from the concession stand. After refunding the money for the food, KD donated $315 toward DAY.

Sincere thanks to Drew Hudson and SGA from all of the Kappa Deltas.

Forensics Team

(Continued from page 3)

Mason (teacher), Doctor and Mrs. Munns (professor and wife), and Toby Emert (a Longwood College graduate) accompanied the team on their adventures. Most of the team had the chance to see Fair Oaks Mall, one of the largest malls in Virginia, after the tournament was over.



Congratulations should go out to the whole forensics team for a job well done! Their next meet is Saturday, April 1st.

LONGWOOD COLLEGE BOOKSTORE
HOURS 8-5 MON.-FRI.
EASTER SALE!

ALL STUFFED ANIMALS ½ PRICE
LARGE SELECTION OF CLOTHING 25%-50% OFF
PRICES GOOD THRU 3/31/89

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

YOUR FIRST STEP TOWARD SUCCESS IS THE ONE YOU COULD TAKE THIS SUMMER.

At Army ROTC Camp Challenge, you'll learn what it takes to succeed—in college and in life. You'll build self-confidence and develop your leadership potential. Plus you can also qualify to earn an Army Officer's commission when you graduate from college.

Army ROTC Camp Challenge. It may be just what you need to reach the top.

ARMY ROTC
THE SMARTEST COLLEGE COURSE YOU CAN TAKE.
Contact CPT DeWitt 392-9259/9348

FEATURES

Personals

Dwain — What you doing Crazy Chinese girlfriend? Want to go play tennis? Maybe this time we can hit the balls inside the court! Don't drop anymore glasses in front of amateur spelunkers! Look out for Sam Dyko! — Andy

Elby — Try not to yell out the window too much, one day Poley might be out there and recognize your voice! Congrats with Murf! Now all you need is a letter! Let's go to the library and study the hanging signs! You come visit me with Terp so that Alley isn't lonely, okay? Adios you crazy chinese girlfriend! — Juanita

Lori and Christina — You two are the Best little sisters EVER! Thanks for making me proud! — KD love and A.O.T. Big Sis Mandy

TLT. — You know! — RAT

Dan the Man, Mr. Sweeny and Moonface – I think I don't remember why the chicken walked halfway across the road. Can you help me out? Rackingly yours, The Ayatullah of Rand R

Night Stalker – Are you pulling a Peterman tonight? – Johnny Be Good

Sun-God – Congratulations Derek and continued success! Brothers of PI Kappa Phi

Hey IVCF people: We just wanted to say Hi and that, we love and miss ya! Keep the faith! Our God is an awesome God. 202 First Ave crew!

Dear Map Holmes, You're doing an awesome job – don't let the turkeys get you down! You are going to make it – Keep your chin up! I lurve you! Mik Watson

Attention Lambda Iota Tau Members and Associates:
Important meeting Thursday, March 23rd at 1:30 p.m.
Meet in the vicinity of the Lambda Iota Tau bulletin board on the first floor of Grainger. Plans for elections, spring weekend, and the upcoming receptions will be discussed. Also, new members who have not yet paid their dues should bring $20.00 for the Treasurer (membership pins and badges are an additional $5-$7.00, depending on size.).

Pooch, — It's not really a secret. — The one you admire?

ALPHA PHI OMEGA — Congrads! You deserve a Chapter Room and finally you got it.

Denise — I am so happy for you! Have fun in VA Beach! — Love in KD, Little Sis Mandy

Hey Mashed Potato and crew at the BSU: Seen any bubbles, lately? Watch out or you'll get mousercised! Love Ping

3rd Floor French, — On the whole, staying together is all that matters. 1st Floor North will be great next year. — RAT

Yo Kaybe, yo!

Karen – Guess what? Ball is April 1st – No comment – My ball is April 1st too! No comment! Love, Your friend in 224

Becky – You are such a special friend. I just want you to know I'm always here for you! Your favorite ΣΣΣ

Lib – You are such an awesome friend! What would I do without you! This spring is going to be so much fun. Have a great week! I love you! EKD

Stephanie King – You are an awesome banner maker. I'm glad you got a date. Ball is going to be so much fun! Σ love, Beth D.

Huuunnneeeyy – I love those snowy weekends. Especially when I'm with you. Watch out for cars with broken speedometers. Lov ya! Your "Rocky Mountain" Girl

Kevin – You are such a cutie! Next time – Stop by when I'm not expecting any unexpected visitors. – Your X lab partner

"Bark Like a Dog, Monkey Man!"

Debbie Gibson, Sigma Gamma, and the Police Groupie: Through all the scrappin', I am glad I have buddies and room/suitemates, as awesome as you guys! ! ! Always remember to: get a real tan, drink vodka and find some new "GAH's/scams! – You know who! P.S. "That's nice!"

U.C. Bear, I want to meet you badly! Look for – Polo

WLCX 90.1 FM 392-9380 "The Voice of Longwood"

	SUNDAY	MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY	SATURDAY
	Progressive (Paul Petty) Tom Cruise & The Seoul Man	60's 70's 80's (Laura Raiford) I Don't Know	Top 40 Dance Pop (Pam Werner)	Progressive & New Wave (Eric & Dina) We're 3rd Floor	Various (Tammy Belcher)	Classic Rock (Brian Bates)	50's To 80's (Jim Cutchins) Bop & Rock
4-6 PM	Vintage (Jim Wood) Insanely Inane World Of Rev. Jim	Progressive + (Julie Smith) Jules & The Mix	Various (Karen & Mike) Anything Goes	Reggae (John Drum) Reggae Buffet	Nuggy Music (Amy & Laura) Almost Illegal	Mix & Match Barbara Lee Melting Pot	Progressive (Paul Petty) Tom Cruise & The Seoul Man
6-8 PM	Psychadelia (Jake & Kevin) Psychadelic Solutions	Classic Rock R&S's Freedom Rock	Progressive (Christine Mann) Progressive Ditties	Jazz (harron Fells) Herb's Cool Jazz W Mellow Xtras	Progressive (Eric & Dina) We're 3rd Floor	Reggae (Nicole Lanningham)	Various (Matt Fletcher) Songs Matt Likes
8-10 PM	Various (Harry Vogel) Cheap Vacation	Progressive (Scott Flood) Yes No Maybe	Progressive (Paul Petty) Tom Cruise & The Seoul Man	Rock & Rush (Dennis Marley)	Progressive (Scott McIntyre)	Rock & Roll (Andy Wheeler) Rock Block Hour	Rock Dave & Jeff Rock Rolls On
10-12 PM	Various (Joe Harper) Songs To Learn And Sing	Different (Dan Stone) Wig Out With Dan	Reggae & Progress (Hugh & Charles) Enough Said	Schizophrenic (Nicole & Jen We're Not Blonde	Progressive (Gilligan) No Edie Brickell	Pop & Rock (Jeff Cee) Whatever	Rock & Roll (Andy Wheeler) Rock Block Hour
12-2 AM	Give Us A Listen					Pop & Rock (Jeff Cee) Whatever	Rock Doug & Andy Doug & Andy Show

The Cunningham greatest lecture series presents a round table discussion on "Variant-Deviant Behavior in Our Society" with Professor Ann Huffman, HPER Dept. Monday, March 20th, 7:30 p.m., roof of South Cunningham.
Also
On Thursday, March 23rd, at 7 p.m., the Cunningham's Greatest Lecture Series will feature Dr. Sue Olinger Shaw, Dept. of Bus. and Econ. The topic will be "Personal Economics: Choice and Allocation"

Hey cool, — Want to play another game of chess! — Sherman

High up overhead, Joni on the Pony watches with care,
To keep safe the gift CHI has left for you there.
Through the tunnel of where it will be,
Among the "old rats" of sorority,
Take a close look, it has been said.
NOT to trample on the corpse of the dead.
The yard is big with trees, leaves and muck,
Here's hoping you find it and to all a GOOD LUCK!
CHI '89

The Sisters of Delta Zeta invite all non-Greek women to their Open House Rush Party, March 22 and 23 at 7 p.m. in the Delta Zeta Chapter Room.

Dear Sharon, Thank you, little sister, for all that you do for me. You really mean a lot to me. Thanks for all the support and encouragement. I love ya lots! Kim

LuLu – Sank yoo vedy much! Lata back I cull. Luv, ToFu and Shanghai

Hey Irene: Keep your spirits up! Things will improve. Take it slow with your new beau. Love ya, Kim

Hey everybody, Greek Week is on its way April 9-17.

Racquetball Workshop on March 21 at 7:30-9:30 p.m. Great opportunity to try out our new courts and to practice up for the Racquetball Tournament this weekend, March 25. Come ready to participate! See you there!

To all of the student teachers,
You all are doing a terrific job! Hang in there – just 5 more weeks to go. We miss you! Love, Your fellow educators
P.S. Keep those children "on task"!

The International Studies House is a special interest hall designed to promote a greater understanding among nations and cultures. The ideal member is a student with a major or interest in modern languages, international business, foreign diplomacy, or international education. Applications are available in the housing office or at the Cunninghams' front desk. All applications should be returned to the Cunninghams' front desk no later than March 30.

The Fun Place To Shop
Paige's
PHONE 392-6179
ACROSS FROM HIGHRISES
S. MAIN ST., 8:55 AM - 8:55 PM
Hop into Paiges to pickup all your Easter supplies!
HAPPY EASTER
from Paige's

FEATURES

Delta Psi Kappa

What is Delta Psi Kappa? Delta Psi Kappa is the National Fraternity for Physical Education, Health, and Theraputic Recreation. Longwood College has the only chapter (Beta Lamboa) located in Virginia, and is the only "Honor" chapter in the country. Majors must have at least a 3.0 GPA in their concentration, and a 2.6 or better in all classes.

Current members of Delta Psi Kappa include Diane Brown, chris Ensmann, Steve Gedro, Tim Mason, and Douglas Miller, and Kim Polrier. We would like to congratulate our newly initiated pledges. They are Susan Baca, Danny Dail, Amy Harreu, Stefanie Harris, and Kim Nelson.

The Delta Psi Kappa members will be housing the Lancer Cafe in the near future. Look for details in the near future and come have an enjoyable time! And pledges, remember your worms!

ISP

(Continued from page 3)

18-July 8. It is also worth three credits, but has room for only four more people. The cost of the program which includes studying French at Toulouse University is seven hundred fifty dollars. Those interested should contact Dr. Reynolds in the I.S.P. office as soon as possible and no later than April 1.

Archaeology

From Farmville To Arabia

By DEBORAH SMITH

Three of the students who have recently dug in the Archaeology Field School at Longwood College have gone on to quite unusual careers in archaeology since graduating from Longwood.

Keith Russell has just returned from two years of digging in the Arabian peninsula area. Most of his time was spent in Petra which is located in the eastern desert of modern Jordan. He is an archaeologist studying the lands of Petra which were first historically documented in the Bible under the name of Sela meaning "rock." Sela was the capital of ancient Edom at about 2000 B.C., and it lies on the east side of the Jordan River. Keith has also dug in Sultanate of Oman and in United Arab Emirates.

Student archeologist, Keith Russell, removes organic remains found in soil by flotation machine at Longwood College archeological site, summer 1986.

Betsy Chalfant, an Arts and Science Honors graduate of 1988 is attending the University of London, England. It is an institute for archaeology. Betsy is a graduate student studying museum science. She also dug in Petra with Keith Russell in the summer of 1987.

Kim Digges is also among those students studying abroad. She dug in archaeology field school in 1986 and 1987. Kim is presently touring a number of archaeology sites in Thailand and has just written to her old professor, Dr. Jordan, from the famous ruins of Sukhothai.

Having begun their careers digging in the remains of Indian villages on the Appomattox River in Virginia, these

(Continued on page 8)

Greatest Lecture Series

In honor of the Sesquicentennial year, many reowned speakers have made their way to our quaint school. Most recently, Edwin Newman shared with us his ideas about the educational system that we are all encountering. The topic of discussion for the evening was, "The Future of Education." In keeping with this theme, a new lecture series is that we have tapped into our own storehouse of information; Longwood faculty and staff. The lecturers are members of the immediate college community.

The lecture series, titled "The Greatest Lecture of All Time," is centered around three main goals:

1) To reinforce the importance of learning outside the classroom.

2) To provide additional opportunities for student, faculty, and staff to become better acquainted.

3) To promote the Longwood traditions of involvement and community learning.

The lecture series provides the opportunity for any faculty or staff member to share what he/she considers to be his/her greatest lecture. The lectures actually take place in the Cunningham Residence Hall. This allows for an informal exchange of ideas to occur among Longwood Community members.

There are still seven lectures for the Spring series. Each will be held on the roof of South Cunningham (4th floor). Refreshments will always be served.

Koto Concert Was A Success

By MICHELLE HUMMER

The International Studies Program hosted a Koto Concert on Thursday March 16 at the Longwood House. Two members of the Koto Society of Washington gave a brilliant performance on Kotos, Japanese stringed instruments. Mrs. Dorrill added to the performance by accompanying the duo on the piano. The audience was delighted by Mrs. Okamoto's explanation of the history of the Koto music and her demonstration of its operation.

SPORTS

Gymnasts Seventh In Reginals State Meet Saturday At W & M

Longwood's women's gymnastics team placed seventh in the United States Gymnastics Federation Division II Southeast Regional Meet Saturday in Indiana, Pennsylvania.

The Lancers scored 162.7 while host Indiana (PA) won the meet with a 183.7. Other team scores were: Georgia College 173.45, Trenton State 172.6, West Chester 171.0, East Stroudsburg 168.5 and Navy 168.0.

Top performers for Longwood were senior Lynda Chenoweth and sophomore Natalie Taylor. Chenoweth scored an 8.9 on beam for 8th place, Longwood's highest individual finish. She also had a 33.15 all-around score for 19th place.

Taylor totaled a 34.1 all-around for 14th place and an 8.75 on floor for 9th. Her 8.85 vaulting score was good for 16th.

"Lynda had a real nice beam routine," said coach Ruth Budd. "She did a good job. Our gymnastics had to adjust to a 'spring beam' which IUP had for the meet. We had never used that type beam before in competition.

"As a group we did pretty well, considering we took just five all-around gymnasts to the meet. The team pulled together."

The Virginia State Gymnastics Meet is tentatively scheduled for Saturday at 1:00 in Williamsburg. Host William & Mary is reportedly working out some last-minute scheduling difficulties.

COLLEGE GRADUATES

Put your education to work—become a

Lawyer's Assistant "The Career for the 90's"

at The National Center for Paralegal Training

- Oldest and largest graduate level ABA-approved program in the Southeast
- Employment assistance—over 1,000 employers in 38 states have hired our graduates
- 3 month day program with housing available
- 7 month evening program
- Diversified Curriculum—specialize in Litigation, Corporations, or Real Estate and Probate—including "Computers in the Practice of Law"

Meet with our representative
Monday, March 27, 9:00 - 12:00
at the College Placement Office

The National Center for Paralegal Training
3414 Peachtree Rd NE Atlanta GA 30326
800-223-2618 In Georgia call 404-266-1060

Please send me information about a career as a Lawyer's Assistant
Name _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____ Zip _____
College _____ Yr Grad _____
Phone: DAY (___) _____ EVENING (___) _____

216

SPORTS

Lady Netters Beat Greensboro

By Jim Long

Bouncing back Saturday, the Longwood women's tennis team traveled to Greensboro College, where they won their third match of the spring by an 8-1 score.

Now 3-5, Longwood visits Randolph-Macon Thursday at 2:30 in its only action of the week. The Lady Lancers host Virginia Wesleyan Tuesday, March 28.

Longwood played its first home contest last Tuesday, losing to Mary Baldwin College in a close match by a score of 5-4.

Number two Laura Crigger, No. 4 Laura Vollrath, and No 6 Linda Swe all won in singles, but the Lancers dropped two of three doubles matches for the loss.

Longwood opened its season over spring break with six matches at Hilton Head, South Carolina. Despite finishing with a 2-4 record there, coach Angie Coppedge felt it was a successful trip.

"We played very well. Against the stronger teams we never backed down. And we gained a lot of experience."

Longwood opened with a victory 5-4 over Virginia Intermont March 5. Sophomore Heather Leach and juniors Vollrath and Swe picked up singles victories, while the doubles teams of Leach and Laura Labyak and Vollrath and Swe won their matches.

The Lady Lancers dropped their next match to Wooster College 9-0 on the 6th before bouncing back with a 7-2 victory over Clinch Valley the next day. Leach, Vollrath, Swe, Rosemary Nelson and Laura Crigger each won singles matches for Longwood, while in doubles competition, the teams of Labyak/Leach and Vollrath/Swe notched victories.

Longwood lost its next three matches to tough teams from Winona 6-1, Landeer 9-0, and the University of the South 9-0 to finish out the week.

On a down note, Leach, the number three seed, was injured during the trip. "Losing Heather is a bad blow for us. It hurts us in singles and in doubles," said Coppedge.

Heading into the Greensboro match Vollrath (4-3), Leach (2-1) and Swe (3-3) had the top single records for Longwood. In doubles, Vollrath and Swe were tops at 3-4.

LAURA VOLLRATH

Players of the Week

Longwood second baseman Pete Criscione and outfielder Robbie Smith led Longwood to a 3-1 record in baseball last week and for their efforts the duo have been named Longwood College Players of the Week for the period March 12-19. Player of the Week is chosen by the Longwood Sports Information Office.

Smith and Criscione were key factors as Longwood beat Rhode Island College 10-0, Christopher-Newport 20-6, and Shenandoah 12-0 before losing to the Hornets 7-2 Sunday. The Lancers are now 11-4 for the season.

Criscione raised his batting average from .306 to .340 last week, getting 7 hits in 14 at-bats for a .500 average. He added 10 RBI, 3 doubles and 2 homers. Smith, who is hitting .422, had 6 hits in 11 at-bats (.545 avg.), 8 RBI, a double and 3 homers.

Criscione, Longwood leader in at-bats (47), runs (13), RBI (18), doubles (7) and homers (4), had a three run homer in the win over Christopher-Newport and plated six runs in Sunday's doubleheader with a homer, a double and a single.

A junior and graduate of Fredonia High School, Criscione has been Longwood's starting second baseman since his freshman season.

Smith, a junior captain and graduate of Orange County High, leads the Lancers in hits (19) and ranks second in runs (12) and homers (3). He also has 13 RBI and four doubles. He has played left and center field and designated hitter at times this spring.

Oozeball

(Continued from page 1)

ment Office on Second Floor East Ruffner. The registration deadline is March 29th. A check for 25 dollars must accompany the form. Don't wait, teams are limited. Co-ed, male, female and faculty/staff teams of 7 can enter. Turn in forms to the Institutional Advancement Office. If you have any further questions contact Tim Hale at 392-7333.

Archaeology

(Continued from page 7)

graduates have indeed carried the Longwood banner and their archaeological training about as distant from Farmville as one can go!

Thanks to our forensic team for winning...

6TH PLACE IN SWEEPSTAKES AT GEORGE MASON UNIVERSITY

STATES THAT COMPETED: Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, and Virginia

QUALIFIERS FOR THE NATIONAL TOURNAMENT

APRIL 1989 — NEW JERSEY

DAWN CARRINGTON — Trophy Winner
JULIE KERNODLE — Trophy Winner
KALLI LUCAS — Trophy Winner

OTHER TEAM MEMBERS:

Holly Barns
Tammy Belcher
Andy Bryan
Fran Carleton
Rick Codding
Mike Coleman
Jon Connell
Karen Cunningham
Karen Dalton
Tammy Estes
Traci Gardner
James Gross
Gene Kerns
James Locke
Kathy Myers
Brandy Musgrove
Kacey Ray
Tim Reger
David Richards
Amy Roderer
Harry Vogel
Karen Whitely

JUDGES: Mrs. Daphne Mason, Mr. Toby Emert, Mr. Dudley Sauve, Dr. George Muns, Mrs. Carolyn Muns, Dr. Nancy Haga.

1839

The Rotunda

LONGWOOD COLLEGE

1989

"Catching Sight of Longwood from atop the Sesquicentennial Mount"

VOL. NO. 68 NO. 19 | MARCH 28, 1989 | FARMVILLE, VA.

County Juvenile Charged In Assault Of Curry Resident

A 17-year old resident of Prince Edward County, was charged with malicious wounding with the intent to maim, disfigure or kill, according to P.E. County Deputy Clyde Calhoun.

According to a statement released by the Longwood Public Affairs Office, a female student suffered several stab wounds while in her residence hall room last Tuesday at approximately 3:50 p.m. According to Deputy Calhoun, the victim apparently suffered stab wounds to the face, neck, and hand.

Campus Police in conjunction with the P.E. County Sheriff's department apprehended the suspect shortly after the incident and was arrested at his home in Prince Edward County. The suspect, who is not a student at Longwood, is currently being detained at the Lynchburg Juvenile Detention Home.

According to The Farmville Herald, apparently, the suspect was an acquaintance of another student who lived in the residence hall and had visited the hall previously.

The student was admitted to Southside Community Hospital and was released late last week, and was expected to begin classes yesterday.

Speaker Calls For "Reproductive Freedom"

Photo by R. Bruce Gantt

Pro-Choice activist Bill Baird holds a visual aid about birth control that he presented before the Supreme Court. Mr. Baird has won three Supreme Court cases and will defend the Roe vs. Wade decision in court this year.

Bill Baird, an Abortion Rights Activist presented a lecture on "God, Govt. and Sex" last Tuesday night in the Gold Room. Far more than 20 years Baird has been fighting for what he calls "Reproductive Freedom."

He has been involved in three landmark Supreme Court Cases, the 1972 decision that gave single people the same rights to birth con-

Continued on Page 2

Rotunda Renovations Face Opposition From Faculty And Students

By STEPHANIE NEELY

If you've walked through the Rotunda lately, you've probably noticed the renovation that many students are referring to as "Lawnwood". The old antique-type furniture has been removed and replaced by white wooden benches that some faculty and students say looks like "garden furniture." Many also agree that the decor is in bad taste because The Rotunda is a symbol of Longwood tradition and rather than being redecorated in contemporary style, it should be instead restored.

Dr. Couture, who teaches preservation classes, is extremely concerned that the historical roots of the building will be lost if the renovations remain as they are now. Dr. Couture, who served on the Rotunda Task Force Committee, also suggests that instead of repainting the Rotunda, actually a few of the coats need to be stripped and some general repairs of leaks, and preservation techniques need to be considered to maintain the overall appearance of the building. According to Dr. Couture, no one has ever done a complete restoration project for the Rotunda; over the years, the building has only been given various minimal changes. He feels that if the Rotunda had been adequately preserved over time, the cost to the college would have been more efficiently spent. Other faculty has expressed the same dissatisfaction; Dr. Helms and Dr. Crowe share similar opinions on the renovations.

Another point brought up by various members of faculty and the student body is the fact that the Rotunda will not provide a good first impression for prospective students who tour the college. Dr. Ernest Boyer, guest of Longwood in the sesquicentennial lecture series and author of The Undergraduate Experience in America, says in his book of first impressions on college campuses, "The appearance of the campus is, by far, the most influential characteristic during campus visits, and we gained the distinct impression that when it comes to recruiting students, the director of buildings and grounds may be more important than the academic dean." Dr. Couture also questions if the renovations will be pleasing to visiting Alumni.

The "Lawnwood" furniture that has been placed in the Rotunda.

Nancy Shelton, Director of Alumni Association, essentially directed the renovated project and did not foresee the dissatisfaction of the faculty and students, because she said it is temporary and still in the first phases of renovation. She says that the project is the effect of an administrative decision in effect to answer the request of the Alumni Council which met with Dr. Dorrill last fall. The Council expressed that it was not satisfied with the overall appearance of the Rotunda. The current renovations are hoped to be complete by Founder's Day for the visiting Alumni. Also, Mrs. Shelton says that the choice of the wooden furniture was based on its inexpensiveness and its capability to be easily repainted or repaired if students vandalize it. She continues to stress however that these are temporary measures and renovation is still in its early stage.

It seems clear that much of the faculty and student body is opposed to the current renovations. Dr. Couture urges students who are displeased to rise up and use their influence with the administrators to try and change the condition of the Rotunda, for he feels the students need to voice their views because the Rotunda belongs as much to them as to faculty and administrators. The question of what will become of "Lawnwood" is yet unanswered.

Contents

News 2, 3
Editorial and Letters 4, 5
Features 6, 7
Sports 8

NEWS

Photo by R. Bruce Gantt

Pro-Life activists George and Dorothy Lucus pass out information on abortion before the Bill Baird lecture. Mr. Lucus is the pastor of the Race Street Baptist Church in Farmville and is also a member of The Virginia Society for Human Life.

"Reproductive Freedom"

(Continued from page 1)

trol as married couples. The 1973 Roe vs. Wade that legalized abortion and the 1979 ruling that minors do not need parents permission for an abortion.

Before Mr. Baird's lecture, the Pastor of Race Street Baptist Church in Farmville passed out pro-life pamplets supplied by the Virginia Society for Human Life.

Pastor Lucas is a member of the Virginia Society for Human Life.

Mr. Baird's lecture was free of incidents, but there was a heated discussion afterwards between Pastor Lucas and Mr. Baird.

New Publication On Campus

By JOSEPHINE NIKOLAKAKI and THERESA PFLUGER

NOTONLYNEWS – contemporary, innovative, challenging sesquicentennial celebrations of Longwood's growth and expansion; professional news magazine presenting Longwood students with a unique approach to current affairs.

NOTONLYNEWS focuses not only on our immediate college environment, but also on broader subject matters of national and international concern. Dedicated staff from our student body, as well as international correspondents, raise issues directed toward people of diverse interests. The articles – ranging from humorous to satirical, from informative to controversial – are intended to challenge the reader's mind and give him/her a broader perspective of world events.

During the course of this semester two issues of NOTONLYNEWS have been published, a third one coming out in the first week of April. It can be found in the Rotunda. Also, for those interested in attending meetings for NOTONLYNEWS staff are held on Sunday and Thursday nights at 9:30 p.m.

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

THURSDAY, APRIL 27	READING DAY Exams for Thursday night classes 7-10 p.m. and Conflict period
FRIDAY, APRIL 28	9-12: English 051, 100, 101 Conflicts 2-5: TR 8:30 7-10: TR 3:55
SATURDAY, APRIL 29	9-12: TR 11:20 2-5 TR 9:55 7-10: MWF 12:30
MONDAY, MAY 1	9-12: MWF 10:30 2-5: MWF 11:30 7-10: MWF 2:30 & Monday night classes
TUESDAY, MAY 2	9-12: MWF 9:30 2-5: MWF 8:30 7-10: MWF 3:30 & Tuesday night classes
WEDNESDAY, MAY 3	9-12: TR 2:30 2-5: MWF 1:30 7-10: MWF 4:30 & Wednesday night classes

CEDAR BROOK RESTAURANT, INC.

½ MILE EAST OF FARMVILLE
ON RT. 460, PHONE 392-4589

ANYTHING FROM SANDWICHES TO FULL COURSE MEALS

OPEN 11 AM - 9 PM, 7 DAYS A WEEK!

Longwood Senior Has Paper Accepted for Presentation

A research paper by Longwood College senior Dawn C. Childers has been accepted for presentation at the annual meeting of the Southern Sociological Society, to be held April 13-16 in Norfolk.

The paper explores the relationship between parental involvement and a student's success in school. It is based on responses to a questionnaire Ms. Childers administered to members of the senior class at Central High School of Lunenburg.

The project was a class assignment for a sociology course taught by Dr. Kenneth Perkins. "He thought my paper added new information in this area," Ms. Childers said, "so he suggested that I send it to the program committee chairperson for the Southern Sociological Society meeting."

To her surprise, the paper was accepted.

Her questionnaire was simple, she said, with five basic questions: Do your parents (or guardians) ask you about school? Do they encourage you to do your homework? Throughout your school years, have your parents EVER helped you with your homework? Have you ever been to a museum, historic site, or other educational place other than on a school-associated field trip? Do your parents attend parent-teacher conferences?

"The students involved in the study were in the same grade," Ms. Childers said, "but were in different academic performance levels.

"The results show that those students in the highest academic level received more parental involvement that those in the lower levels," she said. "The biggest difference was in how many times the parents took their children to educational places to help further their interest and understanding in science, history, and the arts."

She also found that parents with children in the higher academic level attend parent-teacher conferences more often.

"This is good information, but it's just a beginning," Ms. Childers said. "There needs to be much more research on the subject."

A sociology major at Longwood with a minor in business administration, Ms. Childers plans a career in "the social services, working with young people who may be experiencing difficulties with family relationships or substance abuse."

She is married to Steve Childers and commutes to Longwood from their home in Victoria.

The Southern Sociological Society has some 3,000 members, including professional sociologists and educators from all 50 states and several foreign countries.

Bingo

The Longwood Ambassadors are sponsoring Bingo Wednesday, April 29 form 8 to 10 p.m. in the Red, White, and Green room.

For just 50 cents a card, players can win big money. There is no cover charge. You can buy as many cards as you wish for each game. With 50 percent of the pot going to the winner or winners of each game and 50 percent going to charity, the more people who play the bigger the pay-off. So come out and win some big bucks while supporting a worthy cause.

Soviet to Lecture

Hampden-Sydney – Slav Karavansky was a journalist and mechanic in Odessa. He was arrested in the late 1940's by the KGB on charges of sedition and treason due to his membership in the Ukranian National Liberation Movement. Sentenced to 30 years in prison in Siberia, he served his entire sentence. His wife, Dr. Nina Strokata, served six years for protesting his imprisonment. He and his wife emigrated to the U.S. in 1979. Karavansky is now a free-lance writer based in Columbia, Maryland. He lectures occasionally on the subject of Human Rights in the Soviet Union and reads from his Tales of Imprisonment.

Mr. Karavansky will lecture at Hampden-Sydney April 4, 1989 at 7 p.m. in Parents and Friends Lounge. The event is sponsored by the Hampden-Sydney Chapter of Amnesty International.

NEWS

Housing Information:

News You Can Use

GENERAL INFORMATION
Roommates/Suitemates

1. You may sign up your prospective roommate(s) and suitemates without their being present, provided you have her/his Housing Assignment Card and ID. The lowest lottery number among the roommates may be used for the Room Selection Process. IF YOU ALLOW SOMEONE ELSE TO SIGN UP FOR YOU, REMEMBER THAT YOU HAVE TO LIVE WITH HER/HIS DECISION.

2. New transfer, former returning, and new freshmen students may be signed up as roommates under the following conditions:

(a.) They can be added to a room creating a voluntarily expanded room; in doing so, current students could select a room using class standing and lottery number. All persons would be eligible for a rent rebate after six weeks fall semester.

(b.) The current resident student can select a room with a new or returning student after schedu.led room selection for currently enrolled students has been completed on April 20th. This must be done in the Housing Office.

3. ALL ROOMS MUST BE FILLED TO CAPACITY WHEN SELECTED AT IN-HALL SIGN-UP AND IN THE OUT-OF-HALL SIGN-UP. ONE STUDENT MAY SIGN UP A SUITE ON THE BASIS OF THE LOWEST NUMBER PROVIDED THE SUITE IS FILLED TO CAPACITY.

4. Students without roommates are responsible for finding the appropriate roommate(s) prior to selecting any double or triple room. Roommate Search Cards are available in the Housing Office. The Housing Office will assign rooms and roommates after the Selection Process, if necessary.

5. If a student's roommate withdraws at the end of the semester or chooses not to live in the originally assigned room, the Director of Housing must be notified at once. The student remaining in the room may be given the option of asking someone to move there or of moving with someone. The College reserves the right to make assignments when vacancies occur.

6. Those students who, for whatever reason, did not select a room on the appropriate dates and times must wait until April 24th to select a room.

7. If you should lose or misplace your Housing Assignment Card, a duplicate can be obtained only from the Housing Office.

MARCH 13 — APPLICATIONS FOR SINGLE ROOMS AND OFF-CAMPUS LOTTERY AVAILABLE IN THE HOUSING OFFICE. Roommate Search Surveys available in Housing Office.

MARCH 31 — APPLICATION FOR SINGLE ROOMS AND OFF-CAMPUS LOTTERY DUE IN THE HOUSING OFFICE BY 5:00 p.m.

APRIL 6 — ROOMMATE SEARCH SURVEYS DUE IN THE HOUSING OFFICE.

APRIL 6 — F. A. R. — CONFERENCE ROOM 2 AT 7:00 p.m.

APRIL 7 — SINGLE ROOM AND OFF-CAMPUS LOTTERY DECISION LETTERS TO BE MAILED

APRIL 10 — PRE-ARRANGED SIGN-UP SHEETS DUE TO HOUSING OFFICE BY NOON. Fraternity/Sorority, Special Interest, RA Roommates/Suitemates, Saved Floor (optional)

APRIL 17 — IN-RESIDENCE HALL ROOM SELECTION: 7:00 p.m. SAVED FLOORS by class and lottery number; 7:30 p.m. IN-HALL ONLY by class and lottery number; 8:00 p.m. IN-HALL WITH OUTSIDERS by class and lottery number.

APRIL 20 — CHANGE-OF-RESIDENCE HALL ROOM SELECTION — CONFERENCE ROOM 2 — LANKFORD HALL 7:00 p.m. RISING SENIORS by lottery number; 7:30 p.m. RISING JUNIORS by lottery number; 8:00 p.m. RISING SOPHOMORES by lottery number.

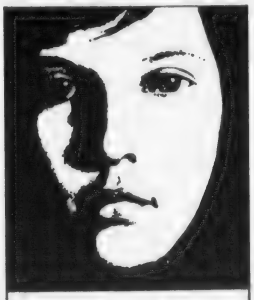
APRIL 24 — LATE ROOM SIGN-UP 10:00 a.m. HOUSING OFFICE, TABB HALL First come-first served.

NOTE: ANYONE LOOKING FOR A ROOMMATE, PLEASE COME BY THE HOUSING OFFICE AND COMPLETE A ROOMMATE SURVEY by April 6, 1989.

Photo by A. Bruce Gantt

Dr. Ward spoke last Tuesday night on the use of mathematical models in policy making and conflict resolution.

Dr. Etheridge To Give Lecture



Dr. Elizabeth Etheridge will discuss "the adventurous tourist" in a Longwood College Faculty Colloquium Lecture on Wednesday, March 29, at 7:30 p.m. in Wygal Auditorium.

The lecture, entitled "The Automobilist: The Adventurous Tourist in America, 1900-1920," is open to the public free of charge.

The lecture is based on research Dr. Etheridge has done for a new book, to be titled The Leveling of Leisure: Summer in America, 1870-1920.

Dr. Etheridge is professor of history at Longwood. She holds the A.B.J. degree in journalism from the University of Georgia and the M.A. degree in journalism from the University of Iowa. She returned to the University of Georgia to earn her Ph.D. degree in history.

She is the author of two books — The Butterfly Caste: A Social History of Pellagra in the South and The Neighborhood Mint: Dahlonega in the Age of Jackson.

— FREE —
PREGNANCY TEST

All services confidential.
Same day results.
116 N. MAIN STREET
SOUTHSIDE PREGNANCY CENTER
24-HOUR HOTLINE
392-8483

LAVA Sponsors Bowl-A-Thon

By THERESA PFLUGER

April 9th from 3:00 to 11:00 p.m. a BOWL-A-THON will take place in the Lancer bowling alleys for all interested. This event is sponsored by LAVA (LONGWOOD AGAINST VANDALISM ASSOCIATION). We are a fairly new organization which promotes vandalism awareness here on campus. For something different yet fun we would ask you to come on out on the last day of Spring Weekend and have fun with your friends.

A money prize will be awarded to the group who earns the most points. There are to be a group of four for each team and a cover charge of $1.00 per person. You can have as many teams as you want. It'll be fun! Wear your craziest bowling t-shirt. Please reply by March 29th. Replies should be sent to the following address: Theresa Pfluger Box 844.

We will let you know after your reply when you are scheduled to bowl. Please include the following information in the reply:

1. Names of players (4 to a group)
2. Your phone # or box #.
3. Time your group would like to bowl

Thanks for your support. Hope to see you Sunday!

DON'T DRINK & DRIVE!

DOMINO'S PIZZA

WE DELIVER!

Now Open Until 2 AM Thursday-Saturday.

VALUABLE COUPON

50¢ OFF ANY PIZZA

OFFER EXPIRES 4/9/89.

Students' Voices Must Be Heard, Not Railroaded

Last week a grass roots movement effectively blocked the construction of a second volleyball/oozeball pit next to the present one in front of Stubbs dormitory. Word got out that approval to dig a second pit was given without the input of some important campus groups like Student Government, and the Panhellenic Council. SGA President Drew Hudson immediately called Phyllis Mable to request that the digging be halted until there was more campus input.

Incidents such as this prove that these are new times at Longwood. Times that reflect a campus ready to take a more participatory stance in its day-to-day activities. No longer will a small minority railroad the rest of the campus with its ideas.

Apathy at Longwood has run very high in the past. The student body had let these small minorities make decisions for them, and though their ideas were admirable, they didn't always reflect the view of the campus. For this reason, failure instead of success prevailed.

The question of the latest controversy was one of maintaining valued grass space. The intramurals department with the backing the Oozeball Chair, Tim Hale, had valid arguments for a second volleyball pit, but for some reason they failed to understand that the campus belongs to all students, and just maybe this rather large group should have been consulted about the decision.

At the latest SGA meeting, a lengthy discussion concerning this controversy arose. Opposition was expressed from students and Panhellenic Council. A representative of the Ambassadors made it clear that his organization was not the driving force behind the new pit and their interest was limited to using the new pit for Oozeball, should it be dug. SGA did not vote on this issue, but decided to add it to the agenda of their open forum to be held tonight at 5:00, in the Virginia Room for possible resolution.

When projects that concern the campus as a whole are undertaken with limited input, those initiating the projects better beware of a backlash of public opinion that, in effect, may cancel them out. Longwood is no longer a place where the few will set the agenda for the many, but a place where the many will be heard.

Welcome To Lawnwood?

The administration of Longwood have made many constructive changes to the school, such as the new plaza, since the 1989-90 academic year began, but their latest effort was clearly done in haste and is clearly a big mistake.

The new furniture in the Rotunda, which seems better suited for someone's backyard, is not only unappealing but offensive to the aura of Longwood's proudest building. If this is what renovation means, then it must stop until someone comes up with a better plan.

The reasoning for the purchase of this "lawn" furniture such as its inexpensiveness and its ease of repair should it be vandalized, is as out of place as the furniture itself. This new furniture, it is claimed, is only temporary and part of a bigger plan. That's about as comforting as the chairs themselves — not very.

The furniture that was there before had a long history at Longwood, and before its removal, it seemed in to be in pretty good shape. Any new furniture should at least complement the Rotunda rather than detract from it, right?

It seems that the only course of action is to remove this so-called temporary "lawn" furniture and donate it to the Longwood Players for future use as props, or simply export it

(Continued on page 5)

NOTICE:

SGA OPEN FORUM

TUESDAY, MARCH 28
5:00 P.M.
IN THE VIRGINIA ROOM

Rick Hurley will be present to address student concerns dealing with future campus structural changes and Longwood's parking problem.

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
Matt Peterman

Managing Editor
R. Bruce Gantt

Features Editor
Cheryl Jeffrey

Greek Affairs Editor
Chet Ahn

Photography Editor
Emily Howell

Sports Editor
Lindy Seymore

Business Manager
Tim Oliva

Advertising Managers
Steve Evans
Susan Miller

Layout Assistant
Monica Gilbert

Faculty Advisor
William C. Wood

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be typed or printed neatly, state the author's years, and major as applicable.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 392-7817.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Sports Coverage Lacking, Hoke Curry Attacking

Dear Editor,

I am concerned about the lack of coverage afforded the Longwood athletic teams this year. I know you will not print this letter because you did not print either of the letters from the soccer and gymnastics teams regarding your lack of coverage, but I would like a response.

I have no ax to grind in this. We send you articles on all the Longwood teams each week and whether you print them or not, we have done our job. The Longwood student-athletes, however, are not getting a fair shake when their exploits are left out of the student newspaper week after week after week.

Thus far, in the spring, you have not printed a single baseball game story or write-up. Longwood students might like to know that their baseball team has an 11-4 record and has home games coming up this week Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. This is just one example. Coverage of all sports has been lacking at one time or another during the year.

Lack of space is the problem you say. I say what is The Rotunda? If it's the student newspaper, shouldn't there be a priority on getting in news about Longwood students? Your thoughts on the national political scene and canned articles from CPS would seem to me to be secondary to news about Longwood students.

I might also suggest putting quarter page ads (e.g. ROTC) on a quarter page rather than a half. If all else fails, how about a sports round-up with one or two paragraphs on each sport rather than long articles on some sports and none on others.

I know that you have an often thankless job, because I have worked on a newspaper myself. On balance, this year's Rotunda staff has done an excellent job in most areas. Sports coverage, however, has been lacking.

Thank you for your time.

Hoke Currie
Longwood Sports Information

Editor's Note: Because the Letter To The Editor, "Sports Coverage Lacking, Hoke Curry Attacking," includes many half-truths and accusations, I thought it necessary to clarify them and defend the position of The Rotunda.

Dear Hoke:

Your letter was printed because you signed your name to it. The Letter to the Editor from a member supposedly representing the gymnastics team was rejected for that person did not sign the letter. Without the identity of the author, I could not take the chance of offending the Gymnastics team, with a letter that may or may not have been written by their representative. The letter concerning the Soccer team was not a Letter to the Editor, but a personal letter addressed to the Sports Editor, and thus, did not qualify as a Letter to the Editor, since this was not the intent of its author.

Your assertion about the paper "not (printing) a single baseball game story or write up," is incorrect: On February 21, 1989, The Rotunda devoted one-half of the sports page to this very subject. On March 14, 1989, the Player of the Week focused on two baseball players and in the article, located in the News section, recognized Longwood's win over The Citadel.

Once again I will tell you, and this time I hope you believe me, that lack of space is a problem just like it was the last time I told you. You are correct in saying that news about Longwood students should receive priority, and I try to keep to this, but I feel that one article each week concerning issues beyond Longwood is necessary. You feel that the opportunity cost of doing this is too high, but on the contrary, I feel it is too great not to do this.

The ROTC ads are not quarter page ads. The Army pays for the entire half page and just because the ads are not boxed in with lines to trap the white space, does not mean that the staff decided to Lawnwood?

(Continued from page 4)

from the campus completely, for it would seem that its presence outside would be equally detracting. Any further renovations that are about to begin should be halted immediately, because if this furniture is any indication of what is planned, then we need a new plan, one that is better suited for a building of the 1890's instead of one of the 1990's.

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

START YOUR CLIMB
TO CAREER SUCCESS THIS SUMMER.

Apply now for six weeks of Army ROTC leadership training. With pay, without obligation.

You'll develop the discipline, confidence, and decisiveness it takes to succeed in any career. And you'll qualify to earn Army officer credentials while you're completing your college studies.

ARMY ROTC
TWO-YEAR PROGRAM

THE SMARTEST COLLEGE COURSE YOU CAN TAKE.

Contact CPT DeWitt 392-9259/9348

SPORTS

Longwood Places 6th

By ROBIN HUNNICUTT

Longwood's women's golf team, 1987 and 1988 National Golf Coaches Association Division II champ, shot a 330-325-336-991 to finish in sixth place at the Peggy Kirk Bell Invitational last Monday and Tuesday at Timacuan Golf and Country Club in Lake Mary, Florida (near Orlando).

The Lady Lancers will be traveling to Durham, North Carolina for the 54-hole Duke Spring Invitational Friday through Sunday.

Thirteen teams, mostly Division I, competed in the tournament with San Diego State taking the victory. The Aztecs shot a 307-311-317-935 to defeat second place Missouri by seventeen strokes. The individual medalist was Betina Walker of Rollins who shot 72-71- 78-221.

Longwood's top finisher was Daphne Sole who carded 80-77-80-237 for ninth place. Ashley Warren shot 242 for 16th place. Rounding out the Lady Lancer team were Ami Schonauer at 251, Sherri Evans 262 and Angie Monro 277.

Kim Poirier, competing as an individual, finished at 270.

YOU QUALIFY FOR INSTANT CREDIT!

Start making credit purchases IMMEDIATELY! We will send you a Members Credit Card at once with NO CREDIT CHECK. Buy any Jewelry, Clothing, Sporting Goods, Watches, Electronics & MORE! All with installment payments out of our "Giant 100+ Pages Catalog." Take 12 months to repay. Your personal credit card is a -second I.D.- valuable for check cashing, etc. plus your Students Credit Group A-1 reference will be on file to help you obtain other credit cards. So send in your $5 catalog deposit now. (refundable with your first order)

Establish your credit Today!
100% Satisfaction Guaranteed (or your Money Back)

Name _____
Address _____ City _____
State _____ Zip _____

MEMBERS Students CREDIT GROUP
P.O. BOX 4649 FORT LAUDERDALE, FLORIDA 33338

Tennis Team

By JIM LONG

The Longwood women's tennis team had its Thursday match at Randolph-Macon postponed due to rain and heads into this week's action with a match at home Tuesday against Virginia Wesleyan, and at home Thursday against Virginia Commonwealth. Both are scheduled for 3:30.

The team has had good performances in singles and in doubles this far with a 3-5 record. No. 4 junior Laura Vollrath is sporting a 5-3 record in singles play, while junior Linda Swe is 4-3 as No. 5. Sophomore Heather Leach was 2-1 this spring before being injured after the team's third match.

Senior Lynda Chenoweth and sophomore Natalie Taylor were Longwood's top performers as the Lancers concluded the 1988-89 season in the Virginia State Meet Saturday at William & Mary.

Chenoweth was Longwood's top all-around with a 35.2 as the Division II Lancers (167.60) finished fourth behind Division I's William & Mary (184.20), James Madison (180.60) and Radford (178.65). Longwood's team score was its second best of the season.

Chenoweth's all-around score, a personal best, was good for 10th place out of more than 25 competitors. The Longwood senior also placed 8th on beam with an 8.8 and 13th on bars with an 8.9, Longwood's best bars score of the year.

"I was glad to see Lynda finish her career on a high note," said Longwood coach Ruth Budd. "She was really steady. She went out strong."

Lacrosse Team Falls to Roanoke

By LINDA BAKER

The Longwood women's lacrosse team traveled to Salem, Virginia last Thursday for its first away contest, falling to Roanoke College 16-5. The loss brings the Lady Lancer record to 0-3.

Longwood will be going for its first win of the season Thursday against Division I Georgetown University. Game time is 4:30 at First Avenue Field.

Longwood knew from its arrival at Roanoke that the weather would play a big part in the outcome of the game. The rain poured from the warm-ups to the final horn, making passing and scoring difficult for the Lady Lancers. Roanoke led 9-2 at the half.

The Lady Lancers added three more goals in the second half, but could not handle the offensive attack on their own goal. Roanoke took 22 shots and went on to win the game, 16-5. Leading the scoring drive for Longwood was Rashel Hammond with two goals and one assist. Coach Sue Finnie was pleased with Hammond's impressive offensive contribution, naming her offensive player of the game.

Ellen Binswanger, who has scored in every game of the season, continued her scoring streak with one goal. Lara Cini, who was just activated from injured reserve, scored also. Junior Judy Flanagan had one goal and was praised by Coach Finnie for her excellent defensive play. "Judy did a good job stifling Roanoke's top offensive players," stated Finnie. Flanagan was named defensive player of the game.

Coach Finnie was not disappointed with the loss, saying, "Roanoke is a good team. They have a few All-Americans and they went to the NCAA Tournament last year."

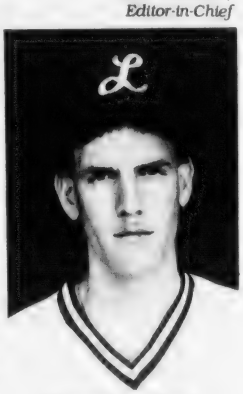
Player of the Week

Longwood freshman pitcher Buddy Williams has been named Longwood College Player of the Week for the period March 19-26, after tossing a five-inning no-hitter against St. Paul's Sunday. Player of the Week is chosen by the Longwood Sports Information Office.

Williams, a graduate of Meadowood Christian School in Richmond, gave up three walks and struck out six as Longwood, now 14-5, took a 16-0 victory over visiting St. Paul's. He allowed just three runners to reach base while tossing the fifth no-hitter in Lancer baseball history.

Now 1-0 with an earned run average of 0.00 for 7.3 innings of work, Williams has the potential to be a standout hurler for the Lancers. A physical education major, he played baseball, soccer and basketball in his prep career at Meadowood. On the mound, he had a 10-2 record in his senior season.

Editor's Note



(Continued From Page 5)

fill random space. Those who advertise receive only the space that they pay for — no more.

Your point concerning "one or two paragraphs on each sport" is a good one and I have tried this technique. To my surprise, students, such as the gymnastics team, were angry that the stories were abbreviated. No one is happy with the "round up" approach and no one is happy with the lengthy story approach — a real dilemma.

The Rotunda does appreciate the support that you give the paper and we hope this will continue. If it were not for the Sports Information Office, those individuals involved in Longwood sports, may go unrecognized be it in The Rotunda, The Farmville Herald, the Richmond papers, or other colleges in which you send information.*

Matt Peterman,
Editor-in-Chief

Player of the Week
Buddy Williams

Baseball Now 14-5 After Sunday's Win

Longwood won three of four games last week in baseball to improve its record to 14-5 as freshman pitcher Buddy Williams tossed a five-inning no-hitter Sunday in a 16-0 victory over St. Paul's.

With 13 wins in its last 15 games, Longwood plays at Liberty Monday, hosts Virginia State for two Wednesday at 1:00, visits Richmond for a 3:00 game Friday, plays at Maryland Eastern Shore Saturday for two, and at St. Paul's Sunday for two.

Last week the Lancers split with Lock Haven Wednesday, winning 6-1 and losing the second contest 9-5 in nine innings. Games with Bridgewater Thursday and Hamilton Friday and Saturday were rained out and will not be re-scheduled. Sunday, Longwood took two from St. Paul's 16-0 and 12-2. Both games were called after five innings on the 10-run rule.

Williams, a righthander from Meadowood Christian, allowed just three runners to reach base (on walks) while striking out six in the opener. His no-hitter is the sixth in Longwood's 1-year baseball history.

Benefitting from five St. Paul's errors, Longwood scored 10 runs in a wild first inning which saw 15 batters go up to the plate. The Lancers also scored three in the third and three in the fourth.

Leading LC's 11-hit attack were Mark Moeller with three hits and four RBI, Robbie Smith with two hits and three RBI, and Bill Conroy and Greylin Rice with two hits each.

Tim Patrick shut down the Tigers (0-5) in the second game. The lefthander struck out seven, gave up four hits and two unearned runs, and ran his record to 2-0. Smith had a pair of hits and Mike Lauffer drove in two runs. St. Paul's pitcher Clarence Tennell issued 10 walks, aiding the Lancer cause.

For the day Lancer second baseman Pete Criscione drew six walks, scored six runs and stole three bases in three attempts.

Hitting .327 as a team, Longwood is averaging 7.8 runs per game. Top hitters are Moeller (.480, 19 RBI), Smith (.441, 18 RBI) and Criscione (.321, 19 RBI). Freshman Chris Cherry is hitting .478 in 10 games and Eric Hutzler .400

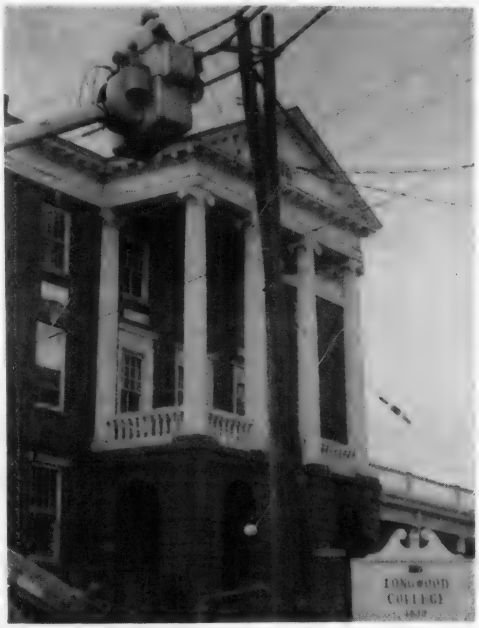
Longwood pitchers are giving up just 3.46 earned runs per game thus far, a record pace. Top Lancer hurlers Matt Carlisle, E. J. Bryant and Dennis Hale have a combined won-loss record of 8.1. Carlisle sports an E. R. A. of 0.76 while Bryant has an earned run average of 2.14.

The Rotunda

1839 LONGWOOD COLLEGE 1989

"Catching Sight of Longwood from atop the Sesquicentennial Mount"

VOL. 68 NO. 20 APRIL 4, 1989 FARMVILLE, VA



SGA Votes For Second Court

At their last meeting on March 30, Longwood's Student Government Association ended a two week investigation and hours of deliberation concerning the controversial volleyball court proposed to be built to the left (facing Stubbs) of the exsisting court on Stubbs Lawn.

Leah payne, President of Panhellenic Council led the opposition and was present along with approximately 20 other individuals to voice their concerns.

Mike Kinzel, acting as an independent volleyball playing student came to explain plans for the proposed court. To clear matters up, SGA found out the courts are not sponsored by the Intramural Department at Longwood nor

(Continued on Page 3)

VEPCO replaces a telephone pole in front of French Dormitory on Friday. According to officials on the scene, this was unrelated to the new communications systems coming to Longwood. VEPCO routinely replaces its poles every 30 years.

Lankford Lots To Close Next Monday

By BETH A. LORD

Students should be prepared for some parking changes after Spring Weekend. Due to the construction of the new library, the Lankford lot will need to be vacated before the morning of Monday, April 10. Cars can be moved to the lot designated for student parking behind Little Caesar's Pizza on Vernon Street. This change, among others, was proposed by the Parking Advisory Committee, made up of both administrators and students and appointed by Dr. Dorrill last spring.

Notices informing students that all cars need to be moved from the Lankford lot will be circulated in the dorms and on campus on Sunday, April 9. On the morning of the 10th, construction equipment will be moved onto the lot, which is the site of the new library. During that week, a fence will be built around the entire construction area. The ground-breaking ceremony is scheduled for April 17, with actual digging beginning on the 18th. The closing of this lot will result in the loss of 130 parking spaces.

The Little Caesar's lot, with 176 spaces, has been leased by the college for five years. Students have expressed security concerns due to the fact that this is an off-campus parking lot. In response to this, the college will make sure that the area is well-lighted, secured with gates and barbed wire fencing, and patrolled by the police. By this fall, a video camera will be installed for surveillance. The town of Farmville is planning to extend the sidewalk from Little Caesar's to the corner so students will not have to walk in the street. This lot is designated only as "student parking" and is not restricted to either resident students or commuter students.

Mr. Rick Hurley, chairman of the Parking Advisory Committee, encourages students to be patient with the administration while these changes are taking place. "Whenever parking changes are made and problems surface, adjustments should be made until such time as a good balance in the distribution of parking spaces is achieved. "By this fall, a new lot south of Lancer should be completed, and the lot in front of the Wynne building will be enlarged.

Many Events Planned To Coincide With Drug Awareness Week

Longwood College President William Dorrill today officially proclaimed April 3-7, 1989 as "Drug Awareness Week." Student-run activities will be held on the local campus, supported by faculty and administration. This week is an attempt to further develop students decision-making skills and positive peer influence.

"Drug Awareness Week at Longwood initiates a year round emphasis on drug and alcohol education and recognition of the individual's ultimate responsibility for decisions regarding use or non-use of these substances," said President Dorrill. "It is in the best interest of students, faculty, administrators and the community that such decision-making be responsible, legal, and well-informed. In addition, we want to encourage a partnership to prevent campus problems associated with substance misuse and abuse."

Our local "Drug Awareness Week" will include a variety of activities.

April 4, 1989, 7:00 p.m. Tuesday — "Mock-Trial." Wygal Auditorium. Live: Town of Farmville's own Judge William Hay, Presiding; Commonwealth of Virginia Attorney W. F. Watkins, prosecuting; Tom Harrison, Senior Class President and Ricky Otey, past S.G.A. President, Defendants.

Come witness exactly how a DUI case is tried, prosecuted, defended, and resolved. Remember: "Ignorance is no excuse."

April 5, 1989, 7:00 p.m. Wednesday — "Mock-Hearing." Gold Room, Lankford. Live: The Longwood College Judicial Board will try a drug related case (jurisdiction for which could result in suspension or dismissal).

April 6, 1989, TBA Thursday — Special Discussion. Sponsored and hosted by Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity.

Students who are recovering drug users will share their story — of drugs and of Longwood and how to deal with both.

7:00 p.m. Thursday — V.A.R.Y. Workshop. Continuing Studies Conference Room. Sponsored by Joe McGill, Director of Student Services.

A very special drug and alcohol education program for anyone focusing on (V)alues.

(Continued on Page 3)

Spring Music Festival Premieres April 16th

Once every year, Oktoberfest and Spring Weekend are counted as the two biggest single events to hit Longwood each year. However, this year comes a new event that Student Union hopes will become an annual affair. It is the Spring Music Festival which will premiere the week following Spring Weekend on Sunday April 16 from 12-9 p.m.

The festival will feature 3 to 4 bands each year. This year four bands will be featured, all of which will play on Lankford Mall. There is no admission charge and in the event of severe inclement weather it will be held in Lancer Hall.

They are:

New Potato Caboose
Skulltones
Jellyfish Blues
Tweed Sneakers

New Potato Caboose is a popular 60's Classics band that plays all over the East Coast. They have recently re-

(continued on page 2)

Contents

News..... 2, 3, 4
Features..... 5, 9
Editorial and Letters..... 6, 7
Sports..... 10, 11
Spring Weekend Schedule..... 12

NEWS

Student Voices

What do you think of the new furniture in the Rotunda?

It totally clashes with the atmosphere and it leaves one trying to decide whether or not to pull down the curtains and go lay on the beach.

—Derwin Hayes

I don't like it. I think it looks very cheap and I think they could have spent our money on better furniture.

—Toni Taylor

I don't think it belongs there. I think it belongs in a garden somewhere, preferably not one on campus. I want the old chairs back.

—Carl Schieber

I think it would be more suitable for a McDonald's children playland.

—Judy Flanagan

I don't particularly care for it. It doesn't match the atmosphere of the Rotunda.

—Brian Beamer

It looks like it belongs on someone's patio, not in the Rotunda.

—Nichole Jesser

Sigma Phi Epsilon Initiates Many Projects

The Brothers of Sigma Phi Epsilon, long renown for their social exploits, have been busy this semester creating a new image with a variety of service projects for the Longwood and Farmville community. The local projects include cleaning the roof-top areas of the Commons room and the ledges of Curry and Frazier residence halls; volunteering time at the Weyanoke Inn retirement home and Elder Care nursing home; and bagging groceries for the needy at the community "Food Bank".

In a joint effort with the International Studies program at Longwood, the ZTA's and SPE fraternity are bringing Maryland's U.S. Senator Paul Sarbanes to campus on April 26 for a lecture on Latin American politics. Sarbanes is a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and will chair that committee next year. He has recently completed a trip to Latin America.

The Brothers are also sponsoring a nine-year-old boy named David Managwa from Kenya. This sponsorship is arranged through an international program known as the Foster Parents Organization. We feel that our monthly donations are noteworthy because of the tragic problems of overpopulation and starvation in East Africa. By sponsoring this young man we can help in a small way to alleviate some of the suffering in this area of the world.

DAVID MANAGWA

Serial Novelist To Revist

A lot of good things have happened to Eric Kraft since his first visit to Longwood College in April of 1987. He will come back to Longwood on April 4 to talk about recent events in his life and to read from his latest novel-in-progress.

Kraft, who lives in Boston, is the author of a critically acclaimed serial novel, The Personal History, Adventures, Experiences & Observations of Peter Leroy, and of Herb 'n' Lorna, apin-off "biography" of Peter Leroy's maternal grandparents, two delightful people whose artistic talents find outlet in creating "coarse goods" or erotic jewelry.

Kraft, who is 43, said he was "enormously flattered" when he learned that students at a college were studying the Peter Leroy leased their first album.

(Continued on page 7)

Music Festival

(Continued from Page 1)

The Skulltones are a UVA based band that have played for fraternities here and at Hampden-Sydney. They play a variety of, though not exclusively, progressive type music.

The Jellyfish are from JMU and have recently released a regional album. They play music from the 60's, classics, blues, and originals.

Tweed Sneakers are also from JMU. They feature progressive oriented music in which they have titled "high energy dance music."

McDonalds and RWS enterprises (Gold Card) are helping to sponsor the event.

ARA is providing hospitality for the bands and they have agreed to serve dinner on the mall.

Perini's ITALIAN RESTAURANT

- Pizzas
- Pasta
- Salads
- Pork B-B-Q
- Daily Lunch Specials
- Sandwiches
- Tacos
- Stuffed Potatoes
- Ice Cream
- ABC-On

HIGH STREET, FARMVILLE, VA.
PHONE 392-5865

LONGWOOD COLLEGE BOOKSTORE

HOURS 8-5 MON.-FRI.
ALSO OPEN SATURDAY 9-1
DURING SPRING WEEKEND.

TRADE BOOK SALE

20% DISCOUNT

ALL HARDBACKS IN STORE
- BEST SELLERS
- FICTION
- NONFICTION/CHILDREN LIT

PHONE 392-9240
Good Thru 4/8/89.

NEWS

Countdown To Class Officer Elections

By MOHAMMAD N. STWODAH

SGA will be holding their election Tuesday April 18, and Wednesday April 19 for CLASS OFFICERS of the 1989-1990 academic year. Applications for the elections will be available by Wednesday April 5 at the information desk, in Lankford Building. Applications must be in by Friday, April 14.

It takes a lot of work to become a leader and stay one. The best way to start becoming a leader or staying a leader at Longwood is through involvements with different organizations. SGA is an organization that is made up of leaders. SGA (student government assoc.) is a self explanatory organization, as far as what we do. WE are the people who deal with issues that are for the benefit of the Longwood students; WE ARE FOR THE STUDENTS.

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

THURSDAY, APRIL 27	READING DAY	Exams for Thursday night classes 7-10 p.m. and Conflict period
FRIDAY, APRIL 28		9-12: English 051, 100, 101 Conflicts 2-5: TR 8:30 7-10: TR 3:55
SATURDAY, APRIL 29		9-12: TR 11:20 2-5: TR 9:55 7-10: MWF 12:30
MONDAY, MAY 1		9-12: MWF 10:30 2-5: MWF 11:30 7-10: MWF 2:30 & Monday night classes
TUESDAY, MAY 2		9-12: MWF 9:30 2-5: MWF 8:30 7-10: MWF 3:30 & Tuesday night classes
WEDNESDAY, MAY 3		9-12: TR 2:30 2-5: MWF 1:30 7-10: MWF 4:30 & Wednesday night classes

Drug

(Continued from Page 1)

(A)buse, (R)esponsibility, and (Y)ou.

"Your Program Here." — Contact Student Services.

Each program is aimed at prevention through education and specifically focuses on individual responsibility in connection with the use, misuse, or abuse of drug and alcohol. All are welcome.

— FREE —
PREGNANCY TEST

All services confidential.
Same day results.

116 N. MAIN STREET
SOUTHSIDE PREGNANCY CENTER

24-HOUR HOTLINE
392-8483

SGA Votes

(Continued from Page 1)

the Longwood Ambassadors. Plans for the court were proposed by Mike Kinzel representing many students who saw a need for an extra court. Funding for the court is minimal since the digging will be done by Longwood's physical plant and the sand is provided free of charge.

After much deliberation during the meetings the Student Government Association voted in favor of the court, and recommended that it be built in a mannerism not affecting Geist and Oktoberfest: as well as other activities that occur on the mall. SGA Senate also compiled a committee which would work with the construction of the mall in order to maximize its attractiveness.

It was the consensus of the senate that this volleyball court could enhance student life here through its use, and since there was already an existing court there, another one would be okay if located directly next to it. The senate does feel however, two courts are enough, and the remaining sections of the mall should beleft untouched.

President Drew Hudson and Greek Council Representative Rocco Tricarico, abstained from the vote.

Student Will Do Research At Los Alamos

By BETTY BRYANT

Kim walker will spend the summer in New Mexico, but she won't be at a dude ranch or Indian pueblo.

Ms. Walker, who is a mathematics and physics major at Longwood College, will be working full-time from mid-May to mid-August in the theoretical electronics division at Los Alamos National Laboratory. The facility is located in the mountains northwest of Santa Fe.

Ms. Walker is the first Longwood student to apply for a summer position at Los Alamos. "I got in on the first try," she said. "Actually, I had a choice between two positions there. I still can't believe it."

After two telephone conversations with scientists at Los Alamos, she chose the electronics research. "I'm not sure exactly what I will be doing," she said, "but the possibilities sound great."

Monthly Payment Plan Deadline

Deadline for signing up for the Monthly Payment Plan for the fall semester 1989/1990, is May 20, 1989. Applications can be obtained from Fran Wilmoth in the Treasurer's office between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Many students and parents have found paying school expenses on a monthly basis an attractive alternative. The plan is available to any full time student.

Should you have questions about the plan, contact Fran Wilmoth at 392-9271.

ISP Update

By MICHELLE HUMMER

The International Studies Program will host a slide presentation by Dr. Patton Lockwood on Life in Tamil — Nadu on Tuesday, April 11 at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Lockwood, a Professor of Visual and Performing Arts, will share his slides of Sri Lanks, India. Having grown up in India, Dr. Lockwood will most likely have interesting stories and anectdotes to accompany the slides. The presentation will be held in the Virginia Room and refreshments will be served afterwards.

The International Studies Program will present Holland and The U. S. — 18th Century Friends, Allied in 20th Century NATO on Tuesday, April 4 at 7:30 p.m. in the Prince Edward Room. The lecture will be held by Rear Admiral J. Steven Tichelman, the Naval and Defense Attache for the Dutch Embassy in Washington, D. C. Tichelman is currently working with NATO and will come to Longwood to speak to students and faculty on the role of the United States and Holland in NATO. The presentation will consist of a slide show on Holland, a discussion of NATO, and finally a 16mm film on NATO and Dutch forces. J. Steven Tichelman is the uncle of a Longwood College senior, Astrid Tichelman, who is a part of the work study program for the International Studies Program.

FAMILY POPES CENTERS

Azaleas... $1.88 EA.

Ladies Tanktops
$2.97 EA.

Snack Pack Cooler
7 QT.
(HOLDS 9 CANS)
$7.97 EA.

LOCATED IN THE FARMVILLE SHOPPING CENTER
PHONE 392-9020

NEWS

Longwood No Exception To The Temptation of Plastic Money

By J.M. RUBIN

(CPS) — American Express, known as a company for business executives and yuppies, unveiled a plan in mid-March to woo college undergrads.

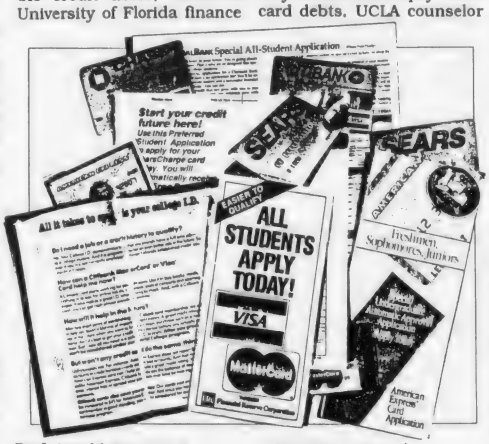
With bait like cheap airline fares and magazine subscriptions, the huge financial services firm says it will start trying to tempt students at the 1,000 biggest campuses in the country to carry its credit card.

The move is emblematic of a larger trend, various consumer advocates say, of students being able to get credit more easily during the last three years.

And many of the consumer advocates don't think the credit card companies' new invasion of American campuses is a very good idea.

"(Students) are acquiring credit at a time when they are poorly suited to use it wisely," said Mike Heffer of Consumer Action, a San Francisco lobbying group, when told of the new American Express effort.

"Credit cards got me into financial trouble," agreed University of Houston senior Scott Fox. "I charged too much, and didn't have the money to pay for (it). I am in the process of paying them off now."



But the student market "is the right place to be now" to sell credit, said Celine Gallo of American Express (Amex), adding undergrads probably will prove a good source of business for the company in the future.

"It's important to start early with people who will be better earners," she said, noting students are just starting to form brand loyalties. The credit card companies make their money by claiming three-to-seven percent of each purchase made with their cards, and by charging customers interest on the unpa interest on their bills.

As anyone who's had a brochure slipped into bookstore purchases or seen booths set up at student unions can attest, American Express' ambitious new effort is only the most recent foray onto campuses for credit card companies, which until just a few years ago considered students as risky and probably incapable of repaying loans regularly.

For example, Bank of America, which owns a big part of VISA, began aggressively marketing to students in 1986 when, B of A spokeswoman Susan Clevenger said, students "became more responsible.'

Of course, there was nothing magical that happened in 1986 that suddenly changed students into more responsible credit users, observed University of Florida finance

Prof. Arnold Heggestad.

The answer to why credit card companies abruptly decided they wanted to start signing up students had more to do with demographics — there are fewer credit-worthy adults to be wooed these days — and the economy, he said.

"If the economy is strong," Heggestad noted, "it's a safe bet seniors will get jobs when they graduate."

"And to be futuristic for a moment," he added, "10 years from now the paper society — checks — will be gone. The companies that can put their plastic in people's pockets will be the big winners. The college market is more receptive to change, so they may be the best group to grow into."

"Their purpose," Consumer Action's Heffer believes, "is to create a population of adults tuned into the credit world."

So Citicorp in New York, which started asking students to carry credit cards in the mid-eighties, has issued about 1.5 million VISAs to students, a company spokesman reported.

By contrast, "only" some 500,000 students carry American Express cards now. To catch up to VISA and MasterCard, "we're proposing an integrated marketing program that includes the cards, along with benefits and services tailored to the needs of students," Gallo said.

Students "accepted" by Amex get a $600 credit limit.

Some students and campus advisers, however, wonder if it's a good thing for students.

Thirty-five percent of the students who asked University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA) for extra financial aid from 1986 to 1988 said they needed it to repay credit card debts, UCLA counselor John Hoyt said.

Iowa State University financial counselor Ann Swift said she's seen an increase in the number of students suffering from high credit card debts in recent years, and that some contemplate bankruptcy.

"Only 40 percent of credit card holders nationally pay their monthly bill. The other 60 percent have an average monthly balance of $1,600," said Swift.

Credit card abuse has become so common that the University of Southern Maine holds a session about students and credit cards at its freshman orientation. Indiana University of Houston senior Richelle Williams said, "I was always in the hole. I cut (the cards) up, and kept paying on them to get my financial situation together."

The credit card companies, of course, see their efforts differently.

"We're extending the notion of financial responsibility," contended Amex's Betsy Ludlow. "Students have needs for a financial instrument just like anyone."

Gallo maintained the Amex cards give students "less opportunity to overspend" because they're required to pay off their balances each month.

"I believe they are good in emergencies," Houston's Fox agreed.

Sandy Lee, a junior at the University of California at Santa Barbara, applied for a card "so that I can start to

(Continued on page 5)

Symphony At H. S.

Hampden-Sydney _ Composer Jonathan Green, Visiting Assistant Professor of Music at Hampden-Sydney College, will conduct the premiere performance of his Fourth Symphony as the featured work of An Evening of American Music for Chamber Orchestra, April 6, 1989 at 8 p.m. in Crawley Forum on the campus of Hampden-Sydney College.

Also featured on the program will be Elliot Carter's Elegy and Aaron Copland's Appalachian Spring. The chamber orchestra is composed of players drawn largely from the Richmond and Lynchburg Symphony Orchestras.

Jonathan Green studied composition at the University of Massachusetts with Robert Stern and Salvatore Macchial. His Symphony Number Four, which utilizes the same instrumentation as Copland's Appalachian Spring, is described as an amalgamation of 18th century counterpoint with elements of jazz. Formally, it is modelled after the Symphonies of Haydn. It is dedicated to his wife, Lynn Buck, in honor of their first wedding anniversary.

ROYAL PRESTIGE

9675 A MAIN ST., FAIRFAX, VA 22031, (703) 425-3600

$4,500 SUMMER INTERNSHIP

Royal Prestige is offering summer internships to Longwood students in the NO VA area who are self-motivated, enthusiastic and interested in learning more about marketing and management.

Guarenteed $4,500 income for a 12 week program. No experience necessary . Will train.

For further details, contact Nikki Fallis in the Office of Career Planning and Placement at 392- 9254.

Applications will be taken all day, April 6, in the New Smoker. Orientation meeting will be held at 7:00 p.m. that evening.

FEATURES

Personals

Do you have a positive self image? Good dating manners? Refined social skills? If you would like to earn more, please attend "Personal Etiquette" with Niki Fallis on Tuesday, April 4 at 3:30 p.m. 4th floor, South Cunningham. This program is part of the Cunningham's greatest lecture series.

SUE-MAE, — Thanks for making me laugh this entire semester! I'm looking forward to one more semester! I love you, roomie! — Manjela

Sister Joyce, — Thank you for being YOU! Love your — KΔ girls

To Ricky's Renagade — We're so proud of you. Good job!! — Love your cheerleaders 2nd Floor French

SVT & TLT — Congrads on your promotion to "Corporate Ball-Handler/Keeper Upper With." We couldn't do it without you. — Ricky's Renegades SAFE SEX Softball

Several Positions Available! — Special meeting for those students interested in working at Longwood this summer as a conference supervisor, operations assistant, desk aide, conference host/hostess or resident assistant.

Wednesday, April 5, 6:00-6:30 p.m. and/or 9:00-9:30 p.m. in Conference Room 2, Lankford Student Union.

The Kappa Delta's would like to sincerely thank the TKE's for letting us use their concession stand during the EU Concert last week. Thanks guys for your support!

To the future GYNECOLOGIST in biology class, need a study partner? — Waiting for you

S ... — Yeah You!! So where is Ziggy this week? Thanks for everything — Krinkles

To JT — Don't worry I won't let you thrist to death! — BABS

Sue, — 9 more days and counting to the big 20!!! You're a great roomie — get ready for spring weekend, youre birthday and a certain something (from someone!) — Love ya, Suz

Karen, — Good luck in your next Lacrosse game. Go get' em! — π Love your Suitemate

Christine, — Glad to see you agree with me about K-Mart!!! — Col

Traci Gardner, — Hope you had a terrific 22nd Birthday! — π Love, Col

Joyful, — Good luck in your next softball game. Hope I can make it to a home game. — π Love, Monie

"Swift," — Visit any cool "Schools" this weekend. I'm waiting for details! — π Love, Mone

Hey Craig! — How 'bout them caps? Had fun bumming out with you Saturday night. Hope to do it again, soon!' — Molly

Hey Zoo Crew! — What's shakin? and will y'all shake it for me? — Mo

To the 2nd Floor French Softball team: Let's DO IT! — Mo

Teddi, — I love you around the world and back again. Love — Ra Ra Ra Ra Ronda

Becky Perry — You are a great little sister! Have a great week, and remember that your Bis Sis loves you! — Zeta love and all mine, Ronda

Thanks to everyone who helped make the Geist Bloodmobile a success! It couldn't have happened without you. — Beth

Pea Head — Mowed any lawns lately? — your secret admirer

Sock Shaver — Place your tape recorder by the window and record. Remember, for the sake of prosperity have it down. Lest you need it for an extra kick. Beware of roving green men who are marked by a double letter M. — ON EDGE —

Hey Kinkles — Are there really Mack trucks in heaven? If so I'm dying to catch one. Mind betraying noises down the hall or the stalking flower chap will corner you for hours! — ON EDGE —

To The Edge — Cold fish never! You're too funny for that! Smile Boo Boo!!! — Krinkles.

Dear Sock Shaver — So how do you like those dedications!! Thanks for being a great roomie!! — Krinkles

Hey Gilligan — Thanks for playing our dedications! Don't forget the Dead Milkmen!! — A Friend of The Sock Shaver.

The Zoo crew has rocked ΣrX. We'll con't to rock all spring long. — Pud'n

Memories of Nags Head will last — Never forget that we are buddies! — Love Pu'kin

Hey Janet and Andrea — ΑΔπ Ball was a blast! Thanks for being such great sisters! Pi Love — your favorite Baby Pi!

Bear Beater A. K. A. OWEDGE — Thanks for being such a great friend. This summer you are on M-Street. So start dreaming of BOUNCERS. One day we will get to see U2. Remember we run to stand still. — Sock Shaver

S-Queen — Thank you for being such a good friend. Will you help me remember to save green M&M's? Thanks for listening to my progressive music. I'll listen to Randy with you sometime though. — Sock Shaver

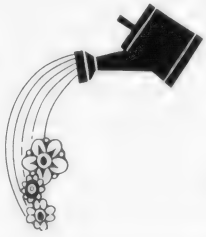
Hey Krinkles — Thanks for my message. My dog is what? Don't worry I'm saving my green M&M's. They go great with Kthud, Kthud, Kthud. The only other thing needed is my basement man. I'd sure like a lofty experience. — Sock Shaver

DON'T forget your EXIT INTERVIEW SESSION at 1:00 p.m. in the Conference Room (121) West Ruffner, on Wednesday, April 5, 1989.

This is mandatory before graduation or leaving Longwood, so if you cannot attend this session, please contact the Financial Aid Office to set up an appointment!!!

Bonnie B., — My future roomie! Have a great week. — Σ love and mine, Jenn

Tonya, (whoever you are) — You are a sick and disturbed person! Grow up and start telling the truth!



Jim, — This past weekend was the best ever! I love you with all my heart! Have a great week! Love always and forever — Jenn

Yearbook Sale
Don't Miss Out!
Only 500 available
$20.00
In the Yearbook Room.
Monday and Wednesday
8:30-11:30 a.m. Tuesday and Thursday 1:30-2:00 p.m.

Allyson, — The time is drawing to a close! Do you know your questions? Keep up the good work and keep a smile on your face. You're a wonderful little brother. — Darren

Tau Kappa Epsilon, — It's only 32 days until graduation. A time to look forward and to remember. As I look back, the last two and a half years hold some tremendous memories. I remember the ... the ... Come to think of it, I can't remember. I need another beer! Let's party out the year. — Darren

Jason, — We need to go putting again. Tee-off time is immediately following the putts. — Darren

Rick, — I'm gonna haze your ass Mr. Sensitivity. Thanks for being my friend. — Love, Suz

Ed and Sean (Mark too), — I promise to live by the Boys and Patrick Henry. Thanks for being there. — Love, Joey

Yo Julie, — Do we have to open tonight? Well, it's been real, too real. Have fun with Adrian. Have a good summer and be good. — Love, Suzanne

Hey Becky, — Guess what?! Joey f---ed up! But then again what else is new? Have a great week and enjoy Spring weekend. — Love, Joey

Sociology/Anthropology Club will be selling caricutures during Spring weekend.

GTH, — You should worry more about you and less about me. My life with T is happier than your miserable little life will ever be. — RT

Rebecca Jo, — Try really, really hard to remember who says "I do", it's Mike and NOT YOU! — RAT

RAT, — I still say that it's MINE. But I suppose we can talk about leases with options to buy. If so, consider it BOUGHT! I already owe you a dollar anyway, why I'm not sure but, hey ... ! — Love, TLT

P. S. Guess what?

Do you want one of those classic Longwood Budweiser shirts? They're only $10 and available on 3rd floor French.

Credit

(Continued from page 4)

build a credit rating."

Consumer Action's Heffner also thought the new credit card campaigns can help students get credit while they can.

"As soon as they graduate, it's harder to obtain a card even if the person is working," Heffner said.

Music And Dining On The Deck!!

COME SEE US DURING SPRING WEEKEND!

MACADOO'S
Restaurant and Delicatessan
200E. THIRD ST., FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA
392-8077

Time Will Tell On Parking Changes

Next Monday, the Lankford resident and day student lots are scheduled to be closed to let the Avis construction company begin the building of Longwood's new library.

Consequently, the last days of the 1989-90 academic school year are going to be perceived as a bit inconvenient for those resident students with cars on campus. They will be forced for the most part to park somewhere outside of the campus.

This small change lasting less than a month will pass quickly as will the 18 months it will take to complete the library. Complaints about the parking no doubt will be discounted as petty and unsubstantial, and justifiably so.

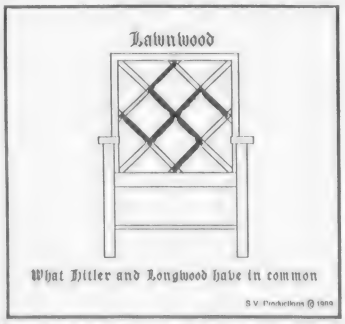
But, where the Parking Advisory Committee went wrong in its redistribution of spaces, was designating the lot behind Little Caesars for resident students. The elaborate plans to secure this area such as police monitored camera, emergency phones, lights, fences, and locking the fence at dusk would not even be necessary if these spaces were designated for day students.

As per their classification — day students, indicates, they come to Longwood during the day and leave during the day. This is ideal for the parking lot that becomes a security nightmare after the sun goes down not only because of the threat of cars being broken into, but more serious, students being assaulted.

This is not an issue of day students vs. resident students, but one centering around safety and the school's operating of a quasi impounding lot that unduly constricts the movement of resident students after dark.

It is encouraging that the concluding paragraph of the Parking Advisory Committee's report states that none of the changes should be viewed as permanent. It simply appears that their desire to have day students as close as possible to their classes, and subsequently when they leave at night, more parking spots for those visiting the campus for events, overrode the issue of what is in the best interests of the resident students.

Nothing is more important to the college community than the safety and well being of its students. And let's hope the present changes will go forward without a hitch, but with all changes, time will tell just how effective they will be.



Spills Are Unfortunate, But...

The clamor over the recent oil spill in Prince William Sound in Alaska has prompted many environmental groups to push Congress and the President to reevaluate their positions on further exploration of Alaska's North Slope, which would include the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge. So far, the President has resisted and if the Congress has the national interest in mind, they will too.

Currently, the North Slope produces about 2 million barrels of oil per day which equals about 25% of United States domestic supply. If this were to be curtailed and future exploration killed, the U.S. would need to turn more heavily to importing, which is dangerous because it makes the U.S. vulnerable to a repeat of the gas shortages of the seventies and the runaway inflation that arguably was a result.

The Exxon Valdez spilled approximately 10 million gallons of crude oil into Prince William Sound since human error grounded it on a well-marked reef. Exxon has been under fire for its slow clean-up effort which is a result of an unrealistic contingency plan. Exxon contends that the Coast Guard delayed them in their efforts, but whoever is to blame for what is really not the question here.

Oil spills like this one are unfortunate, but this is the risk the U.S. has to take for its rather large energy appetite. Until we as a nation find some substitute to oil that we can stomach, (nuclear power has the bad name as dangerous) then spills and their rather disastrous environmental effects are calculated risks.

This is the cartoon that was circulating last week in various part of the campus.

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
Matt Peterman

Managing Editor
R. Bruce Gantt

Features Editor
Monica Gilbert

Greek Affairs Editor
Chet Ahn

Photography Editor
Emily Howell

Sports Editor
Lindy Seymore

Business Manager
Tim Oliva

Advertising Managers
Steve Evans
Susan Miller

Layout Assistant
Cheryl Jeffrey

Faculty Advisor
William C. Wood

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be typed or printed neatly, state the author's years, and major as applicable.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 392-7817.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

We Must Move Forward Unified

Dear Editor:

I am writing to applaud your editorial and Stephanie Neely's article in the March 28 issue of The Rotunda.

Most of the recent attempts at "renovation" on campus seem still to reflect an old failure to plan and to see Longwood as a unified community, even though President Dorrill in his strategic planning particularly seems to want the parts of Longwood College to fit together as a whole.

Ideally, the physical symbols on our campus should reflect 150 years of growth, based in tradition, that have brought us through history to 1989. They also ought to foster a sense of respect for all students, rather than an acknowledgement of the tendency towards vandalism on the part of a few.

Instead, we have rustic benches in front of buildings that are traditional in architecture and lawn furniture in the most formal area of our campus.

I hope that restoration of the Rotunda will be a top priority in the near future, with the goal of focusing on this area as a symbol of the unified community of learning at Longwood.

When the administrative offices are moved, perhaps the offices of the President and the Vice-President of Academic Affairs could be placed on either side of the Rotunda, as a clear signal of what Longwood's first priorities are. The upper floors could possibly be used for seminar rooms, a small auditorium, classroom, and/or faculty offices.

Then most visitors' introduction to our college would be to leadership and academics. Not bad.

Martha E. Cook
Associate Professor of English

Let's Look At Today

Dear Editor,

In the past two years we have heard and read about the "Master Plan" of Longwood College. We have cheered such items as a new phone system, increased parking space, a new computer lab, ... etc...

However other items such as new dormitories and increased enrollment to 3500+ as well as the destruction of and expansion into adjacent neighborhoods are a cause for concern. I feel the College should address the important issues of quality living conditions, education, and a streamlined bureaucracy before expanding.

Longwood's computer system has failed to submit hall GPA's on time in the past few years, there are days in which the Fianancial Aid Office is unable to locate specific records, and Cashiering and Student Accounts repeatedly sends erroneous bills to students as well as keeping records on the computer in nonchronological as well as illogical order. I could go on and on about the SNAFU's at Longwood College (and other colleges and universities) but I just want to point out that there is much work to be done in the present and at this moment before looking into Longwood's future.

Dean Grubbs

Student Emotionally Defends Friend

Dear Editor:

After reading the article in last week's Rotunda, "Students Voices must be Heard not Railroaded," I feel compelled to write a reply. I totally agree with the headline and have stated so many times. The story that supports the headline, however, is filled with untrue statements.

The writer of this article, which was not signed, clearly did little if any research on the subject or the topic before making this bold statement. The issue of the new sand court is not a new topic. The idea was discussed several times last year. I feel the SGA Senate was correct in its vote last Thursday and should be commended for taking a strong stand on the facts not the false perceptions presented in last week's article.

Students' voices are important, very important. There is only one problem. No one can make students be concerned or interested. Students must be involved in the process, not just sit back and wait until the process is finished and then complain.

The statement that bothers me the most is that my former vice president Tim Hale was trying to go behind someone's back or that he was not interested in student concerns. If you don't know Tim Hale, read his statements in the front of your handbook. His statement clearly shows what kind of person Tim Hale is. Tim Hale has done more for Longwood than most anyone. Who do you think fought for more parking and actually got results? Who do you think led the election process that had tremendous student involvement? Who was it that argued for lower tuition and fees for students and got results? The answer is Tim Hale. The reason I bring this to your attention is because there are so few students that really go out of their way to defend students' rights and I don't like to see a good hard worker falsely accused. Tim Hale's record as a student leader and a student activist is one that can match anyone's. That's the facts.

If I could give the writer of that article some advice? I know catchy controversial headlines get results. In the future, however, don't make statements unless you have facts to support those statements. The Rotunda is not the place to discuss someone's character.

Respectfully submitted,
Ricky L. Otey

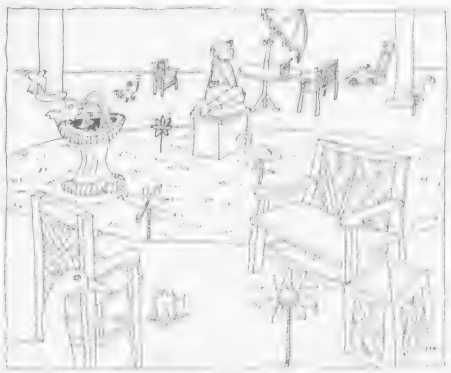
Ricky Otey is a past SGA President.

Administration Needs A Second Look At Restoration

Dear Editor,

I am writing this article in reaction to the "restoration" now being done in the school's Rotunda. As an historic preservation major, I am appalled at what the administration has let happen. First of all why not call the Rotunda by what it is – a dome, nothing more. A true Rotunda's arc should be able to touch ground level if an imaginary circle was drawn completely around. Our Rotunda would not even touch the third floor!

Secondly the "Rotunda" was built in 1905, not the mid 18th century as the furniture and draperies, now put in, would have us believe. What's wrong with 1905. Why try to trick the public and pass it off as something it is not?



The furniture, a poor imitation of Chippendale, (I assume), has no place there, and by the look of it, anywhere else. If they want an accurate portrayal of the school and the "Rotunda", why not put in appropriate furniture, like Victorian style?

What also needs to be done is a paint study to see what color the walls actually were, not just another coat of paint. (This one will make the fifth!) They even refused Mr. Couture's offer to do it himself! How can a student feel he or she is getting a good education from his or her teacher when the administration itself refuses the help of its departments, such as History and Art? We have some excellent teachers at this school who know what should or should not be done in restoration and in building new structures. Why doesn't the school wake up and use its own fine resources?

It is also inaccurate of them to paint the floor boards a bright color. the original was dark brown; which it should be to cover up shoe marks and dents.

I am glad to see other students upset at what the administration has done for how can we students feel a part of this school when our advice and judgement is not asked or counted?

Mark Couvillon

Master Plan For Continuing Renovations At Lawnwood

Editor's Note: Because the Letter To The Editor, "Student Emotionally Defends Friend," includes many shallow accusations, I thought it necessary to clarify for leaving them unanswered my indicate ratification by silence, which is not the case.*

The author complains that the facts and perceptions of the editorial, not article, (there is a significant difference including the absence of a byline, and the author of which is usually the Editor unless specified otherwise) were untrue but does not substantiate his claims, the exact same thing he accuses myself of doing. The only point that I am willing to concede is the one concerning the intramural department and their role in this affair, which was more tangential than the driving force that I may have indicated. I now apologize (to the department) and regret any inconveniences this may have caused.

Your assertions that Tim Hale was the catalyst behind more parking and holding the line on tuition is questionable. Was it not the anticipated closure of the Lankford lots that prompted the administration to plan for more parking, for without it, construction could not begin? Was it not the optimism over projected enrollment this year, that held the line on in-state tuition?

Furthermore, the editorial did not discuss the character of Tim Hale in any way shape or form, nor was he falsely accused of anything. It merely stated that he had valid reasons for wanting a second court, so valid as it turns out, that the student's representatives voted favorably to dig another volleyball pit.

I also agree that The Rotunda is not the place to discuss someone's character, but in the case of your letter, I had to make this one time exception in order to be fair to you.

Sincerely,
Matt Peterman,
Editor-in-Chief.

Serial Novelist To Revist

(Continued from page 2)

collection.

"It seems to apeal to young people, which kind of surprises me," he said. "I had always imagined writing to people like myself. It's thrilling to find there are people not like me who enjoy my work."

Since Herb 'n' Lorna came out last April, the number of those who enjoy Kraft's work has increased tremendously.

PEPSI SPECIAL DIET PEPSI

SUBWAY AND PEPSI

Two Great Tastes That Taste Great Together!

1989 OOZEBALL TEAM SPONSOR

GO SUBWAY LEISURE RULES CREW!!

REGISTER TO

WIN A DR. PEPPER 10-SPEED BIKE

COMPLIMENTS OF PEPSI COLA/DR. PEPPER BOTTLING COMPANY TO BE GIVEN AWAY APRIL 8, 1989

Dr Pepper

The Fresh Alternative

SUBWAY Sandwiches & Salads

COLD SUBS

	FOOTLONG	SANDWICH
COLD CUT COMBO	2.99	1.69
BMT (ham, genoa, pepperoni, bolgna)	3.99	2.49
SUBWAY CLUB (roast beef, turkey, ham)	3.99	2.49
SUPER COMBO	4.39	2.69
SUPER BMT	5.39	3.49
SUPER CLUB	5.39	3.49
TUNA TUNA TUNA	3.79	2.69
SEAFOOD & CRAB	4.79	2.89
ROAST BEEF	3.99	2.49
TURKEY BREAST	3.99	2.49
HAM & CHEESE	3.59	2.29
CHICKEN SALAD	4.79	2.89

HOT SUBS

	FOOTLONG	SANDWICH
MEATBALL	3.09	1.89
STEAK & CHEESE (100% sirloin)	3.99	2.89
B-B-Q BEEF	3.99	2.89

SERVED ON WHOLE WHEAT OR ITALIAN BREAD

Any Sandwich also available as a custom salad plate.

ALL SERVED WITH YOUR CHOICE OF • AMERICAN CHEESE • ONIONS • LETTUCE • TOMATOES • DILL PICKLES • GREEN PEPPERS • BLACK OLIVES • SALT • PEPPER & OIL

OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK
Sunday - Wednesday
10 a.m. to 1 a.m.
Thursday - Saturday
10 a.m. to 2 a.m.

Local College Deliveries
Sunday - Thursday
9 p.m. to 12 midnight
.50 delivery charge per order

PHONE 392-8533
South Main Street, Farmville, Virginia

Look for the Subway rep. during spring weekend for your free gift!

MOUNTAIN DEW

lemon lime slice 10% fruit juices

WE ACCEPT OUR LOCAL COMPETITORS COUPONS— UP TO 25% OFF!

FEATURES

Suddenly Last Summer Open's Tommorrow Night

By SHARON DONOHUE

The Longwood Players will present Suddenly Last Summer and a One-Act, Something Unspoken, both written by Tennessee Williams, from April 5-8, at 8:00 p.m. in Jarman Auditorium. Suddenly Last Summer is about an old rich lady, Mrs. Venable, played by Marianna Poch, who tries to find out how her son Sebastian died in Cabeza de Lobo. Mrs. Venable's niece, Catharine, played by Amy Church, is the only person who knows how Sebastian died. However, Catharine has spent time at Saint Mary's, a mental institution, and her story is so outrageous that Mrs. Venable refuses to believe it and insists that Catharine is lying. If Catharine does not tell the "truth", Mrs. Venable will contest Sebastian's Will and Catharine's mother, Mrs. Holly, and brother, George, will not get the huge sum of money they so desperately need.

Something Unspoken, the One-Act that will precede Suddenly Last Summer, deals with two older ladies of high society who are afraid to face realities. Miss Cornelia Scott, played by Lorrie Huffman, is the upper class lady who has to realize she does not have as much power in society as she used to. Miss Grace Lancaster, played by Amy Roderer, is Miss Scott's companion who has to realize that she will never be able to gain Cornelia as a friend, and that their relationship will only remain on a professional level.

Directing Something Unspoken is one of Longwood's own students, James Gross, a senior majoring in Theatre and minoring in English. Suddenly Last Summer is directed by Dr. Patton Lockwood. The set for the play, designed by A. Moffatt Evans, enhances the mystery of Sebastian's death at Cabeza de Lobo.

Become entranced with the mystery, suspense, and wonder of the works of Tennessee Williams. See the Longwood Player's last major production of the school year.

Personals

Tracy, I'm really glad I got to meet you. I hope there's more in the future! Mike

MOVING OFF CAMPUS?
Need furniture? Available 1 living room suite, 1 sofa, 1 kitchen table with chairs, 2 sets of chest of drawers, end tables, and 1 loft wired with electricity and lights. Call after 4 p.m. 392-4914. Ask for Kelley or Jana. Prices negotiable!

Jenn – I had a great time this weekend. I already can't wait until next year. Thanks for everything, I'll always love you. Jim

ATTENTION SENIORS –
Pick up your announcements the 3rd, 4th, and 5th of April (Mon. Tues, Wed.) at the Josten's table outside of the dining hall from 10 to 3. You must pick these up at this time only.

Congratulations to the new initiated sisters of Tri-Sigma! We knew you would all make it through pledging and come to understand exactly what being a Σ Σ Σ sister really means!! Just remember that all of you will always have a special place in our hearts! We love you.
The Sisters of Sigma Sigma Sigma

Personals

Risa — You're the greatest Pledge mom. I'm glad I'm an ΔΔπ Pledge! π Love — Colleen

Jon — You'd better start studying for that C.P.A. exam! Love — Colleen

Congratulations Kappa Delta Seniors: — Karen, Betsy, Susan, Patty, Reneé, Suzanne, Jeanna, Paige, Wilita, and MARY PASTORE!!! We will miss you all! Good luck, come visit, and A.O.T.

Good luck Kappa Delta transfers! We love you! A.O.T., your sisters.

2nd Floor French girls, — Good luck on your ballgames, and thanks for the support! — 3rd Floor French guys

Sharon, — "What I wouldn't give for only one night, A little relief in sight, Some day when times weren't so tight, When the day goes down on the town, When the sun sinks low all around, That's when I know I need you now, Ask you what I miss? Every Little kiss." — Love, Glenn

Ron "Cooch" and "Uncle" Dave, — Wish you were here. It just isn't the same without you guys. — "Moose" and all of ΣrX

RAT, — Thanks for the paper! I'll remember what you said about the eggs. I think reality is creeping in and I do not like it! But, I guess that's the way it goes. Thanks for all your help!! — Love ya, Goofy

Kim, — I think it's only two directions and they both look the same! I wish I could meet one direction on the island! Thanks for helping me. — Sarah

All Summer Reading Program participants and those enrolled in both sessions of Summer School – We would like to sublet our apartment over the summer. It is close to the school – 111 Appomattox St., Apt. C. It includes living room, hallway to the kitchen, and bedroom and full bath off hall. It is fully furnished with sofa/bed, chairs, entertainment unit, and desk in living room; twin beds and dressers in bedroom; and breakfast table in kitchen. We are asking $250 per month plus whatever electricity is used (for June and July) the water is covered. If you're interested, please call 392-6850 after 5:00 p.m. – Trese and Becca.

Troy, Mark, Doug, Harold:
Thanks for making the 50's come alive. I had a blast! – Peggy Sue

Bill-Bob, I love you 17 months plus! Amy H.

Toni, Thanks for your card. I'll always be there for you. Aim

Robin –
The hen is in the hen house!
Thanks for the late night talks
And, I just love your alarm clock.
Amy

42nd Street
Tickets for Sale
2 fourth row seats!
Call: 392-7338

To Aim, my roomie, You've put up with a lot since your move but I'm glad you're my roomie. Thanks for everything! ! ! !

To all the "bricks" in Trad. Grammar
Hang in there only four weeks left. Everything will come together. The Martar

To the 6th Floor RA: Thanks for a great weekend. You are a real gentleman. Call me sometime! Only Nineteen

To the "Old Man" on 3rd Cox
Thanks for being there that's what "friends" are all about. "Just a Baby"

ASA Pledges – You guys are doing a wonderful job and you make us very proud. Hang in there! We can't wait to call you sisters. Alpha love, Your sisters

Sawah, — a.k.a. "Corch" — NC State got screwed. If that was a walk, gnomes will take over the planet. Georgetown sucks and Alonzo is a weenie! Better luck next year. Kenny Anderson is going to be The point guard next year. Chris and the Crotty will have to fight for second.

To the sisters and pledges of Σ Σ Σ, I hope that everyone had a great time at ball and made many long lasting memories! There are lots of things in our future to look forward to and we are going to have a lot of fun!

Craig, Scott, Chris!
Congrat guys! Ya'll finally made it. I'm proud of you all. Ya'll will make great brothers! Now please come talk to me. Shannon

All Freshman Girls – Keep an eye out for the Alpha Sigma Alpha Open Rush Party coming up soon!

Dear A.P.O Pledges, Here's hoping formal interviews went well. You are all doing a wonderful job! Best of luck during this last year. Love, Kathy

Triangles, spheres, and rectangles too
Surround the next gift of Chi's left for you.
With a crash and a thud, colorful ones drop
Onto this gift because they just can't stop.
Bowling pins and video games are near this,
But the Catalina's also do their shows in this.
Good luck! CHI SPIRIT

CEDAR BROOK RESTAURANT, INC.
½ MILE EAST OF FARMVILLE
ON RT. 460, PHONE 392-4589
ANYTHING FROM SANDWICHES TO FULL COURSE MEALS
OPEN 11 AM - 9 PM, 7 DAYS A WEEK!

LUNCH TIME & DINNER SPECIALS
Phone 392-1820
DOMINO'S PIZZA
The end of the semester is near, so we will STOP accepting checks April 16, 1989.
VALUABLE COUPON
12" PIZZA ONE TOPPING, TWO COKES ONLY $5.99
OFFER EXPIRES 4/16/89.
VALUABLE COUPON
16" PIZZA ONE TOPPING, TWO COKES ONLY $9.99
OFFER EXPIRES 4/16/89

SPORTS

Longwood Lacrosse

By LINDA GAIL BAKER

The Longwood Women's Lacrosse team improved their record to 1-5 this weekend with a win over Guilford and losses to the Division I teams of Georgetown and Maryland-Baltimore County. The Lady Lancers will face Mary Washington on Thursday in Fredricksburg.

On Saturday, Longwood picked up their first win of the season against a rough Guilford team. Guilford scored three quick goals to open the game, but Carver Ports came back with one goal and Cini added two more to tie the score, 3-3, at the half.

In the second half the battle continued. Guilford scored first, followed by another goal from Ports for the Lady Lancers. After another Guilford goal, Cini knotted the score again at 5 all. Ellen Binswanger scored ten minutes into the second half, giving Longwood their first lead of the game.

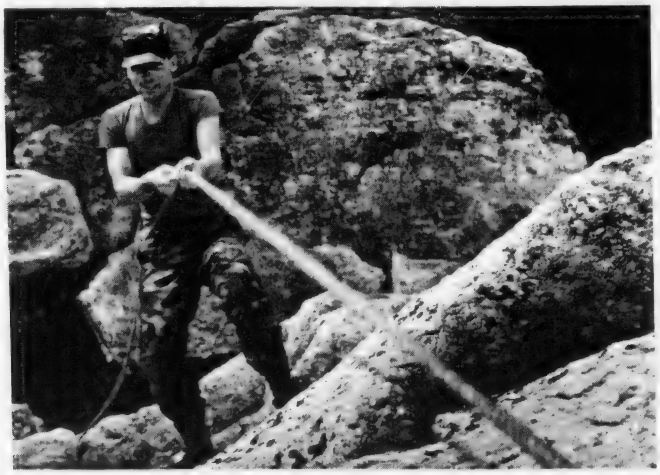
Tracy Hogan showed great speed and leadership, running up the field through heavy coverage to score twice. Guilford answered with three goals to tie the score at 8-8. With four minutes left in the game, Rashel Hammond scored, lending Longwood a one point advantage. Guilford scored, tying the score again. Binswanger finally put Longwood in the lead to stay, scoring with only one minute left in the game. Guilford scored again in the last two seconds, but had the goal called back because of a crease violation. Longwood was victorous 10-9. In the words of Coach Finnie, "We squeaked out our first win."

Analisa Lage played an excellent defensive game and was named Defensive Player of the Game. Cini and Binswanger shared Offensive Player of the Game honors.

Softball Team Continues To Struggle

Longwood softball, in the words of coach Loretta Coughlin, "went 0-for the weekend." After the four-game UNC at Wilmington Tournament, the Lady Lancers' record drops to 5-11. Longwood hopes to get back on the winning track Tuesday when Ferrum visits. Game time is 3:00 at the Farmville Armory Field.

Longwood outhit its first opponent, Coastal Carolina, 30-26, but could not put the runs across. Jill Everett went 2-4 and scored a run. A. D. Miller absorbed the loss. She allowed seven runs on seven hits, fanned one and walked five. Miller's record is 3-6.



But Longwood hopes for a victory went down the drain in the seventh. St. Augustine's put the go-ahead run across in the top of the inning. Longwood was unable to convert a Dailey single and Fitzgerald walk into runs and lost 4-3. Fitzgerald was saddled with the loss in her first outing this season. She gave up four runs on seven hits, struck out three and walked four. Her record is 0-1.

UNC at Greensboro was next up for Longwood. The Lady Lancers led briefly when Mitzy Hairfield was the beneficiary of an error. Miller helped her cause with a two-out RBI single. Longwood did not score again until the sixth when Melissa Gwinn walked and Everett homered, her second of the season. It was too little, too late. Longwood lost 10-3. Miller was saddled with the loss.

Longwood came closest to drowning St. Augustine's. The Lady Lancers scored immediately in the first. Gwinn led off with a single and Mary Dailey walked. Pam Fitzgerald and Cassie Mullenix contributed back-to-back singles to bring in Gwinn and Dailey. The game was tied two all. St. Augustine's went ahead in the second, but Longwood evened the score in the third. Everett laid down a bunt single; Fitzgerald moved her over and Mullenix singled to bring Everett home.

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

YOUR FIRST STEP TOWARD SUCCESS IS THE ONE YOU COULD TAKE THIS SUMMER.

At Army ROTC Camp Challenge, you'll learn what it takes to succeed—in college and in life. You'll build self-confidence and develop your leadership potential. Plus you can also qualify to earn an Army Officer's commission when you graduate from college.

Army ROTC Camp Challenge. It may be just what you need to reach the top.

ARMY ROTC

THE SMARTEST COLLEGE COURSE YOU CAN TAKE.

Contact CPT DeWitt 392-9259/9348

SPORTS

LC Sweeps Tigers

Longwood's baseball team won four of six games last week, sweeping twinbills from Virginia State and St. Paul's and losing single games to Division I foes Liberty and Richmond. The Lancers, 18-7, don't play again until Saturday when they travel to Christopher-Newport. Maryland Eastern Shore will visit Sunday for two games, starting at 1:00.

The Lancers beat St. Paul's 11-0 and 7-1 last Sunday and took two from Virginia State Wednesday 11-1 and 5-0. Friday, Richmond pinned a 4-1 defeat on Longwood, and last Monday the Division I Flames whipped the Lancers 17-4.

Highlighting the week was the play of senior pitcher E. J. Bryant, who got both wins against Virginia State, and junior tri-captain Robbie Smith, whose consecutive game hitting streak reached 16 before he went hitless in four trips at Richmond. Smith beat the old record for game hitting streak of 13 which Jeff Rohm set in 1986.

Bryant, 5-0, pitched a total of 11 innings Wednesday against Virginia State, allowing an unearned run, four walks, and seven hits. He struck out 10 and shared the second game shutout with sophomore Dennis Hale who pitched the last two innings. Hale struck out four and gave up one hit.

Bryant lowered his earned run averaged to 1.39. The righthander has given up just five earned runs in 32.3 innings of work this spring. In addition he has two saves, 20 strikeouts and just six walks, while giving up just 20 hits.

Just as they did in the sweep of Virginia State, Smith and senior tri-captain Bill Conroy led the way as Longwood beat St. Paul's 11-0 in Sunday's opening game. Smith had two homers and four RBI and Conroy drove in four runs with a homer and a single. Smith now has a team-high seven homers and 25 runs-batted-in for the season.

Longwood collected 14 hits in support of sophomore left-hander Tim Patrick who moved his record to 3-0 with four innings of work. Patrick allowed just one hit while walking one and striking out four. Jeff Parr pitched the fifth and final inning as the contest was called on the 10-run rule.

In the nightcap, a pinch-hit grand slam homer by Parr in the sixth sparked Longwood to a 7-1 victory. Conroy, Chris Cherry and Mark Moeller had two hits each for the Lancers. Parr hit his first collegiate homer following singles by Cherry, Scott Abell and Eric Killinger.

Freshman Steve Blood picked up his first win with three innings of shutout relief. Blood pitched the fifth, sixth and seventh innings, striking out five and allowing one hit. Bryant pitched to one batter in the fourth in relief of starter Steve Gedro. Gedro struck out nine in 3 2/3 innings while giving up a homer to Clarence Tennell and a total of five hits.

Richmond pitcher Mark Sweeny limited Longwood to six hits and one run Friday as the Spiders took a 4-1 win on their home field. Junior Pete Criscione and senior Greylin Rice, who had two hits each, teamed up to produce the lone Lancer run.

With two outs in the third, Rice singled and went to second on a wild pitch. Criscione followed with a double, scoring Rice.

Richmond scored all four of its runs off Longwood starter Dennis Hale who gave up 11 hits in six innings of work. Hale is now 2-2 for the season. Freshman Buddy Williams struck out four and gave up one hit over the final two innings.

Veterans Vince Osborn and Mike Pugh picked up wins at No. 3 and No. 5 singles and teamed up for a victory at No. 2 doubles, leading the Longwood men's tennis team to a 5-4 triumph over Bridgewater Wednesday afternoon in Farmville.

Osborn won his singles match 7-5, 6-4 over David Bird. Pugh won at No. 5 by a 7-6, 7-6 count over Tim Eye. Osborn and Pugh then beat Bird and Eye 5-7, 6-1, 6-3 in doubles.

Also gaining wins for the 2-0 Lancers were Brian Hill at No. 4 singles, 1-6, 6-1, 6-2 over Allen Landes, and the doubles team of Mark Lewis and Mike Mooney who beat Justin Eyler and Joey Snoder 6-3, 6-4 at No. 3.

"It was a big win for us," said coach Rich Posipanko. "This is our best start in several years." Longwood next plays at Mary Washington Thursday at 3:30.

Freshman Chris Fishburne earned medalist honors with a 77 and Longwood's men's golf team went on to defeat Radford and East Stroudsburg in a three-team match at Round Meadow Country Club Friday.

Longwood totaled 326 to the Highlanders' 327 and 351 for East Stroudsburg. The twin wins give the Lancers a 2-0 match record for spring play.

In addition to Fishburne's five-over-par 77, Longwood got and 81 from Scott Wiseman. Hank Nichols shot 83, Tony Good 85 and Jeff Smiley 86.

The Lancers will play in the Virginia Collegiate Championships this weekend in Hot Springs.

Player of the Week

Senior pitcher E.J. Bryant picked up a pair of wins in Longwood's 11-1, 5-0 doubleheader sweep of Virginia State last week, and for his performance, Bryant has been named Longwood College Player of the Week for the period March 26 to April 2. Player of the Week is chosen by the Longwood Sports Information Office.

A graduate of Brookville High School, Bryant pitches a total of 11 innings Wednesday against Virginia State, allowing an unearned run, four walks, and seven hits. He struck out 10 while moving his record to 5-0.

In the opener, Bryant went the distance (six innings) as back-to-back doubles by Scott Maciejewski and Greulin Rice in the bottom of the sixth gave the Lancers an 11-1 edge and stopped the contest on the 10-run rule. He pitched five innings in the seocnd game.

Bryant lowered his earned run average to 1.39. The righthander has given up just five earned runs in 32.3 innings of work this spring. In addition he has two saves, 20 strikeouts and just six walks, while giving up just 20 hits.

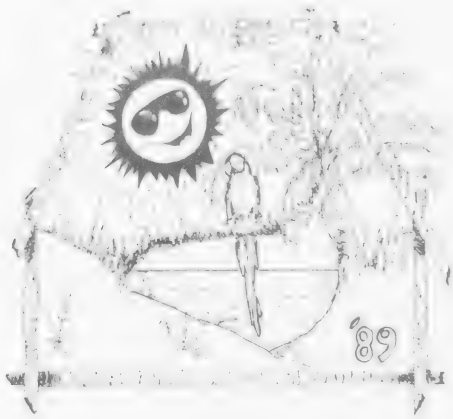
With a career record of 15-3, Bryant ranks second among Lancer ptichers in career winning percentage. Also a Dean's List student, Bryant is majoring in business.

Lady Lancers 17th at Duke

Longwood's women's golf team put together rounds of 336-331-340 for a three-day total of 1007 to place 17th out of 19 teams in the Duke Spring Invitational Golf Tournament at Duke University Golf Course in Durham, North Carolina over the weekend.

Freshman Daphne Sole led the way for Longwood with an 82-76-80-238. North Carolina took the title in a rugged field of Division I teams. The Lady Tar Heels carded a 297-306-302-905 to beat second place Tulsa (914) by nine strokes. UNC's Katie Peterson shot 70-73-75-218 to win the individual title.

Also competing for Longwood were Ami Schonauer 87-82-86-255, Kim Poirier 85-86-86-257, Sherry Evans 82-88-88-258 and Ashley Warren 93-87-92-272.



Next up for the Lady Lancer golfers is the Azalea-Seahawk Invitational Friday thru Sunday in Wilmington, NC, hosted by North Carolina Wilmington.

Longwood Scores

Daphne Sole 82-76-80-238, Ami Schonauer 87-82-86-255, Kim Poirier 85-86-86-257, Sherry Evans 82-88-88-258, Ashley Warren 93-87-92-272.

RJ's
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA
392-3392
VALUABLE COUPON · CLIP and SAVE
RJ's
Southgate Shopping Center
THIS COUPON IS WORTH
25% OFF
THE PRICE OF ANY ITEM NUMBERED 1 THRU 28 NOW THROUGH APRIL 30, 1989

SURVIVAL GAME
This adult version of Capture the Flag just may be the adventure of your life.
Ultimate Challenge Survival Game
Call
(804) 372-4735
or Write
P.O.Box 802
Chase City, Va 23924
for reservation & information
*An Authorized Survival Game Dealer

Spring Weekend

Longwood College Student Union

April 7, 8 & 9

All Events Take Place On Lankford/Stubbs Mall

FRIDAY:

8:30 PM BAND: SPLIT DECISION
12:00 AM (MIDNIGHT) THE ROCKY HORROR PICTURE SHOW

SATURDAY:

9:00 AM - 12:00 ADMISSIONS TOURS
CHILI COOKOFF
OOZEBALL
10:00 AM - 1:30 PM WLCX DJ's
11:30 AM - 1:30 PM LUNCH- ARA SERVICES
12:00 GRAND OPENING- WELCOME
BEER GARDEN OPENS
ANNOUNCE JUDGES OF CHILI COOKOFF
JUDGING
12:30 ANNOUNCE WINNERS OF COOKOFF
12:45 - 1:30 GAMES/CONTESTS
1:30 - 2:30 BAND: BROKEN ENGLISH
2:30 TUG OF WAR CHALLENGES
3:00 - 6:00 FRATERNITY DJ's
4:30 BEER GARDEN CLOSES
5:00 - 6:00 DINNER- ARA SERVICES
8:30 BEER GARDEN RE-OPENS
9:00 BAND: THE WILLIES

SUNDAY:

OOZEBALL FINALS
2:00 - 6:00 FRATERNITY DJ's
4:30 - 6:00 DINNER- ARA

Rain Locations Are In Iler Gym Except For The Willies Which Go To Lancer.

The Rotunda

Faculty Follies Tomorrow Night

The fourth annual Faculty Follies at Longwood College will be Wednesday evening, April 12, at 8 o'clock in Jarman Auditorium.

Faculty Follies is a variety show sponsored by Longwood's Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity as a fund-raiser. Admission is $1 per person. Proceeds from the Follies will go this year to the Southside Virginia Literacy Network.

The program will feature a piano duet by President and Mrs. William F. Dorrill; a "very dramatic scene" from

(Continued on page 2)

PREVIEW '89 Labeled Best

By LARRY ROBERTSON

Over 800 incoming freshmen, transfers, and their parents are being mailed invitations to PREVIEW '89. Longwood's Orientation program has become one of the most respected in the state, and this year promises to add to our reputation. The theme is "The Big Picture", and the orientation staff is working hard to incorporate this motion picture theme into the program. There are already plans for skits, starring such famous characters as Scarlett O'Hara, Dorothy, and Tarzan, as well as a new and improved slide show featuring famous movie themes.

Starring in PREVIEW '89 are the thirty-five orientation leaders. They were selected from over seventy-five applications, interviews, and a recommendation from a faculty member. Student Development Educator, MaryKaye Clenton, and Sherri H. Garrett, Orientation Assistant,

(Continued on page 3)

Spring Weekend

A large number of people can be seen here strolling around the chili cook-off booths while a student hands out balloons. In the background could be heard music supplied by WLCX DJ's.

Oozeball

Pictured here are the 1989 Oozeball champions, 9th floor Frazer (Homeboys). From left to right are Dave Mazzuca, Chuck Loughry, Todd Dyer, Tom Marcey, Wayne Wall and Eric Hunter.

Chili Cook-Off

Pictured here are The Rotunda staffers who won first place with their chili. Second and third place went to APO and Financial Aid respectively. Pictured left to right are Tim Oliva, Business Manager; Matt Peterman, Editor-in-Chief; and Cheryl Jeffrey, Layout Assistant. Not pictured is R. Bruce Gantt who is taking the picture.

Photo by Bruce Gantt

Ad Hoc Committee Attempts To Redress Rotunda Renovations

By MATT PETERMAN and STEPHANIE NEELY

Last Thursday, an Ad Hoc Committee on the Rotunda renovations was assembled by President Dorrill, with the hope of coming up with some ideas aimed at resolving present circumstances surrounding the renovations of the Rotunda.

The Ad Hoc Committee is the latest development in the "lawnwood" saga. It was chaired by Dr. Dorrill, and attended by the following student leaders: Mary Francis Hanover, Noah Wood, Matt Peterman, Drew Hudson, William Chestnutt, Karen Pennington, Leah Payne, and Stacy Sandler.

Much of the discussion focused on the image of the Rotunda and how renovations should go forward so as to avoid a second "lawnwood" controversy. After deliberating many points (furniture, paint, floors, ect.) the committee came up with some short-term solutions and touched upon the surface of some long-term ones.

The short-term solution involved borrowing the recently re-covered furniture from the Wheeler Dormitory lounge. This furniture would stay in the Rotunda for two weeks, just long enough to get through Founder's Day. The committee also implemented a survey to be inserted in The Rotunda. The survey created by the committee was designed to get an accurate picture of what exactly students would prefer to see in the Rotunda.

The longer term solutions are to be discussed at the

(Continued on page 2)

Longwood Bell Restored, Ready For 'The Rotunda'

It took 1,900 pounds of sand, three coats of sealant, and more than two years of research, but the Longwood bell is ready to return to its former glory.

The bell, which was rung by the College for more than six decades, has been restored for the Sesquicentennial celebration. It will be dedicated at the Founders Day luncheon April 15 and will be placed on display in the Rotunda.

"None of this would have happened without Jim Blake, a carpenter on the physical plant staff," said Dr. James Jordan, professor of anthropology.

"He had seen the bell and was afraid something might happen to it. Because he knew I was interested in old things, he told me about it in July 1986."

The bell had been stored in the basement of Graham Building since it was taken down from the roof of Ruffner

(Continued on page 3)

NEWS

Dr. Lockwood Remembers India

Dr. Patton Lockwood will present "Life in Tamil-Nudu," a lecture and slide presentation on India and Sri Lanka (Ceylon), on Tuesday evening, April 11, at 7:30 in the Virginia Room, Longwood College.

Dr. Lockwood said his presentation will focus on the southern tip of India and the northern peninsula of Sri Lanka, the area in which he grew up. The son of Congregational missionaries, Lockwood lived in India until he was 18.

The pictures were taken by Lockwood and members of his family. Some of them date back 40 years to the last days of British Colonialism in India. More recent pictures were taken by Dr. Lockwood's brother, who lives in Madras, India.

Tamil-Nudu means "land of the Tamil," Lockwood said. Tamil is the predominant of four languages spoken in southern India.

"I will give some of the historical background of the language," Lockwood said, "as well as personal reminiscences and a sort of travelogue on natural and man-made features of the area."

Lockwood is professor of speech and theatre at Longwood. He has been a member of the college's faculty since 1963.

His lecture is sponsored by Longwood's International Studies Program and is open to the public free of charge.

Judicial Board held a mock trial on a drug offense last week during Alcohol Awareness Week. Seated left to right are Mike Whitford, Pam Ladd, Mary Lynn Lawman. Chairman Michael Whitford said "we felt that our mock hearing did alot to inform students about how the Judicial System works and what the consequences of drug use can be.

Ad Hoc Committee

(Continued from page 1)

second meeting to be held this Thursday.

The "lawnwood" controversy centered around the rather large block of students and faculty opposed to the "lawn" furniture placed in the Rotunda. According to Ms. Nancy Shelton, Director of Alumni Association, the furniture and the decor were to be only temporary, to be used to get through the early stages of the renovation.

Events surrounding the furniture went further than simply vocal protest. A petition was circulated containing hundreds of signatures of those opposed to the furniture that was presented to President Dorrill. Earlier this past week, the "lawn" furniture was switched, by an unknown party, with the old furniture located on the second floor of the Rotunda. The administration took no steps to have the "lawn" furniture moved back in the Rotunda.

According to Ms. Shelton, the so-called "garden furniture" may be used in the back of Lankford or somewhere in lounging areas around Student Union, where it will be more appropriate, upon the completion of the renovation.

Ms. Shelton says that in the renovation plan, structural problems in the Rotunda will be repaired when the building is converted back into dormitory space. Upon the completion of the new library, the old one will be converted into administrative offices with Ruffner becoming dorm space.

At this time, says Ms. Shelton, the decor in the Rotunda will be what students want, as well as the faculty and administration. However, because the restoration will be monumental task, it will take time and how long the temporary look will last is unknown. It appeared that this gray area needed student input — the Ad Hoc Committee will attempt to supply in the weeks to come.

Chemist Student Will Test Area Drinking Water

A Longwood College chemistry student is planning to analyze samples of drinking water from seven area counties "to determine the impact, if any, of nearby industries on the condition of the water."

"I need the help of residents of the seven counties," said Keith Johnson, a junior at Longwood. "I'm hoping to obtain 50 samples of drinking water for my study."

The counties Johnson plans to include in the study are Amelia, Buckingham, Charlotte, Cumberland, Lunenburg, Nottoway and Prince Edward.

He is asking residents of these counties to bring quart jars of the tap water or well water they drink to the Science Department office at Longwood. The Science Department is located in Stevens Hall, the building behind Jarman Auditorium that has a greenhouse at the rear.

"I will need to know the exact location of each donor's residence," Johnson said. "Also, if they will leave their names and mailing addresses, I will send them reports on their drinking water."

Johnson will do "a mineral analysis for iron and manganese and a total solids analysis" on each water sample.

"Iron and manganese are common elements in water in this area," Johnson said. "These two elements were chosen as the beginning of a project that will be done for several years, using different elements."

He added that "normal concentrations of iron and manganese do not pose any health hazard."

Johnson will use a sophisticated instrument called an atomic absorption spectrometer to do the mineral analyses.

"The machine actually heats the elements in the water sample," he said. "An ultraviolet invisible detector measures the light coming through the flame. Each element has a different wave length, which the machine picks up and then determines the concentration of that particular element."

Johnson will chart findings from his water tests on a large map board "to see if there is a correlation between the condition of the water and nearby industries or commercial activities," he said.

The water analysis project is an independent study for a chemistry research class, under the direction of Dr. Patrick Barber, professor of chemistry at Longwood.

Johnson plans a career as an environmental chemist. For the past two summers, he has done water analysis work for Virginia Power at the Yorktown Power Station.

He also has worked at the Hampton Roads Testing Laboratory.

"We tested coal from Virginia, West Virginia, and Pennsylvania for heat output and efficiency and for contaminants that would polute the air when the coal is burned," he said.

Johnson is vice-president of Longwood's Chemistry Club. He is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity and is a student supervisor of food service in the dining hall.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Johnson, of Hampton.

COUCH PIZZA

Limited Delivery Area

FOR HOT, FAST DELIVERY CALL

392-3253

Follies

(Continued from page 1)

Adrift in New York, performed by Dr. Nancy Haga and Ralph Haga, Pat Attix, and Rod Ernouf (members of the Waterworks Players); a unique commentary on college life by Dr. James Helms; and Dr. John S. Peale's "comic act in words and song."

Dr. Nelson Neal will play the guitar and sing, and members of Alpha Phi Omega will do a lip-synch number . Other entertainers are Brenda Cross (or is it Tina Turner?), Joe McGill, and Dr. Sue Saunders.

Donna Ferrier, Kalli Lucas, and Mike Whitford are organizing and directing the Faculty Follies. "We invite everyone to come out and enjoy the show," Donna said. "It will be fun!"

SURVIVAL

This adult version of Capture the Flag just may be the adventure of your life.

Ultimate Challenge Survival Game

Call
(804) 372-4735
or Write
P.O.Box 802
Chase City, Va 23924
for reservation & information
*An Authorized Survival Game Dealer

NEWS

Bell

(Continued from page 1)

Hall in 1976, about 15 years after it was last rung officially. Shortly after learning of the bell, Dr. Jordan was asked by then-President Janet Greenwood for ideas on the College's 150th anniversary.

"It was a fortunate juxtaposition of events," he said.

Dr. Jordan coordinated his research efforts with Dr. Eleanor Bobbitt, chairman of the Historical Reflections subcommittee for the Sesquicentennial, on which he serves. The subcommittee recommended the project to the anniversary's Steering Committee, which endorsed it and funded it.

Dr. Jordan spoke with experts at Colonial Williamsburg and the Lynchburg Foundry, where bells were cast until the 1930s. He also spoke with Richard Trollinger, vice president for development at Emory and Henry College, which restored its bell about three years ago — also for its 150th birthday.

"He gave me some technical tips; for example, what kind of agent would remove paint, the names of useful sealants, and how to make it difficult to swing the clapper, which they removed," said Dr. Jordan. "He had learned these things largely through trial and error."

Eventually, Dr. Jordan learned that Longwood's bell was cast in 1896 at the American Bell Foundry Company in Northville, Mich., by Charles Van Valkenburgh, the only bell caster there for 51 years.

It was shipped by rail to Farmville to replace a smaller bell, now vanished, called the "rising bell," which had governed the lives of students from 1859 to 1895.

Dr. Jordan learned more by talking with Bruce Trumbull, a Northville resident who is an authority on the foundry, which is still in operation and is now the American Bell and Foundry Company.

"He told me that an identical bell is still being rung in the Northville Baptist Church, and there are probably others like ours all over the world. Bells last a long time. Normally, they don't crack as a result of ringing. Fires are what usually destroy them."

The Longwood bell is 36 inches in diameter and weighs about 1,000 pounds. It takes four men to move it. Before its restoration, it bore the scars of many a late-night prank.

"It had an unknown number of coats of paint," Dr. Jordan said. "The primary color was red, and it also had blue, green white and at least one coat of gold paint ... Every time the bell was painted, it changed the sound in subtle ways."

Hicksie Wells, the grounds supervisor for the physical plant, was in charge of sandblasting the paint off.

"Hicksie originally thought he could do the job with 200 pounds; the sand comes in 200-pound bags," said Dr. Jordan. "It took four days and 1,900 pounds."

"After the first sandblasting, the bell started to rust after just one day. It was quickly sandblasted again, and three coats of sealant were put on the bell. When the bell is in place in the Rotunda, another sealant, which is translucent, will be put on to give it a warmer, richer, deeper appearance."

A 71-inch-tall oak stand will hold the bell suspended by its yoke, a bronze plaque with historical information will be bolted to the stand. The stand will be surrounded by corner posts and velveteen ropes, and spotlights will illuminate the bell. The clapper has been removed.

"The College Bell stands here as an enduring symbol of the community of scholars resident at this place for more than 150 years," reads the inscription on the plaque. "Like the sound of the bell, the influence of this continuing community touches lives in ways impossible to know or count."

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

THURSDAY, APRIL 27	READING DAY Exams for Thursday night classes 7:10 p.m. and Conflict period
FRIDAY, APRIL 28	9:12 English 051, 100, 101 Conflicts 2:5: TR 8:30 7:10: TR 3:55
SATURDAY, APRIL 29	9:12 TR 11:20 2:5 TR 9:55 7:10: MWF 12:30
MONDAY, MAY 1	9:12 MWF 10:30 2:5: MWF 11:30 7:10: MWF 2:30 & Monday night classes
TUESDAY, MAY 2	9:12 MWF 9:30 2:5: MWF 8:30 7:10: MWF 3:30 & Tuesday night classes
WEDNESDAY, MAY 3	9:12 TR 2:30 2:5: MWF 1:30 7:10: MWF 4:30 & Wednesday night classes

Town Relations Are Good

(CPS) – Despite frequent disputes about noise and disorderly student conduct, college towns generally like having campuses next to them, a new report by the National League of Cities (NLC) has found.

Eighty-six percent of the mayors the NLC asked characterized their relations with local higher education institutions as either "very good" or "good." Only one college town mayor – whom the NLC refused to name – termed his relationship "poor."

The mayors cited traffic and parking, housing shortages, the cost of providing city services to the campuses (which are tax-exempt, and thus don't help pay for them) and "student behavior" as the worst problems they face.

"We are confident the courts will not sanction programs that randomly select government workers, and require them to submit to humiliating urinalysis testing without any history or reasonable suspicion of drug abuse problems," union President John Sturdicant said in announcing the suit.

Congress in 1987 approved a measure that will cut off federal aid to any campus that does not have a "drug abuse program" in place by the end of 1989.

However, the Education Dept., which is supposed to manage the program has not issued any guidelines for colleges to determine what kind of program would be acceptable.

The department's news office refused to comment on the drug testing suit.

Dept. Just Says No

(CPS) The people who work at the U.S. Department of Education, which is requiring all colleges to install anti-drug programs during 1989, sued the department March 25 to stop it from making them take drug tests.

The department, which oversees most federal college programs, planned to begin randomly testing the 3,000 workers at its Washington, D.C., offices April 21.

But the American Federation of Government Employees, the union that represents the department's nonpolitical employees, has sued to top the plan.

PREVIEW

(Continued from page 1)

have been working since last August to ensure PREVIEW '89 is a success. Adding their assistance are Larry Robertson and Andrew Smallwood as Co-Chairs. Other returning leaders are Beth Camillo, Ronald Colbert, Stacy Crockarell, Penny Dodson, David Gamache, Cass Hines, Kalli Lucas, Janet Miles, Tonya Moore, Pam Puckett, Valerie Vida, and Angel Yeargain. Special congratulations goes to the new members of the team who are Chris Andersen, Rhonda Chism, Paula Erwin, Robert Essington, Lisa Felton, Raecitta Gallop, Eli Gould, Polly Hathaway, Bill Johnson, Tenera McPherson, Stephanie Neely, Leah Payne, Suzanne Pellegrino, Tonya Smith, Amy Taylor, and Whitney Thomas. Also, Karyn Fried, Rene Lowe, Kim Marsh, and Chris Parks are serving as alternates.

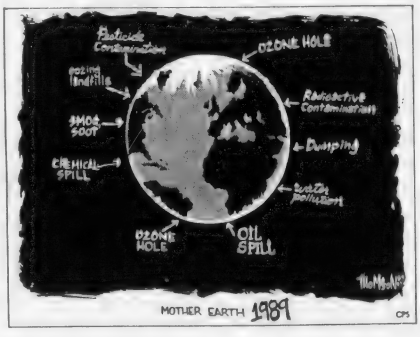
ISP Update

By MICHELLE HUMMER

The International Studies Program will host a slide presentation by Dr. Patton Lockwood on Life in Tamil — Nadu on Tuesday, April 11 at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Lockwood, a Professor of Visual and Performing Arts, will share his slides of Sri Lanks, India. Having grown up in India, Dr. Lockwood will most likely have interesting stories and anectdotes to accompany the slides. The presentation will be held in the Virginia Room and refreshments will be served afterwards.

Student Involvement Beats The Weather

Rainy, snowy, and cold are just a few words that could be used to describe the type of weather we had during Spring Weekend. Far from ideal or even "alright," but student involvement and spirit overshadowed even these rather gloomy conditions.



All of the scheduled events went forward with few exceptions. Student turnout was exceptional showing that apathy even in undesirable weather conditions is becoming an item of the past. This type of support sends an important message for those visiting our campus for whatever reason — a message of pride that will leave them with a lasting good impression of Longwood.

Saturday's weather held for about five crucial hours which allowed the admission tours to be hassle free in that it didn't rain. The chili cook-off was supported by 28 different organizations — all of which were present to decorate their booths and prepare their chili for judging. The Oozeball tournament, perhaps the least affected by the weather, attracted large crowds throughout the day.

Student Union also played a great role, for it is they who compensated for the changing conditions which subsequently made it easy for the campus to involve themselves and thus make this Spring Weekend one of the best.

Putting ourselves in the places of those visiting our campus, be it prospective students, or friends of current students, we would see a school filled with pride and one where students are involved to make Longwood a success for all.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

No One Contacted Us About The Survey

To the Editor,

In the March 21st issue of The Rotunda, you published a Health Care Survey. As the director of a service, I have great interest in how students feel about a service and was pleased to see someone was interested in what students think.

The questions, however, reflected a lack of knowledge about our service. 1) For the past five years the Student Health Service has had a wellness and illness prevention focus. Without the utilization of nurse practitioners, birth control would not be available in Student Health; 2) In the month of January (three week time frame), over 1800 student visits were recorded in Student Health. February, likewise, was busy with 1484 visits. I am sure students had to wait. This year we were hit hard with the influenza virus including the staff in Student Health; 3) Finding physician coverage for the past five years has been no easy task. The hours of Sick Call are at the convenience of the physicians, otherwise we would not have a physician. Secondly, we have two nurse practitioners available by appointment from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday. A nurse practitioner can treat and diagnose many medical problems as well as prescribe some prescription medications under a physician's supervision.

The chief purpose of Student Health is not just good medical attention but to increase students' well-being and knowledge about self-limiting conditions and their prevention as well as quality care by all health care providers.

It is unfortunate that no one consulted with me before printing this survey as I welcome student input. Likewise, it is unfortunate that no one has attempted to contact me about the survey results.

Barbara Agee
Director Student Health

Editor's Note: The response to the Health Care Survey was overwhelming poor, illiciting only 8 responses. For this reason the results were not printed, but were sent yesterday to the Director of Student Health Service for her review.

A Note On Housing

To the Editor,

April is here and soon we will be taking final exams and making plans for the summer, but it is also time for Spring Housing sign-up. Since I am a senior I really do not have to worry about it this time, but for those of you who do, be glad you have to work with the staff now in that office. I have had the chance to work with David Rettig and his staff and for those of you who weren't here or don't remember, it is a lot better now than the former Director. Mr. Rettig may not always give you the answer you want to hear, but he will take the time to talk with you and treat you like a person. Instead of giving you the run around like so many other offices, he will help you cut through the bull to get an answer. I just wanted to let him and his staff know that some students do appreciate what they do.

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
Matt Peterman

Managing Editor
R. Bruce Gantt

Features Editor
Monica Gilbert

Greek Affairs Editor
Chet Ahn

Photography Editor
Emily Howell

Sports Editor
Lindy Seymore

Business Manager
Tim Oliva

Advertising Managers
Steve Evans
Susan Miller

Layout Assistant
Cheryl Jeffrey

Faculty Advisor
William C. Wood

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be typed or printed neatly, state the author's years, and major as applicable.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 392-7817.

NEWS

Spring Weekend

Left — Oozeball proved bone chilling as the temperature hovered in the forties. Here a student saves her team a point as the ball goes to the other side. Top — The Lancer Line performs on Lankford/Stubbs Mall for an enthusiastic crowd.

Review

(Continued from page 7)

Still, most viewers seemed to be surprised, even shocked, by Catherine's revelation that Sebastian was killed by street urchins who devoured parts of his body. Mrs. Venable denies the truth of Catherine's statements, but Doctor Cukrowicz has the last word – and he seems to believe Catherine.

Lockwood identifies the central theme of Suddenly Last Summer as the way in which individual perceptions of reality are affected by traumatic experiences. Something Unspoken also reflects Tennessee Williams' concern with how we perceive ourselves and others. Together, these plays as presented by the Longwood Players offered a thought-provoking and entertaining evening for Farmville theatre-goers.

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

START YOUR CLIMB TO CAREER SUCCESS THIS SUMMER.

Apply now for six weeks of Army ROTC leadership training. With pay, without obligation.

You'll develop the discipline, confidence, and decisiveness it takes to succeed in any career. And you'll qualify to earn Army officer credentials while you're completing your college studies.

ARMY ROTC
TWO-YEAR PROGRAM

THE SMARTEST COLLEGE COURSE YOU CAN TAKE.

Contact CPT DeWitt 392-9259/9348

FEATURES

Personals

JKK, — The Hot Tub was AWESOME. I will always be here for you. I am working hard for the House. We will make it. — JK

KEJ — (My magnificent ball player) I am sooo sorry I ever doubted your ability. You have certainly proven me wrong. Can you ever forgive me? — LCB.
P.S. You still haven't changed my mind — I still think you're obsessed!!

Tim (10th Floor Frazer) — Don't think you go unnoticed!! — L. M.

Kenny, — You can be the head of my row in statistics anytime! — C. C.

Tom Walker, — You're a great friend and a wonderful PIG! Love, Lu Lu (PIG)
P.S. Chan - Chan wants you to come and see her sometime!

Ju-Ju-Bee, — Pop a chubby with Ju-Ju pop! love, — Lu Lu and Chan-Chan

Su, Su, — Oiy, Oiy! We love ya! — Lu-Lu and Chan-Chan!

Brothers of Pi Kappa Phi — Good luck to all those who are involved in the Greek Week Events. We know that you guys will be giving it your best!

Kathy Glenn –
Smile! Give your face something to do!
Remember this
"Milk does the body good!"
BS

Alf, — I notice you have a little Big Toe. Hmmm!?! You know what they say. — Love, Joi

Andrea, — You're the greatest roommie ever — I'd never survive without you!! Keep your chin up — it always gets better. You know I'm here for ya! — Love, Joi

Motel Men Rm 12, — Thanks for the memories — Love, Wheeler 319

Alf, — I'm really glad two months turned into two weeks. You're well worth the wait. — Love, — J —

Suesan D. Lord –
Happy Birthday!
Remember you're special
So you will able to Complete anything you
set your mind to!
"The person who doesn't have a life."

Laurie Tolles –
Remember this I believe in you so
you should believe
in yourself!
Yolololo – Becky

To the Cunningham Skatern – You may get to class the fastest, but when you bust your ass I laugh the longest!

Robin – Did yu see that flying saucer?

Vic and Kan – My baby article says that Mr. Rogers wants to be your neighbor. Aim

Happy Birthday Laurie. – How would you like to go for a little jog? I heart you. Bill

Rat – You may have a lot of friends but that doesn't make you a winner. You have to be sincere. What are you going to do now? You can't play at school anymore.
Your Once Secret Admirer

Sarah – Take the path you're used to and just look the other way. If you try to go both ways, you may lose both. It's your decision and I'll help anyway I can. We wouldn't have all these problems if we could find the island. You want a John Deer? Kim

Captain Kirk – Stay out of the ditch! Me

Jeffy Eugene, Iceman and Din Man – We the art majors want to set the record straight with you PE majors. So you can stop your crying!

Barney – Remember, it's just like a diet. At first you may feel deprived but the results at the end are worth it. Good luck! Ann and Joi

Clarabelle – We're so glad we met you. Looking forward to sharing our thoughts as well as our bathroom with you next year. Love, Joi and Ann

Joi – Between JMV, Richmond, New Year's Eve, and the T. box from hell, I've been through it all. Couldn't have survived as well as I did without you. Thanks for being my best friend as well as my roommate. Love, Andrea

Wheeler 324 – Newgate was a blast. Let's go dancing' again real soon. – 319

Don't forget to compete your RA Evaluation forms this week! Please return them to your REC by Friday, April 14.

The MWF breakfast club: Hey guys . . . those eggs ya gotta love 'em. E-congrats on rotwang hope it works. See you guys in the fall. Maybe the eggs will improve? O.K., maybe not.

The Penthouse Suite: 3/4 is pretty good. See y'all on L.A.S.E.R. hall.

A MODEST ANNOUNCEMENT:
NEW DOMINO'S PAN PIZZA!™
Phone 392-1820
The end of the semester is near, so we will STOP accepting checks April 16, 1989.

Admissions Job Openings Seniors
Anticipated recruiter/counselor positions starting August 89 lasting one or two semesters. Outgoing, energetic, involved undergraduates desired. Extensive travel. Good salary. Contact Mildred Johnson, Admissions.

Summer Work Study

Jay – (S.K.) Where did you lose it? Becky

To Theresa Wolak: — I've been watching you from afar, if only you knew, maybe We could get together. Ask around in all your classes (even labs), you might be surprised who it might be. Hopefully you are feeling the same. — "L. A."

Bubble, Bubble trickle and trouble find the "Chi"kerchief on the double, down the corridors of Lancer Hall. Usually found attached to the wall. Just enough to fill a thistle. All can sample to wet their whistle. Good luck! — Chi '89

To the Young Adult Lit. lunch bunch: — Hang in there — just a few more weeks to go! — Love, Kim

Dink, — The outfield looks good. Nice picture in ller gym, but you look better in person. — A Secret Admirer

Nora, — Hey honey! Great talk last Thursday. What an awesome perspective! — Love ya, Bearhug

To Amy, Nora, Betty Jo and Tricia — You all did a fabulous job on Saturday! You guys are our favorite Catalinas. — We love you! Pam and Kim

Eric: Take back your Zappa. Please!

Dave Gamache, — Tell George and Barbara I said "hello" the next time you talk to them. Do you think I could have one of their puppies? — Psyche! Just call me "Gullible"

Ron — Are you going to be good to go in 10 days? — 410-412 and 503 Buffalo

Glenn, — Who ever said the "newness" would wear off? It's been over three years and it just keeps getting better. I guess all we need is a little "patience." Thanks for making this one of the best weekends ever. I love you — Sharon

Congratulations Sigma Gamma Chi — You did it again!

Nicole, — Don't worry be happy! Everything will be all right. — Sharon

Cindy and Ami — Who cares if we're stuck in the middle of nowhere next year? We'll just have to make the best of it. Thanks for being a great Roommate and Suitemate. —Love, Sharon

Seniors — Those seniors who have not picked up their announcements may do so in the Alumni office by April 14th.

Need a Loft? — This is the perfect one. 1-loft with electricity and lights — can be made into a closet. Great for dorm or apartment call Kelley or Jana 392-4914 after 4 p.m.

Attention Art Majors and Minors
There will be an interest meeting to discuss the establishment of an Honorary Art Fraternity on Wednesday, April 12 at 7:30 in Bedford Auditorium.

Congratulations to the new officers of the Physical Education Majors Club. Scott W. – Pres., Ellen B. – V. Pres., Laurie M. – Cor. Sec., Kim N. – Rec. Sec., Teri R. – Treasurer, Kellee H. – B. Bean, and Angie S. and Dania B. – Pub. Rel. I wish you all luck in the upcoming year. And remember, the first step as a physical educator is becoming involved. Yours truly, William Brady

The Cunningham's Greatest Lecture Series will feature a discussion on The Dynamics of Child Sexual Abuse with Mr. Frank Howe, School of Education and Human Services, Thursday, April 13, 6–7 p.m., 4th floor South Cunningham.

Federal work-study eligible students needed May-August. Offers good working conditions and job experience. Office skills and good communication skills needed. Inquire Financial Aid Office or Gray Ragland in Admissions.

The Lancer Edition Show Choir of Longwood College will be hosting the Lancer Cafe on April 10 beginning at 8 p.m. The group will present two shows, 8:30 p.m. and again at 9:30 p.m. Selections to be sung by the show choir include "Lift You UP, "Celebrate America" and "America Sings." Several members of the choir will perform solo numbers including Alice Flora, Dawn Reynolds and Vic Lopez. Also included in the show is a duet by Rhonda Riddle and Vic Lopez singing "All At Once." The singers are accompanied by Cynthia Breckenridge and Sandy Fowler on keyboards and Dr. Don Trott on drums. All Longwood students are invited to join the Lancer Edition as they host for the first time in the Lancer Cafe.

FEATURES

Personals

Robin Hood: Thank-you for last Saturday. Talk and sleep makes a difference. Love Forever. – Maid Marion
P.S. P------- & S---- C------ Rules.

L.A.S.E.R. – I look forward to living on such a hard-core hall. – Anxious Science Head.

Dear Einstein, Next year will be great fun. I can't wait! Love, McCoy.

Nils, Short, blue eyed, blond, owner of red CRX with slats says Hi and would like to get to know you! – Shorty

TRACEY and CARRIE! ! !
Tease us not ...
You know you're HOT ! ! !
PLEASE . . . give us a chance???
From: You know who! ! !

To the Karate Kids: Are missing you grasshoppers. Hope that all of honorable injuries have healed. Good luck, see you in the fall. Remember to keep honorable eyes on honorable watch-out so not get honorably jumped. Unless of course by grasshopperette.

K & C: Congrats. We're all on your side. Luv ya lots.

AK & C: Well the picnic was great. When do we hit Bear Plook Lake?

Wishing all you fun loving folks a happy hard-core non-productive summer. See you all next semester. You know who you are and where you'll be. We will run amuck. – The Condom Fairy

D & K: See you both on L.A.S.E.R. next year . Best of luck. Remember, No Sneezing!

K & L: Sorry, but there's still hope? You'll work it out, together.

Dear Nurse Chapel, — Glad you came to Sickbay for that new burn treatment. Until Starbase 3, stay healthy. Love, — Dr. McCoy

Rodney, — We love you lots! — The AΔπs

To the AΔπ pledges, — Keep up the great job you all are doing. We love you lots. — π, your sisters

Kathy Gray, — Get rid of that gross flea infested bird! — π Love, your sisters

Brent Willard, — Never see you around much anymore! Have you stopped coming to the dining hall? Hope to see you and have a nice week! — M. C.

Dave Mazzuca, Why not the girl next door on Curry 9th floor? – the Neighbor.

Koala, The nightlife is great!? What about Farmville Beach? Get in touch and we will meet and go for a boat ride! And about last night . . . Please come read me a bedtime story! I need the sleep! Stay wonderful! – Love Precious (teddy)

Bo, Three floors up is a blonde friend of yours hoping for a chance to get to know you better than just as a friend. – L'il D.

Dia, You are an awesome kid! I love you – Remember to trust your sisters. Love in a Pam Attention – Do you need extra space in your room next semester? A loft is for sale. Good condition. Fire proofed. For only $50. For more information call Paul at 392-7599 or stop by 122 South Cunningham between 1 and 5 p.m. daily.

To the "2" Fan Club – It was great seeing you guys at the Capital Center. I am really looking forward to coming to "Jonesville" and checking the place out. I promise to keep shooting my two. Jerome says Hi! – Caldwell Jones.

"Big D" and the Rest of the Hooligans, — Hope you had a great Spring Weekend. — π Love, Colleen

Chet, — Stop your stress in Now! — Your Buddy, Moneski

Danette, — Don't forget, we're going to Macados this week. — Love, New Hampshire

Marcus, — I told you that you'd place! You're a great friend and even though you always pick on me you're my B.M.O.C. — Chic from N.Y.

Dear Janet, — You're the best little sister in the world and I love you lots! Have a great week. — π Love and mine, Karen

REMINDER

Those who signed up to skip a meal for πK£'s National Service Project (P.U.S.H.), please do not attempt to eat dinner Wednesday night April 12. Special thanks goes to Ray Knott, who organized Skip-A-Meal, Longwood Dining Service for their cooperation, and the students who signed up to help make our project a SUCCESS. – πK£

A Review Of Something Unspoken and Suddenly Last Summer

By MARTHA E. COOK

On April 5 through 8, the Longwood Players presented Something Unspoken, a one-act play, and Suddenly Last Summer, a short play in four scenes, both by Tennessee Williams.

In Something Unspoken Miss Cornelia Scott, an aging Southern aristocrat, played by Lorrie Huffman, awaits a call informing her of the results of an election at her chapter of the Confederate Daughters. While waiting, she both scolds her secretary, Grace Lancaster, played by Amy Roderer, and seems to reach out to the younger woman for companionship. Grace seems uncomfortable with the shifting moods of her employer's character.

Many viewers apparently were puzzled about the meaning of the title Something Unspoken. According to student director James Gross, it alludes to the central theme, one that Williams leaves to the audience to define.

The ten-minute intermission between Something Unspoken and Suddenly Last Summer marked a transition from a sparsely realistic set to a marvelous juxtaposition of the beauty and horror of a jungle garden with the genteel ambience of a Southern courtyard filled with white wicker furniture. In the latter set the skill and artistry of Moffatt Evans and the hard work of the set crew were apparent.

The effective use of light and color added to the growing tension between the central characters, the stately Mrs. Violet Venable, played by Marianna Poch, and her coolly beautiful niece Catherine Holly, played by Amy Church. Their conflict stems from the relationship of each with Mrs. Venable's son Sebastian, who died "suddenly last summer" during a trip with Catherine to Cabeza de Lobo, a fictional place in the Caribbean.

As the tension increases, the charming Doctor Cukrowicz ("call me Doctor Sugar"), played by James Locke, becomes increasingly important. Mrs. Venable is attempting to convince him to perform a lobotomy on Catherine, so she will not continue to tell a story that reveals the decadence in Sebastian's life and death – or so she will not be believed.

Williams effectively employs the minor characters of Catherine's mother (Jacqui Cook) and brother George (Tony Wright) to offer a few light moments. Mrs. Venable's secretary (Sheri Senter) and the nun who accompanies Catherine from St. Mary's Hospital (Dawn Jarvis) are vital in effecting the movement of the central characters through the complex stage set.

Throughout this production, original music by Longwood alumnus Rusty Hurley added to the atmosphere of decadence and horror.

Under the experienced direction of Dr. Patton Lockwood, students Marianna Poch, Amy Church, and James Locke raised the level of this production of Suddenly Last Summer almost to professional caliber. Their skillful performances allowed the audience to follow the clues in Williams' poetic language.

(Continued on page 5)

Tina, — You may not be around as much, but you are always being thought of. I know you've been working real hard and nothing seems to to go right. Keep your chin up. Only 3 more weeks until May! Remember that I am always here for you if you need me. — Love, Patty

Dear Scott, — Thank you for the best six months of my life. I love you! — Karen

Debbie and Tracy, — Okay, who's the drug dealer? AΔπ beach was a lot of fun. Too bad I have the best tan. Thanks for everything. Your friendship is very special to me! — π and mine, Karen 913!

913!
913!
913!
913!
913!
913!

WLCX 90.1 FM "The Voice of Longwood"
392-9380

	SUNDAY	MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY	SATURDAY
2-4 PM	Progressive (Paul Petty) Tom Cruise & The Seoul Man	60's 70's 80's (Laura Railford) I Don't Know	Top 40 Dance Pop (Pam Werner)	Progressive + (Dina Schramo) She's On Again	Various (Tammy Belcher)	Classic Rock (Brian Bates)	50's To 80's (Jim Cummins) Rap & Rock
4-6 PM	Vintage (Jim Wood) Insanely Inane World Of Rev. Jim	Progressive + (Julie Smith) Jules & The Mix	Various (Karen & Mike) Anything Goes	Reggae (John Drum) Reggae Buffet	Nuggy Music (Amy & Laura) Almost Illegal	Mix & Match (Barbara Lee) Melting Pot	Progressive (Ann Colsch) Songs Ann Wants To Play
6-8 PM	Psychadelia (Jake & Kevin) Psychadelic Solutions	Classic Rock R&S's Freedom Rock	Progressive (Christine Mann) Progressive Dities	Jazz (Barron Fells) Herb's Cool Jazz W/Mellow Xtras	Progressive (Eric & Dina) We're 3rd Floor	Reggae (Nicole Lanningham)	Various (Matt Fletcher) Songs Matt Likes
8-10 PM	Various (Harry Vogel) Cheap Vacation	Progressive (Scott Flood) Yes No Maybe	Progressive (Paul Petty) Tom Cruise & The Seoul Man	Rock & Rush (Dennis Morley)	Progressive (Scott McIntyre)	Rock & Roll (Andy Wheeler) Rock Block Hour	Rock (Dave & Jeff) Rock Rolls On
10-12 PM	Various (Joe Harper) Songs To Learn And Sing	Different (Dan Stone) Wig Out With Dan	Reggae & Progress (Hugh & Charles) Enough Said	Schizophrenic (Nicole & Jen We're Not Blonde	Progressive (Gilligan) No Edie Brickell	Pop & Rock (Jeff Cee) Whatever	Rock & Roll (Andy Wheeler) Rock Block Hour
12-2 AM	Give Us A Listen					Pop & Rock (Jeff Cee) Whatever	Freedom Rock (Doug) Doug's Show

SPORTS

Lancer Golfers Sixth in State Tour

Golf and snow usually don't mix, but they went together at the Virginia College Division State Championship Saturday and Sunday in Hot Springs as Longwood finished 6th out of 14 teams.

The Lancers, led by Chris Fishburne's 80, carded a 332 team score at the Lower Cascades course to finish 14 strokes behind state champ Lynchburg (318). Scheduled for 36 holes, the tournament was shortened to 18 when snow fell Saturday. Sunday's round also began in snow and 38 degree temperatures.

Albie Flanigan of Virginia Wesleyan, who shot 75, won medalist honors in a playoff from Chuck Hutcheson, of Lynchburg.

Also for Longwood, Tony Good and Darrell Nichols shot 83, Scott Wiseman shot 86 and Jeff Smiley shot 87.

"I was hoping we would play better," said Lancer coach Steve Nelson. "It's about the way we've been playing all spring. We practiced hard the last two weeks getting ready. It's just been a tough spring for us."

Fishburne ended up ninth among the individuals while Good and Nichols were in the top 25.

Team Standings: Lynchburg 318, Randolph-Macon 322, Christopher-Newport 326, Hampden-Sydney 329, Averett 331, Longwood 332, Virginia Wesleyan 336, Roanoke 337, Ferrum 339, Bridgewater 340, Newport News Apprentice 346, Hampton 361, Shenandoah 384, Virginia Union 461.

Lancer Lacrosse Beats VA Tech

By ROXIE LOCKWOOD

The Lady Lancer lacrosse team defeated Virginia Tech 9-5 in a rainstorm Saturday afternoon at home and lost to Mary Washington in Fredericksburg 6-5 Thursday. Longwood goes on the road to Randolph-Macon Wednesday in hopes of improving its 2-8 record.

As the rain poured on First Avenue Field, Carver Ports scored early to give Longwood a 1-0 lead, which Virginia Tech soon tied.

Ellen Binswanger got the lead back, but Tech tied the score at 2. Analisa Lage and Rashel Hammond put Longwood up for good. Longwood led at the half, 4-2.

After both teams spent halftime huddled under umbrellas, Tech cut the Longwood lead back to one. After that, Longwood kept the visitors from Blacksburg pinned in their own side of the field. Ports led a Longwood onslaught. She scored her second goal less than a minute after the Tech score, then Lara Cini put the game out of reach. Ports scored again for the hat trick. Tracy Hogan and Hammond closed out Longwood's scoring.

Tech was shut down until the last 37 seconds of the contest when they scored two goals against the Longwood second unit.

"We switched to a zone defense," said Longwood coach Sue Finnie. "We just don't have the speed to match up in a man-to-man, and the zone helps us overcome that."

The coach named Ports Offensive Player of the Game. "Carver's dad came to see her play. This was the first time he'd seen her play lacrosse, so her good play is very satisfying," said Finnie.

Cini captured Defensive Player of the Game. "Lara really did well today. She makes everybody better just by being out there. I don't usually name any Midfield Player of the Game," continued Finnie, "but Maria Dougherty worked harder than anyone. She puts out so much during a game; she never quits."

Thursday against Mary Washington, Longwood outshot the Eagles 17-11 but fell short in a see-saw battle. Hammond scored two goals on seven shots, Binswanger two goals on three shots, Ports put goal on two shots.

Women's Tennis

By JIM LONG

The Lady Lancer tennis team travelled to Amherst Tuesday to meet a strong team from Sweet Briar College. The result was an 8-1 loss for Longwood, dropping its record this spring to 3-7. Longwood's match with Southern Seminary Thursday was rained out.

This week Longwood hosts Randolph-Macon Tuesday at 3:30, visits Lynchburg Wednesday and Averett Friday.

Despite Tuesday's loss, several members of the team are playing well. Mary Lynn Lawman picked up the Lancers' only victory, winning 6-2, 6-2. Lawman was playing No. 6 singles, as LC coach Angie Coppedge switched lineups looking for a winning combination.

On the whole, the middle ranks of the singles players have compiled good records. No. 3 Laura Vollrath is playing well with a 6-4 record, while Leach, at No. 5, is 3-2. The team should benefit from the return of Leach, who was lost for several matches due to an injury suffered early in the season.

Baseball Update

Longwood's baseball team, 18-7, lost three games to the rain (Christopher-Newport Saturday and two against Maryland Eastern Shore Sunday) last week, but has three doubleheaders scheduled in the upcoming seven days.

The Lancers are slated to play at Virginia State Monday, at Atlantic Christian Thursday, at home against Lincoln Memorial Saturday and has North Carolina A & T for a single game Sunday at 3:00. Since the season began in February, Longwood has had 18 games canceled by the weather.

Softball Team Looking Good

By ROXIE LOCKWOOD

The Longwood softball team swept a twinbill 3-1 and 3-0 from visiting Ferrum College Tuesday afternoon, but lost to UNC Charlotte 1-0 Saturday in the UNC Greensboro Tournament. Longwood hopes to improve upon its 7-12 record against Virginia Wesleyan. The Lady Blue Marlins visit Farmville Armory Field at 3 Thursday.

The UNCG Tournament was supposed to run Friday and Saturday, but Friday was completely rained out. Each team was able to play one game Saturday before the rains resumed.

Although Anne Douglas Miller pitched her best game of the season, UNCC prevailed. UNCC pushed the game-winner across in the bottom of the sixth and Longwood was stymied in the seventh. Mitzy Hairfield kept Longwood alive in the crucial inning, but she was left stranded.

"I was pleased with our intensity," said Longwood coach Loretta Coughlin. "A.D. did a superb job and defense was super, especially Carmille [Barnette]. UNCC has a good team – they're Division I –, and we just weren't able to get the runs across."

Cheryl Scharr provided a good springboard into the tournament with a no-hitter in the nightcap of Tuesday's twin bill with Ferrum. Scharr was perfect through four innings, but her bid for a perfect game was marred when Jill Everett and Mary Dailey miscommunicated in the fifth. Everett ran in from centerfield, but the ball skittered off her glove to allow the Ferrum rightfielder to reach first.

In the second, Scharr gave herself the only run she needed when she lashed a single into leftfield. The Ferrum outfielder could not find the handle and allowed Scharr to score.

But, just in case, Everett and Pam Fitzgerald hit back-to-back singles in the third. Cassie Mullenix singled to pickup Everett, followed by a Laura Marks double that scored Fitzgerald.

"This is the best feeling in the world," Scharr said as she clutched the game ball. "I've never done this before, and I'm pretty speechless right now. I do want to say thank you to my defense," she added.

Scharr allowed no runs, no hits, struck out none and walked none through seven innings. Her record stands at 3-4. Longwood's leading hitter was Everett with two singles and a run in three at bats.

Miller twirled a five-hitter to down Ferum in the first game.

After Ferrum scored on a walk and two singles in the second, Longwood began the bottom of the inning with five consecutive hits. Hairfield led off with a double, then Miller singled and stole second. Melissa Gwinn smashed a shot the shortstop could not handle and Hairfield scored. After Dailey singled and Everett struck out, Fitzgerald cracked a single to bring in both Miller and Gwinn.

Ferrum threatened on back-to-back singles with two outs in the fifth and a walk and single with two outs in the seventh, but Miller was able to pitch her way out of trouble.

Player of the Week

Junior hurler Cheryl Scharr pitched a near-perfect no-hitter as Longwood downed Ferrum 3-0 Tuesday afternoon. For her performance, Scharr has been named Longwood College Player of the Week for the period April 2-April 9. Player of the Week is chosen by the Longwood Sports Information Office.

Scharr's gem is only the fifth no-hitter in Longwood softball history. She was on her way to Longwood's first perfect game until an error in the fifth broke up the bid. Scharr also scored the only run she would need on a single and three-base error in the second.

A graduate of Manchester High School, Scharr allowed no runs, no hits, struck out none and walked none through seven innings.

The Rotunda

1839 LONGWOOD COLLEGE 1989

"Catching Sight of Longwood from atop the Sesquicentennial Mount"

VOL. 68 NO. 22 APRIL 18, 1989 FARMVILLE, VA

Honors Banquet Was a Success

By BETH A. LORD

Longwood's annual Honors Banquet was held in Blackwell Dining Hall on Thursday, April 13, from 5:30 p.m. until 8:00 p.m.

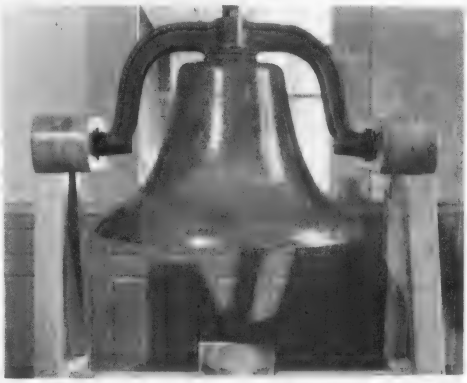
Following dinner catered by ARA Services, a musical program was presented by the Longwood College Handbell Ensemble, under the direction of Dr. Paul S. Hesselink. In an address given by President Dorrill, the students attending were commended on their achievements and encouraged to accomplish great things in the future. Dr. Donald C. Stuart, III, recognized Longwood Scholars, Who's Who winners, Dean's List students, 1988 Phi Kappa Phi initiates, and 4.0 students. Finally, various awards and scholarships were presented to well deserving seniors and underclassmen.

Don't bring your phones or answering machines back next semester.. The new fiber optic phone system will be complete when you return for classes in August. Some of the features will include the following:

- Touch Tone speaker phone in every room
- Access to All Computers On Campus (modem integrated into every phone)
- All Custom Calling Features
- Electronic Voice Mailboxes (replaces the answering machine)

Pictured is a bulldozer digging a trench on the side of Curry.

Photo by Bruce Gantt



Reception Will Honor Outgoing Dean

On Thursday, April 20, 1989 the students of the School of Business and Economics will have a special reception in the VA room at 5:15 to honor the outgoing dean, Dr. Jacques.

The reception will be followed by a short ceremony in which students will have the opportunity to say a few words about Dr. Jacques. "Dr. Jacques always calls us 'his kids'. Well, his kids just want to let him know we love him and that we'll miss him," says Ricky Otey, President of the Finance & Economics club.

Also at the reception, the Society for Advancement of Management, will present Dean Jacques with the Frederick W. Taylor Award of excellence, which is presented each semester to that faculty or administrator that has displayed outstanding concern for business students.

Any students wishing to attend should simply eat their regular dinner and then come into the VA room at 5:15. Anyone wishing to speak at the program should see Ricky Otey.

The college bell, the enduring symbol of the community of scholars resident, at this place for more than 150 years, reads the inscription, was put on display in "The Rotunda" last week.

Tom Wolfe Will Speak at Commencement

Tom Wolfe, the author of 11 widely acclaimed books on American life, will speak Saturday, May 6, at Longwood's Sesquicentennial Commencement and receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters.

Commencement will be held on Wheeler Mall, starting at 9 a.m. The ceremony is open to the entire college community and the public.

Mr. Wolfe is generally regarded as the outstanding literary journalist of his time and the chief architect of the "New Journalism" that applied narrative devices of fiction to factual reporting and changed the face of non-fiction.

His books and articles have focused on and dramatized American social phenomena and cultural revolutions since 1960. His Electric Kool-Aid Acid Test (1968) is widely considered the best account of the counter-culture of the 1960's. He has lampooned artists and architects, radicals and socialites, stock car drivers and stockbrokers, and himself.

His 1987 novel, The Bonfire of the Vanities, was the nation's best seller for many months and is expected to be made into a movie. Another best-seller, The Right Stuff (1979), was the basis for an Oscar-winning film about the American astronauts.

His other best-known works include: The Kandy-Kolored Tangerie-Flake Streamline Baby (1965); The Pump House Gang (1968); Radical Chic and Mau-Mauing the Flak Catchers (1970); The Painted Word (1975); Mauve Gloves and Madmen, Clutter and Fine and other stories, sketches, and essays (1976); From Bauhaus to Our House (1981); and The Purple Decades: A Reader (1982).

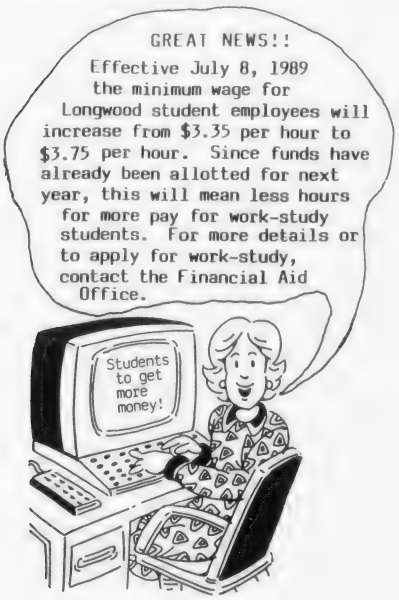
Some of his more important concerns are included in such stories as "The Commercial," "The Intelligent Coed's Guide to America," "The Me Decade and the Third Great Awakening," "Sex and Violence: The Perfect C[illegible]me," "Pornoviolence," "[illegible]ry Chic," and "Honks & [illegible]aks."

[illegible] writes frequently for magazines such as Harper's, Esquire, and Newsweek, and he has done several book reviews for The New York Times.

An artist as well as a writer, he has exhibited drawings in one-man shows at the Maynard Walker Gallery and the Tunnel Gallery, both in New York City.

As a writer he has received such honors as Longwood's John Dos Passos Prize; the Front Page awards for humor and foreign news reporting from the Washington Newspaper Guild; the award of excellence from the Society of Magazine Writers; the Frank Luther Mott Research Award; Virginia Laureate for Literature; the Harold D. Vursell Memorial award from the American Academy and Institute of Arts and Letters; the American Book Award for general non-fiction; the Columbia Journalism Award; and a citation for art history from the national Sculpture Society.

Born in Richmond in 1931, Mr. Wolfe was graduated from St. Chistopher's in Richmond, received an A.B. degree in literature from Washington and Lee University, and earned a Ph.D. in American studies at Yale University.



He has worked for several newspapers, including The

(Continued on page 3)

Contents

News ... 2, 3
Editorial and Letters ... 4, 5
[illegible] ... 6
[illegible] ... 7

NEWS

Groundbreaking For New Library

The groundbreaking ceremony for Longwood College's new library was held at 4 p.m. on Monday, April 17, in the parking lot near Wygal Building.

A speaker's platform will be at the edge of the parking lot near the corner of Pine and Redford streets, and the first scoops of dirt will be dug on a grassy area bordering the parking lot.

Shovels will be wielded by President William F. Dorrill; W. T. Thompson III, rector of the Board of Visitors; Martha LeStourgeon, director of the library; Farmville Mayor J. David Crute; and Drew Hudson, SGA president.

Others who will appear at the ceremony include Dr. Donald J. Finley, Virginia Secretary of Education; State Senator Howard P. Anderson, of Halifax; Delegate Watkins M. Abbitt Jr., of Appomattox; and Franklin M. Slayton, of South Boston, a member of the Board of Visitors and former state delegate.

The new library — a 71,000-square-feet, two-story brick and pre-cast concrete building, with a third level underground — will extend from near Redford Street to near Wygal. Persons will be able to enter the building from Pine, Redford and Race streets.

It will be built by the Avis Construction Company of Roanoke, which submitted a low bid of approximately $5.7 million. The building is expected to be completed in about 18 months.

The new library will have more than three times the reader space of Lancaster Library, built in 1939, and will be almost twice as large in gross square feet.

The building is distinguished by a two-story entrance hall resembling an atrium. The entrance is flanked by columns, thus continuing the colonnade appearance of the front campus.

Census Employees Needed

The U.S. Census Bureau's Charlotte Region has summer job openings for college students in the Carolinas, Virginia, Tennessee, Kentucky and The District of Columbia.

The Census Bureau hopes college students looking for summer work can help fill the need for about 3,800 temporary employees throughout the Region this spring and summer.

Students would help develop a master list containing the addresses for each of the Region's estimated 10.5 million households. Since Census Bureau policy is to hire persons indigenous to an area, students would be able to work in their own home towns.

This May in urban areas and June in rural areas, students and other temporary Census employees will drive or walk the streets and roads of their communities checking for a correct mailing address for each housing unit.

A census questionnaire will be delivered to each address during March 1990. They are to be completed and mailed back beginning April 1, 1990, Census Day.

These jobs usually last from 6 to 9 weeks and pay $5.50 to $6.00 an hour, depending on the area. Access to dependable transportation is necessary and auto mileage will be reimbursed at a rate of 22.5 cents per mile. Applicants will be given a short written test, and those hired must take an oath of confidentiality.

"This is a job that provides college students with a meaningful way to spend the summer earning money," Census Bureau Regional Director William F. Hill said.

"It's an opportunity for a student to help his or her community and learn firsthand how our nation takes its social and economic pulse every 10 years."

Students interested in applying for the summer jobs should contact the state employment office nearest their home.

College Students and AIDS

(CPS) — "Significant numbers" of college students will be suffering from AIDS in the 1990s, the head of the American College Health Association's AIDS task force told a health conference in Seattle the first week of April.

"This is not a potential problem on campuses," Dr. Richard Keeling, who also heads the University of Virginia's health services department, told a regional meeting of doctors, nurses and hospital administrators in Seattle. "It's an established problem."

About three out of every 1,000 collegians carry the HIV virus, which causes AIDS (acquired immune deficiency syndrome), a preliminary Centers for Disease Control report estimated last fall.

AIDS is a fatal disease that breaks down the body's immune system. It is often spread through certain kinds of sexual contacts. Health experts have long considered college students, who generally are sexually more promiscuous than other people, as running a high risk of contracting the disease.

"Most students now have a fairly good base of information about AIDS," he said. "We need to facilitate links between what they know and what they do."

Keeling thought most of the students now infected won't begin to suffer AIDs symptoms until the early 1990s because the virus takes that long to destroy the immune system.

At that point, Keeling expects campus health services to be overwhelmed. "We're still in the infancy of providing the range of medical and psychological services" needed to treat AIDS patients.

Special Olympics At Hampden-Sydney

Some 30 to 40 mentally-handicapped athletes from Prince Edward and surrounding counties will compete in the Piedmont Regional Special Olympics at Hampden-Sydney College Saturday, April 22 from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m., to qualify in eight categories for the Commonwealth of Virginia Special Olympics finals. The event is sponsored by the Hampden-Sydney College Interfraternity Council, with participation by Longwood's Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority, ARA Food Service, COKE, and Prince Edward County's Special Olympics Representatives.

LONGWOOD COLLEGE BOOKSTORE

HOURS 8-5 MON.-FRI.

The Longwood College Bookstore study guide and career planning center is now featuring study guides by Barron, Cliff and Schaum.

Career Planning Aids such as:

Resume Preparation Guides
Summer Internships for Undergrads
Career Strategy Aids
Guides to Companies and Occupations
Comparisons of Public School Systems Nationwide
Guides to Research Paper Preparation

Phone 392-9240

NEWS

A Note From The Yearbook

As you may be aware, the 1989 yearbook is now in its main stages of production. The staff has been working very hard to meet the deadlines, and the book is coming along nicely. However, for the book to be complete, we need your help. If you would like your group to be represented in the yearbook, please submit a group photograph to The Virginian, Box 1134 by April 24. To avoid any errors, please list the names of the members as seated in the photo. If you would like to submit any candids with a brief summary of the activities of your group for this year, feel free to do so and we will include what we can in our available space. All pictures will be returned. Thanks in advance for your cooperation! — The Virginian Staff

A Spring Weekend Thanks

The following students worked long, hard hours with the Student Union to bring Longwood its Spring Weekend. Not only did they volunteer their time, but worked with such enthusiasm and comradery that even the pouring rain couldn't dampen their spirits. I think this exemplifies their loyalty and devotion to the spirit of Longwood. Many of them didn't hesitate when the need for extra manual labor arose and not one complaint was voiced. They made the weekend a success and deserve some recognition.

Sarah Raffetto, Kim and Lorri Walker, Donnis McMullin, Tom Harrison, Laura Llewellyn, Jeff Skelton, Joe Behan, Alan Rapee, Rocco Tricarico, Wade France, Scott Jekines, William Chestnutt, Ronald Colbert, Annette Shahda, Brenda Schaefer, Teri Riemondy, Brian Beamer, Andrew Wheeler, Todd Deaver, Mark Veno, Warren Hicks, Trey Umstead, Garrett Pressick, Mark Ashley, William Turner, A. J. Gamble, Sharon Kaufman, Marie Bristow, Traci Sauter, Suzi Wallace, Raecita Gallop, Danny Dail, Craig Hollin, Andy Hughes, David Daniels, and WLCX.

To all of you I am extremely grateful and proud to have worked with you, and I thank you with all my heart. — Athena

Poetry Contest

Over $11,000 in prizes will be awarded to the best 152 poets in a contest sponsored by the American Poetry Association to discover new talent.

The grand prize is $1,000 and the first prize $500. Other prizes include cash, awards, and publication. Entry is free.

Everyone is welcome to enter.

"Sixteen students won in our last contest," said Robert Nelson, publisher for the Association. "Every student who writes poetry is urged to enter this contest. We have a June 30 deadline on purpose so students can send their best work now — or during summer break."

Poets may send up to six poems, each no more than 20 lines, name and address on each page, to American Poetry Association, Dept. CT-37, 250 A Potrero Street, P. O. Box 1803, Santa Cruz, CA 95061. Entries should be mailed by June 30.

Each poem is also considered for publication in the American Poetry Anthology, a leading collection of contemporary verse.

During six years of sponsorship, the American Poetry Association has run 30 contests and awarded $120,000 in prizes to 2,900 winning poets.

Wolfe

(Continued from page 1)

Washington Post and The New York Herald Tribune. He has been a contributing editor for New York and Esquire. It was his trip to California in 1963 to cover a customized-car show for Esquire that eventually turned into the best-selling Kandy-Kolored Tangerine-Flake Streamline Baby that set Mr. Wolfe on his way as a chronicler of the American scene.

He is a cousin of the late Frances Roberdeau Wolfe, of Richmond, a Longwood alumna who established a scholarship endowment that funds eight Longwood Scholars.

FEATURES

Personals

Matt R. — I'm sorry things didn't work out. I'll never forget you and how much of a great person you can be. Hope you have a nice summer and maybe we'll see each other next year. — Love Becky

Lourrie — Lyn Elizabeth Duddridge — CONGRATULATIONS! You'll make a SUPER PA!! — Love ya, Beck

Scott W — I thought all golfers had balls. Obviously you don't have any. I hope you did well in your "golf tournament" this weekend. Sorry I missed it — I had a ball.

Nils — Tall, green eyed, brunette, owner of black CRX with spoiler would like to get to know you better! Not too tall.

To my Muscle Men of Hell Hall: — Thanks for coming to my rescue, I couldn't have done it without you. You guys are fantastic! — Love, Athena RATFACE, — Thanks for putting up with me through last weekend and all the other crises this year. It's not easy being roommates and even harder to be friends. But nothing worthwhile is ever easy. Your support and friendship are immense and precious to me. Here's to another great year ahead! — Love ya roomie — A.

DeAnn, — The year is almost over. Soon it will be time to come back and take a "senior" walk on the wild side. I'll see you next year; same time, same place. Thanx for being a good gus. — In Sigma — Deb Troops - 2 weeks!!

Troop - Can't wait for Michigan to come home huh? Lookayonda!

Troop 4 - Going to Miami? I SEE! Happy Belated B-Day!!

Troop 3 - Wait'll next semester, we'll run laughing! Happy Early B-Day!! — Love ya'll Troop 2

A and J — You are the cutest! Love PEA Head and Baby Pi

I love my BIG SIS Michelle!! You are awesome and I am so lucky to have a big sis like you!! — π Always — Colleen

Andrea and Jui — These past few weeks have gone by so quickly! You two are the best! I can't believe how much fun I've had! You've helped me through so much (whether you realize it or not!) Never forget the exciting classes we've had together, the softball games ("that's my boyfriend" and D. M.), and all the great parties and helpful advice (I needed those shoves every once in a while!). Looking forward to next year!! — Love ya, Beck

Ronda Morgan — I am going to miss you next semester! I wonder if the library will give me my own chair too? Don't ever forget that your little sis loves you! Smiles forever, — Becky

Samantha K. — Only a couple more weeks and it's adios to everything we want to forget about at Longwood College! I can't wait till next year! I'm really lucky to find a roomie like you! — Love ya, Beck

P. S. Saturday nite — "Chrona-Chrona-Hala!" (How many times did we go up there at the AXP party?)

The pledges of Sigma Kappa will be having a car wash on April 22nd from 11:30-2:30. It will be held at the physical plant and is only $3 per car.

Warren Tracy Kilby III, ΔΣΙ, — You are just too hot! — A looker

Emma, — Good luck next year. Have fun anthropoligian around! — Linda W.

Dear Sock Shaver and Krinkles — Lookin forward to next year with you guys. Hopefully though things will work out for all 3 of us. — Luv, Kodak

Attention Art Majors and Minors, — A follow-up and membership meeting on the establishment of the art fraternity will be held on Wednesday, April 19 at 7:30 p.m. in Bedford Gallery. Please attend.

"2" The Fan Club — Even though the weather was cold, the weekend was HOT. I really enjoyed that crazy game you played in the mud, but I'll keep mine on the court. — Caldwell Jones

Jon — 7 months yea! Thanks for all the great memories! I am so glad that we have stayed together. You are the greatest and I love you! — Colleen

To all ΑΔπ Sisters! — I love you all. I am having so much fun pledging. You guys are great! Can't wait til I am a sister! π Love — Colleen

Stacy – Thanks for everything and for sticking by me always. You are the best roomie ever! You are truly the "wind beneath my wings." I can't wait until next year – It's going to be great! – Love Valerie.

S.G.A. President – Umbrellas come in handy in your line of profession on behalf of the senior class. Thanx The Senior Class President

Alpha Chi, Rho – Thanx for making me the proudest president. Wear your letters with pride. ΑΝΔΡΙΖΕΣΟΕ Your President f

Hey Strange "Brew"er – Drink up and be merry. The time to smile. Don't forget it! – Mr. Busy with too much time on his hands.

To 6th Floor RA – You said I made your day now I'm waiting for you to make mine. "Only Nineteen"

Fred & Barney!

Maybe next time you can be a little faster! We'll have to take a trip sometime. – The VA Crew

Mike & Dave – Do you want anymore chicken? – You know who.

Laura – Are you still alive or has living in Cox killed you? – A Frazer Friend

A Look at Speaker Wright

The Speaker of the House of Representatives, Jim Wright of Texas is fighting for his political life.

The House of Ethics report to be released today or tomorrow probably will find that Speaker Wright did violate various House rules. Some Democrats say that if the report indicates that he did not violate House rules, Speaker Wright will emerge as a much stronger force. However, most believe the 456 page report will leave the speaker damaged goods, whatever its findings.

The committee is looking at allegations that Wright and his wife received money, use of a Cadillac and an apartment from a Texas businessman, George Mallick, who had extensive real estate, oil and gas holdings. These "favors" amounted to more than $100,000. It is alleged that Wright intervened many times where Mallick had an interest including helping out a failing Savings and Loan in Texas, where Mallick was having large loans called in.

Wright is also accused of impropriety with the sale of his book, "Reflections of a Public Man," which he and one of his government paid staff member wrote. He took a rather large (55% of the royalties) from its sale and it is alleged that special interests bought large amounts of the books as what has been described as a "pay-off." This let Wright get around the cap on honoraria a representative can receive, because book royalties are not included.

The democrats are concerned, and rightly so, that Mr. Wright will become the sleaze issue of the 1990 House elections and if he did violate House rules, they will want to swiftly replace him to remove this liability. His replacement will be the highly credible House Majority Leader, Rep. Thomas Foley.

It is true that a democratic system such as ours will not always produce capable leaders. For the man that is second in line to succeed the presidency to be running a money laundering operation disguised as a book is cannot be considered petty but as full scale corruption.

(Continued on page 5)

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Party Courtesy

Dear Editor,

I am writing this letter concerning party courtesy and courtesy to the host or hostess. Too many students take advantage of the college parties. Students feel that they have the right to enter any room or building regardless of who is invited or who is sponsoring the party.

An example of this is the use of the Commons Room between Frazer and Curry. It is widely known as a passage way between the two buildings. But in many cases it is the location of private parties. When students continue to pass through the Commons Room during parties it interferes with the host or hostess' rights of having private parties with invited guests only.

To remedy this situation I suggest that when a student sees a party going on he or she refrains from using this passage way. This will allow the host or hostess' rights to be protected and interuptions kept to a minimum. The host or hostess should also make it clearly known or visible that a party is in progress. This will also keep interuptions minimal.

A Concerned Student

Editor's Note: This letter was written by a student as part of his/her probation and thus his/her name was withheld.

S-UN Misconception

To The Editor,

I would like to vary from the all "Too" controversal "Lawnwood" furniture for a moment and talk on a misperception that I've come to understand that many of the student body might not understand.

No matter how funny it might sound, the student union is not a building, not an organization composed of faculty, but a group of students that provide entertainment, activities and a social perspective for Longwood students. The funding for these entertainment programs come from the student's pockets; a good substantial size. Just about anything can be done with this money, but no one seems to either want or care to help spend it. I would like to thank Sean for coming to "S-UN" with an idea. That's half of the work right there. The band fest was a success. The student union (S-UN) is going to sponsor an involvement week so the people that don't know how to get involved, can. Robin, S.G.A.'s Student Life Chair, will help coordinate the best way to get those people involved. If you haven't got anything to do Mondays at 6:15, show up in Conference Room II. The meetings are small and informal, but we will make sure that you are heard. We have the money, but the money is actually yours. Get involved cause anything is possible.

Head Mainstage Chair of Student Union

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
Matt Peterman

Managing Editor
R. Bruce Gantt

Features Editor
Monica Gilbert

Greek Affairs Editor
Chet Ahn

Photography Editor
Emily Howell

Sports Editor
Lindy Seymore

Business Manager
Tim Oliva

Advertising Managers
Steve Evans
Susan Miller

Layout Assistant
Cheryl Jeffrey

Faculty Advisor
William C. Wood

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be typed or printed neatly, state the author's years, and major as applicable.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 392-7817.

COMMENTARY

Faculty and Administrative Salaries

In keeping with other state school newspapers in Virginia and across the nation, The Rotunda editorial board approved a motion to print a representative sampling of the salaries of Longwood's Administration and Faculty. We wish to stress that The Rotunda is no more privy to this information than is anyone else at Longwood, and that these figures are readily available in the Employee Relations Office year round as part of the public record. The names of those concerned have omitted to insure anonymity, for, in this instance, we feel that the individual drawing the salary is not so important as the salary itself. We are providing these figures with a view to enhancing the college community's awareness of how the state rewards its employees for the services provided to the Longwood student body.

Administration

Department	Salary
Administrative	62,900
Administrative	30,200
Administrative	18,200
Administrative	46,000
Administrative	32,100
Administrative	41,200
Administrative	25,500
Administrative	16,500
Administrative	45,800
Administrative	29,200
Administrative	37,500
Administrative	64,800
Administrative	61,600
Administrative	29,700
Administrative	37,700
Administrative	56,500
Administrative	27,500
Administrative	45,500
Administrative	37,400
Administrative	79,000
Administrative	68,200
Administrative	53,400
Administrative	29,900
Administrative	54,000
Administrative	24,000
Administrative	25,100

Faculty

Department	Salary
Math & Comp. Sciende	$46,264
Social Work	34,854
Hper	39,075
Psychology	28,269
Math	33,627
Soc. & Anthro.	29,356
Nat. Sci.	35,064
Vis. & Perf Arts (Art)	34,592
Edu.	42,924
Nat. Sci.	43,475
Nat. Sci.	38,912
Edu. (Speech & Hearing)	34,000
Bus. & Econ.	33,000
Hper	30,003
Vis. & Perf. Arts (Art)	43,696
Vis. & Perf. Arts (Music)	43,595
Hper	28,000
Hper	50,657
Bus. & Econ.	33,940
Nat. Sci.	46,890
Nat. Sci.	42,271
Eng., Phil., Mod. Land.	24,127
Bus. & Econ.	35,940
Bus. & Econ.	48,940
Soc. & Anthro	25,000
Bus. & Econ.	32,940
Hist. & Gov't.	33,461
Bus. & Econ.	35,940
Hist. & Gov't.	33,803
Bus. & Econ.	37,000
Hper	39,587
Nat. Sci.	29,129
Nat. Sci.	40,193
Hist. & Gov't.	47,108
Vi. & Per. Arts (Music)	42,233
Eng. Phil & Mod. Lang.	38,266
Soc. & Anthro.	26,902
Edu.	35,000
Hper	28,477

CLASS AND HONOR BOARD ELECTIONS
TUESDAY, April 18 and WEDNESDAY, April 19

Polls open at 11:00 a.m. in the new Smoker and will be closing at 6:00 p.m. on both these days.
The following are funning pending registrar's approval:

SENIOR CLASS CANDIDATES:
President — Tim Anderson, Martha Moorefield and Mike Porter
Vice-President — Laura Labyak and Ed Matricardi
Secretary — Peggy Robertson

JUNIOR CLASS CANDIDATES:
President — Tonya P. Smith

SOPHOMORE CLASS CANDIDATES:
President— Jennifer Fitzharris
Vice-President — Kendall Ascher

HONOR BOARD CANDIDATES:
Jamie Shearls, Brian Brown, Robin Advocat, Joey Azero, Melissa McDaniel, Rocco Tricarico and Patrick Harrison.

Wright

(Continued from page 4)

So as Speaker Wright goes forward with his defense before the charges are even known, he should stop clamoring that he is not being treated fairly by his own party or that he is being held accountable by some unbelievable standard. The fact of the matter is that is being treated fairly and probably more so than those in the Executive Branch and even the Judicial.

Let's get to the bottom of this without, Speaker Wright, challenging the credibility of the Ethics committee, and if he is found to be in the wrong, move forward with a replacement and get back to the important matters that are facing our nation today.

— FREE —
PREGNANCY TEST

All services confidential.
Same day results.
116 N. MAIN STREET
SOUTHSIDE PREGNANCY CENTER

24-HOUR HOTLINE
392-8483

ATTENTION BUSINESS STUDENTS

During the next three weeks, the Search Committee will bring on campus six candidates for the position of the Dean of the School of Business and Economics. We have scheduled an Open Forum for each candidate to meet with interested students.

You are invited to attend these forums and discuss your concerns with the candidates. I urge each of you to take advantage of this opportunity to participate in the selection process. The students members of the committee, Terry Gabbert and O'Kelly McWilliams, would be happy to receive any comments after the forums, or you may send written comments to me if you prefer.

Thursday, April 20, 11:00 a.m.
Friday, April 21, 3:00 p.m.
Wednesday, April 26, 1L00 p.m.
Friday, April 28, 1:30 p.m.
Monday, May 1, 1:00 p.m.
Wednesday, May 3, 1:00 p.m.

All meetings are scheduled for the Red Room, Lankford Building.

FEATURES

Personals

Mr. Copacetic — Gosh-Golly-Gee, you're a really cool dude! Good luck on all of your exams! — Love, Miss C.

Ronda Morgan and Liz Hoye — I am so lucky to have two wonderful Big Sisters! Thank you both for everything you've done. You two are the best! Have a great week, and remember that your little sister loves you! — Smiles, Becky

Koala, — We need to find more silk! I can't have any fun without it. We'll search! Speaking of fun — a road trip does sound nice! — Love — Precious (teddy)

Kelli — You are the best lil' sis in the world! Hang in there it will soon be over. Keep up the good work and remember I m always here for you. — Zeta love your Big Sis!!

To all the pledges of Zeta Tau Alpha — You gals are the greatest! You are doing an awesome job. Just keep up the good work. Zeta love, and all ours — The Sisters

Congratulations Mike Porter for being named Best Man on Campus, Kevin West 1st runner-up, and Marcus Greene 2nd runner-up. You guys did a great job. — Love the Sisters of Zeta Tau Alpha.

Seniors of Zeta Tau Alpha — You'll are the greatest! Believe me I will miss all of you next year so stop by and visit. Especially my Big Sis Martha, and Grandma Cynthia. —Zeta love and all mine — Trisha!!

Dana — Happy 20th!! Remember the ears and smile — Sara

To the guys in French 324 & 325 — Thanks a bunch for letting me use your computers and print my paper at 3:00 in the morning!! I really appreciate it! I hope I didn't keep ya'll up too late. — KW

Ko & TA — Hi Sweeties! Ya'll are the best roommates in the whole world! Thanks for all the laughs, good times, and being there for me! I'm gonna miss ya'll this summer! — Love ya'll lots! — KW

Buddy — You have made this past year my best ever. The past seven months have gone by so fast, yet it seems like we've spent a lifetime together. I can't wait until we go to Florida this summer (so you can get a tan). I love you so much and we will always be together! — Love, Michelle.

Jacque — Honey, babe, darling, doll . . . are there anymore? I have really enjoyed living w/you and I appreciate your P.A. help when I needed it. You are a great P.A. — Keep the faith — Good Luck in the Future . . . You Big Bad Senior You! Good luck with Randall. Keep in Touch! Love Ya, Linda P.S. You've Got A Friend!

Gina — Next year when I watch the soaps, play Lings Corner or Nertz I will remember all the good times we all had on 8th. I'll miss your friendly and smiling face next year. — Luv your Y. and R. Buddie

Pi Kap Pledge Barry, — Ask Bill H. about the one who's been admiring you from afar. — Mysteriously yours, C

Wheeler 323, — Thanks for the memories! Ya'll are the best! — Wheeler 324

Ginni, — Next year is gonna be great. Sure you can put up with me? Too late — you're stuck now. Looking forward to an awesome year! — Love, Charlene

Lady C, — What can I say?! Between the last 2 years, I think we've been through it all. No one thought we would make it this year but we amazed them all. Let's keep in close touch next year. — Love, Charli

EK Pledges — You guys are doing a super job! Keep up the hard work and get psyched to become EK sisters! — Love The "Moms"

Bonnie — There is no way on the face of the biggest, ugliest, nastiest monster in the world that I could have made it through my freshman year without you. Even if I lived on Jolt Cola and owned a Jabber walky. If I owned a Chapultapek I could never be as happy as I am knowing that you will be my roommate next year. Thanks for keeping me up with your typing. Keep your eyes open for the Caballero. — Love P3

For Sale: 5 pc. living room set: Love seat, rocker, chair, coffee table, ottoman. All wood with brown plaid cushions. $75.00 392-6188.

Are you tense? Do you need to unwind? Does the mere thought of finals make you anxious? If so, then make an effort to attend "Relaxation Techniques" with Scott Lissner on Tuesday, April 18, 6-7 p.m. 4th Floor South Cunningham. This will be the last program of the year for the Cunninghams Greatest Lecture Series.

Kappa Delta Seniors — only 19 more days until GRADUATION! Hang in there! — KΔ love, your sisters

Kappa Delta Pledges: — You all are doing a great job! Keep up that KΔ spirit! — KΔ love, your sisters.

We love you Kappa Drew! — Thanks for being our KΔ Sweetheart. — Love, the Kappa Deltas

Congratulations Mike Porter — You are a super 1989 B.M.O.C. Thanks for your enthusiasm! — Love, the Kappa Deltas

PJ – You're my favorite DJ: Keep up the good work!

Fifth Floor Gang — Thanks for a fun filled first year! We will have many more! Never forget New Year's and all that it included with the nice security guard, shopping, and that noisy quarter!

Tal — I still believe you look 21!

K — You have to stick by my side !! (Hint!)

Tam — Can we skip, or is it a 7:55 start to the day ?! — GOOD LUCK ON EXAMS! — 8th Floor Friend!

Dave Gamache — I still owe you a transmission!! The beach is still more fun! (You just have not visited the right people!) Who's to say Charlottesville is better!! He!,He! — Good luck with exams! — 8th floor Friend!

Cousin of Ed McMahon — Thanks for being a super special roomie!! The next four years are going to be great! Thanks for putting up w/all my talk of W & M. The beach is waiting for you (as long a you don't kick Beg's too hard!) — Keep Smiling — YFR on 8 He! He!

Karen Rots — Well, we made it through our first year! I'd say we did mighty well! Thanks for being here for me and giving me all those rides home.

No matter what happens remember Ring Dance with Filet Mignon and French fries and "Don't Spill." You can come over any time to hide from Mike!

I think it will always be LYLAS! — Good Luck on Exams! — Your passenger to Va. Beach!

Faye and Puff, — You guys are super friends. We need to begin walking again or I may have to "schmack" you both! — EK love and mine, Mel MC

Karen – I'm looking forward to being your roomie next year. Want some crazy bread? AΣT Love, Lori

Christina, — Keep your chin up! I love you! KΔ Love, Big Sis Mandy

H. B.'s — Axell Lives! — A Founder

Jen, Nicole, and Donna — Rag on us if you will, but at least we have our nylons on and know who we're beside. — The Boone's Farm Ladies

Nicole — For the sake of my health, I think I'll be one woman instead of "3 man."

P.S. — I can go out and not meet a man! — your bad influence, C

Smiley, — Curry Room 3, the Laundry room, and Newgate — What's next? At least during spring weekend you could walk by yourself! You're the best and I can't wait until next year! — Debbie Gibson

Sar, — Thanks for the good times and the help in the bad. You're a great roommate and a great friend. Next year — the fun will continue. Good luck on exams. — Kim

P.S. Let's go to Fluvanna Co.

Sugar Daddy — Brian K. Thanks for everything you've done for me this year. You and Jackie are great. Good luck after graduation, but don't worry I'll take care of the Rose Ball Queen. — Kim

To Tracy and Bonnie — Thanks for being such wonderful roommates and for helping me through my pre-graduation blues. I'm going to miss you a lot. Remember that a "Sister is a Forever Friend," and I'll only be a phone call away. If I could grant you one wish it would be for happiness and special memories during the rest of your days at Longwood. — Pi Love and all mine, D.

Amy & Laura – When's the next radio show from the hot tub? – A faithful listener.

COUCH PIZZA

Limited Delivery Area

FOR HOT, FAST DELIVERY CALL

392-3253

CEDAR BROOK RESTAURANT, INC.

½ MILE EAST OF FARMVILLE
ON RT. 460, PHONE 392-4589

ANYTHING FROM SANDWICHES TO FULL COURSE MEALS

OPEN 11 AM - 9 PM, 7 DAYS A WEEK!

Admissions Job Openings

Seniors

Anticipated recruiter/counselor positions starting August 89 lasting one or two semesters. Outgoing, energetic, involved undergraduates desired. Extensive travel. Good salary. Contact Mildred Johnson, Admissions.

Summer Work Study

Federal work-study eligible students needed May-August. Offers good working conditions and job experience. Office skills and good communication skills needed. Inquire Financial Aid Office or Gray Ragland in Admissions.

SPORTS

Longwood Splits With Virginia Wesleyan

By ROXIE LOCKWOOD

Friday's Longwood softball games were hard-fought battles for supremacy. Longwood lost the first game to Virginia Wesleyan 4-3 and won the second 6-5 in eight innings. The victory marks the first time Longwood has defeated Wesleyan.

The Lady Lancers finish the season on the road with games Monday at North Carolina Wesleyan and Saturday at Virginia Tech. Longwood's record is now 8-12.

After losing the first game on questionable calls, Longwood was determined to win the second. At first, Longwood's chances seemed dim. As Cheryl Scharr struggled on the mound, Virginia Wesleyan scored two runs in the first and two in the third.

Scharr got support from her teammates when Mitzy Hairfield walked and stole second. Carmille Barnette singled to put Hairfield on third. She came home on a wild pitch to Melissa Gwinn.

Virginia Wesleyan loaded the bases with two out in the fifth, but Scharr extracated herself by getting the VWC third baseman to pop out to Gwinn. Mary Dailey singled in the sixth, then Jill Everett beat out a bunt. Dailey went to third on a wild pitch to Pam Fitzgerald and stole home.

Hairfield and Scharr led off the seventh with back-to-back singles. Barnett sacrificed and Gwinn singled to bring in Hairfield. Dailey doubled to score Gwinn and went to third courtesy of Everett. And at third she stayed. At the end of regulation the score was tied at four.

To break the tie, the coaches agreed to place a runner on second. The VWC runner scored to go ahead 5-4.

Fitzgerald began the Longwood half of the inning on second. Amanda Whitby, pinch hitting for Mullenix, walked and stole second. The table was set for Laura Marks who doubled over the head of the rightfielder. Fitzgerald scored, Whitby scored and Marks was mobbed by celebrating teammates.

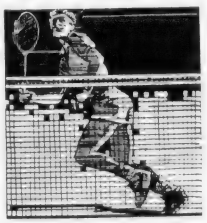
Scharr allowed five runs on 11 hits, walked none and struck out one. Her record is 4-4.

"This is a very satisfying win for us," said coach Loretta Coughlin. "It's nice to beat our old nemesis. This was really a team win."

In the first game, the Blue Marlins scored two runs in the first inning, but Longwood countered in the third. Barnette gave the VWC third baseman a ball too hot to handle. Gwinn walked and Dailey singled. Everett and Fitzgerald were issued free passes to bring Barnette and Gwinn home. Cassie Mullenix cracked a single into center and Dailey scored.

The VWC sixth hinged on two disputed calls. The second Blue Marlin to come up doubled and tried to steal third. She was called safe, a call the Longwood bench hotly disputed, and later scored. After the second out, a Longwood error allowed the Marlin second baseman to reach. She scored on another disputed call. In spite of Gwinn's walk in the seventh, Longwood went down to a one-run defeat.

The defensive play of the game came in the seventh when catcher Hairfield propelled herself headlong, falling forward in front of the plate to catch a short pop fly.



A. D. Miller continued to be a hard-luck pitcher. She gave up four runs on six hits, walked five and struck out none. Her record is 4-8.

Tennis Team Beats Greensboro, Newport News

Longwood's men's tennis team, off to its best start in several years, beat Greensboro College Thursday 5-4 and Newport News Apprentice Friday 7-2 for a 4-2 record.

Grabbing double wins for the Lancers last week in singles were Vince Osborn, Mike Mooney, and Chris Healing. The doubles team of Osborn and Mike Pugh also logged wins in both matches.

This week the Lancers host Randolph-Macon Monday and play at Greensboro Wednesday. Longwood will play in the Southeastern Athletic Association Tournament Saturday and Sunday in Huntsville, Alabama.

Hot Bats Spark Lancers Over A & T

Longwood tied the national record for doubles in a game Thursday and shattered its own mark for homers in a game Sunday as the Lancer baseball team got its offensive attack in gear last week.

The 21-9 Lancers beat North Carolina A & T Sunday 16-7 in the final home game of the season behind a school record six homers. Longwood will play its remaining eight games on the road, starting with visits to Randolph-Macon Tuesday and to Radford Saturday for a doubleheader.

Longwood, which beat Virginia State in a twin bill last Monday 7-3 and 9-2, ran into a hot-hitting Atlantic Christian team Thursday in Wilson, NC and came away with 14-13 and 9-2 defeats. The Lancers lost the opener despite smashing 11 doubles, a figure which tied the national record for college division teams and broke the Longwood mark of six.

According to the 1988 Collegiate Baseball Record Book, the existing doubles mark for college division squads (NAIA, NCAA Divisions II & III), is set by California Poly Pomona against Long Beach State in 1985.

Homers Highlight Victory

Trailing 6-4 after three innings against A & T Sunday, Longwood broke loose for five homers over the final six frames, including three-run shots by Moeller, Smith and Mike Lauffer. Conroy added a two-run homer in the second, and Crisione and Scott Maciejewski had solo homers.

The six homers by six different players broke the old Longwood record for homers in a game. Five times previously Longwood had hit five homers in a single contest. In addition to the circuit clouts, Conroy had four hits and Moeller three. Sunday's game marked the final home appearance for Conroy and fellow-seniors E. J. Bryant, Rice and Eric Killinger.

In addition to Conroy's big day, Bryant continued a sparkling senior campaign on the mound. Relieving Gedro in the second inning, the righthander gave up just one earned run over the final seven frames to pick up his seventh win against no losses.

On the verge of the finest season ever for a Longwood pitcher, Bryant scattered seven hits, walked two and struck out five. He lowered his earned run average to an outstanding 1.21. The Brookville High grad has allowed just six earned runs in 44.6 innings this spring.

Lancer Leaders

Longwood's top hitters through 28 games are Moeller (.422,28 RBI, 12 doubles), Smith (.375, 31 RBI, 8 homers), Criscione (.333,38 runs, 13 doubles, 27 RBI) and Conroy (.379,23 RBI), Cherry (.421) and Hutzler (.375) are also producing at the plate.

Longwood, averaging 7.8 runs per game, is hitting .335 as a team. The Lancer pitching staff has also done well with 3.88 earned run average.

Perini's ITALIAN RESTAURANT
- Pizzas
- Pasta
- Salads
- Pork B-B-Q
- Daily Lunch Specials
- Sandwiches
- Tacos
- Stuffed Potatoes
- Ice Cream
- ABC-On

HIGH STREET, FARMVILLE, VA.
PHONE 392-5865

Lacrosse Team Falls To R-MC, Bridgewater

The Longwood lacrosse team visited Randolph-Macon College last Wednesday, losing 12-9. On Saturday, LC lost at Bridgewater College, 13-6. The Lady Lancer's record is now 2-10.

After hosting Hollins Monday afternoon, Longwood will face an alumnae team Saturday at 11:00. The Virginia All-Star games will be held Sunday.

The Lady Yellow Jackets of R-MC opened Wednesday's game with two goals. Rashel Hammond, of Longwood answered with one goal, followed by Tracy Hogan, and Lara Cini for the Lady Lancers. Randolph-Macon scored four more goals while Longwood could only manage one, by Alisa Bricklin. R-MC led at the end of the first half, 6-4.

Ellen Binswanger led Longwood, scoring three goals in the second half. Cini scored again, as well as Hammonds. But the strong R-MC team was too much for the exhausted Lady Lancers. The Lady Yellow Jackets scored six more goals in the second half to win the game, 12-9.

Longwood coach Sue Finnie was pleased with her team's performance. A lack of skilled players makes substituting almost impossible.

"By the end of each half, every one of our players is tired" stated Finnie. To fight fatigue, Finnie utilizes a zone defense which has proven very useful in keeping the scoring low.

High scorer Ellen Binswanger was named Offensive Player of the game. Judy Flannagan had ten interceptions and received Defensive Player of the Game. Mid-field Player of the Game was Lara Cini, who was very effective in setting her teammates up for the attack on the opponent's goal.

EARN WHILE YOU LEARN

The Apprentice School of Newport News Shipbuilding offers four-year tuition-free apprenticeships in twenty skilled trades to qualified young men and women. Apprentices work a regular 40-hour week and are paid for all work, including time spent in academic classes.

With a full-time faculty of both academic and craft instuctors, the school provides a comprehensive education and training program that is fully accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, Commission on Occupational Education Institutions.

The Apprentice School offers opportunities for participation in varsity intercollegiate athletics, intramural programs, and social, recreational, and community service activities.

☐ YES, I'm interested. Please tell me more about your Apprentice School.

Name _____

Address _____

City _____

State _____ Zip _____

Phone ( ) _____ Age _____

School _____ Graduation Date _____

Cut and send to: Admissions Office, The Apprentice School, Newport News Shipbuilding, 4101 Washington Avenue, Newport News, VA 23607

Newport News Shipbuilding
A Tenneco Company

1839

The Rotunda

LONGWOOD COLLEGE

1989

"Catching Sight of Longwood from atop the Sesquicentennial Mount"

VOL. 68 NO. 23 | APRIL 25, 1989 | FARMVILLE, VA

Photo by R. Bruce Gantt

Ooops! Centel workers accidentally broke a water line last week while installing cable for the new communication system. Water was cut off to the Stevens Science Building and several labs were cancelled.

U.S. Senator From Maryland Will Speak

Paul Sarbanes, U.S. Senator from Maryland, will speak at Longwood College on Wednesday evening, April 26, at 7:30 in Wygal Auditorium.

The Senator will discuss "Latin America and U.S. Policy." The public is invited to attend the lecture and the reception following it.

Sarbanes, a Democrat, was first elected to the U.S. Senate in 1976. He was re-elected in 1982 and 1988.

He is vice-chairman of the Senate-House Joint Economic Committee, and serves on the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee and the Committee on Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs. He also served on the Senate Select Committee that investigated the Iran-Contra Affair.

The son of Greek immigrants, Sarbanes was born and grew up in Salisbury, MD. He received his A. B. degree, magna cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa, from Princeton University in 1954.

SENATOR PAUL SARBANES

For the next three years, he was a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford University, earning a B.A. honours degree in the School of Philosophy, Politics, and Economics.

He then went to Harvard Law School, where he received his LL.B. degree cum laude in June of 1960. That same month, he married Christine Dunbar, of Brighton, England.

During the first 10 years of his career, Sarbanes served as law clerk to Judge Morris A. Soper, U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit; practiced law as an associate with two Baltimore law firms; and served four years in the Maryland House of Delegates.

In 1962-63, Sarbanes was administrative assistant to Walter W. Heller, chairman of President Kennedy's Council of Economic Advisers. The following year, he was executive director of the Charter Revision Commission of Baltimore City.

In 1970, Sarbanes was elected to the first of three terms in the U.S. House of Representatives. While in the House, he served on the Judiciary Committee, the Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee, and the Select Committee on House Reorganization.

Senator Sarbanes and his wife have two sons and a daughter. His niece, Beth, is a graduating senior at Longwood. The family lives in Baltimore. Mrs. Sarbanes, a graduate of St. Hugh's College of Oxford University, teaches Latin and French at Gilman School.

CHI Secret Still Contemplated

Enthusiasts Wait For Thursday

By JAMES BOSTON

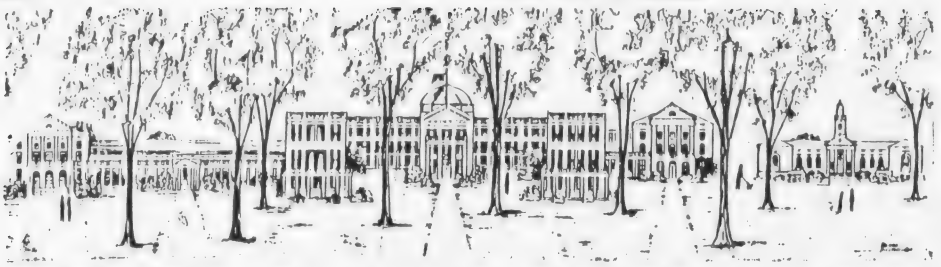
With the Chi Burning closely approaching (Thursday, April 27 at 10:00 p.m. behind Wygal), great anticipation is sparked in many Longwood students. Chi is one of the many traditions which are interwoven with the spirit of Longwood.

Although many of us think that we know about and understand Chi, there is very little that we actually know.

Chi is an organization whose real purpose remains known only to its members. Sure, we see the external glimpses of Chi through their late night walks, their chants, their banners, their dolls, their Christmas balls, their commendation letters and finally at their burning, but is this what Chi is all about? Every year, the questions arise: Who is in Chi? What do they do? The students are ever seeking to find the identity of those friends who call themselves a member of this organization.

Chi is a word that brings excitement and wonder to Longwood College students. But WHY? Let us look into the mystery of Chi and see what we find.

It all began in the Fall of 1900 (October 15 to be exact). A group composed of girls who were considered to be influential leaders in various circles were chosen to become members of a newly formed organization to be called "Chi" — THE NEW ORDER. Their plan was to work in coordination with the Honor System trying to prevent breach of rules.



(Continued on Page 4)

CHI 1942

Contents

Editorial 2
News 3, 4
Features 5, 7, 10, 11
Graduation Centerfold 8, 9
Year in Review 14, 15
Sports 12

1988-89 Is Longwood's Best Vintage Ever
The Editor Reflects Back

The last editorial under an outgoing editor has customarily been the time to look back and also a time to look forward — and so this shall be. Our school has undergone many bold changes during its Sesquicentennial year and if I know Longwood this will continue. Longwood is becoming synonymous with spirited student leaders, who with the support of the student body, not only work for a change, but achieve it.

A College On the Move

Longwood is once again a college on the move. With our new president, school pride and unity between all facets of the college has returned. We have a President that gives support to all students. This means a lot to us. Having the President Dorrill giving his moral support at school sponsored events shows that like the students he is genuinely interested in the day to day affairs of the college.

The college will soon have a new library. I have often read in past Rotunda's, students in the 1950's complaining about the dormitory construction noise so early in the morning. Now I know how they feel. This noise tells me that the campus is alive and growing in more ways than just its students. This new library proves that the state of Virginia also has confidence in our abilities and this project will be just the beginning of many more to come such as a new dormitory ,which will begin next year if everything goes well.

As you probably realize the nation and the world are now in the midst of a revolution that promises to have far-reaching consequences. This is the computer and telecommunications revolution. At Longwood, this has meant keeping up with the times and thus the reason for our new telecommunications system which will take us well into the next century.

Boundless Opportunity

At Longwood, opportunity is everywhere, it just takes initiative to go after it. It could be said that opportunity is the creation of those students who want to make a difference, and those who question the present state of affairs and work for change. At Longwood, every student has the opportunity to make a difference. No voice is to small to be heard and all concerns are worthy of attention. We have a school in which students, faculty, staff, and administration care. Longwood is committed to the ideal that every student deserves a fair chance and this has been demonstrated with few exceptions.

A Campus-Wide Commitment to Progress

Student Government Association is today a strong influence in the lives of Longwood students and under the last couple of SGA Presidents and especially under President Hudson, the student voice has become a powerful force in the shaping of the actions and policies of Longwood College. It has emerged as an organization that is committed to the needs of its constituency, the students, and committed to the progress of Longwood.

Another organization that has come a long way is Student Union. It seems that after a long wait, we as students are beginning to recognize the value of Student Union as a fully functioning and far-reaching organization that indeed offers above all, something for everyone. This organization has slowly been evolving so today more people than ever are taking advantage of the wide variety of programs.

The Rotunda And Catching Sight

I said in my first editorial that we at The Rotunda saw ourselves as the ones to catch sight of Longwood's memorable events from atop the Sesquicentennial Mount (a mount that is now 150 years tall). From atop this mount, which provided the best view of Longwood, we reported all the events from September to April, be it news, features, or sports and even ventured up and down the Mount through the Gallery column and our series of Historical Notes. We tried our best to cover everthing for you: including the various campus controversies.

Longwood has had its fair share of controversies this year, the most memorable, the "Lawnwood Controversy," that we hope, we handled well. At Longwood we have discovered exists a strong showing of public opinion which appears to come forth when something is terribly wrong. Everyone's opinion counts and change works within this framework.

Editor's Final Reflection

When I decided to seek the Editorship of The Rotunda last year, I stated on my application that I wanted to make a difference. Did I make a difference? This is for you, the reader, to decide. It was my intention to present the news fairly and cover as much as possible, in the hopes of raising the important issues of the day. However, I felt it was not necessary for The Rotunda to invent controversies, and I guess for this reason some of the volumes were not the most exciting. But I would not have sensationalism at the expense of the paper's integrity. It was my job to inform, no matter how exciting or boring the information.

Looking back, I can say that the long hours of hard work was worth all of the trouble. It was an honor to serve in this capacity and I hope I did a good job and it is my hope that the facets that I did well will continue.

Matt Peterman

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
Matt Peterman

Managing Editor
R. Bruce Gantt

Features Editor
Monica Gilbert

Greek Affairs Editor
Chet Ahn

Photography Editor
Emily Howell

Sports Editor
Lindy Seymore

Business Manager
Tim Oliva

Advertising Managers
Steve Evans
Susan Miller

Layout Assistant
Cheryl Jeffrey

Faculty Advisor
William C. Wood

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be typed or printed neatly, state the author's years, and major as applicable.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 392-7817.

NEWS

New Communications System Will Move Longwood Into 21st Century

By STEPHANIE NEELY

When students come back for the fall semester of 1989, a new state of the art communications system will have been installed in every residence hall room, faculty office, and administrative office. The system is called an integrated voice/data communication system and it should offer students many advantages at a cost which is considerably lower than what a student would normally pay for having Centel service.

Dr. Cross, manager of the project says that the new phone and data system will provide many conveniences for the Longwood community. When giving a brief of the proposal to the Board of Visitors, Dr. Cross explained that the current phone system is obsolete; the cabling plant is deteriorating, the volume of calls that the college receives — cannot be handled, resulting in an overload in which some calls are rejected, and also there is no switched data capability. All of these problems should be eliminated with the new project. The telephone system will have touch tone service, voice mail exchange, and a new 395 Exchange exclusively for phones on Longwood campus. The touch tone service will provide a number of features: Call-waiting, last number redial, voice mailbox, and others can be added. The voice mailbox will be an answering service on which people may leave messages, and these messages will show up on the digital display in the form of lights. When a light is present, the individual's personal voice mail number can be keyed in and then the messages can be heard. Thus, there is no need for any students to bring answering machines or phones back to school next semester; any other phone than the type issued by the college will not work in the residence hall room. Payment for the phone will be included in room and board fees, thus there will be no charge for local calls. Long distance calls must be made with a calling card or a Longwood credit card. The Longwood credit card will be issued to those students who wish to pay their phone bills to Longwood. The advantage of this credit card is that every student will have an account number which must be used whenever dialing long distance and the switch which operates the entire system will automatically pick the cheapest carrier for that area code. Also, twenty phones will be installed in strategically located places on campus for emergencies; as soon as the receiver is picked up it dials immediately to campus police. The system will also have the capacity for up to 5,000 lines, which may be needed as the college grows.

For students with personal computers, the phone will have two jacks, one for phone service, the other for data switching. Computers may be hooked up to the system, giving the student access to the colleges mainframe and library computers from residence hall rooms.

On Tuesday, April 25th there will be a demonstration by Centel of the system from 11:30-1:00 in the New Smoker for students who are interested.

Gantt Selected As Editor

By TOM FOSTER

On April 10, 1989, the Publications Board unanimously voted to confirm R. Bruce Gantt, as Editor-in-Chief of 1989-90 Rotunda. Mr. Gantt was the sole candidate.

A 2-year veteran of the paper, Mr. Gantt has served as Photography Editor during the Gaughran and Peterman administrations as well as Managing Editor this past semester. He is also Photography Editor of Longwood's yearbook, The Virginian. He is a rising junior and a Sociology major.

The Publications Board consists of 11 people — students, faculty and administration, from various campus leadership positions. Present this year was Joey Azero, Matt Peterman, Beth Camillo, Sue Saunders, and Otis Douglas.

Netters Clinch Season

Longwood's men's tennis team clinched its best season since 1983 last week, beating Greensboro College 7-2 Wednesday, after losing to Randolph-Macon 5-4 at home Monday.

With a 5-3 record heading into Monday's finale at Liberty (the Lancers were set to play two matches against the Flames), Longwood can do no worse than break even at 5-5. The last time the Lancers had a break-even season was 1983 (7-7).

Coach Rich Posipanko's squad took part in the Southeastern Athletic Association Tournament Saturday in Huntsville, Alabama, but failed to win a match. Nationally ranked Lincoln Memorial won the event, while UAH and Columbus also competed.

COUCH PIZZA

Limited Delivery Area

FOR HOT, FAST DELIVERY CALL

392-3253

Are you looking for a summer job?

Kings Dominion

is currently hiring for full-time and weekend only summer jobs!
Earn: $5.20/hr. on weekends
$4.20/hr. on weekdays
Plus a Labor Day bonus plan!

Benefits: — complimentary tickets
— time off for vacation
— unlimited use of the park
— opportunities for advancement
— employee activities program

Apply at the
Kings Dominion Personnel Office
Monday — Saturday 9 a.m. - 5 p.m.

For more information, write Kings Dominion, Personnel Department
Box 166, Doswell, VA 23047
or call (804) 876-5145

EOE

NEWS

CHI

(Continued from Page 1)

These individuals were very different from the Chi we see today, as they were feared by all. These girls worked in all ways to preserve high standards in the college.

Undercover, they warned those girls whose conduct had been disloyal to the ideals of the school.

They were clad in white robes and brewed well to the tune of "Chloe".

Occasionally, they took late night walks.

Their symbol was that of a skull and two cross bones.

A quote from a 1949 yearbook says the following: "We donned our robes over our skeleton frames and took a walk on the colonnade one night. It was raining, so they say, but we were unaware because as you know, no discomfort could ever dismay Chi." Chi was said to "hear all, see all and know all."

As time and Chi progressed, many positive things began to develop. Chi gave the corner stones to the Edith Stevens Hall as well as to Jarman. It was also responsible for the landscaping of the dell at Longwood Estate, the floor in the "old rec" and the directional finder behind the library.

On many occasions, the Chi banner watched over the crowd in the College Shop and on the athletic field. Bright red skulls began to appear around campus on sidewalks.

This staunch group of girls was held fast by undying loyalty, strong bonds of friendship and a firm purpose.

The year ended with what was termed a "coming out party". This was a bonfire which was said to cast its glow to reveal the identities of the Chi members. Over the years, it became customary at this ritual for the members to circle this bonfire and commend those whose spirit and loyalty to the college was felt by all.

With the 70's came changes. A new group was formed as a takeoff on Chi. This group was composed of campus clowns or "fun troublemakers" who called themselves "Cahoots". They did a comical version of Chi which included mock walks. The group died out sometime during the late 70's-early 80's.

Chi of 1970 presented the Blue and White songbook which was a collection of class, color and college songs, as a reminder of Chi's essential purpose. This purpose was said to be "not inscribed upon paper, but could be found only in the hearts and minds of those who sought it."

Today, with a new symbol, that of the Rotunda, CHI WALKS ON, AND THE SPIRIT OF LONGWOOD WALKS WITH IT!!! Its activities have changed over the years, but its aim to uphold the spirit of Longwood has remained constant.

Today, students still get chills when they read letters to the student body encouraging support of college functions and academic excellence. They still look forward to the Chi burning, where recognition is given to students, faculty and administration who have made outstanding contributions to the college community. It is here, at the burning, that the combination of individual flames come together to form one.

As for the question "exactly how does one get into Chi?" — That will probably never be known for sure. We do know that they are chosen for their outstanding contributions to Longwood College.

The important thing to know and understand about Chi is that it maintain the spirit and traditions of this fine institution. Without spirit, Chi would have no reason for being. Realizing that the spirit depends upon each student, Chi strives to kindle the flame and keep it burning in the hearts of all.

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

THURSDAY, APRIL 27	READING DAY	Exams for Thursday night classes 7-10 p.m. and Conflict period
FRIDAY, APRIL 28		9-12: English 051, 100, 101 Conflicts 2-5: TR 8:30 7-10: TR 3:55
SATURDAY, APRIL 29		9-12: TR 11:20 2-5:TR 9:55 7-10: MWF 12:30
MONDAY, MAY 1		9-12: MWF 10:30 2-5: MWF 11:30 7-10: MWF 2:30 & Monday night classes
TUESDAY, MAY 2		9-12: MWF 9:30 2-5: MWF 8:30 7-10: MWF 3:30 & Tuesday night classes
WEDNESDAY, MAY 3		9-12: TR 2:30 2-5: MWF 1:30 7-10: MWF 4:30 & Wednesday night classes

Psycology Club Has Picnic

By BETH A. LORD

The Longwood Psychology Club ended this semester with its annual Senior Picnic on Wednesday, April 19th. At this special event a $75 donation to the Psychology Department was presented to Dr. Ed Smith, Department Head. Also, the newly elected officers who will serve beginning in the fall are Robert Baker, President; Kelly Barton, Vice President; Lynn Owens, Secretary; and Lee Lawrence, Treasurer.

LAVA Sponsors Bowling

By DINA SCHIANO

On Sunday, April 9, Longwood Against Vandalism Association rapped up spring weekend with a bowling competition and a $20 cash prize. The four teams that entered consisted of the Fast Laners, the Justic League, and two teams from the Alpha Chi Rho fraternity. The LAVA members bowled, but did not compete along with the other teams.

The winning team was the Crows # 1 team. Members were Carl Schieber, Steve Gray, Chuck Sobrito, and Kevin Kline. This team had a two game average of 529. The high scorer in game one was Steve Gray with a total of 159, game two put Chuck Sobrito on top with a total of 174. According to Carl Schieber the winning team was going to spend the $20 to go out and "have a good time."

The bowling competition was designed to boost LAVA awareness, and to send a message to Longwood students that LAVA does still exist and even in times of improvement, there are still many ways you the student body can contribute to campus beautification. Keep LAVA in mind during the semesters to come. It's the hardworking dedicated students that make a small organization such as LAVA, work.

LAVA would like to thank all who participated in the bowling competition, it was you who made it a big success.

Awards were given for Leadership and Involvement Excellence for each class last Wednesday at the Leadership Banquet. From left to right holding their awards are Drew Hudson, Junior Recipient; Bradlee Pomp, Freshman Recipient; Raecita Gallup, Sophomore Recipient; and Mike Sheffield. At the banquet Geist won for the most outstanding organization and Joe McGill, Most Outstanding Advisor.

ATTENTION BUSINESS STUDENTS

During the next three weeks, the Search Committee will bring on campus six candidates for the position of the Dean of the School of Business and Economics. We have scheduled an Open Forum for each candidate to meet with interested students.

You are invited to attend these forums and discuss your concerns with the candidates. I urge each of you to take advantage of this opportunity to participate in the selection process. The students members of the committee, Terry Gabbert and O'Kelly McWilliams, would be happy to receive any comments after the forums, or you may send written comments to Kristine Harbour in Hiner Building if you prefer.

Wednesday, April 26, 1L00 p.m.
Friday, April 28, 1:30 p.m.
Monday, May 1, 1:00 p.m.
Wednesday, May 3, 1:00 p.m.

All meetings are scheduled for the Red Room, Lankford Building.

AVOID PROFESSOR NOID

Call Domino's Pizza
392-1820

Valuable Coupon
2 FREE COKES
with any pizza purchase
Offer expires 5-10-89/ Not valid with any other offer.

Cash and Checks welcome.
Watch for our new extended hours in the fall.

FEATURES

Personals

Editor's Note: Because of the overwhelming amount of personals this week, we doubled the Features Section and in all fairness, we printed submissions on a first come first serve basis. We apologize for not being able to print all submissions.

Vonda Kay, — You really made this a great semester for me. Thank you for being there when I needed you most. You helped me alot. It's really going to be hard to leave. I'm going to miss you soooo much. Keep in touch and you know I'll be by K.D. all I can. Hey — Where's your feet? Watch out for those cement benches!! Thanks for everything you've done. I love ya! — Love, Sharon Kay

Jay, — Econ rules! You're a great guy. Good luck with Legal Environment. Next year will be a blast! Good luck on exams. — Kim

TLT, — Next year will be awesome. By the way, who's fault is it? Have a great summer. — Sawah and Kim

Jay, — Keep up the great work with Alpha Phi Omega. — Robert

Pooch, — I don't talk to people I don't like — simple as that. — RAT

Mark, — One last message — Call Latrese. — Robert

FOR SALE: Bed (mattress, boxspring, frame, headboard), $45. 4-Drawer dresser, $25. 5 kitchen chairs, $10 set. Stuffed swivel rocker, $15. Living room lamp, $5. Call Cathy 392-7241.

To Penguin (Jeff) - You made it through all four years! Congratulations! The time has gone by so quickly. Enjoy the white sandy beaches in Hawaii! ! Aloha Dude! ! Love Mickey

Stephanie, — Glad you're coming aboard. Next year will be great. If you ever need anything "our bathroom" will always be open. Here's to some great times. — Kim and Sarah

Sharon (Tabb 215), — You've been a great neighbor. Good luck on exams. Have a great summer. — Kim and Sarah

Calendar Kim — I love to watch you shake and bake upstairs at dinner!! — Geo

To my secret admirer — Having friends is a by-product of sincerity. I have friends — Do you? Please squeeze your feces filled cranium and come up with something better to do than write anonymous personals to me. Have a miserable life. — Sincerely, Robert A. Taylor "RAT"

GT, — Good luck next season! It won't be the same without you!! — Corch

Pearl, — Hope your car makes it. — Mike

Sharon Kay, — We've had a blast! It will continue next year. — Watson and E.T.

Robert, — It's been interesting, knowing you. Good luck in all that you do. You deserve the best. — Kim

Vonda Kay, — You are the ideal neighbor. It's destined forever! Stay sweet. — Kim and Sarah

Mo, — Someone in your management group knows who has been watching your roommate. I also know that you are not from Nowhere county.

Kevin N. — You play a great first base. I really enjoyed watching while I had the chance!! — SKR

Rho Alpha Tau, — Pledging has been wonderful! When is initiation? — Tau Lambda Tau

To RAT's semester-long secret admirer: — Why are you so worried about RAT's future after Longwood when yours is not looking to "promising" itself? Impracticality, unrealistic life styles and surface personalities won't get you through this life. They can't even get YOU through college.

Shteph! — Hope the weekend went well for you! I enjoyed it immensly and I'm glad you went! — Love ya, Ter

R. Bruce — Power isn't something that's given to you, It's something you take! Congrads! You'll be a great editor! — Robert

Ter — What can I say? We'll be together more than you expect next year. I promis. I love you very much. — Bobert

Percy, Hortence, Fayro, Moose, Bruce, and Dave — Keep the CHA spirit flickering next year! — Jis

Jim - "Walk forever by my side," and if you EVER leave me, I'll be lost. You are my inspiration and you are my life. You're in my heart, and I love you! Always, Jenn

P.S. Looking forward to the "suite" life next year?

Swooz, — Hope Bobbie's birthday went well! Can you tell us all about it? — Ter

LOML, — How do you put a semester's worth of things in a personal? Oh well, the best is yet to come! Guess what? You know! — "Bonehead"

Sharon Kay — You're the GREATEST!! I am really going to MISS you this summer! Thanks for always being there! Even when "She Drives me Crazy"! I couldn't have survived the semester without you. Look out 1st floor North cause here we come! I'll always be there for you! Remember ---- PATIENCE!! — I love you, Vonda Kay

Kim and Sarah — Have a great summer! Here's to a grand year on 1st floor North! — Love you! Vonda Kay

Connie — CONGRATULATIONS! You finally made it! Best wishes! I love u! — Vonda Kay

Kim, — This year has been great! Next year will be better. Just think we have another semester of Economics to go through! Hopefully I can get my directions straight and make a decision!! Have a great summer and stay out of trouble!! — Sarah

R. Bates, — Thanks for all of your help! Thanks also for listening to the endless stories, and for giving me advice when I needed it. You are a great friend! Have a good summer and come back ready to party!! Take care of yourself!! — Love ya, Sarah

R. Bruce, — Thanks for being our "Personal" Connection!! — Kim and Sarah

Mike W. — The White House awaits you!! — K and S

Robert, — I wish you luck in all of your future endeavors. Thank you for "conversating briefly" with me all of those times. It'll be hard to forget you — since you are wonderful! — Love, Poochie

To the Booty Hunter, — The hunt is perpetual. Don't ever give up! — The Booty Huntress

Cris - Thank you for the other night (Friday 2 wks ago), after the party. You made my wish come true. I hope to see you again.

From the girl in the study lounge.

Kerry and Kristene — You are the best two roomies in the world! I never could have made it through the year without y'all. Thanks for all your support and understanding about everything! Next year will be great! — Just bcuz we're in a different room doesn't mean we can't have even more fun! — Love Tee-A

My MBO — Here's a long distance I LOVE YOU!!! from much too far away. I can't wait for one of your hugs. Thank you for the two most wonderful years of my life. I can't wait for the years to come! — Love always, your TA

P.S. I love your secret!

Carolyn, — we are gonna miss you next year. Take care, be good, and tell Mike what a lucky guy he is! — Love room 212

Heather, — Good luck with Ray! We better warn the rest of the world that you're being let loose in it soon! Thanx for all the advice and don't forget to give those guys our number! — love ya Rm. 212

Hi Rob, — What are you doooing? Good luck in the marines — we'll miss you and your hair! Hold that carwash! Woof! — Love, Tanya, Kristene, and Kerry

P.S. (Stop rolling your eyes).

Dave, — Hey sweetcheeks! Thanx for all the roadtrips to Richmond and for listening to all our off-the-wall babbling! — Love, Tanya, Kristene, and Kerry

John, — thanx for going running with us. I can't believe you still talk to us after cowboys and indians!! You better write us! — Love, Kristene and Kerry

J. Lynn — Good luck in your future endeavors — You're going to need it! — R. Allan

Mike, — Take that J — Board up to the Honor Boards level. Bust'em all, let God sort 'em out. — Robert

Kim, — Hey! Hope you have a good summer. Thanks for going on all those "road trips" with me. Remember we will never be racquet ball pros- we are supposed to hit the ball not run from it. Take care and keep in touch. — Love, Sharon Kay

Steph, — It's been fun this past semester. Thanks for everything. Next semester will be even better! Have a great summer. — Love, your roomie

Sue Ellen - Thanks for always being there. Love ya _ Your Big Brother!

Matt R. — I know I worry too much. Thanx for understanding. You better write me this summer. — love, just Kerry

P.S. Moonshadow is the best song on the tape!!

Anita — Next year is gonna be awesome. Sure you can put up with me? Too late — you're stuck now. See ya next year. — Love, Anothip

Nikki — Thanks for everything!! You're a great friend!! I'm glad you'll be living next to Anita and I, or am I? Just kidding — Love, Thippi

ΣK Pledge Class — You guys are doing an awesome job and I'm very proud to be your pledge pres. — Keep up the hard work and your ΣK spirit. — ΣK and all of mine, Anothip

Jen — It's almost over 2 more weeks! Hang in there and good luck on your exams! I'll probably see ya this summer. — Love, Thippi

Sarah — You're the greatest big sis anyone could ever ask for. Thank you for everything. Have a great week and good luck on your exams! ΣK and all of mine, Anothip

Kendal — Learn to do your own computer work — "If you can't handle it, don't do it!!" — Remember smile I'm taking a picture!! — Love, Thippi

Toni Pepperoni — We finally made it! Where's Guiness? I guess that's what happens when two rebels get together. Thanks for the great weekend. I don't know what I'll do without you over the summer! I love you!!! — Wooley

Alfalfa — Sorry about the problems this semester. Next time, tell me! I'm glad we got things worked out. You're the greatest roommate ever! — Be-Bop

"Corch" — You better write next year. I'll miss pulling those teeth. Remember GT Basketball is the Best. — Robert

RAT and Co. — Thank you for everything. You all have made this last year bearable. Keep up all the "traditions", and give "Phil" a gin and tonic. Avec Beaucoup D' Amour (Really) — RAT

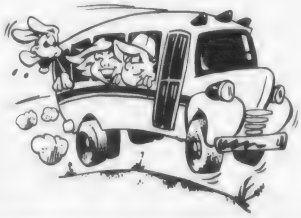
Suzanne, — H-SC formal was a blast. Shall we do it again next year? Step aside Mike Tyson! HA! Have a wonderful summer. — Nancy

BACK TO SCHOOL

WE HAVE THE BEST BUYS ON CAMPUS

AT

"THE OTHER STORE"



Beside Eddie's Super Market In The Old "Peoples Drug"

Back TO School Supplies HEADQUARTERS

- Used Text Books
- Paperbacks
- Clothing
- Greek Apparel
- Paper Supplies
- CD's/Cassettes

GRAND OPENING IN AUGUST!

Shop here for all your...
DISCOUNTED SCHOOL SUPPLIES!

WATCH FOR OUR OWN
PERSONAL SHUTTLE SERVICE TO AND FROM DORMS
DURING THE WEEK OF AUG. 28 - SEPT. 1.

FEATURES

Personals

Steph, hon — You are a great roomie! I really enjoyed being with you this year. We have grown a lot closer . . . I hope that never ends. — I will miss you next year. GOOD LUCK ON EXAMS! and in nursing school at MCV. Keep in TOUCH in the future! Luv ya, Linda W. (Kodak). Don't ever forget I'm just a phone call away if you need me . . . I'll be there . . . You've got a friend — LCW-88.

Cindy - Darling — I have really enjoyed rooming with you this year. You are a sweet girl and I am so happy that I know you. We have had some great times (even if I am a S.C.S.). Good Luck on Exams and in Med-School. — Remember you can do anything you set your mind to. I will miss you next year — Keep in touch . . . Friends Forever, Linda W.

P. S. Tell Tracey I said good luck to him next year. Hope he gets well soon! Miss seeing his and your smiles! LCW — Remember you're Got a Friend.

Joi and Andrea, — Wow! What a year! What would I do without ya'll (and your clothes)?! Next year is gonna be great. Thanks for everything! — Love, Clarabelle

P. S. Can you see my jeans in that closet?!

My heart cries out
in search of you,
Wherever that may be.
It was not long ago
that you were mine,
Until immaturity took control.
With a head as swelled
as an ankle,
Newly twisted and disfigured;
I carried on and on as if you were not there.

Change — make different; alter.
It is done.
Take a sincere chance;
Just one more;
And proof you will need no more.

Beware Cunningham residents:
Hell will re-open under new management fall of 89'

Suzanne and Susan — What can we say? You two have been super suitemates. Thanks for everything. We're gonna miss you both! — Love, Kim and Cindy.

Alpha Gamma Delta Pledges — You girls are the greatest! I will miss you this summer, but look forward to your initiation in September! — AF Love and Mine, Your Pledge Mom.

Sigma Gamma Chi, ladies and gentlemen, it is time to move hell northward and down 2 floors. Then we shall resume operations. Sincerely, the Great White Booty Hunter.

Precious — I used to live for the weekends. Now I live for the weeknights! — You give new meaning to the "Wild Thing"!! Here's an idea, let's go night golfing at the Country Club. And about any problems, relax it's just small potato chips. Oh, and can't we order pizza yet. I'm hungry — Love, Koala and Turbo.

To the sisters of Sigma Sigma Sigma — An awesome sisterhood! — Have a wonderful but safe summer. Good luck to everyone on exams and to those who are graduating or transferring! — Σ Love and Of Course Mine, Stephanie. P. S. To Teddi, my Big Sis have an awesome summer and let's try to visit one another. P.P.S. April, my favorite little sis, you're awesome, I'll be at Longwood ALL summer — Come and see meeee!!

Carrie and Kelli — Thanks for sticking by me all year — We've been through a lot haven't we? I'll miss you both so much next year and I'll never forget all the great times we've had. Just remember: I'll be back some more so DON'T go out and PLAY! — Love Tracey

Paul Petty — You are the best D.J. I've enjoyed your show this semester. I hope you have one next year. Your taste in music is great. I just want to thank you for playing all of my requests and dedications. I appreciate it. Hope to see you on M- St. this summer. 'Til next year — Love, Sock Shower: a devoted Listener.

Stephanie Jones — You are the BEST Kid a Mom could ask for. I'll miss you this summer! — AF love and mine, Your Mom — Kim

Cindy Lou — The best roommate ever! Just think . . . one more year to go! Did you ever think that we would make it? Don't miss Rooney too much this summer! — AF Love and Mine, Kim.

Ken — Stop walking around with noclotheson!!!

OK, that's it — Last chance — I have a 1985 Ford Escort that is in prime condition. If you need or want a car, you got to see this one. It's perfect for the low price. Call — Ken — 392-7955.

CLC, Have a good summer, it's been great,turkey.

Trish G — Happy 20th B-day. — ΣK♥, Sarah

Traci Trim — Where is stump? — Erin

Kirsten — Is eight times still the record? — The Young and the Sexless

Laura — I finally saw you. I guess Cox hasn't killed you! That is definitely a surprise! Let's do lunch before exams are over! — Love Ya, Lory

All AΣT's — Have a great summer and keep in touch! Congrats to our newest sisters. You guys are great! See you at the beach!! Only 11 days 'til Nags Head! — AΣT love, Lory

Admissions Job Openings
Seniors

Anticipated recruiter/counselor positions starting August 89 lasting one or two semesters. Outgoing, energetic, involved undergraduates desired. Extensive travel. Good salary. Contact Mildred Johnson, Admissions.

Summer Work Study

Federal work-study eligible students needed May-August. Offers good working conditions and job experience. Office skills and good communication skills needed. Inquire Financial Aid Office or Gray Ragland in Admissions.

Chris — It's been a blast living with you this semester! Good luck next year, I'll miss you! Take care & remember: Ruunnt!!!!! — Love, Sarah

Kelly Puff!! — Does the word S-E-N-I-O-R mean anything to you??! Next semester will be a blast (& the last!!) See you next year roomie!!! — ΣK♥ & mine, Sarah P. S. "Why are we going home???"

To All Sigma Kappas: — Have a great summer and keep in touch. — In Sigma love, Sarah

Erik — Congrats on Alphs Sig! So glad you made it to initiation. You are going to be an awesome brother. Good luck! — Love, You Know Who

Mark (Minute) — What do I have to do to get your attention? Or are you just too shy to say something? Congrats on Alpha Sig and talk to me! — Love Ya! You Know Who

Kellie — Thanks for the talk the other night. I really needed the encouragement. — AΣT love, Lory

Stacy Phelps — Good luck next year. We'll miss you!! — love, MC 230, 231, 242

Anothip — You are the best lil sis - have a great summer! I'll miss you! — ΣK♥ & mine, Sarah

Dave P. — Let's do lunch at Chi-Chis! If we leave now, maybe we can get there by next semester!! — Kathy and Trish

Debbie C., Janice and Kimber — I love you all and I'm going to miss you next year! π Love — Jill

Steve — I hope you had a good weekend. Sorry I could not join you at the Pig Roast. — Jill

Bob, Dave, Mike, Will — We've enjoyed sleeping on top of you this year. We'll miss you!! — Love, K, T, K, T

Dave Parrish — "Sex with you is a life long dream, Mr. P." —?

Lakers — Congrats on a GREAT season. We're proud of you!! — Love, Your Faithful Fans, MC 231, 230 & 242

Leslie and Chris — You guys have been great roommates! Hope you had a good weekend. Congrats Chris on becoming a AΣπ brother. — Lots of EK love, Melissa

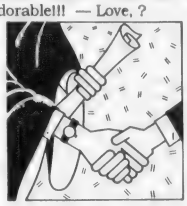
To the Peer Helpers — Hang in there guys - we can live through exams! You all are all super. — Lots of love, Melissa

H.B. — It's been a great two months. Hope it lasts a lot longer. — B.B.

Congratulations to the newest initiates in Pi Kappa Phi; Brad, Barry, Stacey, Brent, Earl, Rob, Chris, Charlie, Will, Bill and Steve. Proud to be a Pi Kapp and Be # 1 . . . Team — The Archon.

Dana Harmon — I've been watching you from afar and I want to get to know you. You seem sweet and interesting. Maybe, before school ends. I hope! — Love, S.A.

Beth Snead! — You're an awesome roommate . . . Thanks for always listening to me and advising me!!! Go for the new Pi Kap Brother! — Your Favorite Roomie.



Stacey — Well Big Sis it's finally over and I want to wish you the best of luck w/everything. You have been such a special friend and sister to me that saying goodbye doesn't seem possible. Thanks for always being there for me and being the Best Big Sis ever! — Love Always, Beanie.

ΣrX – Thanks for all the great times. Love, Room 222

Tid — I want to get to know you better. You are so funny and I love your hair. I hope we can get together before school is out. — Guess who I AM?

Donna Bester — Your best friend in Tri-Sigma loves you!!!

Beanie — We've been such good friends. You know who I am. I wish we could be so much more. You are so adorable!!! — Love, ?

Jen – Work, work, work . . .Keep in focus, and know that "every little thing is gonna be alright" – One of JENZ FRIENDZ

Chiquita – Thanks for being my jogging buddy – - N - Nikki

Q-Tip, Guess who said Hi to me today? Reminiscing about long talks and high-rise raids – Gyspy Rose

Yo, Bob, S-Up? Bob rules! ! – Nik

Bob & KP – The weekend is never complete until you play. – The 3 of us

Kendoll – You made it! Beware of Bats trapped in some bimbo's hair. Thanks for hangin' on, babe. – Niyoka

Terri – Congratulations Lil'Sis! You have become a great sister to Az. You make me so proud. Remember your number with you know what has stopped. – Love always, Beanie

Beth (Grey-IZ) – I just want to wish you a Happy 21st Birthday! Good luck on your exams! U-R-The-Best! ! I love you, Missy P.S. Congrads on the "clean" shower! Ha Ha

Hope - I know times can be rough, but just hang in there! I am here if you need me. Good luck on your exams! Love, Missy

Piss Ant – road trip – Lynchburg Broken English fans all the way! – Barbie

Pristine Princess – Thanks for bein' a great roomie. Beware of beer and wierd beepers in the middle of the night. – Gypsy Rose

ZOO Crew – The ZOO lives!!

Connie Sue Acuff
Ann Margaret Addleman
Vicki Lynn Agee
Chester Kyun Ahn
Marcia Denise Akers
Marsha Dawn Alder
Michael Martin Aleksa
Bonnie Kragh Allman
Stacey Renee Allnutt
Paul Robert Alvarez
Carlos Alberto Ampuero
[illegible]
Mary Lynn Andrews
Matthew Evan Armstrong
[illegible]
Cathy Elaine Aylor
Steven Spencer Ayres
Amy Patience Baar
[illegible]
[illegible]
Trente Dwayne Balderson
Karen Horn Ballowe
[illegible]
Terry Lynn Barnes
[illegible]
Eliza A. Baron
[illegible]
Deborah Lynn Batterman
Terry Lee Baugher
[illegible]
Timothy Lee Beard
[illegible]
Louis W. Bell
Kelley Scott Bennett
Samantha Jane Bennett
[illegible]
Shirley Ann Berry
[illegible]
Sandra Lynn Bishop
Luanne Blair
Kristie Anne Blankenship
Ross Anthony Blommel
John Todd Boatwright
Stephanie D. Bolten
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
Nelson Albert Bordeau
[illegible]
Shelly Kay Bowden
Beverly Ann Bowe
Maria Ann Bowen
Jackie Benne Bowlin
Randy Wayne Bowling
Hope Elizabeth Bowman
Wendy Elizabeth Brack
William Ellery Bradley Jr.
Scott David Braithwaite
Janet Lynn Bray
[illegible]
Cynthia C. Breckenridge
[illegible]
Debora Ann Bresnahan
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
William Melvin Broaddus
Kenneth Alan Brooks
Sherry Juanita Broughman
Victor Jerome Broughton
Christine Marie Brown
[illegible]
[illegible]
Katherine Helen Brown
Kimberly Dare Brown
[illegible]
Courtney Carla Brumback
Andrew Nicholas Bryan II
Elmo Joel Bryant Jr.
[illegible]
[illegible]
Kimberly Merle Bunn
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
Art[illegible]
[illegible]
Lewis Truman Carter Jr.
[illegible]
[illegible]

Janet Kimberly Cecil
Eric L. B. Cheevers
Lynda Sue Chenoweth
Kimberly Dawn Carter Childers
Elizabeth Eunsook Cho
Dale Monroe Clark
Melissa Beth Clark
Rebecca Walker Clarke
Sandra Gail Clayton
Donna Suzanne Clements
Michael Taylor Clements
Laurel C. Coffey
Kelley Lynn Coggsdale
John Chesley Colangelo
Sherri G. Colgate
Janice Anne Compton
Jon Thomas Connell
Connie Elizabeth Conner
William G. Conroy
James Edward Cooke Jr.
Jacquelin Raye Cooper
Karen Mitchelle Corbi
Kevin Jon Cox
Jason Todd Craft
Rebecca Lynn Crafton
Thelma Callahan Craig
Deborah Lois Crews
Kimberley Ann Crouch
Joanna Christine Crowley
Glenn Scott Cummings
Joan Elizabeth Cutting
Deborah Ann Cwetna
Mary Lorraine Dailey
Wilita A. Darang
[illegible]
Deborah Kay Davis
Kelvin Alan Davis
Tatyana Labreda Davis
Manoj Daya
Linda Teresa Dees
Paul Vincent Dembowski
Frank Denaro III
Karen Lynn Denholm
Joyce Ann Dickenson
Jeffrey Allen Dingeldein
Robert Douglass Dobson
Alfred Bennett Doss IV
Sandra Danielle Dovel
Mary Margaret Dow
Angela Jean Dowdy
Christine Marie Draham
David Dewell Duffer
Erin Mary Duffy
Angela Denise Dunaway
Callie Bagbey Dunn
Connie Louise Dunn
Keith William Dunnavant
Kristin Ann Dupree
Wanda Annettee Easterling
Carolyn Espigh
Stephen C. Evans III
Jill Courtenay Everett
Helen Anne Faison
James Wallace Faison
Amy Elizabeth Fastige
Ann McCall Ferguson
Cinda Dodson Ferguson
Cynthia Leigh Ferguson
Rebekah Lynn Ferguson
[illegible]
Leah Jane Fisher
Barbara Ann Fitch
Mary Joyce Fitzgerald
[illegible]
Kimberly Gay Flippen
Jennifer Leigh Ford
Edward Allen Fountain
[illegible]
Lizbeth Ann Franke
Stephanie Teresa Frye
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
Catherine Earle Gantt
Anne Frances Gardner
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]

Jonathan Avery Goddin
Anthony William Good
Lee Ann Goodson
Brenda McAbee Grant
Israel Graulau
Alan Stephen Gray Jr.
Kathryn Gray
Lynn Anne Greenwood
Amy Wilkerson Griffin
Virginia Lou Griffith
Jewell Francis Grinnell
Karen Annette Groome
James Matthew Gross
Elizabeth Wewetzer Guill
Kathryn Mary Gulding
Karen Elizabeth Guthrie
Danita Anne Hale
Timothy Morgan Hale
Deborah Lynn Hall
Tina Louise Hall
Wendy Sue Hall
Jeffrey Patrick Hancock
Sarah Ann Handorf
Susan Ann Hanks
Lisa Marie Hanzl
Rebecca Mechelle Hardin
Vernon Milo Hardy
Amy Christine Harrell
Amy Lynn Harrell
Tom Harrison
Dale Lawrence Harrington
Massie Carltee Harris Jr.
Andrew Lee Harrover
Leon Patchin Hartless
Richard Lynn Harvey
James Wyatt Hash Jr.
Lewis Gerald Hasty Jr.
Derwin L. Hayes
Gena Renee Hayes
Willette Jones Hazelwood
Virginia Louise Hazlewood
Lisa Cassandra Hendrick
Teri Denise Herndon
Melissa Lynn Hiett
Charlene Michelle Hill
Mary Jane Hill
Susan April Hilton
Margaret Anne Hines
Diane Elizabeth Hocker
Mary Evelyn Holloman
Robin Lynette Holmes
Tuwanda Renay Holmes
Charles Stringfellow Hooper
Melinda Leigh Hopper
Mary Louise Hosch
Karen Ellen Hostetter
Emily Ann Howell
Lorrie L. Huffman
Michelle Jeanine Hummer
Sheri Ann Hundley
John William Hunt
Lee Allen Hunter
Myra Louise Hurley
Jerry Paul Hurt
Kelly Lynn Insley
Sandra Lynette Irby
Andrea Lynn Jacka
Robert Stanley Jackson
Ann Kelley Jacobs
Leslie Hope Jaffee
Bradley Alling James
Norma Dawn Jeffer
Brian Keith Jenkins
Jennifer Burton Jenkins
Estelle Lynette Jennings
Elisabeth Carole Jones
Elizabeth Anne Jones
Ethel Virginia Jones
Kimberly Patrice Jones
Tracy Dale Jones
Teresa Ann Jordan
Margret Hope Juhle
Charles Thomas Kasperbauer
Brian Vincent Kava
Margaret Hazel Keller
Christine Kerkeslager
Maurice Amado Kessler
Warren Tracy Kilby III
[illegible]
James Michael Kinzel
[illegible]
[illegible]
James Michael Knowlton
Christine Ann Knudson
Scott Robert Kdenigsberg
[illegible]
Michelle Angela Krolikowski

Stephen Gerald Lachance
Joyce Lee Lamond
Laura Patrice Landers
Kerry Ann Laughlin
Margaret M. Laughlin
Amy Ann Lavin
Sharon Faye Lawhorn
Mary Lynn Lawman
Ann Martha Lawson
Bradley Calvin Layne Jr.
Stephanie Renee Leap
Sheri Ann Lee
Anne Dunlap Leggett
Raymond Leslie Lepage
Norris Brian Lewis
Derek Jack Lilly
Doris Jean Llewellyn
Carla Lee Lockhart
Jeffrey Lynn Lockhart
Angela Jeanine [illegible]
Tammy Joy Lohren
James Vernon Long
Rebecca Ann Luck
Phillip A. Maas
Karen Cordelia Mallory
Thomas Jerome Maroney III
Antonio John Marquez
John Marsilia
Marian Louise Martin
Elizabeth Robins Mason
Trenna Kaye Mason
Gary Stuart Massengill
Marilyn Muns Maturani
Dayna Louise Mayo
Darren Craig McCauley
Catherine Elizabeth McCoy
Charisse Elizabeth McGill
Robin Lynn McGinley
Harry Scot McGowan
Margaret Paige McGrath
Richard Michael McGrath
William P. McGuire
Jennifer Clare McInnis
Byron Manuel McIntyre
James Howard McKean
Deirdre Camille McKendry
Mary Pat McLaughlin-Wenzel
Shawn Eric McMahon
Cherie Elena McManaway
Kristine M. Meaney
Elizabeth Christine Means
Robyn Renee Meek
Mary C. Meeler
Elizabeth Ann Meindl
Cynthia Ann Mellar
Marcia Frances Melone
Jennifer Elizabeth Michels
Angee Corlett Middleton
Charles Lester Miller
Susan Elizabeth Miller
Susan Elizabeth Milteer
Stephanie Y. Mims
Charlotte Mary Mitchell
William Baine Mitchell
Shawn Allan Moler
Melissa Ann Monroe
Dennis Kerby Moore
Laura Jean Moore
Traci Lee Moore
Walton Daniel Moore Jr.
Wade Douglas Morcom
Cathy Lynn Morgan
JoAnn Morgan
Matthew Lewis Morgan
Ronda Faye Morgan
Dennis John Morley
George-Anna Morris
Mary Elizabeth Morris
Steven Lawrence Morris
[illegible]
[illegible]
Shannon Lee Mowe
Tamra Lynn Mueller
Patricia Erin Munley
Stephanie Anne Murphy
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
Lisa Dawn Nester
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
Kristine Ann Nystrom
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]

Tim Oliva
Ricky Lee Orey
Denise Eileen Owings
Teresa Ann Pack
Stephen Eric Page
Cynthia Lynn Palicia
Suzanne Ferree Palkovics
Wendelyn Palmore
John Griffith Parson Jr.
Tracy Glade Parson
Penny Joy Parsons
Stacy Ann Parsons
Mary Ann [illegible]
Danny Ray Pate
Robert Thomas [illegible]
Paul Sutter Pelletier Jr.
Douglas Lee Perry
Matthew David Peterman
Jeffrey Thomas [illegible]
[illegible]
Theresa Ann Pfluger
Sandra Lynn Phillips
Robert Scott Pierce
Steven Jay Pierce
Kimberly Ann Poirier
Julia Christine Polvent
[illegible]
[illegible]
Jeffrey Thomas Poythress
Laura Frances Presson
Holly Shifflett Price
Rebecca Kaye Price
Carole Renee Propster
Darrell Richard Purcell Jr.
Natalie Ruth Puryear
Suzanne Putney
Paul Brendan Raio
Lisa Rena Rakes
June Glascock Ramsey
Kevin Brian Randolph
Laura Lynn Ratcliffe
Sandra Rawdon
Linda Bagley Reid
Elizabeth Ann [illegible]
Greylin Thomas Rice
Mark Andrew Rice
Dale Terry Riddle
Richard Carlos Rivera
Donna Lynn [illegible]
William John Rooney
Michael Stuart Rose
Robert [illegible]
Ronald Bruce Roussel
Lori L. Rowe
Darryl Lamont Rutley
Eric N. Sanders
James Edward Sanders
Teresa Rena Sanderson
Matina Elizabeth Sarbanes
Jennifer Carrel Sarver
Renee Saunders
Mary Therese Schaefer
Ann Dillard Schneider
Michele Elise Scudder
Rhonda Faye Seamster
Kimberly Faye Self
Cheryl Lynne Selig
Martha Ellen Sellers
Carole Annette Shahda
Beverly Ann [illegible]
Michael Alan Sheffield
Bruce Edward Shelton
Joy Caroline Shelton
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
Cheryl Ann Simpson
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
Anne Smith
[illegible]
[illegible]
Spencer Lynn Smith
[illegible]
[illegible]
Gloria L. Sperry
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]

[illegible] Steinbach
Chris Graham Stetson
Anne Meade Stockdell
[illegible]
[illegible]
John Lewis Stokes
Nancy Haynes Suddith
Sheri Lynn Sullivan
[illegible]
Timothy Scott Tabler
Mary Kimberly Talley
Rebecca Lynn Tavenner
Kimberley Annette Taylor
Robert Allan Taylor
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
Thomas Martin Thacker
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
Leslie Bryant Traylor
[illegible]
Mary Fleming Trumbull
Tuan Anh Truong
Thomas Wayne Tuck
Roger Turner
[illegible]
[illegible]
Lewis Carter Vasser Jr.
[illegible]
Karen Elizabeth Vaughan
[illegible] Lee Vaughan
Monique Yvette Vaughter
Armand Richard Venere
Sebastian Volcker
Melinda Clay Nash [illegible]
Petra Diana Walian
[illegible]
Katie Adrienne Walker
Kimberly Sue Walker
Lavater Walker
Jennifer Lynn Walton
Kimberly Sue Ward
Anita Jo Washington
Shawn Levine Washington
Diane Renee Watts
James Kevin Watts
Deborah L. Welch
Lori Lyn Wentworth
Stephen Scott Wertz
Christine Lynn West
Joseph Troy West
Susan Marie Westlund
Dana Lea Wheeler
Jean S. Wheeler
[illegible] White
[illegible] White
Kimberly Schinabeck White
Linda Kay Whitehead
Martha Ann Whitehead
Karen L. Whitely
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]

FEATURES

Personals

2nd Floor French Girls – Thanks for making this a great place to live. See you next semester. A fellow hallmate

Babs – Good luck at ODU! We'll miss you. Don't worry, I promise she won't be a nerd. Just think in 3 years you will be an official Nurse Bandy. Love ya, Carol

Carla, "T.C." and Mo – Looking forward to being roomies next year. It will be awesome. – Love you guys, Carol

Amy, Barbara, Carla, Molly and "T.C. – Have a great summer. I'm going to miss you a lot. Love, Carol

"T.C.", Barbara and Carla – Thanx for being such great friends and roomies. We've had a lot of wonderful times and I'm looking forward to many more. Love you lots, Carol

---

Sam and Becky — How about the roof of Curry next year? Order your tents now. Just think — we're already up there when it's time to lay out!! — Love, Joi and Andrea

Charles "SWEETIE" — Thanks for being my teddy bear these last few weeks. Good luck on Exams and Have A GREAT SUMMER!!! — Lots of Hugs "CUTIE"

T and A — Thanks for a fun filled year. It's been interesting to say the least, but I wouldn't change a thing except maybe the "Chocolate" advice. You two are the greatest. Hope we'll always be friends. — Bee Bop

Chuck on 8th Floor Curry — All eyes are on you at least, mine are. Study hard for all of your exams especially for the one on Tuesday at 9:00 a.m.

Frumpy Housewife and B.B.Q. — Thanks for livening up my year. Good luck on exams. Don't get too wild in Farmville this summer! Listen to some Bon Jovi for me. — "K.D. Queen"

Buddy — You are a great baseball player and I'm really proud of you. You know just how to throw your balls and you're even a good boxer. Your aim is really good whether it be up high or down low. So what are you gonna surprise me with next? — Love, always, Michelle

Joey — Splash! — HA HA!

Margaret – Did you know that some islands aren't habitated? I am going to earn (maybe) 15 hundred. No wait a minute, 1 thousand, 500 dollars next year. A word of advice – Don't wave at train conductors. – Love Turkey Lips

Misha – You may be living in a different dorm than us next year, but you better not forget who we are. Come and visit us anytime – We love your Barry Hole stories. – The Forget Us Nots

Jason – You have made our freshman year very memorable. Without you I don't know who we would have picked on. We will miss you – Longwood will not be the same without you. 910+912

Mark "Coach" – Those roses did the trick. I don't think I have seen my roommate any happier than she has been since April 13. – Nancy

Bonnie – Just think, before August 1988 I had no idea you even existed. Now I consider you to be my very bestest friend in the whole world (next to the Larster of course). Thanx for the good times, water fights, flashlight wars, toilet paper fun and Jason pranks.

I'm looking forward to another year of fun. – Love Pooter

Pookie Bear – I love you more than The Rotunda can say. Thanks for the best days of my life. – H.B.

Pookie Bear:
Roses are Red
Violets are Blue
I really want to Go down on you.
– HB

Mich — It's been real. Hope to get together a lot over the summer! By the way — Happy Valentines Day! — NE

Denise — The roommate from Hell — thanks for being such a great friend. I'm going to miss you — Love Jill

Wendy — I'm gonna miss you! Good luck w/ married life — Renné

Charlene M. — I've been watching you from afar, but I never got up enough nerve to talk to you. You are very attractive and maybe next year we'll get together. — your secret admirer

Trish — "My Prerogative" — Keep your eyes on those scams!! Good luck this summer with the "wild man" — but stay away from those snake bites!!! PARDU! — Love, Kathy

T.A. — Guess what!?! — I'm really glad that . . . ya know? — I just had to! What're you laughin' at, ya smell something? PBJ's. Moo. Marshmallows. Cocamoe — We're running for the BEACH! Are you listening to me? This ocean is SO big! McWhat? Cheese snatching. Pressure releases. Where's Whyamego? Shazam! Was he wearing blue socks? Stop kicking my balloon! Sunshine. Remember ALL the great memories! — Love ya — K.W. — (You better call me this summer!)

Tracie H. — Enjoyed suiting with you this year. Can't wait to be roomies next year. Hope you have a great summer. — Vickie W.

GRADUATION

Robert and Lee — Good luck finding your dream girls and as you look into their eyes ... Here's hoping that they aren't Brown as Bark! — B and L

Susan Pinch — "Is this the right number --"

"I want to change my image as an airhead.

"I know what you're implying."

"I didn't see him doing it!"

"For adults only — I never look in that section." — from the Young and the Sexless

Necro — James say "HAAAAH!" — SAC

Traci — Thanks for a great year and for being such a wonderful roomie!! — Love, your lightening-struck roommate

Oh, Oh yeah! — (Word!)

G — You MUST be an Angel! — R

Michelle — Thanx for all the 'cheer up' talks and all the fun times. Can't wait to be roomies next year. It'll be a blast. Don't give up on Matchew — he'll come around. Be good! Love Ya — Jan-Marie

Jason T. Craft — Good luck in everything you do. Congrats! Hold on to your 18 inches! We love ya!! — Love, 9th Floor Curry.

KB, — Turn the shift-lock key off!!!! — ST

K. O. — Hey! What's your sign?? Choc. Chick & p.b. Don't worry we'll sing to you. How! (Wink, Click, Click. Um, English please. Let's play hide & seek, well how 'bout tag? Spell . . . Wait! Let me take a picture! There seems to be a pattern here. Chips & dip. That's my FAVORITE! Who wants a shake?! Fine! Take the kids!! I'm wearing socks . . . blue socks. Hiccoughs. You Dirty Rat! Bleech! Little bunny foo foo. Lint. And then there's . . . Have fun in London! I'm gonna miss you lots! Love ya — K. W.

Dawn Harding — Wanna fight?

Turkey Man — Thanks for the best year-and-a-half of my life. I love you so much, Baby!! Keep shaking that little fanny of fun and let's keep making those H_2O bed waves! — All my love forever, Cappaney.

René L. — You were a great R. A. and suitmate. You are a great person. Things will improve. Hope you have a great summer. — Vickie W.

Angie J. and Kimmy 8 — You two are great friends. Thanks for loaning me the TV. "Angela," I enjoyed rooming with you while it lasted. RHTS. Keep in touch. — Vickie ("Victoria")

To the Seniors of 3rd floor Cox: — Suzanne, James, Pippy, Scott, Ross, Sebastian, and Eric. Thanks for two memorable years. Good luck and I'll miss you all! — Cox Love and Mine, Christine

L. Elizabeth Bevell [famous Spanish dramatist to-be] — Lost on 14th Street? So! Their radio is so loud — do I knock? No, I bang! Look at their feet — you think that's Betsy with the white shoes? Hang on to that sacred heart, and remember you will always be ...

"A Special Friend"

Friends that laugh and care,
love and share,
Keep in touch and think
of each other often,
when separted.
They always know that someday
they will be together again.
Until then ... they will laugh,
care, love, and share with others,
but always keeping in their hearts a far-away special friend.

I can never forget all the great times we've shared, and I hope this won't be the end of our friendship. I will miss you and your "noisy" friends — Hack, Rip, Shred — Deanna

J. H. W. — Well this year is ending. I never got a response. I guess it was all for the best. Just wanted to let you know you were a great "scam". Yes I'm a real person and I watched you often. Have a great summer. — Your Admirer

Tammi Titcomb — Good luck on Pledge Review Board! Can't wait until initiation. I love you — Σ Love and Mine — Your Secret Sigma

Jen, — You're my #1 girl and I couldn't ask for anything better. Thanx for lunch between double-headers, mail, and for putting up with me. — Love, Dorkmo

---

Krinkles, — You have been a great roommate. I'm glad next year we'll be rooming together again. You've been a wonderful friend. Take care of yourself over the summer. That surprise visitor last week sure was fun. — Sockshaver

S-Queen — Hey thanks for being such a great friend. You've put up with a lot of bitching from my direction. I really appreciate your always listening. Come talk with me next year. I'm always around. — Sockshaver

Edge: — You are a great friend. Next year will be hard without you. I'll come see you though. I'll make tapes of the radio show and send them to you. Don't forget we're going to G-Town this summer. — Sockshaver

Thank you Paul Petty for the many hours of entertaining music you play on your show. Don't worry you're doing great! Keep up the good work in the future. — E = S

Hey S-Queen — Thank you for all of this year. I don't know what I would have done without you not being my roommate. Good luck next year, old friend. I'll miss you — On Edge

To the Corner Suite — Of unlucky 48 of eighth floor. Thank you guys for everything. You have made this year, a year to remember. I'll never forget you guys. I promise, I will look out for on coming traffic at my new home. Forever and always — L. C.

Todd Bono — Thanks for being there to talk to and for keeping me awake on the road trips to Ferrum. Pass any funerals lately? Good luck with Courtney. Hope it lasts forever!! You desire it! Have a great summer. Love Ya — Jan-Marie

FEATURES

Personals

Attention! All God's children: — The Messiah is coming soon! The judgement day is drawing near! Are you ready? Soon, all who know him will be with Him forever! Are you one of His? You could be.

To the Twin Lakes birthday crew — Thanks you guys for all you did. You really got me good. It's been a great birthday! I love you guys!! — Sharon

Joi — the next time our ballet teacher tells someone to pull their stomach in I'm gonna tell her that the best way to flatten your stomach is to have someone lay on it. — love, a dancing bear

TA — my phrase for the week will be "the living dead". They don't do math problems!! Lets get that PB and J!

Little MBO — But Not Yet!!!

Marcus — I love you. I think you're my "type" too! love you lots, — your oldest older sister

Steve and Ben — You Dirty Rats! You never write, you never call. You broke our hearts!! We hate boys!

Kathy Skelly, — Good luck with genetics. I have faith that you will pass! Good luck also with the blood bank, and with Steven, I shall miss you both. — Lynn

Donna, — God is it finally over? You've been a great friend, and brother. Good luck in grad school and the future, APO Love — Lynn

Scorpio, — Dreams do come true ... Just keep believing. — Lightning

To ΣrX — It will be great having you guys on 1st North. Next year will be awesome!! — 3rd South

Chow Chow — Enjoy your summer. It will be wonderful. You will make a great suitemate!! Can't wait! — Roomie Love, Chiquita

Laura L. — I'm glad we'll be suitemates next year. It'll be great!! — Remember "If you can't handle it, don't do it!!" — Love, Anothip

Jeff, — We definitly had an "interesting" semester. I don't think I could have made it without your walks and talks. Not to mention your shoulder! Good luck in your pursuits for someone to cuddle with. I shall miss you. — Lynn.

P.S. Perhaps I have a conclous after all!

JOHNNIE-POOH — It's been the best two years of my entire life! Thank you so much for putting up with me and helping me through the worst semester of my school career — although I still have not gotten my card you promised me since March 17th. Please remember that I will ALWAYS be here for you. — I love you, DANETTIE-POOH

P.S. Suzi says "Hi" and wants to know if there is something else you want to bet on. (ha, ha).

Attention Seniors — Have you gotten your announcements yet? There are extra announcements still available on a first come first serve basis so hurry! Call Jostens at (804) 296-3023 from 9 to 2:30

Tina — We'll come and visit you next year, we promise! — The girls from Hell

Paul — The Sock Shaver needs your father's first name. Help her out. — A friend

Is two month's salary too much to pay for something that lasts forever? Diamonds are forever.

BAD Members: — You all made my semester bearable. Thanks for the support. Next semester, let's have a Fall Formal Rush party! — The President

Michelle and Julie — This semester has been great. I guess we'll have to call each other every Wednesday night over the summer. What about the bride magazines? I'll miss you! come and visit me! — Karin

Valerie, Kathy and Debbie, — Thanks for the past two years and making the best suite ever. Have a great summer. — Love Stacy 2nd Floor North Cunningham — Thanks for making my year easy. You all are wonderful. Have a great summer. Best of luck in the future. I will miss you — Stacy.

To the Third Floor French guys — Thanx for all the laughs and good times! We're gonna miss having you around all the time. Come visit us. — Second Floor French Girls.

The Brothers of ΣrX, — Keep the spirit alive. I will miss all of you very much. Don't sell out and don't get organized. — RA-RA

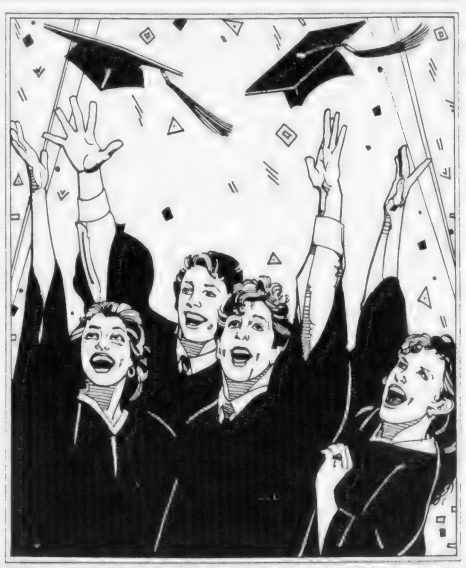
Valerie — I can't begin to thank you for all that you have done. You are a wonderful friend and roomie. Looking forward to the summer and to the years ahead. "We can Do it!" Love — Stacy

ROOMMATE (GFH) — Thank you — For all the things you've done for me and the problems you've helped me through. You lifted me up when I was down, and gave me the encouragement to move on. You're one of a kind: — you care and you're honest. Thanks again Love ya — Batface

Jill Gregory — You're the best sister and friend. We've been through a lot and I'm going to miss you next year. Good luck at J.M.U.! — π Love, Beth

P.S. The key words are road trip!

Cunningham Staff and Ken — Thanks for making my first year as an R.A. great. Don't forget our song. — We're the Hams! — Love Stacy



Laura, — I know living with me this last year and a half have definitly not been easy. I can't thank you enough for all your support especially these last five months. You have been the best roommate anyone could have, and I will miss you greatly. — Lynn

Kathy Lee — It was a real pleasure to meet you this semester. Good luck with APO and Lazer hall next semester. I'll miss you. — Lynn

Hey Fraggle — You can be my cowboy, but I don't want to be your cowgirl! (I'll be your Indian) — Love you!

T. C. — I Tuy yo viviremos en Austrailia! ¡No dudo! — tenga mucho amor para!

D. W. — I don't think you tell her everything. Thanks. I think you're nice no matter what you say. — I think you know who. (I know — I think too much!)

To my line sisters of Alpha Kappa Alpha, Inc. — Whew, we made it "Tator heads! (Lookayonder) Ya'll are fantastic.' I love each and every one of you. That pink and green 'sho looks good! — Ivy love, #2 (A.B.)

Bruce — you wild thing! Thanx for being such a sweetie! You better come visit us next year! — Love, Rm. 212

Smitty — These past 7 months with you have been great! (Even the rough times!) Remember... "Easy does it, do it easy." (XXOO) — Love ya! 'Lique

To all the other beginning ballerinas — We survived torture chamber! Don't forget to practice those "pleás" this summer. — love, Kristene, Tanya, and Kerry

ΣrX. — You really are bad to the BO!! — Love, 212

Julie, — Thanks for the best paddle ever! You are the greatest little sis! I am going to miss you next year! You better come visit! — Sigma. Love, Karen

Curry 9th floor, — Good luck with exams and have a great summer. You all are the greatest! — Love your, P. A.

To the Sisters of Sigma Sigma Sigma, — Thanks for everything! You all are the greatest! I am really going to miss you all next year! You all better come and visit! — Sigma Love Karen

Joellen, Chuck, Tom, Paul, Stacey and Wild Bill, — Thanks for all the good times, parties and practical jokes! I am really going to miss everyone next year! You all better come and visit me at TECH! — Love, MOM

Sarah, — It's a long, hard year, but a learning experience for us both. First semester was hell and second semester was a blast. The fun will continue next year as we leave behind the "never-ending hallway." Keep dreaming of the island. One day we'll find it. — Kim

Mo, — Where's No where County?!?

RAT, — Ready to leave Longwood? Good Luck! I hope everything works out the way you want it to. I'll never forget all the good times or the bad times! Try to stay out of trouble and keep in touch!! — Love ya, Goof

Jay, — I hope the stress hasn't been too much for you. Have a great summer!!!! — Love ya, Sarah

D — I'm gonna miss you next semester, but I'll be back to visit. You are a special roomie! — A

From the sisters of Alpha Kappa Alpha, Inc. — Special thanks & lots of love to those who have helped us along the way! (We know who you are.) — Sincerely, The Ivy Leaf Pledge Club, Spring '89

Athena Mundy — I want to congratulate you and the student union staff on a successful Spring Weekend and Music Festival. You all did a terrific job. Student Union should be very proud of their accomplishments this year and I am looking forward to events planned for next year. — A student who notices hard work and success.

Matt K. — don't have too much fun cowtipping this summer to not think about us!! — Love Rm. 212

P.S. Don't forget to write

SPORTS

Longwood Crushes VA. Tech

By ROXIE LOCKWOOD

The Longwood softball team finished their season winning 14-0 and 9-1 at Virginia Tech Saturday, losing 4-2 and 4-3 at Radford Friday, and winning 4-0 and 5-1 at North Carolina Wesleyan Monday. The Lady Lancers' record is 12-15.

In the first game against Tech, Pam Fitzgerald stroked a single to begin the second. Laura Marks walked on a passed ball. Mitzy Hairfield, Carmille Barnette and A. D. Miller hit back-to-back singles. Everyone came home except Miller.

Longwood added to Tech's discomfiture in the third. Melissa Gwinn got a lead-off walked followed by a Mary Dailey single. Fitzgerald and Cassie Mullenix reached on consecutive errors by the first baseman. Gwinn scored. Marks and Hairfield walked on eight consecutive balls, then Barnette lashed a triple. Barnette scored on a fielder's choice.

Marks and Hairfield scored in the fourth, Gwinn and Dailey in the fifth.

In the nightcap, Marks and Amanda Whitby opened scoring in the second. Cheryl Scharr led off the fourth with a double and scored. Dailey singled and scored. Gwinn and Joy Mariner scored in the fifth. Tech got one back in the sixth. Longwood finished out scoring with three runs provided by Barnette, Marks and Whitby in the sixth.

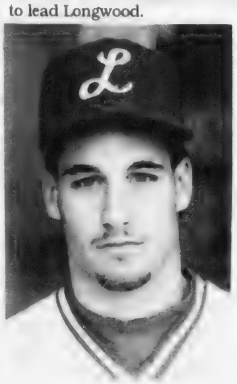
Scharr went the distance, allowing one run on six hits. She walked two and struck out none. Scharr finishes with a record of 6-5.

Baseball Winds Up Season

In an up-and-down week, the Longwood baseball team beat Randolph-Macon 7-3 last Tuesday, but fell at Radford Saturday, 7-6 and 4-1. A game scheduled for Sunday at North Carolina A&T was cancelled.

The Lancers, 22-11 heading into the final week of the regular season, are slated to visit St. Mary's Monday for a single game at 3:00 and play at William & Mary Wednesday for a 1:00 twinbell. Longwood is tentatively scheduled to play Christopher-Newport in a make-up game either Wednesday night or Thursday.

Longwood jumped to a 5-0 lead over Radford in Saturday's opening game. Freshman Chris Cherry drove home Robbie Smith, Bill Conroy and Mark Moeller with a bases loaded double. Smith, Conroy, and Moeller had singled. Cherry scored on a double by Scott Abell, and Abell came home from third on a delayed steal.



Radford bounced back to take a 6-5 lead against Lancer hurler Buddy Williams, scoring four runs in the first inning and two in the second on seven hits, a walk and an error.

Longwood tied the contest at 6-6 in the fourth on a single by Scott Maciejewski, a Greylin Rice sacrifice and a run-scoring single by Smith, but the Division I Highlanders scored the game-winner against Lancer Tim Patrick with a double and a single in the bottom of the fifth. Patrick, now 3-2, gave up just one run in 3 and 2/3 innings of work.

Junior second baseman Pete Criscione had three hits for Longwood in the nightcap, and Dennis Hale pitched a solid game, but Radford won 4-1.

Hale limited Radford to seven hits, walked one and fanned five while giving up just two earned runs in six innings of work. His record falls to 4-4 for the season.

Longwood also had seven hits, but stranded eight baserunners. Leftfielder Mike Lauffer put the Lancers up 1-0 in the third when he singled, stole second and came home on an RBI-single by Smith. LC loaded the bases with two outs, but couldn't score. Lauffer had two hits and Criscione three to lead Longwood.

PETE CRISCIONE

Future Booters

Lancer soccer coach Rich Posipanko reports that the 12 prep soccer standouts who have signed to attend Longwood in the fall comprise his best group of recruits ever.

"This is the best group of recruits we've ever signed," said Posipanko. "Maybe half of these guys will contend for starting positions next season."

Longwood, 15-4-1; and ranked 17th in NCAA Division II in 1988, will have newcomers from the states of Virginia, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York. Virginia recruits include Byron Edwards, of Monacan High, Seth Johnson, of Cox High and Todd Dyer, who attends Osborn Park High in Manassas.

A midfielder, Edwards has been a member of the Virginia State team and was chosen All-District and All-Region for both soccer and academics. Johnson played back for Cox while earning first team All-Beach and second team All-State honors. Dyer won first team All-District, All-Region and All-State honors while playing midfield at Osborn Park.

Future Lancers from Pennsylvania include Dave Mazzuca and Pat Temple, both of Millville High, Ted Doran, of Mt. Lebanon High, Mike MaKinster, of North Hills High, and Kevin Kenjarski, of Cumberland Valley High.

Golfers Bounce Back

Longwood's women's golf bounced back from a slow start and shot 353-333-335-1021 to finish seventh out of 11 teams in the William & Mary Invitational Golf Tournament at Ford's Colony in Williamsburg over the weekend.

Division I North Carolina Wilmington edged Penn State for the team title with a 329-329-313-971. PSU was next at 977, followed by defending Division III National Champ Methodist (978). William & Mary's Tiff Maurycy carded a 77-79-77-233 to take individual honors.

Playing for Longwood were Daphne Sole 84-79-83-246, Ashley Warren 91-83-82-256, Ami Schonauer 87-84-86-257, Angie Monro (Sherwood Park Alberta, Canada) 91-87-84-262 and Sherry Evans (Jonesville) 96-88-92-276.

Next up for Longwood, two-time defending Division II National Champ, is the sixth National Golf Coaches Association Division II and III Tournament May 8-10 in Fayetteville, North Carolina.

Athletes Honor Role

The following Longwood student-athletes achieved a 3.0 or better academic average first semester.

John Patrick Barone, *Ellen Virginia Binswanger, Shaun Dorian Bromley, *Diane Michelle Brown, *Elmo Joel Bryant, Jr., *Karen L. Carreras, *Lynda Sue Chenoweth, Susan Elizabeth Conrad, Melissa Lynn Dorton, Scott Herbert Flood, Stephen Joseph Gedro, Michelle Lea Hairfield, Dennis E. Hale II, Roger A. Hanna, Jr., Christopher Scott Healing, Brian George Hill, Tracy Ann Hogan, Robert Michael Johnson, Raymond S. Jones, Elon D. Kelley, Laura Jean Labyak, Mark Edward Lewis, Tammy Joy Lohren, *Timothy Ralph Mason, Nils Ian McCarty, Anne Douglas Miller, Julie Elizabeth Miller, Crystal Anne Mitchell, Kimberly Wynne Nelson, *Faustena Louise Philbreck, *Robert Scott Pierce, *Kimberly Ann Poirier, Sandra Rawdon, Mitchell Rubin, Dale Moore Shavers, Ashley Dawn Smith, Katherine Copley Smith, *Daphne Anne Sole, Amanda Lawson Spiers, Laura Estaline Vollrath, George Michael Wade, *Alison Marie Walek, *Ashley Reed Warren

(* — also listed on the Dean's List)

Longwood Downs Hollins

By ROXIE LOCKWOOD

"Our whole team did really well," said the excited coach Sue Finnie about Longwood's lacrosse win over visiting Hollins College Monday afternoon.Longwood knocked Hollins, one of the better teams in the area, out of its game and survived a late Hollins comeback to win 7-5. Longwood's record is 3-10. Monday, Longwood finishes its season with a make up game in Lynchburg. Longwood's scheduled alumnae game has been cancelled.

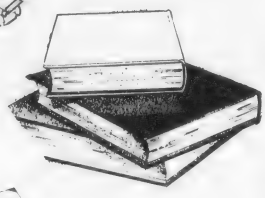
Longwood opened the game with four straight goals. Ellen Binswanger opened scoring followed by Rashel Hammond, Carver Ports, and Lara Cini. Hollins got two back before half to bring the score to 4-2 at intermission.

Two minutes into the second, Cini scored again. Ports and Binswanger added a goal each, then Finnie sent in the bench. Hollins scored three times on the reserves for a final score of 7-5.

The coach had a hard time deciding on Player of the Game honors, but finally settled on Cini for overall Player of the Game. Goalie Karen Holleman was Finnie's defensive choice with 13 saves. Binswanger representing the attack and Ports in midfield were also selected.

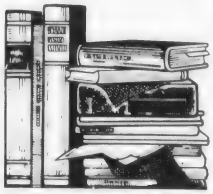
Golfers Blast Liberty

In a complete reversal of form, Longwood's men's golf team put together a sizzling 289 Saturday at Longwood Golf Course to blitz Liberty (310), Newport News Apprentice (316) and George Washington (327) while breaking the Lancer record for one round team score by eight strokes.



Led by junior Tony Good's even-par 69, the Lancers easily beat the record 297 which was carded at Longwood in 1981. Freshman Chris Fishburne had a 72, Scott Wiseman 73, and Darrell Nichols 75 to comprise the record-breaking foursome. Jeff Smiley shot 84 and Hank Kim 81.

Good, who was named Longwood Player of the Week for his effort , had the lowest round for a Lancer golfer since All-American Tim White shot a 68 in 1982. White's 67 at Longwood is the all-time best mark.



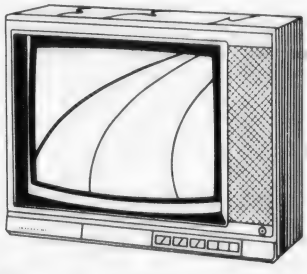
Player of the Week: Tony Good

THE LONGWOOD COLLEGE BOOKSTORE SAYS:

SELL BOOKS FOR CASH!

TWO LOCATIONS: Bookstore Area

Hi-Rise Dorms (Outside)



THURSDAY, APRIL 27 AND FRIDAY 28 ..... 9 AM - 6 PM

SATURDAY, APRIL 29 ..... 10 AM - 2 PM

MONDAY, MAY 1 THRU WEDNESDAY, MAY 3 ..... 9 AM - 6 PM

FREE PEPSI AT HI-RISE DORM LOCATION!

DRAWING FOR PRIZES!

1ST PRIZE- 13" ZENITH COLOR TV ($249 VALUE)

2ND PRIZE - CHAMPION REVERSE-WEAVE SWEATSHIRT/PANTS ($59 VALUE)

3RD PRIZE- VIVITAR 35 MM CAMERA ($39 VALUE)

DRAWING TO BE HELD TUESDAY, MAY 2, 2:00 IN BOOKSTORE!

(LONGWOOD STUDENTS ONLY ELIGIBLE TO WIN)

DAILY DRAWING: LONGWOOD T-SHIRT (UP TO $10 VALUE)

SENIORS: THE BOOKSTORE HAS EXTRA GRADUATION ANNOUNCEMENTS FOR SALE.

YEAR IN REVIEW

WOW!

The place to have been last Saturday night was Lancer Gym for Longwood's birthday party. The brilliant multi-colored laser show set the tone for the evening coupled with President Dorrill's remarks about the occasion.

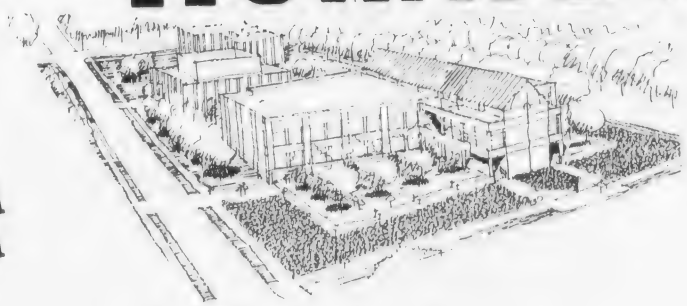
SESQUICENTENNIAL

Longwood Bell Restored, Ready For 'The Rotunda'

Off Campus Housing Sparks Controversy

The Satanic Verses

New freshman rush policy



Happy Birthday Longwood!

Dr. Jacques Stepping Down As Dean

BRUCE HORNSBY

Bush and Dukakis Finally Face to Face

President-Elect Hudson Inaugurates Tomorrow

Spring Music Festival Premieres April 16th

Lottery Begins

YEAR IN REVIEW

Wrestlers Win State Title

Virus Continues To Infect Computers

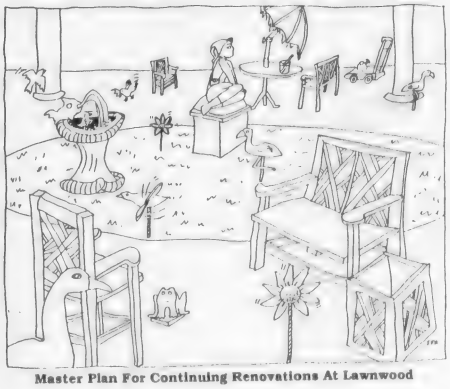
Curry Residents Live in Fear of Break-ins

Memo to: Faculty and Staff
From: Kathe Taylor
Date: November 3, 1988

There is no, repeat no, evidence of any alleged cult activity on the Longwood campus. Please help us set these rumors at rest.

Nation Chooses Continuity Over Change

Keeps George In Washington And Mike In Boston



Waxing Poetics Attract 600

Rotunda Renovations Face Opposition From Faculty And Students

Resident Students Lose 225 On-Campus Spaces

School Pride Returns Through Trusted Leadership

New President Pleased With Longwood

Master Plan For Continuing Renovations At Lawnwood

Tom Wolfe Will Speak at Commencement

LAST CALL FOR TIME CAPSULE MEMORABILIA!

Influenza Plagues Longwood Community

Some of the Rotunda staff — pictured here (left to right) are: Features Editor Monica Gilbert, Editor-in-Chief Matt Peterman, Managing Editor R. Bruce Gantt, Layout Assistant Cheryl Jeffrey and Sports Editor Lindy Seymore. Not pictured are Photography Editor Emily Ann Howell, Business Manager Tim Oliva, Advertising Managers Steve Evans and Susan Miller, and staff writers Stephanie Neely and Beth A. Lord.

Beth A. Lord

Steve Evans

Matt Peterman

Tim Oliva

Susan Miller

R. Bruce Gantt

Monica Juette Gilbert

Stephanie Neely

Lindy Seymore

- 30 -

* In the newspaper business, when this appears at the bottom of a page, it means: end of story. In our case, - 30 - appearing on the bottom of the last page of the last paper means the end of the 1988-89 Rotunda and our way of saying goodbye.

The Rotunda

69-70

Sept. 12, 1989

to

Dec. 3, 1990

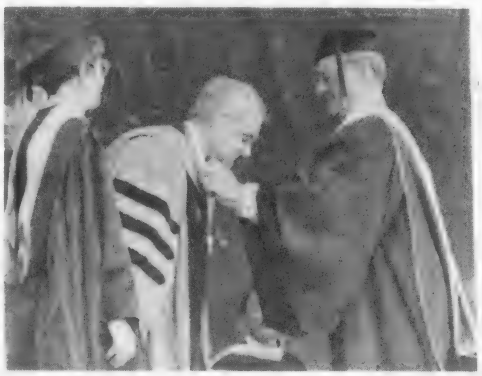
The Rotunda

Longwood College

Vol. 69 No. 1 | September 12, 1989 | Farmville, VA

Longwood President Inaugurated

The Inauguration of Longwood's twenty-third President, William F. Dorrill, was marked by several memorable events.



The celebration began Thursday evening with the opening of a special art exhibit. Barbara Bishop, the featured artist, has been a member of the art faculty since 1965, following graduation from Longwood in 1960. The exhibition will be open through October 8 in Bedford Gallery.

Several events were held on Friday. A luncheon, in Dr. Dorrill's honor, was held in Blackwell Dining Hall. Dr. John W. Gaddis, a professor of history and director of the Contemporary History Institute at Ohio University, was the featured speaker.

Friday afternoon at 2:30, a symposium and a lecture session were held in Jarman Auditorium. Dr. Marshall Goldman, Associate Director of the Russian Research Center at Harvard University and Professor of Economics at Wellesley College, and Dr. Merle Goldman, professor of history at Boston University, spoke on the theme,"Change in the Communist World and America's Response." Lieutenant? General Samuel V. Wilson, former Director of the Defense Intelligence Agency, led a discussion forum following the symposium.

A concert held in Wygal Auditorium at 8 p.m. featured Thomas Gallant, oboe, and Laura Gilbert, flute. The concert signified the opening of the 1989-90 Chamber Music Series.

Saturday's events included Dr. Dorrill's investiture Ceremony and the Inaugural Ball. The Investiture Ceremony was held on Wheeler Mall at 1:30 p.m. In his Inaugural Address, Dr. Dorrill announced his future plans for Longwood as "a college for the XXI Century." Dr. Dorrill also stated with confidence that Longwood is destined to "become the best medium sized, comprehensive college in the Virginia State System of higher education and one of the best in the nation."

Dr. Dorrill receives Presidential Medallion during investiture ceremony.

More Pictures, page 3

Other feature speakers included Gordon K. Davies, director of the State Council of Higher Education, and the Honorable Watkins M. Abbitt Jr., 59th House District of the Richmond General Assembly. Gerald A. Baliles, governor of the State of Virginia, was unable to attend, but sent his best wishes.

The Inaugural Ball was held at 8 p.m. Saturday evening on Lankford Mall. Campus Police estimated that 1000 people attended. Featured performers included The Kings of Swing and The Dionysus Hellenic Folk Dancers. The Inaugural cake was presented by Dr. Rose-

(Continued on Page 3)

Digging up a little History

By ROB CHAPMAN

Not much is left of Morton's Mill — a few stones, a metal contraption that has trees growing up through it, and a mill stone. The evidence that remains is only enough for an archaeologist to enjoy — an archaeologist like Longwood College professor Dr. James Jordan.

Located just outside of Farmville along the Cumberland side of the Appomattox River, Morton's Mill was one of several sites that the Longwood College Archeology Field School has worked on this summer. Jordan, along with 25 students, spent three days digging, excavating and searching for fragments of history that hopefully would provide clues to the origin as well as the destruction of the old mill.

Jordan estimates that the mill was constructed between 1819 and 1824 to mill grain — back in the days when batteaux were probably going full force up and down the Appomattox River and local farmers would bring their grain to the mill by wagon.

There is no record of construction of the canal and the dam for the pre-Civil War mill. The only thing left are the fragments of history to prove that it ever existed — pieces of the mill stone, the lock for the mill, the cement foundation of a storage building, and a mysterious well.

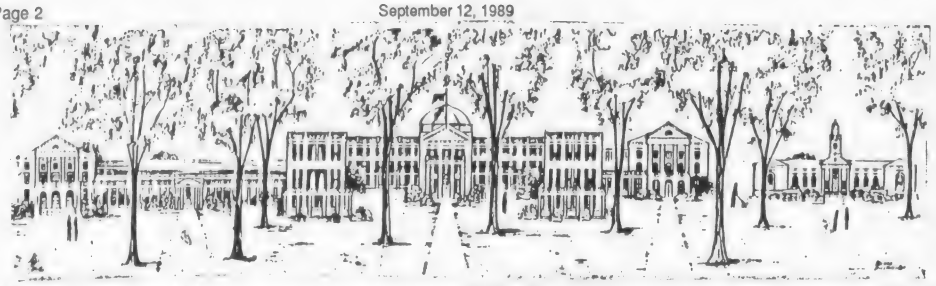
Jordan and the Archeology Field School have in past summers uncovered countless Indian relics on a variety of sites (most notably the Morris Field Site in Buckingham). And he admits that he is most interested in pre-historic archaeology and the studies of Indian culture, but because pre-historic and historic archeology (which is the time of European contact and written record) are overlapping, he feels the field school being drawn into historical field.

The Longwood Archeology Field School has done extensive work in the Appomattox River Valley over the past eleven years while other areas of the country have served as an attraction for archaeologists. Jordan says that the Appomattox River Valley is "sort of out here in a no archaeologist land ... so any little thing we can do, even on a small mill like Morton's Mill, is an addition to an understanding of our past that, in all honestly, if we don't try to do it, the likelihood that anyone else is going to try to do it ... is really very slight."

Once mills were as plentiful as churches and were the center of community activity — much like the general store. Now, there's only a handful of these historical landmarks remaining. Jordan says that even if the information that they discover isn't earth shattering, it may be beneficial to someone in the future, long after the field school is gone.

One of the key pieces of evidence of the mill's existence, the mill stone, was found lodged under the roots of a tree located on an island in the canal. "It doesn't look like a big piece of stone, but it took four pretty healthy 19 or 20 year old guys to get that thing up (on the bank)," said Jordan. Although fragmented, the consolidated sand stone has proven to be very durable. Jordan said that one former owner of a mill said that such a stone would wear out the miller instead of the miller wearing the stone out.

According to the owners of the property, Jim and Kathy Charleston, tradition has it



(Continued on Page 3)

Longwood students dig at Morton's Mill site.

Contents

Commentary 2
News 3, 4
Features 5, 6
Greeks 6
Sports 7, 8

Commentary

Off the wing

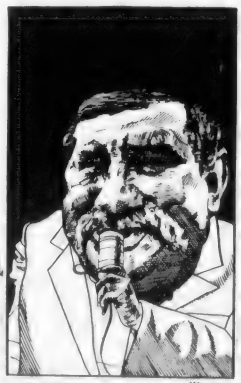
by Mike Whitford

A strange thing happened this summer. The Pentagon recommended cuts in their own budget. When I heard this my jaw went slack. "What do you mean the Pentagon cut its own budget!", I cried out. "Impossible."

I was wrong to get angry. Defence Secretary Dick Cheney chose to cut programs like the V-22 Ospery, the F-14D and the Migetman missle. All of these programs were part of the Reagan administration military buildup. And, all of these programs have two things in common. They are all in the pre-deployment stage, and the roles each was to fulfill can be executed by existing systems. After some soul-searching I realized that the age of large defence budgets was really over. This is the kinder and gentler administration of fiscal conservatism, spending restraint, and deficit reduction.

Having just adjusted to the idea of a smaller defence budget; one that would cover all of the important systems and maintain strength without extravagance. I was shocked to read the morning papers a few days later.

Congress had voted to restore funding to every single program the Pentagon had recommended be cut.



Who did they think they were today? Where were all of those bold men who foretold economic doom everytime the Reagan administration asked for an increase in defence spending? Where were those wanna-be statesmen who said we can't mortage our children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren to pay for our defence today? Where did all of those represenatives who wanted to control the deficit go?

They went to a committee room and decided that they would worry about the deficit later, and restored funding.

It's time to go to the mat with the Democrats in Congress. Demand a straight answer from the masters of muddle. Does Congress want to balance the budget or not? My guess is they don't care. The deficit is a good issue, so long as it doesn't require having to make any tough decisions. The majority of the Democratic congressmen who supported the re-funding of cut programs decided to be squishy on the issues, or as they like to phrase it: "I had to re-evaluate my position on the issue, in light of new information." Translation: "I had to change my mind because I didn't ever think this would happen."

This is a typical example of Democratic Congressional doublespeak. They don't hesitate to criticize the defence buildup's effect on the economy. But, they don't want to cut back for fear that their districts would lose money, or jobs. To paraphrase the Washington Post, "They're against weapons, but pro-jobs."

It is time that Democrats in Congress decided which is more important the well-being of the nation (as they see it), or picking up some votes here and there. Perhaps, they need some advice. My advice to Congress is simple: "Don't prostitute ideology for votes. If you have an idea, stick to it. People will respect you more."

LECH WALESA
Solidarity Leader, Poland

Waghorn
CPS

COLLEGE PRESS SERVICE

MIKHAIL GORBACHEV
Communist Party Head, U.S.S.R.

Kerry Waghorn
CPS

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
R. Bruce Gantt

Photography Editor
Jan-Marie Johnson

Sports Editor
Lindy Seymore

Business Manager
Sarah Tetterton

Advertising Manager

Features Editor
Monica Gilbert

News Editor
Stephanie Neeley

Faculty Advisor
William C. Wood

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be typed or printed neatly, state the author's years, and major as applicable.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 395-2120.

NEWS

(Continued from Page 1)

that a hole that was blown in the dam was by confederate forces making their final retreat to Appomattox in an effort to prevent Union forces from following. They believe that this was probably the end of the mill's operation.

The land where the mill once existed is full of history. Records show that a Mr. Rea sold the land to Joseph Michaux in 1768. Upon his death, he left the property to his wife (as detailed in a will). In 1808 their two sons (executors of the estate) sold the property to the famed John Randolph of Roanoke. Randolph owned the land until 1819 when he sold it to Thomas Morton (who is believed to have constructed the mill).

In 1824 and 1834, the mill was documented in recorded sketches which are still on file. However, the sketches are not to scale and have failed to provide much help in locating the structures at the site.

"The mill is supposed to be located over there," he said pointing to the opposite bank of the canal. "We don't know if it is or not — we have found not a shred of evidence." The students have dug as far as fourteen feet through sand and silt in various test pits, but have found nothing. "As far as we can tell this summer, there's no evidence of the mill being over there where the sketch indicates," Jordan said. Jordan says that he plans to return to the site to conduct additional digs.

Located high upon the bank of the canal is the foundation of an elaborate storage building. "I'm guessing that this represents a pretty elaborate storage device, not for weeks and weeks worth of grain, but for grain that was either waiting to be milled or that had been milled and had to be treated in a special way," said Jordan. Millers had to fight infestation of rodents, insects as well as water seepage.

The Charlestons purchased the small farm six years ago. Although they have always been interested in history, Kathy has chosen to make her home and the mill site more than her personal project.

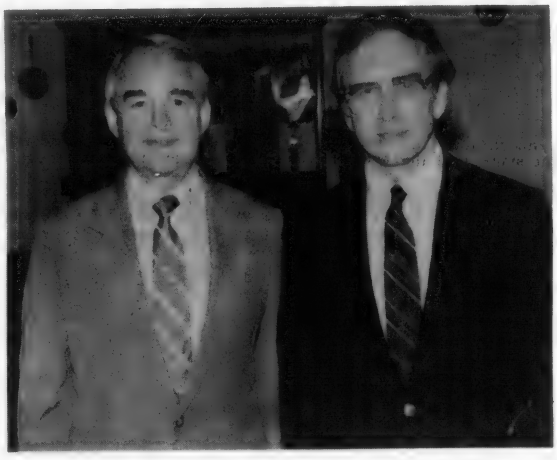
Kathy has been working towards obtaining her Master's of Science degree in Education at Longwood College with a secondary curriculum specialty in Social Studies. Her history professor agreed to allow Kathy to do the research part of her requirements on her home.

As part of her research, Kathy has searched historical records and architectural designs and has developed plans for restoration. "We're not just planning to redecorate, we're very much planning to restore the house to what we feel it was — or as close as we can ascertain it was originally," she said.

The Charlestons' home is full of history. The foundation and the first floor of the home has been laid in stone and a date stone (1820) was inlaid into the chimney. They believe, however, (based on will records) the house is probably a few years older than that.

The research done by the field school has proven to be beneficial to Kathy's research project. "What they have found has confirmed more for me what I have found and what I haven't been able to find to help date parts of the house," she said.

"I've always wished, of all the science fiction things ... that one would be true and that would be the time machine in which you could step in and go back," said Kathy. "I'd give my eye teeth to be able to go back (to see the people and the places like they were)."



Unfortunately for history buffs, no scientist has been able to build a time machine. With all of the talk of sending a manned space craft to Mars, there is still hope that time machine may someday be invented and we can learn all that we ever wanted to know about the past. Until then, we'll have to rely upon the efforts of Archaeologists.

Memorial Service for David Buchanan

There will be a memorial service for Longwood Alumni David Buchanan Tuesday, at 2 p.m. in the Farmville United Methodist Church. Mr. Buchanan was a member of CHI and a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity Inc.

The Dorrill's dance to the band.

President Dorrill and Lecturer Dr. John Gaddis.

(Continued from page 1)

mary Sprague and designed by Dr. Maria Milian-Silviera.

The cake represented all of the major points in Dr. Dorrill's life.

The conclusion of the Inaugural events was the Community Worship and Dedication Service at Farmville Presbyterian Church at 3 p.m. Sunday afternoon. The Camerata Singers, the Handbell Ensemble, and the Concert Choir performed at the service.

WORK FOR YOURSELF

As a campus representative you'll be responsible for placing advertising materials on bulletin boards and working on marketing programs for clients such as American Express, Boston University, Eurail, and various movie companies, among others. Part-time work, choose your own hours. No sales. Many of our reps stay with us long after graduation. If you are self-motivated, hard-working, and a bit of an entrepreneur, call or write for more information to:

AMERICAN PASSAGE NETWORK
6211 W. HOWARD STREET
CHICAGO, IL 60648
1(800) 727-6783 or
(312) 647-6660

CHICAGO·DALLAS·LOS ANGELES
NEW YORK·SEATTLE

DOING TAXES CAN MAKE YOU FEEL GREAT. ESPECIALLY WHEN THEY'RE SOMEONE ELSE'S.

If you have a basic aptitude for math and the desire to help others, you can get a lot of satisfaction by volunteering your time and skills to people who need help doing their taxes.

80,000 people already have. Join them.

To find out about the free IRS training program, call 1-800-424-1040 now.

A Public Service Announcement from the Advertising Council and the Internal Revenue Service

NEWS

Design '89

HILLSBORO, Ore. — OrCAD Systems Corp. has announced that it is sponsoring the first annual International Design Award Competition.

Entitled "Design '89," the competition recognizes excellence and ingenuity in product design.

An independent, nationwide panel of electronics industry experts will judge the entries and select three winning designs. The first place design will be awarded a $10,000 honorarium, and the second and third place designs will be awarded a complete line of OrCAD software, and an OrCAD CAE (computer-aided-engineering) software package respectively.

The competition runs until September 30, 1989. Entries will be accepted until midnight, September 30, and will be judged during the month of October.

Awards will be presented at a special reception at the Western Electronic Show and Convention (Wescon), which runs November 14-16 in San Francisco.

The following criteria will be used in judging each design entry:

1. The product must be recent. "Recent is defined as September 30, 1985 to September 30, 1989.

2. The product must be "practical." "Practical" is defined as having applications or serving a useful function.

3. The design must be cost effective. The price must be acceptable to the intended purchaser.

4. The design must be innovative, new or unusual. It should not be a refurbished old product.

5. The product design must result directly from the personal contribution of the individual submitting the official entry form.

6. The design should exhibit creativity in the usage and interconnection of various parts, not the uniqueness of the parts themselves.

7. Credit will be given for elegance of design.

8. The design should exhibit progressive use of technology.

9. The design must be capable of satisfactory performance in the environmental extremes to which the product might be subjected in normal use.

10. The design must be reproduceable. Successful manufacture and sale shall be used to judge product reproduceability.

For more information about Design '89 and to obtain copies of the entry form, contact: Julie Wheland, ECN/OrCAD, 201 King of Prussia Road, Radnor, PA 19089, (215) 964-4348.

Visiting journalist Speaks

Xiaopo Huang, the deputy director of the National Press Club of the People's Republic of China, will give a lecture at Longwood College on Tuesday evening, Sept. 12, at 7:30 in the Gold Room, Lankford Building.

The lecture topic is "China in Crisis." The public is invited to attend the lecture free of charge.

Huang is fluent in English. She appeared recently as a guest on "NBC Nightly News" with Tom Brokaw.

Huang will be in the U.S. throughout 1989-90 as a Woodrow Wilson Fellow at Princeton University.

Her responsibilities in China include managing media affairs at the national level, arranging press conferences and interviews for the Chinese and foreign press in Beijing, and organizing international reporting tours for the Chinese press. She serves as interpreter for many of these tours.

In previous positions, Huang was a manager for the China National Administration of Tourism and foreign affairs assistant to the Governor of China's Hubei Province.

Huang holds a B.A. degree in English literature from Wuhan University and M.A. in journalism from the Institute of Journalism in Beijing. She has studied in the U.S. at California State University and at Princeton.

Cash offered in Poetry Contest

Poets may enter the American Poetry Association's nationwide contest now. Over $11,000 in prizes will be awarded to 152 winners. Entry is free and everyone is welcome to enter.

The Grand Prize is $1,000 and the First Prize $500. Other prizes include cash awards and publication.

"Students walked away with 24 prizes in our last contest," said Robert Nelson, publisher for the association. "I urge every student who writes poetry to enter now — before studies and exams take up your time. Young people with talent should get encouragement and recognition while they are still young."

Poets may enter the contest by sending up to six poems, each no more than 20 lines, name and address on each page, to American Poetry Association, Dept. CT-70, 250-A Potrero Street, P. O. Box 1803, Santa Cruz, CA 95061-1803. Poems must be postmarked by December 31.

Each poem is also considered for publication in the American Poetry Anthology, a leading collection of contemporary verse.

During seven years of sponsorship the American Poetry Association has run 32 contests and awarded over $145,000 in prizes to 3,040 winning poets.

New Phone System A Success

By STEPHANIE NEELEY

The new telecommunications systems being used on campus now appears to be successful. Though there have been minor complaints about the ringers on the phones not being loud enough and questions about when the voice mail system will be installed in certain rooms, overall the system has greatly convenienced the whole Longwood community.

Dr. James Cross who headed up the new phone project says that feedback from students and the administration has been very positive. One of the main conveniences for students this semester was being able to be issued a phone at no extra charge, which eliminated the hassle of an installation fee they would have normally paid to Centel.

For students who are questioning about when they will get their voice mail, Dr. Cross said it should be completed by next week. Students who ordered this service will receive a brochure on how the voice mail works in the post office box.

Also, the additional features of call waiting, transfer, conference call, etc., seem to be an aspect of the phones that students like. For students with personal computers, there are other advantages to this system because of the phones' data switching capability. Students who hook up their PC to the phones now have access to the college's mainframe and library computers from their own room. Dr. Cross says that this system is a step towards providing students with the luxuries they enjoy at home at a minimal fee. He also says that the project to provide cable for the whole campus is underway and will be completed by mid-semester.

Though it has been an adjustment for the campus to learn about the phones and how they work, now that the system is running, overall it has proven to be an advantageous step for Longwood.

— Connie Hatchett

Longwood Speaks Out

Produced by Jim Whedbee

Edwin Cather — "It is okay, nothing spectacular."

— Jeff Huson — "Great, Awesome! You can plug your computer into it."

— Chrissey Mascoll — "So far it's working out fine. No problems."

"How do you like the new L.C. Phone System?" — Karen Letsinger — "It's okay. I don't like the fact that we can't make direct long distance phone calls."

— "I like it because we don't have to pay a service charge. Some students complain they can't get a call out. But I do think it's good that everybody has a phone."

FEATURES

Insight on Supreme Court Case

By MIKE WHITFORD

This summer the way local politics operates was given a tremendous blow. In June, the Supreme Court narrowed its 1973 Roe v. Wade decision in the case of Webster Missouri Reproductive Systems to allow states to limit funding for abortion. Why was this a blow? Because now every single state legislator, county sheriff, and dogcatcher is going to be pursued by the rabid minions of the violent abortion partisans.

Since, the question of public funding for abortion can be decided on the state level, the Pandora's Box of one issue races is opened. The National Organization of Women (NOW), led by the troll-like Molly Yard, recently held a national convention. At this convention the frequently repeated sound-bite was: "You mess with our rights, we take your jobs."

Molly & Co. have gone and declared a one issue jihad. Who cares about other issues! Damn the rest of the world's problems! Full speed ahead on abortion. The 1989 elections in Virginia and New Jersey, and the 1990 off-year elections, are to be the crusade for rights that the evil Supreme Court are going to take from women.

One would think that with numerous proposals in the works, NOW would be trying to lobby for new programs. The President's education program, and various child-care plans for instance. NOW could add these to their agenda. But no. NOW is content to rave on about abortion rights, and the soon to be created "Women's Party". Yes, Molly & Co. have decided that they cannot work within the framework of either party. Therefore, they must create a new party to advance such niceties as: an abortion rights amendment to the Constitution, adoption of the ERA amendment, pass federal laws (and probably a Constitutional amendment) for lesbian rights, and so on ad Nauseum.

Molly & Co. think all of this concern about abortion is needed. And I agree, to a point. The attention abortion is getting makes people aware of an important issue facing the electorate. People need to be informed to make wise decisions. But, we are inundated with abortion, to the point where other issues are ignored. There are people who will vote for a person just because of his/her position on abortion.

I cannot get over the naivete of those who would squander away their most valuable possession as Americans, their vote, on a single issue. Do they think that all the General Assembly and Governor are going to discuss next year is abortion? Or is it that these people don't mind if their taxes get raised, or their roads don't get built, or their schools aren't funded?

I believe that NOW, and all of the other pro-choice/pro-life groups are doing voters a great disservice. By continuing relentless assaults on candidates about abortion, they are keeping us from finding out where they stand on other issues. And without that knowledge, we cannot well make the decisions we need to this November. And that is the greatest tragedy of all.

DO YOU WANT ONE OF THOSE "GENUINE LONGWOOD"
Budweiser® Logo T-shirts?
100% Cotton, pre-shrunk
All Sizes
$12
Tank Tops $10
Sweat Shirts $20
Send order to Rat & Co:, Box #1027 (include name, phone number and size)
Budweiser is a registered trademark of Anheuser-Busch Inc.

ASA's to sponsor concert

By ASHLEY SMITH

On September 15 the ASA's will have their first annual After Summer Affair with the Pi Kapps when they bring the Boneshakers in concert to Longwood. The Boneshakers are an up and coming band who recently had their first hit on the charts. Tickets are $4 in advance or $5 at the door and can be bought from any Pi Kapp or ASA. The After Summer Affair promises to be one of the biggest events of the year so don't miss it! Buy your tickets now.

Greek Affairs

Pi Kapps receive award

CHARLOTTE, N.C. — Epsilon Gamma Chapter of Pi Kappa Phi National Fraternity at Longwood College was one of 11 chapters to receive the Fraternity's Champion Master Chapter Award. The awards were presented at the Fraternity's biennial convention, Supreme Chapter, held August 5-9, at the Hyatt Crystal City Hotel in Washington, D.C.

The award is given to those chapters in Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity that have attained 400 points in such areas as membership, educational programs, alumni relations, community service and student activities. The criteria for the award includes: upper 50 percent of fraternities on its campus scholastically, must operate on a budget with no deficit, and 50 percent of the chapter members must be involved in some other campus organization.

The other Pi Kappa Phi chapters receiving the award are: Upsilon, University of Illinois, Xi, Roanoke College; Alpha Gamma, University of Oklahoma; Alpha Omicron, Iowa State University; Alpha Psi, Indiana University; Beta Eta, Florida State University; Gamma Beta, Old Dominion University; Delta Lambda, University of North Carolina at Charlotte; Epsilon Mu, Bradley University; and Epsilon Psi, Slippery Rock University.

Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity is a non-profit organization with over 130 chapters located on college campuses throughout the United States. The National Fraternity, which has over 55,000 initiated members, was founded in Charleston, S.C., in 1904.

TKEs eliminate pledging

INDIANAPOLIS, IN — Tau Kappa Epsilon International Fraternity (TKE), the largest college social fraternity in North America, has voted to eliminate "pledging" in all TKE chapters. The legislation was passed by the undergraduate delegates from the fraternity's move than 280 chapters during the 45th national convention held this past weekend in Indianapolis, Indiana.

Eileen Stevens, whose son (a pledge of Kian Alpine local fraternity) died as a result of hazing and founder of the Committee to Halt Useless College Killings (CHUCK) made the following statement during the TKE international convention. "More than 50 students have died from hazing incidents during the last 10 years. Whenever you have a two-tiered system where there are members and 'pledges', the opportunity for hazing persists. Tau Kappa Epsilon undergraduates have taken the lead in removing that opportunity."

Instead of a pledge period, new recruits will be initiated immediately and will have all rights and privileges of full membership. Newly initiated members will participate, along with the other members, in a Membership Development Program which includes three levels of educational achievement. All members are expected to complete these levels in order to main active membership each year.

Former President Ronald Reagan and a member of TKE from Eureka College in Illinois is a featured narrator in a new educational video tape series which is included as part of the Membership Development Program. A set of five professionally produced video modules, "The Spirit of TKE" is the first video educational program of its kind in the entire fraternity system. Each module covers different areas of fraternity education, including: Leadership and personal development, academic achievement, fraternity history and lore, chapter management, organization and structure, member standards and responsibilities, and alumni involvement opportunities.

The legislation as passed by the delegates calls for complete implementation of the Membership Development program over a two-year period. Full implementation should be achieved by September 1, 1991. "This implementation time will provide us with an opportunity to fine tune; the new program and educate our chapters in its use," said T. J. Schmitz, Executive Vice President and CEO of the fraternity. "We will also seek the cooperation of all campus administrators and interfraternity councils to modify their current rules so that our new members may be initiated immediately."

Several TKE chapters will pilot the new member program this fall, but most will begin using the program after the Spring Regional Leadership Conferences in March and April of 1990. During the conferences, a couple training and implementation program will be presented to be undergraduates in attendance.

The issue of eliminating pledgeship has been reviewed by the Fraternity Executives Association and the National Interfraternity Conference. All national fraternities are currently reviewing their own membership programs. It is anticipated that other fraternities will be making similar charges to their membership structure in the near future.

HELP WANTED
COLLEGE/CAMPUS REPRESENTATIVE
Earn Top $. Flexible hours...enjoyable...rewarding...gross up to $20,000 per year by helping friends receive grants/scholarships. For info, please call: (213) 967-2115.

HELP WANTED
ACT IN TV COMMERCIALS
HIGH PAY
No experience...all ages — kids, teens, young adults, families, mature people, animals, etc. Call Now!
CHARM STUDIOS
1-(800) 447-1530
Ext. 514

FEATURES

Personals

Sarah, — You're the greatest roommate. We can make it through this together. Remember, I'm always here for you. — Kim

Sharon, — Wish you were here full-time, but a part-time suitemate is better than nothing at all. — Miss AOU:

To the AST Spring pledge class of 1989 — Congrats on best GPA! — Love, your Chaplain

Cheryl — Reneé — Congrats on V-P! — PJ

Beth — You're a great roomie! Thanks for your patience this week. Love — Mary Francis

Congratulations new AΔπ sisters! You made it! π love, — Mary Frances

Ashley, — Congratulations on being initiated. It's over! I'm proud to call you "sister." — π, Your Big Sis

CHI of 90 — Would like to welcome back all the returning students and to say hello to all the freshman and transfers. We challenge everyone to work to their fullest potential and to show your blue and white spirit in everything you do. Good luck, have a great year!... — CHI is watching!!

Attention All New Freshmen and Transfers — If you ordered a New Student Record please come by the Greek Affairs Office, Ground Floor, Lankford as soon as possible. Office open 1:00-5:00 p.m. daily.

Andrea — If you ever feel the year and a half itch — I'll dust mine if you dust your's, just a thought — What's the use we're both whipped. — J

Debbie Vaughan — Here's to one more year! Let's make it the best! — PJ

Megan K. Janney — Thanks for being my little sister. Tau love and mine — Pam

Cindy and Mike — Way to go! Good luck always! — Love, PJ

Babycakes — I am so glad you came to Longwood this year. I love you — ABJBK.

Bonnie — I missed you so much over the summer. It is great to be back with you — Love, Pooter.

Susan Parrish — Can you say bitos and frean dip?

WLCX is back on the air! — Everyday, 4 p.m. to midnight! This station is for you, Longwood. So tune in — 90.1 FM

R. Bruce, — Good luck with the Rotunda — Unofficial Executive Assistant to the Business/Advertising Manager

Vonda, Staff, and Sharon — You guys are great suitemates. This year will be a blast. — Kim and Sarah

The pledges and sisters of Delta Zeta would like to welcome all freshmen and transfers to Longwood College. Have a great year and good luck.

Welcome back — May your year be happy, prosperous and non-reproductive. Best wishes — The Condom Fairy

KL & P? — awww ya'll are so cute. Keep it up.

Eric/Scott — Where was Zappa during the big event?

Emma — Poor guy he's definitely in dire need of a good b.j. See ya in 104.

The Real "Penthouse Suite" minus 2 of your members (well 1 really). I guess now it's the "Penthouse Room." Well don't let the turkeys get you down you're still the original Penthouse partyers (-1).

Cherir — clean clutter rules. How do you put up with me. Love ya lots. — Cereste

Robin Hood — To thee I pledge my eternal love. Thou art my prince among men. — Maid Marion

Dean — "Coach" Keep up the good work. Now that you're officially qualified come down and help us unofficially celebrate it. — See ya

Cam's Kids — "Party Hearty" after the week you put in you deserve it!

Poo Bear, — Thanks for making these first weeks back great. I'm sure you are feeling much better now after getting all that sleep, glad I could help! See you soon! Love — "Your Boy"

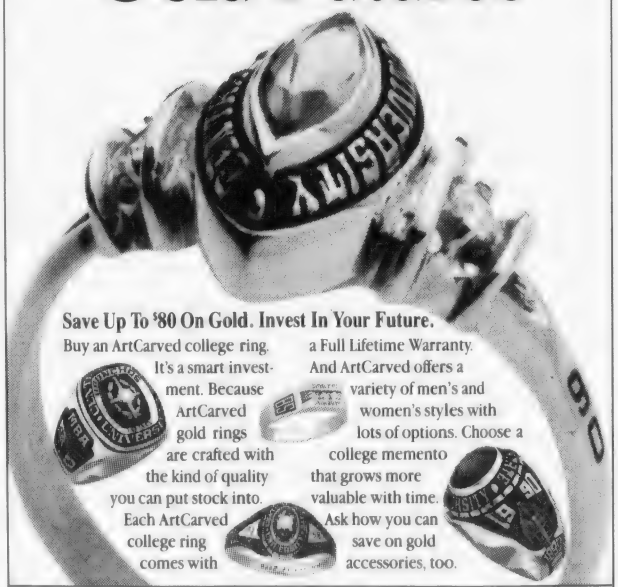
MANDATORY SENIOR CLASS MEETING FOR DECEMBER GRADS

Tues. Sept. 12th at 7 p.m. Red, White and Green Rm.

Lewis Wins $10,000 for artwork

David Dodge Lewis, 1989 recipient of the $10,000 Virginia Prize in the Visual Arts, will exhibit his work in Eggleston Library at Hampden-Sydney College from September 6-27. An Assistant Professor of Fine Arts at Hampden-Sydney, Mr. Lewis is a graduate of East Carolina University and the University of Southern Maine.

The prize winning entries, consisting of ten drawings in mixed media (ink, charcoal, and black and white prisma on paper) are from three recent series of his work: "The Camera," "The Towers," and "My Father's Stroke." They are best described as dark and smoky, melancholy and brooding works, focused on a single, representational subject.



The Virginia Commission for the Arts awards the Virginia Prizes in the Visual Arts annually, with one cash award of $10,000 in each of the disciplines of crafts, painting, photography, prints and drawings, and sculpture. The Commission has established these awards, recognizing exceptional talent, to support and encourage the work of Virginia's professional artists, and to keep Virginia a vital place for artists to live and work. The prizes are intended to support Virginia artists in the creation of new works and in their efforts to advance their careers.

Humor

Gold Futures

Save Up To '80 On Gold. Invest In Your Future.

Buy an ArtCarved college ring. It's a smart investment. Because ArtCarved gold rings are crafted with the kind of quality you can put stock into. Each ArtCarved college ring comes with a Full Lifetime Warranty. And ArtCarved offers a variety of men's and women's styles with lots of options. Choose a college memento that grows more valuable with time. Ask how you can save on gold accessories, too.

ARTCARVED
COLLEGE JEWELRY

Rotunda Sept. 18-20 10-2

Location Date Time Deposit Required

Payment Plans Available

© 1989 ARTCARVED

SPORTS

Baseball recruits Promising Group

Longwood baseball coach Buddy Bolding will welcome six incoming freshmen to the Lancer team when fall drills begin next week. Among the newcomers, all Virginians, are three pitchers, an infielder and two outfielders.

Longwood kicks off its fall season of scrimmages with the Old Timers' Game September 16 at 12 noon. The game will match former Lancer stars against the current team in an exhibition contest. Longwood will also play Liberty at home Friday, September 29 at 2.

The Lancers, 23-13 last season, should be bolstered by the arrival of infielder/outfielder Michael Tucker, pitcher Chip Owen, outfielder Shawn Jones, third baseman Terry Taylor, pitcher/outfielder Kyle Weaver and pitcher Michael Adams.

Tucker, a left-handed hitter, followed the path of former Lancer standouts Doug Toombs and Frankie Watson, from Bluestone High School to Longwood. Player of the Year in Southside, Tucker batted .460 with eight homers. He could play center field or shortstop for Longwood.

"He is a great player with unlimited potential," said Bolding.

A graduate of Jefferson Forest High, Taylor was coached by former Lancer Jim Thacker. A third baseman with good power and fielding ability, Taylor helped Jefferson Forest win the AA State title in 1988 and finish as runner-up last season.

Jones, who played at Bruton High School, could be pleasant surprise for the Lancer program. He hits with power and has excellent speed.

Weaver was a teammate of Owen's at Halifax. He may pitch or play the outfield at Longwood. Adams is a pitcher and graduate of Nottoway Senior High School.

Lancers scare top ranked UVA

For more than 65 minutes at Scott Stadium Tuesday night the Longwood College soccer squad battled the number one ranked University of Virginia Cavaliers on even terms.

That Virginia eventually won 3-1 following a brawl and a relentless second half assault on the Lancer goal (17 shots) could not overshadow the inspired play of Longwood and its goalkeeper Steve Thompson. Thompson, who was credited with eight saves, played magnificantly.

"We knew we had to play a perfect game to beat them and we did for 70 minutes," said midfielder Mitch Rubin. "There's only so much pressure you can take."

Ranked number one by Soccer America, Virginia entered the game 2-0 with wins over Indiana and Notre Dame over the weekend. Longwood, playing its season opener, is unranked in Division II. The last meeting between the two teams in 1984 ended in a 4-0 Virginia victory, but the 1989 Lancer edition believed they could pull off the upset.

Longwood Goes Ahead 1-0

After a scoreless first half, Longwood got on the board 2:34 into the second half and held its 1-0 edge for more than 17 minutes.

Lancer junior Rodney Funk took a Rubin pass 17 yards from the Cavalier goal in the center of the field. When Virginia goalkeeper Tony Meola, a national team player, came out to defend, Funk deftly booted the ball over his head and into the goal to put Longwood ahead.

With Funk's goal the Lancers achieved one of their main objectives: simply to score and get ahead. Meola gave up just five goals in 17 games last season and neither Notre Dame or Indiana had been able to get a goal against Virginia.

"Our real objective was to get ahead and put a scare into them," said Rubin. "We got ahead 1-0, packed it in and stuck to our game plan."

Four Shots in 20 Seconds

For the game Virginia had 27 shots to three for Longwood. Seventeen of those Cavalier attempts came in the wild second half. During one crazy 20-second stretch Virginia got off four shots at Thompson and the Lancer goal as the ball seemingly refused to be cleared.

Virginia shots came from 15, 12, 9 and 7 yards. A brawl ended the barrage o shots and continued for 15 o 20 seconds until officials restored order. Four Cavaliers and two Lancers received yellow cards before play resumed.

Inspired perhaps by the fight, Virginia and Drew Fallon came back to knot the game at 1-1 on a 7-yard boot from in front of the goal with 24.43 left. Thompson dived and got to the ball but it rolled just over the goal line.

The Cavaliers went ahead to stay on a penalty kick by Fallon at 8:36 and scored once more near the end.

Played With Heart

In the aftermath of the defeat, Longwood players remained proud of their effort.

"We've got nothing to be ashamed of," Rubin told his teammates. "We've got 19 games left and if we keep our intensity up we could win them all."

"We played with heart," said senior John Barone. "We're the first team to score on Virginia this season."

Did Longwood and rookie coach Paul Sidhu really think his team could beat one of the best Division teams in the country?

"I thought we could keep it close," said Sidhu who admitted he was so drained he'd forego post game celebrating for a good night's sleep. "I knew we'd get our chances, but we had to be patient and we were. We were well-prepared. Even though we had heard how good Virginia was, we didn't let it go to our heads."

Longwood, which has its first home action September 16-17 in the Southside Virginia Doubleheader, plays in the Blue Classic at Lynchburg Friday and Saturday. The Lancers will face Division III power Scranton at 1 p.m. Friday while Lynchburg plays Guilford at 3:30. The consolation and championship games will be at 1 and 3:30 Saturday.

Longwood Hockey Looks For Improvement

By KATHLEEN LELAND

Like fine wine, Longwood field hockey coach Sue Finnie hopes her Lancer team has improved with age. Battling youth and injury last season, the 1988 squad emerged from a hard fought campaign with a disappointing 3-7-2 record.

Heading into the 1989 season opener against Davis & Elkins on Friday, Finnie excitedly points out the Lady Lancers have lost only one starter.

"Optimistic? I'd say we're extremely optimistic about this season," Finnie commented earlier this week. "The players are sky high—psyched and ready-to-play. I gave them Tuesday off and they called a practice on their own."

The team's four seniors all return for their fourth year of varsity action. Midfielder Beanie Felch and forwards Diane Brown and Liz Annet, all Virginia Beach natives, join goalkeeper Kim Howells in their final season of intercollegiate competition.

Felch and Annet, 1988's leading scorers, are complemented by a talented and versatile group of veterans that suffered some hard knocks last year, but return "field smart" and ready for action.

Junior back Celeste Lloyd and midfielder Judith Barnett join sophomore standouts forward Lara Cini, forward Ellen Binswanger, back Hollie Phelps and sweeper Carver Ports in hosting this Friday's 4 p.m. Davis & Elkins match and a 2 p.m. contest against Mount St. Mary's on Sunday.

"This team has never played Mount St. Mary's but Davis & Elkins is one of our grudge matches," Finnie said. "They beat us last year 2-0 in the mud at their field and the team wants to beat them badly this time. The players are ready for this game."

Both games will be played at Barlow Field on the Longwood College campus.

Player of the Week

Freshman back Seth Johnson, whose consistent defensive play sparked the Lancer soccer team last week, has been named Longwood College Player of the Week for the period September 3-10. Player of the Week is chosen by the Longwood sports information office.

Johnson played well in all three Longwood games last week and was outstanding in the Lancers' 3-1 loss at top-ranked Virginia last Tuesday night in Charlottesville. Johnson marked two of the powerful Cavs' top scoring threats and held them in check.

"Seth has been consistent and he's given 100 percent in every game," said coach Paul Sidhu. "He's a solid player who doesn't make mistakes.

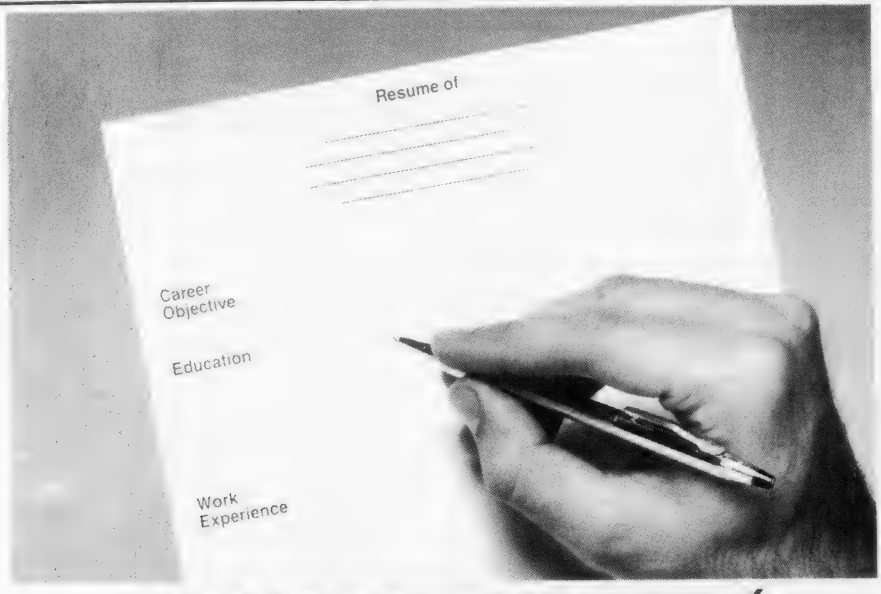
"Our defense has been pretty good and Seth's play has been one of the main factors. He's also inspired his teammates with the way he plays."

A graduate of Frank W. Cox High School, Johnson earned All-Beach honors three times, All-Region two times and was also named All-State and Region MVP.

1989

FALL SPORTS

SCHEDULES



Women's Golf

Williamson Alumni Match
(Farmville, VA)

Fall Baseball

1:00

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

START AN IMPRESSIVE RESUMÉ WITH A COLLEGE ELECTIVE.

Misc 201 Leadership

Take an introductory course from Army ROTC. With no obligation. You'll begin to acquire the confidence, self-discipline, decisiveness, and leadership skills sought by employers of college graduates. And you'll learn how you can place "Army Officer" on your resumé when you graduate.

Set a course for success this term. Register now for an Army ROTC elective.

ARMY ROTC

THE SMARTEST COLLEGE COURSE YOU CAN TAKE.

For more information contact Cpt. Carson, phone 2134

The Rotunda

Longwood College

VOL. 69 NO. 2 | SEPTEMBER 18, 1989 | Farmville, VA

Fall Music Festival

By JIM WOOD
Staff Writer

Sunday, September 24 is the day Longwood rocks with its Fall Music Festival. Stubbs Mall will be the site for a day of outdoor music.

Taking the stage are Full Stop, a JMV based Reggae band familiar to Longwood, turning out covers from such artists as Marley, Josh, and Steel Pulse; Crystal Sky, covering Hendrix, the Doors, as well as playing original material at their first Longwood appearance. Last, but not least, is the Jellyfish Blues band, no strangers to Longwood, whose offerings are as diverse as Bruce Springsteen and the Dead. The Jellyfish Blues band was last at Longwood for the Spring Music Festival.

The festival will run from 1 p.m. to 10 p.m. and is presented by Sigma Phi Epsilon and Alpha Gamma Delta in cooperation with Phyllis Mable and the office of Student Affairs.

Jellyfish Blues on stage at last year's Spring Music Festival.

Longwood Feels Housing Crunch

By BETH LORD

Longwood is on the rise! We're raising our admission standards, striving for excellence in our academic departments, and planning to expand our campus. But progress has its price. We're also accepting more students than ever before, and students need places to stay.

The Housing Office notified 18 new students over the summer that they would have to be housed at the Longwood Motel until on-campus spaces became available. "We made sure we didn't put any freshmen out there, only upperclassmen transfers," said Housing Director David Rettig. A few students in this predicament decided to commute; others just didn't show up. In the end only 12 people had to stay at the motel. Two were moved on-campus before the weekend was over, and the last was scheduled to get a room this past Friday. Longwood's residence halls have the capacity to house 2,193 students. Currently they are housing 2,365, with many students living in triple rooms.

This overcrowding has been a factor in the decisions of many students to move off-campus. At the present time 750 are living off-campus after having been released from their residence hall agreements or approved through the off-campus lottery. This brings Longwood students into contact with Farmville residents and subjects them to the town's laws.

According to Gerald Spates, Farmville's Town Manager, two laws affecting off-campus students have been expanded. The first was enacted in response to calls from parents complaining about the overcrowded apartments in which their sons and daughters lived. Today, only a single family or 3 unrelated persons may legally reside in an apartment or single family residence, consisting of separate kitchen, bathroom, and bedroom facilities. This prevents overcrowding and serves as a safety measure in the event of a fire or other emergency. The second law states that the

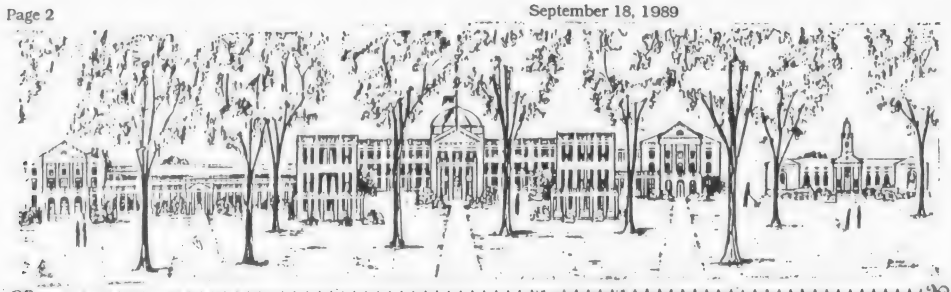
(Continued on page 7)

Campus Organizations give Strong Showing at Involvement Fair

By DENISE DAUBENSPECK

A large number of campus organizations participated in this year Involvement/Interest Fair. The various groups assembled Saturday in the Student Union to display memorabilia and promote the organizations.

Each of the organizations present agreed that the event was a great way to advertise and obtain new members. Additional comments were made by those participating in the fair. Members of Alpha Sigma Alpha said "the displays show the uniqueness of the different sororities, and how different groups perform ceremonies." Three members of the Delta Zrta Sorority commented "whenever you want to find a palce to get involved, you can, and the fair gives people the opportunity to meet the members behind the organization". A member of the Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity expressed his desire to get more people involved in the community and try to ease the tension between college students and the surrounding community.



The idea for the fair was adopted from a work group at the Longwood Student Leadership Conference. This event was coordinated by Marie Bristow and sponsored by the S.G.A. Preparations for this year's fair began last May and extended into late fall. In early spring a memorandum was distributed to various campus organizations detailing the purpose, structure, and deadlines for the project. The introductory letter was followed by an interest meeting in which one representative from each organization was requested to attend. The only formal requirement involved was the completion of an application form used to reserve a display table.

This year was the first time the Interest Fair was combined with Involvement Week. This week numerous events were scheduled to arouse interest and participation among the student body. The events available included the Steven Wright concert, Xiaopo Hung's lecture on the China Student Protest, Al Romes and Gary Stevens performance, the lip sync contest, and the presentation of "Gorillas in the Mist." (Unfortunately, the move was cancelled due to technical difficulties.) Those who attended these events received a raffle ticket that qualified them for numerous prizes, including Longwood cups, mugs, keychains, teddy bears, pillows, sweatshirts, and twenty to thirty dollar gift certificates. These prizes were awarded at the conclusion of the Involvement Fair.

Several organizations felt the success of the fair depended upon its location and wished the weather had permitted an outdoor affair. Despite the location and desire for a better turn out, the fair appeared to be successful.

Contents

Commentary 2
News 3, 4
Features 5, 6
Greeks 5
Sports 7, 8

Commentary

Letters to the Editor

Concern for Writing Skills

Dear Editor:

We are constantly trying to improve our educational system. We provide computer classes, pre-business classes and psychology classes so our children can be better prepared for life. These classes have much to offer, unfortunately basic skills such as writing are getting lost in the scuffle.

For our children's sake we cannot forget the fundamentals. Advanced college preparatory classes should have a basis in writing classes since writing is a basic form of communication. A student may take college prep classes and realize that those classes aren't helping him/her in their English 101 class where basic writing skills are required.

There are many aspects of writing that are key to a person's success. Proper grammar is necessary in speaking and writing effectively. If one is to get their point across, they must be able to organize their thoughts. The ability to write clear, concise memos and business letters are important in a professional and every day setting. A muddled letter can cost someone a major account, or it can hinder warranteed work on a new dryer.

Writing classes should be thorough for our children's best interest. Another important point to remember is that every teacher should emphasize writing in their classes. Assignments that include writing essays, research papers, business letters, or any other writing assignment can only help students. Practice in good writing skills is key to good communication skills. Writing effectively should be stressed on the same level as speaking effectively.

There are many different forms of writing, and all of them are important. As teachers we do our students a favor if we assign written tasks. The student sees that we think writing is important to learn, and our editing their papers, a crucial step in teaching effective writing, shows them we really read their papers while it helps them improve their writing. Teachers are supposed to prepare students for adulthood, and adults are expected to be able to express themselves on paper.

It cannot be emphasized enough how important good writing skills are. People are expected to be able to communicate through the written word, and this skill must be taught thoroughly in school. A 4.0 in pre-business classes is no substitute for a 4.0 in a creative writing class. As elementary and high school teachers it is our duty to make sure our students are competent in their writing skills.

A future teacher

To the Editor:

As a future teacher of writing I would like to express my concerns and values about the importance of writing. I belive there are too many young adults sitting in the high school classroom thinking,"I don't need to learn this. I'll never have to write for my job." There are most likely a few college students with this same attitude as well.

Everyone in our society will have to put what they need to say into words at one time or another regardless of their profession. Suppose you are traveling and have a bad experience with the airline you chose or the hotel where you stayed. You may want to make the administration of these businesses aware of the problem so they can correct it; you may want to request a refund from the company; or you may just want to warn others so they can avoid making the same mistake you did. Phone calls will probably not be effective. A letter, when written clearly and directly, however, will probably produce the effect you want.

There are other reasons for learning to write. At one time or another you may need something (a scholarship, a loan), and an essay expressing your needs and desires may be in order. If you can say what you want to convey clearly and efficiently, you will have increased your chances of getting what you want one hundred per cent.

The most wonderful kind of writing, though, is creative writing. So many people say that they just cannot write. I believe everyone can write. For some reason there exists a misconception that there is a right way to express yourself. There are certain formats used in business letters and essays, for example, but what about stories and poems? Anyone can tell a story well and anyone can write a poem.

Unfortunately our schools in America have instilled in you people's minds that there are right ways and wrong ways of writing. I hope some of this can be erased somehow, and people will become more free to express themselves in writing.

A student

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
R. Bruce Gantt

Photography Editor
Jan-Marie Johnson

Sports Editor
Lindy Seymore

Business Manager
Sarah Tetterton

Advertising Manager
Jill Loges

Features Editor
Monica Gilbert

News Editor
Stephanie Neeley

Faculty Advisor
William C. Wood

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be signed, typed or printed neatly, state the author's years, and major as applicable.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 395-2120.

Editors note: All future letters to the Editor must be signed or they will not be printed. However, author's name can be withheld by request. This change is reflected in the new Rotunda Policy on this page.

News

Huang Speaks on China Crisis

By Ryan Heck

On Tuesday, September 12, at 7:45 p.m., Xiaopo Huang, a citizen of China, gave her personal view of the recent turmoil in China and put it in a historical perspective. The lecture was attended by approximately thirty people, predominantly Longwood students and faculty. Mrs. Huang divided her lecture into two main parts: her view of China looking from the present into the past and her personal thoughts on the recent pro-democracy riots in Tianamen's square and the subsequent military actions by the Chinese ruling party.

In the first part of her address, Mrs. Huang stressed that this sort of rebellion was common for the Chinese people. She gave as example her own teenage years when she participated in the redguard movement that brought about a restructuring of chairman Mao's government. Also she told how her parents had originally participated in the formation of the People's Republic of China in the early 1930's. Mrs. Huang felt that this trend was due to the fact that China has never had a government which will allow it to grow and change with its peoples' needs and demands. However, she does not believe that these periodic revolts really have any drastic lasting change. The revolt that put the communists in power really didn't help anything, and the cultural revolution that Huang participated in in 1966 only resulted in Mao being able to get rid of certain elements in the government that he did not like. The students, disillusioned and cynical, were sent away to the countryside for "re-education" by the peasants.

As far as the more recent riots in China, Xiaopo has mixed views. On one hand she thinks that the pro-democracy riots are an important step in China's maturation, but on the other hand she feels that the riots, at least for the present, may have slowed progress down. She was impressed by the students' courage and by the support she received from the rest of the Chinese people. She did feel, however, that the students had pushed too hard. She thought the students would have accomplished much more by making compromises with Don Chow Ping instead of forcing the government to take military action.

Mrs. Huang appeared to be rather optimistic for the future, although things may be more strict in China for a year or two, the seed of rebellion has been planted and will come to harvest before too long. It was made very clear by Mrs. Huang that, even though the Marxist socio-economic of government had failed, any new, more democratic government was not simply going to be a carbon copy of the United States. She said that China must look to the U.S., to the world, and most importantly to China herself for inspiration. China has her own history, culture, and customs that make it a unique unto itself and which will prevent it from just adopting from any one country.

Global Warming Symposium

The emergence of the greenhouse effect, its impact on the world's climate, the ecology of the planet and our society, will be the topic of an international symposium Sept. 29-30 at Virginia Tech's Donaldson Brown Center for Continuing Education.

"As an institution of higher education," said university president James McComas, "I think it is important for Virginia Tech to take an in depth look at issues that confront our society and help put them into perspective for the people of Virginia and the nation."

McComas said that while the program may sound technical, it is designed for the layman. "This is an issue that affects everyone. Our program is designed to help the non-technical person understand the reality and consequences of climatic change."

The symposium is sponsored by the university's distinguished professors and President McComas. It is the first in a series of annual symposia which will address issues of concern to the world community.

Hosted by university distinguished professors John Cairns, biology, and Paul Zweifel, physics, the symposium has attracted an international panel of experts.

The program begins at 1 p.m., Sept. 29, with presentations by Thomas Rosswall, Swedish Academy of Sciences, Stockholm; Alvin W. Weinberg, Institute for Energy Analysis, Oak Ridge Associated Universities, Tenn; and Arthur M. Squires, Virginia Tech.

At 8 p.m. that evening, internationally known expert Paul Ehrlich will discuss "New World/New Mind: Coming to Grips with Global Warming."

On Saturday, Sept. 30, the program will run from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. with presentations by Stephen Schneider, National Center for Atmospheric Research, Boulder, Colo.; Thomas Lovejoy, assistant secretary for external affairs, Smithsonian Institution; and John Harte, University of California, Berkeley.

There is a $40 registration fee for non-Virginia Tech faculty and students. The cost includes symposium proceedings, reception and breaks.

University distinguished professor Paul Zweifel said, "It is important for people to understand the reality of the crisis created by global warming.

"We may already be beginning to see the consequences of this phenomenon in higher global temperatures, shifting climatic patterns, droughts, etc. In any event, severe effects will be found early in the next century. Today's problems are a modest preview of what will be in store for us in the future."

For information on registering for the conference, contact Linda Leffel at 703/231-5182.

HELP WANTED

COLLEGE/CAMPUS REPRESENTATIVE

Earn Top $. Flexible hours...enjoyable...rewarding...gross up to $20,000 per year by helping friends receive grants/scholarships. For info, please call: (213) 967-2115.

HELP WANTED

ACT IN TV COMMERCIALS
HIGH PAY

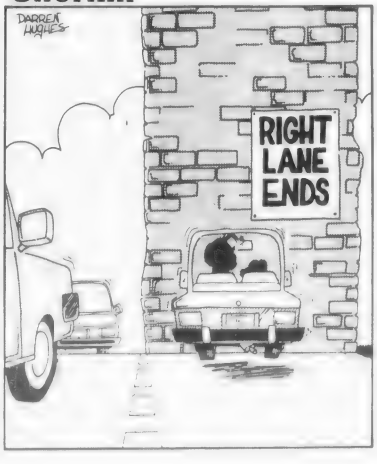
No experience...all ages — kids, teens, young adults, families, mature people, animals, etc. Call Now!
CHARM STUDIOS
1-(800) 447-1530
Ext. 514

WORK FOR YOURSELF

As a campus representative you'll be responsible for placing advertising materials on bulletin boards and working on marketing programs for clients such as American Express, Boston University, Eurail, and various movie companies, among others. Part-time work, choose your own hours. No sales. Many of our reps stay with us long after graduation. If you are self-motivated, hard-working, and a bit of an entrepreneur, call or write for more information to:
AMERICAN PASSAGE NETWORK
6211 W. HOWARD STREET
CHICAGO, IL 60648
1(800) 727-6783 or
(312) 647-6860
CHICAGO DALLAS LOS ANGELES
NEW YORK SEATTLE

We support the party of your choice!

DISCOUNTS ON ORDERS OF 10 OR MORE PIZZAS.



392-1820
LONGWOOD VILLAGE
DOMINO'S PIZZA® Nobody Delivers Better.SM

$1.00 OFF
ANY LUNCH PIZZA
Valid Mon.-Fri. only, 11 a.m. - 4 p.m. only.
1 COUPON PER ORDER PLEASE. EXPIRES 10/1/89.

FREE 40" CARNIVAL NOID
TO THE FRATERNITY OR SORORITY ORDERING THE MOST PIZZAS DURING THE WEEK OF SEPTEMBER 18-24th. PLEASE INDICATE FRATERNITY OR SORORITY NAME WHEN ORDERING. WINNER WILL BE ANNOUNCED IN THE OCT. 2 ISSUE OF THE ROTUNDA.

Humor

Snorkin

News

Gallery Exhibition

"Barbara L. Bishop: A Retrospective Collection" is on exhibit in Longwood College's Bedford Gallery through October 8.

The exhibit features 69 works, from a span of 26 years in the artist's life. Included are paintings, drawings, photographs, prints, handmade paper collages, and baskets.

Bishop is professor of art at Longwood. She was head of the college's art department from 1970 to 1984 and first executive director of the Longwood Fine Arts Center.

The exhibit is sponsored by the Longwood Fine Arts Center and is the featured show for this year's Thomas Sully Dinner. The dinner and a gallery talk by the exhibit's curators are scheduled for Saturday evening, September 16.

The public is invited to view the exhibit during the following hours: Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m.; Saturday and Sunday by appointment. To arrange a weekend visit to the gallery, call 804-395-2295 or 395-2284.

The artist says her work shows the way she feels about nature.

"Nature is the perfect resource for pattern, texture, movement, rhythm, direction —it's all there," she said. "The challenge is to narrow the scope and make selections, isolating the elements to focus on."

There are subtle connections in all of Bishop's work. One connection is what the exhibit curators describe as "a will to geometric form," extending from the "dissolving circular forms suggesting earth-space shapes" in her earlier works to the Ritual House series of handmade paper collages done in 1988.

Even in her drawings, photographs, and prints that suggest the bounty of nature in exuberant foliage and lush grasses, there is "the intellectual frame of a clean, flat, geometric structure."

Another connection in her work is what Bishop calls "the focus on light-dark relationships.

"All of my works are interpretations," she said. "They are not meant to be the perfect image of reality. Even the photographs are planned to emphasize light and dark and the juxtaposition of forms and textures."

Perhaps the most striking example of that artistic plan is the Briery Church series of photographs. Of these works, the curators wrote: "The play of intense light on a small country church transforms its facade into stark and stringent shapes. They endow the modest structure with eternal grandeur..."

The earliest works in the exhibit are a small painting entitled The Below of the Earth and the woodcut titled The Trees and No Moon, both done in 1962.

The large canvas that captures the visitor's eye on entering the gallery is a 72-by-80-oil, painted in 1969. The painting's small Earth-like orbs against an encompassing large circle suggest both the incredible energy and the absolute order of the universe. The artist's use of white paint over gray produces the effect of rays of celestial light.

The "strongest drawing" in the exhibit, Bishop feels, is Ridgeway Fall, done in 1979. The work consists of a background rendering of tree trunks and leaves, with two close-up studies superimposed on the large drawing.

Among Bishop's prints are lithographs, serigraphs, silkscreens, intaglios, and woodcuts. A stunning example of the artist's mastery of complex printing processes is Buckingham County (1972), consisting of three photo silkscreens on plexiglass panels hung one in front of the other.

The four SX-70 (Polaroid) works in the exhibit are a departure from the artist's usual earth colors. Each of these works is a series of three "manipulated" Polaroid photos, mounted and framed together. The predominant color is a glowing, jewel-like red.

"When a Polaroid picture first comes out of the camera, the emulsion is soft, so you can manipulate the images with a ballpoint pen or a crochet hook," Bishop said.

About 1980, Bishop began exploring the possibilities of handmade paper. She found it a versatile and satisfying medium.

In a 1982 statement about her work with handmade paper, she said: "By tearing, cutting, sewing, and layering mould-made and cast paper, I am provided the means to construct surfaces which can appear delicate, strong, severe, and even alive with movement."

Her early handmade paper collages seem to have been inspired by the American Indian and his appreciation and reverence for the natural world. As one art critic noted, Bishop's Earth Shield collages "are built from delicate layers that have the earthy colors and textures of animal skins."

The Indian influence extends into her Sacred Land works and into molded paper vessels with "interior landscapes" — tiny ladders and bones suggesting Pueblo Indian kivas.

Other baskets in the exhibit are constructed of flat and round reed, seagrass, paper rush, and grapevine, many with the addition of feathers, date stalks, yarn, rope, beads, metallic fiber, straw, or paper fringe. Some of the basket materials were dipped in dye or painted.

One of the most beautiful baskets is "Wedding Vessel," constructed of recycled bridal gift wrapping paper and adorned with quail feathers.

"I never throw anything away," Bishop said. "My studio contains an incredible assortment of odds and ends, things that may find their way into my work."

In her more recent Ritual House collages, the fish motif has appeared.

In her future work, Bishop says she probably will continue the "house" theme, perhaps with more fish or birds.

Bishop is a native of Roanoke. She came to Longwood to earn her bachelor's degree in 1956. Her Master of Fine Arts degree is from the University of North Carolina/Greensboro, and she studied printmaking in Paris.

She returned to Longwood as a member of the art faculty in 1965.

Her professional contributions and responsibilities have included serving as president of the Virginia Arts Education Association, secretary of the Virginia Alliance for Arts Education, vice president and art editor of the New Virginia Review, and member of various committees for the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts.

Bishop's work has been exhibited in more than 80 juried and invitational shows on the regional and national level, in some 30 one-woman shows, and is represented in public and private collections throughout the United States.

She has conducted workshops in printmaking, photography, and papermaking for colleges, universities, and schools in Virginia, North Carolina, and Pennsylvania.

Challenge '90

By BILL FROUDE

CHALLENGE, a liberal arts career fair for seniors, will once again take place this fall. This year it will be held at Washington & Lee University on Thursday, October 26, 1989. Usually there is some confusion as to what this program is all about, so ...

What is CHALLENGE?

—An award-winning career fair for seniors from nine colleges, including Longwood

—Information sharing between students and representatives from over 70 national and regional corporations and organizations

—Informational interviews and some formal interviews scheduled in advance by employers.

Why Attend CHALLENGE

—To receive information about employers and job openings

—To participate in possible on-site interviews

—To have a chance to observe the competition (other students)

—To get a "jump" on the other graduates in the job-search process.

Who Can Attend CHALLENGE?

—Primarily for the Liberal Arts & Sciences Majors

—Business, Economics, and Human Services Majors are also welcome.

CHALLENGE only happens once per year, so seniors it is now or never. According to Niki Fallis, Director of CPPC, the Fair was designed primarily to give Longwood students access to employers who would not normally recruit on campus. So far, over ninety seniors have already signed-up. Here are comments from three of the 100 seniors who attended last fall:

"The career fair is a wonderful idea. It gave me the chance to break the ice and take the first step towards entering the real world"

"... But most of all, the job offers were not the most important thing. I learned more about dealing with company representatives one-on-one and promoting myself"

"The career fair was a great experience ... the atmosphere was inviting, and I would recommend it highly for the seniors next year"

Seniors planning to participate in CHALLENGE should immediately come to the Career Planning & Placement Center (CPPC), 2nd Floor South Ruffner. Registration and resume deadline is September 29, 1989. Don't miss this opportunity!!!

Notice

1. NOTICE TO ALL ST DENTS: You are held a countable for information the 1989-90 Longwood St dent Community Handboo and Calendar and the Lon wood College Policie Procedures, and Sanctio for Alcohol and Dru pamphlet. If you have r received these requir documents, Residen students may pick them up your residence hall fro desk; and Commut students may pick them up the Commuter Resour Center in Lankford Blo Each student is responsil for obtaining and reviewi these documents.

2. Parking Remind Resident student parki spaces are outlined in whi Commuter students parki spaces are outlined in re Faculty/Staff parking spac are outlined in light blue; a ARA employees parki spaces are outlined in da blue. Please know where y can park. You are responsil for knowing the parking ru and regulations. If you do r have a Parking Map, go by t Campus Police to obtain copy.

Thank you for your co-o eration in this matter. IF y have any questions, plea call me at 395-2490.

— FREE —
PREGNANCY TEST

All services confidential.
Same day results.

116 N. MAIN STREET
SOUTHSIDE PREGNANC CENTER

24-HOUR HOTLINE
392-8483

Features

Personals

Karen R. — Cheer up! It will all work out for the best. It always does! — Kim

Laura — What kind of shady business will we go into next?! You're lots of laughs! — Kim

Margaret — We've lasted through one bet, and I know we'll get through the other. Hey, we're almost there already! — Kim

Sherry — Congratulations on being #1! All that nervousness paid off! — Kim

To — The girls on South Ruffner. Here's to a great year! You all are the greatest! You make my job easy and fun! — Your favorite RA

Alpha Sigma Tau sorority would like to congratulate the members of the 1989 Spring Pledge class for achieving the highest grade point average (2.72) of all Panhellenic Spring 1989 pledge classes.

Alpha Chi Rho offers its most sincere condolences to the brothers of Tau Kappa Epsilon for the loss of their brother Dave Buchanan. His smile will be fondly remembered by all who knew him.

Hey Jule — What's that on the rug?! — Love, your Roomies

Tammy — Luv ya BA-A-Roo!! — Guess Who?!

To All Sororities — Good luck, with RUSH — Let's get psyched! — Rho Chi's Fall '89

Karen — Keep smiling and remember I'm here for you — just walk across the room! Have you made a pot of coffee? — AΣT love and esp. mine, your roomie!

AB — According to the teachers, there is only one thing that all people possess equally. This is our loneliness — This is the cause of our growing, but it is also the cause of our wars. Love, hate, greed and generosity are all rooted within our loneliness, within our desire to be needed and love. — Hyemeyhest Storm and Me

Sweetest Baby — Thanks for a great weekend, being with you made it special. Keep smiling this week even though it will be rough, I'm always here for you! — Love, "Your Boy"

Hey Becky and Gina — Sorry I didn't have a chance to say goodbye. Beware of crossing the street, toll booths and birds! Have a great semester. — Love, Kim

Dave Gamache — Thanks for the gift from that special place that keeps you alive inside and out! You're right — vitamins do relieve stress. Thanks for being a friend. — See you soon, Kim

Kathy and Jim — You thought it was over, didn't you? We will return. Enjoy the peace and quiet for ten weeks. Thanks for everything. — Love, Kim^2

Amelia O., — We'll miss you while we're gone. Remember, we're only 1 hour away. Good luck with Synchro. Come and visit us! — Love, Kim and Kim Vickie T. — Thanks for being a great little 'sis' and a great friend. Good luck this semester. Don't forget "ISS"! — Luv, Kim K.

Dear Irene R., — Thank you so much for being my little sister — you did a great job! I will always treasure the tassle. Best wishes and good luck with your classes this semester and with that new beau. See ya soon! — Love ya lots, Kim N.

Charlie — Thanx for all of your help and patience. Keep smiling! — PX

She-Ra — How's your head? Next time don't go to Suicide Hospital! See ya! — WT II.

He-Man — Have you fallen off the face of the earth or are you just in the work twilight zone? — WT II.

PJ — You're still my favorite DJ in the world! — AΣT and mine, "Circuit"

Nells — (WT) How's my favorite dude? Thanx for everything you've done. You have made my life so interesting! Thank you for the instructions on teaching a cat how to swim! — Love ya, WT II.

Squibby — Hey there girl! You are such a great "roommate". I hope this will let you know that you're a real special friend! Some day we'll get to Key West! Wasted away in Margaritaville — Dave

To the Sisters of Signa Sigma Sigma: — Congratulations on winning the Tri-Sigma National Chapter Achievement Award! I am so proud of you all. Keep up the great work and good luck with RUSH. — Love and mine, your advisor

Sharon — Hang in there and listen to what's in your heart. Take care and remember, I'm only 1 hour away. — Love, Kim

Sharp Answers

By Tana Knott

"What's for supper? is an all too familiar question asked on an almost daily basis in most homes. Today, the answer can usually be found in the freezer or on the cabinet shelves. In the most extreme cases, it might even mean a quick trip to the supermarket or a stop at the fast food stand.

This summer, students enrolled in the Longwood Summer Field School in Archeology took the question back to the days before golden arches and microwaves.

In a month long study, five upper level and graduate students explored the effectiveness of weapons used in the Archaic and Woodland time periods. One thing they found out for certain, bringing home the bacon was not a simple task. The study was conducted in conjunction with the on-going excavation of the Morris Field Archaeological Site in Buckingham County.

Archaeological students from Longwood, working under the direction of Dr. James W. Jordan, have spent the last five summers at the site located on the Appomattox River.

By studying projectile points and pottery sherds found at the site, the area appears to have been used by the Indians as a base camp during hunting and gathering times as early as 5,000 years before the present. Evidence further reveals that it became a settled Indian farming hamlet about 1,000 years ago.

While most of the 40 college students spent their days in marked grids, painstakingly scraping dirt with a hand trowel from their area, Macon Coleman, Kathryn Gray, Peter Pandazides, Terry Scoles, and Joe West spent their time preparing for D-Day, Demonstration Day.

Throughout the month, the five utilized and honed their knowledge of prehistoric weapons, eventually duplicating the weapons as precisely as they could. Their inventory of weapons included four spears, one jabber, and seven arrows. Several of the projectile points were authentic, the others were modern replications.

According to Dr. Jordan, very little research has been conducted in the area of measuring the effectiveness of prehistoric projectile points. The students modeled their experiment after research conducted by George H. Odell and Frank Cowan which was published in the Journal of Field Archaeology, in the summer of 1986. However, even though the experiment was somewhat similar, that study focuses on the damage to the projectile points during use, not the actual effectiveness of the weapon.

An expert on projectile points, Kenny Roberts, aided in the experiment by knapping the points. The students quickly confessed that the project would have been even more time consuming if they had to do the tedious chipping of the quartz that eventually shapes into what many of us refer to as an arrowhead.

They soon found out that the projectile points weren't the only part of making weapons that took time and patience.

"Preparing the shafts for the spears and arrows took a lot more time than we expected," explained Gray. Her companions echoed in agreement. Hickory sapling, bamboo, red maple, and dogwood, were searched out, cut, stripped, shaved, and whittled down to size. Each shaft took about an hour of handling before it began to take on the appearance of a weapon.

Duplicating the cordage, used to tie the point onto the shaft, was another tedious task. Somehow, Kathryn was the one to end up finding out that the best material for the cordage was deer tendon. "The squirrel intestine rotted," said the biology major without any inkling of disgust. The tendon required some preparation other than its removal, since it has to be pounded with a rock to flatten it out and then soaked. Rawhide also proved to be good material for cordage.

Instead of using super glue or goop, the students, stuck in their authenticity mode, used pine sap to mount the points to the shafts.

On D-Day, a sheep carcass, donated by an area farmer, was used to complete the experiment. The demonstration definitely seemed to segregate the enthusiastic archaeological students from the mild-mannered diggers and scrapers. Although many of the students joined in to listen to the presentation given by the team, few would leave their seats under the shade of a large canopy to view the demonstration from close range.

Kathryn and her professor, Dr. Jordan, definitely showed their dedication to their science. She would measure and record the "effectiveness" of each weapon, while Jordan was on the scene recording every moment of the demonstration with his camera.

During the demonstration, five spears and four arrows were launched; however, only one arrow and two spears actually penetrated the carcass. For the casual bystander, it appeared that bringing home the bacon, or the lamb chops, was even more difficult than originally predicted.

The students drew a different conclusion. After examining their data, the information revealed that the weapons which did penetrate were the shaper tipped modern replications, suggesting, perhaps, that the authentic points when originally made would have been sharper thus making them more effective.

Another factor the students feel made their weapons less effective was the lack of force at which the weapons were launched. After all, these were students, not hunters whose main role in life was providing for their tribe. Interestingly, the cordage made out of the tendon and rawhide held on every launch. On one of the implements, man made fly line was used and it broke, leading one to wonder if fishermen made their own cordage would we have fewer fish tales?

"As a result of our experiment, it is possible to conclude that prehistoric hunting implements were in fact effective tools," wrote the team in their resulting paper.

"If we had time to improve on our weapon making techniques, we could probably prove that prehistoric weapons were much more effective than the testing done today," they agreed.

After their study, one has to wonder if the students will stop and think before they ask, "What's for supper?"

This article reprinted from August 23, 1989 issue of The Farmville Herald.

DO YOU WANT ONE OF THOSE "GENUINE LONGWOOD"
Budweiser® Logo T-shirts?
100% Cotton, pre-shrunk
All Sizes
$12
Tank Tops $10
Sweat Shirts $20
Send order to Rat & Co:, Box #1027 (include name, phone number and size)
Budweiser is a registered trademark of Anheuser-Busch Inc.

Features

Writers needed for "Campus View"

Submissions are being sought for Penthouse's "Campus View" column, which begins its second year of presenting essays written by and for college students.

"Since its debut in 1988, we have heard from students in every part of the country, and Canada too," says "Campus View" editor Robyn Lee. "Their ideas ranged from hard-hitting plea support to the Roe v. Wade decision to musings about after-graduation plans."

Students interested in contributing to the column are invited to send suggestions to Penthouse, 1965 Broadway, NY, NY 10023. They will be paid $250 for pieces published.

Willis River Canoe Trip

By CHIP PIERCE

Come explore the scenic Willis River by canoe. A Bear Creek Lake State Park Ranger will be your guide as you explore the natural splendor of this unique tributary of the James River. Come experience the thrill of not knowing what awaits around the next bend as you navigate your canoe downstream. This is an adventure you will not want to miss!

Meet at the office of Bear Creek Lake State Park at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday, September 23. A fee of $4 per person applies and covers instruction, canoeing and safety equipment. The trip and instruction will last approximately two and a half hours. Canoeing experience is recommended.

Bear Creek Lake State Park is located off of Highway 60 in Cumberland County. From Farmville, follow 45 North to Route 60. Turn East (right) on Route 60. Take the first left which is Route 628. Follow Route 628 to Route 629. Turn right onto Route 629. Veer to the right after passing the lake to come to the park office. Limited space is available on this trip and reservations are advised. For reservations or more information call the park office at (804) 492-4410.

For your enjoyment the park also offers camping, picnicking, hiking and fishing. Plan to spend the weekend and have a real outdoors experience.

Students Uneducated

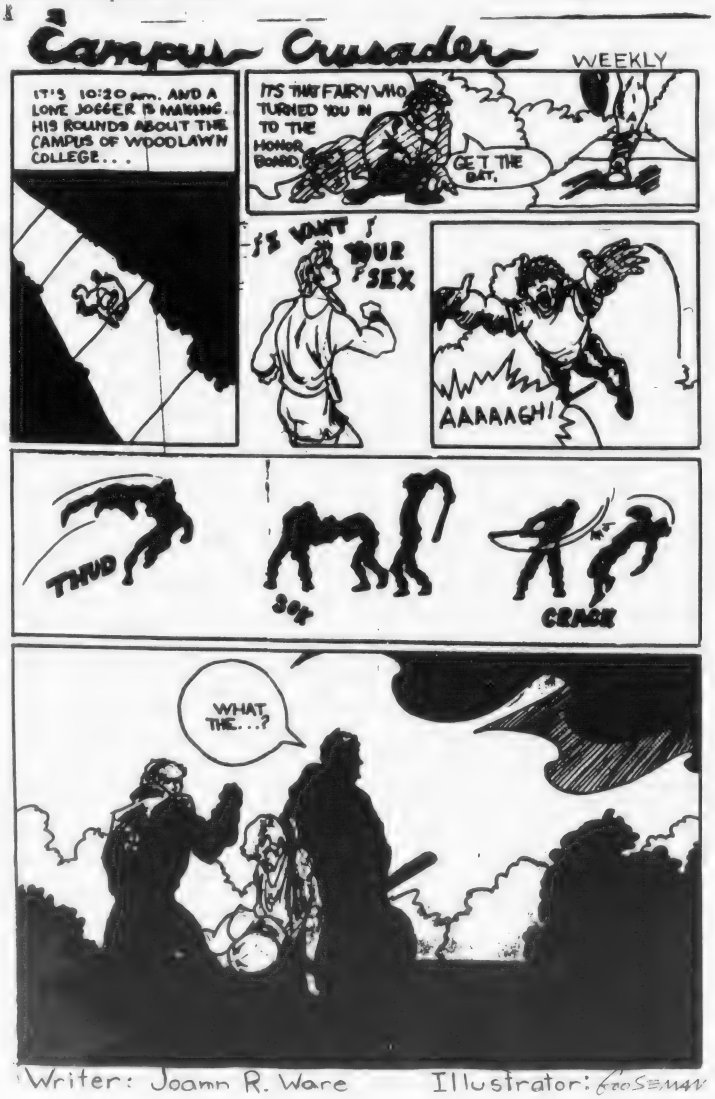
College professors think their students are not very well educated.

Three-fourths of the 5,000 college teachers queried last spring by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching said their undergraduate students are "seriously underprepared in the basic skills," preliminary data reveal.

Complete results of the survey, which the Washington, D.C.-based Carnegie group conducts every five years, will be released in November.

Professors at two-year schools complained most frequently, with 84 percent saying students lack basic skills. Sixty-five percent at liberal arts colleges said their pupils don't know enough.

Two-thirds of those surveyed thought colleges spend "too much time and money teaching students what they should have learned in high school."



The data, says Carnegie President Ernest Boyer, prove "the nation's public schools are disturbingly deficient."

To boost sagging language skills, Boyer proposed that all freshmen be required to take an expository writing class.

Fire Inspections!

Fire Inspections are scheduled to start Sept. 26 and end Oct. 6. Make sure your room complies with fire regulations!

AIM HIGH

IF YOU WANT TO BE A PHYSICIAN, WE'LL PAY FOR IT.

If you're willing to invest your skills and knowledge as an Air Force medical officer, we'll invest in you and pay your way through medical school if you qualify. It's the Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship Program. It pays for:

* Tuition;
* Books, supplies, equipment and lab fees;
* Plus a monthly income of more than $650.

Call

USAF HEALTH PROFESSIONALS
1-800-423-USAF
TOLL FREE

AIR FORCE

Sports

Lancers Win Two In Southside Twinbill

Longwood notched what it was after in the Southside Doubleheader over the weekend – a pair of shutout wins. The Lancers, behind tournament MVP Ray Jones beat East Carolina 3-0 Saturday and Catholic 2-0 Sunday for a 3-3 record.

Neighbor and co-host Hampden-Sydney also went 2-0 in the twinbill at First Avenue Field, topping Catholic 5-1 and East Carolina 1-0. The Tigers moved to 4-1 on the season while the Pirates slipped to 0-7 and Catholic to 2-5.

Next up for Longwood is the Virginia Commonwealth Soccer Classic Friday night and Saturday afternoon. The Lancers play Towson State at 8 p.m. Friday following a clash between the Rams and Kutztown at 6. Saturday, Longwood plays Kutztown at 1 and VCU hosts Towson at 3. Longwood's next home game will be Wednesday (Sept. 27) against Virginia Wesleyan.

Jones MVP, Career Scoring Leader

Jones, who had 3 assists and 2 goals over the weekend, continued to add to his career records in both categories. The all-time best Lancer scorer, Jones has 54 career goals and 31 assists.

He produced three assists in Saturday's win over East Carolina, setting up freshman Mike MaKinster, who scored 13 seconds after coming in off the bench, senior captain While Jones was tournament MVP, teammates Mitch Rubin and Steve Thompson were named MVP midfielder and goalkeeper, respectively. Hampden-Sydney's Matt Farina and David Sommardahl were picked as MVP forward and back.

Joining Jones and Rubin on the All-Doubleheader team were Longwood back Pat Temple, Hampden-Sydney's Gar Whaley, Steve Guanieri and Anderson Sale, Catholic's Larry Kuhn, Damian Reardon and John Meindl, and East Carolina's Austin Baste, Andy Britton and T.J. Aspden.

Seth Johnson (right) and John Barone (left) take on the opposition in the Southside Tournament.

Player of the Week

RAY JONES

Junior soccer forward Ray Jones had quite a week. He set a new Longwood record for career goals (now 54), scored three goals and handed out three assists, and was named Most Valuable Player in the Southside Soccer Doubleheader.

For the fifth time during his three-year stay Longwood, Jones has been named Longwood College Player of the Week for the period Sept. 10-17. Player of the Week is chosen by the Longwood sports information office.

A two-time first team All-American, Jones broke the Lancer record for career goals (51, held by Gus Leal) with a goal in Longwood's 3-2 loss at Shenandoah last Wednesday. With two more goals over the weekend, Jones now has 54 and counting.

Back at his more familiar spot on the forward line after playing some a midfield, Jones had three assists in Longwood's 3-0 win over East Carolina Saturday and scored twice in a 2-0 triumph over Catholic Sunday. He was named MVP in the 1989 Southside Doubleheader after winning MVP forward honors his first two seasons.

Jones is the Lancer record holder in every category for goals and assists except assists in a game. He has the most goals in a season (29), game (5) and career (54) and most assists in a season (18) and career (31).

Bouncing back after a serious knee at the end of the 1988 season, Jones has led Longwood (3-3) with four goals and three assists. He's a business major.

Housing Crunch

Continued from page 1

owners of rental units must provide town officials with the names of all renters and a local person who can be contacted if problems arise. "Problems do sometimes arise," said Mr. Spates, "but students are usually very cooperative. We don't have problems like they do at other schools."

Longwood administrators are going to continue to accept more and more students. We're expected to have 3500 in a few years. The building of another dorm near Stubbs and the construction of the new library, resulting in residential rooms in Ruffner, Tabb, and French when offices are moved into the present library, should make the transition easier. Longwood will continue to grow!

Lady Lancers drop to 3-0

The Longwood College field hockey team suffered its second loss of the season in its first road trip of 1989, losing to Eastern Kentucky 3-0 at Appalachian State on Sunday. The team's record now stands at 2-2-1.

In a winless week for the Lady Lancers, the squad also battled the University of Richmond to a 0-0 tie in double overtime last Thursday.

Longwood traveled to Appalachian State Saturday to face Eastern Kentucky and Appalachian on Saturday. But the EKU game was changed to Sunday because of poor field conditions and the Appalachian game was cancelled and will not be rescheduled.

This Friday the Lady Lancers host LaSalle at Barlow Field with game time scheduled for 4 p.m.

Lady Lancer Netters get off to Strong Start

Getting its season off to a strong start, Longwood's women's tennis team beat Christopher-Newport 7-2 last Monday afternoon in Newport News. The Lady Lancers, featuring a blend of veterans and newcomers, won five of six singles and two of three doubles to start the season 1-0.

In singles: Tracey Watson (CN) d. Jenny Holm (L) 0-6, 6-3, 6-2 at No. 1; Jenny Proffitt (L) d. Amy Baker 7-6, 6-3 at No. 2; Tracy Hogan (L) d. Stephanie Seward 6-4, 6-4 at No. 3; Suzie Lawman (L) d. Angela Edwards 6-2, 6-2 at No. 4; Lauri Labyak (L) d. Amy Mayes 6-2, 2-6, 6-4 at No. 5 and Laura Crigger (L) d. Tracy Watson 6-2, 6-0 at No. 6.

In doubles: Holm and Proffitt (L) d. Tracey and Edwards 6-2, 6-4 at No. 1; Baker and Seward (CN) d. Labyak and Heather Leach 6-1, 7-5 at No. 2, and Lawman and Hogan (L) d. Mayes and Tracy Watson 4-6, 6-2, 6-2.

Longwood visits Mary Baldwin Monday, Randolph-Macon Tuesday in a match that was rained out Thursday and hosts Meredith in its home opener Wednesday at 2:30 on the Lancer Hall courts.

Sports

Longwood Soccer Report

Record: 3-3-0

Results

Longwood	1	Virginia	3
Blue Ridge Classic
Longwood	1	Scranton	2
Longwood	2	Guilford	0
Longwood	2	Shenandoah	3
Southside Doubleheader
Longwood	3	East Carolina	0
Longwood	2	Catholic	0
VCU Classic (Sept. 22-23)
Longwood		Towson St.
Longwood		Kutztown St.

INDIVIDUAL STATISTICS

Name	Position	Games	Shots	Assists	Goals	Points
Ray Jones	MF	6	18	3	4	11
Rodney Funk	F	5	5	0	2	4
Mike MaKinster	MF	4	2	0	2	4
Ed Regan	F	6	16	2	1	4
Mitch Rubin	MF	6	3	2	0	2
Nils McCarty	B	6	6	0	1	2
Mike Edge	B	4	3	0	1	2
John Barone	MF	6	8	1	0	1
Pat Mazzuca	F	5	8	0	0	0
Brendan Nash	B	6	3	0	0	0
Seth Johnson	B	6	1	0	0	0
Todd Dyer	MF	6	6	0	0	0
Jeff Bogushefsky	B	4	1	0	0	0
Jason Casano	MF	6	2	1	0	1
Pat Temple	B	4	1	0	0	0
Andy Tarburton	F	3	2	0	0	0
Gregg Bailey	F	3	1	0	0	0
Ted Doran	MF	3	2	0	0	0
Rich Kloska	B	2	0	0	0	0
*Byron Edwards	MF	0	0	0	0	0
*Mark Wolcott	B	2	0	0	0	0
*Brent Boone	MF	0	0	0	0	0
Longwood Totals		6	93	9	11	31
Opponent Totals		6	65	6	8	22

*Injured

GOALKEEPER STATISTICS

Name	Games	SH-O	Shot Ag.	Sa.	Gls Ag.	Gl. A.A.
Paul Parker	0	0	0	0	0	0
Steve Thompson	6	3	65	25	8	1.33
LC Totals	6	1	50	25	8	1.33
Opp Totals	6	0	93	38	11	1.83

Lady Lancers suffer

"This is the best game I have ever seen played by a Longwood field hockey team," Lady Lancer head coach Sue Finnie said Tuesday after her team was narrowly edged out 3-2 in overtime by William and Mary at home.

Considered one of the biggest opponents on Longwood's schedule, the Tribe was jolted just 6:06 into the first half when senior forward Diane Brown took a short pass from senior forward Liz Annet to put the Lady Lancers ahead 1-0.

"I think that really caught the other team off guard," Finnie said. "And it really jacked my team up. I had a tremendous level of confidence in them going into this game and they played outstanding."

William and Mary came back at 11:50 to score off a corner shot, but Longwood would not be held down. At 19:49, sophomore midfielder Lara Cini stroked a hard shot from 40 yards out that passed through four defenders before hitting pay dirt to put Longwood ahead 2-1 at the half.

The Tribe evened up the game 9:50 into the second half and the scored remained at 2-2 at the end of regulation time.

The game-winning goal was scored 7:59 minutes into the second 10-minute overtime period to end the contest.

"I don't feel like they beat us in anyway," Finnie said. "We took them completely out of their game plan. Unfortunately, we didn't use some of the opportunities we were given to score. We feel like we beat them."

Finnie named senior goalkeeper Kim Howells and freshman back Denise Hanley as Defensive Players of the Game and senior midfielder Beanie Felch received Offensive Player of the Game honors.

Longwood played Richmond Thursday afternoon and travels to Appalachian State this weekend to face Eastern Kentucky and ASU.

Lady Lancers Stomp Six

Lady golfers beat six Divisions I's in Chapel Hill

Longwood shot 322-318-319-959 to finish 10th at the 14th Lady Tar Heel Invitational Friday through Sunday in Chapel Hill, NC, and in the process beat six Division I teams who finished below the Lady Lancers in the 16-team event.

While Kentucky beat out Alabama and Duke (all tied at 919) in an unusual team - playoff for the top spot, Longwood scored better than Division I's Miami (FL), Penn State, William & Mary, Minnesota, Memphis State and Florida International.

In a field of 88 golfers, Longwood's Ashley Warren, 84-78-74-236 (tie for 32nd), Daphne Sole, 77-82-78-237 (tie for 35th) and Ami Schonauer, 78-79-82-239 (44th) all played solid golf. Only three golfers beat Warren's final day one-over-par 74.

While Sherry Evans carded an 83-79-85-247 and Anna Radford shot 86-89-86-261, accounting for two of Longwood's five team scores, LC freshman Heather Hartwick shot 78-84-78-240 to place 45th in the field while playing as an individual.

Next up for Longwood is the Duke Invitational Friday through Sunday in Durham, NC.

Golfers 3rd at W& L Invitational

By MARK KIRK

Junior Scott Wiseman shot a team-best 74 to help the Longwood men's golf team finish third over the weekend at the rain-shortened Washington & Lee Invitational in Lexington.

Glenville State won the 15 team event with a 298, three shots better than the University of Charleston and 12 strokes ahead of the Lancers. The invitational was scheduled for two rounds, but rain Saturday forced it to be shortened to the one round played on Friday. Bob Sowards of Glenville State won medalist honors with a one under par 70. Wiseman's score tied him for fourth place overall.

Longwood also received stellar performances from its other members, including junior Jeff Smiley with a 76. Other scores for the Lancers were turned in by senior Tony Good 78, junior Darrell Nichols 82, and sophomore Steve Crute, 86.

The Lancers were scheduled to play at Greensboro College Monday and Tuesday, as well as the Old Dominion tournament in Hampton, Va. on Sept. 25 & 26.

Team Scores: Kentucky 919, Duke 919, Alabama 919, Furman 923, South Carolina 926, Wake Forest 936, Iowa 936, James Madison 945, North Carolina 955, Longwood 959, Miami 960, Penn State 965, William & Mary 967, Minnesota 968, Memphis State 970, Florida International 973.

Team scores: Glenville State 298, Charleston 301, Longwood 310, Radford 311, VMI 314, George Mason 315, Washington & Lee 318, Liberty 318, Fairmont St. 322, Virginia Wesleyan 323, Lynchburg 324, Apprentice School 329, Washington & Lee (II) 330, Bridgewater 333, Ferrum 337.

The Rotunda

Longwood College

Vol. 69 No. 3 | September 25, 1989 | Farmville, VA

Longwood Awards John Dos Passos Prize

Longwood College's John Dos Passos Prize for Literature will be awarded this year to Shelby Foote, of Memphis, Tenn. He is a novelist, historian, and playwright.

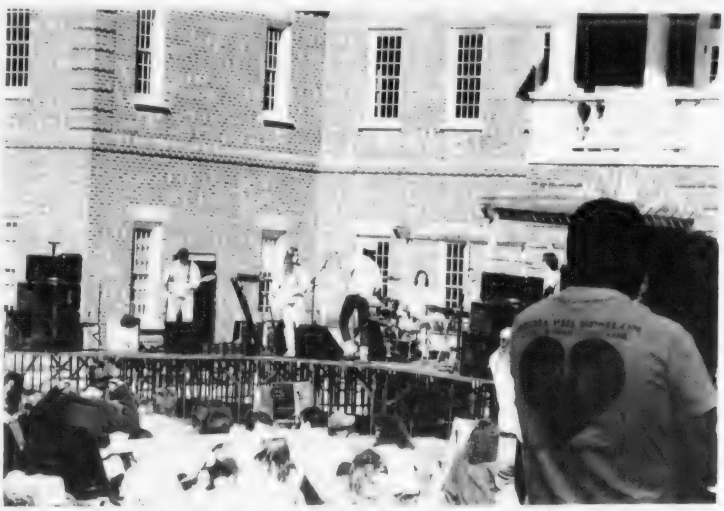
The award presentation and a reading by Foote are scheduled for Thursday evening, Sept. 28, at 7:30 in Wygal Auditorium on the Longwood campus. The public is invited to attend.

The author will receive the John Dos Passos medallion and a $1,000 cash award.

Foote's first novel, published in 1949, was Tournament. Five more novels followed — Follow Me Down in 1950, Love in a Dry Season in 1951, Shiloh in 1952, Jordan County in 1954, and September, September in 1978.

His other works are a three-volume history entitled The Civil War: A Narrative and a play entitled Jordan County: A Landscape in the Round.

Foote has received Guggenheim and Ford Foundation fellowships and honorary doctorates from the University of the South and Southwestern University. A graduate of the University of North Carolina, he has received that university's Distinguished Alumnus Award.



He has been writer-in-residence at Hollins College, novelist-lecturer at the University of Virginia, and playwright-in-residence at Arena College.

The John Dos Passos Prize, established at Longwood in 1980, commemorates one of the greatest of 20th-century American authors by honoring other writers in his name.

Winners of the prize are writers who "have established a substantial body of significant publication" and whose works demonstrate "an intense and original exploration of specifically American themes, an experimental tone, and/or writing in a wide range of literary forms."

The recipient is chosen by an independent jury appointed by Longwood each year. This year's jury included novelist Lee Smith, last year's recipient of the prize; Dabney Stuart, poet and editor of Shenandoah; and Dr. Craig Challender, associate professor of English at Longwood.

Among previous winners of the John Dos Passos Prize are Tom Wolfe, Russell Banks, Gilbert Sorrentino, Robert Stone, Doris Betts, and John Edgar Wideman.

Sigma Phi Epsilon and Alpha Gamma Delta hosted The Music Fest 89.

Photo Credit: Alex Darling

David K. Buchanan Scholarship Established

The Longwood College Foundation has announced establishment of a scholarship honoring the late David K. Buchanan, a 1988 graduate who died on July 6.

The scholarship was announced during a memorial service for Buchanan, held Sept. 12 at Farmville United Methodist Church and attended by a capacity congregation of Longwood faculty, staff and students, relatives, and friends.

Buchanan was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Buchanan, of Spotsylvania. He received the B.S. degree in Business Administration from Longwood in May of 1988 and then was employed by ARA Food Services as manager of the Lancer Cafe, one of Longwood's dining rooms.

Buchanan was a leader in Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity; in the Longwood Ambassadors, a volunteer student organization that assists the College in admissions, fund raising, and public relations activities; in the Army R.O.T.C. program; and in Geist leadership fraternity. He also was a member of Chi, an honorary organization that promotes cooperation and loyalty in the Longwood community.

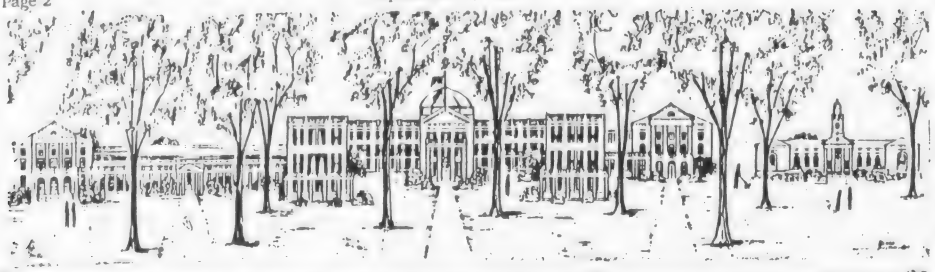
A talented vocalist, Buchanan was a member of Longwood's Camerata Singers and also sang with the Farmville Baptist Church choir. He was a member of Zoan Baptist Church in Fredericksburg.

The David K. Buchanan Scholarship will be awarded annually to an incoming freshman at Longwood. Recipients will be selected by the Longwood Scholarship Committee, based on academic achievement and leadership in high school and financial need.

Birgitta Wolf Lectures on Nazi Germany

Birgitta Wolf, humanitarian and international expert on criminology and prison reform, will give a lecture in Longwood College's Bedford Auditorium on Tuesday, Sept. 26, at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to hear her discuss "Life in Nazi Germany."

Professor Wolf also will speak to classes in sociology, German, and political science at Longwood.



A native of Sweden, Professor Wolf worked with prisoners in the Dachau concentration camp during World War II. She is the author of 18 books on criminal law and penology and has addressed the United Nations on humanitarian concerns.

Among her many honors are the Gold Medal for Human Service awarded by the King of Sweden and the Service Cross, First Class, awarded by the President of the Federal Republic of

(Continued on page 6)

Contents

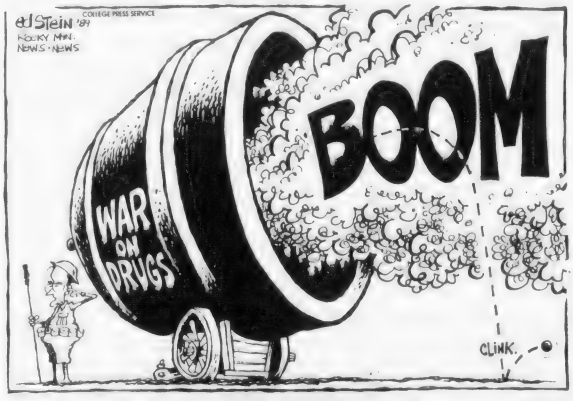
Commentary 2
News 3, 4
Features 5, 6
Sports 7

Commentary

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Congratulations on the recent article on Global Warming. Unfortunately, the article was about a symposium at Va. Tech that cost forty dollars. Students don't need to pay forty dollars to learn about the "Greenhouse Effect", they just need to open their eyes and their mind.



I feel that it is up to publications like The Rotunda to bring these important issues to light. It's always the youth that make a difference. Many youth of today may feel discouraged after the sixties. What they don't realize is the eighties was a grace period, but they are coming to a close. It's time to pull ourselves back together and pick up where we left off. I don't mean revolution by any means, it's time we learned that that is no solution. The tides are turning, there is evidence of this everywhere.

17,500 species of animals and plants become extinct each year. It is estimated that one fifth of all the species on earth will become extinct by the year 2010. At the rate we are going, by the year 2050, there will be no more rain forests.

It takes common sense to figure that if the trees provide oxygen and we destroy them, we (or our children) will not be able to live (unless they're good at holding their breath). It is obvious that we may be the last generation that has a chance to make a change. I don't think any of us can take the chance to see if I'm kidding.

Name withheld upon request.

Editors note: All future letters to the Editor must be signed or they will not be printed. However, author's name can be withheld by request. This change is reflected in the new Rotunda Policy on this page.

HALLUCINATIONS

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
R. Bruce Gantt

Photography Editor
Jan-Marie Johnson

Sports Editor
Lindy Seymore

Business Manager
Sarah Tetterton

Advertising Manager
Jill Loges

Features Editor
Monica Gilbert

News Editor
Stephanie Neeley

Faculty Advisor
William C. Wood

ROTUNDA POLICY

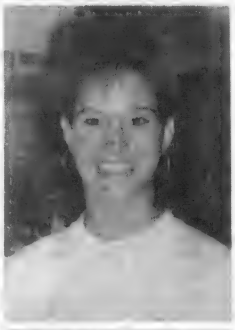
The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be signed, typed or printed neatly, state the author's years, and major as applicable.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 395-2120.

News

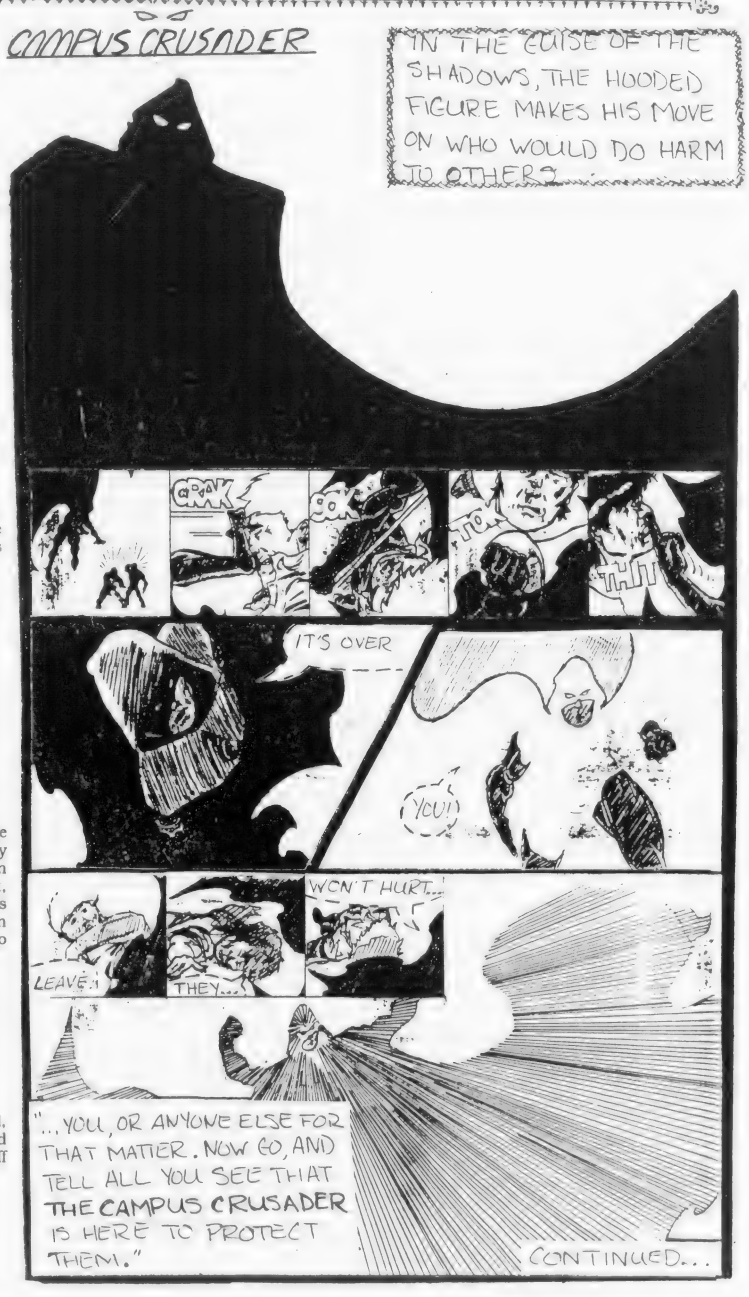


Produced by Jim Whedbee

Longwood Speaks Out

"What do you think of alcohol-free freshman hall?"

3. #20 — V. Fabian Walton, Age 20, No. I can't live with it."



2. #19 — Jackie Angelelli, Age 18, "For people under the legal drinking age, I think it's okay."

1. #18 — Tori Sawyer, Age 18, "I think it's good in a way and bad in a way. Even though we shouldn't do it, people are going to do it. It's safer to drink in your own room than to have to go somewhere else."

4. #21 — Tim Maynard, Age 19, "It isn't that bad because you can always go off the hall."

Chamber Music Series

1989-1990 SEASON

ALL CONCERTS ARE IN WYGAL RECITAL HALL

October 9, 1989

Kooper-Boehm Duo

Hundreds of performances worldwide and many recordings have made the Kooper-Boehm Duo one of the foremost violin and piano teams on the international concert stage.

Albemarle Ensemble November 6, 1989

The Albemarle Ensemble, woodwind quintet in residence at the University of Virginia, is committed to promoting the performance of both traditional and 20th century music.

Roxbury Chamber Players January 29, 1990

To celebrate Mozart's birthday (Jan. 27, 1756), the Roxbury Chamber Players will include on this concert the Flute Quartet in C Major and the Clarinet Quintet, K. 581.

Julian Gray, classical guitar
Ronald Pearl, classical guitar February 26, 1990

Julian Gray and Ronald Pearl have established themselves as one of the leading American guitar duos, performing music written for two guitars as well as many of their own transcriptions.

Shanghai String Quartet April 9, 1990

Formed in 1983 at the Shanghai Conservatory, the Shanghai Quartet is rapidly emerging as one of today's leading young string quartets. Last season they performed over fifty concerts.

Perspectives on Longwood: What is assessment and why should you care?

By Dr. Ed Smith

In the last year many of you have been asked to take certain standardized tests during freshman orientation or in your classes. Perhaps the test dealt with writing or critical thinking, or perhaps it was an achievement test in your major. Some of you were asked about your attitudes on college.

What's going on? What's this all about? There's a good reason for this. It has to do with something called "assessment." You'll be hearing more about it this year.

We all know that the educational enterprise in America has come under question and criticism in the last decade. While the major share of this criticism has been focused on the elementary and secondary schools, there has been more than enough criticism for American institutions of higher education.

In the media we see employers bemoaning the quality of college graduates and parents questioning the cost and value of a college education.

These public concerns have caused state legislatures, like ours, to require state colleges to assess, or measure, the effects of their educational programs on student learning. Regional accrediting agencies also require colleges to assess their educational programs in order to retain their accreditation.

Essentially, these agencies, and beyond them the public at large, want clearer evidence that college students and their parents are getting their money's worth from a college education. They want to see results — something to show that the $25,000 they spent on college was worth it.

So this is one answer to the question of "what is assessment?" It is a state-mandated and accrediting agency-mandated process for measuring the effectiveness of our educational programs for purposes of accountability. We have to do it.

But there is a more positive reason for assessment. Assessment is a process by which a college, with observable measurements, tries to become a better college; it is a process by which a college tries to find its strengths and weaknesses, and then corrects for those weaknesses to better serve its students.

This is assessment for purposes of improvement. We should do it — and we should continue doing it.

This is where you come in. Course grades by themselves are not sufficient for assessment purposes. We will sometimes need to ask you to take a standardized test, so that we can see how well our students are doing relative to national norms.

Sometimes we will need to ask you to fill out a questionnaire, to find out how well you think certain programs are working — for example, do you think you're getting good academic advising? If we don't ask or you don't tell us, we can't improve it. We want to change what isn't working — we need feedback from you to know what to change.

We will try to respect your time and not ask you to do too much. But we will be asking for your help and participation at some time this year.

The nice thing about assessment is that we're all in it together. If you do well on an assessment test it's to your credit and ours, the College's. Our educational programs have helped you to succeed. If you don't do well, we need to find better ways of helping you succeed.

So, why should you care? What does it matter to you if our assessment scores are low? It won't count on your course grades. Why should you even try if you're asked to take a standardized assessment test?

The honest answer is that we think we're a good college and good colleges keep working at becoming better. We want to be able to provide you with a superior education, so that you can succeed in life.

The better we get, the better our reputation will be. The higher our students score on these standardized assessment tests, the better our reputation. The better our reputation, the higher the value of a degree from Longwood and the more doors it will open to your future.

The better Longwood looks, the better you look. We're in it together.

Condoments Stand

By JIM WOOD

Tuesday night, a Longwood student, let's call him "Edward," searching for some "Cheese On Wheat" crackers, wandered into the campus police office where he knew a vending machine to be situated. Edward was disappointed when a look through the smudged glass revealed not Ho-Hos, but toiletries. Nothing amazing. Clue did come, however, in the guise of a relatively small foil packet which read.

"Stimulax – With Special Ribbed Surfaces for Her Pleasure."

Not trusting his eyes, Edward took a closer look (and turned red, nearly passing out.)

"My god," he thought, "It's a condom!" It may be sketchy as to whether Edward had ever purchased one.

In the near-nineties, the subject of the condom as a joke is rather used. The latex birth control device has increasingly gained respect in the last half of this decade as such sexually transmitted diseases as AIDS have forced safer sexual practices. This, is of course, old news.

Truly new at Longwood is the advent of condoms in vending machines. Well, machine. The "Health Services" vending machine located across the ARA offices carries three types of condoms at date: Roughriders, Prime, and

(Continued on Page 6

Need Money for your Organization?

Appeal forms for student activity fees are available Sept. 27 in Lankford Information Office.

WORK FOR YOURSELF

As a campus representative you'll be responsible for placing advertising materials on bulletin boards and working on marketing programs for clients such as American Express, Boston University, Eurail, and various movie companies, among others. Part-time work, choose your own hours. No sales. Many of our reps stay with us long after graduation. If you are self-motivated, hard-working, and a bit of an entrepreneur, call or write for more information to:

AMERICAN PASSAGE NETWORK
6211 W. HOWARD STREET
CHICAGO, IL 60648
1(800) 727-6783 or
(312) 647-8860

CHICAGO DALLAS LOS ANGELES
NEW YORK SEATTLE

Delta Sigs are "King of the Hill"

Longwood College's chapter of Delta Sigma Pi business fraternity is "king of the hill" again.

At the fraternity's Grand Congress last month in St. Louis, Longwood's Kappa Nu chapter won "Most Outstanding Chapter" in the South-Central Region for the third consecutive year. The chapter also won the regional Community Service award.

Four chapters in the region were eligible to compete for most outstanding this year, said Deborah Vaughan, president of Longwood's chapter. "The competition was intense," she said.

In the process of making it to the top, Longwood's chapter attained the 100,000 points required for the Chapter Efficiency Honor Roll. Only 10 percent of Delta Sigma Pi's 170 chapters nationwide achieve this distinction.

And for the fourth consecutive year, chapter adviser Kristine Harbour was chosen "Most Outstanding Adviser" in the region. Mrs. Harbour, who is assistant professor of business at Longwood, was honored as Delta Sigma Pi's "National Adviser of the Year" last year.

Because of her superior record, Mrs. Harbour was chosen to moderate the first-ever round-table session for chapter advisers at the 1989 Grand Congress. During the coming year, she will serve on a national committee to establish a network of advisers. "Our purpose is to help educate and motivate chapter advisers across the nation," she said.

Some 800 delegates attended the national congress. Longwood's delegation included nine collegiate members and four alumni.

Dale Clark, a 1988 graduate, was elected regional director for the South-Central Region of Delta Sigma Pi, which includes chapters in Virginia, North Carolina, and Tennessee.

Clark, who is a buyer for Leggett of Farmville, is the first member of Longwood's Kappa Nu chapter to serve on the national board of directors.

Delta Sigma Pi is an international professional business fraternity. Longwood's chapter has 32 collegiate members and 10 faculty members.

Longwood's delegation to Delta Sigma Pi's Grand Congress in St. Louis included (back row, from left) Deborah Vaughan, chapter president; Rob Netherland; Susan Parrish, chapter historian; and (front row, from left) Kristine Harbour, chapter adviser; Courtney Faris; and Dale Clark, a 1988 graduate who was elected to Delta Sigma Pi's national board of directors.

HELP WANTED

COLLEGE/CAMPUS REPRESENTATIVE

Earn Top $. Flexible hours...enjoyable...rewarding...gross up to $20,000 per year by helping friends receive grants/scholarships. For info, please call: (213) 967-2115.

HELP WANTED

ACT IN TV COMMERCIALS
HIGH PAY

No experience...all ages — kids, teens, young adults, families, mature people, animals, etc. Call Now!
CHARM STUDIOS
1-(800) 447-1530
Ext. 514

Personals

Brian, — Who has you wrapped? Not me! — Eli

Kan and Sue, — You guys are awesome suite mates. We'll have a great year. — Lovage, Me

Vic, — You know what I think? I think you're fake. — Lovage, your roomie

Curry 5th — Y'all are the Best! — Larry

Congrats Orientation Tri-Chairs! — Rhonda Chisin, Stephanie Neely, and Whitney Thomas! I know y'all will do awesome!! PREVIEW '90 is in good hands! — Have Fun!!! Lar

Hey '89 O.L.'s and the PREVIEW crew! — Thanks for helping to make last year so special to me! I'm going to miss y'all next summer! Y'all really are the greatest! Thanks for being friends! — Lar

Brian — Thanx for my diamond — Now take out the trash! — I love you — Vic

Kan — Kill the wabbit — Kill the wabbit! — Love, your suitie.

Chris — I get the name Amanda! — You know who

Sue — Want to go on a rabbit hunt? I think it's time for a drive. — Love, your X-Roommate

Eli — the fake person — I guess we are doing pretty good for everything being so FAKE! — Love — your fake Roommate

Lar — Watch out for those floating balloons. — Love, Vic

One lost love — Am looking for one love that was lost on Sunday, September 10, after a 3 1/2 year relationship. Will accept friendship, but love is definitely preferred. Take your time and be sure — ABJBK

Pooty Pie — Did you know that Harvie's uncle is from Saudi Arabia? Who died in yellow BVD's because his mother didn't know what bleach was? BURP!! Oh, I am SO SORRY, please, Please, PLEASE excuse me. HAPPY BIRTHDAY!!! By the way — Are you sure you should be eating that? — Love Bitsy Pookums

Hey second floor TABB — You girls are great! If you need me, or just want to visit, come in any time. — Nancy

Lar, — Thanks for being the bestest friend anyone could have. — Love ya! Eli

Chris, — Thank you for always being there, no matter what. I love you! — Eli 1989 Orientation Leaders — Thank you so much for the book you gave me. I appreciate your thoughtfulness. I will never forget you. You are a great bunch! — Your Ass't Director.

Sigma Kappas — You're doing great with Rush, so keep up the great work. I'm so proud of you and I'm so glad to be a part of your mystic bond! — Sigma Love and Mine, Sherri

To all Left-handed Communists — Miss Piggy is ALIVE! — From the True Believer

Debbie — You made my birthday the best ever! Thanks a zillion. Next time I'll take you for a drive, I promise — Karin

Kirsten — Congrats on a great job with Rush! This will be the best one in three years. You've outdone yourself this time. — Good work, Kris, Rhonda

Student Activity Fee's — Forms for appeal are available Sept. 27 in Lankford Info. Office.

Charlie Warner — Thanks for all your help during RUSH. Will you fraternize after graduation? Admiringly yours...

Kellie W. — Thanks again! — The cookie (dough) Monster

Debbie Vaughan — May will come soon enough. Take time to stop and smell the crazy bread! Keep smiling! — Your roomie

To: The Orange Mortal — Make up your mind. Got any questions? Just ask the HOMIES! — D^2

G. W. B. H. — Sticks and stones can break my bones. But leather sheets excite me. — Leather Queen

Jay — Trouble me. — Martika

Suite 164 and 165 — Keep doing those push ups and you'll all earn four stars by December — Klans

Congratulations New Geisters! — Tim Anderson, Holly Barnes, Lauri Labyak and O'Kelly McWilliams.

To all my Sigma Alpha Iota sisters: Let's show Longwood how to rock on Friday. — EAI love and mine, Paula

Irene, — Where's your engagement ring? You're not engaged? But you didn't say "no"! — Your roomie

P.S. Never walk on a Chi symbol or face the same "torture" that I did.

Congratulations to all of the new Chi members on their first walk this past Wednesday. You all are awesome!! — Love, an avid fan

Oktoberfest is coming! So show your red and green spirit these next weeks. Let's see how much spirit Longwood has! Especially our wonderful klowns!

Dawn, — Look out for the T. P. (Casper)! — Your Big sis

Catalinas — Keep up the good work. We are looking great out there. — Love, A fellow Guppie

Amy O, — Thank you for spending so much of your time with the catalinas, and for making up our routines. You're the best coach a guppy could have. — Love, your little Guppies

Tiny Teddy — I am glad have my Tiny Teddy! — Lov ya, Idy

Anne, — I am glad you ar my roommate this year Here's to a great year! — Lov ya — Your favorite Roommat

To: Ice and Din, — Jus thought you should kno that the Brainbusters are n good! — The Challenger

Teddi — Our sisterhood i awesome! Sigma is the righ stuff!

Mary Kaye — Thanks fo being an awesome advisor.

Suez — Congratulations o Klowns! We are proud of you — Usage

To the great white Boot Huntress, — Let the game begin! The fall hunting seaso is open. — The Great Whit Booty Hunter

Help Wanted: Motivated, enthusiastic, responsible college-age students with Type I diabetes to serve as volunteer counselors at statewide family retreat sponsored by the American Diabetes Assoc. For more info, call Cathy (703) 989-7871 (days) or Jen (703) 568-4450 (nights). Cost of call will be reimbursed.

Rick Bodenheimer: — I'm sorry, but I do miss you MORE! Get your bags packed, we're going to the keys. — Love, Agnes

P.S. The flowers are beautiful.

Congratulations to Tri-Sigma's new pledges: Tammy Rose, Susan Demaria, Donna Gulden, Brenda Rodgers, Jodi Hutton, Taline Akseraylian, and Robin Haywood. We love you very much. — Σ Love, The Sisters of ΣΣΣ

To the K, K and K crew — Watch out for bouncing balls, moving walls, and television programs that never stop. Make sure to keep your head on straight and hit the books! — DB

Congratulations to all fraternities and sororities! You had a Great Fall Rush! Keep up the good work. — Charlie

We like to welcome all those upperclassmen who walked our way — G.D.I. just remember you can always be your true self. To show support for our family, we invite you to wear black on Thursday. You will be hearing from us soon — G.D.I. love forever and always — your fellow non-conformist G.D.I.'s

Attention Freshmen

Elections for class officers are coming up. SGA would like to see all the new and intelligent faces of the freshmen trying out for these offices. The forms for entering the elections can be picked up from your RA's. This is an opportunity for you new students at Longwood to get involved in outside activities in this school, and is a great way to meet new and important people.

SGA is back in session, and we would like the participation of all students at our meetings and or outside. The regular meetings are held every Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in Lankford building conference room 1.

Mohammad N. Siwodah

If you plan to teach any grade any subject, the Student Education Association is for you! Look for info in Wynne.

Poo Bear, — I missed you this weekend, but always miss you when we are not together. I'm glad things went well this week and are over for you, now you can relax a little more. I hope you don't forget something is coming up, and I hope you're ready for a big surprise! — Love "Your Boy"

WHY DON'T YOU JOIN THE FORENSIC TEAM?

First meeting;
Tuesday, September 26, 1989
1:30 p.m.
Jarman Room 007

EVENTS:

Prose, Poetry, After Dinner, Oratory, Impromptu, Extemporaneous, DI, HI

FALL TOURNAMENTS:

Pennsylvania, North Carolina, New York, Maryland, Virginia

For further information, call
Mrs. Haga
395-2466

Features

Forensic Team Regroups

Last year Longwood College sponsored its first forensic team with over 35 different students participating in eleven events. At the end of the season, seniors Kalli Lucas and Dawn Carrington Wilhelm, and sophomore Julie Kernodle qualified for national competition in Newark, New Jersey in April. At this tournament over 2500 college students from 45 states competed with Bradley University winning the national championship.

The first meeting of the year will be on Tuesday, September 26 at 1:30 p.m. in Jarman 007. Dr. Nancy Haga will be coaching the team for the season. At the meeting discussion will center on the fall tournaments, which are to be held in New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, North Carolina and Virginia. It is hopeful that Longwood will be entered in at least two meets for the fall. Rules, regulations, and schedules will be distributed to interested students.

Competition will take place in oratory, extemporaneous speaking, speech to inform, speech to persuade, after dinner speaking, prose reading, poetry reading, dramatic interpretation, humorous interpretation, and impromptu speaking.

The team is open to all Longwood College students. You do not have to have had any previous experience to participate. One-half of last year's team were newcomers to the forensic team. If you have been on a team in high school, come join and continue this experience. All students need a desire to work hard.

Dr. Haga commented "Students can have fun, learn a lot about themselves, meet other college students with similiar interest, and improve their communication skills. It also looks good on a resume, as businesses are looking for employees who can make presentations, talk with others, and get along with teammates. Communication is a life-long skill, and you can develop it in forensics."

If any student has questions or interested in being a part of the team, please come to the meeting on Tuesday or get in touch with Dr. Haga at 395-2466 or Jarman 001.

Message from Chi

CHI is an organization established on October 15, 1900 to promote and maintain the spirit of Longwood. It is an abstract, an ideal. Chi resides within everybody. Doing something for the benefit of someone else, Longwood, or the community is CHI. It is when you act in these ways that people take notice. CHI is not a group of individuals who compose its working staff. CHI is an idea — never reached, but always reached for. Erase from your minds the personification of the idea and look instead to your own souls. Evidence of CHI's support can be seen through banners appearing at special events, signs on the sidewalks across campus, and through late night walks. However, the real evidence of CHI can be seen in the Hearts and minds of those who seek its real purpose of constructive supports and cooperation.

CHI of 90 encourages all students to take full advantage of their academic opportunities as well as their extracurricular opportunities. Support the four aspects of student life — SOCIAL, RECREATIONAL, INTELLECTUAL, and SPIRITUAL — by participating and/or supporting intramural activities, athletics, campus organizations and departmental organizations (including lectures, programs and seminars), Greek organizations and by upholding both the honor and Judicial Codes. College is a time for each individual student to learn more about himself/herself and to experience different aspects of life while learning to live and work with people of all different types. DO NOT LET APATHY RUIN YOUR OPPORTUNITIES! The workings of CHI go far beyond its walks and its burning... And remember, CHI is watching.

DO YOU WANT ONE OF THOSE "GENUINE LONGWOOD"
Budweiser® Logo T-shirts?
100% Cotton, pre-shrunk
All Sizes
$12
Tank Tops $10
Sweat Shirts $20
Send order to:
Rat & Co.
P. O. Box 36402,
Richmond, VA 23235,
(include name, phone #, size & payment).
Budweiser is a registered trademark of Anheuser-Busch Inc.

Condoments

(Continued from page 4

Stimulax. Unfortunately, these prophylactics carry a rather high price of $1.05 for three. Still, there is a demand. Whether the sale of condoms will extend to other campus locations is unclear. At this time, the "Health Services" vending machine will remain the sole condom carrier, according to ARA manager John Ross. Of the administrators questioned, most had no detailed knowledge of current events, at least those pertaining to the condoms.

Not surprisingly, the Health Services Office backs the sale of vending machine condoms. Peggy Giordano from Health Services maintains safe sex is catching on, shown in a national drop of the percentage of new AIDS cases. On the rise, please note, are cases of Chlamydia on campuses nationwide. If a $1.05 seems too much, Health Services will still provide free, spermicidically treated condoms until December.

As John Ross puts it, "Condom should be a household word and (condoms) should be used".

Let's see if I have the exact change.

Androcles and The Lion: A Play Underway

Written by JONATHON CHURCH

He asked: "It's a children's musical?" He thought: "Since I'm an adult, it'll be a total bore?"

She tried to catch the false assumption: "Yes, it's a children's musical. But just because it's a children's musical doesn't mean it's a musical just for children."

"Oh?" he said, pausing to figure that one out.

The Longwood Players production of Androcles and the Lion is well underway and looking very promising. Scheduled to open the week of Octoberfest, the play has been picking up speed since rehearsals started only two weeks ago.

The play was adapted from an Aesop's fable of the same name by America's most produced playwright for children, Aurand Harris. Putting the fable in the Commedia Style, the play was also expanded and made much more elaborate for stage. This created the central themes of friendship based on good deeds and kindness, and the evils of servitude versus the need to be free. The script ends up being exciting to perform and delightful to watch.

The production is composed from a comfortable mix of both new and familiar faces with a great deal of talent all around. Guest directing the show is Rex Stephenson, an associate professor of Educational Theatre at Farrum college. As he is producer, writer and director of Farrum's nationally recognized Children's Theatre Company – 'The Jack Tales Players', Longwood is very lucky to have him directing Androcles. Another interesting aspect is that senior Theatre major James Gross has been assigned to Stage Design the play, the first student stage designer at Longwood in many years. The cast of eleven were picked by Stephenson not only for talent, but for their experience with children's theater and ability to act in the Commedia style. The result is a play with a wonderful mix of personalities. Playing the roles are: Vern Williamson (Narrator), Kaddy Feast (Androcles), Kim Greaves (The Lion), Danile Ellis (The miser Pantalone), Dave Richards (The Captain), Emily Roderer and Tony Wright (The Lovers Isabella and Lelio), and Bryce Davis (The Emperor). Several actors are used to move the set about and provide comic diversion as the Zannies (Suzanne Williams, Rick Codding, and Kenny Strawn).

Sunny's
CAFE
CASABLANCE
Farmville Shopping Center
OPEN:
MONDAY -SATURDAY
11::30 - 2:00
5:00 - 9:00
Now
Mexican Food
And Beers!

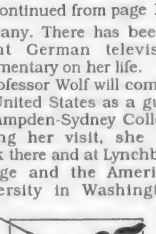
Israeli Diplomat Speaks

Longwood College's International Studies lectures this semester will focus on the Middle East.

Obed Ben-Haim, an Israeli diplomat, will give the first lecture on Wednesday, Sept. 27, at 7:30 p.m. in the Virginia Room. The public is invited to attend.

The speaker is a counselor with the Israeli Embassy in Washington. Ben-Haim was born in Israel and holds degrees from Hebrew University (B.A. in political science and Master of Business Administration).

He joined Israel's Ministry of Foreign Affairs in 1970 and has been Second Secretary at the Israeli embassies in Liberia and Burma. He has held several posts in the United States. His particular expertise is in the areas of economics and energy policy.



In 1981, Ben-Haim was a member of the Israeli Mission to the 36th United Nations General Assembly.

Wolf Speaks

(Continued from page 1)

Germany. There has been a recent German television documentary on her life.

Professor Wolf will come to the United States as a guest of Hampden-Sydney College. During her visit, she will speak there and at Lynchburg College and the American University in Washington, DC.

Looking for Male Longwood Student who lives in Prospect. Was given ride by man in white Volkswagon Golf on Rt. 460 recently. Please call Bob collect at 1-804-323-6326.

Sports

Lancer Soccer Shows 1-1

Still searching for consistency, Longwood had a 1-1 showing last week in soccer as the Lancers dropped a 4-0 decision to Towson State Friday night and beat Kutztown 4-1 Saturday in the Ram Classic at Virginia Commonwealth. The Lancers trailed Towson 1-0 at halftime, but surrendered three second half goals. Longwood suffered its first shutout loss of the season.

Saturday in the win over Kutztown the Lancers played well, according to coach Paul Sidhu. Scoring leader Ray Jones gave Longwood a 1-0 lead with a first half goal on an assist from Rodney Funk. Rich Kloska on an assist from Jones, Mike Edge on an assist from Dave Mazzuca and Ted Doran on an assist from Jeff Bogushefsky scored second half goals for Longwood.

Jones (five goals, four assists) is the Longwood scoring leader. Sidhu reports that Kloska, who was expected to play back, has been moved to forward and inserted into the starting lineup because of his hustle. Mike MaKinster has been sidelined by an ankle sprain.

RICH KLOSKA

Dial in Sports Fans!

Longwood sports fans can now call any time for the latest schedule information and scores. The Lancer sports information office has set up a sports bulletin board at 804-395-2652 which will have information on sports schedules and scores 24 hours a day.

Lancer fans who wish to take advantage of this new service must have a push button phone. After calling 395-2652, the caller should then dial "1" for schedule information or "2" for scores.

Lancer Briefs

This Week's Schedule

Monday 9/25 — M-golf at Old Dominion Tournament (Hampton University host).

Tuesday 9/26 — Field Hockey at Georgetown (3:30); M-golf at Old Dominion tournament.

Wednesday 9/27 — Soccer Virginia Wesleyan (3:00); W-Tennis Hollins (3:00).

Thursday 9/28 — W-Tennis RMWC (3:30).

Friday 9/29 — Baseball Liberty (2:00); W-Tennis Virginia Wesleyan (3:30).

Saturday 9/30 — Soccer — Lincoln Memorial (1:00); Men's Golf Radford; Field Hockey, Lock Haven at JMU (1:00).

Sunday 10/1 — Field Hockey at JMU (11:00); Riding at Mary Washington.

Tennis Falls

In a match that was much closer than the score indicates, Longwood's women's tennis team dropped an 8-1 match at Mary Baldwin in Staunton last Monday afternoon.

Now 1-1, Longwood got a victory at No. 1 singles from freshman Jenny Holm who beat Julie Adams 3-6, 7-5, 6-3.

Matches schedules for Tuesday at Randolph-Macon and Wednesday against Meredith in Farmville were postponed. The match with R-MC will be played Oct. 10 while the Meredith contest will be Oct. 11.

Longwood will host Hollins Wednesday at 3:00, Randolph-Macon Woman's College Thursday at 3:30 and Virginia Wesleyan Friday at 3:30 in action this week.

Longwood Observes 70 Years of Basketball

Longwood College will celebrate 70 years of women's basketball October 21 when alumnae will be invited back for a special day of fun, fellowship and activities.

More than 370 alumnae have been invited to return to campus for the 70th Anniversary Birthday Celebration. Events will include an alumnae game, a Blue-White scrimmage by the current Lady Lancer squad and a dinner.

"I think this is a really unique event," said current Longwood coach Shirley Duncan. "This is the first time we've had an alumnae event for former basketball players. The people who come are going to make it a success. We'd certainly like to have as many alumnae back as possible. Basketball is the oldest competitive sport on campus."

In preparing for the event, Duncan has concentrated on the four decades of the 1950's, 1960's, 1970's and 1980's. An effort has been made to find a representative from each decade to help locate alums and urge them to attend.

The 1989-90 Lady Lancer team has been helping plan the event and team members will serve as hostesses for campus tours between 11:30 and 12:30 on the 21st. Registration, to be held in the lobby of Lancer Hall, will take place from 11:30 to 12 noon. An Alumnae Game is slated for 1:30 and a Blue-White scrimmage will begin at 2:30.

A social hour, sponsored by the Longwood College Lancer Club, will be held in the Prince Edward and Virginia Rooms at the College from 5:30 to 6:30 and a dinner will commence at 6:30. A $25 fee will cover the cost of the dinner and other Anniversary events.

"We've got a lot of alumnae right here in Virginia as well as all around the nation," said Duncan. "We're asking everyone to let us know if they plan to come by October 15."

Since 1970 Longwood has won 213 games while losing 206 in women's basketball. Eight Lady Lancer cagers have scored more than 1,000 points since 1974.

Men's Golf Falls to Methodist

Longwood's men's golf team came through with the second best round on the final day of the 36-hole Greensboro College Tournament last Tuesday, but a strong field kept the Lancers from finishing on top. The tournament was played at Bryan Park Golf Course, a par-72 layout in Greensboro, NC.

Methodist College's A squad took top honors by shooting 314-307-621, edging UNC- Greensboro's A squad by three strokes. Methodist's 307 on the last day was the best round of the tournament, just slightly ahead of Longwood's 310 the same day. Overall, the Lancers finished 12th out of 23 teams with a 335-310-645.

Leading the way for Longwood was senior Scott Wiseman, who turned in a total score of 157 (81-76). Junior Jeff Smiley shot the Lancers' top round on day two, 75, and finished at 86-75-161.

Women's Golf Finishes Fifth

Windy conditions in the aftermath of hurricane Hugo played a role in a first round 350 as Longwood's women's golf team finished fifth in the Duke University Fall Invitational Friday through Sunday at Duke Golf Course in Durham, North Carolina.

Longwood shot 350-324-328-1002, while first place Wake Forest carded a 317-300-323-940. Freshman Heather Hartwick was Longwood's most consistent golfer with an 83-79-80-242 and a top 15 finish. Daphne Sole shot 86-77-82-246, Ami Schonauer 89-83-85-257, Sherry Evans 92-88-81-261 and Ashley Warren 92-84-87-263.

Playing as an individual, freshman Anna Radford shot 97-84-88-269. The Lady Lancers won't play again until the James Madison Tournament Oct. 6-8.

Hartwick Named Player of the Week

Freshman golfer Heather Hartwick, who shot an 83-79-80-242 to lead Longwood at the Duke Invitational last weekend, has been named Longwood College Player of the Week for the period Sept. 17-24. Player of the Week is chosen by the Longwood sports information office.

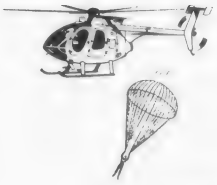
While Longwood had a below average showing as a team at Duke, Hartwick played consistently despite tough conditions. The freshman's 242 total was good enough for a top 15 finish in the 54-hole Duke tourney. She had shot a 78-84-78-240 at the Lady Tar Heel Invitational the week before.

A graduate of Elmira District Secondary School, Hartwick is a veteran of Ontario and Canadian Junior Tournament play. She carries a five handicap. A business major at Longwood, Heather also played basketball in high school.

Fall Player of the Week Award Winners

August 27-September 3 - Kim Howells, Field Hockey

September 3-10 - Seth Johnson, Soccer



September 10-17 - Ray Jones, Soccer

September 17-24 - Heather Hartwick, Women's Golf

HEATHER HARTWICK

Don't miss out!

EVERYONE is rushing to

They know a great deal when they see one!

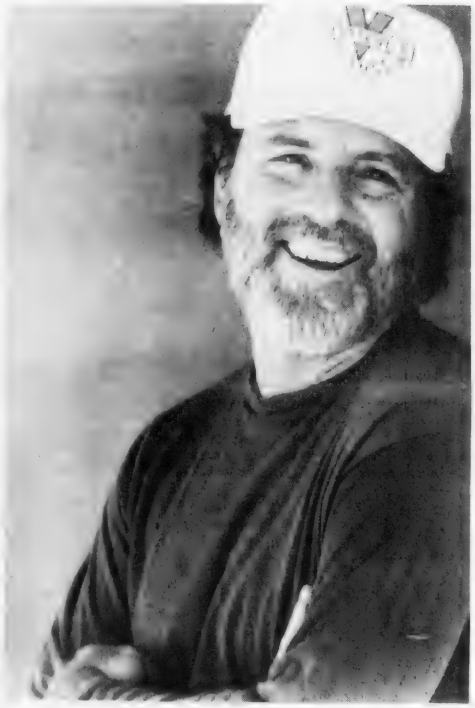
- Posters
- Magazines
- Paper Supplies
- Hallmark Cards
- Textbooks
- Trade Books
- Greek Items
- College Insignia Items

Mon.-Fri.: 9:00 a.m.-5:30 p.m.
Saturday: 9:00 a.m.-2:00 p.m.

Next to Eddie's in the
Farmville Shopping Center
392-9702

The Rotunda

Longwood College



VOL. 69 NO. 4 | OCTOBER 2, 1989 | Farmville, VA

LONGWOOD COLLEGE FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA 23901

Pat Dailey Comes to Longwood

By TOM HARRISON

Pat Dailey, next to his long time friend Jimmy Buffet, is one of Keywest's Legends. His "Good Time Songs" and "Diceman" humor has developed himself a reputation as a rip-roaring song player with a comedian twist. With responses of clapping and chanting in a rowdy appreciation from his fans, Pat Dailey will engulf you into a saloon balladeer's heaven. For those who might have shaded ears to adult humor, look out! Even though his performance is geered towards night club humor, his tasteful everyday life songs will bring a smile to each and every face. If you don't believe me, ask anyone who went down to the Florida Keys for spring break last year. So come out and see student union privileged class act, all the way from Keywest, on Friday, October 6.

Pat Dailey will display his comedic talent Friday night.

Attention Freshmen!

If you, the freshmen, are interested in representing your fellow classmates, then the time is now to pick up an application from your hall RA's. This is an opportunity for you to speak out for members of the freshman class. If you want something done about any problems that you might face, then this is how to go about it professionally. These offices will get you involved in school activities, and enhance your leadership abilities. SGA is behind you 100%; we encourage you to participate.

SGA would like students to attend the meetings every Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in Lankford building conf. room 1.

Choral Festival Comes to Longwood

On October 12 the Music Department will be hosting the Longwood College High School Choral Festival. Over three hundred singers from all over Virginia will converge on Farmville for an all day rehearsal and 8 p.m. performance in Jarman Auditorium. The concert will include Gloria by John Rutter and O Clap Your Hands by Ralph Vaughan Williams. The choir will be accompanied by brass, percussion and piano. The 75 voice Longwood College Concert Choir will make up the core of the festival choir. Dr. Donald Trott, Director of Choral Activities at Longwood, will conduct the program. According to Dr. Trott, a chorus of over 300 presents a sound that is unforgettable and extremely exciting. All students, staff and faculty are encouraged to attend this free public performance. For more information, contact Dr. Bruce Montgomery, Festival Coordinator, at 395-2498.

Journalist to Speak on Mafia

Dan E. Moldea, an investigative journalist who specializes in organized crime exposes, will speak at Longwood College on Tuesday evening, Oct. 3, at 7:30 in the Gold Room of Lankford Building.

The topic of Moldea's lecture and slide program is "The Mafia in America." The public is invited to attend the program free of charge.

Moldea's first book was The Hoffa Wars: Teamsters, Rebels, Politicians and the Mob, published in 1978. It was selected by the book-of-the-Month Club and syndicated by The New York Times. After three hardcover printings, it was published in paperback in 1979 and also has been translated into French, Italian, and Japanese.

The Hoffa Wars chronicled the rise and fall of former Teamsters' president Jimmy Hoffa. The book was praised in The Village Voice as "a fascinating inside history of the union, its triumphs and corruption." The Christian Science Monitor called it "well-documented, detailed, and terrifying."

In 1983 Moldea published his second book, The Hunting of Cain: A True Story of Money, Greed and Fratricide. The book's subject was the police investigation of the 1980 contract murder of corporate executive Constantine "Dean" Milo in Akron, Ohio. It was described by one reviewer as "a God's-eye view, fascinating and horrifying."

Moldea's third book was Dark Victory: Ronald Reagan, MCA, and the Mob. Published in 1986, it was another best-seller.

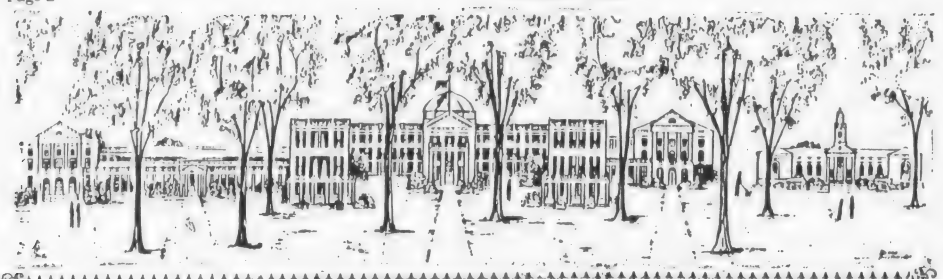
A reviewer for Library Journal wrote: "Crime reporter Moldea spins several tales in this extraordinary book, principally the rise of Music Corporation of America (MCA) from a fledgling band-booking company in 1924 to Hollywood's most powerful TV, film, and recording conglomerate, and the entertwined journey of MCA client Reagan from mediocre actor to U.S. President."

Moldea's articles have appeared in leading newspapers and magazines, and he has done free-lance work with NBC Nightly News and National Public Radio.

His article, "Who Really Killed Bobby Kennedy?," was the cover story in the June 1987 issue of Regardie. Moldea was credited by CBS-TV News with reopening the national debate on whether Sirhan Sirhan, the convicted assassin of Senator Kennedy, had acted alone.

Moldea is a past president of the Washington Independent Writers Association, the largest local organization of free-lance writers in the U.S. He is a member of The Authors Guild and Investigative Reporters & Editors (IRE).

Moldea's degrees are from the University of Akron and Kent State University.



His lecture at Longwood is sponsored by the Student Union.

Attention On Campus Students

Anyone Who Wishes to Change Their Meal Plan May do so This Week at the Housing Office

Contents

Commentary 2, 12

Commentary

Off The Wing

By MIKE WHITFORD
Guest Editorialist

Republicans have labeled Lieutenant Governor Doug Wilder a "liberal". The question must come to mind, 'Why exactly is Doug Wilder a liberal?". The answer is found in Doug Wilder's record.

A major concern of voters in Virginia is roads and transportation. Doug Wilder's views on transportation have changed considerably over the years.

In 1980, as a state senator, Wilder opposed Governor John Dalton's major transportation initiatives.

Throughout the Robb Administration, Wilder, as chairman of the state Senate Transportation Committee, took no action on transportation initiatives. Consequently, state transportation spending dropped to below Dalton administration levels for three years.

Once becoming Lt. Governor, Wilder said he would be the "eyes and ears" of Governor Baliles on the Transportation Commission. But he remained silent while the commission proposed it's package for road funding.

While campaigning in 1988, Wilder said that more funding is needed for roads in Northern Virginia, and then took credit for the accomplishments of the Baliles Administration.

Crime is an issue facing all Virginians. To win the war on drugs it is necessary to first get tough on all criminals. Wilder was confronted in his 1985 campaign with his record on crime. In 1985 he was able to dart around the issue, but now with drugs spreading across the Commonwealth like a malignant cancer Doug Wilder will have to answer for the sins of his past record.

In 1976 he voted against a House of Delegates bill to impose mandatory prison terms, without probation, to those convicted of a felony with a firearm.

In 1977 he voted against a House bill to impose mandatory sentences on habitual offenders.

Also in 1977 he voted against a House bill to impose mandatory sentences on habitual offenders.

Also in 1977 he voted against the reinstatement of the Death Penalty in Virginia.

Again in 1977 he voted against a minimum sentence of 10 years, without parole, for persons convicted a second time of armed robbery.

In 1979 he voted against a Senate bill to make it a felony to brandish a firearm in an attempt to prevent an arrest or escape from a police officer.

In 1980 he voted against the Death Penalty for mass murderers.

Again in 1980 he voted to keep an early parole law for prisoners with six months left on their sentence.

In 1981 he voted against the Death Penalty for multiple murders.

In 1984 he voted against a Senate bill that would allow the Commonwealth to appeal pretrial rulings in criminal cases.

In a era when Virginians are sick and tired of capable people living off the hard work of others, Doug Wilder is against putting people to work to get their welfare benefits.

In 1982 Doug Wilder said: "The state is telling people: 'If you don't have a job, you'll do whatever we tell you to do. You'll follow horses down the street and clean up after them if we tell you to do that.'"

Wilder gave that statement during a debate in which a very modest Workfare programme was being considered by the Virginia State Senate. Wilder was against the programme then, and he will surely repudiate his record during this election.

Virginia Democrats have been caracterized through the years as "conservative". But, the current trend for Virginia Democrats has been to emulate the example of their liberal national Democratic counterparts; but veil themselves in a shroud of conservatism. This is true of Gerald Baliles, but it cannot be true of Doug Wilder.

Doug Wilder criticized Governor Chuck Robb's attempt to move the National Democratic Party more towards the mainstream, more moderately conservative, views of the American voter. Consequently, Robb would only support Wilder's bid for the Lieutenant Governorship if there were no other qualified candidates.

Doug Wilder also stood by Governor Baliles' pledge of no new taxes; but said nothing when the Governor lobbied for, and got, one of the largest tax increases in the history of the Commonwealth. Then, once the taxes were raised, he said he was against them.

Wilder, while a member of the State Senate, sponsored legislation to raise income taxes, inheritance taxes, and motor vehicle taxes.

Doug Wilder criticised Owen Pickett, then a Delegate, in his 1982 U.S. Senate bid for "pandering to the conservatives". And

(Continued on page 12)

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
R. Bruce Gantt

Photography Editor
Jan-Marie Johnson

Sports Editor
Lindy Seymore

Business Manager
Sarah Tetterton

Advertising Manager
Jill Loges

Features Editor
Monica Gilbert

News Editor
Stephanie Neeley

Faculty Advisor
William C. Wood

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be signed, typed or printed neatly, state the author's years, and major as applicable.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 395-2120.

News

Perspectives on Longwood

By Drs. Ed Smith and John Reynolds,

We've been hearing a lot lately about how the world is shrinking and how we're entering an age of global interdependence — of how economic and political changes in countries on the other side of the world will affect the quality of life in Virginia.

The funny thing about it is, it's true. If the Tokyo Nikkei Stock Average drops 50 points, ten people in Roanoke could lose their jobs. If the political changes going on in the Soviet Union produce a de-stabilization in that country, then American investments in that country could plunge, along with our sense of security.

For purposes of both peace and prosperity, we need to understand other cultures.

In 1988, as part of our college-wide assessment program, a group of Longwood freshmen were asked a series of questions about their perceived progress towards certain educational goals.

One of the questions that Longwood freshmen scored lowest on was "Becoming aware of different philosophies, cultures, and ways of life." Only 33 percent of Longwood freshmen felt that they had made substantial progress towards this goal, whereas 49 percent of students at comparable colleges felt that they had.

This finding is supported by data from an alumni survey conducted last year. Alumni were asked about their satisfaction with Longwood's contribution to their growth in different areas. The results were generally very positive — 96 percent were either very satisfied or satisfied with their Longwood experience.

However, on the item "Awareness of different cultures and ideas," one of every four alumni indicated that they were either very dissatisfied with Longwood's contribution in this area. These data indicate that Longwood, in the past, has not given sufficient attention to this critical area.

We are addressing this weakness by revising our General Education Program and by greatly expanding our International Studies Program.

For at least the last two and a half years the faculty has been engaging in vigorous academic debates on general education. Later this year we will put the last piece in our revised general education plan, and next year we will implement it.

Students will be required to take a course that is specifically designed to give them an understanding of other cultures and societies. Students who enter Longwood under this plan could select a course in, possibly, world religions, anthropology, world geography, Japanese, the history of China, or another of this type.

Additionally, every general education course will be required to address its subject matter from diverse perspectives.

The second way in which we are giving our students a better understanding of other cultures is through our International Studies Program. It provides opportunities for students to study abroad, for faculty to teach abroad, and for foreign students and faculty to come to Longwood. (For example, next semester a physics professor from China will be coming to Longwood to teach, and next year one of our faculty members will be going to China to teach).

The International Studies Program also encourages the internationalization of both the curriculum and campus life at Longwood.

A major goal of the program is to give every Longwood student, regardless of major, a chance to study abroad. It provides information on all accredited overseas programs to all Longwood students, and it assists in finding scholarship money to help students travel abroad.

Representatives from various study abroad programs are periodically invited to Longwood to discuss their programs with interested students. The Director of the International Studies Program, Dr. John Reynolds (Grainger 213, 395-2172), also works with Department Chairs at the College to develop special international programs.

Another focus of the program is to broaden the horizons of our students by inviting visiting professors to campus to present lectures on the latest developments in the areas of international politics and trade. A recent example is the symposium on "Change in the Communist World and America's Response" presented by Drs. Merle and Marshall Goldman during the Inaugural Ceremonies.

Students can also elect to minor in International Studies. They can select certain "focus" programs which deal with various parts of the world through a series of lectures.

On September 15, Longwood hosted a symposium on international studies. Fifteen colleges and universities were represented. As a result of this meeting, the Council of International Studies Advisors was formed to monitor, evaluate, and advise the institutions of higher education in the Commonwealth on international programs.

In John Naisbitt's book, Megatrends, ten magatrends that will profoundly affect our future are delinerated. One of these is the shift from a national economy to a world economy. As he says, "Trends, like horses, are easier to ride in the direction they are already going." There are lucrative career opportunities for those with the foresight and ambition to capitalize on this megatrend.

More importantly, if we are to survive the nuclear age and live in harmony, we need to understand and be open to different cultures and ideas. Conflict more readily arises out of ignorance than understanding. "Let us therefore follow after the things which make for peace" (The New Testament, Romans, XIV, 19).

Be an "Administrator" for a Day!

Do you ever wonder what student affairs administrators do every day? Have you ever considered a career in College Student Personnel? If you answered "yes" to either of these questions, then read on for an opportunity available just for you! On Thursday, October 19, you can be an "Administrator for the Day!" Members of the student affairs staff have volunteered to be "shadowed." Any interested person can sign up to have a closer look at the job of the Dean of Students, the Director of the Career Planning and Placement Center (CPPC), a Student Development Educator, or the Director of Housing, to name a few. All you have to do is contact Niki Fallis, CPPC, 395-2063, or MaryKaye Benton, Student Development Educator, 395-2414, and sign up by Friday, October 13. Don't miss out on your opportunity to get the inside scoop on student affairs administrators!

A Message from the President

By GEORGE BUSH

Summer is over and classes are back in session. As we begin the school year, our thoughts again turn to the future— a future gravely threatened by drugs.

Americans agree that the biggest threat we are facing as a nation is drugs, in particular cocaine and crack.

Who is responsible? Everyone who uses drugs. Everyone who sells drugs. Everyone who looks the other way.

Some people used to call drugs just a benign form of recreation. They're not. Drugs are a real and extremely serious threat to our schools, our homes, our friends and our families. It doesn't matter where you live or what school you attend. No one is free from the threat of drugs. Inner cities, small towns, and college campuses all are under siege— because America is under siege.

On September 5, I announced the first comprehensive national strategy to end the siege— to fight drugs with tougher laws and enforcement, and with improved treatment, education and prevention. The programs we've proposed are an all-out assault against the evil of drug use and drug trafficking. We are aggressively attacking the problem from every angle, and proposing a 1990 drug-budget totaling over eight billion dollars—the largest single increase in history.

America is fighting a war against drugs. Yet the most important weapons in the war on drugs are the least tangible: self-discipline, courage, character, support from one's family, faith in God and in one's self.

Fundamentally, the drug problem in America is not one of supply, but of demand. We are taking strong new action to stop the flow of drugs into this country and to stop the dealers themselves; but as long as Americans are willing to buy illegal drugs, somebody, somewhere in the world will sell them.

Recently, I met with Mrs. Everett Hatcher, the widow of a veteran DEA agent who was killed by drug-using cowards. A woman of considerable dignity, she put responsibility for her husband's death squarely on "casual" users of cocaine. She's right— and there is now blood on their hands. Similarly, President Barco of Colombia recently made an appeal to Americans to stop buying the cocaine causing the slaughter of innocent civilians in the drug wars there.

Every student in America at some point— at a party, in a locker room, in a dorm room— every student must choose to accept or reject drugs. But there is another choice that college students, as responsible adults, must make— whether to get involved in a personal way to end drug use, or to look the other way.

College campuses have long been centers of conscience and idealism in this country, places where students have raised their voices to protest oppression, injustice and human suffering around the world. Yet, no one would deny that often drugs go hand in hand with injustice, suffering and even death. But where is the sound of protest? Innocent bystanders are killed at random on city streets. Babies are born addicted to crack and heroin. Young children are forced into the drug trade by addicts. What greater human rights violations exist? What greater injustices? Yet, recreational drug users still on some college campuses are ambivalent to the death and destruction they are financing.

We must appeal to the social conscience of every college student on every college campus in America. The way to protest the misery and oppression brought about by drugs is to commit yourself to staying away from drugs— and working to keep them away from your friends.

Drug use doesn't usually begin the way most people would think, with young people getting their first drugs from an addict or a dealer. Instead, they get them free from "friends" who think casual drug use hurts no one. Peer pressure is what spreads drug use and peer pressure can help stop it.

You can help stop it— if you get involved.

George Bush is President of the United States. This column was written exclusively for Collegiate Times.

News

Kooper-Boehm Duo to Perform

Kees Kooper and Mary Louise Boehm, an internationally famous violin and piano duo, will appear in concert at Longwood College on Monday, October 9.

The concert, which is part of Longwood's Chamber Music Series, will be at 8 p.m. in Wygal Recital Hall. It is open to the public free of charge.

The program will feature Corelli's Sonata in D Major (1700), Beethoven's "Spring" Sonata (1801), Sonata in G minor for Violin and Piano by Debussy (1917), William Grant Still's Suite for Violin and Piano (1945), and the Grand Duo Concertant by Liszt (1830s).

The concert is being performed in memory of Pauline Boehm Haga, sister of Mary Louise Boehm. Ms. Haga was a member of Longwood's music faculty from 1968 until her death in March of 1984.

On Tuesday, October 10, Ms. Boehm will conduct a piano masterclass in Wygal for Longwood piano students. The masterclass also is open to the public free of charge.

The Kooper-Boehm Duo is a husband-and-wife team that has performed on four continents to rave reviews. Their repertoire boasts the complete cycle of the 10 Beethoven Sonatas and the complete sonatas of Brahms, Mozart, Schubert and Bach, plus many unusual and little-known works.

The couple has researched libraries in America, Europe, and Russia, discovering and reviving early romantic works by Hummel, Kalkbrenner, Moscheles, Field, Spohr, Pixis, and Alkan. They have recorded many of these works.

They also are authorities on turn-of-the century American music through their performances and recordings of works by Beach, Foote, Still, Schelling, Loeffler, MacDowell, and Schreiber.

The Koopers own a valuable collection of original fortepianos, dating from 1785 to 1840. Their recent recording of 18th-Century Concerti for the Fortepiano, performed on antique instruments and recorded in Amsterdam, has been highly praised in the international press.

Mary Louise Boehm grew up in a small farming community in Iowa. Kees Kooper is a native of Amsterdam, Holland. They met in Paris when Kooper's pianist became ill four days before a scheduled concert and Ms. Boehm was asked to replace her. Three years later they were married.

The duo has been described as "one of the most exciting musical teams of our time . . .(with) unparalleled insight about how music works."

The Koopers entertain by giving private concerts in their New York apartment. Among the guests have been diplomats and representatives from the United Nations.

They also have a European base on the Mediterranean island of Mallorca, Spain. Their 250-year-old house in the ancient town of Pollensa is the scene of intimate concerts called "Conciertos Calvari," named after the famous street on which the house is located.

Recordings by the Kooper-Boehm Duo will be available for purchase following their concert.

Longwood's Department of Music is establishing the Pauline Boehm Haga Music Scholarship. Contributions to the scholarship endowment may be sent to the Office of Institutional Advancement, Longwood College, Farmville, VA 23901.

Two Artists Speak on Life

(Hampden-Sydney) – What are some of the problems married professionals face in satisfying personal ambitions and coping with each other's egos, without ignoring joint responsibilities?

Artists Robert Tynes and Bette Bates will show slides of their work and discuss how they deal with egos, marriage, and careers in an address entitled Two Artists Under One Roof, at Hampden-Sydney College, Thursday, October 5 at 7 p.m., in the Jones Rare Books Room of Eggleston Library. The lecture is open to the general public.

Mr. Tynes, a "Trompe L'Oeil" painter, is currently Artist in Residence at the University of North Carolina, Asheville. His style combines abstract background surfaces with super-realistic overlays. His recent exhibitions include a solo show at the Contemporary Museum in Honolulu and a group show at the Lillian Heidenberg Gallery in New York.

Ms. Bates creates mysterious and fantastic figures and circumstances in her drawings on paper. A solo exhibition of her work was shown recently by the Asheville Museum of Art in Asheville, N.C. Ms. Bates is on the faculty of UNC Asheville.

Longwood Speaks Out

Question: "What do you think about Condom Vending Machines on Campus?

1. "Now I'd guess they'd do a pretty good job! It would save someone going to the drugstore." — Kevin Carroway, Freshman

2. "Pretty good" — Edison Chin, Freshman

3. I think that's fine. Everyone has the right to do what they want to do. It promotes safe sex. — Zhan Caplan, Freshman

4. "I think it's disgusting. It's for a bunch of horny guys who have an active sex life. — Jennifer Whitmore, Sophomore

6. "If people take them seriously they oughta be on campus. I don't like mistakes. — Ronda Gibbs, Freshman

Features

IT'S ALCOHOL AWARENESS WEEK
OCTOBER 30th - NOVEMBER 3rd

SLOGAN CONTEST
WIN $20 FOR WINNING SLOGAN
ALL ENTRIES DUE BY 5:00 PM
MONDAY, OCT. 9th
TO DEBORRAH HEBERT
IN STUDENT SERVICES
(1st FLOOR TABB)

STOP AND THINK
BE SURE BEFORE YOU DRINK.

CLASSIFIED AD

If you plan to teach any grade/any subject, the Student Education Association is for you! Look for info in Wynne.

Help Wanted: Motivated, enthusiastic, responsible college-age students with Type I diabetes to serve as volunteer counselors at statewide family retreat sponsored by the American Diabetes Assoc. For more info, call Cathy (703) 989-7871 (days) or Jen (703) 568-4450 (nights). Cost of call will be reimbursed.

DOMINO'S PIZZA ® Nobody Delivers Better℠ 392-1820 LONGWOOD VILLAGE

12" PIZZA WITH ONE TOPPING
PLUS TWO ICE COLD COKES $5.99
ONLY ONE DICOUNT PER ORDER EXPIRES 12-15-89

DOMINO'S PIZZA ® Nobody Delivers Better℠ 392-1820 LONGWOOD VILLAGE

16" PIZZA WITH ONE TOPPING
PLUS TWO ICE COLD COKES $9.99
ONLY ONE DISCOUNT PER ORDER — EXPIRES 12-15-89

CONGRATULATIONS TO ALPHA DELTA PI & DELTA SIGMA PI ON THEIR TEAM EFFORTS IN WINNING THE DOMINO'S PIZZA PIZZATHON.

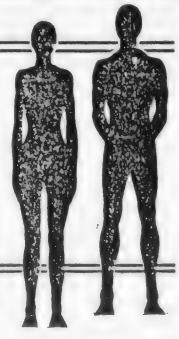
HELP WANTED

ACT IN TV COMMERCIALS
HIGH PAY
No experience...all ages — kids, teens, young adults, families, mature people, animals, etc. Call Now!
CHARM STUDIOS
1-(800) 447-1530
Ext. 514

HELP WANTED

COLLEGE/CAMPUS REPRESENTATIVE
Earn Top $. Flexible hours...enjoyable...rewarding...gross up to $20,000 per year by helping friends receive grants/scholarships. For info, please call: (213) 967-2115.

— FREE —
PREGNANCY TEST
All services confidential.
Same day results.
116 N. MAIN STREET
SOUTHSIDE PREGNANCY CENTER
24-HOUR HOTLINE
392-8483



THE OTHER STORE

"Oktoberfest"
SATURDAY, OCTOBER 7

BUY ONE SHIRT
AT THE REGULAR PRICE
GET THE SECOND ONE
½ PRICE

SPECIAL HOURS
9:00 - 4:00

PJ's TOTAL Body Shop

392-1492 or 969-3340
LOCATED BEHIND "SUNNY'S" Restaurant IN THE FARMVILLE SHOPPING CENTER.
• CABLE T.V. • NO MEMBERSHIP FEE! • TRAINER ON DUTY!
OPEN 9 A.M. - 9 P.M. • MON. thru SAT.
FREE MINI HOT TUB SESSION (WITH ANY PACKAGE PURCHASE Oct. 2-7)
OR 10% DISCOUNT - FOR COLLEGE STUDENTS ONLY

SlenderQuest™ TONING SYSTEMS

Tanning — WOLFE SYSTEMS w/ FACIAL — 10 Sessions ... $35.00
Whirlpool — HOT TUBS — 10 Sessions $45.00
Toning — SLENDERQUEST SYSTEMS — 10 Sessions ... $40.00

Features

Oktoberfest!

"Spirit . . . A Longwood Tradition"

Friday, October 6

Jarman	Play: Androcles and the Lion .....8:00 p.m.
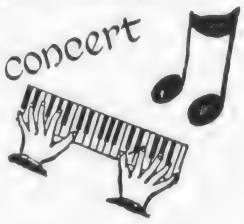
Iler Field	Comedian/Musician Pat Dailey.....9:30 p.m.



Saturday, October 7

Gold Room	Guest Registration .....9:00 - 12:00 a.m.*
Red/White/ Green Rooms	Academic Information Center .....
Gold Room	Campus Tours .....9:00-11:30 a.m. *
Bedford	Dean's Presentation.....9:30-12:15 a.m. *
	School of Education and Human Services .....9:30 a.m.
	School of Business and Economics .....10:15 a.m.
	School of Liberal Arts and Sciences .....11:00 a.m.
	Undeclared .....11:45 a.m.
Jarman	"The Money Game: Directions on How to Play" .....10:00 & 11:00 a.m. *
Golf Course	Williamson Alumni Golf Match .....10:00 a.m.
Main/High/Pine	Parade .....11:00 a.m.
Barlow Field	Alumni Hockey Game .....11:00 a.m.
Lankford/Stubbs Mall	Midway Opens .....11:30 a.m.
Lancer Cafe	Biergarten .....10:00-4:00 p.m.
Lankford/Stubbs Mall	Mainstage featuring Performances by Campus Groups.....
Lancer Field	Baseball: Virginia State .....1:00 p.m.
Bedford Gallery	Art Exhibit - "Barbara L. Bishop: A Retrospective"....2:00-5:00 p.m.
Jarman	Play: Androcles and the Lion .....4:00 p.m.
Lancer Cafe	Young Alumni Pizza Party.....5:00-7:00 p.m.
	Campus Socials.....8:00 until

*Admissions Office Programs for Prospective Students and Parents

Features

Upcoming Events

Tuesday - 3	Wednesday - 4	Thursday - 5	Friday - 6	Saturday - 7	Sunday - 8	Monday - 9
Dan Moldea Lecture "Mafia In America"; 7:30 pm, Gold Room, Lankford. Women's Tennis vs. UNC Greensboro; 3:30. Barbara L. Bishop: A Retrospective; 9 am-noon & 1-5 pm, Bedford. Mies Van Der Rohe: Drawings; 9 am - 10 pm, Showcase Gallery. W's 3-on-3 Basketball; Entries are Due - ller; Capt's meeting at 6:30 H-SC - CAC Lecture, "Violence In Sports", Crawley Forum, 8 p.m. Sweet Briar - Bistro Party with Michael Mulvaney, 8-12 p.m.	"Androcles and the Lion"; 8 pm, Jarman Auditorium, $2. Field Hockey vs. Wake Forest; 4:30 pm. Soccer vs. Mary Washington; 3:30 pm. Mies Van Der Rohe: Drawings; 9 am - 10 pm, Showcase Gallery. Barbara L. Bishop: A Retrospective; 9 am-noon & 1-5 pm, Bedford. H-SC - Movie, "Body Double" Johns, 10 p.m., $1 Hollins - Soccer vs. Randolph-Macon Woman's, 4 p.m.	"Fletch Lives" Movie - 7 p.m. Cafe'. "Androcles and the Lion"; 10 am, Jarman Auditorium, $2. "Androcles and the Lion"; 8 pm, Jarman Auditorium, $2. Mies Van Der Rohe: Drawings; 9 am - 10 pm, Showcase Gallery. Barbara L. Bishop: A Retrospective; 9 am-noon & 1-5 pm, Bedford.	Mies Van Der Rohe: Drawings; 9 am - 10 pm, Showcase Gallery. Barbara L. Bishop: A Retrospective; 9 am-noon & 1-5 pm, Bedford. H-SC - Soccer vs. Ferrum, 4 p.m. Sweet Briar - Dell Party with Noun Rationale, 3-7 p.m. Randolph Macon Woman's - Fall Weekend, Coffee House	Mies Van Der Rohe: Drawings; 9 am - 10 pm, Showcase Gallery. Oktoberfest Parade; 11 a.m.; Main/High/Pine St. Oktoberfest Midway; noon - 4 pm, Lankford Mall. Biergarten; 1 - 4 pm, Lancer Cafe. Catalinas; 1:30 pm, Lancer Pool. Catalinas, 2:30 pm, Lancer Pool. Oktoberfest Mainstage; noon - 4 pm, Lankford Mall. Children's Games; 1 - 3 pm, Wheeler Mall. Dance Company, 12:30 pm, Lancer Dance Studio. Dance Company, 1:00 pm, Lancer Dance Studio. Dance Company, 1:30 pm, Lancer Dance Studio. Golf Tournament; 9 am, golf course. Alumni Hockey Game; 11 am, Barlow Field. Young Alumni Pizza Party, 5 - 7 pm, Lancer Cafe'. "Androcles and the Lion"; 4 pm, Jarman Auditorium, $2. Barbara L. Bishop: A Retrospective; 2 - 5 pm, Bedford Gallery. Baseball vs. Virginia State; 1 pm, Lancer Field. Hollins - Hollins Horse Show, All Day. Mary Baldwin - Field Hockey vs. Randolph-Macon, 1 p.m.	Soccer vs. Atlantic Christian; 1 pm. Mies Van Der Rohe: Drawings; 3 - 5 pm, Showcase Gallery. H-SC - NASCAR "500" Race, Charlotte Motor Speedway, meet at Graham Hall, 5 am, $30.00 Hollins - Rockbridge Hunt Horse Show, All Day. Mary Baldwin - Agatha Christie's "The Hollow", Collins, Theater, 8 p.m. Randolph-Macon Woman's - dell Party with "Left Exit," 2-6 pm.	Mies Van Der Rohe: Drawings; 9 am - 10 pm, Showcase Gallery. "Fletch Lives", Movie; 6 pm, Lancer Cafe'. Chamber Music series presents Kooper-Boehm Duo; 8 pm, Wygal.' Indoor Soccer Officials: Applications Due and Meeting; IM Room, Lankford.

Features

Personals

Mitch — Who is it this week? — Your Neighbors

Ron — You're next! — Brian

Red and White, Put a fight, because Sally's in with the Green and Whites. With tradition Longwood — Green and Whites

Lar, — Do you know where your tooth brush is? — Guess

The Sisters of Alpha Sigma Tau welcome the Pledge Class of Fall 89: Ellen, Lynn, Kathy, Jennifer, and Margret! You've joined the BEST sorority! Remember — We love you!

Joe Doe — To the best pimp a ho' could ask for. Thanx for the Algebra lesson — Just remember 1+1=3. Keep up the good work at Joe Doe's House of Ho's! You still owe us our "Service Fee"! Love and Leather — Tease and Bimbo

Mish — Hey Baby! You're the best roomie! We've been through so much together and have survived!!. We couldn't have asked for a better hall or better suitemates!! Just remember "we're friends, we share!" (everything but Dennis!) — Love ya Baby! — Jan-Marie

Lucky, — Thanks for being there when I needed you. Just remember when I needed you. Just remember I wear the pants in this family. Now you take out the garbage. — Little Bimbo

Brian, — Are you SURE you're ready to settle down? After all everything you have is fake. — The other fake person

Laura Crigger, — I hope you're ready for this weekend — It's gonna be a blast! — Steph

Beeth head — See anything interesting out the window?

Vic — You can always hock the ring.

Brian — My trash can is full. — Thanks, Kan and Sue

Vic — Can you find something better to do with 4-6 hours? We know we can.

Mish — Study hard 'cause you're going to knock them dead next year. — Lovage Sue

Just Jimmy, — Come visit us!! Curry 314 Congrats on AXP! — Just us

Joey Smith — Hey Sweetie! It was great meeting ya. Good luck always and congrats with the engagement. Be good. Love ya — Jan-Marie Goofy — Hey Sweetness! I'm glad we found each other. You make me so happy!

"When at last I find you,
Your song will fill the air
Sing it loud so I can hear you
Make it easy to be near you for the things you do endear you to me — You know I will."

Love you always — Gumby

Jan-Marie, — I'm glad we decided to room together. It's a bit of fun despite what some people say. Just remember we're friends we share" Yup, Yup, Yup. — Love ya, Mish

Great Uncle Miten — Does your fling know you go around the house in your underwear? Just remember Donk, Donk, Donk. — Daughter #1

Mitch — Hey Unc.! That was quite a view of your BVD's! Thanks for being there for me. You're a real sweetheart and one hell of a terrific friend! — Love ya, Lil Tease

To all my girls, — Keep up the good work. This is looking like it's going to be a productive year. — Joe Doe

Sunshine, — Well it's been a month now, and you've survived. Maybe, just maybe, you'll make it the six months. — We'll see — Love, Owl Eyes

Amazon Woman, — Please leave Chris Anderson alone so that he can get to his designated destination on time. — Thanx the designated destination

J — You can run, but ...

Eli and Chris — Can I have the name Amanda? — Sue

Vic — HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Kan — Thanx for putting up with the wabbit and the people. You are the greatest. — Lovage, Me

Vic — When can we do that ride kind of thing? Maybe we'll even see another bear! — Lovage Your X

Debbie — Little itch — Happy birthday — Hope it was great!! (even if they didn't embarass you)!

Swooz, — Still waiting for quality. Probably will be for a while! — Ter

Lucky — Hickory Dickory Dock! I'm glad we're over that phase. You're a very special guy and you deserve the best. I'm glad we've become good friends! Be good and smile!! Love ya — Lil Tease

Joe Doe, — It will be a productive year (should there be an "re" on that) as long as you keep your end of the bargain. Remember: Payment in advance! Love ya! — D.B.

George — I said — "Damn and the air got thinner, Only thought in my mind was gettin" — NAH!! Hey sweetie I'm glad you're doing better. Smile Sweetheart!! Love ya Baby — Lil Tease

Chris, — Slept lately? Jingle, Jingle, Click — Me

Throughout this week of spirit try to feel you're near it.
Something old
Something new Something bottled
Something blue
Admist the bricks, you will find the spirit of CHI floats in your mind. But during this entire week, the spirit of Longwood you should keep.

Carp — I hope you had a good camping weekend! I know this is a little premature, but we are going to miss you in December! Take care and be good! — LDB

Kieby — I hope you are getting pumped up because your big weekend is on its way! Make sure not to have a full house in Kirby's Econo Lodge! Keep everything clean! — Confused

Ter and Steph, — Hope ya'll had a good weekend. Missed you. — Swooz

Tee, — Is it time for dinner, yet? I hear we're having Chinese? — Steph

Vic, — We're building excitment and shortening the long wait. Just remember that!! — Us

Larry — Did you enjoy the pretzels? — Sue

Klowns — Keep the SPIRIT!! — Sue

Mitch, — Can you make our 8:30 more entertaining? — Thanks, your neighbors

Amy C. — No pressure-no problem. We miss ya. — The toothpaste fairies

Congratulations to the 12 new pledges of Alpha Phi Omega! Welcome to our fraternity! — APO Love, Suzanne

Kelly Moran — Is it true that sailors have more fun? Is it the size of the ship, or how long it stays in dock??? — Alf

Chicken Man — Congrats on pledging "the" fraternity! Does this mean no more late night counseling sessions? So when is our beer chat? — Kathy and Trish

David P. — You're the one for me, To marry you ... Would be a dream come true — Just keep my phone ringing; and don't make fun of the way I taulk! — Jersey Girl

Valene — I hope you have a great birthday. Just think next year is the crawl. You are a wonderful friend and a great roommate. Have a great week. Happy birthday! — Love Stacy

Tony — I am so glad that you and I are becoming such good friends. I hope you have a great Oktoberfest weekend and a great birthday. — Love Stacy

Poo Bear: — Watch out for flying Lemonade! Make sure you don't sniffle too hard and are able to breathe. I hope you feel better soon! Just think in two more weeks you get a big surprise! I LOVE YOU! — "Your boy"

Squibby: — Hay there race car driver! When are you entering that fancy car in the demolition derby! Hope it's doing better! Good to have you back! — Dave

S and T, — Thanks for putting up with me last week! — Steph

Scott, — What time is it? Mike — Leave Terri's feet alone. Dave — Use protection next time! — S and T

CAO: — Ok so it's not a stix name I still think it would sound neat when yelled across a corn field. Remind me again ... that smell is coffee right? — Luv ya lots, The person you live with.

Despite all of the visits from parents wishing you luck for a bountiful weekend. — The Condom Fairy.

Robin Hood: — Weekend after Fall Break, no matter what right you know what they say, from the ashes of disaster grow the roses of success. Your eternal love, — Maid Marion

G.S.B. Jr: — Don't overwork yourself, you Don Juan you

J. — Just say CHA! — T.

Traci T: New Boyfriend equals end of P.M.S.

Kaarin S: While the cat's away, the mouse will play!

Trish Sheldon: Heard you have a new pet hampster. Was that the squeaking coming from your room?

Kathy S: Watch out, statutory rape rules apply to girls, too.

Jamie Motley Definition: W-H-I-P-P-E-D

Karen Dolan: Tye Mi Shoo, Kawen?

Mark & Mitch: Done any dishes? Make sure your leashes don't get crossed.

Bryan West: Can we borrow your credit card?

Rachael in 406 Curry, I have been watching you from afar. I would like to meet you. Please call 3391 ask for P.A.

Kathleen Badger: Whaaaat a Babe!

All fellow Democrats and Liberals, join me for an important and informative meeting at my home, Tues. Oct. 3 7:00 p.m. 705 A Oak Street. Jesse in '92! ! Thank you, William Gaines

Mike Edge's year:
9 months of school
3 months of soccer
2 days of S_X
Having a girlfriend is great!
Love, Dance Party, USA

The real "Penthouse suite:" Party times are here again. Glad to see everyone back. This weekend will be rockin.

Kathy, — Rest well, take it easy. Hope you feel better soon. — Your GDI b's and s's.

R.A.D.: — Sorry to hear about Big-Brother, It's ok, she didn't fit the bill anyway.

P?H: — Relax, get some sleep, your wench is in good hands.

Eric/Scott: — Welcome back. We'll see you, the crew, and captain Plookard around Oktoberfest.

Big Chief — I love you — Little Squaw

To my early morning "pledge" caller: I wish you didn't hang up on me. I was enjoying our conversation. I answered all of your questions now it's my turn ... next time don't hang up on me. I'll be waiting to hear from you.

Features

Personals

Mary Francis — I know I'm not supposed to say, "Thank you" when you listen or let me sleep on your floor, but I mean it and thus I'll tell you again and again.

To the Sisters of Alpha Gamma Delta — Though the only words I can say are, "Thank you" as payment for your friendship and standing by me always remember you're my family and I need you. — RJL.

Greg — Your a great RA and mega-pal — Rene

Beth Camillo — Just for being here ... thanx — RJL

Holly and Debbie — I miss you guys! You know where I am, so come and visit! Love, — Your ex-suitemate Rhonda

Kirsten K., — Congrats on your engagement!!! He is a great guy. Tau Love, — Your sisters in AΣT

Elyse, — After your long FLING ... It's about time he gave you a ring. Congrats on your Preeeeee - engagement. — AΣT Love and ours, Kirsten, Kris, Rhonda, and Sharon

To the sisters of Delta Sigma Theta — Thanks for the great time. Next time the party is on us. — The Sisters of AΣT

The Sisters of AΣT would like to congratulate all the sororities on a great rush. Good luck pledges!

Chris — Jingle, Jingle, Click! — You know who!

Notice: To all campus organizations. Art Works, Inc., will make buttons for your organization at the cost of 1 dollar per button. If you have any questions or requests for a button design, contact President, Cheryl-Renée Whitehead at Box 1144 or 303 Stubbs.

Aunt Kris Rossi, — Congratulations! I'm glad they named her after us. — Ree

Steph and Vonda Kay — Thank you for everything you guys did. It's nice knowing that there are people who do care for you out there. Thanxs again — T-N-T

Timothy Dale B. — I'm here for you whenever you need someone. I love you — T.S.H.

Chris — The quest continues for the name ... — Me

Eli — Sleeping? — You know who!

Sue — Have fun klowning around! — Lovage, VIC

Kan — Do we have to go to Myrtle's class? — Lovage - VIC

CONGRATULATIONS!!! Way to go new Alpha Gamma Delta pledges, you made it. Great decision. Get ready for learning, growing, FUN days ahead. — Love your, Alpha Gamma Delta Sisters

To all the brothers and sisters of Gamma Delta Iota — Thanks for being there! Why pay for friends when the best things in life are free! Being yourself is all that really matters. Follow your heart, not the crowd. Gamma love is true.

Jackie, — How is the "Herpes"? I'm sorry Suicide made you think you were diseased. I'm glad you are feeling better. — Your Peabody's buddy

Congrats to the new AΔπ Pledges. You're awesome. — Pi Love, Beth

To Noel L. — For someone so cute you sure do cock an attitude. Lose that temperment and maybe we could talk. — Guess who?

All the sisters of Alpha Delta Pi would like to congratulate all of our new awesome Baby Pi's.: Carrie Holland, Terri Gilbert, Pam Oglevee, Amy Mariner, Stephanie Shoemaker, Dania Baber, Joi Berenguer, Katherine Bledowski, and Donna Bobbit. — π, AΔπ Spirit

Hey Becky! — Thanks for everything you done for me! I'm glad we can talk open to each other. I hope things work out for you and K. I'm sure they will, this time!! I'm here for you if you need me. Love ya tons — Sara

Sharon — I'm here to Fluff you up! Your hair looks fine, flea bag! — Elyse

Robin Egg — Thanks for being there bug! You're a great roomie. (Oh I like your boy friend too.) We're having an extra psychological affair. —AΣT Love, Elyse

AHOY Kate, — CHIP visited yesterday when I saw him I SCREAMed, "POPs dating a TART." At that time a CIN of MIN ROLLED in. I wanted them to leave, but we could BAR NONE. — The Vendor Patrol

Stephanie Powell — I continued to ask myself the never ending question "Why me"? But, I've finally come to realize that certain people just aren't worth it. Thanks for having faith in me and helping me to have faith in myself. You always seem to be there when I need you most (i.e. Sat. night) Sorry to put you through that all the time — hopefully that'll be the last time. You're wonderful!!

Sue, Kan, Vic, and Eli — 3rd floor just wouldn't be the same without you party animals! — S-M-ail

Amy N. — So have you seen my little friend? Football! — S-M-ail

Charlie Warner — You're a super Greek Affairs Guy. I appreciate all your help and support during RUSH. Longwood is proud to have you. You're the BEST! — Sherri

Congratulations to the new pledges of Sigma Kappa: Laura Coxon, Maria Hahn, Nicole Jesser, Jane Lawrence, Andrea MeSick, Jan Musgrave, Kellie Rutherford, Stephanie Smith, Shelley Stansbury, Stephanie Steininger, and Kristy Syverson. I love you! Your advisor, Sherri

No. 11 — You don't know how much you have hurt me. Once again, my heart has been broken. I'm sorry. I love you very much, so I'm going to let you have your freedom. If you're wrong and I'm right, you will be back. I'm waiting. I love you! — Love, S.J.H.

Terry and Howie — Thanks a bunch for your concern; it has meant so much to me! I hope I can count on you guys if I need advise or just to talk. Take care and maybe things will work out?!? Thanks again. Love ya — Sara

Hey Guys, — I've got leather and lace very pretty face. I like a man that's HOT. So if you think you're strong and can play all night long, come on boy, why not? — Leather Queen

Susan D. — By the time you read this, you may know who I am, If not, you'll know very soon. You're awesome and I love you, Sigma love, — Your big sis

Penny — So many guys to choose from all at once! Which one is your TRUE LOVE??? Have fun deciding! — Becca

Kevin — Happy nineteenth birthday!!! (Oct. 6th) — Rebecca

Hey, J. B. — Lookin' forward to our awesome akronized fall break. We gotta go search for that PERFECT LITTLE BLACK DRESS (for under $50, please). — Love ya, Bek

Dave Holtzman — Been with any Blow-Up Dolls lately? — Love, Us

Claimus — Thanks for being so supportive of me through my beer goggle experience. You didn't have to laugh so hard! Just remember that at least I was drunk, but you were sober when you went out with Hotorsped. Ha! — Your best buddy

Booner — How much satisfaction did you get from seeing Tarzan soar like an eagle and then crash and burn? How about those rope burns? — Poonie

Amus — I'm so glad that you're my roomie again. Our last year is going to be awesome. It's time to start making those goals and conquering them, or should I say "Him" — Aawwhh! — Loveage, Pennis

Tammy Rose — Your Secret Sigma Loves You!

Booner — I enjoyed the bonding experience, but more than the average of 12.5 times per day is a little more than I can handle! — Pearlene

Davey P. — Want a date? You drive. Oop's, forget. We'll walk. — Your woman

Bob Hood, — Is it a girl? You like her don't you? Don't you?

Chris M. — You big spartan warrior, you. — Love, Alexander

Dr. Challender, — I think I'm in love with you! Have you ever thought about teaching some GRADUATE classes? Remember how much I love Edgar Allan Poe. — An Alumni and Admirer

The sisters of Alpha Sigma Alpha are proud of their Red Hot Pledges — Jayne Adair, Sandy Alford, Kirsten Baum, Carol Campo, Cari Hanzl, Happy Hull, Tracey Lowery, Heather Mauck and Monique Voehringer.

Dr. Maria Silveira — Though not a grand or elegant note, your time, love and dedication for your masterpiece of a cake for Dr. Dorrills' inauguration is appreciated. Not only for the tasty icing or batter, but for exibiting the love for Longwood we shall all strive to attain.

Slimer: You're the best thing that ever happened to me. I'm so glad we fell in love. You'll have all my love forever. Love: Krick

Kodak and the Sock Shaver: You two are great roomies!! Keep on smiling! Love ya: Krick

Brian: Hey do you have any secrets for me? Oups I mean surprises? You're friend on 8th floor

Congratulations Kiesten on your engagement, Elyse on your "trinket". Robin on that Psile lavalier, and Dana June 1, 1990. We'll all be there to throw yellow roses at your wedding. — Tau the sister and pledges of AΣT

Dear Elyse, hope this week is better than last! Cheer up Katie and Robin — AΣr

Cathy Hines — No DT's for you until you're foot heals! I'll be watchin you Wascally Whootebager. — Tan Wahwah Wobin

P.S. Wanna bagel?

KM — You are way behind on your scammin. By now you should be up to double digits. — RB

Owl Eyes — So you found the first note card? That's ok! I still say let's make it work. — Love S-M-ail

Sharon — If the "right" man walked into your life and his first name started with an "S", what would you do?

ALPHA SIGMA TALL would like to congratulate Rhonda Wall for achieving the highest cumulative GPA and Cheryl-Renee Whitehead for achieving the highest semester GPA for the spring 1989 semester.

ALPHA SIGMA TAU would like to congratulate the members of the 3.0 GPA Club: Vicki Ellis, Robin Burroughs, Megan Janney, Rhonda Wall, and Cheryl-Renee Whitehead.

MW — This may seem awfully petty, but please don't hug me if you're sweaty. — RW

Brian — It is almost a schnapps night! — Me

Greek Affairs

Delta's Lose Charter

By CHRISTY HIERHOLZER

The Deltas had never been a favorite of the administration, labeled as sort of a "rebel" fraternity they kept the administration on their toes always ready for a new dispute to arise concerning this particular fraternity. That day finally arrived, known as Wild Turkey Day to the Deltas. It falls on the first weekend of the spring semester. A lot of their alumni showed up for this celebration. The school, in turn, suffered considerable damage. Windows were broken, doors were kicked in and a water fountain was busted. No one was charged individually for these acts, instead the whole fraternity had to suffer. The next semester they were able to take pledges, but their social privileges were taken away.

The next incidence occurred the day they got their social privileges back. They had a golf party which had lasted all day and that night about a half a dozen brothers went to Pi Kap Chapter room. After being refused to be let in a fight broke out, this action caused them to lose the recruitment of new pledges for the fall semester of 88. Again, the whole fraternity was charged for the acts of certain individuals.

The Deltas realizing that they should try to make amends with the administration admitted to letting pledges in without a 2.0 grade point average. Marvin Ragland, who was their advisor at the time, said this would be a beneficial move. It turned out he was wrong. The school said the only reason the Deltas admitted to this is because they were backed against a wall. The school then began procedures to take their charter away.

The Delta Sigma Phi nationals were contacted and four people Scott R. Cooper, Mike Wims, Ed Rodrigez, and Loren Perlstein showed for the meeting. At this time the Deltas had no advisor. Marvin Ragland was in transition into another job, so it was only Eion Kelley, Delta Sigma Phi's president, who had to defend the whole fraternity.

Out of this meeting came the 9-point plan, which upon completion of this plan, the fraternity would not lose its charter.

The first point on this plan was completed between these dates and after a 5 minute meeting with each brother one was placed on disciplinary probation and eight on academic probation.

The second point was also completed, but it also took the greatest amount of time to complete. Sue Saunders, Dean of Students made arrangements with Scott R. Cooper, director of Fraternity Services for the fraternity to make personal apologies instead of a written apology concerning the initiates without grades.

The third point wasn't followed through by nationals, which was, of course, not the fraternity's fault, so this point overall, was ignored. The fourth was honored by their nationals, Kurt Allen was sent to give a speech on leadership, the school sent no one. The fifth was also completed.

The sixth point didn't even coincide with the colleges requirement of all other fraternities to have a 2.0 to be initiated. The pledges of Delta Sigma Phi had to receive a 2.4. Three faculty members came and spoke on academic improvement. Charlie Warner, head of Greek Affairs, never offered any help. One phone conversation was held between Charlie and Eion suggesting that all brothers with a grade point average under a 2.5 go to every professor and get the grades and the number of classes they missed for that month and have Charlie sign it. This, of course, was never confirmed and plus the men in their fraternity felt their grades were their own responsibility and not Charlie Warner's.

The seventh point was completed by holding three non-alcoholic events with Alpha Sigma Alpha Delta Zeta and Zeta Tau Alpha. Again, this was done completely by Delta Sigma Phi without any help from Charlie Warner.

The eight point was the meetings with the Coordinator for Greek Affairs which were all attended by both Eion Kelley and Charlie Warner. Charlie never asked how the program was going, nor did he ever offer assistance.

Believing they had all points completed the brothers of Delta Sigma Phi had gone well beyond the stipulations of this plan. They also held a can and clothes drive for their philanthropy, a bike ride for special Olympics and packaged bags of food as a community service. All of this, which was not included in the Nine Point Plan took a lot of time and effort and was initially to show the school that they wanted to work things out and put past grievances behind them.

The nine point plan was reviewed. Still, Eion had no advisor, and thus was still defending his fraternity against the members of the administration. A fault was found in the completion of this plan. One black sorority Delta Sigma Theta and one black fraternity Phi Beta Sigma were not formally apologized to as a group. The brothers, not aware they were to contact this fraternity and sorority had failed completion of the nine point plan according to the administration.

This is what caused the charter to be taken away. All of the hard work and effort the members of Delta Sigma Phi put into this nine point plan was essentially thrown down the drain.

On May 3, 1989 Sue Saunders received a letter from Delta Sigma Phi nationals recommending removal of the charter since all 9 points were supposively not completed. On May 18, 1989 Charlie Warner wrote back to nationals.

This letter shows that they were ready to remove the charter even before the Grand Council was addressed. Also they plan to separate these men as much as possible," like they're outcasts of the school. Even Dave Rettig was given direct orders that no Deltas were to live in Cox. Here are some of the school activities these so-called outcasts are involved in:

Bill Johnson – Resident Assistant

Kevin West – Resident Assistant

Scott Hovermale – Vice Pres. of SGA, Resident Assistant

Matt Sisk – Treasurer of Senior Class, Honor Board Chairman, Treasurer of IFC

John Kelsey – Pres. of Junior Class, Honor Board member

Matt Culbertson – Pres. of Sophomore Class

Greg Marshal – Treasurer of Sophomore Class

Tim Anderson – Vice Pres. of Greek Council, Vice Pres. of IFC

Pat Harrison – Honor Board member

Joey Azero – Honor Board member

Chad Smith – Resident Assistant

The members of Delta Sigma Phi weren't informed of their charter being removed until June 7.

The charter has been taken and the members live both on and off campus, even their letters were taken out of the dining hall.

Now whether the procedure was done fair or correctly is up to one's own discretion, but these are the facts and because of this incidence it reflects badly on all members of the Greek society both as individuals and as a whole.

Writer's note: I personally went to see Charlie Warner to talk about this incidence. He said that both he and Sue Saunders wanted to talk to me. I left my name and number and was never contacted.

EATING RIGHT IS HIGHLY LOGICAL.

Recommendations: Eat high-fiber foods, such as fruits, vegetables, and whole grain products. Eat fewer high-fat foods. Maintain normal body weight. And live long and prosper.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

Sports

Player of the Week

BARBIE PRETLOW

For solid performances in Longwood College's last three games, freshman goalkeeper Barbie Partlow has been named Longwood College Player of the Week for the period Sept. 24-Oct. 1. Player of the Week is chosen by the Longwood College sports information office.

In her very first intercollegiate contest, Partlow stopped two Georgetown penalty strokes and made 20 saves in a 3-1 Longwood loss. Despite Longwood's showing last week with a tie and two losses, Partlow chalked up a total of 50 saves and allowed just three goals for a 94 save percentage in the three contests, all on turf and all on the road.

A 1989 graduate of Shawnee High School, Partlow is the daughter of Robert and Margaret Partlow of Medford Lakes. Majoring in secondary education, she played on state and South Jersey championship teams in high school.

Monthly Payment Plan Due

Deadline for signing up for the Monthly Payment Plan for the spring semester 1990, is October 20. Applications can be obtained from Fran Wilmoth in the Treasurer's office or Cashiering and Student Accounts between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Many students and parents have found paying school expenses on a monthly basis an attractive alternative. The plan is available to any full time student.

Should you have questions about the plan, contact Fran Wilmoth at 395-2272.

Lady Lancers Field Hockey

Two goals in the final eight minutes just weren't enough for the Longwood College field hockey team to bring down James Madison as the Dukes won 3-2 at James Madison Sunday afternoon. The loss finished a rough week on the road with the Lady Lancers picking up a tie and two losses to drop their overall record to 2-4-2.

Longwood returns to its home field on Wednesday to host Wake Forest at 4:30 p.m.

Goals on Sunday were scored by senior Liz Annet and sophomore Theresa Platte with assists provided by sophomore Ellen Binswanger and senior Beanie Felch, respectively.

Saturday, Longwood and Lock Haven battled to a 0-0 tie in double overtime at James Madison. Freshman goalkeeper Barbie Partlow turned in a sterling performance in the goal, chalking up 19 saves. For Partlow's performance in the Lady Lancer's last three games she has been named Longwood College Player of the Week by the Longwood College sports information office.

Over three games, she made 50 saves and gave up three goals for a .94 save percentage. In addition, she stopped two penalty strokes against Georgetown in her first intercollegiate contest.

The Lady Lancers lost to Georgetown 3-1 at Georgetown last Tuesday. The lone Longwood goal was scored by Platte.

After this Wednesday's Wake Forest game, Longwood travels to Randolph-Macon on Friday.

This Week's Schedule

Tuesday 10/3 — Women's Tennis: UNCG (3:30)

Wednesday 10/4 — Soccer: Mary Washington (3:30). Field Hockey: Wake Forest (4:30). Women's Tennis at Meredith (2:30).

Thursday 10/5 — Men's Golf: Radford (2:30).

Friday 10/6 — Baseball: at Richmond (1:00). Women's Golf: at JMU tournament. Field Hockey at R-MC (4:00). Women's Tennis: John Jay at Williamsburg.

Saturday 10/7 — Men's Golf: Williamson Alumni Match (9:30). Field Hockey: Alumnae Game (11:00). Baseball: Virginia State (1:00). Women's Golf: at JMU Tournament.

Sunday 10/8 — Soccer: Atlantic Christian (1:00) Men's golf at Rhododendron Classic. Women's Golf: at JMU tournament.

Men's Soccer

After recording a 1-0 loss to Virginia Wesleyan Wednesday and a 1-0 victory over Lincoln Memorial Saturday, Longwood's soccer team will face one of its biggest games of the season Wednesday when nationally ranked Mary Washington visits Farmville for a 3:30 contest.

While the game matches two teams which have dominated Virginia College Division soccer in recent years, much more is at stake than just bragging rights. Both the Lancers and Eagles are members of the VISA Eastern Division and trail first place Shenandoah (3-1) which has completed its division slate. The loser of Wednesday's game will be all but eliminated from the VISA Playoffs (top two teams from Eastern and Western Divisions qualify).

The Eagles, ranked 11th in Division III last week, beat Longwood twice last season with the second triumph coming by a 3-0 count in the VISA title contest. Lancer coach Paul Sidhu will be pulling against his brother Ranjit who is a senior back for Mary Washington. The Eagles boast an All-American midfielder in Shane Shackford.

Saturday, Longwood put together one of its top efforts of the season while shutting out visiting Lincoln Memorial. Sparked by the inspired play of Rodney Funk, Longwood owned a 13-5 edge in shots and a 10-3 margin corners for the game. The Lancers, despite a 9-1 shot advantage and seven corners, were unable to score in the first half.

Only freshman Rich Kloska was able to score. Kloska knocked in a goal with 32:35 left on an assist from Ray Jones and the Lancers made the score stand up. Goalkeeper Steve Thompson notched his fourth shutout of the season and had several crucial saves in the final frantic moments of the contest. The Railsplitters sank to 3-5-1 for the year.

Get Involved in Crop Walk

As one of the coordinators for the upcoming Crop Walk for hunger that is held annually in the community, I am writing to ask for your personal help and the help of your organization or dorm hall in this important event. We are very thankful for the tremendous support Crop Walk has received on the campuses for the past several years that the event thas been held. The commitment of people like yourself to aid in bringing relief to those who experience hunger in the world and in our local area has been a key element in making Crop Walk a success in our community. We hope to continue that success this year with the upcoming Crop Walk, scheduled for Sunday evening, October 22, a 2 p.m., beginning from in front of Jarman Auditorium at Longwood.

For more information, write me, Rev. Allen Breckenridge, P. O. Box 91 H-SC or through Longwood's Campus Mail - "Episcopal Campus Ministry".

25% of the funds raised stay here in the Prince Edward County area to aid the hungry of our community, especially women and children. We are asking specifically that you act to enlist one or more volunteers from your organization who will work to get a commitment from your group to participate in the Walk and to enlist as many of the group as possible to solicit sponsors for the walkers. It is a 10K (6.2 mile) walk - an easy-paced jaunt, leisurely spent on a nice fall day (God willing!) meandering along shady town streets through various parts of the community, and conversing with friends and strangers alike. It really is a community event and a great opportunity to show your organization's colors, to carry banners, posters, etc.

We hope you will please take some time to get a representative or two to commit to the following:

1. Attend the recruiters Rally on Thursday evening, Oct 5, at 7:30 p.m. in the Wesley Campus Ministry Center, located across from French Dorm and Joaney on the Poney. Bring as many folks out to this as you wish, as it will be a time to boost energy and learn a little about the hunger issue, and to learn about the process for recruiting walkers and sponsors.

2. Return the attached slip to my campus box (P.O. Box 91 HSC or through Longwood's Campus Mail — "Episcopal Campus Ministry"), indicating your representatives name, P.O. Box and telephone number.

3. Commit to work and enlist the organization to participate as fully as possible in the walk on Oct 28.

We do appreciate your help and concern for this important matter. Through my work in the community, I can tell you that in Prince Edward County alone there is much hunger and malnutrition, and each person's help with this walk does make a difference! We hope to receive word of your organization's willingness to participate in these events and to join with us on Oct. 22 to walk for the hungry.

Features

Tips for Financial Aid

The cost of college tuition continues to skyrocket. Some of the nation's top universities are charging more than $85,000 for a four-year education. Landing financial aid is becoming more of a necessity than an option. Here are some simple tips on how to obtain money for a good education.

1. Contact your college financial aid office for a list of financial options. There are also credible companies, like College Financial Planning Service (CFPS), who provide lists of available grants, loans and scholarships for a small fee.

2. Analyze your financial situation honestly and apply for as many programs as you are eligible. Fill out the forms accurately.

3. After selecting a good financial aid package, negotiate improvements with your college financial advisor. Also thoroughly investigate alternative means for more support.

College Financial Planning Service has a data base of more than 180,000 listings of scholarships, fellowships, grants and loans. It offers information about donations from corporations, memorials, trusts, foundations, religious groups and other philanthropic organizations.

To enter the program, a student can call 1-800-346-6401 to request a "student data form." It must be completed and sent to CFPS with $45 for the research fee. In about two weeks, the student will get a personalized computer print-out of financial aid resources that matches his or her background.

Many scholarships are based on academic interests, career plans, family heritage and place of residence. There are also many unique sources such as money for students who have been golf caddies or newspaper carriers.

In the words of one financial aid expert, unique opportunities for monetary support do exist, you just have to be creative and resourceful in finding them.

Androcles and The Lion

By JONATHON CHURCH

Set to open this Wednesday night, Androcles and the Lion is a play for the underdog, the villain, the comic, and the romantic. While the villains don't triumph at the end, like the other three, they receive their fair share of enjoyment from the audience. Guess director Rex Stephenson coordinates the many elements in the play to provide a delightful show.

The whole play is set up to grab the audience, especially the younger theatregoers, before a word is spoken. The set, designed by James Gross, is centered around an eye catching gypsy-type wagon. Later in the show the wagon's parts unfold and move for a variety of ingenious special effects. The cast is costumed to complement the stage with the "Zanies" wearing material straight out of Saturday morning animation. The effect is to give the players and stage the headstart they need on capturing the children's attention and interest.

The actors do the script and stage justice by never letting the pace slow or the attention wander. Like that all too familiar blockbuster of this summer, themost interesting character may be the villain. Daniel Ellis (Pantalone), and Dave Richards (The Captain) give the heroes a delightfully horrible time, as both actors have perfected their roles. The heroes however, are quick to adapt to the underdog position and triumph over the villains with a smile. Kaddy Feast (Androcles) and Kim Graves (The Lion) do a great job of playing off each other. In the end, it is the heroes who carry the show and provide the energy the audience needs. But don't forget the lovers, though they are most number three on the totem. Emily Roderer and Tony Wright (The lovers Isabella and Lelio) prance about the stage with poetry, song and sighs that convince both characters and audience of their melodramatic love. The Narrator (Vern Williamson) and the Zannies (Strawn, Williams, Davis and Codding) round out the show providing insight, comedy and their bodies as stage props.

What the play lacks is a small bit of vocal talent. Children probably won't notice (and the play is really for them) but the play's weakest point is the occasional song. The actors who sing could polish their solos up to be on par with the incredible acting, but they all do manage to get the point of their song across Androcles and the Lion runs Wednesday through Friday at 8 p.m. and on Octoberfest Saturday has a 4 p.m. matinee. Longwood students are free with a college ID and Seminar students are reminded that the play can fill part of course requirements.

French Art at H-SC

(Hampden-Sydney) – Drawings and prints from the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries depicting scenes from the French Revolution will be on exhibit at Hampden-Sydney College's Eggleston Library October 10-31. The exhibition, entitled The French Revolution— The First Revolution for the Rights of Man, brings to life a great moment of French history. The French Revolution signaled the end of two centuries of absolutism and the beginning of the conquest for the natural and inalienable rights of man. The exhibit is sponsored by the College's history department and is made available by the Embassy of France in celebration of the Bicentennial of the French Revolution.

Commentary

(Continued from page 2)

Wilder called the popular Reagan Administration economic policies the "nightmare of Reaganomics".

Doug Wilder is the most liberal candidates for Governor the Virginia Democratic party has ever nominated. His record shows that he is against almost all of the policies that are important to Virginians. He is weak on crime, his record supports this, but in 1985 when he was accused of being weak on crime he called his opponent a racist. This will be his fallback defence in the elections this year.

Doug Wilder will break his promise of no new taxes if he gets elected. He doesn't know how to raise state revenues without a tax increase. He has continually rejected the success of Reaganomics and the supremacy of Supply-Side economics.

Doug Wilder is campaigning on a platform that embraces a wide number of transportation initiatives for Virginia. But this is election year pandering as only Wilder can do it. He has rejected numerous transportation plans that, if implemented when they were proposed, would have lessened the transportation woes of today.

Doug Wilder is a true disciple of the Welfare Commonwealth idea. He has been against most of the modest welfare reform efforts to date. Virginia must fight to be comparable with the rest of the nation.

Unlike many of his Republican counterparts, Doug Wilder has not elaborated on an education, or anti-drug, policy for the Commonwealth. This vagueness and lack of ideas is not what gets someone elected in Virginia.

Doug Wilder is very much like other liberal Democrats we have seen a lot of lately. He will sound conservative while campaigning, but he is in reality he is a member of the ultra-radical Jesse Jackson wing of the Democratic Party. Doug Wilder runs to the right wing whenever he seeks a higher office, but returns to his liberal ideology once the election is over. In 1989 he must be sent back to private life to think about his liberal ideas.

Doug Wilder's record speaks for itself. He is weak on crime, anti-transportation (thereby anti-Northern Virginia), he is against fiscal conservatism and against fiscal responsibility, he is against welfare reform, and he is for higher taxes. He will try to attempt to fool the electorate with a delicate illusion of conservatism. But this illusion will be rudely dispelled when he has to answer for his past. He will tell Virginians that he is one of them but; he is the living antithesis of what all Virginians believe in.

Shut Up and Dance!

Tryouts were recently held for Longwood's Drill Team, the Lancer Line. Thirteen members were selected for this year's squad. We would like to congratulate the following people:

Susan Beckwith
Joi Berenguer
Tracy Butts
*Michelle Coronett
Angie Dourbush
Jill Godfrey
Holly Kitchin
Monica Mencini
Sherry Perkins
Stacy Pierce
*Cherie Rabern
Seandra Sahley
T.C. Schendel

(* denotes captains)

The squad would like to thank all those who participated in tryouts. It was a very hard decision.

The Lancer Line has a very busy schedule ahead of them this year. All half-time shows of men's home basketball games will be performed at, along with a few women's games. Another addition to this year's agenda will be Hampden-Sydney football games. Scheduled performances are Oct. 21 and Nov. 4.

With Oktoberfest as the beginning of our season, we will be selling baked goods and Kool-aid. Performances will be held during the parade and also between activities on the mall of Stubbs and Lankford. Routines are to be a Depeche Mode, mix and a Romantics Top Hit "That's What I like About You."

We are very excited for our year to begin. The squad has an exceptional amount of talent and dedication this year. We will be practicing 3-4 times a week allowing for an increase in the difficulty levels of dances. Many new stunts have been added.

The Lancer Line hopes to impress everyone this year and wishes for the support of all of Longwood.

The Rotunda

Longwood College

VOL. 69 NO. 5 | OCTOBER 9, 1989 | Farmville, VA

Oktoberfest Is A Success

Geist members do a traditional German dance Saturday afternoon.

More Photographs, page 4

By HEATHER YEATS

Oktoberfest '89 was a tremendous success not only due to the workings of Geist, but also the numeous organizations and individuals who helped throughout the year.

Geist would like to congratulate the midway winners: Longwood players 1st, Sigma Alpha Iota 2nd, and Artworks 3rd. Congratulations also goes out to our parade winners: Ambassadors 1st, Pi Kappa Phi 2nd, and Lancer Line 3rd.

Special thanks and congratulations goes out to our '89 klowns and spirit leaders. You both were wonderful groups full of energy and spirit.

Klowns: Tanya Ashman, David Gileitz, Sue Hantwerker, Colleen Hobbs, Kerry O'Malley, Theresa May, Nancy Patrick, Andrea Sawyer, Amy Scott, Carla Shreaves, Dana Thomas, Kristene Whitlock, Suzanne Kallighan, Hope Murphy.

Spirit Leaders: Sr. Mike Porter, Kalli Lucus, Leah Payne, J. Scott Hovermille, Luigi Agistino, Danielle Felch, Jr. Rene Lowe, Stacy Crockarel, Martine WashKo, Jay Wingold, Mike Whitford, Mike Whitford, Tom Walker. So. Rhonda Chism, Betty Jo Murane, Bradley Pomp, Shawn Smith, Spencer Dickens, Nikki Jesser Fr. Becky Ruth*, Jack Thompson*, Terry Higgins, Zhan Kaplin, Shannon Daniel, Betsy Rice.

Honorary Spirit Leaders: Mrs. Dorrill, Barbara Simmons, John Thompson, William Lynn, Dr. Jordon, Shorty Giles, Lynette Jennings.

The wonderful MC for mainstage was Debbie Vaughn. Thank you!!

Also congratulations to Greg Caulder who was selected to be Geist Meister for the day. Thank you!!

Last, but not least, the color games were very successful. Even though the weather was a bit chilly the people carried the spirit of their classes well. The final winners in a close match were the Red and Whites. Congratulations!!

Swimming Test Reminder

Just a reminder to students (especially seniors who plan on graduating in December).

The swim test is offered every Tuesday and Thursday, 12:45-2 p.m., at fifteen minute intervals, by appointment. If these times are inconvenient, due to class schedule conflicts, please call my office (2566) and another test time will be arranged.

An appointment calendar will be posted on the Lancer Hall blue bulletin board (Aquatics) directly outside the entrance to the pool passage door. (Room 133)

Students are requested to make an appointment at least 24 hours in advance by recording their name in an open time slot.

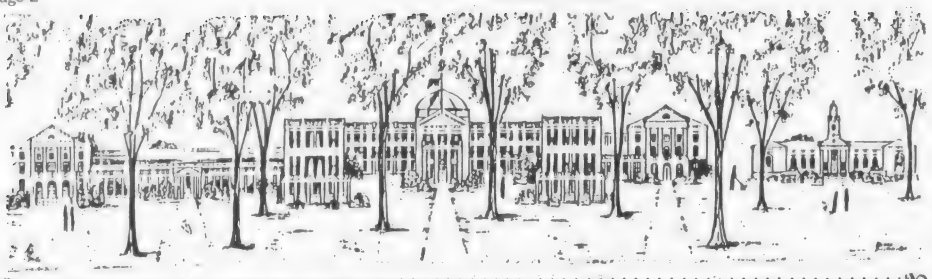
Those students who possess any current water safety certifications should bring their certification cards with them to the test.

A picture I.D. is required for any student wishing to take the test.

Programs Scheduled to Promote Self-Image

Jenny Taubman, Image Consultant & member of the Longwood College Foundation Board will present two programs on Thursday, October 12. The first program is for students and will be held at 12:45 p.m. during lunch in the Virginia Room. Students are encouraged to go through the line and bring their lunch to the Virginia Room. The second program will be at 3:30 p.m. in the Gold Room of Lankford. This program is for all faculty/staff.



Jenny Taubman launched her consulting practice, PERSONAL IMAGE, after three years of extensive research in September, 1981. A model herself, she has had extensive study in fashion design, cosmetology, and the history of art, color and proportion.

What began as individual "personal packaging" with local clients soon evolved into requests from businesses for group employee seminars. The success of these presentations— for both men and women— rapidly brought requests from banks, large and small corporations, colleges and universities, professional organizations and club programs. She has appeared on PM Magazine, WROV Radio and articles have appeared about her service in The Roanoke Times & World-News.

"When you first enter a room, you have only one opportunity— one moment that belongs exclusively to you", says Jenny Taubman. "Seize the moment"— you'll have to work very hard for the next one." An executive once told her he never hired anyone badly groomed, because his work might match the appearance. Jenny Taubman's role is to teach individuals confidence in their own judgment and image, leading to self-assurance. She advises people how to use their appearance as a tool to gain self- confidence.

Contents

Commentary 2
News 3, 4
Features 5, 6
Calender 8
Sports 7

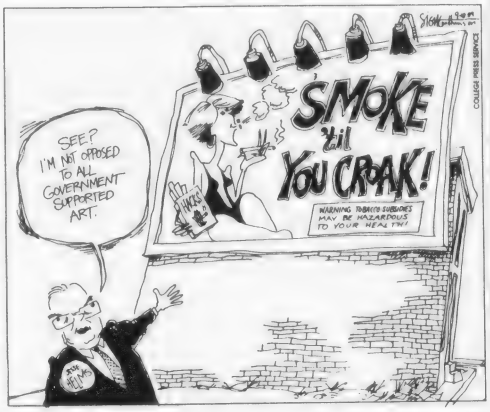
Commentary

Personals Attack

Dear Editor,

You know what irks me about the Personals? Silly girls use it as a sounding board for their complete and utter triviality. Lord. Ever have a flat tire? Ask one of those giddy gals to come on over and help you inflate it. They must have about 40 pounds per square inch in their heads. "Like ya' know, Jennifer and I got so trashed Thursday night. We musta drank about four coolers a piece. Then Brad and Chris came over and we took a walk until Jenn puked all over their pick-up truck. Gah! Did her mascara run?"

What is "Sigma Love"? Where can I get some? Is it liquid or solid?



"Oh cool, let's wear our jumpers tomorrow. Let's all get some imprunted stationary, cups, key chains, buttons, and tamponsl"

Don't take me as a chouvinist, any level headed woman would probably agree (maybe get a little upset at the tampon thing). It's just that I feel like sticking my face in a sausage grinder.

Andy Rooney
Drinking Georgie Dickel

Address withheld for fear of being trashed with combination jangly ID holders.

Name withheld upon request.

Third Annual History Forum

WILLIAMSBURG, VA— Special rates are offered to college and university students and faculty who wish to attend the third annual History Forum at Colonial Williamsburg Nov. 2-4.

The discounted registration fee of $50 per student includes all activities on the program except the closing luncheon. The reduced faculty registration fee is $100.

The special student and faculty registration fee covers sessions in the Williamsburg Lodge auditorium, special tours and evening programs, four-day passes for the Historic Area and two receptions.

The special rates also include optional discounted lodging at the Governor's Inn, a Colonial Williamsburg hotel, at $50 per night, plus tax, for 1-4 persons per room.

The History Forum will employ an experiential method of education for the first time this year. Participants will explore the 18th-century origins of the modern welfare system through a program of interactive vignettes in the Historic Area.

Using the funeral of a Colonial planter as a starting point, the series of vignettes will feature Colonial Williamsburg character interpreters portraying individuals with strong economic ties to the deceased planter— his widow and other family members, the planter's slaves and creditors. Through observation and conversation with the interpreters, participants will discover how 18th-century Virginia cared for survivors. The vignettes will also provide insights about the assumptions and habits that drove the Colonial economy.

The History Forum will focus on the new republic's first 50 years, when the country's leaders tested, debated, and reshaped basic assumptions inherited from the Revolution about wealth and poverty as they faced the challenges of economic depression, financial panic, explosive population growth, fierce competition in international markets, a second war with Great Britain, industrialization and expansion to the West. Many of those issues, beliefs and commitments continue today.

The History Forum will feature Charles Murray, noted author and analyst of American social welfare policies and government's attempts to solve the problems of poverty. Murray's Losing Ground: American Social Policy 1950-1980, published in 1984, provoked lively debate over American poverty and its causes and cures that continues to this day. His 1988 book, In Pursuit: Of Happiness and Good Government, examines government, social policy and roles of the individual, the family and community.

Murray, a Bradley Fellow at the Manhattan Institute for Policy Research, will lead the History Forum session, "American Poverty, Then and Now," intended to bring the discussion into the present with a look at American poverty and government policies toward it since World War II.

The keynote address for the History Forum, "The Emerging New Nation," will be delivered by John L. Thomas, professor of history at Brown University. Other topics and speakers include "The Wealth of the New Republic" by Professor Edwin J. Perkins, University of Southern California; "Urbanization and Industrialization," Professor Sean Wilentz, Princeton University; and "The Reform Impulse," Professor William J. Rorabaugh, University of Washington at Seattle.

The audience will be encouraged to comment and ask questions following each of the formal presentations.

Registrants will have free time to tour Colonial Williamsburg museums, craft shops, exhibition buildings and Carter's Grove.

Inquiries should be addressed to the Registrar, Colonial Williamsburg History Forum, Post Office Box C, Williamsburg, Va. 23187, telephone (804) 220-7255.

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
R. Bruce Gantt

Photography Editor
Jan-Marie Johnson

Sports Editor
Lindy Seymore

Business Manager
Sarah Tetterton

Advertising Manager
Jill Loges

Features Editor
Monica Gilbert

News Editor
Stephanie Neeley

Faculty Advisor
William C. Wood

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be signed, typed or printed neatly, state the author's years, and major as applicable.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 395-2120.

News

Peer Helpers Open Door to Students

A new service for Longwood, the Peer Helper Program, just opened its doors to students on Monday, September 18.

Peer Helpers is a nationwide program that seeks to make a positive change within high schools and colleges by allowing for communication among students about controversial topics or problems encountered in everyday life. The Longwood Program was established in the spring semester of 1989 by coordinators Bill Wilson and Bobbi Pethal. Sixteen Longwood students were chosen to receive training in areas ranging from the development of effective listening skills to dealing with depression, suicide and drug and alcohol abuse. The aim of Peer Helpers is to give students an alternative to conventional counseling by offering them trained and informed members from their own peer group with whom to share problems and concerns.

All information given to Peer Helpers is completely confidential. However, in the case of serious problems such as suicide and drug abuse, the proper referrals will be made to the Student Counseling Center.

Students wishing to make an appointment to talk with a Peer Helper can stop by the Peer Helper Office located in Ruffner or call 395-2657. Office hours are from 12:00 - 5:00 Monday thru Friday.

Transforming The Traditional Curriculum

By Public Affairs

"Transforming the Traditional Curriculum: What Place for Women and Minorities?" is the subject of this year's first Faculty Colloquium Lecture at Longwood College.

A trio of women administrators at Longwood will give the lecture on Wednesday evening, Oct. 11, at 7:30 in Wygal Auditorium. The public is invited to attend the lecture.

The speakers are Brenda Cross, director of minority affairs; Kathe Taylor, executive assistant to the president; and Dr. Sarah Young, assistant vice president for academic affairs and director of Longwood's Learning Center.

The lecture will deal with "the rich body of scholarship on women and minorities" and the impact these studies can have on the traditional college curriculum.

The speakers say that "conventional, historically constructed categories of analysis have failed to emphasize experiences of more than half of the human population." They will suggest "some alternate frame-works for organizing perception and interpretation."

As a part of "balancing the curriculum for cultural diversity," the speakers also will discuss "re-evaluating classroom climate and teaching strategies."

Ms. Cross directed Longwood's pre-college program from 1986 to early 1989, when she assumed her present position. She has been a high school French and English teacher, an account executive with a California radio station, and a market administrator with a telecommunications company. Her B.A. degree in modern languages is from Talladega College, and she received the M.S. in guidance and counseling from Longwood in 1988.

Ms. Taylor came to Longwood in 1983 as a student development educator. She received an Employee Achievement Award in 1985 for her contributions to the orientation program for new students. She assumed her present responsibilities in the President's office in 1986. Her B.S. degree is from the University of Delaware, and her M.A. in college student personnel administration is from the University of Maryland.

Dr. Young joined the Longwood faculty in 1971 and directed the social work program for three years. She was appointed assistant vice president for academic affairs in 1983 and became director of the Learning Center in 1988. She received her B.A. degree in social studies from Greensboro College, the Master of Social Work from the University of North Carolina, and the Ph.D. in instructional systems from Florida State University.

Spies Out in the Cold

By Public Affairs

"Spies Out in the Cold" is the topic of the next International Studies lecture at Longwood College.

Dr. Robert Suggs will give the lecture on Tuesday evening, Oct. 10, at 7:30 in Bedford Auditorium. It is open to the public free of charge.

Dr. Suggs will talk about German-Soviet military operations and intelligence gathering during World War II.

The speaker has held a variety of research and management posts in government, the military, and private research and development organizations, working in the area of national security.

His special interests are Soviet open-source publications as indicators of current Soviet trends and policies, and Soviet submarine and reconnaissance activities in Scandinavia during World War II.

Dr. Suggs was an enlisted Marine during the Korean War and later received a direct Naval Reserve commission. He retired from the military with the rank of captain.

His undergraduate and graduate work in anthropology was done at Columbia University, where he received the Ph.D. degree in 1959. He has conducted archeological field work in Polynesia for the American Museum of Natural History and has excavated prehistoric sites in the eastern U.S.

Dr. Suggs is an advocate of physical fitness and has been a karate instructor for more than 20 years.

Ford Foundation Awards Fellowships To Minorities

The National Research Council plans to award approximately 25 Ford Foundation Postdoctoral Fellowships for Minorities in a program designed to provide opportunities for continued education and experience in research for Native American Indians and Alaskan Natives (Eskimo or Aleut). Black Americans, Mexican Americans/Chicanos, Native Pacific Islanders (Micronesian or Polynesian), and Puerto Ricans. Fellows will be selected from among scientists, engineers, and scholars in the humanities who show greatest promise of future achievement in academic research and scholarship in higher education.

In this national competition sponsored by The Ford Foundation, citizens of the United States who are members of one of the designated minority groups, who are preparing for or already engaged in college or university teaching, and who hold the PhD or ScD degree may apply for a fellowship award of one year's duration.

Awards in the Ford Foundation Postdoctoral Fellowships for Minorities Program will be made in the behavioral and social sciences, humanities, engineering, mathematics, physical science, and biological sciences, or full interdisciplinary programs compromise of two or more eligible disciplines. Awards will not be made in professions such as medicine, law, social work, library science, and such areas as business administration and management, communications, health sciences, home economics, journalism, counseling, personnel and guidance, and education. Tenure of a fellowship provides postdoctoral research experience at an appropriate not-for-profit institution of higher education or research of the Fellow's choice. Appropriate institutions include universities, museums, libraries, government or national laboratories, privately sponsored not-for-profit institutes, government chartered not-for-profit research organizations, and centers for advanced study. The deadline for submission of applications is January 12, 1990.

The enclosed program announcement, which contains detailed information about the scope of the program and the terms of the awards, may be used to publicize the competition. All inquiries concerning application materials and program administration should be addressed to the Fellowship Office, GR 420A, National Research Council, 2101 Constitution Avenue, Washington, D.C. 20418.

Ohio Art

By Public Affairs

Thomas Hilty's works on paper and David Cayton's clay sculpture will be featured in the next exhibit in Bedford Gallery. Both of the artists are professors of art at Bowling Green State University in Ohio.

Their exhibit will open Oct. 18 and continue through Nov. 17.

Hilty's works are very large graphite and pastel drawings. Amie Oliver, exhibits coordinator, said Hilty is recognized nationwide for "his impeccable draftsmanship and his complex interpretations of the human figure."

In a statement about his work, Hilty said: "I conceive of art as suggestion, interpretation, and stimulation to the imagination and senses, rather than as a literal description which leaves nothing for the viewer or the medium itself to contribute."

Cayton's work "is centered around an imaginary find of new artifacts from an early culture."

He says that he finds "the enrichment of a surface a very inviting and stimulating process." On his free-standing clay sculptures, "birds and animal forms are elevated to a place of honor but treated as metaphor."

Both Hilty and Cayton have shown their work in many national and international competitions and exhibitions.

Hilty has taught in Florence, Italy, and at the Cleveland Art Institute, the Chautauqua Art Institute in New York, and in many seminars, workshops, and demonstrations. His work has been featured in American Artist magazine, Art News, Physician and Patient medical journal, and other publications.

Cayton is a co-founder of Bethel Pike Potters, a group of artists that has been featured in Ceramics Monthly magazine. Cayton taught at Ball State University before going to Bowling Green, and his work is included in 150 Years of Indiana Art.

The Hilty-Cayton exhibit is sponsored by Longwood's Department of Art, with the support of the Longwood College Foundation and the Longwood Fine Arts Center.

Gallery hours for the exhibit are: Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m.; Saturday and Sunday by appointment. To arrange a weekend visit to the gallery, call 395-2284.

News

The sisters of Sigma Iota Tau sing Longwood's Alma Mater to the crowd during the Parade.

Alpha Sig brother Damon Burd makes a big spash for charity at the "Sink a Sig" booth.

Green and whites prepare for the color war. Some green and whites came fully prepared for battle!

Snorkin

The bank will take him away as soon as I finish repaying my student loans.

Features

Music Review
The Pogues
"Peace and Love"

The rowdiest bunch of lads to ever come out of the United Kingdom, the Pogues have redefined what the average listener thinks of Irish music. Combining reliable folk riffs with punch lyrics and just plain dance-your-ass off music to get highly inebriated with, the Pogues have come up with a potent new form of music. Call it progressive, alternative, folk-rock, and my favorite Gaelic punk, it doesn't really matter.

Dispensing with the operatic vocal styles of Bono and the boys, the Pogues are a raucous, rocking and rowdy band. Consisting of eight members, they're also one of the biggest outfits recording today. Consisting of Spider Stacy, Terry Woods, Andrew [illegible]anken, Shane MacGowan, [illegible]rryl Hunt, Philip Chevron, [illegible]es Fearnley, and Jem [illegible].r, the music is rich with style and diverse in its taste. The opening track on "Peace and Love" is a horn-driven instrumental entitled Gridlock. Bright, bouncy, pouncy, and fun are just some of the adjectives that come to mind.

The standouts on the album are "Young Ned of the Hill," "USA," and "Lorelei." The third song on the album, "Young Ned of the Hill," showcases the pent-up anger regarding the occupation of Ireland, that started Cromwell and continues to this day with the British army. "Since Cromwell pushed us westward/ To live our lowly lives/ There's some of us have deemed to fight/ From Tipperary mountains high/ Noble men with wills of iron/ Who are not afraid to die/ Who'll fight with Gaelic honour held on high." Definitely fierce words for a controversial subject. If only the British government would heed the will of the Irish people and get the hell out of Ireland.

"USA" is a drinking sign that Shane MacGowan, lead vocalist, has termed a tribute to the American Spirit and to the American tavern. "I found a love/ She gave me dreams/ She left me drunk/ In New Orleans/ So cold and lonely/ So alone," snarls MacGowan. A song for the drunkard and the brokenhearted.

My personal favorite is "Lorelei." A melancholy song that recalls the days of adventure sailing on the high seas seeing the great wooden ships. In the end, it is a love song, but the effect of music and the lyrics make it a potent and aural delight.

On the Edison MacGill music-making scale, the Pogues rate a five. It's a great disc campers, I highly recommend you pick up a copy to listen to the next time you're alone and want to get drunk and kick up your heels.

Edison MacGill
Rotunda Music Critic

Personals

ME — Even though we don't speak to each other, there's no denying that it was an awesome friendship. Too many memories to forget. — Truth?

Lisa — Thank you for always listening, it almost seems like a never ending saga. You are a great friend or should I say sister?? BK this week! Have a great fall break. Until next week — Be careful and don't get lost — Love, Stacy

Marcus — Ha, Ha I got to see the Pixies and Love and Rockets. Guess what. I really had an extra ticket. I'm just kidding. By the way, try calling at a reasonable hour!! My roomie would appreciate it.

Matt — I'm so glad we worked everything out and I still have your friendship. Thanks for the memories. Remember. I'm always here to talk to. Roamin!!! — Stacy

Poo Bear – Thank-you for a wonderful year together! Being with you has made it special, you're the greatest! You get your surprise this week! I love you and happy anniversary! "Your boy"

Chaz – You're still the best GAC! Keep up the great work with the Greeks, Hang in there! Love, a friend and co-worker.

To our crazy climbing buddies,
"Living on the edge
we made the commitment move and we survived."
From Lori, Alison and Pledge.

Search for Ten Outstanding College Women

In View, Whittle Communications' publication for college women, announced today a contest that will award $2,500 to each of ten college women for outstanding accomplishments beyond the classroom.

The awards are sponsored by Maybelline and will be given to women who attend accredited four-year colleges or universities.

"We are reaching beyond the scope of traditional awards for academic excellence to reward initiative, integrity and the desire to enrich the lives of others," said Mara Covell, editor of In View.

The awards will be given in five categories. There will be two winners and one runner-up in each. The categories are:

- •Outstanding contribution to community service
- •Triumph over personal adversity
- •Outstanding contribution to the preservation of the environment
- •Outstanding achievement related to academic interest
- •Outstanding contribution to interracial harmony and understanding

The ten winners will be selected by a panel of distinguished individuals representing accomplishment in the five categories and the editorial staff of In View. The winners who will be announced next May, will each receive $2,500 in cash and be interviewed for the April/May 1990 issue of In View. The five runners-up will receive certificates of recognition and acknowledgment in the April/May issue of In View.

Contest entry forms and rules are available in the September/October issue of In View, which are now available on college campuses nationwide.

Anyone unable to locate an entry form or who needs more information may write or call Ms. Stephanie Green, In View Awards Program, Whittle Communication, 505 Market Street, Knoxville, TN 37902. 1-800-251-5002 Ext. 5188. In TN 1-800-255-1330 Ext. 5188. All entries must be postmarked no later than December 1, 1989.

In View is published five times during each academic year and distributed on four-year college campuses. It is unique in that its mission is to help college women function smarter by offering fresh insights and information on the things they care about most ... emotional life, family relationships, friends, careers, sexuality and health.

Let your Voice be heard at Dining Hall Advisory Council

Are there things in our dining service here at Longwood you'd like to see changed? If your answer is an emphatic "YES!" then LISTEN UP! On Thursday, October 12 at 4 p.m. in Blackwell Dining Hall all those interested can come help get their suggestions for improvement underway. Last year ideas for things like our omelet bar, Philly steak sandwiches, and frozen yogurt came from students who came out and made a difference for everybody. Don't miss your chance to do the same!

Administrator for A Day

You can be an "Administrator for a Day!" On Thursday, October 19, you can "shadow" the student affairs administrator of your choice. If you want to learn more about careers in housing, residence life, counseling, student development, career planning, admissions, or student activities, sign up today with Niki Fallis, CPPC, 395-2063, or Mary Kaye Benton, student Development Educator, 395-2414. Deadline to sign up is Friday, October 13.

HELP WANTED

ACT IN TV COMMERCIALS
HIGH PAY
No experience...all ages — kids, teens, young adults, families, mature people, animals, etc. Call Now!
CHARM STUDIOS
1-(800) 447-1530
Ext. 514

Lonely?
Need a Date?
Meet that special someone today!
Call DATETIME
(405) 366-6335

80,000 PEOPLE GAVE SOMETHING TO THE IRS THIS YEAR. AND THEY CAN'T WAIT TILL NEXT YEAR TO GIVE AGAIN.

They volunteered their skills to people who needed help doing their taxes. And it made them feel great.

They weren't necessarily accountants. They were people, like you and your club or group members, who have a basic aptitude for math and a desire to help others.

You know, you can help people with what taxes them. And feel great, too.

To find out about the free IRS training program call 1-800-424-1040 now.

A Public Service of This Publication & Ad Council
Internal Revenue Service

Sunny's
CAFE CASABLANCE
Farmville Shopping Center
OPEN:
MONDAY -SATURDAY
11::30 - 2:00
5:00 - 9:00
Now Mexican Food And Beers!

Features

Personals

Becky C. — You are such an AWESOME DANCER! Your friendship is sooo special. I'm always here for you. — Love, your dance partner!

A. M^{e}S. — maybe in a few years we can have a reunion of all the people that add that bit of excitement to your life. This includes Kathi, Kurt, Rob, Karl, and the New Year's crip. You know, Tom and Eric will probably be there already! — Love, your roommie

Ashley — I'm so happy with AΔTT. You are the BEST BIG SIS I could ask for!!! Every little step...Pi LOVE & Mine — Joi.

Lancer Line — Keep up the great work, we look awesome! Cherie and Michelle, thanks for all the hard work and dedication. Get psyched for b-ball season! — Joi

Lauri and Martine — You got an awesome Sigma Kappa Pledge in Andrea. She will make ΣK proud. Take good care of my roomie! — Love, Joi

COSMO — It's finally here! We knew it would happen, now it is! Just think, less than three months until 1990! — The Cat in the Hat

Dread Lock — Holy Time-warp Batman! It was twenty years ago today! It's back to the garden! — The Cat in the Hat

Zonker — Heard you tripped over your own feet looking for vitamin "A", keep your equiliptudinal coordinates for Selma! — Cozmic Charlie

Kat in the Hat — Thank goodness they put a Bee Gees selection on the juke box in the lower dining hall — Cozmic Charlie

Tracey — I really enjoy the time we spend together and I am looking forward to wherever our relationship leads us. Just remember to "Do your own thang" and to "Pump, Pump, Pump it up" as much as possible when you're out on the dance floor. I'll see you Thursday in class when we are doing our thang in Aerobics. — S.M.W.

Chris Mullins — Basketball season is almost here. But, don't fear for "Big Brother" is always near. Watching and waiting, she's lovin' that rear!

Sue, Kan, and Vic — The tooth fairy came to see me and dropped off some extra paste...want some? Miss you guys! — Loveage, Aim

To the girls in room 318: Stop making those phone sex calls.

Don, — Enough of those air biscuits already! — Signed, A desecrated Roommate

Princess Tippy Toes — Twilla is having a crying fit because she wants to eat cigars and God won't let her.

Klowns — SUPER, TERRIFIC, WELL DONE JOB!

No. 11 — Welcome Home! I missed you; it's good to have you back — ABJBK

Cindy, Robin, Sharon and Sue — We may not be the best bowlers in class, but at least we have fun! Keep smiling! — Debbie

Tex — Here's your personal you asked for. What else did you want me to say? Oh, yeah, something about a cute tush? — Me

Scott Lukehart — Did anyone ever tell you that you have nice eyes? — An Admirer

Susie Bain — I justed wanted to tell you that I think you are very attractive, and I am watching you. — From your secret admirer

Tall Half of the Brainbusters — Watch your hand when someone's in the torture rack! — D^2

Sara J. H. — Guess What? I let him have his freedom also. He came back to me; you won't be that lucky. He's right and you're wrong.

To my Freshman Buddy Karen Green, — Hope things are going well for you. If you need anything just call. I promise to be a better Junior Buddy in the Future! — Beth Dillon

To my Freshman Buddy Tracy Butts, — Congrats on Lancer Line. I promise to be a better Junior Buddy in the future. I'm always here for you! — Beth Dillon

To the 'Conch Masters-in 836 — You are awesome suitemates. We love you. Watch out NJ. Here we come. — Lovage, The Conch Masters in 834

Lib — You are an awesome roomie and an even better BEST FRIEND. This year has been great. Thanks for always being there. I love ya! — Your-Sigma-Pi Twin Kevin — I don't hate you! — Love, The Conch!

Kevin — You are only eli-iggghhhteeen! — We love you anyway — 6 floors up!

To the sisters of ΣΣΣ! I love yalls guts! — Guess Who!

Congratulations new pledges of Zeta Tau Alpha! You guys are the best! — Zeta love — Trisha H.

Kelli — You're still the best little sister! Have a great day! Tell your roomy "Hi!" — Love your Big Sis

To my Boy — Finally a personal from me. Sorry it has taken so long. I hope you have a great birthday on Thursday. Thanks for a wonderful 12 months. I LOVE YOU! — Beth

Gina Marie — Fall Break will be awesome. Can't wait to take OUR BITE out of the BIG APPLE! — Love — "The Suite"

To "Bernice Neeser" (Denise), — I just want you to know you are "the tihs" when it comes to friends! — Love ya lots, Missy

Eddy — You're a big teddy bear! — Guess Who

Pennis, — You're the best roomie ever. This is our last year together and it is going to be awesome. Just remember, blue shoes and tiny socks are in. — Love, Amus

Catalinas, — Congrats on a great Oktoberfest show. I am very proud of you all. Thanks for working so hard. — Love, Amy O'

Poonie, — He's got it! You want it! Go get it! — Booner

Nova lea, Jetty Bo, Tapricia, — Hi ladies, hope you all had a great weekend. I miss being silly with you guys. — Love, Me

Johnny, — Stop the secret handshake, you're making Pennis nervous. — Amus

Pearlene, — Randy Travis, marshmallows on fire, tap dancing, and talking about Aaawh- ring a bell.

Booner, — What's tall, dark, and Handsome and clumsily swings from a vine? — Love, Me Jane

Lisa, Lisa, — When does your "play pen" officially open?

Hey KT, SD, and AC — CHET LIVES!!! Da-dum, da-dum... Aaaaaaaaahhhhhhh! — BULLz

To the Handy - Dandy Car Repair Man — Thanks for traveling with me. Hope you have a great birthday. (And anniversary) Too Bad she will be with me and NOT you! — Love, Squibby

T.L.E., — Your theory is wrong!! Not all guys are jerks — I finally met an exception. Thanks for all of the advice, I appreciate it very much. You are a great friend. Keep smiling — E.R.T.

Mitch, — You are a really great guy, even though you like the wrong team. I'm not a sore loser — there will eventually be a time for you to cry on my shoulder! — Troy's Sis

Barbie — You make us so proud. Keep up the good work Miss Field Hockey! - 2nd floor TABB

Margaret — New Jersey, ready or not, here I come! — Nancy

2nd floor TABB — Thanks for showing your spirit last week! — Nancy

To the Great Sigma Kappas — Those GDI's think we buy our friends. If we do, I haven't paid enough for all the love, caring, and good times I've had with you. All my ΣK love (and of mine), — Lauri

Congratulations to Ginger Sanderson (President-Elect) and Traci Trim (Treasurer), new Virginia State Council for Exceptional Children Officers.

John, — You're "a gracious gift of God". I'm so glad we fell in love! These have been the best seconds of my life! I wish that we could spend more time together this semester. It's so hard to spend so much time apart, but if we can both wait ... The best times are sure to come. I hope you can stick by me for this last semester and then I'm all yours. I don't ever want to lose you, you're the one I wanna go through time with! You're the "caramel" of my eye. John, I love you! — Love, your Golden Rose Danette

Sara, — I just wanted to say thanks for being such a great friend and roomie. Your advice and great sense of humor has gotten me through some tough times this semester - thanks for being there. Don't worry about #11, everything will work out just fine. I'm here if you need me — remember - no G.P.'s!! — Love ya, Becky

Lucky, — I am really glad that we met two weeks ago. You are a really sweet guy, and I enjoy all of the special times we spend together. There is only one thing I ask ... and that is that next time you will have to take care of me! Thanks again for the roses last week — Love ya, Lucky 4 Me

Brainbusters — I have recovered! Ready for a rematch? This time I can tag out! HELLO! — Challenger(s)

Ruth — Wanna cruise Hampton-Sydney? (Smile) — Triple D

P.S. I gotta get a new nickname!

Danielle, — Happy 18th birthday! Now that you are considered an adult, stop star-gazing- we know you are happy!! Have a great birthday! — Love, your Roomies

Mark, — The past 14 months have been the happiest of my life. You are my future! I love you with all my heart. — Deanna

Sar, — Just remember I'm here for you and I'll understand, even if it means 2:30 a.m. and staying up all night. The least you could do is give me some Visine. Things will get better — 1 year 2 months!!

Sharon Riek — If you wipe "that word" off your forehead, I'll take the footprints off of my back! Thanks for taking care of me! — Love, Woof-Woof

To the Awesome "LC 10S" team: Honté, Jim Bob, Sue, Jetson, etc. Thanks for making the last season a great one for me. We make good shots on and off the court! — Love, Fancy

Boney Maroney, — Black lace garter belt, fingers through his hair, early morning phone calls, tender loving care, mirrors on the ceiling, grapes and jello too; total plus kisses who IS this someone new?

Shelley (A-K-H Shorty), GOTCHA! — The Matchmakers

To Patty, — Looking forward to knowing you better. I am so glad you are my BIG SISTER!! — Lots of Δz Love, Missy

Lost: One best friend and tagteam partner named Dina. I miss you! Love, Pennis

Dave, — Happy 19th birthday. — Love, The Conch!

Sports

Men's Golf

Longwood's men's golf team completed a perfect fall season in match play by whipping Radford 295-305 in a home match last Thursday.

The Lancers shined as four players shot in the 70s, with senior Scott Wiseman leading the way with a 72, one shot behind Radford's Tom Burgess, medalist for the match. Wiseman shot an even-par 34 on the back line.

Freshman Frank Davide turned in his second good performance in a row by shooting a 73. Junior Jeff Smiley and senior Tony Good also played well, scoring 74 and 76, respectively. Smiley had three birdies on the back nine and joined Wiseman in shooting even par on the back side.

Freshman John Benton,81, and junior Darrell Nichols, 86, finished up the team scoring for the Lancers.

Playing as individuals, but not adding to the team score, were senior Hank Kim, 75, freshman Joe Stanley, 83, and sophomore Steve Crute, 89.

"We played very well, and had good conditions to play under," said Coach Steve Nelson. "Any time you can break 300 as a team, you have to feel good."

SCOTT WISEMAN

Women's Tennis

The Longwood College women's tennis team wrapped up a successful three-match week with a 9-0 victory over John Jay at Williamsburg on Friday afternoon. The Lady Lancers boosted their record to 4-4 with the win.

In addition, Longwood defeated Meredith 6-3 Wednesday afternoon after dropping a 9-0 match to UNC-Greensboro on Tuesday.

Picking up singles' wins in both the Meredith and John Jay contests were sophomores Tracy Hogan and Suzie Lawman and freshmen Jenny Holm and Jenny Profitt. Last week's doubles' winners at Meredith and John Jay were Hogan and Holm and Profitt and Lawman. The doubles combinations of sophomore Heather Leach and senior Linda Swe picked up a doubles victory against John Jay.

The Lady Lancers will make up two matches this week to finish off their fall schedule, traveling to Randolph-Macon on Tuesday and hosting Meredith at 2:30 p.m. on Wednesday.

Women's Golf

Longwood's lady golfers shot 335-332-323-990 to finish fourth out of eight teams in the James Madison Invitational Friday through Sunday at the Country Club of Staunton. JMU won the event with a 317-304-315-936.

Daphne Sole and Anna Radford were Longwood's top golfers in the 54-hole event. Sole tied for sixth place in the individual standings with an 82-80-78-240. Radford, playing as an individual (her score didn't count in the team total), was among the top five the first two days of the tournament and ended up shooting a 77-80-84-241 for ninth place. Also for Longwood Ashley Warren shot 85-88-81-254, Ami Schonauer 85-80-81-246, Sherry Evans 89-88-83-260, Heather Hartwick 83-84-87-254.

This week Longwood takes part in the Lady Kat Invitational Thursday through Saturday in Lexington, KY.

Player of the Week

For solid performances in Longwood's last three outings, senior golfer Scott Wiseman has been named Longwood College Player of the Week for the period Oct. 1-8. Player of the Week is chosen by the Longwood College sports information office.

Wiseman started his big week off by shooting a 3-over-par 72 in a dual match with Radford Thursday. He led the Lancers to a 295-305 victory in the contest. Saturday he came back to shoot a 75 as Longwood fell to an alumni team 298-305. Sunday, in the first round of the Rhododendron Classic in West Virginia, Scott shot a 77 to lead the team to first place after the first of two rounds.

A solid performer and a team leader, Wiseman came to Longwood from Louisburg College two years ago. Most Valuable Player on the team last season. He had an 83.1 stroke average last season and has lowered his average to 77.4 this fall.

A graduate of Millbrook High, Wiseman was a member of the 1985 State Champion team. He had a stroke average of 77.5 that season. He also played on a conference championship team at Louisburg and received All-Conference honors.

A business management major, Scott plans to pursue a career as a professional golfer.

Men's Soccer

Longwood soccer had another 1-1 week with a 6-1 win over Atlantic Christian Sunday and a 2-0 loss to nationally ranked Mary Washington last Wednesday. Ray Jones and Todd Dyer scored two goals each as the Lancers pulled away from out-manned Atlantic Christian. Junior Mitch Rubin had his first career goal and soph Ed Regan also scored. Jones, Regan, Ted Doran, Brendan Nash, and Rich Kloska all had assists for Longwood.

The Lancers had a 23-3 edge in shots and scored four goals in the second half, after leading 2-1 at intermission. Coach Paul Sidhu praised Regan, and freshmen Jason Casano and Ted Doran for their play against the Bulldogs Sunday.

This week Longwood faces a tough game Tuesday at Hampden-Sydney. Longwood has totally dominated the series between the two teams in recent years, but the 1989 Tigers are much improved while the Lancers are having an off-year.

Hampden Sydney Soccer

This Week

Oct. 3 Soccer at Washington & Lee — 4 p.m.

Oct. 4 Water Polo, LYNCHBURG — 7 p.m.

Oct. 6 Soccer, FERRUM — 4 p.m.

Soccer

Coach Shawn McDonald's booters dropped a pair of one-goal decisions last week, 3-2 in two overtimes to Christopher Newport and 1-0 to Guilford. The Tigers, who had won three straight, are ranked fifth in the South Region. Now 5-3 overall and 2-1 in ODAC play, Hampden-Sydney faces conference foe Washington & Lee Tuesday in Lexington.

Intramural Highlights

BY JEFF SYKES
Staff Writer

Campus intramurals are in full swing. Men's Flag Football kicked off the action, with both the A and B leagues fielding more than eight teams. A talented Mystic Option team defeated Pi Kapps I to earn the A league title, with Mafia finishing in third place. In the B league, Fledgling Phoenix triumphed over the Fussballers to take first place honors, and Velvet Underground ended in third place. In volleyball, the men's two on two tournament provided plenty of hard hitting competition. After several weather delays, David Brockwell and Alfred Imperato emerged the champions after beating the Alpha Sigs' Stewart Knott and Joe Miller.

Men's Three on Three Basketball is still in progress, with the Boinkers awaiting the winner of Pi Kapp I versus Team in Bracket number one. Bracket number two has the Tarheels and Phoenix battling for the right to play an undefeated Showtime team. Sweetpea and the Homeboys is the team to beat in the B league, and the Warriors and Hams are playing for the opportunity to meet them in the finals.

Other sports that are just underway are Men's Bowling, Women's Flag Football, Women's Three on Three Basketball, and Arm Wrestling. The Intramural staff is also offering an Aerobic Fitness class that runs three to four times a week. A schedule of days and times for this class, as well as signup sheets for upcoming event, is posted on the Intramural Activity board in Iler Gymnasium. Upcoming events include Men's Indoor Soccer and Women's Six on Six Volleyball.

Features

Cruise Ship Jobs
HIRING Men - Women. Summer/ Year Round. PHOTOGRAPHERS, TOUR GUIDES, RECREATION PERSONNEL. Excellent pay plus FREE travel. Caribbean, Hawaii, Bahamas, South Pacific, Mexico. CALL NOW! Call refundable.
1-206-736-0775, Ext. 1235J

FOX HUNT INN

114 W. THIRD STREET
2 BLOCKS FROM LONGWOOD

Breakfast Served ALL DAY
Everyday Except Sunday!

ALL YOU CAN EAT Spaghetti
On Thursday Nights!

STUDENTS WELCOMED.

151 YRS. (R.A.T. & Co.)

Longwood
HIGH LIFE®
America's Quality College Since 1839

T-SHIRTS - $12; SWEATSHIRTS - $20, TANKS - $10. Send name, address, type, size and payment to: Rat & Co., P. O. Box 36402, Richmond, VA 23235.

Upcoming Events

Films concert Lecture Series

Information on this calendar is collected and coordinated through the Student Union Office, 1st Floor Lankford Student Union, Longwood College.

For student organizations or college departments to make entries a campus calendar form must be filled out and returned to the Student Union Office.

Deadline is the Tuesday preceding publication date.

Monday - 9	Tuesday - 10	Wednesday - 11	Thursday - 12	Friday - 13	Saturday - 14	Sunday - 15
Mies Van Der Rohe: Drawings; 9 am - 10 pm, Showcase Gallery. "Fletch Lives", Movie; 6 p m, Lancer Cafe'. Chamber Music series presents Kooper-Boehm Duo; 8 pm, Wygal.' Indoor Soccer Officials: Applications Due and Meeting; IM Room, Lankford.	Self Assessment Workshop, 1 p.m., 2nd floor S. Ruffner,. Volleyball Officials App. Due & Meeting, 6 p.m., Iler.	Women's Volleyball Entry Blanks Due - Capt's. Meeting, 6:30 p.m., IM Room, Lankford. Indoor Soccer - Men's entry blanks due & meeting, 6:30 p.m., IM Room, Lankford. Interview Skills Workshop, 4 p.m., 2nd floor S. Ruffner. Movie — H-SC "Scarface", Johns Auditorium, 10 p.m.	Barber & Seville Comedy Team, 5:15 p.m., Dining Hall. "Personal Image & Prof. Etiquette", Jenny Taubman, 12:45 p.m., Virginia Room, Students are encouraged to bring their lunch to this. Lecture, George Wallace Southern Politics/American Politics. H-SC, Crawley Forum, 7:30 p.m.		Fall Break

The Rotunda

Longwood College

VOL. 69 NO. 6 | OCTOBER 23, 1989 | Farmville, VA

Longwood Students Chosen to Dig

A Longwood College anthropology professor and four of his students participated recently in a Smithsonian Institution-led project involving the relocation of a 19th-century family cemetery in Manassas.

Dr. James Jordan and four senior anthropology majors assisted a team of about 20 archaeologists in locating and digging up 24 graves on the grounds of "Liberia," a historic house that figured prominently in the Civil War. After analysis, the remains will be re-interred close to the house.

Longwood's assistance had been requested by Dr. Douglas Owsley, associate curator in the anthropology department at the Smithsonian's Natural Museum of Natural History. Jordan and the students— Jimmy Green, of Farmville, Debbie Collins, Michael Haas and Emma Sheffer—worked from September 25-27.

Owsley, a forensic anthropologist, led the two-week project that also featured archaeologists from the University of Maryland, the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology, the Manassas National Battlefield Park, and the Archaeological Society of Virginia.

"The skeletal remains were carefully exhumed and artifacts associated with the burials were collected," said Doug Harvey, director of the Manassas Museum, who initiated the project. "The physical remains will be analyzed and compared with other populations as to diet, stature and disease, with special emphasis on DNA studies. Artifacts will be studied to learn more about 19th-century practices."

The cemetery contained 15 identified and nine unidentified graves of the Weir family, which has occupied Liberia since it was built about 1825. The burials dated from 1841 to 1907. The work was prompted by concern over the future of the graves, which had become separated from the house by a modern road and townhouse development.

Dr. James Jordan (2nd from right) and Longwood students (from left) Debbie Collins, Emma Sheffer, Jimmy Green and Michael Haas at the 19th-century family cemetery in Manassas where they worked recently.

"We've had problems with grave desecration and vandalism, and we thought the problem would get worse if we didn't do something," said Harvey. "I approached the Weir family with the idea and they agreed to it."

Descendants of the Weir family were granted a court order in July allowing the relocation.

"You could call this salvage or rescue archeology," said Jordan, who was called only a week before work began. "We were trying to save from complete destruction any osteological or archaeological information from the cemetery."

After Owsley located the graves with a stainless steel rod known as a probe, a backhoe and the students did the digging, said Jordan. The archaeologists sifted through the dirt that had been dug up, searching for artifacts.

The two most significant finds were a cast-iron coffin from an 1870 burial, and a lead coffin liner from an 1855 burial, Owsley said. Both are very unusual and, for that time, very expensive.

"I've only seen one other cast-iron coffin, in Louisiana, and it wasn't in the excellent condition this one is," said Owsley, who has done similar projects at about a dozen cemeteries. "This is museum quality. Also, the clothing and skeletal remains in this coffin were well-preserved."

The other coffin, whose inside is completely encased by a lead liner, is "quite elaborate. From the outside going in, you had cloth, wood, lead, wood and cloth. It was kind of like a sandwich. I've never seen one like that before. It took us quite a while to figure out what it was."

Also found were bone fragments, a pocket knife, combs, buttons, a few coffin handles and several nails from coffins. The wood from the coffins was poorly preserved, Owsley said.

Two of the Longwood students, Jimmy Green and Michael Haas, found what they believe is a skull, probably a child's skull.

"It had gotten soft and caved in at the base of the skull, where it connects with the spinal cord," Haas said.

The most common body part found was the mandible, or lower jaw, which lasts longer than other parts because it contains so much calcium, said Jordan.

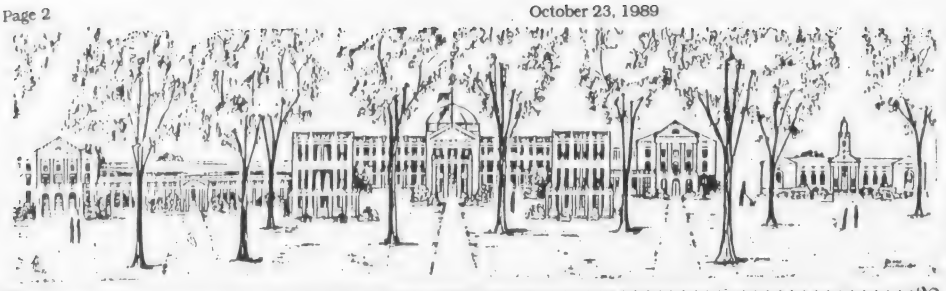
The coffins were of different sizes and shapes; hexagonal coffins were common for children and the iron coffin was torpedo-shaped, he said. Though the coffins had deteriorated, one could tell their shape from the soil, which was darker and loose on top of a grave.

"The holes were dug to the exact shape of the coffin, with only an inch or two to spare," Dr. Jordan said. "The gravediggers didn't waste any energy. They were pretty efficient. I was told that it probably took a single gravedigger a couple of days to dig a grave."

Longwood's role in the project came about through Paul Bothwell, who works at the National Museum of Natural History. In the summer of 1988, while attending the University of Virginia, Bothwell attended both sessions of Longwood's Summer Field School in Archeology. When Owsley said he needed archaeologists, Bothwell suggested Jordan.

"This gave experience to those four students that they couldn't have gotten anywhere else," he said. "One hour of this gives them more stimulation than they could get from spending a lifetime in the classroom."

Owsley, who has helped police identify murder victims from skeletal remains, said he was impressed by the Longwood archaeologists and hopes to use them for future projects.



Cemetery projects such as this are becoming rarer, due to legal and ethical concerns, said Jordan. The students toured the forensic pathology lab at the National Museum of Natural History— "behind-the-scenes stuff you normally don't get to see," he said.

The graves were a short distance from Liberia, which was used as a Confederate headquarters during the first battle of Bull Run and visited afterward by Jefferson Davis. The next year, it was a headquarters for Union generals and was visited by Abraham Lincoln— perhaps the only home in America used as headquarters by opposing armies and visited by their respective presidents.

The Federal-style house was built by William J. Weir (1792-1867) after he married into the family of the wealthy Robert "King" Carter and inherited 1,600 acres. One of the few antebellum dwellings left in the Manassas area, the house has been donated to the city of Manassas, although Weir descendants still live there.

Contents

News.....4, 5
Features.....3
Commentary.....2
Calender.....8
Personals.....6
Sports.....7

Commentary

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I believe the letters to the editor section of The Rotunda is an important avenue the students of this campus have to voice an opinion on matters of importance, on the campus, in our community, our country, and our world. The first amendment right to freedom of speech and the press is something, as Americans, we should never take for granted. If you, as students, have opinions and choose to voice them through the editor's page in The Rotunda, you should have the guts to sign your names. Your opinion must not be very important if you can't stand behind it by signing your name. I feel a person should always stand up for what he or she believes in. If you take the time to write a letter and voice your opinion, at least have the backbone to sign your name.

I usually look forward to reading The Rotunda each week. The past few weeks, however, a few of the pieces of journalism have bothered and even angered me. Two weeks ago an article was printed in the news section regarding Delta Sigma Phi fraternity. This article was obviously bias and should have been printed in the editorial section. Just this past week a letter appeared in the letters to the editor section that was full of trivial comments about girls on this campus and the author did not even have enough confidence in his (or her) own opinions to sign his (or her) name. I know the staff of The Rotunda works very hard each week to produce a quality publication for the campus and they are to be commended, but I hope in the future the editor will more closely scrutinize the content of the paper. Journalism carries certain responsibilities even if it is a college newspaper. I look forward to future issues of The Rotunda.

Debbie Vaughan

Editors note: Congratulations! I am glad someone finally had the nerve to sign their name. It irritates me greatly when people don't want their name used. There is nothing to be afraid of. I would also like to thank everyone who contributed a Letter to the Editor this week. It is very nice to get a response from people on this campus. It's a pleasure we seldom get.

[redacted]

Dear Editor,

Those who watched the Gubernatorial Candidates Debate on Monday, October 19 must realize that the one thing both candidates had practiced to perfection was "mudslinging". Marshall Coleman repeatedly questioned Doug Wilder about his weak criminal record and vice versa with Wilder over-using his famous quote, "Let's talk about REAL issues." What Virginians must be asking themselves is "What is your definition of REAL issues, Doug?" When questioned about his own waste-filled Richmond property, Wilder replied, "Let's discuss the REAL issues — such as HOUSING, health care, etc." That is an interesting comment considering one of Doug's own problems appears to be HOUSING. Just as our President claims the battle with drugs needs to be fought in our own backyard first, this also applies to Doug's REAL issues. Something poor Doug hasn't realized yet.

Wilder also claimed that Marshall was too concerned with the past and not the issues. Virginians, we need the past to strengthen our future. Our real issue — "Is Wilder's past strong enough to ensure a stronger future for us and our children?" He can't answer that, but we can. Marshall Coleman — a strong past, a stronger future.

Name withheld upon Request

To the Editor:

It seems that in the past decade, American society has come to the conclusion that our educational systems are not as academically stringent as the "ought" to be. As statistics point out, advocates of a more rigid educational system have every reason to be concerned because our youth are not as well educated as they could or should be. In fact, educators are still puzzled over the question of why Jonny can't read or write; even though, Jonny may have a high school diploma.

Logically, most everyone would have to agree that both reading and writing are important communication skills. The crucial question that we, as a society, are asking of our educators and political leaders is what to do about the high illiteracy rate among the American public, and who if anyone is responsible.

In my opinion, the educational institutions have definitely failed their students in certain aspects; however, I am not laying all the blame at their "doorstep" either. As a society, we must stress the importance of being able to read and write proficiently in order to effectively communicate. To most people this point would seem to be just a matter of common sense; however, in all reality, there are parts of society whether they are laborers, professionals, high school students, or college students, who are struggling because their literacy is inadequate.

So, what can be done? While I have been warned about simple answers to complex questions, I do emotionally and cognitively believe that a strict fundamental academic curriculum with enforced motivational factors, may elevate some of the difficulties our educational systems now face, then perhaps Jonny will be able to read.

A.J. Allen
Student of English

[redacted]

Dear Editor:

The rowdiest band ever to come out of the United Kingdom? The Pogues? You've got to be kidding! The rowdiest band ever to come out of the UK" is an honor which the Sex Pistols most definitely deserve! Remember them? In their day the Sex Pistols created much more controversy than The Pogues ever have. The Sex Pistols were a major force in the English punk rock explosion of the late 70's. Their lyrics and behavior caused them to be despised by many. Their song "Anarchy in the U.K." was even banned in England. How's that for rowdy? If you don't believe me Mr. MacGill, either listen to their album "Never Mind the Bollocks, Here's the Sex Pistols" or watch the video "The Sex Pistols" Buried Alive."

Name withheld by Request

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
R. Bruce Gantt

Photography Editor
Jan-Marie Johnson

Sports Editor
Lindy Seymore

Business Manager
Sarah Tetterton

Advertising Manager
Jill Loges

Features Editor
Monica Gilbert

News Editor
Stephanie Neeley

Faculty Advisor
William C. Woods

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be signed, typed or printed neatly, state the author's years, and major as applicable.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 395-2120.

Features

Letters to the Editor Continued

Dear Editor,

I am directing this letter to the person who thinks his sarcasm is on the same level as Andy Rooney's. After I read your letter I had trouble finishing my dinner. (This was traumatic because I am in a sorority and I need good nutrition to keep up the fluffy appearance sorority members maintain.) I suppose it would be redundant of me to say the Personals are supposed to be personal. My advice to you is if they bother you so much, do not read them.

I resent the fact that you imply only women write these messages and, in particular, Greek women. I count at least a dozen that could be written by men, and I count only half a dozen with sorority messages in them. (These figures were taken out of the edition your editorial was printed in.) Obviously you have a very narrow field of vision. Are you mad because no one writes you anything in the Personals? I have a remedy for that; check this week's Personals, and I am sure you will get several comments directed towards you and your opinions. I will even do you the courtesy of writing one.

Bearing in mind I have never seen an "imprunted" piece of stationary, etc., I see you have not seen the assortment of items with fraternity insignias on them. You are limited in your perspective aren't you? I have no desire to pelt you with my sorority key chain. If I want to hit you, (I was thinking more along the lines of throwing a brick at you when I first read your comments) I won't use a dinky key chain. I don't need to hide behind false names either.

Robin Burroughs

P.S. Feel free to write me so I can respond and tell you what an idiot I think you are. As for your feelings about sausage-grinders, you'd be doing us all an immense favor. I'm sure a minimum of 2/3 of the campus would be willing to help.

Dear Editor:

Former Longwood students, now 61 and nearly 67 we earned 13 more medals in track and pool this summer. Watching Octoberfest we are concerned at the ignorance or disregard about the dangers of alcohol on campus — immeasurably greater than any other drug. Our background and studies in health bring this to mind:

1. About one of every nine drinkers will be destroyed by alcohol, and two or three others will have serious problems. One of every three families is seriously troubled by alcohol.

2. Some experts claim that the beer alcoholic is the most difficult to cure. Only a small proportion of alcoholics ever find the way out of this deadly slavery.

3. A weak self-image plus peer pressure leads to excess drinking. And since every drop of alcohol causes some brain damage the spiral is self-perpetuating.

4. The costs of alcohol in our society to health and business divorce are comparable to the budget for national defense, and increasing. Most crime is alcohol related.

5. Although a profound mystery wrapped in paradox, there is a Higher Power than alcohol to bring happiness and relief from stress without destroying our well-being. Millions of us live daily in fellowship with this helpful Friend.

Harvey and Gloria Sperry
Farmville, VA 23901

Perspectives on Longwood

Understanding our Culture

By DR. ED SMITH

I recently heard a historian friend of mine talk about the American revolution. He said that the importance of our revolution was not that it happened, but that it is still going on.

Just as the original revolution was an attempt to fulfill the rights of the people, defined in reality as the subset of white males, the ongoing struggle is to ensure the rights of all people, including women and minorities.

Our assessment data not only show that Longwood students report making less progress than students from other colleges in "understanding other cultures," but to a lesser extent, they report that they do not "understand other people" as well as their peers at other colleges.

While 70 percent of our freshmen say they have made progress at understanding other people, 79 percent of their peers say the same. Additionally, our students, the males somewhat more than the females, score significantly below the norm on questions dealing with "accepting differences in others" and "mature interpersonal relationships."

Let's see how this plays out in relation to the rights of women, in particular the rights of Longwood women. Last year Dr. Jennifer Apperson and Ms. Kathe Taylor did a study of our male and female students' attitudes towards rape.

Only 50 percent of the men disagreed with the statement "Most women have a secret desire to be raped," while 90 percent of the women disagreed. Thirteen percent of the men agreed with the statement "It would do some women good to get raped," while 5 percent of the women agreed.

Aside from the macho posturing these data imply, they show a disturbing devaluation of women by a significant number of men, and surprisingly, by at least some women.

These data reflect the pervasive and subtle sexism of our society, where women are paid less than men for comparable work, are promoted to the highest levels less frequently, and are recognized less laudably for their contributions. Because women are valued less, their rights are less important.

While we would like to think that this bias is changing rapidly, and in many respects it is, the media presentation of women is still less than ideal. In the extreme case, the MTV portrayal of women is a disturbing shadow, given the number of children and adolescents who watch that channel — one that women, in particular, should be concerned about.

How does this play out for minorities at Longwood?

While the national news media report growing numbers of racial incidents on college campuses, we believe that we are fortunate that Longwood has provided an environment for minorities in which racial incidents are infrequent. The campus community works hard to provide a friendly and hospitable environment for all students.

However, we still have students who prefer not to have roommates of another race, and we still have student organizations that exclude persons of other races.

These subtle threads of inadequate understanding prevent the fulfillment of the rights of all people that our American revolution ensured us and continues to ensure us.

In order to increase the understanding of others in our culture, the faculty of Longwood is reviewing the curricula to see where perspectives and contributions of people other than white males can be incorporated into courses.

Also, more courses aimed at providing an understanding of women and minorities are being added to the curricula. Two nationally recognized experts, Marilyn Schuster and Susan Van Dyne, will be on campus in October to talk about integrating scholarship on women and minorities into the curriculum.

A friend of mine has a poster in her office. It reads as follows: "Until the lions have their historians, tales of hunting will always glorify the hunter."

Dear Editor:

What's the biggest joke on campus? It's not soap in the Mall Fountain. Nor is it the nutritional value of food in the cafeteria. Or even the fact that there are seniors on this campus that have never been to the school library.

No sir! The biggest joke on campus is the invention of the Alcohol-Free Hall! With this device, school officials can turn a closed eye to the basic human nature and believe (honestly?) that no one under twenty-one will drink. And what's even better, they believe that a Resident Assistant of nearly the same age will enforce the no-alcohol policy.

True, 88% of all drinking takes place inside the dorm room but once someone staggers out of the room— he or she is drunk! And they are ready for action! (like VANDALISM, driving or even worse!) I don't mind someone passing out in their room if that is all they want out of life but what I resent is having to PAY for their fun (a.k.a. broken ceiling tiles or windows, loss of sleep due to 1:49 a.m. songfest, physical fitness matches at 2:30 a.m., etc.) And I am sure others will agree with me.

Mindy Munns

Editor:

The Brothers of Alpha Chi Rho would like to acknowledge Scott Listner's hard work and dedication to the institution of an academic excellence program to further enhance Alpha Chi Rho's existing scholarship endeavors. With our vote of thanks to Mr. Listner, Alpha Chi Rho would also urge other organizations and individuals to utilize such fine opportunities as the Learning Center offered at Longwood College.

Thank You
Carl B. Mann

News

Letters to the Editor Continued

Dear Editor:

For the past three years I, among several, have tolerated the poor hours of Lancaster Library. While many larger colleges and universities are open twenty-four hours every day, Longwood's library closes at an early 11:00 p.m. on Sundays and weekdays, and is only open from 2 until 5 p.m. on Saturdays. Similar or slightly smaller colleges than Longwood stay open until at least 2 a.m.

I am not degrading Longwood's library, however the library is lacking a variety of resources. For example, my roommate, a Physical Education major, is often given an assignment to report on a specific journal article. She frequently runs into the problem of having to share the same article with two classes of thirty-five or more students. Perhaps this would not be such a problem if all of the copying machines were working. But once again there is the problem of too many students trying to use the same article. Longer hours would probably help in alleviating some of these problems.

Hopefully, the new library will not only stay open longer, but the resources will better accommodate the students.

Name withheld upon Request

Dear Editor:

As a future teacher of English I have become aware of the increasing problem of illiteracy in the United States. Reading and writing are two of the most valuable forms of communication that should be practiced by everyone. Of course people can communicate without being skilled in reading and writing, but these skills can provide a form of clearer communication.

Not only does sharpening these skills help one to communicate better, but through reading and writing one can broaden his imagination. Reading and writing allow us to visit new places and to create new places of our own. One can put his imagination to unlimited use through reading and writing.

Everyone should be encouraged to exercise these skills everyday. One will be rewarded in that these two skills are necessary in almost any occupation in today's world. So, practice these skills. It is like riding a bicycle, once you learn how to do it, you never forget.

Name withheld upon Request

The Delta Dilemma

By BETH A. LORD

A lot of questions have been raised on campus since the Deltas lost their charter. Why and how did they lose it? Will they ever get it back?

This past spring, after being reprimanded for several violaitons of Longwood's conduct standards, the members of Delta Sigma Phi admitted to the administration that for four years they had been initiating pledges with less than 2.0 grade point averages. According to Sue Saunders, Dean of Students, administrators were distressed and contacted the national organization.

In an effort to get the situation straightened out, the college worked with the local chapter and the nationals to negotiate the Nine Point Plan. If they successfully completed the plan, the Deltas would keep their charter. It was made clear that if all nine points were not completed, the Grand Council of the nationals would revoke the charter.

At least two points of the plan were not completed. One of these involved the Deltas' obligation to apologize to all of LC's other fraternities and sororities.

According to Charlie Warner, Director of Greek Affairs, the brothers were "running around the day before" to fulfill this requirement and inadvertently missed a few organizations. The Deltas were also required to turn in monthly grade evaluation sheets to Mr. Warner. This was done only once.

Because the Deltas did not complete the Nine Point Plan, their charter was taken away by the nationals. Longwood's administrators did not make this decision; they simply supported it by denying the Deltas special housing and a chapter room and by removing their letters from the Dining Hall.

The issue of whether or not the Deltas will get their charter back is also the decision of the Delta Sigma Phi nationals. It is a generally accepted practice that a revoked charter is not reinstated for two or three years. Longwood is open to recolonization in the future. Sue Saunders believes that many Deltas are "valued Longwood leaders" and would "hate to see the Deltas gone forever." SGA President Drew Hudson hopes the situation will be "a learning experience" because "they're a tradition here at Longwood."

Music Review

The Primitives

By Edison MacGill
Rotunda Music Critic

Brash, blond and not so buxom Tracy Tracy of the Primitives has traded in her plantinum white hair for a mane of amaranthine tresses. Why? Who knows, who cares, just as long as the music is unaffected, the voice still teasing and sultry, and the band still remains what it was when their debut album Crash was released in the summer of '88.

Judging from the newly-released Secrets 5" CD single, the color change didn't matter that much. Tracy Tracy is still the same old upstart, singing upbeat songs with cohorts in crime Paul Court strumming his fade-in-and-fade-out-with-an-echo guitars and drummer Tig still unmercilessly pounding out a steady rhythm. Conspicuously absent on the credit list is a bass player, but who needs a bassist that you have to pay money and put up with on long and tedious tours, when a session bassist will do nicely?

The 5" CD single was released in the United Kingdom in late spring. Consisting of only four songs; the title track "Secrets," which showcases Tracy Tracy's vocal talents to her advantage, "I Almost Touched You," with Paul Court taking the vocals this time, "Dizzy Heights," and the demo version of "Secrets" rounding out the playlist of the disc.

The new stuff by the Primitives is good. The songs that I feel are the best are "Secrets" and "Sick of it." While it's not as great as the material on Crash, it's definitely worth locating, purchasing and listening to. Right now these two recordings are available only on import, but they're worth the effort to locate. On the Fish MacGill music making scale, the Primitives rate three stars.

AST Adopts-A-Highway

By Lori Lambert

The sisters and pledges of the Zeta Tau chapter of the Alpha Sigma Tau sorority would like to announce their participation in the Adopt-A-Highway program. As one of our social service projects we find it rewarding and a challenge.

For those who are unfamiliar with the program, an explanation follows. The state's department of highway has marked off all the highways and rural routes in Virginia into two mile sections. A group or individual may "adopt" a two mile section of highway nearby. The one stipulation of keeping one's section is that it must be cleaned four times during a calendar year. On October 21, our two mile section near Hampden-Sydney was cleaned.

The adoption of our section was last April. After the first clean-up, there was a picnic. The AΣT's were given an award for participation. We are still active with this social service project and encourage participation by more groups in the Longwood community.

Sunny's
CAFE
CASABLANCE
Farmville Shopping Center
OPEN
MONDAY -SATURDAY
11:30 2:00
5:00 9:00
Now
Mexican Food
And Beers!

Photo Credit: Judi Weller

Robert C. Suggs, left, ex-intelligence officer, spoke on Soviet Military intelligence gathering during World War II. Person at right is an unidentified student.

Indoor Arts & Crafts Fair
at Longwood College, on Nov. 29, 30 & Dec. 1, 1989 sponsored by Delta Psi Kappa. All vendors interested in selling merchandise, please contact Mrs. Rena Koesler at 395-2550 or Stephanie Harris at 561-5353 for more information. Registration fee will be $25 per table. Deadline for registration is Nov. 17, 1989.

News

Signs of Bulimia

"I've never been more than ten pounds overweight, which is just enough for friends to tease me unmercifully about being plump. I pretended that it didn't bother me, but I was terribly sensitive and felt very self-conscious. The summer of my senior year in high school I had an appendectomy, lost the ten pounds and was blasted off on a giant ego trip because everybody, I mean everybody, showered me with praises. The problem was that I couldn't maintain the weight because I hadn't dieted and didn't know how to change my habits to avoid overeating. I felt anxious about that and about other pressures — going away from home for the first time to college and wanting to act very self-confident and strong while I was really insecure about my life and especially my appearance. I felt that I had to look and be perfect to fit in at college, so to stay thin I began vomiting up what I ate. I don't remember where I got the idea, ... and doing it — even thinking about it — was so ugly to me!"

The thirty-year-old woman whose story you have just read is named Rita, and her story is about bulimia, an eating disorder that would follow her for eight years beyond graduation from college before she would seek the help to recover. This article is about eating disorders and the hope of recovery from them.

Bulimia is an eating disorder characterized by (a) episodes of binge eating, (b) a lack of control over eating, (c) the use of self-induced vomiting, laxatives, dieting, and/or vigorous exercise to prevent weight gain, and (d) a persistent concern about body shape and weight. Bulimia affects both men and women; however, it is reported more frequently among women, and has been estimated to affect 19% to 29% of women in college. Bulimia is not limited to, yet has the potential to occur with greater frequency among student groups where body weight is an important factor for participation, such as among wrestlers, dancers, cheerleaders, and gymnasts.

The bulimic individual will develop a pattern of binging on large quantities of high-calorie foods in a short period of time. Having done so, the person typically experiences an intense fear of weight gain, so the binging is followed by self-induced vomiting, the ingestion of laxatives, or periods of fasting, so that weight fluctations are common. Bulimic behavior carries with it potential health risks, the most serious of which is possible heart or kidney failure due to the loss of serum potassium in the body when food intake is low or vomiting is severe. Internal bleeding may develop, including gastric ulcers, because of the trauma from forceful vomiting. There may be tooth and gum decay that would be caused by the constant vomiting of stomach acids. The low intake of food during periods of fasting may cause disturbances in a person's ability to think clearly.

In addition to the physical manifestations of bulimic behavior, a cycle of depression may also develop. This happens when the bulimic person becomes aware that her/his eating pattern is abnormal and is accompanied by a perceived inability to stop the bulimic behavior which in turn evokes feelings of guilt and thoughts of self-blame that typically lead to depression. Once such a cycle develops, it will perpetuate itself until the bulimic individual seeks the help of professionals and the support of other bulimics in recovery. Important for the bulimic to know is that he/she is not alone and that recovery is possible.

Bulimia is but one eating disorder. Anorexia nervosa is another, and yet unlike the bulimic, the anorexic has a compulsion to methodically starve him/herself as a result of an irrationally morbid fear of gaining weight. It has been reported that 20% of the anorexics die prematurely due to the complications associated with their illness.

There are a variety of issues that may underlie eating disorder behaviors in individuals. The issues have the potential to be resolved when the individual is willing to invest him/herself in some oftentimes difficult personal work with trained professionals. The commitment rests with the individual.

For more information about eating disorders, you are encouraged to contact the Student Health Service and/or the Student Counseling Services here at Longwood. In addition, Dr. Gail Shookoff of the Center for Behavioral Medicine in Richmond will speak about Eating Disorders on Thursday, October 26th from 1-2 p.m. in 118 Stevens Hall. Students, faculty, and staff are invited to attend. From 6-7 that evening in the Counseling Services Conference Room, the Eating Disorder Support Group will meet. Persons interested in participating in the group may telephone Counseling Services at 395-2409 for more information, or simply come to the meeting at 6 p.m. The support group will meet weekly.

Transforming The Curriculum

By DENISE DAUBENSPECK
Staff Writer

On October 19, Professors Marilyn R. Schuster and Susan R. Van Dyne presented a workshop on intergrating scholarship on women and minorities into the liberal arts curriculum. Dr. Schuster is a professor of French language and literature at Smith College. Dr. Van Dyne, who is also a professor at Smith College, concentrates on American literature. These two professors joined not only to conduct workshops at numerous educational institutions, but as authors of Women's Place in the Academy: Transforming the Liberal Arts Curriculum (1985).

The workshop focused on being women and minorities into the curriculum, educational equality among its members and the sole gender plays in the educational system. In addition to these topics specific techniques were discussed on how to get women and minorities involved without exploiting them. Some of the techniques suggested were: getting to know students on a personal level, assigning letters instead of journals, shortened lectures or "mini lectures", working within small groups, and peer reviews.

The workshop was set up to let professors express the techniques that they have found affective and offer new suggestions. By holding these workshops, Dr. Schuster and Dr. Van Dyne hope to establish a more successful curriculum in the future.

Run for the Roses

"Run for the Roses", a ten-kilometer race, relay race, and auction to benefit the Log Cabin pre-school at Hampden-Sydney College, will take place on Saturday, October 28th.

"This is the first community-wide fund raising event of this kind, that this school has had in its twenty-two year history," said Katie Anderson, Log Cabin's fund-raising committee chairman and co-director. "We want to raise enough money this year to build the kind of playground the children need," she added. "I think these events will generate some good competitive fun, and the kind of community support we've needed."

The brothers and pledges of Lambda Chi Fraternity, and many of the parents of Log Cabin school children, are working together in preparation for these events.

Entry fees for the 10 kilometer race are ten dollars for adults, eight dollars for students. The winner of the 10 k race will receive a silk-screened "Run for the Roses" tee-shirt, a case of Rose Bower wine glasses, and a gift certificate to the Hampden-Sydney Bookstore. The entry fee for the relay race is five dollars per runner with a limit of six runners per team. The winning relay team will receive silk-screened tee-shirts for each runner. The race will begin at the Log Cabin school at 2 p.m. and end at Rose Vineyard, where the awards ceremony will take place at 4.

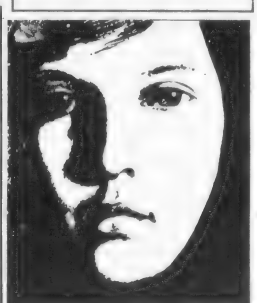
The auction will begin immediately after the awards ceremony. Among the items to be auctioned are a case of numbered select bottles of New River Sunrise Wine, donated by Tom O'Grady of Rose Bower Vineyard, original art works by Rachel Norment and Deborah McClintock, and gift certificates and merchandise donated by Cheese and Co., Martin the Jeweler, the Wooden Heart, Subway, Captain Seas, the Longwood Village Cinema, and many other area restaurants and businesses. "We are still receiving donations of items to be auctioned," said Mrs. Anderson.

The deadline to enter the races is Wednesday, October 25th. For further information, to enter a race, or to donate items to the auction please contact Katie Anderson at 223-4381 ext 263.

HELP WANTED

Would like to offer Discover Credit Cards? Are you available for only a few hours/week? If so, call 1-800-932-0528 ext. 4. We'll pay you as much as $10.00/hour. Only ten positions available.

ATTENTION - HIRING! Government jobs - your area. $17,840-$69,485. Call 1-602-838-8885. Ext. R 18,988.



AUTOS FOR SALE

ATTENTION - GOVERNMENT SEIZED VEHICLES from $100. Fords, Mercedes, Corvettes, Chevys. Surplus Buyers Guide. 1-602-838-8885, Ext. A 18,988.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

ATTENTION - GOVERNMENT HOMES from $1 (U-repair). Delinquent tax property. Repossessions. Call 1-602-838-8885 Ext. GH 18,988.

Lonely?
Need a Date?
Meet that special someone today!
Call DATETIME
(405) 366-6335

— FREE —
PREGNANCY TEST

All services confidential.
Same day results.

116 N MAIN STREET

SOUTHSIDE PREGNANCY CENTER

24-HOUR HOTLINE
392-8483

Features

Personals

Catalinas – Your Octoberfest Water Show was awesome. 23 Skidoo! I'm so proud of you. Love, C.W.

Tiffany – Octoberfest was great! Don't leave pizza in the trash, Tiffany might eat it. Oh, please! Major scam alert. "Excuse me, but can I use your tie to tie a knot." I love you, Tiffany

Sara J.H. – I'm sorry about that last personal, it was childish. I was hurt and I felt the need to hurt someone else. You were already hurt, that was a low blow, I'm sorry. Nancy

Schnukie Bear – Just wanted to let you know how much I love you. You're the greatest ever! Can't wait for next summer? Love forever, Pinching Bear

To the Lady Lancer Field Hockey Team – Great job this week. You're all great! Love, Celeste

To the awesome sisters of Delta Zeta – All 18 of us love you! Keep smiling. Love your baby Dee Zee's.

Beanie – You're a great friend and I'll miss ya lots next year. Keep smiling and keep "dancing"! Love, Roomie

Laura – You are the best friend a person could ever have. I love ya. Kim

8th Floor Curry – Thanks for all your support. You guys are great. I love ya. Kim

8th Floor Curry – Hope you had a great fall break.

Jennifer – The words that I would need to write, to tell you how much you mean to me just don't exist ... All I can say is I love you XOXOXO Eric, P.S. No more lap sitting, I promise.

Robin and Vicki – Happy 21st you two sprockets! I I guess I'll be seeing you at D.T.'s now! I can show you how to really party! Would you like to touch my monkey? Love Cathy, P.S. Robin – You can hold my crutches!

Wahwah Wobin – Ya' rhubarb you! Those road trips to W&M were a blast— especially when we took that left turn and ended up in the spirit world! Sorry for being so slack about giving my lunch money— will you take a check? Love Ya' Chugs, P.S. Did someone say ... LUNCH?

Lig H. – You should see those pictures! Ride 'em cowgirl. Tex

Penny S. – I love to run my fingers through your long flaxen hair. One question, is that your natural color? Prove it. Tex

To the one from N.J. – Is the Ice Mountain worth the climb? If it's in click with the rest of the mountain it's gonna' be a gold mine! Blackie

To the Great White Booty Hunter – Thanx for the personal! 'Tis the season to be hunting. Yee ha! Though the hunting has been slow, may your adventures through the forest be productive— but not reproductive! Happy hunting. The Booty Huntress

Congratulations to Shannon Holley, Laurie McKean, Lisa McKenzie, Betsy Neal, Andrea Payne, Kandi Pettus, Mary Shriner, and Jennifer Vernon. You picked the best sorority and we picked the best girls! KD love, Your sisters

Happy Birthday to the KD girls of OCTOBER: Heather, Chris, Joy, Susan, Amy, Robin and Rachel. Hope it was (is) GREAT! Love, your KD sisters

Christina – We love you very much! Work hard and hang in there. You're very special. KD love, your sisters and especially your Big Sis!

Carey S – Your sisters love you very much. We know you can do it! Just hang in there. Next semester will be here before you know it! KD love, your sisters

Nancy – Thanks for always having your door open for us! We love you! You are the greatest! The best of 2nd floor Tabb.

To the Andy Rooney — I don't know what you do with your , but I sure as hell don't "IMPRUNT" mine. — Love, The Mad Italian (P.S. That's not liquid, that's solid!)

Jenn and Webby – Yes, I love chocolate Twinkies! Have you had a hard green one lately? Love ya'll – Cyndi

To the brothers and pledges of Alpha Sigma Phi: Thanks for making a brother from Radford Chapter feel so at home on Octoberfest weekend. He really had a good time at happy hour and at Joe's. Thanks from his ASA here at home.

Triple-D – SMILE. Hampden-Sydney only few miles. But if we go are they worth the time? Just this time let's stay between the lines and scope. Maybe they won't keep us that long. Blackie

To Steve in Cox 8 – Did you like L.A. Guns? Crue too? More to come soon from Whitesnake and Def Leppard. Glad things are working for you in love and classes. Do come and see me sometime. – Blackie

To Mark in NC-381 – Go play with your toys, cause you still can't play ping pong. But you can still make my day with a hug and smile. (Make that, 'make my week'). Ruth P.S. Your guppy's drowning.

D2 – Baby your tush ain't bad either. I'll remember our seeded sorrid sexthing always. Tex

Ice – How's about you and me gettin' together for a hot night? The one from N.J.

To tall half of Brain 'less' busters – Fall break wear you out? Wait until spring break! You thought four girls on one guy was bad at the beach. We'll try four on one in the lounge. Dare to twister. Blackie

Kenny – How is home? You are never here. Miss the tennis ballgames in the mornings. Blackie

David – You look good in 'Cammo. Do you feel half as good? If so, I want to know. One from lounge

To: My Roomie, — I send you many engagement congratulations from the very bottom of my heart. I wish you and "Mr. Tink" all the best. Can't wait to see that rock on your finger. (Remember our freshman dream of marrying a Hampster? You've got it!) I'm gonna miss those last few chapters of our book. Don't forget! That's supposed to be my Christmas present. Good Luck! All my love, — Your Roomie

Jim, — Thanks for a great day with the mosquitos, grasshoppers, and thorns. I loved it! — Complication #1

Tricia Popular, — I hope your semester is going well. Sorry I don't see you very often (other than on my way to make popcorn!!). Remember I'm always here if you need anything. — Your Junior Buddy

Debbie Ellis, — You have a BIG MOUTH! Trying shutting up once in a while — you'd be surprised at what you can learn! — From a tired listener

Terry H. — Love that smile! — A fellow smiler

To: The @!@ IN COX. — Pray that we never find out who you are because we'd love to break your face! Wasn't it bad enough that you snaked our money when we had just put our laundry in the dryer and returning five minutes later to find your load in and ours on the table. Of course I placed our load back into the dryer and (instead of throwing yours out the window like I should have) I placed your load back on the table to wait your turn. I guess you weren't satisfied with just thieving — you destroyed approximately $80 worth of towels when you poured cough syrup in our load and stained everyone of our towels (not to mention our washcloths). Isn't it a shame that people can't wash and dry their clothing in Cox because of @!*@s like you!! — Two Angry Residents of Cox

To Scott Lukehart's Admirer — Yes, someone has told him that he has nice eyes ... his girlfriend!

Those whom are in the family know where to go to make a big splash.

Rhonda Light — Hope you had a terrific fall break. Good luck with mid-terms. — Secret Delta-Sig-Bro

Dear Joe Chavenist (note the proper spelling) Alias Andy Rooney, — My feelings are you are friendless, aimless, non-greek with alot of resentment toward greek women. Is this a reflection on your sexual preference? Nacah! Have a groovy day, your rebuttal buddy, — Robin

Angel, — I couldn't have asked for a better big sister. You're the greatest! — ΣK love, Andrea

34B, — Will you ever find a guy with a normal name? Will I ever find one that's normal? Probably not — At least we know it could never be our fault! But if you break us down into little pieces... — Love ya! 36C

Kevin West — You are too hot! I'm tired of just watching and being friendly. Are you free anytime soon? I think you'll be shocked when you find out it's me. Oh by the way. I'm really not a snob! — L

Noelle L. — Sorry I spelled your name wrong last time. I was disappointed you didn't write back last week. Hope you had a fun break. Keep smiling beautiful. — Guess Who?

NIK — Thanks for being such a PERFECT roomie. I have enjoyed all of the talks at ONE in the morning. I will always be there for you no matter what time you need me. — Love, T. H.

Barry R. on 1st Floor Tabb — I just wanted to let you know I think you are cute and I am interested. I am bold enough to tell you what I think, but too shy to tell you who thinks this. Reply is welcomed, but not required. — Admirer on 2nd Floor

My Donna, — When you asked me "which one" I was talking about I was surprised by your doubtful comment. I'm sorry you didn't want to talk. I was referring to you. — Your friend

Hey Guys, — You ask who's this chick, what's her stick, how does she like to play? I am a contrived fantasy that can play only in your imagination. — Leather Queen

Missie – Why is it you get busted every time Frazer has a fire drill? Is it because you forgot your notebook again? What would you do without my blanket there to keep you warm? Love, Tracey

The Colonnades and 3rd floor Curry will be sponsoring the annual Haunted House on Halloween night. Admission is free.

Math Contest

Cash prizes for winners of the Mathematics Contests
Level I— Math below calculus level in Grainger 307
Level II— Calculus level and above in Grainger 308
Contest Date— November 2, 1989 12:45-2:15
Register in Grainger 301 (Mathematics Department) between now and November 2.
Each level: 1st prize - $75
2nd prize - $50
3rd prize - $35
Thank you.

Sports

Players of the Week

LIZ ANNET

MARK WOLCOTT

For their outstanding play in two games last week, sophomore soccer player Mark Wolcott and senior field hockey standout Liz Annet have been named Longwood College Players of the Week for the period Oct. 15-22. Player of the Week is chosen by the Longwood College sports information office.

Wolcott, who missed the first half of the season because of an injury, has come on strong recently to become one of the leaders of Longwood's defense. He was named to the All-McDonald's/Alumni Classic team after his play in the event Saturday and Sunday. Wolcott plays back with the Lancer booters. Longwood, now 9-8, beat Eckerd 3-0 and lost to 10th ranked Franklin Pierce 3-0.

"Mark is aggressive," said Longwood coach Paul Sidhu. "His play has really helped us the past few games. He has sparked the defense. There are other ways to help a team besides scoring goals and he's done that."

Wolcott, who played in 14 games last season, is a graduate of Lake Braddock High School in Springfield, Virginia. He's a business major at Longwood.

Annet, a four-year starter for Longwood in field hockey, scored two goals and added an assist in Saturday's 4-0 win over Towson State Saturday and also played well in a 2-1 loss to LaSalle Sunday morning as the Lady Lancers dipped to 6-7-3 over the weekend.

The second-leading scorer on this year's squad, Annet has six goals and six assists this season and has accumulated 25 goals and 17 assists in her career.

"Liz has really been playing well recently," said coach Sue Finnie. "Her stickwork has been excellent, probably the best on the team. We depend on her to bring the ball down the field. She has a knack for getting by opposing defenders."

A tri-captain for Longwood, Annet is a graduate of Kempsville High School where she played on a State Championship team. She is majoring in sociology.

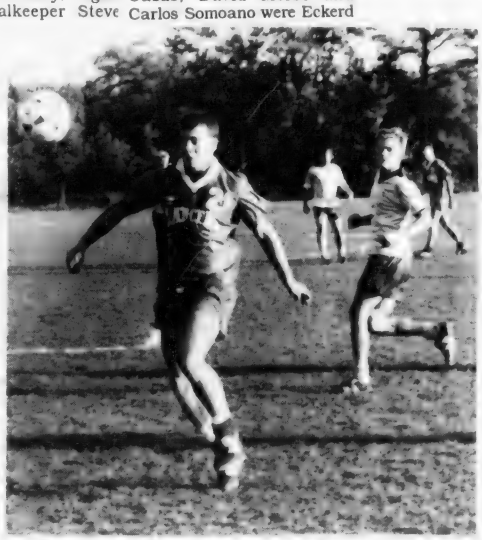
Final Home Soccer Game Wednesday

Longwood had another .500 showing in soccer last week as the Lancers beat Eckerd 3-0 Saturday but fell to 10th ranked Franklin Pierce 3-0 Sunday in the McDonald's/Alumni Classic at First Avenue Field. The Lancers will play their final home game of the season Wednesday at 3:00 when VISA Eastern Division foe Christopher-Newport pays a visit to Farmville.

Franklin Pierce (12-3) beat Davis & Elkins 4-2 Saturday and emerged as the Classic champ with its win over Longwood. Davis & Elkins, (7-5) and also nationally ranked, beat Eckerd 3-0 Sunday.

Saturday, Longwood got goals from Ray Jones, Ed Regan, and Rich Kloska. John Barone, Nils McCarty, Regan and even goalkeeper Steve Thompson were credited with assists in the win over Eckerd.

Thompson's assist, the first of his career at Longwood, came when he booted the ball far down to the other end of the field. Regan got the ball to Kloska for the score. Jones now has 11 goals and six assists for the season with career totals of 61 goals and 34 assists in three years.



Named to the All-Classic team for Longwood were Mark Wolcott, Mike Edge and Mitch Rubin. Representing Franklin Pierce were Jeff Bailey, Ivan Crnilovic, Mick Statham and Classic MVP goalkeeper Steve Quinones. Simon Tinsley, Anthony Sherwood and Paul Grimes were picked from Davis & Elkins while Luis Casas, David Morse and Carlos Somoano were Eckerd choices.

Longwood coach Paul Sidhu felt his team played well.

"We're still playing with heart even though our hopes for going to the playoffs are shot," said the coach. "The score didn't show it but we played well against Franklin Pierce. We missed some opportunities and they cashed in theirs."

Longwood had 12 shots to the Ravens nine, but was unable to convert.

Longwood's Rich Kloska in action against Hampden-Sydney.

Field Hockey Squad Splits Two over Weekend

Four members of the Longwood College field hockey team played their last games on Barlow Field this past weekend and led the Lady Lancers into the last regular-season intercollegiate games of their careers on Tuesday at Duke University with a 6-7-3 record.

Senior forward Liz Annet, senior forward Diane Brown, senior midfielder Beanie Felch and senior goalkeeper Kim Howells were each given a rose by their teammates prior to Longwood's 2-1 loss to La Salle on Sunday as a token of appreciation for four outstanding years on the Longwood squad. The La Salle contest was rescheduled from Sept. 22 when it was cancelled due to Hurricane Hugo threatening central Virginia with the possibility of bad weather.

"I feel we played a better game, but the stats just don't show it," head coach Sue Finnie said on Monday.

After a La Salle goal early in the game, sophomore forward Lara Cini tied the contest with an unassisted goal with 1.55 left in the first half. La Salle scored the go-ahead goal midway through the second half with 13:16 left on the clock. The two goals were enough to hold off the Lady Lancers the rest of the way.

On Saturday, the Lady Lancers shut out Towson University 4-0 at Barlow Field with Annet racking up two goals and an assist to earn Longwood College Player of the Week honors for the week of Oct. 15-22. In addition, the two goals bring Annet within one goal of breaking into the top five career scoring leaders at Longwood with 25 career goals to her credit.

"Liz had a superb game," Finnie said. "Her stickwork is excellent, probably the best on the team. She has developed into a great left wing" Annet came to Longwood as a right inner wing.

Cini and Felch followed Annet in scoring with a goal and an assist apiece. In goal, Howells racked up 12 saves in each of the two contests and recorded a shutout for the Towson game. The shutout was fourth this season and 17th in her career.

On Tuesday the Lady Lancers travel to Duke University for the last game of the regular season against a nationally-ranked team. Duke has been ranked in the NCAA Division 1 top 20 for most of the 1989 season.

"We've been playing well," Finnie said. "We hope to carry it over into the Duke game. We hope to be a spoiler."

Cruise Ship Jobs
HIRING Men - Women. Summer/ Year Round. PHOTOGRAPHERS, TOUR GUIDES, RECREATION PERSONNEL Excellent pay plus FREE travel. Caribbean Hawaii, Bahamas, South Pacific, Mexico CALL NOW! Call refundable. 1-206-736-0775, Ext. 1235J

HELP WANTED
ACT IN TV COMMERCIALS
HIGH PAY
No experience...all ages — kids, teens, young adults, families, mature people, animals, etc. Call Now!
CHARM STUDIOS
1-(800) 447-1530
Ext. 514

FOX HUNT INN
114 W. THIRD STREET
2 BLOCKS FROM LONGWOOD
Breakfast Served ALL DAY
Everyday Except Sunday!
ALL YOU CAN EAT Spaghetti
On Thursday Nights!
STUDENTS WELCOMED.

U.S. Routes 15 & 460
It's worth your stop at
Fas mart®
What's Cookin our full service deli with...
- Oven fresh breakfast biscuits, doughnuts & pastries
- Tasty Smithfield chicken or pork BBQ
- Tender fried chicken
- Deep fried ranch style potato wedges
- Self serve: savory soups, crispy salads, hot dogs with all the toppings and ice cold fountain drinks
- Clean restrooms

STUDENTS WELCOME 24 HOURS A DAY

Cliffs Notes
WE HAVE CLIFFS NOTES
Cliffs Notes answers your questions about literature as you study and review. Each is designed to help improve your grades and save you time.
Come in and see our Cliffs Notes display.

Upcoming Events

Information on this calendar is collected and coordinated through the Student Union Office, 1st Floor Lankford Student Union, Longwood College.

For student organizations or college departments to make entries a campus calendar form must be filled out and returned to the Student Union Office.

Deadline is the Tuesday preceding publication date.

TUESDAY - 24

Careers in Student Affairs Panel and reception, 6 p.m., Gold Room, Lankford.

David Cayton and Thomas Hilty: Recent work; 9-12 & 1-5, Bedford Gallery.

13 prints by One/Off, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

USAF Tactical Air Command Jazz Ensemble, Jarman Auditorium, 8 p.m.

Hampden-Sydney - "Friedhoffer- The Madman of Magic", Crawley, 8 p.m.

Sweet Briar - Volleyball v. Washingto & Lee, 6 p.m.

Hollins - "Ulisses" (German Film), Babcock, 8 p.m.

WEDNESDAY - 25

Panhellenic Council Lip Sync Contest, 7-8 p.m., Jarman.

Hampden-Sydney - Movie, "Pink Floyd, The Wall," Johns, 10 p.m., $1.

"Friedhoffer-Madman of Magic," Lancer Cafe, 8 p.m.

Randolph-Macon Woman's - Life of Brian, 7 p.m.

Sweet Briar - Poetry Reading by Maxine Kumin, Wailes, 8 p.m.

THURSDAY - 26

David Cayton and Thomas Hilty: Recent work, 9-12 & 1-5, Bedford Gallery.

Weekend Coed Bowling Entry Blanks Due & Meeting, IM Room, Lankford. Entry blanks due before meeting.

13 Prints by One/Off, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

Lecture Series

FRIDAY - 27

Halloween fright night movies, 9:30 p.m., Lancer Cafe.

Beaches - Movie, 7 p.m., Lancer Cafe.

David Cayton and Thomas Hilty: Recent Work; 9-12 & 1-5, Bedford Gallery.

SATURDAY - 28

13 Prints by One/Off; 3-5 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

Beaches - Movie; 6 p.m. , Lancer Cafe.

SUNDAY - 29

13 Prints by One/Off; 3-5 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

Celebrate the weekend with the Tunji Trio; 2:30 p.m., Lankford Deck, (Lancer Cafe, if rain).

concert

MONDAY -30

David Cayton and Thomas Hilty: Recent work; 9-12 & 1-5, Bedford Gallery.

Men's & Women's Pool entry blanks due & meeting, IM Room, Lankford.

Richmond Ballet, 8 p.m., Jarman Auditorium.

Pool Men's & Women's entry blanks due before meeting.

13 Prints by One/Off; 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

The Rotunda

Longwood College

Vol. 69 No. 7 | October 30, 1989 | Farmville, VA

The Tunji Trio performed Friday afternoon on the Deck for a small but enthusiastic crowd.

Gubernatorial Debate: Young Democrats vs. College Republicans

By DENISE DAUBENSPECK

On Thursday, October 27, a gubernatorial debate took place between the Young Democrats and College Republicans. Todd Haley represented the Democrats and Mike Whitford the Republicans. Todd is a freshman double majoring in political science and psychology and is president of the Young Democrats. Mike is a junior majoring in history and vice chairman of the College Republicans. The two debators presented the views of candidates Douglas Wilder and Marshall Coleman. The event was mediated by the president of the political science club, Brian Brown.

The debate opened with the controversial issue of abortion. It proceeded to discuss such topics as controlling the miners strike, equal education opportunities, student defaulting on loans, selling of illegal drugs, taxes, industrial pollution, personal attacks on candidates, and sex education in the classroom. Two major points brought out in the debate were the moral and ethical views on abortion, and the effect of decentralization on society.

The debate helped to better inform those attending of the different candidates views. It gave the people a chance to recap the issues and review candidate proposals. The debate also provided interested voters with an application for an absentee ballot.

A Day in the Life of an Administrator

By DEANNA GIBSON
Staff Writer

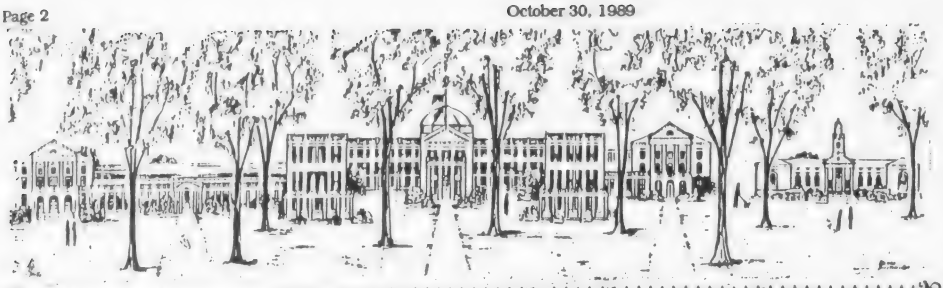
Have you ever wondered what administrators do, or how they became administrators?

Several students recently had the opportunity to see first hand what administrators in Student Affairs do. The students were assigned, through the Office of Career Planning and Placement, an administrator to "shadow" for a day. Pamela Puckett, Stacy Crockerell, Whitney Thomas, Vicki Ellis, Larry Robertson, and Paula Sommers shadowed Sue Saunders, Dean of Students; Phyllis Mable, Director of Student Affairs; Charlie Warner, Greek Affairs Coordinator; Joan Mason, Director of the Student Union; Nikki Fallis, Director of Career Planning and Placement; and Mary Kaye Benton, Student Development Educator, respectivily. On Thursday, October 19, these students sat in on administrative meetings, had lunch with the administrators, and helped the administrators solve current problems on campus by relaying student opinions.

These students were able to develop an understanding of Longwood through the perspective of administrators. They were enlightened as to what these administrators do as well as what they go through in a normal day, and on Tuesday, October 24, the students formed a panel discussion with many administrators present.

It was discovered that each of these administrators has a difficult job. It was the concensus of all that these administrators must by very skilled in planning, managing, finances and resources, and be people oriented. Besides the tremendous amount of paper work that follows any administrative job, these people must plan student activities, counsel students one on one, meet with people inside the college to discuss other planned activities, and even meet with external people to discuss activities.

The specific responsibilities of each administrator are numerous; a few of them are: Sue Saunders directs Student Life, is a seminar leader, and works with the Judicial Board; Phyllis Mable oversees all the work of the staff of Student Affairs, Charlie Warner coordinates all Greek activities such as Rush, Panhellenic Council, Inter-Fraternity Council, national meetings, and field representative meetings; Joan Mason oversees the Student Union Board, and budgets the S-UN's allocated funds; Nikki Fallis coordinates Senior Challenge, Minority Career Affairs, and holds etiquette classes; Mary Kaye Benton coordinates Longwood Preview in January and July of each year, Orientation, Involvement Week, Alcohol Awareness Week, and assigns peer advisor positions as well as coordinates their training. Again, these are only a few of the responsibilities of these staff. They work very hard all year long to provide programs and services that will help students to become involved in their education.



Many of these administrators started out their careers simply by being a resident assistant in college. Others decided they wanted to remain a student forever, and the closest thing was working with students in a college setting. Because being people oriented is an important factor, the most common undergraduate majors of people in these positions are sociology and psychology. Also, it is recommended that a graduate degree be sought.

The students stressed that the administrators had much work to do and work very hard at it. Pamela Puckett is quoted as saying, "I feel sorry for Sue Saunders. She never gets a moments rest. She must feel like hiding sometimes. Also, Pam indicated the long hours Sue Saunders often puts in. Pam said, "The day I worked with her, she came in at 7:30 a.m. and didn't get to leave until about 9 or 10 that night."

To some the job of an administrator may seem easy and frivolous: sitting in on meetings, filling out paper work, and attending luncheons, but it really is much more. If any students are interested in seeing for him or herself what administrative careers are about, there is another "Administrator For a Day" program planned for this year. For more information contact Nikki Fallis in Career Planning and Placement on the second floor of South Ruffner.

Contents

Commentary.....2
News.....3, 4
Features.....5, 6
Sports.....7
Calender.....8

Commentary

Perspectives on Longwood

Why General Education?

By DR. ED SMITH

When I was in college I had to take a general education course entitled "Literature and Fine Arts." I didn't understand why I had to take it — after all, I was studying to be a psychologist, not an artist — and I didn't like it. And (just between you and me) I didn't do too well in it.

Then, about eight years later, I went to Spain. One of the major attractions in Madrid is the Prado Museum, one of the three greatest museums in the world. So, I went to see it — just so I could tell people I'd been there.

I was overwhelmed by it — me, a jock from Cleveland. I went back to it almost every day I was in Madrid. The people in the paintings looked like they were alive. There were paintings by Goya, Rubens, El Greco, and others that took up whole walls and documented the drama of human existence for hundreds of years.

I then understood why they wanted me to take Literature and Fine Arts — and I wished I had paid attention in college.

There's more to life than making money in your chosen profession, as important as that may be to many of us. The purpose of general education is to broaden our experience (or generalize our education) beyond the narrow and specialized limits of our chosen field of study.

It opens doors to rooms that contain the wealth of human experience, and it provides, in the words of one scholar, "the means for students to exercise control over their lives through thoughtful response to their political, cultural, and natural environments."

General education programs are designed to help us appreciate art and what it does for our spirits, to help us understand the human experience through literature and how the manner of the telling matters, to help us value the precise symmetry and logic of mathematics, the elegance of well designed scientific experiments, the depth and breadth of our cultural heritage, the richness and diversity of other cultures, and the forces that shape our existence and affect our salubrity.

No single field of study can provide this. It requires an education that cuts across disciplines, a general education.

Several years ago most (but not all) of our faculty came to the realization that our general education program had lost its focus, that over the years it had gradually grown like topsy, adding a course here and another there, until it lost some of its meaning. Students didn't seem to understand its purpose, but rather took courses to cross them off a list.

So, the faculty went back to the drawing board and redesigned general education from the ground up. Most of you would never believe that your professors could show the intensity of emotion that has been unleashed in this process.

When you've spent half your life in pleasant study in a discipline, it becomes like an old and dear friend; when it is not accorded as much attention and time by others as you would like, it evokes a passionate (yes, the word applies) response of out-rage and indignation.

It has been a wrenching and tedious experience for the faculty over the past three years, but most (but not all) of us feel that we've designed a general educaiton program that is significantly superior to the one in place now, and one that, we hope and believe, will be of more value and make more sense to you, the student.

This new general education program will go into effect next year and will apply, as all catalog chances do, to the incoming freshmen. However, upperclasspersons will be able to substitute some of the new classes into the current general education program.

We started by deciding on our goals for the general education program — what we wanted students to learn from this program — and how many credit hours would be devoted to each. We came up with ten goals that require 33 credit hours to achieve.

We next decided on nine "criteria," or skills, that we thought should be part of every general education course. Finally, we decided on the specific courses that would meet these goals and criteria. This final stage should be finished in a matter of a few weeks.

I'd like to tell you more about these goals and criteria, but I've run out of space. I guess I'll have to continue this next week; I hope you can handle the suspense.

The editor has set a limit of 786 words on the length of my article. Apparently I've been unduly prolix in some of my recent articles, and editors, as you know, always get the last

Letters to the Editor

Will you silly sorority girls admit that your typical daily activities (ie: wearing matching jumpers and perma-grins, carrying paraphernalia with meaningless Greek letters embossed on every outer surface, going to idiotic singalongs and meetings to see who will host D.T.'s this week) are not going to make a significant difference in your life (unless of course, you make it into the Miss Longwood Pageant — God help us!) Social Greek organizations are the epitome of triviality and do nothing to assist the growth of one's mind — the goal of all higher education, I believe — beyond teaching people to be superficial conformists. Do something worthwhile with your lives, like read a book (or can you?)! — Andy Rooney's cohorts

P.S.: Lighten up and learn to take a joke and/or see the comic aspects in life.

Name withheld upon Request

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
R. Bruce Gantt

Photography Editor
Jan-Marie Johnson

Sports Editor
Lindy Seymore

Business Manager
Sarah Tetterton

Advertising Manager

Features Editor
Monica Gilbert

News Editor
Stephanie Neeley

Faculty Advisor
William C. Woods

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be signed, typed or printed neatly, and state the author's years. The Editor and staff reserve the right to edit any material submitted for publication.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 395-2120.

News

Parking Reminder
Towing to Begin!

By DEBORRAH ANN HERBERT

Faculty and staff complaints about illegal student parking have risen sharply. Ticketing cars has not deterred some students from repeatedly parking in Faculty/Staff spaces. This causes additional hardships on Faculty/Members attempting to meet class schedules and keep student appointments.

Effective 7 a.m., Monday, Oct. 30, 1989, all student cars in Faculty/Staff spaces during weekday business hours (7 a.m.-8 p.m.) are subject to Immediate ticketing and/or towing.

It will not be possible for Campus Police to attempt to contact you and have you move your car in lieu of towing. If your car is towed, a $20 towing fee will be automatically charged to your account at the Business Office. All cars will be towed to the lot behind Little Caesar's.

Repeated violations of the Longwood College Parking Policies can result in additional fines and/or suspension of parking privileges. If you have any questions about parking procedures and/or regulations, feel free to pick up a copy of the 1989-90 Parking Regulations and Map from the Campus Police office.

Order of Omega
Taps New Members

Some of you might have been wondering what all the commotion was about last Thursday during dinner in the upper Dining Hall! On October 26th Order of Omega, the Greek Honorary Society, tapped new members during a Greek Unity Dinner. The new members of Order of Omega are Jennifer Crawford, Alpha Delta Pi, Suzanne Pelligrino, Alpha Sigma Alpha, Robin Burroughs Alpha Sigma Tau, Jennifer Smith — Kappa Delta, Jackie Chimento — Kappa Delta, Maitine Washko — Sigma Kappa, Carla Voorhees — Zeta Tau Alpha, Chris Burton — Pi Kappa Phi, Tracy McPherson — Zeta Tau Alpha and Paula Cannon — Delta Sigma Theta.

Each of these new members were selected for their academic excellence, involvement and service to their respective fraternity or sorority, community and college. The Greek system at Longwood College wishes to extend congratulations to these outstanding individuals.

Measles Vaccine Now Available in Student Health

By BARBARA AGEE

Measles vaccine is available in Student Health free of charge.

Some students have recently received notices from their health departments saying they need to have their measles vaccine repeated. The reasons for this are varied. One is that many students received the vaccine prior to 15 months of age and it is felt that the vaccine given prior to 15 months of age may not be effective. Secondly, it is felt that the vaccine may lose it effectiveness over time and therefore needs to be repeated around age 6 or age 12. Thirdly, the measles vaccine given prior to 1980 did not have a heat stabilizer and if the vaccine was left out for any length of time, it may not have been effective.

Any student that has not had a measles vaccine since age 6 should receive one. This new guideline will become effective January 1, 1990 and will be part of the Virginia Law affecting college students.

A measles outbreak on a college campus can be very costly. Over the past year, several colleges across the United States have had outbreaks. Some of these schools have lost more than $400,000 as a result of such an outbreak. The health department literally closes the institution down until all records are reviewed and everyone needing immunization are immunized. This means that all events are cancelled.

Anyone who has not been vaccinated since age 6 can come to Student Health to receive a free measles immunization. If you have any questions concerning your immune status to measles, do not hesitate to come to Student Health to discuss the issue.

SGA Election Info

By MOHAMMAD N. STWODAH

The SGA elections are being held Wednesday, November 15th and Thursday, November 16th. The offices that are open are: 2 in the Honor Board, 14 in the Judicial Board. The offices of SGA President, Vice President, Treasurer, Recording Secretary, Secretary, and finally the office of the President of Student Union are available. In order to run for the office of SGA President, you must have served on the Senate for at least one semester.

Petitions will be available in the information office on Monday, October 30th after 5 p.m. and are due back by Sunday, November 12th by 5 p.m. The petions should be returned to the information desk in the Lankford Building.

Freshmen Class Elections will be held in the New-Smoker' on Wednesday, November 1st and Thursday, November 2nd from 11:30 to 1:30 p.m. and 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m.

As always SGA invites you to attend our meetings on any Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in Lankford Room 1.

Reminder to look at candidates petitions on the wall of the New-Smoker.

The Gallup Survey
What Does it mean for Longwood?

By JIM WOOD

Not so very long ago, in the exotic land of Princeton, NJ, the Gallup Organization put together a survey of questions on topics as diverse as the Ottoman Empire and Walt Whitman. Designed to test the knowledge college seniors have in history and literature, the Gallup survey was completed by six hundred and ninety one students, for which said seniors received five bucks. Sixty-seven four year colleges and universities were represented.

Why, one might ask, would the merry Gallup pollsters turn their attention from political contests to the Divine Comedy? The answer is simply: money.

Quite fittingly, the survey was paid for by the National Endowment for the Humanities to coincide with the release of Chairman Lynne Cheney's 50 Hours, A Care Curriculum for College Students. And what a survey it was!

Q: Identify Abbie Hoffman?

A. Wasn't that a Beatle record?

Fifty-five percent of the students failed the survey. It may be even more shocking to learn that twenty four percent didn't know that Columbus landed in "America" before 1500! Yet, would it be as horrible to learn that seventy-five percent knew the correct answer? Probably not, and that's why the Endowment presented the Gallup findings in a rather misleading manner. Shocking information is a common tool; capitalize on the negative or positive in order to strengthen one's argument. The National Endowment for the Humanities didn't stop with just the Columbus bit. A press release dated October 8 includes other slightly one-sided tidbits.

"42 percent could not place the Civil War in the correct half-century." Okay, that's pretty bad, still, fifty-eight percent did place the war between 1850-1900. If one wants to get picky, the Gallup Organization never clarified which Civil War it was talking about. The tiff between Cromwell and Charles I is also important to American History. Another question is also suspect: (#57)

"The shot heard 'round the world" was fired at ...

1. Gettysburg
2. Yorktown
3. Concord
4. Bunker Hill

They left out the correct answer "Lexington; Concord was the second skirmish of the day. Don't be so adamant about ability if you can't be precise.

Q. Spiro Agnew was Vice President under

A. Richard Nixon
B. B.B. Rebozo
C. Nelson Rockefeller
D. All of the above

Ninety-three, point eight percent of respondents were majors in fields outside of the Humanities. On glancing through the unabridged survey findings, one will find that on all but a few questions, the majority had the correct answer, in many cases an outstanding majority. Sixty-nine percent connecting the Reformation to Protestantism is pretty damn fantastic considering six hundred and seven non-history majors contributed.

50-Hours calls for an intensive mixture of eighteen hours cultures and civilizations, twelve hours of foreign language, 8 hours of natural sciences, six of math and six of social science. This is basically what a liberal arts major is already taking. If all students were required to do so, by the time he graduates Joe College will already have forgotten three quarters of what he has learned. He is too busy pulling down bucks as a CPA, which leads one off on a tangent. If a solid education is highly valued, one must convince others that history, philosophy, or English is a booming business. Unfortunately, this would be an impossible feat. No wonder today's humanities professors are concerned about the period after their retirement.

There is no panacea for academic ills. 50 Hours is being presented as a painkiller. The method of the presentations is associated with a snake-oil salesman. Give the public an answer without listing ingredients. In fudging facts, Lynne Cheney has degraded the National Endowment For the Humanities, placing it on a level with the likes of the Pentagon. Guess it's just the way it's done.

Q: The first man-made satellite, launched in 1957 was called

A. Teodor Dortowvsky
B. Sputnik
C. Cadillac Coupe Deville

News

Longwood Plans Poulenc Festival

An all-day festival celebrating the life and work of French composer Francis Poulenc will be held at Longwood College on Friday, November 3.

The festival will feature lectures, recitals, and an evening concert, all in the Wygal Recital Hall and open to the public free of charge.

Poulenc lived from 1899 to 1963. He was a member of the famous group of composers known as "Les Six."

Special guest for the Festival is Dr. Keith W. Daniel, author of the recent book Francis Poulenc: His Artistic Development and Musical Style.

At 10 a.m., Daniel will speak on "Poulenc and His Circle." As part of the presentation, the song cycle Le Bestiaire will be performed by Ann Brown, a vocal instructor at Longwood. Her accompanist will be Melanie K. Day, of Richmond.

Daniel will give a second lecture at 1 p.m. on "Poulenc's Style: Accessible and Individual."

At 2 p.m., "The Choral Works of Poulenc" will be discussed by Dr. Donald L. Trott, director of choral activities at Longwood.

Richard Couture, assistant professor of history at Longwood, will speak on "Poulenc's Operas" at 3 p.m.

David Niethamer, first chair clarinet of the Richmond Symphony, will lecture on "Poulenc and the Clarinet" at 4 p.m. During his presentation, the Sonata for Clarinet and Piano, the Sonata for Clarinet and Bassoon, and the Sonata for Two Clarients will be performed. Dr. Robert Blasch, professor of music at Longwood, will accompany Niethamer for the clarinet-piano work.

Dr. Paul Hesselink, assisted by Frieda Myers, will present a lecture-recital on "Poulenc's Works for Two Pianos" at 5 p.m. Hesselink is professor and chair of Longwood's music department; Ms. Myers is associate professor of music.

The evening concert, at 8 o'clock, will feature guest artists and Longwood faculty members. Jose Tucker, of Crewe, will be pianist and narrator for Poulenc's L'Histoire de Babar, le petit elephant. Thomas Williams, associate professor of music at Longwood, will sing the song cycle Chanson gaillards. His accompanist will be Ms. Day.

Patricia Werrell (flute instructor at Longwood), accompanied by Ms. Myers, will perform the Sonata for Flute and Piano. Hesselink and Ms. Myers will perform the Sonata for Two Pianos.

The concert will conclude with Poulenc's choral masterpiece, Gloria, for soprano and mixed chorus. Featured performers will be Rebecca Todd, soprano soloist, and the Camerata Singers, Longwood's select vocal ensemble of 45 voices, directed by Dr. Trott. Piano accompanist will be Nancy Sherman.

By special arrangement with the publisher, paperback copies of Daniel's book on Poulenc will be available for purchase and for autographing by the author.

As an extension of the festival, Longwood's Chamber Music Series will feature the Albemarle Ensemble's performance of Poulenc's Sextet for woodwinds and piano. The Albemarle Ensemble concert will be Monday evening, November 6, at 8 o'clock in Wygal Recital Hall. It is open to the public free of charge.

Albemarle Ensemble will give Concert

The Albemarle Ensemble, from the University of Virginia, will be featured in Longwood College's next Chamber Music concert on Monday evening, Nov. 6, at 8 o'clock in Wygal Recital Hall.

The concert and a reception following it are open to the public free of charge.

The ensemble includes five wind players and a pianist. The musicians are: Margaret Newcomb, flute; Paige Morgan, oboe; Nancy Garlick, clarinet; Matthew Morris, bassoon; Dwight Purvis, horn; and Content Sablinsky, piano.

Their program at Longwood will feature Six Gagatelles for Woodwind Quintet, written in the early 1950s by Gyorgy Ligeti and based on Hungarian folksongs; Beethoven's Quintet for Piano and Winds, published in Vienna in 1810; Suite in G by Rameau; and Poulenc's brilliant Sextet, written in the 1930s.

All six members of the Albemarle Ensemble hold degrees from prestigious schools of music and have performed with symphony orchestras around the county. Since coming together as ensemble-in-residence at the University of Virginia, they have been praised by critics for their "impeccable balance and unity" and their "combination of talent, joy and intelligence."

The ensemble has received a grant from the Virginia Commission for the Arts and has presented concerts and workshops in the Charlottesville and Albemarle County schools and at various colleges and universities. All members of the ensemble teach and coach music at U. Va.

The Chamber Music Series at Longwood is sponsored by the Department of Music and the Longwood Arts Council. For information on other music events at the college, call the Music Bulletin Board at 804-395-2678.

The Albemarle Ensemble — front: Cotent Sablinsky, piano; second row, Nancy Garlick, clarinet, Paige Morgan, oboe; third row, Dwight Purvis, horn, Margaret Newcomb, flute, Matthew Morris, bassoon.

Music Review
The Jesus and Mary Chain

By Edison MacGill
Rotunda Music Critic

Welcome to the music review for this issue. Now we'll take a look at one of the hottest bands ever to come out of the United Kingdom, the Jesus and Mary Chain. No, no, no, they don't wail about the second coming of Christ or ask you to repent for your liaison with the hot brunette across the hall, instead they play music that grabs you by the face and proceeds to thrash your body.

Since they're 1985 debut, Psychocandy, the Jesus and Mary Chain won the raves of critics everywhere for the post-modern sound drenched in feedback. While they have toned the feedback a little, they do have some songs where you can hear the melody, they are still an energetically taut band that leaves no stone unturned. Like the aforementioned Primitives, the Jesus and Mary Chain have a newly released CD. This one is, however, a 3" CD single, but the four songs that are on it are explosive and pack a neutron punch.

Starting off with the title track, "Blues From a Gun," the Reid brothers, not of Proclaimers fame, set the ball rolling with intense guitars that form a layer of sound that is hard to beat and hard to mimic. "Shimmer," the second song, is somewhat laid back a little, but the Chain gets back into high gear with "Penetration." The fourth and final song of the disc is a cover version of the Temptations' classic "My Girl." Singing in the trademark deep, baritone voices, the Reid brothers make the song sound so much better than before.

To be completely honest, the Jesus and Mary Chain kicks butt. Anyone of their past CD's are an excellent addition to any music library. Like Psychocandy, Darklands and Barbed Wire Kisses — The B Sides, Blues From a Gun is must have material. No professional partier or music conniseur would be caught dead without it. But then again, these guys could cover German opera and still do it with finesse, style and grace while still managing to retain their chainsaw in a hurricane sound. On the Fish MacGill music-making scale, the Jesus and Mary Chain rates a five, and Lord knows they do deserve even higher than that.

If there is something that you would like to see reviewed campers, drop a line to The Rotunda, the mailing address is on the staff listings on the second page, and I'll see if I can accommodate your request. But now I'll bid you farewell and see you next issue with reviews on two new bands, the Black Velvet Band and Stone Roses.

HELP WANTED

Would like to offer Discover Credit Cards? Are you available for only a few hours/week? If so, call 1-800-932-0528 ext. 4. We'll pay you as much as $10.00/hour. Only ten positions available.

From the Rotunda Staff

Features

Forensic Team Finishes 9th

By NANCY HAGA

The Longwood College Forensic Team traveled to New York University for the Sydney Presser Subway Series Tournament held last weekend. Twenty-four colleges and universities competed with over 375 entries in twelve events. George Mason University placed first; second was the University of Texas at Austin, and in third place was Cornell. In the sweepstakes listing Longwood finished in ninth place, behind Brooklyn College, Suffolk University, Mansfield University, Howard University, and New York University.

Of the 60 students who made the finals in the twelve events, all but five were from George Mason, University of Texas, and Cornell. Longwood had no students to make the finals, which was limited to the top five contestants in each event.

Winning four points for Longwood College in impromptu speaking was Harry Vogel, followed by Angela Thomas with 3 in prose reading. In poetry reading Joe Servis, Sharon Butler, and Jon Church each won two points. Tim Reger and David Richards won two points in dramatic interpretation with Mary Robyn Adams winning a point in impromptu speaking and poetry reading. Other Longwood students who contributed one point were Lisa Mountcasel (poetry), Dana Campbell (prose), Dawn Carrington (duo interpretation) and Amy Roderer (duo-interpretation.)

Other team members who made a good showing for Longwood were Holly Barnes, LaDonna Blankenship, Karen Cunningham, Kathy Desmett, Todd Haley, Susie Justus, Emily Roderer, Karen Watts, Kevin Whitby, Patty Ward, Karen Dalton, and Kaddy Feast and Tammy Johnston.

In addition to the colleges listed, Duke University, Emerson College, Hofstra University, Rockland Community College, Southern Connecticut State University, St. Joseph's University, Suny Albany, Syracuse University, Queens College, University of Pennsylvania, University of Rhode Island, United States Merchant Marine Academy, also competed in this tournament.

December 1, 2, and 3rd will mark the second tournament for LC at Towson State University.

Prelaw Conference Open To Minority Students

A pilot program encouraging minority undergraduates to seek legal careers will be held Nov. 4 at the University of Richmond from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The focus of the Prelaw Conference is to encourage freshmen and sophomores to prepare for law school admission and for legal careers; however, all minority undergraduates are welcome to attend.

The program, which is free, is cosponsored by the Young Lawyers Conference of the Virginia State Bar and the Virginia Commission on Women and Minorities in the Legal System.

The Prelaw Conference will detail the mechanics of attaining careers in the legal field. For example, program workshops, to be led by officials from several of Virginia's law schools, will address academic preparation, the law school application and admissions process, and financial aid.

Participants will also take a mock law school admissions test and will attend a workshop on test-taking techniques. Students will attend a mock law school class and participate in a panel discussion led by judges and lawyers from various fields of expertise.

If participation in the pilot program is high, the project will be repeated and possibly implemented on a regional basis, said Arnold R. Henderson, president-elect of the Young Lawyers Conference.

For more information about the Prelaw Conference, call Henderson, (804) 643-8401, or write to him at Wilder, Gregory & Martin, 2509 E. Broad St., Richmond, VA 23223.

Condom Campaigns are Failures

Most education and media campaigns to promote condom use among young adults are a "dismal failure," University of Ottawa researcher Noni MacDonald claimed Sept. 20.

In a survey of 6,911 white, middle-class college students in Canada, she found that most students know how to protect themselves against AIDS and other sexually transmitted diseases, but aren't doing it.

"If we've got it in 'middle-America Canada,' you must have it in middle America," MacDonald warned.

About 75 percent said they were sexually active, but only 19 percent said they use condoms. Twenty-six percent of the collegians reported they never use condoms.

However, 80 percent correctly answered questions about preventing sexually transmitted diseases.

Separately, almost six of every 10 American adolescent males surveyed by the Urban institute in Washington, D.C. said they had used a condom the last time they had sex, but only 30 percent said they always use condoms.

Some college students don't seem to be buying the devices as often these days, either.

Dr. John Moran of the Center for Disease Control said that condom sales jumped nationwide by 20 percent shortly after U.S. Surgeon General C. Everett Koop released a report on AIDS in 1986.

"The Nerd" comes to H-SC

The Fine Arts Department and the Jongleurs of Hamdpen-sydney College will present the Larry Shue comedy "The Nerd" on November 2, 3, and 4 in Johns Auditorium. The curtain rises at 8 p.m. each night.

The play opens when Willum Cubbert (played by C. Lee Clodfelter III), an unassuming architect from Terre Haute, Indiana, offers to do anything for the man who saved his life in Vietnam, though they have never met. When Rick Steadman (played by Doug Seltzer) shows up at the door to collect on the offer, it just takes a look at the title to know what's going to happen. Throw in Willum's weather-girl girlfriend (played by Audrey Celeste Crane), and his no-sense-of-humor boss (played by Ryan Shields), and you've got the makings of this hilarious comedy from the author of "The Foreigner."

Ticket prices are $1 for all students and $2 for all non-students. Seating is general admission, and there are no reservations. For more information please contact Prof. Michel at 223-4381, ext. 266.

RJ's.
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA
392-3392
VALUABLE COUPON · CLIP and SAVE
RJ's
Southgate Shopping Center
THIS COUPON IS WORTH
25% OFF
THE PRICE OF ANY ITEM NUMBERED
1 THRU 28 NOW THRU NOV. 30, 1989.

Christmas Dinner Reservations Accepted

Longwood College is now accepting reservations for a Christmas Dinner and Concert with bells, to be held on Saturday and Sunday evenings, Dec. 2 and 3, at 6:30 in Blackwell Dining Hall.

The festive occasion, a tradition at Longwood, will feature singing, herald trumpets, handbell ringing, and feasting.

Performing the beautiful music of the Christmas season will be the Camerata Singers and Concert Choir, directed by Dr. Donald Trott; the Handbell Choir, directed by Dr. Paul Hesselink; and the Brass Ensemble, directed by Dr. Gordon Ring. There will be a total of 140 performers.

Musical selections will include portions of John Rutter's Gloria, settings from Be Thou My Vision and Infant Holy, Infant Lowly, and on the lighter side, The Twelve Days of Christmas and God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen.

The Handbell Ensemble will perform three movements from the Nutcracker Suite and provide accompaniment for a carol sing-along. The Brass Ensemble will open the program with a fanfare of herald trumpets and join all the ensembles in a closing performance of Angels We Have Heard on High.

Tickets for the Christmas Dinner and Concert are $18.95 per person. Checks should be made payable to "Longwood Christmas Dinner."

To make reservations for the event, deliver or mail ticket requests to the Public Affairs Office (East Ruffner, 2nd floor), Longwood College, Farmville, VA 23901. Be sure to give return address and specify Saturday or Sunday evening.

Tickets will be mailed to patrons after Nov. 21.

Features

Personals

Personals For sale in back of yearbook only cost:
$30 for full page
$15 for half page
$8 for 1/4 page
$5 for 1/8 page
Mail request to:
The Virginian
Lankford Building
Longwood College
Farmville, VA 23901

We want U!
The yearbook staff is now accepting applications to fill various vacant staff positions. Please stop by the Publications Office (across from post office in Lankford) for an application. The deadline for the application is Oct. 31.
Please turn in application back to the Publications Office or mail to The Virginian, Box 1134.

Did you purchase a yearbook last year?
If so, please pick up by Oct. 31 in the Publications Office.
Thanks, The Yearbook Staff P.S. – Bring your receipt!

Attention Longwood Students
There will be a forensic meeting on Thursday, November 2 in Jarman at 12:45. The information for the tournament at Towson State will be given out. It is important that all existing members attend. Any students that are interested in joining forensics are encouraged to also attend. We will look forward to seeing you! ! Thanks ! Nancy Haga

Mike – (Box), Here's the personal you wanted! Our pyramid pictures are back. Stop in and take a look! Now it's your turn to write me back! Jules

Ean – my "Delta scam from afar," There's something incredible about you I can't put my finger on. I'd like to study you closer. Reply with where and when. – The Shy Smiling Scammer.

Barby – No more FIELD HOCKEY! Thanks for the invite. Nancy

PASSING THE TORCH TO A NEW GENERATION:

Be An R A in 1990

Spring Positions Available

Interest Meetings:
Nov. 1 & 2 at 7 p.m. in Conf. Room 2, Student Union.

Coach – Whew, whew, whew. You have the right to remain silent. .2? Shame on you! Love, Shel, Jules & Carol (plus the rest of the Cunningham 10!)

Jennifer and Tammy – Have a great Halloween! Best wishes from your other roomie. Andrea

Ginger – You are a great person. Keep up the good work! 3rd Floor Wheeler

To the third floor crew – Have a blast on Halloween. Stay clear of frogs on brooms and Halloweenies. A fellow inmate.

To the Gang – Thanks for the great birthday party! and just so you don't get too smug, Grade A ! ! Bear 4th Floor Curry – Thank you for everything you did to make my birthday so much fun! You girls are the greatest! Happy Halloween! Smiles from your P.A.

Karen Clary – Thanks for being a great roomie! Just remember, your birthday is coming soon! Love, BP

Paula Bleeker — Hey girl, I'm still waiting for my personal you promised me. Watch what you say, we don't want certain people to get the wrong idea. — CHOWAN

Susie (ADπ) – I am a student at HS-C and a friend of mine told me about the personal section in your school newspaper. I met you Saturday night at a party, and I just wanted to ask you to please come to HS-C again soon.
From an admirer

Mo – Bowling ... ? ? Love, The Girls

Lisa & Debbie – Leave those ceiling tiles alone! Use the door when you want to visit! Love, Nancy & Deb

Stewart – We need some love and affection – come visit soon! Love, Your two favorite women in the world

Hey Pixies' Woman! – Is your dagger box filling up, yet? I'm sure it is! Love, 2 good friends

Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority will be sponsoring Mocktails during Alcohol Awareness Week. The event will be held in the Red White and Green Rooms on Wednesday, November 1 from 7:30 p.m. – 8:30 p.m. All are welcomed to come out and enjoy the festivities.

To all APO pledges, we are unified, we are one ... let us keep our goals in front of us! Aren't we amazing! With much admiration and affection. "Babs"

Mr. Robin N.C. – What's the Boy Wonder been up too? Are you still looking up to Batman? The Cat Women

To Brainbusters – Twins is a very good movie, isn't it? We just have that little guy! ! !

If the "right" man were to walk into my life and his first name started with an "S" then why doesn't he walk into my life to find out what I would do. Also, will he give me the rest of the letters in his name? – Sharon

Charlotte – I can't believe it. Boy am I jealous. All I got was a purple plastic ring with a piece of carrot glued to it. A real "one carat" ring. Nancy

Mrs. Future Teacher — Would you read me a story? — Love, Mrs. Longest

Tim M – Your bowling game isn't worth it. Wear that underwear! Love, The Girls

Second Floor Tabb – Happy Halloween! Be good so the Great Pumpkin will come to visit you. – Nancy

Hey Boni – Were you upset when your bathrobe and towel were stolen while you were in the shower? Yes, I do know about paybacks— but it was worth the consequences. The Thief

Laura – Hope your break was great. Let's try to get together a few times before the semester ends. Love ya – Your junior buddy Suzanne

Sueann – Hang in there, Christmas is just two months away. Love Suz

Yo L – Where's Mr. Right? Still haven't found him? Me neither. Oh, well, the search goes on. How about Hampden-Sydney? Love ya, Zanne.

Hey Edweeno – The weather looks bad. Guess it's time for the bad weather! Halloween party. See ya soon. Love Joey

The Student Excursion Club, will be having its meetings on Wednesdays at 7:30 in Conference Room I of the Lankford Student Union. All are welcome.

Tami Lucia Hali Mucima – How's toilet plumbing 101? Can I borrow your lighter, again? Hey, this is just bread, bread? Where's the cheese, cheese? Have a good week! – Blondie

In a silver box down the hill
Those seeking spirit will find a thrill
If parking far you don't mind
A CHI - Kerchief you will find - find.
— CHI '90

Mrs. Detour — I'm glad to see your "bruises" are gone. Beware when we go "Down there" for the dance. — Love, Mrs. Longest

"Pooter" and "Poop": — Smile The weekend is almost here! — Love ya'l "Poo-Poo"

Attention Longwood Students — During the next few weeks you will see a campus wide effort to raise money for UNICEF (The United Nations International Children's Fund). We need your support to help the children of the world. A little loose change goes a long way ...

Mrs. Friar Tuck — Please don't leave the Friar. He loves you. What? Going out at 1:30 in the morning? — Love, Mrs. Longest

Mrs. J. J. Earth — Does a certain Thursday ring a bell? Major "VW" change, uh? — Love, Mrs. Longest

Mrs. "H.A.S." — Walk lately across campus by yourself late at night? — Love, Mrs. Longest

To Whit, my old roomie, Bonnie, my old "suitee", and Nancy, my old "suitee". I miss you guys! Hope your Soph. year is as great as mine is turning out to be! — Love y'all!! Debbie

Misha — Thanks for all the go-between help with my "friend." You are a fantastic person! Thanks for always being a great, trustworthy, reliable friend. — Love ya, Honey! L'il Deb

Shorty, A-K-A Shelley — Thanks for being the "bestest buddy" ever. You're the greatest! Here's to our life-long friendship. I love you Shorty! — Your friend forever, L'il Deb

Poo Bear — I hope you had a good weekend, we'll have to do it again sometime. In about three years when we can make it official. Looking forward to seeing those mountains. I love you! — "Your boy"

Squibby — Thanks for the use of your "Lodge" this weekend it made everything seem right at home. It was great learning the happening places in Richmond, Virginia! We'll have to do it again! — "Your Mechanic"

It's Back!
Student Operated
Longwood Escort Service

A free service to Longwood College for those that don't want to walk alone.

Starts Oct. 29, 1989

Times:
Weeknights Sunday-Thursday 10 p.m. - 12 a.m.
Weekends Friday & Saturday 10 p.m. - 2 a.m.

Call Campus Police for Service

Anyone interested in joining, please contact Chris Horan, Box 591, South Cunningham 125 or Phone 3384 or contact Campus Police.

Sports

Seniors Hold Key to Longwood Basketball Hopes

Longwood basketball coach Cal Luther says that when you have a senior dominated team, they will usually play one of two ways: have their best year, or fall off.

Luther is counting on seniors Kevin Jefferson, Doug Poppe, Dale Shavers and Tony Good to see that there is no "fall off" for the Lancer basketball team.

Jefferson, Poppe and Shavers, captains for the upcoming season, may become only the second trio of 1,000 point scorers to play together at LC. The tree have been key figures on teams that have gone 39-17 the past two seasons.

Jefferson, a 6-5 forward, has scored 1,141 points already. The 6-8 Poppe (802) and the 6-3 Shavers (806) should top the 1,000 point mark this season. Good, who averaged 3.0 points per game last season could be a key factor with his 3-point shooting (9-20 a year ago).

Jefferson averaged 18.6 pts., 5.6 reb. and had a record 37 dunks last year as Longwood finished 20-7, the school's best mark since 1979-80. Poppe averaged 14.3 pts., 8 reb. and was a 66.7 percent shooter from the floor. Shavers scored 12.9 a game and added 4.7 reb., 71 assists and 42 steals.

"If we have a strength on this team, it's these four seniors," says Luther. "They're very dedicated and will give us excellent leadership."

Also back are a pair of juniors, 6-6 Greg Holloway and 6-5 Keith. Holloway has also been a factor in recent Lancer success. A starter two years ago, he came off the bench to score 5.5 pts. and pull down 4.7 reb. per game last season. Junior guard Joe Lowe, a valuable reserve the past two seasons, hopes to regain his eligibility in January.

As Luther points out, however, Longwood must look to newcomers to help offset the loss of starters Darryl Rutley (12.9 pts., 4.2 reb.) and Bobby Dobson (6.3 pts., 136 assists and a record 109 steals).

"I'm hopeful that we'll get the kind of help we need from our new players," says the Longwood coach. "If we do, it's going to be an exciting and challenging season."

The five Lancer newcomers are an impressive group. Junior guard Billy Dunn, who played at Montreat-Anderson Junior College last season, will be expected to contribute right away. Freshmen Rodney Clayton, Keith Crabtree, Eric Letts and Bryan Weaver plus junior Keith Morgan will be counted on for duty off the bench. Weaver (6-6) and Letts (6-5) have good size.

Luther cautions that his team faces its most challenging schedule ever. Longwood has eight games against Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association foes, 19 versus NCAA Division II squads and will appear in four tournaments.

A home slate of 14 games will start with the seventh Par-Bil's Tip-Off Tournament Nov. 17-18. Davis & Elkins, Alabama Huntsville and Cheyney University will furnish the opposition.

Highlighting first semester action will be a home game with Virginia Union Dec. 6 United Way Night will be observed for the clash. All those attending will get in free, but will be asked to make a donation to the Prince Edward County United Way.

Longwood may play CIAA member Virginia State three times. Games with North Carolina Greensboro and South Carolina Spartanburg, Atlantic Christian and Elon also promise to be difficult.

LONGWOOD CHEERLEADER: (Bottom) Shawn Smith, Jeff Firman, John Thomasson, James Herzog, Corey Edwards, Scott Kasper; (Top) Sandra Chinn, Michelle Prince, Jaime Shearls, Trudy Jenkins, Dana Harmon, Absent: Heather Ross, Coach Charlie Warner.

Womens Basketball

"I thought we were young last year," Longwood women's basketball head coach Shirley Duncan comments. "But we're even younger this year."

Last season the Lady Lancer squad consisted of only two seniors, no juniors and a handful of sophomores and freshmen.

This year the team has no seniors, two juniors and another handful of sophomores and freshmen. But both juniors and all the sophomores have already engaged on the battlefields of intercollegiate basketball.

"Young," she repeats. "But definitely not inexperienced."

Juniors Set the Pace

Although the two oldest members of the team are just juniors, they have both seen substantial playing time in their first two seasons. Junior Carmille Barnette and junior Ann Callaham both started 20 games last season as sophomores and also played in the majority of the schedule their freshman year.

Barnette, a 5-10 forward and potential All-American this season, dominated opponents on both ends of the court last year. Posting a team-leading average of 19.9 points per game, she set a new Longwood record for best scoring average in a season.

She shot .557 from the floor, also a new Longwood season record, and .676 from the line. Barnette also led the team in rebounds, averaging 9.7 per game.

Callaham, a 5-4 guard, was third on last year's squad in scoring, averaging 11.8 ppg. She shot .417 from the floor, .575 from the line and led the team in assists with 81.

Sophomores Offer Support

Joining Barnette and Callaham on the 1989-90 Lady Lancer squad are a foursome of sophomores who also saw ample playing time last season. Forward Salene Green, who started as a freshman last season, and forward Cassie Mullenix will be serving as this year's co-captains.

The graduation of two seniors from last year's 10-12 team leaves Green and Mullenix with tough spots to fill as far as the leadership of the Longwood squad is concerned. Gone are 6-1 forward Sandy Rawdon and 5-6 guard Angee Middleton. Both Rawdon and Middleton left their marks on the court and in the record books.

Rawdon set a new career record for blocked shots with 107, as well as blocked shots in a season with 45. She also finished fifth in career rebounds.s

Middleton rounded out her career ranked third in assists and fourth in steals, as well as finishing second in the season steals category.

"With those two seniors gone..." Duncan reflects, "You just don't replace that kind of leadership and contribution right away. But our captains will do their job and fill in well. They'll be good leaders."

Green, 5-11, averaged 7.5 ppg, shot .424 from the floor and .585 from the line as a freshman. She also picked up 7.6 rpg. At 5-10, Mullenix had a .652 free throw percentage last year, averaging 4.0 points and 3.6 rpg.

Longwood's other two sophomores, center Teresa Carter and guard Tena Philbrick both played in at least 20 games last season. Carter averaged 3.0 points and 3.0 rpg. Philbrick averaged 2.0 ppg and 1.5 rebounds with a .750 freethrow mark.

Freshmen Add Depth

Four freshmen have arrived to join the 1989-90 Lady Lancers and all could make substantial contributions to the team's success. Leading the newcomers is AAA All-State second team selection Hayley Baer, a 5-5 guard who averaged 16 ppg at Frank W. Cox High School in Virginia Beach, shooting .451 from the floor and .738 from the line.

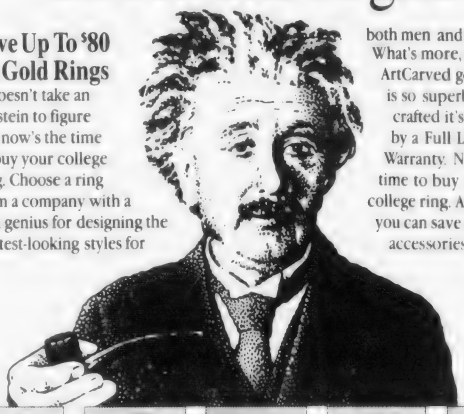
"We had a good recruiting year," Duncan states. "Baer's signing in August was the icing on the cake."

Other additions to the Longwood roster are Cari Dellinger, Shanda Stuart and Birte Schneider. Dellinger, a 6-1 forward, averaged 12 points and 13 rpg her senior year at Fairfax High. Stuart, a 5-11, forward, averaged 18 points and six rpg at Petersburg. Schneider, a 5-11 forward, provides the Lady Lancers with an international touch, having played on numerous club teams in Germany.

1989-90 At-A-Glance
Returning Lettermen: 6
Returning Starters: 3
Lettermen Lost: 4
Starters Lost: 2

"Attention: Earn Money Reading Books!
$32,000/year income potential. Details. (1) 602-838-8885 Ext. Bk 18988.

Cruise Ship Jobs
HIRING Men - Women. Summer/ Year Round. PHOTOGRAPHERS, TOUR GUIDES, RECREATION PERSONNEL. Excellent pay plus FREE travel. Caribbean, Hawaii, Bahamas, South Pacific, Mexico. CALL NOW! Call refundable.
1-206-736-0775, Ext. 1235J



Lonely?
Need a Date?
Meet that special someone today!
Call DATETIME
(405) 366-6335

Sunny's
CAFE
CASABLANCE
Farmville Shopping Center
OPEN:
MONDAY -SATURDAY
11::30 - 2:00
5:00 - 9:00
Now
Mexican Food
And Beers!

HELP WANTED
ACT IN TV COMMERCIALS
HIGH PAY
No experience...all ages — kids, teens, young adults, families, mature people, animals, etc. Call Now!
CHARM STUDIOS
1-(800) 447-1530
Ext. 514

"Relatively speaking, ArtCarved has the best deal on gold."

Save Up To $80 on Gold Rings
It doesn't take an Einstein to figure out now's the time to buy your college ring. Choose a ring from a company with a real genius for designing the hottest-looking styles for both men and women. What's more, your ArtCarved gold ring is so superbly crafted it's protected by a Full Lifetime Warranty. Now's the time to buy your college ring. Ask how you can save on gold accessories, too.

ARTCARVED
COLLEGE JEWELRY

The Rotunda 10 a.m.-2 p.m. Oct. 30 - Nov. 1

Location | Date | Time | Deposit Required
Payment Plans Available

Upcoming Events

Information on this calendar is collected and coordinated through the Student Union Office, 1st Floor Lankford Student Union, Longwood College.

For student organizations or college departments to make entries a campus calendar form must be filled out and returned to the Student Union Office.

Deadline is the Tuesday preceding publication date.

TUESDAY - 31

David Cayton and Thomas Hilty: Recent Work, 9-12, & 1-5, Bedford Gallery.

13 Prints by one/Off, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

Sale - Imported Clothing sponsored by S-UN, 9 a.m. - 5 p.m., Lankford Student Union.

Halloween Costume Party, 7:30 p.m., R/W/G Rooms, Student Union.

Shakespeare Workshop, 9:30, Jarman.

H-SC - CAC Movie "The Shineing", Grahm Hall, 10 p.m. .

WEDNESDAY - 1

David Cayton and Thomas Hilty: Recent Work, 9-12 & 1-5, Bedford Gallery.

Mocktails, 7:30 p.m., R/W.G Room, Lankford.

Sale - Imported Clothing Sponsored by S-UN, 9 a.m. - 5 p.m., New Smoker.

13 Prints by One/Off, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

THURSDAY - 2

Weekend Raquetball entry blanks due before meeting, 6:30 p.m., IM Room, Lankford.

David Cayton and Thomas Hilty: Recent Work, 9-12 & 1-5, Bedford Gallery.

Mathematics Contest, 12:45 p.m., Grainger.

13 Prints by One/Off, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

Weekend Raquetball entry blanks & meeting, 6:30 p.m., IM Room, Lankford.

FRIDAY - 3

David Cayton and Thomas Hilty: Recent Work, 9-12 & 1-5, Bedford Gallery.

Francis Poulenc Music Festival, 9:30 a - 6P, Showcase Gallery.

Francis Poulenc Concert, 8 p.m., Wygal Recital Hall.

13 Prints by One/Off, 3 p.m. - 5 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

Dirty Rotten Scoundrels - Movie, 7 p.m. Lancer Cafe.

SATURDAY - 4

13 Prints by One/Off, 3 p.m. - 5 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

GET SPOOKED

SUNDAY - 5

13 Prints by One/Off, 3 p.m. - 5 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

MONDAY - 6

The Albemarle Ensemble, 8 p.m., Wygal Recital Room.

David Cayton and Thomas Hilty: Recent Work, 9-12 & 1-5, Bedford Gallery.

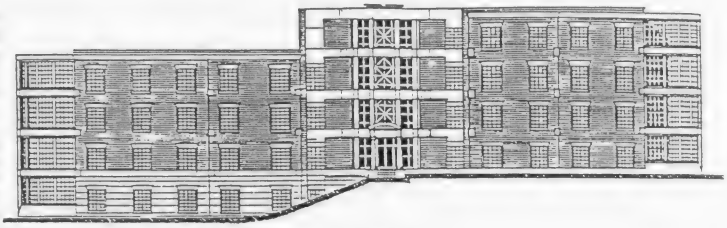
Dirty Rotten Scoundrels - Movie, 6 p.m., Lancer Cafe.

13 Prints by One/Off, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

The Rotunda

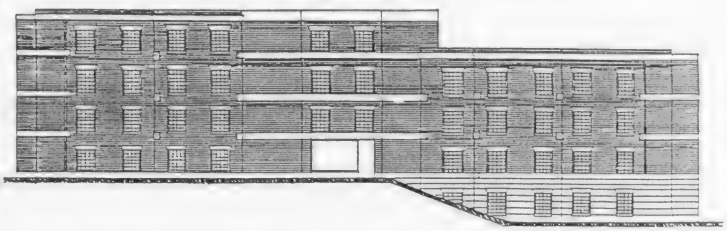
Longwood College

Vol. 69 No. 8 | November 6, 1989 | Farmville, VA



Longwood to Build new Residence Hall

By LISA SALTER
Staff Writer



Longwood is getting ready to start a five million dollar project — a new dorm on campus. Rick Hurley says that right now they are in the process of aquiring the property for the new building, which will be immediately South of Stubbs. The new dorm will be on the block including Griffin Blvd., Redford Street, Race Street, and Vine Street. A lot of the residents of these streets will be relocating; the details are being negotiated at this time.

The building is going to be four stories tall, with approximately 161 beds. The architectural style will be very similar to that of Wheeler and Cox. It will be a state of the art facility, including fire alarms, security system, and air conditioning.

If everything goes according to schedule (which is a big if!), construction on the building will begin in late February, 1990. It will take a little over a year to build. The college hopes to have the dorm opened for the 1991-92 academic year. It has not been decided yet whether it will be a freshman or coed dorm; right now it is being called General Student Housing.

EAST ELEVATION

WEST ELEVATION

Diplomat to Discuss German-American Relations

Courtesy of Public Affairs

"Perceptions and Misperceptions in German-American Relations" will be the topic of the next International Studies Lecture at Longwood College.

The lecture will be given by Thomas F. Johnson on Tuesday, Nov. 7, at 7 p.m. in the Prince Edward Room (adjoining Blackwell Dining Hall). Everyone is invited to attend the lecture free of charge.

Johnson has served in the U. S. Foreign Service for 22 years. He has lived in the Federal Republic of Germany (West Germany) for 12 years.

Johnson will discuss the post-World War II era in West Germany; anti-American feeling in Germany and anti-German feeling in the U.S.; tensions within NATO caused by "differing views of burden-sharing;" problems caused by the presence of 250,000 U. S. soldiers on German soil 40 years after V-E Day; contrasts in German and American views of culture, politics, and social systems; the recent exodus of refugees from East Germany; and rumors of German reunification.

Following the lecture, there will be a question-and-answer session.

Visitor Parking to be Removed

By DEBBIE HEBERT

All Visitor Parking spaces are being removed from the campus with the exception of those located at the Craft House, and the "10 minute Visitor spaces located in front of Lankford Student Center. The green curbs which designated Visitor Parking are being painted in accordance with the color coding of the surrounding spaces. All Visitors to the Campus should obtain temporary permits from the Campus police office ($3 for one month), OR park in the designated Visitor spaces at the Craft House.

Thank you for your assistance in notifying the Longwood community of this information.

Escort Service Returns

Longwood's Escort Service is back in business. Chris Horan and some of his friends decided it was necessary to get it started up again after seeing women walking alone at night on campus. The group went through the proper administrative channels, talking with Vice President of Student Affairs Phyllis Mable and Chief Huskey, of the Campus Police. They were able to get funding for some hats.

Each shift, 10 p.m. to midnight on weekdays and 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. on weekends, is covered by 2 escorts who carry police radios with them. Students wanting an escort should call the Campus Police at 395-2612. The dispatcher will radio one of the escorts, who will then meet the student.

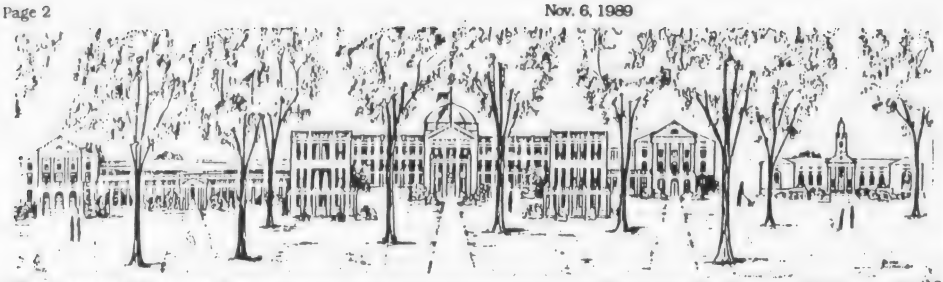
Currently, there are 12 escorts in the program, and many more are needed. The group is attempting to recruit new members through interest meetings, flyers, WLCX, and The Rotunda. Anyone who is interested in getting involved should call Chris at 395-3384.

The Escort Service is really taking off. Halloween night was especially busy. According to Campus Police the program has been a great success.

Jazz Band will give Concert

Courtesy of Public Affairs

The Longwood College Jazz Band will give a concert on Thursday evening, Nov. 9, at 8 o'clock in Wygal Recital Hall.



The band will play tunes by jazz greats Dizzy Gillispie, Count Basie, and Ladd McIntosh. One piece will feature four keyboard players. Another will feature vocalist Alice Flora.

The Jazz Band has 15 members, all Longwood students. Dr. Gordon Ring directs the band.

The concert is open to the public free of charge.

Contents

Commentary.....2
News.....3, 4
Features.....5, 6
Sports.....7
Calender.....8
Longwood Speaks.....5

Commentary

Letters to the Editor

Greeks Upset over "Rooney's" Comments

To the Editor:

I would like to respond to "Andy Rooney's" cohorts.

Would you all stop concerning yourself with sorority women ... it is getting old! Please do not tell me that my sorority will not make a significant difference in my life; it has and will continue to. I'm just tired of you all wasting valuable Rotunda space for such jokes (as you refer to all your letters). Aren't you being trivial — something you accuse us of being?

It's time to move onto another topic. However, if you all still feel you must continue to lead us out of the abyss you all think we're in, please join us at a Panhellenic, Greek Council, or Order of Omega meeting. Because you are all intelligent well-read do gooders, I think you will agree that this is more constructive.

Lauri Labyak

Dear Editor,

In the October 30, issue of The Rotunda, a letter was submitted to you attacking "silly sorority girls". I would like to take this opportunity to defend the Greek Community.

Let me try to explain to those who may not understand Greek life, exactly what our small community is all about. All Greek organizations on this campus contribute a lot of time, energy and money to a philanthropy. This is a specific cause in which the group works long and hard to raise money to give to someone who is in need. We also work very close with the Farmville community. This past Sunday many of us participated in "Sweep the Town", a project designed to clean up the streets of Farmville. These are just two examples of the good that our organizations do.

I would only be kidding myself if I did not admit that Greek organizations are a big part of social life. But it is important to remember that college is not simply academics, but also a chance to grow and develop socially. I know personally that I have matured academically and socially as a result of my association with Greek life. Our social events (parties) may be closed at first, but eventually they open up to not only other Greeks but also to Non-Greeks at no cost!! I cannot ever remember a time when someone was not welcomed at a party because they were not Greek.

The writer of last week's letter, (who did not sign his or her name for one reason or another) complained that sorority girls were "superficial conformists" because we wear matching jumpers and display our Greek letters. I ask you, what is wrong with showing pride in one's affiliation with a particular organization? Is the writer of the previous letter saying that baseball or football players who play on the same team and wear identical uniforms are all a bunch of conformists? I don't quite think so!!

In closing, I would like to ask that the thick line between the Greek community and the Non-Greek community be cut! We are all students of Longwood and how one may choose to spend his or her four years on this campus is strictly up to the individual. I feel that the attacks on the Greeks and vice-versa must stop and we should all work together to make Longwood a better place.

Stephanie King

Environmental Concerns

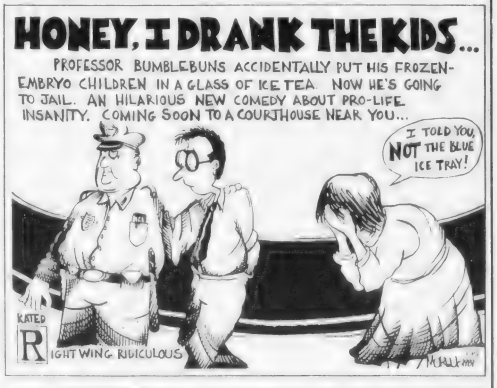
To The Editor,

One 4 oz. hamburger burns up 55 square feet of rainforest. (At least that much deforestation is needed to make room for the animal to be slaughtered to produce the fast food hamburger).

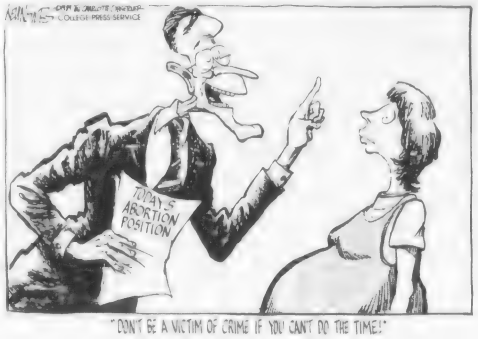
A half ton of virgin rainforest is lost for every hamburger produced.

Besides providing oxygen, and slowing down the process of the greenhouse effect, the rainforests are a prime source of vegetation that contains medicinal value.

These are some facts that you may or may not want to consider the next time you are planning to buy a hamburger at McDonald's or Burger King.



If you agree that we need to stop destroying our environment, but don't know what you can do. Here is a list of things that some people are doing that is making slow but sure progress.



1. Boycott McDonalds, Burger King, Exxon, or any other corporations that you don't feel are doing their duty to protect/preserve our environment. When these corporations feel that they are losing financial support, they will begin to do their part.

2. Call or write the Rainforest Action Network at: 301 Broadway, Suite A, San Francisco, Ca. 94133 415-398-4404. You don't have to donate money to help.

3. Spread the word, but remember that actions speak louder than words, and ultimately, you are only responsible for your own actions.

Name Withheld

"DON'T BE A VICTIM OF CRIME IF YOU CAN'T DO THE TIME!"

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
R. Bruce Gantt

Photography Editor
Jan-Marie Johnson

Sports Editor
Lindy Seymore

Business Manager
Sarah Tetterton

Advertising Manager

Features Editor
Monica Gilbert

News Editor
Stephanie Neeley

Faculty Advisor
William C. Woods

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be signed, typed or printed neatly, and state the author's years. The Editor and staff reserve the right to edit any material submitted for publication.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 395-2120.

News

Tennessee College Bans MTV

Students at David Lipscomb University in Tennessee can't have their MTV.

Officials at the church-affiliated school pulled the plug on the music video channel last month, blocking it from sets in dorm lounges and the student center.

Some students were watching it too much with the volume too high, said spokesman David England.

"They were playing it so loudly that other students and professors couldn't carry on conversations," England said.

Complaints about the content of some of the videos also led to the ban, England said.

"There is a morality issue, and we won't back off what we perceive to be immoral kinds of things."

About 2,500 students attend the school, which is affiliated with the Churches of Christ, a nondenominational group that preaches basic Bible teachings.

The ban comes at a time when growing numbers of students— thanks to the arrival of cable TV and microcomputers on many campuses— are turning into "room rats," several campuses report. Officials at Mansfield University in Pennsylvania, for one, say they are having trouble prying students away from their dorm computers and MTV and out to join intramural sports, student government and other activities.

Tufts Allows Offensive T-Shirts

Students at Tufts University in Massachusetts have regained the right to wear offensive t-shirts, President Jean Mayer announced Oct. 4.

"I have decided we are better off erring in the tradition of free speech," Mayer said.

The decision reverses a highly controversial ruling last June by a campus committee to bar verbal attacks, whether spoken or written, on an individual's race, ethnic group, religion or sexual orientation.

It was prompted by an incident last spring in which a student marketed a t-shirt stating 15 reasons "Why Beer is Better Than Women at Tufts." All 15 reasons disparaged women.

Student government president Billy Jacobson, for one, was in favor of the anti-discrimination rule, saying it was "well intended."

Other schools, including Trinity College, Brown, Emory and Pennsylvania State universities and the universities of California, Connecticut, North Carolina at Chapel Hill, Wisconsin and Pennsylvania have established anti-harassment policies that somewhat limit campus free speech.

The University of Michigan last spring adopted what was probably the broadest prohibition of classroom discussions that might offend someone. In August, however, a federal judge ruled the policy violated students' and teachers' First Amendment rights to free speech.

Under the Tufts policy Mayer discarded, students could wear or say whatever they wanted only in certain private places like dorm rooms, but could be legally forced to remove offending t-shirts in more "public" areas like classrooms.

Tuition Rises

Although it may feel like more, tuition at public campuses has increased in actual dollars before inflation by only about $75 per year during the last decade, a leading education researcher contended Oct. 11.

And despite the increases, parents devote about 10 percent of their disposable income to their children's college educations, about the same percentage as in 1979, said Kent Halstead of Research Associates of Washington.

Each year Halstead gathers data from campuses around the United States to compute how much it costs colleges to buy the supplies— buildings, teachers, marketing tools, electric power, etc.— they need to educate students.

Colleges had to spend an average of $5,584 to educate each student in 1988-89, more than double the $2,564 they spent in 1977-78, Halstead found.

Each student's tuition, in other words, covers only about a fourth of the school's costs. The rest is covered by state appropriations, earnings on investments, federal funds and donations.

"You'll never get a better buy in your lifetime," Halstead claimed.

A majority of parents, moreover, tends to agree. Almost three of every four American adults conceded higher education was "a very worthwhile investment" in a Gallup Poll released Oct. 6.

Alcohol Awareness

Director of Student Services, Debbie Herbert, describes Alcohol Awareness Week as a week focused on informing and educating students about the use and abuse of alcohol so they can make responsible choices. Scheduled for this week were programs sponsored by a variety of student groups including professional and social Greeks and counseling services among others. The Judicial and Honor Board both held Mock hearings regarding implications of drinking under age or using a fake I.D. The peer helpers and Alcohol Awareness Week Planning Committee sponsored an information booth all week. One of the most well attended programs was the Mocktail Challenge Contest and Reception. The week ended with a dance with D.J. in the Red/White/Green Rooms in the Student Union.

Hebert hopes to plan at least one alcohol education program a month to increase Student Awareness of the repercussions of drinking. She anticipates a program with a speaker from the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board to focus on the legislature on alcohol and discuss the severity of fines and punishment for breaking these laws.

Knowing that alcohol is a prevalent issue in a college community and that students must make decisions about how or if they will choose to drink. Student Services plans Alcohol Awareness Week to present the facts on alcohol and discuss the potential problems which can result from its abuse.

Earn Credit on Trips Abroad

Twenty-one travel programs for 1990 venture to most continents of the world and offer university degree credit for participation in a series of study vacations from San Jose State University, open to any adult who wishes to participate. You do have to already attend SJSU to be included.

Language study in France and Mexico are offered, as is a theatre program in London which includes viewing plays and going behind the scenes to talk with those in London who produce and present live drama.

Culture is the emphasis of many programs, including tours of Italy, Brazil, the Soviet Union, and Southeast Asia.

Close-up study of wildlife and birdlife is included with tours to the Galapagos Islands and Ecuador, and Kenya.

Summer session in London, with no need for a second language skill, is also included.

For a free catalog including all itineraries and registration information, call (408) 924-2680 or write: International Travel Programs, Office of Continuing Education, San Jose State University, San Jose, CA 95192-0135.

APO Pledges Donate Services

By KIM LEWIS

Last weekend the Fall '89 pledge class of the Alpha Phi Omega National Service Fraternity traveled to Charleston, South Carolina to help the victims of Hurricane Hugo. They were assisted by the chapters at the College of Charleston and the Citadel. Most of the streets had been cleared, yet much work was left to be done in order to restore good ole Charleston. But why would college students with their busy schedules give up a weekend to do a project such as this? When asked, one student replied, "We saw this as a current national need. It had to be done and we knew we could do it."

The students worked side by side to chop already uprooted trees and carry rubbish over to a local burning site. The trees cleared had been surrounding a Home for the Elderly Ladies. One could hardly walk to the front entrance without stepping over tree trunks and the like. Miraculously the home itself had not been touched. The women had been temporarily moved to another location until their yard could be cleared. By the end of the day, three trees had been cut up and taken away. One student looked around at the many remaining trees and said, "If only we had more time."

Not only was this a fun-filled weekend for the pledges, but general consensus says that they learned a lot about themselves as well as each other. The pledge class looks forward to their future projects which will serve Farmville, Longwood College, and themselves as a chapter.

The pledge class would like to thank all those who donated to their cause. The money went to transportation to and from Charleston, as well as pay for any other necessary needs during the trip. They say they could not have done it without these donations. They are still collecting donations in order to defer costs.

A special thanks goes to Rick Johnson and ARA for donating food for the trip. The bag lunches were taken out of the students' meal plans and the rest was given as charity.

The pledge class hopes that they will be able to continue to serve in a manner befitting Alpha Phi Omega. To the brothers, they say, "Thank you."

Intermural Board Seeks Members

By VICKI ELLIS
Staff Writer

The Intramural Board of Longwood is looking for some interested members. The Board is a group of officers and members at large who are elected by the college student body. The Board is responsible for making the Intramural Calendar Handbook and for deciding what activities will be included in the intramural program. It also presides over all decisions concerning all intramural events such as rules, conduct and eligibility. The Board would enjoy meeting anyone who would be interested in becoming a new member. If you are interested or want to know more about the Intramural Board, you can contact Susie Baca, Box 27, 395-3983 or Carolyn Callaway, 395-2356.

News

Virginia Firearms Law in Effect

RICHMOND — State Police received 272 requests for approval in the first two days of the Virginia Firearms Transaction Program and issued 269 approvals, according to Lieutenant R. Lewis Vass, Assistant Records Management Officer.

Virginia is the first state to implement a law requiring a criminal record check on buyers of short-barreled handguns and certain other semi-automatic weapons. The law took effect Nov. 1, and State Police were ready at 8 a.m. that morning to operate 14 hours a day, seven days a week to answer inquiries from gun dealers.

Prospective buyers must give their name, race, sex and birthdate to any of the approximately 2,200 dealers who have been issued identification numbers by State Police. Dealers can dial a toll-free number to contact State Police operators, who use a new computer program to query the State Police criminal history file, the Virginia wanted file, and the national wanted file in Washington, D. C. criminal records or outstanding warrants.

On Nov. 1, operators received 126 requests for approval. One hundred one requests were given immediate approval. 23 of those initially rejected were approved before the end of the day, and two remainded not approved to buy a weapon under the law. All the calls were answered within five seconds, and the average response time was two minutes, Vass said.

On Nov. 2, operators received 146 requests for approval; 126 were immediately approved. Of the 20 initial rejections, all but one were approved by the end of the day. Response time to dealer inquiries by operators averaged one minute, 51 seconds. All 144 requests were answered within three seconds.

In the two days, 45 requests for approval were initially rejected because criminal history information or an outstanding warrant was found for the applicant. After review of the records, 42 approvals were issued because no outstanding felony charges or convictions were found which would prohibit a person from owning this type of weapon under state or federal law. Three prospective buyers were found to be prohibited from purchasing firearms under state or federal law.

Lieutenant Vass said operators received a total of 184 calls the first day and 186 the second, but only 272 were requests for approval to sell the guns under the law. Many dealers called to check the system, he said.

For more information, contact Lieutenant R. L. Vass, 804/674-2022.

Swimming Test Reminder

Just a reminder to students (especially seniors who plan on graduating in December).

The swim test is offered every Tuesday and Thursday, 12:45-2 p.m., at fifteen minute intervals, by appointment. If these times are inconvenient, due to class schedule conflicts, please call my office (2566) and another test time will be arranged.

An appointment calendar will be posted on the Lancer Hall blue bulletin board (Aquatics) directly outside the entrance to the pool passage door. (Room 133)

Students are requested to make an appointment at least 24 hours in advance by recording their name in an open time slot.

Those students who possess any current water safety certifications should bring their certification cards with them to the test.

A picture I.D. is required for any student wishing to take the test.

Students Affected by Earthquake

By AMY HUDSON

Like everyone else involved in the devastating earthquake that shook the San Francisco area Oct. 17, students are trying to put their lives back together. In doing so, they're facing closed campus buildings, nights camped outside, canceled classes and even guilt feelings.

One psychologist predicts it will take a long time for college life to return to normal and that, in the trauma's wake, students' grades may suffer.

"There's a lot of uncertainty, a lot of stress, at this point," said Bill Georges, assistant housing director of Stanford University, where 304 students may be forced to move permanently.

The quake immediately displaced 420 Stanford students.

At the University of California-Santa Cruz (UCSC), just eight miles from the epicenter of the quake, some dorm residents were "still sleeping outside to rest their nerves" four days after the initial shock, reported Armin Quiring, a campus hotline volunteer at UCSC.

Most of the colleges in the area canceled classes for at least one day, and some, like Golden Gate University, San Francisco Community College, UCSC and Stanford were shut down for three days.

Some schools were relatively undamaged. At the University of California at Berkeley, for example, one student reported watching in fear as the quake threatened to burst the huge windows of the library and shower everyone inside with glass. However, the windows held, and the campus in general suffered seemingly few structural consequences.

About 200,000 students are enrolled at the 23 major two-year and four-year campuses in the area hit by the quake, which registered 6.9 on the Richter Scale and was felt as far as 350 miles from its epicenter.

Officials were still trying to figure out the number of dead. A week afterward, the death toll had reached 47 people, with another 160 people still missing. Almost 3,100 were treated in area hospitals for injuries. At least 6,300 people were displaced from their homes, 4,500 in Santa Cruz.

Near Santa Clara University alone, the quake caused five deaths and 900 injuries, damaging as many as 800 houses and 150 businesses. Emergency officials' first estimates were that it would take at least $260 million to put Santa Clara back together.

No fatalities have been reported at any of the college campuses in the area.

Stanford may have suffered the worst physical damage of the schools in the region.

Twenty-four of its 240 major buildings have been closed "indefinitely" because of structural damage, reported spokeswoman Eileen Walsh.

Students were shuffled into temporary housing, and classes relocated to temporary building space, she added.

Even those who survived without significant damage to their routines had stories to tell.

After the Quake, Students Are Trying To Put Their Lives Back Together Some Are 'Still Sleeping Outside'; Others Can't Study Anything But 'Earthquake News'

Robyn Carter, a UCSC sophomore, was in class when the quake hit. "Usually I don't even get up (during an earthquake). But then it didn't stop, and I got really scared."

Students sitting nearest to the classroom exit crowded under the doorway, generally the safest place to be indoors, leaving the rest of the class to dive under desks.

It wasn't until the students filed outside, where they were greeted by huge billowing clouds of dust, loose rocks everywhere and the sound of piercing emergency sirens that they had an inkling of the tremor's severity.

After witnessing such scenes, many students report having a hard time thinking about school. "I haven't been able to study anything besides earthquake news," Carter said.

College life for the students caught in the earthquake is not likely to return to normal soon, observed Daniel Sachau, a psychology professor at Mankato State University in Minnesota.

After major disasters, Sachau said, people experience different degrees of post-traumatic stress, from slight depression to amnesia, where a person literally denies the incident ever happened.

Students, he added, might find it difficult to concentrate on school after what was, for most, a terrifying experience. Some might even be inclined to drop out.

"I would think a few college students, especially those from out of state, might take it as an excuse to go somewhere else," Sachau predicted.

In response, Stanford President Donald Kennedy ordered professors to "consider the stress of the event" in postponing assignments and exams in the coming months.

Most other schools like Golden Gate University announced they would open their safe classrooms, but leave it to professors to settle their students' schedules for the time being.

David Brodie, a student at the University of California's Hastings College of Law in San Francisco, said his feelings went from terror during the quake to "a good feeling" the next day.

The daily routine of classes and studying, he said, was interrupted. "It was like summer break or something. You feel guilty if you're having too much fun."

"I feel sort of guilty because nothing bad happened to my house," Carter added. "For a lot of people, it's a vacation."

Indeed, there were reports of post-quake tennis matches and beer parties from some students who, Sachau suggested, may be trying to cope by pretending it did not have an effect on them.

Some campus residents already have reassumed a seemingly nonchalant view of earth tremors. An aftershock measuring 4.8 on the Richter Scale rocked 15,000 fans who showed up to watch the University of Utah-Stanford football game at Stanford Stadium Oct. 21. After a few moments of apprehension and confusion, however, officials merely restarted the game.

Down the coast in Los Angeles, where "The Big One" long predicted by seismologists is expected to tear up the area some time during the next 30 years, students profess not to be worried.

"I'm not really afraid of it happening," maintained Kris Lindquist, a junior at Occidental College in Los Angeles. "It's just something I accept. I know it's coming, but it's just part of life."

In 1987, a local report estimated as many as 2,000 students at UCLA would die if The Big One hit.

Two years ago, a Southern California quake killed a California State University-Los Angeles student when a concrete slab fell on her.

Sachau believes the Northern California quakes will have a lasting impact on all the students who endured them. "It wouldn't surprise me a bit if their performance level dropped for the rest of the term."

Features

Would you like to write for The Rotunda?

There are positions open for News and Feature writers.

Call 395-2120 or write to Box 1133.

Last Thursday night Ms. Tinnell's freshman seminar class got a demonstration in self-defense. Cindy Critzer, a P.E. teacher at Prince Edward High School gave the demonstration. She is a black belt in Karate. Ms. Critzer is on the floor and is demonstrating how to break out of a choke hold. Her husband, Edgar Critzer, is the mock assailant.

Photo Credit: Judi Weller

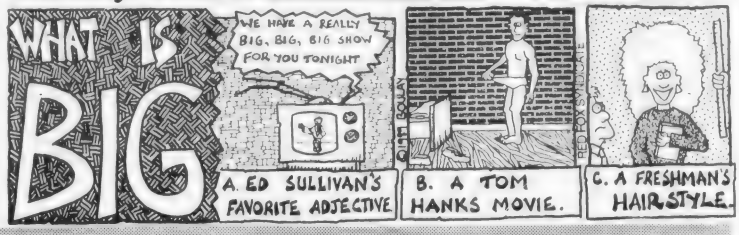
Explore Willis River

By CHIP PIERCE

Come explore the scenic Willis River by canoe. A Bear Creek Lake State Park Ranger will be your guide as you explore the natural splendor of this unique tributary of the James River. Come experience the thrill of not knowing what awaits around the next bend as you navigate your canoe downstream. This is an adventure you will not want to miss!

Meet at the office of Bear Creek Lake State park at 10 a.m. on Saturday, November 11, 1989. A fee of $4.00 per person applies and covers instruction, canoeing, and safety equipment. The trip and instructions will last approximately two and a half hours. Canoeing experience is recommended.

Bear Creek Lake State Park is located off of Highway 60 in Cumberland County. From Farmville, follow Route 45 North to Route 60. Turn East (right) on Route 60. Take the first left which is Route 628. Follow Route 628 to Route 629. Turn right onto Route 629. Veer to the right after passing the lake to come to the park office. Limited space is available on this trip and reservations are advised. For reservations or more information, call the park office at (804) 492-4410.



For your enjoyment, the park also offers camping, picnicking, hiking, and fishing. Plan to spend the weekend and have a real outdoors experience.

Secretary Needed

Student Secretary needed in Greek Affairs. Federal Work Study: 12 hrs. per week. Apply in Greek Affairs by November 10.

Sunday Comics

Longwood Speaks Out

1) If you were to vote right now, what would be your choice for Governor?

2) Would the issue of abortion be the reason for your vote?

3) What party do you most affiliate yourself with?

Photo Credit: R. Bruce Gantt. Produced by Jim Wood

"Neither"
"A main reason. If it's banned people will go out have their own and be dead for it."
"Republican"
Nicole Jesser

"Wilder"
"Partially. Coleman has changed his mind too many times."
"Independent"
Denise Daubenspeck

"Wilder"
"Yes. I believe in free choice."
"I don't classify myself."
Brian Crutchfield

"I don't have enough confidence in Wilder and Coleman is against Abortion."
"I'm pro-choice"
"Republican"
Ann Juohey

"Wilder"
"No, yeah, well, yeah it does. Coleman strikes me as being a Dan Quayle Republican. Coleman is not liked by his party. Coleman will win however, but I'll vote for Wilder."
"Independent"
Tony Adcock

Features

Blondie – Don't forget to turn that fan on high! Thanks for the animal cookies and for helping me with my paper. Want some crazy bread? Tamilucia Halemucima

Ben B – What does 3-month ravioli smell like? Love ya! Jen

Mary Jo – Has someone spilled beer all over you lately? I sure hope not! Don't forget that we still have to go on a road trip (maybe hitch a ride or two) near the end of November. Your roomie, Amy

Linda – Laid on a "COUCH" lately? You know what I mean! Guess who! P.S. Did I spell COUCH wrong?

To Kelly, Kim & Megan – Did not want to leave you out. I love you all too. Love ya Party this weekend

M.J. – Hey you wild woman! Do you hate me? Sound familiar? At least you don't have your Teddy anymore! I want your promise on paper dear! Let's see how long it will last! Whaaaaaat, Oreo

To the Band Groupie – Found: One best friend and one great weekend. I'm so glad you came to Richmond, to be my sleazy nurse, not to mention the fact you met HIM II. Watch out for those low pulse beats! It's just not the same any more (school that is) without you around. I miss you more than you'll ever realize! Jade Elephant, two weeks— Is it a date? Your Best Mad Urologist. (Dixie Cups forever) – Dorkus

Lit'l Aim – "I want Fritos! Oh well I'll miss you but we'll have the memories!!– CB

Julie and Carol – I miss not seeing you guys as much anymore. Oh, well we'll find a party to go to together soon. Maybe the one that Carol talks about in her sleep... Amy

Amy & Jen – Can't wait to see those ODU Pi Kappa Phis again! They're sizzlin' hot! Maybe we'll "hitch" there! MJ

Oreo – So, how was your Saturday night with a certain out of town visitor? Don't worry, you'll see him soon enough! But until then, watch it because I will get mad. Your bud, Amy

Carol and Jules — You all are the bestest suitemates. Beware of Hitchikers and dust bunnies from hell! Love ya! — Shel

Pokie/Shotgun — Are you ready for another piggy-back ride? Next time you go in the fountain even if I go in too! — The B. Bonger

Kate — Go for the Delta. Matt is a dork and he smells funny too! — Love, Shel

Amy – Thanks for going with me to Challenge. It was a blast! There were some "really cute construction workers next door." The memories from that trip are ones I'll never forget. Thanks for being my roomie again you idiot. Love, "These are the Dave's we know we know we know"

Mark – Seven years bad luck! Ring a bell? Roses is open until 9 p.m. Thank you the T.O.L.A.B.G.B.

Congratulations Women's Rugby! You all were fantastic! We're all so proud! Can't wait for next season, so you girls can kick some JMU butt! Enough said! Your cheerleader, Stephanie.

To Amy O's – As for your trip to Florida, if I were you that girl (can't curse in this paper) would have two sore feet and a hurting thumb.Love ya "GDI" (Your little sis)

To J. Scott (Ground Floor Cox) – I just wanted you to know that there is a secret admirer out there. I want to get to know you better. R.S.V.P. Your admirer (Christmas Berry)

Would you like to learn more about Operation Smile? Contact Julie Wiley, Box 1291. Please include name and box #.

To Deb & Steph – Just thought I'd say Hi, Hi. I hope you feel better Deb. And good luck with that guy Steph. I love ya. Lisa

Carol & Julie – Just a note to say "sorry" for not keeping in touch. Remember you all are still great friends. "Jo"

Amy – Hey you fool with the ATTITUDE! Who's the B-ball player? Let's meet him! Can't wait to take that road trip because I want some Pie. You sure there's only room for 4? Love Oreo

Kim in C. 403 – Hope that you didn't forget your film this weekend! What was that in the shower? Don't forget we love you! M. and R.

Chris in 401 – Sorry that we are having a hard time. I really hope that things get better between us. R. in 403

D and M – Thanks for the late-night visit. Does "It take Two?" – N

April – Thanks for helping me through all the bad stuff that's happened. You're my best friend and the greatest roomie. I love you. Linda

Ben and Jeni – Thanks for always being there when I needed you, and for putting a smile back on my face. (You too Ted!) Love ya, Linda

Coach — You give a wonderful massage. Want to play with gel again soon? — Shel

The Interfraternity Council, the governing body of all fraternities recognized by Longwood College, would like to announce the results of their elections. The new officers for the IFC are: President - Roger Daya, Pi Kappa Phi; Vice President - Rocco Tricarico, Alpha Chi Rho; Secretary - Tony Moss, Alpha Phi Alpha; Treasurer - Kurt Kreassig, Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Congratulations to these new officers!

To all Greeks — Keep your chin up and be proud! Some people are noticing the good you are doing. — A friend

To Tara in French — I like what I see, and always get what I like. Respond immediatly with your phone # and you can be mine.

Tara — To find who your admirer is, come to Pi Kappa Phi on Friday night around Tenish, look for two signs, clue A - think La Crosse - clue. B - a dozen red roses.

Booner – Nice move in Wal-Mart, Babe. Next time warn me before the bomb drops. Signed, Humiliated in Wal-Mart.

S.H.McB. – Don't worry – you're a nice enough guy. (I never listen to my mother anyway) – Unfulfilled

Lil Deb — Thanks for thinking of us. We miss the old days too. — Bon and Whit and Nanc

Whitney — Remember the cows playing football? I think we should revisit them and see who won. — Princess Bull

Baby Cakes — Thanks for the roses. They were unexpected and very beautiful. Sorry about your knee, I hope I helped you forget about it. Happy 47th anniversary. I love you. — Kitten

Suzie-Q — You're my best friend, and I miss you lots. Happy birthday sweetie! — CLB

Lisa, Michelle, Jules — You guys are great. I knew things would work out. — Carol

Happy birthday "T" from your big sister who loves you lots!

Bonnie — Longwood Memories
In depth conversations —
Late night snacks —
Music sing alongs —
And walks on backs.
Eating lunch together —
Walks up hills —
No robe and towel —
Telephone bills.

To Holly B – I think Farmville is much safer than New York for you. You don't have to practice the 50-yard dash to cross a street, learn Karate to go to the store and hang around in churches for your free beer! Love ya 4-ever friends

Medusa – "Let's chug through a straw for one minute straight." Signed, The Joker

Booner – You make an awesome alarm clock, but 4 a.m. is a little early to be awakened by such a loud noise. Love, Chuck

D – I wish I was joking. But you know your situation and I'm ————————. I miss you because I never see you anymore! ... barmaid, bring a pitcher, another round of brew, honey why don't we get drunk and ——— watch T.V.!?!?

Krissy – No worries mate! Smile, cuz if you don't it's a waste of some adorable dimples! !

Tanya – Okay – I'm not going to give you a hard time anymore! (Yea right!) I won't be sarcastic either!

Christina and Carey – I've been thinking about you and I love you! Amy

Sports

Longwood Riders Take Fourth in First Show

By ERICA S. BLOUNT

The Longwood riding team completed its first competition of the season at the University of Maryland Oct. 29. The riders competed well, even with such a young team, finishing a strong fourth out of ten competing colleges.

While in Maryland, the riders were led by the trio of Julie Miller, Tara Winters, and Page Perry, all of whom brought home first place honors. Miller placed first in intermediate flat, and third in over fences. Winters took first in novice flat, and third in over fences. First place in the beginner walk-trot was won by Perry.

Other Lancer riders who won ribbons were Kari Allen and Kirsten Hite both of whom place second in novice flat. The holders of third, fourth and fifth place in novice flat were Crystal Mitchell, Lisa Lockwood, and Ketherine Smith, respectively.

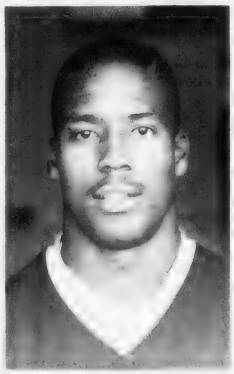
Placing in the second, third, and sixth postions for novice over fences were Mitchell, Carey Seitz, and Lockwood. Seitz placed third in intermediate flat. In the open division on the flat, Tami Stanton and Stephanie Harbourt finished third and sixth, respectively. Stanton took third in open division over fences, and Harbourt took seventh.

Jennifer Leath and Lori Lazear finished in second and fourth, respectively, in advanced walk-trot-canter. The third position in beginner walk-trot was occupied by Michele Basye.

The Lancers also competed last Saturday at William and Mary.

Lancer Sports Brief

Longwood basketball fans will have a chance to get a preseason look at the Lancer Cagers Sunday night at 7:30 in Lancer Hall when Longwood will square-off in an intersquad scrimmage. The contest is open to the public at no charge.



With the season-opening Par-Bil's Tip-Off Tournament slated for Nov. 17-18, Longwood coach Cal Luther wants his squad to get a chance to play before a crowd prior to the start of the season.

Longwood, 20-7 a year ago, is expecting to field another strong squad, led by the senior trio of Kevin Jefferson, Doug Poppe and Dale Shavers. With veterans Greg Holloway, Tony Good and Keith Latimer on hand, the Lancers will also be counting on newcomers Billy Dunn, Keith Crabtree, Eric Letts, Bryan Weaver, Rodney Clayton and Keith Morgan.

The Blue/White scrimmage will give Lancer fans a chance to see the rookies for the first time and get a taste of what's in store during the upcoming season.

Dunn, Crabtree, Letts, Latimer play well for Longwood Cagers

A trio of newcomers showed up well in a recent intersquad scrimmage for the Longwood men's basketball team. Junior guard Billy Dunn, freshman guard Keith Crabtree and freshman forward Eric Letts drew praise from coach Cal Luther after their play over the weekend.

BILLY DUNN

"Dunn played the best he's played in the preseason," said the Longwood coach. "He played good defense and hit some shots from outside. He's got a chance to win a starting position for us."

Luther praised Crabtree, a 6-3 rookie for his passing and scoring. The R.E. Lee graduate has good basketball instincts, but has been slow at picking up the Lancers' offensive and defensive set-up. Letts also was credited with a recent solid showing. Luther hinted that Crabtree and Letts could see playing time when the season opens, if they continue their recent improvement.

Longwood Gymnasts To Hold Exhibition Friday Night

Longwood's gymnastics team will give a sneak preview of what to expect in the com-

(Cont'd. on page 8)

Rugby Finishes Season

By CATHY HINES
and
DEBBIE ELLIS

Longwood's Women's Rugby Club finished its 1989 season in a tie-breaking sudden death in the Ed and Sandy Lee Cup in Norfolk last weekend. Regular season play started slowly for the team with a loss to Va. Tech, 8-4, and to JMU, 8-3. The games were not a total loss, of course, because much experience was gained by the 12 newcomers and 12 veterans.

Veteran, Karen Westcott, was plagued by injuries throughout the season. First was a dislocated shoulder in the first match and later a knee injury which sidelined her for this season. The second match "player of the game" was Cara Sullivan as she stopped many JMU drivers while slamming players as the crowd cheered. She put three points on the board as the ball skimmed the cross bar with her first penalty kick attempt ever.

By the third match Longwood got itself on its feet and beat Old Dominion, 4-0, with a try scored by Cathy Hines, the team's top scorer for the season. Longwood's drive for the top did not stop here. Next they tied number one ranked UVA who weekends before defeated Va Tech and JMU. After one hour of rest between games Longwood dominated against William and Mary. The Scrum consisting of Krista Berk, Deena Covington, Melissa Dorton, Sharon Bryant, Debbie Ellis and Nicole Lehnhardt had their best game thus far. Try scores were awarded to scrummers Bryant and Covington and back Jody Chamberlain.

The club took its 2-2-1 regular season record into the tournament at Norfolk where they were considered the underdogs. They soon proved this was not the case at all. First, they met UVa and with a try by Hines, won 4-0. The tension had built throughout the season and was reaching its peak now. Many backs including Angie Sullivan, Kim Sullivan, Helen Dennis, and Tracy Holmes played with revived energy during the second half and kept UVa from scoring to intensify matters more, Mary Washington also beat UVa with an equal score of 4-0. The two teams went into the third game evenly matched. The Longwood women realized they were still considered the underdogs in the eyes of their opponents. This only gave the team more incentive as they played for their chance to win a spot in the finals. The teams were evenly matched as no score was awarded during the first half. Hines scored the winning try in the second half leaving the score at 4-0.

This win carried Longwood into the finals on Sunday. Now it was Longwood and JMU in a battle for number one in the state. Longwood dominated from the beginning by not allowing JMU to cross the 50 yard line more than twice in the first half. No score was awarded during the entire game. Longwood lost one of its most valuable backs, Donna Gulden, during the second half. A newcomer, Jennifer Mishoe, quickly filled in and the team got itself back together. With no score, the teams had to go into sudden death, where the first team to score would win. A JMU back broke away as a Longwood player proceeded to push her out of bounds, but not before she crossed the try line. For those who are unaware of the rules to rugby, in order to score a try a player must place the ball down in the end zone under control. The referee awarded JMU the winning try, claiming there was an improper tackle made by Longwood that prevented JMU from scoring. When the call was appealed by Longwood, the referee explained his reason for awarding the try to JMU. He stated that if no attempt had been made to push the player out of bounds, she would have scored. Longwood was forced to accept the call and finished their season second in the state. Last year the women's team ranked third in the state which exemplifies their semester of hard work and improvement. So what does this mean for next season? Come out and see for yourself as Longwood plays UVa on April 7th, their first home game of the season to date.

Cathy Hines, Sharon Bryant, Debbie Ellis, Deena Covington, and Becky Ruth were all chosen to play on the select-sides team representing the state of Virginia next weekend. Awards for the season were given to: Most Valuable Player - Cathy Hines; Most Dedicated Player - Debbie Ellis; Most Outstanding Back - Angie Sullivan; Most Outstanding Scrummer - Sharon Bryant; Most Improved Back - Helen Dennis; Most Improved Scrummer - Susan Johnson.

Other Rugby players not previously mentioned include: Margaret Bishop, Kathy McMahon, Karen Watts, Tammy Lacks, Rhonda Gibbs and Shannon Daniel.

Longwood's Women's Rugby Team in action against JMU. File photo.

Photo Credit: R. Bruce Gantt.

HELP WANTED

ACT IN TV COMMERCIALS
HIGH PAY
No experience...all ages — kids, teens, young adults, families, mature people, animals, etc. Call Now!
CHARM STUDIOS
1-(800) 447-1530
Ext. 514

HELP WANTED

Would like to offer Discover Credit Cards? Are you available for only a few hours/week? If so, call 1-800-932-0528 ext. 4. We'll pay you as much as $10.00/hour. Only ten positions available.

Lonely?
Need a Date?
Meet that special someone today!
Call DATETIME
(405) 366-6335

If Prospect, VA is your hometown, please call Bob collect. 1-323-6326.

Sunny's
CAFE
CASABLANCA
Farmville Shopping Center
OPEN:
MONDAY -SATURDAY
11::30 - 2:00
5:00 - 9:00
Now
Mexican Food
And Beers!

— FREE —
PREGNANCY TEST

All services confidential.
Same day results.
116 N. MAIN STREET
SOUTHSIDE PREGNANCY CENTER

24-HOUR HOTLINE
392-8483

Cruise Ship Jobs
HIRING Men - Women. Summer/ Year Round. PHOTOGRAPHERS, TOUR GUIDES, RECREATION PERSONNEL. Excellent pay plus FREE travel. Caribbean, Hawaii, Bahamas, South Pacific, Mexico.
CALL NOW! Call refundable.
1-206-736-0775, Ext. 1235J

Sports Briefs

(Cont'd. from page 7)

ing season when the Lancer gymnasts put on an exhibition Friday night at 8 in Lancer Hall. The event is open to the public with no charge for admission.

"It will be a fun performance to showcase team members," said coach Ruth Budd. There will be group dance and tumbling routines, rapid-fire cross tumbling, and some competitive routines. This year's team has four new members, all freshmen and five returnees. The team is working hard," said Budd. "Gymnastics is the kind of sport that requires year-round workouts."

There will be an intersquad meet Nov. 30, when team members will be judged on their routines. The first intercollegiate match will be Jan. 14, away, against William & Mary.

It's Back!
Student Operated
Longwood Escort Service

A free service to Longwood College for those that don't want to walk alone.

Times:
Weeknights Sunday-Thursday 10 p.m. - 12 a.m.
Weekends Friday & Saturday 10 p.m. - 2 a.m.

Call Campus Police for Service

Anyone interested in joining, please contact Chris Horan, Box 591, South Cunningham 125 or Phone 3384 or contact Campus Police.

Upcoming Events

Information on this calendar is collected and coordinated through the Student Union Office, 1st Floor Lankford Student Union, Longwood College.

For student organizations or college departments to make entries a campus calendar form must be filled out and returned to the Student Union Office.

Deadline is the Tuesday preceding publication date.

MONDAY - 13

Alumni Exhibition: Susan Hilton, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

David Cayton and Thomas Hilty: Recent Work, 9-12 & 1-5, Bedford Gallery.

Tequila Sunrise Movie, 6 p.m., Lancer Cafe.

Mens Intramural Volleyball Starts.

Concert

TUESDAY - 7

David Cayton and Thomas Hilty: Recent Work, 9-12 & 1-5, Bedford Gallery.

VARY workshop, 7 p.m., 1st floor French.

Lynchburg College — Laura X - When a Woman says NO, It's Rape: 7 p.m., Ballroom, Hall Campus Center.

WEDNESDAY - 8

Mens Volleyball entry blanks due & meeting, 6:30 p.m., IM Room, Lankford.

David Cayton and Thomas Hilty: Recent Work, 9-12 & 1-5, Bedford Gallery.

Kile Davis, Comedian, 8 p.m., Lancer Cafe.

Film

THURSDAY - 9

David Cayton and Thomas Hilty: Recent Work, 9-12 & 1-5, Bedford Gallery.

Alumni Exhibition: Susan Hilton, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

Curry Hall Council Talent Show, 7:30 p.m.

Job Search Strategies Workshop, 1 p.m., 2nd floor Ruffner.

FRIDAY - 10

Tequila Sunrise - Movie, 7 p.m., Lancer Cafe.

David Cayton and Thomas Hilty: Recent Work, 9-12 & 1-5, Bedford Gallery.

Fall Fashion Show, 7 p.m., Gold Room, Lankford, $10/AD.

Alumni Exhibition: Susan Hilton, 3 - 5 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

SATURDAY -11

SUNDAY - 12

Alumni Exhibition: Susan Hilton, 3 - 5 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

Senior Piano Recital, 4 p.m., Wygal.

The Rotunda

Longwood College

Vol. 69 No. 9 | November 13, 1989 | Farmville, VA

Bloodmobile To Be Held November 20

There will be a bloodmobile held on Monday, November 20, at the Farmville Masonic Lodge on Catlin Street (across from the Armory). The hours are from 12 noon to 6 p.m.

There is a urgent need for blood in the Farmville area and your support would be appreciated. Please come out and help our community.

Seats still Available

Seats are still available for Longwood College's Christmas Dinner and Concert with Bells on Sunday evening, Dec. 3.

Saturday night's dinner is sold out.

Reservations may be made in the Public Affairs Office, 2nd floor of East Ruffner. The cost is $18.95 each, and checks should be made payable to "Longwood Christmas Dinner."

Tickets and seating charts will be mailed to patrons after Nov. 21.

Honor Awareness Week

Nov. 13th Monday, 6:30-8:30 p.m. Lankford Gold Room. — Dr. Sue Saunders will speak on the History of the Longwood College Honor Board. Directly following will be a question and answer period for students who have petitioned to run for Honor/Judicial Board.

Nov. 15th Wednesday, Wygal Auditorium, 7-8 p.m., Dr. Dorrill will speak on Honor, Responsibility and Leadership, Refreshments following.

Nov. 16th Thursday, Lankford Gold Rm., 7-8 p.m., Mock Trial and Meet the Honor Board. Bring questions.

Romeo and Juliet

The Longwood Players will present Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet on Wednesday through Saturday evenings, Nov. 15-18, at 8 o'clock in Jarman Auditorium.

Dr. Patton Lockwood, professor of speech and theatre at Longwood, is directing this production of the tragic story of young lovers doomed by the enmity between their families. Patrick Michael, a guest artist who is a professional actor and certified fight captain, is choreographing the fight scenes in the play.

Romeo and Juliet was written some 400 years ago. The play's characters are so well known that "Romeo" is used in casual speech to mean "lover" or one who is skilled and successful in the art of wooing.

A matinee performance for more than 1,000 students from area schools will be Friday, Nov. 17, at 10 a.m. Among schools represented are five first-time participants: Monacan High School, Chesterfield; Isle of Wight Academy; Patrick Henry High School, Ashland; Prince George High School; and Laurel Park High School, Martinsville.

General admission to Romeo and Juliet is $4; $2 for Longwood employees, senior citizens, and area students; Longwood students free with ID. The box office in Jarman will open at 7:30 p.m.

Former Contra Leader Speaks at H-SC

Professor Edgar Chamorro, an ex-Jesuit priest and former Contra leader who was once employed by the Central Intelligence Agency, will address the topic of "The Truth About Nicaragua" in a special two day symposium at Hampden-Sydney College. The public is invited to attend.

On Tuesday, November 14, at 7:30 p.m. in Parents and Friends Lounge he will speak on the timely issue of "Nicaragua Elections 1990," especially in the light of Daniel Ortega's current posturing there. On Wednesday, November 15, at 7 p.m. in the College Church, the ex-priest and liberation theologian will speak on a topic of paramount interest in much of Central America, "Can Nicaragua (or any other nation) Be Both Christian and Marxist?" He will also be available on Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 in Parents and Friends Lounge for a question-and-answer session on "Current Issues in Nicaragua."

Chamorro is currently serving as the Senior Fellow of the Commission on U.S. - Latin American relations. For many years he was the Dean of School of Humanities and Professor of Philosophy at the Central American University in Managua. He is the author (1987) of Packaging the Contras: A Case of CIA Disinformation. Many of his insights are shaped by his close association with his first cousin, who is a principal candidate for the presidency of Nicaragua, if indeed those 1990 elections proceed as planned.

Former U.S. Ambassador to El Salvador Robert E. White, who is perhaps our nation's best known human rights advocate in Central America, has called Professor Chamorro "the most effective spokesperson in the United States against Contra aid."

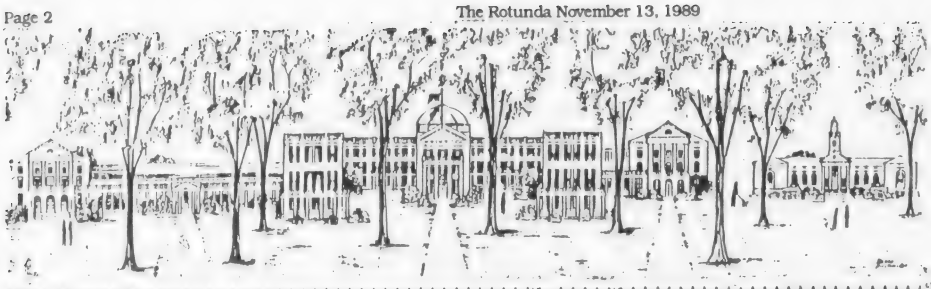
Mr. Chamorro's visit is sponsored by the Hampden-Sydney Interreligious Council and is a part of a series of state-wide campus appearances by Chamorro this week, as coordinated by the international advocacy group Witness for Peace.

Photo Credit: Judi Weller

Samantha Kim (left) looks on as Chris Horan (right) prepares her next semester schedule. Pre-registration started last Monday.

Longwood Concert Band to Perform

Longwood College's Concert Band will give a concert on Tuesday evening, Nov. 14, at 8 o'clock in Wygal Recital Hall.



Featured soloist will be Patricia Werrell, flute instructor, performing a composition by Handel transcribed for band and flute by Dr. Gordon Ring, assistant professor of music. Also on the program are works by Malcolm Arnold, Claude T. Smith, John Barnes Chance, and others.

The Concert Band has 36 members — 28 Longwood students and eight community residents. Dr. Ring is the conductor.

The band concert is open to everyone free of charge.

Contents

	Page
Commentary	2, 4
News	3, 4
Features	5
Greek Affairs	6
Sports	6, 7
Calendar	8

Commentary

Perspectives on Longwood:
The New General Education

By Dr. Ed Smith

Last week I wrote about why every college has a general education program, and why the faculty at Longwood decided to revise ours. Now, I'd like to tell you a little about this new program.

We first agreed upon ten goals for general education at Longwood, and the number of credit hours appropriate for each of these goals.

The first goal specifies clear writing and speaking as an objective. There won't be much change here — ENGL 100 and 101, slightly modified, will satisfy this goal. The second deals with an understanding of artistic achievement and expression. One four-hour course in art, music, theatre, or dance (chosen from a total of about eight courses) will complete this requirement.

The third goal focuses on an understanding of our cultural heritage through literature. This goal will be met by one three-hour course chosen from among three courses in English and one in theatre. The fourth is for mathematics, one three-hour course here.

Fifth, the scientific method is explored in one four-hour class, either general biology, chemistry, physics, or earth science. An understanding of the history of western civilization is the sixth goal; students will take one three-hour course of the two semester western civilization course.

Because of the importance of understanding other cultures in today's global village, we added a goal aimed at understanding non-western cultures. Students will choose one three-hour course from among courses such as world religions, geography, anthropology, the history of China, introduction to Japanese, and world health issues.

Eighth, we want students to have an understanding of the social forces that are shaping our society. They will be able to choose one three-hour course from among seven offered by anthropology, economics, history, political science, psychology, and sociology.

The ninth goal deals with health and wellness; students will choose one two-hour course in fitness through exercise, and one one-hour sport or activity course. Finally, the tenth goal stresses the importance of ethical reasoning in contemporary life. A one-hour course offered by philosophy will satisfy this goal, or some departments will teach ethics in courses designed for the major.

(Is anybody still with me?)

In addition, each course offered to satisfy any of the general education goals must meet nine criteria, i.e., they must include in the course content nine specific skills or perspectives.

They must teach a disciplinary mode of inquiry, i.e., they must require students to use critical thinking, statistical analysis, literary analysis, the scientific method, or whatever style of problem-solving is appropriate for that course. All courses must try to build creativity, ethical reasoning, writing and speaking skills, computer skills, and library skills.

Finally, all general education courses must encourage students to consider the societal implications of the information they're studying, the interconnections between that discipline and others, and the diversity of perspectives and contributions in a field of study.

So, starting next year, incoming students will have to take 33 hours of these general education core courses. In addition, students will need to take either nine or ten hours of "degree requirements."

If the student is majoring in a discipline that receives a Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Fine Arts degree, he will also need to take, beyond the general education core requirements, six hours in humanities, and three hours in modern languages at the 202 level or above.

If the student is majoring in a discipline that receives a Bachelor of Science degree, she will need to take, beyond the general education core requirements, four hours of natural sciences, three-hours of mathematics, and three hours of social sciences.

We hope and believe that this new general education program will be of more value and make more sense to you, the student. We'll be assessing student reactions and gains to find out if we're right.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I would like to congratulate "Andy Rooney" on his sarcastic humor about the frivolity of sororities. My friends and I enjoyed the editorial and had a lot of laughs. I am sure Robin Burroughs has NEVER had a laugh at the expense of another group. Perhaps that is why she is being so defensive concerning the editorial. After all, the personals were to contain "several" comments directed towards "Rooney" and his humor. Perhaps "Rooney's" sarcasm rings true; all the paraphernalia with the insignias are to provide a feeling of security because without it, you would forget who you are, or maybe it's like writing your name on everything in case it gets lost.

Well, I have something to say as a matter of truth concerning some of our campus fluffy socialites. If you want a sorority table in the dining hall— buy one and put your insignia on it. But don't ever tell me I can't sit at a table because it's yours. I pay tuition just like you, and I'm sure your dues don't cover the cost of the table. And as far as the dining hall goes, have you ever considered what it is like to wait in line with some of you Greeks? And heaven help us when you've got those paddles, which are inadvertently used

(Continued on page 4)

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
R. Bruce Gantt

Photography Editor
Jan-Marie Johnson

Sports Editor
Lindy Seymore

Business Manager
Sarah Tetterton

Advertising Manager
Michelle Lawhorn

Features Editor
Monica Gilbert

News Editor
Stephanie Neeley

Faculty Advisor
William C. Woods

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be signed, typed or printed neatly, and state the author's years. The Editor and staff reserve the right to edit any material submitted for publication.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 395-2120.

News

ROTC spends Weekend at Fort A. P. Hill

By Capt. Carson

This past weekend a number of Longwood College students went to Fort A.P. Hill and participated in an ROTC Field Leadership Exercise. The group left late Friday afternoon and for many it was their first time in uniform. By Friday night they had mastered the rudimentary fundamentals of drill and ceremony. Saturday morning was spent on the rifle range where they fired, for familiarization, the M16 rifle. Saturday afternoon and evening was spent on a map reacher course where the students were able to put into practice what they had learned in the classroom. The highlight of the weekend was Sunday morning. Each of the students successfully rappelled off a thirty foot tower. Additionally they were certified to rappel out of a helicopter. The Military Science has made arrangements for an Army helicopter to be on campus on Nov. 15th and those that were certified this weekend will have the opportunity to rappel from 80 feet out of the helicopter onto ller Field.

Janet Roberts rappels from the 30 foot tower at A. P. Hill.

Photo By Capt. Carson

Virginia Governor's Fellows Program

SUMMER 1990

PURPOSE

The Governor's Fellows Program offers a select group of talented and highly motivated young people valuable firsthand experience in the processes of state government. The summer of 1990 will mark the ninth year of this program, created in 1982.

The Governor's Fellows Program is designed to bring fresh ideas into government, as well as to attract exceptional young people to careers in government or public service. Moreover, the program aims to strengthen ties between the state government and Virginia's academic community, building a mutual sense of understanding and rapport.

ELIGIBILITY

Applicants must be graduating seniors or enrolled as degree candidates in a graduate or professional school. Applicants must either be enrolled in a Virginia college or university (public or private) or, if enrolled in an out-of-state institution, be a Virginia resident.

Selection of Fellows will be based on merit, without regard to race, sex, national origin, religion, age, disability, or political affiliation.

DURATION OF FELLOWSHIP

Fellows must commit to work full-time in the Governor's Office for at least two months; the normal period will be June 4 through August 3, 1990.

ASSIGNMENTS

Fellows are assigned to work with members of the Governor's Cabinet or personal staff. Assignments attempt to match the official's needs with the Fellow's background and experience.

FUNDING

No state funds are available to support Fellows. However, in previous years, colleges and universities have proved willing to offer summer grants to Fellows selected from those institutions. In 1990 institutions from which Fellows are selected will again be urged to make summer grants available.

Applicants are encouraged to discuss this matter with school officials before making application, if financial assistance is necessary for participation in the program.

SELECTION PROCESS

A panel of distinguished Virginia educators and members of state government will screen all applicants and may, at their discretion, request personal interviews.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE

Applicants should submit a letter of application and resume that include:

*name, address, and telephone numbers (both present and permanent)

*schools attended (with dates) and degrees, if any *extracurricular activities

*awards and recognitions

*work experience

*voluntary community activities

*any other relevant information, e.g., publications or leisure interests

Applicants should include an official transcript of undergraduate work (and graduate work, if any), including GPA, and two or three letters of recommendation.

DEADLINE

APPLICATIONS MUST BE RECEIVED BY FEBRUARY 1, 1990.

Send applications to Professor A.E. Dick Howard, Coordinator, Governor's Fellows Program, State Capitol, Richmond, Virginia 23219.

INFORMATION

For additional information, please write:

A.E. Dick Howard Center for Public Service
University of Virginia
2015 Ivy Road, 4th Floor
Charlottesville, Virginia
22903-1795

Who's Who

The 1990 edition of WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES will include the names of 37 students from Longwood College who have been selected as national outstanding leaders.

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory have included the names of these students based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential for continued success.

They join an elite group of students selected from more than 1,400 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations.

Outstanding students have been honored in the annual directory since it was first published in 1934.

Students named this year from Longwood College are:

Ms. Susan L. Baca
Mr. Gregory L. Bowman
Ms. Cynthia C. Breckenridge
Ms. Diane M. Brown
Ms. Robin Elizabeth Burroughs
Ms. Elizabeth Camillo
Ms. Danielle B. Felch
Mr. James Matthew Gross
Mr. Dennis Earl Hale
Ms. Susan Ann Hanks
Ms. Mary Frances Hanover
Ms. Amy B. Harrell
Ms. Charlene R. Herbert
Mr. Charles S. Hoper, III
Mr. E. Andrew Hudson
Ms. Lorrie L. Huffman
Ms. Carla S. Huskey
Mr. Gene M. Kerns
Ms. Rhonda Ann Light
Ms. Janel M. Logan
Ms. Kalli S. Lucas
Ms. Suzanne M. Pellegrino
Mr. Thomas R. R. Pettus
Mr. Michael Anthony Porter
Ms. Pamela L. Puckett
Ms. Cynthia A. Pushee
Mr. Norman Lawrence Robertson
Ms. Amy L. Roderer
Ms. Patricia Elaine Scott
Ms. Linda G. Slayton
Ms. Rebecca L. Todd
Mrs. Dawn A. Vaughan
Ms. Deborah L. Vaughan
Ms. Kimberly L. Walker
Ms. Kathleen M. Walters
Mr. Michael John Whitford
Ms. Donna L. Wolfe

Black Business

June 1, 1929, seven Black business women chartered Iota Phi Lambda Sorority, Inc., the first step in the organization of a national business sorority. The service oriented sorority's purpose was to encourage young Black women to pursue a career in business educations. We are now cordially inviting the young women at Longwood College who are seeking a sorority of encouragement and movement to join us at our first Interest Party on November 28, 1989 at 7:00 p.m. in the Learning Resource Center Conference Room.

Iota Phi Lambda Sorority, Inc. in today's world; seeks (1) to unite in a sisterhood qualified Black business and professional women, (2) to promote increased interest in business education among high school and college young women through planned program and scholarships and many other viable programs.

The Sorority is recognized as an important national organization which stimulates young women to qualify for the many challenges offered by increased employment opportunities.

We welcome your interest and attendance to apply to be part of our charter line at Longwood in the Spring. You must have 30 credits and a G.P.A. of 2.5 or better by the time the pledge period begins.

Let's make history together.

Soror Claudia Logan
Raecita Gallop

Sorority To Begin

News /Commentary

Letters to the Editor Continued

(Continued from page 2)

to poke and prod us along like cattle. Just because you are a Greek does not mean you deserve an express line into the dining hall or inconvenience us all because you need the dining hall to yourselves during Greek week. Maybe we should hold contests, how many ASA's can we get at one table? Or what about the brothers who don't want to wait in line so they borrow someone else's plate. I wonder how many times one plate goes through the line in a sitting?

I am sure you can defend yourselves on the ground of unity, but what kind of unity do you have when you have separate little cliques within the sorority? And if you're a sisterhood why isn't it good enough to just say "I'm not up to going to DT's to party tonight."? Why does one have to write an excuse or risk a monetary fine all because you do not want to party? I thought sisters understood each other, accepted each other for what they are, not fine each other because they're different. Perhaps the problem lies in the word "different". I'd say our "Andy Rooney" is different, maybe that is why it is so hard for you to understand his humor. Let's take a look at his predicament.

First of all let's look at this "imprunted stationary". Was it ever considered that this was a typographical error? Or that perhaps it was a proofreaders error? Since Robin B. is such a perfectionist perhaps she should apply for a position as a proofreader. The Rotunda is short-staffed and would be happy for her help, or would she give the same excuse many professors are familiar with, "My sorority/fraternity keeps me busy."? Then let's consider the fact that "Rooney" did not sign his name. It is obvious to me you have never been a minority or perhaps you would have some sympathy as to the reason he did not sign his name.

Well I'll be up front with you. I do have some hard feelings towards sororities and fraternities. I believe that when people join they are buying their friends. But I also have some understanding towards the groups and the reasons people join. I do not base my opinions on people because they are Greek or independent, but rather on their personal qualities. I feel the Deltas were treated unjustly after reading Beth Lord's article and I believe SOME of the people in fraternities and sororities are truly friendly and nice people. Therefore, I am going to sign my name because I am not ashamed of who I am or what I believe. If you do not like what I have to say, which I'm sure you probably won't, you can respond and tell me what an "idiot" YOU think I am. I could really care less what you think because I take pride in my differences and if being an "idiot" means being different, I might even say "Thank You".

Pamela Rousseau

Dear Sir or Madam,

This is a letter to the editor of the Rotunda describing the events which took place on August 27, 1989. I was sanctioned by the Longwood College Honor Board to write this letter as one consequence of the events which took place.

On the night of August 27 I walked out of my suite room door. As I was closing the door my R. A. asked me if he could ask me something. I said, "Sure what is it?" Then he asked me if the wine cooler boxes which were sitting outside my door were mine. I was completely shocked by this. My roommates and I had been drinking the night before and I thought the boxes had been taken to the trash. Since I am a freshman and I live on a dry hall, I was scared stiff as to what to say to my R.A. I thought well I better tell him "No they are not mine," to avoid getting myself in trouble. So I lied to my R.A. He knew I was lying and he filed charges against me.

I did not know for quite some time that I had gotten in trouble. I had received my handbook of rules and regulations, but I had not really had the time to read it. My R.A. came to me and told me that he had filed charges against me. He sat down and thoroughly explained everything to me.

When I went in front of the Honor Board, I was very scared. I was not quite sure as what to expect from the whole thing. Well we went inside and sat down at our table. My R.A. told his side of the story, and then I told mine. The Honor Board asked me some questions pertaining to the event and I answered them to the best of my knowledge. I was still scared senseless though. Then the Honor Board sent us out of the room to discuss my case. While we were waiting, I paced the floor wondering what was going to happen to me.

The Honor Board called us back in, and then they gave me my sanction. I received more punishment besides this letter. Well I was very relieved to get what I received, and thankful at the same time that it was not something much more worse. I know what I did was wrong and I regret it. It was something that could have been resolved much easier if I had just told the truth.

Name withheld upon Request

The freshman class elections to most are considered unimportant. But, the fact remains, having the responsible leadership quality to lead a class is an essential for success. The freshman year of college seems unnecessary to have officers, but in reality, leadership ability is needed to guide the class through the four years of school beginning with the freshman year. The elections for freshmen officers were scheduled for the first week of October. The elections were then postponed until the first week of November. The elections are now supposedly going to be held November 15 and 16 along with Student Government Elections. By having the freshman elections being postponed not only do the officers become cheated of their term, but also the class is cheated out of raising money for their future. The irresponsibility of the Student Government is ridiculous; the S.G.A.'s responsibility is supposed to be one of taking charge of the situation and setting an example for Longwood College students. By pushing the elections further off, the S.G.A's responsibility is illustrated and a bad name is put forth for this administration. The entire situation is pathetic and if S.G.A. had taken responsibility of this occurrence when scheduled, the first week of October, there would not have been a problem.

A concerned candidate for the office of
Freshman Class President

Name withheld upon Request

Dear Longwood people,

Do you know that the Japanese course at Longwood College meets the foreign language requirement? Do you know that Japanese 101 is an approved general Education course? Why don't you take advantage of this and study Japanese in college? You can take Japanese up to 202 level at Longwood College or at Hampden-Sydney College. Japanese 101 and 201 are offered in the Fall; Japanese 102 and 202 are offered in the spring semester.

During World War II, the American government promoted the study of Japan and Japanese while the Japanese government prohibited learning and/or using English. Time has passed and now in Japan, children start to learn English as a foreign language in middle school. In Japan, the course is apt to be grammar or translation-oriented, but, anyway, Japanese students know English.

Nowadays, many Japanese companies have come to the U.S. and have expanded their business, while American companies also want to do some business in Japan. Many companies are eager to have those employees who can speak English and Japanese.

Do you like studying languages? Would you like to learn Japanese? You might ask whether learning Japanese is easy. Well, I do not deny learning Japanese is not so easy for Americans because English and Japanese are very different.

But if Japanese people can learn English, why can't Americans learn Japanese? I know many American students who speak Japanese. Learning a very different language with the culture or social habits is quite fun. Why don't you try Japanese 101 in the spring semester and broaden your horizons and job possibilities.

KINJO FUNIKO

Notice from Housing

If you are not planning to return to Longwood College for the Spring Semester, it is important that you inform the Housing Office by Friday, December 1, 1989. If you plan to graduate, transfer, or withdraw at the end of the semester, you will need to remove all of your belongings from the room and take them home or arrange for storage prior to leaving for the Christmas break since another student will be assigned to the room. You also need to properly check out of the room. We want to make sure that new students will be able to move into a clean, inviting space.

Failure to comply will result in a $50 fine against the damage deposit.

If you are planning to return for the Spring Semester, but your roommate is not, you too need to contact the Housing Office by Friday, December 1, 1989, so that arrangements can be made for a new roommate.

You will have three options to choose from:

A) Have the Housing Office assign you a new student.

B) Have a current student move in with you.

C) Move to another room.

All room changes must be completed (including proper check-out) before leaving for Christmas Break. Failure to do so or failure to notify the Housing Office before moving will result in a $50 fine levied against the damage deposit.

If a vacancy exists in your room after 5 p.m on Friday, December 8, 1989, the Housing Office reserves the right to assign a student to that space.

Features

Personals

Pokey – Is there any way you can give me as good a ride as you gave me last weekend!? Thanks Your Sis

To Christy R. – Are you discovering...? G.MW.

Maxine Cook – Thanks for everything! What would I do without an awesome buddy like you? P.S. What's on for the weekend? When are you COMMING OVER?

To the best roomie ever – Jennifer Colbert. I really owe you one! You're the greatest!

The Longwood Cheerleaders – You guys are really looking awesome! I walk through the Commons Room a lot and watch! Par-Bil's is just around the corner. GOOD LUCK!

Happy Birthday to all the November Kappa Deltas: Shannon H., Kelly M., Carole, Ellen, Christina, Kristi! Love, your sisters!

Wistina Chin, Hope your birthday is wonderful. We'll have to do Chinese again!! This time – more flaming volcanoes. Fooley Jock.

KΔ roomie Michelle, Congrads on a successful anti-me night! Your KΔ roomie Julii

Congratulations to Kappa Delta new council. We know you'll do well.

Jen K – You missed some great "doughnuts," but at least you saw a "chip." Giddy up Pony! _ Jo and Amy

Oreo – Splash! Splash! Want to take a bubble bath? Oh, by the way – Shake your poor what? Your buds, Amy and Mary Jo

To the Sisters and Pledges of Delta Zeta (and Ben), In my mind, you'll always be "The Best"! Love, Missy

"HE" and "HA" – What happened to the nights of music? I'll bring the "blow-pipe". You bring the "hot-tub."

CD ("HA") –
You said you had never
But now you have.
Not one but two
Personals you have found.
Until next time
You'll have to wait
Cuz you'll never know
Your own fate!

To Stephanie & Laura – Great letters to the editor! I for one appreciate the Greek system and what it is trying to do. Thanks! A friend.

At a circle far away
Often there small children play
Let the spirit of blue guide your way
And find the thing we hid today.

Tammy — Can you guess what's coming? Me either! So exactly how many more letters do you need to have an entire alphabet? Don't worry about the past the future will only be better. It's all fate anyway right!? — Your GDI Roomie

Kathy Sykes — Happy 21st birthday to the Greatest friend and Best Roomie in the world! Good things come to those who wait. — Traci

Karl — Thanks for being there when I need you. Your friendship really means alot to me. Good luck scamming! — Love ya! Shel

Rob Stanley — I love to watch you sweat! Keep Pumping! — The Pump-ette

Lisa — I'm glad things worked out between us. You're a great roomie! — Michelle

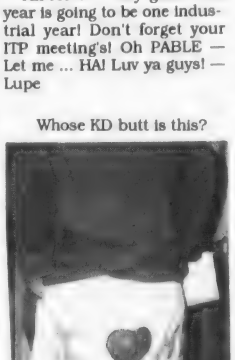
Kick and Killer — Hey "ya'll"! Like my "britches"? Kick Meet you by the vending machine? (Bring Change!) Killer — Your little apprentice is working for an "A", wanted you to know my goals — the apple pie and to make it through leg lifts. Love you guys — you're the greatest! — "Home" girl

To L. M. — the window woman. — Smile, don't worry, be happy. From window woman #2. You've lived, laughed, loved, cried, mostly loved ...

Sugar Bear, — What an awesome Rugger! No party fouls allowed at Ball or you'll have to dance with Bud. (Shank). I'll still love ya though. — Your awesome Lil' sis

My Favorite President — Thanks for the Beautiful picture. Are you thinking about me? I think we should make a group trip to the Spirit world. From your favorite you-know-what.

T & T — I'm glad you are happy with the sororities you have chosen. ΣΣΣ and ΣK just don't realize what they've gotten themselves into. Golly, do you think I'll be like youse guyse one day. — Your honorary Σ Sister



Terri — You're doing a fantastic job as a big sis; for little Tally you're both lucky. Thanks for the candy-apple can you believe it was my first! — Kelly

Mo Bay — Are you sure the downstairs isn't the basement? That's what it's called in Am. Eng. What's your new major — Accounting is always good — no creativity necessary! — Talk again "Snob"

Mo Bay — Hope this week is a better one for ya. Hey are way-ward friends still invited to your house over Spring Break? Talk about it later — See ya "Snob"

All ITP's — Hey girls! This year is going to be one industrial year! Don't forget your ITP meeting's! Oh PABLE — Let me ... HA! Luv ya guys! — Lupe Whose KD butt is this?

From: the Bread Boys

Remember to complete your RA/Desk Services evaluations by Friday, November 17! Return them to your RA or REC.

May Robert Standley, Chris Stephen Parks, Jimmy F. Pleasants, Scott Herbert Flood, Timothy James Strothers understand that through your love and dedication to Alpha Chi Rho, you've turned your pledge pins into letters. Be proud and wear your letters with pride.

Congratulations Your president of Alpha Chi Rho ΔΝΔΡΙΖΕΣøΕ

To Shteffi, Jen, Tony, Suzanne, Mike F., Jen D. Marty, Kathy, Michelle, Susan, Ronnie, Neil, Leslie, Keith, Pat, Lynette, Sandy, Mom, Dad, Joe, Scott, Dave, and anyone else I may have forgotten. Thank you so much for making my birthday the best ever. I couldn't ask for better friends and family than what I've got! I love you all very much! ! Terri

ATTENTION EDUCATION MAJORS:

If you are interested in becoming a member of Kappa Delta Pi Education Honor Society and have a GPA of 3.2 or better, contact Charlene Hebert, Kay Francis, or Dr. Betty Jo Simmons for an application. The deadline is Nov. 27. There will be a December initiation.

Tally — Thanks for showing me the inside life while being your personnal secretary. Whenever you need company just drag me from what I'm doing. Don't worry about Kevin I'm sure he'll see the light. — Your honorary Σ sister

Dear Students, Administrators, Faculty... Longwood,

CHI commends you for all your hard work, dedication, enthusiasm, and Blue and White Spirit. This year's Fall enrollment had a 7.89 per cent increase over last year. Longwood had the highest percent of enrollment increase of all public four-year colleges and universities in Virginia. New student enrollments increased 7.2 per cent to 944. Transfer enrollment is up to 40%.

The retention rate of freshmen admitted in the Fall of 1988 who were still enrolled in the Fall of 1989 was 79.1%, a 5% improvement over the previous year and about 10% above national averages for our type of school.

This year's acceptance rate of 59% maintains Longwood's position as the fifth most selective public college in Virginia. These achievements do not go unnoticed, nor unappreciated. Let's all strive to maintain this attitude of excellence, and pride in our school.

CHI of 1990.

PHONE 395-2121

ITZA PIZZA

NEW HOURS:
T, W, TH, & SUN.
11 AM - 1 AM
MON., FRI. & SAT.
11 AM - 11 PM

ITZA NEW!

29 MINUTES OR LESS*
& A DOLLAR CHEAPER!

Hot n' Cheesy...
Better Than Ever!

WE DELIVER FOR LUNCH

*If your pizza arrives 30 minutes or more...you receive $2.00 off next purchase.

Greek Affairs

Life After The Party

Jaime T. Shearls
Zeta Tau Alpha
and
Rocco Tricarico
Alpha Chi Rho

The social scene is definitely a big part of not only Greek life, but of college life in general. It seems most weekend parties tend to revolve around fraternity chapter rooms.

The cost of the parties, which are paid for by the fraternity and sorority, average $200-300, which either comes out of social dues paid in advance, or out of everyone's own pockets. That money tends to add up quick when you host one party a weekend. Parties have become more of a liability for fraternities and sororities. Rules and regulations set by insurance companies have tied the hands of most of us, making us limit our guests.

Many times people still end up getting into a party without an invitation. When a fraternity lets someone not invited into their party, they take a risk of losing not only their social privileges for an undetermined amount of time but also their charter. Underage persons caught drinking in a chapter room are not the only person held responsible, the fraternity is also at fault. Sometimes that risk is still taken for greeks and non-greeks alike.

But parties tend to be the only thing seen by onlookers of the Greek system. On the contrary, a great deal of time is spent in community service and philanthropies.

Last year the Longwood Greek system donated 10,052 hours of community service and raised $9,774.02 to be donated to various charities. Each fraternity and sorority has a national philanthropy which it donates money and service to, not to mention that the Greek system continually works with the college and community to find out what services can be done to help benefit the community. A list of some of the projects, services and philanthropies that have benefited from the Longwood College Greek System:

American Heart Association, Domestic Assistance for You, Special Olympics, March of Dimes, Eldercare, Red Cross, Weyanoke Inn, Ronald McDonald House, Juvenile Diabetes Foundation, Crop Walk, Sweep-The-Town, Adopt-A-Highway, Orphans in Lynchburg, Hearing Impaired, Children's Hospital in Richmond, Committee for the Prevention of Child Abuse, The United Way, Farmville Women's Junior League, Alzhiemers Disease, Adopt-A-Grandmother, and Robbie Page Memorial Fund — for polio research. Other various things done for fun and service were can and clothing drives, picnics, Easter Egg Hunts, Halloween Parties, and blood drives, all open to the community and sponsored by Greeks. And on campus, there have been many speakers, concerts, lectures and seminars also sponsored by Greeks.

With all this work it would be logical to think that Greeks have bad grades. However, last year the overall women's Greek average was 2.678 and the overall all campus women's average was 2.56. High grades are obviously not from being bookworms, but can be partically attributed to library hours and study halls which are often required by fraternity and sorority members. Many Greeks have made a significant difference. Throughout history from the first society Phi Beta Kappa in 1946 at William and Mary to the present, Greeks have been successful in various jobs. After seeing the list of successes by Greeks in the past, you will be able to see what the Greek system has accomplished and can accomplish with your support.

Alpha Chi Rho — Spiro Agnew — Nixon's Vice President

Alpha Delta Pi — Sandra Palmer — pro golfer — winner of U.S. Women's Open in 1975, Francine Neff — U.S. Treasurer 1974-1977. Earth."

Phi Beta Sigma — Renaldo Nehemiah — former wide receiver for the 49er's and former high hurdles record holder.

Pi Kappa Phi — James Edwards — Reagan's Secretary of Energy, Randy Owen — vocalist from the group Alabama.

Sigma Kappa — Margaret Seddon Gibson — Astronaut in space shuttle program.

Sigma Phi Epsilon — Carroll O'Connor — Actor — Archie Bunker from All in the Family, The Odor Seuss Geisel. "Dr. Seuss" — Children's Author.

Sigma Sigma Sigma — Gladys Pyle Morelack former head of U.S. Mint.

Tau Kappa Epsilon — Ronald Reagan — 40th President of the United States, Terry Bradshaw — All- Pro Quarterback for the Steelers.

Zeta Tau Alpha — Virginia Knover — Nixon's Director of Consumer Affairs.

Kappa Alpha Psi — Wilt Chamberlain — basketball hall of famer.

Kappa Delta — Pearl S. Buck — Author and Pulitzer prize winner for "The Good

Alpha Gamma Delta — Lorraine Davis — managing editor of Vogue magazine.

Alpha Kappa Alpha — Ruth Love — Chicago Superintendent of Schools.

Alpha Phi Alpha — Martin Luther King, Jr. — Civil Rights Leader and Nobel Peace Prize Winner, 1964, Jesse Owens — sprinter.

Alpha Sigma Alpha — Wilma Wilson Sharpe — President Emeritus, Alpha Sigma Alpha.

Alpha Sigma Phi — Vincent Price — horror film actor. Tom Watson — pro golfer.

Alpha Sigma Tau — Gwen Frostic — author of books for the handicapped.

Delta Sigma Theta — Lena Horne — singer, dancer and actress. Shirley Chisholm — first black woman elected to the House of Representatives.

Delta Zeta — Edith Head — Oscar-winning Hollywood costume designer.

Sports

Player of the Week

Compiling a 4-3 mark over just two days, freshman Adrian Joye placed sixth in the Pembroke State Wrestling Classic Friday and Saturday in his first intercollegiate competition and has been named Longwood College Player of the Week for the period Nov. 5-12. Player of the Week is chosen by the Longwood sports information office.

Wrestling in the 126-lb. weight class, Joye wrestled seven times over a 24-hour period in Longwood's first outing of the season at Pembroke State University.

"Adrian had a great tournament," Lancer head coach Steve Nelson said Monday. "He was facing tough competition in a tough weight class and placed sixth in a college tournament as a freshman. He had four wins in one weekend — most freshmen don't get that many wins all season. He's going to have a great year for us."

A district and regional champion in high school, Joye finished with a 109-2 record at Stonewall Jackson High, but not wrestle last season.

Wretlers Place in Pembroke Classic

By KATHLEEN LELAND

Three members of the 1989-90 Longwood wrestling team placed in the top six of their respective weight classes at the Pembroke Classic held at Pembroke State (N.C.) University over the weekend.

Freshman Adrian Joye placed sixth in the 136-lb. class, junior Tim Mason finished fifth at 177-lbs, and junior Doug Hartley wrestled to fourth at 190-lb. in Longwood's first outing of the season.

"I have mixed emotions about the weekend," head coach Steve Nelson said Monday. "Of the 10 wrestlers we took to Pembroke, six of them won matches. We had some kids who wrestled really well, but the jury is still out on this team."

Nelson was most pleased with the performance of Joye, Mason, Hatley and junior Joe Azero. At 142 lbs., Azero finished 3-2 in the tournament. "Joey had a really good tournament and lost two close matches," Nelson said. "He was looking really good."

At 177, Mason finished 4-2 after wrestling back to a fifth place finish. With a 40-32-1 overall record, Mason is two wins from moving into Longwood's top 10 list. With a tri-match and a tournament coming up, Mason should make the jump this weekend.

"Tim is starting to get back in the groove," Nelson said. "In his match for fifth-place he bet one of the guys who beat him earlier in the tournament."

Joye wrestled seven times over two days, finishing 4-3 with a sixth-place medal and was named Longwood Player of the Week.

The best performance of the tournament for a Longwood wrestler was turned in by John Stukes, one of the most successful wrestlers in Longwood's history. Competing as an unattached wrestler, Stokes won all four of his matches to win the championship at 142-lbs. Still a student at Longwood, he wrestled three seasons with the Lancers using up his eligibility in 1988 after compiling a career 70-8-2 mark for a .861 winning percentage. A one-time NCAA Division II national qualifier and two-time Virginia State champion, Stukes is Longwood's only NCAA Division II regional champion.

On Thursday, Longwood travels to Virginia Tech for a tri-match with Tech and Virginia State. The squad will compete in the Winston-Salem State Tournament on Saturday.

Sports

1989-90 Lancer Dancers

The Lancer Dancers will be featured during half-time of this weekends men's basketball games on both Friday and Saturday nights. Don't miss their spectacular debut. Pictured are: front row - Sherry Perkins, Captains Cherie Rabern and Michelle Cornette, Jill Godfrey; second row - Stacey Pierce, Holly Kitchin, Seandra Sahley, T. C. Schendel, Monica Mencini; and back row - Angie Dourbush, Joi Berengeur, Tracy Butts, and Susan Beckwith.

Blue Team Does Good

Senior Tony Good banged in four 3-point shots in the first half and scored 18 of his team-high 20 points to lead the Blue team to a 101-70 victory over the White squad Sunday night as Longwood's men's basketball team held a preseason intersquad scrimmage in Lancer Hall.

Good was high man as he and all five of his Blue teammates scored in double figures. The Blues raced to a 64-31 halftime edge and coasted to the one-sided victory. Junior forward Keith Latimer had an impressive showing also with 19 points and 12 rebounds. Latimer hit nine of 13 shots from the floor.

Senior Doug Poppe chipped in with 19 points and eight rebounds and senior Dale Shavers had a fine all-around performance with 15 points, eight assists and five steals. Freshman Eric Letts garnered 18 points and 10 boards. Junior first-year performer Keith Morgan tallied 10 points.

For the White squad Kevin Jefferson had 22 points, Billy Dunn 18 points (4-7 on 3-point shots), Greg Holloway 14 points and eight rebounds and freshman Keith Crabtree 10 points.

Longwood coaches were impressed with the play of Good, Latimer and Letts, in particular.

"All our seniors all played pretty well," said coach Cal Luther. "The Blue team had an advantage with four veterans on their squad. With Good, Latimer and Letts complimenting Poppe and Shavers so well, the game got a bit one-sided.

"Playing in front of a crowd under game-type conditions should help us in getting ready for Friday night's opener," commented Luther.

TONY GOOD

The Lancers played Davis & Elkins Friday night in the first round of the seventh Par-Bil's Tip-Off Tournament. Alabama-Huntsville faces Cheyney University in the second game at 9 Friday. The consolation and championship contests will be at 6:30 and 8:30 Saturday night.

Lady Lancers go to Alabama

The Longwood College women's basketball team travels to Alabama this week end for its first two games of the season, taking on Alabama A & M on Friday and the University of Alabama at Huntsville on Saturday.

The Lady Lancers will have their home opener next Tuesday (Nov. 21) when Virginia Union visits for a 7:30 contest.

Juniors Carmille Barnette and Ann Callaham lead the Lady Lancers into the first games of the season.

Barnette, a 5-10 forward potential All-American this season, dominated opponents on both ends of the court last year. Posting a team-leading average of 19.9 points per game, she set a new Longwood record for best scoring average in a season.

She shot .557 from the floor, also a new Longwood season record, and .676 from the line. Barnette also led the team in rebounds, averaging 9.7 per game.

Callaham, a 5-4 guard, was third on last year's squad in scoring, averaging 11.8 ppg. She shot .417 from the floor, .575 from the line and led the team in assists with 81.

Acting as the 1989-90 co-captains are sophomore forwards Salene Green and Cassie Mullenix.

Green, 5-11, averaged 7.5 ppg, shot 424 from the floor and .585 from the line as a freshman starter. She also picked up 7.6 rpg. At 5-10, Mullenix had a .652 free throw percentage last year, averaging 4.0 points and 3.6 rpg.

Longwood's other two sophomores, center Teresa Carter and guard Tena Philbrick, both played in at least 20 games last season. Carter averaged 3.0 points and 3.0 rpg. Philbrick averaged 2.0 ppg and 1.5 rebounds with a .750 free throw mark.

Three freshmen could make substantial contributions to the weekend's competition.

Carl Dellinger, Shanda Stuart and Birte Schneider round out Longwood's nine-player roster. Dellinger, a 6-1 forward, averaged 12 points and 13 rpg her senior year at Fairfax High. Stuart, a 5-11, forward, averaged 18 points and six rpg at Petersburg and played in the East-West All-Star Game. Schneider, a 5-11 forward, provides the Lady Lancers with some international flavor, having played on numerous club teams in Germany.

Men's Basketball go for Fourth

Longwood's men's basketball team has won three straight championships in its own Par-Bil's Tip-Off Tournament and the Lancers will be going for four in-a-row Friday night when they face Davis & Elkins in the tournament and season opener at 7 in Lancer Hall. The Tip-Off Tournament is being sponsored by Par-Bil's Food Store of Farmville for the seventh year.

Cheyney University, which has one of the tallest teams in Division II, plays Alabama-Huntsville at 9 Friday in the second opening-round contest.

With a 7-1 center, a pair of 6-7 forwards and guards at 6-6 and 6-2, Cheyney could be a formidable obstacle in Longwood's path to a fourth straight title, if the Wolves and Lancers reach the 8:30 championship game Saturday night.

Longwood returns three senior starters, 6-5 Kevin Jefferson, 6-8 Doug Poppe and 6-3 Dale Shavers. Also likely to be in the starting lineup Friday night are seasoned inside bruiser Greg Holloway, who is 6-6, and junior transfer Billy Dunn.

Lancer coach Cal Luther will be looking to senior guard Tony Good and junior forward Keith Latimer as his top performers off the bench. Good, Latimer and freshman Eric Letts all played well for the Blue team in Sunday night's Blue/White scrimmage. Letts may have also earned a spot among Longwood's top reserves.

Longwood's opening day roster will also include guards Keith Crabtree, Keith Morgan and Rodney Clayton. The Lancers will be without the services of freshman Bryan Weaver for as much as two weeks because of sprained ankles. Weaver, who has played well when healthy, has been sidelined off-and-on by a variety of ailments since preseason practice began Oct. 15.

Following the Par-Bil's Tournament, Longwood will journey to North Carolina Monday night to take on Elon College.

HELP WANTED

ACT IN TV COMMERCIALS
HIGH PAY
No experience...all ages — kids, teens, young adults, families, mature people, animals, etc. Call Now!
CHARM STUDIOS
1-(800) 447-1530
Ext. 514

HELP WANTED

Would like to offer Discover Credit Cards? Are you available for only a few hours/week? If so, call 1-800-932-0528 ext. 4. We'll pay you as much as $10.00/hour. Only ten positions available.

Lonely?
Need a Date?
Meet that special someone today!
Call DATETIME
(405) 366-6335

Sunny's
CAFE
CASABLANCA
Farmville Shopping Center
OPEN:
MONDAY -SATURDAY
11::30 - 2:00
5:00 - 9:00
Now
Mexican Food
And Beers!

Jobs in Alaska
HIRING Men - Women • Summer/ Year Round. CANNERIES, FISHING, LOGGING, TOURISM, CONSTRUCTION up to $600 weekly, plus FREE room and board. CALL NOW! Call refundable 1-206-736-0775, Ext._____

Upcoming Events

Information on this calendar is collected and coordinated through the Student Union Office, 1st Floor Lankford Student Union, Longwood College.

For student organizations or college departments to make entries a campus calendar form must be filled out and returned to the Student Union Office.

Deadline is the Tuesday preceding publication date.

Tuesday - 14	Wednesday - 15	Thursday - 16	Friday - 17	Saturday - 18	Sunday - 19	Monday - 20
Eating Disorders, 1 - 2 p.m., Counseling Center Conference. Alumni Exhibition: Susan Hilton, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery. Womens' Indoor Soccer entry blanks due and meeting, 6:30 p.m. IM Room, Lankford. Longwood Concert Band, 8 p.m., Wygal Recital Hall. Dr. Paul F. Walker Lecture: "Race To Oblivion", 7:30 p.m., Gold Room. ISP Lecture: "Crisis in the Middle East by Joseph Sayah, Virginia Room, 7:30 p.m.	Longwood Players presents Romeo and Juliet, 8 p.m., Jarman. Alumni Exhibition: Susan Hilton, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery. Petersburg National Battlefield Summer Employment, 10-11 a.m.: 1-2 P.m. David Cayton and Thomas Hilty: Recent Work, 9-12, 1-5, Bedford Gallery. Women's indoor soccer practice. Hampden-Sydney — Movie, "Field of Dreams," Johns, 10 p.m., $1. Randolph-Macon Woman's — Film Series: "The Earrings of Mme de . . .,' Thoresen Theatre.	Longwood Players presents Romeo and Juliet, 8 p.m., Jarman Women's indoor soccer starts. Alumni Exhibition: Susan Hilton, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery. David Cayton and Thomas Hilty: Recent Work, 9-12, 1-5, Bedford Gallery. Weekend basketball (6) entry blanks due & meeting, 6:30 p.m., IM Room, Lankford. Hampden-Sydney — CAC Last Lecture, Dr. Kenneth Townsend, Crawley Forum, 8 p.m.	Longwood Players presents Romeo and Juliet, 8 p.m., Jarman Alumni Exhibition: Susan Hilton, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery. David Cayton and Thomas Hilty: Recent Work, 9-12, 1-5, Bedford Gallery. Par-Bils Tip-off Tournament, 7 and 9 p.m., Lancer Hall. Hampden-Sydney — H-SC Tipoff Classic: Basketball Tournament with Union, Millikin, York; Kirby Field House, 7 and 9 p.m.	Alumni Exhibition: Susan Hilton, 3-5 p.m., Showcase Gallery. Men and Women weekend Basketball Longwood Players presents Romeo and Juliet, 8 p.m., Jarman  	Alumni Exhibition: Susan Hilton, 3-5 p.m., Showcase Gallery.  	Cholesterol Screening, 12:30 - 2:30 p.m., Health Service, $3. Alumni Exhibition: Susan Hilton, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery. Swim relays entry blanks due & meeting, 6:30 p.m., IM Room, Lankford. City Woodworks, 9-12; 1-5, Bedford Gallery.Frank King - Comedian, 8 p.m., Lancer Cafe. Cholesterol Screening, 10 - 11:30 p.m., Health Service, $3. Alcohol Support Group, 6 - 7 p.m., Counseling Center Conference.

The Rotunda

Longwood College

Vol. 69 No. 10 | November 20, 1989 | Farmville, VA

Pomp Wins SGA Presidential Elections

By MIKE O'CONNOR

Bradley Pomp won last week's SGA elections with a slight lead over opponent Rocco Tricarico. The elections seemed to be characterized by either very close races or no competition at all. Other winners include: Stacy Crockarell SGA vice president; Pam Ladd, treasurer; Shannon R. Nunnally, communications coordinator; Marie Bristow, chair of Student Union.

Freshmen Class Winners were Shannon Gardner, president; Tricia Popular, vice president; Beth Lewis, treasurer; Jennifer Younger, secretary. New Honor Board members are Greg Calder and Kim McCluney. Judicial Board members are: William Brady, Anthony Booker, Valerie Fornash, Shannon Hurley, Greg Kirby, Tracy Nock, Lisa Nicklas, Michael L. Pacelli, Heather M. Ross, Dominique San Angelo, Jonathan D. Sisk, Charles H. Smith, Carolyn Strobel, James A. Trent.

Peer Helpers Sponsor Angel Tree

By LISA DYSON

Christmas is coming and so is the Angel Tree! The Peer Helper Program is sponsoring a special program for neighborhood nursing homes and other needy members of the Farmville community.

The Rotunda Christmas tree will be decorated with special angel ornaments this year. On these ornaments will be the name of one person in the community who would appreciate a nice, simple gift for Christmas (about $4-$5). The Peer Helpers encourage faculty, staff, individual students, and other student organizations to participate by choosing one or more of these angels and buying a gift for the person whose name appears on the angel. Socks, gloves, hair clips, etc. are just a few examples of the gifts that can be purchased.

When taking an angel off the tree, please come directly to the Peer Helper office to be registered. This is the method the Peer Helpers will use to keep track of the angels and when and where they are taken. The office is open from noon until 5 p.m.

The gifts should be wrapped with the angel ornament attached to the top and then brought to the Peer Helper office located next door to Phyllis Mable's office of The Rotunda in room 155. The deadline to bring these gifts will be Friday, December 8. They will then be gathered together and delivered to their recipients for Christmas. The Peer Helpers will appreciate everyone's participation in this community service to help make Christmas for these less fortunate a little happier.

Check Presented To Memorial Scholarship

At half time of the opening game at the Par-Bil's Tip of tournament, representative of Tau Kappa Epsilon gave a check in the amount of one thousand, three hundred and ten dollars. This money was raised for the David K. Buchanan Scholarship which will be given to a leader at Longwood who is in need of financial help. This amount was raised by donations from students, faculty, and staff of Longwood, and residents of Farmville during TKE's fourth annual gurney push.

Dave Buchanan was involved in many organizations on campus including ARA, supervisor for café, ROTC, ambassadors, TKE, Gyst, and a member of CHI. Dave Buchanan passed away this summer during army training at Fort Benning, Georgia. He will be remembered for his love of Longwood and his love for his brothers in the fraternity.

Tau Kappa Epsilon would like to thank all those persons who so generously gave to support this fund. If you would like to donate money to this cause please see a TKE representative on campus for your donation.

The David Buchanan Memorial Scholarship fund was presented with a check for one-thousand-three-hundred and ten dollars during half time of the Par-Bil's tip off tournament. From left to right are Gregory McMahan, TKE Treasurer, Michael Sheffield Longwood Admissions Counselor and TKE Alumni. Mr. Markwith, Vice President for Institutional Advancement.

Photo Credit: Judi Weller

Farmville Native Will Give Reading

Katherine Stuart, of Farmville, will be featured in the next Authors Series program at Longwood College.

Mrs. Stuart will give a reading on Wednesday evening, Nov. 29, at 8 o'clock in Wygal Auditorium. The reading is open to the public free of charge.

Mrs. Stuart holds B.A. and M.A. degrees from Longwood and has studied writing at several universities. She teaches creative writing and English at the high school and college level.

In 1988 she received the Armstrong State College Chapbook Prize and publication of Someone You Should Know. She also has won numerous contests sponsored by the Poetry Societies of Virginia, North Carolina, and Georgia.

Her poems have appeared in Negative Capability, Appalachian Heritage, Hampden-Sydney Poetry Review, Cotton Boll/Atlanta Review, Green River Review, and others.

The Authors Series is sponsored by Longwood's Department of English, Philosophy, and Modern Languages and the Longwood Arts Council.

Contents

Commentary.....2
News.....3, 4
Features.....5, 6
Sports.....7
Calendar.....8

Next Issue of The Rotunda will be December 4th

Commentary

Letters to the Editor

Library Hours Questioned

Dear Editor:

This month I have several key papers due in my classes as I am sure the majority of the student population does also. I am writing this letter at 12:15 in the morning. Right now it would be the perfect time for me to go to our library and work on research for my papers. I am sure that this is not something unique to myself. Many people prefer to study at night and reserve these hours to do so. Most other colleges in Virginia libraries' stay open most of the night. This is one major set back for Longwood College.

I do understand that not a large number of people would use the library in the early morning hours. This would eliminate the need for as many student helpers and librarians needed during "normal" day hours. A policy could even be set up letting patrons know that if they choose to use the library in the early morning hours they should not expect the same level of service that we receive during the day.

Another major problem with our College is that the library is only open three hours on Saturday. I do not think that it is proper to assume that Longwood College students do not study (many people like to study in the library) on the weekends. Saturday is one of the two days when those who choose to do work in the library can do so all day without being interrupted for classes.

Our College needs to expand our library hours. If we can raise millions of dollars to build a new dorm why can we not get enough money to keep the library open for several more hours on week nights and at least open for eight hours on Saturday?

Gregg Baird '93

Greeks: Pro and Con

Dear Editor:

I would like to say that I could really care less about what Pamela Rousseau or anyone else has to say about Greeks. Also, I'm really tired of picking up the paper and having to read about trivial pet peeves, believe it or not, there are more important things going on in the world. Pamela, do you really think you are some kind of martyr or something because you signed your name? Big deal! I don't feel I have to defend my way of life to you or anyone else because I'm perfectly happy. So yes I think you are an "idiot" because you have nothing better to do than complain about the way someone else wants to live.

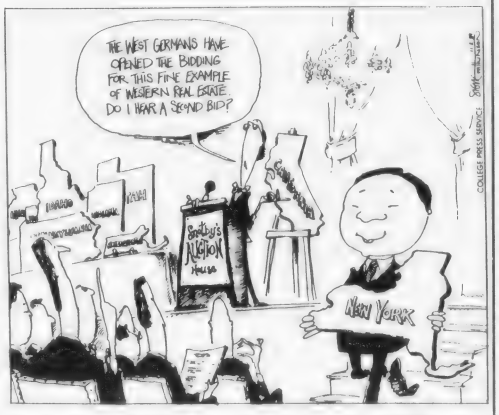
Christy Hierholzer

To the Editor,

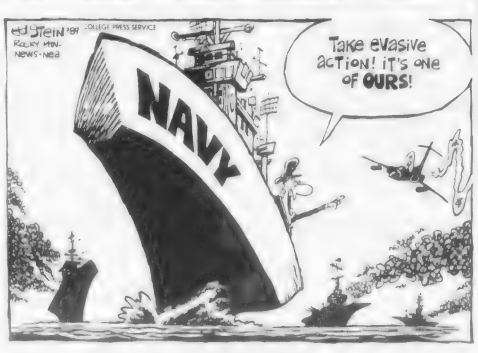
I am a Longwood student who is a junior. I am sick and tired that for the last three years, "certain fraternity" members have been cutting in the lunch and dinner lines!!

When my friends and I leave for lunch and dinner early to avoid long lines, it is quite annoying when those "certain fraternity" members are so impatient that they insist on walking directly in front of you. These guys I find rude and as far as I'm concerned "PIGS."

I must note that it is not all fraternities doing this, just one in particular that I have noticed on more than one occasion. I feel that mentioning the fraternity's name is unnecessary, for people have written in regards to this fraternity's rude actions before. This is the same fraternity who uses other brother's plates to cut in line or other food bar plates to get their meals faster.



I am also a Greek and I'm just as tired as any other Greek of having students look down upon the Greek system as a whole. However, independents have every reason to feel the way they do when a Greek organization gets in this way.



I think that if a dining hall worker notices this behavior they should remove this "certain fraternity's" letters from the dining hall to teach them that "Patience is a Virtue"! It is sad because not every member of this fraternity behaves in this manner.

A concerned and fed -up fellow Greek

P.S. All I wish is that this fraternity realizes that people do notice what they are doing. If they stop doing this, Greeks might be more appreciated for the good we all do.

Name withheld upon Request

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
R. Bruce Gantt

Photography Editor
Jan-Marie Johnson

Sports Editor
Lindy Seymore

Business Manager
Sarah Tetterton

Advertising Manager
Michelle Lawhorn

Features Editor
Monica Gilbert

News Editor
Stephanie Neeley

Faculty Advisor
William C. Woods

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be signed, typed or printed neatly, and state the author's years. The Editor and staff reserve the right to edit any material submitted for publication.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 395-2120.

News

Longwood ROTC members had the chance to rappel out of a helicopter onto Iler field last Wednesday. These Cadets are approximately 80 ft. in the air.

Photo Credit: R. Bruce Gantt.

Holiday Classes Offered At VCU

Registration for Virginia Commonwealth University's Holiday Intersession, scheduled to run from December 27 through January 9, is under way. Thirty-four classes will be offered. For a course listing, a mail registration packet or further information, call the VCU Evening, Summer, and Off-Campus Studies Office in Richmond, Virginia at (804) 367-0200, or write VCU Evening, Summer, and Off-Campus Studies, 827 W. Franklin St., Richmond, VA 23284-2523.

Contact: Patricia Wagner (804) 367-1400.

'Beethoven Cycle' Concert Series Comes to H-SC

Dr. James C. Kidd, pianist, of Hampden-Sydney's Fine Arts Department, and Dr. James Fudge, violinist, of Randolph-Macon Woman's College, will perform the first concert in a projected three-concert series, "Beethoven Cycle," of the ten sonatas for violin and piano on Monday, November 20 at 8 p.m., in the Crawley Forum at Hampden-Sydney College. The concert is free and open to the public.

Their opening concert will include sonata number one in D major, sonata number five in F major ("Spring"), and sonata number seven in C minor.

Psych Club Gets Ready for Next Semester

By LYNN OWENS
Secretary

This semester has been an active one for the members of the Longwood Psychology Club. So far, we have been active by participating in Octoberfest with an annual RAT RACES booth; furthermore, some of our members attended the annual Virginia Psychological Association convention, which was held in Richmond at the historical Jefferson Hotel Oct. 19-21st. While we were there, we viewed displays presented by various treatment centers and hospitals. We were also asked to become members of the Student Committee of VPA for next semester. This committee will manage and schedule students and professors from various Virginia and out-of-state graduate schools to speak in the many aspects of graduate schools and what is involved.

During Alcohol Awareness Week, the Psych Club and Psi Chi sponsored a speaker from St. John's Hospital in Richmond, who came and delivered a presentation on alcohol and substance abuse. With our non-alcoholic strawberry margaritas, we also participated in Mocktails which were sponsored by Tri Sigma Sorority.

Our speakers so far this semester have been Dr. Jenifer Apperson who spoke on graduate schools, Dr. Phyllis Wacker who spoke to us about her sabbatical in Finland, and finally her niece Betsy Gee did a presentation on an outreach program for fifth and sixth graders entitled SODA. SODA stands for students Organized for Developing Attitudes and the Psych Club is trying to establish a similar program here at Longwood for Prince Edward County.

Several of our activities will be combined with the members of Psi Chi in order for us to obtain even more participation as well as new ideas. As of now, both organizations are selling raffle tickets for $1 with the grand prize being $100. The drawing will be Nov. 29th; therefore, see Psych Club and Psi Chi members for tickets!

Our long-range goals for next semester include more speakers, field trips, fundraising projects, and much more! We will continue to take part in as many campus activities as possible in addition to community projects we will undertake also. Remember club members — GET PSYCHED and be an active participant!

Coors Veterans Memorial Scholarship Fund

Coors Brewing Company today announced its sponsorship of the 1990 Coors Veterans' Memorial Scholarship Fund. This marks the sixth consecutive year Coors will award $500,000 in scholarships to a minimum of 100 sons and daughters of American veterans worldwide.

"This is our way of saying 'Thanks, Vets,'" said Peter Coors, president of Coors Brewing Company. "Through this program, we have an opportunity to salute the families of America's heroes: its veterans."

To be eligible for consideration, applicants must be 22 years of age or younger as of March 15, 1990, and already be enrolled full-time in an accredited four-year institution of higher education in the United States or an accredited four-year program leading to a four-year undergraduate degree.

Additionally, they must have a cumulative college grade point average of 3.0 or better on a 4.0 scale and be the son or daughter of one of the following: an Honorably Discharged American veteran; Active Duty military; Guard or Reserve military (minimum six years or called to Active Duty); or American service person Killed in Action, Missing in Action or who has Died in the Line of Duty.

Scholarship applications are available at college and university financial aid offices, by calling 1-800-49COORS, or by writing Coors Veterans' Memorial Scholarship Fund, P.O. Box 16522, Denver, Colo. 80216. Deadline for completed applications is March 15, 1990.

Photo Credit: Judi Weiler

The death of Mercutio was one of the more memorable points of Romeo and Juliet.

News

Alcohol Ads to be Barred

By DACIA DORRIES

College newspapers around the country will be barred from running alcohol-related ads in their pages if a new bill introduced in Congress becomes law.

The bill, cosponsored by senators Jesse Bingaman (R-N.M.) and Herbert Kohl (D-Wis.), cuts off all federal funding — including student aid — to colleges that fail to restrict alcohol promotions on their campuses.

Wilson's directive, Orion ad manager Perry Quinn estimated, could cost the paper about $30,000 in lost revenues from local and national liquor ads.

Under the measure now in Congress, virtually all American college newspapers would face similar budgetary blows.

"(An anti-alcohol ad law) would hurt us pretty badly," said Chris Roth, advertising manager of The Chinook at Casper College in Wyoming.

"In the short run, there'll be (financial) problems," speculated Tom Rolnicki, executive director of the Associated Collegiate Press, based in Minneapolis, "but in the long run it'll even out. Eventually ... something will jump in to take the place of the beer ads."

Separately, outgoing U.S. Surgeon General C. Everett Koop in September sent a letter to all college presidents urging them to disassociate their schools from liquor-related promotions, and warning he'd recommend "economic and legal sanctions" against schools that ignored him.

The sanctions, however, seem to fall most heavily on student ventures like sports and newspapers, many of which depend on revenues from local bars and national brewers to survive.

Student papers "are right to be concerned," said Keenen Peck, an aide to Kohl. "The penalties are so severe that universities are likely to err on the side of overcensorship."

A variety of schools already have started to crack down. The University of North Dakota, for example, in September prohibited students from displaying posters from beer companies in their dorm room windows.

California State University at Chico President Robin Wilson announced he was forbidding the Orion, the student paper, to run alcohol-related ads.

Local bars and liquor stores buy about $5,000 worth of ads a year in the Chinook, representing a third of the paper's $15,000 in annual ad revenues. The rest of the paper's expenses are met by a $10,000 appropriation from the college.

Local liquor ads accounted for $7,000 — or 14 percent — of the ad revenues earned by the Kansas State University Collegian in September, faculty adviser Gloria Freeland reported.

Office coordinator Pat McNamara estimated The Outlook, the weekly paper at Monmouth College in New Jersey, gets "probably $2,000 a year in alcohol advertising."

A ban would also cause some big campus dailies, which are paid to insert national magazine supplements like U. several times a year, to lose money in other ways.

Professor Addresses Economics at H-SC

Dr. David Garraty, of Virginia Wesleyan College, will address the issue of "Measuring and Modeling Regional Economic Performance," on Friday, November 17, at 2 p.m., in Morton Hall at Hampden-Sydney College. The public is invited to attend.

Dr. Garraty is a Professor of Economics at Virginia Wesleyan, and the past president of the Virginia Association of Economics. He will be addressing the department in conjunction with the initiation of students into Omicron Delta Epsilon, the international economics honorary society.

This talk inaugurates the Hampden-Sydney Economics Workshop, which will feature the work of several Virginia Economics Workshop, which will feature the work of several Virginia economists this academic year.

Congress Considers Crack Down on Campus Discount Computers

By DACIA DORRIES

A proposal now in Congress could leave students needing to get a note from their professors to buy a computer at the special discount prices that have become common at many campuses.

The Unfair Business Income Tax Proposal (UBIT), aims to end the increasing bitter competition between off-campus stores and on-campus outlets, which typically can sell things more cheaply because they are tax-exempt.

"The main purpose is to make sure that university programs are able to provide educational resources, yet keep within their nonprofit intentions," said Dave Mason, an aide to Rep. J.J. Pickle (D.Tex.), whose subcommittee is now debating the proposal.

Off-campus businesses always have had a difficult time competing with on-campus, tax-exempt stores. The problem has worsened in recent years as schools, which used to sell only assigned texts, have branched into selling clothes, knick-knacks, music, videos, dorm furniture and computers.

Computers have become the main focus of the argument because computer companies, anxious to build brand loyalty that could stretch through a student's lifetime, are willing to sell hardware and software to on-campus stores for much less than they sell them to off-campus stores.

Off-campus stores, in turn, cannot afford to resell them to their customers for as little as the on-campus outlets can.

Jerry Brong, owner of Community Computer Centers off the Washington State University campus in Pullman, reported he buys copies of Lotus 1-2-3 from a distributor for $297, and sells them to customers for $495.

Washington State, however, sells Lotus 1-2-3 to students and faculty for less than $200.

"We've lost thousands of dollars," Brong said.

"The total campus computer market is causing the independent retailers to complain, and with some merit," conceded Hans Stechow of the National Association of College Stores, a Cleveland-based group that represents on-campus outlets.

Most college computer sales, Stechow said, are made directly through distributors and manufacturers who offer special deals through the schools, not the bookstores.

If UBIT, which is due for broad congressional debate in 1990, become law, students could get discounted computer ware only if they had a note from their professors saying they needed the computer for their classwork.

The law would bar faculty members from getting discounts at all. In addition, the number of discounted computers sold on a campus couldn't exceed half the enrollment of the university, or the school would have to pay taxes.

Computer companies are upset by the prospect of the law.

"We are selling computers to a huge segment of students who would otherwise not be inclined to purchase a computer," said Chuck Jacob, Apple Computer Inc.'s lobbyist in Washington, D.C.

Some states already have adopted laws that prevent schools from competing with local businesses.

For example, in Iowa, all state agencies— including college and universities— are banned from "competing with private enterprise," and public campuses in Colorado cannot sell items unless the sale "fulfills one of the missions of the university."

In April, the California State Court of Appeals upheld an earlier ruling that California community colleges can't sell books that aren't required for specific courses. In February, a company filed suit against the University of Utah, claiming that the university was using state dollars and its tax-exempt status to directly and unfairly compete with off-campus private enterprises.

Selling computers in campus bookstores is "absolutely unfair," said Kay DeCarli, owner of Inacomp Computer Centers in East Lansing, Mich., close to the Michigan State University campus.

When DeCarli opened her business eight years ago, sales to students and MSU staff accounted for about 70 percent of her revenue. Now, she said, they are probably 5 percent.

"The big vendors— IBM, Apple and Zenith— want their share of the market, and will do anything to get it," she said, including giving equipment to colleges for much less than what they will sell it to DeCarli.

"I know students need computers. I'm not questioning that. I just want fair competition," she said.

"We don't want to take away business from local retailers," said Bonnie Davis of the Co-op Store on the Indiana University of Pennsylvania campus. "We're here to put the computer in the hands of students who need it."

"We work with local merchants and actually send customers to them," added Jim Duffy, bookstore director at the University of Minnesota.

Kurt Peterson, owner of Kurt's Computer and Electronic Repair, Inc., near the University of Wyoming campus in Laramie, thinks the problem could be solved easily if the computer companies offer the same equipment discounts to off-campus stores as they do to on-campus outlets.

A law requiring students to get notes from their professors would be "meaningless garbage," he maintained.

"It would just be one big loophole. Universities would just say that all of the students need computers," Peterson said.

Features

Music Review: Cowboy Junkies

Cowboy Junkies. Interesting name for a band. Even in progressive music. Music is really interesting also. It can't really be stereotyped as a specific type of music. No, more or less it could be labeled as a strange brew of progressive, country, with a little lounge music thrown in for good comfort. No driving bass, no thumping percussion, no wailing vocals about the political situation in Nicaragua, nothing extreme at all. Just a really laid back sense of making music that's lanquid, pure, and lyrical. Mood music I guess. This is a disc that you would slap on the turn-table and pour a glass of bourbon and start drinking alone, remembering that brunette that broke your heart.

The band is from Canada, all five of them. The core of Cowboy Junkies are the Timmons siblings, Margo, who sings vocals; Michael, who plays guitar; Peter, who plays the percussion; and Alan Anton gently prods the bass. The album is like their last LP, Whites Off Earth Now! Consisting of covers of songs by Hank Williams, Patsy Cline, yes, you read those right; Waylon Jennings and the urban poet himself Lou Reed. Reed was even heard saying about Cowboy Junkies cover of his song, "Sweet Jane," as being the best that he had ever heard. Nice words of praise from someone who is regarded as the godfather of the punk movement and can still cut classic LPs such as New York.

Other covers are "Walking After Midnight," originally sung by Patsy Cline, and "I'm So Lonesome I Could Cry," by Hank Williams. The originals on this LP are done well in their own right. "Mining For Gold," is about hard-rock miners and paints a vivid portrait of a dangerous job and the dangerous men who work it. "Misguided Angel," is a ballad that could take its place amongst the best of any country love song.

The name of the LP comes from the location where it was recorded, at the Church of the Holy Trinity in Toronto, Canada. The disc is live, but not with the cheering crowds or the rustling equipment. It is a solid effort and the acoustics of the church make for a good recording. The instruments are well played and used to the fullest extent of their range. However, the most impressive facet of the band is Margo Timmon's entrancing voice. She can sound sexy, sensuous, and sultry without even making an attempt at it. In short, it is a voice that you could melt for.

The amount of music that comes on the disc and cassette is well worth the price. It runs to about fifty minutes of pure, honey-voiced music. The disc and cassette contain two bonus songs that the LP doesn't have.

In closing, Cowboy Junkies have a sound that isn't found everywhere, everyday. It's different. It's fun. It's great to listen to. On the Fish MacGill music meter, the Cowboy Junkies rate five stars, but since I don't write for Rolling Stone, that doesn't count for a whole hell of a lot.

Fish MacGill
Rotunda Music Critic

FAMILY PAIRS™

$12.99

ANY MEDIUM SPECIALTY PIZZA AND ANY MEDIUM PIZZA WITH ONE TOPPING.

Mix or Match: Meat Lover's®, Cheese Lover's Plus™, Pepperoni Lover's™, or Supreme.

Pizza Hut®

Please mention coupon when ordering. Offer good through 12/15/89 at participating Pizza Hut® restaurants. Not valid in combination with any other offer. Limited delivery area. ® designates a registered trademark of Pizza Hut, Inc. ™ designates trademarks of Pizza Hut, Inc.

1/20 cent redemption value © 1989 Pizza Hut, Inc.

Features

Leave the possible Chi members alone. They are hassled daily by friends and strangers. These people are making being a Chi member, a torture. Everyone represents the spirit of Longwood not just those who walk at night. Just enjoy the mystery until Chi burning in the spring.

— A friend to some hassled people

To all Sigma Sigma Sigma's – Have a GREAT Thanksgiving. Σ love and mine! Jenn

Mighty Midget – This is better late than never. New Jersey will never be the same. Thanks for coming. We'll have to do it again. Love ya' Margaret

Cindy – Let's play PIT! !? Do you always carry chewed gum around in your pocket? I hope you have a fun Thanksgiving break! Love ya, Amy

Attention all students, staff, faculty, and clubs, the Peer Helpers are sponsoring an Angel Tree this holiday season. Take an angel off the tree which corresponds to a needy person in the community. Then find a simple and fun gift for them to brighten their holiday! (Nothing costly, but a little something to show you care) A great philanthropy idea! The project begins right after Thanksgiving break. Submitted by the Peer Helpers

To you, who else – You finally got one. You better be jumping for joy! I had a GREAT weekend! Thanks a bunch! Well, we made one month, and still going strong. Happy Anniversary sweetie. I love you. I'm going to miss you so much over Thanksgiving, but it will be good for us. I love you very much. Love – Your Babydoll

The brothers of Delta Sigma Pi are selling boxes of M&M's for 50 cents a box, until Christmas.

Friend – Remember walking up the hill? I swear I can walk a straight line! It's 11:45, let's order a sub! Of course they deliver. Thanks for those late night talks, you were a great help. I'm surviving that's all I can say. The 28th is coming up. Give me a call over break. Don't say Micro! Thanks for being a friend when there were none – Friend

Kim – It's been three months. We won. You're the greatest. Have a happy Thanksgiving. Love ya Margaret

Sherry – You are a winner. Don't you ever forget it. Have a Happy Thanksgiving. Love ya Margaret

Laura – You're a future golf star. Hope 8:15 isn't going to kill you. Happy Thanksgiving. Love ya Margaret

Jim – I love you with all my heart. Have a nice Thanksgiving. I can't wait until Friday. Drive carefully. Always and forever, Jenn

Deb! – My aunt is ugly! Your Health Study Partner

Jenn – I love you, Baby! Thanks for being mine. Love, Jim

To ΑΣΤ Pledges – Continue your good job during pledging! We love you! Keep working hard because initiation will be here before you know it! Remember that being a sister is a big step and be thinking in these next few weeks what the sisterhood means to you. Tau love and mine, Mom

Teenah – That's a mighty strong paragraph you have there. Mind if I borrow it sometime? Kevin P.S. How's that handshake again?

LK and DB – Thank-you both for those late night conversations. The typewriter and explicit pictures made it all worthwhile. Thanks, Dave

L. Lover – Roses are red,
Violets are blue,
Sure am glad
I got to know you!
Never forget "our corner" in Orange County! I hope you have a great Turkey break! Love ya lots. Lil' Alms

Beck – Make sure to understand all your "thees and thous". I'm sure you'll be able to walk fine in your heels underneath those "city lights!" Good luck Dave

Poo Bear – I hope you know I'm with you always, even though we may not be together. I know you will make it through it all, because you're special. I love you! "Your Boy"

B-Bud #1 – I think what we share in common is really neat! Thanks for your smile when my day is down! Have a great Thanksgiving break! Enjoy that "delicious home cookin'"! Love ya lots B-Bud #2

Squibby: Thanks a bunch for helping me tame my patient the other night! You're a great nurse and friend! Doctor Dave

Kim – That nap was great (sure was uncomfortable there for awhile!) I'll let you know when the party is – don't forget the cupcakes! How about a shower? Have a safe Thanksgiving break! Love ya Amy

Jen – You ARE the cutest Lil' Nerd in the whole world! Have a happy and safe Thanksgiving break! Love ya, Amy

Encounter Crew – This weekend was incredible. I am glad we had the opportunity to become closer and to enhance our faith together. This is my PAIANCA to you. Many thanks to the professors in Canterbury who sent us letters of encouragement. Angela we missed you. Your friend in Canterbury, Lou

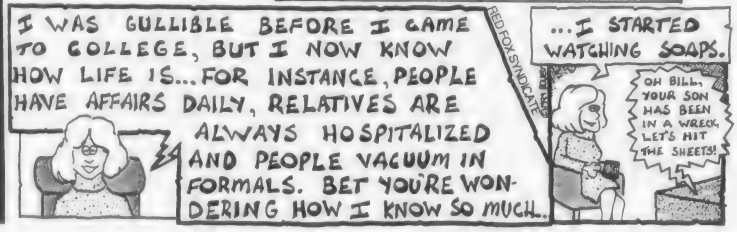
PHONE 395-2710

ITZA PIZZA

NEW HOURS:
T, W, TH, & SUN.
11 AM - 1 AM
MON., FRI. & SAT.
11 AM - 11 PM

OPEN EXTRA HOURS:
TUE., WED., THUR. 'TIL 1:00 A.M.;
MON., FRI., SAT., SUN. REG. HOURS 'TIL 11:00 P.M.

TRY OUR ALL NEW HOT'N DELICIOUS PIZZA!



COUPON
$2.00 OFF
ANY 2-TOPPING
LARGE PIZZA
COUPON

MENU
12" PIZZA $5.25
(TOPPING...75¢)
16" PIZZA $7.45
(TOPPING...90¢)

TOPPINGS– Ground beef, ham, pepperoni, sausage, canadian bacon, black olives, onions, green peppers, jalepenos, mushrooms, green olives.

★ FEATURING ★
LANCER SUPREME PIZZA
Sausage, pepperoni, mushrooms, green peppers.
12"...$9.00; 16"...$11.75

Sports

Cheyney Wins Par-Bil's Title 69-64

By HOKE CURRIE

Ferocious zone defense was the difference Saturday night in Lancer Hall as a talented and deep Cheyney University basketball team handed Longwood a 69-64 setback in the championship game of the seventh Par-Bil's Tip-Off Tournament.

The visiting Wolves, with 27 consecutive winning seasons behind them, took a six-point halftime lead, held off a Lancer charge midway through the second half, and put an end to Longwood's three-year reign as the Par-Bil's titleholder.

"We didn't shoot the ball well," said Lancer coach Cal Luther, "but you have to give credit to Cheyney's defense. We had trouble getting in synch all night. Their defense was the difference in the game."

Longwood hit just 36.7 percent of its shots from the floor Saturday night, making 24 of 66 field goals and just six of 23 from 3-point range. In contrast, Cheyney hit the mark for 45.6 percent (30-66) and made seven of 17 from bonus-land.

Cheyney canned four 3-point shots in the first half and had a 33-24 edge heading into halftime until Lancer freshman Rodney Clayton came through. Clayton buried a 3-point bomb with one second left to pull Longwood within six at 33-27.

Perhaps inspired by Clayton's heroics, seniors Dale Shavers and Doug Poppe got Longwood rolling in the first nine minutes of the second half. Shavers scored 10 points and Poppe six as the Lancers rallied to tie the game. The last tie came with 11:34 left on a pair of Poppe free throws at 49-49.

Longwood played well in the tourney opener as Jefferson (23), Poppe (22), Shavers (21) and Holloway (13) all scored in double figures. The Lancers shot a blazing 62.1 percent from the floor, getting numerous easy shots on the break. Jefferson had four slams while Poppe was credited with 10 boards for the night. Junior guard Billy Dunn scored even points and committed no turnovers in his first game for Longwood.

"We played very hard both nights," said Luther. "I'm disappointed that we didn't win, but not with the effort. We knew going into the game that we would have to play just about perfect to knock Cheyney off. They have an excellent ball club."

Crowds for two nights of Par-Bil's Tournament action topped the 1,000 mark. The turnout was the best in the seven years of the event. Longwood, which has an 87-25 record in Lancer Hall, went 11-1 at home last season, but starts this year with a 1-1 home mark.

After playing at Elon Monday night, Longwood will have another tall order on tap this weekend in the Gary Miller Classic at Gannon University in Erie, Pennsylvania. The Lancers will play Virginia State Friday night at 6:30 while Gannon takes on East Stroudsburg at 8:30. First night winners will meet for the title Saturday night. Gannon has been ranked third in Division II in Basketball Times preseason poll.

Then Longwood went scoreless for nearly four minutes, while Cheyney guard Willie Jackson scored seven points in a 14-1 surge, giving the Wolves a 63-50 lead with 6:21 remaining. The Lancers were unable to get closer then five the rest of the way.

Poppe led Longwood with 19 points and 10 rebounds while Shavers added 15 points. Kevin Jefferson, who had an off-night shooting, collected 9 points and 8 rebounds and forward Greg Holloway, 9 points and 9 rebounds.

Poppe and Shavers were named to the All-Tournament team along with tourney MVP Darryl Oliver, Jackson and Albert Clark from Cheyney, and Davis & Elkins sparkplug Todd McFarlane. Davis & Elkins beat Alabama-Huntsville 79-76 to take third place in the event. Longwood beat D&E 96-78 and Cheyney whipped Huntsville 93-67 in first round action Friday night.

Oliver, a 6-5 guard, hit four of 10 shots from 3-point range, scored 12 points and added eight rebounds against Longwood. Jackson, who put Cheyney up at the start with a 3-pointer, added 10 points. Clark scored 12 points and added nine rebounds. McFarlane scored 22 Friday night against the Lancers and came back with 17 in the win over Huntsville's Alabama-Huntsville's Thomas Jones scored 51 points in the two games. He hit for 28 in the opener against Cheyney and came back with 23 in the loss to Davis & Elkins.

Player of the Week

Junior All-America candidate Carmille Barnette scored a career high 36 points one night and came back the next day with a record-tying 38 points as Longwood's women's basketball team opened its season in Alabama last weekend.

Barnette has been chosen Longwood College Player of the Week for the period Nov. 12-19. Player of the Week is chosen by the Longwood Sports Information office.

Friday, in a 95-87 loss at Alabama A&M, Barnette tossed in single game record of six three-point field goals enroute to her 36-point showing, which topped the career best of 35 points she scored last season. Saturday night she went one step further with 38 points as Longwood took an 82-74 victory at Alabama-Huntsville.

Barnette tied the Longwood record for points in a game(38) which All-American Valerie Turner set against Liberty in the 1983-84 season.

Currently averaging an amazing 37 points per game Barnette is well on her way to topping the 1,000 point mark for her career. The 5-9 forward, a graduate of Bluestone High School, now has 788 points barely into her third season.

"Carmille is picking up right where she left off at the end of last season and had two outstanding games. She should have a great season this year," head coach Shirley Duncan said Sunday.

Barnette averaged 19.9 points and 9.7 rebounds last season while setting a new Lady Lancer mark for field goal percentage .560.

Winter Player of the Week Award Winners

November 5-12, Adrian Joye – Wrestling

November 12-19, Carmille Barnette – Women's Basketball

Camille Barnette

Lady Lancers Split Two

Lady Lancer Carmille Barnette is definitely not as destructive or powerful as the tornadoes that swept through Huntsville, Alabama, last Wednesday, but the 5-10 forward wreaked a havoc of her own as she passed through that area over the weekend.

Barnette set two personal best marks, broke two single game records and tied a third, as the Longwood College women's basketball team split its season openers in Alabama on Friday and Saturday.

Longwood lost to a tough Alabama A&M squad 95-87 Friday night and defeated the University of Alabama at Huntsville 82074 Saturday afternoon.

"I feel pretty good about splitting these games," head coach Shirley Duncan said Sunday. "I saw some really strong play from our team and Carmille is picking up right where she left off at the end of last season and had two outstanding games."

Outstanding is an understatement. Barnette scored a career high 36 points against A&M shooting 11 of 22 from the floor and eight of nine from the line. She set a single game record for three-point goals made and attempted, making six of nine. The old records were four goals and nine attempts.

As if those numbers weren't enough, Barnette came back the next afternoon at Alabama-Huntsville to set a new career high of 38 points which tied a Longwood record set by Valerie Turner against Liberty during the 1983-84 season.

"I had fun this weekend," Barnette said Sunday. "I wish we had won both games though. A&M was a quick squad, but we could have beaten them. The team really stuck together as a unit and was back in line for the other game."

All nine members of the Longwood squad made the trip and all nine saw playing time.

In addition to Barnette, starters included sophomore Cassie Mullenix who picked up 25 points and nine rebounds over the weekend, junior Ann Callaham with 14 points, 11 assists and eight steals, sophomore Salene Green with 23 points and 11 rebounds and sophomore Teresa Carter with nine points and 14 rebounds.

Off the bench, sophomore Tena Philbrick picked up 12 points and freshman Shanda Stuart racked up eight points, seven assists and eight steals. The squad's other two freshmen, Cari Dellinger and Kim Schneider saw limited time on the floor.

Tuesday night, the Lady Lancers play in their home debut against Virginia Union in Lancer Hall at 7:30 p.m.

"Virginia Union is similar to A&M in playing style," Duncan said. "It's a fast and quick team and they could give us some trouble. We need to stay out of foul trouble and keep our key people on the floor."

This weekend the Longwood squad travels to Pittsburgh-Johnstown to play in the Mountain Cat Classic. In addition to Longwood and Pittsburgh-Johnstown, Clarion University and New York Tech will be participating in the tournament.

Sunny's
CAFE
CASABLANCA
Farmville Shopping Center
OPEN
MONDAY -SATURDAY
11:30 - 2:00
5:00 - 9:00
Now
Mexican Food
And Beers!

— FREE —
PREGNANCY TEST
All services confidential.
Same day results.
116 N. MAIN STREET
SOUTHSIDE PREGNANCY CENTER
24-HOUR HOTLINE
392-8483

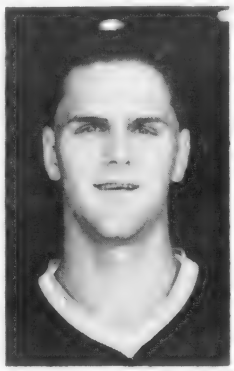
80,000 PEOPLE GAVE SOMETHING TO THE IRS THIS YEAR. AND THEY CAN'T WAIT TILL NEXT YEAR TO GIVE AGAIN.

They volunteered their skills to people who needed help doing their taxes. And it made them feel great.

They weren't necessarily accountants. They were people, like you and your club or group members, who have a basic aptitude for math and a desire to help others.

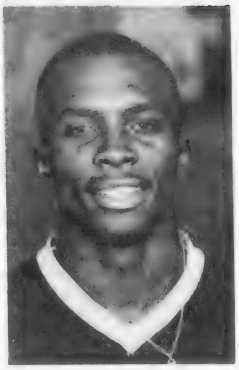
You know, you can help people with what taxes them. And feel great, too.

To find out about the free IRS training program call 1-800-424-1040 now.



This Publication & Ad Council | Internal Revenue Service

HELP WANTED
ACT IN TV COMMERCIALS
HIGH PAY
No experience...all ages — kids, teens, young adults, families, mature people, animals, etc. Call Now!
CHARM STUDIOS
1-(800) 447-1530
Ext. 514



Lonely?
Need a Date?
Meet that special someone today!
Call DATETIME
(405) 366-6335

Jobs in Alaska
HIRING Men - Women • Summer/ Year Round. CANNERIES, FISHING, LOGGING, TOURISM, CONSTRUCTION up to $600 weekly, plus FREE room and board. CALL NOW! Call refundable
1-206-736-0775, Ext. #1235H

All Tournament Team

DOUG POPPE

DALE SHAVERS

Barone Named All — Visa Fourth Time

Longwood senior midfielder John Barone has been voted for the fourth time to the All-Virginia Intercollegiate Soccer Association team by the VISA coaches. Lancer junior forward Ray Jones was voted to the All-VISA second team.

A tri-captain with the 1989 edition of Longwood soccer, Barone finished his career with 13 goals and 22 assists, the second best career assist mark in Lancer history. An All-American in 1987, Barone is a physical education major.

Longwood's all-time leader in goals (64) and assists (34), Jones led Longwood with 14 goals and six assists in 1989. A graduate of Berkeley Institute and a business major, Jones was voted as a first team Division II All-American in 1987 and 1988.

Longwood finished with a 10-10 record in soccer this fall.

Upcoming Events

Information on this calendar is collected and coordinated through the Student Union Office, 1st Floor Lankford Student Union, Longwood College.

For student organizations or college departments to make entries a campus calendar form must be filled out and returned to the Student Union Office.

Deadline is the Tuesday preceding publication date.

Tuesday - 21

Cholesterol Screening, 10-11:30 and 12:30-2:30 p.m., Health Services. $3.

Alumni Exhibition: Susan Hilton, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

City Woodworks, 9-12; 1-5, Bedford Gallery.

Eating Disorders, 1-2 p.m., Counseling Center Conference.

Wednesday - 22

Alumni Exhibition: Susan Hilton, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

City Woodworks, 9-12; 1-5, Bedford Gallery.

Thursday - 23

Alumni Exhibition: Susan Hilton, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

City Woodworks, 9-12; and 1-5, Bedford Gallery.

Friday - 24

Alumni Exhibition: Susan Hilton, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

City Woodworks, 9-12; and 1-5, Bedford Gallery.

Saturday - 25

Alumni Exhibition: Susan Hilton, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

Sunday - 26

Alumni Exhibition: Susan Hilton, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

Monday - 27

Alumni Exhibition: Susan Hilton, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

City Woodworks, 9-12 and 1-5, Bedford Gallery.

Movie - Field of Dreams, 6 p.m., Lancer Cafe.

S-UN presents "Lost Boys", 6 p.m., Lancer Cafe.

Alcohol Support Group, 6-7 p.m., Counseling Center Conference.

The Rotunda

Longwood College

Vol. 69 No. 11 | December 4, 1989 | Farmville, VA

Christmas Concert Tickets Available

Longwood College's Department of Music will present two Christmas concerts at 5 p.m. and 8 p.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 5, in Wygal Recital Hall.

"We are giving two performances this year in order to accommodate everyone who may want to attend," said Dr. Paul Hesselink, chair of the Music Department.

Both programs require advance tickets. "The tickets are free to all," Hesselink said, "but they must be reserved by calling 395-2504 or picked up in advance from the Music Department office in Wygal Hall."

The Christmas concerts will feature five of Longwood's performing ensembles — the Concert Choir, Camerata Singers, Brass Ensemble, and two Handbell Ensembles.

Among traditional and non-traditional seasonal music on the program are "Hodie" by Healey Willan; "Infant Holy, Infant Lowly," arranged by Gerre Hancock; "The Twelve Days of Christmas," arranged by John Rutter; three movements from The Nutcracker by Peter Tchaikovsky, performed by the Handbell Ensembles; herald trumpets; and more.

Directors of the ensembles are Dr. Donald L. Trott, choirs; Dr. Hesselink, Handbell Ensembles; and Dr. Gordon Ring, Brass Ensemble.

International Internships

In response to the growing interest in Japan, the International Internship Programs (IIP) announces a four-week training program for university students and graduates. From June 23-July 21, 1990, participants will study Japan by experiencing it.

The program includes Japanese language instruction, meetings with government and business leaders, field trips to some of Japan's more renown companies, visits to cultural and historical sites and residency with a host family.

"We endeavor," said IIP president Mr. Yoshikazu Ikeda, "to provide the students with as many experiences as possible in the short time they are in Japan."

Ikeda also noted that the program objectives and content are aimed at preparing the students to work in Japan. "Our training should help students get jobs in American businesses doing business in Japan and the rest of Asia," Ikeda added.

Students are encouraged to register by December 15 in order to reserve a space in the limited enrollment program. For further details on how to apply, contact International Internship Programs, 654 Colman Building, 811 First Avenue, Seattle, WA 98104. Or call 1-800-869-7056.

City Woodworks On Display

City Woodworks, a collection of works by 20 Richmond-area furniture makers, sculptors, and carvers, is on exhibit in Longwood College's Bedford Gallery through Dec. 15.

Quilts by Julia Pfaff are a counterpoint to the wood objects in the exhibit.

"Wood is a medium we all can identify with, if only as fuel for our stoves and fireplaces," said Amie Oliver, exhibits coordinator. "What's fascinating in the exhibit is that these professional craftsmen use wood in so many ways and exemplify so many attitudes about this basic material."

The City Woodworks exhibit is a collection of "work of outstanding caliber that represents the best the Richmond woodworking community has to offer," Campbell said.

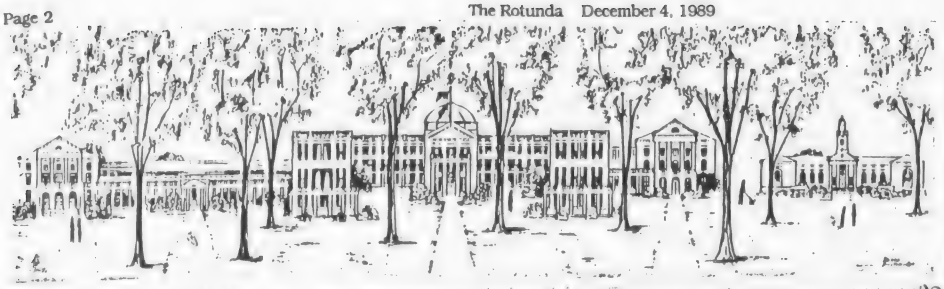
Included in the exhibit are: small goblets of mahogany, cherry, walnut, locust, and cottonwood, by Randy Poliski; bowls and vessels of maple burl, red oak, and mahogany, by Dug Campbell and David Sterling; tables of walnut bloodwood, walnut inlay, ash, and ebony, by Harvey Reams, Clint Edwards, Harrison, and Ken Willis; bongo-drum-shaped stools of birch with polychrome paint, by Graham Campbell; a Windsor armchair by Randolph Wilkinson; a framed mirror with shelf by Craig Biddle; shelves of painted ash and walnut by David Rogers; and a sofa of mahogany, holly, and basswood with folk-art style carvings, gold and silver leaf, red polychrome paint, and blue silk upholstery, by William R. Ivey.

Longwood shows its holiday spirit with the annual Christmas tree.

Photo Credit: R. Bruce Gantt.

Shanghai Quartet To Perform

The much acclaimed Shanghai Quartet will perform on Wednesday, December 6, at 8 p.m., in the Crawley Forum at Hampden-Sydney College. The concert is free and open to the public. The program for the evening will include works by Beethoven, Zhou Long, and Brahms.



The Shanghai Quartet, consisting of three violinists, Weigang Li, Honggang Li, and Zheng Wang, and cellist Käthe Jarka, was the Graduate Ensemble-in-Residence at Juilliard in New York for the past two years. They are currently the Quartet-in-Residence at the University of Richmond for the 1989-1990 academic year.

Formed in 1983 at the Shanghai Conservatory, the Shanghai Quartet is rapidly emerging as one of today's leading young string quartets. After gaining national recognition in competitions and performances throughout China, they were selected to represent their country at the Portsmouth International String Quartet Competition, where they were awarded second prize. Subsequently the Quartet left China to continue their studies with the Vermeer Quartet in the United States. Since their arrival in thie country they have also studied with the Tokyo String Quartet at the Norfolk Chamber Music Festival, and have participated in master classes with the Juilliard Quartet, whom they now assist at The Juilliard School.

The Quartet's 1988-1989 season consists of over fifty-five concerts in twenty-five states, including their debut in New York's Kaufmann Concert Hall. In their 1989-1990 concert tour they will appear in Lincoln Center's Alice Tully Hall, in the Great Performers Series.

Contents

Commentary.....
Greek Affairs
Calendar.

Commentary

Perspectives on Longwood:

Summertime. . .

By DR. ED SMITH

Summertime ... and the living is easy. As we enter the doldrums of winter with lambent memories of summer receding into the fog of our separate histories, I'd like to ask you something: Why not spend next summer, or at least a part of it, at Longwood?

Why? Well, for one thing, you could spend your time in leisurely study of a favorite subject, perhaps a course or two you've wanted to take but never had the space in your schedule.

If Plato by the pool isn't your thing, how about the archeology dig (one of our most popular summer offerings), or a walk in the woods with field botany, or wind-surfing, or a ceramics class, or tennis, swimming, advertising, British literature, developmental psychology, American history, or one of a hundred others.

Then again, this might be just the time to tackle that troublesome required course that you've been putting off. It should be easier to manage when you take it singly, or with a sole companion course. You might thank yourself for it later, when you've lightened your senior year.

Or it might be the time to catch up on credit hours after that bad semester you had as a freshman — and a chance to pull up the old GPA. Don't forget that if you fail a class here you have to re-take it here to replace that F in the calculation of your GPA. Also, transfer hours count towards graduation but the grades don't count on your GPA. Your cumulative GPA is calculated only on work taken at Longwood.

How about an internship in an administrative office? It might give you an idea of what life after college might be like, and help to develop some of your skills in a professional environment.

You could stay for just the three week interim session, take a course and be out of here by June 8 — short and sweet. Or you could stay through the end of the first four week session and be done by mid-July. Or, stay for all three sessions, be finished by August 10, accomplish a lot, and still have time for a vacation before the fall semester.

So, what else is there to do?

You could play racketball, basketball, tennis, or golf, pump iron in the weight room, jog or bike down country roads, bask by the pool, go to the lake, go bowling, play coed softball or volleyball in the evenings, and generally take it easy and have fun. (It sounds like a country club to me — you'd pay big bucks for these opportunities anywhere else.) You might also find time to read and study and think.

Whom could you do it with? Will you know anyone else?

Well, to make sure you had pleasant company, you might stack the deck. What if some of your pals were here too? Could you have fun, or what?

Talk to your friends about summertime at Longwood. It could just be the best summer you've ever had.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Why don't you accept personals for future issues? If they have the date the personals should be published, then I see nothing wrong in that. Three weeks now I have tried to put a personal in the newspaper, and everytime I come, that stupid note is on the door. Either expand your personals section, or start taking personals for future issues!

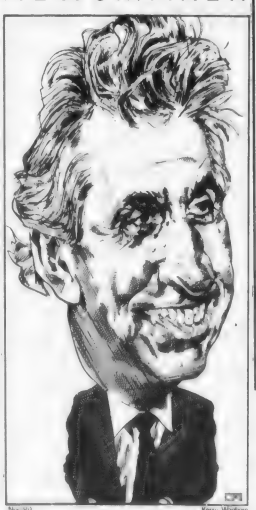
By the way, "Andy Rooney" I am not Greek, but I am female, and the personal was going to be to the Longwood Theatre Dept. for putting on two wonderful shows! Is that stupid and socialite to you? If so, then I feel genuine pity for you!

A frustrated student.
Cara Smith

Editor's Note:

The Rotunda does not accept personals for future issues for one simple reason. The Personal page may fill up weeks before the Rotunda goes to print. Then I have to put my "stupid" sign on the door. I also have to keep track of personals for several different issues. This can be a time-consuming process. Also, having personals for future issues backed up weeks ahead of time prevents current information from being on the personal page. The Housing Office and other groups often use the personal page as a way to inform students of parking changes, etc. As for expanding the personal page, forget it. Having 8 pages of personals is not going to help anyone learn something or make this campus a better place.

R. Bruce Gantt
Editor-In-Chief



To the Rotunda:

I would like to discuss the pros and cons of using fake identification. I will start by listing the pros and cons, and then I will discuss them.

Obviously, when using fake identification, one is able to enter into drinking establishments or buy alcoholic beverages at the local stores. Those two are the only advantages I can come up with for using fake I.D. As for the disadvantages, there are many. Most people don't realize the seriousness of their actions in using fake identification. For example, you may be put on probation until graduation, suspended from Longwood, or even expelled from college for this offense. If you are caught by the local police, you may spend the night in jail and be clobbered with a heavy fine, or you may even go to court, and conviction of this offense would stay on your police record for the rest of your life. As you can see, the disadvantages greatly outweigh the advantages. It is very easy to have a good time without drinking, and you'll feel better in the morning.

Name withheld upon Request

NEWSMAKER

EGON KRENZ East Germany
Communist Party Chairman

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
R. Bruce Gantt

Photography Editor
Jan-Marie Johnson

Sports Editor
Lindy Seymore

Business Manager
Sarah Tetterton

Advertising Manager
Michelle Lawhorn

Features Editor
Monica Gilbert

News Editor
Stephanie Neeley

Faculty Advisor
William C. Woods

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be signed, typed or printed neatly, and state the author's years. The Editor and staff reserve the right to edit any material submitted for publication.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

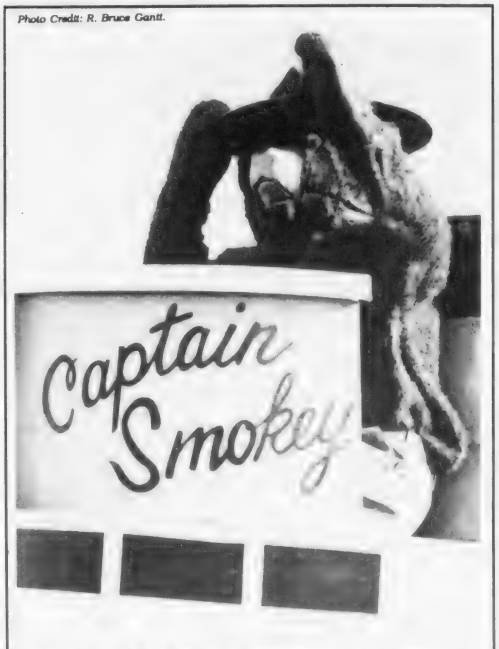
Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 395-2120.

News

United Way Night

Longwood College, the college's Panhellenic Council and the Prince Edward County United Way are joining forces to sponsor United Way Night in Lancer Hall Wednesday, Dec. 6 in conjunction with Longwood's men's basketball game with Virginia Union.

Tip-off for the Longwood-Virginia Union contest is 7:30 and the Lady Lancer Cagers will take on North Carolina Wesleyan at 5:30 on the same night. Both games are open to the public at no charge. The college, however, is requesting that all those attending the games make a donation to the Prince Edward County United Way.



The local United Way has now raised nearly $16,000 toward its goal of $39,000 for the year. These funds will help support the following groups and organization: Sheltered Workshop, Girl Scouts, Dixie Youth League, SCOPE, F.A.C.E.S., Domestic Assistance For you, Prince Edward Recreational Center, Prince Edward 4-H, Jolly Gee Senior Citizens, Farmville/Prince Edward Library Association, Boy Scouts, Farmville Junior Woman's Club, HI-Y and TRI-HI-Y and New Horizons Hospice.

Local basketball fans won't want to miss the Lancer-Virginia Union contest, which promises to be one of the most exciting basketball games in Lancer Hall this school year. The Panthers, year-in-and-year-out one of the best Division II teams in the nation, feature All-American guard A.J. English, a likely NBA draft choice next summer.

Joyce Eggleston, a member of the United Way Board and owner of The Other Store and Farmville's J.C. Penney store, says that the board is hoping that people from the Farmville area and Prince Edward County will join forces to make United Way Night a success.

"We're very appreciative of the college and the Panhellenic Council for helping us promote this special event. If the community supports this project the way we think they will, we would like to make it an annual event. People will have a chance to have some fun at the games and support the United Way also."

Photo Credit: R. Bruce Gantt.

Smokey the Bear made an appearance at the Sunday Christmas Parade.

Not Only News

Coming

December 6th

Innovative. Provocative. Thought-provoking. NOTONLYNEWS. These are the standards we like to keep. To maintain a fresh and interesting outlook, not only on the concerns of college students and campus life, but also those of the world around us. This is what NOTONLYNEWS is about.

Keep your eyes open. The next issue will be out on the evening of Wednesday, December 6. It can be found in the Rotunda and all academic buildings. There is a limited number of copies available, so pick one up as soon as possible.

In this issue, we cover a variety of topics. Again to follow up to October's special, we will focus on the role of France in the European Economic Community. For this month's special, we will look back on the wild and wonderful decade of the eighties (along with its not so wonderful points).

In addition to "Cinemania", the monthly movie review, we will have "Videomania" for those who prefer to rent and stay at home. Then there are our regular departments, covering things such as the torture of study stress in "Campus Life" to advice from "Dear Babs" for those dealing with "roomate rivalry." Included in the issue will be a short reader response card, where you can tell us what you think, and what you want to see.

This month we are celebrating the first anniversary of the magazine's publication. When the stress of exams is in your head, and thoughts of Christmas break in your heart, take time out and pick one up. We have expanded our format, with four additional pages. Of course we will have our normal variety of articles and features, on the campus and the world at large.

NOTONLYNEWS. Creative. Imaginative. If you have any ideas, comments, or questions, write to us at Box 1108. And remember to pick up your December issue Wednesday evening.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 9		READING DAY
EXAM DAY/DATE	9-12	2-5	7-10
MONDAY, DECEMBER 11	ENGLISH 051, 100 101, CONFLICT, OR MAKEUP	M/W/F 10:30	T/R 3:55 AND MONDAY EVENING CLASSES
TUESDAY, DECEMBER 12	M/W/F 8:30	T/R 2:30	M/W/F 12:30 AND TUESDAY EVENING CLASSES
WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 13	T/R 11:20	M/W/F 11:30	M/W/F 2:30 AND WEDNESDAY EVENING CLASSES
THURSDAY, DECEMBER 14	M/W/F 9:30	T/R 8:30	M/W/F 3:30 AND THURSDAY EVENING CLASSES
FRIDAY, DECEMBER 15	T/R 9:55	M/W/F 1:30	M/W/F 4:30 AND CONFLICT OR MAKEUP

MIDNITE MADNESS

Thursday, Dec. 7th

8 PM 'Til 12 Midnight

20% OFF

ALL MERCHANDISE

*Book Buy Back

Richard Couture To Autograph

'Charlie's Letters'

the other store

Features

Volunteer To G.I.V.E.

By Anthony S. Booker

G.I.V.E. is designed to broaden the students notion of belonging in their community beyond their college campus experience. Indeed, community services learning can provide opportunities for students to explore their intellectual, career, personal and social goals. It is a major goal of these efforts that students learn to G.I.V.E. of themselves.

The goals of G.I.V.E. are to create opportunities for students to:

—G.I.V.E. of themselves to others in their communities.

—Broaden the interactions with the community.

—Make contributions in solving real-life problems.

— Learn more about themselves.

—Learn more about the ways in which others live.

—Explore the world of work through community service learning.

—Develop a personal philosophy of life.

In addition to our goals G.I.V.E. Cleaninghouse sets up placements sites for volunteers in Farmville community (such as nursing homes and local organizations), recruit and train volunteers from Longwood community by visiting different organizations on campus, keep track of community service hours offered by Longwood volunteers, and help prevent duplicated programs (Ex. Three can food drives within the same week).

If you or your organization would like to become a volunteer please contact me, Anthony Booker (395-3851 or P.O. Box 75), Student Services (395-2490) or G.I.V.E. Clearinghouse (395-2397). G.I.V.E. will appreciate your support.

Poetry Contest

December 31 is the deadline for entering the American Poetry Association's contest. Entry is free and everyone is welcome to enter.

The Grand Prize is $1,000 and the first prize $500. In total 152 poets will win cash and publication prizes worth $11,000.

"Every student who writes poetry should enter this contest. Our latest $1,000 winner is a student. Students also won 24 of the other prizes," said Robert Nelson, publisher for the association. "December break should give students the chance to enter before the deadline."

Poets may enter the contest by sending up to six poems, each no more than 20 lines, name and address on each page, to American Poetry Association, Dept. CT-90, 250-A Potrero St., P. O. Box 1803, Santa Cruz, CA 95061. Entries should be mailed by December 31. A new contest starts January 1.

Each poem is also considered for publication in the American Poetry Anthology, a leading collection of today's poems.

During eight years of sponsorship the American Poetry Association has run 34 contests and awarded $165,000 in prizes to 3,100 winning poets.

Longwood College Bookstore

SELL BOOKS FOR CASH!

Thursday, Dec. 7 .....9 a.m. - 2 p.m.

Monday, Dec. 11 thru

Fri., Dec. 15.....9 a.m. - 5 p.m.

$125,000 cash paid to students for books last school year.

Sell your books at the Longwood Bookstore for the best prices on your used books.

FREE! Register to win a FREE ArtCarved Class Ring to be given away Dec. 18, 1989 at the Longwood Bookstore.

The Rotunda Staff would like to wish everyone good luck on exams and Have a Happy and Safe Holiday.

Sports

Lancer Cagers Win Three of Four Games

Jefferson had a terrific week, scoring 119 points in four games for a 29.8 average. The Longwood leader is averaging 24.8 ppg, and has moved ahead of Ron Orr (1335 points) into fourth place on the Lancers' all-time scoring list. Jefferson now has 1364 points. Only Lonnie Lewis (1452), Joe Remar (1479) and Jerome Kersey (1756) rank ahead of him.

Jefferson could pass them all if he continues at his current pace for the remainder of the season. He's also averaging 5.2 rebounds and 2.8 steals per game. He tops the Lancers with 25 steals in nine games. His specialty has been to get a steal and convert with a breakaway dunk or layup. Jefferson has 14 slams in nine games.

Shavers scored 16 points Friday night and came back with 15 in Saturday's win over Marymount. The senior guard had scored 22 in the win over Bowie State Wednesday. Shavers now has 939 points and should top 1,000 early in 1990.

Fellow captain and senior Doug Poppe has 934 points and should also top 1,000 points soon. Poppe, averaging 14 pts. and a team best 8.3 rbs., scored 20 in the win over Bowie.

Guard Billy Dunn stands just 5-11, but got in on the dunking action against Marymount Saturday night. Freshman Bryan Weaver had a team high six rebounds and six points in 20 minutes of action.

While Saturday's game with Marymount was a mismatch, Longwood's battle with Queens was close most of the way. The Lancers led briefly in the first half and trailed 33-32 at the break.

Sparked by Jefferson and Dunn, Longwood had leads of 41-40 and 43-42 around the 16 minute mark. The Royals, amazingly strong for a first year team, got a six-points when Aikens was fouled and a technical was whistled on Longwood assistant coach Ernest Neal.

Aikens made three of four free throws and Queens got a 3-point bucket on the ensuing possession to go from a 49-48 lead to a 55-48 edge. It was 57-48 before Shavers scored with 11:27 remaining.

Longwood rallied again cutting the deficit to 69-68 with 2:46 left on two Shavers free throws. Then Queens guard Marcus Stubblefield scored eight points on a 10-2 run as the Royals went ahead to stay at 79-70.

Extremely physical game

"We played awfully hard in what was an extremely physical game," said Lancer coach Cal Luther. "we gave a great effort, but Queens played well.

"I know Virginia Union has an outstanding team," he added in looking ahead to Wednesday night's contest. "We're delighted to get the chance to play some of the top teams in the country. We're looking forward to another tough challenge."

Following Wednesday's home game with Virginia Union, Longwood won't play again until December 29-30 in the Valdosta State Invitational.

Longwood won three of four games last week in men's basketball, beating Ferrum 101-82 Monday, Bowie State 75-65 Wednesday and Marymount 98-63 Saturday while losing to Queens (NC) 79-73 Friday.

The Friday (at Longwood) and Saturday (at Hampden-Sydney) contests were part of the first Subway/Captain Seas Doubleheader. Hampden-Sydney beat Marymount 72-56 and upset Queens 62-54 Saturday in other doubleheader contests.

This week the Lancers will take on Division II power Virginia Union at 7:30 Wednesday night in Lancer Hall. The Panthers, who beat Virginia State 120-79 Saturday night, are led by All-American guard A.J. English, a likely choice in next summer's NBA Draft.

(Continued on Page 6)

Number 33, Kevin Jefferson, makes a slamdunk for the Lancers.

All-Regional Soccer Team Named

Junior soccer forward Ray Jones has been named to the All-South Atlantic Division II-NAIA soccer team for the third year in a row. The team is voted by the region soccer coaches.

Longwood's all-time leader in goals (64) and assists (34), Jones led Longwood with 14 goals and six assists in 1989. A graduate of Berkeley Institute and a business major, Jones was voted as a first team Division II All-American in 1987 and 1988.

He had earlier been named second team All-Virginia Intercollegiate Soccer Association and All-VISA Eastern Division.

Longwood finished with a 10-10 record in soccer this fall.

Also named to the All-Region team were back Shaun Davison, midfielders, Colin Rocke and Michael Thompson and forward Atle Nesheim of West Virginia Wesleyan, goalkeeper Anthony Presutti, back Wayne McNulty and forward James Parkes of Wheeling Jesuit, midfielder Anthony Sherwood and forward Howard King of Davis & Elkins and back Barrington Gaynor of Alderson-Broaddus.

Lancer Riders Place Fourth

The Longwood riding team placed fourth out of nine colleges in an intercollegiate horse show November 19, hosted by Randolph-Macon Woman's College and Lynchburg College.

The Lancer riders won a total of 15 ribbons as freshman Tara Dieter grabbed a first place ribbon in novice-flat while junior Paige Perry took top honors in beginner walk-trot.

Also placing in the top six were: Stephanie Harbourt sixth in open-fences; Tami Stanton second in open-fences; Julie Miller second in intermediate-flat and fences; Carey Seitz third intermediate flat, fourth novice-fences; Kirsten Hite second novice-flat; Tarah Winters second novice-flat and novice-fences and Lisa Lockwood sixth novice flat, fourth novice fences.

Also Jennifer Leath sixth in advanced walk-trot-canter and Barbara Zwirnbeum sixth beginner walk-trot-canter.

The Lancers look on as their team members play against Queens.

Personals/Greek Affairs

F.I.P.G.'s Insure Fraternity Survival

By ERIC J. ALMQUIST

Reprinted from "The Star and Lamp" Fall 1989 Vol. LXXV No. 4.

F.I.P.G.

For many college undergraduates, this acronym has become a buzz word, one that strikes fear in the hearts. It means that the executives of several national fraternities have banded together to take the fun out of fraternity. It means no kegs, no beer and no fun.

The truth is, undergraduate fraternity chapters need the Fraternity Insurance Purchasing Group, or a similar group, to stay alive in today's litigious society. FIPG is here to insure the survival of fraternities, not to kill fraternities.

FIPG is designed to allow fraternities to purchase previously unobtainable insurance. Fraternities are able to purchase insurance because of their adherence to FIPG's risk management policy. The policy addresses alcohol and drugs, hazing, sexual abuse, and fire, health, safety and education issues. The policy, which Pi Kappa Phi adopted last school year, has its greatest affect on chapters in its guidelines on alcohol.

Although we, as undergraduates, may not want to admit it, one of the biggest problems facing our chapters today is the misuse of alcohol. Why should I join a fraternity that won't let me get drunk? Consider these facts:

•Almost every "incident" on campus involves alcohol.

•The leading cause of death among 16-to 24-year-olds is alcohol-related auto accidents.

•Alcoholism is a disease.

Alcohol abuse is a very serious problem on college campuses. And because fraternities are a microcosm of college campuses, the problem exists there as well. Because of this, fraternities are pointed out as the cause of such problems. Anyone who attends a fraternity function and is involved in an accident can in turn sue the fraternity. Without insurance, there is no way to protect personal liability against such incidents.

Alcohol abuse leads to irresponsible behavior, which in turn causes many of the problems.

"The singular and most burdensome problem confronting the American college fraternity is the responsible use of alcohol," says Mark Metcalf, a practicing attorney in Kentucky and an alumnus of Sigma Pi fraternity.

Metcalf adds, "The American legal system cannot and does not ignore the dreadful consequences of accidents which indiscriminately snuff out the young lives of collegians every day."

It is this dilemma that has opened the door for serious liability problems in college fraternities.

FIPG has become one of the ways to close the door. FIPG has restricted the purchase and consumption of alcohol in our chapters. It has done so, not to take the fun out of the fraternities, but to insure their very survival.

(Continued from Page 5)

United Way Night will be observed in Lancer Hall with free admission for everyone. Fans are being requested to make a contribution to the Prince Edward County United Way at Wednesday's game.

Jefferson, Shavers named to All-Doubleheader squad

Seniors Kevin Jefferson and Dale Shavers were voted to the All-Subway/Captain Seas Doubleheader team along with Russell Turner and Orson Williams of H-SC and Walter Aikens of Queens. Jefferson had 33 and 30 points in the doubleheader contests. The 6-5 forward hit 15 of 23 shots from the floor against Queens, but his teammates were a combined 13-42 on field goal attempts (30.9 percent).

Personals

Internships in London and Paris are available to Business majors beginning in January, 1990. The internships, sponsored by James Madison University, are with such firms as: ABC News in London, Time Magazine in London, Philip Morris in France, and SA/SIB in Bologna, Italy.

The internship program is open to all Virginia College and University students in their Junior or Senior year. For more information about these programs contact the International Studies Office in Grainger 213 or call #2172.

Personals

Come and Help plan the 1990 Student Leadership Conference (Virginia Beach) Organization Meeting Wednesday, November 29 5-6:30 p.m. Virginia Room Come and bring A Friend!!!

Amy Shinal — It won't be long until you find out who I am" I've tried to be sneaky, so I hope you haven't figured me out. Have a great week!! — Your Secret Santa

Hey girls my pig headed ex-boyfriend said men can beat women at everything. Well, let's show him! Be in Ruffner 360 on Dec. 6, 1989 at 7 p.m. for an Army R.O.T.C. Scholarship meeting. We'll show them we can do anything and get our tuition paid in the process. — A Woman and Proud of It.

International Studies is sponsoring two programs in intensive French this summer. One program in Toulouse, France begins on June 17 to July 7, 1990. The second program is on the Caribbean island of Martinique and begins on May 21 to June 8, 1990. Tuition for the Toulouse Program is $750 and tuition for the Martinique Program is $1200. Each program bears three Longwood credits in French.

Students interested in these programs should contact the International Studies Office in Grainger 213 or call #2172.

Berlin Wall Party in French T.V. Lounge Tuesday, December 5, 12 noon-1:30 p.m. Come celebrate freedom! Free Subway sandwich and drinks available.

The Cunninghams Greatest Lecture series will present "Children and Television" with Frank Howe, Wednesday, December 6 at 7:30 p.m., 4th floor South Cunningham. The effects will be discussed. All are invited! Refreshments available too!

New Fraternity Coming!

Any man interested in colonizing a new fraternity on the Longwood campus is invited to an informational meeting to be held on Thursday, December 7th at 5:30 p.m. in the Red/White/Green Rooms of Lankford. All non-Greeks are welcome!!

New Sorority Coming!

Any woman interested in colonizing a new sorority on the Longwood campus is invited to an informational meeting to be held Thursday, December 7th, 6 p.m. in the Red/White/Green Rooms of Lankford. All non-Greeks are welcome!!!

Lesley, — You've been a great roommate!! I'm glad we met a year and a half ago. Hey — don't fall out the window. Chocolate attack!!! — Beer runs — ΣrX Halloween party — ZZZZZ — "Just what I needed" — what a concept — toilet paper your car — and we can't forget the condom in the closet. Thanks for everything and good luck in the future! There is life after graduation! — Love, Karen

PHONE 395-2710
ITZA PIZZA
NEW HOURS:
T, W, TH, & SUN. 11 AM - 1 AM
MON., FRI. & SAT. 11 AM - 11 PM
OPEN EXTRA HOURS:
TUE., WED., THUR. 'TIL 1:00 A.M.;
MON., FRI., SAT., SUN. REG. HOURS 'TIL 11:00 P.M.
TRY OUR ALL NEW HOT'N DELICIOUS PIZZA!
COUPON
$2.00 OFF ANY 2-TOPPING LARGE PIZZA
COUPON
MENU
12" PIZZA ..... $5.25 (TOPPING...75¢)
16" PIZZA ..... $7.45 (TOPPING...90¢)
TOPPINGS— Ground beef, ham, pepperoni, sausage, canadian bacon, black olives, onions, green peppers, jalepenos, mushrooms, green olives.
★ FEATURING ★
LANCER SUPREME PIZZA
Sausage, pepperoni, mushrooms, green peppers.
12"...$9.00; 16"...$11.75

Personals

To the AΔπ pledges, — You guys are doing an AWESOME job pledging? Keep up that great π spirit. Good luck on exams. We love you guys. — The Sisters of AΔπ

To the Sisters of Sigma Sigma Sigma — Good luck on exams! I love you all!! — In our bonds Steph K.

Ho, Ho, Ho — Who wouldn't go
Ho, Ho, Ho
Who wouldn't go
Up on the Rooftop
Click, Click, Click
Down through the chimney with a CHI-kerchief
— Happy Holidays from CHI 90

Come and join the Longwood Leadership Express: Membership has its advantages. The 1990 Student Leadership Conference Organization Meeting Wednesday, December 6, 5:30-6:30 p.m. in the White and Green Rooms. Come and bring a friend!!!

#1 Slut Monger, — (Also known as the 24 hour scammer!) It's been an awesome semester. Thanks for all of the support. I'm glad you are my lap and that you've been there when I needed a friend. Let's make next semester even better!! Chem Club parties rule, but no flasks! — Love, The Trouble Child

Hey all you Freshman and Sophomore Studs — I need a man who's strong, and smart — a leader of men and a taker of women. Are you the one? Be in Ruffner 360 at 7 p.m. on Dec. 6, 1989 for an Army R.O.T.C. Scholarship meeting. Show me you got what it takes! — Hot and Ready

COME ONE COME ALL TO THE Kings Dominion

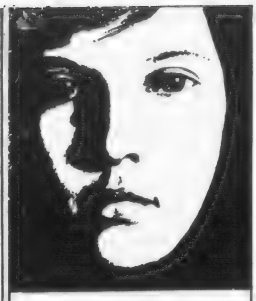
SPECIAL INTERVIEW DAYS

Wednesday, December 27 - Saturday, December 30
9:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.
at the
Kings Dominion Personnel Office

Now Hiring
For Weekend and Summer Employment.

Kings Dominion Offers:

Excellent Pay Rate
1990 Pay Rate



- $5.40 per hour on weekends
- $4.40 per hour on weekdays
- Help with carpools
- Unlimited use of the park
- Clean costume provided daily
- Employee activities
- Complimentary tickets
- Time off for vacation
- Discounts on merchandise
- Credit for marketing and cooperative education programs
- Returning 1989 employees earn $5.60 per hour on weekends $4.60 per hour on weekdays
- Plus a Labor Day Bonus of 40¢ per hour
- Food and Beverage employees are eligible for a 65¢ per hour bonus
- Weekly schedules of 35-45 hours during the summer
- Opportunities for advancement
- Valuable job experience
- Chance to meet many new friends
- A unique working environment
- Bus transportation available from designated areas

Interview hours beginning January 2: Monday through Saturday, 9 a.m. - 5 p.m.
For more information or an employment brochure, call or write:

Kings Dominion Personnel Department
P.O. Box 2000, Doswell, Virginia 23047 — (804) 876-5145

EOE

Sunny's
CAFE
CASABLANCA
Farmville Shopping Center
OPEN:
MONDAY -SATURDAY
11::30 - 2:00
5:00 - 9:00
Now
Mexican Food
And Beers!

— FREE —
PREGNANCY TEST
All services confidential.
Same day results.
116 N. MAIN STREET
SOUTHSIDE PREGNANCY CENTER
24-HOUR HOTLINE
392-8483

80,000 PEOPLE GAVE SOMETHING TO THE IRS THIS YEAR. AND THEY CAN'T WAIT TILL NEXT YEAR TO GIVE AGAIN.

They volunteered their skills to people who needed help doing their taxes. And it made them feel great.

They weren't necessarily accountants. They were people, like you and your club or group members, who have a basic aptitude for math and a desire to help others.

You know, you can help people with what taxes them. And feel great, too.

To find out about the free IRS training program call 1-800-424-1040 now.

A Public Service of This Publication & Ad Council | Internal Revenue Service

WITH THIS COUPON
Free drink with sandwich
1 breast, coleslaw, biscuit & drink
$1.99
2 pc. fish, with slaw, hush puppies & drink
$2.49
GOLDEN DIP FRIED CHICKEN
314 S. Main Street (804) 392-4104

Take a Friend a Tree!
Get it at
BETSY'S
Mini Tree - $2.50
with 6 ornaments
308 N. Main St.
Longwood Magnet
$1.00 ea. or
FREE with $10.00 purchase
Across From DT's

HELP WANTED
ACT IN TV COMMERCIALS
HIGH PAY
No experience...all ages — kids, teens, young adults, families, mature people, animals, etc. Call Now!
CHARM STUDIOS
1-(800) 447-1530
Ext. 514

Lonely?
Need a Date?
Meet that special someone today!
Call DATETIME
(405) 366-6335

Jobs in Alaska
HIRING Men - Women • Summer/ Year Round. CANNERIES, FISHING, LOGGING, TOURISM, CONSTRUCTION up to $600 weekly, plus FREE room and board. CALL NOW! Call refundable 1-206-736-0775, Ext. #1235H

HELP WANTED
ATTENTION — HIRING!
Government jobs - your area. $17,840-$69,485. Call 1-602-838-8885. EXT R 18988.

"Attention: Earn Money Reading Books! "
$32,000/year income potential. Details. (1) 602-838-8885 Ext. Bk 18988.

Upcoming Events

Information on this calendar is collected and coordinated through the Student Union Office, 1st Floor Lankford Student Union, Longwood College.

For student organizations or college departments to make entries a campus calendar form must be filled out and returned to the Student Union Office.

Deadline is the Tuesday preceding publication date.

Tuesday - 5

City Woodworks, 9-12; 1-5, Bedford Gallery.

The Mistletoe Moose, recommended for K-6th Grade, 9:30 a.m. & 12:30 p.m., Jarman.

Christmas Concert, 5 & 8 p.m.

Women's Basketball entry blank due & meeting.

Women's Basketball: LC vs Guilford College, 7:30 p.m., Lancer.

concert

Wednesday - 6

Longwood College vs Virginia Union , Men's Basketball, 7:30 p.m., Lancer.

City Woodworks, 9-12; 1-5; Bedford Gallery.

Basketball officials applications due & meeting.

ROTC Scholarship Interest Night, 7 p.m., 360 E. Ruffner.

Faculty Colloquim Lecture: Dr. R. Lee Benton, 7:30 p.m. , Wygal.

1990 Student Leadership Conference organizaiton meeting, 5:30 p.m., Green & White Rooms.

Hampden-Sydney — CAC movie, "A Clockwork Orange," Johns Auditorium, 10 p.m., $1.

Thursday - 7

Senior Art Exhibit: John LaFlamme & Vonda Deel, 9 a.m. - 6p.m., Showcase Gallery.

Movie — "Scrooged", 7 p.m. Lancer Cafe´.

Films

Friday - 8

Senior Art Exhibit: John LaFlamme & Vonda Deel, 9 a.m. - 10p.m., Showcase Gallery.

Women's Basketball: LC at Wofford College, 7 p.m.

Last Day of Classes

Last Day of Classes

Saturday -9

Women's Basketball: LC at Queens College, 3 p.m.

Reading Day

Senior Art Exhibit: John LaFlamme & Vonda Deel, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

Hampden-Sydney — Christmas Formal with "Kings of Swing," Kirby F.H., 9 p.m.-12:30 a.m., $15.

Randolph-Macom Woman's — Movie. "It's A Wonderful Life," Thoresen Theater, 7 p.m.

Sunday - 10

Senior Art Exhibit: John LaFlamme & Vonda Deel, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

Exams Begin Monday

Monday - 11

Senior Art Exhibit: John LaFlamme & Vonda Deel, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

Campus Candlelight Christmas Service of Lessons & Carols, 9:30 p.m., Farmville United Methodist.

The Rotunda

Longwood College

Vol. 69 No. 12 | January 22, 1990 | Farmville, VA

Lancer Editon's "On Broadway"

By DENISE DAUBENSPECK

On January 19 and 20 Broadway was brought to life in Farmville with the Lancer Edition Show Choir's performance of "On Broadway." For two nights Jarman Auditorium was transformed to accommodate familiar excerpts from The Wiz, Pippin, Les Miserables, Godspell, Jesus Christ Superstar, and Carousel. During the rendition of "Do You Hear the People Sing" and "God On High, Hear My Prayer", the Lancer Edition transformed itself into the army from Les Miserables as the stage filled with smoke.

The production proceeded to leave the bright lights and break for commercials. The stage took on the form of six television screens as the performers revived the words from familiar sponsors. Dr. Pepper, Pepsi, Pizza Hut, McDonalds, Texaco, Armor, Tidy-Bowl and Oscar Meyer were a few of the old time commercials.

The performance concluded with a message to the audience. The song "Love In Any Language" used the Hebrew, French, Spanish, Russian, and international sign language to express I Love You. Performer Susan Hanks directed the choir in singing the song.

Under the direction of Donald Trott the Lancer Edition included Daniel Ellis, Alice Flora, Todd Haley, Susan, Hanks, Shannon Holly, Kenny Magee, Betty Jo Maurne, Rhonda Riddle, Jamie Riffle, Kenny Strawn, Jeff Thomas, and Julie Zimmer.

Findings On Phone Fiasco

By BETH A. LORD

Many Longwood students were enraged when they got back on campus after Christmas break and found out that they could no longer use the credit cards they waited in line for at the beginning of last semester. Instead, they had to get personal authorization codes to call long-distance.

This transition occurred over break, making it impossible for the college to notify students or give them their codes before they got back on campus. Rose Hurley of Telecommunications made 250 flyers, which were posted all over campus in an attempt to alleviate the inevitable confusion. She says the administration knew when the phone system was first put in that students would need to use authorization codes for long-distance sometime in the future, but it was not expected to be necessary until Fall '90. This past semester, 150 students used authorization codes as part of a pilot program. The program was so successful that Longwood decided to give codes to everybody ahead of schedule.

Students will benefit from the use of the authorization codes. They will not have to pay the 80 cents that they were charged for each long-distance credit card call. Calls made with the codes are not taxed. Students will be billed directly through Longwood's Telecommunication System and will have approximately six weeks to pay their bills. Also, students can use their codes to make calls from any phone in the system. Calls made this way will be charged to the student whose code was used.

This is the latest, state of the art phone system. Each room is equipped for the hook-up of a voice message service. Students whose phones have this feature can call from anywhere and retrieve their messages. There are also many data options available. Students can have contact with host computers, electronic bulletin boards, the campus library's catalog and catalogs of other libraries, and even their parents' PCs. Students can even hear the time of day by calling 2730.

Telecommunications has also installed thirteen emergency phones in strategic locations on campus. They are marked with red and tan striped "Emergency Use Only" stickers. A student who picks up the receiver of one of these phones is put in contact with the Campus Police, who know immediately the location from which the student is calling.

Sometime this semester or next semester, students will once again be able to use their credit cards if they so desire. They will also be able to make 1-800 calls. According to Ms. Hurley, "this is just a matter of software adjustments".

The Telecommunications Department will soon be offering Cable TV. Electronic mail service is expected to be available in the future.

Ms. Hurley urges students to be patient. "As with any new system, it takes time to get through it". She encourages students to call her at 2606 if they have any questions or complaints, need service, or need to report that a campus pay phone is out of order. Students who have not yet received authorization codes may pick them up on Tuesday, January 23, from 4-7 in Lankford Conference Room 2. In the meantime, these students are encouraged to use their calling cards at the pay phones.

Roe vs. Wade Defense Attorney To Speak At H-SC

In 1973, at age twenty-six, Sarah Weddington won the landmark case of Roe v. Wade in the U.S. Supreme Court, the decision that legalized abortion, a decision that still stirs controversy. At that time Weddington had just been elected to her first term in the Texas Legislature. Weddington's success before the Supreme Court established her reputation as one of the brightest minds in law today. On Wednesday, January 31, at 7:30 p.m. in the Crawley Forum, she will lecture on "The Constitutional Implications of Roe v. Wade." The lecture is free and open to the public. Because of the controversial nature of this lecture, information tables will be set up on campus in the Graham Hall Student Center, offering information regarding the various viewpoints on the subject of abortion. On Monday, January 29, from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. the Southside Pregnancy Center, a pro-life organization, will be on hand to offer their views and information. On Tuesday, January 30, between the hours of 9:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m., Planned Parenthood of Richmond, a pro-choice organization, will share their views and information. This is also free and open to the public.

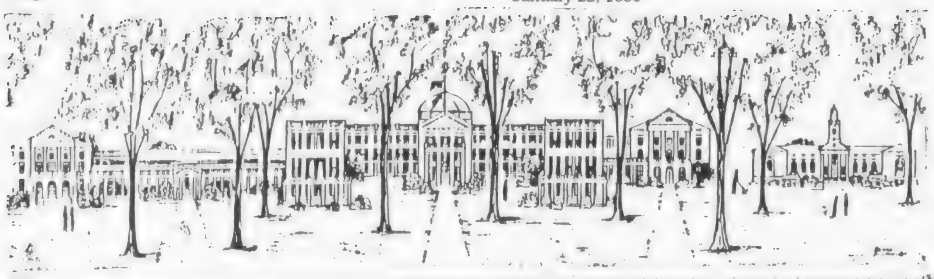
A native of Abilene, Texas, she graduated in 1965 from McMurray College in Abilene and in 1967 from the University of Texas Law School. She had received a Margaret Sanger award from Planned Parenthood and awards from the Texas Women's Political Caucus and the Outstanding Young Women of America. Currently a history and government lecturer at both the University of Texas and Texas Women's University, Weddington has made history through the law.

Longwood Water Testing Receives Grant

The Virginia Environmental Endowment has awarded a grant of $12,354 to help support and expand Longwood College's water analysis program in Southside Virginia.

The grant will fund many of the direct costs involved in the project for a two-year period that began last month and will continue to September of 1991. Longwood is funding indirect costs of the program.

A letter from the Virginia Environmental Endowment announcing the grant award states: "The VEE board commends Longwood College for sponsoring this program as a valuable community service and an excellent opportunity for students to apply their academic skills. We believe that this program has great potential to stimulate public interest in the local environmental quality of Southside Virginia, and we encourage Longwood to explore new opportunities to inform its neighboring residents about the importance of water resource protection."



The water testing project was begun last spring by Keith Johnson, a Longwood chemistry major from Hampton. Working under the direction of Dr. Patrick Barber, Johnson tested 42 samples of drinking water brought in by area residents.

Response to the initial announcement of the water-testing service was so overwhelming that radio announcement had to be aired asking people not to bring any more samples to Longwood for testing.

"It was obvious that families in our area are concerned about the quality and safety of their water," Barber said.

Contents

Commentary.....2
News.....3, 4
Features.....5
Calender.....5
Classifieds.....6
Personals.....6
Sports.....7

Commentary

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

On Tuesday evening, December 12, 1989, our students were engaged in a snowball fight on Stubbs Mall. On the first call, Kara Lancaster, had been hit in the eye by a snowball. The second call involved Kate Dunnet who had been tackled by a student, fell seriously dislocating her knee. The Prince Edward Rescue Squad was called twice to the scene. On the last call as the vehicle drove up, LC students began to pelt it with snowballs. Our squad members tried to assist the injured student, moving down the hill to where she was located. As the squad members were working, the snowballs continued. It is true that no snowballs hit the squad members, but they were thrown around, behind and above them in an intimidating manner. Kate finally was transported to Southside Community Hospital and later that evening had to be moved to Medical College of Virginia Hospital where surgery was performed. As second semester begins, Kate is still at home recuperating taking physical therapy, and suffering some permanent nerve damage to her foot.

On duty that night were two Longwood alumni, Donna Groseclose, '77, Pat Payne, '73, Jeanne Bedner, R. N., and Pete Jenkins administered the necessary first aid to the student. They were in total disbelief that the snowball fight continued in this situation under the circumstances.

During the 1988-89 school session, the Prince Edward Rescue Squad made 125 calls to the Longwood campus. Each time an ambulance is started, the cost is $40. This covers the cost of gas, the cost of insurance, the cost of equipment, and the cost of the ambulance. The squad members riding with the vehicle are VOLUNTEERS. That means that these people donate their time without any compensation FREE. The cost to the taxpayers of this county for rescue squad service to Longwood College is $5000.00. At this time no contribution is made to the Prince Edward Rescue Squad by this college; so, Students, you are getting a FREE ride every time the vehicle appears on the campus.

We are extremely pleased that we have 14 members on our squad that are students at Longwood College and Hampden-Sydney College. They are dedicated young people who are willing to be a part of this community. At the present time Mark Sarver, a LC December graduate, is the president for 1990.

Are there any students at Longwood College who CARE? Are there any students at Longwood who would offer to assist the Prince Edward Rescue Squad when it arrives on the scene? Are there any students at Longwood who would step out of a crowd and help to control unruly spectators? Are there any students at Longwood who would remove the students that are throwing snowballs? Are there any students at Longwood who would say, "I am sorry" or "Thank you"?.

I have been a faculty member at Longwood for over twenty years; in addition, I am a member of the Prince Edward Rescue Squad. The students at LC are special, mature, caring, sensitive, responsible, and concerned. At least, I think so. Am I wrong?

Nancy Haga

Today, as I look back on my life and four years in college...I can only daydream. I daydream of all the memories. Memories of the past, hopes for the future.

You hear this over and over, but it is so true. You're never gonna have it like you had it in college. I could honestly say if I could change anything in my life, I would not change having gone to Longwood College. I am just as proud, as if I had gone to William and Mary. Believe it or not it is just as respectable. So many of you do not understand...College is what you make of it. REPEAT College is what you make of it. You can be a go-getter and get involved, join an organization: AMA; Student Government; a fraternity/sorority; or even hall council. Or just sit back and let college pass you by and complain about everything and hate being in college. College should be the time of your life. If not, you're missing out on something great. I can tell you this from personal experience, when going on job interviews the question I was most asked was not what my GPA was, or what classes I took, but what extracurricular activities I participated in. In fact, on the 35 interviews I participated in, I was never once asked my GPA!! Now don't get me wrong, your GPA is very important but the things that really set you aside from everyone else is what you do outside the classroom.

Sometime ago I was asked the question..."What does being Greek mean to me?" And to this day I can stand behind my answer. Being Greek has helped me in more ways than

(Continued on page 3)

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
R. Bruce Gantt

Photography Editor
Jan-Marie Johnson

Sports Editor

Business Manager
Kim Bell

Advertising Manager
Michelle Lawhorn

Features Editor
Monica Gilbert

News Editor
Beth A. Lord

Faculty Advisor
William C. Woods

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be signed, typed or printed neatly, and state the author's years. The Editor and staff reserve the right to edit any material submitted for publication.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 395-2120.

News

Renewed Interest In European Travel

Foreign study groups say U. S. students have immediately responded to the vast political changes sweeping through Eastern Europe by clamoring for study programs in Eastern Bloc nations.

They say few such programs will be ready by the summer, however.

"We have gotten quite a bit of response," reported Juliette Shapland of the Council on International Educational Exchange in New York. Students, she said, are hoping to see first-hand the recent changes in Poland, Hungary, East Germany and Czechoslovakia.

Beginning in the fall of 1990, the CIEE will offer 16-week academic programs in Warsaw and Budapest. The programs will cover economics, political science, history and culture.

And although they had been set before the recent political changes, course content will now get in to controversial areas, and thus, will be vastly improved. "There will be a tremendous difference in what courses will be like," Shapland promised.

Although it's too early to know what sort of foreign study opportunities will be available in Eastern Europe, many predict a growing number of them.

Roxbury Chamber Players

The Roxbury Chamber Players will present a concert on Monday evening, Jan. 29, at 8 o'clock in Wygal Recital Hall, Longwood College.

The concert is part of Longwood's Chamber Music Series and is open to the public free of charge.

The program will celebrate the birthdays of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart (Jan. 27, 1756) and Franz Schubert (Jan. 31, 1797). One of the Mozart Quartets for flute and strings, the Schubert Trio in B-flat Major for strings (violin, viola, and cello), and the Mozart Quintet for string quartet and clarinet will be performed.

Members of the Roxbury Chamber Players are: Helen Coulson and Bruno Nasta, violins; Deborah Baker, viola; William Comita, cello; Patricia Werrell, flute; and David Niethamer, clarinet. Ms. Werrell teaches flute at Longwood.

The Roxbury Chamber Players have a summer residency in Delaware County, New York, where they have appeared each year since organizing in 1982. In 1987, they were appointed ensemble-in-residence at St. Catherine's School in Richmond.

The ensemble performs masterpieces from the past and the music of living American composers. They have commissioned and premiered 10 new works. Their first recording, on the Opus One label last season, features works by Virginia composers Allan Blank and Judith Shatin Allen.

The Chamber Music Series is sponsored by Longwood's Department of Music and the Longwood Arts Council. The final two concerts in this year's series will feature Julian Gray and Ronald Pearl, classical guitarists, on Feb. 26, and the Shanghai String Quartet on April 9.

The Roxbury Players' concert is funded in part by the Film Fund Trust Fund, administered by Local 123, American Federation of Musicians, Richmond.

January 29, 1990

Roxbury Chamber Players

Phi Kappa Phi Offers Scholorships

The Longwood College chapter of Phi Kappa Phi National Honor Society is inviting applications from outstanding senior students for competitive fellowships worth up to $7,000 for first-year graduate or professional study. Fifty of these prestigious fellowships will be awarded nationwide. Thirty additional honorable mention awards of $500 will be made. Each Phi Kappa Phi chapter may nominate only one student for these awards. Students do not have to be members of Phi Kappa Phi when they apply. However, before receiving a Fellowship or Honorable Mention award, the student must be eligible to join Phi Kappa Phi and, when invited, must accept membership in the Society. This means a student must have a 3.50 GPA by the end of the first semester of the senior year.

The criteria used in the selection process include scholastic achievement, high standardized test scores (if applicable), honors and enrichment programs, leadership and participation in university and community activities, expression of study plans and career goals, plus evaluations by faculty. Graduating seniors with superior academic and leadership records should contact Mrs. Frances N. Hamlett, School of Business and Economics, Hiner B5, or telephone 395-2382 for additional information.

February 1, 1990, is the deadline for applications. Faculty are encouraged to nominate outstanding students within their programs.

Phi Kappa Phi, which was founded in 1897, has 251 chapters on universities and colleges throughout the nation. It is the only major national scholastic honor society which recognizes academic excellence in all disciplines. The Fellowship Program was established in 1932 and since then has given more than 1,000 fellowship awards and 400 honorable mention awards.

New Longwood Work Study

Longwood College is participating in the new Virginia Work-Study Program which is state-subsidized employment for college undergraduate students.

The program, which emphasizes off-campus public service employment, is administered by the State Council of Higher Education. The Council has designated student jobs in Virginia's public school divisions as having top priority for state funds available under the program.

The purpose of the program is to place students into the public school system as teacher aides, tutors, etc. Funds are available to Longwood to subsidize wages paid to students employed in the program during second semester 1989-90.

We feel that this program has great potential for Longwood and we are currently seeking students to fill several openings in the area schools.

Eligibility requirements include being a Virginia domiciled resident, enrolled as a full-time student, having financial need and pursuing a degree in teacher education.

Interested students should contact Mrs. Garrett in the Financial Aid Office.

Giest '90

Geist '90 Initiated

On Sunday, December 10, 1989, the 1990 members of Geist, Longwood's honorary leadership fraternity, were initiated. Those selected for membership include Michael Whitford – President, Jennifer Smith – Vice President, Oktoberfest, Martine Washko – Vice President, Blood Mobile, Melissa McDaniel – Secretary, Jay Wingold – Treasurer, Bill Brady, Paula Cannon, Beth Lord, Michael Prickett, Rebecca Todd, and John Wilkerson. Geist's primary responsibilities are the Spring Blood Mobile and of course Oktoberfest.

Geist '89 would also like to take this chance to thank sponsors, Candy Dowdy and Nancy Shelton, receive our greatest thanks and gratitude. We would have never made it without them.

Cable Info

The Telecommunication Services Department would like to make the following announcements:

Voicemail

Please sign up today for your personalized voice message system. This service is optional but can be subscribed to by any student for a fee of $30 per semester. You may pick up a VoiceMail request form from the Telecommunication Services office window located at 102 E Coyner Building between the hours of 1 p.m.-2:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Cable TV

Each Residence Hall room is now wired for Cable TV. If you have any questions regarding this service, please call 2729.

Time of Day

Telecommunication Services is also offering "at no charge", the Time of Day service. If you wish to know the time of day, simply call 2730.

General Information

All Business Transactions such as payment of telephone bills, purchase of telephone and data option accessories, VoiceMail requests, etc., will be handled Monday-Friday, 1 p.m.-2:30 p.m. at the Telecommunication Services office window located in 102 E Coyner Building. If the above times are not convenient for you please send all payments to us through the campus mail or simply use our payment drop box located in the lobby of Coyner. Thank you.

Billing Information

Any residence hall student who accepts a collect call in their room will be charged for the cost of the call as well as a $15 handling fee.

(Continued from page 2)

You really do have to enjoy the fun now, because it will not last forever. Ask some people? Ask some people who have failed out and see how they feel now. I can almost promise you they would give anything to be back at school. As far as the student body and the administration, you have to work together. You cannot get anywhere without the other. Nothing will happen if you cannot compromise to help both parties. You must work together!

I thank Longwood College and the Greek System for the opportunities they have given me, and for the friends I have met.

BRIAN V. KAVA
Class of 1989

News

Financial Aid Applications For 1990-91 Have Arrived!

Students should come by the Financial Aid Office to pick up this form and other important information.

Remember: Apply Early

Applications should be mailed to Princeton, New Jersey by March 1, 1990

January is Financial Aid Awareness Month

If you have Financial Aid Question call toll-free 1-800-262-4028 on January 29,30,31 7-10 p.m.

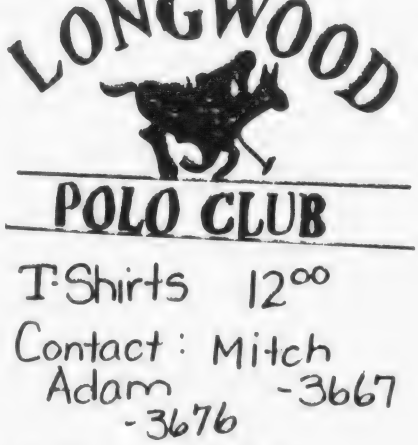
A Message From CHI

The 1990's are here, and things have never been more exciting for the Longwood community. We, as Longwood students, can be proud of our accomplishments as we begin a new semester. Welcome back to all of you who are returning and wish the best of luck to all of you who are new to Longwood. The spirit of CHI is stronger than ever, and that is because Longwood is better than ever. It is You who is the spirit that binds together all the different elements of our community and makes Longwood great. CHI is not those who walk through the dark of night; it is everyone who walks on our campus!! CHI '90 challenges everyone to seek out that spirit in yourselves and in everything you do. Best of luck in reaching your fullest potential! In Blue and White Spirit! CHI 90

Longwood's Student Operated Escort Service is looking for dedicated volunteers.

If interested, contact Chris Horan at 395-3384.

Do you want to work for The Rotunda?



We are looking for dedicated writers and editors.

INTEREST MEETING

Wednesday, January 24 at 7:00 in Publictions Office.

(Ground floor of Lankford across from Post Office.)

Sunny's
CAFE
CASABLANCA
Farmville Shopping Center
OPEN:
MONDAY -SATURDAY
11::30 - 2:00
5:00 - 9:00
Now
Mexican Food
And Beers!

Upcoming Events

Information on this calendar is collected and coordinated through the Student Union Office, 1st Floor Lankford Student Union, Longwood College.

For student organizations or college departments to make entries a campus calendar form must be filled out and returned to the Student Union Office.

Deadline is the Tuesday preceding publication date.

Tuesday - 23	Wednesday - 24	Thursday - 25	Friday - 26	Saturday -27	Sunday - 28	Monday - 29
X Art, 9-12 & 1-5, Bedford Gallery. Drawing in Virginia, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery. Men and Women Foul Shooting Entry Blank Due & Meeting, 6:30 p.m., IM Room. 	X Art, 9-12 & 1-5, Bedford Gallery. Imported Clothing Sale, 10 a.m. - 6 p.m., New Smoker. Drawing in Virginia, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery. Woman's B-Ball: LC vs Navy, 7:30 p.m., Lancer Blizzard of Bucks Game Show, 8 p.m., Gold Room, Lankford. 	Drawing in Virginia, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery. Foul Shooting Starts. Men's B-Ball: LC vs Elizabeth City State, 7:30 p.m., Lancer. X Art, 9-12 & 1-5, Bedford Gallery. Weekend Coed Bowling Entry Blank due & meeting, 6:30 p.m., IM room. Imported Clothing Sale, 10 a.m. - 6 p.m., New Smoker	Movie Series: Innocent Man, 7 p.m., Gold Room. Drawing in Virginia, 9 a.m. - 6 p.m., Showcase Gallery. Wrestling: LC at Washington & Lee Tournament. Imported Clothing Sale, 10 a.m. - 6 p.m., New Smoker. X Art, 9-12 & 1-5, Bedford Gallery. 	Drawing in Virginia, 3 p.m. - 5 p.m., Showcase Gallery. Gymnastics: LC at Maryland Baltimore Co., 3 p.m. Women's B-Ball: LC vs Lincoln Memorial, 7:30 p.m., Lancer. Men's B-Ball: LC at Pittsburgh-Johnstown, 2 p.m. Weekend Coed Bowling.	Drawing in Virginia, 3 p.m. - 5 p.m, Showcase Gallery. concert	Movie Series: Innocent Man, 7 p.m., Gold Room. X Art, 9-12 & 1-5, Bedford Gallery. Drawing in Virginia, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery. Women's B-Ball: LC vs USC-Spartanburg, 7:30 p.m., Lancer. Men and Women Raquetball entry blank due & meeting, 6:30 p.m. IM Room. Chamber Music Series - Roxbury Chamber Players, 8 p.m., Wygal Recital Hall.

Features

Top Five Of The Eighties

So the eighties have ended, big deal. But what do the nineties hold in store for the music-listening masses of Longwood College? Who knows, who cares, and does it really matter? No it doesn't. Since I partied a little too harder than I had anticipated on New Year's Eve, I missed my flight to New York City, thus missing out on a stellar opportunity to meet the fave-rave bands that played MTV's New Year gig. So instead of presenting some staid music review, I've decided to do a top five list of the eighties for your reading enjoyment, or to put it more simply, a chance to ponder yet another "Best of. . ." list. My top five picks for the recordings of the decade are as follows:

Coming in at number five is "Jed" by an outfit called Goo Goo Dolls. Contrary to popular belief, the band did not acquire the moniker due to their unending passion for stick Ken dolls in the microwave oven, with the temperature set at charbroil-nuke. But the band does blend good lyrics with a fiery, high-speed tempo. Goo Goo Dolls sounds like an unholy mix of the Smiths and Husker Du. Standout tracks on this 1989 release include "Up Yours" and "James Dean."

The coveted number four spot is filled by the Jesus and Mary Chain. Bursting on the alternative music scene in 1985 with the stunning "Psychocandy," the Jesus and Mary Chain made music that was comparable to a chain-saw-in-a-tornado sound. Using a hell of a lot of feedback, the Jesus and Mary Chain spawned a number of imitators including Ultra Vivid Scene. Of the four LPs that the band has released, "Psychocandy" still remains a stunning testament to a pioneering band. Look for the songs "Just Like Honey" and "The Hardest Walk."

What could the number three album of the eighties be? Well since I'm auhoring this article, I'm gonna tell you. The Cure released "Pornography" in 1982 to wide critical acclaim. Just because the critics liked it however, the LP did not fare badly in sales. The Cure cemented a solid cult following here in the good ole U.S. of A., while taking their rightful position as a supergroup in Europe. "Pornography" is a dark and brooding masterpiece of morbid songs that deal with the squalor and pain of love, life and lust. Frontman Robert Smith undoubtedly caused many of his fans to wonder about the state of his mental health. "Pornography" is one powerful album, and the best that the Cure has recorded to date. I must tell you though, this album carries the Fish MacGill warning sticker: "Do not listen to if severely depressed, as you may be prone to throwing yourself off of tenth floor Curry." The best tracks on this LP are "One Hundred Years" and "The Hanging Garden."

Number two belongs to the veterans of the alternative scene, New Order. After springing back from the death of former lead vocalist Ian Curtis, Joy Division rechristened itself New Order, added on a keyboard player, and history was made. Utilizing the latest in synethesizers and studio effects, New Order began to put out LPs that had the dance club throng moving about. With the release of their 1987 retrospective "Substance — 1987," New Order gave the public a two compact disc set of previous hits like "Shellshock," "Blue Monday" and "Confusion." The band was also kind enough to include such rare tracks as "1963," "The Beach" and "Shame of the Nation." New Order tightened its grip on the music systems of homeowners and dance clubs alike with the release of "Substance." If you want to move your body in tandem with girl or guy of your dreams and still not be called "pervert!" then this album is for you.

At last campers, the number one position, numero uno, eins, eva, un. For you monolingual types, I used Spanish, German, Greek, and French. If I had a drum set I'd request a drum roll, but I don't so I'll just have to make do. The number album of the eighties is awarded to a relatively obscure band, but that shouldn't remain for much longer, called Dramarama. Oh yes, they're even better than the Sex Pistols and the Celibate Rifles. In 1985 the band recorded "Cinema Verite" and a better album there hasn't been since. "Cinema Verite" is a lethal combination of witty lyrics and clever rhyming, with a dash of sarcasm thrown in for taste, and the music is relentless, frentic, and never loses its edge. "Anything Anything (I'll Give You)" is a love song that portrays love as it usually is, a desperate act that two people have to do, like shooting up junk. "I got wasted she got mad/Called me names and she called her dad/I got crazy and he did too/Wondered what I did to you" is a stirring portrait of love and relationships in America. This song has a lot of spite, angst, and aggression recorded into it. It's definitely not for the meek or weak. The band also includes a rendition of the Velvet Underground classic "Femme Fatale," which is one of the better covers of this particular song that I've heard. Other standout tracks are "Scenario," a little ditty about a seventeen-year-old college co-ed who waits for men to buy her booze and "blues." The song "Candidate" is really good. "Cinema Verite" was released on the Chameleon Records label and is very easy to find in any fine record shop. Let me mention that WLCX, radio free Longwood, recently acquired a copy and you should call up the deejay and request to hear it sometime.

Well my beloved campers, I've just been requested to become the new leader of Romania and my flight for Bucharest leaves in a scant two hours. Don't you worry though, I'll fax my review for next week's issue so you won't have to bear a week without the Fish. It's good to be back in print again, and by all means please write me some nasty and disaparaging letters for leaving off the Sex Pistols and Def Leppard.

-Fish MacGill
Rotunda Music Critic

Students enjoy ice cream at the Lankford Beach Party. Activities included miniature golf and a pool party.

AIM HIGH

PAY FOR MEDICAL SCHOOL.

Today's Air Force offers a scholarship program that can help pay the cost of medical school. If selected, you can continue your present studies — and stop worrying about how to pay for them. Participation is based on competitive selection. For information with no obligation, talk to an Air Force representative. Call

USAF HEALTH PROFESSIONS
804-276-0459
Station-To-Station Collect

AIR FORCE

CRUISE LINE OPENINGS HIRING NOW!!
Call (719) 687-6662 (USA)

Lonely?
Need a Date?
Meet that special someone today!
Call DATETIME
(405) 366-6335

WIN A HAWAIIAN VACATION OR BIG SCREEN TV PLUS RAISE UP TO $1,400 IN JUST 10 DAYS!
Objective: Fundraiser
Commitment: Minimal
Money: Raise $1,400
Cost: Zero Investment
Campus organizations, clubs, frats, sororities call OCMC at 1 (800) 932-0528/1(800) 950-8472, ext. 10.

— FREE —
PREGNANCY TEST
All services confidential.
Same day results.
116 N. MAIN STREET
SOUTHSIDE PREGNANCY CENTER
24-HOUR HOTLINE
392-8483

Personals

Yearbooks will be on sale from January 29-Feb.2 during lunch and dinner for $18.

Yearbook office hours for January are from 1-2 p.m., Monday through Thursday.

Lisa — D. W.'s was awesome!! Are your feet better yet? When do leasons begin? Come over for some lone star sometime. Good luck this semester. — Love ya ELF IV

2nd Floor TABB — It's good to be back with all you girls. From what I've heard last semester's grades were pretty good. Keep it up — Nancy

BC — I missed you during Christmas break — thanks for being a great buddy — ABJBK

Congratulations to Tom Nham on winning the drawing held last weekend during the Recreation Free-for-All in Lankford and Iler Gym. Tom is the winner of three large Domino's pizzas. Thanks to all of you who came out and supported weekend programming!

Be a Star at Longwood College! Get your 1990 Orientation Leader application today from the Lankford Information Office or Office of Student Development (106 French). Application deadline: Wednesday, January 24 at 5 p.m.!

Good luck with rush to all fraternities and sororities! Enjoy the week — Charlie

Sarah — Hang in there. Just one more year. We can make it. — Kim

Steff and Tammy — We're gonna make this semester fun. Look how much fun we've already had. Mud in our bathtub. — Kim

Sharon Kay — I'm so glad you're back. We're gonna have fun. Good luck in your classes — Kim

Enjoy your summer with a job in the great outdoors! Bear Creek Lake State Park in Cumberland County is currently recruiting applications for summer employment. Positions available include Maintenance Ranger, Contact Ranger, Park Interpreter, Lifeguards, Snack Bar Manager, and Snack Bar Attendants.

If this sounds like a job you would be interested in, call (804) 492-4410 for more information or an application.

No previous experience is required. A summer of park work will enhance any career in the public service or public relations field.

Beeth – Let us know when you find some browned ground beef.

Rhonda – Keep Mike wearing the same cologne and don't forget that tongue. Love Mish

Dennis – Hey Sweetie! Well we survived 4 months together. I've got a feeling there are going to be many more. I love you! Jan-Marie

3rd Floor Curry – Welcome back! You guys are the best! This is going to be another "interesting" semester! Love ya guys – JMJ

ΑΣΑ wishes the rushees the best of luck going through rush!

Becky – I am really glad that we got there early. Thanks for being understanding Becky; it is great to know people like you! "Your Jarman Buddy"

Poo Bear – I know everything will go fine this week, it may be tiring, but with your special qualities it will be easy. As you go through this week just remember I am always here, and love you forever! I Love you! "Your Boy"

Squibby – I know things are a little different this semester so if you need anything, I am here. Relax this week, take everything in stride. With you both being special people it will go easier! Dave Lucky – You're the best brother-in-law a girl could have. It's just too bad that you married my little sister. I think you have a nice butt. I really wanted you for myself. Too bad you missed your chance and left me for Tom ... Signed Guess Who?

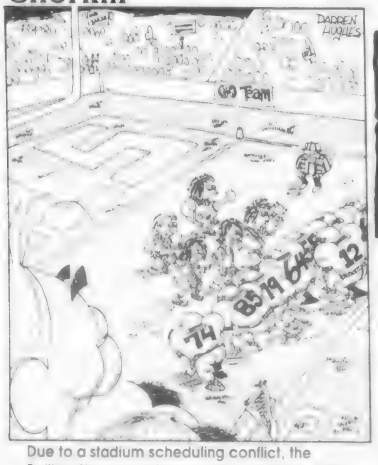
Mitch – Twelve fricken dollars for a pocket? I want sleeves!

Barbra – You are the best post woman in the whole world! Keep up the great work. We love you.

Come and join the Longwood Leadership Express. Membership has its advantages. 1990 student Leadership Conference at VA Beach Feb. 16-18. Registration deadline January 29. Call Alice Mitchell for more information 2685.



Jobs in Alaska
HIRING Men - Women • Summer/ Year Round. CANNERIES, FISHING, LOGGING, TOURISM, CONSTRUCTION up to $600 weekly, plus FREE room and board. CALL NOW! Call refundable 1-206-736-0775, Ext. #1235H

HELP WANTED
ACT IN TV COMMERCIALS
HIGH PAY
No experience...all ages — kids, teens, young adults, families, mature people, animals, etc. Call Now!
CHARM STUDIOS
1-(800) 447-1530
Ext. 514

Sunday Comics

Snorkin

Due to a stadium scheduling conflict, the Rolling Stones wind up playing the Buffalo Bills.

Sports

Longwood Ponders Football

By JEN DOOLEY

To many students, college athletics may not seem like a very important aspect of the overall college experience. To the coaches and athletes, however, it is a primary concern.

The Intercollegiate Athletics Review Committee (IARC) plays a major role in decision — making for Longwood athletics. The committee submitted a report to President Dorrill on January 17, 1990. The primary emphasis of the report was focused on "a proposed move to Division III, emphasis upon conference affiliation, expansion of the array of sports, and a more equitable distribution of limited funds.

According to the report, the evaluation of the athletics situation was concurrent with four primary concerns. The committee would like to promote a more diverse student body, continue to promote a close sense of community on campus, expand envolvment of students as participants as well as spectators, and increase Longwood's visibility within the state and region.

Consideration with respect to division standing came to a decision between remaining in Division II or changing to Division III. Essentially, there is no major fundamental difference between the two divisions except that Division III does not permit athletic scholarships.

The outstanding advantages to switching to Division III lie in the opportunity for teams to compete closer to home than was previously possible. Competition within the state and region would reduce travel costs which, at present, amount to $92,540 (25% of the budget), as well as "develop the kind of intercollegiate rivalries which can have significant influence in building school spirit and community support".

Based on the afore mentioned advantages, as well as the possibility of potential conference affiliation, the committee recommended that Longwood become a member of Division III. The committee recognizes the possibility of short term recruiting problems arising from the loss of scholarships, and suggests emphasising academic and need — based support.

Currently, Longwood supports teams in eleven different sports on the Division II level. For women: basketball, field hockey, golf, gymnastics, lacrosse, riding, softball and tennis. Men may participate in baseball, basketball, golf, soccer, wrestling, and tennis.

The committee suggested a few changes in the variety of sports offered. It was recommended that women's soccer and men's and women's cross country be considered and that the currently offered wrestling and gymnastics be phased out.

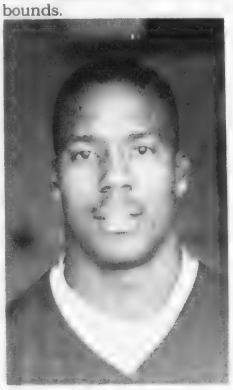
Two explanations were offered for the latter suggestion: " 1) Neither sport has much potential for Division II or III competition within our state and region because of the geographic dispersion of institutions currently sponsoring teams, and 2) In comparison with most other varsity sports, neither has involved a large number of students, either as participants or spectators." Based on a concern for the participants and coaches, it was recommended that no change in team competition be undertaken prior to the end of the 1990-91 academic year.

The committee also recommended the introduction of a football program at Longwood. "It would assist in the college's efforts to recruit more males and minorities. Further, it would support Longwood's goal to communicate better its current mission and status as a comprehensive coeducational institution. It would also provide a recreational opportunity on the weekend which would encourage many students early in the academic year to stay on campus. The committee suggested a one year period of further study before any final decision is made. Installment of the program would not be considered before fall, 1993.

The report proposed a few major budget changes. Men's basketball would drop from $24,000 to $20,000. Men's golf would be reduced from $6,500 to $3,500 and softball would increase from $6,710 to $10,000. New men's and women's cross country would each be allowed $8,500 and new women's soccer would be allowed $33,000. The budgets for all three new sports include operations and new salary for coaches.

The committee included the following members: Buddy Bolding (chair), Bob Chonko, Brenda Cross, Jim Gussett, Shawn Smith, Kathe Taylor and Hunter Watson.

Lancers Hold Off UDC



HOKE CURRIE

Billy Dunn scored the key points down the stretch and freshman Eric Letts led a second half comeback as Longwood beat District of Columbia 60-54 Saturday night in Lancer Hall, putting in an end to a four-game losing streak.

Dunn, a 5-11 junior guard, scored 11 of his 13 points in the final 7:10 and hit a pair of key 3-points shots as the Lancers held off the now 9-11 Firebirds. Letts, a 6-5 forward, scored seven of his 12 points in a 13-2 Longwood run early in the second half. The surge carried the Lancers from a 28-36 deficit to a 41-38 lead. UDC was never able to retake the lead.

With starters Kevin Jefferson and Dale Shavers and reserves Tony Good and Keith Crabtree serving the first of a two-game suspension for violating team rules, Longwood's starting lineup included Letts and fellow-freshman Bryan Weaver, plus regular starters Dunn, Greg Holloway and Doug Poppe. All five starters plus reserves Keith Latimer and Rodney Clayton had contributions to the victory.

In addition to scoring 13 points, Dunn went inside to pull down 10 rebounds with many coming at the defensive end in the final four minutes. Dunn also hit three of five free throws in the final 1:09 to help seal the victory. Letts finished with 12 points, and Holloway and Weaver, who did most of their scoring in the first half, had 11 points and combined for 12 rebounds.

BILLY DUNN

Latimer, just back from an ankle injury, did yeoman work on the boards in the second half. The 6-5 junior finished with six points and seven rebounds. He had four points and six rebounds in the second half, and at times was the dominant rebounder on the court. Senior Doug Poppe, who was battling a fever, chipped in with seven points and four rebounds. Clayton, a freshman guard, played a solid floor game in a reserve role.

The Firebirds led at the half 30-26 after leading by as many as 10 points (24-14 with 7:42 left). UDC used 11 players in the first period, but were unable to wear down the Lancers' seven-man rotation.

Amadou Fall scored 14 points and pulled down 14 boards to lead the Firebirds. An awesome leaper, Fall had two major league slams. While he hit seven of 12 shots, Fall's teammates were less accurate. District of Columbia shot just 31 percent from the floor for the night (23-74) while Longwood canned 23 of 57 attempts (40.4 percent).

Longwood coach Cal Luther was pleased with his team's effort.

"We played hard tonight," said Luther. "We got off to a slow start in the first half, but we made a nice comeback. Several players made solid contributions."

The Lancers' host Elizabeth City State Thursday night in Lancer Hall and visit Pittsburgh-Johnstown Saturday for a 2:00 contest.

Proctor Wins Title

Despite some unsettling news on Friday afternoon, Longwood wrestler Ted Proctor defeated the Southeast Region's number one ranked wrestler in NCAA Division II to take the championship title at 158 lbs. at the Newport News Apprentice Tournament on Saturday.

The Longwood squad finished eighth out of 12 teams participating in the event. Chowan Junior College took the team title with Pembroke State finishing second.

Just prior to the team's departure from Longwood on Friday, the team and head coach Steve Nelson learned that the sport may no longer be in existence at Longwood after the 1990-91 season. The information came from a report issued by the Intercollegiate Athletics Review Committee (IARC) which has been conducting research on the future of the athletics program at Longwood. The committee recommended that wrestling and women's gymnastics be "phased out" of the athletic program by the end of the 1990-91 academic year. No action will be taken on the report until the February 23, meeting of the Longwood Board of Visitors.

"I think the news had a great effect on the team," Nelson said Sunday. "They calmed down some when we got to the tournament and they competed extremely well this weekend. This tournament had some tough competition."

Ranked second in the Southeast Region in NCAA Division II going into the tournament, Proctor chose to concentrate on his wrestling, rather than the IARC report. His 4-2 victory in the championship match over number one-ranked Scott Allen of Pembroke State will move Proctor into first place in the regional rankings.

PROCTOR

Nelson said, "Ted wrestled the best he has wrestled all year. He reinjured his knee this week at practice and wrestled tough competition. This match (with Allen) was a big match for Ted." Proctor has suffered from torn cartilage in his knee since the Davidson Duals held at the beginning of December.

Individual results for the weekend: Kevin Haller, 2-2; Sean House, 0-2; Mike Faul, 1-2; Joe Azero, 0-2; Ted Proctor, 3-0; Reid Ratliff, 2-2; Kevin McSherry, 1-2; Tim Mason, 1-2; Mark Denne, 0-2

ARE THERE ANY STUDENTS AT LONGWOOD WHO CARE?

Suppose You or Your Best Friend Were Lying on the Ground, Cold and in Pain. . .

. . .And No One Came for You?
. . .And No One Cared?

We're Here to Help You. . . So Please Help Us.

It May Save the Life of Someone You Know.

In 1989, we made 125 calls to Longwood College at a cost of over $5,000.00. It didn't cost you, your parents, or Longwood anything. It was free to you and it was paid by local citizens who care!

The Rotunda

Longwood College

Vol. 69, No. 13 | January 29, 1990 | Farmville, VA

Walk Goes Well Inspirationals Attended By Rho Chi's

By MIKE O'CONNOR

It was a very formal rush, one might suppose, 110 girls came out to seek bids in the sororities of Longwood. Accordingly the coordinator of Greek affairs, Charlie Warner, was upset with the low number of hopefuls as well as their GPA's. So he set the quota at nine. Yeah, nine pledges, that's it.

Alpha Gamma Delta, Zeta Tau Alpha, and Kappa Delta made the quota and all bids were handed out between 2:30 and 4:00. The Rho Chis, responsible for doling the bids, had been asked by Panhellenic vote, to attend "Inspirationals."

Inspirationals, according to a Greek girl source, are the last two rush parties before bids are made. Seems there may have been some infraction in rush rules, and the Rho Chis were on the scene to make sure that no "little no-no's were committed.

Thank God, the proceedings on Saturday turned out fairly well. Parents and students were at least able to enjoy the post-walk pizza party.

Sadly, the report on the affairs of sororities in the past week has been marked by inter-council rivalry. The reasons for the Panhellenic Council censure (if not mandate) are unclear and surprisingly, the contributor of the facts made a derogatory suggestion against another sorority, who, out of propriety, I shall not mention. It almost appears as though the social organizations, so many young and virtuous women look to, find themselves involved in adolescent behavior. Such a pity it is. Where are the standards of tomorrow's ladies to come from?

Looking Back

Editor's Note: This letter appeared in last week's Rotunda, but is being reprinted because a large portion of the letter was accidentally deleted by our staff.

Our apologies to Mr. Kava.

BY BRIAN V. KAVA
CLASS OF 1989

Today, as I look back on my life and four years in college ... I can only daydream. I daydream of all the memories. Memories of the past, hopes for the future.

You hear this over and over, but it is so true. You're never gonna have it like you had it in college. I could honestly say if I could change anything in my life, I would not change having gone to Longwood College. I am just as proud, as if I had gone to William and Mary. Believe it or not it is just as respectable. So many of you do not understand ... College is what you make of it. Repeat College is what you make of it. You can be a go-getter and get involved, join an organization: AMA; Student Government; a fraternity/sorority; or even hall council. Or just sit back and let college pass you by and complain about everything and hate being in college. College should be the time of your life. If not, you're missing out on something great. I can tell you this from personal experience, when going on job interviews the question I was most asked was not what my GPA was, or what classes I took, but what extracurricular activities I participated in. In fact, on the thirty-five interviews I participated in, I was never once asked my GPA! Now don't get me wrong, your GPA is very important but the things that

(Continued on Page 2)

Author Of "Hunt For Red October" Coming To H-SC

Tom Clancy, whose first novel, The Hunt For Red October, sold briskly as a result of rave reviews, then catapulted onto the New York Times bestseller list, will lecture on the topic of "How to Write a Bestseller" at Hampden-Sydney College on Tuesday, February 6, at 7:30 p.m., in the Crawley Forum. The lecture is free and open to the public.

His second novel, the phenomenal Red Storm Rising, was published in 1986. It has now sold over one and a half million copies in hard cover alone and was on the New York Times bestseller list for over forty-five weeks.

Clancy's story is a publishing dream come true. Before writing The Hunt For Red October, his only literary effort was an article on the MX missile published in the naval journal Proceedings. Although he'd dreamed of writing a novel since college, Clancy, who majored in English at Baltimore's Loyola College, had always made his living as an insurance agent. Even today he continues writing insurance policies for the one thousand clients of the O.F. Bowen Agency, a three-desk operation run by Clancy and his wife Wanda.

The walls of Clancy's office are lined with war games, books on weapons, and government-produced maps, all testimony to the author's lifelong fascination with technology. Although he devoured military books since childhood, severe myopia prevented Clancy from joining the service, although he did serve briefly in the Army ROTC at Loyola.

Clancy's interest in writing fiction resurfaced in 1976 when he read of the attempt of a Soviet Frigate's crew to defect to Sweden. The idea, he says, rattled around in his head for years. Finally, he imagined the frigate as a submarine and a novel based on the incident began to take shape. The fledgling author completed his first draft in just over six months.

Although Clancy had never been in the military, he boned up on technical knowledge from such books as Combat Fleets of the World and A Guide to the Soviet Navy. His grasp of the material was such that everyone from critics to military and intelligence experts hailed The Hunt For Red October for its uncanny realism.

Other novels by this exacting author are Patriot Games, The Cardinal of the Kremlin, and Clear and Present Danger, his fifth novel, which he claims to have researched in a week. It has been recognized as his best work since The Hunt for Red October.

The movie version of Hunt for Red October, is due to be released in March 1990 under the title Red October, stars Sean Connery as the Soviet Captain.

Special Olympics

On Saturday, January 27, Special Olympics took place at Longwood. Children from Prince Edward, Cumberland, and Buckingham Counties, as well as other area schools, came to participate.

The day began with registration at 8:30 a.m. in the hallway just outside Lancer Gym. At 9:00 there was a parade, followed by the various athletic events. After lunch, awards were presented. A celebration dance in the gym wrapped up the day's events.

Special Olympics is sponsored annually by the Therapeutic Recreation Organization. The group publicized interest meetings, and many students volunteered to be "buddies". The TRO also sponsors the pre-game events and half-court games when Longwood plays basketball at home.

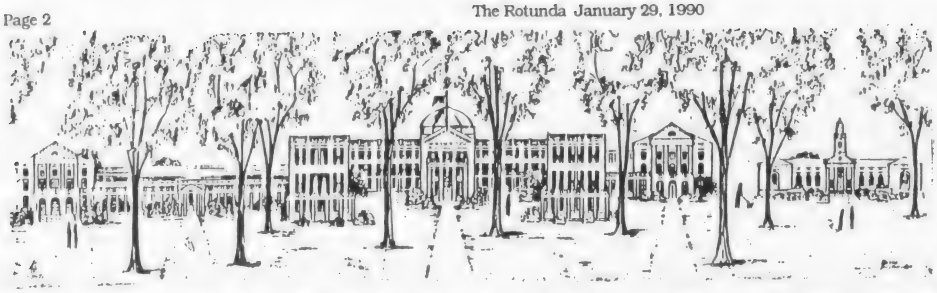
College Crime Reports

By DACIA DORRIES

Congress this month will start seriously considering a bill that would force colleges to tell students, employees, applicants and their parents how many crimes occurred on their campuses.

While many public relations-minded administrators oppose the bill because it could make their schools look bad, a group of college security experts resolved Jan. 12 to oppose it because it would be unenforceable.

"We're not in favor of the law because it's not policeable," said Jan Sherrill of the Center for the Study and Prevention of Campus Violence (CSPCV), which concluded its annual conference Jan. 11.



Major support for the bill comes from students, parents and faculty members who say they need to know about local crimes in order to protect themselves from them.

Currently, only 352 of the 3,200-some two- and four-year colleges in the country bother to report crimes to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, which tracks criminal activities.

The quality of the statistics, moreover, is uneven. While one school may report a crime committed on what is legally a city-owned curb, another school may decide not to report it as a "campus" crime. Consequently the former college, appearing to be a dangerous sinkhole, may have a harder time recruiting students and faculty members than the latter one, which comes off looking like a relatively pacific oasis of learning.

Contents

Commentary.....2
News.....3, 4
Features.....5
Calender.....5
Personals.....6
Sports.....7, 8

Commentary

Image Of Rescue Squad Upheld

To the Editor,

I was recently troubled by a Letter to the Editor in The Rotunda on January 22, 1990, concerning the Prince Edward Volunteer Rescue Squad. It seems that we don't care. We don't seem to understand or conceive that this is a purely volunteer organization, composed of men and women and even our own peers who are as busy or more so than ourselves. They give of themselves unselfishly to help others. We take advantage of the fact that when we have been hurt or are ill that we have a free ride to the hospital.

Members of this great community give donations to support and keep up this wonderful service. As long as we are in college we are members of this community. The rescue squad does not discriminate against us because we are college students. They are here for us when we need them, so let's show our appreciation and support.

Debbie Collins

Looking Back

(Continued from Page 1)

really set you aside from everyone else is what you do outside the classroom.

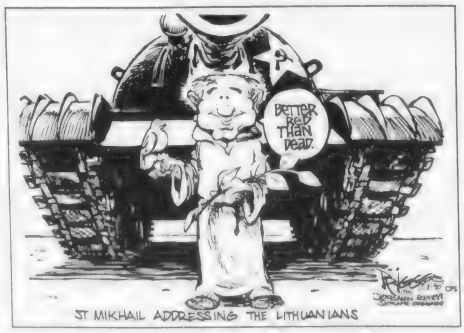
Sometime ago I was asked the question ... "What does being Greek mean to me?" And to this day I can stand behind my answer. Being Greek has helped me in more ways than I could of ever imagined. It helped me grow not only as a person, but as a leader as well. Yes, there are some that only grow in their tolerance and beer bellies, but there are those of us that take pride in being a Greek. We take advantage of the opportunities for leadership development, helping others, and representing Longwood College. That is what being Greek has meant to me. That is what being a student at Longwood has meant to me. But you don't have to be a Greek to achieve these things. You have to have the desire to grow, to develop yourself into the best person you can be. People need to start worrying more about themselves, and not everybody else.

There really appears to be a lot of problems going on now between Greeks, students, and administrators. Some of which appear to be very ridiculous. Greeks, non-Greeks, professors, administrators, and citizens of Farmville, we are all part of Longwood College. We are all part of a community. We should help one another as those in a community, and not always be at war against one another. Yes, some of us can do just fine in our lives and achieve for ourselves without having joined a Greek organization; or the Rugby club; or the Rotunda staff, but you cannot crack on something if you have never tried it. If you have tried it and put your heart into it, and still have not found what you were looking for, then for you it wasn't meant to be. That doesn't mean you devote a hatred towards it, and the people involved in it. Nothing is more irritating than people that cannot live up to their criticisms by standing behind them. If you cannot, then you have no right to criticize.

You really do have to enjoy the fun now, because it will not last forever. Ask some people? Ask some people who have failed out and see how they feel now. I can almost promise you they would give anything to be back at school. As far as the student body and the administration, you have to work together. You cannot get anywhere without the other. Nothing will happen if you cannot compromise to help both parties. You must work together!

I thank Longwood College and the Greek system for the opportunities they have given me, and for the friends I have met.

Gymnastics Seeks Recogniton



Editor, The Rotunda:

I wonder how many non-performers realize the importance of recognition for a job well done and for the efforts put into that job. On Saturday, Jan. 20, the Longwood Gymnastics Team gave an outstanding performance to a large and very appreciative audience, and won a major victory against the Naval Academy. (Contrary to the opinions of a certain infamous committee, the gymnastics team receives extremely large audience support for every competition). Yet did we receive even one word of recognition in the Rotunda? No, not even one. Of course, if our team loses, it is customary to put a big headline in the paper — something like "Gymnasts Fall Again".

Everyone knows the empty feeling of studying like mad for an exam, only to receive an F. Well, that's how our team felt, after fighting so hard to win this meet and receiving no credit for it. It sure doesn't do much for the morale of nine girls and two coaches, who don't think it's too much to ask that for the three home meets at Longwood, we receive a bit of recognition.

Ruth Budd,
Gymnastics Coach

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
R. Bruce Gantt

Photography Editor
Jan-Marie Johnson

Sports Editor

Business Manager
Kim Bell

Advertising Manager
Michelle Lawhorn

Features Editor
Monica Gilbert

News Editor
Beth A. Lord

Faculty Advisor
William C. Woods

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be signed, typed or printed neatly, and state the author's years. The Editor and staff reserve the right to edit any material submitted for publication.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 395-2120.

News

Longwood Gives Strong Showing in Forensics

Courtesy of Public Affairs

Mary-Robyn Adams, a Longwood junior, won a third-place trophy in an American Forensic League district tournament at American University recently.

Ms. Adams, a native of Australia, took third place in Impromptu speaking in the tournament, held Jan. 20-21 in Washington, D. C. She was one of 42 contestants in that category.

Some 14 members of Longwood's forensics team competed in the tournament, which attracted squads from a dozen colleges in Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Delaware, New York and New Jersey.

"There were a lot of top-notch schools represented at this tournament; the fact that she came in third is truly outstanding," said Dr. Nancy Haga, who coaches the team.

Ms. Adams, 21, is the first recipient of the G. G. Wade Scholarship, which is for English majors who plan to teach. She has never received less than an "A" during her college career. At Paul D. Camp and Southside Virginia community colleges, she had a perfect 4.0 grade-point average. She was graduated from SVCC with an Associate in Arts and Sciences degree in 1987.

She entered Longwood last fall and recorded another 4.0 for that semester - despite working full-time. She is working part-time this semester. Before moving to Farmville, she had lived in Chase City.

In Australia, Ms. Adams became at age 14 the youngest person ever selected to the Tasmanian State Debating Team. She was one of only four persons chosen for the team, which competed nationally. She came to the United States in August 1984.

In the recent tournament in Washington, she also competed in poetry reading. She competed with the team in an invitational tournament at New York University last October.

The other Longwood students who competed at American University were Sharon Butler, Jon Church, Rick Codding, Karen Cunningham, Kathy Desmett, Colleen Hobbs, Kalli Lucas, Wendy Ragland, Tim Reger, David Richards, Emily Roderer, and Harry Vogel and Patty Ward.

George Mason University won the tournament, Brooklyn College was second, and Cornell University finished third.

Ms. Adams plans to teach deaf children and also be a free-lance writer. Her younger sister is deaf and attends the Virginia School for the Deaf and the Blind in Staunton.

WIN A HAWAIIAN VACATION OR BIG SCREEN TV PLUS RAISE UP TO $1,400 IN JUST 10 DAYS!

Objective: Fundraiser
Commitment: Minimal
Money: Raise $1,400
Cost: Zero Investment

Campus organizations, clubs, frats, sororities call OCMC at 1 (800) 932-0528/1(800) 950-8472, ext. 10.

Psi Chi Inducts Members

By BETH A LORD

Longwood's chapter of Psi Chi, the national honor society in psychology, is initiating seven new members. The initiation ceremony will be held on Thursday, February 1, at 7 p.m. at the home of Dr. Phyllis Wacker, head of the Department of Psychology and Psi Chi's faculty advisor. In addition to the induction of the new members, the meeting will involve reflection on Psi Chi's past and planning for the future.

The initiates are as follows: Rhonda Wall, Donnie Anderson, Kathleen Tallent, Crystal Mitchell, Beth Lindsay, Eric Lanoue, and Peggy Hayes. These students have maintained a 3.0 GPA in their psychology courses, are in the top 35% of their respective classes, and were deemed outstanding by their professors. According to Psi Chi President Paula Cannon, "They worked so hard for this, and they deserve it!"

Preparing For After Graduation

By BILL FROUD

Another academic year is more than half over. For seniors, it is a time for finishing course requirements and looking ahead towards the future. If you are a senior, have you given any serious thought to your "life after Longwood"? Have you begun to research your job/career options? Do you have a resume ready if the "perfect" job opportunity knocks on your door tomorrow?

For most people, job searching takes on average 3-6 months from beginning the search until accepting the job offer. Therefore, if you wait until May to begin, you may not find the job you want before November. Furthermore, in May the competition for jobs will increase due to other college graduates, like yourself, all suddenly looking for employment at the same time. To avoid this, begin your job search campaign now. There are many things you can do to make your job search more effective and efficient.

Come to the special Senior Job Search Orientation tomorrow evening, Tuesday, January 30 at 6 p.m. in the Career Library, CPPC, 2nd Floor South Ruffner. You will learn about all the important job search information available within the Career Library and also receive the spring schedules for recruiters, workshops, and special career programs. Take advantage of CPPC programs while you are still here. If you cannot attend this program, at least come visit the Career Planning & Placement Center (CPPC) soon. Hope to see you Tuesday night.

Mary-Robyn Adams with her forensics trophy.

Selection For The 1990-1991 ROTUNDA EDITOR HAS BEGUN!

Applications can be picked up in Phyllis Mable's office and are due February 23, 1990.

QUALIFICATIONS:

1. Applicant must be a full-time undergraduate student at Longwood, i.e., be enrolled in the equivalent of no less than 12 semester hours at the time of application and during the term of appointment.

2. Should be a student in good standing, i.e., not be on academic or disciplinary probation.

3. Should have posted no less than a 2.5 grade point average in the semester immediately preceding selection to the position of editor, and shall have no less than a 2.5 cumulative grade point average.

4. Shall not have an elective or appointive position in Student Government during tenure as editor.

News

What Goes On Is The Velvet Underground

By FISH MACGILL
Music Critic

I'm sitting in my room, the lights are low, and I'm sipping my bourbon. The phone rings, if I had a gun I'd shoot the damn thing, but I don't so I won't. It's the editor, of the Rotunda, his name isn't important. As he hurriedly chatters about a large amount of white space, I wonder, why do I drink the booze, it dulls the drugs. Finally, I realize that he wants a record review. But not just any record review that some shmoe in 100 could write, he wants a literary, wordy masterpiece, by the Fish, Fish MacGill that is. Finally after offering me a large amount of unmarked bills, free vodka and a night at Pancho's Pleasure Palace, I acquiesce to his demands. So what you are about to read was put together at the last moment, under the hellacious effects of coffee, cigarettes, and lot of exhaustion. Just once, I'd like to get to bed before one in the morning. Of course, there is some co-ed sitting on my windowsill, and I'm seeing large, hairy bats on the floor. But enough of my problems, on with the review.

This week, we're gonna look at a band that should have had a hell of a lot more popularity than they did, at least more than the Beatles had, the Velvet Underground. Making an unassuming appearance in 1967 with the release of their album The Velvet Underground and Nico, the band was very different from the other acts that were making music in 1967, in that they said everything "was alright." To hell with Vietnam and political extremism, the Velvet Underground dealt with more seedy issues than those, issues like heroin addiction, coming to grip with the desperate feeling hip, shooting methedrine; ballads that deal with confusion, anger, self-doubting, self-loathing, moral damnation, and the sheer pain of falling out of love.

Verve/PolyGram has released a 15 track compendium of the Velvet Underground's greatest hits. Appropriately entitled The Best of the Velvet Underground: Words and Music of Lou Reed, this compendium is a knockout with the original "Sweet Jane" and "Femme Fatale," along with Reed's stark and horrifying "Heroin," a look at the amoral spiral of an addict's descent into a personal hell. Also included are tender ballads like "Pale Blue Eyes" and "I'll Be Your Mirror."

The Velvet Underground are the founding fathers of alternative/progressive/avant-garde music. Their influence can be heard in the musical works of Tom Tom Club, Cowboy Junkies, Gang of Four, Echo and the Bunnymen, R.E.M., the Feelies, Bryan Ferry, Sonic Youth, David Bowie, and the Method Actors. Popster and Roxy Music alum Brian Eno once said that everyone who bought a copy of the Velvet Underground maintained a rich and various sonic style throughout their brief career. With Lou "the scrooge" Reed writing songs about urban decay and drug addiction, based on the works of William S. Burroughs, and musical style that ranged from lush to hard, gritty experiments in noise-rock, along with minimalist rock & roll.

The Velvet Underground consisted of the aforementioned Reed on guitar, John Cale on bass, piano and electric viola, Sterling Morrison on guitar, bass and organ, and Maureen Tucker on drums, with Doug Yule replacing Cale in 1968. Sometime model and vocalist Nico sang vocals and songs like "All Tomorrow's Parties," an anthem for the then downtown scene, and the classic "Femme Fatale." Nico's voice was monotonal and her thick accent lent a distinguishing sound to the band likened to the Euro-gloom of the early eighties. But, despite the tone of the voice, Nico's vocalizations provided an emotional range that had no limits. Listening to Nico sound off on "All Tomorrow's Parties" put a chill in my spine with that voice singing about decadence, coupled with an ordered sense of music and rhythm, makes the song damned frightening and an aural delight.

Hey, this compact disc is one hell of a testament to the genius of a band that should have been more appreciated by the public and the damn critics.

Life With Cable

By JIM WOOD

I'm a country boy. Never had cable, always the same ol' five. Three networks on VFW and two public stations on Ultra-High. Now, Longwood hath given us free cable service. Oh Boy! "The Beverly Hillbillies" on a hundred different channels! Isn't it kind of funny to realize that you never had it so good before a certain change? Let me clarify that last one.

I'd always thought it would be nifty to have the power of Arts and Entertainment or CNN in my hands. Much to my chagrin, I find that when the T.V. is on, it's more than likely tuned to HBO, TNT (I like old "Looney Tunes," especially from the forties), or even worse: yes, eventhough I should stick a shotgun in my mouth after admitting it, I even watch MTV. My God, people are scared of "Ice"? My friends, T.V. is the most horrible drug imaginable!

Guaranteed, educational aspects of television are numerous. There is the news, cultural programs (although usually a collection of windbags taking themselves too seriously) and on cable Nickelodeon offers Mr. Wizard.

Mr. Wizard has many things to offer. Why, just the other day I learned that if PVC vinyl is heated in excess of 300F it emits toxic fumes. Of course, being the kindly teacher he is, Mr. Wizard warned, "Kids, don't try this at home!" Still can't figure out just what he meant by that.

Cable has had such an impact on my life. Just last night I dreamed that I was strapped in a chair watching "Remote Control" and when it was "snack time" someone dropped bowling balls on my head. That same dream kept repeating, which kind of makes sense when you think about it.

In conclusion, I'd just like to say: Arrgh! Aiggh! "Now listen to a story 'bout a man named Jed."

A Special Thank You!

We'd like to thank the following Longwood students, faculty and staff members who give freely of their time to the Prince Edward Volunteer Rescue Squad because THEY CARE!

Students:
J. P. Franke • Alan Morgan
Mark Sarver • Aimee Sarver
Amy O'Donnell

Faculty:
Nancy Haga, Speech & Theatre

Staff:
Pinkey Baldwin, Physical Plant
John Thompson, Campus Police
Russell Dove, Part-time Campus Police
Charlie Woodson, ARA Slater
Marvin Orange, Retired Physical Plant

Thank You for Your Care and Concern.

Congratulations! to the Longwood College Forensic Team!

* * *

Mary-Robyn Adams won 3rd Place in Impromptu Speaking at American University last weekend! The competition was intense, and we are very proud of her and all of the others who participated!

Sharon Butler Harry Vogel
David Richards Rick Codding
Wendy Ragland Emily Roderer
John Church Karen Cunningham
Kathy Desmett Kalli Lucas
Colleen Hobbs Patty Ward
Tim Reger
Mary-Robyn Adams

Features

Rehearsals for "Baby with the Bath Water"

By DAWN JARVIS

Rehearsals for Baby with the Bathwater, by Christopher Durang, are well underway. Auditions were held last week and a variety of new faces were cast in the roles. They include Anne Helm, who is making her first appearance on stage, and Chris Hoover and Wendy Ragland who will appear on Jarman stage for the first time. The other members of the cast include, Amy Roderer, Andrew Wheeler, Gwen Cooley, Sharon Donohue, Marianna Poch, Jonathon Church, Leslie Young, and Michelle Neubecker.

Actor/designer James Matthew Gross is directing the production. Mr. Gross is one of only two students ever to take on the responsibility of directing a full length Longwood production. He is being assisted at rehearsals by Dr. Douglas Young, Professor of Speech and Theatre; and Amy Church, who is Mr. Gross's assistant director.

The production will be presented on Jarman stage on February 21-24 at 8 p.m.

Longwood's Student Operated Escort Service is looking for dedicated volunteers.

If interested, contact Chris Horan at 395-3384.

Sixty Dollars Is A Shame To Waste

By SARAH RAFFETTO

Sixty dollars is a shame to waste. Did you know that part of your tuition goes to the student activities fund? Then the money is divided up between different organizations. Part of the money goes to the Student Union Board. The board is a student run organization that programs events during the school year. The students in the organization are not elected to the positions but are volunteers who spend hours bringing various events to the campus.

Whether you go to the events or not you money is still being spent. So it is like wasting your money. Does that make any sense?

Some of the fun events your money was used for was an indoor mini golf game, summertime anytime beach party, Regency, and a game show called Blizzard of Bucks. Also there are movies every Friday and Monday, movies poster can be picked up over in the Lankford Student Union.

Events for the future are Midwinter ball with the Willies and Lewis McGehee Trio on February 2nd, a lecture by Jeff Cohen about music, media and censorship on February 20th, Kevin Spencer, a magician, on February 28th, and a lot of activities to celebrate Black History month. Brett Leake, a comedian, on March 21, a lecture by Randall Robinson about South Africa on the 27th, Spring Weekend April 5, 6, 7, & 8, which will include Alex Cole, a comedian on the 5th, the movie Creature from the Black Lagoon in 3-D on the 6th, the band B.S.&M., Kyle Davis and possibly one other band, and of course The Rocky Horror Picture Show on the 7th, and two bands on Sunday the 8th, Jim Tam, a musician, on the 25th, and the possibility of a medium size band at sometime during the semester.

It is hard to believe that you would want to miss all of the fun that has been planned for the semester. If you would like to get involved in planning and helping organizing these and future events please come to the general meetings that are held the first Thursday of every month in conference room I at 6:00. Positions will be open for the fall in the lecture, treasurer, and films committee. If you are interested please stop by the Student Union Board office and leave your name and address and we will get back to you, and come to the general meetings. Elections will be held at the end of the semester for these positions.

So come and show your support and attend the events. You will have a blast. Isn't sixty dollars a shame to waste?

CRUISE LINE OPENINGS HIRING NOW!!
Call (719) 687-6662 (USA)

Upcoming Events

Information on this calendar is collected and coordinated through the Student Union Office, 1st Floor Lankford Student Union, Longwood College.

For student organizations or college departments to make entries a campus calendar form must be filled out and returned to the Student Union Office.

Deadline is the Tuesday preceding publication date.

Tuesday - 30	Wednesday - 31	Thursday - 1	Friday - 2	Saturday - 3	Sunday - 4	Monday - 5
Forums on Intercollegiate Athletics Committee Report, 12:45, Red, White, Green Rooms. The Cunninghams Greatest Lecture series, 7 p.m., 4th floor, S. Cunn. Drawing in Virginia, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery. Innertube water polo officials application due & meeting, 6:30, IM room. Workshop: Interviewing Skills, 1 p.m., CPPC, S. Ruffner. Senior Job Search Orientation, 6 p.m., CPPC, S. Ruffner	Innertube water polo officials application due & meeting, 6:30, IM room. X Art, 9-12, & 1-5, Bedford Gallery. Raquetball starts. Men's B-ball: LC vs Shepherd College, 7:30 p.m., Lancer. Drawing in Virginia, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase 	Workship: Job Search Strategies, 1 p.m., CPPC, S. Ruffner. Drawing in Virginia, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase X Art, 9-12 & 1-5, Bedford Gallery. Weekend Schick 3-On-3 Basketball entry blank due & meeting, 6:30 p.m., IM room.	Women's B-ball: LC vs. Wofford College, 7:30 p.m., Lancer. X Art, 9-12 & 1-5, Bedford Gallery. Wrestling: Longwood Duals, Lancer. 	1940s Radio Hour, 8 p.m., Jarman Auditorium. Gymnastics: LC at West Chester, 1 p.m. Schick 3-On-3 Basketball.	 	Choosing a Major Series, 6 p.m., CPPC, S. Ruffner. Alcohol Support Group, 6 - 7 p.m., Counseling Services.

Personals

On Wed., Feb. 28, at 7:30 p.m., former Longwood professor Art Greene will present a Drug and Alcohol awareness presentation in the French Lobby. This program is opened to the campus.

Monica — Congratulations A Wee Wee Woo Wee Cows! UVA midnight runs! — Sarah

So. Ruff — Hope your semester is successful! — Sarah

Unsure of your major? The "Choosing a Major"* Series — a program designed for students who either have not made or are questioning their career choice — begins Monday, February 5 at 6 p.m. in the Career Library, 2nd Floor South Ruffner.

If you are interested in working with the Radio Station — WLCX will be having an interest meeting on Wednesday, January 31, at 6:30 p.m. in Grainger B 19.

Seniors: Start your job search now! Come to CPPC's special Senior Job Search Orientation tomorrow evening, Tuesday, Jan. 30, at 6 p.m. in the Career Library, 2nd Floor S. Ruffner.

Tuesday, February 6 — All Commuter/Off-Campus Students invited to attend free Pizza luncheon. 1 p.m. Commuter Student Lounge/ Lankford Commuter Student Organization Meeting.

Jim — I missed you over break. I hope that we will make history in the future. I'm sure we will have fun on the way. — Love, Complication #1

Wanted — Any information leading to the name, phone number or meeting of the girl in the "gold thing" last Saturday night. You know the girl with all those short skirts. I like her STYLE#!

SM — My sweaty, beer consuming, 1 a.m. post DT's visitor. Sat. night was fun! Some captions — 2 left feet? Losers buy. That makes 4 KTKK — who's the odd ball? Gutterball — part of my strategy. Wrong table, where's Kelly? Bowl for him, not like him. Not carded — Phew! You've corrupted me!! Thanks! your favorite place — it's dark, we can't see anything. Trust me. Bad co-pilot. Feel safer? We're gonna die! Swerve right, then left, is the road straight? yes, oh, 100 points to stay between white and dotted lines — our side. He held my hand on the way back — didn't know that did you? Kissed goodnight? Not me. Who was and won't remember? The real question is: What were you and K#1 really doing in the living room when K #2 and I were asleep in the same room? Don't kill me! — Love, TC

Larry — Let's make the most of this semester. Good luck with indoor soccer. I love you. — ABK

Scott, Andy, and Vern: — Anyone for "Comedy Club"? ... or a 4 hour road trip to see a 2 hour Drama?!!! Please respond — I dare ya! Love, — Sharon and Wendi

Hey Max, — I don't really think they're regular jeans from a regular store — What's your opinion? — Cat

To the "Almost Sisters" of Alpha Gamma Delta. Enjoy this week and learn all you can! We are all very proud of you! Loyally in Eπ — The Sisters of Alpha Gamma Delta

Seandra — You are the best little sister ever! I am so proud of you and can't wait until you will be a sister! Listen carefully! I love you! — Polly

The Cunninghams Greatest Lecture Series will present "With Both Eyes Open" with Brenda Cross, Kathe Taylor and Sarah Young. The presentors will focus on how gender and ethnic issues affect the classroom experience. Tuesday, January 30, 7 p.m., 4th floor, South Cunningham. Please come early for refreshments and socializing!

Buttercup — Happy 20th birthday and fourth anniversary! Thank you for the best years of my life. — The Moose

Congratulations to all sororities and fraternities on a very successful Rush. Love — the ΔZ's

P.S. ΑΔπ! You girls are awesome!!

Kimee C. — Thanks for the marshmallow fight an the walk in the rain. — "Phillip"

PJ's TOTAL Body Shop
Farmville Shopping Center Farmville, Virginia
392-1492

ALL
COLLEGE STUDENTS
10% OFF

BUY ANY 2 PACKAGES .....GET ONE FREE!
BUY ONE PACKAGE.....GET ONE HALF-PRICE!

Body Toning
Shape up the unique way — 10 Sessions..... $40.00

Body Tanning
Have that summer look year round — 10 Sessions $45.00

Hot Tub
Relax & enjoy — 10 Sessions $45.00

QUESTIONS? Call Today For More Information...
PJ's - 392-1492

Sports

Lancers Dominate Wrestling

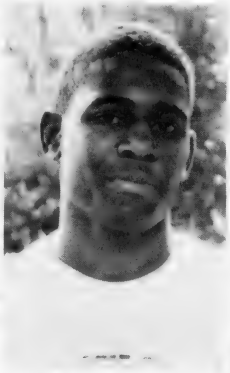
By KATHLEEN LELAND

The Longwood wrestling team shutdown its eight opponents to win the Washington and Lee Invitational Tournament over the weekend. Winning titles in four weight classes and placing in three others, Longwood finished 20 points ahead of second-place Furman University, and NCAA Division I school. The Lancers accumulated 77 1/2 points, followed by Furman's 57 1/2 and Galludet at 53 1/2.

"We got off to a slow start," head coach Steve Nelson said Sunday night. "A bunch of the kids were sick at the beginning of the tournament. But after we got on track we wrestled hard."

Winning in their championship matches for the Lancers were sophomore Kevin Haller at 118, freshman Sean House at 126, junior Ted Proctor at 158 and junior Charlie Parker at 177.

Proctor, who was 2-0 over the weekend, and Parker, who was 3-0, have both been dominating their opponents this season. Proctor's season record jumps to 13-3-0 while his career mark moves to 56-23-1. A national qualifier last year, Proctor currently ranks seventh in career wins at Longwood. A junior college transfer, Parker has only lost one match this season and boasts an 11-1-1 mark.



"Charlie was out sick most of the week," Nelson noted. "But he had a really good tournament. Ted is also wrestling well, despite a knee injury."

Haller's record improved to 13-9-1 with his three-win weekend and his first tournament championship of the year. House wrestled to two wins during the tournament to win the title, his first for Longwood.

"I'm really pleased with the light weights," Nelson commented. "They wrestled the best they've wrestled all year, especially Kevin and Sean. Sean wrestled the best I have seen since he has been at Longwood."

Junior Tim Mason finished second in the 190-lb. weight class and sophomore Mike Faul and freshman Mark Denne both placed third at 134 and heavyweight, respectively.

Individual records for the Lancers at Washington and Lee: 118-Haller, 3-0 (first place); 126-House, 2-0 (first place); 134-Faul, 3-1 (third place); 142-Joe Azero, 1-2; 150-Chris Friedman, 0-2; 158-Ted Proctor, 2-0 (first place); 167-Kevin McSherry, 1-2; 177-Parker, 3-0 (first place); 190-Mason, 2-1 (second place); and Heavyweight-Denne, 2-1 (third place).

SEAN HOUSE

Winter Player of the Week Award Winners

Nov. 5-12, Adrian Joye – Wrestling

Nov. 12-19, Carmille Barnette – Women's Basketball

Nov. 19-26, Kevin Jefferson – Men's Basketball; Carmille Barnette Women's Basketball

Nov. 29-Dec. 3, Charlie Parker – Wrestling

Dec. 3-10, Ann Callaham – Women's Basketball

Jan. 7-14, Beth Risley – Gymnastics

Jan. 14-21, Ted Proctor – Wrestling

Jan. 21-28 – Carmille Barnette – Women's Basketball

Sunny's
CAFE
CASABLANCA
Farmville Shopping Center
OPEN:
MONDAY -SATURDAY
11::30 - 2:00
5:00 - 9:00
Now
Mexican Food
And Beers!

Barnette Shatters Single Game Scoring Record

By KATHLEEN LELAND

It was Carmille Barnette's night at Lancer Hall on Saturday and the junior forward made the most of it. In addition to topping the 1,000 point mark for her career, the Chase City native broke Longwood College's single game scoring record of 38 points.

Actually, "shattered" would be a more appropriate term. Barnette scored a dominating total of 43 points against the old mark of 38 set by Valerie Turner back during the 1983-84 season and tied twice by Barnette earlier this year.

Unfortunately for the Lady Lancers, Barnette's scoring total wasn't enough to overcome the Railsplitters, Longwood fell 96-82 and dropped its record to 6-11 for the season. The Lady Lancers host USC Spartanburg on Monday night at Lancer Hall with game time set for 7:30 p.m.

"It seems to be the same thing in every game," head coach Shirley Duncan said Sunday night. "We played extremely hard but couldn't overtake them. We just can't seem to get the game on the 'W' side (of the win-loss column)."

Junior guard Ann Callaham added 18 points to the Lady Lancer total with the rest of the team remaining in single digits.

"We need more help from the rest of the team in scoring," Duncan said. "We need more of the players in double figures to take some of the burden off Carmille and Ann."

Burden? Maybe someone should have told Barnette she was shouldering a burden. She shot 52 percent (15-29) from the floor, including making three of seven attempts from three-point range, and she hit 10 of 12 from the line. Barnette also let the team in rebounds with 17 off the boards and steals with six.

Freshman forward Shanda Stuart added nine points to the Lady Lancer total, followed by sophomore guard Tena Philbrick and sophomore center Teresa Carter with four apiece. Sophomore guard Cassie Mullenix and sophomore forward Salene Green contributed two points each.

With her 43-point performance, Barnette not only became the tenth member of the Lady Lancers' "1,000 Point Club", she jumped number nine Cindy Eckel (1979-83) with 1,029 career points to take over eighth place with 1,041 points. Longwood's all-time leading scorer is Caren Forbes who scored 1,480 points from 1983-86.

During halftime of the men's basketball game on Wednesday night, Barnette will receive a plaque recognizing her achievement of 1,000 points.

In the process of rewriting most of the Lady Lancers' record book, Barnette has now set single game records for most points (43), most three-point fieldgoals made (6) and most three-point fieldgoals attempted (12). She has tied single game records for most field goals made (16) and most fieldgoals attempted (28). Single season records held by Barnette include best scoring average (19.85) and best fieldgoal percentage (55.7).

CAMILLE BARNETTE

Lancers Notch Wins To 9-11

Senior Kevin Jefferson scored 60 points, grabbed 12 rebounds and broke Jerome Kersey's record for career dunks last week, leading the Longwood men's basketball team to victories over Elizabeth City State 84-80 Thursday and Pittsburgh-Johnstown 84-78 Saturday.

The now 9-11 Lancers will take a two-game win streak into contests at home with Shepherd College Wednesday (7:30) and at Bowie State Friday (8:00).

Jefferson, with a lot of help from his teammates, put together one of his best back-to-back showings ever last week. The 6-5 All-America candidate had 31 points (15-26 field goals) and six rebounds in the win over Elizabeth City. He also scored Longwood's last six points, helping the Lancers pull away from a 78-78 tie with 2:07 left.

In Thursday's game Jefferson collected a pair of dunks, giving him 92 for his career and besting the LC record of 91 which Portland Trailblazer Jerome Kersey set at Longwood from 1980 through 1984.

Longwood junior guard Billy Dunn tied the record for 3-point field goals in a game Thursday, making six of 11 for 18 points. He equaled the mark which Art Monroe set against UNC Charlotte in the 1986-87 season.

Also against Elizabeth City, Greg Holloway had 13 points, five assists and three steals and Dale Shavers scored 12 points. Holloway, who has scored in double digits in his last five starts, pulled off back-to-back steals in the first half, driving the length of the court for layups both times. His play helped the Lancers take a 43-39 lead at the half.

Shelton Leads Lady Lancers

Longwood got solid performances from several gymnasts, but came out on the short end of a 169.75 to 164.15 score in a meet at Maryland Baltimore County Saturday night.

Cindy Shelton scored a 33.7 all-around for fourth place and an 8.75 in floor exercise for second place to lead Longwood in the meet. She was ably supported by juniors Natalie Taylor and Terri Dore and freshman Beth Risley.

Taylor had a 32.05 all around score for 6th place, and was third in both floor (8.60) and vaulting (8.8). Dore was sixth on beam (8.65) and Risley was third on bars (8.4) and fifth all-around (32.85).

Sports

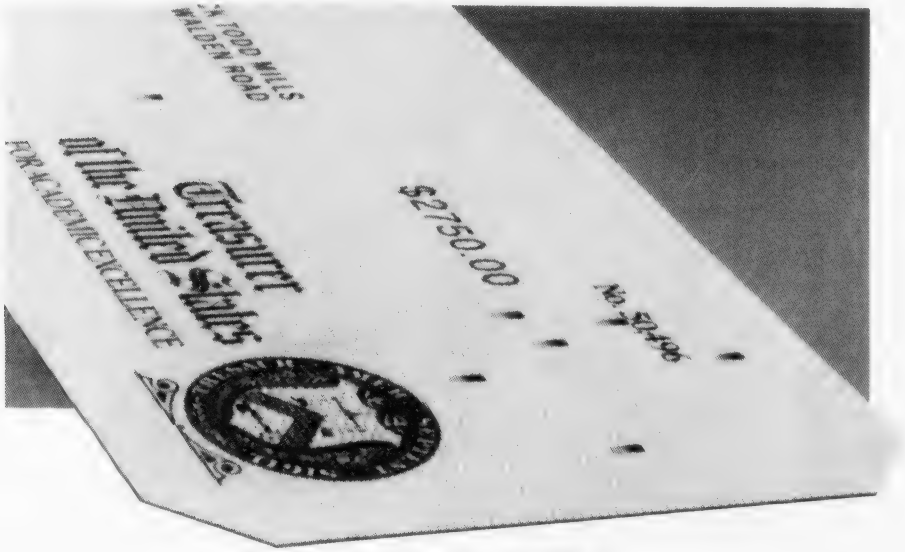
Barnette Player of Week For Third Time

Junior forward Carmille Barnette broke the Longwood record for points in a game and topped the 1,000 point mark for her career Saturday night in a 96-82 loss to Lincoln Memorial. Barnette has been named Longwood College Player of the Week for the period Jan. 21-28. Player of the Week is chosen by the Longwood sports information office.

One of the top scorers in the nation, Barnette poured in 43 points Saturday night and topped the record of 38 points which Valerie Turner scored against Liberty in the 1983-84 season. Barnette had tied the 38-points mark twice this season against Alabama A & M and New York Tech.

Barnette also increased her career point total to 1,041, placing her eighth out of nine on the all-time Lady Lancer scoring list.

Barnette converted 15 of 29 field goals, was 3-7 from 3-point range and hit 10 of 12 free throws. In addition, she pulled down 17 rebounds and collected six steals.



Barnette also had 30 points and nine rebounds in a loss to Navy last Wednesday.

Barnette, a graduate of Bluestone High School, is a candidate for All-America honors this season. The 5-10 forward could end up dominating the Lady Lancer record book before her career is finished next year.

Twice named Longwood College Player of the Week earlier this season. Barnette is averaging 27.3 points and 12.5 rebounds per game.

Lonely?
Need a Date?
Meet that special someone today!
Call DATETIME
(405) 366-6335

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

CASH IN
ON GOOD GRADES.

If you're a freshman or sophomore with good grades, apply now for a three-year or two-year scholarship. From Army ROTC.

Army ROTC scholarships pay tuition, most books and fees, plus $100 per school month. They also pay off with leadership experience and officer credentials impressive to future employers.

LEADERSHIP
EXCELLENCE

ARMY ROTC

THE SMARTEST COLLEGE
COURSE YOU CAN TAKE.

For more Information, Contact
CPT Carson at 2138 or 2134

The Rotunda

Longwood College

Vol. 69, No. 14 | February 5, 1990 | Farmville, VA

Forensics Meet To Fall On Longwood

Over 500 high school students from all over the state will be at Longwood College on Saturday, February 10 as it hosts its 24th annual forensic and debate meet. The competition, because of its growing size, will now take place not only on the Longwood Campus, but at nearby Prince Edward Academy.

At Longwood, the forensics meet has drawn over 30 schools who will compete in the events of prose and poetry reading, after dinner speaking, extemporaneous speaking, impromtu, oratory and single and duo interpretation. In the bulk of the meet, over 430 students will be competing in forensics at Longwood.

At Prince Edward Academy, the debates will be held. More than a dozen schools with 150 students have sent teams who will debate in the Four-man and Switchman as well as the Lincoln-Douglas style of debating. Issues of prison overcrowding and the censure of pornography will be debated.

The schools competing are from all across Virginia from Roanoke to Richmond to Hampton. The registered schools are Kenston Forest, Monacan, Mills Godwin, Albemarle, Central of Lunenburg, Magna Vista, Heritage, Phoebus, James Wood, Lebanon, Blacksburg, Clover Hill, Christiansburg, Amelia Co., Colonial Hts., William Monroe, Hermitage, First Colonial, James Monroe, Rustburg, Brookville, New Kent, Lee-Davis, Prince Edward Co., Varina, Bethel, Madison Co. Douglas Freeman and Prince Edward Academy.

"Best and Brightest" Tom Pettus

Courtesy of Public Affairs

Thomas Pettus, a senior chemistry and mathematics major at Longwood College, is one of 121 college students recognized by USA Today as America's "Best and Brightest."

The newspaper, in its January 19 issue, named its All-USA College Academic First, Second, and Third Teams and Honorable Mention. Pettus, along with Peter Soderquist from the University of Virginia, is in the Honorable Mention category.

There are no students from Virginia schools on the All-USA Academic first team (20 students). John Joseph, from the University of Richmond, is on the second team, and Cheryl Davis, from Mary Washington College, is on the third team.

A panel of eight judges representing educational organizations selected the winners from 749 students nominated by their schools. The judges "looked for a blend of scholarship, initiative, creativity, leadership, and commitment to serving others."

USA Today, a national newspaper published in Arlington, has recognized academic all-stars on the high school level for three years. This is the first time the paper has published All-USA academic recognition for college and university students.

The All-USA College Academic recognition is co-sponsored by the Council for Advancement and Support of Education, National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges, National Association of Independent Colleges and Universities, and the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

(Continued on page 4)

New Security System For Residence Halls

By SHERRY GATEWOOD

This summer, the Housing Office will be installing a new security network in each of our dormitories on Longwood's campus. This high-tech system will increase the personal safety of our students as well as help to prevent outside crime.

The new access system will cost $24,000. It will be financed by the Housing Office and consequently not affect tuition.

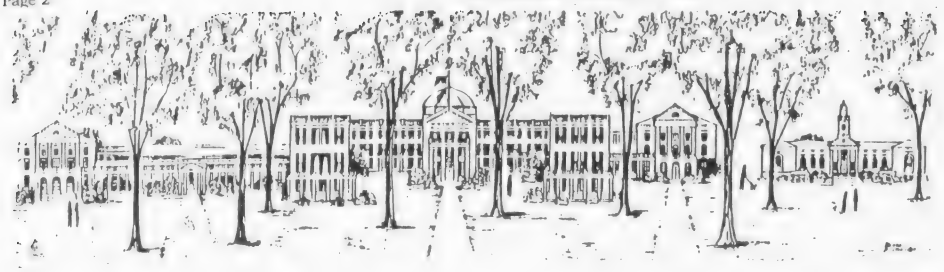
A "review committee" was established including David Rettig, Director of Housing, two REC's, and three enrolled students. This group reviewed ten separate systems and unanimously chose the "Gibraltar 2000", distributed by Alpha International Incorporated. One outstanding feature of the system is the use of keys because they are much more durable than the popular credit-card accesses.

Longwood College is not the first to install this system. It is currently in use at the University of Alaska, the Pentagon, and several other buildings. Each student residing on campus will receive a key, complete with a magnetic strip, which will allow them entry their dormitory. A computerized box placed directly above the door handle will "read" the strip and open the door. These magnetized locks will not be placed on the outside doors, but rather will extend from the lobby. Visitors must enter the lobby area where the desk aide will call upstairs and verify that they are to be admitted. The desk is equipped with an override button so that, after clearance, the visitor may gain entry.

Currently, Mr. Rettig has formed an interest committee with nine other students. They are debating such questions as whether the system will be in use twenty-four hours or just when the desk is closed. He welcomes comments and encourages any student or faculty member who would like more information to contact him in the Housing Office.

Students, Staff Show Opposition to Division III

By DAVID PARISH



While no definite answers were found in the conflicting logic exposed throughout the packed Red, White, and Green Room, it was unquestionably clear of the emotion which demonstrated the event. An open forum to discuss proposals made last week by the Longwood Athletic Review Committee concerning the future of Longwood Athletics was marked by determined pleas against the tampering of Lancer teams. At the center of the controversy is the spectre of football coming to Longwood. While the gridiron sport has an enormous popularity that could carry with it potential spectator (financial) success, it is specifically hoped football would increase male enrollment at Longwood. Unfortunately, football does not take kindly of sharing in the rewards of the Athletic Department, cofers and thus, would affect established sports.

This could result in either the elimination of an activity or less radical yet dramatic charges. This would generally mean a relocation from Division II competition to Division III. Apparantly to most coaches and athletes a move akin to deserting the suburbs for the slums. Less a condemnation of Division III, than Longwood's comfort and dependence in Division II status, it was repeatedly voiced where coaches and athletes stood. Competition and rotarity were often mentioned, but the heart of the issue was athletic scholarship; Division II has then, Division III doesn't. Additionally some of the logic of the proposals was questioned. Wrestling coach Steve Nelson took issue with the supposed increased male enrollment football would bring as males have come in consistant numbers to wrestle for Nelson teams. Teams which, he stated gained their success through strong in-state recruitment. Perhaps the strongest plea came gymnastic from coach Ruth Budd. Budd, who has had a long and storied career in bringing Longwood gymnastics to prominance, revealed she was not ever asked for input to the proposals. Both Budd and basketball coach Cal Luther lamented about the effect the changes would have in their scheduling. On the question of Longwood membership in an athletic conference, some coaches felt greater effort must be made. Lady basketball coach stated Longwood should be patient with its changes until NCAA proposals concerning conferences. Many facts were brought out in the forum, conducted by Dr. John Peale. Yet the lasting argument was those of athletes whose education is being made possible by money, that comes as a result of Longwood's being in Division II.

(Continued on page 4)

Contents

Commentary....2
News....3, 4
Features....5
Personals....6
Sports....7
Calender....8
Classifieds....8

Commentary

Letters to the Editor

No Brain, No Pain

Dear Editor,

College is supposed to be a place where people learn to live, grow, think, and exchange ideas. That's why it doesn't seem to make sense that each room on campus now has cable television. It makes less sense that each student is paying for it even if they don't want it or watch it.

Recent studies show that watching television reduces attention span and produces alpha waves. Alpha waves are the brain wave patterns that occur when one is sleeping. Watching television eliminates from people's lives activities and behaviors that are beneficial and necessary to growing and developing (something that we've supposed to be doing at college). Watching television decreases one's ability to concentrate and reduces motivation (why do your homework when you can watch the new Motley Crue video on MTV?)

Now I'm sure that there are students who have been destined to become couch potatoes, cable or no cable. But I don't feel that it is fair that the rest of us have to support/condone this behavior by having to pay for something we don't use. It seems that putting cable in each room would be beneficial to the cable company and whoever else is making a buck on it. I don't want to make accusations, but has the priority of Longwood College been changed from educating its students, to fattening its income? Am I the only one who feels this way? If so or if not, I'd like to hear other's opinions next week.

Name withheld upon Request

The Rush Crush

Dear Editor,

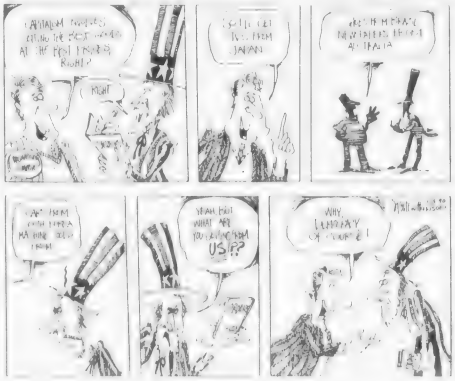
I recently went through sorority rush for my first time, and I was extremely disappointed. After having seen all those girls with their Greek letters and pledge paddles, running around happily with their new sisters, I began to really want to join a sorority. I felt like I was missing out on something great.

I'm not a bad looking girl, I've never had a problem getting a date. All of my friends who are in fraternities and sororities said I would have no problem getting into any sorority I chose. I had my mind set on three sororities that I really liked. I entered the chapter room, all smiles, dressed in my best clothes and talked to the girls about whatever came up in conversation. They would invite me back to the next party, hug me as I entered the room, telling me how glad they were that I had come back. The third parties, (I went to my favorite three) were called "themes." These were where it all got very emotional. The girls would crowd around me, tell me how "special" I was and how much they wanted to be my sister. We would stand around and sing and cry as they asked me not to forget their sorority. They made it sound like it was all my decision.

I was so happy— I felt so loved. It was the first time I actually felt what this mysterious sisterhood was all about. I rushed to my dorm to pick out my dress to wear to inspirationals, the final parties. I couldn't sleep, I was so excited. But, at 1:30 a.m., my Rho Chi came knocking on my door to tell me I had received no invitations back to inspirationals. I was crushed.

No one understood why I was so upset. I just couldn't believe it. Everyone said, "Don't worry about it, you don't need to 'buy your friends' anyway." I wanted to be a part of a sorority so bad! I would have done anything for my sisters and I just didn't know why they didn't choose me— not even one out of three of the ones I went to. I understand that it is very hard for them to choose also but they should at least not make us feel so loved and wanted and then turn around and say, "Ah hah, we're not inviting you back now." (That's the way it seemed, anyway.) It's just not fair at all! I don't hate Greeks now or anything like that— I envy them, because I want to be given that chance to be one. The only thing I hate is being told by a bunch of strangers that they hope I make the "right decision" and "walk" to them. They all say "follow your heart— it's your decision," but when it comes down to it, it's all their decision and all you can do is hope they like you enough, hope you say the right words and maybe they'll invite you into their sisterhood.

Name Withheld,
Upon Request



By R. BRUCE GANTT
Editor-in-Chief

Football ... Longwood?

It seems that the administration of the college has decided that it might be a good idea to have a football team. Some of the reasons for this are the increase in prestige for the college, possible revenues from ticket sales, and greater enrollment of male students. However, Longwood already has an excellent soccer team and baseball team. Why should a football team attract more male students than our existing teams? As for the matter of college prestige, our soccer team already takes on top-ranked schools such as the University of Virginia. The fact that our team can compete with schools of much larger size should be prestige enough.

At a time when the athletic budget is being reduced, it seems ridiculous to propose a football team. A football program would cost thousands of dollars to start up, not to mention the cost of building a stadium. There is no guarantee that we will ever have a successful team that will attract quality players or students. Any qualified or talented player is not going to join a newly formed football team without a record.

It seems more logical to simply put our support behind the successful teams we have already. We have quality athletic programs and we should continue to improve and develop them. It is only fair to give them the support that they deserve.

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
R. Bruce Gantt

Photography Editor
Jan-Marie Johnson

Sports Editor

Business Manager
Kim Bell

Advertising Manager
Michelle Lawhorn

Features Editor
Monica Gilbert

News Editor
Beth A. Lord

Layout Editor
Sarah Whiteside

Faculty Advisor
William C. Woods

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be signed, typed or printed neatly, and state the author's years. The Editor and staff reserve the right to edit any material submitted for publication.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 395-2120.

News

Board Of Visitors Discuss Changes

By BETH A. LORD

The Longwood College Board of Visitors met on Friday, January 19, and Saturday, January 20, at the Omni Hotel in Richmond. Among the matters discussed were three of particular importance to Longwood students.

Each member of the Intercollegiate Athletics Review Committee presented various aspects of the Intercollegiate Athletics Report. It was decided that two open forums would be held to allow individual students and groups opportunities to voice their concerns. The first was held on January 30 from 12:45-2:15 p.m. in the Red, White, and Green Rooms of Lankford. The second is scheduled for February 15, and will be attended by the ad hoc committee of the Board. The Board will meet on February 23 to hear President Dorrill's final recommendation on the intercollegiate athletics program.

Plans were made to put into effect Governor Wilder's "two-percent budget cut to all State agencies and institutions of higher education," according to the minutes of the Board meeting. The total loss to Longwood will be a $227,900 cut to the General Fund.

The Board also gave the okay for the college to proceed with the acquisition of property at 600 Griffin Boulevard, this property is located in the area of the planned residence hall.

WIN A HAWAIIAN VACATION OR BIG SCREEN TV PLUS RAISE UP TO $1,400 IN JUST 10 DAYS!

Objective: Fundraiser
Commitment: Minimal
Money: Raise $1,400
Cost: Zero Investment

Campus organizations, clubs, frats, sororities call OCMC at 1 (800) 932-0528/1(800) 950-8472, ext. 10.

Roe vs. Wade Attorney Speaks Views

By DENISE DAUBENSPECK

"The Constitutional Implications of Roe V Wade" was presented by defense attorney Sarah Weddington at Hampden-Sydney on Wednesday, January 31. She began with her personal background and explained how she came to handle this particular case. She proceeded to explain the Supreme Court procedures and concluded with a question/answer period.

The Roe V Wade case was Weddington's first and only Supreme Court case. She obtained the defense attorney's position by volunteering her time and effort. It began as a principal case, but lacked a plantiff, until Jane Roe contacted a lawyer. The case progressed and became known nationwide. Weddington commented "When I began this case I never thought I would still be talking about it twenty years later." This case is not only discussed, but continues to be a controversial topic.

Weddington discussed the biological and moral viewpoints that she encountered. She also commented on numerous cases that used Roe V Wade as backing. One particular case argued that if life began at conception, a person picked up for driving under the influence had the right to add the nine months of biological development to his current age.

After concluding her presentation, Weddington opened the floor to questions. The audience responded by asking her personal opinion on abortion and questions pertaining to the legal aspects of the case. In addition to answering questions Weddington made herself available for interviews and autographs.

Quality Of Life Study Starts

By KEN ROCKENSIES

This week, students living on campus will be receiving from their R. A. a survey comprised of two separate instruments: The University Residence Environment Scale (URES) and the Longwood College Quality of Life Study. This questionnaire is designed to gather perceptions about the quality of residence hall life at Longwood, and is part of an ongoing effort since 1984 to learn more about the strengths and weaknesses of the living/learning environment on our campus. This will be an excellent opportunity for students to participate in the process of improving residence hall life through the expression of honest opinions about a variety of areas. The results will be used to identify trends, pinpoint areas of concern, and formulate future residence life goals. Please set aside some time this week for this very worthy task. All answer sheets and questionnaires will be due to your R. A. on Friday, February 9th.

Students Spring into Dancing

Courtesy of Longwood Dance Company

For over 17 years the Longwood College Company of Dancers have been the only artistic performing dance group at the college. The dance company is sponsored by the Department of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation.

The Longwood College Company of Dancers present two concerts each school year. The Fall concert is usually an informal studio concert, as it was this year, and a longer formal concert in the Spring in Jarman Auditorium. This semester the concert will be held on March 29 and 30 at 7:30 p.m. and it is free to all students, faculty, staff and the community. This Spring the members of the dance company are: Wendy Behling, Lisa Crescentini, Betsy Gee, Jill Hartt, Karla Marotta, Karensa Mohney, Anna Wade, and Donna Wolfe and are under the direction of Dr. Nelson Neal. These dance company members plus advanced modern dance students, Kerr Holloway, Fran Seibert, Amy Smith, and Niki Smith, who are trying out for the company, work one and a half hours, three days per week in technique class where they polish their craft. They also spend from one to five hours outside of class preparing their choreography and learning the dances that will be performed in concert. The dancers train in modern dance but perform a variety of styles including modern, ballet, character, folk and jazz dance.

The goals of the dance company are to promote the art of dance within the college and Farmville, to increase viewer interest in dance, and present quality college level dance performances. The dance company members also assist Dr. Neal in teaching dance to children in public schools including two full days of teaching at Dillwyn Elementary School and Buckingham Junior High School, last fall.

Auditions for the Dance Company are held at the beginning of each semester and all interested students are encouraged to call Dr. Neal at 395-2547 or contact one of the members for information.

Fall 1989 Dance Compay Dancers from let to right: Jill Hartt, Diane McCormick, Betsy Geea, Lisa Crescenti, Kerensa Mohney, Susan Hanks, Wendy Behling, and Karla Marotta.

Cadets Catch Orders For New Jobs

By CPT. CARSON

Three Longwood College ROTC cadets have received word on their assignments after graduation.

Kevin West was selected for the Military Police. He will be sent to Ft. McCellan, Alabama to receive specialized training.

Charleen Walters was chosen to be part of the Adjutant Generals Corps, the branch that is responsible for management of Army personnel and administrative matters. She will go to Ft. Harrison, Indiana.

Gregory Bowman, an ROTC scholarship student, received an educational delay from military service and will be attending law school in the fall.

News

Division III

(Continued from page 1)

Fiscal rearrangements and even progress are questionable when they are in conflict with someone who simply wishes to perform a talent they worked a lifetime to attain. They become points when someone stands up to say without those scholarship they would not have an opportunity at a college education. As one anxious athlete stated "we don't want to go" (to Div. III).

Let Longwood build some parking spaces on campus, work to improve the administration relations with students that are too often skewed by its beaurocratic muddle and let progress near finishing its current renovations so we can once again learn in the classroom without the interruptions of jackhammers and drills. Leave these coaches and athletes alone. It is hard enough to toil away in the all too often animasity in which many currently perform. Progress is not made by forcing them to a lesser spotlight.

Iota Phi Lambda

By RAECITA GALLOP

January 23, 1990 was the third meeting of the Iota Phi Lambda Sorority Inc. Interest Group. Membership applications were distributed for a pledge line to be submitted to the National Dean of Pledges upon the approval of Pan Hellenic Council. The next few meetings will be dedicated to selecting the Iota Male friends who will assist us in community projects.

SGA Seeks Student Input on Athletics

By SHANNON NUNNALLY

On Thursday February 8 at 12:45 in the red, white, and green rooms, the student government association will hold an open forum for all students to discuss the future of Longwood athletics. The purpose of this forum is to help the S.G.A. better understand students views on this subject. It is important that students attend this forum because the S.G.A. is the voice of the student body to the Board of Visitors.

Among the topics to be discussed will be the proposed move to Division Three, the proposed elimination of men's wrestling and women gymnastics, and the proposed introduction of football.

Remember this is your S.G.A. If you want your opinions voiced please attend the open forum. Also a reminder that the S.G.A. Senate meetings are Thursdays at 8 in Conference Room I and are open to the entire student body.

"Best and Brightest"

(Continued from Page 1)

The All-USA College Academic recognition is co-sponsored by the Council for Advancement and Support of Education, National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges, National Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

Pettus was one of 136 students nationwide, and one of two Virginia students, to receive the first Barry M. Goldwater Scholarships, Awarded for the 1989-90 year, the Goldwater Scholarships cover the cost of tuition, fees, books, and room and board, up to a maximum of $7,000 for each recipient.

Pettus has done summer research at the University of Rochester (NY) and at Virginia Tech. He works with Dr. Maurice Maxwell, associate professor of chemistry at Longwood, in editing "structural abstracts" from monthly research journals to be shared with chemists around the world. He also has been a chemistry tutor and laboratory assistant at Longwood.

He is the son of Reginald and Anne Pettus, of Keysville.

250-1000 SUMMER CAMP POSITIONS AVAILABLE.

Staff Referral Services provides a network of camps, now hiring, from the "Keys" to Wisc.-Minn. One application reaches all camps via a master computer. Applications at the school employment office.

CRUISE LINE OPENINGS HIRING NOW!! Call (719) 687-6662 (USA)

Selection For The 1990-1991 ROTUNDA EDITOR HAS BEGUN!

Applications can be picked up in Phyllis Mable's office and are due February 23, 1990.

QUALIFICATIONS:

1. Applicant must be a full-time undergraduate student at Longwood, i.e., be enrolled in the equivalent of no less than 12 semester hours at the time of application and during the term of appointment.

2. Should be a student in good standing, i.e., not be on academic or disciplinary probation.

3. Should have posted no less than a 2.5 grade point average in the semester immediately preceding selection to the position of editor, and shall have no less than a 2.5 cumulative grade point average.

4. Shall not have an elective or appointive position in Student Government during tenure as editor.

Longwood Speaks Out

Photo Credit: R. Bruce Gantt.

(1) What do you think about the proposal to move the athletic teams to Division III?

(2) How do you feel about the proposal to have a football team at Longwood?

SAMANTHA KYLE

(1) "It's not a good idea."

(2) "I think it's great, I think it would improve the school a lot. It would make the school more well known and greatly improve school spirit."

RON COLBERT

(1) "It stinks, I think that from the programs we have now, we should build the ones we have."

(2) "Football would be great to have, but let's work with what we have now."

SARAH RAFFETTO

(1) "We need the additional sports, if we don't move to Division III we won't get the additional teams."

(2) "We haven't had it for one hundred-fifty years, we don't need it."

CRYSTAL OWENS

(1) I don't think we should move to Division III. I feel there is more competition in the division we're in."

(2) I think we should have a football team. It would bring in more people who want to come to Longwood and more money."

ROSS HORNER

(1) It would probably be smart because we would win more games, but would also be degrading because in some people's eyes a Division III school would be an easier school to get into.

(2) "I like the idea, I don't like the idea of getting rid of other sports such as wrestling."

Features

Ma Rainey and Levee, a member of her band, argue about his "hot jazz" arrangement of her song. The scene is from Ma Rainey's Balck Bottom, coming to Jarman Auditorium on Monday, Feb. 12. Courtesy of Public Affairs

Ma Rainey's Black Bottom

Courtesy of Public Affairs

Ma Rainey's Black Bottom, a critically acclaimed play that explores the experience of black musicians in the 1920s and '30s, will be presented on Monday evening, February 12, at 8 o'clock in Longwood College's Jarman Auditorium.

The play is set in a Chicago recording studio in 1927. The great blues singer, Gertrude "Ma" Rainey, and her band are there to record "Black Bottom."

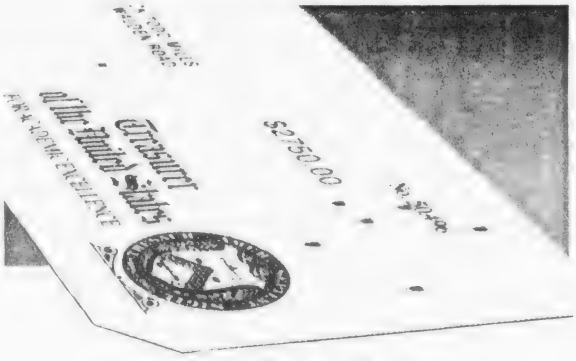
On first impression, Ma Rainey is a brassy and demanding "star in the grand manner." But beneath her bluster is the knowledge that she is being exploited by her white agent and the white owner of the record company.

In the shabby rehearsal room adjoining the studio, the four members of Ma's band talk about their past and the ongoing struggle for survival and dignity. For the most volatile member of the group, that past included atrocities that have festered in his mind and spill out in bitter speech— "Where the hell was God when all this was going on?"

Woven through the emotional intensity of the play is the music of the blues and what that music means to the performers. As Ma Rainey says: "The blues help you get out of bed in the morning. You get up knowing you ain't alone. There's something else in the world. Something's been added by that song. This be an empty world without the blues. I take that emptiness and try to fill it up with something."

Ma Rainey's Black Bottom, described as "brutal" and "explosive," was the first in a series of plays written by August Wilson. It won the New York Drama Critics' Circle award for best play in 1985. Frank Rich, writing for The New York Times, said that Wilson "has lighted a dramatic fuse that snakes and hisses through several anguished eras of American life."

Wilson's second play, Fences, won a Pulitzer Prize in 1987, and his third, Joe Turner's Come and Gone, was nominated for several Tony awards.



Gertrude "Ma" Rainey was born in Columbus, Georgia, in 1886. She traveled and performed for 35 years throughout the South and Midwest and in Mexico. She recorded more than 90 songs on the Paramount label, at least 47 of which she composed.

She died in 1939 and is buried in Porterdale Cemetery in Columbus. A marker at her grave honors her as "Mother of the Blues."

The presentation of Ma Rainey's Black Bottom at Longwood is by Amaryllis Productions, a national touring company based in Astoria, NY.

General admission is $5; Longwood students free with ID; other students $3. This play is not recommended for children.

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

CASH IN
ON GOOD GRADES.

If you're a freshman or sophomore with good grades, apply now for a three year or two year scholarship. From Army ROTC.

Army ROTC scholarships pay tuition, most books and fees, plus $100 per school month. They also pay off with leadership experience and officer credentials impressive to future employers.

ARMY ROTC
THE SMARTEST COLLEGE
COURSE YOU CAN TAKE.

For more Information, Contact
CPT Carson at 2138 or 2134

READER SURVEY

Please rate the following characteristics of the Rotunda on a scale form 1 to 5. I being the best, 5 being the worst.

1) How do you feel about the new Rotunda graphics? (News, features graphics) ____
2) How would you rate the quality of the News articles? ____
3) How would you rate the quality of Features articles? ____
4) How would you rate Rotunda Music Reviews. ____
5) How would you rate the quality of photography? ____
6) How would you rate the "Longwood Speaks Out" column? ____
7) How would you rate overall appearance of The Rotunda. ____
8) What about The Rotunda do you like the most? ____
9) What part of The Rotunda do you dislike the most? ____
10) What would you like to see changed in The Rotunda?

Please cut out and mail to Box 1133. Thanks!

Personals

Sigma Sigma Sigma would like to congratulate their new Pledges. Jeannie Turner, Melissa Moinville, Cindy Didlake, Cindy Martin, Kris Martin, Julianna Hardy, Kim Dickerson, Gina Dutton. We wish them good luck through Pledging. Sigma Sigma Sigma loves their new Babies.

KΔ would like to congratulate all sororities and fraternities on their new pledges from a great Spring rush!

We would like to welcome all the new Kappa Delta pledges to our sorority. Beth Bryant, Katharine Caricoffe, Karin Dickinson, Kathy DiMarino, Kristen Lee, Kim Mraz, Dori Villalpando, Kelli Wheeler. You girls are awesome!

Happy Birthday to all the January KΔs: Shannon C., Donna, Denise, Jennifer V.

Congratulations to our 5 fantastic pledges: Evelyn, Becky, Alisa, Kathy, and Tracy! Good Luck! We love you! — The Sisters of AΣT

The Sisters of Alpha Sigma Tau would like to congratulate Rhonda G. Wall for the highest semester and accum. GPA. Also, congratulations to Tami, Kris, Lori R., Robin, Gena, Sharon, Vicki, and Megan for making Dean's List. Good Job you guys! Keep it up!

New AΔπ Pledges, — Congratulations, Amy, Angela, Angie, Caren, Jaimee, Julie, Karen, Susan and Stacey! We love our Baby Pi's! — π Love, The Sisters of Alpha Delta Pi

Tiger, — I'm through playing games. I'm ready to collect my prize! — Angel

Geist '89 wishes to congratulate Beth Dillion for her selection to Geist '90. We know you'll do a great job!!

Happy Birthday Danielle Felch — February 5!!!!

Congratulations Karyn! You'll make a great Ambassador! Good Luck! — Lar

Larry — happy anniversary honey lamb — I love you and remember — 1, 2, 3 die. — J.B.

Alpha Gamma Delta wishes to congratulate their nine awesome pledges! Good Luck girls! We love you!! — Love your AGD Sisters'

To Jennifer Pryce — I am so glad you went AGD! You are a great girl and I love you! Your pledge period is a lot of fun, so listen carefully and you'll learn a lot! — Love, your MOM!!

Barby, Jen, Shara, Jen — Even though we're at opposite ends of the hallway — don't forget about your mom!! I hope that even though we don't spend as much time together, we don't forget our friendship and the good times we've had. I still want to make your kool-aide! Love, Leona

Hey Krishy baby — I'm glad we are finally roomies. You'll never know how much I am grateful to be living with you — I especially enjoy your little shows in the morning. I'm sure the people outside do too. I won't forget all our special times together - or, especially, the SB visits!! — Love, Eddy

E — Watch out for John Holms, JR! — R

Steve M. — It meant something to me, even if it didn't to you.

Rick — I want you! — R

Have you changed your off campus address? Please report changes to the Housing Office in Tabb. The Housing Office will notify all other campus offices.

Wanted a federal work study for Alice Mitchell, Student Development, Lankford. If interested please call 395-2685 or drop by office 225 Lankford. Applicants need to be motivated, independent and willing to learn new skills. Strong verbal and written skills desirable.

To the Sisters of Sigma Kappa — You did a great job with RUSH! I'm so proud of you all. You guys just keep getting better and better! I'm honored to be your advisor. Sigma Love and Lots of Mine, - Sherri.

Congratulations to the new pledges of Sigma Kappa: — Kim Foster, Anne Merkle, Cherie Rabern, Julie Rightmeyer, Cozy VanLenten, and Michelle Witty. I love you! — Your advisor, Sherri.

Remember to complete and return the URES/Longwood Quality of life study to your RA by Friday, February 9.

Dave — Here's your personal. See you Spring Weekend. Toga! — The Editor in Chief

She-Ra — See you in 3 weeks! Good luck on Gre's. — R. Bruce

CORRECTION: The name of George Hardman was accidentally left out of last week's article, "Psi Chi Inducts Members". George was initiated on Thursday night.

Hey K. B. — Wossa hoppenin' hot stuff? Do you have any matches? Good luck with Matchew Jophus! I wish you two the best of my love, forever and ever from the bottom of my heart. — Love, ED

Kim, — Few little bottles can do alot of damage. Please no more Monday night fun. Don't worry be happy! We're here if you need someone. — Your loveable suitemate, Tammy and Steff

Chris Vanoster — You are the best big sister and friend anyone could hope for. I'm so glad you're mine. Thank-you for all the never ending love and support. You have a special way of always making me smile. You're wonderful. ΣK love and lots of mine — Sharon

Here time can be told without watch nor clock,
You hear no alarm or no tick tock.
If Blue and White Spirit be your guide,
Near you can find the Chi-doll
that surroundings hide! — In Blue and White Spirit Chi 90

Robyn B. — Mike told me to tell you that the phone lines are still down. — SW

Jen — We missed you when you went away last weekend! But, hey - now we have to look forward to you going home with us. Remember - you're GOING to drink more then just a couple of shots! — Amy and Jo

JK — Who's that Cheerleader? Could it be? Just keep trying and you'll have no problem. You might get lucky and get some good looking guy to keep you! — Al

MJM — Who's that with mascara running all down her face? Maybe we won't see her anytime soon. It's alright, though, they finally made it! P.S. Loky didn't you make it to the party Saturday night? I wonder ... — Love ya, ALL

S. W. — Never forget — Baeardi, A Honda Civic with a door that doesn't open, Mom always said, don't play ball in the house! Oh, and Friday the 26th of January. — J. S.

Julie W. and Denny P. — Ya'll are the best roommates ever! I'm so glad you both moved in. This semester's going to be a blast — Garden Street will never be the same. — Love always — Sharon

SM-NC., what a road trip. Leave at 2 - Plenty of time. Got lost. Ho Jo's - I'm not going in alone. Mr., we need directions. Nice stationwagon. What's a Viadou? Navy dress and black shoes? 801-10. Found it. 15 min. late - not bad. Sit in the car for 3 hours, no problem. Terrential rain. The car won't go over 40. Wrong Keysville Exit - there's more than one? Where are we? Are we the only people on the earth? Splash - oh, scared me. Warp Zone - jump 3 times, knock over 5 road signs and cross the white line. Darn - missed it. I'm cold - I'm hot. "You've got a friend." I might could do that. Got you again!! — Love, TC

P.S. Cool Potential for ball is high - I have a date!

Tony Tassa — I see you around campus, we talk, but we don't know each other very well. I can't seem to get rid of this urge to get to know you better, but I am too shy to approach you. I live in the European part of our campus. Get the hint? Write back.

Matt Carlisle, — You will always be our Superman!! — Lu and R.

Sports

Wrestlers Hurt Without Haller

Despite some outstanding individual performances at the Lancer Duals, the Longwood wrestling team lost two of its three matches on Saturday to finish fifth out of six teams. The Lancers lost to Pembroke State 27-19 and Virginia State 26-21 and defeated Newport News Apprentice 38-13 for the fifth place finish.

Chowan College, a junior college located in North Carolina, won the Lancer Duals with Pembroke State finishing second. Virginia State placed third followed by Wilkes Community College, Longwood and Newport News Apprentice.

"We did not have a good week at practice," head coach Steve Nelson said Saturday afternoon. "We wrestled competitively in both of the matches we lost. Although I'm disappointed with our placing as a team, I'm happy with the way we wrestled."

The Lancer squad was without the services of sophomore Kevin Haller at 118-lb. who suffered multiple fractures in his face during a practice earlier in the week. Haller's season record stands at 13-9-1 with one tournament title and a fourth place tournament finish to his credit.

"Kevin was having a great year," Nelson commented. "I was really pleased with his progress on the mat. His loss has been a tremendous blow to the team." Nelson said he expects Haller to be out for the rest of the season.

This weekend the Lancers travel to Virginia State to take part in the Virginia Collegiate Division II and III Championship. Longwood has won the tournament for the last three years making the squad Virginia State Champions since 1987.

Individually, junior Ted Proctor is a two-time state champion at 150-lbs. and junior Tim Mason has won one title at 167-lbs.

Individual records for the Lancer Duals (weight classes varied for each wrestler): Reid Ratliff 3-0, Kevin McSherry 2-0, Tim Mason 2-0, Sean House 2-1, Burgess 1-1, Joe Azero 1-1-1, Ted Procter 1-1, Charlie Parker 1-1, Mark Denne 1-2, Chris Friedman 0-2, Paul Rafferty 0-3, Mike Faul 0-3.

Bowie Bulldogs Crush Lancers

By HOKE CURRIE

Leading 36-35 at halftime, Longwood hit an anemic 35.2 percent of its shots (12-34) in the second half Friday night, helping homestanding Bowie State notch its first win of the season after 18 losses by a 79-68 count.

The victory-hungry Bulldogs rallied to take a 63-54 edge with 7:22 left and held Longwood at bay the rest of the way to score the upset victory. The Lancers had won a December meeting in Farmville 75-65, but Bowie, a member of the CIAA Northern Division, picked up inside bruiser Keith Forbes and hot-shooting Michael Boyd since the teams met previously.

Forbes dominated the inside with 16 points and 14 rebounds and Boyd bagged 18 points to pace four double digit scorers for Bowie.

Kevin Jefferson led the Lancers with 22 points, but was able to convert just five of 13 shots in the second half. Dale Shavers scored 13 of his 19 points in the second half and handed out eight assists while Greg Holloway totaled 11 points and 10 boards to back Shavers and Jefferson.

Reserve Tony Good scored nine points in the first half to spark Longwood. The Lancers tailed early 19-9 and were down 30-24 with four minutes left in the half when Good scored a rare four-point play. The senior guard canned a 3-point shot and was fouled. His free throw and basket cut the deficit to 30-28. Another Good bucket, two Shavers free throws and a pair of baskets by Jefferson enabled Longwood to take a 36-32 lead.

Longwood played for the third straight game without 6-8 senior center and leading rebounder Doug Poppe. Poppe, out with a separated shoulder, is expected to return for Wednesday night's home game with Virginia State.

In Poppe's absence, junior Keith Latimer and freshman Bryan Weaver combined for five points and 13 rebounds.

Jefferson's Point Count Now At 1,633

Jefferson, who ranks among the top scorers in Division II with a 24.6 average, increased his career point total to 1,633. He now trails all-time top scorer Jerome Kersey (1,756) by 123 points. With six games left Jefferson needs to average 20.5 ppg. to overtake Kersey. Shavers now has 1,075 points and 266 assists (third all-time) while Poppe has 1,061 points and 619 rebounds (third all-time).

LC, which beat Shepherd 70-49 Wednesday, had won three straight before losing to Bowie.

Longwood's 1,000 Point Club Jerome Kersey, 1980-84, 1,756; Kevin Jefferson, 1986-, 1,633; Joe Remar, 1979-83, 1,479; Lonnie Lewis, 1982-86, 1,452; Ron Orr, 1979-83, 1,335; Darryl Rutley, 1986-89, 1,230; Dale Shavers, 1986-, 1,075; Doug Poppe, 1986-, 1,061; Kenny Ford 1978-81, 1,040.

Dore Sets New Record On Beam

Longwood's Terri Dore set a new record on beam and Cindy Shelton and Beth Risley finished 1-2 in all-around competition, but the Lancer gymnasts fell to host West Chester 169.25 to 165.6 in a meet Saturday afternoon in Pennsylvania.

"We really had a pretty good meet," said coach Ruth Budd, whose team now has a 1-3 mark for the year. "Finishing 1-2 all-around and winning beam with a new record shows we performed well. West Chester's depth gave them a big boost. They had 13 or 14 gymnasts and many specialized in just one or two events.

Dore scored a 9.1 on beam to break the record of 9.05 held jointly by Shelton and former Lancer gymnast Angie Sullivan. Shelton notched a 34.35 to win all-around and placed second in floor exercise with a 9.1. Risley was second all-around with a 34.1 and second on bars with an 8.45. For the second week in a row, Risley had a no-fall meet.

Natalie Taylor also had a good meet with an 8.9 for second in vaulting and an 9.05 for third on floor. Freshman Danielle Williams had an 8.95 for fourth on floor and got a 31.55 all-around.

Longwood travels to Radford Friday to take on the Highlanders in a 7:00 meet.

Lady Lancers Pick Up Second Straight Victory

The Lady Lancers picked up their second-straight victory on Friday night at Lancer Hall with a 80-64 win over Wofford College. Longwood's record improved to 8-11 with the victory. The Lady Lancers will host St. Paul's on Monday night at Lancer Hall. Game time is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Three of the Lady Lancers scored in double figures in the Wofford contest. Junior forward Carmille Barnette and junior guard Ann Callaham contributed 21 points apiece with junior forward Cassie Mullenix adding 10.

Callaham shot 39 percent from the floor and 86 percent from the line with one goal from three-point range. Callaham also led the team with seven assists and five steals.

Barnette led the team in rebounding with 12 and shot 50 percent from the floor and 100 percent from the line. The All-America candidate also picked up one three pointer and four steals in the win.

Longwood took an early lead and built it up to as many as 20 points before settling for a 40-26 halftime score. Wofford came back in the second half to score 38 points to the Lady Lancers's 40, but it wasn't enough to overcome the halftime margin.

Sophomore forward Salene Green added eight points to the final score with sophomore center Teresa Carter contributing seven. The bench contributed 13 points with freshmen forwards Shanda Stuart and Cari Dellinger picking up six and three apiece. Sophomore guard Tena Philbrick added another four.

This Saturday, the Lady Lancers host the University of Alabama-Huntsville at 2 p.m. in Lancer Hall.

Dore Player Of The Week

Junior gymnast Terri Dore broke the Longwood record for balance beam in a meet at West Chester Saturday, scoring a 9.1 for first place in the event. Dore has been named Longwood College Player of the Week for the period Jan. 28-Feb. 4. Player of the Week is chosen by the Longwood sports information office.

"Terri's goal has been to get a 9.0 on beam," said Lancer coach Ruth Budd. "She has a really terriffic routine when she stays on and hits everything.

"Two weeks in a row now, Terri has had a no-fall routine. If the judging had been more consistent she might have gotten a 9.0 last week at Maryland Baltimore County."

Dore broke the record of 9.05 which Lancer junior Cindy Shelton set in the 1988 season and former Longwood gymnast Angie Sullivan tied last year.

A psychology and a graduate of Middletown High School, Dore had her season cut short last year by elbow surgery. She has come back strong to claim top honors for Longwood on bars most of the current season.

Dore's floor and beam routines are highlighted by creative dance and good composition. She is a former USGF Class I gymnast at Eastern National Academy in New Jersey. In 1986 she placed first in compulsory beam at the Regional Championships. She was fifth on beam in the New Jersey State Championships that same year.

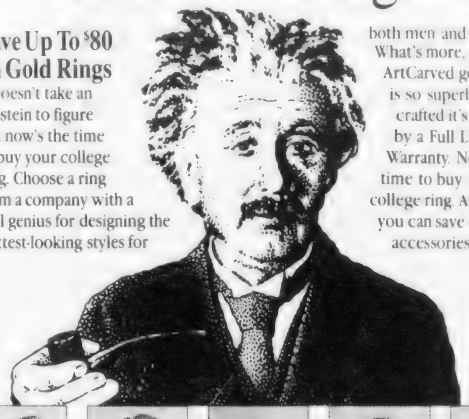
TERRI DORE

Classifieds

— FREE —
PREGNANCY TEST

All services confidential.
Same day results.
116 N. MAIN STREET
SOUTHSIDE PREGNANCY CENTER

24-HOUR HOTLINE
392-8483



Sunny's
CAFE
CASABLANCA
Farmville Shopping Center
OPEN:
MONDAY -SATURDAY
11::30 - 2:00
5:00 - 9:00
Now
Mexican Food
And Beers!

Lonely?
Need a Date?
Meet that special someone today!
Call DATETIME
(405) 366-6335

"ADOPTION"
Happily Married European-American professional couple longing to share a beautiful county life with precious newborn. Please call collect anytime. 804-979-8347.

"Relatively speaking, ArtCarved has the best deal on gold."

Save Up To $80 on Gold Rings
It doesn't take an Einstein to figure out now's the time to buy your college ring. Choose a ring from a company with a real genius for designing the hottest-looking styles for both men and women. What's more, your ArtCarved gold ring is so superbly crafted it's protected by a Full Lifetime Warranty. Now's the time to buy your college ring. Ask how you can save on gold accessories, too.

ARTCARVED
COLLEGE JEWELRY

Bookstore Feb. 5-8 10 AM-2 PM
Location Date Time Deposit Required
Payment Plans Available

Upcoming Events

Information on this calendar is collected and coordinated through the Student Union Office, 1st Floor Lankford Student Union, Longwood College.

For student organizations or college departments to make entries a campus calendar form must be filled out and returned to the Student Union Office.

Deadline is the Tuesday preceding publication date.

Tuesday - 6	Wednesday - 7	Thursday - 8	Friday - 9	Saturday -10	Sunday - 11	Monday - 12
Men's Basketball Practice. Film & lecture: The Lost Generation, 7 p.m., Gold Room. Innertube water polo starts. Wrestling: LC vs Washington & Lee, 7:30 p.m., Lancer. Eating Disorders, 1-2 p.m., Counseling Services. Benefit Dance; 8 p.m. Gold Room. H-SC - Town Meeting, Topic: updating Water and Waste Systems and Other Projects, Parents & Friends Lounge, 11:30. Lecture, "How to Write a Best-Seller," Tom Clancey, author, Crawley Forum, 7:30.	Men's Basketball entry blank due & meeting, 6:30 p.m., IM Room. Men's Basketball practice. Men's Basketball: LC vs Virginia State, 7:30 p.m., Lancer, Recruiter: Leggett Stores, All Day, CPPC, S. Ruffner. Choosing a Major, Series #2, 6 p.m., CPPC, S. Ruffner. H-SC - CAC Movie: Something Wild, Johns Auditorium, 10 p.m., $1.	Weekend Coed Volleyball entry blank due & meeting, 6:30 p.m., IM Room. Workshop: Resume writing, 1 p.m., CPPC, S. Ruffner. Men's Basketball practice. Kathe Kollwitz, 9-12; 1-5, Bedford Gallery. H-SC - Honors Lecture, Prof. Jerry Carney: "Using the Ring of Recognition: 'Whaddya mean I married you...and that's my son?' The Drama of Duty and Love in a Man's Heart,", Parents & Friends Lounge, 11:30 a.m.	Gymnastics: LC at Radford, 7 p.m. Kathe Kollwitz, 9-12; 1-5, Bedford Gallery. Movie Series: Turner and Hooch, 7 p.m., Lancer Cafe. H-SC - Basketball v. Emory and Henry, Kirby Field House, 7:30. CAC Coffeehouse, with Down Boy Down, Graham Hall, 9 p.m. Randolph-Macon Woman's - Senior Dinner Dance Weekend. 	Women's Basketball: LC vs Alabama-Huntsville, 2 p.m., Lancer. Men's Basketball: LC at USC-Spartanburg, 2 p.m. Wrestling: LC at VA Col. Div. Championship (at VA State) Weekend Coed Volleyball. Phi Beta Sigmas Blue & White affair (Stepshow & Dance), 8 p.m., Lancer Gym, $5. Randolph-Macon Woman's - Senior Dinner Dance Weekend.	Movie Series: Turner and Hooch, 7 p.m., Lancer Cafe.  concert	2/12 Workshop: Interviewing Skills, 4 p.m., CPPC, S. Ruffner. Fred Steiner, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery. Men's Basketball starts. Men's Basketball: LC vs Atlantic Christian, 7:30 p.m., Lancer. Alcohol Support Group, 6-7 p.m., Counseling Services. Women's Basketball: LC at Virginia Union, 5:30 p.m. "Ma Rainey's Black Bottom" (Amaryllis Productions), 8 p.m., Jarman. Choosing a Major Series, #3, 6 p.m., CPPC, S. Ruffner. Kathe Kollwitz, 9-12; 1-5, Bedford Gallery.

The Rotunda

Longwood College

Vol. 69, No. 15 | February 12, 1990 | Farmville, VA

Dance Kicks Off Black History Month

By LIZ RUSSELL

"Diversity Makes the Difference: Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow," was the slogan used for the Benefit Dance on Friday night, February 9, 1990.

The dance was held in the Gold Room at Lankford Student Union from 8 p.m.-1 a.m.

The Benefit Dance was just one of the many activities to celebrate Black History Month at Longwood. The Black History Month Committee sponsored the dance. This committee consists of the following people: Mrs. Brenda Cross, Director of Minority Affairs, Ms. Claudia Logan, Mr. Jimmy Yarbrough, Dr. Wayne O'Brien, Dr. Ray Brastow, Ms. Alethia Perkins, Ms. La Tonya Moore, Mrs. Ada Whitehead, Dr. Bruce Montgomery, Kara Lancaster, Ms. Niki Fallis, Dr. Robert Gibbons, Ms. Joan Mason, Mr. Michael Herndon, Dr. Homer Springer, Mrs. Theresa A. Clark, Mrs. Ruby Blanton, Ms. Margaret Hale-Smith, Lisa Jones, Sara Young, Dr. John Lund, and Sara Beth Murphy.

John Wilkerson provided the music as DJ for the night. Music that appealed to minority as well as others was played.

When I talked to Mrs. Brenda Cross, Director of Minority Affairs, she told me "The main reason for the Benefit Dance is to bring staff, faculty, students, and community together for a good cause. It should be a college-wide interest that reflects the wants, needs, beliefs, and interests of people."

The money from the dance will be split two ways. Half of the money will go to the Emergency Relief Loan for minority students in financial trouble. This loan helps to pay for tuition and books. The rest of the money will go to the Ralph Page Minority Scholarship Fund to help recruit students to come to Longwood.

John Wilkerson kept the music going at Friday's Benefit Dance. Photo Credit: Jan-Marie Johnson

Local Attorney Discusses Civil Rights Movement

James Ghee, local attorney at law, will speak on the "History of the Civil Rights Movement in Prince Edward County," as a part of Hampden-Sydney College's recognition of Black History Month. The lecture will take place on Tuesday, February 13, at 8 p.m., in the Crawley Forum, and it is free and open to the public.

A native of Prince Edward County, Mr. Ghee received a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Iowa, spent his junior year studying abroad in Beirut, Lebanon, and received his Juris Doctor from the University of Virginia, at Charlottesville.

Before entering private practice, Mr. Ghee worked with the Federal Communications Commission and the National Welfare Rights Organization, both in Washington, D.C. He is a member of the State and National Bar Associations, is a past member of the Board of Governors, and past president of the Young Lawyers Section. Mr. Ghee is a founding member of the Virginia Legal Aid Society, and is President of their Board of Directors. He is President of the Prince Edward County Branch of the NAACP.

SGA To Poll Students Attitudes On Athletics

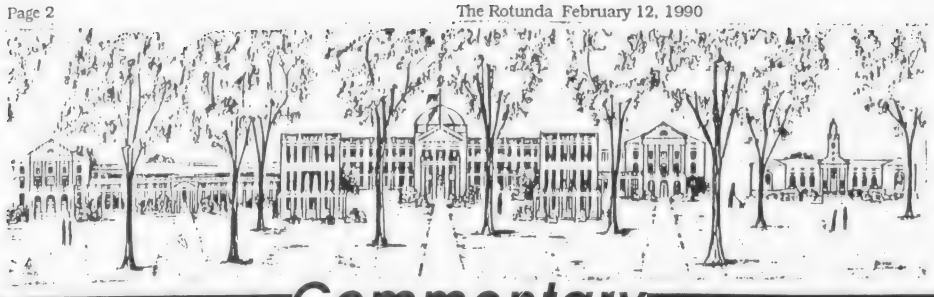
By SHANNON NUNNALLY

A poll by the student government association will be distributed on Wednesday, February 14, during lunch in the upper and lower dining halls. The purpose of this poll is to collect the varied opinions of the student body on several issues dealing with the proposed changes in Longwood's athletic programs. The results of this poll and the student forums will help the SGA to form a student wide opinion. After compiling these results a representative from the SGA will present them to the Board of Visitors.

The results of this poll will be available at another Student forum on Thursday, February 15 at 12:45 in the Red, White and Green Rooms. These forums are designed to get a total student body opinion of the proposed changes. The SGA encourages both students for and against to attend. This is your last opportunity to express your concerns before the Board of Visitors meets to begin making their decision. Please come and show your support at the student forum on Thursday.

As a part of Black History Month at Longwood College, the film "The Lost Generation" was shown twice this month. This film is about the 1959 closing of public schools in Prince Edward County. The reason the schools were closed was that the state had decided to integrate its school systems. The white residents of Farmville and surrounding areas did not want their children attending school with blacks. They did not understand why the blacks could not just stay in their own public schools. The truth was that blacks were receiving an education far inferior to that of the whites.

The result of the integration of the public schools was the closing of them. The county was run by whites, and apparently they made a decision to close the schools until it was decided what should be done. The schools were closed for approximately four years. The effects of this closing were great. Many children could not attend school. In order to attend a neighboring county school, they had to be a resident of that county. Families could not or would not move. Many families did not want to be separated from their children, so they did not send their children to live with family or friends. Many did send their children away for the sake of their education. Teachers who were put out of work moved to find work elsewhere, although some remained to educate those who could not attend school. Those who could not attend school fell behind in their studies because the resources were not available to keep up their educations.



Meanwhile the people who could afford it (whites) were building a private school – Prince Edward Academy. The whites were able to provide their children with an education, while the blacks waited for the public schools to reopen.

The schools were finally reopened in 1964. The Prince Edward public schools were once again filled, but they filled with virtually all black students. The Academy had all white students. This trend continued for many years but is now beginning to change. The public schools now have about a one-to-one ratio of blacks and whites.

For anyone who is not familiar with the history of Farmville, this film is quite an awakening to the reality of the history of racism here and throughout the country.

Contents

Commentary.....2
News.....3, 4
Features.....5
Personals.....6
Sports.....7
Calender.....8
Classifieds.....8

Commentary

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,

I am sitting here in class, scrunched up, behind a prehistoric desk with 1969 graffiti on its eight and a half by eleven inch top. As I move around to try and make myself comfortable, the whole thing shifts, and the arm rest snags my sweater. It seems as if one of the legs is considerably shorter than the other three. As I look around the room, I see that the other students have the same-"rocking desks", as well. I am really hoping that the desk (which closely resembles a shop project my brother did in 7th grade) will remain in one piece for at least until class in over. I think back to high school days when the desks were big, new and metal. Then I look at my tuition go up, and I think: "I am paying more in my college tuition for cable television, and a phone system that has yet to prove worthy of any money. Yet, in the class room, where most of the learning in college occurs, I sit in a desk that is not even of this decade." I am wondering where the priority in this college lies. Before work on Grainger began, we had to have a 23rd century phone system. Why are we here? To call home? I understand that the phone system is the way of the future; HBO and MTV are great, but a college is, first, a place of learning. The place where I spend most of my learning time is sitting in a half petrified wooden desk, reading things like "CLASS of 69 RULZ."

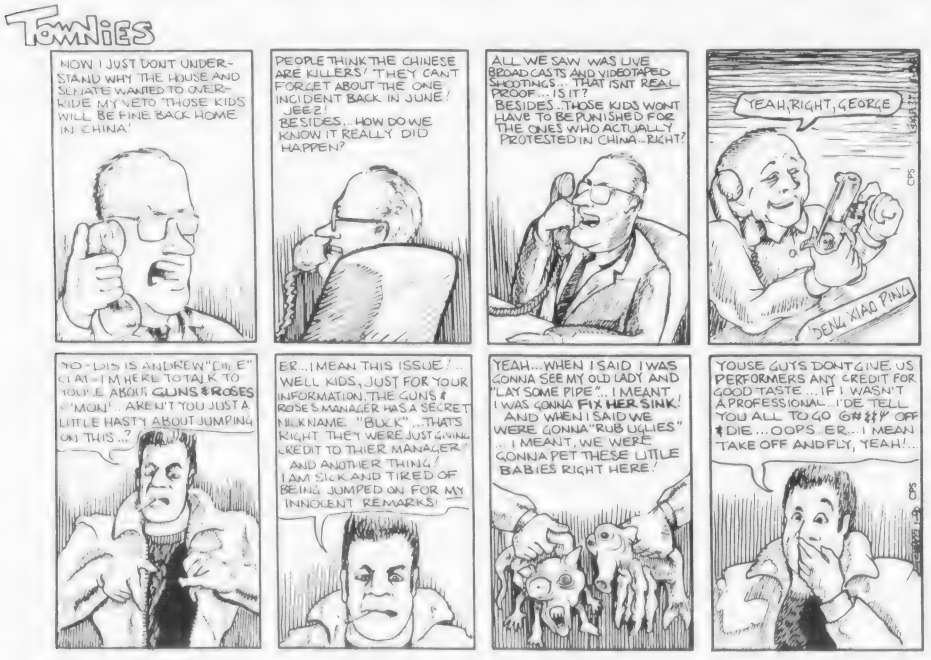
Mary Shriner

Dear Editor,

Going up the steps of North Cunningham, I noticed a flyer for a black fraternity's interest meeting. On it, written in capital letters with a black magic marker, was a word repeated several times; a malicious epithet intended to insult blacks: "NIGGERS". A couple of days later I saw that same word on a flyer for the presentation of "Ma Rainey's Black Bottom".

People have always been afraid of what's different; afraid to look at someone else and not see a mirror image of themselves. Whether it is race, nationality, religion, or politics we feel more comfortable around those who look like we do and share our ideas and beliefs. IT'S SAFER ...

What's worse, is that this fear makes us fall into the trap of stereotyping. We KNOW that we should not generalize. We KNOW it shows closed mindedness and inability to grasp the concept of individuality. Yet, we do it. We unjustly attack the members of a whole race or group without ever taking the time to reflect on what we are actually doing.



The purpose of education is to help people mature both academically and ideologically. Through knowledge we are able to dismiss our fears and learn to see people and things for what they really are—not for what someone else taught us to see them. Isn't it sad, then, that a preconceived notion such as prejudice can shadow a COLLEGE STUDENTS attitude?

Josephine Nikolakaki
senior

Dear Rush Crush,

The sorority girls were right when they told you you are "special". Take one moment and pull yourself out of self-pity to understand what a wonderful opportunity you had. Many people don't participate in such events because they don't want to get emotionally attached to something they just can't afford. You do have a chance to be one of "them." You can go to open rush parties or there's always next year. Open your eyes and realize you don't have to be great to have lifelong friends. Be happy you're not struggling to earn money just to stay in school. Extend your mind and realize you're not the only one who got their heart broken last week.

Name withheld

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
R. Bruce Gantt

Photography Editor
Jan-Marie Johnson

Sports Editor

Business Manager
Kim Bell

Advertising Manager
Michelle Lawhorn

Features Editor
Monica Gilbert

News Editor
Beth A. Lord

Layout Editor
Sarah Whiteside

Faculty Advisor
William C. Woods

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be signed, typed or printed neatly, and state the author's years. The Editor and staff reserve the right to edit any material submitted for publication.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 395-2120.

Louisiana Author Tells Story

Shirley Ann Grau, a novelist from Louisiana, will be featured in the next Authors Series reading at Longwood College.

She will read from and discuss her work on Wednesday evening, Feb. 14, at 8 p.m. in Wygal Auditorium. The program is open to the public free of charge.

Grau is the author of five novels and three collections of short stories. Critics have praised her "uniquely female imagery" and her ability to "emphathize with each character."

She published her first work, The Black Prince and Other Stories, in 1955 when she was 26 years old. This was followed by her first novels, The Hard Blue Sky in 1958 and The House on Coliseum Street in 1961.

The themes of these early works include the plight of the "southern lady," trapped somewhere between the past and the present; the disappearance of values in the "shell of southern society;" and her "primitive" characters, like the Louisiana fishermen who live in tune with nature but must fight it to survive.

Grau's third novel, The Keepers of the House, deals with a family that rises above the hypocrisy and prejudices of society. Published in 1964, the novel won a Pulitzer Prize.

Since that time, Grau has published a second collection of short stories, The Wind Shifting West, in 1973; two more novels — The Condor Passes in 1971 and Evidence of Love in 1977; and a collection of novellas entitled Nine Women in 1985.

Grau was born in New Orleans in 1929. Her father was a dentist, and she describes her family as "ordinary middle class, white, Protestant." She attended Tulane University, where she met her future husband, James Kern Feibleman, a philosophy professor. They were married in 1955, have four children, and now live in Metairie, La.

End Of SAT May Be Near

The anti-SAT (Scholastic Achievement Test) movement gained more steam Jan. 24 as the leaders of almost 50 national education groups called on schools to stop giving students standardized, multiple choice tests.

The groups, organized by FairTest, a Cambridge, Mass.-based critic of the SAT, urged schools to create "performance portfolios" to replace standardized tests as measures of students' educational progress.

Such a change, of course, would drastically alter the way colleges decide who to admit.

"It would change things quite a bit," said Gretchen Young, assistant dean of admissions at Georgia State University.

Young, who says SAT and ACT scores help make fair judgements on potential students' success, predicts GSU would put more emphasis on students' high school courses, grade-point averages and extracurricular activities if test scores were abolished.

Monty Neill of FairTest contended that, by relying on multiple choice test scores, schools, hoping to prove themselves by amassing high scores, have switched to teaching students how to pass memory tests instead of teaching them how to think.

"Many high schools hire coaches (to help with the tests), and there is growing pressure in English and math classes to teach only what is on the tests," he charged.

Neill, along with groups such as the American Federation of Teachers, Council for Basic Education and the Institute for Learning and Teaching, proposed that schools do away with worksheets and drills, and instead, have more hands-on projects.

"In public education, daily work is controlled by multiple choice. We believe it is more important that students understand things such as the scientific method rather than to memorize facts," Neill said.

Hoping to diminish the importance of test scores that, in turn, could deter some students from applying to certain campuses, 44 colleges announced in October they would stop reporting the average SAT scores of their new freshmen. They agreed to report only the range of scores.

Babson, Hampshire, Lewis and Clark, and Simmons colleges, Carnegie Mellon, Harvard, Syracuse and Texas Christian universities, as well as the universities of Michigan, Rochester, Tulsa and Washington were among the schools that agreed to report ranges of scores.

Baby with the Bath Water

By DAWN JARVIS

"Baby with the Bathwater" is a biting, bitter comedy with a sting of seriousness. The play is based on the life of an American Family in the society of today's world. Therefore, this play, dealing with both comedy and concern, has something to offer each individual member of the audience.

The cast of twelve is well into the middle of their rehearsals. The actors, directors, and crews have been working diligently the past couple weeks in preparation for the production's opening. With other productions on Jarman stage in the weeks to come, the construction crew is having to create a complete mobile set.

The play covers a time Frame of thirty years. It opens with the parents, Helen and John, discussing the sex of their newborn baby. Halfway through the play, the audience realizes that the parents have decided their child is a girl and name her Daisy. It is not until Daisy is twelve years old that "she" discovers "she's" a he. As one might imagine, this creates an "identity" crisis for Daisy. Daisy has other problems as well; such as trying to relate to the opposite sex, since Daisy is uncertain which sex he/she is. Daisy's confusion becomes a delight for the audience in this bizarre comedy that spoofs the parent-child relationship.

Chris Hoover plays the role of Daisy that is a challenge for the actor. He is only given about fifteen seconds to change from one complex mood to the next. In rehearsals, Chris is progressing well in this challenging role.

Andrew Wheeler is playing the role of John, Daisy's father. When asked what it is like playing the role of an alcoholic, he replied, "It's hard to bring the character to life and make it believable for the audience." He notes that the character is "... basically ... insane."

The production of "Baby with the Bathwater" will be presented on Jarman stage on February 21-24, 1990 at 8 p.m.

Waynesboro Concert Choir

The Concert Choir from Waynesboro High School will perform at Longwood College on Tuesday evening, Feb. 13, at 8 o'clock in Wygal Recital Hall. The concert is open to the public free of charge.

The 64-voice choir will sing a variety of choral works, including 17th- and 18th-century compositions by Haydn and Handel: "Touro-Louro-Louro," a 17th-century French carol; three spirituals; the well-loved hymn, "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross;" "You'll Never Walk Alone" from Carousel; and "The Wind Beneath My Wings," a recent mega-hit for Bette Midler.

The program will close with "The Lord Bless You and Keep You," which has concluded every concert the choir has given since 1966.

The Waynesboro choir is directed by Roger Zimmerman, supervisor of music and director of choral activities for the Waynesboro City schools. He organized the group almost 25 years ago and has guided its development into a source of pride for the school and the Waynesboro community.

Members of the choir are chosen by audition from the 900 students enrolled at Waynesboro High School. The annual annoucement of accepted singers stirs as much excitement in the school and community as does the composition of the football or basketball team.

The choir goes on tour each spring and has performed in Washington Square in New York City, at Westminster Choir College in New Jersey, at the National Cathedral in Washington, DC, and at many other locations from North Carolina to New York.

The Waynesboro-East Augusta Chamber of Commerce recently awarded its Civic Service Award to the young musicians, who are affectionately called "Waynesboro's Singing Ambassadors."

"This is one of the finest choral groups in Virginia and has been for many years," said Dr. Donald Trott, director of choral activities at Longwood. "As a former member of the choir myself, I'm very pleased and excited to have them perform here at Longwood. I hope many people will come out to hear them."

Chinese Students Detest Deportation

Leaders of Chinese students studying in the United States say they are "disappointed" that Congress failed to override President Bush's veto of a bill that would have them stay in the U.S., and are "really worried" the president might break his promise not to send them home yet.

On Jan. 25, the U. S. Senate fell four votes short of overturning Bush's veto of a bill that would have ensured that the 40,000 Chinese students and scholars on U. S. campuses this year could stay here even after their visas expire.

China, of course, has executed or uprooted thousands of students who participated in the pro-democracy movement there. Chinese students here vigorously protested the June massacre of an estimated 3,000 pro-democracy activists in Beijing. Many of the students who marched in front of Chinese government offices in the U. S. had their pictures taken by diplomatic officials, and fear they will have to stand trial if they are sent home.

Two of China's "most wanted" pro-democracy activists — Pei Min Xin and Wu'er Kaixi — are now studying in the U. S., at Harvard University and another, unnamed, Boston-area campus.

Hoping to re-establish contact with the Chinese government, however, President Bush in December vetoed a bill that would have let Chinese nationals stay in the U. S. indefinitely.

At the same time, he issued an executive order saying that, while he didn't want to sign the bill, he would not force anyone to leave the U. S.

"No student, as long as I am president, will be sent back," Bush pledged.

Nevertheless, Chinese students are fearful that, without a law on the books, Bush might find it diplomatically necessary to send them home.

"We feel very disappointed," said Xu Guanghan of the Association of Chinese Students and Scholars at Stanford University. "We're really worried that President Bush might revoke his executive order. His understanding differs from our understanding of what is a normal situation in China."

Under Chinese law, students whose visas expire must return to China for two years before they can apply for a new visa.

News

Don't Let the S-UN Set

By The Student Union Board

It's Wednesday night, there's nothing to do ... and there won't be anything to do. The S-UN is setting on Longwood College and may not rise again without the cooperation and participation of the student body.

Aside from weekend parties wouldn't it be nice to have events during the week to relieve the stress, the boredom, and have a good laugh? Such events do exist! The Student Union Board provides a variety of activities such as musicians, comedians, lecturers, bands and movies. Recently the Student Union Board brought a beach party to the Gold Room with free ice cream and great entertainment and also a chance to win $500 with the hilarious game show Blizzard of Bucks.

Were you not aware or do you not care? If you're not interested in a chance at $500, what are you interested in? The Student Union Board cares and wants to know. The Student Union Board consists of 15 people who are supposed to represent the wants and needs of the student body, but without your input we must rely on our personal preferences and hope you agree.

In order to improve and expand the Student Union Board activities we must increase our membership. General meetings are held the first Thursday of every month at 6:00, for all those who are interested we encourage you to attend and we look forward to seeing you.

February is Black History Month and the Student Union Board had planned many activities to honor this month along with a lecture on media and censorship, Kevin Spencer - a magician, and box office hit movies such as Turner and Hooch, Mississippi Burning, Weekend at Bernies and Field of Dreams just to mention a few. And don't forget Spring Weekend is only 2 months away and so far the activities include several bands, magazine pictures, and possibly a hot air balloon and much more.

Get involved, you can make a difference. Spring Weekend is one of Longwood's great traditions but your help is needed to make this a reality. Get involved, next semester is in the planning and we want and need your opinions. Don't let the S-UN set — participate and enjoy the Student Union Board activities and help plan your future events.

The next meeting is Thursday, March 1 at 6:00 is conference room 1 Lankford. HOPE TO SEE YOU THERE!!!

Black History Month Is Underway

By SHERRY GATEWOOD

February has been nationally established as Black History Month. It all began in the 1930's when blacks began to actively protest racial oppression. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People went to the Supreme Court over the issues of racial discrimination in schools and in 1954 it was declared unconstitutional.

The Civil Right Era was born in 1955 when Rosa Parks, a colored woman, was arrested in Alabama for her refusal to give up her seat on a city bus to a white man. Activist groups such as the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee fought nonviolently for equal rights. Other groups, such as the Black Muslims resorted to more violent tactics leading to demonstrations and mobs. In turn, when the groups were attacked by white supremacists it only reinforced their message and the ranks of the black groups grew.

Lyndon Johnson helped to pass legislation for the Civil Rights Act of 1964 which prohibited racial discrimination in the areas of voting, education, employment, and public accommodations. However, in many areas the Act was not upheld and cases of discrimination were still widespread. Martin Luther King, Jr.'s assassination in 1968 shocked the world. It touched off riots in one hundred and twenty-five cities across the nation.

Gradually, blacks began to be elected to public office and highly prestigious jobs to which they had earlier been denied. Over the years, much progress has been made for the equal rights of blacks as well as other minorities.

Ms. Brenda Cross, Director of Minority Affairs, has established a committee to plan school-wide events during the month of February. They have scheduled a wide variety of exibits to generate interest and explain the history of black people in America. Among these are a talent show, the play Ma Rainey's Black Bottom in Jarman auditorium, and a concert given by the Royal Supremes and ABS choir composed of both campus students and area townspeople. Also, the dining hall is sponsoring a multicultural dinner with a wide variety of ethnic recipes at the end of this month. In the talent show, there will be skits re-enacting the ROSA Parks episode as well as excerpts from the Martin Luther King Jr. speeches.

Ms. Cross would like to extend special thanks to her Black History Month Committee which planned and coordinated February's events." I couldn't do it by myself, they did the work", she said. The committee was composed of volunteers from professors, students, our administrative staff, and others associated with Longwood College.

New Longwood ROTC Unit Crest

The Institute of Heraldry has approved a unit crest for Longwood College ROTC Cadets. This crest, worn on the uniform of all cadets and instructors indicates that the Army has recognized the Longwood Battalion as a distinct military organization, entitled to its own traditions and history. The crest, symbolic of Longwood, is blue and silver in color and features a stylized Rotunda. The motto of the Longwood Battalion is "through difficulties to honor," which is inscribed above and below the crest.

Millions of Students May Lose Aid

Even as he called in his Jan. 31 State of the Union address to reform American schools, President George Bush proposed a federal budget that would cause more than a million collegians to lose all or part of their financial aid, observers maintained.

More than 300,000 students would lose aid if two Bush budget items — to kill the State Student Incentive Grant (SSIG) program and cut funding for Perkins Student Loans — pass.

Another 1.3 million students would lose $200 Pell Grants or have their grants cut by $50 if Congress approves Bush's proposals.

The president also proposed cutting funding for the Stafford Loan program, used by 3.7 million students this school year, by $500 million, down to a total 3.3 billion.

The $1.23 trillion budget for the nation includes $24.6 billion for education — up from $24.1 billion — but it is slightly less than half of what is needed to keep up with inflation. The proposed budget will supply money to the U. S. Department of Education, which administers most federal college programs, for the Oct. 1, 1990 through Sept. 30, 1991 fiscal year.

"Bush ran on the platform that education was important, but he has yet to show that. What he has done with the budget goes against everything he said," asserted University of Missouri at Columbia graduate student Scott Cook.

"He might be saving some bucks now, but I wonder how much it will hurt us in the long run. If people have to drop out of school because they can't afford it, (the U. S.) will become less competitive in the world market," Cook added.

Bush's first solo effort isn't much different from the Reagan years. Last year Bush could only make amendments to the budget that then-President Ronald Reagan had submitted previously.

"Unfortunately, there isn't much of a difference between the two. Just as Reagan tried to do away with programs, so is Bush. The only difference is Bush doesn't publish it," USSA's Lieberman said.

The only real difference between Bush and Reagan, NASFAA's Martin said, is that Bush doesn't make large, sweeping cuts in the education budget.

"He's (Bush) not doing a lot (for higher education), but at least he's not taking large cuts," Martin said.

During his first years in office, Reagan asked Congress to slash as much as 50 percent of the federal college budget. In the early 80s, Congress did in fact drastically reduce or eliminate the budgets for student Social Security, Perkins Student Loans, campus housing and library programs, black colleges, College Work-Study, Pell Grants, Stafford Loans and Middle Income Student Assistance funds, to name some.

Of that amount, a $500 million increase — to $1.9 billion — goes for the Head Start program, which helps underprivileged preschoolers.

"He's certainly not the Education President when it comes to funds," added Susan Frost of the Committee for Education Funding (CEF), a Washington, D. C. lobbying group.

"It's a mistake to measure Bush's commitment by the amount of money he spends," countered David Boaz of the Cato Institute, a conservative think tank that says more money isn't the key to improving education.

Student and college lobbyists in Washington, D.C. however, contend money is a key.

"Unless (Bush) increases grants and loans, he's not helping. What good is getting students prepared to go to college if they can't get financial aid?" asked Janet Lieberman of the United States Student Association (USSA), a Washington, D. C., group that represents student government presidents.

The administration assumes students who can't get loans will turn to the Pell Grant program for aid.

While Bush did propose increasing Pell Grant funding by $473 million, it's less than the 4.5 percent increase needed to keep up with the inflation rate. In addition, all but $100 million of the added money would go toward covering Gramm-Rudman deficit reduction requirements for 1989 and 1990.

As a result, some analysts predict about 14,000 students would lose their $200 grants altogether, and another 1.3 million students would have their awards cut by $50.

The budget "shows insensitivity to students who need financial help. I think it will definitely cause some students not to go to college," said Arizona State University student Michael Thompson.

Features

Gorky Park: Still Cold

By FISH MACGILL
Rotunda Music Critic

Let me be the first to tell you, I'm all for the thawing of U.S./Soviet relations and I fully support all of the recent democratization of the Eastern Bloc that rocked through 1989. I'm glad because the people of those nations are getting the first chance in generations to guide themselves in politics and are testing the sweet sensation of freedom, something that you and I take for granted.

One of the better advantages of this "thaw," is the import of Soviet music across the Atlantic and on to our radio stations and MTV. First there was Boris Grebenshikov, the Bob Dylan of the Soviet Union. With his success paving the way for metal mavens Gorky Park. No, they didn't name themselves after the wretched movie of the same name, I'm going to assume that they named themselves after a park of some sort named after Maxim Gorky. But enough of the petty banter, let me present, for your entertainment and edification a review of Gorky Park.

A friend of the Fish came knocking on my door late last night, okay, more like pounding her fists like Buddy Rich doing a drum solo, telling me that she was tired of reading reviews of bands with names like Flaming Lips, the Dead Milkmen, and the Pogues. She said she wanted some diversity, or rather, she wanted a review of something that she enjoyed listening to, something that was hard and abrasive, yet managed to break the top forty. I told her if she had something available right then and there, that I would. Much to my horror, she called my bluff and produced Gorky Park's debut recording. "What the hell?" I said to myself, and bid her goodnight, went back into my subterranean passage that passes for a dorm room and stuck the cassette into the cassette deck and proceeded to listen.

I was shocked and surprised at what I heard emanating from four Hitachi 80-watt speakers. I had expected to hear Russian being screamed cacophonously over very loud guitars, sounding akin to large rodents being run over by a steamroller. What I heard was loud, but it was melodic. These five lads from the "Motherland" don't know what they're doing, and more importantly, it seems that they enjoy doing it. They make bland music, are kind enough to sing in English, and their songs are a mix of ballads, political themes, and raucous. Not what I would expect from a heavy-metal/glam-rock band (whatever the genre is called now).

Gorky Park consists Alexei Belov, who plays guitars, the balalaiks (whatever the hell that is) and does backing vocals; Nikolai Noskov sings vox; "Big" Sasha Minkov plays bass; Jan Ianenkov plays electric and acoustic guitars; and Sasha Lvov plays the drums. I guess the reason why Gorky Park doesn't sound so good is best understood in the band's motto: "Rock and Roll is our religion — what we believe in and what our souls live on. Being patient and openhearted brings back joy to the spirit and dispells the bitterness and pain. That's the great happiness and joy of believers in the self and in rock and roll." Now that is philosophical, heavy and deep.

Although the fact that a Soviet and making waves in America is notable and admirable, the quality of the music is not altogether mind-blowing. I must admit that it's catchy and melodic, but other than that, and the fact that they are Russian, there's really very little else mentionable about the band. The first track "Bang" is the only erstwhile track on the recording, and we have all seen that put into heavy rotation on MTV. Of course, MTV will play anything that isn't reckless and daring, hence the amount of crap that gets played by Kevin Seal and would be headbanger Adam Curry. Noskov's vocals sound like a mix of Bon Jovi, hardly surprising, since the album was produced by Jon Bon Jovi and Richie Sambora of Bon Jovi fame. There is a cover of the Who's "My Generation," which I'm reasonably sure that Pete Townshend has heard the song and probably would like to strangle the group one by one.

One the Fish MacGill music-making scale, Gorky Park only garners a paltry two stars out of five. I'd like to see a lot more Soviet bands crossover into America, but I hope that they will have a little more originality, and less banality. I don't recommend that you purchase this one campers, just copy it from a friend.

Greatest Lectures Lives On

By CHRISTINE WHITE

Last spring, the Cunninghams residence hall established an in-house lecture series which gave students the chance to hear faculty and staff speak on topics that were of great personal interest to them. Consisting of ten unique and outstanding programs, "The Cunninghams Greatest Lecture Series" proved to be a popular offering that created many opportunities for students to interact with faculty, learning outside the formal classroom, and promote Longwood as a place where individuals could gather together to form a true "community of scholars."

In December the series held its first lecture of the 1989-90 year, "Children and Television", with Frank Howe of the Department of Education. Approximately 100 students came to hear Mr. Howe talk about the impact of Saturday morning television shows on the cognitive development of children.

Most recently, Brenda Cross, Sarah Young and Kathy Taylor presented "With Both Eyes Open". As facilitators, they led a thought-provoking and open discussion about gender and ethnic issues in the classroom. Those in attendance offered many insightful opinion and comments about racism and sexism in our society today.

For the remainder of this semester, the following three lectures have been scheduled:

February 19, 7:00 p.m. – Cuba: Yesterday and Today, Dr. Maria Millian-Silveira

March 6, 7:00 p.m. – Dating Do's and Don'ts, Niki Fallis

April 24, 7:00 p.m. – Yoga Relaxation Techniques, Joann Bibb

All programs will be held on the 4th Floor of South Cunningham and everyone is invited to attend!

CPPC SPRING RECRUITER SCHEDULE

FEBRUARY

13	U.S. Bureau of the Census	(New Smoker)
14&15	U.S. Marines	(New Smoker)
15	Mutual of Omaha*
21	Bear Creek Lake State Park	(New Smoker)
22	State Police	(New Smoker)
27	State Farm Insurance*

MARCH

6	F.N. Wolf*
7	Harris Teeter*
20&21	U.S. Marines	(New Smoker)
22	Peebles Dept. Stores*
30	Defense Logistics Agency*

APRIL

11	K-Mart Apparel*
25-27	U.S. Marines	(New Smoker)

*Seniors must sign-up in advance at CPPC, 2nd Floor South Ruffner. Resumes must be completed before the interview. Interviewing skills and resume writing workshops are held throughout the semester.

SARAH RAFFETTO

In last week's Longwood Speaks Out column, an error was made in Ms. Raffetto's statement. The correction is below:

Our sports are doing fine in Division II and if we have the money to get football then we definitely have the money to keep our teams in Division II and add the additional sports.

$100 REWARD

for information leading to the arrest and conviction on felony charges of the individual who stole the human skull from the Science Building last week. Contact Campus Police.

Grainger? Glowing in the dark? Photo Credit: R. Bruce Gantt

Some of you may have noticed the truck parked in front of Grainger. So if you happen to see a faint glow at night, just blame it on the renovation project.

DO YOU WANT ONE OF THOSE "GENUINE LONGWOOD"
Budweiser® Logo or Longwood HighLife T-shirts?
100% Cotton, pre-shrunk - All Sizes
$12
Tank Tops... $10 - Sweat Shirts... $20
Send name, address, type, size and payment to:
Rat & Co., P. O. Box 36402, Richmond, VA 23235
Budweiser is a registered trademark of Anheuser Busch Inc.

Personals

Sessions and Sessions Dates
First 3 Week Session May 21-June 8
First 4 Week Session June 18-July 13
Second 4 Week Session July 16-August 10
Registration for courses can be done in person or by mail until 3:00 the Wednesday before classes begin.
Course offerings and other information can be found in the summer school catalogue and calendar, which is available at the Registrar's Office.

Eddy — It's great being your roomie - popcorn and peanut butter, fights about speakers, "who's alarm is it?" 1 a.m. calls from Davy, and singing ourselves to sleep. I wuv you babeeee! — Krishy

Hey SUn — Thanks so much for everything. Your negative forces and being my body guard. Remember you short, ugly nerd; but you're not nerdy, you're kinda cute, but you are SHORT! I love ya anyways though! — Erin

Elizabeth — I want my money now — it's been months. I'm sure Jenny would like hers too, but I wouldn't know because she's too nice to ask for it. Haven't you ever heard of paying back debts? — Erin

To my stupid neighbor who wanted a personal from me. It's been great living next door to you two. Jen, thanks for taking such good care of Davy Dolphin. I'm glad you two can live next door to Kristi and I, since we are so loud and obnoxious!! H- why don't you put those sweats up all the way. J- Cough, cough, cough. Hey, hey Superman. Take the challenge!! — Love, Erin

To the Sisters and Pledges of ZTA — Happy Valentine's Day. You guys are the best! — Love, Claudia

ΑΣΑ is having an Open House on Monday, February 12, 1990 at 7:00 third floor Stubbs. Everyone is invited!

Lori L. — Good luck with pledging. You'll do a great job. I'm here if you need me. APO Love and mine — Kim

K.B. — Would you PLEASE stop laying those deadly ones?! I think we just may suffocate each other soon! Your turn to hang up the clothes — ED.

Hi B-B — Thanks for putting up with me and being my mailman; rather, my mailwoman! Did you really lose it in a tree?! Happy Day BB! Love — Your BB

Congratulations to the new ΑΔπ initiates, you guys are great. We love you. — Love the sisters of ΑΔπ

Party Suite: — Let's have a lot of fun this weekend! We will see if the "guys" are men or boys. Remember to behave Kelly! — B. S.

Maria Hawn, Your the best little sis in the whole world. Congratulations on your new standards position. I'm proud of you. — Love, your big sis

Pam Oglevee — Congratulations on initiation to Alpha Delta Pi! I'm proud of you! — Love, your Roomie

"DaVina" — Happy Valentine's Day. Let's hope for No more UW dissintegration. — I love ya! 'Cupid C'

"Ms Down-to Earth?" — Happy Valentine's Day, roomie. Easy with the weekend afternoon activities! — I love ya! 'Cupid C'

"Mas C and Mrs. Stu" — Happy Valentine's Day, Girlfriends. How did you ever get those nicknames? — You're awesome! Love, 'Cupid C'

"Ms Free Falling" — What are you doing in that elevator? Falling with 1, 2, 3, or how many! — Love ya! 'Cupid C'

2nd floor TABB — HAPPY Valentine's Day — Love Nancy

Lightning Lips, — The sight of you makes my heart skip a beat. The sound of your voice is so very sweet. Your scent makes me tingle, So let's mingle. — Absolutely Beautiful

Congratulations to the new pledges of Alpha Phi Omega. You guys are great! APO Love, — Kim W.

Alex Darling — I just LOVE watching you play raquetball.

Lil Aims — Just wanted to let you know what a great friend you are and that my closet is your closet — Your lesbian neighbor

Scammaster — Although we don't always show it. We really do enjoy your before class, after class, before dinner, late night SB visits.
P.S. Beware of the wall. — Kristi and Erin

Kim — So glad you won't be putting anymore cigarettes out on that ring. — Kristi

Elizabeth H. H. — You really need to grow up hon! Love — the ones you don't associate with anymore.

Martha
You're the Best sister-mom ever! We make an awesome team! Thanx for everything! I couldn't be more happier! I love you tons too! — Your kid, Monica

Finance and Econ Club Meeting – Feb. 12 6:30 p.m. Room 106, Hiner Building. All business majors welcome.

Sharon – Where are we going? What are we taking? Do you have a map? Thanks for always being there. Remember – 1 weekend a month – all over Virginia. Love ya, Kim

The Cunninghams Greatest Lecture Series presents "Cuba: Yesterday and Today with Dr. Maria Millian Silveira on Monday, February 19 at 7 p.m., 4th floor South Cunningham. The impact of communism, the economy and why Cubans have left their country will be the focus of Dr. Silveira's discussion. Questions and group participation will be highly encouraged! Refreshments available.

Off-Campus/Commuter Students: You have a mailbox in the commuter lounge, Room 211 — Lankford. Some people have urgent mail in their boxes. Please check yours!

Squibby – Keep practicing as your pageant nears! You will do great and look outstanding in your bathing suit. Take care and hope to see you soon! Love, Dave

WANTED:
Someone energetic, dedicated, motivated, creative and excited about becoming part of the residence life team!
If you've got what it takes to be an R.A., meet us at the Student Union Conference Rooms for an interest meeting February 13th from 7-8 or February 14 from 7-8.
WE COULD MAKE THE PERFECT MATCH!
Call Cindi, ex. 2691 or Charlie, ex. 2118 for questions.

The Sisters of Alpha Delta Pi would like to congratulate their newest sisters: Pam, Stephanie, Carrie, Dania, Donna, Terry, Crissie, Katherine. We are proud to call you all sisters. Loyally, the sister of Aδπ.

Congratulations to the 13 new pledges of Zeta Tau Alpha: Shannon Arnold, Stefanie Allman, Anita Whitney, Mandy Wright, Tara Dieter, Megan Morra, Ashley Gibby, Kelly Forde, Kelly Miller, Sarah Gravitt, Martha Cross, Kristin Wallace, and Paula Casiero. You all are the best! With love, the sisters of Zeta Tau Alpha.

Congratulations Riley, Russ, Shawn, Edison and Alan on pledging Alpha Chi Rho. Keep your head high, take it in stride, it will be over before you know it, so pay attention to detail. Good luck and wear your pin with pride ΑΝΔΡΙΖΕΣΩΕ.

To all PBΔ-PBTT Brothers and Sisters the time has come for all good things to come together. Let's party nuts at the cafe Feb. 8, 1990. The Rho's will stumble!

Bob and Jenz – Thanks for my great presents. I loved them all. Also, thank you for coming with me on my rescue mission. Love ya, NIK

K.P. – You're awesome, keep working on your songs and someday you'll be famous Love NIK

Martine – You know I only pick on you because you're so much fun to pick on. I couldn't have a better big sister and friend. You're awesome. All my love, NIKKI

Congratulations to all the new pledges of Alpha Phi Omega. The nation's largest co-ed Service Fraternity. Your Pledge Master Sarah

Congratulations Kappa Delta on a great rush and good luck to your new pledges. Alpha Chi Rho

Kev– I love you darling! Sorry we can't be together on Valentine's Day but you know you're always in my heart and on my mind. We will have many other chances to celebrate. You're just wonderful. Hope you aren't too sore. Love you always, Jo

4-0-odds – Hey guys! Just wanted to wish you all a very happy valentines. You are all great and I'm glad things are going better. Hang in there! Your buddy, Kim

To the 1st floor Cox Kissing Demon – Can I be next? You know who

The Sisters of Alpha Sigma Alpha would like to congratulate their great new pledges: Jennifer Beazley, Mary Kathrine Dailey, Wendi Davis, Debi Devine, Sherry Perkins, Tricia Popular, Julie Wiley.

Cyndi – I can hardly believe it's been almost 2 years. I love you more than you can ever know. Happy anniversary baby! Brian

Thank you everyone who helped make this year's midwinter ball a success. I hope you all enjoyed it. I give special thanks to Greek Council, Angelin Brewer, Alan Rapee, William Chestnut, and Joyce Trent. Thanks again, Wade France

Chelle – You've always been a wonderful "sister" to me. Thanks for always listening to me! If you ever need me, you know I am here! Have a great semester! Keep smiling. Love Vonda Kay

Lisa – You're an awesome suitemate and R.A. Thanks for all of your support! We're gonna have a great semester! Keep up the good work! Vonda Kay and Sharon Kay

Tennis Pro – Keep an eye on the closet. Don't ask, you probably already know. Want to go for a ride in the little bomber (to dinner) sometime soon? Happy one year and eleven month anniversary. I love you! -The Art Major

To the ROTC Department – Thanks for a fun time on the skiing trip to Wintergreen. Hope to do it again. MVAW

Tommy and Steff – Thanks for babysitting. It's nice to know someone cares. Do you have your flashlight? The ghosts are out tonight. Tammy make sure Steff sleeps thru the night. Your misguided suitemate, Kim

Dave – Watch out for those tours! They could be dangerous to your health and reputation. Guess who!

Dear Silent – Hi sweetstuff! Have you eaten any cookies or just talked lately that I haven't heard about? I can't wait till next year. Freedom at last. Hope you will be my bestest valentine and my bunk buddy forever. Hang in there, not much longer now. Love, your groaning buddy.

Poo Bear – Thank you for a very special weekend! Your special week is here! I can't wait to give you your surprise! I'm glad you have been there for me during this time. I'm lucky to have a person as special as you. I love you! "Your boy"

AIMS – Try not to throw your books out the window at late hours in the night— one day you might hit someone. Too close to the edge— had fun Friday — Love, your roomie.

Sharon Kay – I am so happy that we are roommates. We are gonna have a great semester. Keep up the good work. I am so proud of you. Thanks for always being there for me. You know where I live if you need me! Love-Vonda Kay.

Kim, Steff, Sarah, and Tammy – I hope you have a great semester! Don't hit those books - bottles too hard! Keep smiling! Vonda Kay

Sports

Proctor Takes State

If it's possible for a wrestler to own a tournament, the Virginia Collegiate Division II and II State Championship tournament belongs to Longwood's Ted Proctor.

The Manassas native wrestled to his third consecutive Virginia State championship title on Sunday and added two more wins to improve his career record to 59-24-1 as he works his way to sixth place on the Lancers' all-time list.

Junior Tim Mason and freshman Sean House also brought home individual state championships to help an injury-plagued Longwood squad finish second in the five-team tournament.

In the four years since the Division II and III state tournament was established, Longwood dominated the event with three consecutive state titles. This year the Lancers were forced to step aside for a much healthier Virginia State squad.

"We gave it the best shot we had," head coach Steve Nelson said Sunday afternoon. "I'm not disappointed. Virginia State had a much healthier team, but our kids really wrestled well."

Virginia State won with 86 team points followed by Longwood with 67.75. Rounding out the field were Newport News Apprentice (48 pts.), Norfolk State (37 pts.) and Washington and Lee (24.75 pts.).

Although the tale of the tournament is told by the outcome of the team points, the individual performances really tell the story for Longwood.

Wrestling at 158-lbs. instead of 150, Proctor's third-straight state title came in a different weight class than the previous two, but the victory was just as sweet.

"It's great to win three in a row and I'd like to make it four next year," Proctor said Sunday. "I seem to be reaching my peak just in time for regionals."

After two dual meets this week, Longwood will travel to Pembroke State on Feb. 24 and 25 to take part in the NCAA Division II Southeast Regional, the key stepping stone to the NCAA Division II national tournament. Both Proctor and Mason represented Longwood at the national tournament last season.

Mason is also no stranger to the Virginia State Championship. His victory at 190-lbs. brought him his second state title in as many years for the Lancers while bringing his collegiate wrestling career to a close with his second 20-win season.

Mason's career plans will keep him away from the Longwood squad for the remainder of the year, but the Lancers' loss is Virginia Beach's gain. The physical education major left directly after the tournament to fulfill student teaching responsibilities in that area and he does not expect to wrestle competitively again.

If his career is indeed finished, Mason finished with a respectable 56-40-1 mark earning him eighth place on the Lancers' all-time win list.

"We're really going to miss Tim's leadership and ability," Nelson commented. "He has wrestled really well for us the last two years and qualified for nationals last season."

The tale of the tournament continues at the 126-lb. class with House winning the first of what he hopes will be his own string of consecutive state titles.

House overcame an unsetting 2-10 first semester mark and plenty of adversity to shine during the school semester. He has won two tournaments since January and holds a 6-3 mark since the holiday break.

"I really took my lumps first semester," House commented Sunday. "But this semester has been good to me. Hopefully I'm still on the rise."

Longwood picked up places in eight of the ten weight classes at the State Championship. In addition to the first place wins of Proctor, Mason and House, the Lancers picked up second place finishes with sophomore Kevin McSherry at 177-lbs. and freshman Mark Denne at heavyweight.

Third place finishes went to sophomore Mike Faul, 134; freshman Jim Burgess, 142; and junior Joe Azero, 150.

	S	M	T	W	R	F	S
12 - 2	KEVIN THE GOOD TIME ROCK N' ROLL	WLIX 91.1 THE ALTERNATIVE FM					TINA G THE ALTERNATIVE SHOW
2 - 4	MITCH & DANNY SLUDGE FEAST	RICK C. JUST LISTEN O.K.	RELAX & TAKE A BREAK WITH KEI	ROCKIN' WITH RHONDA HEAVY METAL	CHRISTINE FREEDOM METAL	Cathy & Cindy DELIRIOUS	?
4 - 6	MC SHELL & L.E. SLY PARTNERS IN CRIME	MIKE A. ALL MIXED UP!	GLEN THE MOOSE SHOW	DAN SLUDGE FEAST	your music your time your life	ROCKIN' WITH ROXT	RAY LIVE & LOUD
6 - 8	JANICE & MIKE SOLID ROCK	JOHN FOX	BARB & KAREN p m s	JENN D.	THOMAS ALTERNATIVE NOISE	TAKE A TRIP WITH ANN C....	THE B-MAN IS ON VACATION
8 - 10	THE CORRUPTION HOUR - ROCK N' ROLL	SCOTT LIFE IN A FISH BOWL	CHRISTINE MANN PROGRESSIVE DITTIES	SCOTT McIntyre	THE BEST & THE WORST OF THE 80's	M O S T HARMLESS Y	JEFF PEPS WILD TYMES & EXPERIENCES
10 - 12	? & JEFF SHOW	NIC & JEN EXCELLENT ADVENTURE	HARRON SAX WITH A STRANGER	ZIPPITY DO DA ZIPPITY DAY	BRAD & KEITH ALMOST ANYTHING	JEFF CEE WHATEVER	RICK PROgress...
12 - 2		JENN & SHANNON LATE NIGHT ALTERNATIVE	JACKIE & CHERYL LATE NIGHT WITH WHO	TODD ROOTS ROCK STYLE	FOR COLLEGIATE MASSES		MYSTERY DJ

TEE- SHIRT CONTEST SUBMITT CREATIVE DESIGNS W/ THE SLOGAN: YOUR MUSIC, YOUR TIME, YOUR LIFE

HOSTING THE CAFE FEB. 20,1990

REQUEST ☎ 395-2475

Radford Squeaks By Longwood In Gymnastics

Longwood got a sterling performance from junior Cindy Shelton, but it wasn't enough Friday night as Radford scored a 175.2 to 166.9 victory over the visiting Lancer gymnasts.

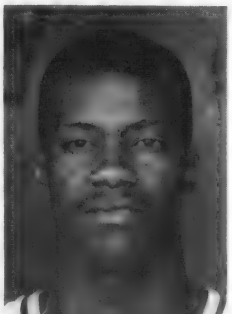
With Natalie Taylor out with a knee injury and Shelton and Beth Risley slowed by sore knees, Longwood turned in a solid performance against the Division I Highlanders. Risley, who usually competes all-around, took part in just two events.

Cindy Shelton

Shelton notched a 34.9 all-around score for second place at the meet. She also placed second on floor (9.0), third in vaulting (8.55), tied for third on beam (8.8) and tied for fourth on bars (8.55). Terri Dore tied Shelton on bars with an 8.55.

Freshman Danielle Williams earned her best all-around score of the season with a 33.85 for fifth place. The Lancer gymnast also placed fourth on floor with an 8.9. Risley, who may compete all-around at Sunday's Towson Invitational, got fifth on bars with an 8.45 Friday night.

Ten teams, including Division II power Air Force, will take part in Sunday's Towson Invitational which begins at 1. Longwood will take a 1-4 record into the competition.



Jefferson, Proctor Share Player Of Week Award

Senior basketball player Kevin Jefferson and junior wrestler Ted Proctor reached new heights in their respective sports last week and have been co-winners of the Longwood College Player of the Week award for the period Feb. 4-11. Player of the Week is chosen by the Longwood sports information office.

Jefferson broke two more of Jerome Kersey's Longwood season records while scoring 53 points and collecting 12 rebounds, 2 assists, 3 steals and 4 dunks in two games last week. The 6-5 All-America candidate broke Kersey's mark for season points (528) and field goals (214). Jefferson (24.8 ppg. avg.) has scored 545 points while hitting 232 field goals. He's among the top scorers in NCAA Div. II.

Ted Proctor

Kevin Jefferson

Jefferson had 29 points and eight rebounds in a 72-68 win over Virginia State Wednesday, scoring the last six points of the game to push the Lancers to victory. He came back with 24 points and three dunks Saturday in an 87-74 loss to USC Spartanburg, the 12th ranked team in NAIA.

With 1,686 career points, Jefferson is just 70 points behind the Longwood record 1,756 points Kersey accumulated. Jefferson now holds eight Lancer game, career and season records for points, field goal attempts and dunks. His 102 career dunks easily beats Kersey's former record of 91.

Classifieds

250-1000 SUMMER CAMP POSITIONS AVAILABLE.

Staff Referral Services provides a network of camps, now hiring, from the "Keys" to Wisc.-Minn. One application reaches all camps via a master computer. Applications at the school employment office.

"ADOPTION"

Happily Married European-American professional couple longing to share a beautiful county life with precious newborn. Please call collect anytime. 804-979-8347.

CRUISE LINE OPENINGS HIRING NOW!!
Call (719) 687-6662 (USA)

"ADOPTION"

Love, laughter and a brother's hand to hold. Our family longs for the baby who will fill our hearts. Let's help each other. Call collect, Ron & Karyn in VA (804) 978-7104 or our adoption advisor (802) 235-2312.

WIN A HAWAIIAN VACATION OR BIG SCREEN TV PLUS RAISE UP TO $1,400 IN JUST 10 DAYS!

Objective: Fundraiser
Commitment: Minimal
Money: Raise $1,400
Cost: Zero Investment
Campus organizations, clubs, frats, sororities call OCMC at 1 (800) 932-0528/1(800) 950-8472, ext. 10.

CAMP COUNSELORS:

Holiday Lake 4-H Center is accepting applications for summer camp counselors. Must be 19 years of age. The following positions are available: Nurse/EMT, Food Service Manager, Cooks, Maintenance, Canoeing, Horsemanship, Archery, Nature/Aquatic, Riflery, Outdoor Skills, and Theatre Arts. Salary plus room and board. Weekends off. Application deadline March 9. For additional information and application contact Richard Pulliam, Holiday Lake 4-H Center, Route 2, Box 630, Appomattox, Va. 24522 or call (804) 248-5844.
An Equal Opportunity Employer

Sunny's
CAFE CASABLANCA
Farmville Shopping Center
OPEN:
MONDAY -SATURDAY
11::30 - 2:00
5:00 - 9:00
Now Mexican Food And Beers!

VERY IMPORTANT NEWS ABOUT THE LONGWOOD YEARBOOK

The Board of Student Publications at Longwood College is accepting applications for editor of the Yearbook — "The Virginian." Qualifications are as follows:

A: Applicant must be a full-time undergraduate student at Longwood College, i. e., be enrolled in the equivalent of no less than 12 semester hours at the time of application and during term of appointment.

B. Shall be a student in good standing, i. e., not be on academic or disciplinary probation.

C. Shall have posted no less than a 2.5 grade point average in the semester immediately preceding selection to the position of editor, and shall have no less than a 2.5 cumulative grade point average.

Pick up application in Phyllis Mable's Office. It is due in Phyllis Mable's Office on February 23.

This is a special opportunity for Longwood involvement!

Get Ready Now for Spring Break!

MARY BETH BLESSING
Professional Travel Agent
392-GOGO • (392-4646)
Make Your Plans Today!

Lonely?
Need a Date?
Meet that special someone today!
Call DATETIME
(405) 366-6335

Rick Bodenheimer,
Heard any "Bangles" lately? Me either. See you at D.T.'s.
Agnes

Upcoming Events

Information on this calendar is collected and coordinated through the Student Union Office, 1st Floor Lankford Student Union, Longwood College.

For student organizations or college departments to make entries a campus calendar form must be filled out and returned to the Student Union Office.

Deadline is the Tuesday preceding publication date.

Tuesday - 13	Wednesday - 14	Thursday - 15	Friday - 16	Saturday - 17	Sunday - 18	Monday - 19
Kathe Kollwitz, 9-12; 1-5, Bedford Gallery. Wrestling: LC vs Gardner-Webb, Lancer. Women's Ping Pong entry blank & meeting, 6:30 p.m., IM Room. Eating Disorders, 1-2 p.m., Counseling Services. Fred Steiner, 9 a.m.-10 p.m., Showcase Gallery. Recruiter: Bureau of the Census, 11 a.m. - 2 p.m., New Smoker. H-SC - Black History Month Speaker, James Ghee, Attorney: "The History of the Civil Rights Movement in Prince Edward County," Crawley Forum, 8 p.m.	Authors Series: Shirley Ann Grau, 8 p.m., Wygal. Happy St. Valentine's Day. Coed Volleyball practice Choosing a major series, #4, 6 p.m, CPPC, S. Ruffner Women's B-Ball: LC at Maryland Bal. County, 7:35 p.m. Recruiter: U. S. Marines, 10 a.m. - 2 p.m., New Smoker. Film: "Eyes on the Prize II", 7 p.m., Lancer Cafe. Kathe Kollwitz, 9-12; 1-5, Bedford Gallery. Fred Steiner, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase gallery. Workshop: Job Search Strategies, 3:30 p.m., CPPC, S. Ruffner.	Kathe Kollwitz, 9-12; 1-5, Bedford Gallery. Forum on Athletics, 12:45 p.m., Red/White/Green Rooms. Weekend foosball entry blank due & meeting, 6:30 p.m., IM Room. Women's Ping Pong starts. Fred Steiner, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery. Recruiter: U. S. Marines, 10 a.m.. - 2 p.m. , New Smoker.	Movie Series: Mississippi Burning, 7 p.m., Lancer Cafe. Kathe Kollwitz, 9-12; 1-5, Bedford Gallery. Fred Steiner, 9 a.m. - 6 p.m., Showcase Gallery. 	Men's B-Ball: LC at District of Columbia. Women's B-Ball: LC vs Queens College, 2 p.m., Lancer. Fred Steiner, 3-5 p.m., Showcase Gallery. Weekend Foosball Tournament	Fred Steiner, 3-5 p.m., Showcase Gallery. Gymnastics: LC at Towson Invitational, 1 p.m. 	Movie Series: Mississippi Burning, 7 p.m. Lancer Cafe. Fred Steiner, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery. Lecture: "Practicing Diplomacy in a Complex World", 7 p.m., Bedford. Kathe Kollwitz, 9-12; 1-5, Bedford Gallery. Alcohol Support Group, 6-7 p.m., Counseling Services. Coed Volleyball entry blank due & meeting, 6:30 p.m., IM Room. Longwood Majors Fair, 5:45 - 7 p.m., Rotunda. Kathe Kollwitz, 9-12; 1-5, Bedford Gallery.

The Rotunda

Longwood College

Vol. 69 No. 16 | The Rotunda February 19, 1990 | Farmville, VA

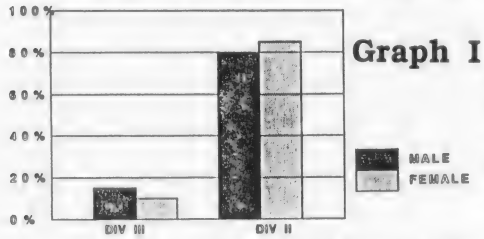
SGA Releases Position Statement Reviewing Student's Views

The purpose of this statement is to clearly define the opinions of the student community concerning the proposed changes in the athletic program by the Intercollegiate Athletics Review Committee (IARC).

The Student Government Association would first like to commend the IARC on the effort they put into their report. The IARC worked hard to arrive at the conclusions they did. However, the SGA feels that we must voice the resounding opinions of our constituency; and those opinions are in opposition to many of the IARC recommendations.

IARC proposes that the intercollegiate athletic program be moved from NCAA Division II to NCAA Division III. IARC has based its recommendations on five interrelated factors: 1) A move to Division III is predicted to lower the cost of drive. Travel costs are currently 25% of the operating budget. 2) IARC feels Longwood needs to explore every opportunity for conference affiliation. Affiliation with a conference could provide more competition in our region; and it would limit costly, time consuming travel to distant points. 3) If travel were reduced, Longwood would be able to engage in more athletic competition within our state and region. This, it is believed, will foster regional intercollegiate rivalries; as well as build school spirit and community support. 4) IARC predicts a greater number of students are likely to become interested, and involved in various sports at the Division II level. 5) IARC predicts that moving to Division III could have a potentially good impact on the recruitment of students. Particularly males and minorities; two groups to which the college has made a commitment to increase enrollment.

The SGA is of the opinion that the IARC recommendations are not satisfactory; and require much deeper consideration and research.



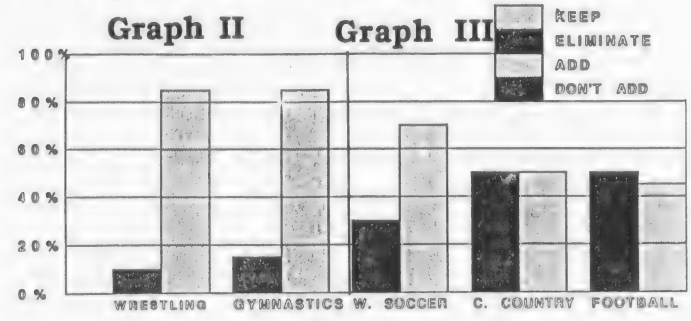
When considering the travel expenses of the athletic program, we realize sizeable reductions will not be made by strictly playing in the region. Athletes will still need to be transported, fed, and housed.

The amount spent on travel is not the place we need to examine for reductions. In a report by Bruce Grimes, an expert hired by the college to study our current program, we are told, "Travel costs for Longwood College athletes is slightly less than the average costs of class B institutions (Grimes, 12)" There are other places that need reductions. The Grimes report states that, "The expenses for supplies and equipment for Longwood College is six times greater than the average expended by class B institutions ... When Longwood College athletic expenses are compared to all class B institutions, Longwood College shows to have 72% more total expense than

(Continued on page 6)

(RESULTS OF THE S.G.A. SURVEY - MARGIN OF ERROR 5%)

MALE/FEMALE DIVISION II OR III



Graph I

ADDITION & ELIMINATION OF SPORTS

Graph II

Graph III

Pulitzer Prize Winning Author Starts Career By Falling Out Window

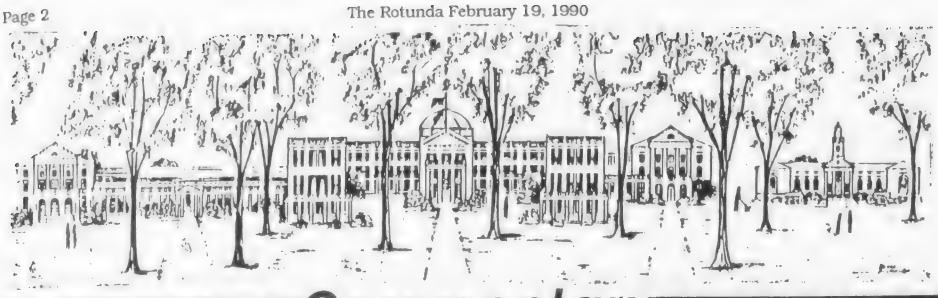
Author and Pulitzer prize winner Shirley Ann Grau. Photo Credit: Judi Weller

By JEN DOOLEY

Falling out of a window certainly seems to be a strange career inspiration; but that experience is exactly what convinced novelist Shirley Ann Grau to begin writing.

On Wednesday, Feb. 14, Shirley Ann Grau, author of the contemporary American novel, The Keepers Of the House did a reading from her book of short stories, Nine Women, in Wygal Auditorium.

Mrs. Grau, when asked why she became a writer replied, "Because I fell out of a window when I was six." She explained how she broke her leg attempting to gain access to the books in her grandfather's library that her grandmother forbade her to read. Her grandfather purchased her a typewriter to keep her busy after the fall.



Mrs. Grau was born in New Orleans in 1929. Her first book, a collection of short stories called The Black Prince, was published in 1955.

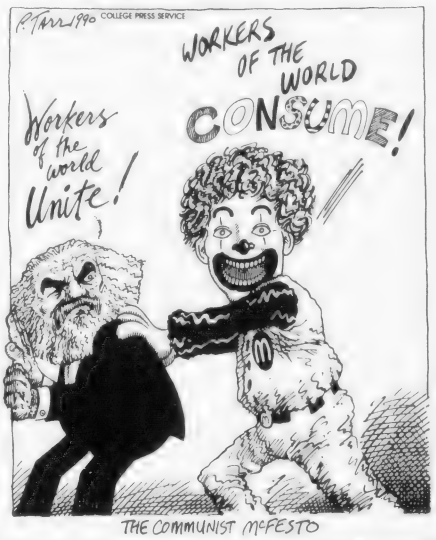
Probably her most famous work, The Keepers Of the House, was published in 1964. It won the Pulitzer Prize for fiction in 1965. Mrs. Grau explained that her

(Continued on page 6)

Contents

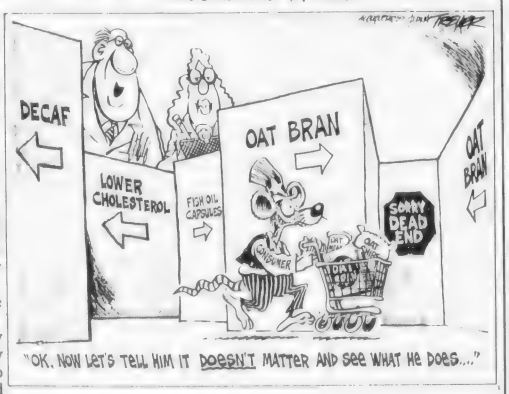
News....3, 4
Features....6
Commentary....2
Personals....5
Sports....7
Calender....8
Classifieds....8

Commentary



Letters to the Editor

To Josephine Nikolakaki,



Your story about the discrimination on this campus is well stated. I agree that students should learn to overlook racial, religious, and nationality barriers. I consider myself not prejudiced. I do not believe that people should be separated or put down because of the color of their skin. Radicals exist on both sides of the coin. The whites have the KKK and the blacks have Jesse Jackson. I believe that both sides should move away from the radicals. I believe that the KKK should be put out of business once and for all. I also hope that the blacks will look for a new leader other than Jackson, because he is not good for the movement to consolidation. The theory that white people are the only prejudiced people is wrong. I know that this statement was not mentioned in your article, but that is a general conception. I hope you and no one else takes what I am about to say wrong. However, I am tired of paying for what my ancestors did 150 years ago. This is supposed to be a non-discriminatory country, but that is a false statement. Today a black only needs to be nearly as qualified to get a job when competing against a white for a job. When applying to college the black with lower scores will get in before a white because of quotas. The system that is presently in action is one of reversed discrimination, and I would like to see it disappear. I just wish we could overcome our differences and live in a society that is free of discriminatory barriers. I do believe that it will take years to get the United States to the true meaning of its name. However, before that can happen concessions will have to be made from both sides. The unification cannot happen as long as the barriers exist. However, I believe that the barriers are more prominent on the black side, with the exception of those whites who have a severe problem with their unreasonable attitudes that blacks are worthless. The barriers that I am referring to are in the form of foundations. For example, why are there two Miss America pageants. One the standard pageant and the Black Miss America Pageant. Suppose that if a person decided to start a White Miss America pageant, how long do you suppose that it would take for the NAACP to slap a lawsuit on that individual. The same thought applies to the United Negro College Fund. Why can it not just be the United Fund for the Underprivileged of America. If a person would start the United White College fund do you think a lawsuit would be brought up by the NAACP. The black greek affiliates demonstrate barriers to unification. I have objections to the t-shirts that they wear with the names of African countries on them. I am of German decent but I do not go around wearing Germany on my back. The other Greek associations do not go around with the name of their ancestors' origins on their back. We are all Americans and should be proud of that fact.

This week was an amazing week, especially with events in South Africa. I was excited about the changes especially within the release of Mandela. There is the scent of change in the world and it is happening before our eyes. Hopefully it will influence this country to come together. We need to merge to make the United States a barrier free country, one country where all people are united, but we cannot do that until all radicals are purged from the scene. The world is changing. The United States has been on top for most of the century, but sifting tides in the world are beginning to make this position look in danger. If we are to stay on top we need to be united, because a nation divided cannot stand.

Name withheld

THE COMMUNIST MCFESTO

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
R. Bruce Gantt

Photography Editor
Jan-Marie Johnson

Sports Editor

Business Manager
Kim Bell

Advertising Manager
Michelle Lawhorn

Features Editor
Monica Gilbert

News Editor
Beth A. Lord

Layout Editor
Sarah Whiteside

Faculty Advisor
William C. Woods

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be signed, typed or printed neatly, and state the author's years. The Editor and staff reserve the right to edit any material submitted for publication.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 395-2120.

News

Steigman Speaks On Politics And Policy

Andrew L. Steigman, former U.S. Ambassador to Gabon, Sao Tome, and Principe in Africa, will spend the week of February 19-23 at Longwood College as a Woodrow Wilson Visiting Fellow.

Steigman will give a lecture on Monday evening, February 19, at 7 o'clock in Bedford Auditorium. The public is invited to hear him discuss "Practicing Diplomacy in a Complex World."

After 27 years in the U.S. Foreign Service, Steigman became assistant dean of Georgetown University's School of Foreign Service in 1985. He teaches classes on international negotiation and conducts seminars on diplomatic practice and careers in diplomacy.

His book, The Foreign Service of the United States: First Line of Defense, was published in 1985.

During his visit to Longwood, Steigman will speak to various classes and groups and talk informally with students and faculty. He will discuss "Careers in Foreign Service" on Tuesday, February 20, at 1 p.m. in Room 102 of Grainger Hall. This informational session is sponsored by Longwood's Office of Career Planning and Placement and is open to all interested persons.

The Woodrow Wilson Visiting Fellows program brings leaders in various fields to college campuses to help students understand the relationship between academic knowledge and its practical application. By their example, the Fellows demonstrate the qualities necessary to become leaders in their professions and in service to society.

Steigman has held foreign service positions in Nigeria, France, Libya, and Zaire, in addition to his post as ambassador to Gabon, Sao Tome and Principe. His work in the U.S. Department of State included two years as staff assistant to Secretary Dean Rusk, three years as deputy assistant secretary for personnel, and two years as director of the National Intelligence Tasking Office.

He has lectured in several African countries under auspices of the U.S. Information Agency.

A summa cum laude graduate of Princeton University, Steigman studied at the London School of Economics as a Fulbright Scholar. He also has studied African affairs at the American University. He is fluent in the French language and speaks conversational German.

Andrew L. Steigman, former ambassador to Gabon, Sao-tome.

European Study At Oxford

SELINSGROVE (Pa.) – Susquehanna University will once again be offering students the opportunity to gain an international flavor to their education this summer with its 1990 Susquehanna at Oxford program.

The Oxford Summer Session, July 2 through August 4, composes the majority of the program and gives students a chance to take credit courses taught by British professors while living at Oxford's Corpus Christi College.

Students interested in business and economics courses normally enroll in courses on British management and economic history. Students interested in liberal arts, meanwhile, enroll in two courses ranging from British literature, to politics, to history and culture.

Participants are encouraged to join the summer-session group early for a three-week Pre-Oxford excursion, June 13 through July 1, throughout England with extended stops planned in London, Stratford, Edinburgh, and York.

They may continue their European travel following completion of their Oxford course work with a Post-Oxford excursion. This 6-day tour, August 5 through 11, will involve a detailed excursion to Paris, France under the guidance of the Susquehanna faculty leader.

An alternate six-day excursion, August 7 through 13, to Paris is also available.

Another Susquehanna at Oxford program is a course on British Theatre in London, May 28 through June 26.

Costs for the Susquehanna at Oxford programs are $1,275 for the British Theatre course; $3,250 for the Oxford Summer Session; $950 for the Pre-Oxford Excursion; $450 for the 6-day Post-Oxford Excursion to Paris. Airfare is estimated at between $600 and $700 extra.

For more information and applications for any of the programs, contact James Lee, Director, Susquehanna at Oxford Program, Susquehanna University, Selinsgrove, PA 17870-1001 or call (717) 372-4200. The application deadline is March 1 with a maximum enrollment of 50 students for the Oxford Summer Session and 15 students for the June mini-term.

Beethoven Returns

Dr. James Kidd, pianist, of Hampden-Sydney's Fine Arts Department, and Dr. James Fudge, violinist, of Randolph-Macon Woman's College, will perform the final concert of the three-concert series, "Beethoven Cycle," of the ten sonatas for violin and piano, on Friday, February 23 at 8 p.m., in the Crawley Forum at Hampden-Sydney College. The concert is free and open to the public.

The program will include sonatas number eight, six, four, and ten. Beethoven's tenth sonata, Opus 98 in G Major, looks back to classical simplicity (first movement) and forward to his more free-form later period works (last movement). The final Poco Allegretto is the most interesting movement, in which mood, key, and tempo change constantly. Composed in 1812 (revised in 1815), the work was meant originally for Pierre Rode, who along with Kruetzer was an important pedagogue and performer in France. The work's first hearing was at the home of Prince Lobkowitz (to whom the "Eroica" was dedicated) with Archduke Rudolph of Austria on piano and Rode playing the violin. Beethoven, not pleased with Rode's performance, later changed the dedication to the Archduke. Reviewers were happy with this new sonata, and wrote in the Linz "Musikalische Zeitung" (January 1813): "Nothing more need be said about this work than that it leaves all other works of this type behind, for it excels over almost all of them in popularity, wit, and invention."

International Internships

James Madison University is pleased to announce the opening of recruitment for September 1990 International Internship positions. Designed primarily for juniors, seniors, graduate students, and recent graduates, this new program offers qualified Virginia students a unique opportunity to gain professional experience on an international basis in their field of interest. Complete details and application materials are now available for 33 positions in 8 countries. Packets have been sent to Placement Directors, Deans, Honors Program Directors, Presidents, and Foreign Studies Directors at educational institutions throughout the Commonwealth. Interested students may also request the information directly from Judy Cohen, Program Coordinator, at 301 Wilson Hall, James Madison University, Harrisonburg, VA 22807, phone (703) 568-6979 or 568-3592.

The deadline for applications is March 15.

AIDS Update by Dr. Richard Keeling

Dr. Richard Keeling, Director of Student Health at the University of Virginia and chairman of the American College Health Association's Task Force on AIDS, will return to Longwood College on Tuesday, Feb. 27, to give an update on the AIDS problem, educational efforts, research, and treatment.

Dr. Keeling will speak at 1 p.m. in Jarman Auditorium. All interested persons are encouraged to attend this program.

Dr. Keeling is a nationally recognized expert on AIDS and HIV infection (the human immunodeficiency virus that causes AIDS), particularly as it relates to college students. He is chairman of the board of directors of the National AIDS Network and immediate past president of the American College Health Association.

He has been a consultant on AIDS information, education, and ministry to the Medical Society of Virginia, the Episcopal Diocese of Virginia, the National Education Association, and to more than a hundred colleges and universities nationwide and a number of public and private secondary schools.

His report will include the latest findings from a nationwide seroprevalence study of HIV infection among college students (young people who are not ill with AIDS but who have been infected with the HIV virus and can transmit it to others). The study was financed by a $500,000 grant from the National Centers for Disease Control.

Dr. Keeling's visit, his third to Longwood, is sponsored by the College's Student Health Services.

Student Opposition To Division III Grows At SGA Forum

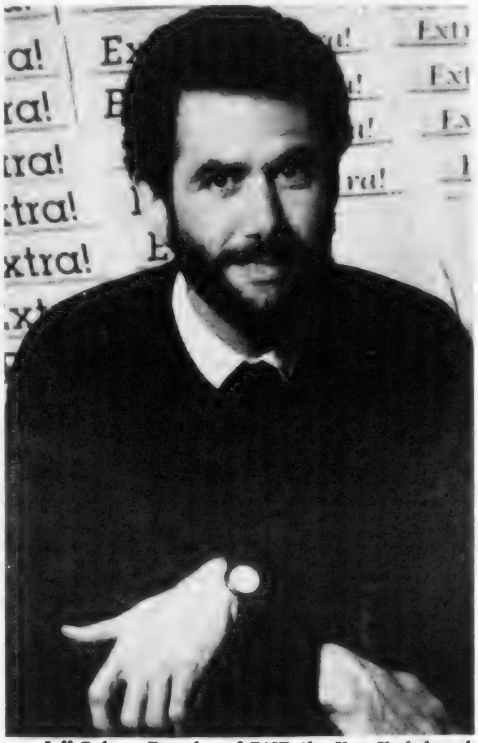
By DAVID PARISH

There have been three forums to discuss the future of Longwood athletics. A result of recommendation by the Entercollegent Review Committee, the forums have been marked by growing opposition to the proposals. Opposition that is growing more vocal as more students become aware of the ramifications the committees charges could have. An S. G. A. sponsored survey showed an overwhelming number of students prefer Longwood to remain in Division II status rather than dropping to Div. III.

The third forum was a display of both the emotion concerning the issue and the concern over Longwood athletics. While there lingered some confusion about conflicting claims from both sides, anyone leaving the forum was sure of one fact; this is a controversy that will not be settled easily or without hard feelings. Three members of the Board of Visitors attended the discussion, which began with presentations by two members of the Review Committee. The time of the forum was set however when Professor Nelson Neal announced he was "vehemently opposed to change" and the audience roared its approval. For all intents and purposes, it openedseasonon the committees proposals.

Both Neal and coach Steve Nelson voiced either discrepancies with the logic of the proposals or alternate changes, mainly the growth of fundraising to share up holes in the athletic department budget. There was, however a more fundamental issue about the committee and its proposals. Bradley Pomp S.G.A. President stated he was upset at the way the suggestions were answered and how the S.G.A. and the students were informed of them. "How can the committee know future students wishes". (about Longwood athletics) Pomp asked, when they cannot know current student wishes, which are readily available." Professor Neal said the committee had little or no knowledge about athletics and that "their vision is not the faculties vision". Women's golf coach Barbara Smith thought there may not have been a controversy had the committee not met in secrecy and without involvement of faculty. It is adviced the administration would be wise in adhearing to in the future. Perhaps the most interesting and no doubt the angriest speaker was the mother of a Longwood athlete who stood to say she was irate at Longwood's failure to notify parents about the possible changes. She further questioned the "open forum" to discuss the changes, since they were held in the middle of the day when many cannot attend.

"It would be a "tragic mistake to tear down a program that has been diligently built-up." Coach Smith's plea was evident of the growing frustration and concern amongst coaches and athletes. Women's basketball coach Shirley Duncan stated the current team would be "devastated" by the change to Division III. This was not mere hyperbole. Some of the Lady Lancers opponents who have moved from Div. II to Div. III have had radical declines of talent. It was amongst these concerns that Pres. Dorril took to the podium to close the forum. While Dr. Dorrill attempted to convey the carefulness and detail he must pay to all chairs before making recommendation to the Board of Visitors the audience needed no more time to make-up its mind. When the president attempted to dispel or show fault with earlier chairs against change, he was met by whispers of dissetion. It was a dissertion which grew shockingly louder, as the President struggled to ignore it and finished his remarks.



If there is any good to come out of this, Dr. Dorrill may have found it when he mentioned that more people are taking an interest in the ath-

(Continued on page 6)

Jeff Cohen Speaks On "Coverage or Coverup"

By STEPHANIE SMITH

On Tuesday, February 20th at 7:30, there will be a lecture by Jeff Cohen in the Gold Room of Lankford Student Union. Cohen, founder and executive director of Fairness and Accuracy in Reporting (FAIR), will speak about media bias in the news. Cohen will address the role the media plays in current events i.e. the War in Panama and changes in Central Europe. In the lecture, Cohen will show how the United States media are among the most conservative in the Western world. He will analyze the media-military-industrial complex and the revolving door which sends journalists from big media to big government and back again. This lecture is sponsored by the Student Union board and all are encouraged to attend.

Jeff Cohen, Founder of FAIR the New York based media watchdog organization.

Clark's Papers Aquired By Boston University

The papers of award-winning American author Billy C. Clark, of Longwood College, have recently been acquired by Boston University.

"Mr. Clark is one of the South's most distinguished writers and after 20 years of seeking these papers, we are proud that Mr. Clark has chosen our Twentieth Century Archives as the repository for his work," said Dr. Howard B. Gotlieb, director of Special Collections at the University.

Clark has written nine novels as well as numerous short stories and poems including many featuring the Southern Appalachia region. Clark's fiction draws on his childhood experiences in Kentucky where his father was a cobbler and his mother took in washing to make sure the family of ten didn't starve. He has said that "hunger was my most vivid memory and an education my greatest desire."

According to Clark, he decided to give his papers to Boston University instead of the many others which sought them because of the "international reputation of its Special Collections, its use as a resource by scholars, writers and blossoming writers and my respect and appreciation for Howard Gotlieb."

His works have earned numerous distinctions. The novel A Long Row to Hoe was chosen by Time magazine as one of the best books of 1960 and is used by many universities as a study of Appalachia. It was recorded on Talking Records for the Blind by the Library of Congress.

Trail of the Hunter's Horn now appears in Platt and Monks' American Anthology as one of the 30 greatest dog stories ever written, along with such classics as Jack London's Call of the Wild and John Steinbeck's Travels with Charlie. Many of Clark's works are in the standard anthologies and textbooks of American literature.

Currently a writer-in-residence at Longwood College, Farmville, Clark was a professor and writer-in-residence in the University of Kentucky system for 22 years. He is the founding editor of both Kentucky Writing and Virginia Writing.

The Clark papers include his entire work— his original manuscripts in various drafts, his notes and correspondence related to his publications. All future manuscripts and correspondence of Clark will be sent to Boston University for inclusion in the Clark Collection.

The Department of Special Collections was founded in 1963 by Dr. Gotlieb as Boston University's manuscript and rare-book repository.

CPPC SPRING RECRUITER SCHEDULE

FEBRUARY

13	U.S. Bureau of the Census	(New Smoker)
14&15	U.S. Marines	(New Smoker)
15	Mutual of Omaha*
21	Bear Creek Lake State Park	(New Smoker)
22	State Police	(New Smoker)
27	State Farm Insurance*

MARCH

6	F.N. Wolf*
7	Harris Teeter*
20&21	U.S. Marines	(New Smoker)
22	Peebles Dept. Stores*
30	Defense Logistics Agency*

APRIL

11	K-Mart Apparel*
25-27	U.S. Marines	(New Smoker)

*Seniors must sign-up in advance at CPPC, 2nd Floor South Ruffner. Resumes must be completed before the interview. Interviewing skills and resume writing workshops are held throughout the semester.

Personals

Rambler — You are an absolute RIOT! There may be no excuse for partying every night of the week now, ... but we (along w/ RBπ) are certainly working on one. I love you little squaw. Forever friends — Beemer

Jenny — Sweet child of mine — Welcome to AFΔ! We are very fortunate to have such an awesome pledge as you. You are doing a great job! I love ya a lot and will always be here for you. All my AF Heart — Monica

CHUGS — You are the most wonderful big sister that anyone could ask for. Thank you. And thank you for everything else you have done for me. I love you. — CHUCKLES

Denise, Connie, Traci, and the rest of the Wheeler Bunch — I hope you all liked the cupcakes! I made them especially for you. I miss all of you and maybe the next time I can find you. — Christy

Attention All — On March 20th and 21st the 2nd Annual Body Building Competition will be held. If you're interested in becoming the next Mr. or Ms. Longwood, please contact Mo Tollisen at 3915 or Bill Brady at 3880.

Thank you to the individuals already interested.

Karen, — You're a great big sister. I'm just sorry we don't get to see each other more often. Someday we might even get to meet each other's boyfriends. Thanks for being there for me. Love ya! — Debbie

Alpha Chi Rho would like to congratulate AΣA, ZTA, AΔπ, KD, ArΔ, Δz, ΣΣΣ, Σk, and AΣT on your new pledges. Let's keep up the good work and keep the greek unity as strong as ever.

Mish and Jan. — Ya'll are great suitemates! Thanks for being there when I need you. Don't worry Mish — everything will work out eventually. Love ya! — Debbie

Congratulations to the new pledges of Delta Sigma Pi! Good luck. It's hard work, but you can do it. — The Brothers of Delta Sigma Pi

Mish — You are NOT always right. — Me

Squibby, — Glad to have you back. Hope your mystery dinner went well. I know it did! See ya soon. Love — Dave

Shawn, — You're a great roomie and I love you. I hope the doctor tells you what you want to hear on Friday. Don't worry — you'll be walking again real soon! Keep your chin up and keep trying. Love ya! Debbie.

P.S. Me, giddy?! Never!

Sunday Comics

Jaggie B — Just look in the mirror and say "Timing." What time is it? Showtime! — Monica

Yes-N-DD — Happy 22nd birthday! Hope you have a great day. You deserve the best. Remember we're all here for you. Don't Party too hard. At least not without us. — Love the LAMZ

SCOTT — One or a hundred, it doesn't matter to me! Just remember, practice makes perfect! — Terri

Poo Bear: — Missed you this weekend! I want you to know the next time we will do the beach together! Thanks for a great anniversary! I love you! Love always, — "Your boy"

Dear Elizabeth — Personally, I really don't care which list I'm on, because any unimportant list of yours is of no concern of mine. Your roomie is my concern because I do not like what she lets you get away with. About staying out of your problems, you should try doing the same with other people. You've got a lot of growing up to do before you can even try to associate with us, but don't bother you're just a waste of time in our lives. We're not playing your childish games anymore.

P.S. It's $15 for Jenny. — Erin

Vonda, — May I ask you a question?! How does it feel to be perfect? Please reply. — S.O.

Courses repeated or taken at another college during the summer will be worth credit (on approval), however, these grades will not replace a previous grade or be calculated into the students G.P.A.

Reminder: Repeated courses completed at Longwood during the summer session replace the previous grade and are calculated into students G.P.A.

To the Green and Whites: — The Red and Whites would like to announce the rebirth of Sammy. He was christened Jan. 15, 1990 — Love, the Red and Whites

Selection For The 1990-1991 ROTUNDA EDITOR HAS BEGUN!

Applications can be picked up in Phyllis Mable's office and are due February 23, 1990.

QUALIFICATIONS:

1. Applicant must be a full-time undergraduate student at Longwood, i.e., be enrolled in the equivalent of no less than 12 semester hours at the time of application and during the term of appointment.

2. Should be a student in good standing, i.e., not be on academic or disciplinary probation.

3. Should have posted no less than a 2.5 grade point average in the semester immediately preceding selection to the position of editor, and shall have no less than a 2.5 cumulative grade point average.

4. Shall not have an elective or appointive position in Student Government during tenure as editor.

Interest Meeting!

Longwood Escort Service is looking for dedicated volunteers.

7 p.m. on Wednesday, Feb. 21
4th Floor, South Cunningham

Don't Walk Alone!

Longwood Escort Service Operates - Thursday - Sunday, 10 p.m. - 2 a.m. Call Campus Police for service.

Camp Fair Day

Interested in working at a camp?
Come meet Camp Directors. . .

February 28, 1990
in the Gold Room

Features

Classical Guitar Duo

Longwood College's Chamber Music Series will present classical guitarists Julian Gray and Ronald Pearl in concert on Monday evening, February 26, at 8 o'clock in Wygal Recital Hall.

The concert is open to the public free of charge.

Gray and Pearl have established themselves as one of the leading American guitar duos. They perform a variety of music, including works written for two guitars and their own transcriptions of music originally composed for other mediums.

The program at Longwood will feature Gray-Pearl transcriptions of two Brahms piano pieces (Inntermezzo), four pieces by the early 20th-century Spanish composer Manuel de Falla, and Handel's Chaconne in G. The guitarists also will perform works by a 19th-century Spanish composer, Fernando Sor, and pieces by four contemporary composers— Celso Machado, Michael White, Jorge Martinez Zarate (from Argentina), and Loris Chobanian.

The Gray-Pearl duo has performed to audience and critical acclaim in London, New York, St. Louis, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Baltimore, and many other cities in the U.S. They have been featured performers at the National Guitar Summer Workshop Festival in Connecticut, the national meeting of the Guitar Foundation of America, and the Second American Guitar Congress.

Their performances have been heard on National Public Radio and on other radio stations nationwide. In 1989, they became the first guitarists to receive a grant from Chamber Music America to commission a new work for guitar duo.

Critics have praised their "perfectly balanced partnership ... eloquent playing ... and superb finesse."

Julian Gray holds a Master of Music degree from the Peabody Conservatory of Music and was the first guitarist to receive a graduate fellowship at that institution. In addition to performances on the guitar, he has given concerts on the lute, bandora, and medieval harp. Gray teaches at the Peabody Conservatory, Essex Community College, and St. Mary's College, all in Maryland.

Ronald Pearl is a graduate of the San Francisco Conservatory of Music and holds a master's degree from the Peabody Conservatory. In 1978, on the personal recommendation of the great Spanish guitarist Andres Segovia, he received a scholarship to study at Santiago de Compostela in Spain. From 1979 to 1985, Pearl directed guitar studies at the University of Maryland, Baltimore County.

The final Chamber Music concert at Longwood this year will feature the Shanghai String Quartet on April 9. The quartet is in residence at the University of Richmond.

For information on other music events at Longwood, call the Music Department Bulletin Board at 395-2678.

Julian Gray and Ronald Pearl have established themselves as one of the leading American guitar duos, performing music written for two guitars as well as many of their own transcriptions.

Position Statement

(Continued from page 1)

the average class B institution (Grimes, 12)."

The SGA would strongly recommend that current expenditures be closely studied. Cost reductions can be made without a change in Divisional status. The administration maintains that to remain Division II, an increase of student fees is required. At a time when the college stresses innovativeness, the SGA challenges the college to make an example of itself for students. We challenge the administration to explore innovative solutions to this financial dilemma.

The SGA agrees that conference affiliation, is desirable for Longwood. Conference affiliation could provide opportunities for post-season notoriety as well as extra athletic revenues. Though it may be easier for Longwood to find a conference in Division III. We strongly feel that all avenues for Division II conference affiliation have not been exhausted, nor researched thoroughly.

There are three possible conference affiliations at Division II becoming available as early as July, 1990 (College Council Subcommittee, 2). Furthermore, the NCAA is currently studying the enhancement of Division II. The prospective changes in Division II could open the doors for conference affiliation at our current status.

The SGA feels until this issue can be more fully discussed, a change in divisional status would be a great leap of faith into a chasm of darkness. A jump in the dark gives no guarantees of conference affiliation. Without conference affiliation, regional play will not be enhanced; and rivalries will not develop.

Rivalries are as natural as athletics themselves, but they depend on student and community support. The SGA would like to point out that the Division III philosophy emphasis is on participants, not spectators (IARC, Appendix B). It appears Division III philosophy excludes community support which is an essential component in developing and sustaining rivalries. This philosophy counteracts the philosophy of the Strategic Plan, as well as the IARC report itself; both of which wish to improve college/community involvement.

Participation in athletics is an important out-of-class activity and contributes to the development of the whole student. To this end, Longwood offers its students a strong intramural program; which is entirely financed by student fees. Over fifty percent of the student body participates in the intramural program. Longwood's intramural program, which has received national recognition, is so effective because it offers good competition at various levels in a wide variety of activities. This is what encourages student participation.

Direct participation in athletics for the non-athlete student will not be enhanced by a move to Division III. Common sense guides us to believe that the number of participants in athletics will not increase unless the size of the teams increase (which we note would increase travel and other expenses.) Another factor that would not allow for increased participation is recruitment. Longwood coaches would still recruit students with experience in athletics to play on intercollegiate teams. With the arrival of the recruited athlete, the chance for the average student to participate is decreased.

The effect Division III will have on recruitment is a negative one. Males and minorities, when polled, preferred the higher level of competitiveness of Division II (see Graph 1).

This position statement has not covered the proposed elimination or addition of sports to our athletic program (though the related graphs indicate student opinions in this area). The SGA's rationale for this is that Dr. Dorrill has publicly stated that he will not recommend the addition or deletion of any sports to the Board of Visitors. If the President should modify this position, the SGA will be most forthcoming in responding to those issues at that time.

We admit our shortcomings in offering any meaningful counterproposals. But in all fairness, the SGA has had less than one-tenth the time given to IARC to study the proposed changes. We feel that it is impossible to arrive at intelligent conclusions in such a short period of time. Furthermore, to expect counterproposals so quickly is unfair.

In conclusion, the Student Government Association strongly urges the Board of Visitors to recognize unified student opinion and vote to keep our current Divisional status.

Bradley H. Pomp,
SGA President

Pulitzer Prize

(Continued from page 1)

grandfather who raised her was her inspiration for the main character in The Keepers Of the House.

Mrs. Grau attended Tulane University and majored in English with hours of Latin and Greek.

Mrs. Grau read her short story, "The Beginning" from her latest book, Nine Women because, she said, the story forms the basis for the half computed novel novel she is currently working on.

SGA Forum

(Continued from page 4)

letic program. It is an interest that is obviously sincere and deeply concerned over the teams. Unfortunately for the committee it is an interest that is standing in the way of its proposals. Unfortunately, perhaps, for Dr. Dorrill the interest appears to be an opinion solidfied campus and one he may have to face again. Should be recommend to the board the move to Division III. It is doubtful any explanation will pacify an angry and hurt athletic staff and student body. It is a possibility that could have a factor on how the administration is viewed.

Sports

Lady Lancers Stay On Streak

By KATHLEEN LELAND

The Lady Lancers battled through three games this week to emerge with three victories and extended their winning streak to seven games with two remaining on the season's schedule. Longwood went on the road to gain victories over Virginia Union and the Division I University of Maryland-Baltimore County and then returned home to shutdown Queens.

In addition, junior forward Carmille Barnette made her debut this week in the NCAA Division II rankings as the number two scorer with a 27.9 average and the number seven rebounder with a 14.0 average.

Barnette had been previously unranked because she did not fulfill game requirement. The NCAA requires that players must have participated in 75 percent of their team's games to be ranked and Barnette had missed five games early in the season due to a hip flexor injury. But as of last week, Barnette became qualified and immediately jumped to the front of the pack.

Barnette picked up an additional 83 points in the squad's three wins to move her into fourth place on the Lady Lancers' all-time scoring list with 1,144 points. She also shattered the record for points in a season with 530 already on her stat sheet and two games left. The old mark was 511 set by Maryjane Smith in 1979-80.

The Lady Lancers faced Virginia Union on Monday and came away with a hard-fought 74-61 win. Barnette racked up 32 points and ten rebounds in the contest. Junior guard Ann Callaham and sophomore guard Cassie Mullenix added 14 points apiece. Sophomore forward Salene Green rebounded 11.

On Wednesday Barnette made a three-point shot at the buzzer to squeeze the Lady Lancers to a two-point victory over the University of Maryland-Baltimore County. She led all scorers with 34 points and rebounded ten. Green led in rebounding with 14. Callaham added 16 points followed by sophomore guard Tena Philbrick with 14.

Longwood played its final home game on Saturday afternoon and shutdown Queens 80-56. Callaham and Green led the Lady Lancers with 20 points apiece with Barnette adding 17. Barnette led in rebounding with 15 and Green brought down 11. Callaham also provided nine assists and six steals in the victory.

This week the Lady Lancers travel to Guilford College on Wednesday and then have a week off before traveling to Navy on Feb. 27.

Wrestling Team Takes Third Victory

By KATHLEEN LELAND

The Longwood College wrestling team completed its dual meet schedule last week picking up a pair of wins over Gardner - Webb and Washington and Lee. The Lancers have won their last three dual meets to finish with a 6-8 dual meet record.

"It was great to finish the (dual) season on a positive note," head coach Steve Nelson said last week. "We wrestled well against Gardner - Webb and were even stronger against Washington and Lee."

Last Tuesday the Longwood wrestlers treated a crowded Lancer Hall audience to a 24-20 victory over Gardner - Webb.

Picking up individual wins in the competition were freshman Sean House at 126-lbs., sophomore Mike Faul at 134, junior Joe Azero at 150, freshman Chris Friedman at 158 and junior Ted Proctor at 167.

The Lancers traveled to Washington and Lee on Wednesday night and shutdown their opponent 30-18 with wins in seven of the eight matches wrestled. House, Faul, Azero and Proctor all picked up their second wins in as many days with additional victories supplied by sophomore Bill Johnson at 177-lbs., junior Charlie Parker at 190 and freshman Mark Denne at heavyweight.

This weekend the squad will travel to Pembroke State in North Carolina to compete in the NCAA Division II Southeast Regional. Individual winners advance to the NCAA Division II National Tournament held in Wisconsin on March 2 and 3.

Player Of The Week

Junior basketball player Carmille Barnette has been named of the Longwood College Player of the Week award for the period Feb. 11-18. It is Barnette's fourth Player of the Week honor this season. Player of the Week is chosen by the Longwood sports information office.

Barnette had a busy week leading the Lady Lancers to three victories, breaking the season record for scoring and making her debut in the national rankings. Longwood is currently in the midst of a seven-game winning streak with a 13-11 mark for the season.

A 5-10 forward, Barnette racked up 83 points this week with a 32-point, 10-rebound performance against Virginia Union, a 34-point, 10 rebound game against the University of Maryland-Baltimore County and a 17-point, 15-rebound afternoon against Queens.

Barnette's game against UMBC, a Division I school, was highlighted by a three-point game-winning shot at the buzzer to bring the Lady Lancers a 95-93 victory. Longwood also defeated Virginia Union 74-61 and Queens 80-56.

In addition, Barnette has shattered the record for points in a season with 530 and two games left on the schedule. The old mark was 511 set by Maryjane Smith in 1979-80. Barnette already holds the single game scoring record and could be the all-time leading scorer before her career at Longwood ends next season.

CARMILLE BARNETTE

Baseball Team Has High Hopes For '90 Season

As the start of the 1990 season approaches, Longwood's baseball team looks young and talented, and the outlook is filled with question marks which can only be answered on the field of play.

Longwood, 23-13 a year ago, opens its 52-game schedule with a single game at St. Andrews College, Feb. 23. Lancer coach Buddy Bolding is optimistic about the upcoming campaign, but his good feelings are tempered with the realization that the Lancers will have more first-year players than at any time in recent memory.

There are nine freshmen on Longwood-s 21-man squad. Four rookies will likely be in the starting lineup. Of nine Lancer pitchers, six are freshmen or sophomores.

On the positive side, the newcomers have added considerable speed and talent to a group of 10 returning veterans. Heading up the list of veterans are senior tri-captains Robbie Smith and Pete Criscione.

"Smith and Criscione are as dominating a pair of seniors as we've ever had play for us," said Bolding. "They've been listed in Collegiate Baseball's Division II players to watch for 1990."

The two seniors are coming off career-best years. Smith hit .378 in '89 with nine homers and 37 rbi. Along the way he had a school record 16-game hitting streak. He is moving from left field to his natural position at first base this season.

Criscione, a 3-year starter at second base, hit .345 with 15 doubles, six homers and 31 rbi while batting leadoff. He also led the team in runs (41) and has stolen 48 bases in three seasons.

Also back are catcher Scott Abell, .250, 12 rbi; centerfielder Eric Hutzler, .407, 8-10 stolen bases; and Nealan Chandler, .260, two homers, who played outfield and designated hitter.

Bolding can count on five veteran pitchers. Juniors Dennis Hale, Matt Carlisle and Tim Patrick are the most experienced of the group, while sophomores Steve Blood and Buddy Williams worked 36-plus innings between them in 1989.

Both Hale, a tri-captain, and Carlisle had some impressive showings a year ago. Hale (4-4, 4.26 era) led the team in strikeouts (30) and innings pitched (48.6). Carlisle (3-1, 3.46) was sidelined with shoulder trouble, but has come back strong.

The left-handed Patrick (3-2, 3.19 era) struck out 23 batters in 22.6 innings. Blood (1-1, 5.14 era) and Williams (1-0, 5.77 era) showed promise.

Four Newcomers Could Start

First year players who should be in the starting lineup are: red-shirt sophomore Chris Ward, right field; freshman Mike Tucker, shortstop freshman Terry Taylor, third base; and freshman Shawn Jones, left field.

As a group, these four players will give the Lancers a big boost in speed on the basepaths. Other newcomers who show potential are catcher-DH Chris Porter, second beseman John Hutzler, brother of Eric, and infielder Jeremy Utz.

Longwood's 1,000 Point Club Jerome Kersey, 1980-84, 1,756; Kevin Jefferson, 1986-89, 1,750; Joe Remar, 1979-83, 1,479; Lonnie Lewis, 1982-86, 1,452; Ron Orr, 1979-83, 1,335; Darryl Rutley, 1986-89, 1,230; Dale Shavers, 1986-89, 1,137; Doug Poppe, 1986-89, 1,111; Kenny Ford, 1978-81, 1,040.

Upcoming Schedule

Wednesday, Feb. 21 — Men's Basketball vs. UNC-Greensboro, home, 7:30; Women's Basketball at Guilford, 6:00.

Thursday, Feb. 22 — Gymnastics vs. James Madison, home, 7:30

Friday, Feb. 23 — Baseball at St. Andrew's, 2:30

Saturday, Feb. 24 — Baseball at St. Andrew's 1:00

Sunday, Feb. 25 — Wrestling at Southeast Regional, Pembroke State; Baseball at St. Andrew's, 1:00.

Classifieds

Get Ready Now for Spring Break!

MARY BETH BLESSING
Professional Travel Agent
392-GOGO • (392-4646)
Make Your Plans Today!

Lonely?
Need a Date?
Meet that special someone today!
Call DATETIME
(405) 366-6335

$100 REWARD
for information leading to the arrest and conviction on felony charges of the individual who stole the human skull from the Science Building last week. Contact Campus Police.

CRUISE LINE OPENINGS HIRING NOW!!
Call (719) 687-6662 (USA)

"ADOPTION"
Happily Married European-American professional couple longing to share a beautiful county life with precious newborn. Please call collect anytime. 804-979-8347.

— FREE —
PREGNANCY TEST
All services confidential.
Same day results.
116 N. MAIN STREET
SOUTHSIDE PREGNANCY CENTER
24-HOUR HOTLINE
392-8483

250-1000 SUMMER CAMP POSITIONS AVAILABLE.
Staff Referral Services provides a network of camps, now hiring, from the "Keys" to Wisc.-Minn. One application reaches all camps via a master computer. Applications at the school employment office.

"ADOPTION"
Love, laughter and a brother's hand to hold. Our family longs for the baby who will fill our hearts. Let's help each other. Call collect, Ron & Karyn in VA (804) 978-7104 or our adoption advisor (802) 235-2312.

VERY IMPORTANT NEWS ABOUT THE LONGWOOD YEARBOOK

The Board of Student Publications at Longwood College is accepting applications for editor of the Yearbook — "The Virginian." Qualifications are as follows:

A: Applicant must be a full-time undergraduate student at Longwood College, i. e., be enrolled in the equivalent of no less than 12 semester hours at the time of application and during term of appointment.

B. Shall be a student in good standing, i. e., not be on academic or disciplinary probation.

C. Shall have posted no less than a 2.5 grade point average in the semester immediately preceding selection to the position of editor, and shall have no less than a 2.5 cumulative grade point average.

Pick up application in Phyllis Mable's Office. It is due in Phyllis Mable's Office on February 23.

This is a special opportunity for Longwood involvement!

Upcoming Events

Information on this calendar is collected and coordinated through the Student Union Office, 1st Floor Lankford Student Union, Longwood College.

For student organizations or college departments to make entries a campus calendar form must be filled out and returned to the Student Union Office.

Deadline is the Tuesday preceding publication date.

Tuesday - 20

Kathe Kollwitz, 9-12; 1-5, Bedford Gallery.

Eating Disorders, 1-2 p.m., Counseling Services.

Intramurals: Coed Volleyball Practice

IM: Volleyball officials application due & meeting, 6 p.m., Iler.

Fred Steiner, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

Careers in Foreign Service, 1 p.m., Grainger 102.

H-SC - "Lecture on Fine Art/Craft Galleries," by Maurine Littleton, Owner of Littleton Gallery in Washington, D. C., Parents & Friends Lounge, 7:30 p.m.

Wednesday - 21

Choosing a major series, #6, 6 p.m., CPPC, S. Ruffner.

Recruiter: Bear Creek Lake State Park, 11 a.m. - 2 p.m., New Smoker.

Intramurals: Coed Volleyball starts.

Men's B-Ball: LC vs N. Carolina Greensboro, 7:30 p.m.., Lancer.

Workshop: Resume Writing, 3:30 p.m., CPPC, R. Ruffner.

Kathe Kollwitz, 9-12; 1-5, Bedford Gallery.

- CAC Movie: Dead Poets Society, Johns Auditorium, 10 p.m., $1.

Women's B-Ball: LC at Guilford College, 6 p.m.

Thursday - 22

Gymnastics: LC vs James Madison, 7:30 p.m., Lancer.

Kathe Kollwitz, 9-12; 1-5, Bedford Gallery.

IM: Men/Women B-Ball entry blank due & meeting, 6:30 p.m., IM Room.

Recruiter: State Police, 11 a.m. - 2 p.m., New Smoker.

Fred Steiner, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

H-SC - Honors Lecture: "Creation and Re-creation: Brining the Past of Life," by Bill Shear, Professor of Biology, Parents & Friends Lounge, 11:30 a.m.

Friday - 23

Fred Steiner, 9 a.m. - 6 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

Movie Series: Weekend at Bernies's, 7 p.m., Lancer Cafe.

Kathe Kollwitz, 9-12; 1-5, Bedford Gallery.

H-SC - "Beethoven Cycle of the Ten Sonatas (last of three concerts)," by James Fudge, Violinist, and James Kidd, Pianist, Crawley Forum, 8 p.m.

Sweetbriar - Spring Dance Concert by the Dance Program of the Theatre Arts Department, Babcock Auditorium, 8 p.m.

Films

Saturday - 24

Intramurals: Men/Women Weekend B-Ball starts.

H-SC - CAC Midwinters Mixer: The Feelies and Kevn Kinney w/acoustic Drivin' n' Cryin' and Peter Buck of R.E.M., Gammon Gym, 9 p.m. - midnight, $6.

Sweetbriar - Victoria Bond, Music Director of Roanoke Symphony Orchestra, Speaks on Conducting, Wailes Student Center, 7:30 p.m.

Fred Steiner, 3-5 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

Sunday - 25

Wrestling: LC at NCAA Southeast Regional (at Pembroke St.)

Fred Steiner, 3-5 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

Hollins - "The Ten Beethoven Sonatas, Part III", by James Fudge, violin and Hampden-Sydney's James Kidd, piano, Presser Recital Hall, 3:30 p.m.

Monday - 26

Kathe Kollwitz, 9-12; 1-5, Bedford Gallery.

Intramurals: Badminton practice

Movie Series: Weekend at Bernies's, 7 p.m., Lancer Cafe.

Alcohol Support Group, 6-7 p.m., Counseling Services.

Chamber Music Concert: Classical Guitar Due, 8 p.m., Wygal.

Men's B-Ball: LC vs Elon College, 7:30 p.m., Lancer.

Fred Steiner, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery.

Hollins - Black History Month Film: Eyes on the Prize, Part III, Banta Room in Moody, 7 p.m.

The Rotunda

Longwood College

Vol. 69 No. 17 | February 26, 1990 | Farmville, VA

Longwood Dirt Diggers Survey Site

By JEN DOOLEY

"The Longwood Dirt Diggers" – one of the few phrases in American Society that may be taken literally. The archaeological seat at Longwood is more than a group of undergraduate students who like to play in the mud.

To many, archeology is one of those areas that seems like it would be interesting— especially when we are seven year olds. Very few people sustain interest to the college level and actively pursue that interest. Longwood's own James W. Jordan, Ph.D, professor of anthropology, is one of those people, along with a number of students whose passion for dirt-digging greatly outweighs any thoughts of material rewards or recognition for their efforts.

Although we rarely hear about it, archeology is thriving in Farmville and surrounding areas solely as a result of the efforts of Dr. Jordan and some dedicated students.

On Saturday, February 17, a group of students surveyed a number of area sites including: a possible graveyard, a building site "of undetermined age or nature", and a creek area, among others.

As Dr. Jordan explained, the primary problem with site surveying lies in the availability of sites. Usually, Dr. Jordan will be informed of a potential site by farmers, game wardens or other private individuals who believe inspection of a particular area may result in discovery of valuable objects of information. The purpose of the site survey on the 17th was to determine whether the above mentioned sites might prove to warrant further investigation by the participants in Dr. Jordan's Summer Field School in archeology.

First introduced in the summer of 1980, the field school gives students from Longwood, as well as from other colleges, the opportunity to conduct professional research in areas never before investigated. Usually thirty to forty students participate in a two to three week session. The Field School is open to anyone from any major. The group is usually very diverse because it includes people who are interested in the past for a number of different reasons. Dr. Jordan explained that he, personally is interested in what it may have been like to have lived here hundreds of years ago as an Indian (the style of life in the past).

When the Field School first began only prehistoric Indian sites were investigated. Later, as interests widened, historical sites were also examined. The participants have dug at archaic, woodland and colonial sites, including slave quarters and cemeteries.

Dr. Jordan explained that, even after a site has been found, a number of problems still remain. Many of the landowners become suspicious that the archaeologist will try to take anything valuable that they find. Although items of value are extremely scarce, there are measures

(Continued on page 5)

Longwood archeology students survey a potential site near Longwood.

30 Year Club

Two long-time members of the Longwood College's faculty have been chosen to lead the College Council, the action half of a new governance structure that went into effect last month.

Dr. Carolyn Wells and Dr. Eleanor Bobbitt were unanimously elected Chair and Deputy Chair, respectively, of the College Council at the organization's first meeting on Jan. 25.

Dr. Wells is professor of biology. From 1969 to 1981, she held various positions in academic affairs administration, serving as vice president for academic affairs and dean of the college from 1975 to 1981. Dr. Bobbitt is professor of health and physical education.

The Council's voting membership totals 24 and includes the deans of Longwood's three schools and continuing studies, faculty representatives elected from each school and the vice presidents for academic affairs, business affairs, and student affairs.

The president of the College, the vice president of research and information systems, the associate vice president for public affairs and publications, and the faculty representative to the Board of Visitors are ex-officio or non-voting members of the Council.

The Council is responsible for recommending policies on Longwood's academic programs, effective teaching, conditions of employment and benefits, budgeting, and many other matters crucial to the College's operation.

Most of the College's standing committees— including curriculum, student life, finance and resources, graduate program, lectures, library, faculty research and development, procedures for promotion and tenure, and the Longwood Seminar— will report to the Council.

Dr. Wells said the Council "is an opportunity for faculty and administration to work together in a new way to make Longwood College an institution of high caliber."

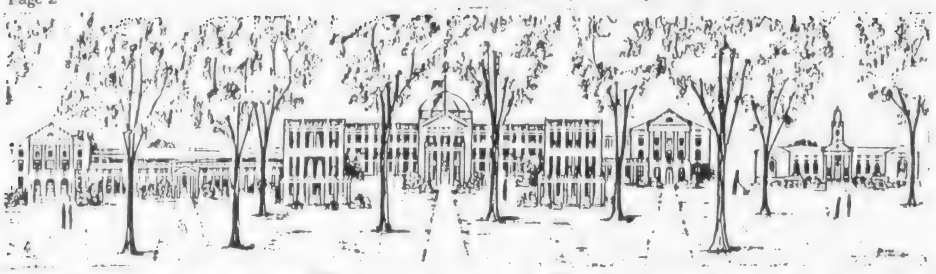
Among matters on the Council's agenda for immediate consideration, she said, are "the final implementation of a new general education program, implications of the State budget cutbacks, and several promotion and tenure issues.

"And we are still in the process of getting ourselves organized and functioning," she said. "I have the highest respect for my colleagues on the Council and look forward to working with them."

The other branch of the new government structure is the Longwood Assembly. Its voting membership includes all of the College's full-time teaching faculty, librarians, and coaches who hold faculty rank.

Officers of the Longwood Assembly are: Dr. Robert Webber (professor of mathematics and computer science), president; Dr. James Jordan (professor of sociology and anthropology), vice president; Dr. Robert May (assistant professor of mathematics), secretary; and Dr. Judy Johnson (associate professor and chair of the Department of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation), faculty representative to the Board of Visitors.

The Assembly will review actions from the Council. It may remand these actions to the Council for further study and consideration.



Two of Longwood's standing committees— the faculty advisory committee to the president and the faculty status committee— will report to the Assembly.

The Longwood Assembly and the College Council have replaced the Organization of Teaching Faculty. The new

(Continued on page 3)

Contents

News.....1, 3, 4
Commentary.....2
Features.....5
Personals.....6
Sports.....7
Calender.....8
Classifieds.....8

Commentary

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

On the evening of Feb. 16 as I was closing up, securing the Lankford Building, I heard voices coming from what sounded like it was in the basement of the building. I walked around to the steps, still hearing voices, but could not see what was going on. So I asked what's going on down there?

The reply I got was "Go Away Nigger". I waited for them to come up and the young lady who called me a nigger wanted me to shake her hand and accept her apology. I did not shake her hand, nor accept her apology. I told her I am nobody's nigger and never will be. These two students had just finishing urinating in public and seemed to be intoxicated, especially the one who called me a nigger. Of my eight years employed here this is the second time this has happened to me. The first time it was a visitor and now a student, someone who is supposed to be getting education to go out and teach someone's child. I hope and pray before you leave Longwood, you get yourself together because the word "nigger" in some cases could get you seriously hurt.

It's a shame that racism, prejudice and hate are among the campus and all over the world. It's a shame that people you work with or be around can smile in your face, but deep down inside prejudice is there.

I hope this young lady talks to her parents and they see and help (if they can) her realize the danger of name-calling. We need to stop and think why is this needed. In the last two issues of your newspaper, Letter to the Editor is dealing with racial problems here on campus. It may be helpful that Dr. Dorrill have a mandatory Race Relations class for all student, faculty and staff, so that we as human beings can relate better.

And for you young lady or should I say ladies, as you prepare yourself for the future (as one of you is doing student teaching right now), I hope that you won't slip up and call any of your students nigger because it will be a sad day for you. I feel sorry for you and hope you learn more of living and understanding each other in this troubled world.

Chuckie Reid
Asst. Recreation Mgr.
Lankford Building

To Name Witheld,

Your letter in response to Josephine Nikolakaki was quite upsetting at first. Then, upon further reflection and after talking with others, I realized that your letter was insignificant and trivial, but still you must be told.

You have missed the point entirely. I think that you must realize the severity of what you said or else you wouldn't have asked for your name to be withheld, but allow me to inform you. Any comparison between Jesse Jackson and the KKK is totally unfounded. I don't even see how you can mention them in the same breath. Why do we have a Miss Black America? Why do we have the United Negro College Fund? Why do we wear the likeness of Africa on our T-shirts? Why do we have black fraternities and sororities? Why should you care? But in a general response to your questions, it is to make sure that we, as a race, are recognized. It is to promote ourselves for the betterment of our race. You say that you are tired of paying for your ancestors mistakes yet the same mistakes continue today and I am certain that they will continue for awhile. But, we will continue to strive for success and excellence. If you cannot understand this, it is because your narrow-mindedness prohibits you from understanding and for you I feel nothing but pity.

Monica Gilbert

Dear Editor,

I am very concerned with several aspects of Longwood College. First, I am upset over the fact that so much is being done for recruitment here at Longwood as opposed to taking care of the current students. When you look around our campus, so much of what is being done is not for us. For example, so much money is being poured into face-lifting repairs to Longwood: Phone systems that look so attractive but are not really explained or agreed to by us, the students, the main users; security systems that really make nobody feel safer except those who really don't understand the problem; planting, mulching, new windows, new buildings, and new proposals are icing on a burnt cake that prospective students have yet to taste. I hope the administrators can refocus where their emphasis needs to be on — the current students.

Secondly, as a student of Longwood College, I put much of my time and energy into this school to make it a better place for everybody. I want to see Longwood's reputation grow into respect. Many students feel the same way; they take great pride in Longwood. However, lately I think many students are starting to feel used by Longwood. After all of the time and energy we spend, what does the college offer us in return? We see large fines for everything, long lines everywhere, parking nowhere, and more red tape than the U.S Government. Many students are tired of feeding the dog that bites them.

Finally, one of the most upsetting things about Longwood College is the behavior of many of the administrators. I have never seen so many people afraid to take a stand, voice an opinion, or speak out because they are afraid of losing their jobs. Where are the ethical obligations to your duties? If it is your job to care for the minorities, the Greeks, the Art Department, or whatever, stand up and speak out. If you're not part of the solution, you're part of the problem. It seems that only a few of the administrators are carrying this college to success. If you sit back in your board and committee meetings afraid to say anything, then perhaps you should resign. Longwood College doesn't need dead weight because dead weight doesn't float.

All of these comments are my personal constructive criticism of what I have been seeing lately. If anyone feels as strongly about this, student or administrator, please speak out. It is your right.

J. Rocco Tricarico II

The Rotunda
Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
R. Bruce Gantt

Photography Editor
Jan-Marie Johnson

Sports Editor

Business Manager
Kim Bell

Advertising Manager
Michelle Lawhorn

Features Editor
Monica Gilbert

News Editor
Beth A. Lord

Layout Editor
Sarah Whiteside

Faculty Advisor
William C. Woods

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be signed, typed or printed neatly, and state the author's years. The Editor and staff reserve the right to edit any material submitted for publication.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 395-2120.

Dr. Woodburn Gets Taste Of Education, Alaskan Style

By BETTY BRYANT

On a five-day trip to Tok, Alaska, just before Christmas, Dr. Mary Stuart Woodburn flew in a bush plane, went on a dog-sled, ate moose sausage, and drove a snowmobile for the first time.

Dr. Woodburn, who is professor of education at Longwood College, also worked with 40 teachers and school administrators who are responsible for educating 300 students scattered over a 25,000-square-mile area of central Alaska. Many of these students are Native Americans of the Athapascan tribe.

Tok is located at a crossroads on the Alaska highway. "It's a small community, about the size of Rice," Woodburn said, "but since it's on the major highway through Alaska, there are several nice motels there. It is the tourist stop for those visiting Canada and northern Alaska."

She flew by commercial airliner to Fairbanks. From there to Tok, a four-hour trip by car, she traveled in "an incredibly small" single-engine plane.

"The superintendent of schools, Spike Jorgensen, is a bush pilot," Woodburn said. "He uses the plane to check on outlying schools and families. While I was there, he took me on a three-hour flight over the Alaskan range — I saw magnificent mountains and glaciers, a great variety of wild life, and the fuel pipeline laid during World War II for our planes to refuel."

Many of the teachers in the Tok school system are bush teachers, Woodburn said. "That means the teachers go by plane, dog sled, or all-terrain vehicles once a month to isolated families living alone or in tiny camps in the wilderness where they are looking for gold or trapping."

These families have school-age children. "Because the teachers cannot stay long in any one place, they teach the mothers so they will be better equipped to teach their children," Woodburn said. Once these isolated students reach the high school level, they study by correspondence.

Most of Alaska's teachers are transplants from other parts of the United States. "The ones that I met are well-prepared," Woodburn said. "Most of them have master's degrees."

Teachers' salaries and benefits are exceptionally good. "Alaska is a rich state, primarily because of revenue from the oil pipeline," Woodburn said. "There is a state trust fund that provides an annual bonus of $800 to $1,000 for every person who has lived in the state for a year. The bonus comes from interest accrued from a sum the oil companies gave the state some years ago. Each member of the family eagerly anticipates these individual checks before Christmas each year."

The financial rewards are a factor in bringing teachers into Alaska, but Woodburn thinks there is a deeper motivation. "Life there is always challenging," she said. "The teachers I worked with have chosen to take on those challenges because they want to make a real difference in the lives of the students and their families."

The school buildings she saw are "small but very well kept," she said. There is only one high school in the entire area.

"The teachers are respected and valued," she said. "They are the leaders in the community."

Very few of Alaska's Native Americans go to college, Woodburn said, and many of those who attempt college are unsuccessful.

"It isn't that they are not prepared academically," she said. "It's more a problem of culture shock. These people grow up in extremely close-knit communities, where all resources are shared and there is a strong support system. When they leave home to go to college, they miss that support system."

Members of the Tok school system's professional development committee had heard Dr. Woodburn speak at a conference in New York six years ago. "They remembered my name and that I taught at Longwood," she said. "When their teachers requested workshops for reading and language arts, they called me and we made arrangements for the visit."

Woodburn said she focused on the elementary, middle, and high school levels "to help those teachers make adjustments when there is a gap between the reading level of the textbooks and the reading abilities of their students."

Her hosts were "warm and wonderful people," Woodburn said. "Because my visit was so short, they made a special effort to share their way of life and to entertain me."

One afternoon they stopped work early so Woodburn could enjoy a dog sled run. "My lead dog, named Sasha, was a veteran of the Iditarod (Alaska's 1,100-mile dog sled race), so she knew exactly what she was doing. Thank goodness, because I certainly didn't!"

And in the evenings, she explored the area on a snowmobile. "There are miles and miles of trails through the countryside," she said. "I was zipping along at 50 miles an hour, as curtains of the northern lights dropped and danced overhead. It was wonderful!"

The temperature was mild during her visit, averaging between 10 and 20 degrees above zero. "The first significant snow of the winter, about 15 inches, had fallen just before I arrived," she said.

Woodburn said she had packed her warmest clothes, but "I was told they just wouldn't do. I was provided with a fur-lined parka, gloves, and boots, made by the Athapascans from animals they had hunted or trapped. I never got cold."

Everyone who lives in the central Alaska region hunts and traps, Woodburn said. "It's a matter of survival. They cannot raise cattle or hogs in that severe climate, and the nearest supermarket may be a four-hour drive away. They have a few country stores, but eggs, beef, pork, and milk are quite expensive.

"They eat moose, bear, caribou, salmon, and whale fat," Woodburn said. The latter delicacy she found "absolutely disgusting, but Eskimos chew it to help them stay warm."

Nothing is wasted, she said. "When a caribou is killed, they even boil the bones. The softened bones are cut up and stored with the congealed broth as food for the sled dogs."

Woodburn's experience in Alaska is one she will never forget. "I am grateful that I had the opportunity to see that special culture firsthand so I can share it with my students here at Longwood," she said.

"The teachers I worked with in Tok are implementing many of the innovative strategies I shared," she said. "They are corresponding with me and sending samples of work by their students."

Board Of Visitors Votes To Remain Div. II

By JIM WOOD

On this day, Friday the twenty-third of February, the word on Longwood's future divisional status will be known. I've come expecting the unfortunate fate: Division III.

At 12:45, the seats are nearly empty. Two state paper pushers exchange the numbers and terms that are devoid of humanity. In the hall, good old boys press the flesh. Two come in discussing pro-am golf and how it relates to raising funds for some William and Mary team.

By one o'clock, the meetings scheduled time, the seats are almost filled. Down front are three older ladies, probably alumnae come to keep tabs on just who is running their alma mater. They'd better be satisfied; in the class of '29 there aren't many sources of endowments left.

Curtain time: Enter Dorrill. First on the agenda is the President's recommendation concerning MCAA Division placement. To my surprise, the good Doctor announces the plan to remain Division II "until further review." A motion is made supporting the recommendation and is carried. Multitudes leave with sighs of relief, but the politically wise instead debate the inevitable. Someday the revenue, the enrollment, and the suffering of quality will come.

News For Students With Stafford Loans

A recently enacted statute has made changes to the Federal student financial assistance programs that will directly affect a good portion of the Longwood College student body— those receiving Stafford Student Loans (formerly Guaranteed Student Loans).

The law reads as follows:

The proceeds of any Stafford or SLS loan must now be disbursed in two or more installments regardless of the amount of the loan or the length of the period of enrollment for which the loan is made. None of these installments may exceed more than one-half of the loan. The second installment may not be disbursed until at least one-half of the loan period has elapsed or 30 days prior if requested for the beginning of the semester.

This law basically means that students who borrow for the entire academic year will receive a check each semester for one-half of their loan, minus fees. The student who borrows for one semester only will still receive two checks (one-half of the loan, minus fees) during that one semester.

Some students will see the affects of this statute immediately. We hope this will answer some of the questions you have. The financial aid office has the details on these changes.

30 Year

(Continued from page 1)

two-branch system provides "broad participation" in the larger body and "a second body that is small enough to be efficient."

The new governance structure was designed by a special committee that studied and debated for more than a year. The committee's report was the subject of a college-wide forum last March. It was presented to President William F. Dorrill in April, approved by the Organization of Teaching Faculty in May, and endorsed by the Board of Visitors in July.

Dr. Wells and Dr. Bobbitt are among six faculty members who have served Longwood for 30 years or more. Dr. Wells is a native of Atlanta and a graduate of Agnes Scott College. She came to Longwood in 1960, two years after completing her master's and Ph.D degrees at Emory University.

Dr. Bobbitt grew up in Roanoke. She received her bachelor's degree from Longwood, her M.S. degree from the University of Tennessee, and her Ph.D. from the University of Maryland. She returned to Longwood in 1954 as a member of the faculty.

Other members of the "30-or-more club" at Longwood are Martha H. LeStourgeon (1948), director of the library and associate professor of library science; Dr. James M. Helms (1954), professor of history; Dr. Merry Lewis Allen (1960), associate professor and chair of the department of mathematics and computer science; and Dr. Maurice P. Sneller (1960), professor of history.

The Finnish Exchange

Three students on the Longwood College campus this semester are thousands of miles from home, are taking all their classes in a foreign language and are even studying another foreign language.

But nothing has stopped Anna-Maria "Ansku" Lehtonen, Sari Raja-aho and Satu Paarvala from making the most of their visit.

Ansku, 26, and Sari and Satu, both 24, are physical education majors from the University of Jyvaskyla in Finland. That university and Longwood had a faculty exchange program from 1983 to 1987. Ansku, Sari and Satu are the first students from Jyvaskyla to attend Longwood.

All three students are performing with the Catalinas, Longwood's synchronized swimming club, and Satu also is performing with the Longwood Company of Dancers. Each is taking at least 16 credit hours, including French for the first time.

Three Finnish students — Satu Paarvala (from left), Sari Raja-aho and Anna-Maria "Ansku" Lehtonen — are attending Longwood this semester.

The Finns, who already have taken a weekend trip to New York, bought a car recently so they can travel. Ansku and Sari plan to visit Florida over springbreak, and Satu, accompanied by her boyfriend from Finland, is going to Los Angeles. They also want to see Washington and Charlottesville.

"We'd like to see as much of this country as possible on the weekends," said Sari.

Sari and Satu are in their fourth year at the University, and Ansku, who previously attended a two-year sports institute, is in her third year. All physical education majors are enrolled in a five-year master's degree program; the bachelor's program was discontinued a few years ago.

The University of Jyvaskyla is the only university in Finland that offers degrees in physical education and related fields. Physical education is part of the Faculty of Sport and Health Sciences, one of five "faculties," or academic departments.

Like Longwood, Jyvaskyla evolved from a teacher-training college founded in the 19th century and still prepares teachers. Programs also are offered in the humanities, the sciences, and the social sciences. Enrollment is about 7,400.

To be accepted into the Faculty of Sport and Health Sciences, one must pass a rigorous examination that consists of written and practical skills tests.

"Only five percent of the people who want to get into this program can get in," Ansku said.

Nearly all college expenses in Finland are free, they said. All they have to pay for is health insurance ($100 annually), and housing and food.

Like most young Finns, they speak English and are familiar with American culture.

Miss Longwood Pageant Judges Chosen

The stellar panel of judges for this year's Miss Longwood Pageant will include a communications consultant who has twice judged the Miss American Pageant.

He is Bill Young, a consultant for Bassett Industries who previously served as a designer for retail corporations in New York and Los Angeles. He has coordinated wardrobes for various celebrities, sports personalities, and Miss American contestants. He was on the national panel of judges for the Miss America Pageant in both 1987 and 1989.

The other judges for the Miss Longwood Pageant are: Sabrina Squire, an award-winning anchor and reporter for WWBT-TV in Richmond; Jenny Taubman, founder and head of a professional personal image company in Roanoke; Robin Elder Slaughter, a former Miss Longwood and Governor's Fellow who has been an entertainer for the Royal Caribbean Cruise Line; and Tim Rogers of Charlotte, NC, who has combined a background in political science and modeling and was a national finalist in the "Faces of the 80s" contest sponsored by "Gentlemen's Quarterly" and the Ford Models Agency.

The Pageant will be held Saturday, March 24, at 8 p.m. in Jarman Auditorium. Eleven contestants, selected from 28 in preliminaries, will vie for the Miss Longwood Crown and the right to represent Longwood in the Miss Virginia Pageant next summer.

Mr. Rogers, a professional model, is membership-services representative for the State Employees Association of North Carolina. He is permanent emcee for North Carolina's largest Miss America preliminary, the Miss Randolph County Pageant. He has judged numerous pageants. He earned his B.A. degree from the University of North Carolina, where he received the David DeSautels Fellowship as the "Outstanding Political Science Student." He was an exchange student to West Germany and to the University of Toronto. He also was one of eight national winners of a fellowship to tour Israel. He is listed in "Outstanding Young Men of America."

Ms. Squire has been a television and radio reporter for 10 years. She is currently the 6 p.m. and 11 p.m. weekday co-anchor for the Richmond NBC affiliate. In her six years with Channel 12, she has worked as City Hall reporter, weekend anchor/producer, and talk show host. She has also narrated documentaries and training films for schools, museums, and businesses and served as keynote speaker for numerous civic, business, and religious organizations.

She attended Howard University in Washington, D.C., and Virginia Commonwealth University, earning her B.S. degree at VCU in 1976.

Ms. Taubman is a personal-image consultant for corporate groups and private clients, including several Miss Virginias. Educated in Israel, Scotland, and England, she has had extensive studies and work in fashion design, art, color, and merchandising. She is also a model. Ms. Taubman is a member of the Board of Directors of the Longwood College Foundation.

Mrs. Slaughter, a native of Buckingham, has been Miss Longwood, Miss Appomattox, and Third Runner-Up in the Miss Virginia Pageant. While at Longwood, she was a Longwood Ambassador, a member of the Judicial Board, and one of only 20 college seniors in Virginia selected as a Governor's Fellow. She was graduated cum laude with a major in government. She later earned an M.A. degree in communications from Wake Forest University. She was chosen to Outstanding Young Women of America in 1987. With Royal Caribbean Cruise Line, she has been assistant cruise director, social hostess, and an entertainer.

Congrats To Equestrian Team

By LORI LAZEAR

Congratulations to the riders of the Longwood College Equestrian Team on their performance last Saturday, February 17: Carrie Seitz, 6th place, Intermediate Flat; Tara Diter, 5th place, Novice Flat; Tara Winters, 5th place, Novice Flat; Lisa Lockwood, 5th place, Novice Flat; Stephanie Harbaut, 4th place, Open Fences; Tami Stanton, 2nd place, Open Fences; Julie Miller, 5th place, Open Fences; Tara Winters, 6th place, Novice Fences; Crystal Mitchell, 4th place, Novice Fences; Lori Lazear, 4th place, Advanced Walk-Trot-Canter; Page Perry, 4th place, Beginner, Walk-Trot; Crystal Mitchell, 3rd place, Novice Flat.

Good job at the University of Virginia, judged by Donna Eicher, team!

Good luck this weekend at William & Mary.

Features

High School Forensics Success At Longwood

Longwood College hosted two high school Forensics competitions: James River District on February 15th and Southside District on February 22. Both competitions ran between 12:30 and 3 in Hines and Lankford buildings. Amelia County, Central of Lunenburg, Goochland County, Prince Edward County, and Powhatan High Schools competed in the James River District competition. Bluestone, Brunswick, Nottoway, Park View and Randolph-Henry High Schools attended the Southside meet.

In the James River competition, Central of Lunenburg took first in eight out of eleven categories: girls extemporaneous speaking, boys and girls oratory, boys prose, boys poetry, spelling, humorous dramatic interpretation, and serious dramatic interpretation. First place in boys' extemporaneous speaking, girls prose, and girls poetry were won by Prince Edward students. All thirty-four students participating in the meet made an outstanding showing.

Randolph-Henry made the strongest showing at the Southside tournament. Students at Randolph-Henry took first place in boys and girls prose, boys and girls poetry, girls extemperaneous speaking, boys oratory, and humorous interpretation. Nottoway High School took Boys extemporaneous speaking and spelling. Girls oratory was won by Bluestone High, and dramatic interpretation was taken by Park View High.

Aiding in the tournaments was the Longwood College Forensic Team and other helpful Longwood students, all of whom deserve a word of thanks.

Dr. Sprague Traces Spirit Of Longwood

By DENISE DAUBENSPECK

Longwood College: A History by Dr. Rosemary Sprague, was written in celebration of Longwood's sesquicentennial Wednesday, February 21, distinguished professor of English, member of the Board of Visitors, and former author was the guest speaker for an evening at the Collanades. She discussed her reasons for beginning the project, the opening of Longwood, administration disputes, and social attitudes. She began the history with two objectives in mind. First, she wanted to trace the biographies of those who made Longwood a success. The second thing she hoped to accomplish was discovering what kept the college "spirit" alive for such a long period of time.

The present day Longwood has been through numerous changes. It opened in 1839 under the name Farmville Seminar for Girls. In 1949 the name changed to Longwood College. Another important change occurred in 1976. This was when the college went co-ed.

The college had minor disputes over academic qualifications and what was adequate attire and behavior for young women and later young men. Despite their occurrences these disputes were made public. They were intentionally withheld from the students and media. Longwood has seen many changes and endured them and "to the present is still committed to education and the cultivation of the mind to increase the spirit."

ZTA's Adopt Grandmother

By CHERYL JEFFREY

Every Wednesday, members of Longwood's chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha pay a visit to their "grandmother." ZTA's participate in a program entitled "Adopt-A-Grandmother." Their special "grandmother" is a woman named Isabelle, who lives at the Weyanoke Inn, a local retirement home.

In Isabelle's room, there is a ZTA banner hung on the wall. Isabelle is often seen wearing a ZTA button as a display of her spirit for the "adoptive" sorority. Shannon Arnold, a pledge of ZTA, says that Isabelle knows a lot about pledging and many other aspects of the sorority. Shannon adds, "During our visits Isabelle does much of the talking, letting us know what she has been doing over the past week."

Zeta Tau Alpha also participates in other service projects throughout the year. At the present time, ZTA's are collecting aluminum cans to be recycled. At other times of the year they also visit Elder-care and hold blood drives. The national philanthropy for ZTA is ARC, the Association For Retarded Citizens. All of the money raised at ZTA's annual BMOC event Best Man on Campus, is donated to ARC.

College Governing Boards Change

By AMY HUDSON

As the dust from the opening of state legislatures around the country begins to lift, an unusual number of states find themselves weighing measures to merge and even purge the regents and trustees who run their public colleges.

If the separate measures pass, Nebraska, Arizona, Illinois, West Virginia and Iowa will switch around their campus governing boards.

"There's a fairly high degree of dissatisfaction in the way institutions are governed," observed Barbara Taylor of the Association of Governing Boards in Washington, D.C.

No one is quite sure what effect such changes would have on students, or even if the changes are a good idea.

"Making structural changes is often the wrong course to take," said Taylor, "but it's fairly natural."

Taylor and others worry the bills are the product of legislators' need to come up with a quick fix, a way to show their constituents that the "quality of education" is improving, and a way to try to keep the costs of running state colleges low enough to avoid raising taxes.

In Nebraska, for instance, legislators think they can save money by abolishing the two boards that govern the University of Nebraska (NU) and the state colleges. In their places would be seven smaller boards to oversee the three campuses of the University of Nebraska and the state's four colleges. These boards, in turn, would answer to a new "super" board.

At the same time, the proposal helps legislators curry political favor by acting against NU's regents, who aroused anger last year for not revealing why they fired President Ronald Roskens and for failing to state a clear position on whether Kearney State College should merge with NU.

A January Lincoln and Journal Star poll found resentment is still high. Only four of each 10 Nebraskans surveyed approved of the regents' job performance.

Meanwhile, Arizona legislators, many of whom think the state's Board of Regents is too powerful, may reduce regents' term from eight to six years. They would also limit regents to one term.

"For every state looking at limiting power, there's another state wanting to consolidate power," Taylor said.

In Illinois, the desire to reform campus governance came from a "general feeling that somehow higher education was not being as effective as it could be," explained J. Carroll Moody, chairman of the Faculty Assembly at Northern Illinois University in De Kalb.

Moody is on a special panel appointed by the state legislature to figure out what to do. Its findings are expected at the end of February.

To Taylor, most of the proposals amount to little more than "armchair wisdom."

"You could make a case for all kinds of effects (on students), but I don't know if anyone's ever demonstrated any," Taylor admitted.

"However well a university is doing its job affects students," Moody maintained, "and the governing structure can have a tremendous bearing on how well a university does its job."

Perhaps more immediately, "If you have a system where a staff is reporting to a staff ... it certainly has to play a role in increased tuitions," he added.

Tuition hikes, set by each campuses' governing board, are what familiarizes most students with their overseers. In New Jersey, for example, Rutgers University students confronted regents Feb. 9 to complain about a prospective 12 percent tuition hike next year.

But boards also have the final say in other areas of academic life, including everything from course requirements to control of student fees.

In any case, many of the legislative complaints about how campuses are governed are in fact complaints about how campuses are funded.

In the Illinois hearings, Moody related, "A great deal of what we heard was not concerns about governance but a lack of adequate funding."

State funding of colleges became crucially important during the Reagan years, when federal money for campus libraries, dorms, construction, many kinds of research and some kinds of student aid fell off dramatically.

At the same time, higher education faces increasingly stiff competition for state dollars from areas such as primary and secondary schools, health care, highway departments, environmental causes and prison systems.

Taylor maintains proposals to change governing boards are easier to pass than the new taxes needed to get more money. "So much attention is paid to structure and not enough to other factors," Taylor complained.

Archeology

(Continued from page 1)

the archeologist must take. Nothing is ever removed from a site on the first trip. The group must then establish a trusting relationship with the landowners and make it clear that archaeologists are only interested in the scientific information that may be gained from the findings. Material value is of no interest to the diggers.

Another problem results from deer season.The months of November and December are idle because the odds of being accidentally shot while site surveying or digging are too high. After deer season, student volunteers continue to look for potential sites which will be dug in the summer months.

The 1990 Summer Field School will excavate a prehistoric Indian site, the Morris Field Site, on the Appomattox River. This particular site has produced stone tools and pottery which date occupation to between 500 and 8,000 years ago. Because these summer groups perform the only research in this area, any findings are a major contribution to the understanding of archeology in Virginia. The students themselves learn the skills, processes and responsibility involved in archeology.

The 1990 Summer Field School will take place in two sessions. The Interim Session lasts from May 21-June 8 and earns four undergraduate credits. The second session takes place July 16-August 10 and earns six undergraduate credits. The application fee is five dollars with a per credit chair cost of sixty-five dollars for in-state students and $140 for out of state students. Residential room and board is $100 per week. Fees are subject to change.

Specific information may be requested from Dr. Jordan at 395-2244.

Personals

To who it applies, — Run Thumper Run!!! Bambi was first you're next!!! — From me

Foxy, — Better watch those grades! Or is it partying? — A Friend

Jim — I love you sweetheart and I hope you have a nice day. — Forever and Always, Jenn

Bonnie, — Cheer up! Things will get better soon. Love, — Your distant roomie

Michele, — Congrads on Delta Sigma Pi! Have a nice day. Love, — Jenn

To Sigma Sigma Sigma, — HAVE AN AWESOME WEEK! — Σ love, Jenn

Leslie, — Looking forward to my mission. It will be interesting. Thanks for being a great big brother. — APO Love, Linda
P.S. How many more weeks?

Slim Jim, — We can survive it. Keep the faith! Only 2 more weeks. — Love, Ope
P.S. Happy B-day

To the Sisters of Sigma Kappa – Thanks again gals for a great RUSH! Was superb. Many thanks to Andrea for all your help and the outstanding COB parties! All our hard work has paid off you guys. We have an awesome pledge class!! Yes, We're rockin'! ΣK Love and all of mine, Your V.P. of Mem. Anothip
We would like to welcome all ten of the new Sigma Kappa pledges to our sorority. You girls are awesome! You're a wonderful group of girls with lots of spunk! We love you!!

Sharon Rick – Your are a great Panhell Rep. Thanks for your help during RUSH! You're a great person and a good friend. You have a special way of making me smile by always being there with all your support. Thanks! ΣK Love and all of mine, Anothip

Don't forget to sign up for the GEIST BLOODMOBILE March 5-8 in the New Smoker during lunch and dinner!

The Dr. Ruth of Longwood, Edna Allen Bledsoe will speak on Sexually Transmitted Diseases and AIDS March 6th at 7:30 p.m. in the Commons Room. Sponsored by Frazer Residence Life Staff.

Susan — You are a great little sister! Just remember that I love you! — AΣT, Tumbler

SM-TECH, downtown exit. Got lost. App #2 - 1st building - nice curtains, Geek. Wrong. Next try - no curtains, wrong. Let's leave. No way, call him. He'll laugh at me. No he won't. APP.D. How did you get #2 from D? Found it. He laughed. What's in the car - 2 hands plus one. Don't hate me. I never could. Talk to him. She's lost. Me, alone. Bad movie. Bed time. No bed. Floor under counter - freezing. I heard you, 3 a.m.! Why me? But you're blushing this time. Taco Bell. Paranoid. Everyone knows. Makeup on your shirt. Oh no - My fly is down! Jimmy Buffet. Sat - Blue label. C.C. Party. Signal - 2 nose taps. S.S. Party. Alumni, less than a year! Crash at your place. Visitor - never assume drunk people are passed out - Kiss, Kiss. Hangover from Hell! Let's do it again next weekend! Love, TC

Hey Hot Stuff — I had fun being "hazed" last weekend. We should get together and do it again. — The Little Italian Girl

Ope: — Hey what's happening in the scamming dept? Any good lookers or smooth talkers? Stress Stress and get chocolate that's the life for me! Been to Sydney lately? Yeah me too! Gotta love those late night oops ... morning drives home! Catch you later — Slim Jim!

A place of dust, a lock, and lore, Our CHI Doll isn't allowed through the door. So it waits all alone to see, If you'll go where noone but it, be. — Keep the Spirit Alive CHI 90'

TEE — Thanks for a great weekend at VA Beach. You made the weekend wonderful. Thanks for letting me stay at your house. Next time we'll go for our own fun!! — Love, Kel

Hey Karin — Remember: YOU'RE TERRIFIC!! You car expert you!! — Love, Kel

Dave G. — Hey loverboy! Nice boxers hanging out your window. Who took them off! Another strip poker game?! — Have you guessed who yet?
P.S. I guess another strip poker game is out of the question since you've got a girl, huh?

Congratulations to our advisor, Sandra Breil, on becoming the new director for the Arts and Sciences Honors Program! We're proud of you! Love — The Sisters and Pledges of Zeta Tau Alpha

Evelyn — I love you lil' sis! Keep up the good work! If you need anything just holler! — Tau love, Kellie

Congratulations to Melissa Eates on becoming the Vice President for Region 3 of Southeastern Panhellinic! Way to go! We know you're going to do a great job! Love — The Sisters and Pledges of Zeta Tau Alpha!

Mandy — Happy birthday! I hope you had a great time! You're the best 'lil sis' ever! Zeta and mine — Jaime

Kirby, — I hope you had a wonderful 21st birthday! Let's hear that BULL MOOSE call!! — Love Lori

Bill — Good luck on your BULLMOOSE initiation! Keep slammin' to Jail House Rock; clap harder, when and squint those eyes when doing the call." — Love, Lori and Robin
P.S. Don worry, Matt is next! Right Matt? Sure!

Kristin Coffey, — Congrats on your award!! You worked real hard for it. — π The Ding Dong Committee

To all APO Pledges — Keep up the good work! Love, — Kalli

Charlie — Thanks for putting up with us at SEPC! And thanks for sharing your birthday with us. You are the best advisor and we love you! (Can we stop again Please?) — Love, Pankel

The new Charlie's Angels — Teddi is dead - Melissa is frail - Have you seen Charlie? - Roll Call - Leah ... the walk of shame - a golf course? - Pam's still sleeping - can I sit up front? - What if Kristen was cool? Happy Birthday Chuck! Where's Sharon? Judy made us goup this steep hill/cliff/mountain. Are you going to cry Carolyn? Margaritaville. I'm staying out of this scene. Kellie, Charles said that was frail! BK please?

Minnie, — Are you really transferring? What ever the choice, I'm behind you. And all it will cost you is a place to stay and maybe a plane ticket. Hey, best friends don't come cheap! — AΣT love, Tumbler

Poo Bear - Just a quick note to say: I Love You! - "Your Boy".

Sarah — To the best "lil sis"! You've made me so proud! Keep up the good work! — ZTA Kelli

Trisha H. — You are the best "big sis"! You know I'm always here for you, Grandma! — ZTA, Kelli

To all the new ZTA pledges, you guys are the best! Congratulations! ZTA and all mine, — Kelli

To my DZ buddy and new Tri-Sig roommate - you all are the greatest! We support Greek Unity!! — Kelli

Mitch — Hey little bro, hope you have a great week! Remember if you ever need anything I am here for you. Love you big bro, — Chris

Congrats to the cast and crew of "Baby with the Bathwater." You all did a great job. — Dawn and Diane

Poo Bear - Thank you so much for the talk last night! I think it's the record for this semester. I'm glad you are with me because that's all I need, and with you I can do anything. I Love You! - Love always and forever, "Your Boy".

Poo Bear - Hey it's me again. We will definitely have to get together before Spring Break, because you know what the spring brings! Well, I hope you have a great week! - Love you, "Your Boy".

Squibby – I hope you are looking good within the next couple of weeks as your surprise visitor will arrive soon! Hope you are ready! Love, Dave

Rick B. – Anymore adds from Agnus? Thank-you for the rose Friday. Hopefully I'll see you at D.T.'s Tuesday night. Let's get ripped! Not Agnus

Sharon and Shelley — You two are the best little sisters! I am really glad that I got you both! Congratulations on becoming big sisters, now I am a double grandma! I love ya both. — ΣK love and mine, Chris

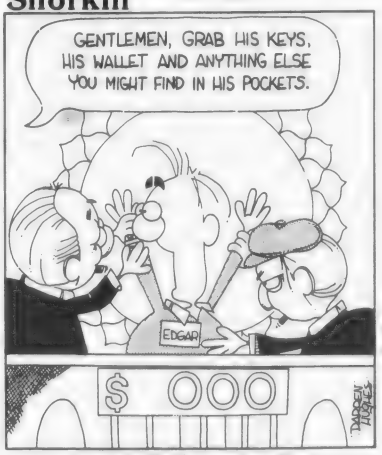
Tim — Surprise a personal for you! Thanks for being such a great friend I love ya babe! — Chris
P.S. You keep the tears falling while you make me laugh.

Auditions for "Top Girls", the next Longwood Players production, are February 27 and 28 at 7:30 p.m. in Jarman Auditorium. Guests director, Rick Scott, will be directing the play. Actors should prepare a monologue, not from the play, to present at auditions. Technical crews may also sign up at that time.

ANNOUCEMENTS

Don't want to spend the whole summer taking classes? Why not take classes during the 3-week summer session, May 21-June 8. Knock out that one tough class, learn a new sport or even become interested in a new field while still having the whole summer to enjoy. Short and sweet!

•Schedules available at the Registrars office.



Courses of special interest offered in the 3-week session:
Phed 139-11-01 Windsurfing
Phed 120-11-01 Raquetball
Spch 101-11-03 Fundamentals of Public Speaking
• –

Jill – Hope you have a great week! Let's get together sometime! ΣLove and Mine Amy

Cindy D. – Well, only a few more weeks until initiation. Good luck! Σ Love and Mine Your Great-grandmother

Leslie – Thanks for a great year and a half anniversary! Love Keith

Snorkin

Snorkin hits the "Bankrupt" space on "Wheel Of Fortune."

Sports

Longwood Overtaken By D. C.

Longwood's men's basketball team hit another dreaded second half shooting slump Saturday night in Washington, D.C., allowing homestanding District of Columbia to rally for a 78-74 victory which wasn't decided until the final seconds.

Up 45-40 at halftime after shooting 57.6 percent (19-33), the Lancers went cold in the second period (10-29, 34-5 percent) and the Firebirds got hot. The contest went back and forth for much of the second half, but UDC took control for good with 3:01 left when Keith Goodie stole the ball and drove downcourt for a layup and a 76-72 lead.

Kevin Jefferson, who scored 21 points in the first half and 32 for the night, got a bucket on a goal tend at 1:04 to cut Longwood's deficit to two, 76-74. Following a missed Firebird freethrow and a Greg Holloway rebound, Dale Shavers had a chance to tie but missed a baseline jumper. UDC got a pair of free throws from Darren Darby with eight seconds left to sew up the victory.

While both teams came away from the contest with 12-14 records, the Lancers lost their last chance for a winning season. With two games left, both at home, Longwood can still finish at .500 (14-14). North Carolina Greensboro visits Wednesday night at 7:30 and Elon comes calling next Monday (Feb. 26) in what will be the last home game for seniors Jefferson, Shavers, Doug Poppe and Tony Good.

Jefferson Should Overtake Kersey Wednesday

Jefferson, with 1,750 career points, needs just six more to tie Jerome Kersey's all-time career scoring mark of 1,756. He should break the record Wednesday night against UNCG. It appeared the 6-5 forward would get more than enough Saturday night to set the record. The Petersburg native canned 10 of 16 first half shots for 21 points. In the second half, however, he cooled off, making just five of 15 attempts. Jefferson added four rebounds, five assists and two steals.

Shavers had another fine all-around game with 13 points, eight rebounds, five assists and two steals and Poppe pulled off a game-high 11 rebounds to go with 12 points. Freshman Rodney Clayton came off the bench to score five points in the first half when Longwood pulled ahead.

Plagued by foul trouble (Billy Dunn and Shavers ended the game with four personals and Poppe fouled out late) Longwood was unable to maintain its excellent offensive execution in the second half.

District of Columbia was led by 6-3 junior Henry Moton who poured in 25 points.

Baseball season Opens

Longwood opened its 1990 baseball season last weekend in Laurinburg, NC and ended up splitting four games with St. Andrews, a club which was ranked 11th among NAIA teams in preseason rankings.

Homeruns by freshmen Mike Tucker, Shawn Jones and Terry Taylor helped the Lancers take an 8-6 win Friday and an 11-6 victory Saturday in eight innings. In a game that was stopped Saturday after three innings tied at 9-9, St. Andrews came out on top Sunday 14-9. The Knights, 35-12 last season, handed Longwood a rare shutout defeat in the second game Sunday 10-0.

SHAWN JONES

Longwood, which resumes play Thursday at Mt. Olive, scored seven runs in the first inning of Friday's game as Tucker hit a solo homer and Jones a 3-run blast. It was the first collegiate at-bat for the two freshmen. Tucker, a shortstop, and Jones, who plays left field, had two hits each. Junior Eric Hutzler hit a solo homer for the Lancers in the ninth.

Freshman Kyle Weaver, the second of four Lancer pitchers, picked up the win while Dennis Hale got a save after blanking St. Andrews in the eighth and ninth.

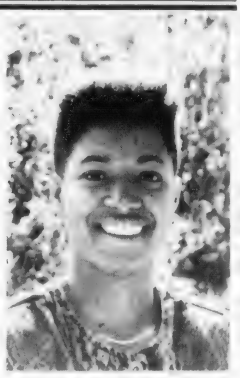
A 3-run homer by Taylor and a 2-run single by Scott Abell triggered a five-run explosion in the eighth Saturday as Longwood took an 11-6 victory. Taylor, Hutzler and Abell had three hits each in the win. Junior hurler Matt Carlisle picked up the victory in relief of Hale. Tim Patrick started.

Lady Lancers Show "True Grit"

By KATHLEEN LELAND

"True Grit." What a great name for a movie. It's too bad John Wayne already used that title because it would fit the Longwood women's basketball team perfectly.

On the road Wednesday night the Lady Lancers came back from a six-point deficit at halftime to overcome and then overwhelm the Quakers of Guilford College with a final score of 83-67.



The game was a representative sample of the season for the Lady Lancers. Falling to a 6-11 record, the squad has won eight straight to produce a 14-11 mark with one game remaining at Navy next Tuesday.

"We played really well the second half," head coach Shirley Duncan said following the game. "We raised our intensity level on defense and created a lot of turnovers and converted them to baskets."

Coming back in the second half, the Lady Lancers chipped away at the short lead with junior guard Ann Callaham scoring the tying basket at 16:18. For the remainder of the game, the Longwood squad dominated the scoring to finish with a safe 16-point margin and its eighth consecutive win of the season.

Callaham racked up seven steals on the night to break the record for steals in a season. Callaham has 95 steals so far this season with the old record of 92 set by Brenda Fettrow in 1979-80.

"Ann is continuing to play well. She is keeping down her turnover and setting up a lot of shots," Duncan said.

ANN CALLAHAN

Gymnastics Team Collects Another Win

Longwood's gymnastics team rang up its second best team score ever Sunday in the Towson State Invitational, accumulating a mark of 170.05. The total was just below the Lancer record of 171.75 which was set at the Virginia State Meet in 1986.

"We had a really good meet," said coach Ruth Budd. "That's our second highest score ever. Our whole team did well today. Out of all our individual scores that counted only one was below 8.0. We had our best beam set of the year and we got good scores on bars also."

Leading the way for Longwood were all-arounds Cindy Shelton (34.6), Danielle Williams (34.6) and Beth Risley (34.2). Shelton and Williams tied for 15th out of 35 gymnasts who competed all-around. The winner was Maureen Lagrua of Bridgeport who had a 37.50.

Shelton also had a 9.15 for 12th in floor exercise while Williams had an 8.75 on beam for 20th. Williams' all-around score was her best ever.

Towson State won the competition with a 184.65. Also taking part were Temple (182.85), George Washington (178.80), Air Force (173.55), Radford (173.15), Ithaca (172.45), Longwood (170.05), Bridgeport (169.55) and Navy (168.85).

Longwood, now 3-10 in wins and losses, hosts James Madison Thursday night at 7:30 in its second home competition of the year.

"It will be great to have a home meet again," said Budd. "We've been on the road for several weeks. Having a home meet with a crowd pulling for us should help. We're looking forward to it."

Budd is hoping junior Natalie Taylor will be able to compete for the first time in two weeks. Taylor, out with a knee injury, won't know until later in the week if she'll be able to take part in Thursday's competition.

Sports Briefs

By JEN DOOLEY

The women's rugby team won at William and Mary College on Saturday by a score of 4-0. The try was scored by third-semester player, Sharon Byrant. The club consists of 7 new members and 15 veterans. Students coached by Cathy Hines.

The Longwood Men's Rugby Club defeated Professor Colin Steele and the Richmond Rats Saturday afternoon. Congratulations Longwood!

SPORTS EDITORS

and Writers Needed

If interested, please call The Rotunda at 2120 or write Box 1133.

Classifieds

Lonely?
Need a Date?
Meet that special someone today!
Call DATETIME
(405) 366-6335

Camp Fair Day
Interested in working at a camp?
Come meet Camp Directors. . .
February 28, 1990
in the Gold Room

CRUISE LINE OPENINGS HIRING NOW!!
Call (719) 687-6662 (USA)

250-1000 SUMMER CAMP POSITIONS AVAILABLE.
Staff Referral Services provides a network of camps, now hiring, from the "Keys" to Wisc.-Minn. One application reaches all camps via a master computer. Applications at the school employment office.

Longwood's Student Operated Escort Service is looking for dedicated volunteers.
If interested, contact Chris Horan at 395-3384.

LONGWOOD COLLEGE
CLOSING INSTRUCTION
Spring Break 1990

CLOSING
1. All residence halls will close at 6 p.m. on Friday, March 9.
   * Students will be allowed to stay in the residence halls during Spring Break only if they have permission from the Housing Office, by 5:00 p.m. Wednesday, March 7.
2. The last meal to be served in the dining hall will be dinner on Friday, March 9th.
3. The Lancer Cafe will close at 1:00 p.m., Friday, March 9th.
4. Please leave all rooms in order and empty trash cans. Also, please see that all windows are closed and all lights out. Disconnect all electrical appliances (except refrigerators and fish tanks). Bathrooms should be cleaned. Window shades on the ground floor should be completely closed, all others open.

THE RESIDENCE LIFE STAFF WILL CHECK ROOMS.

REOPENING
1. All residence halls will reopen on Sunday, March 18th, at 2:00 p.m.
2. The dining hall will reopen for dinner from 4:30-6:00 p.m. on Sunday, March 18th.
3. The Lancer Cafe will reopen at 9:00 a.m. on Monday, March 19.

David Rettig, Director of Housing

REMINDER: FALL SEMESTER 1990 FEE DEPOSITS
$160.00 readmission/fee deposit for fall semester is due in the Longwood College Cashiering and Students Accounts office by March 26, 1990. Late payment means late registration and late room sign-up for fall semester.

DON'T BE LATE!
Room sign-up information will be available after spring break.

Get Ready Now for Spring Break!
MARY BETH BLESSING
Professional Travel Agent
392-GOGO • (392-4646)
Make Your Plans Today!

"ADOPTION"
Happily Married European-American professional couple longing to share a beautiful county life with precious newborn. Please call collect anytime. 804-979-8347.

"ADOPTION"
Love, laughter and a brother's hand to hold. Our family longs for the baby who will fill our hearts. Let's help each other. Call collect, Ron & Karyn in VA (804) 978-7104 or our adoption advisor (802) 235-2312.

Upcoming Events

Information on this calendar is collected and coordinated through the Student Union Office, 1st Floor Lankford Student Union, Longwood College.

For student organizations or college departments to make entries a campus calendar form must be filled out and returned to the Student Union Office.

Deadline is the Tuesday preceding publication date.

Tuesday - 27	Wednesday - 28	Thursday - 1	Friday - 2	Saturday - 3	Sunday - 4	Monday - 5
Intramurals: Badminton practice. Recruiter: State Farm Insurance, all day, CPPC, S. Ruffner. Kathe Kollwitz, 9-12; 1-5, Bedford Gallery. Fred Steiner, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery. Eating Disorders, 1 -2 p.m., Counseling Services. Workshop: Interviewing Skills, 3:30 p.m., CPPC, S. Ruffner.	Women's B-Ball: LC at Navy, 7 p.m. IM: Men/Women Dbls. entry blank due & meeting, 6:30 p.m., IM room. Kevin Spencer "The Magician", 8 p.m., Lancer Cafe. Fred Steiner, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery.	Workshop: Summer Job Search, 1 p.m., CPPC, S. Ruffner. IM: Weekends Mixed Dbls. bowling entry blank due & meeting, 6:30 p.m., IM room. Kathe Kollwitz, 9-12; 1-5, Bedford Gallery. Fred Steiner, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery.	Movie Series: Field of Dreams, 7 p.m., Lancer Cafe. Fred Steiner, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery. Gymnastics: LC vs NC State, 7 p.m., Lancer. Films	Intramurals: Weekend Mixed Doubles Bowling. Fred Steiner, 3-5 p.m., Showcase Gallery.	Fred Steiner, 3-5 p.m., Showcase Gallery.	Intramurals: Spades entry blank due & meeting, 6:30 p.m., IM room. Alcohol Support Group, 6-7 p.m., Counseling Services. Fred Steiner, 9 a.m. - 10 p.m., Showcase Gallery. Workshop: Resume Writing, 6 p.m., CPPC, S. Ruffner. American Painter Printmakers, 9-12; 1-5, Bedford Gallery. Intramurals: Men/Women Badminton doubles starts. Movie Series: Field of Dreams, 7 p.m., Lancer Cafe.

The Rotunda

Longwood College

Vol. 69 No. 18 | March 8, 1990 | Farmville, VA

Greeks Donate To Rescue Squad

Four Greek organizations at Longwood College donated $180 to the Prince Edward Volunteer Rescue Squad recently.

The three sororities and one fraternity decided to give as the result of a fund-raising campaign by a Longwood student, Debbie Collins, who thinks that the college should help support the rescue squad. Debbie, a senior from Gretna and a member of Sigma Kappa sorority, wrote a letter to all the fraternities and sororities, asking for contributions.

"As I wrote in my letter, as long as we're here, we're part of this community," she said. "Supporting the rescue squad is our responsibility, too . . . I saw that as a pressing problem."

Sigma Kappa gave $100, Alpha Delta Pi sorority donated $50, Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity wrote a check for $20, and Alpha Gamma Delta sorority chipped in with $10. Representatives of each group presented their checks to Mark Sarver, president of the rescue squad, on February 20.

Sarah Johnson (bottom, far left) of Alpha Gamma Delta, Debbie Collins (center) of Sigma Kappa, Andrew Smallwood (far right) of Tau Kappa Epsilon, and Janet Miles (top row, left) of Alpha Delta Pi, present checks to Mark Sarver, president of the Prince Edward Volunteer Rescue Squad, and Dr Nancy Haga, the squad's treasurer.

Debbie is disappointed that other fraternities and sororities chose not to contribute, but she hopes they and other student organizations will keep the rescue squad in mind while considering future philantropic projects.

During the 1988-89 school session, the rescue squad made 125 calls to the Longwood campus, said Dr. Nancy Haga, a Longwood faculty member and longtime squad member. Considering the expenses of gas, insurance, equipment and ambulances, each call costs an estimated $40 — or $5,000 for the year, she said.

Some 14 rescue squad members are Longwood or Hampden-Sydney College students, and many Longwood employees also have served in the squad. The squad's current president, Mark Sarver, was graduated from Longwood last year.

Library Nears Completion

By LIZ RUSSELL

The construction of the new library, located at the Southwest Corner of Pine and Redford Streets across from the Lankford Student Union will be finished on October 15, 1990. The library will be a 71,000-square-feet, two-story brick and pre-cast concrete building, with a third level underground. It will provide state-of-the-art technology for information retrieval from libraries throughout the world, more reading space, more computers, printers, CD-Rom work stations and more user terminals.

Avis Construction Company, Inc. is building the library. There are approximately six sub-contractors and sixty men working at the job site every day.

When I talked to Guy Bergloff, Job Superintendent for Avis Construction Company, and Allen Cook, the construction Inspector for Longwood College, they informed me that the construction is coming along very well. About 51% of the work and 80% of the structure is done. All that is left to do is the brickwork, the structural steel over the atrium, and the pre-cast concrete which will be laid on April 1, 1990.

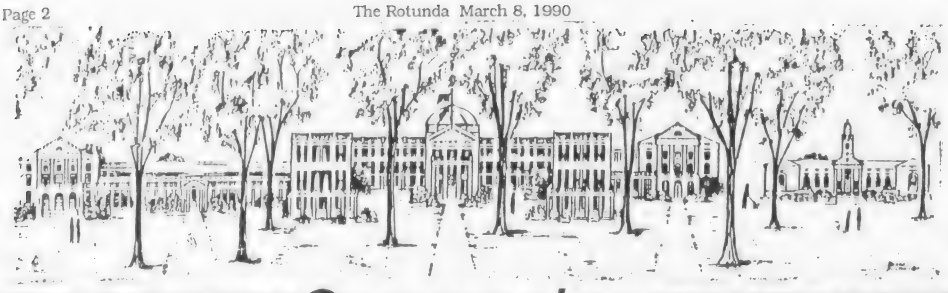
CPPC Awaits Seniors

By TISHA L. TRACEY, CPPC Intern

Seniors!!! Last semester was the time to begin your job search! Come to the Career Planning & Placement Center (CPPC) now! We are offering some great programs in the near future that will be very beneficial to you if you would only attend them. We're here for YOU – the students.

As an intern, one of my jobs is to assist in phoning 1989 alumni for the annual placement report. I cannot begin to tell you how many wished they had been more prepared for the "real world" before they graduated. Right now it may not seem like a big deal, but going from college life to finding and keeping a full-time job is a big change.

Here are some of CPPC's upcoming programs to help seniors (or any student) become prepared: TRANSITION TO THE WORKPLACE, Tues., March 6, 1 p.m., CPPC - learn survival skills for that 1st job and for living on your own



Please stop by, even if only to look around. CPPC is located on 2nd Floor S. Ruffner and opened (M-F) 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Job Search, Resume Writing, and Interviewing Skills Workshops offered throughout the semester. Seniors, it is not too late yet, but don't put it off any longer!

Spring Break Issue

The Next Rotunda will be published March 26

Contents

Commentary.....2
News.....3, 4
Spring Break Guide.....5
Personals.....6
Sports.....7
Calender.....8
Classifieds.....8

Commentary

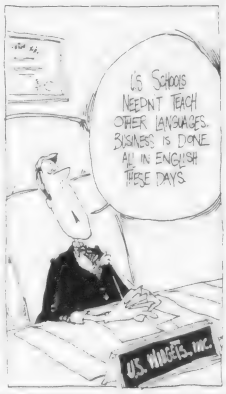
Letters to the Editor

To Monica Gilbert,

I did not write the letter you were referring to, but it expresses my feelings also. I have black friends as well as white friends. I have discussed this with some of my black friends, and they, for the most part did not understand, either. I see nothing wrong with wanting to be recognized as a race, but if there was a Miss White America, it would be considered racist and would not be allowed to happen. Isn't this reverse discrimination? One is just as bad as the other, isn't it? How can the line between the races be erased when you continually point it out?

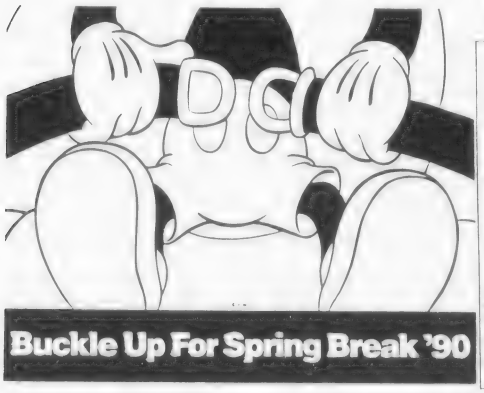
Angel Yeargain, '90

P.S. This is not an attack on you or your race, but rather on expression of someone else who cannot understand.



Let Longwood know what's on your mind. Write a Letter to the Editor, Box 1133.

Dear Longwood,



Last week I read a letter to the editor about speaking out on matters that influence you. I would strongly agree that it is necessary to get your two cents worth, but I also think it's necessary to be informed. In this world there are very few things that one person has power over; what you do not know can kill you. If we never found out to look both ways before crossing, the majority of us wouldn't be here. We cannot survive in the world outside of this metropolis Farmville if we don't know what's happening outside of Farmville. The rumor is that the most passionate and motivated citizens in America are the college students, but I see no proof of this here. Honestly, how many Longwood students read the newspaper or listen to the news on a daily basis? It is not a very high number, in fact I'd bet more people could review MTV's weekly countdown than the world's weekly events. At the beginning of the semester there was a letter discussing the heartbreak of not being given a bid; I'm sorry and I can feel for your mood of rejection, but come on! Don't we have anything better to do than mourn the loss of short lived friendship? How about mourning the loss of creatures that drown in the murky oil of Exxon's leavings, or of the millions who still today starve in Ethiopia, or the over 15,000 political prisoners who "accidently" died in South African jails over the past twenty-five years, or the thousands that are tortured in third world countries, or, if nothing else, the giant holes that are forming in our ozone layer!!! Find out what's going on in your world, and act on it, please, for all of us...

Barbara Lee Zwirnbaum

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
R. Bruce Gantt

Photography Editor
Jan-Marie Johnson

Sports Editor

Business Manager
Kim Bell

Advertising Manager
Michelle Lawhorn

Features Editor
Monica Gilbert

News Editor
Beth A. Lord

Layout Editor
Sarah Whiteside

Faculty Advisor
William C. Woods

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be signed, typed or printed neatly, and state the author's years. The Editor and staff reserve the right to edit any material submitted for publication.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 395-2120.

Women's History Month Lectures

Women's History Month will be observed at Longwood College with a series of lectures, discussions, and films during March.

The first event will be a discussion of "Women in the Economy" on Tuesday, March 6, at 7 p.m. in Bedford Auditorium. Dr. Sue Shaw, Robert Berry, Dr. Ray Brastow, and Dr. Jay D. Martin, faculty members in Longwood's Department of Economics and Finance, will address gender discrimination, comparable worth, "the mommy track," and other factors that impact upon women in the economy.

A film entitled "My Brilliant Career" will be shown on Wednesday, March 7, at 3 p.m. in the Lancer Cafe (ground floor of the Lankford Building). The film, made in 1980 by director Gillian Armstrong, is set in the Australian outback in the 19th century. It features a young girl who is trying to decide what path to follow in life.

Carolyn Frazier, of Farmville, will speak on Thursday evening, March 8, at 7 o'clock in Bedford Auditorium. Her topic is "Successful and Female in Today's Business World."

Mrs. Frazier is a partner in Blue Ridge Mountain Sports (stores in Charlottesville, Richmond, and North Carolina) and the Finer Nest in Farmville. She is a member of the Longwood Foundation Board of Directors and wife of the Reverend Allie Frazier, rector of Johns Memorial Episcopal Church.

Other Women's History Month events will be announced in the near future. All of these programs are open to the public free of charge.

Longwood College's International Studies Program will present two lectures next week that are open to the public.

Daniel Metraux, from Mary Baldwin College, will speak on Tuesday evening, March 6, 7 o'clock in the Virginia Room. His topic is "The Japanese Management System: Should the U.S. Adopt It?."

Dr. Metraux has traveled extensively in Japan, Korea, and Taiwan. He is the author of a book on Japanese managerial strategies.

On Thursday, March 8, at 7 p.m. in the Prince Edward Room, Dr. David Breil will give a lecture and slide presentation entitled "The Venezuelan Experience."

Dr. Breil, professor of biology at Longwood, went to the University of the Andes in Merida, Venezuela, recently to explore the possibility of offering botany courses there for Longwood students. He met with several botanists at the University and also visited with the five Longwood students and two students from the University of Richmond and James Madison University who are studying there this semester through Longwood's Spanish in the Andes program.

"I also wanted to see as much of the countryside and the vegetation as possible," Dr. Breil said. "I was taken on numerous field trips and saw some spectacular sights." He said he took slides everywhere he went in Venezuela.

Both of the International Studies lectures are open to everyone free of charge.

America's Story

By SHARON BUTLER

Dr. Michael Lund, an associate professor of English, spoke Tuesday, February 27 on "America's Continuing Story" in French Lounge. Refreshments were served at 4:15 p.m. and Dr. Lund spoke at 4:45. In his delightfully humorous and engaging speech Dr. Lund addressed American series as Uncle Tom's Cabin, Uncle Remus, and Great Expectations, and a magazine which published such serial stories was Harper's Weekly. His subject focused around historical novels, written before the Civil War. Those who attended the lecture felt it was creative and interesting.

News Shorts

Honor Week At H-SC

Over 150 college students from all over Virginia joined together at Hampden-Sydney College for the Honor and Judicial week-end held February 16 and 17, 1990.

The Honorable Harry L. Carrico, a Richmonder, and Chief Justice of the Supreme Court was the keynote speaker. Carrico spoke about his judicial experiences and pleaded with Honor System students and representatives, as leaders in their academic communities, to make sure there is adherence to honor codes and acceptance of responsibilities. "This will ensure that principles of honor and justness are a way of life."

Longwood Concert Band

By BETH A. LORD

On Tuesday, February 27th, Longwood's Concert Band performed at 8 p.m. in Wygal Auditorium.

Among the songs featured were "Allerselen", "Second Suite for Band", "Pageant", "Festivo", and a march entitled "The Klaxon". The some 40 members, including several local high school students, have been rehearsing at 7 on Tuesday nights all semester. The Director of the band is Dr. Gordon Ring, who also directs the Jazz Band. Another performance is in the works for later this spring.

"A Soldier's Play"

In the World War II murder mystery "A Soldier's Play", Gregory Taylor (left) as Sergeant Vernon Waters disciplines an unruly soldier in his platoon (Michael Jayce).

A Soldier's Play, a World War II murder mystery, will be presented in Longwood College's Jarman Auditorium on Wednesday, March 7, at 8 p.m.

The play, written by Charles Fuller, won a Pulitzer Prize and was a major hit of the 1981-82 theatre season in New York City. It was adapted in the hit movie, A Soldier's Story, starring Howard Rollins and Martin Balsam.

The performance at Longwood is by Daedalus Productions, a national touring company from New York. It is part of Longwood's Series of the Performing Arts. General admission is $6.50; senior citizens, youth under 18, and Longwood employees, $5.50; Longwood students free with ID.

The play is set in 1944 at Fort Neal, an Army post located in rural Louisiana. Late one hot summer night, a black sergeant named Waters stumbles up a country road near the base. Reeling drunk, he curses his past and present, shouting "They still hate you, hate you!"

Another figure, seen only in silhouette, steps from the shadows. Two shots ring out, and Waters falls dead.

The Defense Department orders an immediate investigation of the murder. The inquiry is headed by another black officer, Army lawyer Richard Davenport. Arriving at Fort Neal, he walks into a racially tense situation aggravated by rumors that Waters was killed by a white man.

Davenport interviews the black soldiers who served under Waters, discovering just how much they hated their sergeant. In a series of flashbacks, the audience sees Waters first inspire and support his men, then savage them for their failure to fulfill his vision of "the ideal soldier."

The lawyer skillfully deepens his probe until the racial hatreds are stripped away and the real killer is revealed.

Honors Vs. Honor

By DENISE DAUBENSPECK

Dr. Sandra Breil, head of the Honors Program, would like to clarify the distinction between the Honors Program and taking Honor courses. It is a general belief that a student must be in the Honors Program to take Honor courses. They are unaware that any incoming freshman with SAT scores of 1100 or above or any student with a GPA of 3.25 or above may take these courses.

Dr. Breil believes that there are advantages to these courses. The classes are designed to hold six to fifteen people. The smaller classes allow the professor to concentrate on the individual. It is also believed that these classes will stimulate more class discussions.

The upcoming semester will include more Honor courses. Among them are: English 100, 333 American Literature since 1920, History 120, Art History 261, Calculus 261, and Antro. 103. There is a speculation of an economics class being added to the list. A more detailed listing will be published at a later date.

Eleven To Compete for Miss Longwood

Eleven of Longwood's most talented and attractive students will compete for the title of Miss Longwood at a Miss America local pageant Saturday, March 24, in Jarman Auditorium at 8 p.m.

The contestants, chosen from 28 in preliminaries last fall, are: Amy Church, a junior from Springfield; Lisa DeJarnette, a senior from Gladys; Rachel Farris, a sophomore from Dumfries; Melissa Funn, a junior from Powhatan; Jill Godfrey, a sophomore from Chesapeake; Libby Hoggard, a junior from Richmond; Cullen Johnson, a sophomore from Virginia Beach; Laurianne Maisey, a sophomore from Chesapeake; Beth Miller, a senior from Virginia Beach; Elizabeth Pettler, a junior from Prince George; and Kim Proffitt, a senior from Goochland.

Contestants will compete in talent, interview, evening gown, and swimsuit. Some $2,900 in scholarships will be awarded, and the winner will advance to the Miss Virginia Pageant.

The Miss Longwood Pageant is regarded as one of the best local Miss America pageants in the United States. For the past several years, the pageant has been a sell-out.

Each of the 11 finalist in this year's pageant has campus and community sponsors.

Ms. Hoggard, an Elementary Education major, will twirl the baton. She has won numerous state titles in baton twirling and is nationally ranked. She is a Dean's List student. She is sponsored by her sorority, Alpha Delta Pi, and by The Longwood College Bookstore.

Ms. Johnson, a Psychology major, will play Khatchaturian's "Toccata" on the piano. She came to Longwood on a piano scholarship and has taken private lessons for 13 years. She attended the Governor's Magnet School for the Arts for three sessions and also was selected for the Governor's School. She has studied in Italy and is a member of the Modern Language Club. She is sponsored by the Longwood Rugby Team and The Crown Collection.

MISS LONGWOOD CONTESTANTS: (front center) Jill Godfrey; (seated) Melissa Funn, Laurianne Maisey; (back row, from left) Rachel Farris, Beth Miller, Kim Proffitt, Amy Church, Beth Pettler, Libby Hoggard, and Lisa DeJarnette. Missing: Cullen Johnson.

Ms. Maisey, a Biology major, will sing "Amazing Grace." She was in the Virginia Honors Choir and for several semesters has been a member of the Camerata Singers. She sang in the recent Waterworks Players production of Applause. A Dean's List student, she was chosen to the Alpha Lambda Delta honor society for superior scholastic attainment her freshman year. Her sponsors are a student, Susie Lloyd, and Super Shears.

Ms. Miller, a Theatre major, will do a monologue from The King and I, "Shall I Tell You What I Think of You?" She is a member of the Longwood Players and of Alpha Psi Omega honorary fraternity. She was in the cast of Romeo and Juliet. Her sponsors are her sorority, Alpha Delta Pi, The Fashion Post and Farmville Wholesale Electric Supply Company.

Ms. Church, a Theatre major, has appeared in five Longwood Players' productions, has done choreography for four productions, and is a member of Alpha Psi Omega honorary theatre fraternity. She has modeled for the Erickson Agency and Hecht's department stores. For her talent presentation, she will do a musical comedy routine, "Sam, You Made The Pants Too Long." Her sponsors are Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity and Bishop Nissan.

Ms. DeJarnette, an English major, will sing one of Patsy Cline's top hits, "Walking After Midnight". She has participated in choral groups for six years. She is a member of, and is being sponsored by, Sigma Kappa sorority. Her community sponsors are Booth and Company and First Virginia Bank.

Ms. Faris, an Elementary Education major, will dance to a Spanish song from the movie, "Salsa." She has studied dance 14 years, with emphasis on tap, jazz, and ballet. She is sponsored by her sorority, Delta Zeta, and by The Carpet House and The Fox Hunt Inn.

Ms. Funn, a Biology major, will sing a John Lennon song, "Imagine." She has been in church choirs since she was six years old and has been a soloist on many occasions. She has been group leader for the Lancer Dancers. Last year she received a certificate for having the highest Grade Point Average among freshman black students. She is sponsored by a Longwood faculty member, Edna Allen-Bledsoe, and by Carrington's Music Store.

Ms. Godfrey, an Elementary Education major, will play Grieg's "Norwegian Concerto" on the piano. She has studied piano for eight years. She is a member of the Lancer Dancers, her campus sponsor. She is also sponsored by Dalton Manufacturing and Town and Country Furniture.

Ms. Pettler, a Marketing major, will sing "Why Do Fools Fall in Love?" She has had six years of choir experience and has been in the Camerata Singers. In high school she was Central District Girls Tennis Champion in singles and doubles. Her campus sponsor is her sorority, Kappa Delta. Her community sponsors are The Comfort Inn and Andrews, Large, and Whidden.

Ms. Proffitt, an Elementary Education major, will sing "I Never Knew Love Like This Before." In high school she was chosen to the National Honor Society and the National Art Honor Society. At Longwood she belongs to the Student Education Association and Alpha Gamma Delta sorority. She is sponsored by her sorority and by Carter's Flower Shop and The Other Store.

The Census Is Coming!

An envelope will arrive in March containing an opportunity for recipients to determine government representation for the next decade and help create a picture of life in the United States. It is the 1990 census questionnaire to be received by an estimated 106 million households.

Questionnaire delivery in rural areas will be made door-to-door by temporary employees of the U.S. Census Bureau. Delivery will begin March 5 and will take about three weeks to complete. In rural areas, door-to-door delivery helps ensure that no one is missed and will allow census takers to update address lists and census maps. Initial address-listing in rural areas was conducted last summer.

The U.S. Postal Service will deliver questionnaires in cities and areas with street names and house numbers. This will occur around March 23. Addresses and maps in urban areas were updated recently.

In addition, the census provides a picture of our nation's social and economic standing. Census statistics will be used by federal and state government to determine how billions of dollars in public funds will be distributed to communities for education, health care, day care, transportation and other services.

If these civic-minded reasons are not compelling enough, you should know that participation in the census is required by federal law. This same law, however, strictly protects your confidentiality. No other government agency, law enforcement or local authority can gain access to an individual's census responses under any circumstances.

And, prompt return of the competed questionnaire saves money. The Census Bureau has conservatively budgeted for a 70 percent mail response rate, but every one percent of households returning questionnaires above that rate will save taxpayers 10 million dollars.

SPRING BREAK GUIDE

Guidelines At Daytona Beach

The Daytona Beach Area has become one of the largest resort centers in the nation. Each year we are host to thousands of vacationers, race fans and conventioneers. In order to maintain a City that you will enjoy visiting again and one that our citizens are proud of, certain laws and regulations must be observed by everyone. In order to make your stay as pleasant and safe as possible, some of the more important ordinances and statutes are provided herein for your review. Please obey them.

"CAUTION" – Over the past years, injury and death has occurred to some visitors who climb balconies at the motels. This practice is illegal and is considered DISORDERLY CONDUCT, an arrestable offense. Florida State Statute 509.143.

BEACH SAFETY

1. The speed limit on the beach is 10 mph at all times.

2. Driving in the water or soft sand on the oceanbeach is prohibited.

3. A person cannot sit or lie on the beach in a driving or parking area, except while in a vehicle. Sitting or lying between parked vehicles is prohibited.

4. Balls and frisbees cannot be thrown across traffic lanes.

5. Motorists shall at all times yield the right-of-way to pedestrians on the beach.

6. Motorists must take precautions before parking or moving a vehicle to avoid injury to any person or property.

7. Animals are not permitted at any time on the beach, except seeing-eye dogs.

8. Camping or sleeping overnight on the Atlantic Ocean Beach is prohibited.

9. Driving on the beach at night is prohibited.

10. Swimming within 150 feet of the Ocean Pier is prohibited.

11. Changing tides place limitations on ocean beach parking. In order to avoid having your vehicle towed for safety reasons, always remain in the vicinity.

ORDINANCES

1. The carrying or consuming of an open alcoholic beverage (including beer) is prohibited on the beach and city streets. This applies to pedestrians and occupants of motor vehicles.

2. It is unlawful for any person under the age of 21 years to possess alcoholic beverages or to misrepresent or misstate his or her age to buy alcoholic beverages.

3. Hitchhiking is prohibited within the city limits of Daytona Beach.

4. Littering is prohibited.

5. Trespassing on Motel Property where you are not registered as a guest may result in your arrest.

For further information, contact the Community Relations Section of the Daytona Beach Police Department at (904) 255-1431, ext. 498.

Spring Break Alternative

College spring breakers can give the beach a break and save more than 35 percent on admissions to the popular Walt Disney World Magic Kingdom and Epcot Center March 1-31.

One-day admission to either the Magic Kingdom or Epcot Center is $19.99 plus tax. A two-day ticket good for one day at the Magic Kingdom and one day at Epcot Center is $38 plus tax. Regular admission to the parks is $31 plus tax per day. Students must show a valid college ID card at the main ticket windows, and they are on their way to Disney's worlds of adventure.

In the Magic Kingdom, students can challenge asteroids in the black holes of space on Tomorrowland's Space Mountain or sail the high seas in Adventureland's Pirates of the Caribbean.

In Frontierland, a wild ride awaits aboard a runaway freight train on Big Thunder Mountain Railroad, and in Liberty Square, students will see the supernatural come to life right before their eyes in the Haunted Mansion.

At Epcot Center, students can travel the world and journey into the future all in the same day. A high-speed rescue mission inside the human body launches students on a wonderous thrill ride through the blood stream in Body Wars at the new Wonders of Life pavilion. In Journey into Imagination, guests don purple shades to see spectacular special effects in Michael Jackson's 3-0 adventure, "Captain EO." A short walk away at Norway brings students to the Maelstrom, an exciting boat ride through the fjords of the Scandinavian country. IllumiNations, an exciting show combining lights, water fountains, pyrotechnics and scored to symphonic music caps off every night at Epcot Center.

As a special bonus, students 18 and over can party till 2 a.m. every night at Pleasure Island for 50 percent off. Spring breakers can dance at Mannequins, the hottest top-40 dance club in the country, laugh till it hurts at the Comedy Warehouse and do some heel kickin' at the Neon Armadillo Music Saloon. They must present a valid college ID, their driver's license and their Disney Break '90 ticket at one of the Pleasure Island ticket booths. Half-price tickets at Pleasure Island are only available with a Disney Break ticket.

While at Disney, students may also want to take some time to check out the Disney-MGM Studios Theme Park, where movie magic can be experienced first hand. There's fun in the sun as well at Typhoon Lagoon, a 56-acre themed water park with huge water slides and a monsterous wave pool.

Daytona Beach-bound students can stop by the Disney Break welcome center to purchase Disney Break tickets and merchandise, located at 312 S. Atlantic Avenue, one block south of Broadway across from the International Inn.

Get Ready Now for Spring Break!
MARY BETH BLESSING
Professional Travel Agent
392-GOGO • (392-4646)
Make Your Plans Today!

Have A Happy and Safe Spring Break!

Spring Break Sale!
Tuesday, March 6 — Friday, March 9
SUNGLASSES
25% OFF
SPRING/SUMMER CLOTHING
25% OFF (REG. PRICE)
OTHER ITEMS SALE PRICED AT AN EVEN LARGER SAVINGS!
LONGWOOD COLLEGE BOOKSTORE

Personals

Longwood College's Jazz Band will give a concert on Thursday evening, March 8, at 8 o'clock in Wygal Recital Hall.

The 15-member ensemble, directed by Dr. Gordon Ring, will perform big band music by Duke Ellington, Glenn Miller, and Count Basie, as well as contemporary jazz by Bennie Golson, Mark Taylor, and others.

Vocalist Alice Flora will be featured in one selection.

The jazz concert is open to the public free of charge.

The Cunningham's Greatest Lecture Series presents "Dating Relationships in the 90's: Do's and Don'ts" with Niki Fallis, Career Planning and Placement Center, Tuesday, March 6, 7 p.m., 4th floor South Cunningham. Through informal discussion, the dynamics of interpersonal relationships and finding personal happiness will be explored. All are invited! Refreshments available.

Tracy Butts — You are a wonderful kid, and you make me very proud. Keep up the good work. Alpha Gam Love Your Mom

3rd Floor Curry — You all are the best hall ever. Thanks for everything. — Love Pam Ann

Congratulations to the warriors — Todd, Coach, Jeff, Darrell, Jimmy, Randall, and Buddy! Way to go — number one in B — league Basketball! Love, Lori and Robin

Robin — You are a great Big Sis. Thanks for all your help and understanding. I love you. Shannon

Woody Woodpecker — Giraffe. — Hi! Are you having an OK? Just thought that I'd send you this "personal" to say: It's great having you as my roomie, but I wish you could learn to control your super activity at night. I hope those NYTOL work for your sake, as well as mine. By the way, did "Mr. Arrogant" talk to you at the AXP BEACH PARTY? Take care and have a great day! Love ya, — Bo

Kathy — You are doing a great job. Keep your AST pins! Work on those interviews. — Chris

Thip — Although I was forgotten, you are still loved. Keep smilin, especially since your little sis loves you. ΣK love and mine — Me

Kelly and Taline — Can anyone's life in our suite get much worse? What do you think Mitchell? Wallace: Keep calling; we need another Reeses. Σ and AF Love, — Me

Congratulations on Ribbon Pledging to the Beta Pledge Class of Kappa Pi! Paula Erwin, Alissa Oakley, Susan Pinch, Jennifer Rickard, Laurie Southall, Julie Walther, Michele Wilson. Best of luck! — The Brothers of Kappa Pi

T-shirt Logo Contest with $25 cash prize commuter student organization open to commuters/off-campus students submit entries to 207 Lankford?'s Call Alice Mitchell 395-2685. Contest ends March 23.

To all AST's — You guys are the best! Never forget that 40 and going strong! Keep up the good work. I can see why you wear your letters with so much pride. Love, — You know who

Christie — You are such an awesome pledge! I'm so glad that you are a part of Alpha Sigma Tau — the best sorority. AST love — Your ZT Buddy

Tammi — Just wanted to let you know that I think you are the best little sister! I'm so glad that you are now a sister. Wear that crest with pride! Tau love — your Big Sis

Birdie — I finally found a Pikapp that I like, too bad I had to extend my search to Clemson. Thanks for everything! — Circuit

Joe — Hey friar or is it Aldridge? Thanks for being there and accepting me the way I am.

Orla — Forget the females who don't treat you right — you deserve better! Actually, you deserve the best! Remember, I care and will be here if you need me. Love, — Luscious.

P.S. Be a man - be a Zulu Warrior.

Congratulations to those on the cast and crew of "Top Girls".

To the Pledges of Delta Sigma Pi — Keep up the good work. We think you're great. Work on those interviews. — The Brother of Delta Sigma Pi

Steve — Telefund is winding down. You are doing a great job. Besides, Tammi enjoys watching you "clean up." - T and T

Congrats to our ΣKs on the Dean's List. Your Scholarship, Chair loves you! Way to go De Ann, Anne, Mel, Julie, Donna, and Tammy!

Jill Loges — You're the best big sis ever! Thanks for everything. Looking forward to spring break!! Zeta love and mine — Jaime

To the 1989 Fall Hedge Class of ZTA — You guys are the best! Thanks for all the great memories. I know there's more to come. Zeta love and mine — Jaime

Dear Me — This is Bambi's dearest friend, Thumper. Could you please explain to me why I'm next and what I'm next for? Do I know who you are? Reply requested.

To the pledges of Alpha Gamma Delta — Keep up all your hard work, it will all pay off soon enough. We love you! — The sisters of Alpha Gamma Delta

Charlie Martin — You're the best sweetheart ever! Thanks for all you've done! — The sisters and pledges of Alpha Gamma Delta

Greg Marshall — The sisters and pledges of Alpha Gamma Delta are proud that you'll be representing us in this year's B.M.O.C. contest! We wish you the best of luck!

Sarah Whiteside — Great layout! Lots of Fiesta! The Rotunda is proud to have you as part of the team! — The Features Edit-Or-Else

Suzie Lawman — Hi Mom! — Your Kid

Editors note: Due to lack of sufficient space, we request that future personals be minimized to 30 words or less.

Heather Ross — Congrats on your award! I know you worked hard at Leadership Conference! π love — The Ding Dong Committee

John — I love you! I wouldn't change a thing. — Love, Angel Eyes

Carla V. — Hey (not morning!) No keyboarding! Yeah! But ya still have an 8:30 and I don't!! I have an idea - let's go to the movies. Let's see Nightbreed or Driving Miss Daisy! Next one's mine! Love — Jaime

Julie W. — I am very glad to have you as my little bro in Kπ. Your pledge period will be fun. I'm here for you! Love — Karen

DI — Thanks for everything. We've been through a lot together. Good times. Bad times. Laughter. Sorrow. I wouldn't have survived these past years without you. The next two years will be the best, and the future will be awesome for the both of us. Just don't forget the pool table. I love ya — D

Poo Bear — Hay Baby! I really want to thank you for everything these past weeks. Our break is coming so make sure to relax. Again I want you to know how much I really appreciate your support. I love you forever! Love you always, — "Your Boy"

Squibby — Keep up that hard work and you will do great! Always keep this at heart, no matter what happens you'll always be considered wonderful. Love — Dave

Little Big Bro Keith — Thanks a lot for everything! You are the greatest! I know the hardest is yet to come, but I know with your help nothing is impossible! Again I want to thank you for being there for me! Big Little Bro — Dave

Robin — Thanks for being such a great friend to me! I know our friendship started off in the weirdest sort of way and I think it's so amazing that we're so close. I'll always be here for you when you need to talk out a problem like you were for me! Love, — Dawn

Dear Me — This is one Bambi on campus. What the heck do you mean "Thumper's next"? Did Thumper ever do anything to you? Better watch it or I'll sick Flower on you!

Congrats — Heather and Janice on your award π, — The Ding-Dong Committee

To ΑΣΤ pledges — You guys are the best! Becky, Evelyn, Laura, Alisa, Jen, Beth, Christie, Tracy, Kathy, and Rachel! Welcome Tau Babies! Love that green and gold! — ΑΣΤ loves you!

Beth — Keep smiling! Don't let certain people make you forget how special you are! — L.

P.J. — Sorry I haven't come to visit but you live in Egypt! I'll see you over spring break! ΑΣΤ love, — Lori

To all ΕΣΤ's — Have a great spring break! Have fun at the beach and party hard!

Tammy Estes — You are the best Lil Sis anyone could have. Keep up our family spirit! Have an awesome spring break!! — ΣK and all of mine, Your Big Sis, Anothip

Anita Owens — Well another year almost over. You have been a great friend and an awesome roomie. We'll have to take a trip to your house one weekend, since you've gone to No. VA., already. Have a super break!! Love — Anothip

Female Roommate Needed! — For the months May-August in Richmond area. Please call Marie 5-3752 ASAP.

The sisters of Alpha Sigma Tau would like to wish DONNIE ANDERSON good luck in B.M.O.C.! You're a sure bet!!

LONGWOOD COLLEGE CLOSING INSTRUCTION
Spring Break 1990

CLOSING

1. All residence halls will close at 6 p.m. on Friday, March 9.
   * Students will be allowed to stay in the residence halls during Spring Break only if they have permission from the Housing Office, by 5:00 p.m. Wednesday, March 7.
2. The last meal to be served in the dining hall will be dinner on Friday, March 9th.
3. The Lancer Cafe will close at 1:00 p.m., Friday, March 9th.
4. Please leave all rooms in order and empty trash cans. Also, please see that all windows are closed and all lights out. Disconnect all electrical appliances (except refrigerators and fish tanks). Bathrooms should be cleaned. Window shades on the ground floor should be completely closed, all others open.

THE RESIDENCE LIFE STAFF WILL CHECK ROOMS.

REOPENING

1. All residence halls will reopen on Sunday, March 18th, at 2:00 p.m.
2. The dining hall will reopen for dinner from 4:30-6:00 p.m. on Sunday, March 18th.
3. The Lancer Cafe will reopen at 9:00 a.m. on Monday, March 19.

David Rettig, Director of Housing

REMINDER: FALL SEMESTER 1990 FEE DEPOSITS $160.00 readmission/fee deposit for fall semester is due in the Longwood College Cashiering and Students Accounts office by March 26, 1990. Late payment means late registration and late room sign-up for fall semester.

DON'T BE LATE!

Room sign-up information will be available after spring break.

Sports

Lady Lancers Set New Team Scoring Record

For the second straight week Longwood set a new school record for team score as the Lancer gymnasts notched a 172.8 while bowing to Division I North Carolina State (182.65) Friday night in Lancer Hall.

All-arounds Cindy Shelton, Danielle Williams, Beth Risley and Cheryl Cole led the way for Longwood which performed well in the loss. Shelton totaled a season-best 35.05 to finish fifth while Williams had a 34.8, Risley a 34.7 and Cole a 32.85.

Individual event leaders for Longwood were Shelton (9.05) in vaulting, Williams (8.6) on bars, Risley and Terry Dore with 8.8 on beam and Shelton (9.05) on floor.

All four Wolfpack all-arounds scored above 36 as Karen Tart had a meet-best 36.85.

"We had another meet where all our scores which counted were above 8.0," said coach Ruth Budd. "We also had no falls among counting scores on bars and our best all-around scores of the year."

Longwood had scored a record 172.0 last week in a meet with James Madison and got a 170.05 the week before. Having three straight scores of 170 or better is unprecedented for a Lancer gymnastics squad.

Next up for Longwood is the United States Gymnastics Federation Division II Regional Meet March, 31, at Indiana University of Pennsylvania. Longwood will be making its 11th straight trip to Regionals.

"We should definitely qualify for regionals and stand a good chance for getting a better than usual seeding," said Budd. "Having three scores above 170 really helps."

Other teams expected to take part in the regional are West Chester, Georgia College, Navy, East Stroudsburg, Trenton State and host IUP.

Shelton Named Player Of The Week

Junior gymnast Cindy Shelton notched Longwood's highest all-around score of the season and helped the Lancers set a new record for team score Friday night in a meet with N.C. State. Shelton has been named Longwood College Player of the Week for the period Feb. 25-March 4. Player of the Week is chosen by the Longwood sports information office.

Shelton scored a 35.05 all-around total in the meet with NC State as Longwood scored a record 172.8. Shelton, the top Lancer all-around in seven of eight competitions, has come back strong this year after being sidelined by a knee injury last season.

"Cindy had her highest all-around score of the year," said coach Ruth Budd. "She has done very well for us this year. She is especially strong on vaulting and floor. After laying off last year, Cindy has had to work really hard to regain her previous form. She deserves a lot of credit."

A graduate of Manchester High School in Richmond, Cindy now calls Chesapeake, home. She set Longwood records for all-around (35.45) and beam (9.05) in her freshman season and placed in the 1988 Virginia State Meet. A business major, she a former Class I gymnast at the Richmond Olympiad.

CINDY SHELTON

Parker Takes Longwood To Nationals

Junior Charlie Parker performed well at the NCAA Division II National Wrestling Tournament in Kenosha, Wisconsin Friday and Saturday, but failed to place. Parker won one of three matches at 177 pounds to finish the year at 16-4-1.

He lost a 3-1 decision to Joe Wypiszenski of Nebraska-Omaha, came back to beat Warren Tucker of Virginia State 7-2 and then lost a tough 9-8 decision to Russ Witzig of Southern Illinois Edwardsville on a penalty call in the final seconds of regulation.

"Charlie had a good tournament," said Lancer coach Steve Nelson. "He was very competitive and came close to placing. He just wasn't able to finish off his moves."

Nelson said that Wypiszenski, Parker's first round opponent, finished third in the nation last year. Parker had a great match despite the defeat. In his final bout, Parker battled back from a 7-3 deficit to tie things at 8-8 and appeared to have the match under control. Then he was called for keeping his hands locked in the final two seconds.

The 177-pounder had won the NCAA Division II Southeast Regional in his weight class Feb. 25, making him the second champion in Longwood's history and the fifth wrestler to represent Longwood at Nationals.

CORRECTION:

In last week's Rotunda the outcome of the men's Rugby game was reported inaccurately. The Richmond Rats beat Longwood 11-0. Our apologies to the Rats and Professor Steele.

Longwood Wins 3 Of 4

Longwood won three of four games in the Carolinas last week on the baseball diamond. The Lancers dropped a 6-2 decision at Mount Olive (NC) Thursday, swept Morris (SC) 6-1 and 9-5 Friday in Sumter and came back to beat a tough Francis Marion team Sunday 6-4 in 10 innings. A twinbill at Allen (SC) Saturday was rained out. Now 5-3, Longwood will be idle until March 16 when Lock Haven visits for two.

Freshman Terry Taylor and sophomore Scott Abell combined to drive in five runs as the Lancers edged Francis Marion in extra innings. Taylor drove in the two winning runs in the top of the 10th with a double to break a 4-4 tie, and Abell had a two-run double in the sixth.

Juniors Matt Carlisle and Dennis Hale combined to pitch Longwood to the victory. Carlisle pitched five-and-one-third innings while Hale came on in relief to finish out the game and get the win. Hale is 1-0.

Friday at Morris, Tim Patrick tossed a 3-hitter in the opening 6-1 win and rookie hurler Kyle Weaver, with relief help from Hale, got credit for the second game 9-5 victory. Patrick is 1-0 and Weaver 2-0. Senior Robbie Smith went 3-4 with two RBIs in the opener while Abell, Chris Porter and Mike Tucker had homers in the nightcap.

TIM PATRICK

Soccer Suppliers Sponsor Goalkeeping Clinic

Joe Machnik, Goalkeeper Coach for the United States National Soccer Team, will conduct a free goalkeeping clinic and make a personal appearance on Saturday, March 3 from 10:30 a.m. until 2 p.m.

The clinic, sponsored by Matt Godek Rugby and Soccer Supply, Unlsport, and Alix and will take place from 10:30 a.m. until noon at Stenwood Elementary School, 2620 Gallows Road, Vienna. From 12:30 p.m. until 2 p.m., Machnik will appear in person at Matt Godek Rugby and Soccer Supply, 2744-A Gallows Road, Vienna.

With Machnik as the goalkeeper coach, the U.S. National soccer team allowed only three goals in eight World Cup qualifying games, five of them shutouts. The U.S. Team has qualified for the World Cup finals for the first time in 40 years. Machnik is premier Goalkeeper Coach in the U.S.

Stenwood Elementary School is located one block north of the Dunn Loring Metro Station, and Matt Godek Rugby and Soccer Supply is approximately 1/2 mile south of the station on Gallows Road.

For further information call 280-5540.

SPORTS EDITORS

and Writers Needed

If interested, please call The Rotunda at 2120 or write Box 1133.

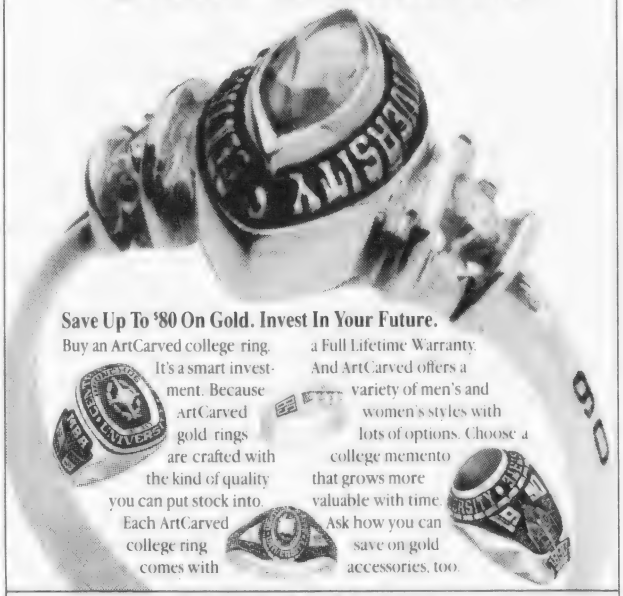
Classifieds

Lonely?
Need a Date?
Meet that special someone today!
Call DATETIME
(405) 366-6335

CRUISE LINE
OPENINGS
HIRING NOW!!
Call (719) 687-6662
(USA)

"ADOPTION"
Happily Married European-American professional couple longing to share a beautiful county life with precious newborn. Please call collect anytime. 804-979-8347.

"ADOPTION"
Love, laughter and a brother's hand to hold. Our family longs for the baby who will fill our hearts. Let's help each other. Call collect, Ron & Karyn in VA (804) 978-7104 or our adoption advisor (802) 235-2312.



— FREE —
PREGNANCY TEST

All services confidential.
Same day results.
116 N. MAIN STREET
SOUTHSIDE PREGNANCY CENTER

24-HOUR HOTLINE
392-8483

Gold Futures

Save Up To '80 On Gold. Invest In Your Future.

Buy an ArtCarved college ring. It's a smart investment. Because ArtCarved gold rings are crafted with the kind of quality you can put stock into. Each ArtCarved college ring comes with a Full Lifetime Warranty. And ArtCarved offers a variety of men's and women's styles with lots of options. Choose a college memento that grows more valuable with time. Ask how you can save on gold accessories, too.

ARTCARVED
COLLEGE JEWELRY

Bookstore | March 5 — 7-10 AM - 2 PM
Location | Date | Time | Deposit Required
Payment Plans Available

Upcoming Events

or college departments to make entries a campus calendar form must be filled out and returned to the Student Union Office.

Deadline is the Tuesday preceding publication date.

Information on this calendar is collected and coordinated through the Student Union Office, 1st Floor Lankford Student Union, Longwood College.

For student organizations

Tuesday - 6

ISP Lecture: "The Japanese Management System", & p.m., VA Room.

Eating Disorders , 1PM-2PM Counseling Services

Workshop: Job Research Strategies 4PM CPPC , S. Ruffner

Recruiter: F.N. Wolf All Day CPPC , S. Ruffner

Discussion: Women in the Economy, 7PM Bedford

Workshop: Transition to Workplace 1PM CPPC

Wednesday - 7

Fred Steiner 9AM-10PM Showcase Gallery

Recruiter: Harris Teeter All Day ,CPPC

American Painter Printmakers 9-12;1-5 Bedford Gallery

Film ,"My Brilliant Career " 3:30PM Lancer Cafe

IM: Spades Start.

Series of Performing Arts Presents:"a Soldiers Play" 8PM Jarman

HS-C

CAC Movie,"Up In Smoke" Johns Aud, 10PM $1.00

Tennis vs. Washington and Lee, 3PM.

Thursday - 8

Jazz Band Concert 8PM Wygal.

Recruiter: U.S. Army 11AM-2PM New Smoker.

Fred Steiner 9AM-10PM Showcase Gallery

American

ISP Lecture: The Venezuelan Experience 7PM P.E. Room

Lecture: Successful and Female in Todays Business World 7PM Bedford

HSC

Honors Lecture: Professor of Biology Valorie Hall,"Within the Wonderful Mind:Germ cells of Creativity," Parents& Friends Lounge 11:30 AM

Friday - 9

Fred Steiner 9AM -6PM Showcase Gallery

American Painter Printmakers 9-12;1-5 Bedford Gallery

SPRING BREAK BEGINS AFTER CLASSES!!!

Spring Break!

Spring Break Special

March 5th - March 10th

Buy A shirt At regular price AND get Second ONE (equal or lesser value) for 1/2 price.

FREE Six-pack of pepsi with each special.

the National Interest

The Rotunda

Longwood College

Vol. 69 No. 19 | March 26, 1990 | Farmville, VA

Church Crowned as New Miss Longwood

Photo Credit: Jeff Weller

The new Miss Longwood and the runners up. From left to right: 1st - Beth Pettler, Amy Church, 2nd - Cullen Johnson, and 3rd - Laurianne Maisey.

Photo Credit: Jeff Weller

Amy Church displays trophies after being crowned Miss Longwood.

By SARAH WHITESIDE

On Saturday night, eleven contestants competed for the 1990 title of Miss Longwood. Miss Louisiana emceed the event where the contestants were graded on four qualities: Talent (40 points), Interviews, conducted earlier in the afternoon, (30 points), Swimsuit (15 points), and Evening Gown (15 points). The purpose of the Miss Longwood Pageant is to honor and promote achievement by women.

The eleven finalists were: Amy Church sponsored by Tau Kappa Epsilon, Lisa DeJarnette sponsored by Sigma Kappa, Rachel Farris sponsored by Delta Zeta, Melissa Funn sponsored by Edna Allen-Bledsoe, Jill Godfrey sponsored by the Lancer Dancers, Libby Hoggard sponsored by Alpha Delta Pi, Cullen Johnson sponsored by the Rugby Team, Laurianne Maisey sponsored by Susie Lloyd, Beth Miller sponsored by Alpha Delta Pi, Beth Pettler sponsored by Kappa Delta, and Kim Proffitt sponsored by Alpha Gamma Delta.

Directed by Don Winkler, the evening was packed out only with the entertainment provided by the contestants and their talent competition but also former Miss Longwood Robin Elder Slaughter, the Lancer Edition Show Choir, the Karen Sherrill Dance Arts Troupe, and Miss Louisiana, Stacy King. The Talent competiton included a baton twirler, two pianists, five singers, a comedian, a dancer, and a thespian. Winning the Talent Contest was Amy Church with a comedy-sing-and-dance routine, "Sam, You Made the Pants Too Long." Chosen by the contestants, Beth Pettler won the title Miss Congeniality.

At the end of the evening, Miss Longwood 1988 Christine Menny, gave up her crown to Church. Church, a theater major, enjoys skiing, and horseback riding. She believes in taking risks and believes, "the greatest hazard in life is to risk nothing at all."

Longwood License Plates

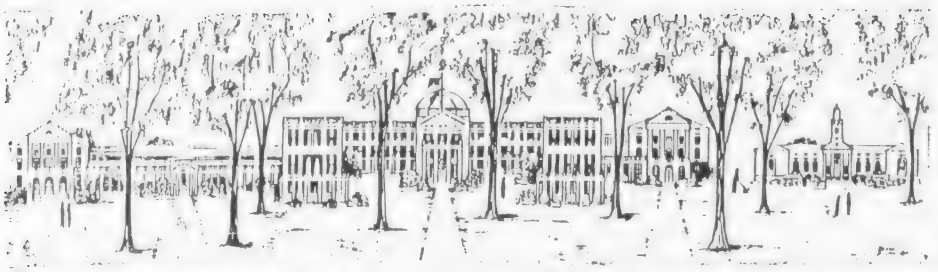
By BETH A. LORD

Official Longwood College license plates are now available for students, faculty, and staff who want to show their school spirit.

This past year, the General Assembly passed a bill giving all colleges in the state the opportunity to design their own license plates. This was intended to raise extra revenue for the Commonwealth. More recently, another bill was passed, stating that after 1,000 plates from the same college are sold, that college receives $15 per plate in the form of a scholarship fund.

Hampden-Sydney and James Madison were among the first schools to design plates. Longwood's have been available since late February. The plates are great tools for recruitment and publicity.

Anyone interested should visit the Virginia Department of Motor Vehicles or follow the instructions in a pamphlet that can be picked up at Longwood's Office of Institutional Advancement. Longwood plates are available at the Farmville DMV and should soon be available at all DMVs in the state. They can be used only on passenger cars and vans or trucks with a gross weight of 7,500 lbs. or less.



In addition to the regular vehicle registration payment, College Plates cost $25. Personalized Longwood plates, called combination College Plates/Communi Plates, cost $35. These display the college logo along with your message of up to six numbers and letters.

If you are between registration cycles, you are exempt from the regular registration payment. The $25 or $35 fee will be prorated based upon the number of months you have left on your registration.

Sample plates, to be used for display in residence hall rooms or offices, are available for $25. These are not personalized and cannot be used on motor vehicles.

Contents

Commentary.....2
News.....3, 4
Features.....5
Personals.....6
Calendar.....6
Sports.....7
Classifieds.....8

Commentary

Internships can open Doors

By TONYA OZAWA

The spring semester is nearly over and registration is about to begin. I'd like to suggest, as you think about your classes for next fall, that you consider gaining some hands-on experience in an internship. If you are interested in acquiring skills that will help you after college, an internship may be for you.

Internships are supervised programs that give students practical work experience in professional settings. Interns apply principles and theories taught in classes to real-life projects. It's a way for you to promote yourself and use your internship experience later when you're looking for a job.

An internship can also be a good way for students to find out if the field they have chosen in college is really the one for them. Kristina Small says, "I'm thinking of going into journalism and after doing the research necessary for my practicum, I believe that I'll enjoy doing similar work when I get a job."

As of January 30, there were more than twenty openings for interns in departments or offices on campus. However, only seven positions were filled. The Academic Affairs Office, the Graduate Studies Office, and the Dean of Liberal Arts and Sciences each received two interns. One intern was placed in the Office of Career Planning and Placement.

Objectives will vary from program to program, depending upon the department and the type of internship. But all internships have one common goal — a learning experience to benefit the intern. Tisha Tracy, an intern in the office of Career Planning and Placement, says "my internship has been beneficial to me and allows me to apply knowledge from my major."

The coordination of internships resides within the various academic departments. Talk with your advisor to see if your major offers internship opportunities.

LONGWOOD COLLEGE SPRING HOUSING SIGN-UP 1990

March 20	Applications for single rooms and off-campus lottery available in the housing office. Roommate Search Surveys available in Housing Office.
March 26	Community Welcome Session — in the Virginia Room at 5:30 P.M. Attendance at this program is required for those who wish to go off campus through the off-campus lottery. (For those who can not be at this session another will be held on March 27 at 5:30 p.m. in the Lancer Cafe.
March 27	Community Welcome Session — in the Lancer Cafe at 7 p.m.
March 30	Applications for single rooms and off-campus lottery due in the Housing Office by 5:00 p.m.
April 6	Roommate Search Surveys due in the Housing Office.
April 9	Single room and off-campus lottery decision letters to be mailed.
April 9	F.A.R. — in the Red, White and Green Room at 7:00 p.m.
April 10	Pre-arranged sing-up sheets due to Housing Office by noon. Fraternity/Sorority Special Interest RA Roommates//Suitemates Saved Floor (Optional)
April 17	In-residence hall room selection 7:00 p.m. Saved floors by class and lottery number. 7:30 p.m. in-hall only by class and lottery number. 8:00 p.m. in-hall with outsiders by class and lottery number.
April 23	Change-of-Residence hall room selection — Conference Room 2 - Lankford Hall 7:00 p.m. rising seniors by lottery number 7:30 p.m. rising juniors by lottery number 8:00 p.m. rising sophomores by lottery number
April 27	Late Room Sign-up 10:00 a.m. Housing Office, Tabb Hall First come - First served

NOTE: Anyone looking for a roommate, please come by the Housing Office and complete a roommate survey by April 6, 1990.

Let Longwood know what's on your mind. Write a Letter to the Editor, Box 1133.

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
R. Bruce Gantt

Photography Editor
Jan-Marie Johnson

Sports Editor

Business Manager
Kim Bell

Advertising Manager
Michelle Lawhorn

Features Editor
Monica Gilbert

News Editor
Beth A. Lord

Layout Editor
Sarah Whiteside

Faculty Advisor
William C. Woods

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be signed, typed or printed neatly, and state the author's years. The Editor and staff reserve the right to edit any material submitted for publication.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 395-2120.

Players Gear Up for "Top Girls"

By ANTHONY TASSA

The Longwood Players and Speech and Theatre Department are currently in production for the final show of the 1989-90 academic year. Top Girls, by Caryl Churchill, will be performed from April 18-21 at 8 p.m. in Jarman Auditorium.

The show's director, Rick Scott, comes to Longwood as a guest director, carrying with him a long, proud, and distinguished list of credentials. His most recent work has been as Actor and Educational Coordinator for the Mule Barn Summer Theatre, guest artist at Tarkio College where he directed Beth Henley's Crimes of the Heart, consultant for the National Shakespeare Theatre of New York, Vice-chairman for The Small Professional Theatre program of the American Theatre Association, and intern coordinator for Robert Wilson's The Civil Wars project in New York City. Mr. Scott received his bachelor's degree from Indiana University in Speech and Theatre and has since acquired an extremely reputable name in the theatre world.

The all female cast of Top Girls is made up of Emily Roderer, Sue Williams, Amy Roderer, Vern Williamson, Tracey Armwood, Gwen Colley, Audrey Crane, Ann Helm, and Lori Lambert, and provides a veritable showcase for the talented and hard working actresses of Longwood College.

The play stresses the importance of retaining individualism without losing sight of the necessity for unity among women in today's male dominated society. Top Girls gives every woman a chance to stand up, shout, and let her voice be heard. The cast and crew are excited and the consensus feeling is that Top Girls can be the height of Jarman's theatrical year.

Longwood Dancers' Spring Concert

The Longwood College Company of Dancers will present their spring concert on Thursday and Friday, March 29 and 30, at 7:30 p.m. in Jarman Auditorium.

The program this year will feature the premier of a new work by Dr. Nelson Neal, Dance Company director. Entitled "Patterns," the work is a 12-minute modern dance, set to "New Age" music by Yanni. Costume design and stage decor are by Suzanne Ellett, of Farmville.

Also on the program are student-choreographed works in a variety of styles — tap, [illegible], and modern dance. Included are solos, duets and group pieces.

Members of the Dance Company are: Wendy Behling, Lisa Crescentini, Betsy Gee, Lisa Ham, Jill Hartt, Karla Marotta, Kerensa Mohney, Amy Smith, Niki Smith, Anna Wade, and Donna Wolfe.

Performing with them will be Satu Paarvala, a visiting student from the University of Jyvaskyla in Finland, and two advanced modern dance students at Longwood, Fran Siebert and Kerr Holloway.

The dance performances are open to the public free of charge.

Anticipated Counselor Positions Admissions Office

[illegible] months. High energy, good communications skills and active involvement while at Longwood prerequisites for successful candidates.

Salary $1560.35 per month, no benefits, all travel expenses paid. Some weekend work required.

Interested candidates need to contact Bob Chonko, Director of Admissions at X2060.

Final Womens History Month Events Next Week

The final three events in Longwood College's observance of Women's History Month are scheduled next week.

On Monday, March 26, at 7 p.m. in Bedford Auditorium, Longwood faculty members will discuss "Transforming the Curriculum to Incorporate Gender and Ethnic Issues. "Discussion participants are Dr. Kathleen Flanagan, assistant professor of English; Dr. Larry Hlad, assistant professor of sociology; Frank Howe, assistant professor of psychology; Dr. John Peale, professor of philosophy; and Dr. Gordon Van Ness, assistant professor of English.

A film entitled "One Sings, the Other Doesn't" will be shown on Wednesday afternoon, March 28, at 3 o'clock in Lancer Cafe, Lankford Building. Made in 1977 and directed by Agnes Varda, the film chronicles a 15-year relationship between two French women.

A panel discussion entitled "The Road to Equality: Where Does Longwood Go From Here?" will wrap up the Women's History Month program. The discussion will be Thursday evening, March 29, at 7 o'clock in Bedford Auditorium.

Brenda Cross, Longwood's director of minority affairs, will moderate the discusion. Panelists include Rodena Ellerbe, instructor of sociology; Brenda Atkins, assistant to the vice president for business affairs and special assistant to the president for legislative relations; and students Beth Camillo, Ronald Colbert, Spencer Dickens, Drew Hudson, and Sarabeth Murphy.

All of the Women's History Month events are open to the public free of charge.

Summer Japanese Program

Japanese is the foreign language rising fastest in popularity among college students today, and for good reason. Japan offers great riches to young Americans; fascinating history, elegant traditions, booming economic frontiers, and a culture unique in its blend of oriental and western ways.

From July 23 to August 15, 1990, Susquehanna University, at Selinsgrove, PA, will offer an intensive program in Japanese language and culture. Sixty hours of elementary and intermediate language instruction will be provided for four transferrable credit hours. An American instructor and a native instructor will co-teach the daily classes using progressive dynamic methods and materials.

Language learning will be complemented by presentations on the culture behind the language. In addition, side trips will focus on Japanese culture in the United States.

American students will share a residence hall with Japanese students from Tokyo's Senshu University, who will be studying English language and Americans culture. Contact with Japanese students will provide unlimited opportunities to make friends for a lifetime.

A fee of $1630 includes 60 hours of instruction, lodging in a residence hall, three meals a day and side trips.

For further information and application forms, contact: Jane Yeager, Program Director, Department of Continuing Education, Susquehanna University, Selinsgrove, PA 17870-1001, (717) 372-4354.

Applications are due by June 22, 1990.

Longwood student Tracey Hassel donates blood at last weeks Geist Sponsored Blood Drive.

News

H-SC Sponsors Lectures on "Post-Khomeini Iran"

Hampden-Sydney College is sponsoring a series of lectures titled "Post-Khomeini Iran" in the coming weeks. On Wednesday, March 28, Dr. Samir Saliba from Emory & Henry College will present "An Introduction to and Interpretation of the Islamic Revolution in Iran."

On Tuesday, April 3, Dr. Mohsen Sami from Hampden-Sydney College will speak on "The Economic Impact on Iran of the Islamic Revolution." Dr. Saliba will return Wednesday, April 11, to address "United States/Iran Relations." All talks will be at 7:30 p.m. in Parents & Friends Lounge of Hampden-Sydney College and are open to the public at no charge.

Although it has been years since the Iranian Revolution inspired the taking of American hostages from the US Embassy in Teheran, US/Iranian relations are still next to nonexistent. Moderates in Iran are said to be courting United States favor by using their leverage in Lebanon to encourage the release of Western hostages there. In the Soviet Union there has been considerable ethnic unrest in the Republic of Azerbaijan involving Iran, and in this country, the Iran/Contra trials still are headline news.

Because of its oil, its strategic location, and its position in the Islamic world, Iran continues to have an impact on international events, and yet few of us know much about this mystery that was once Persia. Why does it consider the United States "the Great Satan?" What role does Shi'ite belief have in Iran's day-to-day politics? Who controls the power now that the Ayatollah Khomeini is gone?

To answer these and other questions, Hampden-Sydney College is sponsoring a series of lectures titled "Post-Khomeini Iran" in the coming weeks. On Wednesday, March 28, Dr. Samir Saliba from Emory & Henry College will present "An Introduction to and Interpretation of the Islamic Revolution in Iran." On Tuesday, April 3, Dr. Mohsen Sami from Hampden-Sydney College will speak on "The Economic Impact on Iran of the Islamic Revolution." Dr. Saliba will return on Wednesday, April 11, to address "United States/Iran Relations." All talks will be at 7:30 p.m. in Parents & Friends Lounge of Hampden-Sydney College and are open to the public at no charge.

Women Wanted in Mathematical Fields

Only a few more college women than 25 years ago major in science and engineering programs, despite efforts to draw them into the disciplines, a researcher told a science convention in New Orleans in late February.

The women who do major in science or engineering, moreover, get lower pay, slower promotions, less visibility and fewer rewards than men, Jane Butler Kahle told an audience at the American Association for the Advancement of Science meeting in New Orleans.

"A healthy society and economy must encourage the maximum talents of all its people," said Kahle, who is a professor of teacher education at the University of Miami in Oxford.

Only 14 percent of female first-year students, compared to 40 percent of the males, choose to major in science, Kahle reported. In addition, the number of women receiving degrees in math, computer science or statistics fell from 4.4 percent in 1986 to 2.4 percent in 1989.

Kahle figures that the lack of female role models and colleagues in the fields is one of the reasons that many students majoring in engineering and science eventually change majors.

Longwood's Video Wins Award

Longwood College has two winners in the 1990 national recruitment materials competition conducted by Admissions Marketing Report.

The new Longwood Video received the Silver Award as the second best video in the United States among colleges and universities with 2,000 to 5,000 students. The Gold Award went to Manhattan College in New York for a video produced for them by the J. Walter Thompson Agency.

Longwood's video was directed and edited by H. Donald Winkler, associate vice president and executive director of public affairs and publications, and Douglass Forsyth, of the F. E. Worthington Company in Baltimore. Photography was by Winkler, Sheffield studios, and BES Teleproductions.

The 16-minute video is "an unrehearsed candid view of Longwood as told by students, faculty, administrators, and special friends," Winkler said. The video is used primarily by Longwood's admissions staff to inform prospective students about the college.

The Longwood Viewbook received a Merit Award in its category as one of the five best viewbooks in the nation. Other winners were the U. S. Military Academy (West Point, NY), Bob Jones University (SC), King's College (PA), and Beaver College (PA).

Longwood and Bob Jones were the only institutions that created their own viewbooks; the others used advertising/PR agencies. Winkler wrote, designed, and edited the viewbook; it was printed by Fisher-Harrison corporation of Greensboro, NC.

Entitled "Living fully. That's what Longwood is all about," the viewbook is the primary mailing piece to high school students who have expressed a strong interest in the college.

A poster designed by Donna Breckenridge, assistant director of publications and visual productions at Longwood, won a Special Merit Award in the 1990 Communications Award Program sponsored by District III of the Council for Advancement and Support of Education (CASE).

A record number of 1,065 entries were submitted for this year's CASE-III communications competition. Judges for the 12 divisions selected 257 winners.

Breckenridge's poster, titled "I Think I Don't Remember," won in the Illustrations division. A promotional piece for last year's Longwood Sesquicentennial lecture by Art Buckwald, the poster featured the designer's original drawing of Buchwald and was printed in two colors (red and black) by Longwood's Duplicating Services.

Membership in CASE District III includes more than 330 public and private colleges and universities in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia.

Virginia Tech Offers Summer Program For Graduate School

The Department of History at Virginia Tech will offer a 1990 summer program to encourage minorities to attend graduate school in history and to help them develop some of the skills essential for success in graduate school.

Under a grant from the United States Department of Education, the university will offer the program during its first summer session May 15-June 26, according to Neil Larry Shumsky, director of graduate studies in history. The program is open to college sophomore and junior students majoring in history or a related discipline.

The program consists of three courses: Historography, historical thinking and logic; Research Seminar/Tutorial, an independent study, under the close direction of a faculty member, designed to assist students in solving specific problems in their own research and to assist students with professional writing and career planning; and Succeeding in the Graduate School Environment, a course to teach the student about graduate school, the ways it differs from undergraduate study and the modes of behavior expected of graduate students. The first two courses carry transfer credits toward a graduate degree.

The grant will cover participants' tuition, room and board, books, one round-trip transportation fare to Blacksburg and a generous stipend so that students need not worry that participation in the program will jeopardize their ability to work during the summer. In addition, participants who complete the program will be guaranteed admission to Virginia Tech's graduate history program after they have earned an undergraduate degree.

Members of the History Department have application forms and further information. You may also contact Larry Shumsky or Linda Harris in Virginia Tech's Department of History at (703) 231-5331.

Contemporary Prints

"American Painter-Printmakers," a traveling exhibit from the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts, is featured in Longwood College's Bedford Gallery through March 30.

The show includes 14 large prints by Robert Rauschenberg, Helen Frankenthaler, Andy Warhol, Wayne Thiebaud, and others.

Curator Mary Wayne Fritsche said the exhibit presents "a cross-section of original printmaking techniques including silkscreens, aquatints and lithographs.

"For some artists, printmaking's technical processes were a natural extension of their backgrounds in commercial art," Fritzsche said.

"Others, like Rauschenberg, were novices who emerged to become the most adventurous and accomplished painter-printmakers of their generation."

The exhibit is open to the public during the following Bedford Gallery hours: Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m.; Saturday and Sunday by appointment, call 395-2284.

IMPORTANT
ANNOUNCEMENT!
EFFECTIVE APRIL 1
THE PAY RATE FOR WORK-STUDY STUDENTS WILL INCREASE FROM $3.75 TO $3.80 PER HOUR

Features

Movie Review: The Hunt for Red October

By M.P. MOORE

"This is a sea story, and all sea stories are the same: A boy goes down to the sea in ships, is swept off into a weird world of colorful male characters, learns to stand up and be a man among men, and he comes home forever changed." This is what John McTiernan the director of The Hunt For Red October said when asked about the recent thaw in the cold war that influenced Tom Clancy to pen the phenomenally successful novel about a group of naval officers who decide to defect to the United States and make a gift of the Red October to the U.S. Navy.

Well at last, the film has been released and judging from box-office sales, the thaw has not hurt the film in anyway whatsoever. The Hunt For Red October features a stellar cast of actors; Sean Connery as the Soviet Capt. Marko Ramius; Alec Baldwin C.I.A. analyst Jack Ryan, who is person who ultimately figures out Ramius' ulterior motives; James Earl Jones as Admiral Greer, an upper echelon C.I.A. boss who puts Ryan on the case; and lastly Scott Glen who portrays the skipper of the U.S.S. Dallas, the American sub that has been tracking the Red October since she steamed past the coast of Iceland.

The story concerns Capt. Marko Ramius and a small group of officers aboard the Soviet Union's latest, fastest, and most quiet submarine, the Red October. Ramius, blaming the death of his wife upon the government of the U.S.S.R., has decided that the only way he can exact his revenge upon the government for her death is to give the U.S. the Red October. He is able to do so, due to the caterpillar drive, which has no working parts, thus making it unable to track when submerged, or in simple terms, the Soviet Union has a launch pad that surface in New York's harbor and launch enough nuclear missiles to destroy at least 200 U.S. continental cities. Scary huh?

The C.I.A. is on to the situation, as is the Soviet Union who mobilizes their entire Red Northern Fleet with orders to sink the Red October. What follows is an extremely suspenseful film with a climactic submarine cat-and-mouse chase sequence towards the end of the film between the U.S.S. Dallas, the Red October, and the Soviet sub Konovalov which has ferreted out the Red October and intends to scuttle her on the floor of the Atlantic Ocean.

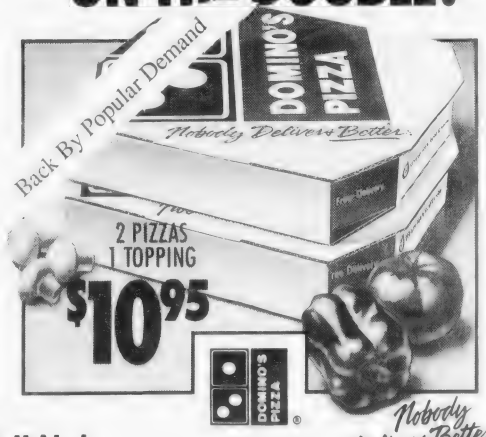
The film is a well-crafted delight, never failing to satisfy the viewer, and always maintaining the viewer's attention. Sean Connery is, as always, superb as the Soviet sub-driver who only wants to prevent a nuclear war. Alec Baldwin's acting in this film should propel him into some "Oscar" class films, as he is the perfect hero, dashing, suave, and little unsure of himself. James Earl Jones plays a hard and gritty Admiral Greer who has the ability to place his trust in Jack Ryan's theories.

The film is grossing a large amount of money in the theaters and will probably continue to do so for a long period of time. It's worth the five bucks to see it, and it is enjoyable. Raise the periscope and damn the torpedoes, The Hunt For Red October garners a whopping 4.0 out of 4.0.

— FREE —
PREGNANCY TEST

All services confidential.
Same day results.
116 N. MAIN STREET
SOUTHSIDE PREGNANCY CENTER
24-HOUR HOTLINE
392-8483

Summertime at Longwood



Summer Session Dates

First 3 Week Session	May 21 - June 8
First 4 Week Session	June 18 - July 13
Second 4 Week Session	July 16 - August 10

Reminder: Only courses taken at Longwood count towards your GPA.

CRUISE LINE
OPENINGS
HIRING NOW!!
Call (719) 687-6662
(USA)

TWO PIZZAS
ON THE DOUBLE.

Nobody Delivers Better.®

Call Us!
392-1820
Longwood Village
Shopping Center

Hours: 11 am-1am Sun.-Wed.
11am-2am Thu.-Sat.

Order a Domino's pizza with 2 toppings or more and present one of our competitor's valid coupons to receive a 12" cheese pizza for only $3.00! This offer valid at Farmville location only, Thurs., 22 March - Wed., 28 March only. You must mention this ad when placing your order.

Coming soon...unadvertised early week spontaneous specials!

$33,000 PART TIME
IN-STATE TUITION RATES FOR ALL

You don't have to be from Virginia to take advantage of the best deal around in tuition assistance. When you join a local unit of the Virginia Army National Guard you qualify for in-state rates, and you can tap into our unbeatable package of pay and education benefits that can add up to as much as $33,000!

All of this for just one weekend a month and two weeks a year after initial training. We even have a special summer training program for college students that will get the money flowing fast!

It's real, and it's right now. But don't delay or you might miss your chance this summer. Call now

VIRGINIA ARMY NATIONAL GUARD

SERGEANT FIRST CLASS
FRANK LOVERDE
FARMVILLE
392-8004

VIRGINIA ARMY NATIONAL GUARD

Personals

INTERESTED IN CHOOSING MOVIES next year. Get in contact with Ronald in the Student Union office. You're welcome to leave your name and number and Ronald will get back with you!

5th Beatle — Don't misunderstand me, Florida was awesome, but I think it's a better summer trip. I'm looking forward to a longer visit! Don't be embarrassed, you're still holding a strong 10 at lunch time ratings! — Love Ya, Maggie

Rich K — You're a terrific person. I love you and hope one day you'll notice me! — Love, XXXXX

Dingbat — Beauty is never hidden. — Love, A Friend

A table on 2nd floor of library reads: "If you can't shake your feet, you can't have no pudding" — signed Jigchiro.

Thank you Mike Selby for proving to us all why the Deltas lost their charter! I hope your stay in jail was a pleasant one!!!

Slim Jim — Yo hon! Spring Weekend is on the way! Yeah. — Love, Ope

To the Sisters of Sigma Kappa — I hope you all had a great Spring Break! I really missed seeing you around campus, but I hope you're all ready to get back to the books and finish this semester. Come by and see me. Your advisor, Sherri Congratulations to all the new Army ROTC Scholarship winners! The following students have been awarded two year ROTC Scholarships. Spencer Dickens, Joshua Dimonde, Susan Gardner, Juliet Taylor and Edwin Umstead.

Suzie Lawman — Hi Mom! — Your Kid

ΑΣΑ would like to wish all the sororities and fraternities the best of luck during Greek week.

Carrie — Congratulations on your acceptance to MCV! We knew you could do it. How could they refuse?! You know we'll miss our "little chicken", but we're so happy for you! — π, Your Sisters

To the Pledges of ΑΣΑ — Keep up the good work! We love you!

UPDATED CPPC SPRING RECRUITER SCHEDULE

MARCH

6	F.N. Wolf Investments*
	Cavalier Hotels - summer (New Smoker)
7	Harris Teeter*
8	U.S. Army (New Smoker)
20	State Farm Insurance*
	Portfolio Center* - adv. school
20&21	U.S. Marines (New Smoker)
21	Service Master*
22	Peebles Dept. Stores*
30	Defense Logistics Agency*

APRIL

11	K-Mart Apparel*
	Kings Dominion - summer (New Smoker)
25-27	U.S. Marines (New Smoker)

*Seniors must sign-up in advance at CPPC, 2nd Floor South Ruffner. Resumes must be completed before the interview. Interviewing skills and resume writing workshops are held throughout the semester.

STUDENT UNION BOARD POSITIONS AVAILABLE for next year. If you're interested in an office or want to find out more about the Student Union board, just leave your name, number, and box with the secretary in the Student Union office upstairs.

Congratulations to the newest pledges of Sigma Kappa: La Donna Blankenship, Christine Bock, Kimberly Hoskins, and Trudi Jordan. I love you! Sigma Love and Lots of Mine, Sherri

"Attention Graduating Seniors — "Female roommate needed to share two bedroom apartment in West End of Richmond. Call DeAnn. 395-3148."

Thanks to all of those students who participated in the State-wide "Alcohol and Other Drug Survey." We have had an exceedingly large response, and we appreciate your help with this project. Sue Saunders, Dean of Students; Debbie Hebert, Director of Student Services.

To all the little ones — I think we all need another trip so we can find: a bathroom used for its purpose, a sofa bed that doesn't eat revolting little noneck creatures, a party without hatches, walks on the beach that DON'T last until 3 a.m., more time on the beach and less time on the court, a burn that hurts, and FINALLY 1 more party with Trentsylvania, Slippery Rock, and Berry! I had a great time with all of Y'ALL! — Love ya, Guess Who?!

P.S. — Even though it doesn't show, we all did awesome and were going to make it a GREAT season!!

Upcoming Events

Information on this calendar is collected and coordinated through the Student Union Office, 1st Floor Lankford Student Union, Longwood College.

For student organizations or college departments to make entries a campus calendar form must be filled out and returned to the Student Union Office.

Deadline is the Tuesday preceding publication date.

Tuesday - 27	Wednesday - 28	Thursday - 29	Friday - 30	Saturday - 31	Sunday - 1	Monday - 2
Baseball: LC vs. VA State, 1PM Lancer Field Presentation: Peace Corps Expe[illegible], 1PM 121 W. Ruffner [illegible]	Faculty Colloquium Lecture: "Silent Spring Revisited" 7:30Pm Wygal Film:"One Sings the Other Doesn't" 3PM Lancer Cafe Mens Tennis: [illegible] Intramurals: Tennis Doubles Entry Blank Due and Meeting 6:30 PM IM room American Painter Printmakers 9-12,1-5 Bedford Gallery	"The Road to Equality-Where does Longwood Go From Here" 7PM Bedford Workshop: Interviewing Skills 1PM CPPC , S. Ruffner [illegible] 7:30 Jarman [illegible]ball: LC vs [illegible] Raquetball entry [illegible] PM [illegible] Women's Tennis: LC vs. Mary Baldwin 3PM Lancer Courts Roger Sayer 9AM-10PM Showcase Gallery	Men's Golf:: E. Stroudsburg , Hampton , and Newport News 1PM Golf Course Recruiter: Defense Logistics Agency , ALL Day CPPC , S. Ruffner Dance Concert 7:30 Jarman American [illegible] 9AM-6PM	Gymnastics: USGF Regionals at Indiana Univ. of Pennsylvania Roger Sayer 3PM-5PM Showcase Gallery Movie Series: "Parenthood" 7PM Lancer Cafe Intramurals: Weekend Raquetball		Movie Series: "Parent hood" 7PM Lancer Cafe Alcohol Support Group 6PM-7PM Counseling Services IM: Tennis [illegible]

Sports

Barnette Named to Div. II All-American Team

Junior forward Carmille Barnette, who led Longwood's Lady Lancers to a 14-12 record this season while breaking six individual single game records, has been named to the 1990 Kodak Women's All-America Division II Basketball Team.

The prestigious 10-member squad was selected by the Women's Basketball Association (WBCA) from nationwide Kodak All-District teams and was announced today by Kodak.

"This is a tremendous honor — the most prestigious honor you can get as a female basketball player," Longwood head coach Shirley Duncan said Friday. "It is a tremendous credit to Carmille and our program."

Barnette was one of two players on the All-America squad representing District III which is comprised of schools from the District of Columbia, Delaware, Maryland, North Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia.

After coming back from a hip flexor injury early in the season, the Bluestone High School graduate led her Longwood teammates in scoring (28.4) rebounding (13.8) and blocked shots (26). She also jumped into the national spotlight as the number two scorer and number five rebounder in the nation in Division II.

Barnette became the ninth member of Longwood's elite "1,000 Point Club" during the 1989-90 season and the first Lady Lancer to achieve that plateau as a junior. Finishing her junior year with 1,310 career points, Barnette should overtake all-time leading scorer Caren Forbes (1,480 points) early next season.

The 1990 Kodak Division II team marks the eighth season that Kodak and the WBCA have selected honor roll teams beyond Division I.

Carmille Barnette

Lancer Tennis Falls to CNC

The Longwood women's tennis team fell 7-2 to Christopher Newport on Friday afternoon to drop their spring record to 0-6. Saturday's match against Averett was rained out and will be rescheduled later in the season.

No. 2 seeded sophomore Suzie Lawman and No. 3 freshman Jenny Proffitt were the only singles winners in the CNC contest. Both Lawman's and Proffitt's fall/spring records improve to 8-8 with the wins.

Lancer Lacrosse Splits Pair

The Longwood College women's lacrosse team split two games last week suffering a 8-7 home loss to Washington and Lee on Wednesday and dominating Virginia Tech 12-6 on the road on Saturday. Sunday's contest against Virginia Club was rained out.

Playing in a cold rain the entire game, the Lady Lancers jumped to a 5-1 lead at halftime against Virginia Tech and ran the score up to 9-1 in the second half before allowing another Tech goal.

The entire squad picked up playing time in the win with junior Rashel Hammond racking up four goals on seven shots. Senior Terri Pugh scored three goals on five shots and sophomore Lara Cini picked up a goal on each of her two shots and an assist.

Additional goals were scored by sophomores Ellen Binswanger and Alisa Bricklin and senior Judy Flanagan. Bricklin and junior Analisa Lage also recorded assists.

Bricklin led the defense with seven ground ball recoveries and interceptions with senior goalkeeper Karen Holleman picking up seven saves.

In last Wednesday's 8-7 loss to Washington and Lee, Cini, Pugh and Flanagan scored two goals apiece with sophomore Maria Dougherty adding the seventh.

The two teams were tied 3-3 at the half with the Lady Lancers jumping to a 5-3 lead in the second period.

Holleman picked up eight saves against W & L with Lage recording six interceptions and ground ball recoveries.

Baseball Team Takes Two in Invitational

Longwood's baseball team stunned North Atlantic Region powers Slippery Rock and Shippensburg Friday in the first day of the Shippensburg (PA) Invitational Tournament, taking a 6-5 win over the Rock and beating Shippensburg 11-8.

The victories may have been, according to Lancer coach Buddy Bolding, the team's biggest back-to-back wins since the Lancers won the South Atlantic Regional Tournament in Valdosta, GA in 1982. Both Shippensburg and Slippery Rock have been strong NCAA Division II teams over the years. Slippery Rock, 42-17 last season, made it to the Division II World Series. The Rock has been ranked as high as eighth in the Division II preseason poll this year.

Freshman shortstop Mike Tucker, the Lancer homerun leader with six, shocked the Rockets with a second inning blast over the right field fence at Memorial Park to give Longwood a 1-0 lead. After Slippery Rock went ahead 2-1, the rookie, a lefthanded hitter, socked another shot over the fence in right to tie the game at 2-2 in the fourth inning.

Heroes abounded for Longwood Friday. Junior pitchers Dennis Hale and Matt Carlisle went the distance in the two games. Hale moved his record to 4-0 in the opener. He gave up nine hits, struck out five and walked four. He shut down Slippery Rock over the final two innings as the Lancers rallied for the win in the seventh.

Carlisle allowed six hits, walked two and struck out seven in the nightcap. The Red Raiders scored eight runs off the Lancer righthander, but none were earned. Carlisle has a 3-0 record for the season and an earned run average of 0.71.

Sophomore rightfielder Chris Porter delivered the game-winning sacrifice fly in the top of the seventh which scored pinch-runner Tim Patrick with the winning run in the opener. He came back to rip a grand slam homer against Shippensburg as Longwood jumped to a 10-4 lead after two innings.

Tucker Named Player of the Week

Freshman shortstop Mike Tucker ripped a pair of homers Friday leading Longwood to a 6-5 win over Slippery Rock in the Shippensburg (PA) Tournament, and for his performance, Tucker has been named Longwood College Player of the Week for the period March 18-25. Player of the Week is chosen by the Longwood sports information office.

Tucker, the Lancer home run leader with six, shocked the Rockets with a second inning blast over the right field fence at Memorial Park in Shippensburg, PA to give Longwood a 1-0 lead. After Slippery Rock had gone ahead 2-1, the rookie, a lefthanded hitter, socked another shot over the fence in right to tie the game at 2-2 in the fourth inning.

In the seventh he hit a single and scored a run as the Lancers rallied to take the 6-5 win. Hitting .339 with team highs for runs (17) and walks (11) as well as homers, Tucker was the spark that helped Longwood win both its games at Shippensburg Friday. The Lancers also beat Shippensburg 11-8 later Friday.

"Tucker's homers were the key to the whole Tournament for us," said Longwood coach Buddy Bolding. He shocked Slippery Rock, with his second homer in particular."

A graduate of Bluestone High School, Tucker was an all-district selection and team MVP last season.

Mike Tucker

Hutzler Ties Walk Record

In the win over Shippensburg junior centerfielder Eric Hutzler tied the Lancer record for walks in a game with four.

Softball Team Takes Two in Tournament

The Longwood softball squad picked up wins against Western Maryland and Shepherd on Friday afternoon at the Eastern Mennonite Tournament to even its overall record to 2-2.

The tournament was snowed out on Saturday afternoon with the Lady Lancers leading the teams in its bracket and likely to play in the championship game. The tournament will not be rescheduled.

The Lady Lancers took advantage of Western Maryland's mental errors and bases on balls to pick up a 7-3 victory in the first game.

Junior Pam Fitzgerald recorded the win on the mound giving up four hits, striking out three and walking two. Fitzgerald's record is now 1-1.

Sophomore left fielder Laura Marks provided a dominating offensive display in the Lady Lancers' 3-1 win over Shepherd in Longwood's second game of the tournament. With the Lady Lancers down 1-0 and two out and bases loaded, Marks hit a base-clearing triple to put Longwood on top the rest of the game.

Sophomore right fielder Cassie Mullenix picked up two hits and a run in the game with third baseman Fitzgerald hitting two and scoring one and Sullivan scoring the third Longwood run.

Defensively, Barnette recorded 22 putouts over the weekend with Fitzgerald providing ten assists from mound and third base.

The Lady Lancers will travel to Mary Washington on Wednesday and Ferrum on Sunday for doubleheaders against both teams.

Classifieds

Comics

"ADOPTION"
Love, laughter and a brother's hand to hold. Our family longs for the baby who will fill our hearts. Let's help each other. Call collect, Ron & Karyn in VA (804) 978-7104 or our adoption advisor (802) 235-2312.

Lonely?
Need a Date?
Meet that special someone today!
Call DATETIME
(405) 366-6335

WIN A HAWAIIAN VACATION OR BIG SCREEN TV PLUS RAISE UP TO $1,400 IN JUST 10 DAYS

Objective: Fundraiser
Commitment: Minimal
Money: Raise $1,400
Cost: Zero Investment

Campus organizations, clubs, frats, sororities call OCMC at 1(804)932-0528 or 1(800)950-8472 ext. 10

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

START YOUR CLIMB TO CAREER SUCCESS THIS SUMMER.

Apply now for six weeks of Army ROTC leadership training. With pay, without obligation.

You'll develop the discipline, confidence, and decisiveness it takes to succeed in any career. And you'll qualify to earn Army officer credentials while you're completing your college studies.

LEADERSHIP EXCELLENCE

ARMY ROTC TWO-YEAR PROGRAM

THE SMARTEST COLLEGE COURSE YOU CAN TAKE.

For more Information, Contact CPT Carson at 2138 or 2134

The Rotunda

Longwood College

Vol. 69 No. 20 | April 2, 1990 | Farmville, VA

Are YOU Ready For Spring Weekend '90?

By SARAH RAFFETTO

It's a bird, it's a plane, no it's Spring Weekend 1990. Spring Weekend is almost here and it should be a blast. Events this year will start on Thursday, April 5 and continue to Sunday, April 8. Lots of events have been planned and fun should be had by all the students, perspective students and guests.

To start off the weekend Jeff Allen, a comedian, will be performing in Lancer Cafe' at 8 on Thursday. Friday the Oozeball preliminaries will begin. This year about fifty teams (unofficial) are participating. After the Oozeball games the movie "Creatures from the Black Lagoon" in 3-D will be shown. The glasses will be given out before the movie starts at 9.

Saturday is going to be real busy. The chili cookoff starts at 9. Twenty-eight clubs have signed up and that is a record. Way to go!!! The chili will be judged at noon. WLCX will DJ for most of the day. Oozeball will continue throughout the day. Starting at noon the band "Broken English" will be performing. Also at noon you can get a caricature sketch done of yourself for only $2. At 12:30 Photo Star will be ready for people to come get their picture on the front of a magazine for only 2 bucks. There will be ten covers to choose from. At 1 you can take a hot air balloon ride for free. The Catalinas, the synchronized swim team, will perform two shows, at noon and at 2. The performance will be in Lancer pool, of course. During dinner Wayne Routolo, a singer, will be performing. He will start at 5 and go until 7. Then in only one short hour the band "B.S. & M." will be on stage from 8 to 11. As a tradition the "Rocky Horror Picture Show" will be shown at midnight. What a long and eventful day to say the least.

After a good night's sleep the fun starts again. Oozeball finals will start the day off. With the band "Glass Camel" starting at 2 and "The Yams from Outer Space" performing at 4 and playing until 6. Dinner will be served outside so that you can enjoy your meal with some music.

A busy weekend has been planned and all should go well. All events are located on Lankford and Stubbs mall. The rain location is Lankford Student Union. Just remember to think NO RAIN!!!

ROTC Endures FLX Challenge

By LIZ RUSSELL

"High speed, hard core!" These exclamations described the spirit of the Army ROTC at Longwood College, University of Richmond, and Virginia Commonwealth University.

The Army ROTC Department went to Fort A.P. Hill on Friday, March 3 through Sunday, April 1, for a field leadership exercise, otherwise known as FLX. We arrived at Fort A.P. Hill on Friday at 1730 hours (5:30 p.m.), set up camp, and drew our MRE's (meals ready to eat) which seemed like they were made in the 1940s. That night we learned how to prepare a Swiss seat which we would later use during rappelling.

On Saturday, the military science freshmen and sophomores (MSI and MSII's) went out to the survival course which included different safety and survival training sessions such as: fire safety, food and water survival, shelter, rope bridges, knots, and terrain features.

That afternoon we rappelled off the 40-foot tower and helicopter skid which proved to be fun and exciting, even though some of us banged into the tower or turned upside down. Sergeant Swearengen shared his thoughts on rappelling: "No one got hurt and we qualified forty people to rappell out of the helicopter on Wednesday." Colonel Nally was quoted in saying, "The freshmen and sophomores who attended performed remarkably. Despite the cold and rain, they kept each others' spirits up. They did everything in the inclement weather they were scheduled to do and kept themselves having a good time."

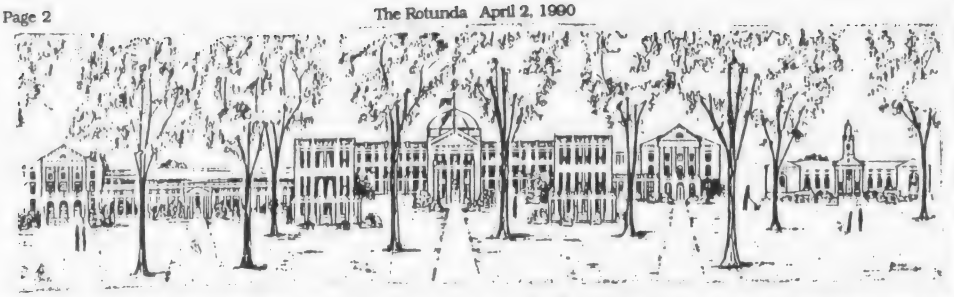
Longwood ROTC Cadet Scott Prickett undergoes small unit infantry tactical training at the FLX.

Continued on Page 4

Wells Urges Environmental Awareness

By SHERRY GATEWOOD

Dr. Wells, one of our biology professors, gave a lecture Wednesday night about the harmful effects of pesticides and other synthetic chemicals on our nation's wildlife. In 1958, a wide variety of pesticides and herbicide chemicals came on the market and these were hailed as a cure-all for common pests. Rachel Carson, a prominent author of the time, became concerned about the harmful effects of these substances when she received a distressing letter from a friend. Carson researched the issue and wrote a book entitled Silent Spring which explained what these pesticides were doing to our environment. Her book created a huge fervor and a backlash of governmental criticism. Studies were conducted nationwide which discounted her findings and companies continued their production of DDT and chloronated hydrocarbons. After years of use, it was discovered that these compounds caused birth defects, cancer, and even death in humans.



Insects quickly became immune to these substances and therefore production of new ones increased. New mutations of pests spread and the problem escalated. In 1955, pesticide sprayings were being conducted in Michigan and massive amounts of dead robins soon began appearing. For three years no-one understood what was causing these mysterious deaths until someone connected the two events.

A barrage of laws have since been passed with the help of the Environmental Protection Agency to help control dangerous pesticides and herbicides. Unfortunately, these have mostly been ineffective. With each passing year, the public's awareness of environmental hazards becomes heightened. Hopefully the future will bring a more environmentally safe world for animals as well as humans.

Contents

News.....3, 4, 5
Features.....8, 10
Commentary.....2
Calendar.....7
Spring Weekend Calender.....6
Classifieds.....7, 12
Personals.....9
Sports.....10, 11

Spring Weekend Issue

Commentary

Letters to the Editor

Editor:

Communication is a vital aspect of life and Longwood is lacking this aspect. Longwood emphasizes to the students to be more informed of the world around us, but how can we be informed if they never tell us anything? It's not just the students who are not informed, but also the faculty and staff. Also the faculty and staff get notices at the last :minute.

Some examples of non-communication are not being told about the phone system until we got back from Christmas break. We would not have known about the phone codes unless we went to the front desk and saw the information. Also not being told how and/or when the phone bills were being issued and only having a week to pay the phone bill. Telecommunications Center should realize that college students do not always have the money ready in a week, especially when some of us are being paid by Longwood. This brings me to another example of non-communications; pay checks. Sometimes the pay periods are changed and students are not notified. For example, the week before spring break, I had to call payroll to find out that we would receive our paychecks that Friday (March 9) instead of March 15. I informed others who were unaware of the change. A few other things that the students were not told of until the last minute are:

— the hot water pipe break

— dining hall changing the time of opening doors on special occasions

— saving the halls for next year

— graduation starting time

— being short of credits to graduate

— construction of Grainger; staff and students not knowing about room changes

— how our money is being spent

I don't know about my fellow classmates but lack of communication bothers me especially when Longwood stresses students to communicate when Longwood stresses students to communicate when the college itself does not. I feel that Longwood needs to work with the students on better communicating with them. I was just wondering if anybody else (faculty, staff and students) were bothered by this?

A concerned student
Tammy Helm

Chiffon is Tax Deductible

By JIM WOOD

My friend Paul Augen attended the Miss Longwood Pageant Saturday last; with him went a seersucker suit and a pint of Pepe Lopez. The affair lasted longer than the tequila and by the time Miss Louisiana had played her banjo, old Paul was feeling kind of strange. The big moment rolled around, but all my friend could worry about was the heavy perfume of what smelled to be a whole florist's shop. Mental drum-roll, tah-dah! Miss Longwood! Cameras flash, girls cry, and amidst the cheerful cacophony a lone splat is lost.

The new Miss Longwood is none other than Amy Lynn Church. A theater major, Miss Church has intimated joy in proving her ability to entertain. She put the other contestants to shame with her comic dance routine "Sam, You Made the Pants Too Long". I asked Paul what he thought of the dance and amazed him with the fact that Amy Church was the only person on stage. Sometimes the old Augen ain't reliable.

"Aside from wretching up tequila", said Paul, "I thoroughly enjoyed the pageant."

"There she is ... Miss America"

Miss Longwood will be in Roanoke come July, representing her school at the Miss Virginia Pageant. Paul has already made plans to attend, but no Pepe this time. Instead, Mr. Augen will take a good dose of qualudes to help him endure the perkiness exuding from the stage. He may even wash the ludes down with some codeine. I've asked him why he plans on going if he needs to be bombed just to cope.

Says Paul, "It's the American way ... besides, it's a lot of fun watching chicks ingratiate themselves."

In what way are they ingratiating themselves, I ask.

"Oh come on,man, don't be a twit. Lookit, these ladies want the title for whatever twisted reason, and they are willing to put on charm not to mention a swimsuit in order to have it. You're not seeing real women up there. You're seeing automatons going through the practiced motions."

Okay, says me, is there a better way to decide on Miss America, or Miss Longwood for that matter?

"Well, if you ask me, I'd take all of the contestants and put 'em in a pit. Give 'em all silk dresses and tell each of 'em to take a turn promenading about, then, one by one, the audience douses them with such nasty things as paint, and chitlins', and calf livers. The last one to cry wins."

I was shocked. Imagine my friend willingly humiliating pageant contestants. Then again, Paul Augen can see further than I, at times. I think he's been reading Stephen King. "Truth be known", says Paul, "I could take a ----load of agony for two thousand bucks."

LONGWOOD COLLEGE SPRING HOUSING SIGN-UP 1990

April 6	Roommate Search Surveys due in the Housing Office.
April 9	Single room and off-campus lottery decision letters to be mailed.
April 9	F.A.R. — in the Red, White and Green Room at 7:00 p.m.
April 10	Pre-arranged sing-up sheets due to Housing Office by noon. Fraternity/Sorority Special Interest RA Roommates//Suitemates Saved Floor (Optional)
April 17	In-residence hall room selection 7:00 p.m. Saved floors by class and lottery number. 7:30 p.m. in-hall only by class and lottery number. 8:00 p.m. in-hall with outsiders by class and lottery number.
April 23	Change-of-Residence hall room selection — Conference Room 2 - Lankford Hall 7:00 p.m. rising seniors by lottery number 7:30 p.m. rising juniors by lottery number 8:00 p.m. rising sophomores by lottery number
April 27	Late Room Sign-up 10:00 a.m. Housing Office, Tabb Hall First come - First served

NOTE: Anyone looking for a roommate, please come by the Housing Office and complete a roommate survey by April 6, 1990.

Let Longwood know what's on your mind. Write a Letter to the Editor, Box 1133.

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
R. Bruce Gantt

Photography Editor
Jan-Marie Johnson

Sports Editor
Charlie Fultz

Business Manager
Kim Bell

Advertising Manager
Michelle Lawhorn

Features Editor
Monica Gilbert

News Editor
Beth A. Lord

Layout Editor
Sarah Whiteside

Faculty Advisor
William C. Woods

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be signed, typed or printed neatly, and state the author's years. The Editor and staff reserve the right to edit any material submitted for publication.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 395-2120.

News

Three Qualify for Forensics Tournament

Three Longwood College students — Mary-Robyn Adams, David Richards and William "Jiggers" Turner — have qualified for national tournaments in forensics.

Ms. Adams, a junior from Chase City and Australia, took second place in impromptu speaking at Seton Hall University over spring break. That tournament featured 24 colleges. She has other wins in a tournament at American University and two tournaments at George Mason University.

She is eligible to compete in the American Forensic Association national tournament at the University of Alabama, and also the National Forensic Association national tournament at Mankato State University in Minnesota. She plans to compete in both tournaments, which are in April.

Richards, a junior from Richmond, and Turner, a senior from Clinchco, were finalists (sixth place) in duo-interpretation in a tournament at George Mason, also over spring break. That tournament, the last qualifying tournament of the year, was an eight-state competition.

They also qualified for both national tournaments, but

Ms. Adams, an English major, is the first recipient of the G. G. Wade Scholarship. She is a graduate of Southside Virginia Community College, where she had a perfect 4.0 average, and last semester, her first at Longwood, she earned another 4.0. In her native Australia, she was a member of the Tasmanian State Debating Team.

Richards, a theatre major, portrayed Romeo in the Longwood Players' production of "Romeo and Juliet," and he has appeared in other plays at Longwood, including "Androcles and the Lion" and "Lysistrata." He played the lead in the Waterworks Players' production of "Biloxi Blues" in February. He is a member of the Camerata Singers and the Concert Choir.

Richards is playing Biff in the Waterworks Players' production of "Death of a Salesman" at the same time. Therefore, he and Turner will compete only in the tournament at Mankato.

Turner, a music major who can play 11 instruments, is a member of the Camerata Singers, Concert Choir, and Jazz Band. He also has appeared in several Longwood David Richards (from left), Mary-Robyn Adams and William "Jiggers" Turner, three Longwood students who qualified for both national forensics tournaments.

Players' productions.

During his junior year, Turner did a four-month internship at the Pennsylvania Renaissance Faire near Harrisburg, where he sang, acted in plays, and began to earn certification in stage fighting. He also spent three months with the Richmond Theatre Company, traveling with the children's theater group — one of his stops was on the Longwood stage in "Shoes Full of Gold."

The team is coached by Dr. Nancy Haga, associate professor and chair of the Speech and Theatre department.

Lloyd to Speak on "Diversity in the Workplace"

Ms. Kate Rand Lloyd former Editor of "Working Women"

Kate Rand Lloyd, former editor of Working Woman, Vogue, and Glamour magazines, will be at Woodrow Wilson Visiting Fellow on the Longwood College campus the first week in April.

She will give a lecture on Tuesday, April 3, at 8 p.m. in Bedford Auditorium. Her topic is "Diversity in the Workplace." The lecture is open to the public free of charge.

Ms. Lloyd is a noted authority on women's interests as they break old patterns in the work force. She has lectured throughout the U.S. and has taught at Columbia University's Graduate School of Journalism and at New York University's School of Continuing Education.

A native of Minneapolis, Ms. Lloyd was graduated cum laude from Bryn Mawr College.

After serving as managing editor of both Vogue and Glamour, Ms. Lloyd became editor-in-chief of Working Woman in 1977. During her six years in that position, the magazine's circulation grew from 100,000 to more than 600,000. Annual advertising revenue topped $15 million.

Ms. Lloyd is a member of the board of the National Commission on Working Women, the Planned Parenthood Federation of America, the Women's Forum Inc., Advertising Women of New York, the Child Care Action Campaign, and many other organizations. She is co-chair of the Public Advisory Council of the Business and Professional Women's Foundation.

A resident of New York City, Ms. Lloyd is married to John Davis Lloyd. They have three children and two grandchildren.

Blood Drive a Success

By DENISE DAUBENSPECK

The Blood Drive, sponsored by Geist, was held March 22 and 23, in the Red, White, and Green room of the Student Union. The organization set its goal for 100 units. They had 190 people sign-up to give blood. Unfortunately, the requirement for measle boosters prevented some donors from giving.

The event was sponsored by Geist, but other organizations donated their time and services. Among them were the Ambassadors, Sigma Kappa, TKE, Delta Sigma Phi, Apo, Psi Chi and the Student Union.

In order for persons to give blood, they must follow a specific procedure. First, they must be registered. During the procedure the prospective donor is given a brochure published by the American Red Cross detailing who shouldn't give blood and points for the patients' safety. After reading the brochure, their temperature is taken and they pass to the medical history part of the process. The next step is the hemoglobin test. If the donor passes all the tests, they are allowed to give blood. After donating, the donor is required to drink an extra four glasses of non-alcoholic liquids. The entire process takes approximately forty-five minutes.

Student Assistance

Student Assistance is now accepting applications for scholarships, fellowships, grants and loans for the 1990-1991 school year.

According to the president of Student Assistance, Mark Caffey, millions of dollars available to students for financial aid go unclaimed each year.

Caffey believes Student Assistance will help many students. "Education should not be prohibited because of cost", he added.

If you are a high school student or college student and would like to fill out an application, please send a self-addressed-stamped envelope to: Student Assistance, P.O. Box 57037, Webster, Texas 77598.

News

College Tuition Rise Will Slow in 90s

Even as schools around the contry announce hefty new tuition hikes for next year, tuition won't rise as fast during the rest of the 1990s as it did the past decade, a new study predicts.

"There are many favorable things happening all at once" to keep tuition increases from rising sharply, said economist Carol Frances.

Frances cited slight increases in state appropriations for public campuses and in public support for financial aid. In addition, most institutions have almost finished raising their faculty members' salaries to levels that are competitive with private industry.

"The rate in year-to-year change (in tuition) peaked in the 1980s," Frances said. "If you look back, the slowdown in state funding in the early 80s is when tuition increased so rapidly."

Frances, who conducted the study for the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges, the American Association of University Professors and the Association of Urban Universities, predicts yearly tuition increases of about 7 percent during the next few years.

Tuition hikes averaged 12 percent annually in the early 80s and have dropped to about 8 percent in the last three years, she reports.

Even so, while many campuses boast their tuition hikes for the 1990-91 year are the lowest in 15 years, students at most schools can still say they pay a lot more for college than their predecessors.

For example, students at Loyola University in New Orleans will pay 216 percent more in 1990-91 than did students who attended in 1983-84. Similarly, students who attended Duke University in 1979 paid $4,230 annually, compared to $12,800 for the 1989-91 year.

Other schools that have announced tuition increases for the next academic year include the universities of Tennessee, New Mexico and Miami, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and Syracuse, Stanford, Wesleyan, Pacific Lutheran and West Virginia universities, to name a few.

Grainger Gets Facelift

By SHERRY GATEWOOD

Grainger is one of the oldest buildings on our campus. Last year, it celebrated its centennial anniversary and plans were made to begin renovation on it. With the help of Mrs. Arritt, the Physical Plant architect, a crew was hired to replace the crumbling mortar between the bricks and install 126 new windows.

The work took five months but due to inclement weather, the building stood untouched for most of December. The small size of the construction crew made the progress slower than was expected, but the work was still completed before the approved deadline. Our new windows are specially designed to prevent water leakage which had become a serious problem with the old ones.

Over the next few months, the building's interior will be completly gutted and rebuilt. Air conditioning will also be installed in order to make the building more comfortable during the summer months. If all goes as planned, the building will be ready for use sometime during the academic year.

FLX Challenge

Continued From Page 1

Dressed in total camouflage, the juniors (MSII's) performed a deliberate ambush against the senior aggressors (MSIV's). They achieved a link-up which is the terminology for two units making contact and meeting in the woods without prior planning. The juniors established a patrol base, assaulted a bunker Sunday morning, and walked 4000 meters of tackling (area of training). Captain Carson quoted,"I spent Saturday, Saturday night, and Sunday with the juniors as the Cadre Evaluator. Despite the elements they did an outstanding job of performing their tactical missions."

The seniors played the enemy against the Juniors who will be the cadets going to Camp All-American at Fort Bragg. The senior cadets, led by Greg Bowman, set up four bunkers on Saturday and manned them throughout the nights in hopes of an opposing junior force.

All in all, we came back tired, hungry, and damp, but the experience was well-worth the fun. Come show your support as the ROTC cadets test their courage as they rappell from the helicopter on Wednesday, April 4. You can't miss them, they'll be hovering over Iler Field.

Wright Named Editor Of The Virginian

By SHERRY GATEWOOD

Linda Wright is the editor of our yearbook, The Virginian. She is a sophomore Elementary Education major. Miss Wright has served on the yearbook committee for two years now, volunteering her time as a photographer, assistant editor, and now, editor. Although this job demands a large portion of her time, she feels that the time management and inter-personal skills she is acquiring will be of great benefit in the future.

Among Miss Wright's duties as editor, she must delegate committee responsibilities, run meetings, and finalize the yearbook layout. Next year, she hopes to start a yearbook club. Amongst her many extracurricular activities, Linda greatly enjoys her position. She states that it has helped her to "grow as an individual" and "acquire leadership skills." Her personal goal as editor is to increase student and faculty morale towards The Virginian. She comments, "after all, it is the history of Longwood."

"Building a Strong Family" Topic of Goldman Lecture

Dr. Vinston Goldman, a practicing psychologist and assistant professor at North Carolina State University, will speak at Hampden-Sydney College on the topic of "Building a Strong Family: The Role of Communication." The lecture will take place on Monday, March 26, at 7:30 p.m., in the Crawley Forum, and is free and open to the public.

Dr. Goldman graduated cum laude from Hampden-Sydney in 1975, interned at the Duke University Medical Center, and received his Ph.D. in Psychology from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

A clinical psychologist, Dr. Goldman has specialized in the treatment of aggressive and delinquency-prone children at the C.A. Dillon Training School in North Carolina, where he was an administrator and clinical director. He has been a psychological consultant to a number of North Carolina counties, on aggressive children and troubled families. A native of Cullen, Dr. Goldman is married to the former Cecelia Wells, and has two children, Ryan who is twelve and Shawn who is eight.

Summer School In San Jose´

You can enjoy summer session courses on the San Jose State University campus this summer, with early sessions beginning May 29, and all sessions completed by August 17.

San Jose State University is open to all students during summer — you do not have to be formally admitted to the university to enroll in summer courses. High school students can take courses with prior counselor approval. The campus is located 50 miles south of San Francisco, in a major urban setting. Summer housing and food service is available for those who want to live on campus while attending classes during the summer.

Summer session courses meet for 3, 6, 9, or 12 weeks. You can learn a language, study science, improve your computer skills, or try something totally new! Test preparation, special photography field sessions, travel tours in California and around the world, and Field Studies in Natural History are also offered.

First advance registration deadline is May 10 for classes beginning May 29. For a free schedule of classes, with all sessions and classes outlined, call (408) 924-2600 or write: Summer Session, Office of Continuing Education, San Jose State University, San Jose, CA 95192-0135. The schedule lists registration deadlines for all courses, fees for all courses and related campus information on housing and other campus concerns.

Dupury Speaks on "Women Helping Women"

By DENISE DAUBENSPECK

Laura Dupury, Domestic Assistant Attorney, presented the lecture "Woman Helping Woman" on March 19, in Bedford Auditorium. She discussed the changing role of women in society, the types of women she works with, and programs established for these women.

Dupury pointed out that society has chosen to be male dominated, and women are expected to be masculine and analytic in order to succeed. She expressed to outgrow their feminity, but is optimistic that this stereotype will die out. She commented that as women gain a larger voice in society and government, things will change. One specific piece of advice she gives her listeners is to never apologize for the part that is compassionate, emotional, and caring, instead use your emotions and a tool for success.

As a Domestic Assistant Attorney she works with the Legal Aid department. Her clients mainly consist of the poor and abused. In addition to being an attorney she is on the Board of DAY (a program established to help needy women. This program deals with victims of discriminating practices and domestic violence. Carlys Taylor, Executive Director of DAY, and Dupury offer the victims public assistance for a short period of time while the victim decides what to do. The program tries to show women that they are respected for facing their problems and not running away.

James Scott, a coach in the Prince Edward School system, has helped this program by donating his time and experience in a summer program for the victims young boys. He got the kids involved in sports and had long discussions with them. The next step is to set up programs for young girls.

News

Final Concert — The Shanghai String Quartet

This year's final Chamber Music concert at Longwood College will feature the Shanghai String Quartet on Monday evening, April 9, at 8 o'clock in Wygal Recital Hall.

Hailed by New York Times critic John Rockwell as "among the finest young foursomes of the day," the Shanghai Quartet includes brothers Wei-Gang Li and Hong-Gang Li, violins, Zheng Wang, viola, and Kathe Jarka, cello.

Their program at Longwood will showcase Haydn's Quartet in D Major, Mendelssohn's Andante and Scherzo, Beethoven's Quartet in E-flat, plus Song of the Ch'in written in 1982 by Zhou Long.

Wang and the Li brothers are natives of the People's Republic of China. They are the children of professional musicians and began their musical studies at an early age. All three studied at the Shanghai Conservatory of Music.

Ms. Jarka is an American. She was born in Montana and studied as a scholarship student at the Juilliard School of Music and in London as a Fulbright Scholar.

The Quartet, formed in 1983 at the Shanghai Conservatory, rapidly gained national recognition. In 1985, they were selected to represent China at the Portsmouth International String Quartet Competition in England, where they were awarded second prize.

Formed in 1983 at the Shanghai Conservatory, the Shanghai Quartet is rapidly emerging as one of today's leading young string quartets. Last season they performed over fifty concerts.

In this country, the Quartet won first prize in the prestigious Chicago Discovery Competition in 1987. They have been ensemble-in-residence at the Tanglewood Music Festival, the Juilliard School, Northern Illinois University, and this year at the University of Richmond. They give more than 50 concerts each year.

Critics have praised the Quartet for "powerfully persuasive" and "bold, confident, cleanly executed performances," for their "youthful exuberance," and for their "explorations into the rhythms, colors and dynamics" of a variety of music.

Bob Brink, of the Palm Beach (Fla.) Post, said the Shanghai Quartet makes "music to revel in."

Their concert at Longwood is open to the public free of charge.

For information on other music events at Longwood, call the Music Department Bulletin Board at 804-395-2678.

Centel Offering Summer Internships

Longwood business majors are encouraged to apply for two eight-week summer internships with Centel of Virginia's regional office in Charlottesville.

In one internship, a student will work in the Regulatory/Planning Department. The intern will identify economic indicators that can be used in forecasting.

The other internship is in the Customer Services Department. That intern will identify markets and strategies for selling and promoting specific products and services.

In both internships, the student will earn academic credit and a wage of $5.44 per hour. The internships will begin May 21 or 28.

A student must have earned at least 68 credits and have a cumulative GPA of 2.5 or better.

The internship program, part of the School of Business and Economics, seeks to provide students with on-the-job experience and to better prepare them for the transition from the classroom to the workplace.

Interested students should contact Dr. Joe Lavely, dean of the School of Business and Economics, as soon as possible. His phone number is 395-2045, and his office is on the first floor of Hiner Building.

Centel of Virginia has 210,000 customers at various locations, including Farmville and Charlottesville, and ranks third among the 20 telecommunications companies doing business in Virginia, said Henry Burton, a Centel spokesman.

The regional office is responsible for all of Centel's operations in Virginia and also in North Carolina, where there are 198,000 customers, Burton said. Centel of Virginia is a subsidiary of the Chicago-based Centel Corp., which has operations in nine states.

H-SC Fine Arts To Present Play

The Hampden-Sydney Department of Fine Arts and the Jongleurs present the musical comedy 3 Guys Naked From The Waist Down. The play opens on Thursday, March 29, with performances on Friday, March 30, and Saturday, March 31. The curtain rises in Johns Auditorium at 8 p.m. each night. Tickets are $3 for adults, and $2 for students, and can be purchased at the door.

The play involves three stand-up comedians who form a comedy team which, much to their delight, appears on the Johnny Carson Show. The group's rise to fame includes a hit television series and a major motion picture. The action takes place in the mid-nineteen-eighties, and is full of contemporary humor.

Reviewers loved the play when it opened on Broadway. "Riotous! The inventive young creators of 3 Guys Naked are bursting with daring ideas about how to do musicals. The score receives a surge of vitality from the rock-jazz arrangements of Michael Rupert," quotes Frank Rich of the New York Times. It was the winner of the Drama Desk Award in 1984-85.

The main characters in the play are Hampden-Sydney students Jared Mauney, Doug Seizer, and John Fleming. The supporting cast members are Peter Peterson, Paul Piechocki, and Ernest Wood. Hampden-Sydney's own Marilouise "Mel" Michel, Lecturer in Fine Arts, directs the production.

Professor of Classics Speaks on Myth at H-SC

Robert J. Mondi, associate professor of classics at Randolph-Macon Woman's College, will speak on "Myth: Metaphor and Model" on Wednesday, March 28, at 4:30 p.m. in Parents and Friends Lounge in Venable Hall on the campus of Hampden-Sydney College.

The lecture, which is open to the public, is sponsored by Hampden-Sydney's Department of Classics and the College's chapter of Eta Sigma Phi, the national honorary classical fraternity.

Mondi has taught at R-MWC since 1981. He received an A.B. degree in mathematics from Princeton University in 1972 and a Ph.D. degree in classical philology from Harvard University in 1978. In 1986-87, he was a fellow at the Center for Hellenic Studies in Washington, D.C.

Mondi has published several papers in leading classical journals, and last year he contributed a chapter on "Greek and Near Eastern Mythology" to the book Approaches to Myth. He has also presented papers on myth at meetings of regional and national professional associations.

Spring Weekend Events

Thursday, April 5

8:00	Comedian - Jeff Allen, Lancer Cafe´

Friday, April 6

Oozeball Preliminaries
9:00	Movie "Creature from the Black Lagoon", 3-D glasses provided
	BMOC — Zeta

Saturday, April 7

9:00	Chili Cook off
10:00-12:00	WLCX DJ's
11:30 - 1:30	Lunch - Stubbs Mall
12:00	Judging of Chili
12:00	Beer Garden Opens (Lancer Cafe´)
12:00 - 2:00	Catalinas Performance, Lancer Pool
12:00 - 3:00	Band - Broken English
Tug of War
12:00 - 5:00	Photo Star - Magazine Pictures $2.00
12:30 - 4:30	Caricature Sketches $2.00
1:00 - 4:00	Hot Air Balloon Rides
3:00 - 5:00	WLCX DJ's
5:00 - 6:00	Dinner, Stubbs Mall
5:00 - 7:00	Singer - Wayne Routolo
8:00 - 11:00	Band - B. S. & M.
Midnight -	"Rocky Horror Picture Show"

Sunday, April 8

Oozeball Finals
2:00 - 4:00	Band - Glass Camel
4:00 - 6:00	Band - Yams
5:00 - 6:00	Dinner

ALL EVENTS ARE LOCATED ON LANKFORD AND STUBBS MALL
RAIN LOCATION FOR ALL EVENTS IS LANKFORD STUDENT UNION

Classifieds

UPDATED CPPC SPRING RECRUITER SCHEDULE

MARCH

6	F.N. Wolf Investments*
	Cavalier Hotels - summer (New Smoker)
7	Harris Teeter*
8	U.S. Army (New Smoker)
20	State Farm Insurance*
	Portfolio Center* - adv. school
20&21	U.S. Marines (New Smoker)
21	Service Master*
22	Peebles Dept. Stores*
30	Defense Logistics Agency*

APRIL

11	K-Mart Apparel*
	Kings Dominion - summer (New Smoker)
25-27	U.S. Marines (New Smoker)

*Seniors must sign-up in advance at CPPC, 2nd Floor South Ruffner. Resumes must be completed before the interview. Interviewing skills and resume writing workshops are held throughout the semester.

Summertime at Longwood

Summer Session Dates

First 3 Week Session	May 21 - June 8
First 4 Week Session	June 18 - July 13
Second 4 Week Session	July 16 - August 10

Reminder: Only courses taken at Longwood count towards your GPA.

FOR COMMUTER STUDENTS ONLY

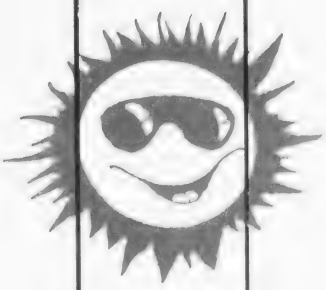
DIALOGUE WITH THE ADMINISTRATION

An informal opportunity to learn about campus services and communicate your needs as a commuter student. Come have lunch in Lancer Cafe then join us from 12:30 to 1:30 P.M.

FRIDAY, APRIL 6: MS. BARBARA AGEE, DIRECTOR OF STUDENT HEALTH

FRIDAY, APRIL 13: MS. CLAUDIA LOGAN, DIRECTOR OF FINANCIAL AID

FRIDAY, APRIL 20: MS. SAUNDRA BOLLINGER, REGISTRAR



Spring Weekend Issue

Upcoming Events

Information on this calendar is collected and coordinated through the Student Union Office, 1st Floor Lankford Student Union, Longwood College.

For student organizations or college departments to make entries a campus calendar form must be filled out and returned to the Student Union Office.

Deadline is the Tuesday preceding publication date.

Tuesday - 3	Wednesday - 4	Thursday - 5	Friday - 6	Saturday - 7	Sunday - 8	Monday - 9
Eating disorders workshop 1PM-2PM Counseling Services Workshop: Networking for success 1PM CPPC , S.Ruffner Heart of Virginia Chorale 7:30 PM Johns Memorial Church Parish House.	Workshop: Resume Writing 4PM CPPC, S.Ruffner		Spring Weekend Movie Series: 3-D "Creature From the Black Lagoon" 7PM Lancer Cafe	Junior Art Exhibition 9-12;1-5 Bedford Gallery Spring Weekend Movie Series: Rocky Horror Picture Show 12 AM Lankford Mall Chili Cook-Off Ambassadors Oozeball Tug-of-War		Junior Art Exhibition 9-12;1-5 Bedford Gallery Alcohol Support Group 6PM-7PM Counseling Services Workshop: Interviewing Skills 4PM CPPC S.Ruffner Chamber Music Series Shanghai String Quartet 8PM Wygal Recital Hall

Features

Music Review: "The Edge Of Rock"

If you're a big fan of progress or alternative music, but you're not really sure which recording artists that you really want to plunk down your hard-earned cash for, then check this disc out thoroughly.

The Edge of Rock has ten of the better, although not well-known, artists making the kind of music you want to listen to. This disc has Camper Van Beethoven, Santa Cruz, California's favorite sons (and daughter); newcomer Lucinda Williams; the bizarre but palatable Dinosaur Jr.; Winter Hours; quirky and quixotic Close Lobsters from Scotland; Syd Straw, formerly of Golden Palomino's fame; Mary's Danish, the band, not the pastry; the Meat Puppets; Boston's sarcastic, pessimistic and sometimes nihilistic Lemon Heads; and finally Wire.

The Edge of Rock is an excellent menu for those of you who are already well aware of the artists listed above, or are new to the entire genre of progressive/alternative music. The tracks that compose this disc are of good choice and enjoyable to listen to. The sound quality is not that of what you would find on a complete digital recording, but the sound engineers did a good job with the original studio tapes.

Camper Van Beethoven's latest single, "Pictures of Matchstick Men" is the opening cut. With its haunting overture of violins and steady percussion, along with a superb layer of guitar and bass, draws you into the song and makes you feel like turning it real loud and repeating it several times.

Another outstanding track on the compilation is the Cure song "Just Like Heaven" as interpreted by Dinosaur Jr. The texture of the guitar work is rather pleasant and turns a danceable tune into a song of sorts in which to vent your rage. Still, I like it.

Syd Straw's contribution, "Future 40's" features R.E.M. frontman Michael Stipe on backing vocals. This song is an aural delight, with Stipes' deep voice with a trace of the incomprehensible facet that makes Stipe sound the way that he does, complementing Straw's wavy soprano, that often breaks into a falsetto that could break your beer mug. The musical accompaniment is staggering, being very melodic and euphonic.

"Future 40's" would probably be my favorite track on this disc if it weren't for the contribution by the Lemon Heads. Covering the song that Suzanne Vega had a Top 40 hit with a couple of years ago, "Luka." Starting off with cacophonic guitar licks, the Lemon Heads stage an excellent cover disregarding the harmonics of Suzanne Vega, by attacking the song with a ferocious attitude of electric guitars turned up real loud. I played this for a friend and he couldn't believe how much better this version was than the original. 'Nuff said.

The last track is "In Vivo" by the British band Wire. A very jumpy and catchy tune that is highly danceable, it's about, I think, a revolution that begins with an "in vitro in vivo." I've no idea what the hell that means, but it must mean something. Then again, maybe it doesn't.

The disc is good, but its occasional crackle and hiss disturbed me somewhat. I give the disc a three stars out five for the great diversity of the artists and the exposure that they'll hopefully receive.

Longwood's Youngest Sophomore

"I am not smarter than anyone else, I just learn faster than most people," says thirteen year old Michael Crawley.

Michael is finishing up his fourth semester here at Longwood. For now his major is undeclared, but he is leaning toward chemistry. He is a commuter student who lives right outside of Farmville.

In three years, Michael went through elementary school. He took kindergarten and first grade in one year, second and third the next year and so on. In the sixth grade he moved to Maryland and then back to Farmville, and in the process never finished sixth grade. Then he enrolled in Prospect Christain Academy and finished sixth, seventh, eighth grade. As for high school he took it through the mail. He would get the books and materials in the mail and then he would send the test back. It was harder this way he says, because there were no teachers to help or to answer his questions.

When Michael attended his first year at Longwood, he was still taking high school courses through the mail. College classes were a little harder than he had expected. For example he never had to write research papers, so when he had to write papers for English he found it a lot harder. But having the professors here to answer questions and help with problems is a definite plus, he says. Also, he was not sure how professors would treat him, but they treat him like any other student.

Since he is a fast learner, he feels like he missed out on his childhood, but it has given him the chance to get ahead in degrees and in working world. He says he has never been discouraged, but if he had to do it all over, he would take it a little slower. After graduating from Longwood Michael plans to work for Dow laboratories.

When he is not in school he works at the campus computer lab or at a doctor's office. Since he is part-time he spends a lot of time in the commuter lounge. He says that the commuter association and the other commuters have all been very accepting and that he has made some good friends since coming to Longwood.

Spring Weekend Music

Spring Weekend rocks with four bands and a solo artist. Beginning Saturday, Broken English plays from 12-3 p.m. Wayne Rilatolo from 5-7 p.m. and BS and M ends the line-up, playing from 8-11 p.m.

Sunday, Glass Camels begins at noon and goes off when Yams comes on at 2 then ending at 4 p.m.

So come on out and rock the weekend away!

D. C. Seminar For Credit

Spend two weeks in Washington, DC — For Credit!

Washington: Ready for life after graduation? The Women As Leaders Seminar can help prepare for your career.

The two-week long, credit Women As Leaders Seminar features classes, receptions, workshops and panel discussions to prepare women for the world of work. Each participant will also be paired with a professional in her chosen field, for a full day of on-the-job "mentoring."

"Women As Leaders not only helped me refine my career goals," said Shelley Feist, alumna of 1986 session. "It helped me find my first job." Feist now serves as the legislative assistant to a United States Senator.

Applications for the May 13-26 session are now being accepted. The program fee is $435, the housing fee is $230. Scholarships and group discounts are available. For more information, contact your campus liaison, or The Washington Center, 514 Tenth Street, N.W., Suite 600, Washington, DC 20004. The telephone number is (202) 624-8085.

"Top Girls" Presented at Longwood

By ANTHONY TASSA

There is a magnetic wind blowing indomitably outward from Jarman Auditorium, across the green fields of Longwood College, through Lancer Cafe, past Wygal, beyond Wynne, encircling the entire campus, behind Stubbs, Cox, Wheeler, the Colonnades, and the high rises. It is filled with all the vitality and raw energy of a tidal wave, and with every moment that passes, it grows stronger and ever more impregnable. It is the power of the outsider among us, Mr. Rick Scott, the guest director for the Longwood Players' and Speech and Theatre Department's latest production, Top Girls.

Mr. Scott, in his first trip to Virginia, has come to Farmville with the opportunity to grab the hearts of the entire campus, and from April 18-21 at 8 p.m., present to the school, a play of indescribable magnitude. He has readily accepted the challenge by honoring Longwood with his distinguished and eminent presence.

"Caryl Churchill is a very political writer so this should prove to be a controversial show," says Mr. Scott. "It is extremely difficult actingwise and is an excellent learning experience for the girls. There is a good sense of ensamble."

The members of both cast and crew for Top Girls have been exuberantly overwhelmed by his knowledge of theatre and his intense professionalism.

"He has a very professional style," says junior Theatre and Math major, Audrey Crane of Colorado. "He really makes everyone work at what they are doing."

Audrey, who is playing the roles of Lady Nijo and Mrs. Kidd, most recently appeared in Biloxi Blues at the State Theatre, playing the role of Daisy Hannigan. She has also been seen in The Nerd and A Little Something for the Ducks at Hampden-Sydney College. This will be her first chance to show her talents on Jarman's stage.

The role of Marlene, Top Girls' main character, is played by Amy Roderer, a senior English and Theatre major. Amy is no stranger to Jarman, having recently appeared as Helen Dingleberry in the contorted play, Baby with the Bathwater. She is especially excited about this show because it is the first time that she and her sister, Emily, will perform together in a production. This, no doubt, can only enhance the ensamble and electricity of the all female production. Emily, playing the roles of Patient Griselda and Shona, is also a Theatre and English major and she has seen much work this year. Her first role at Longwood was in Androcles and the Lion in which she played Isabella. She also was featured as Juliet in Romeo and Juliet.

If all the talent, enthusiasm, and raw energy surrounding the theatre department these days, comes together with the animation of Caryl Churchill's visionary script, Jarman is in for an evening of exciting and astounding theatre.

Personals

The Sociology/ Anthropology Club meets the 1st and 3rd Thursday of every month at 1:30 in room 225. All majors welcome!!

Donna Bester — Have a great week! Thanks for always being there for me. — Love your ΣΠ Twin

Tri Sigmas! — Awesome Lip-Sync - You all are the Best! — Love, An Admirer

Bradley, Tammy, Kim and Sarah — Thank you guys for a great Birthday. — Love Steff

Wanted — Someone to pay attention to a pair of cute boobies. If interested contact the commuter student lounge.

Laura Novella Marks, #12 — We are approaching 5 months now!! You've made me the happiest guy on the face of the world. Thanx for 5 months and may the next 5 be as great. I LOVE you now and always will — CEF #40

Dave "The Stripper" G — The personals from me are all in fun. Please do not get mad, and tell your little women that also. Have you guessed who this is yet? I would like to hear your sexy voice more often on the radio. Any striptease acts lately? — Guess Who?

Kim and Sarah — Have ya found out who took your tree, yet? We know and we're not telling. Those one o'clock nights really get to y'all, don't they?! Y'all must be getting old!! — Love ya, Mates

Bradley "Stinker" M — Thank you for my skunk and card. Flower is more of a likeness of you, especially the backend. — Your loveable other

The sisters and pledges of Zeta Tau Alpha would like to wish all the contestants in BMOC Good Luck!

To the ZTA pledge class — You guys are doing great! Keep up the good work!! Zeta — The sisters of Zeta Tau Alpha.

Mush, Shawn and Deb - Thanx for being the best room/suite mates! Next year will be a blast - especially with more friends like Copius, Calvin, Cornelius and Clyde-Max. Love you guys - Jan-Maire.

ΑΔπ Pledges — You all are great! Keep up the good work! — Love Kristin Jiggers — Don't FREAK! For information about the missing bag ask Shara. I'm sure she'll help ya.

Bill Harrigan — You are so cool! Thanks for last weekend ... it was really the best! I think I'm falling in love with you! — Love, You know who Hip-Hip — Let it rip! Best of luck Longwood Lacrosse Team!

Susan Beckwith — You are the best kid ever! Keep studying and remember I love you! — Your mom

To all those awesome ΚΔ's — You are all so cool — We love you Viking and Co. (Northern Buddies)

Dina F. — What color is your hair? Where do you get your orange make-up? Do you do aerobics? — An Admirer

Kendal — Get a life! Get a "real" girlfriend. Ate a pumpkin lately? — An Honest Person

I would like to thank all the girls on second floor Tabb who are team members of the Fast Finishers on Mud Maidens. Get mean and muddy girls! — Nancy

ΚΔ Pledges — Keep up the terrific work. You are all super! — We love you. Your Big Sisters

Happy birthday to all the March ΚΔ's, Jennifers, Valerie, Kandi, Andrea.

Suzie Lawman — Hi Mom! — Your Kid

Squibby — Way to party young lady! Trust me, everything will work out for the best. — Love Dave

To the Brothers of Tau Kappa Epsilon — We want to thank you all for your help. It would not have been a success without you! —The AM's

Poo Bear — I know you are glad this week is over. I'm sure you did a great job. I hope you are careful on your overnight trip. Thanks for being so special!! I love you! — "Your boy" Dave

GEIST would like to thank the following organizations for making the BLOODMOBILE a huge success: Tau Kappa Epsilon, Longwood Ambassadors, Sigma Kappa, Psi Chi, Alpha Phi Omega, ROTC, Delta Sigma Pi, 1989 Geist Members, Ken Valden, Student Government Association and all students, faculty and staff members who found time to make donations.

3rd Floor — Thanks for the best four years of my life ya'll!!! Kim, Cathy, Anne, LeeAnn, Ashton, Kooch, Gena, Zig, Peterman, and the unmentionables. WALSTIB!! — Nancy B.

Congratulations to Sophomores Spencer Dickens, Susan Gardner, Joshua Diamond, Edwin Umstead, Juliet Taylor. All five have been awarded 2 year Army ROTC Scholarships. — ROTC Dept.

Jason Casano — Let's get it started. — I love you.

Gregg Bailey — You're Hot, Let's get together again sometime soon. — Wishingly Mussy

Betsy — You're the best thing that has happened to me since I came to LC. Let's keep it that way. —xoxo Richie

Brent B. and Jamie W. — Catch a clue — Boot Her!

Yo-Karen — You are cool. Remember to study hard. I'll be right there to cheer you on. — Love your Big Sis

Ken H. — ΕøΕ — We've been watching you and we like what we see.

To the unknowledgable and naive person who degraded the Deltas. I guess you don't know the true meaning of the Delta fraternity and what it stands for. As we are learning now. — The 17 of us - How ya like us now

Congratulations to Beth Pettler on 1st runner-up in the Miss Longwood Pageant. We love you. — Your ΚΔ Sisters

Congratulations to all the winners and contestants in the Miss Longwood Pageant. — Love the ΚΔ's.

To the ΚΔ Pledges — You are doing a wonderful job. We love you. — Your ΚΔ Sisters

Joy — YOU ARE KING. Thanks for everything. — Love your L. S.

Applications for the Emerging Leader Award, a new addition to the annual Leadership and Involvement Awards, are available at the Information desk of Lankford Student Union.

Applicants must be Longwood freshmen. The application consists of a two-page essay; details are on the application.

Deadline for return of the application is Monday, April 9 at 5 p.m. This award includes monetary recognition.

Kendall — Why Her?

Attention Alpha Gam Girls — Keep your hearts strong. Bonds that bind last forever. Every one of you is special and contribute to the spirit of me. — The Secret Gam

C. V., C.H. and S. G. — Nice pictures Friday night! We had a blast. We'll have to do it again sometime! — Love N. L.

Bobby — I know who your secret scam is! — Mitch

Mark S. need some vaseline! — M.

Michelle — Love that 36-B and those sexy underwear! — Guess who

Tues. April 10 7:30 p.m. in Lancer Dancer Studio - Interest meeting for a Ballroom Dance Team and for a PE class in Ballroom & Social Dance.

Student Assistance is now accepting applications for scholarships, fellowships, grants and loans for the 1990-91 school year.

According to the president of Student Assistance, Mark Caffey, millions of dollars available to students for financial aid go unclaimed each year.

Caffey believes Student Assistance will help many students. "Education should not be prohibited because of cost", he added.

If you are a high school student or college student and would like to fill out an application, please send a self-addressed-stamped envelope to: Student Assistance, P.O. Box 57037, Webster, Texas 77598.

To Canada — "Am I hurting you" — Love always, The dynamic duo!

Charlie Martin — I love the way you move!! — An admirer

To AXP Brandon Williams — Do you have a shake to go with those buns?

Addie — Do you like seafood? — Yours Truly, The Red Lobster

Buzz — I'm watching you!!!

"Mrs. C.C." — Have fun Saturday night? Nice body huh?

Congratulations to 3rd floor Curry on having the hall saved. Thanx to everyone who worked hard to see it saved! Love you guys!! Jan-Maire

Dennis - Thanx for the last 6 1/2 months! They've been the best. I love you! Jan-Maire

Todd and Mark - Where in the hell were you guys? That's the last time I come visit. It's your turn! Lova ya both - JmJ

Tri Sig — You all did great during Greek week. — Love The Pledges

Rotunda Comics

Features

Maturani to Present Piano Recital

Marilyn Muns Maturani, a senior at Longwood College, will present a piano recital on Friday evening, April 6, at 8 o'clock in Wygal Recital Hall.

She will play the first movement of Mozart's Sonata in F major, K.497 for piano duet with her father, Dr. George Muns, former chairman of Longwood's Department of Visual and Performing Arts.

The recital program also will feature two original compositions by Ms. Maturani, entitled "High Time" and "Monkey Rag," plus works by Handel, Beethoven, Chopin, Debussy, and Bartok.

Ms. Maturani is a resident of Rice and has been actively involved with the music program of St. Theresa Catholic Church and the Rice Community Choir.

At Longwood she has been a member of the Concert Choir, Camerata Singers, Jazz Band, and Handbell Ensemble. The latter group recently performed her arrangement of four old Christmas carols entitled "Voici le Noel."

Before beginning music study at Longwood, Ms. Maturani earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in psychology from the University of Kentucky in Lexington.

The public is invited to attend her recital and the reception following it in the Haga Room of Wygal Building.

Neuropsychologist Lectures at H-SC

Dr. Karl H. Pribram, a brain researcher and former head of the Neuropsychology Laboratories at Stanford University, will be the speaker for a forum at Longwood College on Thursday, April 5, beginning at 7 p.m. in the Red/White/Green Rooms of Lankford Building.

The topic for the forum is "The Development of Brain Research During the Past 30 Years and How It Relates to Learning."

Currently a Commonwealth of Virginia Eminent Scholar, Dr. Pibram is holding the James P. and Anna King endowed faculty chair at Radford University.

He is professor emeritus of Stanford University, where he spent the past 30 years doing brain research. He was professor of neuroscience in the Departments of Psychology and of Psychiatry and the Behavioral Sciences.

Dr. Pribram is the author of several books and some 300 articles.

The forum is sponsored by Longwood's School of Education and Human Services.

Educators and other interested persons in the area are invited to attend the forum and participate in the discussion. For more information, call Dr. Mary Stuart Woodburn at 395-2347.

Simpson to be Featured at Authors Series Reading

Grace Simpson, of Hampden-Sydney, will be featured in the next Authors Series reading at Longwood College.

Simpson will read from her poetry on Tuesday evening, April 3, at 8 o'clock in Wygal Auditorium. The reading and the reception following it are open to the public free of charge.

Simpson's poems have appeared in New Virginia Review, Southern Poetry Review, Christian Century, Riverside Quarterly, Plains Poetry Journal, Poet Lore, and other journals.

She has won numerous awards, including first prizes from the Irene Leach Memorial and competitions of the poetry societies of Virginia and Georgia.

A former English and journalism teacher, Simpson holds degrees from Winthrop College (S.C.) and from Longwood. Her husband is an English professor at Hampden-Sydney College.

The Authors Series is sponsored by Longwood's Department of English, Philosophy, and Modern Languages and the Longwood Art Council.

Music Festival Finalized at H-SC

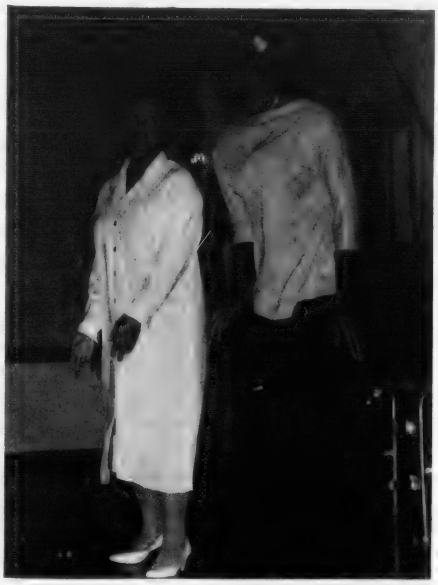
The Hampden-Sydney Music Festival Board of Directors met recently to finalize plans for the opening of the 1990 two-week Festival on May 27. Henry H. McVey, president of the festival since 1985, was recognized for this excellent service. McVey, of Richmond, is a member of the Board of the Richmond Symphony and a current member of the Board of Trustees of Hampden-Sydney College. He is a partner in the legal firm of McGuire, Woods, Battle, and Boothe. McVey and his wife Reba, who graduated from the Peabody Conservatory of Music, were thanked for their inspirational leadership over the past five years.

The 1990 Festival Board Officers were elected. Mr. J. Edwin Givens of Richmond, will serve as president. He is a member of the Board of the Richmond Symphony, past member of the Board of Visitors at Virginia Tech, and President of the Virginia Tech Foundation. Mr. Givens has been on the Music Festival board since 1985. Mrs. Reba McVey will serve as vice-president. Other board officers are Candy Dowdy, who will serve as secretary. Ms. Dowdy is the Director of Corporate and Foundation Relations at Longwood College. Dr. Keith Fitch, a Professor of History at Hampden-Sydney College, will serve as treasurer. Fitch also serves as the Festival's managing director.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY®

This space contributed as a public service.

EATING RIGHT IS HIGHLY LOGICAL.



Recommendations:
Eat high-fiber foods, such as fruits, vegetables, and whole grain products. Eat fewer high-fat foods. Maintain normal body weight. And live long and prosper.

CALL THE AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY AT 1-800-ACS-2345 FOR FREE NUTRITION INFORMATION.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY®

This Week in Pictures

Photo Credit: Jan-Marie Johnson

Kim Brown and James Forrest give their rendition of "Short and Nappy" from the movie School Daze which won them first prize at the 2nd Annual Association of Black Students Lip Sync Contest.

Brain Research Topic of Pribram Lecture

Dr. Randall Evans, a North Carolina neuropsychologist, will speak at Hampden-Sydney College on Friday, April 7, at 1:30 p.m., in the Parents & Friends Lounge of Hampden-Sydney College. The lecture is free and open to the public. The topic of his lecture will be the "Neuropsychological Effects of Drugs."

Dr. Evans received his B.S. degree from Hampden-Sydney College in 1977, where he served as president of the student body. He received his M.A. in psychology from Trinity University in San Antonio, and his Ph.D. in clinical psychology from the United States International University. He was appointed to a Post-Doctoral Fellowship at the National Institute of Health at the Biological Sciences Research Center at the North Carolina School of Medicine. He continued at the U.N.C. Medical School as a Clinical Assistant Professor of Psychiatry.

Presently the director of the Carolina Community Reentry Program, Dr. Evans is charged with developing rehabilitation programs at North Carolina's newly opened center for traumatically brain-injured adults.

Dr. Evans has initiated and directed numerous research studies on the pharmacological treatment of neurological disorders. He has authored and co-authored more than forty publications on this topic. He is a reviewer of the Journal of Nervous and Mental Disease and, co-founder of the Southern California Head Injury Foundations, and a member of North Carolina's brain injury task force.

Sports

Lancers Sweep Double Header From St. Paul's

Holding visiting St. Paul's to a total of six hits for the day, Longwood got shutout pitching in two games last Wednesday and whipped the visiting Tigers 3-0 and 14-0 in a college baseball doubleheader at Lancer Field.

In games that were originally scheduled for Thursday, Lancers Steve Blood and Kyle Weaver were on the mound for the opening 3-0 win and lefty Wyatt Flippen combined with Brent Willard to pitch the second game, which was stopped on the 10-run rule after five innings.

Blood, 1-2, pitched six innings, allowing just two hits, fanning seven and walking one. Weaver hurled the final frame. Mike Tucker had two hits with a triple, scored one run and drove in another to provide all the support Blood would need. Longwood scored single runs in the second, third and fifth innings.

Evening his record at 1-1, Flippen pitched four innings in the second game, giving up three hits, walking two and striking out six. Willard pitched the last inning.

Longwood battered St. Paul's, now 3-8, for nine runs in the first inning and coasted to the victory with five more scores in the second. Benefitting from 11 walks, the Lancers also got nine hits and were aided by four St. Paul's errors.

Catcher Scott Abell had two hits and three RBIs with a double. Chris Porter had a pair of hits and Tucker also drove in two runs.

The Lancers are 13-6 heading into twinbills at home against Oneonta Tuesday at 1, against Virginia State Thursday at 1 and versus North Carolina A&T Saturday at 1. The Trojans took two from Norfolk State last week and could provide Longwood with a tough test. Doubleheaders at A&T last Saturday and at Maryland Eastern Shore Sunday were rained out.

Longwood will honor baseball coach Buddy Bolding Tuesday at Lancer Field when the Lancers host Oneonta. A presentation will be made to Bolding in between the games with Oneonta at approximately 2:30. Bolding is being recognized for attaining of his 300th career victory.

Gymnastics Finishes Seventh In Regionals

Hampered by the absence of leading performer Cindy Shelton, Longwood scored a 165.5 at the United States Gymnastics Federation Southeast Regional Meet Saturday night at Indiana of Pennsylvania and finished seventh in the competion.

Host IUP scored a 185.70 to easily win the meet and advance to nationals as IUP's Dina Margolin notched a 37.95 to cop the all-around title. Centenary was second at 177.95, followed by Georgia College 176.95, West Chester 173.60, East Stroudsburg 168.85, Navy 165.9 and Longwood 165.5.

Shelton suffered a knee injury in practice Thursday and did not accompany the team to regionals.

"Cindy aggravated an old injury and it was a real shock to the team not to have her at regionals," said Longwood coach Ruth Budd. "Considering that she was absent and three of our other top gymnasts competed with injuries, we did pretty well."

Beth Risley led Longwood in all-around with a 34.30 (13th overall), on bars (8.7, 16th) and beam (8.55, 17th). Natalie Taylor, competing for the first time since January, led Longwood on floor (8.6, 23rd) and vaulting (9.1, 14th). Injured Danielle Williams, who usually goes all-around, was able to compete in just two events, bars and beam.

Risley and Taylor also took part despite injuries.

"It has been a difficult year with all the injuries, but we did some positive things as well," said Budd. "We set a new record for team score and got over 170 three meets in a row. Plus, we improved our scores in every event.

Good Named Player Of The Week

Senior Tony Good shot a best-of-the-day 74 to win medalist honors in a Friday match, and for his performance, Good has been named Longwood College Player of the Week for the period March 25-April 1. Player of the Week is chosen by the Longwood sports information office.

"Tony had a super day and a great round. He had a double bogey on the last hole, but he was flying for a while at the start. He had an eagle on number two."

Good, who had a fine 79.5 stroke average in the fall, led the Lancers to a 305 team score Friday and victory over East Stroudsburg, Newport News Apprentice and Hampton University.

Last spring Tony shot a 69 while leading Longwood to a record team score of 289. His 69 is the third best 18-hole total in the history of Lancer golf.

A graduate of Albemarle High School, Good is a sociology major. He has also been a top reserve with the Longwood men's basketball team the past three seasons.

Spring Player of the Week Award Winners

March 11-18, Dennis Hale – Baseball, Matt Carlisle – Baseball; March 18-25, Mike Tucker – Baseball; March 25-April 1, Tony Good – Men's Golf.

Wyatt Flippen

Softball Drops Two To Mary Washington

The Lady Lancer softball squad suffered a twin loss at Mary Washington last Wednesday falling 4-2 and 12-1. Longwood's record drops to 2-4.

Freshman shortstop Robin Jensen scored the first Longwood run after doubling and advancing to third on a fielder's choice. Sophomore centerfielder Angie Sullivan then came through with a clutch RBI single.

Sophomore left fielder Laura Marks is picked up two hits in the first game including a triple. Freshman catcher Jennifer Brady collected the second RBI on a single.

The second game was called in the sixth inning on the "10-run Rule." The Lady Eagles produced a trio of three-run innings capitalizing on Longwood pitching and fielding miscues. Mary Washington held the Lady Lancers to four hits and one run.

The softball squad will travel to Ferrum on Wednesday afternoon for a 2:30 doubleheader and will play in a two-day tournament at UNC-Greensboro over the weekend.

Golfers Win Four-Team Match

Lancer senior Tony Good took medalist honors with a 5-over-par 74 Friday afternoon, leading the Longwood men's golf team to victory in a four-team match at Longwood Golf Course.

Longwood scored a 305 to beat East Stroudsburg's 313, a 321 from Newport News Apprentice and a 324 from Hampton University. Coach Steve Nelson's squad has a 3-0 record in spring match play.

Also for Longwood, Jeff Smiley shot a 76 for the third best score of the day. Scott Wiseman had a 77, Frank Davide a 78, Darrell Nichols an 82 and John Benton an 89. Playing as individuals for the Lancers were Hank Kim 82, Steve Crute 77 and Joe Stanley 89.

"We had a pretty good showing," said Nelson, the Lancer coach. "Tony had a super day and a great round. He had a double bogey of the last hole, but he was flying for a while at the start. He had an eagle on number two."

The Lancers, who were slated to play at VMI Monday in a four-team match, will take part in the Virginia State Collegiate Championship Saturday-Sunday at Hot Springs.

Lacrosse Team Moves to 2-1 With Victory

Alisa Bricklin and Terri Pugh paced the Longwood defense with 12 ground ball recoveries and interceptions. Goalkeeper Karen Holleman came up with five saves.

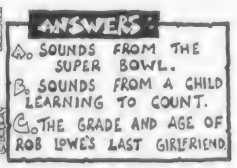
Now 2-1, Longwood is scheduled to host Mary Washington Tuesday at 4, plays at Lynchburg Thursday and hosts Guilford Saturday at 2.

Longwood got goals from seven different players last Wednesday and beat homestanding Mary Baldwin 12-7 in a women's college lacrosse match.

Lara Cini had three goals to lead the Lady Lancers, while Maria Dougherty, Rashel Hammond, and Denise Hanley had two scores each.

Tony Good

Netters Fall To Lynchburg



Longwood's women's tennis team dropped an 8-1 decision to Lynchburg last Tuesday afternoon at the Lancer Courts. The loss drops the Longwood squad's record to 0-7 for the spring season.

Achieving the lone Lady Lancer win on the day was the No. 1 doubles combination of freshman Jenny Holm and soph Suzie Lawman.

This week Longwood will visit Southern Seminary Thursday at 2.

Anticipated Counselor Positions Admissions Office

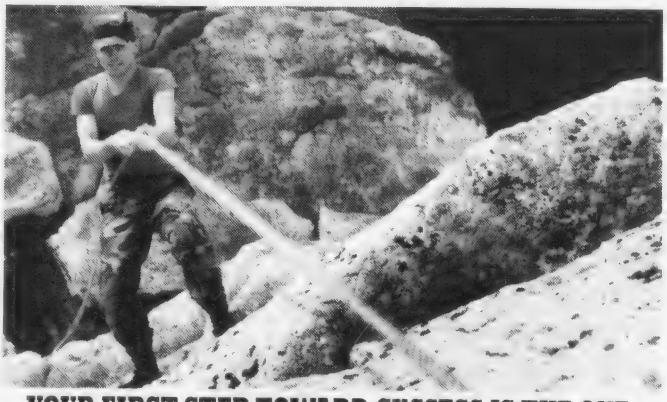
Longwood's Admissions Office anticipates employing two counselors beginning on or about mid-July. One position is for five months; the other for ten months. High energy, good communications skills and active involvement while at Longwood prerequisites for successful candidates.

Salary $1560.35 per month, no benefits, all travel expenses paid. Some weekend work required.

Interested candidates need to contact Bob Chonko, Director of Admissions at X2060.

Lonely?
Need a Date?
Meet that special someone today!
Call DATETIME
(405) 366-6335

"ADOPTION"
Love, laughter and a brother's hand to hold. Our family longs for the baby who will fill our hearts. Let's help each other. Call collect, Ron & Karyn in VA (804) 978-7104 or our adoption advisor (802) 235-2312.



WIN A HAWAIIAN VACATION OR BIG SCREEN TV PLUS RAISE UP TO $1,400 IN JUST 10 DAYS

Objective: Fundraiser
Commitment: Minimal
Money: Raise $1,400
Cost: Zero Investment

Campus organizations, clubs, frats, sororities call OCMC at 1(804)932-0528 1-800-950-8472 ext. 10

CRUISE LINE OPENINGS HIRING NOW!!
Call (719) 687-6662 (USA)

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

YOUR FIRST STEP TOWARD SUCCESS IS THE ONE YOU COULD TAKE THIS SUMMER.

At Army ROTC Camp Challenge, you'll learn what it takes to succeed – in college and in life. You'll build self-confidence and develop your leadership potential. Plus you can also qualify to earn an Army Officer's commission when you graduate.

Army ROTC Camp Challenge. It may be just what you need to reach the top.

ARMY ROTC
THE SMARTEST COLLEGE COURSE YOU CAN TAKE.
For more Information, Contact CPT Carson at 2138 or 2134

BE A PART OF CAMPUS LIFE! ATTEND CONFERENCES!

STUDENT UNION BOARD
WILL HAVE THE FOLLOWING POSITIONS OPEN FOR 1990-91

Vice President
Secretary
Treasurer
Mainstage
Backdoor (Lancer Cafe)
Film
Black Cultural Enhancement Committee
Publicity
Lecture

Applications available in Lankford Information Center and must be returned by April 13.
Interviews will be held the following Week.

BACKDOOR EVENTS IN LANCER CAFE! COMEDIANS! CONCERTS! HAT DAILEY!

PROGRAM ACTIVITIES FOR THE ENTIRE CAMPUS TO ENJOY! MIDWINTERS!

CARICATURE ARTISTS! HOT AIR BALLOON RIDES!
SPRING WEEKEND!STEVEN WRIGHT! MOVIES! BANDS!

$33,000 PART TIME
IN-STATE TUITION RATES FOR ALL

You don't have to be from Virginia to take advantage of the best deal around in tuition assistance. When you join a local unit of the Virginia Army National Guard you qualify for in-state rates, and you can tap into our unbeatable package of pay and education benefits that can add up to as much as $33,000!

All of this for just one weekend a month and two weeks a year after initial training. We even have a special summer training program for college students that will get the money flowing fast!

It's real, and it's right now. But don't delay or you might miss your chance this summer. Call now

VIRGINIA ARMY NATIONAL GUARD

SERGEANT FIRST CLASS
FRANK LOVERDE
FARMVILLE
392-8004

VIRGINIA ARMY NATIONAL GUARD

The Rotunda

Longwood College

Vol. 69 No. 21 | April 9, 1990 | Farmville, VA

Holocaust Memorial Program

By BETH A. LORD

On Wednesday and Thursday, April 11 and 12, a program about the Halocaust will be held at Longwood. A lecture entitled "The Holocaust: From Memory to History" will be given on April 11 at 8:00 p.m. in Wygal Auditorium by Dr. Charles W. Sydnor, Jr., an expert on Nazi Germany. Dr. Sydnor will be available for classroom appearances on the morning of the 12th until the Holocaust Memorial Service, which will be held at 1:00 p.m. in Blackwell Mall. The rain location for this service is the Rotunda. Also, during the first two weeks of April, a collection of photographs taken by Dr. Sydnor will be on display in Lancaster Library. These were taken in Germany and include pictures of concentration camps.

Dr. Sydnor has been the 18th President of Emory and Henry College since March of 1985 and is currently the chair of the Education and Halocaust Education Committee of the Virginia-Israel Commission. He served as executive assistant to Governor Robb from 1982 to 1984 and was a member of Longwood's History faculty from 1972 to 1980. Dr. Sydnor was assistant to Hampden-Sydney President Josiah Bunting for two years and has been an expert witness for the Office of Special Investigations of the Criminal Division of the United States Department of Justice in the investigation of Nazi war crimes. Dr. Sydnor has written many articles on Germany and is the author of a book called Soldiers of Destruction: The SS Death's Head Division, 1933-1945. He was awarded a major prize from the American Historical Association for his TV documentary, Adolf Hitler: 1889-1945. He has appeared in several other documentaries.

According to Rev. Allen Breckenridge, Episcopal campus minister to Longwood and Hampden-Sydney, "this program's timing, set during the week when two of the most sacred holidays of the Jewish and Christian calendars occur together, Passover and Holy Week, will provide a witness to the mutual ties of history and story of these two world religions, and to the need for dialogue and peaceful support among different peoples and cultures of our global community."

The public is invited to attend these events with Longwood students, faculty, and staff. Rev. Breckenridge says the events seek to achieve four goals: "to raise awareness on campus and in the community about the Holocaust and its relationship to present historical events and consciousness; to heighten understanding concerning past and present racial and religious oppression and tolerance; to encourage serious dialogue on current events which might be influenced by a better understanding of our past; and to memorialize the victims of the violence and oppression of the Halocaust."

The two-day series is sponsored by Longwood's Inter-Religious Council in cooperation with the History and Political Science Department, the Institutional Advancement Office, and Office of the President. The IRC is made up of students and campus ministers from religious groups recognized on campus, seeking to "further awareness and dialogue across the breadth of Oozeball was one of the highlights of Spring Weekend, and competition was tougher than ever. See page 6 for more Spring Weekend pictures.

(Continued on page 3)

Photo Credit: Jan-Marie Johnson

Senior Challenge '90

Members of the Class of '90 assembled last Wednesday with only forty-two days left before they march onto Wheeler Mall to receive their degrees. Seniors launched the Challenge '90 program, which is a fund that will receive its monies from contributions members of the class will make over the next five years.

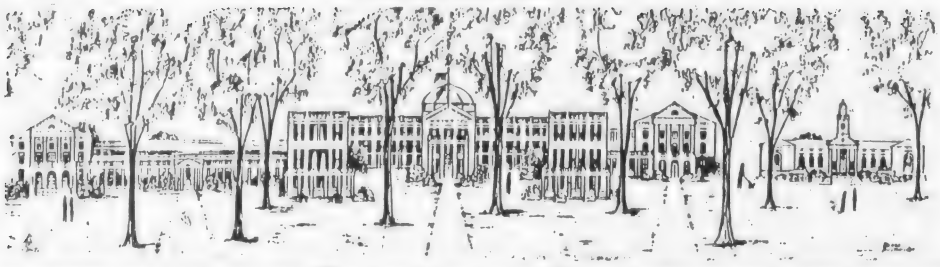
After several meetings during the fall semester, seniors agreed that the establishment of this fund is the most suitable tribute to Longwood. Senior class president, Mike Porter announced Drew Hudson would chair the committee which will solicit the support of all the seniors to pledge monetary contribution to their future alma mater over the next five years. Hudson appointed Beth Camillo as co-chair and Paula Clay, Director of Annual Funds is advising the group.

On Wednesday, forty seniors met and pledged their monetary support to Longwood over the next five years. These forty seniors, referred to as the "Core Forty", will then each solicit ten other members of the Class of 1990. Contributors are asked to fill out a pledge card, which the solicitor will furnish them. Each senior's pledge card is confidential once they fill out the amount they wish to donate.

The solicitor will then file the card with Longwood's Institutional Advancement office and its staff will carry the ball from there.

"The response has been overwhelming," Hudson commented on Thursday. "Many seniors had already been asking when they could make their donations", Hudson added. Senior MaryFrances Hanover cited The Class of '90 Fund as "an excellent idea, and a very suitable gift that will leave a lasting positive impact on Longwood".

The Challenge '90 comittee has set $30,000 as their goal. Hudson feels that "with a class of over 600 members, this is very reachable, it will require 100% participation but I think everyone will be more than glad to give."



In the next few weeks seniors should be approached by fellow class members who will solicit their contribution. Announcement of the class fund will take place at commencement on May 12, and gift will be endowed in five years at Homecoming.

"When dealing with this many potential contributors, it is hard to reach everyone, if a senior is not contacted within the next few weeks they can call me or stop by Institutional Advancement, we will be glad to help them," Hudson said. Drew Hudson can be contacted at 392-5062 or you can stop by Institutional Advancement to see Paula Clay during Longwood Business hours on Second Floor Ruffner.

Hudson further added that "Challenge '90, "The Class of 1990 Fund" affords each student one last opportunity to give of themself as a student, from here on out we're alumni — a scary thought — but reality. May 12 is just around the corner. Longwood has been good to all of us, now it is our turn to be good to Longwood."

Contents

Commentary.....2
News.....3, 4, 5
Features.....8
Calendar.....8
Spring Weekend 90'.....6
Appomattox Surrender.....7
Sports.....10, 11
Classifieds.....12
Personals.....9

Commentary

Summer School Success

By GEORGE HARBIN

One of my friends had this to say about his experience at summer school: "During the three week session, I pulled up my GPA, got over one of the hardest classes in my major, and met a new girlfriend. Then I went to the beach."

Here's a perfect example of a student who completed a summer session and returned home with some very positive accomplishments. He was able to improve both his academic and social standing during the summer session, and still had the whole summer to go after he finished. Take a minute and explore the advantages of attending one short summer session at Longwood.

One of the most common reasons for attending summer school is to improve the GPA. The summer session gives you the chance to successfully complete that one tough course in a relaxed, non-stressful environment. While you're improving your GPA you could play sports, read casually in the sun, or just hang out with friends.

You might also want to consider this reason for attending summer school: Most students have the goal of graduating in four years. Here's your chance to catch up on the 6 or so credits that you're behind; the credits that could keep you here an extra semester. You could eliminate an entire semester by taking a few courses during one short summer session.

Also, by taking a tough course or two during the summer, you could open up a lot of options for your senior year. With the pressure off, you could really enjoy your last semester of college life.

Just think — you could plan a light load for your senior year and go out with a bang, with no risks. Who wants to be stuck with a heavy class load your last semester, while all your friends are out having a great time?

Furthermore, you can take classes in the summer and still have a lot of fun in a relaxed environment. Talk to your friends about teaming up for an interesting summer.

Finally, remember that if you need to repeat a course to replace an "F", or if you just need to pull up your GPA, you need to take those courses at Longwood. Courses taken at other colleges in the summer count towards your credit hours, but don't count towards your GPA. Only courses taken at Longwood affect your GPA.

So come on, give summertime at Longwood a chance. It may be the best summer you've ever had.

LONGWOOD COLLEGE SPRING HOUSING SIGN-UP 1990

April 6	Roommate Search Surveys due in the Housing Office.
April 9	Single room and off-campus lottery decision letters to be mailed.
April 9	F.A.R. — in the Red, White and Green Room at 7:00 p.m.
April 10	Pre-arranged sing-up sheets due to Housing Office by noon. Fraternity/Sorority Special Interest RA Roommates//Suitemates Saved Floor (Optional)
April 17	In-residence hall room selection 7:00 p.m. Saved floors by class and lottery number. 7:30 p.m. in-hall only by class and lottery number. 8:00 p.m. in-hall with outsiders by class and lottery number.
April 23	Change-of-Residence hall room selection — Conference Room 2 - Lankford Hall 7:00 p.m. rising seniors by lottery number 7:30 p.m. rising juniors by lottery number 8:00 p.m. rising sophomores by lottery number
April 27	Late Room Sign-up 10:00 a.m. Housing Office, Tabb Hall First come - First served

NOTE: Anyone looking for a roommate, please come by the Housing Office and complete a roommate survey by April 6, 1990.

Let Longwood know what's on your mind. Write a Letter to the Editor, Box 1133.

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
R. Bruce Gantt

Photography Editor
Jan-Marie Johnson

Sports Editor
Charlie Fultz

Business Manager
Kim Bell

Advertising Manager
Michelle Lawhorn

Features Editor
Monica Gilbert

News Editor
Beth A. Lord

Layout Editor
Sarah Whiteside

Faculty Advisor
William C. Woods

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be signed, typed or printed neatly, and state the author's years. The Editor and staff reserve the right to edit any material submitted for publication.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 395-2120.

News

Longwood Hosts International Debate

The Japanese Debate team, Hideaki Kitabayashi and Heroharu Nakamura, arrived at Longwood on Sunday, April 1 for a debate against Liberty University students, Tom Walker and Charles Kester. On Monday at 7:30 p.m. in Wygal, the debaters addressed the topic — "Resolved: That the U.S. should adopt protectionist trade policies toward Japan."

The moderator, Mary-Robyn Adams, made the introductions, and the debate began with an 8 minute affirmative constructive speech by Tom Walker and a 2-minute cross examination by Hiroharu Nakamura.Hideaki Kitabayashi gave the first negative constructive speech with cross examination by Tom Walker. The second affirmative constructive speech by Charles Kester was cross-examined by Hideaki Kitabayashi Charles Kester then cross examined the second negative speech by Heroharu Nakamura.

A brief intermission allowed the debaters time to formulate their 3 minute rebuttals. During this time, recognition of the Longwood College Forensics Team was made, of whom Mary-Robyn Adams, David Richards, and William "Jiggers" Turner are 1990 National Arcalifiers.

The Japanese students arrived in Los Angeles on March 10th. By the time they leave in April, they will have visited 24 colleges all over the country, including Nevada, Washington, Kansas, Texas, Missouri, Tennessee, South Carolina, Virginia, Washington D.C., Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, and Iowa.

Kitabayashi is a 24 year old senior at Dokkyo University in Tokyo. He has worked as abusinessman and participated in over 100 rounds of debate since 1986. He has also judged over 70 rounds of debate and has been a member of the K.E.U.L. Debate Special Advisory Commission.

Nakamura is a 23 year old senior at Sophia University in Tokyo. While debating, he has also served as a certified Public Accountant. He is an experienced debater having taken several awards at various tournaments including the Kanto Junior Debate Tournament.

The Liberty University Debate team was coached by Brett O'Donnell. The time keeper, Linda Lunclquist, was also from Liberty.

Tom Walker is a 20 year old junior majoring in Political Science. Within his college career he has won 3 tournaments and 6 speaker awards.

Charles Kester, a 22 year old senior, says his interest in debate and forensics began in high school. Within the past season, he has won 6 awards.

The debate and the visit of the Japanese students are sponsored by the International Studios Program and Theatre, under the direction of Dr. John Reynolds and Dr. Nancy Haga.

HOLOCAUST MEMORIAL PROGRAM

"THE HOLOCAUST: FROM MEMORY TO HISTORY"
CHARLES SYDNOR
PRESIDENT OF EMORY & HENRY COLLEGE
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 11 • 8 PM
WYGAL AUDITORIUM
LONGWOOD COLLEGE

MEMORIAL SERVICE
THURSDAY, APRIL 12 • 1 PM
FOUNTAIN SQUARE
LONGWOOD COLLEGE

SPONSORED BY THE LONGWOOD COLLEGE INTER-RELIGIOUS COUNCIL IN COOPERATION WITH THE PRESIDENT'S OFFICE AND THE DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY & POLITICAL SCIENCE

BSU Sponsors Revival Services

By DEAN GRUBBS

Upcoming revival services sponsored by the Baptist Student Union will be the first of its type in recent Longwood history. These services will be student led and student oriented offering the people of our campus the opportunity to explore Christianity, reflect on faith, and renew personal committment. The services will be free of charge and no offerings will be taken.

The speaker will be Rev. Mike Osborne, Pastor of Victoria Baptist Church. Rev. Osborne is in the process of leaving his church in Victoria and is about to enter a career of evangelism.

Services will be held on April 17, 18, and 19 from 7:30-9 in the Gold Room of the Lankford Student Union. Special music will be performed by the following groups, 17th Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship Worship Team, 18th BASIC, 19th Mr. Christopher Head. There will be other student presentations as well. Everyone is welcome and encouraged to participate.

COLLEGE PRESS SERVICE Subscriber

Phi Kappa Phi Initiates

The Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi will initiate 34 students and graduates on Tuesday, April 17, at 7 p.m. in the Wygal Auditorium. Keynote speaker for the ceremony will be Dr. Ruth Beck, a biology professor at William and Mary and a former member of the Longwood faculty.

To become a member of Phi Kappa Phi, seniors and graduates must have a cumulative quality point average of 3.50; the following students will be initiated in this group: Julie C. Anderson, DeAnn B. Beale, Gregory L. Bowman, Cynthia C. Breckenridge, Hubert G. Cagle, Jr., Jennifer Lynn Crawford, Deborah A. Cwetna, Karen Pietz Decker, Vonda Faye Deel, Cheryl Lynn Feinman, Deborah L. Fesperman, Carol Kay Francis, James M. Green, Suzanne C. Johnson, Crystal T. Jones, Gregory C. Lewis, Rhonda Ann Light, Melissa McDaniel, Melissa L. Morris, Hollie A. Nixon, Suzanne M. Pellegrino, Mark Edward Sarver, Patricia E. Scott, Rebecca Lynn Todd, Mary Fleming Trumbull, Vernell S. Williamson, and Jean S. Wheeler.

Four juniors, who have the required 3.75 GPA or better, will be initiated: Janet Lynn Elliott, Rebecca Louise Meeks, Phyllis Currin Owen, and Kimberly Dawn Townsend.

To be initiated as a graduate student, the required GPA is 3.5 as an undergraduate and 3.75 on graduate work. Gail Layson Speering will be initiated in this category.

The top 2 percent of the sophomore class and the top 1 percent of the freshman class will be awarded certificates of recognition for academic achievement. Sophomores to be honored include Donna Bobbitt, Kim DeRonda, Carlisa Dudley, Kirsten Hite, Carrie Holland, Frances Jania, Barbara Jean Martin, Sheri McGuire, Michelle Diane Nash, Staci Sandler, Jamie Schulster, Augustine Simmons, Tammy Lynn Smith, Emily Roderer, and Lauren Wacker. Freshmen include Mary Davis, Firat Gezen, Shawn Grove, Latisha Hayes, Teera Jennings, Tammy Lynn Jones, and Andrea McWee.

Officers of the Longwood chapter include Mrs. Frances Hamlett, President; William McGuire, Student Vice President; Dr. Owen Fields, Corresponding Secretary; and Dr. E.T. Noone, Secretary/Treasurer. In addition, 19 other faculty members are members of the Longwood chapter.

Phi Kappa Phi has chapters established at colleges and universities across the country. The primary objective of the society is the recognition and encouragement of superior scholarship in all academic disciplines. The society is convinced that in recognizing and honoring those persons of good character who have excelled in scholarship, it will stimulate others to espouse excellence.

Student Health Presents AIDS Education Speaker

Longwood's Student Health Service is planning a special AIDS-education program on Thursday, April 26. Guest speaker will be David Kamens, of Arlington, a 19-year-old who tested HIV-positive one month after his 18th birthday.

Kamens has chosen to spend his time helping his peers by traveling to high schools and colleges around the country and talking frankly about AIDS, "safer sex," and "self-esteem, self-respect and taking care of yourself."

He has spoken on The Hill for Congress, was featured in an American College Health Association teleconference that originated at Ohio State University, and addressed the combined PTA groups of Fairfax County.

Kamens also works with small groups, like the workshop he did for Longwood's Peer Helpers last month. Pam Higgins, Assistant Director of Student Health, said David "speaks on the level of the student better than anyone I have ever heard. He helps other young people face the reality of AIDS."

Kamens will speak at 1 p.m. on Thursday, April 26, in the Gold Room. His topic is "A Personal Perspective/Living with AIDS." Everyone is urged to hear him.

(Continued from page 1)
religious affiliations in our academic community," says Rev. Breckenridge. Students on the IRC were involved in the planning of these events and will participate in the Memorial Service. The group held a retreat a few weeks ago and is striving to become more active and visible on campus.

News

Cancer Reduction Guidelines

The American Cancer Society is gearing up for a major battle. The arsenal will consist of some important weapons in the fight against cancer: foods rich in vitamins A and C, low in fat and high in fiber, and cruciferous vegetables.

On Thursday, April 19, the American Cancer Society will sponsor the Great American Food Fight Against Cancer, a nationwide fun-filled event with a serious message about lowering cancer risk through making healthy choices in diet.

Grocery stores, restaurants, businesses, schools and hospitals throughout Virginia will join the fight with special promotions and activities on April 19 stressing the American Cancer Society's nutritional guidelines.

There is evidence linking diet to certain cancers. Research reports strongly suggest that certain foods might affect a person's chances of getting cancer. According to the American Cancer, high-fiber diets are recommended to help avoid colorectal cancer, and vitamin A might reduce the risk of getting cancers of the lung, larynx, and esophagus. Foods high in fat may contribute to cancers of the breast, prostate, and colon.

By making simple, inexpensive changes in daily habits, many people can reduce their cancer risk. Nutrition guidelines recommended by the American Cancer Society are as follows:

1. Avoid obesity: Obesity has been linked to risk of uterine, gall bladder, breast and colon cancer.

2. Cut down on intake of fats: A high-fat diet increases risk of developing breast, colon and prostate cancers.

3. Increase intake of fiber (the "roughage" Mom praised so highly): A high-fiber diet may reduce the risk of developing colon cancer.

4. Add foods rich in vitamins A and C: These vitamins may help prevent cancers of the esophagus and stomach. Citrus fruits and green leafy vegetables, especially those from the cabbage family — brussel sprouts, broccoli, kale, cauliflower, and cabbage — will provide these vitamins, as well as some fiber.

5. Include cruciferous vegetables in your diet: Cruciferous, or cabbage family, vegetables — such as cabbage, broccoli, brussel sprouts, and cauliflower — might help prevent certain cancers from developing.

6. If you drink alcoholic beverages, do so in moderation: The risk of liver cancer may be reduced by drinking in moderation.

7. Limit amounts of salt-cured, smoke, and nitrite-cured foods: Cancers of the stomach and esophagus are more common among people who consume large quantities of these foods.

Following the Great American Food Fight Against Cancer on April 19, American Cancer Society volunteers throughout the state will conduct the annual fundraising drive and leave copies of the risk-reducing guidelines with local community residents.

The April 19 Great American Food Fight Against Cancer is expected to be an annual nationwide activity similar to the American Cancer Society's Great American Smokeout each fall. Other organizations assisting this year include the Virginia Chefs Association, Virginia Dietetic Association, Virginia Congress of Parents and Teachers, Department of Health, Department of Agriculture, and Consumer Services, Virginia Restaurant Association, Virginia Extension Service, and Division of Dental Health.

Members of the Virginia Dietetic Association will serve as consultants to American Cancer Society volunteers who will answer calls to a toll-free information number (1-800-ACS-2345) on April 19.

Earth Day At Bear Creek Lake Park

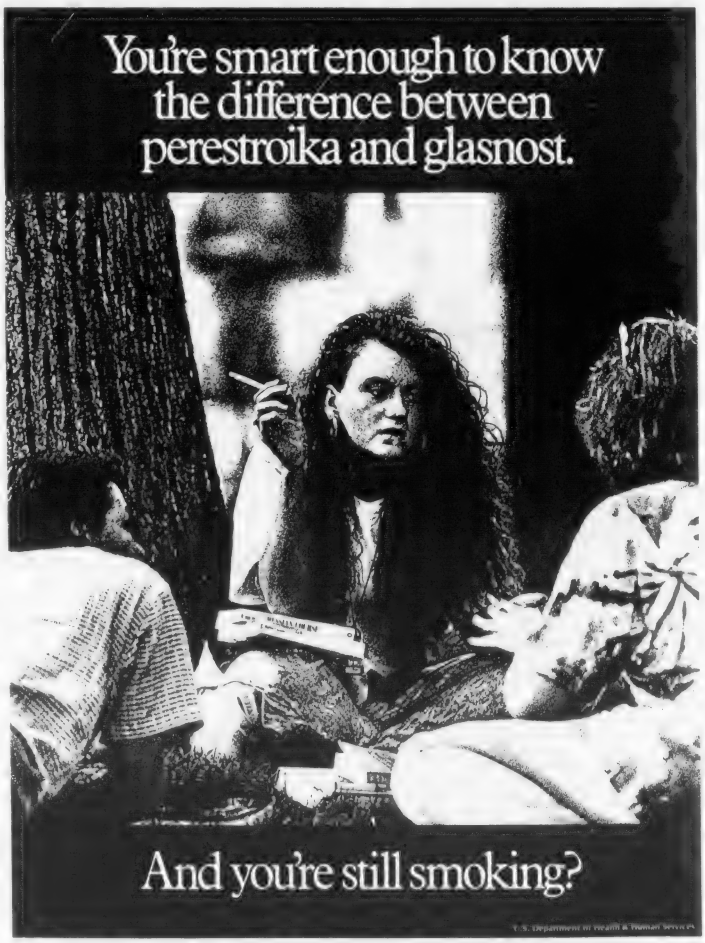
Bear Creek Lake State Park is kicking off its 1990 Interpretive program by celebrating Earth Day 1990. Earth Day is April 22, 1990 and is also the beginning of the week-long celebration of the outdoors. Plan to spend a day in the park and help celebrate our outdoor heritage in Virginia by participating in our scheduled events, or just spend the day hiking, fishing, or camping.

Events scheduled for Earth Day 1990 (April 22) begin with a self-guided game designed to test your Environment IQ. A park ranger will be available to assist with this activity from 10 - 11 a.m. However, the activity will be available until 3 p.m. on a self-guiding basis. Meet at the concession area.

At 1 p.m. help the Chief Ranger plant the Earth Day Dogwood. You will learn lots of facts about recycling and the water cycle through this program. This tree will serve as Bear Creek Lake State Park living memorial to Earth Day 1990. Meet in the day, use the parking lot near the picnic area.

A display will be set up on the beach in order to encourage individuals to examine how their daily living affects the environment. Suggestions for environmental friendly habits will be available.

The park will serve as a drop site for recycable aluminum on Earth Day. The aluminum cans can be dropped at the Contact Station upon entering or leaving the park.



For more information on the program or directions to the park call (804) 492-4410.

Auditions For Lancer Edition

Students interested in auditioning for either the Lancer Edition Show Choir or Camerta Singers should come to the Wygal Building on either Tuesday, April 10 at 8:15 p.m. or Wednesday, April 11, at 8:15 p.m. Students do not need to bring any prepared music, must come as you are. The audition will take about fifteen minutes for Lancer Edition and eight minutes for Camerta Singers. Students will be auditioned on a first come, first serve basis.

The Lancer Edition Show Choir performs popular music with choreography. This ensemble performs many times during the year with emphasis on a January show on campus. The Camerata Singers sing "serious" literature and perform many times on and off campus. In the past year this choir has performed in Bruton Parish Church in Williamsburg, at the White House, as part of the Music Educators Association State Convention and toured to New York City.

All interested students are encouraged to audition. For those students who would rather option for a non-auditioned group, they can simply sign up for Concert Choir. This ensemble is made up of students from all majors and rehearses twice a week. Performances include the traditional Christmas Dinners and Concerts, Intercollegiate Choral Festival and Spring Concert.

News

This space contributed as a public service.

FIGHTING CANCER SOMETIMES REQUIRES AN AMPHIBIOUS ASSAULT.

The war against cancer isn't limited to land-based assault vegetables. Because a meal that includes baked, broiled, or poached fish may lessen your cancer risk, as well.

But fish isn't your only ally. Try chicken or lean meat. Or fiber-rich fruits, vegetables and grains. Along with foods high in Vitamin A or C, lowfat dairy products, and cruciferous vegetables like broccoli and cauliflower.

They're all at your disposal in the American Cancer Society's Great American Food Fight Against Cancer. Call 1-800-ACS-2345 for additional information, or talk to your local American Cancer Society.

Meanwhile, enjoy some fish. We think you'll like the net effect.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

THE GREAT AMERICAN FOOD FIGHT AGAINST CANCER HAS BEGUN.

Created as a public service by DDB Needham Worldwide

President Of H-SC To Address Foundation

Dr. James R. Leutze, President of Hampden-Sydney College, will address the April 16th meeting of the George C. Marshall Foundation in Lexington, Virginia. The topic of his speech will be Contemporary Events and Developments in Eastern and Western Europe. A newly appointed member of the Marshall Foundation's Board of Trustees, Dr. Leutze is considered to be an expert in the field of World War II military strategy. Before becoming the twentieth president of Hampden-Sydney College, he was the Dowd Professor of History at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill and chairman of UNC's Curriculum in Peace, War, and Defense.

Organized in 1953 at the suggestion of President Truman, the George C. Marshall Foundation is located in Lexington, Virginia, next to the Virginia Military Institute (Marshall's alma mater), and the campus of Washington & Lee University. The Foundation is a living memorial to the life and career of General Marshall, one of America's greatest soldier-statesmen.

The Marshall Museum, open daily at no charge, is visited every year by approximately twenty-five thousand people of all ages. Museum items are often included in exhibitions both in this country and in Europe.

The Marshall Undergraduate Scholarships program provides students, primarily from Virginia colleges and universities, with an opportunity to use the facilities of the Marshall Library, particularly the manuscript collections, to engage in original writing. Since the scholarships were established in 1976, some 128 students have participated. Advanced research and outreach are also encouraged though the facilities collection of more than two million documents on mid-twentieth-century military and diplomatic history.

A Look Back Down The Road Of Equality

By DENISE DAUBENSPECK

The Road to Equality: Where Does Longwood Go From Here? This was the topic discussed by a six-member panel on March 29, in Bedford Auditorium. Beth Camello, Drew Hudson, Spenser Dickens, Sarabeth Murphy, Brenda Atkins, and Rodena Ellerbe, members of the panel, confronted the issue of gender and ethnic roles in society.

Each member of the panel addressed a different question. Among those discussed were the role of females in future politics, goals prohibited by gender or ethics, overall gain or losses for ethnic students, and how new students begin to know of important events and issues around campus.

Ellerbe discussed her belief that women are held back in politics due to their gender. They feel that they must compete as men. She advises that women entering politics make gender work for them and compete solely as women. She also encourages women to develop their own style and not copy an executive man.

Hudson pointed out that college male/female relationships can be particularly shallow and how this may inhibit the goals of students. He went on to explain that Longwood has been co-ed for fourteen years, but men continue to monopolize the leadership positions.

Murphy proposed that separate courses, dealing with women's and black history, etc., be offered. She suggested that these courses will allow students to learn of past accomplishments and inform men and women of their equality. Dickens added to this idea by suggesting history be looked at by numerous viewpoints, instead of just one. This way students are exposed to different ethnic groups. He believes that racial tension and fear around campus may be caused by misunderstandings. He feels that this program would cause less tension and conflict among ethnic groups.

Camello pointed out that interest in the proposed courses will be low unless relevance or importance can be shown to students. She believes that students need to be exposed to issues and in order to do so the faculty needs to step in.

Atkins briefly explained the strategic budget plan. The budget will be cut by 2% in 1989-90, followed by a 5% decrease the next. She also discussed plans for a gender and ethnic center in the future.

In addition to the panel discussion a question/answer period was held.

Is Beauty In The Eye Of The Beholder?

A former Miss America and a sociologist who specializes in women's studies will come to Longwood College on Tuesday, April 10, to debate beauty and scholarship pageants.

Kylene Barker Brandon, the only Miss Virginia ever to win the Miss America title, and Gail Dines, currently a faculty member at Wheelock College in Boston, will engage in an informal debate on the topic, "Pageants: Is Beauty in the Eye of the Beholder?" Tenera McPhearson, a Longwood junior, will be the moderator.

The program will begin at 8 p.m. in the Gold Room of Lankford Building and is open to the public free of charge.

Both presenters are experienced in sharing their views on pageants. Ms. Brandon has debated the issues surrounding the Miss America program on CNN's Crossfire. Ms. Dines, a feminist, has made numerous presentations about the images of women portrayed in pageants and through the media.

The program "will give our students and others a chance to examine their own feelings and express their views on a part of the American culture that is highly popular," said Dr. Sue Saunders, dean of students at Longwood.

"We hope to have an open and free discussion on how women are portrayed through these pageants and by the media in general," she said.

The program was planned by Dr. Saunders; Kathe Taylor, formerly executive assistant to the president; and Joan Mason, Student Union director.

Ms. Brandon won the Miss Virginia and Miss America titles in 1979. More than 80,000 young women compete each year in the scholastic and talent competition that culminates in the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City.

Ms. Brandon traveled more than 350,000 miles as Miss America. She appeared on NBC's Today Show, the Perry Como Christmas Special, the Donny and Marie Show. She also toured Germany and Iceland on the USO show.

Utilizing the experience gained as Miss America and her degree in apparel design and fashion merchandising from Virginia Tech, Ms. Brandon opened "d. Kylene," a boutique on Worth Avenue in Palm Beach, Fla. She is the author of "Southern Beauty, A Total Fitness and Beauty Program for That Winning All-American Look" and has released an exercise album entitled "Stamina with Style."

Ms. Dines is a native of England and a graduate of the University of Salford in Manchester. She currently is pursuing a doctoral degree there in the sociology of mass communications. Her thesis is entitled "A Sociological Investigation into Playboy Cartoons, 1970-79."

Ms Dines has taught at the University of Haifa in Israel and served as research director for the Israeli Institute for the Study of Media and Family. She also has teaching experience in the women's studies program at the University of Massachusetts in Boston and at Curry College.

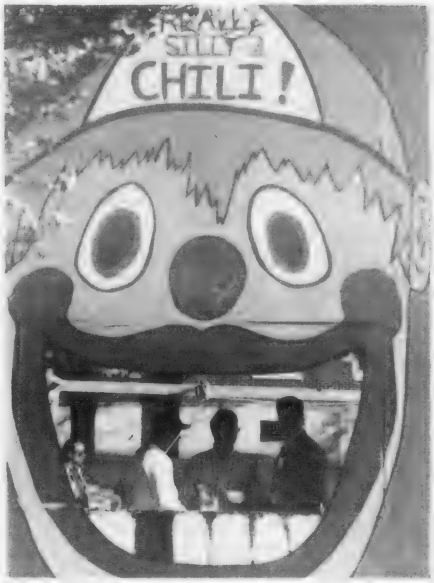
She has published a number of articles and has given lectures and seminars on the nature and effects of female imagery in the media, the relationship between visual imagery and violence against women, and the myths and realities of pornography and rape.

News Shorts

Sholly To Speak

Dr. Barbara K. Sholly, a Psychology Professor at the University of Richmond, will speak on the "Perceptions of Personal Achievement: Eminent Women Psychologists" on Wednesday, April 11th, at 11:30 a.m. in the Parents & Friends Lounge at Hampden-Sydney College. The lecture is free and open to the public.

Morris's Imaginative Challenge



Dr. Thomas V. Morris, Professor of Philosophy at Notre Dame University, will speak on "The Imaginative Challenge of Ethical Actions" on Tuesday, April 10th, at 4:00 p.m. in Parents & Friends Lounge at Hampden-Sydney College. The lecture is free and open to the public.

A Look Back, Spring Weekend '90

Judging the chili cook-off.

Photo Credit: Jan Marie Johnson

Silly Chili Booth

Oozeball Action!

A good return!

Photo Credit: R. Bruce Gantt

This player just barely makes the return.

125th Anniversary Of The Appomattox Surrender

Union troops march toward the surrender ceremony.

Confederate officers march through historic Appomattox.

Union troops wait in formation during ceremony.

This Sunday was the 125th anniversary of General Lee's surrender to General Grant in Appomattox. The treaty that ended the Civil War was signed in the McClean House which is now part of the Appomattox National Park. Over 4,000 re-enactors, dressed in historically accurate uniforms, participated to re-create the event.

Union soldiers on the steps fo the McClean House in Appomattox.

Photo Credit: R. Bruce Gantt

Features

ROTC's Summer Opportunity Without Commitment

There is little known opportunity available to every Longwood sophomore. Army ROTC's Basic Camp offers students a unique, fun, exciting, chance to get a closer look at the Army without any commitment.

Last year, I went to Basic Camp. I decided to go because of the money, scholarships, benefits, leadership training and experience that it offers and are important to me as well as to potential employers. I was a little apprehensive about signing up to go, but when I realized that I could leave at any time; there was no commitment to the Army and the Army paid me to go; I decided to try it and see what it had to offer.

During my six weeks at Ft. Knox, I worked with the Army's latest equipment and learned it's latest theories and leadership techniques. Every day was a challenge. On some days you perform as a follower and other days you have the opportunity to supervise and influence as many as 150 of your peers. Halfway through Basic Camp, I had already determined that this experience would be a winner for me whether or not I stayed with the Army. After all, how many of my fellow students would have my credentials upon graduation. Also, the shared challenges that the men and women in my team and I successfully met on a daily basis had made us life long friends.

At the end of my Basic Camp experience, I was offered a two year scholarship based upon my leadership potential. I found myself confident in my physical, mental, and leadership abilities and felt good that I had achieved what I had set out to do. Upon returning to school in August, I decided that the Army was for me. My school would be paid for. I would have an initial job after graduation and the opportunity to continue to develop as a leader while in college.

This summer, why not check out this opportunity. It is a great experience, no commitment, and you get paid — you have everything to gain and nothing to loose.

Gold Futures

NOW! SAVE UP TO $100 AND DON'T PAY 'TIL AUGUST!

Buy an ArtCarved college ring. It's a smart investment. Because ArtCarved gold rings are crafted with the kind of quality you can put stock into. Each ArtCarved college ring comes with a Full Lifetime Warranty. And ArtCarved offers a variety of men's and women's styles with lots of options. Choose a college memento that grows more valuable with time. Ask how you can save on gold accessories, too.

ARTCARVED COLLEGE JEWELRY

April 16-18 10 AM-2PM Bookstore

Location Date Time Deposit Required

Payment Plans Available

Upcoming Events

Tuesday - 10	Wednesday - 11	Thursday - 12	Friday - 13	Saturday - 14	Sunday - 15	Monday - 16
Eating Disorders 1PM-2PM Counseling Services Junior Art Exibition 9-12;1-5 Bedford Gallery Beauty Pageants: Is Beauty in the Eye of the Beholder? 8PM Gold Room H-SC, CAC Student Talent Festival, Kirby Patio 6PM Hollins- Lecture by Peter Feldstein,Chair of Graduate Photography Program at University of Iowa. Green Drawing Room 7:30 PM	Junior Art Exibition 9-12;1-5 Bedford Gallery Recruiter: Kings Dominion 10AM-2:30PM New Smoker Recruiter: K-Mart Apparel, All Day , CPPC s.Ruffner H-SC Lecture: Dr. Samir Saliba of Emory and Henry College will speak on ,"U.S./Iran relations" , Parents and Freiends Lounge 7:30 PM CAC Movie: "Caddyshack", Johns Aud.10PM $1.00	Intramurals: Frisbee Golf Entry Blank Due and Meeting6:30PM , IM Room Workshop: Job Search Strategies 1PM CPPC S.Ruffner Junior Art Exibition 9-12;1-5 Bedford Gallery H-SC Honors Lecture: Elizibeth Flynn, Proffessor of Art, Longwood College, "Problem Solving Through Creativity: The Essence of Arhitecture", Gilmer 019 ,7:30 PM	Movie Series: "Childs Play" 7PM Lancer Cafe Junior Art Exibition 9-12;1-5 Bedford Gallery	H-SC CAC Mixer with "THE POPES" 4PM Whitehouse Lawn Sweet briar 63rd Annual Sweet Briar Horse Show, Outdoor Areana, Rogers Rideing Center, 8:30 AM	Happy Easter 	Movie Series: "Childs Play" 7PM Lancer Cafe Alcohol Support Group 6PM-7PM Counseling Services Intramurals : Frisbee Golf Starts Junior Art Exibition 9-12;1-5 Bedford Gallery H-SC Concert: Jonathan Green and Full Orchestra, Crawley Forum, 8PM

Personals

To my Sisters in Alpha Delta Pi — I have been a part of our sisterhood for three years, and I wish it could have been 50. My graduation is near and never again in my life will I find anything as special as AΔπ. I have grown as a sister, learning leadership, and loyalty. There aren't enough words to express the love I feel for each and everyone of you. I love you and thank you for your support. I will miss you, especially my little sister, Cherylyn, and my granddaughter Amy, and our wonderful advisor, Mildred. — Loyally, Beth

Dave Good, A.K.A. "Cherry Bandit" — You sure looked good in all that camouflage, but we couldn't see those sexy buns! — Just Us

Amy Loving — If I love you, will you love me? — An Admirer

Thanks for the ultimate jeep ride ... "Go Timmy Go" and "Freebar" Let's do it again soon! — Queenie and Princess

To the Unknowledgeable and Naive Delta — What Delta Fraternity? You lost your charter, dude! Not to mention a few other things. Dudes lose the "Tude" — How ya like now

Dear Max — It's been so long since I have been blessed by your presence and now my heart yearns for you. Everytime I pass by the Fountain and I'm reminded of those cascading falls whose drops gently caressed your skin. I just want to tell you that I cannot live without you and if you ever find a place in your life for me, I'll always be there for you.

To Gary Pierce — Our favorite pimp! — Profitless

Spencer — "Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles" - Hero's in a half shell - turtle power! You owe me!

Wanted — Male Companion to sleep on. For more information, contact the Commuter Student Lounge

Chuck "tex" — When thoust strippest past thy cowboy boots, we willst dance upon the table top. — Your gogos

C. S. — Repulse me!

To my favorite group of guys in Cox 8 — Hi! Guys. Sorry I haven't made it over, will try harder. — Dr. Ruth

Scott Smalley — Who sing's that song? Let's Keep it that Way! "Bork! Bork!" — Liz

Mr Dearest Maxine — Remember how you raped me with your eyes. From that moment on I was impregnated with your lust. I know I'm the only one who ever meant anything to you, especially in bed. My body aches with the thoughts of those special moments we shared. — Mr. X

Permation — Yack-m, Smack'em, boodie yack'em ... RRRRRRR Matie — PUD

ΣK's — You guys are wonderful. Keep smilin - one month left - YIPEE! — NIK

Mush, I mean Mish — You are the best little sis in the world, even though you are spoiled rotten. — Love Sue

Gary — Thanks for everything the past few weeks. I couldn't have made it without you! — I love ya! Milly

Ma Harbour — You are awesome. I love ya! — Milly

Attention AΔπ's — Have a great week and a wonderful Easter!

P.S. Be good to your Bunny Buddies!

To J and M — Who's that in our shower? — Truly shocked, Angie, Donna, and Tina

To the New Initiates of ΣΣΣ! — Welcome to the special Bonds of Sisterhood. We love you! — Your Sisters

Jim — You're the greatest! Have a wonderful week! I love you. Forever yours — Jenn! How does it feel to be 21?

LCW — You have given me many beautiful things that I will cherish for always. Maybe 1, 2, 3 die no longer hold true, but friends are still friends forever. As always, I am forever yours.

Leah Payne — Congratulations Greek Woman of the Year!! We love you! — The Sisters of Sigma Sigma Sigma

ΔZ Pledges — Keep up the good work. We love you! — The Sisters of Delta Zeta

Christy — Congratulations on Order of Omega! — The Sisters of Delta Zeta

Cady — Nice trip!! — ΔZ Kendahl and Robin

Stacey — You are the best big sis ever. — ΔZ Love Bunches Julie

Cheryl and Helen! — You are the best lil sisters ever. — Δf love, Kandi

Trisha — Congratulations on being the Province's #1 Treasurer! — Love ya! Angela

Regina — Keep up the good work! You're an awesome lil sis! — ΔZ Love, Cheryl

Kelly — You're an awesome granddaughter! I love you! — ΔZ love, Beth

ΔZ Pledges — You are great and I am proud of you. — AZ love, Your Pledge Mom

Stacy and Sue — You are the best family that I could have ever asked for. Thanks for everything. — I love you guys!! — Cade

To the Sigma Kappa Pledges — You did great in the lip sync. Keep up the great work! You are all awesome!!

Kim H. — You're a great little sis! I love ya! — ΣK love, Shelley

To my roomie — Its been a fun two years. Good luck next year and in everything that you do. You deserve it! — Love ya, Denise

Pooch – How's Preston? When's the wedding? Say howdy to your pseudo-friends for me. You know who.

Stephi – Are you really going to graduate this year? Good luck with your ABC review course- or is it CPR? Robert

To the cast of "Top Girls" — You "guys" are awesome! Thanks for the support and understanding! — Pope

P.S. I never want to see water again!

To all AST's! — Congratulations on winning Greek Week! I see that you work together to achieve your goals! Next year, let's be sisterhood of the year!

To Karen, Cara, and Kirsten — Look out senior year, here we come! Let's make the best of it (I'm sure we will)!! — Love ya'll, Denise

Glenn – Try to keep the moose under control. Ra-Ra

Attention all Alpha-Gam Girls – Depend on each other and support the sister who needs help. Love and trust is the foundation needed to survive. The Secret Gam.

Tues. April 10 7:30 p.m. in Lancer Dancer Studio – Interest meeting for a Ballroom Dance Team and for a PE class in Ballroom & Social Dance.

Godsey — Are you sure of the date this time?

Eli — How many days until graduation?

Larry Larry — See any moving balloons this weekend? Are your socks clean? How have your showers been? Has anything fallen from the top of the fridge lately? Be sure to hit the toilet. How's your personal soap opera? Are you breeding contact paper? Movie Critic of the year (unanomous vote) Thanks for the laughs — US

Vicki — You are an awesome suitemate. See I told you it was nice!

LOFT for sale — 6 ft., fireproofed $65 negotiable. Call Pam X 4052

Happy 23rd birthday, Scott! — Love and hugs, Pam

Tori Dansla – You are an awesome cowgirl. Sorry that you are so upset avec moi. Write soon. Jis Sr.

Bubba Fat – You're the greatest! Yes Yes Yes No NO No 00 00 00 Midnight run needed but soon enough. Smile. Wa Wa-Dee

Alisa – Hope you feel better soon.

Pam, Polly, and Jan – Congratulations

Suzie Lawman – Your kid just wants to tell you you're doing a good job! Good Luck in tennis!

Anyone who is graduating in December of 1990 and wishes to attend the senior ball please contact Mary Frances Hanover or Deborah Vaughan. Both of their numbers can be found in the students directory.

Carrie – I lied! I found the personal and you're busted. Michelle.

Wanted – That pair of cute boobies in the Commuter Student Lounge. We need to wrinkle the Woobie sometime soon. You are the prey I always seek. The Great White Booty Hunter

Calling all Booty Bandits – Hope your spring weekend was a orgasmically, gratifying experience. Give us booty, or give us death! The Great White Booty Hunter

The Brothers of ΣTX:
It was uplifting to once again experience the spirit of friendship and brotherhood this weekend. Hopefully, we will all be able to reunite for the pre-graduation extravaganza. (The Sigma is graduating) With enough beer and liquor, our party lights will always flicker.
Fraternally , Bo

Sweetness – Thanks for the second chance. I hope we will keep in touch. Love ya, "Loml"

Lightning – Are you really a closet liberal? We're keeping a close eye on you from the right wing. Ron Jis, Jr. – It's only college. Tell Sue exactly what you think of her. (Both Sues in fact) Write to me you flamer. Jis Sr.

Buttercup – Sorry that I missed your game. Please forgive me. Thanks for your support. Rat

To the Loveshack Suite — I can't believe you all are leaving me. I'm really going to miss you guys!! Ya'll have been great friends!! Keep in touch!! — Love ya'll, Denise

Rotunda Comics

Sports

Baseball Team Splits Pair With VSU

Longwood bounced back behind the pitching of Dennis Hale and home runs from Scott Abell and Eric Hutzler to beat Virginia State 12-4 Thursday afternoon and gain a split of a college baseball doubleheader at Lancer Field. The Trojans had won the first game 7-3.

Hale won his fifth game against no losses, tossing a seven-hitter in the nightcap. He struck out eight, walked two and allowed just one earned run. The junior righthander has an earned run average of 2.80 for 35.3 innings worked this spring.

Abell, the Lancer leader in RBIs with 27, hit a two-run homer and Hutzler a 3-run shot as Longwood erupted for six runs in the second inning to take command of the game. Hutzler also stole three bases and Chris Porter added a pair of double for the Lancers, now 14-7 for the year.

Virginia State got a 2-run homer for Steve Yoos in the first inning and scored three unearned runs in the seventh while winning the opener 7-3. The Trojans, currently 16-17 overall and the CIAA leader at 8-3, got a strong pitching performance from Brian Forbes (4-3) who shut out the Lancers over the first five innings.

Robbie Smith drilled a 2-run homer in the sixth and Nealan Chandler a solo shot in the seventh, but Longwood was unable to catch up. Mike Tucker, Smith and Chandler had two hits each for Longwood. Four errors hurt the Lancers in Thursday's opening contest.

Matt Carlisle took the loss. The junior worked four and 1/3 innings, allowing five hits and four runs. Pitchers Kyle Weaver, Buddy Williams and Hale combined to finish out the contest.

Doubleheaders scheduled with Oneonta last Tuesday and North Carolina A&T Saturday were rained out. Fourteen Lancer games have been rained out so far this spring. Six games have been rescheduled. Longwood will play at Virginia State April 25, in a doubleheader that was moved from this Tuesday. The Lancers will play at North Carolina A&T May 1, and will host the Aggies May 2. The teams will play twinbills on both dates.

Nealan Chandler

Netters Blank Southern Seminary

The Longwood College women's tennis team shut out Southern Seminary 9-0 on the road Thursday afternoon to pick up its first win of the 1990 season. The squad's record stands at 1-7 with a match scheduled against Greensboro College at Lancer Courts at 3 p.m. on Monday afternoon.

Lancer Tennis Drops Pair

Longwood dropped a 1-3 in men's tennis last week as the Lancers fell at Liberty University 9-0 Tuesday and at Christopher-Newport 9-0 Thursday.

"We were disappointed with our play last week," said coach Paul Sidhu. "We may change the lineup some to look for a winning combination."

This week Longwood visits Greensboro College Monday, plays at Hampden-Sydney Thursday and hosts Newport News Apprentice Friday at 3:00.

No. 1 seed freshman Jenny Holm led the Lady Lancers to singles wins in all six seeds. The win improved her 1989-90 singles mark to 7-11. Also picking up singles wins were No. 2 seed freshman Jenny Proffitt, No. 3 sophomore Suzie Lawman, No. 4 sophomore Heather Leach, No. 5 freshman Jennifer Gwazgauskas and No. 6 senior Linda Swe.

Golfers Succumb To The Elements

Longwood's men's golf team ended up with time off last week as the weather stopped play in a match at VMI last Monday and snow cancelled the Virginia State Golf Association Championship over the weekend in Hot Springs.

Lancer coach Steve Nelson said there were no plans to re-schedule the championship.

"We had five or six inches of snow Saturday and they decided to call it off," said Nelson. "No one said anything about scheduling it later, so I guess it's cancelled for this year."

Longwood will take part in a four-team match hosted by Newport News Apprentice Wednesday.

Lady Golfers In Tourney At UNCW

Swinging back into action after a month-long layoff, Longwood's women's golf team will play in the Seahawk-Azalea Tournament at Topsail Greens Golf Course in Wilmington, North Carolina Friday through Sunday. The event is hosted by the University of North Carolina at Wilmington.

Longwood will join with the host team, James Madison, William & Mary, Kansas, Methodist and Meredith College to comprise the tournament field.

The Lady Lancers shot 322-320-317-959 to finish ninth out of 17 teams at the Peggy Kirt Bell Tournament in Orlando, FL March 12-13.

Fitzgerald Earns Longwood Player Of The Week

Longwood College softball player Pam Fitzgerald had a big week on the diamond for the Lady Lancers and has been named Longwood College Player of the Week for the period April 1-8. Player of the Week is chosen by the Longwood sports information office.

"Clutch is the key word about Pam," head coach Loretta Coughlin said Sunday. "She played consistently high all week and came through with the big hits."

Last Wednesday, Fitzgerald led the Longwood squad to a doubleheader win over Ferrum and racked up five hits, seven runs and eight RBIs in the two games. Four of the five hits were for extra bases with the junior co-captain pounding two home runs and two doubles.

A pitcher and third baseman, Fitzgerald also started the first game on the mound and registered the 13-1 win with a four-hit performance. Starting the second game at third base, Fitzgerald came on the mound in the sixth inning to record the save in the 12-9 victory.

Over the weekend, Longwood finished with a 1-3 record in the UNC-Greensboro Tournament and Fitzgerald continued her outstanding week on the mound and at the plate.

At the plate, Fitzgerald's best performance was in Longwood's 8-6 win over Baptist, the eventual winner of the tournament. Fitzgerald racked up six RBIs in the contest off of three hits, including a double and a triple.

Highlights on the mound included a two-hit performance against Radford which the Lady Lancers lost 1-0. Fitzgerald recorded three strikeouts and no walks in the contest.

A graduate of Lee Davis High School, Fitzgerald is a three-year starter for the Lady Lancers.

Spring Player of the Week Award Winners

March 11-18, Dennis Hale – Baseball; Matt Carlisle – Baseball

March 18-25, Mike Tucker – Baseball

March 25-April 1, Tony Good – Men's Golf

April 1-8, Pam Fitzgerald – Softball

Lacrosse Evens Record At 3-3

Sophomore Lara Cini led the Longwood offense to a 10-6 victory over Guilford in women's lacrosse on Saturday afternoon. The win evens Longwood's record at 3-3 with contests at Sweet Briar Monday and at home against Randolph-Macon at 4 p.m. Wednesday.

"Everybody was on today," head coach Sue Finnie said Saturday night. "Our passing was really good and our midfield connection was excellent."

Cini dominated the scoring with her first goal coming 18 seconds into the game. She would finish the contest with five goals and an assist off nine shots. She currently leads the Lady Lancers in scoring with 16 goals through six games.

Senior Terri Pugh added four goals to the win off eight shots and freshman Denise Hanley rounded out the scoring with one goal off one shot.

Senior goalkeeper Karen Holleman recorded eight saves in the game.

Pam Fitzgerald

Lady Lancers' Record Drops To 5-7 After Tough Tourney

Despite outstanding performances by junior third baseman/pitcher Pam Fitzgerald and sophomore left fielder Laura Marks, the Lady Lancer softball team only won one game and lost three in the UNC-Greensboro Tournament over the weekend.

Starting on Friday morning, Longwood dropped 1-0 and 12-2 games to Radford and St. Augustine's before picking up a 8-6 victory over Baptist. On Saturday morning, the Lady Lancers were eliminated from the tournament with an 11-4 loss to UNCG.

Longwood's overall record stands at 5-7 with doubleheaders scheduled this week at Virginia Wesleyan on Tuesday and at home against James Madison on Thursday at 3:30 p.m.

Junior pitcher Fitzgerald pitched an outstanding game in the Radford game, but still recorded the loss. The Longwood co-captain gave up just one run and two hits in seven innings, registered three strikeouts and gave up no walks. Longwood had one hit in the contest.

"Pam pitched a great game, unfortunately we had one crucial error and the run was scored off that error. We just couldn't get our offense going and get anybody on base," said Longwood coach Loretta Coughlin.

The Lady Lancers were out-hit 12-5 in the St. Augustine's game, but came back to hand tournament winner Baptist its only loss of the tournament. Longwood out-hit Baptist 15-7 in the win. Playing third base, Fitzgerald had a productive turn at the plate with six RBIs off of a single, a double and a triple.

"We really raised our level of play against Baptist," Coughlin commented. "It was a demanding and intense game. Baptist is a great softball school."

Sophomore right fielder Cassie Mullenix had three hits and scored three runs. Freshman Kathy Brown picked up the win on the mound for the Lady Lancers.

In the Lady Lancers final loss to UNCG, Fitzgerald and Marks both scored two runs apiece.

Marks was named to the All-Tournament Team in right field with four hits, including two doubles, and two runs over the weekend. Defensively, Marks registered nine putouts with no errors.

Intramurals

By CHARLIE FULTZ

Recent winners in IM-REC activities include:

Badminton Doubles:

1st - Lara Cini and Maria Dougherty

2nd - Theresa Wolak and Carver Ports and the men:

1st - Kenny Lim and Benny Lim

2nd - Mo Tolliver and Jimmy Bates

Spades

1st - Cary Barksdale and Mike Puschall

2nd - Tim Maynard and Chris Dudley

Frisbee Golf applications are due in Iler by April 12. Applications may be picked up in Iler gym.

Upcoming weekend activities, with start date and application deadline, are as follows:

Coed Softball April 21

Entries due April 19

Coed Ultimate Frisbee April 28

Entries due April 26

Suggestions for new IM-REC sporting activities or rules' changes are now being accepted. You can drop your ideas off in the IM-REC office in Iler within the next two weeks.

FOR COMMUTER STUDENTS ONLY

DIALOGUE WITH THE DIRECTOR

An informal opportunity to learn about campus services and communicate your needs as a commuter student.
Come have lunch in Lancer Cafe then join us from 12:30 to 1:30 P.M.

FRIDAY, APRIL 6: MS. BARBARA AGEE, DIRECTOR OF STUDENT HEALTH

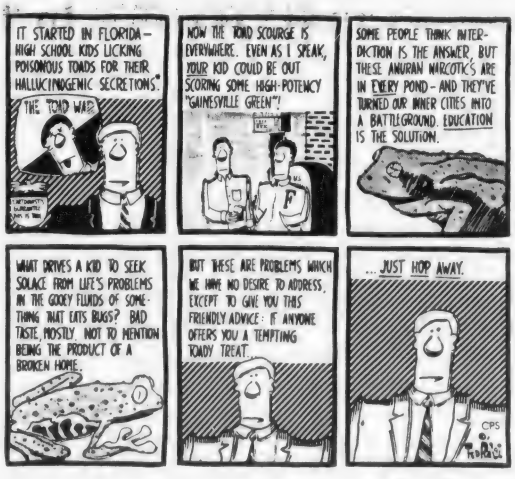
FRIDAY, APRIL 13: MS. CLAUDIA LOGAN, DIRECTOR OF FINANCIAL AID

FRIDAY, APRIL 20: MS. SAUNDRA BOLLINGER, REGISTRAR

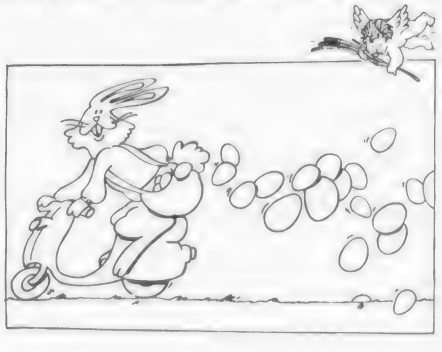
BE A PART OF CAMPUS LIFE! ATTEND CONFERENCES!

BACKDOOR EVENTS IN LANCER CAFE! COMEDIANS! CONCERTS! PAT DAILEY!

STUDENT UNION BOARD WILL HAVE THE FOLLOWING POSITIONS OPEN FOR 1990-91



Vice President
Secretary
Treasurer
Mainstage
Backdoor (Lancer Cafe)
Film
Black Cultural Enhancement Committee
Publicity
Lecture



Applications available in Lankford Information Center and must be returned by April 13.

Interviews will be held the following Week.

PROGRAM ACTIVITIES FOR THE ENTIRE CAMPUS TO ENJOY! MIDWINTERS!

CARICATURE ARTISTS! HOT AIR BALLOON RIDES! SPRING WEEKEND! STEVEN WRIGHT! MOVIES! BANDS!

Classifieds

ALL YOU HAVE TO DO IS LISTEN

PETER MURPHY

DEEP, his new album featuring "Cuts You Up" and "A Strange Kind Of Love."

MICHAEL PENN

MARCH, featuring "This & That" and "No Myth."

THE STONE ROSES

Their self-titled debut featuring "I Wanna Be Adored" and "Fools Gold."

J.J. CALE

TRAVEL-LOG, his Silvertone/RCA Records debut featuring "Disadvantage" and "Hold On Baby."

MUSIC YOU'LL LISTEN TO AGAIN AND AGAIN
ON RCA RECORDS CASSETTES, COMPACT DISCS AND ALBUMS

NOW AVAILABLE AT COLLEGE BOOKSTORE

CRUISE LINE
OPENINGS
HIRING NOW!!
Call (719) 687-6662
(USA)

— FREE —
PREGNANCY TEST

All services confidential.
Same day results.

116 N. MAIN STREET
SOUTHSIDE PREGNANCY CENTER

24-HOUR HOTLINE
392-8483

WIN A HAWAIIAN VACATION OR BIG SCREEN TV PLUS RAISE UP TO $1,400 IN JUST 10 DAYS

Objective: Fundraiser
Commitment: Minimal
Money: Raise $1,400
Cost: Zero Investment

Campus organizations, clubs, frats, sororities call OCMC at 1(804)932-0528 1(800)950-8472 ext. 10

Lonely?
Need a Date?
Meet that special someone today!
Call DATETIME
(405) 366-6335

Anticipated Counselor Positions Admissions Office

Longwood's Admissions Office anticipates employing two counselors beginning on or about mid-July. One position is for five months; the other for ten months. High energy, good communications skills and active involvement while at Longwood prerequisites for successful candidates.

Salary $1560.35 per month, no benefits, all travel expenses paid. Some weekend work required.

Interested candidates need to contact Bob Chonko, Director of Admissions at X2060.

DEBATE:

BEAUTY PAGEANTS

Is Beauty In The Eye Of The Beholder?

GAIL DINES
Professor of Liberal Arts
Wheelock College
Taught courses in women's study and image of women in mass media

-VS-

KYLENE BARKER BRANDON
Miss America 1979
Miss Virginia 1979
Owner of "d.Kylene" Boutique

TUESDAY, APRIL 10, 1990
8 PM
GOLD ROOM, STUDENT UNION

Summertime at Longwood

Summer Session Dates

First 3 Week Session	May 21 - June 8
First 4 Week Session	June 18 - July 13
Second 4 Week Session	July 16 - August 10

Reminder: Only courses taken at Longwood count towards your GPA.

SUMMERTIME AT LONGWOOD
Summer Activities

During the summer sessions the racquetball courts, tennis courts, volleyball courts, swimming pool, and weight room will be open on a regular basis.

Coed softball games will be held on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. Two on two volleyball tournaments will be held on the sand courts in the evenings.

The arcade, pool hall, and bowling alley will also be open on a regular basis. A summer film series will be held outdoors on Lankford Mall in the evenings.

The Rotunda

Longwood College

Vol. 69 No. 22 | April 16, 1990 | Farmville, VA

Holocaust Remembered

Photo Credit: Judi Weller

A memorial service for victims of the Holocaust was held last Thursday on Blackwell Plaza. From left to right are: Jarrett Foresberg, Christie-Jo Carter and Rev. Allen Breckenridge who played during the service. A lecture was also given Wednesday evening as part of the program. See article below.

On Wednesday, April 11, 1990, Dr. Charles W. Sydnor, Jr. spoke on the Holocaust in Wygal Auditorium at 8 p.m. In a very knowledgeable, interesting speech, Dr. Sydnor did more than convey information about the holocaust. He expressed the fact that we must take the past and use it in the present. The speech was not a story; it was a reflective history which is still integrated in today's society. His presentation forced the students to think about a period of history that their grandparents vividly remember.

SGA Discusses Extended Library Hours

By BETH A. LORD

The Student Government Association held its weekly meeting on Thursday, April 12, at 8 p.m. in Lankford's Conference Room 1.

After the meeting was called to order by President Brad Pomp and roll was taken, various committee members reported on their projects. Among the items discussed was an SGA, Honor Board, and Judicial Board Banquet to be held on Sunday, April 29, at 6 p.m. in the Virginia Room. The group is working on filling positions not filled during last week's SGA elections. These include Sophomore Class Treasurer, Junior President, Vice-President, and Treasurer, and Senior Secretary. A Student Activities Fee Committee is being set up to investigate Longwood's use of the activity fees paid by students each year.

Dr. Don Stuart was present to answer questions concerning the components of Longwood that are under his jurisdiction as Vice President of Academic Affairs. He explained that the college is involved in a nationwide assessment movement. Assessment is necessary if Longwood is to improve classes, implement the 14 goals, and produce graduates who are able to compete with graduates from other colleges and universities. Students should realize that although such testing may seem unnecessary, it is very important and valuable. Also discussed was the possibility of revising the format of the evaluation forms students fill out in their classes at the end of each semester. Library hours may be extended if students demonstrate to Dr. Stuart that these facilities would be used during extended hours. Syllabi my be made available in the library or in departmental offices. Students could review these before deciding to register for a particular class under a particular teacher.

SGA Election Results

By RYAN HECK

Elections for next year's SGA offices were held on Wednesday, April 11 in the New Smoker. The results were tabulated and released on Friday. For the senior class, the President is Stacy Crockarell and the Vice President is Pamela Puckett. For the Junior class, Lauiranne Maisey was elected to the position of Secretary. Shannon Gardner is the Sophomore class President with Tricia Popular as Vice President and Tammy Armistead as Secretary. Longwood's Honor Board for next year will consist of Ginger Sanderson, Sharon Butler, Krista Berk, Kristen Coffey, Shawn Smith, and Michelle Jackson. Rhose elected to the Judicial Board for the 1990-1991 school year are Dante' Ricci, J. Scott Hovermale, Laura Seargeant, Lisa McKenzie, Steve Reinhart, Lisa Bobko, Alan Rapee', Kelli Evans, Johnail Arrington, and Mark Tueting. Congratulations to all the winners, make next year a memorable one.

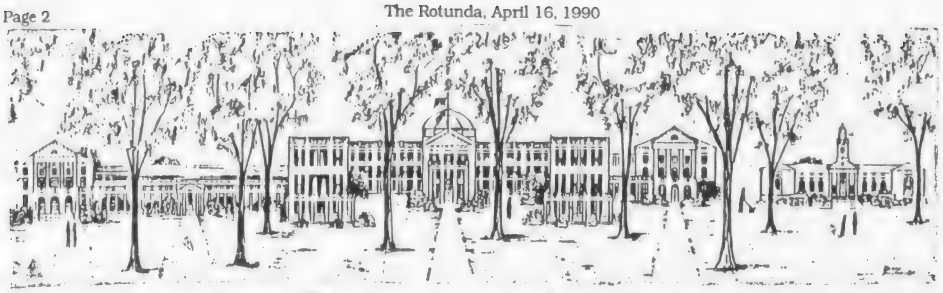
Theatre IV To Present Next Children's Threatre Production

The next production in Longwood College's Theatre Series for Children and Youth will be "The Tortoise and the Hare," to be presented by Theatre IV of Richmond on Thursday, April 26, in Jarman Auditorium.

Performance times are 9:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Area school children will be attending the performances; they also are open to the public. Admission is $1.

Aesop's fable concerning a race between the patient, plodding tortoise and the over-confident hare is at least 2,500 years old. In Theatre IV's musical version, Lawrence the Hare and Egbert the Tortoise are best friends. But one day they get into a small argument about which is faster.

The sneaky Fox sees an opportunity to make some money. He sets up "the great race" and tricks the other animals into betting on the tortoise. He thinks the hare is a sure winner and expects to get rich.



After many adventures along the course, the two racers eventually make it to the finish line. The tortoise comes in first, but friendship is the real winner.

Aesop was born a slave in Greece about 620 B.C. After his master freed him, Aesop went to the court of King Croesus. His homely little tales with a message made him the wisest of the court philosophers, and he was sent as the King's ambassador to other cities and countries.

Aesop's fables were kept alive by those who realized their value and learned them by heart, passing them along from generation to generation.

Contents

Commentary....2
News....3, 4
Features....5
Personals....6
Sports....7
Calendar....8

Commentary

Letters To The Editor

Spring Weekend Success

Dear Editor:

Spring Weekend 1990 was a success and everything went well. Too bad the weather decided to act up. At this rate Spring 1991 should have nice weather because last year it rained and was cold, this year it just rained so next year will be nice.

Well anyway this years Spring Weekend could not have been a success with out the help of many people. Special thanks goes out to: Joyce Trent, Joan Mason, Shirley Everette, Marie Bristow, William Chestnutt, Ronald Colbert, Aletha Perkins, Laurie Myers, Neil Hakel, Cara Sullivan, Stephine Burgess, Lori Artis, Wade France, Alan Rapee, Donis McMullin, Laura Llewellyn, Sigma Kappa, Alpha Sigma Tau, Alpha Gamma Delta, Alpha Chi Rho, Allen Ickes, Rick Johnson and ARA services, the Rotunda staff, Campus Police, the Ambassadors, Admissions, WLCX radio and the DJ's and all of you who attend Spring Weekend 90'.

Sarah Raffetto
Spring Weekend 90
Coordinator

Rotunda's Last Issue:
April 30
All submissions for the last issue due by 5 p.m., April 26th.

Let Longwood know what's on your mind. Write a Letter to the Editor, Box 1133.

NEWSMAKER

POINDEXTER

The Rotunda

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
R. Bruce Gantt

Photography Editor
Jan-Marie Johnson

Sports Editor
Charlie Fultz

Business Manager
Kim Bell

Advertising Manager
Michelle Lawhorn

Features Editor
Monica Gilbert

News Editor
Beth A. Lord

Layout Editor
Sarah Whiteside

Faculty Advisor
William C. Woods

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be signed, typed or printed neatly, and state the author's years. The Editor and staff reserve the right to edit any material submitted for publication.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles if 4:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Tuesday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 395-2120.

News

ACLU Sues University

(CPS) — The University of Wisconsin's anti-discrimination policy, which outlaws racist words and acts, violates students' constitutional rights, the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) claimed in a lawsuit filed March 29.

A similar ACLU suit led a federal judge to strike down the University of Michigan's anti-discrimination policy last August. Michigan now has an interim policy that allows for penalties only when one student directly harasses another.

Wisconsin's policy allows officials to punish students who utter general racial insults or engage in racist acts.

"We agree with the intentions of the rule, but they're taking an anti-educational approach to the problem," said Ron Novy, editor of the Post at Wisconsin's Milwaukee campus and one of the individual complainants. The suit was filed on behalf of two students from the Madison campus, an instructor from the Green Bay campus and, from the Milwaukee campus, seven students and the Post.

"We had hopes it would be constitutional," said UW spokesman Harvey Breuscher. The rule, he said, prohibits "Language of a type that promotes a fight. It is more narrowly focused than Michigan's."

But the ACLU says the rule, unveiled last year after a string of racist incidents, is too vague.

"There isn't enough of a description or notice to students so that they can determine whether or not their speech is prohibited," said Eunice Edgar, executive director of the ACLU's Wisconsin office.

Since the Michigan ruling, several schools have narrowed their policies, including Tufts and Penn State universities, and the University of Connecticut.

But others, including all public colleges and universities in Massachusetts, the nine-campus University of California system, Trinity College and Emory and Brown universities, still have policies that stop people from using potentially offensive words.

In Massachusetts, officials aren't fazed by the legal challenge in Wisconsin. "There has to be a balance between the First Amendment and victims of racial acts," said Terry Zoulas, spokesman for the state's governing Board of Regents, which last June ordered its state campuses to come up with anti-discrimination policies. "I think we would pass muster."

Longwood Choirs Together In Concert

The Camerata Singers and the Concert Choir will give a concert on Thursday, April 19, at 8 p.m., in Wygal Recital Hall. The two choral groups are directed by Dr. Donald Trott.

The 42-voice Camerata Singers will perform selected pieces from their recent tour to New York City. Included will be "Beautiful Savior" by Christiansen, featuring mezzo-soprano Tamlyn Leaf; "Tu es Petrus" by Durufle; "Simple Gifts" arranged by Clausen; "Pie Jesu" from Webber's Requiem, featuring sopranos Susan Curry and Alice Flora; and "Great Day" by Martin, with tenor Tom Walker, soprano Elva Ward, and bass David Richards.

The Concert Choir, with 55 voices, will sing four selections: "Rejoice" by Kirk; "Savior, Come Be Mine" by Sateren; "Rise Up My Love" by former Longwood choral director James McCray, with flutist Jana Davis; and "Keep Your Lamps" by Andre Thomas. Dr. Thomas is on the faculty at Florida State University. He was this year's conductor of the first annual Virginia All-College Choir.

The two choirs will combine to present "Five Mystical Songs" by Vaughn Williams. This seasonal work is scored for baritone solo, chorus, and piano or orchestra. Thomas A. Williams, associate professor of music, will be guest soloist, and the demanding piano accompaniment will be by Nancy Sherman, the music department's staff accompanist.

"The five-movement work is quite difficult," Dr. Trott said. "It takes a mature musician to handle the musicality involved in a performance of the work. We are delighted to have Mr. Williams performing the baritone solos, as his part makes up 75 percent of the music, and we are equally fortunate to have the accompaniment played by Mrs. Sherman. I urge all music lovers in the area to come hear them."

The Concert Band will perform on Tuesday evening, April 24, at 8 o'clock in Jarman Auditorium. The band is directed by Dr. Ring and has 43 members, including Longwood students and faculty and community residents from Prince Edward, Amelia, Cumberland, and Buckingham counties.

The program will feature William Washington, a Longwood sophomore from Ivanhoe, as euphonium soloist on J. Llewellyn's "My Regards." Cynthia Breckenridge, a senior from Cumberland, will conduct "Masque" by W. Francis McBeth. Other works on the program are by John Philip Sousa, Derek Bourgeois, William Schuman, and F. von Suppe.

Students Honored At Awards Banquet

By BETH A. LORD

Longwood's annual Honors Banquet was held on Thursday, April 12, at 5:30 p.m. in Blackwell Dining Hall.

After the dinner, which was provided by ARA Services, Dr. Donald Trott directed the Camerata Singers and the Concert Choir in a musical program. The selections were "Gloria", "Rejoice", "America", and "Let Freedom Ring." The group was accompanied by Ms. Nancy Sherman.

President Dorrill introduced several people instrumental in making scholarships and awards available to Longwood students. Dr. Rosemary Sprague, Board of Visitors Distinguished Professor of English, gave an address entitled "Honors/Honor: Rewards/ Responsibilities."

Next, Dr. Donald C. Stuart, III, Academic Vice-President, recognized the Longwood Scholars, Who's Who, Dean's List, Phi Kappa Phi, and 4.0 students. Finally, various faculty and staff members, students, and area businessmen presented over fifty awards to deserving Longwood students.

The program ended at approximately 8 p.m.

Photo Credit: Judi Weller

Emily Roderer receives the Herbert R. Blackwell Scholarship from Dr. Donald Stuart, Vice President for Academic Affairs.

Honor Board Chairman Resigns After Judicial Sanction

By MIKE O'CONNOR

The Rotunda has learned that Honor Board Chair Matt Sisk was forced to resign after being found responsible to several charges by the Judicial Board. According to the Vice President for Student Affairs, Phyllis Mable, Mr. Sisk resigned on March 6. When contacted by The Rotunda staff, Mr. Sisk refused to comment on the matter. Sources connected with the judicial proceedings stated that Mr. Sisk was charged with five different judicial differences, however, he was only found responsible for three of the charges.

O'Kelly McWilliams has assumed Mr. Sisk's position as chair of the Honor Board, and will continue to do so until the end of the semester. Mr. Sisk apparently appealed the charges but was unsuccessful in overturning the judicial board's decision.

COLLEGE PRESS SERVICE Subscriber

News

Delta Zeta Supports Gallaudet University

By CHERYL JEFFREY

As part of its national philanthropy for the speech and hearing impaired, Delta Zeta sorority supports Gallaudet University for the deaf. This school, located in Washington D.C. has a student body of approximately 2,200. The majority of these students are hearing impaired. However, there are a few hearing students studying to work with the deaf in various ways.

Gallaudet University was conferred collegiate status in 1864 by President Abraham Lincoln. Gallaudet earned university status in 1986. The first deaf president of the university was selected in 1988.

During the month of March, all of the Delta Zeta chapters in Virginia, Maryland and D.C. met at Gallaudet University for a day of workshops and to learn more about Gallaudet. Delta Zeta sister Judy Stech said, "After visiting Gallaudet, I realize how difficult it can sometimes be for the deaf to communicate." Another sister, Stacey V. Lee said, "Through our visit to Gallaudet, I've gained a greater knowledge and appreciation of our philanthropy." This visit proved to be quite beneficial to all who attended. Longwood's Delta Zeta chapter has raised $500 for Gallaudet in the past year. The visit to Gallaudet let the sorority members see first-hand how the money is spent.

H-SC Hosts Special Olympics

The Inter-Fraternity Council of Hampden-Sydney College will hold the Special Olympics Track and Field Competition on Saturday, April 14, 1990 from 9 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. at Fulton Field. Over 80 fraternity members will volunteer their time to help make the competitions a success.

Dr. Lewis Drew, Dean of Students at Hampden-Sydney College; along with Dean Tony Campbell, Dean David Klein, and Coach Frank Fulton, has taken an active part in helping the Area 12 Special Olympics Program grow. Through their efforts the program has expanded in many ways to provide opportunities for area participants to compete and excel.

Mrs. Joyce Ward is the Area 12 Coordinator for the Special Olympics. Area 12 serves the counties of Prince Edward, Cumberland, and Buckingham, and includes the Sheltered Workshop in Farmville. The mission of the Special Olympics is to provide year-round training and athletic competition in a variety of well-coached Olympic-type sports for all individuals who are mentally retarded. Through its efforts the program offers its participants continuing opportunities to develop physical fitness skills, prepare for entry into school and community sports programs, express courage, experience joy, and participate in the sharing of gifts, skills and friendship with their families, other Special Olympians, and the community.

This is the second year that Hampden-Sydney College has hosted the Olympics. The fraternity brothers work together to make this day fulfilling for the participants. Mrs. Ward said that the athletes benefit from the program physically, socially, and psychologically. "Through competition and successful experiences in sports, they gain confidence and build a positive self-image, which carries over into their classroom, their home, their job, and their community."

The rain date for this event is set for April 28.

National Earth Day At Longwood

By SHERRY GATEWOOD

Sunday, April 22 in National Earth Day. Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity and Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority will be sponsoring special presentations for the event. There will be live entertainment and information booths set up around the campus.

Earth Day was founded in 1970 when the environment became a world-wide concern. During this time, the Clean Air Act and other laws were passed to help protect the atmosphere. Over the past twenty years, more and more people have united in the fight to save our planet.

Many suggestions, such as banning styrofoam, plastic, and aerosel cans have been proposed by environmentalists. Recycling of paper products and aluminum cans is also an easy method by which consumers can contribute to the cause.

Artist Of The Month

Gregg Fisher, of Nathalie, has won the Artist of the Month competition sponsored by Longwood College's Art Department.

His winning work is a wood sculpture of a hand. Fisher received a $50 cash award, and his sculpture is on display in the Showcase Gallery in Longwood's Bedford Art Building.

Fisher came to Longwood to "expand his artistic horizons" after receiving a diploma in drafting-design from Danville Community College. He is a graduate of Halifax County Senior High School.

Fisher especially enjoys three-dimensional work in wood. Among his projects are two 10-foot benches for the upstairs hallway of the Bedford Building.

Dara Wier Featured Poet In Authors Series

Dara Wier, a poet who directs the creative writing program at the University of Massachusetts, will give a reading on Tuesday evening, April 24, at 8 o'clock in Wygal Auditorium, Longwood College.

Wier is a Longwood graduate. Her reading is the final program in this year's Authors Series at Longwood. The public is invited to attend.

Wier's books of poetry are Blood, Hook, and Eye (1977), The Eight-Step Grapevine (1980), All You Have in Common (1984), and The Book of Knowledge (1988).

Her poems have been published in The Southern Review, The New Republic, New American Review, and many other magazines and journals.

Gilbert Selected As 90-91 Rotunda Editor

By MIKE O'CONNOR

Monica Gilbert, a rising junior, has been selected by the student publications board to be the 90-91 editor of The Rotunda.

Ms. Gilbert is an English major and has worked on The Rotunda staff for the past two years. Currently, Ms. Gilbert is the Features editor for The Rotunda. Next year she plans to place a greater emphasis on the needs of commuter students and non-traditional students in The Rotunda.

Current Editor R. Bruce Gant said, "I think Monica will do a terrific job. She has a lot of talent and all the qualities of a good editor."

Next year's staff members also include Beth A. Lord, Sarah Whiteside and Charlie Fultz. Business personnel have yet to be selected.

Longwood Sponsors First Revival

By DEAN GRUBBS

The upcoming Revival services will feature a variety of musical talent and campus-wide student participation. The speaker for the three day affair is well traveled and has spoken outside of the country. The Revival is the first in recent Longwood history.

Tuesday, April 17th will be Greek/Organization night. Students are encouraged to wear their letters or logos. All Fraternities and Sororities and Campus Organizations will be recognized. Special music will be performed by the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship worship team.

Wednesday, April 18th our theme will be Residence Hall and Commuter night. Members of the individual residence halls will be recognized along with commuter students. Special music will be performed by B.A.S.I.C., the Association of Black Students gospel choir.

The Revival services will be held in the Gold Room of Lankford Student Union Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights at 7:30 p.m. These services are free of charge and there will be no offering taken. These three days will give students the opportunity to take the steps forward to a life enriching experience.

WANTED

BUSINESS MANAGER
ADVERTISING MANAGER
PHOTOGRAPHY EDITOR

Must be capable and reliable.
Apply to the Rotunda, Box 1133
or call 2120.

Features

Review: Top Girls

By ANTHONY TASSA

As spring weekend passes, tests and papers roll happily by, and the warm winds of summer draw ever nearer, the countdown to opening night for Top Girls, running this Wednesday, April 18, through Saturday, April 21, at 8 p.m. in Jarman Auditorium, continues. It is the last of the four productions to be put on by the Longwood Players and Speech and Theatre Department during the academic year.

The play revolves around the uncertainties of women in society, such as; the problems in dealing with child bearing, the strains that can be placed upon a woman by an overbearing and mentally draining husband, and the femininity that a woman must give up in order to get ahead in society. These difficulties are only a few of the social problems that confront the women of Caryl Churchill's controversial, feminist, play.

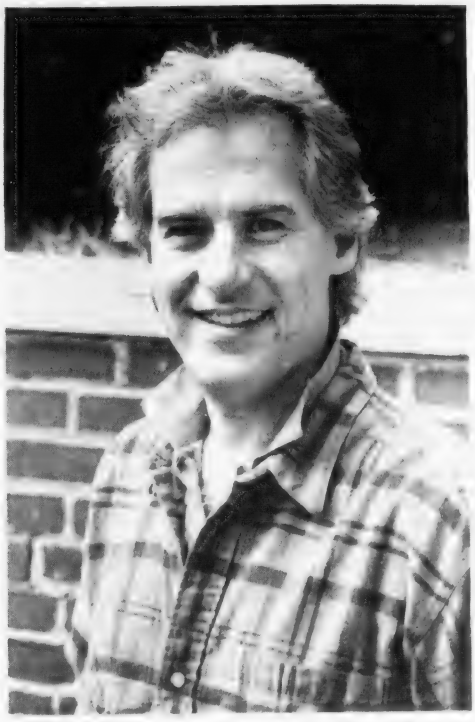
Lori Lambert, a Senior Physics major, is playing the roles of Pope Joan and Louise, two separate women from different time eras. Both women must expel their femininity in order to have a chance at making an earnest contribution to society, but both are faced with the realization that their attempts to enter a man's world are in vain. Lori sees the challenge and understands that there are many hurdles to overcome in playing such a role. "It is frightening," she says, "but everybody has stood by me and been very supportive."

The actresses are called upon to play two distinct characters, each having their own thoughts and experiences, and uniquely differentiating personalities, but sharing similar problems. They are all faced with this acting dilemma and with the guidance of director Rick Scott, the girls know they can achieve their best effort.

The impression Mr. Scott has made on the members of the cast and crew is evident when hearing how fondly each of them speaks of him.

So the last days of rehearsal are winding down and the girls are preparing themselves for what they hope will be four nights of exciting, electrifying, inspirational, and stimulating theatre. With a good combination of old and new talent, Top Girls should prove to be an excellent opportunity for the students of Longwood College to experience what the theatre, and the writing of Caryl Churchill is all about.

"Top Girls" Features Guest Director



Rick Scott, who spends much of his time arranging matches between drama professionals and the college stage, is guest directing the upcoming Longwood College production of "Top Girls."

Scott, a Peoria, Ill., native and graduate of Indiana University, is no stranger to the college stage. He has been a visiting professor at Earlham College, a guest artist at Oberlin College and Tarkio College, and a guest director at Connecticut College.

Scott arrived at Longwood in late February to begin work on "Top Girls." A guest director, he said, is able to approach a play from a "different perspective. It's a benefit for the students. It gives them a chance to have their work seen by someone else."

"The script of 'Top Girls' is very solid and actable. However, it's difficult for the actors because it has overlapping dialogue. Two or three characters may be talking at the same time. The actors need good timing."

After "Top Girls" ends, he will return to Omaha for a month, then spend June and July in London. "I don't know where I'll be in September," said Scott, who is anxious to act again.

Rick Scott will display his directorial talents in Longwood's production of "Top Girls."

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

START YOUR CLIMB
TO CAREER SUCCESS THIS SUMMER.

Apply now for six weeks of Army ROTC leadership training. With pay, without obligation.

You'll develop the discipline, confidence, and decisiveness it takes to succeed in any career. And you'll qualify to earn Army officer credentials while you're completing your college studies.

ARMY ROTC
TWO-YEAR PROGRAM

THE SMARTEST COLLEGE COURSE YOU CAN TAKE.

For more Information, Contact CPT Carson at 2138 or 2134

For Your Information...

Monthly Payment Plan Deadline Approaching

Deadline for signing up for the Monthly Payment Plan for the fall semester 1990-1991 is May 20, 1990. Applications can be obtained from Fran Wilmoth in the Treasurer's office between 10:00 AM and 2:00 PM.

Many students and parents have found paying school expenses on a monthly basis an attractive alternative. The plan is available to any full time student.

Should you have questions about the plan, contact Fran Wilmoth at 395-2268.

Personals

Angie -(buger) — What's that?

What do you expect from a guy named COLIN ... Exactly!!! — A Frustrated Business Student

Tim — The Pizza was great. You're great. I think I'm falling for you. — Love, your Monchichi

Mark — No Hampden-Sydney guy could ever compare to you. Hope next semester we get on track. Signed — Your chillin partner

Buttman — There is no way to thank you for all you do, or to express the value of our friendship - But thanks! See ya soon! You know who and Pumpkin too!

Robin, Vicki, Gena, Cheryl, Karen, Pam, Mary, — We are really going to miss you! You have given Alpha Sigma Tau alot of spirit and dedication and you will be sorely missed. Good luck in your future endeavors and remember that you always have a "family" to come back to at Longwood! — Tau, Love, The Sisters and Pledges of AΣT

Megan Kay — Thank you for all your help and support this week. You are a dear friend and you always brighten my day. Don't let the world get you down — just take life one day at a time. It can only get better. I love ya! — Elyse

Butthead — Thanks so much for everything you have done for me this year. There were times I'm not sure if I could have made it without ya. I'll miss ya this summer but I'll be back next year to be the roommate from hell! — Love ya, Dork

The Sisters and Pedges of Zeta Tau Alpha would like to thank everyone for coming out and supporting our 8th annual BMOC contest. We were able to raise over $800 for our national philanthropy - Association for Retarded Citizens. Thanks again!!

Congratulations to our new BMOC — O'Kelly McWilliams; our 1st runner up - Jimmy Pleasants, and our 2nd runner up - Marcus Greene. You guys did a great job! — Zeta

To my Orientation leader — When are you going to give me another tour of the campus? — Your Orientee

Seandra — Just wanted you to know what a Great kid I think you are and I love you very much! Loyally in Eπ — Polly

Donna — Congratulations on 1st place in the Accounting I event at the State Conference! Good luck at Nationals! — The members of Phi Beta Lambda Congratulations to the new Phi Beta Lambda officers — Monica, April, Donna, Tina, and Dante!

Flangie, girl keep your chin up! That special guy will be along any day. Whatever you do, stay out of the jungle! — Love, The Mouth of the South

To Susan, Shannon, Kris-10, Kathy, and the Brat Pack. — Thanks for sticking by me and giving me a place to stay in your humble Adobes. Love, ya — DeeAnn

P.S. Wasn't that just the day from HELL!

To all who are SPREADING THE RUMORS: — I did NOT sleep with him nor did I WRECK their so called relationship! — THE INNOCENT ONE

Cheryiyn, — Congratulations on Alpha Kappa Delta honor society. We're so proud of you! Love, — The Sisters of Alpha Delta Pi

AΔπ Sisters — Good luck with Tech's initiation! Be sure and show Margaret how it's done!

Alisa — You are the best little sis anyone could ask for. Sorry I've been so grouchy lately, but you know I still love ya! Good luck on your pledge exam and remember I'm here for you. — Tau love, Elyse

Sigma Sigma Sigma would like to congratulate their new initiates: Kim Dickerson, Cindy Didlake, Cindy Martin, Melissa Mainville, Julianna Hardy, Jeannie Turner, Gina Dutton, and Kris Martin. We love you.

New Kid, — Happy Birthday! You thought it would be an Eternity before you reached "20". Now it's time to Make A Statement. Don't forget the face. — Lamz

Great White Booty Hunter - Because of our mutual interests, maybe the Great White Booty Hunter should introduce himself to the cute commuter boobies.

Dude - Who's the short guy with the glasses? Yeah, that's Joey, king of all a es. He's a Delta, what do you expect? Certainly ... Hopefully, not respect from all the girls you've ?! Before that we've seen coming in and out your door ... Guess (... no not her ...)

To all (most) Longwood males, — 1 night stands are going out of style. Why don't you learn from Hampden-Sydney MEN — Fed up

Melissa and Trudy — I'm looking forward to this summer and next year. We are going to have so much fun. Look out Oak Street! — Love, your Roomie to be — Sharon

Congratulations to the Pledges of Zeta Tau Alpha for winning the Lip Sync!! You girls are the greatest! — With love, the Sisters of ZTA

Stefanie Allman — Keep working hard! You're doing a great job! Have a great week and remember your big sister loves you! — Smiles, Becky

Reneé — I'm really glad you asked me to room with you. Gosh — it took long enough. As for your lousy lottery number - I'm surprised we got a room. Party in the Annex next year - I'll be legal - Ha! — Your Lap and New Roommate

Traci Trim — We can't thank you enough for all of your help with Ambassadors and Oozeball. You're the Best! — People who care

Trisha — Graduation is almost here, and I wish I could make you stay. You've been the best friend I could ever ask for. Even though we may be hundreds of miles apart, I know our friendship will last forever. I'm always here for you. I'll miss you, but never say goodbye. — Love always, Karen

Julie — We need another Kπ lock in, but no 8:05 on Friday. Funniest part of pet semetary - trash can. Keep working on your interviews. You'll be initiated soon. — Love Your Big Bro

Jill — Hey! I'm glad you decided to stay in the Cunninghams. Next year will be great. — Your Future Suitemate

Lester — Hey dude, stop being such a sponge - alcohol is supposed to go down your throat. — B.

Barry — You are the most awesome guy on campus. Next time you get the urge, come talk to me. — Your Short Blonde Admirer

Anyone want to join the Kitty Club? I'm the president so you have to do anything I say!

Yo Pope — lookin' snappy!

For Julie and Tricia: — Thanks for the "awesome" job you did with the chili. Unfortunately, you were more awesome than the chili was. But, hey! We had fun, didn't we? — ISH love and mine, Joanie.

Anna & Jayne - You are two of our best new Ambassadors. Keep up the good work. I had a great time with you this semester and I'll miss you next year! Good luck with Ambassadors and your last years of school. Love, Tish

Kara - Let's bond real soon! My "Mocha Mint" is waiting! Love, Kimba

Michelle W. - You're a great lil' Sis! ΣK Love, Kim

Anne Waite - Do you wanna' go?

"I left my heart in Ontario" ... Where are those "Kappa Men"?

Amy Kase - Will we ever be out of Math? Let's hope so!

Ambassadors will be accepting applications until April 20, 1990. If you are interested, please go up to the Ambassador office on 2nd floor East Ruffner to pick up an application. Or, come to the information social on 4-16 at 7-8 p.m. in Gold Room.

To our little AΔπ pledges - You're doing a wonderful job and we love you! Get excited - initiation is just around the corner. Love, the Sisters of Alpha Delta Pi

To my little bobby boy - Got any more clothes we can borrow? I hope your brains didn't spill on any of them! Watch any scary movies lately? I just love those Gerhaldo topics! Does the name John mean anything to you?! Lovingly, Your pooh bear P.S. Awww ... yuck!

Calling all Top Girls! You are all great! I've really enjoyed working with you all, but this is only the beginning! Break a leg girls — its been a lot of fun. — Love, Kitty

Hey Griselda — Why are you so damn patient?

Leslie - Well, my college career is winding down. It has been four short years and the two years we've spent together have been the best. Being apart from you will be the hardest part of graduation. I love you and always will. Forever, Keith

Rachel - Have a great week! Tau Love, Your Secret Pledge Sis

Tee A, My ship came in while I was at the airport!

Kay W, Beware of geeks bearing popsicles.

To Kendal's secret admirer - Look up the definition of "friend". If you like Kendal and want to be his friend, you must always support him and the decisions he makes. (dates included). The two are one in the same. Beth, a friend to both.

The Admissions Staff would like to thank the brothers of TKE for an "Outstanding" job in assisting with Spring Weekend parking. It was definitely a first class operation!

Susan Anderson - We love you and you did an awesome job with initiation. You're the best. The Sisters of Sigma Sigma Sigma (J.H.)

Tammy - You are an awesome Lil Sis!! You did a great job with the Scholarship Banquet. I'm proud to have you as a Lil Sis. Thanks for taking care of me on Friday night. Sorry, we woke you up. Love, your Big Sis

Laura & April - I'm so glad you guys are my sisters, cause ya'll are awesome. Thanks for not scamming anymore and leaving to take care of me, Friday night! I hope I didn't spoil your fun! Love, Too Many Beers

Shelley - Cheer up! Everything will be okay. What happened was stupid and you guys should get over it. Forgive and forget (that goes to the both of you!) Love, the Referee

GEIST '90 is currently searching for a design for the Oktoberfest '90 t-shirt. Our theme is, Cheers to ... old traditions and new beginnings. Please summit designs to box 1138 by April 17. A $75 prize for best drawing will be given.

Attention all Alpha Gam Sisters — Keep sharing the gift of sisterhood. You're doing a great job! — The Secret Gam

Attention all Alpha Gam Pledges — You're the best pledges! Keep up with your interviews and make me proud. — The Secret Gam

Laura Marks — Hope you liked my Easter gift. It's the least I could do for the five and 1/2 months you've given me. They've been wonderful. I love you and I always will. — C.F.

P.S. A .447 batting avg. I'm impressed!

Sports

Lady Lancers Take Two From JMU

The Lady Lancers swept a doubleheader over James Madison last Thursday after dropping two to Virginia Wesleyan on Tuesday. Longwood's record stands at 7-9 going into the last week of the season with five doubleheaders on the schedule.

The Lady Lancers defeated JMU 4-3 and 7-5 at Armory Field after falling 3-0 and 7-6 to Virginia Wesleyan on the road.

Behind 3-1 in the first game against JMU, the Lady Lancers came back with a three-run inning in the bottom of the fourth to record the 4-3 victory.

Senior Cherylyn Scharr led off the inning with a single followed by singles from sophomore Chris Gronke and sophomore Angie Sullivan. Freshman Robin Jensen hit into a fielder's choice to bring two of the runs in and then scored the third on a stolen base and a passed ball.

Junior Pam Fitzgerald picked up the win on the mound for Longwood giving up just five hits in seven innings. Fitzgerald's record improves to 3-5.

The Lady Lancers broke open a 2-2 tie in the fifth inning of the second game against JMU with a five-run inning highlighted by sophomore Laura Marks' three-run home run. Longwood recorded the 7-5 win.

Marks and junior Carmille Barnette racked up three hits in the victory. Jensen, Scharr and freshman catcher Tara Confalone produced two hits apiece and scored a run apiece.

Freshman pitcher Kathy Brown recorded the win with a seven-inning, four -hit performance. Brown's record improves to 3-2.

The Lady Lancers host North Carolina Wesleyan and UNC-Greensboro on Monday and Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. before traveling to Bridgewater and Eastern Mennonite on Thursday and Friday. Longwood's final game of the year will be at home against Virginia Tech at 1 p.m.

Cheryl Scharr

Lady Netters Shut Out GC

The Longwood women's tennis team picked up its second win of the spring season in a 9-0 shutout at Greensboro College last Monday afternoon. The Lady Lancers' record stands at 2-7.

Freshman Jenny Holm, the Lady Lancers No. 1 singles seed, started off the string of wins joined by No. 2 sophomore Susie Lawman, No. 3 freshman Jenny Proffitt, No. 4 junior Julie Tate, No. 5 freshman Jennifer Gwazdauskas and No. 6 senior Linda Swe.

Heading up doubles play with a win were Holm and Lawman at the No. 1 seed followed by Proffitt and junior Cindy Paschall at No. 2 and Gwazdauskas and Swe at No. 3.

With last Tuesday's match at Hollins rained out, the Lady Lancers will host Bennett this Tuesday at 3 p.m. on Lancer Courts. The squad will travel to Virginia Wesleyan on Wednesday and host Randolph-Macon on April 24 in the last match of the season.

Golfers Still Unbeaten In Match Play

Seniors Hank Kim and Scott Wiseman and junior Jeff Smiley tied for medalist honors with four-over-par totals of 76 last Wednesday, leading the Longwood men's golf team to victory in a four-team match at Sleepy Hole Golf Course in Portsmouth. The Lancers are now 6-0 in match play this spring and 11-0 for the year (5-0 in the fall season).

Longwood has a busy weekend ahead this week with competitions slated Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The College Division State Tournament, snowed out earlier, will be held Saturday afternoon at Sleepy Hole Golf Course in Portsmouth and Longwood will be one of the favorites to win the title. The Lancers last won a state crown in 1982.

Thursday, Longwood wil play in the Chowan Invitational in Ahoskie, N.C., and Friday in the Shipbuilder's Tournament at Portsmouth.

Longwood shot 306 Wednesday to easily beat second place Christopher Newport (322), Newport News Apprentice (326) and Virginia Wesleyan (335).

"The course played long and tough, but we played extremely well," said Lancer coach Steve Nelson. "We got off to a great start on the front. After nine holes, Hank and Scott were one under and Tony (Good) was one over. We didn't do as well on the back."

Kim had his best round as a college golfer with the 76. Good carded a 78 to put four Lancers in the 70's. Darrell Nichols shot 82 and Frank Davide 85.

Men's Tennis Team Has 2-2 Week

Longwood's men's tennis team split four matches last week, beating Greensboro College 7-2 Wednesday away and Newport News Apprentice 5-4 at home Friday, but losing to King's College of New York Tuesday and Hampden-Sydney Thursday by 9-0 scores.

Singles winners for Longwood last week were: Vince Osborn and Mike Pugh twice, James Whiteree, Brian Hill, Chris Healing and Alex Rodrigues.

Pugh teamed with Osborn for two wins at No. 3 doubles while Rodrigues and Darran Lee won once at No. 2 and Healing/Whiteree got a win at No. 1.

Now 3-5, Longwood visited Randolph-Macon Monday for a match and hosts Greensboro College Wednesday at 3:00.

Cini Earns Player Of The Week Honor

Sophomore Lara Cini scored six goals in two games for the Longwood lacrosse team last week, and for her performance, Cini has been named Longwood College Player of the Week for the period April 8-15. Player of the Week is chosen by the Longwood sports information office.

Cini scored three goals as the much-improved Lady Lancers beat Sweet Briar last Monday 7-5 and she scored three more Wednesday as Longwood dropped an 11-10 overtime decision to Randolph-Macon.

Lara Cini

Lacrosse Splits Pair

The Longwood College women's lacrosse team edged out Sweet Briar 7-5 last Monday on the road, but fell at home to Randolph-Macon 11-10 in overtime on Wednesday. The split evens the Lady Lancers' record at 4-4.

Freshman Lara Cini continued her 1990 scoring tear with three goals against both opponents. Senior Terri Pugh added three goals against R-M and one against Sweet Briar with one assist in both games.

Sophomores Maria Dougherty and Ellen Binswanger picked up a goal apiece in both games with Binswanger recording two assists against Sweet Briar and Dougherty recording two against Randolph-Macon.

Freshman Denise Hanley picked up a goal and an assist for the Lady Lancers in the Sweet Briar win. Remaining goals in the Randolph-Macon loss were scored by senior Judy Flanagan and junior Rashel Hammond.

Senior goalkeeper Karen Holleman made nine saves against Sweet Briar and four against Randolph-Macon.

"Lara has done an outstanding job for us this season," says coach Sue Finnie. "Her play has been a key factor in our success."

Longwood's top goal producer this season, Cini has 21 goals and four assists in eight games while leading the team to a 4-4 record. Longwood's Female Freshman Athlete of the Year last year, Cini now has 34 career goals. Also a starter in field hockey, Cini is one of the College's top two-sport student-athletes.

Cini is a graduate of Chichester High School.

Lancer Baseball Drop Two To Liberty

Longwood's baseball team ran into tough competition Saturday afternoon as Division I Liberty unleashed a five homerun barrage, pounding the Lancers 13-1 and 8-3 in a college baseball doubleheader in Lynchburg.

The Flames, 15-13 with recent victories over Arizona and James Madison, got homers in the first game from Cary McKay and Todd Samples and erupted for eight runs in the fourth to put the game away. Samples added a pair of triples to lead Liberty's 11-hit attack.

Mike Tucker put Longwood on the board with a sixth inning solo homer, his seventh of the season. Chris Porter went 3-3 and John Jutzler, 2-2 to pace Longwood's eight-hit attack. Longwood got six hits and stranded eight baserunners over the final three frames.

Buddy Williams, the first of four Lancer pitchers, went two innings and was credited with the loss. He gave up two runs and three hits.

Thanks to a lead-off double by Pete Criscione, a Liberty error and Robbie Smith's infield grounder, Longwood took a 1-0 lead in the top of the first inning in game two. The Flames, who had three homers in the nightcap, came right back on a 2-run dinger by Todd Swisher and scored three runs in the bottom of the first to go ahead to stay.

Lancer lefthander Tim Patrick started, pitched two innings and was saddled with the defeat. Patrick, who was relieved by Matt Carlisle and later Wyatt Flippen, dropped to 2-3 with the loss.

Classifieds

Summertime at Longwood

Summer Session Dates

First 3 Week Session	May 21 - June 8
First 4 Week Session	June 18 - July 13
Second 4 Week Session	July 16 - August 10

Reminder: Only courses taken at Longwood count towards your GPA.

Anticipated Counselor Positions Admissions Office

Longwood's Admissions Office anticipates employing two counselors beginning on or about mid-July. One position is for five months; the other for ten months. High energy, good communications skills and active involvement while at Longwood prerequisites for successful candidates.

Salary $1560.35 per month, no benefits, all travel expenses paid. Some weekend work required.

Interested candidates need to contact Bob Chonko, Director of Admissions at X2060.

WIN A HAWAIIAN VACATION OR BIG SCREEN TV PLUS RAISE UP TO $1,400 IN JUST 10 DAYS

Objective: Fundraiser
Commitment: Minimal
Money: Raise $1,400
Cost: Zero Investment

Campus organizations, clubs, frats, sororities call OCMC at 1(804)932-0528 / 1(800)950-8472, ext. 10.

Lonely?
Need a Date?
Meet that special someone today!
Call DATETIME
(405) 366-6335

CRUISE LINE OPENINGS HIRING NOW!!
Call (719) 687-6662 (USA)

Attention all Returning English and Art Majors:

GYRE, Longwood's literary magazine, wants you on its staff next fall. Positions available include Editor-in-Chief, Poetry Editor, Fiction Editor, Art Editor and Treasurer.

Please contact me at 392-6513 for more information (no later than May 3).

Thanks.

Sincerely,
Angelin P. Brewer
Editor-in-Chief

FOR COMMUTER STUDENTS ONLY
DIALOGUE WITH THE DIRECTOR
An informal opportunity to learn about campus services and communicate your needs as a commuter student.
Come have lunch in Lancer Cafe then join us from 12:30 to 1:30 P.M.
FRIDAY, APRIL 20: MS. SAUNDRA BOLLINGER, REGISTRAR

Upcoming Events

Tuesday - 17	Wednesday - 18	Thursday - 19	Friday - 20	Saturday - 21	Sunday - 22	Monday - 23
EATING DISORDERS 1PM-2PM COUNSELING SERVICES JUNIOR ART EXIBITION 9-12;1-5 BEDFORD GALLERY H-SC LAST CAC LECTURE, 8PM PARENTS AND FRIENDS LOUNGE	SENIOR ART SHOW 9AM-10PM SHOWCASE GALLERY JUNIOR ART EXIBITION 9-12;1-5 BEDFORD GALLERY WORKSHOP: RESUME WRITEING, 6PM CPPC S.RUFFNER H-SC CAC MOVIE : "THE ADVENTURES OF BUCKAROO BANZI" 10PM GRAHM HALL 10PM SWEET BRIAR LECTURE: MARIE-THERESE KILLIAM,"FRENCH SCULPTRESS CAMILLE CLAUDEL," WAILES STUDENT CENTER 7PM	IM: WEEKEND COED SOFTBALL ENTRY BLANK DUE AND MEETING 6:30 IM ROOM JUNIOR ART EXIBITION 9-12;1-5 BEDFORD GALLERY SENIOR ART SHOW 9AM-10PM SHOWCASE GALLERY	SENIOR ART SHOW 9AM-10PM SHOWCASE GALLERY JUNIOR ART EXIBITION 9-12;1-5 BEDFORD GALLERY	TREASURE HUNT ($5/TEAM) 2:30-5PM LANKFORD MALL MOVIE SERIES: "GROSS ANATOMY" 7PM LANKFORD MALL INTRAMURALS : WEEKEND SOFTBALL SENIOR ART SHOW 9AM-10PM SHOWCASE GALLERY	SENIOR ART SHOE 9AM-10PM SHOWCASE GALLERY NOTE: THE ROTUNDA IS NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR CHANGES OR CANCELLATIONS OF EVENTS. TO CHECK ON AN EVENT CALL THE APPROPRIATE COLLEGES: HAMPDEN-SYDNEY (804)223-4381; SWEET BRIAR (804)381-6100; HOLLINS(703)362-6000; MARY BALDWIN (703)887-7000	JUNIOR ART EXIBITION 9-12;1-5 BEDFORD GALLERY SENIOR ART SHOW 9AM-10PM SHOWCASE GALLERY ALCOHOL SUPPORT GROUP 6PM-7PM COUNSELING SERVICES

The ROTUNDA

LONGWOOD COLLEGE

Vol. 70, No. 1 | October 8, 1990 | Farmville, VA

Paule Marshall Awarded John Dos Passos Prize

Longwood will award its 10th John Dos Passos Prize for Literature to Paule Marshall, of Richmond, whose novels and short stories explore her Caribbean island heritage and the challenges encountered by immigrants and their descendants, as well as the complex relationship of African-Americans to their heritage. Ms. Marshall, currently professor of English and creative writing at Virginia Commonwealth University, will come to Longwood on Tuesday, Oct. 9, to receive the prize and to read from her work. The ceremony will begin at 8 p.m. in Bedford Auditorium; everyone is invited. She also will meet with students at Longwood and speak to a literature class in which one of her novels, Brown Girl, Brownstones, is being studied. Ms. Marshall was born in Brooklyn, the daughter of immigrants who came to New York from Barbados. She was graduated from Brooklyn College in 1953. Six years later she published her first novel, Brown Girl, Brownstones. It tells the story of a young girl growing up in Brooklyn during World War II, torn between her father's strong ties to his native Barbados and her mother's desire to buy a brownstone house and live out the American dream. The Chosen Place, the Timeless People, published in 1969, chronicles the changes wrought in a group of Americans by their extended encounter with the culture of a Caribbean island and, in turn, their effect on the inhabitants. Praisesong for the Widow (1983) concerns the physical and spiritual journey of a black American woman whose ancestors lived on one of the coastal islands of South Carolina. While on a Caribbean cruise, she is drawn into an experience that alters the course of her life. In addition to these novels, and a fourth that is scheduled for publication next year, Ms. Marshall has published two volumes of short stories, plus essays, stories, and articles in numerous anthologies and magazines. The John Dos Passos Prize was established at Longwood in 1980. It commemorates one of the greatest of 20th-century American authors, who made his home in Virginia's Northern Neck from 1949 until his death in 1970. The Prize is awarded to writers who have a substantial body of significant publication and whose work demonstrates one or more of the following characteristics — an intense and original exploration of specifically American themes, an experimental quality, and a wide range of literary forms. Winners receive a medallion and a cash award. The Prize is funded by a grant from the Longwood Foundation. Previous winners include Graham Greene, Gilbert Sorrentino, Doris Betts, Robert Stone, Russell Banks, Tom Wolfe, John Edgar Wideman, Lee Smith, and Shelby Foote. Dr. Martha Cook, Professor of English, is chair of this year's Prize jury.

PAULE MARSHALL

Join The Crop Walk For Hunger

By ALLEN BRECKENRIDGE, Episcopal Campus Chaplain

Did you know that Prince Edward County has one of the highest infant mortality rates in the state? Or that hunger is a real problem among the people of this area, so much so that the local food pantry has, on a yearly basis, given away almost 30 tons of food to persons in need of basic food aid? Did you know that malnutrition is a serious problem for the elderly in our area and that we really do have people living on the streets in Farmville? Are you aware that two out of three people in the Third World do not have access to clean drinking water, that 390 million people in the world are unemployed or underemployed, that at least 40,000 children die every day from hunger-related diseases, and that half the infants born in some developing countries will not survive past their first birthday.

These are just some of the alarming and often disabling statistics and problems that the world faces today. Most assuredly too young adults from Longwood will have to deal with these needs in the world in which you will soon take your place as leaders. Sometimes it can make one feel powerless to make a difference in the face of such complex problems, both locally and world-wide. Alone it would be almost impossible to tackle them. But the reality is that working together with others on our campus, in the Farmville community, and around the world, we can begin to bring some relief to our brothers and sisters who are facing such great needs for basic survival and growth.

In the student handbook on page 49, the Geist organization is described as being an honorary leadership society recognizing three outstanding qualities in students — leadership scholarship, and service. Geist regularly sponsors Oktoberfest weekend, offering an important time for student organizations to present themselves and their programs to the campus community, a time for friends to return and celebrate together the memories of joyful and challenging times spent at Longwood, and a time to raise funds for worthy projects in which our campus community and organizations are engaged. Clearly, connecting community service involvement to the overall educational purpose of Longwood is becoming a greater focus of our life together, as can be seen in the development of the G.I.V.E. and R.E.A.C.H. programs at Longwood in the last year.

One such service program, for which many of our campus organizations are gearing up, has become a yearly tradition at Longwood and in the greater Farmville area, and it usually falls on Oktoberfest weekend. That event is the CROP WALK for hunger. On Sunday afternoon, October 14, around 2 p.m., walkers from our campus and Hampden-Sydney, from schools, businesses, civic organizations, and churches throughout the community will gather at Jarman Auditorium and begin a short, spirited 6.2 mile hike through the Farmville community to raise funds for meeting some of the needs addressed in the beginning of this article. Funds raised on the walk go to programs around the world and here at home. Twenty-five percent of those funds go directly to our local Food Pantry. Students from organizations such as Alpha Phi Omega, Delta Sigma, the inter-Religious Council (consisting of a variety of campus religious organizations), residence hall groups, as well as many faculty and staff are now busy seeking walkers and sponsors to pledge money to walk for the hungry. In one way or another, everyone has an opportunity to do something, walking and pledging, together our community has chosen to take seriously the goals of Geist, the spirit of Longwood, which has always meant caring about the needs of others, about making a difference in the world we're a part of, about giving of some of the benefits we've been given.

Finally, the CROP WALK planning committee wants to continue the festive spirit of Oktoberfest weekend by encouraging groups to "fly their colors," so-to-speak. If you walk as a group, why not carry a banner or poster that your group has prepared? Let it be known who you are and that your organization cares and is involved. Individuals are also encouraged to let their creativity show through in hats, posters, and other ways of individually expressing that you care and want to make a difference. Together, one by one, we can and will begin to end hunger and make the world a more just place for all.

For more information about the upcoming CROP WALK, contact a representative of one of the organizations listed above, the Student Services office, or one of the campus chaplains. If your organization isn't yet signed up to walk or sponsor walkers, ask your president how you can help make CROP WALK a part of your group's plans for this year's Oktoberfest.

Contents

Commentary.....2
News.....3
Oktoberfest Schedule.....4
Features.....5, 6
Sports.....7
Classifieds.....8

COMMENTARY

Editorial

Dear Longwood,

Many publications have each new editor write a statement of some sort which announces his intent, desire for change, etc. We may not have done it in the past, but I felt it necessary to do so now.

You've all been waiting long enough and finally The Rotunda has arrived. It is not easy, as my staff will attest to, but we cannot go on without your support. The Rotunda has been the victime of much criticism and the danger of its extinction is always there, but I hope you care enough to keep it going. Longwood is a place of tradition, but it can also be the epitome of change and it is my goal this year to have The Rotunda reflect that combination of old and new ways. As long as there is interest and pride in tradition, there will be a Rotunda. The important thing to remember is that this newspaper belongs to all of Longwood and it is the responsibility of all of Longwood. It is up to you, as well as me and my staff, to keep it up-to-date and interesting. It is also up to you to speak up when you feel there is some great injustice done on the part of The Rotunda.

I hope to constantly improve throughout the year and I hope that we can keep your attention, but bear with us as we experiment with different ways to do things. If you don't like us one week, don't stop reading; We may surprise you next week. And eventually we'll all have the newspaper we can truly call a student publication and the desire to keep this important part of Longwood tradition.

Monica Gilbert
Editor-in-chief

The Spirit Of CHI Supports Longwood

By LYNDA VAN HORN

They came under the light of the torch. Though the 1972 Chi had gone under many changes, the burning on April 18 was much like those of previous years.

Led by Margaret Lowry, the bearer of the torch, the 12 other members of Chi walked down from Bedford building to the waiting crowd in the Iler parking lot.

Other members of Chi included Carolyn Simpson, Ellen Dunn, Cookie Howell, Jody Mace, Sue Bonham, Verona Leake, and Joan Putney.

Also included were Pat Necessary, Bobbie Hope, Patti Coogan, Bev Aston, and Nancy Fowlkes.

Purpose Of CHI

In order to emphasize the importance of Chi and to explain its purpose, the organization sent out letters to each student in the fall of this year.

The purpose of the group as written in the bulletin sent out is to "promote and maintain a spirit of cooperation among students in every phase of college life.

"It is our aim to foster respect for Longwood and loyalty to its academic program and extracurricular activities."

Changes

According to Chi the purpose of these changes is not to disregard the past, but to "utilize the valuable aspects of those experiences that have enabled Chi to promote and maintain a spirit of cooperation in every phase of college life."

of cooperation in every phase of college life."

Speaking of the new insignia of the Rotunda used on the robes of Chi, one member said, "We needed to project a positive image. The skull and crossbones does not denote respect to some people.

The Rotunda is something of the college and lasting," she said. "And, the blue and the white are more typical of Longwood than the red of before."

The CHI Song

Using the same tune as used in previous years, the words of the Chi song were changed "to express Chi's increasing role as guardians of the spirit and ideas of Longwood."

The new song tells of the purpose of the organization:

Through the dark of night
The spirit of Chi walks on
Bearing the blue and white
The spirit of Chi walks on
Throughout the days of Longwood
Strong ties of blue
Although the years may pass by
Chi will be there too
Clad in robes of blue
The secret of Chi is kept
Hold the torch of spirit long
Keep it strong
Down the colonnade and
On the campus, too, we
Bind the sisterhood
The spirit of Chi walks on.

Other Projects

Besides the letters of explanation, Chi also had other projects for the year including sending letters of praise to students and faculty they felt deserving.

Among the projects sponsored or supported by Chi this year were the Pageant for Peace, collection of canned goods and toys for charity, and an all out campaign in support of major elections.

Chi also makes available an emergency scholarship fund which can be used by students who need financial aid in order to continue their education at Longwood.

Walks And Banners

The nightly walks and the Chi banners are also evidence of the organization's support of various functions of the college.

When asked about these evidences of the group, one Chi member said, "The walks are a part of our college support and spirit, and they are always planned."

But, when asked what they thought of the mad rush for possession that always accompanies the displaying of the Chi banner, two Chi members refused to comment.

The burning of Chi each year in the spring is always a highly anticipated event. Always coming after a series of Chi "scares" the burning is the time of year the identities of the members are revealed.

According to Chi the identities of the members are kept secret until this time since "if the identity were known to the entire student body, the members would be subject to numerous pressures regarding their program of commendations."

Coming Of CHI

As students from every class waited to see the torch light announcing the coming of Chi, the Chi members lined up in nervous excitement for their last walk.

One Chi member voiced her nervousness, "As we were coming to the burning, we didn't know what to expect with recent attitudes and viewing burning from the other side."

But, as the torch was lit and flared up, a roar went up from the crowd.

"When the torch was lit and blazed up, you just can't imagine the feeling I had," said one Chi member.

And, another agreed, "We'll never forget that sound in our lives," she said.

Each year at the burning besides revealing their identities, the Chi members also recognize members of the student body, faculty, administration, and community who have shown Longwood spirit and loyalty or who have provided an outstanding service to the college community.

Commendations

This year's CHI commended 22 students, as well as two faculty members, Mrs. Sue Clark of the Information Office, and the Longwood Foundation under the direction of Mr. George Bristol and Col. John Carr.

Among the seniors commended were Sissy Henshaw, Mary Tabb Johnston, Marty Repole, Charlene Rice, and Debbie Ellenbrand.

Juniors recognized were Susan B. Lewis, Faye Poole, Joyce Saunders, and Bev Turner.

Along with the sophomore helpers, Becky Moreland and Ellen Morrison, two other sophomores were also commended. They were Donna Noblin and Wanda Wallace.

Debbie Martell, Janie Pritchard, and Mariette Zucchi were the three freshmen recognized. The two faculty members commended were Dr. Wayne Finnell and Miss Diane Davis.

There were also six seniors who served as senior assistants who were recognized at the burning.

They included Donna Baker, Kathy Barclay, Easter Galloway, Brenda Hensley, Sandy Chortal, and Val Callis.

CHI Remains Secret

As the burning ended and the crowd began to disperse, the Chi

(Continued on page 5)

The ROTUNDA

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
Monica Y. Gilbert

Photography Editor

Sports Editor
Charlie Fultz

Business Manager
Anita Owens

Advertising Manager
Bradley Owen

Layout Editor
Sarah Whiteside

News Editor
Beth A. Lord

Faculty Advisor
Barbara LaJaunie

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be signed and typed or printed neatly. The Editor and staff reserve the right to edit any material submitted for publication.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles is 3:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Monday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 395-2120.

NEWS

New Library Hopes to Make Longwood a More Improved Campus

By TODD M. HALEY

"A new library is only one of the major changes that will occur at Longwood in the next few years," stated Richard Hurley, the Vice-President for Business and Legislative Affairs.

The new library is one of the largest and most recent project that is being completed at Longwood College to enlarge and improve the campus according to the master plan of 1985.

"This new library will improve the looks of the campus, allow more computer access to the students, and become the new center of the campus," Hurley said. The study space has been increased to give more individual and group areas for students to study.

Hurley stated that "the most innovative section of the library is its new compact storage area. With the use of connected, movable bookshelves, more books will be able to fit into a smaller area. He continued, "However, at this time, it has not been determined whether or not this area will be for student use or for only staff access."

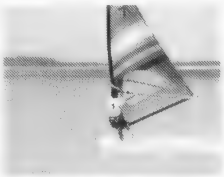
The library is the first project that is being completed according to the 1985 master plan for the college. Hurley said, "Hopefully, the library shows that Longwood College is on its way to becoming a larger and more improved campus."

Student Activity Fees Under Question

By PAM LADD
SGA Treasurer

The Student Activity Fees Committee has gotten final approval to give appropriations of this year's activity fees. The committee requested $14,000 for your organization for the 1990-1991 academic year. Since the final audit of your books is still not completed, this amount is contingent on the results from the audit. The committee will also take into consideration the bank balance of last year's book as of May 15, 1990. You may pick up your fall allotment at this time. You need to go by Phyllis Mable's office and fill out an approval form, and then pick up your check. The SGA Senate has discussed the possibility of raising student activity fees so that organizations may have more money in the coming year. If you have any questions or suggestions, etc. please call me at 395-3080.

Last year we made over 14,000 students Wall Street Tycoons in the...



AT&T
Collegiate Investment Challenge™

November 1, 1990 to February 28, 1991

Enter this year's competition and you'll become a Wall Street tycoon, buying and selling stocks with your own $500,000 brokerage account. If you're the best trader at the end of this national stock market competition, you'll be cashing a check for a very real $25,000!

Real Trading

There is no better way to get hands-on stock market experience. You're on the phone, calling your broker on a toll-free AT&T 800 Service line to buy and sell stocks. "Give me $100,000 worth of SARA LEE and another $50,000 worth of AT&T." You start with a fictitious $500,000 brokerage account.

Win a trip for you and a guest compliments of the Holiday Inn Lucaya Beach Resort in Freeport, Grand Bahama, Bahamas and the Bahamas Ministry of Tourism.

Build your portfolio from over 5,000 stocks listed on the OTC, New York, and American Stock Exchanges. Brokers will give you up-to-the-second quotes and execute your orders. Monthly statements will keep you informed of your fortunes.

Real Prizes

Over $200,000 in total prizes will be awarded! This includes cash scholarship awards, trips to the Bahamas, and hundreds of monthly prizes from Champion USA. More than 1,000 winners in all. You can win a cash scholarship award of $25,000. Imagine cashing that check! Top winners receive weekly national recognition from USA TODAY. You can follow the current standings of the AT&T Collegiate Investment Challenge every Monday during the competition in the "MONEY" section of USA TODAY.

Enter and Win

The Third Annual AT&T Collegiate Investment Challenge begins the morning of November 1, 1990 and ends on February 28, 1991. Your trading can lead to fame, a great Bahamas tan, and a $25,000 fortune. Call now to enter or to get your free brochure.

Cash Scholarship Awards
1st	$25,000
2nd	10,000
3rd	7,500
4th	5,000
5th	4,000
6th	3,000
7th	2,500
8th	2,000
9th	1,500
10th	1,000

Registration deadline: October 27, 1990.

Entry fee only $49.95

Co-sponsored by:

USA TODAY | The Bahamas Ministry of Tourism | Champion U.S.A.

Call Today 1 800 545-1990 Ext. 33

The AT&T Collegiate Investment Challenge is produced and managed by Wall Street Games, Inc., 40 Grove Street, Wellesley, MA 02181

Honor Awareness

By SHERRY GATEWOOD

Elizabeth B. Lacy, Justice of the Supreme Court of Virginia, gave a speech in Wyal Auditorium Thursday, September 27, 1990 as a highlight of Honor Awareness Week. She spoke about the importance of honor both in a college environment and in the business world.

She began her lecture by detailing how crucial the values of integrity, honor, and trustworthiness are in today's society. Justice Lacy maintains that these qualities are essential for maintaining any degree of Social order. As an example, she cited our judicial system. It is based on the public trust of the [illegible] and good judgement of those appointed to serve.

The college honor system serves as a transition between those values taught by our parents and those of the rest of society. It is here in college that one must formulate the moral code from which they intend to live.

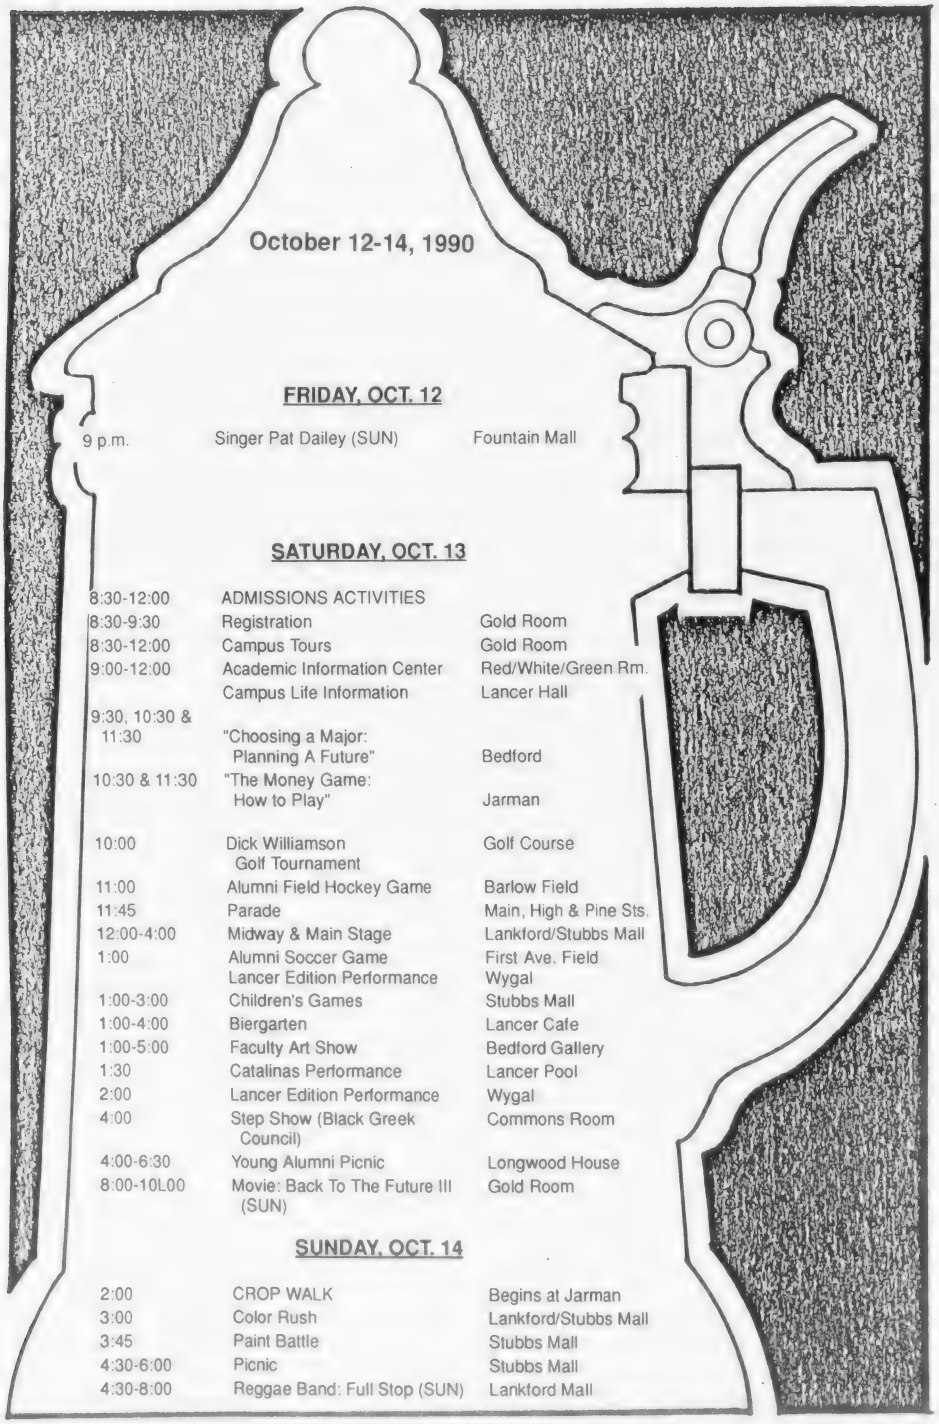
The message that society sends is the lying, cheating and stealing are okay, as long as the perpetrator is not caught. This is wrong. A self-policing system is therefore crucial to making this system work. Each person must uphold and reinforce the system. An apathetic attitude about the entire situation is just as harmful as the belief that not getting caught is all that matters.

Decal System Improved

By DENISE DAUBENSPECK

A new decal system has been installed for campus parking.

In years past resident or commuter student decals were purchased and placed on the back of the rear view mirror. This policy has changed due to restricted visibility.



"In the winter, you have to clear the windshields to see if there was a decal. In the summer, sun shades would have to be moved to find out if there was one," stated Campus Police Chief Police. In the new system, the decals must be displayed on the back side of the vehicle's left rear bumper.

The new decals are designed to distinguish different groups and relate where each group can park on campus. Faculty/staff decals are pink, residents; orange, commuters; green, and slater/ARA; yellow. The cost of the decals are $20 for students and $25 for faculty. These decals are good for one academic year.

Decals are to be purchased in the Cashiering and Student Accounts office. The receipt must be taken, along with the vehicle's Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) registration card and license plate number, to the campus police. The owner must complete a registration form and will receive the appropriate decal.

The new decal system will determine where each vehicle can park and reduce the amount of time the campus police will spend searching a lot. One proposal to improve the system is to match the color of the curb with the decal color.

OKTOBERFEST

October 12-14, 1990

FRIDAY, OCT. 12

9 p.m.	Singer Pat Dailey (SUN)	Fountain Mall

SATURDAY, OCT. 13

8:30-12:00	ADMISSIONS ACTIVITIES
8:30-9:30	Registration	Gold Room
8:30-12:00	Campus Tours	Gold Room
9:00-12:00	Academic Information Center	Red/White/Green Rm.
	Campus Life Information	Lancer Hall
9:30, 10:30 & 11:30	"Choosing a Major: Planning A Future"	Bedford
10:30 & 11:30	"The Money Game: How to Play"	Jarman
10:00	Dick Williamson Golf Tournament	Golf Course
11:00	Alumni Field Hockey Game	Barlow Field
11:45	Parade	Main, High & Pine Sts.
12:00-4:00	Midway & Main Stage	Lankford/Stubbs Mall
1:00	Alumni Soccer Game	First Ave. Field
	Lancer Edition Performance	Wygal
1:00-3:00	Children's Games	Stubbs Mall
1:00-4:00	Biergarten	Lancer Cafe
1:00-5:00	Faculty Art Show	Bedford Gallery
1:30	Catalinas Performance	Lancer Pool
2:00	Lancer Edition Performance	Wygal
4:00	Step Show (Black Greek Council)	Commons Room
4:00-6:30	Young Alumni Picnic	Longwood House
8:00-10L00	Movie: Back To The Future III (SUN)	Gold Room

SUNDAY, OCT. 14

2:00	CROP WALK	Begins at Jarman
3:00	Color Rush	Lankford/Stubbs Mall
3:45	Paint Battle	Stubbs Mall
4:30-6:00	Picnic	Stubbs Mall
4:30-8:00	Reggae Band: Full Stop (SUN)	Lankford Mall

FEATURES

Journey a Success

By JENNIFER MEELER

The supporting cast of the production were equally skilled in their performances. Especially noticeable were Robin Lusk in the role of Terentievna and Vernell Williamson in the role of Katerina Prolomnaya, both of whom adopted good accents for their characters. Also notable were Amy Lynn Church in her dual roles of Miss Grubov and Elizaveta Kirillovna; Jonathan Church as Pandalevski and Bizminokov; and Anthony Tassa as Kirilla Ozhogin. Finally, the set and lighting/sound techniques were well planned and increased the audience's understanding and enjoyment of the play.

The Longwood Players are certainly off to a great start on the year. Congratulations to all the cast of Journey of The Fifth Horse and good luck on the rest of the season.

The Longwood Players kicked-off the season October 3-6 with a spectacular presentation of Ronald Ribman's Journey of The Fifth Horse. This deeply moving work is based on the short story, "The Diary of a Superfluous Man," by the 19th century Russian writer Ivan Turgeney, parallels the lonely lives and lost loves of the diarist, Nikolai Chulkaturin (Christopher Hoover) and the head reader of the publishing firm, Zoditch (Andrew N. Wheeler), who must reluctantly review the diary. The people in Chulkaturin's diary miraculously come to life in Zoditch's mind and in his apartment, where the audience discovers Chulkaturin's tragic life.

The theatric powers of the cast were sensationally obvious throughout the play. Christopher Hoover shown in the difficult role of Chulkaturin. His amazing ability to switch from the older, deathly ill and despairing Chulkaturin to that of the youthful, wonderfully in love Chulkaturin of the diary successfully attracted the audience interest and sympathy. Mr. Hoover's excellent performance truly effected the viewer and caused one to feel the emotions of the "fifth horse on the carriage of life' personally and meaningfully. Andrew N. Wheeler's terrific portrayal of Zoditch also deserves much praise. He professionally drew his character through much emotional turmoil to the final realization that Zoditch and Chulkaturin's lives are similarly tragic.

The Spirit of Oktoberfest

Rewritten

By MICHELLE BIEROWSKE

'Can you feel it?', the theme of this year's Oktoberfest activities describes the spirit GEIST is out to achieve. Oktoberfest has become a standing tradition at Longwood. This year, the week of October 8-12 has been declared Spirit Week. Each day students dress to represent the theme of that day. This year's theme days include: Longwood Day, 60's day, German Day, Tacky Day, and Class Color Day.

The official Oktoberfest activities begin on Friday night with a concert featuring Pat Daily. A parade will be held on Saturday beginning at 11 a.m. From noon until 4 p.m., the Midway will be open with booths displaying this year's focus, "Cheers to Old Traditions and New Beginnings." GEIST's goal with this focus is to incorporate all aspects of Longwood and to allow each student to be part of the festivities.

Class color wars between the Red-n-Whites and Green-n-Whites will be held at 3 p.m. in Stubbs Mall. The color wars are designed to promote class spirit. Kid's games for Longwood guests and surrounding areas will be held from 1-3 p.m., in Stubbs Mall. Oktoberfest klowns will be entertaining during the festivities. The Biergarten will be open from 1-4 p.m. on Saturday. German food and beer will be sold at the Biergarten.

GEIST promises that this year's festivities are the best ever. Oktoberfest '90 is in the air ... Can you feel it?

CHI (Continued from page 2)

members lined up as they had come in and left the smoldering fire and the Longwood campus. Where they went and what they did only the individual members know.

Of course there are many questions such as these that will remain secret. Only the Chi members to come will be able to share in the secret.

What can be seen in Chi to the average student is seen through the work and spirit of the organization. And, if the group is to perpetuate it will be only through the spirit of the student body. For as one Chi member put it, "Chi is a spirit; it's not individuals."

"As the Dark of Night Came ... The SPIRIT of CHI walks on."

CHI IS WATCHING YOU!!

CHI '91

THE LONGWOOD BOOKSTORE

INVITES YOU TO STOP BY FOR YOUR EVERYDAY SHOPPING NEEDS...

- TEXTBOOKS
- TRADE BOOKS
- SCHOOL SUPPLIES
- CASSETTE/CD'S
- IMPRINTED CLOTHING
- HEALTH & BEAUTY PRODUCTS
- MAGAZINES
- FILM PROCESSING
- GREEK ITEMS
- IMPRINTED MEMORABILIA
- GREETING CARDS
- COMPUTERS SUPPLIES

MANY T-SHIRTS AND OTHER SUMMER CLOTHING
25-50% OFF

OPEN OKTOBERFEST,
SAT, 13TH, 10 AM - 3 PM

REGULAR HOURS: MONDAY-FRIDAY, 8 AM - 5 PM
PHONE 395-2084

LONGWOOD COLLEGE BOOKSTORE

FEATURES

Farrar Fundraiser

By AMY E. BAUGHER

Bobby Farrar is a 2 1/2-year-old boy who has never learned to talk.

When he was born he had underdeveloped lungs and he spent the first 14 months of his life in the hospital undergoing surgery.

Alpha Phi Omega national service fraternity heard about Bobby and has started organizing a steering committee to raise money that his family is lacking.

Their objective was to begin a campus-wide fundraiser, starting with a penny drive. A can is located at every residence hall front desk. Cans will be located at each Oktoberfest booth. Alpha Phi Omega's annual dance-a-thon's proceeds will also go towards the fund for Bobby.

The committee's goal is to raise $5000, but "we're not going to stop at that," said Barbara Zwirnbaum, head of the committee.

A future meeting has not yet been set.

Minority Mentors Program Underway

By TRACEY ARMWOOD

Minority upper-classmen are involved this semester in a new program which is designed to assist incoming freshmen. The program is called Minority Mentors. The purpose of the Minority Mentor Program is to help freshman to adjust to college life.

A mentor (an upper-classman), can have as many as six mentees or more of whom he or she is responsible. Each mentor is required to spend a minimum of one hour a week with his or her mentee.

The idea of this project is not entirly new. Several years ago a Big Brother and Big Sister program was started, but lasted briefly because of lack of participation. Last semester, Vice President for Student Affairs Phyllis Mable suggested that the Big Brothers and Big Sisters program be renewed. After a consultation with Brenda Cross, Director of Minority Affairs, and ABS (Association of Black Students), the program was set in motion.

In January 1990, Cross had a coupon printed in the minority news letter. This coupon requested anyone interested in being a big brother or sister to fill it out and return it to Cross. In response she received over twenty coupons from interested upper-classman.

However, the newly formed group found that there was a discrepancy with the name "Big Brothers and Big Sisters." There was already an organization of that name in Farmville. The name was changed to The Minority Mentor program.

Cross and Mary Kaye Benton, Student Development Educator, organized and manage the program.

"I think it [the program] is going marvelously well," Mrs. Cross said. "I was disappointed with the small number of freshman participation initially." "I had thought there would be fewer upper-classman." Cross said that she had thought the reason for the lack of freshman response was that they "didn't know what it was about. They kind of shy away from minority affairs."

Mrs. Cross and Ms. Benton sent out pamphlets about the program to all minority students. This, according to Mrs. Cross allows the student to choose to participate because it would benefit him. "I don't want them to think it is mandator," commented Cross.

The group meets at the beginning of each month. At every meeting a mentor is asked to share one positive moment he or she has shared with the mentee. They each tell one challenging experience and the group together discusses a way to overcome the challenge.

Said Cross of the mentorship program's future: "Next year they'll (the freshman) look forward to saying, 'I would like to be a mentor!'"

Steppin' With Phi Beta Sigma

On September 28, the Brothers of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity Inc. traveled to James Madison University to compete in the 1990 Virginia Conference steppin champi onships with hopes of bring ing the gold home to Long wood. That hope turned into reality for James Forrest Jr., and Russell Hall, the members of the Omicron Rho Chapter who received 4 perfect scores and the title of State Steppin Champions. The next step for the two is the National Conference Competition in Las Vegas Nevado July 14-19. Longwood wishes the brothers of Phi Beta Sigma the best of luck.

DOMINOS
GOOD PIZZA
LARGE PEPPERONI
$9.91

ITZA
GREAT PIZZA
LARGE PEPPERONI
$7.25

I don't know...maybe you like spending the extra $2.66. We personally feel the $2.66 could be spent on something more worthwhile.

ITZA PIZZA

THIS COUPON GOOD FOR
$1.00 OFF
ANY ITZA PIZZA
THRU
OCTOBER 31, 1990.

THIS COUPON GOOD FOR
$1.00 OFF
ANY ITZA PIZZA
THRU
NOVEMBER 31, 1990.

LANCER CAFE - PHONE 395-2121

SPORTS

Holm Named Player of the Week

Sophomore tennis player Jenny Holm won both her singles and doubles matches in an 8-1 victory over Hollins last Wednesday, and has been named Longwood College Player of the Week for the period Sept. 31-Oct. 7. Player of the Week is chosen by the Longwood sports information office.

Holm, 5-2 at No. 1 singles, led Longwood to a final fall record of 5-2, the best mark by a Lady Lancer team since the fall of 1976 when the squad finished 7-3-1. Holm's record is one of the best turned in by a Lady Lancer in the No. 1 singles slot in recent years. She has a career record of 15-14 in singles.

"Jenny played well for us all fall," said coach Angie Coppedge. "She even won a match after injuring her ankle the day before. Having a strong player in the top spot is a big plus for us."

A graduate of Menchville High, Holm was an MVP and two-time District champ during her prep career. She played No. 1 singles her final three seasons. Menchville was District champ in her senior season.

JENNY HOLM

Lancer and Lady Lancer Basketball ... Coming Soon to a Court Near You

Lady Netters Finish With Best Record Since 76

Longwood's women's tennis team routed Hollins 8-1 last Wednesday afternoon in Roanoke, finishing with a 5-2 fall record, the best team mark in the fall season since 1976.

Not since the 76 Longwood team ended the fall at 7-3-1 has a group of Lady Lancer netters done as well as the current squad. The 1976-77 squad went on to post a 9-0 mark in the spring for a 16-3-1 record overall.

Notching singles wins for Longwood at Hollins were Jenny Holm at No. 1, Kimber Bear at No. 3, Beth Alger at No. 4, Jenny Proffitt at No. 5 and Jennifer Risko at No. 6. In doubles, Holm and Suzie Lawman won at No. 1, Proffitt and Alger at No. 2 and Bear and Angie Williams at No. 3.

Among Longwood's victims this fall were Randolph-Macon Woman's College twice, Virginia Wesleyan, John Jay and Hollins. The Lady Lancers won three matches by 5-4 scores and dropped a fourth to Meredith by a 5-4 count. Longwood's only decisive loss came at the hands of Mary Baldwin 7-2.

Coach Angie Coppedge's squad won't swing back into action until March when the spring season begins.

Lancers Try to Clinch VISA This Week

Longwood's soccer team, with its six-game win streak ended Saturday by East Stroudsburg, will seek to bounce back on the road this week with games at Hampden-Sydney Wednesday (4:00) and at Averett Friday (3:30).

The Lancers can clinch first place in the Virginia Intercollegiate Soccer Association Eastern Division with a win Friday at Averett. Currently 3-0 in the Division, Longwood would end up 4-0 and earn a spot in the VISA Playoffs with a victory over the Cougars.

Playing without its top two scorers, Longwood (8-3) came up short in a fiercely contested battle with East Stroudsburg Saturday afternoon at First Avenue Field. Thanks to an assist from Mitch Rubin and a nifty kick by Brendan Nash, the Lancers drew first blood with 2:15 left in the first half, taking a 1-0 lead.

The Warriors, now 7-6-1, got a penalty kick at 6:44 of the second half to tie the contest. After ESU goalkeeper Lou Sudholz blocked a penalty kick by Lancer Todd Dyer, the Warriors got a pair of goals from Henry Sands and held on for the win.

Longwood had to play the final 17 minutes a man down, after Rich Kloska received a red card. Heated words and a near fight erupted after Kloska collided with ESU's Tom Wolgast, who toppled over the bleachers where the Longwood team was seated. After a few anxious moments, Wolgast shook off the fall and went back in the game.

MITCH RUBIN

Field Hockey Team Falls to Div. I. Wake Forest

By CHARLEY JACOBS

The Longwood field hockey team, in its sole contest of last week, dropped a match-up against Division I foe Wake Forest University Wednesday by a score of 2-0. The loss brings the Lady Lancers' overall record to 1-7-1.

Despite the final score, the Lady Lancers dominated both halves of play, firing 18 shots on goal to the Demon Deacons' 16. Carver Ports led the team with five.

"I thought we played a really good game," commented head coach Sandy Bridgeman. "We just couldn't put it in. We had more than enough opportunities, we just didn't capitalize on them."

penalty corners, 11 of which were awarded during the second half. But the run and shoot offense utilized by Wake Forest proved too much for the Longwood defense.

The first goal came off an early second period fast break. A long ball to the corner was centered in front of the Longwood net and punched in for the score. A shift in the defense resulted in the second Wake Forest goal. With under a minute to play, Bridgeman moved the sweeper toward midfield in an attempt to generate some offense. The move, however, resulted in another Wake Forest goal.

The Lady Lancers travel to Radford University Wednesday for a game scheduled at 4 p.m.

Golf Team Finishes Strong

Longwood's women's golf team played up to its potential on the final day to finish sixth out of the 13 teams at the Duke Fall Invitational, played Friday through Sunday at Duke Golf Course in Durham, N.C.

Led by junior Ami Schonauer, Longwood rebounded from a poor first round 334 to score 329 Saturday and 317 Sunday for a 980 total. North Carolina (913) edged host Duke (916) for the team title while Lady Tar Heel Jessica Wood shot 75-70-76-221 and beat Illinois' Renee Heiken in a playoff for the individual crown.

Schonauer put together rounds of 78-81-77-236 to finish in a two-way title for 14th place in a field of 71 golfers. Sophomore Heather Hartwick backed Schonauer with a 245, coming back strong after a first round 88. Hartwick shot 79 and 78 the last two days and ended up in a three-way tie for 24th.

Also scoring for Longwood were freshman Jo Leison 82-85-81-248 (29th place), junior Sherry Evans 86-84-88-258, and freshman Donna Martin 88-89-81-258 (tied for 42nd). Freshman Danielle Karish shot 92-92-85-269 for 57th place, playing as an individual.

Longwood wraps up its fall season this weekend, playing in the Lady Kat Invitational Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Duke Scores: UNC 913, Duke 916, Illinois 951, Minnesota 953, Wake Forest 957, Longwood 980, William & Mary 986, James Madison 1002, Rollins 1009, Methodist 1012, Winthrop 1023, Coastal Carolina 1065

TRO and PE Majors Fall Gathering Held

The Physical Education and Therapeutic Recreation majors held their annual Fall Gathering (Festival of Challenges) on September 5 at Wilkes Lake. Senior Stephanie Harris and Junior Tammy Towsey received awards for maintaining the highest grade point average, 3.72 and 3.56 respectively, during the previous academic year. Honorable mention awards for grade point averages above 3.25 were Seniors Bill Brady, Kim Nelson, and Kelly Stutz and Juniors Julie Morton, Tena Philbrick, and Terri Riemondy. This annual picnic is a time when students and faculty get together on an informal basis for recreation, conversation, and a good meal. Everyone agrees this is a great way for the faculty to interact with the students so they get to know them on a more personal basis and a good way to begin the academic year. Both the Physical Education Majors Club and the Therapeutic Recreation Organization will be sponsoring numerous activities during the year. The majors hope all students can attend and participate in such events as the Body Building Contest to be held in February, Dance for Heart held in the Spring, and even join us this November 9 and 10 for a state-wide studen leadership conference here at Longwood.

CLASSIFIED

Short Notice

Attention Seniors — There will be a Senior Class Meeting on Wednesday, October 10th at 9:30 p.m. in the Commons Room.

Playboy is sponsoring a fiction contest for college students. First prize is $3,000 and publication of your story in the October 1991 Playboy. In order to enter, you must submit an original, unpublished story. Maximum length: 25 typed pages (double spaced). The contest is open to all college students, regardless of age and the deadline is January 1, 1991. Send manuscripts and a 3"x5" card with your name, address, telephone number, and college affiliation to: Playboy, College Fiction Contest, 680 N. Lake Shore Drive, Chicago, IL 60611.

Seniors — If you are interested in raising money for the senior class by working the Oktoberfest booth for 30 minutes (we're selling cotton candy). Please call Stacey Crockarell at 4015 or Bill Brady at 4052 by midnight, October 10th. — Thank you

To all organizations — The Rotunda wants you! If you have something of importance that you wish to have published, send it to the Rotunda Box 1133. The deadlines are Fridays in order to make the next issue.

Longwood — We are once again taking personals, but space is limited. Personals can be placed in the envelope on the Publications door. Please be brief. There is no gaurantee that lengthy personals will be printed.

— FREE —
PREGNANCY TEST

All services confidential.
Same day results.

SOUTHSIDE PREGNANCY CENTER

24-HOUR HOTLINE
392-8483

HELP WANTED

EARN $25,000 and FREE Spring Break trips to Bahamas, Jamica as part-time campus rep. for Spring Break Travel. 1-800-638-6786.

FREE SPRING BREAK TRIPS — to students or student organizations promoting our Spring Break Packages. Good Pay & Fun. Call CMI. 1-800-423-5264

HERE'S WHY
THE SMART MONEY AT
LONGWOOD COLLEGE
IS GOING WITH TIAA-CREF
AS IF THE FUTURE DEPENDED ON IT.

Because it does. Smart investors know that your future depends on how well your retirement system performs. TIAA-CREF has been the premier retirement system for people in education and research for over 70 years. We have enabled over 200,000 people like you to enjoy a comfortable retirement. And over 1,000,000 more are now planning for the future with TIAA-CREF.

SMART MONEY LOOKS FOR SECURITY, GROWTH AND DIVERSITY FOR RETIREMENT SAVINGS.

Security—so the resources are there when it is time to retire. Growth—so you'll have enough income for the kind of retirement you want. And diversity—to help protect you against market volatility and to let you benefit from several types of investments.

THAT'S EXACTLY WHAT YOU GET WITH TIAA-CREF.

TIAA offers you the safety of a traditional annuity that guarantees your principal plus a specified rate of interest, and provides for additional growth through dividends. CREF's variable annuity offers opportunities for growth through four different investment accounts, each managed with the long-term perspective essential to sound retirement planning:

The CREF Stock Account
The CREF Money Market Account
The CREF Bond Market Account*
The CREF Social Choice Account*

CALL 1-800-842-2776
TO FIND OUT MORE

Our experienced retirement counselors will be happy to answer your questions and tell you more about retirement annuities from TIAA-CREF.

Experience. Performance. Strength. Your future is protected by the largest private retirement system in the world. We have done so well, for so many, for so long, that we currently manage some $85 billion in assets.

TIAA CREF

Ensuring the future for those who shape it.℠

* The CREF Bond Market and Social Choice Accounts may not be available under all institutional retirement plans, but are available for all Supplemental Retirement Annuity plans.

For more complete information, including charges and expenses, call 1 800 842-2733, ext 5509 for a prospectus. Read the prospectus carefully before you invest or send money.

The ROTUNDA

LONGWOOD COLLEGE

Vol. 70, No. 2 | October 15, 1990 | Farmville, VA

Poet Laureate At Longwood

By BETTY BRYANT

David Gamache, of Charlottesville, is a published poet. But a few short years ago, he hated poetry.

"When I was in high school, we 'analyzed' poetry," Gamache said. "I hated it with a passion. Talking about the meter of a poem turned me off immediately."

Now a senior business major at Longwood College, Gamache submitted six poems last fall to the American Poetry Anthology. Four of his poems were chosen for publication in the 1990 edition of the anthology.

Encouraged by that success, he sent several more poems recently to the World of Poetry contest. He received "Honorable Mention" in that competition, and one of his poems will be included in the next edition, to be published in April of 1991.

"About two years ago, I was dating a girl who wrote poems — really morbid stuff," Gamache said. "I thought if she's writing those crazy things, so can I. So I tried it."

He wrote several poems and then put them away out of sight. "When I found them a year or so later, I decided they were pretty good," Gamache said, "so I wrote a few more."

Three of his poems in the American Poetry Anthology deal with 20th-century Christianity, Gamache said. Their titles are "Faith," "The Traveler," and "Purple - The Color of the Praetorium."

These poems "express my feelings about what we are losing, and what we are doing to ourselves by abusing what we have been given," he said.

Gamache said he "has no idea what inspired the fourth poem. It just came to me." He called it "Moonlight."

Moonlight creeps across the ground
Casting shadows down and down revealing much of never told into the night they unfold.
Reaching to hearts of those who hear.
It's like a love none can see.

Gamache plans to enroll in a Wilderness Education training program next summer. He will complete requirements for his Bachelor of Science in Business Administration degree from Longwood in December of 1991.

"After that, I want to open my own small business, an outdoor recreation store," he said. "And on the weekends I'll teach outdoor skills."

In the meantime Gamache will keep on writing. "Lately I've written a few short stories," he said. "Maybe I'll send them off to some publisher. Who knows what can happen?"

David Gamache
The newest poet to enter the literary world.

2nd Annual Run For The Roses

Courtesy of Public Affairs

Plans for the second annual Run For The Roses are underway. This year's event is scheduled for Saturday, October 27, with the 10k race starting from the Log Cabin Preschool at Hampden-Sydney College. Starting time is 11 a.m. with the race ending at Rose Bower Vinyard followed by an awards ceremony. Other activities include an auction of items donated by local merchants and a sale table of baked goods and crafts prepared by the families of the Log Cabin Preschool. David Clark will be on hand to provide live musical entertainment. This event is planned to coincide with the Autumn Colors Festival at Rose Bower Vinyard and the public is invited.

"All proceeds raised from Run For The Roses go to benefit the Log Cabin Preschool facilities and provide a scholarship fund for a needy child to have the preschool experience," said Katie Anderson the event coordinator. "Last year's proceeds helped to pay for some much needed repairs and improvements to the facility and there are still many more improvements that need to be addressed. Since we are our funds are limited and we depend heavily upon fund raising to keep us moving ahead. We've had a lot of support from the students at Hampden-Sydney College too, they've been just great about volunteering to help with projects like remortaring the sixty two year old structure, cleaning the attic and helping with this event. The Log Cabin has served as the location since 1966 for this community preschool which was founded in 1954. I think it's important that people know something about our background," she added.

"All of us at Log Cabin want to keep this special bit of history alive, and we are willing to work hard to do that. It really is a special place that has touched the lives of hundreds of children and we want it to go right on doing that. Last year's Run For The Roses was a great success thanks to the support of the community, and we look forward to this year's being even better," she said.

The entry fee for runners is ten dollars. To register for the race, volunteer to help, donate merchandise or get further information contact Katie Anderson at 223-4127.

Dr. Reich - German Member Of Parliament To Give Lecture

Dr. Jens Reich, an East German activist and member of Parliament, will give a lecture at Longwood College on Thursday, October 18, at 8 p.m. in the Red/White/Green Rooms of Lankford Building.

His topic is "Germany and East European Countries: World Order in the 21st Century." The public is invited to attend the lecture free of charge.

Dr. Reich and his wife, Eva, will spend the week of October 14 at Hampden-Sydney College as Woodrow Wilson Visiting Fellows. Their visit is made possible by a grant to the Woodrow Wilson Foundation by the German Marshall Fund, established in 1972 by a gift from the Federal Republic of Germany to commemorate American postwar assistance under the Marshall Plan.

The Reichs were involved in founding the New Forum political group, an organization that sought to bring about change in East Germany. The group held demonstrations throughout East Germany and gained such widespread popular support that it was instrumental in the peaceful overthrow of the Communist system and its security branch.

Dr. Reich was elected to the East German Parliament in March of 1990. He works at the Institute of Molecular Biology at the Berlin Academy of Sciences. His specialities are mathematics, statistics, and computers in biology.

Eva Reich is a medical doctor who specializes in the outpatient care of persons with chronic kidney and liver diseases.

COMMENTARY

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

I am a senior here at Longwood, and many things have been bothering me since I returned to school this semester. When I came to Longwood in the fall of 1987, it was great. This school did what they could to keep us happy and quiet. But every year it got noticably worse, but bearable. This year is awful. No one cares about the students. It seems that the college is out to do everything in the hardest way possible and the most inconvient to students.

Let's start with the parking situation. It's about time that freshmen aren't allowed cars, that was a good decision. But just because freshmen can't drive does not mean it was necessary to take away parking spaces. A few here and a few there really do add up after a while. And we still have to walk too far to get to our rooms.

Next— the phone system. I can never get a line off campus. With the number of people here, there should be more lines going off campus. Every time my mother has tried to call me this semester, she has been connected with the wrong room. What if there were an emergency and she couldn't get in touch with me because of this "GREAT" phone system?

Let's move to the Dining Hall. The food is awful. Okay so we were spoiled with Sheri Nunn all of those ages ago, but give me a break. The food this year took a big nose dive. The food is unedible. They could go easy on the salt and the grease. Are they trying to kill us?

And why can't I sit where I want when I go to eat? Every time I enter the Dining Hall someone tells me where not to sit (balcony or right side). I could understand if they were cleaning the tables but no one does any work while I'm there.

Speaking of the Dining Hall, why can't we have new IDs every year? Haven't they figured out yet that we destroy them and get new ones once a year anyway?

The Library is the ugliest building I have ever seen— it's striped, it has no windows, and it matches nothing else on campus.

Last but not least— Governor Wilder speaking at graduation. Who could be so stupid? They have asked the man who cut the education budget to speak at one of the best education schools in the state. I have not talked to anyone who is happy about him being here for our graduation. This angers me more than I can express on this piece of paper. After four years and $20,000 I deserve better.

All I can say is I'm glad I'm graduating. I love Longwood, but I can't bear to watch what is happening here. And no one seems to care.

If the school keeps operating in this fashion, I won't be sending my money to the alumnae association.

A Concerned Senior

Give Farmville A Try!?!

By CHRIS JONES

This being my first article for the Rotunda, I thought it might be interesting to explore an issue of concern to many students: What is there to do in Farmville? I have heard students griping and complaining about this problem — myself included — and I thought it might be helpful if I provided a list of ideas which some of my friends and I have discovered.

First of all, I will tackle the subject of where to go. People often want to go someplace off campus, but they do not know enough about Farmville to know where. They have not taken the time to explore the town, or they do not think it would be worth their while. This is where they are wrong. I know this because I felt the same way, until one day a few friends and I went out to see the town of Farmville.

A very nice place to eat is Macado's, right near Popes off Main Street. Macado's is a great sandwich shop, which has a friendly, comfortable atmosphere. You can sit either outside or inside, and service is quick and efficient.

Pino's behind the high rises, is a nice pizza place with reasonable prices and good food. Service there is also quick and efficient.

R.J.'s, out in the shopping center where Roses is located, I have heard is also a fun place to go, with deli-style food and courteous, friendly service.

These are just a few places in Farmville which I have discovered and enjoyed. If you ever grow tired of dining hall food, or you simply want to go out somewhere, the restaurants above are good choices.

Now, as far as activities are concerned, I have compiled a small list:

a. Join Woody's Video Village on Main Street. Membership is free and movies cost only $2.61 per night. That is the same price as the Nintendo games that are rented out. One can also rent out Nintendo machines for about $5 for 2 nights.

b. Go to the flea market. The flea market is a large, metal building on Main Street, down past the railroad tracks. If you are not interested in second-hand things or antiques, this place is probably not for you. But if you are interested, they sell all kinds of neat old things. It's worth the trip.

c. Go to Twin Lakes. Twin Lakes is a state-operated park with a beautiful man-made lake and beach, and picnic tables where you can sit and eat. There are also a volleyball court and hiking trails there. The cost to get in is approximately $1.50, and it is half an hour away.

These are only a few suggestions. All of these places are fun places to go, and certainly beat sitting in your room moping around. There are things to do in Farmville; it is only a matter of getting up and taking the trouble to look.

A Question Of Security

By BARBARA LEE ZWIRNBAUM

8:30 a.m., Monday morning, after a long nights drive you get to sleep in ... BANG-BANG ... Brrrrrr-Brrrrrr ... What is that noise? It's your new security system! It hasn't been finished and, yet, it's still a part of your daily life here at Longwood. Is it worth it? We don't have very much problem — given we are no VCU, but safety is an important factor in our daily lives. This past week there was a "scam" in some of the residence halls. None of the occupants lost out on their money, but it could have meant hundreds of dollars. When the new security system is activated it will filter incoming persons, so that this will not happen again. It will be aggravating at first; there will only be one door in use and visitors will have to be cleared the front desk. It will be done by Thanksgiving and information will be handed out then. Once we do have this system it will depend on us, the students. We must not prop open the doors. If you want to prop doors, please leave a sign with your room number and directions. Besides, when the doors are closed, the building keeps the temperature. In this student's opinion, it's more than worth the noise, because that will go, and my possessions will stay!

*Thanks to Pam Lea and David Reddig.

The ROTUNDA

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
Monica Y. Gilbert

Photography Editor
Judi Weller

Sports Editor
Charlie Fultz

Business Manager
Anita Owens

Advertising Manager
Bradley Owen

Layout Editor
Sarah Whiteside

News Editor
Beth A. Lord

Faculty Advisor
Barbara LaJaunie

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be signed and typed or printed neatly. The Editor and staff reserve the right to edit any material submitted for publication.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles is 3:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Monday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College. The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 395-2120.

NEWS

War On Rape Starts On Campus

As 12 million college students start back to classes this week, the Rape Treatment Center at Santa Monica Hospital Medical Center has asked college students and administrators to join them in the fight against the campus rape epidemic by supporting the first comprehensive national campaign against campus sexual assault.

At a press conference yesterday, "L.A. Law" television series stars Susan Dey and Corbin Bernsen joined Rape Treatment Center Director Gail Abarbanel to announce the national program which includes a new 20-minute film about campus sexual assault. The film titled, "Campus Rape," is hosted by Dey and Bernsen and has already been distributed by the Center to more than half the universities in the country. The Center encourages college administrators to adopt the film as part of orientation programs for all incoming students. The film was recently endorsed by the National Interfraternity Conference, which distributed copies to its members.

"The goal of the campaign and the film is to reduce the epidemic number of campus sexual assaults," stated Abarbanel. "Recent studies indicate that each year, one in every six college women is a victim of rape or attempted rape and one in every 15 college men admit to committing sexual assault."

In addition to the film, which contains important information about rape and prevention strategies, campaign materials include powerful ads and posters for colleges to adopt, and proposals for state legislation requiring colleges to implement written procedures for handling sexual assault cases and mandatory rape prevention programs for freshmen.

"Students must understand that rape is not sex; it's an act of violence with devastating consequences," stated actress Dey, who thinks the film is a valuable resource in educating students by exploring campus rape and its impact through interviews with four college women actually assaulted on college campuses. "I hope our film will help reverse the alarming campus rape statistics."

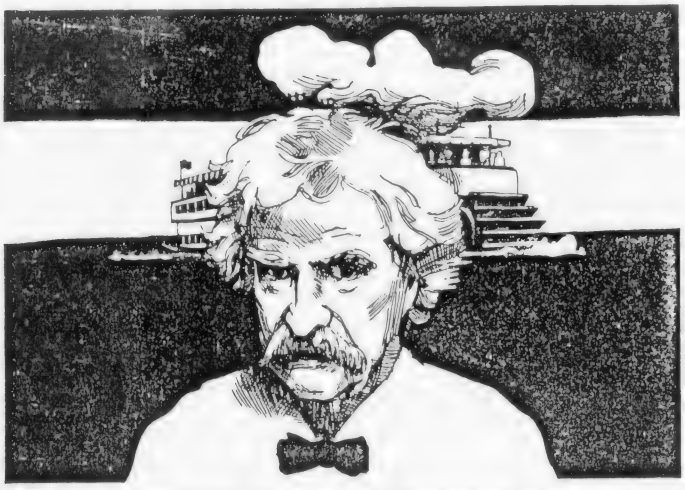
Actor Bernsen cited his support for the campaign, commenting, "Men must take a strong stand against rape. The campaign gives college men an opportunity to become part of the solution, rather than part of the problem."

"College students are more vulnerable to rape than any other age group," said Abarbanel. "To compound the problem, studies have shown that more than 90 percent of campus rapes go unreported. Our campaign provides colleges with effective materials and programs to end rape on campus."

"College administrators and student groups have to work together to solve the problem of campus sexual assaults," said Jonathan Brant, executive vice president of the National Interfraternity Conference. "We strongly endorse the campaign and have distributed the film to our members nationwide to initiate student support of this effort."

To specifically address college administrators, the Rape Treatment Center mailed its booklet, "Sexual Assault on Campus: What Colleges Can Do," to every college president. The booklet urges adoption of a 10-point rape prevention program model which includes mandatory educational programs about rape, increased disciplinary hearings for offenders and comprehensive programs for assisting victims.

The Rape Treatment Center has also been a pioneering force in initiating tougher sexual assault legislation. As part of its national campaign, the Center has called upon governors nationwide to support legislation requiring colleges to have a written procedure for handling sexual assault cases, similar to a new California law supported by the Center. The Center is also encouraging the states to require that colleges provide rape prevention information during freshmen orientation, as New York state recently did.



Abarbanel also commended the many talented members of the entertainment industry who contributed their time and made the film and ads possible. "Campus Rape" was written by Emmy award winners Allan Burns and Seth Freedman. Compact Video donated film duplication services. The public service ads and posters were contributed by the prestigious advertising agency Dailey and Associates.

Abarbanel said, "The campaign's recommendations are inexpensive, yet effective. They will help reduce the incidence of rape on campus and ensure that victims are not revictimized by an insensitive system."

The Rape Treatment Center (RTC) at Santa Monica Hospital Medical Center was founded in 1974. It is nationally recognized for its model treatment, prevention and education programs. Services include expert, free treatment

(Continued on page 3)

An American Tradition
KEN RICHTERS as MARK TWAIN

"A COMEDY TRIUMPH!"
THE LONDON TIMES

"HE BRINGS AMERICA'S MOST CELEBRATED HUMORIST OUT OF THE PAGES OF BOOKS AND INTO THE FLESH ONCE MORE."
NBC TODAY SHOW

"MARK TWAIN IS WITHOUT QUESTION ALIVE AND WELL, AND TRAVELING THE WORLD WITH KEN RICHTERS."
LOS ANGELES TIMES

OCTOBER 16, 1990
JARMAN AUDITORIUM
8:00 PM
Sponsored by: Longwood Series of the Performing Arts
TICKETS STILL AVAILABLE IN THE STUDENT UNION!

Press Release

Over a $100 million in scholarship funds went unclaimed last year because students and parents did not know how to tap into these resources.

A National Company, using computer matching is now making this possible.

Scholarship Research Group has more than 200,000 sources of aid representing $14 billion in financial aid.

Virtually all families, regardless of income, can qualify for scholarships and other forms of financial aid. Although grades count in some areas, many grants and awards do not consider a student's GPA when awarding funding.

Using the information supplied by a student, SRG will send a printout listing the awards that match the student's qualifications and needs. The printout will list the name of the award, its value, whether it is renewable, address of the provider, and why the student was matched to this source.

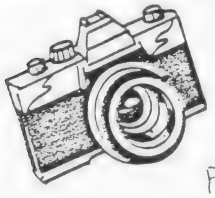
For information write Scholarship Research Group, 3220 "N" Street, NW, Executive Suite 318, Washington, DC, 20007. Or call toll-free at 1-800-334-3881.

FEATURES

Artist of the Month

Courtesy of Public Affairs

Jerri Kelley, of Chester, is October's Artist of the Month at Longwood College.



Her winning work is an oil manipulation painting entitled "The Thing I've Chosen to Be." Ms. Kelley received a $50 cash award, and her painting is on display in the Bedford Building.

In her work, Ms. Kelley says she tries "to create a sense of drama, an experience similar to the visual art of film. There doesn't necessarily need to be a story behind the piece, but an emotion that offers an added dimension to the visual effect."

Ms. Kelley is a junior art education major. She hopes to receive her B.A. degree and teaching certification in 1992.

Greg Staton won second place in the art competition, and a $15 award, for an oil and graphite work entitled "Two Days Older Than Dirt." Diane McCormick and Julie Walther tied for third place; each received a $10 award.

This month's Artist of the Month competition was sponsored by Crute's Office Supply of Farmville. Members of Longwood's art faculty selected the winner.

OOpps! Our OKtoberfest Photos did not come out. We are Sorry!

Rape

(Continued from page 4)

mental health personnel; prevention education programs that reach 20,000 teenagers each year; consultation to news media, television and film production companies; and expert testimony in court proceedings and at legislative hearings.

for sexual assault victims and their families; training for police, prosecutors, medical and

For more information regarding the "Campus Rape" film, contact The Rape Treatment Center at Santa Monica Hospital, 1250 16th Street, Santa Monica, Calif., 90404.

L & D ANTIQUES

Collectables, Dolls, And More...

7 Miles West Of Farmville
On Rt. 460
At S.R. 695
TUGGLE ROAD

Kelly Dobbins:

A Longwood Freshman's Perspective

By GLENN HARRINGTON

Unlike in high school, being called a freshman at Longwood is not a taboo labeling.

Here, the attitude of being a freshman seems to be looked upon as merely having four more years of school and four more years of new experiences.

Kelly Dobbins, a small, tanned, and shy freshman who hails from Lynchburg, agrees with that opinion.

Kelly graduated 65 out of a class of 300 students from Heritage High School in Lynchburg.

In addition to her regular classwork, she participated in flag corps, track, softball, Varsity Club, Pioneers Against Substance Abuse, National Honors Society, Future Homemakers of America, History Club, Key Club, Spanish Club, and even as editor of the school newspaper. Kelly says she enjoyed her involvement in high school and she was never bored!

However much Kelly says she misses her friends back home and in high school, she also looks toward her future here at Longwood. She is at present a psychology major with hopes of eventually becoming an elementary education major.

"I'm really interested in psychology because it helps you understand and identify with people, and I'd like to have that understanding to help teach kids," she says thoughtfully, "It deals with people."

When asked why she chose Longwood over other colleges, Kelly responded that it was Longwood's close, personal atmosphere, and was "close enough to home without being too close."

The biggest changes Kelly has had to adjust to in her college life has been making new friends, living without her parents, modifying her schedule to fit in time to study, and most of all living and learning to share a confined room with two others. Although Kelly and her roommates get along very well and have many things in common (such as enjoying the same music, burnt food, boxer shorts, and the smell of Drakkar cologne), Kelly was an only child and is not used to sharing a small room with others and waiting to take showers.

"My roommates and suitemates and I kept fighting over times to take showers, so finally we got together and made a schedule and worked things out," Kelly explains.

When speaking of Longwood's campus in general, she states that she "likes it".

"I like the fact that all of my classes are within walking distance, and that they are in classic-like buildings, she says.

"Also the professors are pretty nice and seem very helpful."

"I don't like the Wynne building," she commented. It's too far away and doesn't look like it belongs (to the rest of the campus)."

"I would also rather have two people to a room rather than three. It's so crammed, and I hate fire alarms at three in the morning."

Kelly is currently involved in intramural bowling, attending church, and women's rugby. She says she doesn't plan to join a sorority at present, but may in the future.

"Right now, I just want to concentrate on my schoolwork and get used to being out on my own," Kelly asserts.

Kelly plans on graduating from Longwood, and said that gives her plenty of time to decide what she wants to do.

"It's already hard to find time to eat," Kelly concludes.

'THAT'S WHAT FRIENDS ARE FOR..."

Longwood College Alcohol Awareness Week
October 15-18, 1990

Monday	October 15
11:45 a.m.-	New Smoker/	Information Table sponsored by Peer Helpers. Stop by for facts and
12:45 p.m.	Dining Hall	materials to increase your knowledge of Alcohol Use and Abuse. VIDEO: "Eddie Talks"
6:30 p.m.-	Frazer Hall	Join members of the Longwood community in a "Walk for Alcohol Awareness." Prizes will be
7:45 p.m.		awarded to the first 100 participants. Sponsors: Frazer Hall council & Harris-Teeter
8:00 p.m.-	Curry/Frazer	"Is That REALLY What Friends Are For?" Ms. Barbara Agee, Dir. of Student Health Ser., will
9:00 p.m.	Commons Room	speak on Enabling Behaviors. Learn the difference between being a friend & being an enabler.
Tuesday	October 16
11:45 a.m.-	New Smoker/	Information Table sponsored by Peer Helpers. Stop by for facts and materials to
12:45 p.m.	Dining Hall	increase your knowledge of Alcohol Use and Abuse. VIDEO: "Good Times at U.Va.".
3:00 p.m.-	Gold Room,	ROCKY IS APPEARING!!! Discuss "Alcohol and Alcoholism: A Contemporary Issue!"
4:00 p.m.	Lankford	with Rocky Capanigro, former Alcohol & Drug Enforcement Officer.
7:00 p.m.-	Lobby, Jarman	Community Information sponsored by Longwood Ambassadors & V.I.E.W. Prior
8:00 p.m.	Auditorium	to performance of Mark Twain on Tour.
Wednesday	October 17
11:45 p.m.	New Smoker/	Information Table sponsored by Peer Helpers. Stop by for facts and
12:45 p.m.	Dining Hall	materials to increase your knowledge of Alcohol Use and Abuse. VIDEO: "Your Alcohol I.Q.".
1:30 p.m.-	Gold Room,	"Dangers of Drinking & Driving", Mike Carberry, Marine Corps Liaison to the Office of the
2:30 p.m.	Lankford	Secretary of the Navy. Sponsors: Alpha Chi Rho Fraternity & Student Union Board.
7:00 p.m.-	Gold Room,	"Mocktail challenge". Contest for student groups and organizations for alcohol free speciality
8:00 p.m.	Lankford	beverages. $25 prize for "Best Tasting" & "Most Easily Replicated". Sponsor: Panhellenic
8:00 p.m.-	Gold Room,	"Longwood Report: Results of the Va. Alcohol & Drug Survey administered to LC students in
9:00 p.m.	Lankford	Spring of 1990". Learn about what alcohol use is REALLY like at Longwood.
Thursday	October 18
11:45 a.m.-	New Smoker/	Information Table sponsored by Peer Helpers. Stop by for facts and materials to increase
12:45 p.m.	Dining Hall	your knowledge of Alcohol Use and Abuse. VIDEO: "Drinking & Driving: The Toll, The Tears".
12:30 p.m.-	Lancer Cafe/	Brown Bag Luncheon: "Recognizing Substance Abuse Problems in the Classroom" Dr.
1:45 p.m.	Lankford	Francis Moore, & Ms. Pam Higgins will present an information session for faculty & staff.
8:00 p.m.-	Lancer Cafe/	Movie: Less Than Zero, starring: Andrew McCarthy & Robert Downey, Jr. Alcohol & drug
10:00 p.m.	Lankford	abuse are the problems faced by affluent youth in the gripping drama based on Bret Easton Ellis' novel. FREE POPCORN!! Sponsored by: Student Union Board & A.R.A. Dining Services.

SPECIAL NOTES:
In Celebration of Alcohol Awareness Week, Lancer Cafe will be alcohol free during Oct. 15-18, 1990.
Display: Library Mall, daily during Alcohol Week: automobile wrecked in local traffic accident in the Spring of 1990. There was one fatality and some students were injured in this incident. Sponsored by: Campus Police & Farmville Iron & Metal.

PERSONALS

Skipper — First few weeks were rough for both of us! How many more times are "things" coming down before end of the semester? Hopefully no more! Good luck and thanxs for everything. — Beany

Amyee Curlee — Your heart out shines all others.

Ellen Brown — Nice job on the show! — Jeff

10th Floor Curry — Have an awesome fall break! Don't do anything I would do, which gives you a lot of lead way! — Kime

To My "African Queen" Sisters: — We finally got it together, now let's show everyone we mean business. — Love Zenobia

To: Troop, Troop 2, Troop 5 Ladies — Do we really have our men where we want them? I don't think so! Will we ever get them the way we want them? H— Yes! — I love you all Troop 3

To Alpha Gam Pledges — You guys are Awesome! We love you! — The Sisters

Dave "The Stripper" G. — I'm back!! Watch out for those tours! They can very embarrassing. Good luck this year. — Guess who?

Carolyn Strobel was mistakingly omitted from the byline on last week's Oktoberfest story. She contributed to that article.

Squid — Knock yourself out, why don't cha!? Good work!! — CINCCX

Deanna — You are a beautiful child! — Love, Mom

Laura Marks — 1 year is approaching us. Each month has been fantastic and special for me. May the next 12 be that special. I love you and always will!! — Charlie

CATALINAS — Congratulations on the show!! — Jeff

To the guys who get blamed for everything... — You think that only you get blamed, and that's not true. I hope we can have a fun year, and get to know each other better. — Your RA

Becca Ledford — Want to hot tub? — Mr. U.

Monica — You have made the last year of my life so wonderful. I owe so much to you — thank you. I love you forever.
P.S. Please Hurry, March 21, 1992. — Danny

6th Floor Frazer — Welcome Back. We've started the year off great, and I'm looking forward to a fun year. Keep up the good work and stop by sometime. — Love your R.A.

Curry 5th — Have a killer fall break. — Unicycle Man

Vicki is a LOSER! Brian is a BIG LOSER!

Blue Moon, — Sleep? What is sleep? One of these days you'll get enough of it. Look on the bright side; the grades will be a lot better this semester. I can't wait until Myrtle Beach. Friends forever. — Skeeter

Alethea Perkins — Your name is in the paper now, so are you reading it? — Your Lead. Conf. Buddy

South Ruffner — You girls are great — Nancy and Cool Kel

Boone and Pokey — What a semester, so far! The song "Lean On Me" has come in handy for all of us. Just hope our ghost leaves, SOON! 8 more interesting weeks left! Good luck. — Beany and Skipper

Bubba Fat — I love you!

Homie Polly — You're doing a great job. Keep it up!

Hey Roomie! — Good luck with The Virginian. Keep on smiling and don't stress. — Luv Sunshine!

Sigma Kappa's -- put on those #3's!! Our mixer was awesome! Here comes Pumpkin Patch! — Luv Sunshine!

HERE'S WHY THE SMART MONEY AT LONGWOOD COLLEGE IS GOING WITH TIAA-CREF AS IF THE FUTURE DEPENDED ON IT.

Because it does. Smart investors know that your future depends on how well your retirement system performs. TIAA-CREF has been the premier retirement system for people in education and research for over 70 years. We have enabled over 200,000 people like you to enjoy a comfortable retirement. And over 1,000,000 more are now planning for the future with TIAA-CREF.

SMART MONEY LOOKS FOR SECURITY, GROWTH AND DIVERSITY FOR RETIREMENT SAVINGS.

Security—so the resources are there when it is time to retire. Growth—so you'll have enough income for the kind of retirement you want. And diversity—to help protect you against market volatility and to let you benefit from several types of investments.

THAT'S EXACTLY WHAT YOU GET WITH TIAA-CREF.

TIAA offers you the safety of a traditional annuity that guarantees your principal plus a specified rate of interest, and provides for additional growth through dividends. CREF's variable annuity offers opportunities for growth through four different investment accounts, each managed with the long-term perspective essential to sound retirement planning:

The CREF Stock Account
The CREF Money Market Account
The CREF Bond Market Account*
The CREF Social Choice Account*

CALL 1-800-842-2776 TO FIND OUT MORE

Our experienced retirement counselors will be happy to answer your questions and tell you more about retirement annuities from TIAA-CREF.

Experience. Performance. Strength. Your future is protected by the largest private retirement system in the world. We have done so well, for so many, for so long, that we currently manage some $85 billion in assets.

TIAA CREF

Ensuring the future for those who shape it.℠

* The CREF Bond Market and Social Choice Accounts may not be available under all institutional retirement plans, but are available for all Supplemental Retirement Annuity plans.

For more complete information, including charges and expenses, call 1 800 842-2733, ext 5509 for a prospectus. Read the prospectus carefully before you invest or send money.

FEATURES

ROTC Summer Adventures

By LIZ RUSSELL

During the summer Juliet Taylor and William Johnson attended Basic Camp, an introduction to the army, at Ft. Knox, Kentucky. On a typical day during the week, cadets were up at 5 o'clock in the morning for Physical Training (PT). They were exposed to a full training day with lights out every night at 10 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays were their only days off. Juliet described her experience at Basic Camp: "It was an excellent experience. I learned how to keep calm under a lot of stress and I liked the unity within my platoon."

At Basic Camp the cadets were taught land navigation, patrolling, use of the radio, Nuclear Biological Chemical Warfare otherwise known as the gas chamber, and marksmanship.

During the six weeks that the cadets were at Advanced Camp they worked on leadership development. The cadets were put in leadership positions where they were confronted with different tasks and situations to evaluate their leadership ability and potential. Cadets also attended demonstrations to see what the different branches of the army are like. They were taught to shape a group into a team through motivation. At Advanced Camp, they learned to excel tactically and be technically proficient.

I talked to two cadets about Advanced Camp and they expressed their views. Eric Haupt stated, "Advanced Camp was very challenging. You were thrown together with other individuals that you didn't know. Teamwork was the key of getting the entire group to cooperate. This determined whether the entire team would graduate."

Scott Prickett explained, "Advanced Camp was challenging and stressful, but it is a good educational and leadership experience."

This summer was an exciting time for Mark Veno, James Herzog, Eric Haupt, Matthew Fletcher, David Stewart, Shawn Morris, and William English because they were selected to attend Airborne School at Ft. Benning, Georgia. Airborne school is a three week course that teaches the American soldier basic parachute skills needed to jump out of an airplane.

The first week was called Ground Week. The cadets were taught how to land to avoid injury and became familiar with the parachute equipment. The second week was known as Tower Week. During this week,, the cadets used parachute harnesses to practice their landings on increasingly difficult apparatuses which culminated with being dropped with a parachute from a 250 foot high tower. The last week, Jump Week, put all of the previous training together as the cadets made five parachute jumps from an army aircraft.

James Herzog stated, "The instructors were excellent. Airborne School teaches you confidence and good discipline." Mark Veno also expressed his views: "I overcame my personal fears and I felt that I had accomplished strenuous training. I encourage anyone who is in military science to attend Airborne School to broaden their military horizons.

Intramural Update

Winners of Tournaments

Flag Football - Men - Phoenix and Mystic Flyers

Flag Football - Women - Rug Rats and Sigma Kappa

Bowling - Women - Zeta

2-on-2 Volleyball - Bono and Bates - Men

Campo and Alford - Women

Arm Wrestling - Mac Gately, Steve Huchin, Chris Burnes Lynn Graves

3-on-3 Basketball - Men Dulfas and Beap

Upcoming

Activities

During The Week

Billiards (Men and Women) - entry due Oct. 29

Volleyball (Men) - entry due Nov. 7

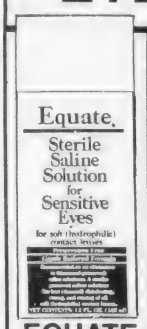
Indoor Soccer (Women) - entry due Nov. 13

Swim Relays (Men and Women) - entry due Nov. 19

Weekends

Coed Team Handball - entry due Oct. 25

Racquetball (Men and Women) - entry due Nov.1



Basketball (Men and Women) - entry due Nov. 15

When you party remember to...
PARTY Smart

Wal-Mart Pharmacy

PAYING TOO MUCH FOR CONTACT LENS AND EYECARE PRODUCTS?

EQUATE SPRAY $2.48

LENS PLUS $3.67

EQUATE SALINE $1.27

OPTI FREE $5.86

AOSEPT $5.67

VISINE $2.68

PLIAGEL $4.17

SENSITIVE EYES $2.08

ULTRAZYME $6.84

1504 S. MAIN ST., FARMVILLE, VA.
PHONE 392-1639 (PHARMACY ONLY)
PHARMACY HOURS: MONDAY-SATURDAY 9 AM TO 7 PM

SPORTS

Lancer Golfers Finish Ninth In Rhododendron Classic

By MARK KIRK

Rain combined with a quality field of colleges played a major role in the Longwood men's golf team's ninth place finish in the fifteen team Rhododendron Classic in Beckley, West Virginia last Sunday and Monday.

Marshall University won the tournament, which encountered rain on the second day, by shooting 385-373-758. Fairmont State placed second with scores of 397-383-780, and Longwood ended in ninth with a 425-404-829.

The team scores were compiled differently from most tournaments in that five scores were used for each team instead of the usual four.

Senior Darrell Nichols captured team medalist honors for Longwood, shooting 83-76-159. Other scores for the Lancers were turned in by freshman Shawn Moore, 89-78-167, sophomore John Benton, 82-85-167, sophomore Franke Davide, 88-81-169, freshman Joe Stanley, 85-84-169, and sophomore Steve Crute, 87-86-173.

"The rain on the second day softened the greens up, and we played much better," said Longwood coach Steve Nelson. "I was pleased with Monday's play, but not Sunday."

Longwood returns to action Saturday for its final match of the season, and first home match, when it takes part in the Dick Williamson Alumni Match.

TEAM SCORES: Marshall, 385-373-758; Fairmont State, 397-383-780; UNC-Greensboro, 390-391-781; Charleston, 398-387-785; Radford, 396-391-787; Cumberland, 399-399-798; Concord, 394-417-811; Transylvania, 420-407-827; Longwood, 425-404-829; Glenville State, 423-413-836; Shawnee, 421-420-841; West Virginia Wesleyan, 423-422-845; West Liberty, 449-425-874; Bluefield State, 434-448-882; Wheeling, 475-472-947.

Field Hockey Team Drops Tough 2-0 Decision To Radford

By CHARLEY JACOBS

The Longwood field hockey team traveled to Radford University last Wednesday, dropping a difficult game to the Division I opponent 2-0. The loss, the team's seventh in a row, brings the Lady Lancers' record to 1-8-1 for the season.

The contest, which was played on a rain soaked field under threatening skies, was evenly matched through most of the first half. Longwood's forwards contained the ball in the Radford half of the field during the opening minutes of the game, but could only manage one shot on goal.

With ten minutes remaining in the first period the Lady Highlanders cleared the ball, pushing the ball behind the Longwood defense. The breakaway resulted in the first of their two goals.

"The first half was pretty even, commented head coach Sandy Bridgeman. "We were pressing offensively, but again we didn't finish. Our offense seemed to come in flurries."

Radford dominated the second half, pushing the ball deep inside Longwood's side of play for most of the period. The Lady Highlanders second goal came during circle play midway through the half. Despite a late charge by Longwood that resulted in three additional shots on goal, the Lady Lancers failed to score a point for the third straight game.

In action this week the Lady Lancers travel to Lynchburg College on Wednesday for a game scheduled at 3:30.

Ed. Note

My apologies to the Longwood Baseball Team on not running the story of their winning the Va. Tech Tourney. I didn't receive the article until after press time. Congratulations on your victories, and once again please accept my apologies. — C.F.

Nils McCarty

Soccer Team Finishes Week At 9-4

Despite a 2-1 loss at Averett last Friday, Longwood's men's soccer team has clinched a berth in the Virginia Intercollegiate Soccer Association Playoffs. The Lancers, 3-1 in the Eastern Division, will host the No. 2 team from the Western Division in the first round of the playoffs Nov. 7. Mary Washington, the No. 2 team in the Eastern, will visit the Western champ, in the other first round tilt.

Longwood, with VISA titles in 1982, 1984 and 1986, reached the VISA finals in 1988, but did not make the playoffs last season.

Coming off a 1-1 week, Longwood, 9-4, hosts Marymount Tuesday at 3:30 in its only action until Oct. 27 when nationally ranked Division III Methodist visits. The Lancers, who have played the last three games without their top two scorers, can use the time for injuries to heal.

Longwood beat Hampden-Sydney Wednesday 2-0 behind goals from Seth Johnson and Byron Edwards. Nils McCarty had an assist on Johnson's goal.

Friday at Averett, Mike Amato kicked in a goal off a set play as Mitch Rubin picked up the assist. Amato's goal, the first of his career at LC, came with 34:35 left in the second half and tied the game 1-1. The Cougars got the game-winner with 12:05 left.

"We played fairly well," said coach Stan Cieplinski. "We got off 16 shots, many from inside the box, but Averett has an outstanding goalkeeper. We just couldn't get the ball past him."

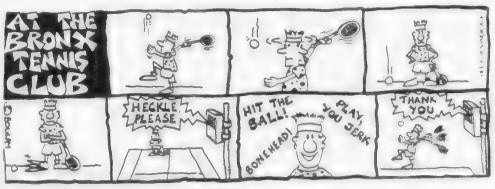
*WORLD SERIES PREDICTION — Oakland in Six and Rickey Henderson World Series MVP — Sports Ed.

Lady Golfers Finish 11th in Rain Shortened "Lady Kat" Invitational

Closing out its fall season, Longwood's women's golf team shot 336-327-663 to place 11th out of 15 teams in the rain-shortened University of Kentucky "Lady Kat" Invitational Thursday through Saturday in Lexington, Ky.

The tournament, originally scheduled for 54 holes, was shortened to 36 when rain canceled Friday's second round. Final standings were based on team scores from Thursday and Saturday.

Kentucky easily won the event, held at the par-74 Spring Lake Country Club Course, shooting 305-303-608 to beat second place Alabama (328-305-627) by 19 strokes. Lady Kat Tonya Gill had a 76-72-148 to take the individual title.



Longwood had an up-and-down showing as various players turned in solid rounds. Junior Ami Schonauer was tied for fifth after the first day with a 77, but had a rough time on the back nine Saturday for a second round 87, a 164 total and a tie for 31st place.

"Ami shot 39-48-87 Saturday," said Lady Lancer coach Barbara Smith. "She had three bad holes in a row on the back nine. She recovered on the final holes."

The rest of the team got off to a slow start Thursday, but came back to improve Saturday. Heather Hartwick carded an 85-79-164 to tie Schonauer for team honors. Jo Lefson had an 84-84-168 (tie for 48th), Anna Radford 90-82-172 (tie for 64th) and Sherry Evans 93-82-175 (tie for 69th). Donna Martin, playing as an individual, shot 89-76-165 to tie for 38th place.

Longwood won't resume play until the spring.

Kentucky 608, Alabama 627, Memphis State 629, North Carolina 632, Illinois 633, Mississippi State 648, Mississippi 650, Wake Forest 651, Longwood 663, Western Kentucky 668, Southern Illinois 674, Rollins 684, Vanderbilt 693.

LONGWOOD COLLEGE BOOKSTORE
Hours: Mon.-Fri. 8-5
Phone 395-2084

20% OFF ALL SHORTS

- Boxers
- Plaid Flannels
- Gym Shorts
- Casual
- Many Others

Sale good thru Oct. 19, 1990

CLASSIFIEDS

Short Notice

Deadline for signing up for the Monthly Payment Plan for the spring semester, 1991 is October 20, 1990. Applications can be obtained from Fran Wilmoth in the Treasurer's office between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Many students and parents have found paying school expenses on a monthly basis an attractive alternative. The plan is available to any full time student. Should you have questions about the plan, contact Fran Wilmoth at 395-2272.

To all organizations — The Rotunda wants you! If you have something of importance that you wish to have published, send it to the Rotunda Box 1133. The deadlines are Fridays in order to make the next issue.

Attention — Back to the Future III will be playing in the R/W/G rooms Tuesday night at 9 p.m. — SUN

WLCX 90.1 FM — There will be a general interest meeting in Jeffers Auditorium on Wed. 10/17 at 6:30.

Playboy is sponsoring a fiction contest for college students. First prize is $3,000 and publication of your story in the October 1991 Playboy. In order to enter, you must submit an original, unpublished story. Maximum length: 25 typed pages (double spaced). The contest is open to all college students, regardless of age and the deadline is January 1, 1991. Send manuscripts and a 3"x5" card with your name, address, telephone number, and college affiliation to: Playboy, College Fiction Contest, 680 N. Lake Shore Drive, Chicago, IL 60611.

If you have any campus activity announcements, send them to the Student Union — c/o Upcoming Events.

CHI IS WATCHING YOU!!
CHI '91

HELP WANTED

"Campus Representatives needed" — Earn free trip and big commissions by selling vacation packages to Cancun, Mexico, Nassau/Paradise Island, Bahamas & Jamaica. For more information call toll free in or outside Connecticut at 800-283-8767.

EARN $25,000 and FREE Spring Break trips to Bahamas, Jamica as part-time campus rep. for Spring Break Travel. 1-800-638-6786.

FREE SPRING BREAK TRIPS — to students or student organizations promoting our Spring Break Packages. Good Pay & Fun. Call CMI. 1-800-423-5264

20% OFF

Clearance SALE

EXCLUDES DAVID WINTER- PRECIOUS MOMENTS COLLECTIBLES AND GREETING CARDS.

WE ARE MAKING ROOM FOR OUR CHRISTMAS MERCHANDISE

COME IN AND BROWSE OUR GREAT GIFT SELECTION
"WE CARRY HELIUM-BALLOONS"

Carol's

CARDS & GIFTS - 392-9686
College Plaza Shopping Center
We Carry Farmville, Virginia
A FULL LINE OF GREETING CARDS

Last year we made over 14,000 students Wall Street Tycoons in the...

AT&T
Collegiate Investment Challenge™

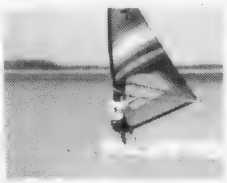
November 1, 1990 to February 28, 1991



Enter this year's competition and you'll become a Wall Street tycoon, buying and selling stocks with your own $500,000 brokerage account. If you're the best trader at the end of this national stock market competition, you'll be cashing a check for a very real $25,000!

Real Trading

There is no better way to get hands-on stock market experience. You're on the phone, calling your broker on a toll-free AT&T 800 Service line to buy and sell stocks. "Give me $100,000 worth of SARA LEE and another $50,000 worth of AT&T." You start with a fictitious $500,000 brokerage account.

Cash Scholarship Awards

1st	$25,000
2nd	10,000
3rd	7,500
4th	5,000
5th	4,000
6th	3,000
7th	2,500
8th	2,000
9th	1,500
10th	1,000

Win a trip for you and a guest compliments of the Holiday Inn Lucaya Beach Resort in Freeport, Grand Bahama, Bahamas and the Bahamas Ministry of Tourism.

Build your portfolio from over 5,000 stocks listed on the OTC, New York, and American Stock Exchanges. Brokers will give you up-to-the-second quotes and execute your orders. Monthly statements will keep you informed of your fortunes.

Real Prizes

Over $200,000 in total prizes will be awarded! This includes cash scholarship awards, trips to the Bahamas, and hundreds of monthly prizes from Champion USA. More than 1,000 winners in all. You can win a cash scholarship award of $25,000. Imagine cashing that check! Top winners receive weekly national recognition from USA TODAY. You can follow the current standings of the AT&T Collegiate Investment Challenge every Monday during the competition in the "MONEY" section of USA TODAY.

Enter and Win

The Third Annual AT&T Collegiate Investment Challenge begins the morning of November 1, 1990 and ends on February 28, 1991. Your trading can lead to fame, a great Bahamas tan, and a $25,000 fortune. Call now to enter or to get your free brochure.

Registration deadline: October 27, 1990.

Entry fee only
$49.95

Co-sponsored by:

USA TODAY · The Bahamas Ministry of Tourism · Champion U.S.A.

Call Today
1 800 545-1990 Ext. 33

The AT&T Collegiate Investment Challenge is produced and managed by Wall Street Games, Inc., 40 Grove Street, Wellesley, MA 02181

The ROTUNDA

LONGWOOD COLLEGE

Vol. 70, No. 3 | October 29, 1990 | Farmville, VA

Washington Looks For Villain In Student Loan Program

Courtesy of College Press Service

By AMY HUDSON

The nation's student loan program is near collapse, many colleges are on the fiscal ropes and students' costs are rising faster than almost anyone else's.

But, for the first time in 10 years, the U.S. Dept. of Education, which administers most federal college programs, has admitted it might have something to do with it all.

In what some consider to be some sort of milestone, U.S. Education Secretary Lauro Cavazos admitted earlier this month that his department may be partly to blame for the accumulated problems of the federal student loan program.

"We have failed many times as a department, but I really feel during our watch we have addressed the issue," Cavazos told the permanent subcommittee on investigations of the Senate Governmental Affairs Committee Oct. 11.

The secretary's remarks came at the final hearing in the subcommittee's year-long investigation of student loan programs. The findings will be used to recommend changes in the financial aid program.

"The secretary is to be congratulated for facing up to facts," said Charles Saunders of the American Council on Education. "But the question is, what are they going to do about it?"

The entire student loan system almost collapsed this summer when the nation's largest student loan guarantor, a Kansas-based agency called the Higher Education Assistance Foundation (HEAF), ran out of money trying to pay for student defaults.

In early October, the Student Loan Marketing Association — often called Sallie Mae — assumed most of HEAF's troubled loans.

But in mid-October, the Federal Bureau of Investigation revealed it is investigating Sallie Mae for possibly fraudulently trying to make itself look financially stronger than it actually is.

"Unfortunately, through all these hearings, we did not hear of even a single major component of the guaranteed student loan program that is working efficiently or effectively," said Sen. Sam Nunn (D-Ga.), the subcommittee's chairman.

All parties agree the student aid system's biggest problem is that so many college loans are not being repaid.

Last year, the government gave $2.4 billion to banks to cover loans that students failed to repay. Ordinarily, the money would have gone to students to help pay tuition.

Observers, however, disagree about who's to blame for the high default rate.

Some blame unscrupulous trade schools that, to help students pay them, simply secure federal loans for students regardless of the students' ability to repay.

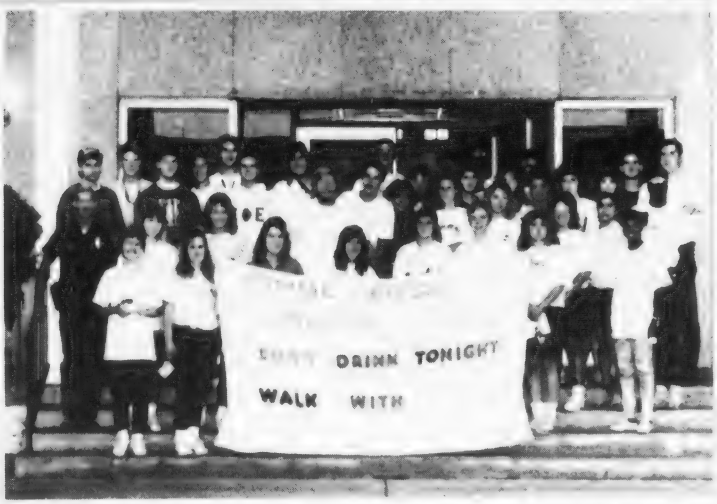
Others have blamed college accrediting agencies, Congress and students themselves.

Many educators blamed the Education Dept. itself for radically changing its philosophy in 1981, when it switched the college aid program from emphasizing grants — which don't have to be repaid — to loans to students.

Even responsible students, the educators argued, would have trouble repaying the kind of debt the department's new policy would pile on them.

"We have relied on loans when we should have relied on grants," said Terrel Bell, who served as secretary of education when the change was made.

"It was a constant struggle" to get funding for the programs, Bell recalled. "Because of those budgetary pressures, we went to loans. Policy-wise, it was not a good thing to do."



"The bad guys are the ones defaulting," retorted Chester Finn, a former Education Department appointee who helped shape the new policy at the advent of the Reagan administration.

Blaming the department, he said, is "like blaming the New York cops for crime. It's not their fault."

While Cavazos admitted his department had something to do with the default buildup, the secretary reserved most of the blame for Congress, which he claims didn't grant him the authority he needed to properly regulate the program.

Finn also likes the idea of blaming Congress, which he says is succumbing to outside pressure from lobbyists representing trade schools. "Congress has been lobbied as heavily on this issue as anything I've ever seen," charged Finn, "and they've responded to that pressure."

(Continued on page 3)

In observance of the National Alcohol Awareness Week, students from various residence halls walked for alcohol awareness, in order to bring attention to alcohol use and abuse. The event was sponsored by Harris Teeter of Farmville, which donated t-shirts for the walk, as well as the Frazer Hall Council and the Alcohol Awareness Week Committee.

Welcome

The Panellenic Council would like to welcome Iota Phi Lambda Sorority, Inc. to Longwood College. As of October 12, 1990, Iota Phi Lambda will become a part of the Greek system. The women of Panhellenic wish you all the best of luck and look forward to seeing you here on campus.

Volunteer Service Bill To Become Law

Courtesy of College Press Service

The national volunteer service bill is two steps away from becoming law.

If it passes, students could earn a small weekly stipend and a voucher worth about $5,000 to help pay for college by working one-to-two years full time in an authorized community service program.

Students also could work part-time – nine hours a week plus two 40-hour weeks during the two years – for a $2,000 college voucher and a stipend.

The measure also encourages schools to create service programs on their campuses, and authorizes funds for President Bush's volunteer "Points of Light Initiative."

The Senate approved a compromise version of the bill 75-21 late Oct. 15. The law will establish a National Service Board to distribute grants to youth service corps around the country.

The corps can use the funds for conservation projects or human service programs. The bill would also allow college work study recipients to use their awards in community service programs instead of at campus jobs.

The bill now goes to the House, where it must be approved before the House adjourns for the year. From there, it will go to President Bush for final approval.

COMMENTARY

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,

Now it's mid-term and it is clear to me that nothing really changes at Longwood. The College only degenerates. Yes, there is some good here at Longwood, but it often is overlooked in the general mess the Campus is in.

The Student Union Board has done an awesome job of providing lectures and quality entertainment, very commendable!!! Contrary to last week's letter to the editor by "a concerned senior" our Dining Hall is doing a great job of offering a wide range of foods, about the highest food quality in the state (If you do not believe me take a trip to Hampden-Sydney). The Learning Center and Student Development are working hard to be sure that students have access to academic help, educational lectures, and diagnostical testing. To all of the above, BRAVO!!!

On the down side ... In our Residence Halls students continue to pay more for less. Chiefly in the area of service, if something is broken do not count on it getting fixed any time soon. In Cox, the second floor washing machine jammed due to the money box being full and it took a week for the proper personnel to pick up their money. The 24 hour study room in Barlow lies under the jurisdiction of Housing. Despite 2 previous 1989, 1990 letters to the Rotunda, the Housing Office has yet to fix two broken computers with disk drives down since 1988!!! Good Job Folks!!!

Students need to ask about approved upcoming fees for the Spring of 1991 from the registrar's Office. Students will soon have to pay more to maximize quality in their schedules that their tuition will have already paid for. Good business tactics, make your customer pay more to get the classes he/she wants.

The Longwood "run-around" is still famous for driving people crazy. In May of this year I went on a journey to discover who was in charge of the Barlow Computers. I visited the following offices, Vice-President for Student Affairs and Business Affairs, Institutional Advancement, Computing Services, Registrar's Office, Learning Center, and finally Housing. Only Business Affairs knew after some research who was responsible and the Housing Office had no idea the Barlow Computers were theirs! All I have to do is mention Cashiering and Student Accounts and that is enough said...

Finally, our worst enemy is our own apathy. If students do not act in sufficient numbers in responsible ways to inform the powers that be at our College we want more for $6,300 then nothing will ever change. It is truly not representative of our own intelligence and pride to sit back and let those in charge treat us the way that they see fit.

Alumni Association do not call me or my parents for any contributions until the Powers of this College cease furthering their own ends while neglecting ours.

I am a very concerned and disappointed Senior who has invested a part of my own life at Longwood College and I will sign my name.

Dean Grubbs

Dear Editor,

I am writing concerning the letter from "a concerned senior," I too am a senior. I have two words to say to you: "Chill out!" This is your last year here and you should be more concerned about graduating and finding a job.

Give the dining hall a break! They just got a new chef (Peter retired), who I'm sure is still learning the ropes! It takes a little while you know.

As for Governor Wilder speaking, you should feel priviledged at the opportunity of being a graduating senior and being included in this event. I unfortunately, will only be a part of the audience. I won't graduate until next December. I read an article that said he will explain his reasons for the budget cuts at graduation. It's not all his fault you know. There are people higher than him. Why don't you try writing a letter to good ol' Mr. Bush!

Longwood and Wilder fan!

Dear Editor,

This letter is in response to the letter from the "concerned" senior. I think this person merely displayed his ignorance by making several unfounded complaints.

First of all, "concerned", the complaints you made about the phone system are foolish. The only time I've known anyone to have problems getting a line off campus is the first few days of the fall semester. If you have a problem, call Telecommunications and have them check your phone! (You should consider yourself lucky that you have a $350 telephone in your room - it has many attractive features that make it quite worthwhile!) If your mother always calls the wrong room, then maybe you should make sure you gave her the correct phone number.

Secondly, the library is not an ugly building! It's designed to bring both sides of the campus together. If you don't see any windows, then maybe you should have your eyes examined! Most of the front of the building is glass - have you ever stopped and looked? Why don't you visit VCU or ODU and then you'll see that Longwood has a very nice campus - you should also be happy that progress is being made to benefit you and the rest of the college!

If you have a problem with our dining hall, try Virginia Tech's or VCU's dining halls and then you'll see that Blackwell serves a pretty good meal. Granted, it's gone downhill from last year, but that's merely a reflection of their efforts to appeal to a wider variety of students by serving vegetarian and meat dishes.

The ONLY valid point you made in your letter is that Douglas Wilder should not speak at graduation - I agree with you that someone who cut the budget for education should not speak at one of the most devastated campuses in the state - he has no right to come here after his plans threaten to detract from our college careers!!

The point is this, "concerned" - instead of making ridiculous complaints and exposing nothing but your own stupidity, you should DO something about your complaints! Go to SGA and start a petition to ban Governor Wilder from speaking at commencement! I tend to wonder how much you love Longwood if you plan on refusing the Alumni Association your much-needed donations - it merely shows how selfish and hypocritical you truly are.

I LOVE Longwood, and this flagrant display of ignorance has angered me to no end!! I respect the fact that you're entitled to your own opinion, but I'm glad I've done something for this campus by rejecting your foolish ideas and showing them for what they truly are - IGNORANCE!

Zhan G. Caplan
A Content Sophomore

The ROTUNDA

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
Monica Y. Gilbert

News Editor
Beth A. Lord

Features Editor
Lindy Seymore

Sports Editor
Charlie Fultz

Photography Editor
Judi Weller

Layout Editor
Sarah Whiteside

Business Manager
Anita Owens

Advertising Manager
Bradley Owen

Faculty Advisor
Barbara LaJaunie

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

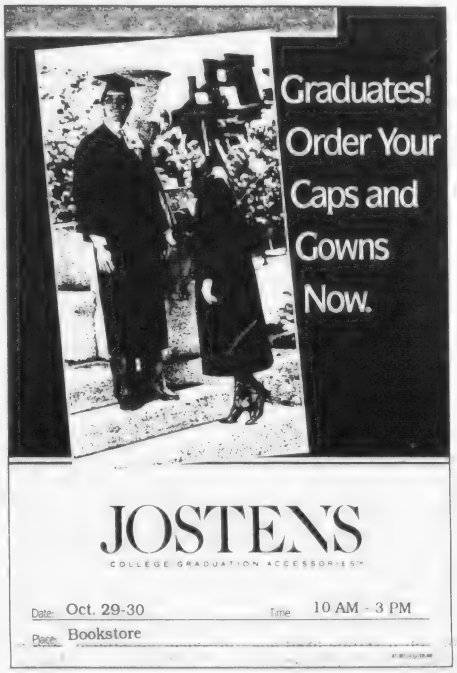
All letters to the Editor must be signed and typed or printed neatly. The Editor and staff reserve the right to edit any material submitted for publication.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles is 3:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Monday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 395-2120.

NEWS

Add/Drop Fee Imposed



By SHERRY GATEWOOD

The Registrar's office will be changing its add/drop policy as of next semester. There will be a fee of ten dollars per form submitted once classes begins. The purpose of the add/drop period is to give students a chance to resolve any unforseen schedule conflicts.

Problems experienced in the past have spurred the implementation of this new program. The Registrar's office processes over 1,000 forms each semester, which requires extra staff and time. This program's goal is to get students more concerned about and involved in choosing their classes. The office is planning to extend its hours during preregistration, as they anticipate students becoming more involved in scheduling.

Although Longwood has been seriously affected by the budget cuts throughout Virginia, this policy is not a result of those. Sandra Bollinger of the Registrar's office says that this idea was already in planning "before we realized how serious the cuts really were". However, this money does feed back unto the school's general fund. Therefore it is projected that over a long-term basis, this will help decrease tuition costs.

There are some exceptions to this ten-dollar rule which help to protect the students. Classes in which admittance depends upon auditions for entry do not have a drop charge. Nor do classes from which a scheduling conflict arises due to a change in meeting time or section. Also, the fee will be waived in classes that are being repeated from the previous semester or those dropped in summer school.

ROTC Cadets build confidence whle negotiating obstacles at Ft. Pickett. The Cadets are Debra Casstevens, David Boyd, David Haugh, Anne Dodson and Gregg Baird.

(Continued from page 1)

Even during Bell's tenure from 1981-85, lobbying on behalf of the for-profit schools was "amazing." Because the schools were a form of private enterprise, Bell remembered, "they were the choice above all others in the minds of conservatives."

Nowadays, Cavazos complained at the hearings, Congress has not approved five of his eight proposals for curbing defaults, particularly at proprietary trade schools. The proposals would have banned sales commissions for student recruiters, required credit checks on older loan applicants, allowed loan guarantee agencies to attach defaulters' wages, mandated independent testing of borrowers without high school diplomas and made lenders offer flexible repayment schedules.

The Senate subcommittee, in turn, accused the department of bungling the loan programs.

"To date, no area examined in the federal student aid programs is operating efficiently or effectively," said David Buckley, the subcommittee's chief investigator.

"Every individual we have spoken to, without exception, has told us that, despite recent changes in program administration, the system is broken and that major changes must be made immediately to save the taxpayers' money," he added.

The department's enforcement practices, Buckley continued, are "disjointed and largely ineffective."

"They haven't used the authority they've got," agreed ACE's Saunders.

Cavazos' predecessor, William Bennett, who now heads the government's "drug war" efforts, often traced the default buildup to colleges that were too wasteful, complacent and bureaucratic to solve the problems.

Colleges, he often said, raised tuition because they knew students could get federal financial aid to pay the higher prices.

Students were to blame, too. When endorsing President Ronald Reagan's plan to cut student financial aid in 1985, he suggested students would have to consider "divestitures of certain sorts: like a stereo divestiture, an automobile divestiture, or a three-weeks-at-the-beach divestiture."

The Reagan administration's cut proposals were part of a larger effort to largely pull the federal government out of education, which it believed should mostly be the responsibility of the states.

Reagan, for example, came into office vowing to dismantle the U.S. Dept. of Education, then only eight months old.

He also asked Congress to cut the student aid budget, among others, by as much as 50 percent in 1981 and 1982.

To help save money, he advocated making students repay most of the federal aid they got. For the first time, the majority of college aid dollars were lent, not granted.

So, for the first time, students were graduating from college deeply in debt.

The inability of newly minted grads, struggling in their first and probably low est-paying professional jobs, to make monthly college loan payments while trying to establish households was a major reason the default rate grew so rapidly during the 1980s, and threatens to bankrupt the entire student loan system in 1990, some say.

"We were giving loans to those with the least ability to pay them back," Bell said. "It's a miracle the defaults are as low as they are."

While Congress is not currently considering retilting the student aid program back toward grants, in June, 1989, former Texas Tech President Cavazos unveiled a set of initiatives — many of which are just starting to be implemented — to curb student defaults.

Among other measures, he wants to cut off aid to students at schools with high default rates.

"I think they'll help," allowed ACE's Saunders of the default initiatives. "At least now (the department) is trying to face its problems instead of trying to abolish itself like it did with Reagan."

NEWS

Good Grades Condition Of Financial Aid

Students will have to get good grades to qualify for federal financial aid in the near future, if the U.S. Department of Education gets its way.

Currently, students only have to demonstrate they need federal help in order to qualify for it.

In a speech to college presidents at the end of September, however, Education Secretary Lauro Cavazos said his department, which oversees most federal college programs, would ask Congress to tie aid to grades as well.

"While financial aid programs are intended primarily to equalize access by reducing financial barriers, we also believe there is room for financial aid as a reward for high achievement," he said.

Cavazos added he would suggest making the change as part of his proposals for the all-important Higher Education Reauthorization Act of 1991, which Congress will write next year to set education policies through 1996.

"Our proposals are aimed at enhancing the efficiency and cost-effectiveness of student financial aid programs, and at targeting the needy and simplifying program delivery," the secretary said.

Cavazos would not elaborate about how he would measure "academic achievement," or whether merit-based aid — abandoned in the 1960s as a system that helped funnel aid to middle-class students who may not need it — would replace or supplement existing aid programs.

Campus officials, however, see plenty wrong with the idea.

"It's fraught with all kinds of problems," said Peter Bryant, vice president of enrollment at Cornell College in Iowa.

"I think it would be very unfair for those in academically competitive schools," Bryant said, adding that a "byproduct" of such a measure "could be grade inflation. There would be immediate and unfair pressure on faculty to give good grades."

Students, he added, might choose majors that are less demanding academically to preserve their eligibility for financial aid.

"From a community college standpoint," added Philip Ward, president of Glen Oaks Community College in Michigan, "I would still hold for need-based aid. It would be a difficult world with grade-based financial aid."

Residence Hall Association Elections

What is RHA? RHA is called Residence Hall Association. It was formed so there would be a communication link between all of the residence halls on campus. RHA plans and supports many services and programs to students and also informs residents about issues that effect them. The association is made up of two representatives from each hall.

RHA will be having elections in November on the 12th through the 15th. The applications can be picked up in the office of each hall. They should be turned in by November the fifth. The positions that will be open are as follows:

President-to preside over all the RHA sessions, to attend SGA meetings as the Residence Life Chair, to meet with the Dean of Students periodocally, and to serve as a Regional Communication Coordinator.

Vice President- to take over the duties of the president in their absence and to perform all duties delegated to them by the Executive Committee.

Secretary-Keeps and publishes minutes at all general sessions for each member and to keep attendance at all the RHA sessions.

Treasurer

Publicity Chair- to promote RHA to meet with the director of Housing periodically, and to head the publicity committee.

Scholarship

(Continued from page 5)

28, 1991, and awards will be announced in May 1991. For applications or more information contact Peggy Gibson, Environmental Restoration/Waste Management Scholarship Program, Oak Ridge Associated Universities, Science/Engineering Education Division, P.O. Box 117, Oak Ridge, TN 37831-0117, or call (615) 576-9278.

When you party remember to...

PARTY Smart®

Men's Bowling A- League
Final Results

1st - Phoenix Champs
2nd - Pi Kappa Phi
3rd -

Women's Flag Football A League Final Results

1st - Rug Rats
2nd - Alpha gam
3rd - AΣA

B- League

1st -ΣK
2nd - Kahlua Gals
3rd - Mud Divers

Men's 3-on-3 Basketball Final Results A League

1st - Deltas
2nd - Phoenix (AΣI)
3rd - Hoopers

B League

1st - Bemp
2nd - Mystic Justice
3rd - Trail Blazers

Women's Basketball

1st - AΣA
2nd - Bad Attitudes
3rd - Top Tons

Arm Wrestling Women's Final Results

1st - Lynn Graves AΣT
2nd - Kathy McMahon - AΣT
3rd - Beth Hutson - AΣT

Tightweights Men

1st - Chris Barres - Pi Kappa Phi
2nd - Mo Tolliner - Phoenix Alpha Sigma Phi
3rd - Wyatt Flippen - Pi Kappa Phi

Middleweight Men

1st - Steve Honchin -AΣI
2nd - Chris Porter - πKI
3rd - Eric Hutzler -AΣI

Heavyweight Men

1st - Mac Gatelz - AΣI
2nd - Cumby - πKI

FEATURES

Fourth Win For Delta Sigma Pi

Longwood College's business fraternity has four wins in a row.

At the recent regional conference of Delta Sigma Pi, Longwood's Kappa Nu chapter received their fourth Most Outstanding Chapter award.

Kristine Harbour, adviser to the Longwood chapter, won her fourth Outstanding Adviser award. In addition, she received a regional award for outstanding service to the fraternity.

Longwood's chapter also was named to the Delta Sigma Pi Honor Roll for the fourth year in a row. To achieve Honor Roll status, the chapter must accumulate 100,000 points for chapter efficiency, professional and community service activities.

Kelley Noe, a 1986 Longwood graduate who is now a district director for Delta Sigma Pi, received the Most Outstanding District Director award.

"The competition was tough," said Susan Parrish, president of the Longwood chapter. "We competed against Virginia Tech, James Madison University, the University of Tennessee, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, and others."

The Longwood delegation to the regional conference in Lynchburg included: Ms. Parrish, from Woodbridge; Courtney Faris, of North Garden, chapter treasurer; Carla Westerman, of Hampton, vice president for chapter operations; David Barton, of Keysville; Carol Byers, of Bumpass; Lori Drye, of Bedford; Michele Noyes, of Vienna; and Mrs. Harbour, assistant professor of accounting at Longwood.

Delta Sigma Pi is an international professional business fraternity with some 170 chapters in the U.S. The South-Central Region includes colleges and universities in Virginia, North Carolina, and Tennessee.

Scholarships For The Mathematical

Twenty-five scholarships are available for undergraduate students majoring in engineering and science disciplines. Sponsored by the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) and administered by Oak Ridge Associated Universities, the scholarships are designated for those students interested in pursuing careers in environmental restoration or waste management (ER/WM).

Applicants must be U.S. citizens and currently pursuing an Associate of Science or Bachelor of Science degree full time. The Environmental Restoration/Waste Management Scholarship Program includes full payment of tuition and fees at a DOE-approved institution, a $600 per month stipend, and a three month practicum assignment at a DOE facility engaged in environmental restoration and waste management.

Selection is based on academic performance, recommendations, background, and a statement of career goals by the applicant. The competition is nationwide although four-year institutions and two-year institutions will compete in separate categories.

Scholarship applications are being taken through Jan.

(Continued on page 4)

$1,449 for a Macintosh?!

And not just any Macintosh. As a Longwood College student, you can purchase the new Mac Classic, with 2 megabytes of RAM and a 40-megabyte hard drive, at a special discount. The latest in affordable Apple Macintosh technology for just $1,449. It's a great deal on a great new computer.

Available at the Longwood College Bookstore

Saxophonist Guest At Next Music Concert

James Houlik, saxophonist, will astound us with his musical attributes.

Saxophone virtuoso James Houlik, with pianist Bang Won Han, will give the next Chamber Music concert at Longwood College.

The performance will be Monday evening, November 12, at 8 o'clock in Wygal Recital Hall and is open to the public free of charge.

Houlik is known to concertgoers around the world as the preeminent performer on the tenor saxophone. Crescendo magazine, published in London, said: "This man you must hear! Words are completely inadequate to attempt any description of his playing."

Other critics have praised his playing as "remarkable... formidable... phenomenal ... and genuinely brilliant."

Houlik's program at Longwood will include three 19th-century pieces and a variety of contemporary works. Suite Hebraique, by Canadian composer Saul Irving Glick, is described as "Ethnic, haunting, and lovely." Pitt County Excursions, by William Duckworth, is one of some 70 works written especially for Houlik by American, British, Dutch, and Hungarian composers.

The program will close with a group of ragtime pieces from the golden age of the saxophone.

Houlik has been soloist with symphony orchestras throughout the United States and abroad. He has performed in Tokyo, Warsaw, Berlin, Amsterdam, London, Toronto, at Carnegie Recital Hall and the Lincoln Center in New York City and with the U.S. Navy Band in Washington.

Professor of saxophone at the North Carolina School of the Arts, Houlik has presented workshops and masterclasses on three continents.

Writing for the Charleston, S.C. News and Courier, Claire McPhail said, "James Houlik could make a saxophone fan out of just about anyone."

A Pictur

Warming up to Geist!

Klown in action!

Photo Credit: Taslim Sidi

Oktob

But We're

You sing!

Photo Credit: Jud Weller

Strik

's Worth...

Do I feel lucky?

Photo Credit: Becky Harmon

Photo Credit: Becky Harmon

Getting a ride to Crop Walk.

t Is Over,

In The Spirit!

une!

Photo Credit: Becky Harmon

Smile and say Oktoberfest!

Photo Credit: Becky Harmon

FEATURES

Senior Recital Soloist: Rebecca Todd

Rebecca Todd, a music education major at Longwood College, will present her senior voice recital on Sunday afternoon, November 4, at 4 o'clock in Wygal Recital Hall.

Her accompanist will be Nancy Sherman, staff pianist for Longwood's department of music.

The program will include a variety of composers and styles: song sets from early Italian composers, Duparc, and 20th-century composers Lee Hoiby and Theron Kirk; Bach's Kantata No. 51; and the "sleepwalking aira" from Bellini's La Sonnambula.

The recital is open to the public free of charge.

Ms. Todd has been soprano soloist for Longwood's Camerata Singers' many performances of the Poulenc Gloria. She also has been guest soloist in Farmville area presentations of the Rutter Requiem, Haydn's Missa Brevis, and Schubert's Mass in G. She has been invited to sing in many area churches.

Ms. Todd has placed in both District and Region auditions of the National Association of Teachers of Singing and was a finalist for the Fairfax Choral Society's Young Artists Awards.

During her senior year at Longwood, Ms. Todd will be competing for scholarships for graduate study.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Todd of Clifton.

Tuition Costs Topic Of Essay Contest

Vector Marketing Corporation, a national marketing firm which offers high income opportunities to thousands of college students each year, will sponsor its Fourth Annual Essay Contest with Scholarship monies totaling $3,250 for winning entries.

The announcement was made by Tom Quinty, Sales Support Director of the Springfield (PA)-based firm.

The contest is open to both part-time and full-time undergraduates enrolled at recognized colleges and universities across the United States. Vector employees and their relatives are ineligible to participate.

Students are asked to write a one-page essay, not exceeding 250 words, on the following topic: "Rising Tuition Costs: How Can Corporate America Help?"

The winning essay contestant will receive $1,000 in scholarship monies. Two second prize winners will receive $500 each, and five runners-up will be awarded $250 each in cash prizes, for a total of eight winners.

In addition, each essay contest participant will be offered the opportunity to interview for a position as a summer sales representative through the Vector Marketing Corporation office nearest to their college community or home town.

Entries will be judged on the basis of overall writing style and content, in addition to a demonstrated ability to support the criterion chosen for the essay. Correct grammar, punctuation and composition are also essential.

Copy should be typed, double-spaced or neatly printed on one side only of an 8 1/2"x11" sheet of paper and should not exceed 250 words. All entries must include a return address and phone number along with the student's class year and major to be considered. All submissions will become the property of Vector Marketing Corporation.

Winners will be notified by mail no later than December 1.

All entries must be postmarked on or before November 21. Entries should be sent to Vector's national headquarters at the following address: Essay Contest, VECTOR MARKETING CORPORATION 1260 East Woodland Avenue, Springfield, PA 19064.

Vector Marketing Corporation is a $45 million dollar international company, with over 200 sales offices across the United States and Canada. Vector markets CUTCO brand cutlery (manufactured by Alcas Cutlery Corporation headquartered in Olean, NY).

Contact: Lauren Melone, Public Relations Consultant, 215-356-3141 or Tom Quinty, Sales Support Director, and/or Carol Quigley, Sales Promotion Coordinator, Vector Marketing Corporation, 215-544-3020.

Minority Pre-Law Second Annual Conference

The Second Annual Minority Recruitment Project — Pre-Law Conference, sponsored by the Virginia State Bar Young Lawyers Conference, will be held on Saturday, November 10, from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m., at the T.C. Williams Law School, University of Richmond, Virginia.

The purpose of the Conference is to encourage interested minority undergraduates to consider the legal profession as a career. The Conference is designed to expose students to all phases of developing a legal career, from the law school admissions process to the selection of career opportunities.

Workshops on the law school admissions process, a mock law school class and oral argument, and a panel discussion on career alternatives are just a few of the planned activities.

Hon. John Charles Thomas, former Justice of the Supreme Court of Virginia, Hon. James W. Benton, Virginia Court of Appeals, Hon. Randall G. Johnson, Circuit Court of the City of Richmond and other distinguished members of the Virginia State Bar will be in attendance.

The Conference is free. All minority undergraduates are welcome and are encouraged to attend.

For more information on the Conference, call Richard Carnell Baker, Esq., McGuire, Woods, Battle & Boothe, 8280 Greensboro Drive, McLean, Virginia 22102, (703)712-5491 or Donald J. Gee, Esq., McEachin & Gee, P.C., 700 East Main Street, Suite 1201, Richmond, Virginia (804)775-2374.

Dining Hall Supervisor

By JENNIFER BROADHURST

Being a part of the Dining Hall staff provides many students with extra money, but also extra hours. Student Supervisor Frank M. Knott, a senior, spends several hours making sure everything goes just as planned.

Knott has been a supervisor two and a half of the four years he has worked in the Dining Hall. He is part of the Financial Aid work study program and says he enjoys it.

"I need to work and I enjoy working in the Dining Hall because ... I like being in an authoritative position," said Knott with a smile.

Knott says the extra hours he provides working in the Dining Hall does not keep him from his studies because he is used to working and going to school. He had several jobs while in high school and is used to juggling work while attending school as well.

PERSONALS

3rd Floor North Cunningham — Quit your gripping — here's your note! Just kidding. Thanks for being a super hall — this will be a great year! — Tammy

Karla — You're the best granddaughter. — Tau love, Chris

Kathy — Sorry I haven't been able to be around as much. I still am here if you need me. — Tau love, Chris

Christy — Keep pushing we will make it through the year. — Chris

Pledges of AST — Keep up the great work. — You're the BEST.

Congratulations Big Brothers of Delta Sigma Pi on your Little Brothers.

Pledges of Delta Sigma Pi we are glad to have you. Study your questions. — The Brothers of Kappa Nu

To all those loud and obnoxious boys on 6th floor Frazer — You all are the greatest and I hope you decide to stay Chris — cause we love you: — A friend on 6th

Frye — We know things are going to be tuff for awhile and we just want you to know we are always here for you. — Love, Spacey, Winters and Audi

Longwood — Anyone interested in writing soldiers in Saudi Arabia? Interested call Jeff #3705

Becca — Is your hot tub working? — Mr. V.

Tammy — I am very happy to have you as my Lil' Bro in Deltasig. You are the greatest. — Love, your big brothers

John — I can't wait to be out of school. — I love you

Teresa — Your secret brother loves you. — DΣπ Secret bro

Bubba — Cheddar's Lumpy!

Attention All Longwood Students — Don't forget to celebrate all worship Martha Petry Day every Thursday.

Hi SBJ! — Love SLW

LNM — I don't think I surprised you on Sunday morning, did I? When you wear it, think of how much you mean to me. I don't know what I'd do or where I'd be without you. I love you and I always will. Happy Anniversary. Love always — CEF

Laurie — I know times are tough, but just remember that I love you and together, we can make it! Happy Halloween Sweetheart! — Love, Who am I?

Christy — I can't wait until the next time we have time to do something together! You're the one! and I'm so glad you chose me! — AZ Love and all of mine, You lil sis Audrey

7th Floor girls — here's your personal. — Unicycle man

HERE'S WHY THE SMART MONEY AT LONGWOOD COLLEGE IS GOING WITH TIAA-CREF AS IF THE FUTURE DEPENDED ON IT.

Because it does. Smart investors know that your future depends on how well your retirement system performs. TIAA-CREF has been the premier retirement system for people in education and research for over 70 years. We have enabled over 200,000 people like you to enjoy a comfortable retirement. And over 1,000,000 more are now planning for the future with TIAA-CREF.

SMART MONEY LOOKS FOR SECURITY, GROWTH AND DIVERSITY FOR RETIREMENT SAVINGS.

Security—so the resources are there when it is time to retire. Growth—so you'll have enough income for the kind of retirement you want. And diversity—to help protect you against market volatility and to let you benefit from several types of investments.

THAT'S EXACTLY WHAT YOU GET WITH TIAA-CREF.

TIAA offers you the safety of a traditional annuity that guarantees your principal plus a specified rate of interest, and provides for additional growth through dividends. CREF's variable annuity offers opportunities for growth through four different investment accounts, each managed with the long-term perspective essential to sound retirement planning:

The CREF Stock Account
The CREF Money Market Account
The CREF Bond Market Account*
The CREF Social Choice Account*

CALL 1-800-842-2776 TO FIND OUT MORE

Our experienced retirement counselors will be happy to answer your questions and tell you more about retirement annuities from TIAA-CREF.

Experience. Performance. Strength.
Your future is protected by the largest private retirement system in the world. We have done so well, for so many, for so long, that we currently manage some $85 billion in assets.

TIAA CREF

Ensuring the future for those who shape it.℠

* The CREF Bond Market and Social Choice Accounts may not be available under all institutional retirement plans, but are available for all Supplemental Retirement Annuity plans.

For more complete information, including charges and expenses, call 1 800 842-2733, ext 5509 for a prospectus. Read the prospectus carefully before you invest or send money.

SPORTS

Soccer Team Begins VISA Playoffs Sunday

Longwood's soccer team, 10-5 heading into a home game with VCU Monday, will host Randolph-Macon Sunday at 2 in the first round of the VISA Playoffs.

Longwood, No. 1 in the Eastern Division, will host Western Division No. 2 Randolph-Macon (9-10-2) in one first round match-up, while Western champ Virginia Wesleyan (15-0-2) entertains Mary Washington (12-4-1), second in the Eastern Division behind Longwood.

Both the Lancers and Eagles had 3-1 records in the Eastern Division, but Longwood got the top seed by virtue of its 1-0 win in a head-to-head meeting between the two teams.

Winners of the first round games will play for the VISA title, tentatively on Nov. 14.

While Virginia Wesleyan and Shenandoah tied for the crown last season, Longwood won titles in 1982, 1984 and 1986 and reached the finals against Mary Washington in 1988. Randolph-Macon's last title came in 1985.

In what could be a preview of the Virginia Intercollegiate Soccer Association title bout, Longwood travels to Norfolk Wednesday to take on unbeaten and nationally ranked Virginia Wesleyan (15-0-2). The Blue Marlins won the ODAC Tournament title Sunday beating Roanoke 2-0 in overtime.

Fortunately for Longwood, top scorers Ray Jones and Ross Johnson are back in action after recovering from leg injuries. Jones and Johnson accounted for 11 goals and 10 assists through the first 10 games of the season. Longwood had gone 2-2 without the duo in the lineup.

The presence of Jones and Johnson did little to help the Lancers Saturday as 11th ranked Methodist handed Longwood its worst loss of the season, 3-0. The Monarchs, now 14-3, made the LC defense look sick in the first half scoring all three of its goals. Methodist, headed for the NCAA Division III Tournament, dominated Longwood, handing the Lancers their first shutout loss of the season.

Wrestlers Open Season This Friday

Senior Charlie Parker enters his second year of competition for the Lancers, finishing last season with a 16-4-1 record. Before entering Longwood, Parker wrestled in the 158 class at Chowan Junior College. Parker, who will wrestle in the 177 pound weight class, was a Division II national qualifier last season after winning the region and narrowly missing All-America honors. Coach Nelson believes Parker has the physical ability to wrestle anyone in Division II.

Parker is joined on the mat by Ted Proctor, a junior who wrestles 158-167. A three time Virginia State Champion, he post a career record of 62-26-1, and finished last season 19-6. Proctor hopes to avoid the injuries that plagued him last season. Nelson hopes that he can join Parker at nationals.

Sophomore Mark Harris also returns, after rehabilitating from nagging injuries. As a freshman during the 1988-89 season, Harris was the Virginia State Champion and runner up in the region in the 142 pound weight class, finishing 13-10 for the year.

Joining the squad is freshman John Courrington. A heavyweight from Monacan High School in Richmond, he was a two time state championship qualifier.

Other returning athletes include juniors Sean House, with an 11-15 record, and Kevin Haller, who posted a 13-9-1 record last year and 28-27-1 for his career, both in the 118 pound class, and junior Billy Johnson in the 177-190 class. His two year record stands at 4-5 after a going 1-2 last season.

The Longwood College wrestling team opens it's season Friday and Saturday Nov. 2 and 3 at the Wilkes Community College Tournament. The team is approaching the 1990-91 season with a certain degree of uncertainty and trepidation. Facing a demanding schedule that pits them against predominantly Division I competition, head coach Steve Nelson is apprehensive about his prospects.

"We just have an unreal schedule," explained Nelson. "Teams that are on our level or just below us don't want to wrestle us. The schedule is mostly Division I and Nationally ranked Division II teams. This is the most competitive schedule I've seen since I've coached at Longwood."

Even though the Lancers only posted a 6-8 dual meet record last season, there are some bright spots in the program. He returns three outstanding upperclassmen and welcomes a new freshman standout.

Equestrian Team Place 4th

By LISA LOCKWOOD

With the first show of the season for Longwood Equestrian Team at University of Maryland and a rough start for the team to find a new coach, the determination paid off with a fourth place missing third place by one point. The team this year had to find a new coach. A miracle happened — Mary Whitlock, the coach for Longwood for 10 years, came back to the team. The discrepancies in communications between the new athletic director Tom Fletcher, and the team led the athletic director to believe the equestrian team wanted to be a club. This turned out not to be so.

Meetings upon meetings occurred with the team to get it together. Now, the Equestrian team has a coach, facilities, and the talent and determination to win.. The team had only one practice before the show on Saturday, Oct. 27. The open riders placed with Stephanie Harbourt getting, 4th place ribbon on the flat and 6th over fences and Julie Miller a regional qualifier getting a 2nd on the flat and 3rd over fences. Carey Seitz, riding in the Intermediate division placed 1st and Stephanie Handley placed 6th over fences in the Intermediate Division. The two novice riders, Kirsten Hite and Lisa Lockwood placed well. Kirsten Hita received a 1st on the flat and a 5th over fences. Lisa Lockwood took a 6th on the flat and a 1st over fences. A new member of the team, Teresa Farkas placed 4th in her first intercollegiate show in the advanced walk-trot-canter division. Page Perry received a 2nd in Advanced Walk-Trot.

On Nov. 11, Longwood Equestrian team will be competing at William and Mary against nine other colleges. The new and old members will be competing against the other teams. Good luck Longwood!

Lady Golfers Have Strong Fall Season

Longwood women's golf coach Barbara Smith may have one of her youngest teams ever, but based on play this fall, the 1990-91 Lady Lancers could turn out to be one of her best teams as well.

With two or more freshmen in the top six for most tournaments, Longwood compiled a stroke average of 318.9, one of the best in Lady Lancer history. In five tournaments, against mostly Division I competition, Longwood beat 29 teams and lost to 30. The Lady Lancers, defending NCCA Division II Tournament champs, will resume play in March when the spring season begins.

Fall highlights included a victory in the 14th Longwood Invitational and a fine third place finish at the James Madison Invitational. At JMU, Coach Smith's team carded a 313-314-312-939, one of the best team scores in recent years.

Leading the team were co-captain Ami Schonauer and sophomore Heather Hartwick, who finished in a virtual deadlock for individual stroke average honors. Schonauer had a 79.2 stroke average for the fall, while Hartwick was just behind at 79.5. Both scored in the 70's in 10 of 14 rounds played.

A nominee for the Honda Golf Award, Schonauer was the team leader in two tournaments and tied with Hartwick for the lead in a third. She shot 76-77-78-231 to tie for fourth at the JMU event and carded a 79-76-76-231 for third place at the LC Invitational. An All-American, Ami is an honor graduate of William Penn High School and an elementary education major.

Hartwick, the team leader at the North Carolina and Longwood tournaments, placed second in the LC Invitational with a 75-76-78-229, the best score by a Lady Lancer in the fall. A business major and one of the top young women amateur golfers in Canada, Heather qualified for the NCAA Tournament last spring. She attended Elmira District Secondary School.

Junior co-captain Sherry Evans played in the top five with a stroke average of 83.3. Evans' top showing came in the Lady Tar Heel (North Carolina) Invitational when she shot 80-81-77-238 to tie Hartwick for team honors. An All-American last season, Evans is majoring in elementary education. She is a graduate of Jonesville High School.

Sophomore Anna Radford had a stroke average of 82.4 for 10 rounds this fall. Radford, who played in the top five in several tournaments, had a season-best 82-82-78-242 at the James Madison Invitational. A graduate of Gravesend Garmmer School, Radford is a pre-business major.

The top two freshmen on the Longwood team have been Jo Lefson and Donna Martin. Lefson had a stroke average of 81.7 for the fall (third best on the team) and Martin was right behind at 82.2.

Lefson, a graduate of Rustenburg Girls High School, shot 78-83-79-240 at the James Madison tourney for her best showing of the fall. She played in the top five in four out of five tournaments.

Martin also saw action in the top five with a season-best showing at James Madison. The rookie shot 82-75-77-234 and place 10th in a field of more than 50 golfers. Martin attended the Gumley House School in Middlesex before coming to Longwood.

Other first year players for Longwood included freshmen Nikki Bone, Danielle Karish and Megan Hackett. Bone had a stroke average of 87.2 for six rounds, Karish 91.0 for nine rounds and Hackett 86.2 for six rounds. All three have the potential to improve and contribute more in the future.

Bone, who plans to major in business, is a graduate of Ashland High. Karish, who attended Oakton High School, was Virginia State Golf Association junior girls champ in 1989. Hackett, a graduate of the Sanford School, is majoring in business.

SPORTS

Lancer Golfers Enjoy Fall Success

By MARK KIRK

Longwood's men's golf team experienced a very successful fall campaign, finishing undefeated in match play (5-0) and breaking the team stroke average for one season with a score of 315.9.

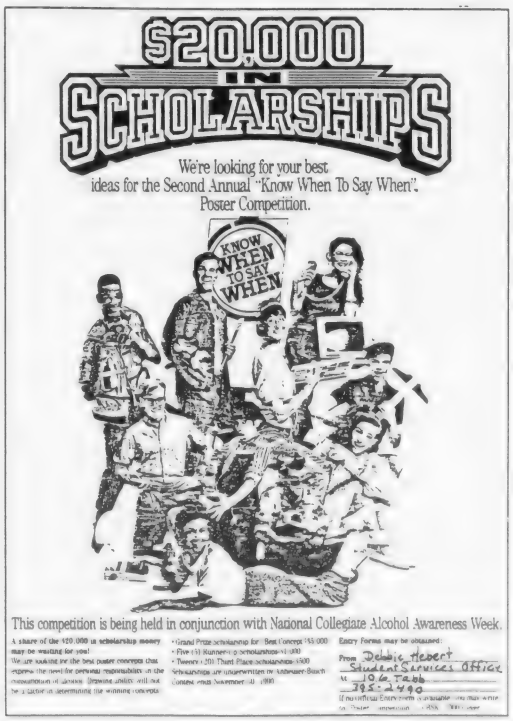
"I was very satisfied with the way our team played this fall", said Longwood coach Steve Nelson. "Except for a couple rounds, we were very consistent and competitive in every round we played."

Scott Wiseman, a senior, led Longwood with an impressive average of 77.5, one of the top averages in the history of the school. Wiseman, who played two years at Louisburg College in North Carolina, had the Lancers' best score in four of six tournaments, and finished tied for third overall at the Rhododendron Classic. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wiseman of Raleigh and is majoring in business management.

Junior Jeff Smiley also had a stroke average of below 80, averaging 79.5 per round. Smiley, in his third year with Longwood, had the Lancers' top score in four of ten rounds. He finished tied for third among all individuals at the Newport News Invitational. Smiley, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Smiley of Palmyra, is a business administration major.

Senior Tony Good rounded out Longwood's trio of golfers averaging below 80, finishing tied with Smiley at 79.5. Good, in his third season with the Lancers and a member of the men's basketball team, had a season's best 74 against Radford. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Good of Charlottesville, Good is majoring in sociology.

Junior Darrell Nichols completed the fall season with a stroke average of 82. Nichols, in his third year with the Lancers, enjoyed his best round in the Longwood Alumni Match, shooting a 75. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W.J. Nichols of South Boston, and is currently majoring in business.



Senior Hank Kim ended his third season with an average of 83.2. Included in his scores was a 75 against Radford, when he played as an individual. A finance and marketing major, Kim is the son of Mr. Chong Ung Kim of Chester.

Freshman Frank Davide finished with the best stroke average of Longwood's four newcomers, averaging 80.9. The most valuable player of Monroe Woodberry High's golf team is 1989, Davide shot a team-best 73 against Radford and scored 156 (78-78) over two rounds at the Old Dominion Invitational. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Davide of Monroe, NY, and is majoring in history.

Freshman John Benton was another newcomer who saw much action for the Lancers, averaging 85.1. Benton, who captained the James Madison High School golf team for two years, had his season highlight in the second round of the Old Dominion Tournament when he shot a 79. The son of Mr. and Mrs. John Benton of Vienna, he is an accounting major.

Steve Crute, a sophomore newcomer, was entered in three rounds, averaging 85.6 A history major, Crute is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crute of Clarksville and a graduate of Bluestone High School.

Freshman Joe Stanley saw limited action in his first season with Longwood, averaging 81 in two rounds. Stanley, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stanley of Culpeper is majoring in business. He's a graduate of Culpeper High School.

Lady Netters Have Best Fall Since '76

By MISSY KENNEDY

This fall season has proved to be a successful season for the women's tennis team. Not since the '76 Longwood team ended the fall at 7-3-1 has a group of Lady Lancer Netters done as well as the current squad. The '90 fall squad finished its season with an overall record of 5-2.

Playing No. 1 singles, sophomore Jenny Holm, helped lead the squad to victory with her hard work and experience on the courts. She has a career record of 14-10 in singles. Holm, a graduate of Menchville High School, was Most Valuable Player for two years and was also voted for the Peninsula Player of the Year. A physical therapy major at Longwood, she is the daughter of Pat Harvey.

Junior Suzie Lawman had a record of 5-2 at No. 2 singles this fall and has a career mark of 16-7. Lawman was one of the top three players returning for the fall season. Lawman, an elementary education major, played on Heritage High School's tennis team for three years. There, she was Most Valuable Player for the '86-87 season and the tennis captain in '88. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Lawman.

Returning sophomore Jenny Proffitt added to her career record this season in both singles and doubles. With a career record of 16-9 in singles and a record of 12-7 in doubles, Proffitt went 4-3 at No. 3 and No. 5 singles this fall. She has proven to be a strong player for the Lady Lancer Netters. A graduate of Holy Cross High School, she played tennis for four years and was chosen All-Conference two years. Proffitt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Proffitt.

Newcomer Beth Alger turned out to be a great surprise for the tennis squad. Alger had a record of 5-2 in singles and also a winning record of 4-3 in doubles with Proffitt. A graduate of John Handley High School, she received the Judges Athletic Award in '88. A math major, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Alger.

Freshman Jennifer Risko was a great addition to the squad. Risko had a strong fall season with a 5-1 singles record at No. 6. A business major, Risko is a graduate of Heidelberg High School. There she was chosen All-Conference for two years and All-Europe in '88. Risko is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Risko.

Freshman Amy Thomas started off her Longwood tennis career with a 2-0 singles record and 1-0 doubles record. Although Thomas saw little action on the courts this season, she proved to be a strong player. A graduate of Frank W. Cox High School, she played tennis for two years and was chosen as Most Improved Player in '89. Majoring in English, Thomas is the daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Raymond Thomas.

Junior Kimber Bear was another new addition to the squad this season. Bear is a graduate of Lake Braddock High School where she played tennis for three years. A psychology major, Bear is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Bear.

Sophomore Angie Williams came to the Lady Lancers from Radford University. Williams teamed with Bear to win a crucial victory at No. 3 doubles in Longwood's season-opening 5-4 win over Randolph-Macon Woman's College. A graduate of Prince Edward Academy, she played tennis four years. She was Most Valuable Player for three years.

Williams is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Williams.

Among Longwood's victims this fall were Randolph-Macon Woman's College twice, Virginia Wesleyan, John Jay and Hollins. The Lady Lancers won three matches by 5-4 scores and dropped a fourth to Meredith by a 5-4 count. Longwood's only decisive loss came at the hands of Mary Baldwin 7-2.

The fall tennis season proved to be a successful one for the players and Coach Angie Coppedge. Coach Coppedge's squad won't swing back into action until March when the spring season begins.

CLASSIFIEDS

Short Notice

We recently received a request from Sleepy Hollow Manor Recreation Center which concerns the last wish of a seven (7) year old boy, Craig Shergold, who has a brain tumor and very little time to live. Craig's wish, as expressed to the Children's Wish Foundation, is to have an entry in the Guiness Book of World Records for the largest number of "Get Well Wishers" ever by any individual.

We would like to ask you to please take a moment to send a card to Craig at:

Craig Shergold, c/o Children's Wish Foundation, 3200 Perimeter Center, East, Atlanta, GA 30346

• HELP! •

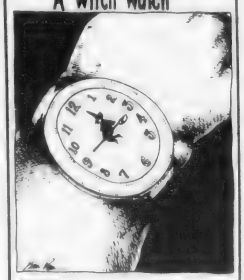
The Songwriters Association at Longwood is seeking new members. If you write songs, or poems, are a member of a band, or are just a fan of music or the music business, come see what we're all about!

Each Monday night, 7:00, Gold Room in Lankford. Pass the word!

Sixth Annual Longwood College Mathematics Contests
Date: Thursday, November 1, 1990
Time: 12:45 - 2:15 PM

Please register in West Ruffner 324
(Mathematics Department)

LEVEL I	(Student without calculus) - Test will be taken in West Ruffner 323
LEVEL II	(Student taking calculus and above) - Test will be taken in West Ruffner 321



CASH PRIZES

Each Level:	First Prize ---------$75
	Second Prize -----$50
	Third Prize --------$30

-FREE-
PREGNANCY TEST
All services confidential.
Same day results.
SOUTHSIDE PREGNANCY CENTER
24-HOUR HOTLINE
392-8483

A Witch Watch

©RPP, Inc.
IT'S THAT TIME AGAIN!!!
Halloween Cards and Gifts from Recycled Paper Products, Inc.
AVAILABLE AT:
LONGWOOD COLLEGE BOOKSTORE
Hours: Mon.-Fri. 8-5
Phone 392-2084
We also have Halloween Balloons!

SMART — Student managed Academic Residential Tutoring is a new student support program sponsored by the Learning Center and the Cunninghams Hall Council to help you with your academic needs. Whether you need a tutor or study companions, we can help! Sessions will be offered throughout the year in the Cunninghams. For more information, check the bulletin board in the Main Cunningham Lobby or call Roger Hanna - 3002 or Scott Lissner - 2391.

Student phone books will be available in the New Smoker this Wednesday, Thursday and Friday (Oct. 31, Nov. 1 and 2) from 12 noon to 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. each day. One per room.

Body building

Interest meeting for all male and female students will be held this Thursday, November 1 at 6:30 p.m. in Room 207 of Lancer Hall. If you have any questions, please contact Dania Baber at 3071 or Bill Brady at 4052. Please attend if at all interested.

To all organizations — The Rotunda wants you! If you have something of importance that you wish to have published, send it to the Rotunda Box 1133. The deadlines are Fridays in order to make the next issue.

HELP WANTED

Earn $2,500 and FREE Spring Break trips to Bahamas, Jamica as part-time campus rep for Spring Break Travel. 1-800-638-6786.

FAST FUNDRAISING PROGRAM

$1000 IN JUST ONE WEEK

Earn up to $1000 in one week for your campus organization.

Plus a chance at $5000 more!

This program works!
No investment needed.
Call 1-800-932-0528 Ext. 50

Carpenter Center

FOR THE PERFORMING ARTS
600 East Grace Street/Richmond, VA 23219
(804) 782-3930

COMING ATTRACTIONS!

Event	Beauty Shop
Date	November 23 - 25, 1990
Time	Fri. 8 PM.; Sat. 3 & 8 PM; Sun. 3 & 7:30 PM
Contact	Nick Litrenta, Baci Management 2631 N. Charles St., Baltimore, MD 21218 301/889-3900
Ticket Prices	$25 - $15
Sale Date	Now

Event	Entrepreneur's Glow
Date	Saturday, December 8, 1990 at 8 PM
Contact	Lorenzo Terrell, Progressive Young Men's Assoc., 22 Mitchell Ct., Petersburg, VA 732-1055
Ticket Prices	TBA
Sale Date	Now

Event	A Christmas Carol
Date	Sunday, December 9, 1990, 2 PM & 7 PM
Contact	Baci Management, 2631 N. Charles St. Baltimore, MD 21218 301/889-3900
Ticket Prices	$21.50; $16.50; $12.50
Sale Date	TBA

Event	Branford Marshalls & VCU Jazz
Date	March 19, 1991
Time	TBA
Contract	David Cordle, VCU, Dept. of Music 922 Park Ave., Richmond, VA 23284 367-1165
Ticket Prices	TBA
Sale Date	TBA

Event	Gary Burton Quintet
Date	April 16, 1991
Time	TBA
Contact	David Cordle, VCU, Dept. of Music 922 Park Ave., Richmond, VA 23284 367-1165
Ticket Prices	TBA
Sale Date	TBA

The ROTUNDA

LONGWOOD COLLEGE

Vol. 70, No. 4 | November 5, 1990 | Farmville, VA

Iota Phi Lambda: New Faces On Campus

By THE LADIES OF IOTA PHI LAMBDA

There is another addition to the Panhellenic family of Longwood College. This semester, Iota Phi Lambda Sorority, Inc., has officially arrived and they have brought the spirit of sisterhood, service, and Greek unity with them.

Iota Phi Lambda Sorority is committed to helping the young black women of today. Founded in 1929 by Lola Mercedes Parker, Iota was founded as a graduate sorority for black women who were in the field of business. It has now come to include women who are professionals in all fields. The aim is to develop excellence, leadership and contribute to the socio-economic changes for the sake of all people. The Sorority puts special emphasis on helping the less fortunate youth of the "inner-city". To accommodate this aim, there are tutorial programs, career development programs, and the Toys "U" Can't Return project which is designed to increase awareness about teenage pregnancy.

Iota Phi Lambda Sorority, Inc., is a sorority with business ideals, but it is not lacking the social aspect that comes with being in a sorority. It is a unique combination of a business and social sorority. Eight young ladies have chosen to go this path and become the charter line. Under the supervision of Longwood Financial Aid Directors, Soror Claudia Logan, these young ladies have become part of one of the few undergraduate chapters throughout the country. These ladies are Raecita Gallop; senior social work major, Alethea Perkins; second semester junior occupational therapy major, Angela Watkins; senior business major, Regina Lampkin; junior education major, Monica Gilbert; junior English major, and Yvonne Harris; senior education major. They bring yet another choice into the world of black greeks as well as bringing the opportunity to belong to such an organization, down from the graduate to undergraduate level.

In essence, Iota Phi Lambda is a sorority with a purpose. The new Iotas hope to make a positive change on this campus and beyond and, having the enthusiasm that they have, it is entirely possible.

Longwood Considers Addition Of New Courses

By TRACEY M. ARMWOOD

The Black Advisory Committee, a group of representive black students, in a recent meeting pointed the fact that Longwood was not offering classes reflecting Afro-American heritage. From this complaint came a proposal for an Afro-American History course.

Administrators such as Dr. Donald Stuart, vice president of Academic Affairs, Phyllis Mable, vice president of Student Affairs, Dr. Sue Saunders, Dean of Students and Mrs. Brenda Cross, director of Minority Affairs, helped the group with problems and listen to the group for issues such as this one which are of concern to black students.

Black Advisory Committee member, Jonoil Arrington, commented, "I think the 'class' should be brought to Longwood for the simple reason that we, including black, whites, and everybody, are only about certain black leaders. With this class we can learn about the many other great black people and their many great strives."

Stuart encourages the imput of Longwood students interested in the course. In charge of student curriculum, he expressed his willingness to listen to new ideas of the student.

The Black Advisory Committee members agree that the response of students to the idea of new course about black heritage. The group has suggested that they may publish newletters or announce the ideas on the campus radio station WLCX. Students would be encouraged to respond. Large interest from Longwood students would increase the chances of the history class becoming part of the regular curriculum.

The Afro-American history class is not the only proposed course concerning the Afro-American Heritage. An Afro-American Literature and Sociology course have been considered as curriculum in the near future.

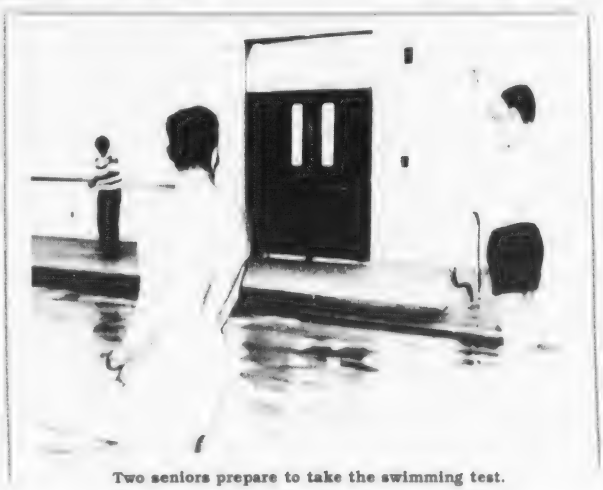
The literature class is thought offered next fall on a normal rotation. Last spring there was the same type of course offered, but it was a three-semester rotation. Although black history oriented classes have been given before they have not been given as a regular class.

"We've had black classes before, but that's only every other semester. We want more than one class every other semester, stated senior Doncella Hampton, member of the Black Advisory Committee.

The sociology course is set to begin next fall. This class will trace the history of the Civil Rights Movement. Dr. William Burger will be teaching the course. Burger says

(Continued on page 4)

Budget Cuts Affect Longwood



By SUZETTE BAIN

For the 1990-91 year, Longwood College was subjected to a series of budget cuts that will directly affect both the students and members of the faculty. Longwood's budget director, Ben Johnson, stated that Longwood was aware of the cuts prior to July 1, 1990 and immediately worked to fit the changes into the budget. There were two cuts for the fiscal year '90-91. The first was a five percent cut of $586,835 from state funding that directly affected tuition. This cut affects students in that they will have to pay extra to fund part of the reduction in revenue. In the second cut, Longwood sustained another five percent cut of $586,836 for its operating budget, plus a two percent reduction of all faculty, staff and administrative salaries.

Longwood did not receive notice about the additional cuts until August 22, 1990, after they had already made plans for the year. So the college resorted to taxing the administration to make the changes.

There were also negative effects on many of the programs that Longwood supports. For example, the state took away $20,527 from the graduate engineer program in Halifax County, and the classified salaries of employees, where salaries are based on employee evaluation. The state also took away $74,000

(Continued on page 4)

Two seniors prepare to take the swimming test.

CONTENTS

Commentary....2
Sports....3
News....4
Features....5,7
Personals....6
Classifieds....8

COMMENTARY

Letter From The Editor

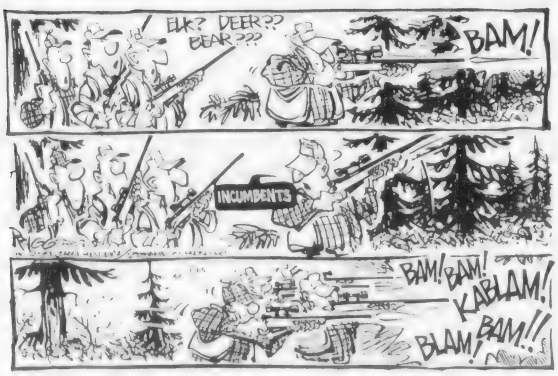
Longwood is undergoing many changes this year. From new staff additions to financial reduction. All of us are feeling the effects of these changes and this has prompted more complaints than usual from the Longwood community. I am inclined to agree that times are tough right now and we are all suffering somewhat, but allow me the luxury of taking a positive position on this. Think of the future. Yes, we have more and more money to put out each year. No one understands this more than I seeing as how I am an out-of-state student whose parents are paying the most one can pay to attend this institution of higher education. Money is the major factor in most of the complaints, but one day, Longwood will become even more prestigious than it already is. (Believe it or not, people outside of Virginia have heard of Longwood.) We will all be feeling pretty proud when that day comes. "You attended Longwood?!" Ok, maybe this is a bit far-fetched, but anything is possible.

Besides money, we are all complaining about one service or the other. The food we eat like royalty around here compared to most campuses, the social life — only you can prevent boredom; the parking — where in life won't you find parking problems?; red tape — I agree that there is an excessive amount of this and I can't begin to explain it. But I come from a government employed family and one thing I have always heard is that there are lines to cross and those lines tend to interfere with each other, but that is the way of the world.

To sum it up, take a look at the pros as well as the cons. Compare us, if you must, to other schools and then decide if this is really all that bad. If you say yes, then maybe it is time to put in for a transfer. You always have that option.

Letter To The Editor

By BARBARA LEE ZWIRNBAUM



Recently it was announced that the registrar's office will be charging a fee to add or drop a class. This announcement also states that, in the future tuition costs could decrease as a result of this fee. This fee takes away from the students.

Longwood College is a fine school; the administrators, faculty, staff, and students, normally, work together toward a standard of excellence in higher education. The fee divorces the students of that academic freedom. It is traditional that college students do not have an extensive income. This fee of ten dollars may not seem high, but it is money lost. I think that the real question here is: should profit override academics.

Students do not arbitrarily choose schedules. Thanks to Longwood, we have fine advisors who assist us in the selection. Be it an overload of classes, family problems, or level of difficulty subject. It is far better that the student drop the class than remain obvious. It will interfere with the students GPA, and with the professor's class.

This fee will be viewed by incoming students as a punishment, at most, and as a hassle, at least. Through this expenditure, students will be discouraged to drop or add classes, because of the embarassment of seeming unorganized. Of the colleges in Virginia, very few use this form of elimination, why are we?

The ROTUNDA

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
Monica Y. Gilbert

News Editor
Beth A. Lord

Features Editor
Lindy Seymore

Sports Editor
Charlie Fultz

Photography Editor
Judi Weller

Layout Editor
Sarah Whiteside

Business Manager
Anita Owens

Advertising Manager
Bradley Owen

Faculty Advisor
Barbara LaJaunie

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be signed and typed or printed neatly. The Editor and staff reserve the right to edit any material submitted for publication.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles is 3:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Monday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 395-2120.

SPORTS

Soccer Team To Play For VISA Crown Saturday

Longwood and Mary Washington will play for the Virginia Intercollegiate Soccer Association championship Saturday at 12 noon in Farmville, marking the third time in the past seven years that the two teams have squared off for the title.

Sunday, Longwood beat Randolph-Macon 2-1 and Mary Washington topped Virginia Wesleyan in a shootout to advance to the VISA title game. The Lancers won VISA titles in 1982, 1984 and 1986. Mary Washington shared the title with Longwood in 1984, and beat the Lancers in 1988 3-0 to win the crown outright.

Longwood, which will bring an 11-5-1 mark into the game, beat the Eagles 1-0 in early Oct. The two teams had 3-1 records in the VISA Eastern Division with Longwood getting the top seed based on its regular season victory. Mary Washington, which dropped an NCAA Division III Tournament game to Bethany last Wednesday, is 12-5-2.

Ted Doran's goal with 25:13 left in the second half provided the margin of victory as Longwood nipped old rival Randolph-Macon 2-1 in the VISA semi-finals Sunday afternoon before an enthusiastic crowd of several hundred spectators.

Doran's goal was set up beautifully by Jeff Bogushefsky who made a run from across midfield down the sideline. Bogushefsky pulled up and booted a perfect pass to Doran who knocked in the game — winner from about 15 feet away.

"I had told Mugs (Bogushefsky) to attack the flank," said Lancer coach Stan Cieplinski. "That was part of our game plan. He made a great run to set up the goal."

Back Brendan Nash had given the Lancers a 1-0 lead some six minutes into the game with a goal similar to Doran's. Midfielder Byron Edwards got the assist on Nash's goal.

Macon's Mike Gregory tied the game with 7:31 left in the first half on an assist from Kang Lee. The Yellow Jackets, who finished the season at 9-12-2, had 10 shots to Longwood's eight. The Lancers got eight saves from goalkeep Paul Hogan, including several game-saving stops.

"The game came together pretty well for us," said Cieplinski. "We didn't make major errors. Macon's goal came on a deflection. We're looking forward to the title game this weekend."

Mary Washington and Virginia Wesleyan battled to a 1-1 tie through two overtimes Sunday. The Eagles won a post-game shootout to advance to the VISA finals, even though the game counts as a tie.

Duncan All Smiles About 90-91 Campaign

When you walk into Longwood women's basketball coach Shirley Duncan's office, something seems out of place. Yes, the shelves are stuffed with textbooks and coaching manuals, the floor is littered with practice shirts and balls, and her desk is cluttered with mounds of paperwork. But mention the upcoming basketball season and you'll soon realize what is missing.

Absent is that feeling of anxiety and tension that usually pervades the pre-season. It has been replaced by something very refreshing – a smile. A smile so large it becomes infectious if ;you spend any length of time with her.

Why should a smile seem so unusual? Well most veteran coaches, it seems, possess a permanent grimace that is chiseled onto their faces by seasons that could have, or should have, been. Opportunities missed because of injuries, poor recruiting years, or athletic potential that players left in their gym bags.

But Coach Duncan smiles because, barring injury, natural disasters, or divine intervention, she, her staff and players, could share in a very successful year. After three years of recruiting that has imported a wealth of dedicated, motivated and talented athletes to Farmville, Duncan believes she has assembled the deepest team she has seen in her tenure of eight years.

"During our early games last year," said Duncan, "we had to worry if we were going to have enough healthy people to play. Now we can actually consider resting players like Carmille (Barnette)," who was sidelined last season because of an overuse injury.

If you thought Coach Duncan was joking about Longwood's depth, thing again. In case you missed it, she just suggested that her returning All-American might spend some time riding the pine this season. Well, okay, not that much time. Because as Duncan points out, with Barnette running the floor, she makes things happen for the team.

Barnette, a 5-10 power forward, enters this season with some impressive numbers. In 21 appearances last season, she averaged 28.4 points and 13.8 rebounds per game, shooting 47 percent from the floor. Her numbers earned her a spot on the 10 player Kodak/WBCA Division II All-America team _ the only junior selected. For her career, she currently ranks third among Longwood all-time scorers with 1,310 points and fourth in rebounds with 642. If she continues at her torrid pace, Barnette will top the list in points, rebounding average and field goal percentage.

Before you forget, the Longwood roster lists one other senior. Ann Callaham, the Lady Lancers' other senior, is no slouch either. Callaham, a 5-4 guard, played point in all 26 of the Lady Lancer contests last season. She scored 412 points for 15.8 per game, and dropped in 26 of ;73 (35 percent) from behind the 3-point line. She also accumulated 98 steals. Duncan may also utilize Callaham as a shooting guard in certain situations.

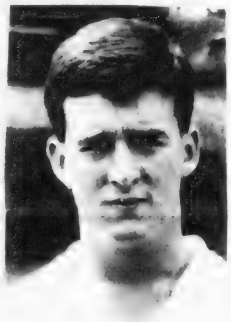
Salene Green, co-captain with Barnette this season, should start as the small forward. The 5-11 junior was marked second in rebounds for Longwood last year with 239 for a 9.2 per game average. A strong inside player, she may miss some early games due to a severely sprained ankle sustained in a pick-up game.

Moving from the small guard position she occupied last season, 5-10 junior Cassie Mullinex will take up residence at small forward. Possessing a good outside shot, she also works well under the boards.

The post position will be filled by junior Teresa Carter, a starter from last season. Carter, 5-11, runs the court well for someone her size, and has strong moves around the basket. She averaged 6.3 rebounds and 5.7 points per game last year.

Also returning from last season are junior Tena Philbrick and sophomore Cari Dellinger. Philbrick, 5-7, will help at the guard position

(Continued on page 4)



Nash Named Longwood Player Of The Week

Sophomore soccer player Brendan Nash played key roles on offense and defense in Longwood's VISA semi-final victory over Randolph-Macon Sunday and has been named Longwood College Player of the Week for the period Oct. 28-Nov. 4 Player of the Week is chosen by the Longwood Sports Information Office.

Nash, who plays stopper back, scored a first half goal Sunday which put Longwood on top 1-0. The Lancers, 11-5-1, went on to win 2-1 and advance to the VISA Finals Saturday. Nash also played an outstanding game defensively.

"Brendan has been doing a real nice job for us at that spot," said Lancer coach Stan Cieplinski. "We've been turning him loose on offense, and he has come through, scoring three goals. He's been a threat on offense as well as a good defender."

Nash has scored three goals for the Lancers while taking just nine shots. A graduate of Christian Brothers Academy, he played in 19 game last season as a starte . He was named third team All-State and All-Monmouth County in high school.

Brendan Nash

Longwood Basketball Begins New Era With Carr

The catchword for the 1990-91 Longwood basketball season could well be "new." The Lancers have a new coach, a host of new players and a new starting lineup.

Gone from last season are 1,000 point scorers Kevin Jefferson, Doug Poppe and Dale Shavers, plus top reserve guart Tony Good. Former head coach Cal Luther is also gone.

First year head coach Ron Carr, who came on board in August, has two returning starters, six letterwinners and several promising newcomers to work with.

"We have at least four seasoned players with good attitudes who really want to win," says Carr. "Seniors Greg Holloway, Billy Dunn, Keith Latimer and junior Joe Lowe play hard and play together pretty well.

"We've got to find a way to replace the scoring of Jefferson, Poppe and Shavers. Dunn and Holloway will most likely lead a balanced attack, but Latimer and Lowe will have to come forward and pick up some slack."

Dunn, who holds most of Longwood's records for 3-point shooting, and Holloway, a 6-6 bruiser inside, were starters a year ago. A 5-11 guard, Dunn averaged 8.2 points and 3.5 rebounds while hitting 37 of 101 three-point shots. He had a record-tying six bonus buckets in one game.

Holloway averaged 10 points and 6.1 rebounds last season and has played in 80 games over the past three years, starting 55.

Latimer, a 6-5 forward, will get increased playing time after seeing limited duty his first three years. He averaged 3.5 points and 3.2 rebounds last year.

Back in action after sitting out last season, Lowe will team up with Dunn to give the Lancers perhaps their fastest backcourt duo ever. An outstanding defender, Lowe will play the point and direct the break. He averaged 2.5 points while playing in 48 games his first two years.

Sophomores Bryan Weaver, 6-6, and Eric Letts, 6-5, will also be key men in Carr's plans for 1990-91. Weaver played in 21 games a year ago with three starts. He scored 2.8 points and pulled down three rebounds per contest. Letts is a good shooter and solid player with sound basketball instincts. He played in 14 games last year, scoring 3.0 per game.

Lancers reserves who are also back include senior guard Keith Morgan and sophomore guards Rodney

(Continued on page 4)

NEWS

Credit Cards Mixed Blessing For Collegians

Courtesy of College Press Service

By B.J. HOEPTNER

The good news is college students are finding it easier than ever to obtain credit cards.

The bad news is they're also finding it easier to fall into debt to the point of having to drop out of school.

Card companies began marketing aggressively to college students for the first time ever about two years ago have, by this fall, created something of a debtor generation of collegians.

"Many students (here) have credit cards and, yes, most of them are maxed out," said Michael Labban, a student at Florida Atlantic University.

"I don't trust myself to get a Visa," said DeeAn Nakagawa, a student at Western Washington University. A friend of hers declared bankruptcy at age 21, partly because of problems with credit cards.

Nevertheless, Citibank Corporation, which promotes student credit cards on 18,000 college campuses, estimates that 1.5 to 1.7 million students are carrying their Visa and Mastercards this year and "it continues to go up," said Citibank spokesman Bill Ahern.

To get them to sign on, card companies offer students nifty prizes and premiums.

In 1989, American Express promised new student cardmembers discount airplane tickets.

Credit and charge card companies give "huge candy bars" to students who apply at Western Washington, Nakagawa said.

Florida Atlantic's Labban said he receives "a lot" of "guaranteed-approval" applications in the mail for cards from oil companies, Visa and the Discover card.

Students used to be seen as poor and not very creditworthy by many of the companies until recently.

Now they maintain that students are good customers whose default rates, about 4 percent, are no higher than that of the general public.

"We've found that students go on to become our best customers," said Gail Wasserman, a spokeswoman for American Express, which offers a charge card that must be paid off monthly.

However, student financial counselors are less sanguine about the change.

"We see some (students) in trouble to the point of dropping out," said Ann Swift, a counselor at Iowa State University's financial planning clinic.

Florida Atlantic's Labban, for one, said he stopped using his credit card because he "couldn't handle it."

The number of students Swift sees who are in trouble with creditors has increased over the past year, she said.

She blames the increase on the easy availability of the cards and lack of student education on the subject of credit.

"Nowhere does anyone sit down with them (students) and tell them" about the trouble they can get into with credit cards, Swift said.

Some schools try.

The University of Southern Maine holds a session about credit cards at its orientation for first-year students. University of Texas students get a written warning about incurring credit card debts when they pick up their financial aid applications.

But at Iowa State, Swift usually doesn't get to see students until they are already deep in debt and often have a student loan to pay off as well.

Students "don't think about what that (borrowing) means in terms of future debt," Swift said.

It certainly means it is easier to spend money. Credit card purchases now account for 40 percent – up from 33 percent in 1988 – of the bookstore sales at California State University, Hayward, store manager Norman Schmitz estimated.

Some schools, including Syracuse, Columbia, Vanderbilt Cornell and Duke universities as well as the universities of Missouri and Kentucky, have their own "debit" cards, which students can use to purchase food and books or use copy machines.

In some cases the charges go right on to a student's tuition bill.

Tom Black, coordinator of a pilot debit card program at the University of North Carolina, contends such cards are "safer" for students because they can use them only for on-campus purchases.

Even so, Black said the school has "some concern" that students won't use the card wisely.

For students who haven't used their regular credit and charge cards wisely, Swift suggests first calling the company.

"Creditors will work with students" who can't pay the minimum charges, Swift said.

In some cases, Swift encourages debtors to take a second job, cut up the card and send it back.

"It's a matter of tightening the belt and slowly chipping away at the debt," she said.

Budget Cuts

(Continued from page 1)

of the architectural planning money for Lancaster Library after it is cleared out, and took away $100,000 from the new library. Money has been approved for the restoration of the Grangier Building, but it is frozen at this time. Now the state will only approve money for emergency situations, such as life threatening and property threatening situations (as is the case of Grangier.)

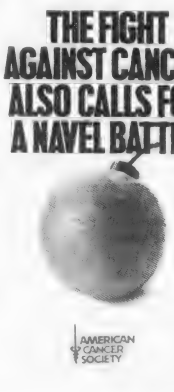
In other projects, the new dorm plan costing 5 million will not be affected by the budget cuts because it is funded through bonds, where the money is borrowed and there is no state contribution whatsoever. The government also refuses to support the construction of buildings that are not for educational purposes.

When the state makes the cuts, only the fees for tuition will be affected. The housing, dining, and comprehensive fees (athletic facilities, health services) will not be affected because they are 100% self-funding and self-supporting.

All together, the state's normal rate of support for the college is 70%, where students, pay the extra 30%, but this rate may not stay that way in the upcoming years.

On the other hand, Longwood College is working very hard to make things happen, and Johnson says that things are moving well, except for those things funded by the state.

Duncan



(Continued from page 3)

and 6-1 Dellinger will make a contribution off the bench at center.

Would you like to see Coach Duncan's smile broaden a little more? Let's talk about her recruits. Freshman Cassie Ensley, 5-6, joins the Lady Lancers from Albert Einstein H.S. in Kensington, MD. A 1,000 point scorer, she will come off the bench to relieve Callaham at point. From Stonewall Jackson H.S. in Manassas comes Teresa Frederick. A versatile plyer, the 5-9 freshman may see time as a forward or guard. 5-8 Freshman Ana Litton, whom Duncan considers the best all around athlete of the group, will assume the role of a shooting guard. A graduate of James Wood High in Winchester, she average 18.4 points per game her senior year.

Heather Green, Salene's older sister, joins Longwood this season. A red-shirt sophomore last year, the 6-0 forward played for Alaska-Pacific University her freshman year. Another transfer, 5-9 sophomore Mandy Evans, played for a year at University of North Carolina-Greensboro. A smart defensive player, she will see action in one of the forward positions.

Longwood opens the season on the road Nov. 16 and 17 when they travel to Shippensburg, PA to participate int he Shippensburg University Invitational. The Lady Lancers host Elon College Nov. 20 in Longwood's home opener in Lancer Hall.

Carr

(Continued from page 3)

Clayton and Keith Crabtree. Junior Lancelot James, 6-6, is on the squad after red-shirting last season.

Five newcomers are also in the fold, including junior college transfer Jay Bunnell, a 6-5 swing player, and Travis Bohrer, a 6-7 forward. Bunnell, the team's top outside threat along with Dunn, could battle for a starting spot. Bohrer will be counted on for help inside.

Lancer freshmen are 6-5 forward Reggie Turner and walk-on guards Michael Druitt, 6-0, and Joe Langhi, 6-2. Turner, who has excellent offensive skills, could be a force in the future. Druitt has had a good preseason and could get time if the continues to improve.

Carr's assessment of the upcoming season is filled with questionmarks.

"The players must adapt to a new coach and a new system," said Carr. "If Latimer and Lowe come through and we are able to develop some quality depth in the backcourt we should be competitive."

New Courses

(Continued from page 1)

he is "excited" about the class and plans to begin the new course with studies of the writings of such great black figures as W. E. B. DuBois.

Positive attitudes about the new course so far prevail. The Association of Black Students (ABS), plans to support the courses all the way. ABS president, senior Melissa Funn said of the courses "I think it would be great because there are alot of things I would like to know about my culture. The members of ABS will support the ideas for Afro-American courses."

These classes are not meant for any particular race. Anyone who is interested in learning more about the Afro-American people and their contributions to society could take them. Stuart said, that he hoped that "these will be a regular offering of courses (Afro-American heritage courses), not just to Afro-American students, but to all students."

FEATURES

Shaw's "Pygmalion" To Open Wednesday

The next theatrical production at Longwood College will be George Bernard Shaw's comedy, Pygmalion, a favorite with European and American audiences since it was first produced in London in 1914.

The comedy will be presented by the Longwood Players and the theatre department on Wednesday through Saturday evenings, Nov. 14-17, at 8 o'clock in Jarman Auditorium.

General admission to the play is $5; area students, senior citizens, and Longwood employees $3; Longwood students free with ID.

Dr. Patton Lockwood, professor of speech and theatre, is directing the Longwood production. "The play deals with phonetics, a subject that fascinated Shaw," Lockwood said. "He crusaded all his life for a revision in English spelling, favoring an alphabet with 42 letters. He claimed that $10-million a day could be saved worldwide by a more efficient way of writing the sounds in the English language."

The cast includes 23 Longwood students. David Richards, a sophomore theatre major, has the role of Professor Henry Higgins. Freshman Jessica Billones portrays Eliza Doolittle, the East Londoner whose distinctive Cockney dialect is transformed by the professor into cultured, upper-crust British speech.

Other cast members are: Anthony Tassa as Colonel Pickering, Vernell Williamson as Mrs. Higgins, Kaddy Feast as Mrs. Pearce, Josh Regan as Alfred Doolittle, Lea Anne Rickard as Clara Eynsford Hill, Teresa Goding as Mrs. Eynsford Hill, Terry Higgins as Freddy Eynsford Hill, Kate Dunnet as the parlor maid, Chris Jones and Jon Church as bystanders, Sean Cooper as the taxi driver, and 10 other students as extras.

The Longwood production is the original version of Pygmalion, written by Shaw in 1912 when he was not yet well known. The play was first produced, in German, in 1913 in Vienna.

The following year it opened in London, with Mrs. Patrick Campbell playing the part of Eliza. "Mrs. Campbell was a very successful actress at the time and was partly responsible for the success of the play," Lockwood said. "She brought Pygmalion to New York, where it was a hit during the latter months of 1914, and then toured across the country in 1915. This was the first exposure of American audiences to Shaw's work."

The character of Henry Higgins was based on a real person named Henry Sweet. "A maverick teacher at Oxford, Sweet spoke seven languages and was responsible for the first serious study of English phonetics," Lockwood said. "He was well respected in Europe, but not in England where he had ruffled too many feathers in the academic establishment."

There have been several revisions of Pygmalion, including the musical version entitled My Fair Lady, one of Broadway's biggest hits.

George Bernard Shaw was born in Ireland in 1856. He lived almost a century, dying in 1950. He received the Nobel Prize for literature in 1925.

HERE'S WHY
THE SMART MONEY AT
LONGWOOD COLLEGE
IS GOING WITH TIAA-CREF
AS IF THE FUTURE DEPENDED ON IT.

Because it does. Smart investors know that your future depends on how well your retirement system performs. TIAA-CREF has been the premier retirement system for people in education and research for over 70 years. We have enabled over 200,000 people like you to enjoy a comfortable retirement. And over 1,000,000 more are now planning for the future with TIAA-CREF.

SMART MONEY LOOKS FOR SECURITY, GROWTH AND DIVERSITY FOR RETIREMENT SAVINGS.

Security—so the resources are there when it is time to retire. Growth—so you'll have enough income for the kind of retirement you want. And diversity—to help protect you against market volatility and to let you benefit from several types of investments.

THAT'S EXACTLY WHAT YOU GET WITH TIAA-CREF.

TIAA offers you the safety of a traditional annuity that guarantees your principal plus a specified rate of interest, and provides for additional growth through dividends. CREF's variable annuity offers opportunities for growth through four different investment accounts, each managed with the long-term perspective essential to sound retirement planning:

The CREF Stock Account
The CREF Money Market Account
The CREF Bond Market Account*
The CREF Social Choice Account*

CALL 1-800-842-2776
TO FIND OUT MORE

Our experienced retirement counselors will be happy to answer your questions and tell you more about retirement annuities from TIAA-CREF.

Experience. Performance. Strength. Your future is protected by the largest private retirement system in the world. We have done so well, for so many, for so long, that we currently manage some $85 billion in assets.

TIAA CREF

Ensuring the future for those who shape it.℠

* The CREF Bond Market and Social Choice Accounts may not be available under all institutional retirement plans, but are available for all Supplemental Retirement Annuity plans

For more complete information, including charges and expenses, call 1 800 842-2733, ext 5509 for a prospectus. Read the prospectus carefully before you invest or send money.

PERSONALS

3rd Floor North — Roses are red, Violets are blue, If you put more shaving cream on me, I will kill you!

King Richard and the Harrible Hogs — Fidget lives!

Stretch — I guess you are off the hook.

Soozie — Don't let your hands follow your dreams!

3rd Floor North — Roses are red, Violets are blue, You guys are messy, but we still love you. (only if we're Suzie).

Doug — Have you been "sluzed" lately?!

Marnie — Fruit Punch for everybody!

To the Pledges of Zeta Tau Alpha — You all are the greatest!! We love you! Zeta love — The Sisters

To Steve Dealph — You're doing a great job! Keep it up! Love — The Presidents walking trio!

To Jaime Shearls — Thank you for helping with the Longwood Seminar Presentations. You're Awesome!

African Queen — It took awhile but we made it over the first obstacle. Now let's show how together we can be. — Love, Zenobia

Congratulations Amye Curlee, Ellen, Julie, and Janet! They couldn't have gotten a better bunch.

Ben — I'm sprinkling some pixie dust your way.

To the Slack RA. on 7th — Thanks for all those Personals! We love you anyway — S.F.K.

7th Curry — Hang in there — It will get easier!

Polly, I can't let you in the dining hall without your ID, Baby! — Tina

Blue Moon — Thanks for the party in Amelia. I don't think either of us will forget it. No more green gosh darn fruit for me. That's potent stuff! I'll stick to momies and zombies. — Love ya, Skeeter

To Polly and Charlie — You're Great Co-workers! — Steve

To my Aar-Aar: with each passing moment my love grows stronger. We've got a tough six months ahead of us Honey, just hold on to the faith — we'll make it through this. No more doubts from this end. My Hero! I'll love you for all eternity, (Ditto?) Love your C.C. — Bros. Dude!

Mr. U. Man — Thanks for the great personal! Keep'em coming. Many many many Thanks, — Your Girls

To "Chocolate" and "Growth" — I bet Chichi had a better time this weekend than Dootley Dot and Impossible. — Love, ORE

Jon — Don't worry. Everything will be fine. I never did like Charlottesville anyway. If you need me, you know I'm here with good ears and a closed mouth. — Tau love, Christie

EM — You are the best roomie ever! Thanks for always understanding. I love ya! — Jen

Alicia — I'm watching you and things are getting pretty hot! You're going to FRY! — DZ love, your burnbuddy

Douglas — I am not precocious!

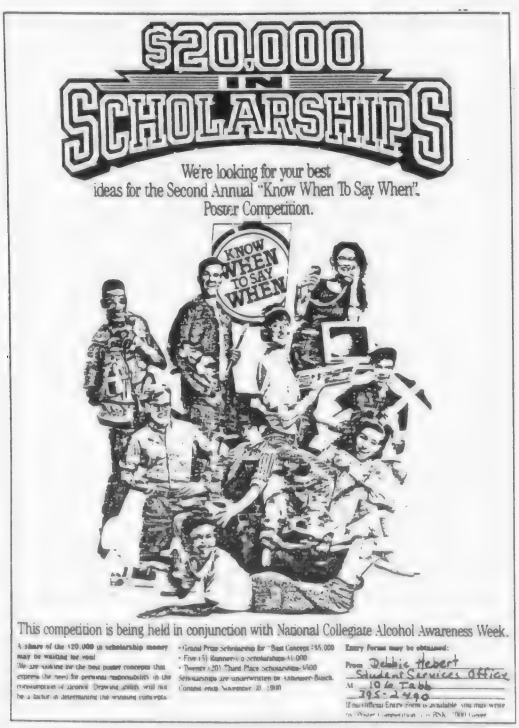
Karen — Had a great time this weekend. We're definitely going to have to do that Hampden-Sydney thing soon (but I guess those naked men were good enough replacements!) — Love in AΣT, Christie



Look right here and you will find, the childhood we left behind. We're to old, so they say, but we have a right to go out and play. A surprise for you; Here Chi will lay!!!

To Oreatha Eldridge — Thanks for all the help and support that you gave us. — Love the African Queens of Iota Phi Zambda Sorority, Inc.

Lisa M. Poulos — I just wanted you to know that I'm thinking about you right this minute. I really appreciate the friendship and love you've given me in the last 1 year-11 days-2 hours-10 minutes. — Forevered loved, Michael

To all Alpha Gams — I'll see all of you beauties on Sat. Night. Cheers!

Amy — We are so glad you're pledging the best sorority. Alpha Sigma Tau loves you. Watch out for a surprise later this week! (i can't wait till Chris finds out!) — AΣT love and mine, Christie

Chamber Music Series

1990-1991 SEASON

November 12, 1990
JAMES HOULIK, SAXOPHONE
James Houlik has led in the establishment of the tenor saxophone as a medium for serious music making, performing throughout Europe, Asia, and the United States.

February 11, 1991
MARIA BACHMANN, VIOLIN
Power, flair, imagination, and astounding technical mastery of her instrument are why violinist Maria Bachmann has attracted attention since her highly acclaimed New York debut in 1987.

March 11, 1991
ROXBURY CHAMBER PLAYERS
This concert by the Roxbury Chamber Players will include the Quintet for Clarinet and Strings by Max Reger and the Flute Quintet by Virginia Composer Johann Franco.

April 8, 1991
SHANGHAI STRING QUARTET
Hailed by the New York Times as "among the finest young foursomes of the day" the Shanghai String Quartet is becoming one of the leading quartets of the present generation.

ALL CONCERTS ARE IN WYGAL RECITAL HALL
Monday evenings at 8:00 p.m.
Admission without charge

Program may be subject to change.
For information call Music Bulletin Board: (804)395-2678

FEATURES

Celebrate American Education College Week

Dr. Joseph Spagnolo, Virginia Superintendent of Public Instruction, will give a lecture at Longwood College on Monday, Nov. 12, in celebration of American Education College Week.

The public is invited to hear Dr. Spagnolo speak at 7:30 p.m. in Bedford Auditorium. His topic is "Reconceptualization and Challenge."

Dr. Spagnolo was superintendent of Lynchburg's schools for 17 years before being appointed by Governor Wilder to head the state's entire public school system.

He has been a biology teacher in New Jersey and Virginia, assistant principal in Charlottesville, principal in Chesterfield County, and has taught part-time at VCU and the University of Virginia.

Dr. Spagnolo has been involved with numerous professional and civic activities, including serving as president of the Virginia Association of School Administrators and board member for the Virginia School of the Arts, Old Dominion Job Corps, Virginia High School League, Junior Achievement of Lynchburg, and the United Way of Central Virginia.

His bachelor's and master's degrees are from Fairleigh Dickinson University in New Jersey, and his doctorate in education is from the University of Virginia.

Cameratas Sing All-Baroque Concert

Longwood College's Camerata Singers will give an All-Baroque concert on Thursday, Nov. 8, at 8 p.m. in Wygal Recital Hall.

The program will feature three major works from the Baroque era (1600-1750): "In memoria aeterna" (For the righteous shall be remembered) from Beatus Vir by Antonio Vivaldi; Magnificat (My Soul Doth Magnify the Lord) by Dietrich Buxtehude; and "Come Ye Sons of Art" (Birthday Ode for Queen Mary), an 11-movement work by Henry Purcell.

Angela Brame, a student of Dr. Paul Hesselink, will provide the organ accompaniment for the Magnificat.

The Birthday Ode will feature solos by Thomas Williams, baritone and head of Longwood's voice faculty, and three of his students — Susan Curry, Tamlyn Leaf, and Rebecca Todd.

Other accompanists for the concert will be Nancy Sherman at the harpsichord and Dr. Hesselink at the organ.

The 44-voice Camerata Singers are directed by Dr. Donald Trott. Members of the mixed choral ensemble are selected by audition.

The Baroque concert is the first of a series Dr. Trott is planning "to present music of a particular period, emphasizing the performance practice of that period."

Get A Kick Out Of The Martial Arts Club

By SARA PARKER

You may have seen these signs around campus lately. Then again, you may not have. In case you haven't read them, we are not advertising a Bruce Lee film festival, a Chuck Norris kick-alive contest, or a drawing to win a date with Steven Segal (unfortunately). What we are talking about is the Longwood Martial Arts Club. The LMAC is a new club (not even chartered yet) just started on this campus, and we are holding martial arts classes every Monday and Wednesday night in the wrestling room in Tabb. Our beginner classes are from 8-9 p.m., and our advanced classes (for those with previous experience) are from 9-10 p.m. So far we've had a pretty good turnout, but we have plenty of extra space, and it's never too late to join. Impress your dog, beat up your professor, learn how to defend yourself against date rape.

Whatever you want to get out of the martial arts be it physical conditioning, the ability to take care of yourself, or just to try something new for kicks (Ha! for kicks! kill me), you can get it from the L.M.A.C. You'll never find this level of instruction for just a $5 equipment fee again. Take advantage of us while we're feeling charitable. Heck, if you bring in two friends, we'll let you in free.

Knowing how to defend yourself is becoming more and more imperative on college campuses, even in a small town like Farmville. Is two hours a week too much time to spend learning how to save your life? For further information, please call Krissy 3792.

Forensic Team Victories

Pictured from left to right: Cynthia Ownes, Lisa Edmonds, Stacy Custer. Back row: Nathan Wade. Not pictured is Mary-Robyn Adams.

The Longwood College Forensic Team has competed in two tournaments this fall. Five students competed at Howard University on Saturday, October 6, and finished the weekend at a Sunday tournament at George Mason University.

Winning the Howard University Meet was St. Johns University of New York with George Mason University in second place. Again at the Sunday tournament St. Johns won with Seaton Hall University in second place.

Veteran Mary-Robyn Adams, a senior, placed ninth out of 35 in prose reading at Howard University. Lisa Edmonds, a junior, made her best showing in dramatic interpretation at George Mason.

Three newcomers to the team made good scores in their first outing. Sophomore Cynthia Owens competed in prose reading, improving her scores on Sunday at George Mason. Freshman Stacey Custer missed the finals in Informative Speaking at Howard University by one point, placing sixth. At George Mason she placed eleventh. Nathan Wade, a freshman won eighth place in impromptu speaking at George Mason University.

Over twenty colleges and universities competed at these tournaments. The next meet for Longwood College will be at Towson State University near Baltimore on Saturday and Sunday, December 1st and 2nd. If any LC student would like to participate in this tournament, please see Dr. Nancy Haga, Department of Speech and Theatre, Jarman Auditorium or call 2466.

Flora And Slayton Senior Recital

Alice Flora and Linda Slayton, seniors at Longwood College, will present a recital on Sunday evening, Nov. 11, at 8 o'clock in Wygal Recital Hall.

Miss Flora, soprano, will sing early English songs by Campian; a set of Italian and French songs by Scarlatti, Durento, and Saint-Saens; two 20th-century songs by Persichetti; and Spaeth's "Jack and Jill," a parody of Italian, German, French, and English operatic styles, ending with a jazz-blues version.

Miss Slayton, flutist, will play a Bach sonata and works by Hindemith, Debussy, and Perilhou. She will accompany Miss Flora on the Saint-Saens piece.

Accompanists for the recital include Miss Slayton's mother, Frances Slayton, and Nancy Sherman at the piano, and Angela Brame at the harpsichord.

Miss Slayton, from Pamplin, is a biology/pre-medicine major with a minor in music. She plans to be a pediatrician.

A dean's list student every semester at Longwood, Miss Slayton is a tutor for other students. She is a member of Phi Kappa Phi, Lambda Delta, and Beta Beta Beta honor societies and performs in the Flute and Woodwind Ensembles and the Concert Band.

She is a 1987 graduate of Prince Edward Academy. Her parents are Bernard and Frances Slayton.

Miss Flora, from Rocky Mount, is a music education major with a concentration in voice and minor in piano. She is a member of the Camerata Singers and the Lancer Edition Show Choir. In addition, she is vocalist for Longwood's Jazz Band.

The public is invited to attend the recital free of charge.

CLASSIFIEDS

Short Notice

We recently received a request from Sleepy Hollow Manor Recreation Center which concerns the last wish of a seven (7) year old boy, Craig Shergold, who has a brain tumor and very little time to live. Craig's wish, as expressed to the Children's Wish Foundation, is to have an entry in the Guiness Book of World Records for the largest number of "Get Well Wishers" ever by any individual.

We would like to ask you to please take a moment to send a card to Craig at:

Craig Shergold, c/o Children's Wish Foundation, 3200 Perimeter Center, East, Atlanta, GA 30346

SMART — Student managed Academic Residential Tutoring is a new student support program sponsored by the Learning Center and the Cunninghams Hall Council to help you with your academic needs. Whether you need a tutor or study companions, we can help! Sessions will be offered throughout the year in the Cunninghams. For more information, check the bulletin board in the Main Cunningham Lobby or call Roger Hanna - 3002 or Scott Lissner - 2391.

Come and enjoy some great Christian fellowship on Friday, November 9 in the Red, White and Green rooms of Lankford Student Union Building. The Rally will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will carry on for three hours! The night will be filled with activities, special music, personal testimonies, refreshments, and the word of God. Don't miss this fun-filled and inspiring night!

The Red Cross Blood Mobile, sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega Service Fraternity will be held November 28th from 12 to 6 p.m. in the Red, White, and Green Room. Sign ups are November 12-15 during lunch and dinner hours in the New Smoker. All are welcome!

To all organizations — The Rotunda wants you! If you have something of importance that you wish to have published, send it to the Rotunda Box 1133. The deadlines are Fridays in order to make the next issue.

Beginning November 2 the library's hours will be extended to 11 p.m. Sunday through Thursday.

Beginning November 26 the Library's hours will be extended to 12 midnight Sunday through Thursday. During December 8-13 the library will be open every day until 12 midnight.

Order of Omega, Theta Chi Chapter, congratulates our new Candidate-Members:

Ellen Binswanger, Alpha Gamma Delta; Ayme Curlee, Alpha Gamma Delta; Tammy Estes, Sigma Kappa; Scott Flood, Alpha Chi Rho; Libby Hoggard, Alpha Delta Pi; Asia Jones, Alpha Kappa Alpha; Stephanie King, Sigma Sigma Sigma; Janet Miles, Alpha Delta Pi; Chris Parks, Alpha Chi Rho; Brad Pomp, Pi Kappa Phi; Scott Prickett, Alpha Sigma Phi; Jaime Shearls, Zeta Tau Alpha; Julie Smith, Sigma Kappa; Julie Tate, Alpha Gamma Delta; and our Honorary Candidate -Member, MaryKaye Benton, Sigma Sigma Sigma Advisor.

Personals

Billy H. — Thanks for inviting me to go to Eagle Eryie with you. I had an awesome time. — Karen M.

Sheri — Thanks for being there for me last year and for telling me that someone would eventually come along for me. — Karen

To ΔZ 6-on-6 Volleyball Team — You guys are the best! Together we can't be beat. Congrats on winning the Intramural Tournament! — ΔZ love Michelle, Your team captain

Nicole — You are an awesome big sis! Thanks for everything ... I love ya! — ΔZ love and mine, Jen

Hiedi — Sorry I don't come to your room anymore or call you much, but life has changed for me. I still think of thou. — Karen

Suze — Now your name's in the personal's! — Cathi

3rd Floor Main (ISH) — Here's a personal because I didn't want you guys to feel left out. You are a great hall! — Love, Jen

FAST FUNDRAISING PROGRAM

$1000 IN JUST ONE WEEK

Earn up to $1000 in one week for your campus organization.

Plus a chance at $5000 more!

This program works! No investment needed.

Call 1-800-932-0528 Ext. 50

FOR A BETTER AMERICA ... BE INFORMED... AND VOTE

HELP WANTED

Earn $2,500 and FREE Spring Break trips to Bahamas, Jamica as part-time campus rep for Spring Break Travel. 1-800-638-6786.

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE
FALL SEMESTER - 1990

Students having three examinations on one day may take one of the examinations during a scheduled makeup period. The instructor works out the arrangements with the student.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 8 — READING DAY

EXAM DAY/DATE	9-12	2-5	7-10
MONDAY DECEMBER 10	ENGLISH 051, 100,101 CONFLICT OR MAKEUP	M/W/F 11:30	M/W/F/ 1:30 AND MONDAY EVENING CLASSES
TUESDAY DECEMBER 11	M/W/F/ 9:30	T/R 11:20	T/R 3:55 AND TUESDAY EVENING CLASSES
WEDNESDAY DECEMBER 12	T/R 9:55	M/W/F 12:30	M/W/F/ 4:30 AND WEDNESDAY EVENING CLASSES
THURSDAY DECEMBER 13	M/W/F 8:30	T/R 2:30	M/W/F/ 2:30 AND THURSDAY EVENING CLASSES
FRIDAY DECEMBER 14	T/R 8:30	M/W/F/ 10:30	M/W/F 3:30 AND CONFLICT OR MAKEUP

benetton THE FASHION WATCH by BULOVA

SAVE $10

SALE PRICED $29.95

Reg. $39.95

LONGWOOD COLLEGE BOOKSTORE

Hours Monday - Friday 8-5

Phone 395-2084

The ROTUNDA

LONGWOOD COLLEGE

Vol. 70, No. 5 | November 12, 1990 | Farmville, VA

Hot, Sexy, and Safer

Suzi Landolphi, an actress, comedienne, and AIDS educator, will present her "provocative, zany celebration of safer sex" on Thursday, Nov. 15, at 8 p.m. in the Lankford Gold Room, Longwood College.

Her presentation, titled "Hot, Sexy, and Safer," is open to everyone free of charge.

Landolphi uses stand-up comedy and dramatic techniques to present essential information about AIDS and other sexually transmitted diseases (STDs) to college and high school students. Her approach, described as "frank, straight-forward, understanding, and caring," relates to young adults in their own language and style.

In addition to providing the facts, Landolphi's unique presentation promotes and encourages change in sexual behavior. As one student commented, "Her warmth and sincerity generated commitment. Her message has no holes."

A graduate of Middlebury College in Vermont, Landolphi has acted in regional theater and television productions and has won national awards as a video and film producer-director.

For more than five years, she was a volunteer with the AIDS ACTION committee, working with the AIDS Hot Line, hospice care for people with AIDS and their families, and training programs and lectures as an AIDS educator for high schools, colleges, and civic organizations.

Landolphi is currently affiliated with the Fenway Community Health Center in Boston, which provides medical, mental health, AIDS care, and research services.

(Continued on page 4)

Longwood Students Leave Momento

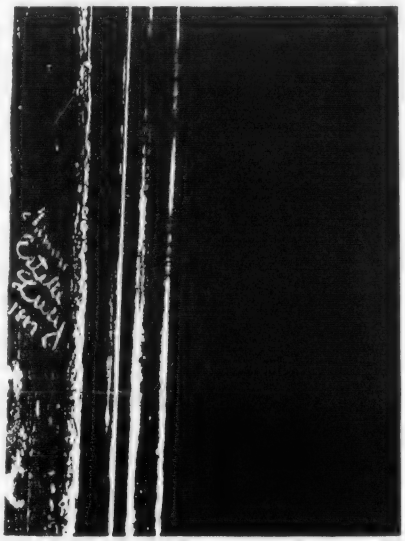


Photo Credit: C. Wells

By KENT BOOTY
Courtesy of Public Affairs
& The Farmville Herald

Three women left a permanent and perplexing momento when they etched their first names into a window at Longwood College more than 100 years ago.

A first-floor window in West Ruffner Hall bears three tiny signatures: Fannie, Estelle and Lucy. The names are arranged vertically, with Fannie on top and Lucy on the botton. Underneath Lucy is the inscription "1887."

Finding out the identities of these three women has become a personal mission for Dr. James Jordon, professor of anthropology and sociology. Jordan has dug through the college archives, done research on glass, examined other 19th-century windows, and compared the lettering with facsimiles of hand-writing from that period.

The names were discovered by Jesse Grant, a partner in Grant's Glass, when he was reglazing windows on campus in May. He pointed out the window to Jordan, under whom he had taken a non-credit archeology class in 1988.

Jordan thinks the names were written with a diamond, probably a diamond ring. The grooves in Fannie's name are not etched as deeply as those in the other two names. Dr. Carolyn Wells, a Longwood biology professor who shares Jordan's interest in history, theorizes that Fannie wrote first and that her ring was used; therefore, she didn't press as hard as her classmates.

Because the names are angled sharply to the right, Jordan thinks the women rested their arms against the window molding when they wrote. The signatures and date, about four feet off the floor, are nearly flush against the side of an inside window. They measure about an inch from top to bottom and less than an inch across.

"I think this was their dorm room although we can not say for sure what West Ruffner was used for at that time," Jordan said.

Jordan, who checked mid-19th century handwriting in windows of two homes on Beech Street, said the calligraphy in the Longwood window is "consistent with what you would have seen 100 years ago." He and Grant are convinced the glass dates from at least 1887; Grant pointed out several bubbles and other imperfections that he said isn't found in modern glass.

Establishing the identities of the women and gathering information on them has proved to be difficult. Checking archival materials in the registrar's office, Jordan had found there was only one Estelle at Longwood in 1887, but three Lucy's and no fewer than seven Fannie's.

One of the signatures belonged to Estelle Ransone, an 1887 graduate whose hometown is listed as "Matthews" — presumably the town of Mathews in Mathews County. According to an 1890 college document, she was then studying art in Boston and had taught in Mathews (spelled correctly) and in North Carolina.

Jordan eliminated four of the Fannie's because they were from Farmville and probably lived at home, and removed two others from consideration because they were not listed on the 1887 grade rolls. The top signature apparently is that of Fannie Jeffress, also an 1887 graduate, who was from Palmer Springs in Mecklenburg County, just a few miles from the North Carolina line.

The bottom signature probably belonged to Lucy Boswell, an 1889 graduate whose hometown is unknown. Students then completed a two-year program; although Lucy graduated two years after Fannie and Estelle, she apparently had missed a year.

Several persons helped Jordan in his research, including Jane Andrews, of Institutional Advancement, who looked up records in the registrar's office; Jackie Horsey, a student who is writing a senior honors thesis on Dr. William H. Ruffner, Longwood's first president; and Sharon Grigg, of Continuing Studies, whose desk is only a few feet from the window.

In 1887, the year the names were inscribed, the State Female Normal School was only three years old, and Dr. Ruffner resigned and was replaced by Dr. John A. Cunningham. Tuition in 1885-86 was $30 for Virginia students, room and board (including laundry) was $12, and enrollment was 172, according to the catalog.

"When you think about these names, it all makes sense — the two seniors, Fannie and Estelle, wrote first, and the freshman, Lucy, went last," Jordan said. "It's frustrating research; in part, Sherlock Holmes-style detective work, and a considerable amount of speculation. It has turned out to be a fascinating glimpse of a minute out of Longwood's past."

Editor's Note: Dr. Jordan has gotten permission to have the window removed and placed in storage from Dr. Patricia Lust, Dean of Continuing Studies. This will not only prevent accidently damage to the window but, allow more research to be conducted and be preserved as a Longwood artifact for future Longwood students to enjoy.

Be sure to Cast your Vote on Nov. 14 & 15!
Student Government Elecitons

CONTENTS

Commentary....2
Features....3,5
News....4
Sports....7
Personals....6
Classifieds....8

COMMENTARY

Letter From The Editor

Communication Is Key To Change

I have been known to defend the underdog from time to time as I did recently for Longwood College. I stand firm on my belief that if you can't stand what goes on here, you have the option to leave. However, the red tape has overcome me recently as well as my roommate and countless others and so I am here to say a few things.

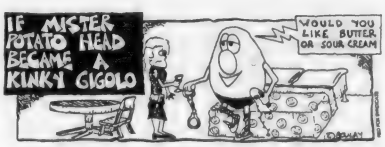
Mainly I would like the administration of Longwood to know that there are too many mistakes and a serious lack of communication. Why wait until the last minute to tell someone that they owe money? This was recently done to myself and to make it worse, I had to go to five different people in five different offices to get an answer that I needed. I cannot begin to explain my fury although I know many people share in this type of frustration. The point, Longwood, is not the money, but the fact that no one even thought to inform me of this months ago. I have since calmed down and resigned myself to checking for my name on lists that I would not expect my name to be on; just in case. My roommate has learned the same lesson. She has had to pay for a parking ticket that she never got. Of course no one bothered to inform her until she went to pay for the one she got. Once again, lack of communication.

Why it has to be this way is unknown to me. Never before in my 2-1/2 years at this school, have I seen it in such class. Is it really too much to alert people when money is due? And can it be done at least a week before it is too late? A week for those of us that owe fines or such. It is unacceptable to give someone a week to find tuition money and this was the case at the beginning of the year. Again a lack of communication.

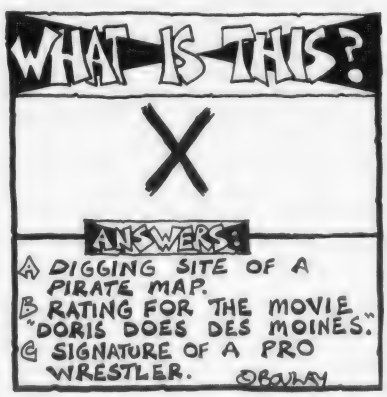
There is only so much that one person can take and Longwood should be forewarned. It may not seem urgent right now, but this type of administration will go too far. Students will tire of running around in an endless circle; parents will tire of hearing the problems and so solve it by having that student transfer elsewhere. Longwood could stand to lose many people who could have contributed greatly and positively to the Longwood community and to the Longwood reputation. This is not a threat, just a word of advice. Most of us really do love Longwood, most of us really want to stay here, but you are making it difficult to keep a positive attitude. Work with us, not against us and maybe we can help make a change for the better. To all the students, don't just complain, say something or do something. You have to live in this society to and it would be nice if we could transform this monarchy into a democracy we could all be proud of.

Monica Gilbert
Editor-in-chief

If you smoke 4,000 hours a year, stopping for 24 won't kill you.



In fact, it might save your life. All you have to do is join millions of other Americans and give up smoking for a day. Because if you can quit for a day, you can quit for life. For more information, call 1-800-ACS-2345.



The Great American Smokeout, November 16.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

Comics

The ROTUNDA

Box 1133
Longwood College
Farmville, Va. 23901

Editor-In-Chief
Monica Y. Gilbert

News Editor
Beth A. Lord

Features Editor
Lindy Seymore

Sports Editor
Charlie Fultz

Photography Editor
Judi Weller

Layout Editor
Sarah Whiteside

Business Manager
Anita Owens

Advertising Manager
Bradley Owen

Faculty Advisor
Barbara LaJaunie

ROTUNDA POLICY

The opinions expressed in The Rotunda are not necessarily those of Longwood College, its students, staff, administration or trustees. Columns, letters, and cartoons represent the view of their author. Unsigned editorials represent the majority opinion of the editorial board.

All letters to the Editor must be signed and typed or printed neatly. The Editor and staff reserve the right to edit any material submitted for publication.

Any contributions should be addressed to The Rotunda, Box 1133. Deadline for articles is 3:00 p.m. Friday prior to the Monday publication date and these should be placed in the envelope on the Publication door in Lankford. Letters, personals, etc. are due on the office door by midnight Sunday.

Published weekly since 1920 by the students of Longwood College, The Rotunda is an American Scholastic Press Association award winning newspaper. Questions or comments should be directed to our main office at Box 1133 or (804) 395-2120.

FEATURES

Pictured: back row - (left to right) James Forbes, Kari Schneider, Mark Veno, Matt Davenport, Ken DeWill, and Chris Strack. Front row - James Herzog, David Haugh, Matt Fletcher, and John Rafferty.

Ranger Challenge Competition

By LIZ RUSSELL

On October 26th-28th ROTC cadets went to Fort AP Hill and competed with other schools across the East Coast in a short term competition, known as Ranger Challenge. This competition gives cadets a chance to stand out.

Ranger Challenge consisted of several events that cadets participated in: an Army Physical Training (PT) Test consisting of timed sit-ups, push-ups, and a two-mile run, rope bridges, land navigation/orienterring course. Assembly of the M-16 and the M-60 machine gun, the hand grenade assualt, marksmanship, and a 10K (6.2 mile) road march. The Ranger Team placed 17th.

I talked to two cadets and they expressed their views. John Rafferty said, "I wasn't quite sure what to expect because I was coming into the ROTC program from the army. It was different, but everything went well. Ranger Challenge showed that a small school like Longwood can be competitive with VMI, Madison, and Tech. And Karl Schneider quoted, "It was a lot of fun. We had been getting up at 5:30 every morning and it was nice to see all our hard work come together. Although not everyone got to go to Ranger Challenge, there were some cadets that trained with the Rangers and they helped to make the difference in training the team."

Lectures Abound

The Cunninghams greatest lecture series will premiere this week with two back-to-back lectures in celebrating of our third year! On Tuesday, November 13 at 7 p.m. Gerald Holder will present "The American South." This program will look at the south as a unique historical, geographical and cultural region. Free samplings of fine southern dishes will also be available. The second lecture, "Cruising the Carribean for Credit or How to Improve Your Resume and Beat Out the Competition" will be given by Frank Moore on Wednesday, November 14 at 7 p.m. Mr. Moore will talk about the Longwood program in Martinique and how students can use the experience to enhance career prospects after they graduate. Slides, musique and Martiniquais cuisine will be featured. Both lectures will be held on 4th Floor, South Cunningham.

Travel To Japan For The Exchange And Teaching Program

The Japanese government has recently announced that applications for the 1991 Japan Exchange and Teaching (JET) Program are now being accepted. This program, one of the largest international exchange efforts under the sponsorship of the Japanese government, seeks to foster mutual understanding between Japan and other countries, including the U.S., U.K., Australia, New Zealand, Canada, Ireland, France, and the Federal Republic of Germany.

The program is now in its 5th year. Currently, there are 1,265 participants from the United States. Those participating assist in either international activities in regional government offices (CIR) or in English language instruction (AET).

CIR (Coordinator for International Relations): Applicants for these positions must have strong English skills and a functional command of the Japanese language. Those involved have a wide variety of duties ranging from general office work, to hosting foreign guests, to giving advice on matters that have an international impact.

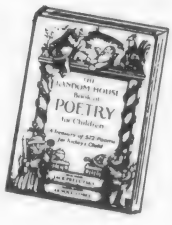
AET (Assistant English Teacher): Applicants for the English language instruction positions must have an interest in teaching English as a second language and have excellent English pronunciation, writing and grammar usage skills. Japanese language ability is not an absolute requirement, however, the applicant must be willing to make the effort to learn the language during his/her stay.

Applicants must be of U.S. nationality, in principle be under 35 years of age and hold a bachelor's degree or obtain one by August 1991. An interest in Japan and the ability to adapt and work in a local Japanese community are necessary prerequisites, as well as an enthusiastic and flexible attitude.

The length of the program is one year, from August 1991 to July 1992, with a yearly salary of 3,600,000 yen or approximately $27,000 (130.00 yen = $1 as of November 1, 1990). Roundtrip airfare will also be provided from designated points in the U.S.

The Application deadline is December 20.

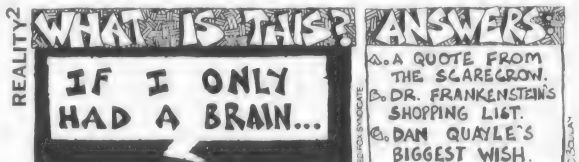
For further information and applications contact the Embassy of Japan, 2520 Massachusetts Ave., N.W. Washington, D.C. 20008 or call (202) 939-6772 or 939-6700.



LONGWOOD COLLEGE BOOKSTORE

Hours Monday - Friday 8-5

Phone 395-2084



25% OFF

ALL CHILDREN'S BOOKS

A great gift for your little brother or sister!

SALE GOOD THRU NOV. 16, 1990

NEWS

Food Drive For Needy

With the Thanksgiving holidays fast approaching, our thoughts once again return to those individuals in the surrounding community less fortunate than ourselves. One manner by which needy individuals can be assisted is through the efforts of a canned food drive. REACH, the campus volunteer organization, is co-sponsoring such a food drive with the Frazer residence hall. The dates for the canned food drive are November 1-November 20. Boxes are located in the front offices of all the residence hall for the collection of the canned food. In addition, donations of money are also welcome; the money will be used to purchase food at the Food Bank at reduced prices. In turn, the food collected and purchased will be distributed by FACES-Farmville Area Community Emergency Services, a local organization involved with aiding those in need.

A dance will be held on the evening of Friday, November 16. The dance will be held in the Commons Room between Curry and Frazer. Admission will be either 50 cents or a can of food. Finally, the hall or organization donating the greatest amount of food and/or money will be rewarded with a pizza party. If you have any questions, call Kevin Wasinger at 3920 or Michael Herndon at 2514. Thanks for your participation and hope to see you at the dance.

Safer

(Continued from page 1)

The national Center for Disease Control suspects that one in every 300 college students is infected with the AIDS virus. The U.S. Army estimates 600 new infections each year within its ranks. These statistics, plus the number of persons already known to be infected with one or more of the 25 STDs, adds up to a frightening world health crisis.

Oops!

Two names were accidentally omitted from the article on Iota Phi Lambda. Gale Foster - sophomore business major and Charleen Walters - senior business major are two of the new sisters in the sorority. Our apologizes for any inconvenience this may have caused.

Intramural Update

In Women's Volleyball the Delta Zetas won A-league and the Delta Sig's won B-league. Also in bowling, Phoenix won the tournament for the men and Zeta won the tournament for the women. In Men's Indoor Soccer the winners were A-league Mystic Death (AΣI) and for B-league Mystic Ice (AΣI).

Right now we are in the middle of Men's Volleyball with twenty-two teams participating. We also have Pool (Billards) going on with forty-eight men and twenty women participating!

Women's Indoor Soccer will be starting soon. Entry blanks will be due on Tuesday, November 13. Men's and Women's Swim Relays will be coming up on November 19 and Men's and Women's Basketball will be coming up in December.

Also upcoming is Men's and Women's Basketball Weekend. Entry blanks are due on November 15 and play begins on November 17.

Lady Lancers Open Season In Ship. University Tourney

By CHARLEY JACOBS

The Longwood women's basketball team travels to Shippenburg, Pa. to participate in the Shippensburg University Tournament this Friday and Saturday.

The Lady Lancers open play in the 1990-91 season in a contest pitting the team against Pace University Friday afternoon at 2 p.m. Longwood will play either Shippensburg or Concordia College Saturday, in the second day of the tournament.

This will be the first time these two teams have met, which leaves some doubt as to who will start for the Lady Lancers and the type of attack the coaching staff will utilize. Possible starters for Longwood includes seniors Carmille Barnette and Ann Callaham, juniors Teresa Carter, Salene Green, and Cassie Mullenix and freshman Cassie Ensley.

"I have absolutely no idea about our opposition [in the first game]," commented head coach Shirley Duncan. "we are just going to have to play our type of game and execute well and hope everything works out."

Longwood demonstrated its type of play Sunday evening when it hosted a closed-to-the-public preseason scrimmage versus Team Avia, an AAU club from Richmond. Longwood held a 45-39 lead at the end of the first half, but struggled early in the second period.

The Lady Lancers tied the score at 67 with less than a minute remaining when Barnette buried a three-pointer. A shot by Team Avia's Cindy Eckel at the buzzer, however, sealed the game in favor of the visitors, 69-67. Eckel scored 1,029 points while playing at Longwood (1979-83).

"We weren't scheduled to play this scrimmage, but because the University of District of Columbia was dropped from our schedule, it gave us an opportunity to play this game," explained Duncan. "The scrimmage was a chance for us to see some things that we miss in practice. One thing in particular is that we are not boxing out and are giving up second and third shots. But we have a week to work on these things in practice."

The 1990-91 Cheerleading Team

Tryouts for the 1990-91 cheerleading team were held in September and the new team is composed of Shawn Smith (Captain), Cindy Bryant, Cheryl Cole, Julie Wiley, Carolyn Nelson, Tiffany Hancock, Trudy Jenkins, Michele Farrow, Lisa Dendis, Amy Smart, Leigh Soriano, Scot Blackmon, and Jeff Firman. Four alternates were also chosen. The team coach is Kay Nixon of the Department of English, Philosophy, and Modern Languages. She and the team have practice five nights a week and two mornings in the weight room. They are cheering for the first game of men's basketball this Friday, November 16 at 7:00 and they will be cheering at every game afterwards. Performances this year will be at four of the games during halftime this season. Also, the cheerleaders plan to follow the basketball team to some of the away games, but most of their efforts will be concentrated here at home. This year, the cheerleaders are working towards national competition and they will be video taping games to send for selection into the National Competition. The Lancer cheerleaders look forward to student, faculty, and staff support and need help in promoting the spirit of Longwood College.

1990-91 LONGWOOD CHEERLEADERS - Front Bottom (l to r) Cindy Bryant, Cheryl Cole, Julie Wiley, Carolyn Nelson; top - Tiffany Hancock, Trudy Jenkins, Michele Farrow. Back (standing) Scot Blackmon, Captain Shawn Smith, Jeff Firman; top - Lisa Dendis, Amy Smart, Leigh Soriano.

FEATURES

Longwood Concert Band – LIVE

Longwood College's Concert Band will perform well-loved and brand-new American band music on Tuesday evening, Nov. 13, at 8 o'clock in Wygal Recital Hall.

The program will feature Dudley Buck's concert variations of The Star Spangled Banner, America the Beautiful, and National Emblem, all written in the 19th century. Contemporary works on the program will be Vincent Persichetti's Serenade for Band; The Battle of Lexington, written by Jeremy Beck, a New York composer who is a doctoral student at Yale University; and Second Wind, written by Javier Arau, a 15-year-old from Sacramento, California.

The Concert Band has 37 members, including Longwood students and community residents. Dr. Gordon Ring directs the band.

The flute section includes Jana Davis, Sherry Loving, Jenny Johnson, Nancy Buckingham, Linda Slayton, Juliette Breton, and Indira Etwaroo, who also plays the piccolo.

On clarinets are Todd Southwell, Phyllis Frith, Graham Davis, Scott Warren, Dawn Orndorff, Kim Sheeley, Charlotte Nuckols (alto), and Amy Pillow (bass).

Saxophonists are Jeff Lovelace and Michael Mullen, alto; Harron Fells, tenor; and Spencer Lush, baritone. James Brown, William Ivie, Evelyn Peyton, and David Calihan play trumpets; Nicole Lakner and Brian Gresh play trombones; and Ricky Neller, Jeff Warren, Doug Kilpatrick, and Camille Gibson play horns.

Providing the lower range of the brass wind instruments are Michael Neller, bassoon; Chris Davis, euphonium; and Scott Bedio, tuba.

The percussion section includes Erik Bachelle, Jeff Ellington, Lowell Harper, Martha Dorrill, and Bryan Metts.

The band concert is open to the public free of charge.

HERE'S WHY
THE SMART MONEY AT
LONGWOOD COLLEGE
IS GOING WITH TIAA-CREF
AS IF THE FUTURE DEPENDED ON IT.

Because it does. Smart investors know that your future depends on how well your retirement system performs. TIAA-CREF has been the premier retirement system for people in education and research for over 70 years. We have enabled over 200,000 people like you to enjoy a comfortable retirement. And over 1,000,000 more are now planning for the future with TIAA-CREF.

SMART MONEY LOOKS FOR SECURITY, GROWTH AND DIVERSITY FOR RETIREMENT SAVINGS.

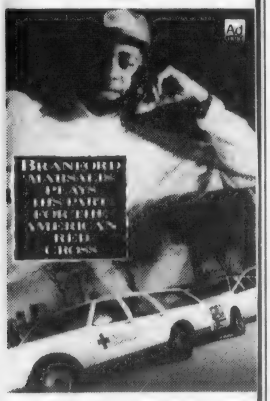
Security—so the resources are there when it is time to retire. Growth—so you'll have enough income for the kind of retirement you want. And diversity—to help protect you against market volatility and to let you benefit from several types of investments.

THAT'S EXACTLY WHAT YOU GET WITH TIAA-CREF.

TIAA offers you the safety of a traditional annuity that guarantees your principal plus a specified rate of interest, and provides for additional growth through dividends. CREF's variable annuity offers opportunities for growth through four different investment accounts, each managed with the long-term perspective essential to sound retirement planning:

The CREF Stock Account
The CREF Money Market Account
The CREF Bond Market Account*
The CREF Social Choice Account*

CALL 1-800-842-2776
TO FIND OUT MORE



Our experienced retirement counselors will be happy to answer your questions and tell you more about retirement annuities from TIAA-CREF.

Experience. Performance. Strength.
Your future is protected by the largest private retirement system in the world. We have done so well, for so many, for so long, that we currently manage some $85 billion in assets.

TIAA CREF
Ensuring the future for those who shape it.℠

* The CREF Bond Market and Social Choice Accounts may not be available under all institutional retirement plans, but are available for all Supplemental Retirement Annuity plans.

For more complete information, including charges and expenses, call 1 800 842-2733, ext 5509 for a prospectus. Read the prospectus carefully before you invest or send money.

PLAY YOUR PART

American Red Cross

BE A RED CROSS VOLUNTEER

PERSONALS

To the pledges of Zeta Tau Alpha — Thank you for the picture. It was great! Each and every one of you is awesome and we could not have asked for a better pledge class. You all are wonderful and we love you! Zeta love — The Sisters

Goldthang — I think I love you! (Where's the Swedish, Princess) Loved that 'Tequillo Sunrise' ... bet you thought I wasn't watching. But what's your name? — Me

Julie Zimmer — You're our number one kid! Keep up the great job. We love you. Alpha Gam — Tricia and Maria

Mr. U man — Where'd you get your cough?! Here's your personal — now you can have some cheese with that wine. — Love Kath

Thank you St. Jude for petition granted. — AC

Kathryn has a wig with a chin strip. — Mr. U. Betcha

H... B. and S.A.M. — Thanks for getting my butt in gear. Sometimes I just need a push (more like a kick) — Love ya'll Kim

Whiteside is the Right Side for Honor Board.

Tina — Why is the wrapper off the lollipop? — Mr. U

Campfire girls — Thanks for coming I told you we'd have fun. — U know who

Erin — Happy 18th, what number am I on your list? U guessed it.

Kellie — Hey Rommie! Your students will be lucky to have you for their teacher — Sheri

C and C — You're my two favorite suitemates and two of my best friends — Sheri

Karen — I hope everything works out with Bill. I wish you the best of luck always — Sheri

Heidi — Miss Holmes! Miss Holmes! I know the answer! Call on me! — Sheri

Robin — From one teacher to another — Is it summer yet? — Sheri

Melissa B. — We were going to send you a personal but "Homey don't play that!" — Sheri and Kellie

